Cheapest Drugs Are the Costliest.

"Cheap" drugs have the strength nor the medicinal virtues of pure drugs. Prescriptions filled with them will not act as quickly nor give the medicinal effects of the pure drugs. Thus the patient is in longer—suffers a great deal more—before the cure is effected. So that cheap drugs in the end really COST MORE than pure drugs. Every prescription that WE fill is compounded of PURE DRUGS.

A handsome portrait of Chief Justice Meredith was presented to the Ontario Legislature yesterday. It was accepted in suitable terms by the Speaker. Pleasant addresses were also given by Mr. Whitney and Hon. George V. Ross, both of whom bore testimony to Sir William's many excellent qualities.

It was reported that alien labor for the Crow's Nest Pass construction was coming in by way of Bonner's Ferry from the United States. This is denied, but the Dominion Government will send a man to the spot as soon as possible to look into the matter and put a stop to it if it turns out that the report has any foundation.

A London, England, cable to the Montreal Star says: "English comment on the reduction of the Canadian postage is summed up in a sentence: 'This is the beginning of the end of the long battle for imperial postal unity. If Canada, with a small revenue, risks so much to create a new link in the chain of the empire, how can rich England hesitate to co-operate?'"

Tea by the Carload.

The recent rejection of Immense quantities of tea from China and Japan, shipped to the United States as tea, has created a demand for the pure article to replace these rejected spurious imitations. An entire carload of "SALADA" Ceylon Tea is on its way to Boston, and is expected to arrive there in a day or two. There is, besides this, four tons on its way to Buffalo, Pittsburg and Cleveland. The demand for the pure tea manufactured by machinery has been growing on the American people, and the tea regulations which are now being enforced are fostering this improved taste, as it is keeping the cheap, adulterated article out of the country.

Annual Banquet of St. Andrew's Society Last Night.

A Very Successful and Happy Gathering.

Good Cheer, Good Speeches and Good Music.

The Guests Present and the Toast List Admirable Sentiments of the New U. S. Consul—A Real Brawl Night at the City Hotel.

The annual banquet of St. Andrew's Society at the City Hotel last night was one of the most notable in the long history of the society. It was marked by a large attendance, good cheer, splendid enthusiasm, bright oratory, capital music, and it is needless to say of any Scotch gathering—fervent patriotism. The dining-room was gaily bedecked with bunting and flags, in which the Stars and Stripes had a conspicuous place out of courtesy to the official representatives of the republic who were present, and made admirable addresses. It was a representative gathering, embracing old and young, and various creeds and nationalities, animated by the one feeling of good fellowship and honor for the patron saint of Scotland.

A pleasant feature was the introduction of the new United States consul, Hon. Henry S. Culver, who justified the chairman's encomium by expressing sentiments which will be warmly welcomed in the community of which he will be a member for four years, at least.

Mr. Charles E. Wheeler kindly played the accompaniments for the excellent musical programme.

The menu was first-class, and put the guests in good humor for the several hours of toast and song that followed.

THE GUESTS.

During the supper, Dr. McLaren, the retiring president, occupied the chair. On his right were Robert Reid, honorary president; J. D. Clarke, past president; Hon. Henry S. Culver, the new United States consul; Col. Jacks, the retiring United States consul; Patrick Mulken and Col. Garthshore. On his left were Thomas Purdom, the president-elect; Rev. Walter Moffat, Rev. W. J. Clark, R. Cadwallader, John F. Cowan and A. Cadwallader.

At the other tables were the following: Samuel Glegg, D. W. Blackwell, John Purdom, R. J. Donaghy, Alex. Purdom, Dr. T. V. Hutchinson, Charles Hinchey, E. D. Grant, J. Cockburn, L. Inlay, A. W. Fyfe, Major John Williams, James Gilleen, G. W. Armstrong, Capt. T. E. Robson, L. Leth, Wm. Howie, Frank Newton, G. P. Flaxton, J. Tod, A. E. McLachlan, W. T. Hamilton, John A. Macintyre, W. H. Skinner, J. W. Jones, James Shand, R. K. Cowan, F. Love, John Ferguson, A. Sharp, Robert Boston, ex-Mr. Dr. H. A. Stevenson, Charles E. Wheeler, J. W. McIntosh, Thomas R. Parker, A. M. Hamilton, R. Stevenson, John G. Stevenson, C. E. Glendening, J. G. Mackay, James McLeod Campbell, J. Lockyer, A. G. McLeod, John J. Harding, J. B. Cox and James A. Stewart.

PROCEEDINGS BEGUN.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the chairman, Dr. McLaren, arose to introduce the programme, and was received with applause. Dr. McLaren referred with pleasure to the large gathering. He explained the absence of the national music by the statement that both the pipers engaged were ill. He paid a deserved compliment to the honorary president, Mr. Reid, who had always kept the society alive in the days of its infancy. (Applause.) The doctor, after a brief and appropriate reference to the flourishing state of St. Andrew's Society and the good work accomplished during the past year, called upon the

A LITTLE LIGHT.

Every young woman needs a little light upon the subject of health. There is far too much new-fashioned prudery among mothers. Every young woman should have explained to her the supreme necessity of keeping herself pure and wholesome. It is the free from weakness and disease is a womanly way.

Her general health, her future happiness, her good looks, her physical strength, her capability as a wife and mother, and the health and strength of generations to come are dependent upon this. Nothing in the world will destroy the good looks, wholesome, the amiability, and the usefulness of a woman quicker than disorders of the delicate and important organs that bear the burden of maternity. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for women who are ailing in this way. It makes a woman strong and healthy where a woman most needs health and strength. It relieves pain, soothes inflammation, heals ulceration and gives rest and tone to the tortured nerves. It cures all the ills and pains too commonly considered an uncomfortable inheritance of womanhood. It has been used for over thirty years with an unbroken record of success. More than 100,000 women of all the other medicines for women combined. It is the discovery of Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. He will cheerfully answer, without charge, all letters from ailing women.

"Three years ago," writes Mrs. J. N. Messer, of New York City, "I was ailing and weak, and the best physicians in this city said there was no cure for me unless I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I had an operation performed. I could not walk across the room. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and after three bottles I could walk and ride."

