

COMING BATTLE TO SETTLE FATE OF THE BALKANS

Crisis Is Near As Result of Operations Near Kutchana. Big Armies Are Being Concentrated For Decisive Fight of the Campaign.

[Canadian Press.] London, July 8.—The Times correspondent in the Balkans writes from Sofia as follows: No bulletins were issued today, but severe fighting continues west of Kutchana, where the fourth Bulgarian army, under General Koutcheff, the war minister, is being reinforced by the fifth army, under General Tosheff, which is advancing from Kustendil. The fate of the campaign will probably be decided by the result of the operations in this quarter. Meanwhile, the third army, under General Racho Petroff, is advancing in two columns on Vranja and Proot, on the latter place by way of Tsaribrod. The Servians have destroyed the railway between these places. Kutchana Advancing. In the north, General Koutcheff is reported to be advancing up the Timok Valley. General Ivanoff is now being reinforced, the weakening of his army having been the initial error of the campaign. Had General Savoff's plan been adopted at the outset, these reverses by the Greeks might have been avoided, but complete confidence exists in the final result. Within the last few days Istip has been twice taken by the Servians and twice retaken by the Bulgarians, and hard fighting is still reported around Kutchana. Small Servian detachments have made raids on Bulgarian territory to the north of Kustendil and carried away a number of women and children. A Servian column advancing on Belogradchik from the Timok Valley has been routed with the loss of five guns.

BULGARIANS GAINING.

[Canadian Press.] Vienna, Austria, July 8.—The Bulgarian troops, after repulsing several small Serbian forces, have succeeded in penetrating to Vrenja, the war commissariat station of the Serbian army, according to a dispatch from Belgrade. The Neue Freie Presse, the Bulgarians, it says, are now advancing along the Morava River. If this information should prove to be correct the Bulgarians have, by their advance, cut off a huge body of Serbian troops from Belgrade.

LOST 15,000.

[Canadian Press.] New York, July 8.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: It is stated in Belgrade that the total Serbian casualties in a week of fighting have amounted to upwards of 15,000 killed and wounded.

The Greeks admit they have lost 10,000 officers and men. From the Bulgarian side there is no corresponding estimate, but presumably they were in proportion. On the other hand, information which has reached London asserts that the whole story of the fighting, desperate resistance, and so forth is much exaggerated, and that nothing like a real battle has yet occurred. Between these two highly divergent statements it is no more possible to judge at the moment than it is possible to discriminate between the conflicting claim of victory put forward by the parties to the new war.

The Bulgarians maintain that they have had the best of the struggle. So far it is positively declared in messages received in official quarters from Sofia that the Timok division of the Serbian army has been routed, with enormous loss around Oviche Polje, but here again the Servians deny they have sustained any such disaster. Exactly similar discrepancies are evident between versions given out regarding the fighting of the Greeks and the Bulgarians. For example, while telegrams from Athens portray the army of King Constantine pursuing an unchecked career of unadvised victory, it is affirmed from Sofia that the same army of the 80,000 men has been defeated and dispersed.

Under these conditions it is useless to attempt any estimate of the actual situation, so far as the probable eventual outcome of the amazing clash of rivalries and hatreds. Turkey's Attitude. The attitude of Turkey is becoming more clearly defined. It is evident that she means to take advantage of her own advantage. The Porte formally demanded that the territory within the Enosmidia line shall be evacuated by the Bulgarians at once, and there are even rumors that an effort will be made to recover Adria. Not too much reliance need be placed on this latter report, for it is difficult to see how the Ottoman army can advance over the 100 miles that separates Chatalia from the lost fortress, but it seems certain that military preparations are being made and all officers have been ordered to rejoin their forces at Chatalia.

SERVIAN LINES THREATENED.

London, July 7.—The most important news from the seat of war today is the report, confirmed from Sofia, of the appearance of a large Bulgarian force at Vranja, threatening the Serbian line of retreat. Still more significant, as tending to confirm the belief that the Servians are suffering defeat, is the announcement from Belgrade that only meagre reports are being received from the Serbian army headquarters, and that the Government has decided to publish reports only on alternate days. In addition, a rigid censorship on the newspapers is being enforced and the publication of special war editions has been stopped.

Inhuman Treatment.

The Servians wounded describe the battles as almost inhuman in their ferocity, the men throwing away their firearms and using their bayonets as daggers. This accords with the information from many sources of the sanguinary character of the fighting and the wholesale slaughter witnessed in the present struggle. Whatever the policy of his European powers may be, little is now

Greeks of London Help Those at War.

The Greeks of London this morning commenced a subscription for the families of soldiers engaged in the renewed Balkan struggle, and a considerable amount of money was secured. While the Greek Government has ample funds for conducting the war, much is needed for the relief of refugees and for the maintenance of soldiers who are left without means of support by the hostilities. The Greeks are not asking for a public subscription, but those residing in London will be glad to receive any amount their Canadian friends may see fit to give. Any of the Greeks in London will receive the money and apply it to the general fund. A number of Greeks from this city are, if they have not been killed or wounded, engaged in the battles with the Bulgarians. Among them are John Pernokis, James Kapeas and Nick Kastel.

STRIKE FAVORED ON EASTERN RYS.

Ninety-Four Per Cent of the Men Voted For Walk-Out—Railways' Statement Says Course Is Absolutely Unjustifiable—Trouble May Possibly Be Averted By Arbitration.

[Canadian Press.] New York, N. Y., July 8.—Ninety-four per cent of the members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and of the Order of Railway Conductors out of 76,683 participating in a strike vote in the wage dispute with the eastern railroads, are in favor of a strike.

These figures were announced today at a joint meeting of union representatives and a committee of railroad managers. When the conference convened the Erie Railroad announced that it had withdrawn from the proceedings on the ground that it would be unable to meet any advance which might result. This practically invites a strike.

Detroit, July 8.—The conference committee of railroad managers has issued a statement that if the 100,000 railroad conductors and trainmen in the eastern territory carry out their threat to strike because the railroads will not grant them an increase in wages of $17,000,000, or 20 per cent, per annum, some 50,000 miles of railroad in the United States will be tied up. More than 50,000,000 people depend on these railroads. These same railroads pay annually for labor over half a billion dollars—more than one and one-half millions of dollars every working day.

Thousands Affected. There are about 680,000 employees on the railroads in the eastern territory. Every one of these will be affected by a strike, not to speak of the serious effect upon the public, which is of even greater importance.

The conductors and trainmen in the eastern territory have practically uniform wages and working conditions. Continued on Page Nine.

ALL HOPE IS GIVEN UP FOR CHIEF'S RECOVERY

Head of Cuban Police Was Shot By Governor During Pistol Fight.

[Canadian Press.] Havana, July 8.—General Armando Riva, chief of the Cuban national police, was still lying this afternoon, but the surgeons declared that there was no hope of his recovery from the bullet wounds he received last night during a pistol fight on the Prado.

Complete order has been maintained everywhere throughout the republic, and the Government's precautions which continue without relaxation are believed to be fully adequate to prevent any disturbance, although partisan excitement runs high. Riva was released to General Ernesto Asbert, governor of Havana Province. Senator Vidal Morales and Representative Arias, who were arrested for participating in the fighting which was brought about in the consequence of a raid by General Riva on the Asbert Club on Saturday night, when many members were taken into custody for gambling. The case against the accused has been placed in the hands of a judge specially appointed by the supreme court to consider what form the prosecution shall take.

SARNIA GIRL WON HER CASE

Detroit Real Estate Firm Was Trying to Keep Money Back.

SOLD LOTS FOR HER

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, July 8.—Miss Mabel Cameron, daughter of Immigration Inspector Cameron, of Sarnia, recently purchased some lots from a real estate firm, and before all the payments were due the lots were resold by the same firm on instructions from her a good profit. The firm refused to pay over all the profits to the girl, and she, acting on legal advice, entered an action to collect the balance due her. On the day the trial her lawyer persuaded her to conduct her own case. He assured her that she could win without his assistance. She reluctantly consented to do so, and presented her case with some ability, and after a mild tilt with the opposing counsel the judge awarded the payment of the balance in full.

Strange Pranks in the Lottery of Love

He—Aged 69—Was the Inmate of Aged People's Home and She—Aged 59—a Domestic in Same Place—They Met and Loved and Are Going To Live Happy Ever After.

Romantic unions effected and destined decided. When a formerly well-known London dentist, white-haired and bent with the three score years and ten allotted to humanity by the Hebrew psalmist of old, broken in health and afflicted with severe nervous and other trouble, was sent to Victoria Hospital last fall, he did not dream that within a few short months his life's shadow would all change to sunshine and the springtime of youth and love be his again. Without funds and incapacitated from work by ill health and age, he more likely had premonitions of cypress wreaths than sprays of orange blossoms.

Love Won Hands Down. But Time and Fate and Love and Death play a merry game for human souls and human hearts, and neither moved by human hopes or human fears. This time Fate and Love were partners, and won hands down. After being a short time in the hospital the aged hero of this little romance was placed in the Aged People's Home through the efforts of friends who became interested in his case.

Among the domestic employees of that home was a certain kind-hearted maiden lady of fifty-nine, from the country, who became interested in the broken-down old gentleman, and sympathized with his misfortune. The friendship grew into love.

Stole Away To Wed. On Dominion Day the aged man and his lady-love stole quietly away and going to St. Thomas were married there, after which they went to Stratford for part of their honeymoon. They have since returned to London, where they are registered at the Tecumseh House. When a reporter called to interview them this morning they were out motoring. The lady is said to hold first-class mortgages to the value of $8,000 or $9,000 on land in West Middlesex. She also has a cosy little cottage somewhere in Adelaide Township. The couple have not yet decided whether they will live in the city or in their suburban villa, but they firmly avow their affection for each other, and declare that life is beginning to be fun.