Torpid liver and constipation are surely and speedily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They never irritate. They regulate, stimulate and invigorate the liver, stomach and bowels. No substitute urged by mercenary dealers is as good.

secretary, Mr. D. A. Donaldson, to read the greetings and letters of regret.

LETTERS OF REGRET.

Among the letters of regret at inability to attend was the following from Mr. C. S. Hyman: "I have to thank you for your kind invitation to the annual dinner of St. Andrew's Society on Tuesday evening, the 30th inst., and remembering the generous courtesies and kind welcome that I have more than once received on like occasions, in bygone days, I regret exceedingly that I shall be unable to be present this year. If any good wishes of mine can find one iota to the pleasure that I feel sure is in store for you on Tuesday evening, permit me to tender them in the heartiest manner."

Mr. T. S. Hobbs, M.P.E. also regretted that absence from the city would prevent his attendance.

Letters of regret were also received from Mayor Little, Sir John Carling and Thomas Beattie, M.P.

FRATERNAL GREETINGS.

The local society wired greetings to St. Andrew's Societies in various parts of the country. Among the responses were the following:

"Hail, brither Scots o' London town, Rax out tae us yer hand, And help complete the chain that's this night across the land."

(Signed) J. H. Kenning, president; F. H. Macpherson, vice-president; Andrew Brail, secretary; Windsor St. Andrew's Society.

From J. C. MacLagan, president St. Andrew's Society, Vancouver, B. C.: "From awa doon on the Pacific slope the Scots o' Vancouver send ye hearty St. Andrew's night greetings. Here's tae ye, brither Scots o' the Forest City."

G. R. R. Cockburn, president St. Andrew's Society, Toronto: "May ye a' be happy and never drink out o' a dry cappel."

W. D. Hogg, Q.C., president St. Andrew's Society, Ottawa: "On this our 50th anniversary we send the greeting 'The day an' a' wha honor it.'"

THE HONORARY PRESIDENT. Mr. Robert Reid was called upon to install the new president, Mr. T. H. Purdom. The latter was called to the chair amid applause. Mr. Reid thanked the society for the honor of the position conferred upon himself.

He recalled his first association with St. Andrew's Society 36 years ago. He did not think there was a single person present who then sat around the festive board. He felt that the shadows are lengthening around me," Mr. Reid continued, "and the days are coming when I shall not be able to perform even the simple duties placed upon me tonight. But there is the thought in my mind that I have had some recompense in the kindness of my fellow-countrymen in placing me in the position of honorary president—an honor conferred for the first time upon anyone in the long history of the society." (Applause.)

THE QUEEN.

Mr. Purdom, in introducing the toast list, said that if the bagpipers were wanting now they were never wanting when the Queen wanted them. He proposed the toast of "The Queen," which was honored by the singing of the National Anthem, followed by three cheers and a tiger.

THE GOVERNORS.

In proposing the toast of "The Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor," the chairman said it was unanimously conceded by the Canadian people that the present pair of governors at Ottawa and Toronto were among the finest the Dominion ever had. (Applause.)

The toast was honored by the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and cheers.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

The chairman, in proposing the health of the President of the United States, said that no matter what party had been in power in the republic they had always sent excellent representatives to London—men who had always helped to promote the friendly relations of the two countries. (Applause.) "Next to Great Britain we in Canada like the United States better than any other portion of the earth, because so many of our friends and relatives have found homes in the republic, and I think, are among its very best citizens." (Applause.) Mr. Purdom expressed the hope that a treaty of everlasting peace would soon be established between Great Britain and the United States. (Applause.) He voiced the regret he felt at the departure of Col. Jacks, whom they had all learned to like. (Applause.) They were pleased to welcome his successor, Hon. Henry S. Culver, who was a magnificent specimen of American manhood. (Loud applause.)

COL. JACKS' FAREWELL.

Col. Jacks was received with renewed applause. He said that four years and a half ago it was his privilege to appear in his humble capacity in London. He felt like a stranger in a strange land. His first invitation was to a picnic of St. Andrew's Society at Port Stanley. He enjoyed himself and made many friends. "I am going home," continued Col. Jacks, and I will remember with pleasure the many courtesies extended to me while in your midst. If I wanted to, it would be impossible to forget you, and I shall always look back to my sojourn in London as one of the happiest periods of my life." (Applause.)

THE NEW CONSUL.

Hon. Mr. Culver, who was most enthusiastically welcomed, expressed his pleasure at the cordiality and good fellowship on this occasion. He was delighted to meet the members of St. Andrew's Society and the good citizens of London present. He had observed since coming to London that his predecessor, Mr. Jacks, had won general respect and esteem—(applause)—and he (Mr. Culver) only hoped that in his life among the citizens of London he would also win their esteem and confidence. (Applause.) He was proud to speak to the toast of the president, who was one of the noblest of men. In his view the government at present ruling in London was a government of peace and justice.

with him in his high Christian purpose as a man and citizen. (Applause.) He hoped the time will soon come, if it has already not come, when all the dissensions between the people of Canada and the United States shall cease, and that we shall go hand in hand, the greatest nations of the earth in the van of the march of civilization. (Loud applause.)

THE ARMY AND NAVY.

The toast of "The Army and Navy" received the usual honors.

Col. Garthshore said he was in Mexico a year ago and attended a St. Andrew's dinner there. There was a law against religious processions in Mexico, and when the pipers proceeded to march the streets after the banquet they were mistaken for a religious body and arrested. (Laughter.)

The colonel sang a patriotic song, which was heartily enjoyed.

Major Williams said he had been 22 years and for the past 18 years in the Canadian Army. He paid a handsome compliment to the Canadian volunteers.

Mr. Wm. Howie, also a veteran, was one of the respondents to the same toast, and recalled his old country experience.

THE DAY WE CELEBRATE

was coupled with the name of Rev. Walter Moffat, whom the chairman thanked for his attendance at short notice.

Rev. Mr. Moffat said though separated by the Atlantic, their hearts were still warm and united because of its past and because of what it was. The rough and rugged character of Scotland, instead of being a drawback, was a means of drawing forth that noble courage and all the best qualities in the Scotch nature. (Applause.)