And up at the Aged People's Home there is room for another elderly gentleman and another domestic employee.

DRANK CARBOLIC ACID WHILE WIFE WAS OUT

James Reynard, of Thorndale, Died 12 Hours After Being Found—No Inquest.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Thorndale, July 8.—James Reynard, aged 59, a farmer residing two miles south of Thorndale, died at his home here Monday afternoon as a result of having drunk a quantity of carbolic acid. His wife, who was out milking, found her husband moaning when she came in, and on investigating found him in one of the rooms with a partially-emptied bottle of carbolic acid beside him. She called help, but nothing could be done, and after suffering intensely for many hours Reynard died Monday.

Coroner Dr. Ferguson, of London, was notified, and after viewing the body decided not to hold any inquest, Reynard leaving only his wife. No reason is known for his act. The funeral will be held Wednesday to Brown's Cemetery.

BOY BURGLARS LIVED IN WOODS LIKE OUTLAWS

Robbed Magistrate's House and Then Flew Into the Forest For Two Days.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Durham, July 8.—For committing burglary on his own premises, Police Magistrate J. P. Telford sentenced two young boys, Charles and Ernest Wright, to three years in the Industrial School at Mimico.

Mr. Telford and family were away from home at the time of the robbery, and the two boys, who live close by, entered the house, took a quantity of cash and valuables belonging to him. For two days the boys absented themselves from the locality like outlaws in the woods. They then surrendered themselves to the constable and were tried.

It is alleged that the boys have also committed offences prior to this time.

ASK RECALL OF COUNCIL

Vancouver Electors Allege Extravagance and Incompetency of Whole Body.

[Canadian Press.] Vancouver, July 8.—Steps are to be taken immediately to endeavor to have the entire municipal council of West Vancouver recalled.

Serious allegations have been made against members of that body, and the probability is that the question will be carried to the courts.

Extravagance and incompetence are two of the principal grounds on which 90 per cent of the electors are making demands.

Dubin claimed to have helped the man because he was a fellow countryman, but the magistrate, in giving judgment, held that the evidence was too strongly against the other way—that Dubin was a confederate of the actual pickpocket, and had the money passed to him.

When Elizabeth Foley, who had been passing as Crowley's wife, attempted to make her way back to Chicago she was stopped by the American immigration authorities and sent back to Canada, she having been born in Essex Centre. Her marriage to Crowley in the jail last night now makes her an American citizen, and she has been again deported, this time to the United States.

TO PROBE PRISON

Affairs at Kingston Penitentiary To Be Investigated Shortly.

[Canadian Press.] Ottawa, July 8.—It is announced that two of the members of the Kingston Penitentiary investigation commission will be S. A. Armstrong, head of the prisons branch of the provincial secretary's department, and Joseph Downey, director of Orillia Asylum. The third man is to be a lawyer, and the whole prison system of the province will be re-opened.

JAIL FOR DUBIN AND DEPORTATION FOR COMPANIONS

Crowley Cleared of Theft Charge, But Broke Immigration Regulations.

Last Chapter of Interesting History of Gang of Alleged American Crooks.

André Dubin and Charles Crowley's experience of Canadian law, as administered in London, is hardly one that could be termed pleasing to either gentleman. Three weeks ago they were arrested as suspected "dips" when the Barnum & Bailey circus was here. Last Thursday night they again came into the hands of the local detective force when they were arrested at the G. T. station as suspects in the pocket-picking of a Russian.

When Police Magistrate J. C. Judd handed down his judgment in court this morning he sentenced Dubin to six months in Central, while Crowley was discharged on the charge of being implicated in the robbery of the foreigner. He was, however, found guilty of a breach of the immigration act—entering the country through fraud, was fined $75 or three months, and deported by the immigration department. On the expiration of Dubin's term he, also, will be deported to Russia.

Both Men Arraigned. Magistrate Judd's summing up of his judgment in both cases was an arraignment of the men of the calling. He declared that while the evidence in the case of Crowley was insufficient for conviction, had it been strong enough for the latter three years in Kingston Penitentiary would have been his sentence.

When the second charge against Crowley—that under the immigration act, was pressed, the prisoner pleaded guilty. In this case, too, three months, the magistrate expressed his determination of preventing the entry into Canada of men of his class, whose only object was to pursue their criminal calling.

Suspended sentence was imposed in the case of Crowley's wife, whom he married at the county jail last night, she, too, having pleaded guilty to having aided and abetted the fraud.

Both Crowley and his wife were deported by the immigration officials, Travelling Inspector D. H. Reynolds, of the immigration department, sending them back to the American border with immigration officer Bell of Sarina.

Fatally Injured by Enraged Husband

Father Was Ejected When He Went to Take Children Away.