Names and titles were a mere face to face with difficulties. It elicited all his ingenuity and ability to overcome them. Mr. Moffat evoked applause by a reference to the gallantry of the Highland soldiers in India. Scotland's eminence in literature was also noted. The speaker alluded to the monster paragon of the Scotch people, asking the British Government to use the word "Britain" instead of "England" in all official communications. (Applause.)

Mr. J. Tod sang "Loch Lomond" with fine effect, and was warmly enjoyed.

Mr. George Taylor, vice-president, then took charge of the programme, and introduced the toast of which elicited a brilliant response from Rev. W. J. Clark. He said that though his blood might boil more fervently upon St. Andrew's Day, and though they might well be proud of the history of Scotland, which, in nobility of spirit and in the love of God's earth, yet there was never stronger interest in "Canada, Our Home." (Applause.)

The time has now come when Canada was a nation, and there were many elements that went to make Canada one of the first nations of the earth. Insisted into its nationality were the prudence and thrift of the lowland Scotch, the sturdy strength, the bravery and patience of the English race, and the poetic temperament and mysticism of the Celt. Besides these inherent qualities of the Canadian people, they had the grandest environment. England, Scotland and Ireland had not only the English, Scotch and Irish attributes, but the lightness and grace of the French people, a few settlements of the United States, and the sprinkling of other races. "We want to weld these elements together, so that we shall stand respected and admired by all." (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Mr. Purdom, in introducing the toast list, said that if the bagpipers were wanting now they were never wanting when the Queen wanted them. He proposed the toast of "The Queen," which was honored by the singing of the National Anthem, followed by three cheers and a tiger.

THE GOVERNORS.

In proposing the toast of "The Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor," the chairman said it was unanimously conceded by the Canadian people that the present pair of governors at Ottawa and Toronto were among the finest the Dominion ever had. (Applause.)

The toast was honored by the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and cheers.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

The chairman, in proposing the health of the President of the United States, said that no matter what party had been in power in the republic they had always sent excellent representatives to London—men who had always helped to promote the friendly relations of the two countries. (Applause.) "Next to Great Britain we in Canada like the United States better than any other portion of the earth, because so many of our friends and relatives have found homes in the republic, and I think, are among its very best citizens." (Applause.) Mr. Purdom expressed the hope that a treaty of everlasting peace would soon be established between Great Britain and the United States. (Applause.) He voiced the regret he felt at the departure of Col. Jacks, whom they had all learned to like. (Applause.) They were pleased to welcome his successor, Hon. Henry S. Culver, who was a magnificent specimen of American manhood. (Loud applause.)

COL. JACKS' FAREWELL.

Col. Jacks was received with renewed applause. He said that four years and a half ago it was his privilege to appear in his humble capacity in London. He felt like a stranger in a strange land. His first invitation was to a picnic of St. Andrew's Society at Port Stanley. He enjoyed himself and made many friends. "I am going home," continued Col. Jacks, and I will remember with pleasure the many courtesies extended to me while in your midst. If I wanted to, it would be impossible to forget you, and I shall always look back to my sojourn in London as one of the happiest periods of my life." (Applause.)

THE NEW CONSUL.

Hon. Mr. Culver, who was most enthusiastically welcomed, expressed his pleasure at the cordiality and good fellowship on this occasion. He was delighted to meet the members of St. Andrew's Society and the good citizens of London present. He had observed since coming to London that his predecessor, Mr. Jacks, had won general respect and esteem—(applause)—and he (Mr. Culver) only hoped that in his life among the citizens of London he would also win their esteem and confidence. (Applause.) He was proud to speak to the toast of the president, who was one of the noblest of men. In his view the government at present ruling in London was a government of peace and justice.

with him in his high Christian purpose as a man and citizen. (Applause.) He hoped the time will soon come, if it has already not come, when all the dissensions between the people of Canada and the United States shall cease, and that we shall go hand in hand, the greatest nations of the earth in the van of the march of civilization. (Loud applause.)

(Applause.) Mr. Love was glad to see Hon. Mr. Culver present. He considered the United States as equal with the greatest nations of the earth.

were honored by choruses and cheers. Mr. A. Mulken, of the Irish Benevolent Society, said that St. Andrew's and the Irish Benevolent Societies were doing better work than any other in the city. The Irish Benevolent Society knew no distinctions of creed or race, but invited all to join its ranks for the purposes of charity and fraternity.

Mr. J. B. Cox responded for St. George's Society, and said that he had been present at St. Andrew's banquets for 30 years, and that was more than some Scotchmen could say. (Laughter.)

Mr. John Pocock, of the Irish Benevolent Society, said that the two societies—St. Andrew's and his own—had furnished dinners and picnics for years, and had done a great deal of good work. He referred to the efforts of Mr. Gladstone to obtain home rule for Ireland, and the statement that the Conservative government were about to introduce a local government bill for Ireland.

Mr. S. D. Huff, of the Irish Benevolent Society, referred neatly to the good work of the national societies in London.

Mr. Cadwallader, secretary of St. George's Society, also responded on behalf of his society.

OTHER TOASTS.

Ex-Mayor Todd proposed "The Mayor and Corporation." He said the city was the best governed on the continent, and it had made great advances in recent years.

Water Commissioner Cowan, in reply, said London was the prettiest city on the continent. It is a city of good homes and contentment, good health and pure water.

Mr. Graham, candidate for alderman in No. 1 ward, Mr. J. W. Jones, of the assessment commission, and Mr. D. W. Blackwell, Board of Health, also replied.

The toast list was then taken up by Mr. James Shand, second vice-president, who gave "The Learned Professor," Mr. Alex. Purdom, barrister, and Drs. McLaren and Hutchinson responded.

"The Press" was replied to by Mr. J. B. Cox, who said that the press was still warm and united because of its past and because of what it was.

Then came a season of song of unusual merit. Mr. Flaxton sang "The Midshipman" in good voice. Mr. Tod delighted the gathering with "Roy's Wife of Donalduich." Mr. Mulken caused much merriment by singing "Moriarty," and Mr. Frank Love followed with "My Gal's a Higa-Born Lady."

Mr. J. W. Jones, not to be outdone, sang "Bonnie Charlie." Capt. Gibson was at his best in "When the Kye Come Hame." Capt. Williams sang with vigor "God Bless the Prince of Wales." Mr. Reid, with his inimitable enthusiasm, sang "A Man for a That." Mr. J. W. McIntosh sang "A Highland Man's Toast" with much expression.