[Canadian Press.] Winnipeg, Man., July 8.—Wm. Courtney shot and probably fatally injured Wm. Moore in a dispute over the possession of the former's children last night.

The trouble started when Courtney visited his wife, who it is alleged was living with her paramour. Courtney demanded his children, aged twelve and eight, and was ejected from the premises by Moore, who pulled a thirty-two calibre revolver and shot Moore four times.

The bullets lodged in shoulder, chest and hip, and Moore lies in the hospital in a serious condition. Courtney was captured after a short struggle on the street.

GOVT. LEASES FINE COAL MINE TO BIG AMERICAN INTERESTS

Company Will Sell to German Govt. to Supply German Naval Stations in the Pacific—Secured Big Area For a Mere Song.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, July 8.—The Canadian Government just leased one of the finest coal areas in the world to American interests.

The area was recently discovered, and was staked by Dr. Reinhold Hoppe, of Oakland, California. It is located in the Province of Alberta on the Smoky River, 40 miles from the Grand Trunk Pacific, and about 200 miles from Edmonton.

The area is of great extent, and the deposits are anthracite of a better quality than the famous Pennsylvania hard coal deposits.

Sugar Magnate Interested. Dr. Hoppe, who is a man of extensive means, has associated with him in the development of this splendid coal field, Mr. Paul Isenberg, a sugar magnate of Honolulu. They secured the area for the regular rental of a dollar an acre, and will pay a royalty of five cents a ton after they begin operations.

Last season they secured a charter for a railway, which will enable them to tap this area. The road is incorporated as the Athabasca and Grand Prairie Company. It runs from the G. T. P. in the vicinity of Jasper Park.

Supply Germans. Within a year the Canadian West will be supplied from this field with unlimited quantities of the best grade anthracite coal. Large shipments, it is expected, will be made to the Pacific coast.

Among customers which have been secured is the German Government, which wants the coal for its naval stations on the Pacific in the Samoa Islands, as soon as the Panama Canal is completed large shipments will be made to Germany for use on the German fleets.

DROVE BLACKS TO WORK WITH LEVELLED RIFLES

Situation in South African Mining Strike Is Assuming a Most Threatening Aspect—Thousands May Join Walk-Out Shortly.

[Canadian Press.] Johannesburg, South Africa, July 8.—Six thousand native black laborers from three of the large gold mines on the Rand, joined in the labor upheaval today, and should the disaffection among them spread to the other 250,000 natives employed on the reef it will mean that the white inhabitants will be confronted with the reappearance of the "black peril," which has been quiescent for some years.

The natives refused to descend the mines until granted an increase of wages, and 1,000 of them employed in one mine broke out of their compound. They were, however, awed by the levelled rifles of the troops, who had been immediately posted to deal with the serious development, and they returned to their quarters.

Most of the blacks have donned red rosettes in imitation of the white strikers, who, they believe, struck for higher pay and obtained it. The natives argue that they can do the same thing. Apart from this development the situation on the reefs is greatly improved, and most of the white strikers have returned to work.

MANY ROUTES COVERED BY THE GARBAGE COLLECTOR

Operation of the Incinerator Is Proving Satisfactory So Far.

The civic garbage collection system began on Monday, and Superintendent W. C. Dodd reports that satisfactory progress is being made. It will, however, require several days or a week before everything is working as smoothly as is desired.

Printed placards giving directions for leaving garbage in cans in readiness for the collectors were distributed on Monday and today to every household in the collection zone. Collectors covered a dozen routes yesterday, but half a dozen additional cars, which have been ordered, have not yet arrived. So far the incinerator has worked satisfactorily. As soon as the additional cars arrive the collection zone will be covered by a regular semi-weekly collection service.

WAS DUG OUT UNHARMED

Gravel For Over an Hour.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Blythe, July 8.—Considerable excitement was created in Blythe today when it was learned that Herbert Dexter, aged 23, was under a cave-in in the gravel pit on Mr. Tamm's farm, adjacent to the town.

A large number of citizens rushed out, and after a strenuous hour and a half's work he was freed from his perilous position, little the worse for his mishap.

He was covered with over two feet of earth and how he escaped instant death was a puzzle to all who saw the cave-in.

Building Permits Show Big Total

Figures for 1912 Already Outdistanced by Several Thousand.

Building permits for 1912 to date total $1,117,000. For the month of July so far the permits total $43,350. Already the total for 1912 has been distanced several thousand.

A building permit has been issued for a $4,000 parsonage for Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church on Hill street. Tenders for city hall purposes were awarded Monday by the city hall committee, as follows: Plumbing, T. Partidge, $2,760; roofing, Philip Carey Company, $255; vault doors, Ford & Featherstone, $55; brickwork, Northey & Tulett, $5,200.

TEST PULMOTOR ON EMPLOYE OF WATER COM.

Call Out For Volunteer Who Wanted To Be Semi-Executed.