"The Ladies" were given, and Mr. Howie sang "Green Grows the Rashie." Mr. Reid gave "Our Host," and Mr. McMartin suitably replied.

President Purdom, commenting on the great success of the gathering, brought the celebration to a close with the following suitable sentiment from the Poet Campbell:

"Is there a son of generous England here, Or fervid Erin? He with us shall join."

To hope that in eternal union dear The rose, the shamrock and the thistle twine."

"In that sentiment," said the president, "we can certainly all join." At an early hour the company broke up, singing "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem, and separated with the unanimous declaration that the dinner was "the best yet." President Purdom made a model chairman.

D-O-D-D-S

The Peculiarities of the Word.

No Name on Earth So Famous—No Name More Widely Imitated.

No name on earth, perhaps, is so well known, more peculiarly constructed or more widely imitated than the word DODD. It possesses a peculiarity that makes it stand out prominently and fastens it in the memory. It contains four letters, but only two letters of the alphabet. Everyone knows that the first kidney remedy ever patented or used in pill form was named "DODD'S." Their discovery startled the medical profession the world over, and revolutionized the treatment of kidney disease.

No imitator has ever succeeded in constructing a name possessing the peculiarity of DODD, though they have tried as hard as they could. As possible in sound and construction to their foolishness prevents them realizing that attempts made to imitate in the name of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Why is the name "Dodd's Kidney Pills" imitated so much? Because diamonds and gold imitated. Because diamonds are the most precious gems, gold the most precious metal. Dodd's Kidney Pills are imitated because they are the most valuable medicines the world has ever known.

No medicine was ever named kidney pills till years of medical research gave Dodd's Kidney Pills to the world. No medicine ever cured Bright's disease except Dodd's Kidney Pills. No other medicine has cured as many cases of Rheumatism, Diabetes, Heart Disease, Lumbago, Dropsy, Female Weakness and other kidney diseases as Dodd's Kidney Pills have. It is universally known that they have never failed to cure these diseases, hence they are so widely and shamelessly imitated.

Two girls own the largest salt works in Oklahoma, and are going to college on the profits of it.

If you are anxious to find the most reliable blood-purifier, ask especially as it can be promptly and permanently cured by Burdock Blood Bitters. "During five years I suffered from constipation and loss of appetite which reduced me to a grave state; but two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters completely cured me of my terrible complaint. In the Dining-Room.

THURSDAY, DEC. 2.

BREAKFAST—Baked apples and cream, Wheat germ mush, Ham omelet. Foam griddle cakes. Maple syrup. Coffee.

LUNCHEON—Fricassee oysters. Tomato sweet pickle. Celery. Baking powder biscuit. Tea.

DINNER—Cream of barley soup. Beefsteak potpie, suet crust. Mashed parsnips. Dinner bread. Rennet pudding. Nuts. Grapes. Raisins.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book.

Foam Griddle Cakes—One-half pint of sour milk, pinch of salt, yolk of one egg, a piece of butter size of a hickory nut, enough flour to make a batter; beat all together for five minutes, then add one-third of a teaspoon of soda dissolved in one tablespoon of boiling water, and lastly the white of the egg, beaten to a stiff froth and stirred in slowly and carefully as for sponge cake. Bake immediately on a hot griddle.

Beefsteak Potpie, Suet Crust—Cut in small pieces two pounds of round steak, season with a little salt and pepper. Put them in a pot with a tablespoonful of butter rolled in flour, one minced onion and one quart of water. Cover them and let them stew slowly for an hour. Boil six potatoes and cut in quarters. Put one-third of a pound of suet into one quart of flour, add a little salt and enough cold water to make it a lump of dough. Too much water makes it tough and heavy. Line the sides of the pot with a deep baking dish with the paste rolled thin, then fill the dish in layers, alternately formed of the meat with its gravy, the potatoes and squares cut off the paste. Let the dish be full to the brim with gravy. Cover it with a crust of the paste. Place a small paper funnel in the center as a vent for the boiling gravy and remove it when serving. Bake one hour in a moderate oven.

Rennet Pudding—To one quart of sweet milk warm a little acid and one-half teaspoon of rennet, stir a few moments carefully and let it stand undisturbed in a cold place for three hours. Serve in the same dish, and eat with a little sugar and wine over it, or creamed cream flavored with vanilla. Rennet can be bought at any first-class grocery.

Numerous Casualties.

Two Boys Drowned While Sliding at Oshawa.

A Skater Loses His Life at Kingston—Conductor Killed.

Oshawa, Ont., Dec. 1.—A sad drowning accident occurred here last evening. Two boys, about 8 years old, sons of John Robinson and Fred Hoine, were sliding on the ice on the river and broke through. They went out to slide shortly after school, and when they did not appear at tea time a search was made. After dragging about an hour the bodies were found side by side in about six feet of water.

SKATER DROWNED.
Kingston, Dec. 1.—Samuel, the 12-year-old son of Robert Knight, near Arden, went out for a sail of water and ventured on the ice to skate. It suddenly broke, and he fell in the water. His cries for help were heard by his father, who made every effort to save his son, but could not get near enough before the boy sank. The father had a narrow escape.
Kemptville, Ont., Dec. 1.—A sad drowning accident occurred in the Rideau river, near Beckett's bridge, on the Marlboro side of the river. Three boys—William Ross, his brother, Charles Ross, and a young lad named McMullen—were skating, when suddenly the ice broke and all three went in. Charles Ross and young McMullen managed to get out, but William Ross went under and was drowned. The unfortunate boy was about 12 years of age. He was the son of Mr. Edward Ross, of Marlboro township.

A CONDUCTOR KILLED.

CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT.
New York, Dec. 1.—The five-courts billiard tournament which will decide the championship of the world began Monday night in the concert hall of the Madison Square Garden city. Asile from the glory, the champion player will receive a diamond medal and 50 per cent of a $1,200 purse, added to the prize money of the event.

THE L. A. W. SUBMITTED A LIST OF DATES FOR THE TRACKS controlled by the National Cycle Track Association, which were accepted. They are mostly for spring and fall meetings. Riders not signing will not be permitted to ride on either of the circuits, and will practically be debarred from all but very small meetings.

ABOUT A YEAR AGO THE QUEBEC FOOTBALL CLUB resigned from the Quebec Rugby Union as a protest against the action of the Canadian Hockey Association in expelling the Quebec Hockey Club. Now they are anxious to return.

TWO CIRCUITS.
There will be two bicycle circuits in existence next year. One will be the "grand" and the other the "national" circuit. They will in no wise conflict with one another. The L. A. W. submitted a list of dates for the tracks controlled by the National Cycle Track Association, which were accepted. They are mostly for spring and fall meetings. Riders not signing will not be permitted to ride on either of the circuits, and will practically be debarred from all but very small meetings.

THE FIRST BOXING BOUT HELD IN BALTIMORE
for more than a year took place Monday night, between Joe Gang, the Baltimore colored middle-weight, and Stanton Abbot, of England. The latter was fat, and Gang found him an easy mark for four rounds.

AT BUFFALO ON MONDAY, FRANK ERNE of that city, and Jack Downey, of Brooklyn, fought a fourth draw. Early in the evening both Erne and Downey were arrested on the complaint of the Methodist Ministers' Association in the fourteenth century, the first as bishop of Clogher, the second as bishop of Derry.

ONE OF THE LAST MINISTERS WHO STRUCK
harmony from the strings of the instrument was a descendant of the prelates mentioned—Arthur O'Neill, who played "Brian Boru's harp" at Limerick in 1799. Twenty years later it was presented to Trinity College by the Hon. William Conyngham. The harp, when perfect, had 30 strings. It is of exquisite workmanship. The upright pillar is of oak, and the soundboard of red sallow; the extreme ends are carved in relief in the gothic character. It has a capping of silver, very artistically wrought, and there are other embellishments in the same metal. There is also a large crystal set in silver under another stone, now lost. Some of the wood is much decayed. Ireland, in old days, had rare craftsmen in wood and the metals, and "Brian Boru's harp" is a most striking example of their skill.

boxing exhibition. Downey was the aggressor for the greater part of the bout, but Erne displayed the most cleverness, and stopped Jack's rushes easily. There were no knock-downs, and the contest was terminated with each man as fresh as when he entered, and without a scratch.

AT CHICAGO TOMMY RYAN WAS GIVEN the decision over Billy Shift, after six rounds of fighting. Police interfered.

AT THE BIRMINGHAM (ENGLAND) ATHLETIC CLUB
on Tuesday evening, Arthur Akers, of Birmingham, met Paddy Furtell, of Kansas City, for a purse of $250, in a twenty-round go. Furtell was completely outclassed, and Akers won in 30 seconds.

AT THE NATIONAL SPORTING CLUB, LONDON (ENGLAND)
on Monday evening, Spill Sullivan, the American boxer, defeated Jimmy Curran, the Englishman, in a twenty-round go for points. Ben Jordan, the feather-weight champion of England, defeated Tommy White, of Chicago, in a protracted fight of nineteen rounds for $2,000 and a side bet of something more than $1,000.

THE TURP.
French statistics show M. Menier at the head of the winning owners in France, with a total of $120,000. The two owners who have won the most money after him are Viscount d'Harcourt and Baron de Schickler, with $85,000 and $75,000 respectively.

TIPS.
Matthew Riley, the well-known horseman, died in New York on Monday. It is said that Joe Patchen earned $20,000 in the year.

ALLIANCE (2:20 P.M.)
by Axtell, won almost $3,000 on the European turf this year. The pacer King Egbert (2:09 1/2) won six out of eleven races this year, and earned $3,500.

DUMPS (2:04 P.M.)
got his name from the fact that when a yearling he had some kind of skin disease, and was completely covered with bumps. He was then regarded as a "bumpy" horse.

THE HORSEMEN'S PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION will probably go out of existence, after succeeding in killing the big Saratoga stake event of 1898. The directors of the once notorious Guttenburg track are to order it sold within a few days. The stockholders will realize about 30 per cent on their investment. The improvements, which amounted to nearly $1,000,000, will be a dead loss.

CANADIAN PURCHASERS.

B. H. DEMAREST HAS SOLD THE NOTED
trotting stallion Bismarck (2:13 1/2) to Bert and Co., of Vienna, Austria, for $3,500. The principal partner of the firm of Sieger & Co. is Mrs. Polly McPhee, the widow of the well-known Canadian trainer, Dan McPhee, a former Londoner, who died at Vienna last spring. Mrs. McPhee, who is a thorough horsewoman, came to America six weeks ago for the purpose of purchasing the best trotting stallion that she could find for sale. She intends to continue her husband's business here, importing and campaigning American trotters in Europe.

Blenheim People talk for the Public Good on an Interesting Subject.

Our representative interviewed Mr. J. Holland, a popular tradesman, of Blenheim, with the following results. Said Mr. Holland:

"Speaking of myself I have had seven pains in the small of my back, in both sides and between my shoulders for over seven years and I was also troubled with urinary difficulties, dizziness, pain in the head, etc., so much so that I could get but little sleep, and frequently got up as tired as when I went to bed, and feeling totally unfit for work."

"I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have cured me of all my kidney troubles. I have taken away the tired feeling, built up my system, and made me feel like a new man."

"My son James, now 13 years of age, was attacked four years ago by malaria, which left him with severe pain in the back and weakness of the kidneys. He has been troubled in that way ever since, and until he took Doan's Kidney Pills could get no relief, but they have cured him entirely."

"It is no wonder that I speak highly of these remarkable pills, for they are undoubtedly the best kidney cure in the world, seeing that they cured both myself and son in such a short time."

London Advertiser.

(ESTABLISHED 1863.)

FOUNDER AND MANAGER, John Cameron.

London, Wednesday, Dec. 1, 1897.

Mr. Howland is an "exploded phenomenon." He has got his release.

Hon. Clarke Wallace probably now wishes that he had stayed another week in British Columbia.

With a voters' list revised up to date, and a one man vote stipulation, the Liberals of Center Toronto will carry the constituency by a majority of at least 500.

Mr. Clancy, M. P. for Bothwell, told friends here, while on his way to Toronto, that he was quite sure that Mr. Howland would be elected in the Dominion bye-election. Mr. Clancy has returned from the scene of the conflict a sadder and a wiser man.