In Order To See Just How Life-Saving Machinery May Bring Them Around.

WANTED—Volunteers who don't mind being choked to death or half electrocuted.

Hardly an attractive program, but some heroic persons may be willing to take chances on having music at their homes that they won't be able to hear, when the city electrical department calls for volunteers, as per above.

The request grows out of the pulmotor that Water Commissioner H. A. Stevenson and William Wyatt ordered purchased at the last session of the commission. It is now about that pulmotor. The machine is now in the city, and a test is to be made at the Horton street pumping station one day this week.

According to General Manager H. J. Gault, some of the employees at the plant will likely be the "testers." However, anyone who fancies a view of the other world will be welcome. In some cities, where tests of the pulmotor are made, the "patient," or "subject," or whatever other moniker might be attached to the hero, is choked into insensibility—then restored to consciousness by the use of the machine. Here, however, the scheme will be tried on more up-to-date methods.

According to the G. M., the subjects will be first shocked with electricity and then restored. Anyone training for the electric chair is invited to attend. At the same time, it is hardly likely that special police detachments will have to be called out to keep the applicants for subjects in line.

Machine Is Needed. There has been a serious agitation for the pulmotor. One death by electrocution, two by drowning, are claimed to have occurred already this summer that would have been prevented had there been a pulmotor here. The sacrifice of human life caused the water commission to overcome its scruples over the $25 increase in price of the machine would be kept at the Horton street station. One of the employees there will be trained in its operation, and it will be at the service of the citizens generally in cases of asphyxiation, drowning and electrocution. One of the motor cars of the water commission will be pressed into immediate service on a request for the machine, and with its "expert" attendant, it will be sent out wherever needed.

FORESTALLED STRIKE. [Canadian Press.] Edmonton, July 8.—Forestalling an impending strike of the electrical workers, the Burnham North Company locked out forty men. Other firms are following suit today.

GILLETT'S FLY PAD POISON

MR. J. McQUAKER WAS FORMALLY NOMINATED

A Lively Campaign Will Take Place in North Grey During the Next Two Weeks.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Owen Sound, July 7.—Mr. John McQuaker was formally nominated as Liberal candidate in the coming North Grey by-election here this afternoon. He was named by Mayor Lemon and Neil McDonald.

Colin Cameron, the Conservative candidate, was nominated also.

Mr. McQuaker at once started for a two days' canvass in the eastern sections of the riding in company with Mr. J. C. Elliott, M. P. He appeared tonight at White's school house in St. Vincent Township, where he was forceful and fluent on the duty of an Opposition. He outlined the work of the Liberal party in the Legislature, and showed the present day tendency towards centralization and bureaucracy.

The situation in Ontario today, he said, was that a few men had allocated to themselves the functions and authorities of government. The rights and privileges of the Legislature were being gradually usurped by the cabinet, and the province was in danger of an era of "order in council" rule.

An earnest temperance advocate himself, Mr. McQuaker made a special plea on behalf of the advanced stand taken by the Liberal party for the abolition of the bar in Ontario. It was not enough, he pointed out, to say that North Grey, now without bars, need not consider the effect of the temperance question in Ontario. The time had come when this important question had forced itself into the forefront of needed social reforms.

North Grey had reason to be proud of the record as a temperance constituency, and it now has the opportunity of declaring in favor of a policy that would make the benefits of further restricting the sale of intoxicating liquors province-wide.

Sylvia Pankhurst Wants a Real Riot

Arrested at Bromley Meeting for Not Appearing When Summoned.

London, July 7.—Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, the second daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, who was summoned to appear in court because of her connections with the recent attempted raid on the houses of the ministers in Downing street and who failed to appear, was arrested at Bromley today during a suffragette meeting.

The young woman appeared on the platform in the middle of the meeting. Her hair was untidy and her hat was awry. She had a straw travelling bag in her hand. As soon as she mounted the platform Sylvia began talking fast and wild. She said among other things: "We are out for riots, I have had no hand in a real riot yet, but I mean to have it."

Several speakers at the weekly meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union today denounced as a "desperate lie" the story printed by the Daily Mail this morning to the effect that the suffragette organization had been practically wiped out of existence through the operations of the "cat and mouse" law, and that no contributions were being received to the funds of the militants.

Forestry Convention Opens at Winnipeg

[Canadian Press.] Winnipeg, July 7.—The formal opening of the Canadian Forestry Convention takes place tonight at 8 o'clock, when Lieut.-Governor D. C. Cameron presides. An address of welcome will be delivered by a representative of the Provincial Government. Mayor Deacon, the president of the board of trade, and the president of the industrial bureau, will also deliver speeches. Responses will be made by the president of the convention, and by the different governments present.

MAY BE BURNED

Young Scotchman, Watchman On the Burned Boat, is Missing.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, July 7.—Alex. Munro, a young Scotchman of 25, who was watchman of the boat Pontiac, which was burned at the dock here last night, has been missing since the fire, and much anxiety is felt. Munro had sleeping quarters in the wheelhouse, and it was in that section of the boat where the fire apparently started.