Mr. Howland was the chief speaker in the London bye-election, and the Liberal won by a large majority. Mr. Howland was the only hope of his party friends in the Toronto Center election, because four years ago, in the same district, he had over 2,000 majority. Now he is snowed under. The moral is obvious. Mr. Howland is no longer in it.

On Saturday evening, some one, signing himself "The Macdonald Club of Middlesex," telegraphed to the Toronto Conservative managers frantically calling upon them to take Center Toronto, and announcing that the "Old Guard of Toronto can do it." The Old Guard certainly carried the day—the Old Guard of Liberalism. It was a signal victory for good government and a significant rebuke to the miserable rulers of a bigoted outcry because Mr. Bertram worshipped at a different altar from the majority of the electors.

The annual report of the Union Missionary Training Institute of Brooklyn, N. Y., shows that during the past ten years it has sent 62 missionaries to the foreign field. They have gone to Africa, Bulgaria, Persia, Arabia, India, Assam, China, Corea, Japan, Burmah, West Indies, Mexico, South America and Alaska. Among the churches they represent is the Presbyterian Church of Canada. The institution is undenominational, and seems to be doing a good work under Mrs. Lucy D. Osborn, the veteran missionary enthusiast, whose health broke down in the foreign field, but who is admirably adapted for her present post.

In the Bertram-Howland contest, Mr. Howland was backed up by the Mail and Empire, the World, the News and the Telegram. The brunt of Mr. Bertram's newspaper battle was borne by the Globe, though strong acknowledgment is due to the Evening Star also for its keen and vivacious assistance to the Liberal cause. The Globe met every point brought up by "our friends the enemy" in powerful yet good-natured fashion, and either knocked out, or laughed out, the various attempts made to introduce sectarian, racial, or other petty issues. Without such a steady force in the contest, Mr. Bertram could as easily have been beaten as elected. Yet whether, after the contest is over, any one will think it worth while to even call on Mr. Willison and the editor of the Star to courteously acknowledge that aid without which victory would have been impossible, we cannot say.

The Great Victory in Toronto.

The Liberals scored a splendid victory in Center Toronto yesterday, when, in the bye-election for the Dominion House of Commons, they elected their candidate, Mr. Bertram, by an increased majority over that obtained for Mr. Lount at the general election. Circumstances had changed in the last eighteen months. Center Toronto, up till 1896, had been a Conservative constituency for many years. In 1891 the Conservative candidate, Mr. Cockburn, was elected by 502 majority over a popular Liberal. In 1892 the Conservatives were divided, many of them refused to support the nominee of the party on one ground or another, and the Liberal candidate was victorious by 240 majority.

When a bye-election was rendered necessary by the retirement of Mr. Lount, so that he could the better attend to his business, a contest was forced upon the constituency by the Opposition for two avowed reasons: (1) to show that the Dominion Liberal policy did not meet with the support of the chief commercial and industrial constituency in the country; and (2) to give aid and courage to Mr. Whitney and his friends in the Provincial elections which are at hand.

Leading business men in the party counseled the election of the Liberal nominee by acclamation, on the ground that the Opposition could, under the circumstances, better afford to be charged with lack of courage than run the risk of a defeat. A number of them were asked to be candidates, and refused to stand. Then a coup was determined on. It was decided to withdraw Mr. O. A. Howland, M.P.P. for the same district of Toronto, and endeavor to win the seat with the prestige of the 2,077 majority polled for him at the general election in 1894. The Conservative leaders put up a campaign unparalleled in recent times for energy and determination, and accompanied by tactics that could scarcely be defended as manly. We refer to the persistent attempt, by newspaper agency and by word of mouth canvass, to prejudice the great mass of the electorate against Mr. Bertram, because he is a member of the Unitarian body. In this country, with its varied religious denominations, there is no room for such a spirit of intolerance as was inculcated against Mr. Bertram. Rather should we all strive to follow the example of the motherland, which applies no such test to its representative men, recognizing Hon. Joseph Chamberlain as a worthy political leader, though belonging to the same faith as Mr. Bertram.

The victory of the Liberal candidate in Center Toronto is doubly significant, because it is a rebuke to those narrow-minded and unscrupulous politicians who imported Mr. Bertram's creed into the campaign, with the view of making political capital out of it. It is a signal triumph for the progressive policy of the Liberal Administration of Canada, whose efforts to promote the welfare of the Dominion and to increase Anglo-Saxon trade and commerce, have done more in a year to advance the Dominion and its rich natural resources than was accomplished by its predecessors in eighteen years.

It is a victory achieved in face of the strongest possible opposition which the Conservative managers could organize. They came swooping down on the constituency from all parts of Canada. There flocked into the division from Ottawa Hon. George E. Foster; from British Columbia, Hon. Clarke Wallace; from Bothwell, James Clancy, M. P.; from East Durham, T. Dixon Craig, M.P.; from East York, William F. McLean, M.P.; besides Mr. John Ross Robertson, M.P., E. F. Clarke, M.P., G. F. Marten, M.P., Mr. Crawford, M.P., Dr. Ryerson, M.P., and a host of other members of the party. They expressed determination to carry the constituency, and to make the victory the foundation for success in the Ontario general elections. The Liberals met them at every point—on the platform and in the press—with fewer talkers, but more cogent arguments. Such men as Sir Louis Davies, Hon. Wm. Paterson, Hon. J. I. Tarte, Hon. Wm. Mulock, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick and Premier Hardy lent Mr. Bertram a hand in upholding the Liberal policy and the marvelous record of the past eighteen months. These gentlemen had an easier task than the Opposition speakers, it must be admitted. The friends of the Administration had a record of approval; while the stock-in-trade of the Opposition orators was unsupported allegations of wrongdoing or suspected contemplated wrong-doing. The electors gave their answer. It cannot be mistaken. It is emphatic, and in view of the record, there are many grounds for believing that it would be the verdict of the whole country were it similarly challenged tomorrow.

Premier Hardy's Advantage.

The chief reason why the Conservative managers throughout the country urged their friends in the district to contest the Toronto Center vacancy in the House of Commons was the necessity for making an exhibition of Opposition strength so as to aid Mr. Whitney in the Provincial elections, soon to come off.

Conservative leaders asserted, and Conservative newspapers endorsed the assertion that a victory for their candidate in Center Toronto yesterday would be equal to a start of ten seats for the Opposition leader in the Ontario contest.

The New M. P.

Mr. Geo. Bertram, the Liberal M.P. elected for Center Toronto, is a distinct acquisition to the Dominion House of Commons. He is one of the industrial leaders in Canada. For many years, he has been a leading manufacturer in the country, and recently he has added iron shipbuilding to the industries of which he is the chief head. Mr. Bertram is in the prime of manhood, a keen thinker, a close reasoner, and a good speaker. He is the type of man who makes a good representative. It is not too much to prophesy that his record in Parliament will be creditable alike to himself and the important constituency whose mandate he holds.

A LETTER FRAE OWE THE SEA.

[By John Imrie, Toronto, Canada.]
Oh! it nearly tak's my breath awa'
To get a letter frae hame,
An' afore I read a word or twa,
I can guess the sender's name!
This an', I ken, is frae Maggie dear,
The lassie I loe sae weel,
An' while I'm readin' she's standin' near,
Her presence I seem to feel!

Chorus—
It's nice to get a letter frae hame,
Fu' o' love, an' joy, an' cheer;
I needna open't to ken the name
O' the lassie I loe sae dear!

It minds me o' happy days gane by
When we ran about the braes,
I scarcely can keep my winkers dry
At the thoughts o' hygienic days!
The letter it scents o' summer flowers,
And the salt sea's caller air,
My heart gae back to the twilight oors,

That Maggie an' I spent there!
The best an' o' a' I gat the day
It made me sae happy an' glad,
It told o' the ship that sail'd away
Wi' a lassie to meet her lad!
Noo, I maun awa' to meet my ain,
My Maggie from over the sea!
I'll marry her noo, an' aye be fain,
For she has been true to me!

Tried for Murder.

Mrs. Mack's Companion Thorn Found Guilty.

"Translaughter" in the Case of the Thompsons at Lindsay.

Other Cases at Bracebridge and Pembroke.

New York, Dec. 1.—The trial of Martin Thorne, who, with Mrs. Mack, is charged with the murder of Golden-shippe was concluded yesterday. The jury having visited the famous Woodside cottage, Mr. Howe finished summing up for the prisoner.

District Attorney Youngs for the people, opened by saying: "The woman tempted me, and I did yield." The jury-men no doubt had read their Bibles, and they knew exactly who made this excuse. He was sorry that both the man and the woman were not jointly tried, as they were jointly indicted, and each was equally guilty of the crime charged. He said Mrs. Mack was not on trial; she would be brought in due time before another tribunal. The people did not expect to put her on the stand to let her swear to lies. Mr. Youngs finished after speaking for 55 minutes.

Judge Maddox then called on the jury-men to stand up, and explained very clearly the law governing the charge, and defined the difference between murder and manslaughter. The charge was extremely fair and impartial. The jury retired from the court-room at 2:30 o'clock and recess was ordered until 4 o'clock.

The court resumed its sitting about 5:30, the jurors having signified that they had agreed upon a verdict. When the jurors stood up the clerk of the court addressed them: "How say you, gentlemen, is the prisoner guilty or not guilty?" There was a painful silence just then. Finally, Foreman Morse, said: "We find the prisoner, Martin Thorne, guilty of the charge, as preferred."

District Attorney Youngs then moved that a day be set for sentence. Mr. Howe moved for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was against the evidence and the weight of evidence adduced.

Judge Maddox denied the motion for a new trial.

Mr. Howe asked the court to postpone the passing of sentence until next Friday, and Judge Maddox set it down for Friday next at 10 a.m.

MANSLAUGHTER.

Lindsay, Ont., Dec. 1.—At the fall assizes now in session here, the two Thompson brothers were tried for murder in the killing of W. W. Sawyer, in Haliburton county, a few miles from the village of Minden, about Sept. 1 last. The brothers were found guilty of manslaughter and will be sentenced to-day.

HAMMOND'S SECOND TRIAL.

Bracebridge, Ont., Dec. 1.—Wm. J. Hammond will for the second time stand his trial on the charge of murder at the assizes here this week. The crime with which he is charged is that he administered poison to his wife, Katie Tough, whom he had secretly married in Buffalo, Nov. 16, 1895. Mrs. Hammond was found dead half-way between her own home and that of her husband's father at Gravenhurst on March 6, 1896. At the inquest which followed it was stated that Katie Tough, as she was then known, had died of poison. It was also shown that she carried heavy insurance, and that her husband had been arrested at the instance of Detective Rogers on the charge of murdering Fred Carriere at Port Arthur. She was taken before Police Magistrate Mitchell and remanded for a week.

POISON AND CREMATION.

Port Arthur, Ont., Dec. 1.—The murder case of the two Frenchmen last February, of which Prevost and Mrs. Gauthier mutually accused each other, may come up at the present assizes here, but will probably be traversed to the next assizes. Mrs. Gauthier has been arrested at the instance of Detective Rogers on the charge of murdering Fred Carriere at Port Arthur. She was taken before Police Magistrate Mitchell and remanded for a week.

MAKING SLOW PROGRESS.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Very little progress was made in the second Luetger trial yesterday. About a dozen veniremen were examined during the session.

BARNARD BROWN BURIED.

Guelph, Dec. 1.—The funeral of Barnard Brown, of Morrison, was very largely attended. Nearly 100 conveyances followed the remains to the grave. The pall-bearers were J. Gyer, C. Calfas, P. Morlock, G. Bort, G. B. Fisher and J. Weiner. Messrs. Doran, Schmuck, Reinhart and Singular, of this city, attended.

WHAT WAS LEFT.

A gentleman one day arrived at a forlorn inn, and addressing a lugubrious waiter, inquired if he could have a chicken and asparagus. The mysterious serving man shook his head. "Can I have a duck, then?" "No, sir." "Have you any mutton-chops?" "Not one, sir." "Then, as you have no eatables, bring me something to drink. Have you any spirits?" "Sir," replied the man, with a profound sigh, "we are out of spirits." "Then in wondrous name what have you got in the house?" "Baillifs, sir," answered the waiter.—London Tit-Bits.