STRIKE STILL ON; MINERS REFUSING TO START WORK

Serious Trouble Threatened As Result of Agitators' Plans.

Fear Dynamite Outrages and Attempts to Damage Street Railway.

Johannesburg, July 7.—Many of the gold miners refuse to return to work. At a meeting held in Union Park this afternoon militant leaders delivered fiery speeches to the 3,000 assembled, and a resolution declaring that the strike was still on and condemning the strikebreakers was carried.

One of the chief speakers announced the organization of a new union of the South African workers, which, he said, would be a revolutionary party. Efforts are now being made at Bloemfontein to bring out the railway workers.

Dispute Over Terms.

A dispute is on over the actual terms of settlement which Gen. Botha, the ex-premier, and Gen. Smuts, minister of mines, made with the unions. The unionists assert they insisted that the Government provide for the miners whose place were taken by strikebreakers until new places should be found for them; that Gen. Botha and Smuts agreed to this but thought it inadvisable to put it into writing, and also that the leaders claimed amnesty for the rioters.

The mine owners say that the strike leaders, by attempting to show that they could not be trusted, had made a better bargain than they did in order to strengthen themselves with the men.

Attempts to dynamite the Rand Club and other buildings are feared. The club is barricaded and deserted, except for armed members who patrol the premises day and night. The residences of the mine owners are guarded by soldiers.

An attempt to destroy the railroad between Johannesburg and Germiston was made during the night, but failed. The only newspaper published today is a four-page sheet issued by the printers' union.

"Murdered by Capitalists." Twelve thousand members of the trades unions marched today at the funeral of the victims of the riots. Immense crowds lined the route. The Right Rev. Michael Bolton, Bishop of Pretoria, officiated. He begged the multitude to return to their homes peacefully out of respect for the dead. The spokesman of the Trades Federation made a similar appeal. "Disperse quietly," he said, "or we are a disorganized rabble." Among the wreaths was one from the Socialist party inscribed: "In memory of our martyrs, foully murdered in cold blood by the capitalist class."

At the end of the ceremony the Socialists assembled outside the cemetery and sang, "The Red Flag."

GARDEN PARTY WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

South Presbyterian Church Members Had Big Outing at Thorndale.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Thorndale, July 8.—The South Presbyterian Church members held their annual garden party on the lawn of Mr. W. Henderson, 4th line. It was well attended by people from the surrounding country. A good program was given. The Tony Cortese Harpers, of London, furnished some excellent music.

A splendid supper was served by the ladies of the church. Quite a severe electrical storm swept over this district Saturday. Several trees were struck by lightning, and some of the rural telephone lines were also put out of order. A heavy rain fell for several hours, and the farmers were delighted to see it, as the grain and fruit crops have suffered greatly from the dry weather.

Miss F. McFadden is visiting her brother, Mr. McDonald, of the village. Miss J. Stinson and Miss M. Henderson spent a few days in Toronto recently.

Miss Robena Duffin is holidaying at her home here. Mr. Wheaton, of Toronto, spent a few days with relatives here.

DIED ON VISIT

William Brown, Pioneer of Egremont Stricken at Durham.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Durham, July 8.—Mr. Wm. Brown, an Egremont pioneer, about 75 years of age, was buried yesterday at Maplewood Cemetery, 5 miles south of here. Mr. Brown was taken ill about three months ago, while stopping with his daughter at Holstein, but was apparently recovering.

He came up to Durham on the 2 o'clock Friday afternoon train to visit his daughter, Mrs. Melville Storey, and shortly after, taking a weak spell, went to bed. Death came at 9 o'clock. His wife died seven or eight years ago. Mr. Brown leaves a grown-up family, most of whom are in the West.

OFF TO ENGLAND

Hon. Dr. Pyne to Attend School Teacher's Imperial Conference.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, July 7.—Hon. Dr. R. A. Pyne, minister of education, accompanied by Mrs. Pyne, left for England today to attend the imperial conference of school teachers to be held in London, at which the Duke of Argyll and Lord Meath will preside. Dr. Pyne will deliver an address and extend the invitation of the Government for the holding of the next conference in Toronto.

HAVANA POLICE CHIEF SHOT DOWN IN STREET

His Action in Closing Gambling House Aroused Ire of Governor and Friends.

Havana, July 7.—General Armando Riva, chief of police of Havana, was shot and probably mortally wounded by Governor Asbert, of Havana Province, and others who had been angered by the recent action of the chief in closing up a political and gambling club.

The chief of police was driving on the Prado with two small children, when he met an automobile in which were seated Governor Asbert, Representative Arias and Senator Vidal Morales. The automobile was turned so as to block the progress of the chief's coach. The occupants of the automobile hurled insults at the chief and then drew revolvers and began firing. Twenty shots or more were fired. The chief attempted to use his body as a shield for his children, and received a bullet in the stomach, which perforated the intestines in four places. Another bullet struck the chief in the face. After the shooting Chief Riva made a declaration, in which he said that Governor Asbert and Senator Vidal Morales had shot him.

After the shooting, the men who fired the shots jumped from the car and fled. Senator Morales and Representative Arias were arrested shortly afterwards, and there is a report that Governor Asbert has been apprehended at Marianao, a suburb of Havana.

There were many witnesses to the affair, all of whom say it was a cold-blooded, unprovoked attempt at murder. The coachman who was driving Chief Riva's coach was shot in both legs.

Badly Scalded by Bursting of Valve

Durham Engineer Was Knocked Down While Working in Mill.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Durham, July 8.—When turning on the steam to the engine at the Durham Furniture Company's sawmill shortly after 7 o'clock Saturday morning, John Baid, the engineer, was severely scalded about the chest and arms. The boiler carried a 90-pound steam pressure at the time of the accident, and the engine was fed with a 4-inch pipe. When the steam was turned on from the boiler, the steam valve at the engine split in two and flew several feet. The escaping steam struck Mr. Baid in the chest, and knocked him down. A heavy rain saved him from a more serious scalding. He was taken to a near-by house and medical aid summoned. He is progressing favorably.

Claim Undertakers Stole From House

Montreal, July 7.—Daniel Seguin and Albert Pageau, two undertakers, were brought before Judge Lafontaine, charged with stealing clothing and a watch from Corea Savert, 233 Dufresne street. The two prisoners pleaded not guilty and were remanded until Wednesday.

It is alleged that the accused went to the house of Corea Savert to prepare his late brother's body for burial, but before they left the house had taken a coat and watch. Pageau stated that he had taken the coat by mistake, while Seguin declared that it was not his he had put it in a fire and burned it. The watch, which was in the coat, was recovered by detectives.

BELMONT PARTY

[Special to The Advertiser.] Belmont, July 8.—The garden party held on the lawn of Mr. Henry Traver under the auspices of Victoria Ladies' Aid, Belmont circuit, was a decided success. The evening was an ideal one for such a gathering. The chairman, Rev. Mr. Bartlett, the new pastor of the circuit, made his first appearance before the people of the vicinity. A strawberry supper was served on the lawn. The Salvation Army Silver Band, of London, rendered a program of vocal and instrumental music, and Miss Edna Reid, of London, was the soloist for the evening. The proceeds amounted to $110.

LONDON, TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1913.

THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE SENATE.

The further one gets from the scene of any particular action, the freer he is to misrepresent it. At least, that seems to be the case with the man who wants to misrepresent. We have just had an illustration from the Pacific coast. The member of Parliament for Vancouver, is one H. H. Stevens. Of course, he is a Conservative. That is the only kind British Columbia sends to the House of Commons. When he got home from the last session he gave interviews to the party papers, in which he undertook to tell what was done by Parliament; principally what he did himself, but incidentally what others did. Among other statements he perpetrated the following: that Sir George Ross and the English-speaking Liberals had agreed with Senator Loughheed, the Government leader, that they would allow the naval bill to pass. This was done without the knowledge of Senator Dandurand, the French-Canadian Liberal leader, who, when he heard of the arrangement, told Sir George that if it was carried out, Sir Wilfrid would resign. Whereupon the Liberals turned around and opposed the bill.

Around Ontario and Quebec Conservative misrepresentation was confined largely to the assertion that the Liberal senators voted as they did on account of Sir Wilfrid's orders to that effect. Of course, that was promptly denied. Though many Conservatives will still believe it. But the supporters of the Government in the east did not have the audacity to go as far as this gentleman from British Columbia. He seemed to think he was far enough away from Ottawa to give his tongue full liberty. He forgot there was an easy way of finding out whether he was telling the truth or not. Even if there was no telegraph, not was the mail bag. Sir George promptly contradicted him. He wrote: "It is absolutely untrue that any agreement was made with Mr. Loughheed to allow the naval bill to pass the Senate." Mr. Dandurand replied by letter, characterized the statement as a lie, and suggested a good test, namely, to have Mr. Loughheed contradict Sir George. Of course, Mr. Loughheed had nothing to say. It does not yet appear what defence Mr. Stevens will make, if he thinks it necessary to make any.

We can understand how some Conservatives find it difficult to believe that the Liberal senators could act independent of any orders from their leader. Independence by any politician is something of which they have had no personal experience; they do not know what it means. Loyalty to party with them means prompt submission to party orders. And we will admit that in this respect the Conservative party has a certain advantage over the Liberals. For example, when reciprocity was proposed, it was well known that there were Conservative members of Parliament in favor of it. But when the caucus decided against it not a word was heard from them; they obeyed orders.