PASSPORT RULES.

Vexatious Regulations That Travelers Must Obey.

There are few countries in which travelers now require passports in order to promote their convenience and security. In Brazil and Venezuela a passport must be shown to the officials before one is allowed to leave the country for a foreign port. This is a vexatious measure, enforced apparently for the sake of enabling a few officials to collect small fees. In Cuba passports are produced whenever travelers arrive or depart. This precaution is considered necessary in view of the political condition of unrest prevailing in the island.

In Russia passport regulations are enforced with great stringency. No traveler is allowed to enter the empire until he has obtained a passport and convinced the Russian consular officers at the port from which he sails that he is neither a Roman Catholic priest nor a Hebrew. The question ordinarily asked is: "What is your religion?" but it is designed to provide against the entry of either of these two classes. When the traveler arrives at a Russian port, with a passport which has been properly vided and countersigned at a consular office, it is critically examined by a police officer and duly registered. At the entrance of the hotel another police officer takes possession of the document, and, in the course of 24 hours, returns it with a permit for a limited residence in the country.

When the traveler departs for another city in the empire he must have the passport countersigned by the police. Not infrequently tourists are stopped at the frontier and subjected to serious inconvenience because they have neglected to comply with the police regulations respecting passports. All this red tape causes annoyance and irritation among tourists, who are apt to overlook the fact that Russians as well as foreigners are compelled to observe these police regulations. It is the business of the police to know where everybody lodges. A permit is required if a native is removed from one quarter of a town to another. Everybody is registered by the police when he arrives or departs, and foreigners when they are in Russia are dealt with on equal terms with permanent residents.

After serious illness, like typhoid fever, pneumonia, or the grip, Hood's Sarsaparilla has wonderful strength-giving power.

A DINNER PILL.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Farnham's Vegetable Compound wonderfully corrects all such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions, and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia.

WORTH RECOGNIZED.
The Advertiser has been requested to publish the following from the Paris (Ont.) Review: Mr. W. M. Widner's residence was the scene of a delightful social event last Saturday evening, when about 35 young men gathered to say good-bye to Mr. Hugh McDougall, who is removing to Bradford. An excellent oyster supper was partaken of, after which Mr. S. B. Wilson was elected to the chair, who expressed his regret at having to part with Mr. McDougall, and then called on Messrs. Armitage, Kent, Newton, Wallis, Taylor, Inkster, Thompson, McGlashan and Mr. Wilner. That Mr. McDougall will be missed was the gist of every speech; missed among his large circle of friends, missed by his fellow-employees, missed by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian Church, and by the Y.M.C.A. boys. What will be our loss will be Bradford's gain. Mr. McDougall replied in a few appropriate words, "God Save the Queen" was sung, and the young dispersed to their several homes.

AT THE UNIVERSITY.
A most enjoyable time was spent by the friends and members of the Western University Musical and Literary Society last night. After routine business it was decided to hold a conversation early in January. A "Elocution" by Rev. Principal English, of Hellmuth College, which throughout showed the deep interest in the subject, and emphasized the fact that elocution is a necessary adjunct to a good university career. During the address the reverend gentleman gave several selections by way of illustration, which added greatly to the interest of the paper. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Principal English for his efforts, moved by Rev. Provost Watkins and seconded by Dr. James. The chairman of the programme consisted of the president's address by E. B. Smith; reading, W. E. V. McMillan; solo, Mr. J. F. Fottis;

Instrumental, Miss Burgess; quartet, Messrs. Farney, Fox, Smith and McMillan. Dr. Huggins, the society critic, gave his criticism, after which the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

THE ASYLUM CASE.

An interesting dispatch of yesterday says: The case against Dr. D. H. Hutchison and Augustus Fzezell, for procuring the miscarriage of Lizzie Deehan, came up before Police Magistrate Morrison this afternoon. Chief of Police Skirving asked for a further remand of one week, stating that the girl's condition would not allow of the case being proceeded with at present. The girl is considerably better, but not out of danger, and it will be a week longer before she can appear in court. Judge Finkle, of Woodstock, appointed a commission yesterday to proceed to the London asylum and take the girl's evidence, but the doctors in attendance stated it would seriously endanger the girl to allow any such proceeding just then, so the matter is left in abeyance. Fzezell was removed to Woodstock jail. Dr. Hutchison is still out on $9,000 bail.

DEATH OF JOHN HORSMAN.

John Horsman, of London, father of John Horsman, proprietor of the Caster House, Woodstock, died yesterday afternoon. About a month ago Mr. Horsman went to Woodstock to visit his son. For some time he had been suffering from a painful affection. Everything possible was done to prolong his life, but without avail. He died yesterday afternoon at Woodstock. His remains will be brought to this city for interment. John Horsman was one of the best known hotel men in the province. He was born in Yorkshire, England, 68 years ago. In 1859 he came to Canada and kept hotel in Richmond Hill. He subsequently returned to England, where he followed the hotel business in Newcastle-on-Tyne. Some years ago he came to Canada, and at different times ran hotels in London and Watford. Deceased leaves three children, John, proprietor of the Caster House, Woodstock; Edward, late of the Griggs House, London; and Thomas, of the Riverside Hotel, London, West.

THE TUNNEL ACCIDENT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Permit me, through the medium of your valuable paper, to give expression to an idea which, if acted upon, might in future lessen or entirely prevent the recurrence of an accident of the same nature which happened at the tunnel station a few days ago, through the accumulation of coal gas. This can be done in two ways: First, by putting down an iron shaft in the center of the river, lining the inside with solid masonry of brick and Roman cement. A less expensive way would be to put an iron tube in the tunnel, leaving a space between the two halves of say about twenty yards; then extending the tubes each side of the tunnel to a distance of three-quarters of a mile. This, I think, would cause a suction of air from each side of the tunnel sufficient to clear it in a very short time. The principle should receive the attention and consideration of engineers. By giving space to the above you will oblige, yours truly, E. H. SANDERS.

Dorchester Station, Nov. 30.—A session of the literary society convened in the hall at Banner last evening, which proved to be a pronounced success. Alex. Rose filled the post of chairman efficiently. The routine business having been accomplished, an attractive programme engaged the attention of the large and appreciative assemblage.