The Liberal caucus voted to support reciprocity; but the few Liberals who disapproved of it refused to be bound by the decision of the majority, and did not hesitate to speak and vote as they thought right. We may not approve of their judgment, but we can well admire their conscientious independence.

The case is similar so far as the naval bill was concerned. Every Conservative voted for it, no matter what he thought. Every Liberal who approved of it did not hesitate for a moment to say so, and to vote so. If that was true of the House of Commons, whose members are more closely bound by party ties than are the senators, it is especially true of the Upper House. It would have been impossible for the Liberal leader to coerce the Liberal senators, if he wanted to do so, and there is no reason to suppose that he ever thought of trying to do it. The Liberals in the Senate doubtless retain much of their old party feeling; it would be unnatural if they did not. But they are sufficiently independent to vote as they think right, no matter what party leaders or the party caucus may say. Glad any of them honestly believed in the Government's contribution policy they would have voted for it without the slightest hesitation. As we have said, that is a state of mind which Conservatives with their strong sense of party loyalty cannot understand; but it is the fact nevertheless.

THE TROUBLES IN SOUTH AFRICA

The disturbances in South Africa show that economic issues have thrust racial issues aside for the present—perhaps permanently.

The old division between Briton and Boer is obliterated by the strife between tween miners and mine owners. The new alignment is in significant contrast to that of the past. The mining magnates were the head and front of the anti-Boer agitation, which culminated in the war, their principal concern being to lighten the load of taxation and open the door to cheap Oriental labor. Today they are leaning on a Boer Government for protection against striking miners, who are mainly British-born. The mine owners and the white miners made common cause against the Boers thirteen years ago. Today they are at loggerheads, with a Boer Administration trying to keep the peace.

In South Africa there are four political groups—the Botha party, composed mainly of the Dutch element, but with a considerable English following; the Unionists, wholly British; the Herzog faction, consisting of Boer extremists, who accuse Botha of being too amenable to the British; as the Quebec Nationalists in the election of 1911 complained of Laurier; and the Laborites, who ignore the race question. The Labor party itself is divided between old line trade unionists and revolutionary Socialists.

The British-Boer feud must yield to the pressure of new forces; the future division will probably be between the conservative and radical parties, in each of which Briton and Boer will find themselves allied.

PRESENT STATE OF BRITISH POLITICS.

Home Rule has passed the third reading of the second trip through the British House of Commons by the great majority of 109. The voting is almost 3 to 2 for the bill. Last year the majorities on the three readings were 94, 101 and 110. The Government has lost no ground on this issue.

One more river remains to be crossed, and the Irish enter the promised land. By the Parliament Act of 1911 a measure must go through the House of Commons in three successive sessions and then receiving the King's signature become law in spite of the House of Lords. The House of Lords' blockade and the old system of Irish government are anachronisms which pass away almost together.

No fighting spirit against Home Rule remains alive in the United Kingdom outside Ulster, and not much there. Outside Belfast, as the Derry by-election showed, where the Nationalists gained a seat. The recent efforts of the Carson brigade to rouse up Scotland and Northern England have dismally failed. The British people have as much relish for the Carson antics as for the arson antics of the suffragettes, and John Bull is essentially law-abiding. He is willing to live by the rule of the majority. The Ulster-ettes and militant suffragettes make him think of Central America. The Times and Mr. Balfour have both been admitting that Home Rule does not count in British by-elections.

The subject, in fact, begins to bore the Conservative party. They will be glad to have the Irish question settled, so as to confine themselves to their proper work of resisting Lloyd Georgean infringements upon their privileges in land, church, education and taxation.

The great landlords are becoming as concerned as anybody about the land problem. The huge emigration of the agricultural class has to be checked. A surprising number of legislative proposals, some of them quite radical, have emanated lately from Tory quarters in the House of Commons, on this subject of land reform. This is due partly to an uneasy expectation of a sweeping measure from Mr. Lloyd George, partly to genuine realization of the needs of the situation, brought home to landlords and farmers by the impending shortage of agricultural labor. If it were not for stupid prejudice and the traditional desire to hold all the land and to keep the poor man under, the Tory landlords would for their own self-interest, be the very leaders in land reform.

But what British rural labor needs is a land revolution such as all continental countries have experienced, and as Ireland is going through. Look out for Mr. Lloyd George. No wonder, then, that not even British Conservatives can be flogged up to any anti-Home Rule enthusiasm, when the land question presses heavily on their minds and perhaps on their consciences as well.

About this time next year or before, Home Rule will be finally enacted, and as by the bill eight months must elapse after its passage till the Irish Parliament assembles, during which time the machinery will be erected, it will be about the end of 1914 or beginning of 1915, barring accident, that Home Rule will begin to operate.

It is possible that during the eight months period an election might be held. Supposing a Unionist administration to be the result, how would Mr. Law and Mr. Balfour be able to repeal the practically accomplished fact and erase the King's signature to the law? By their present fiery utterances the Unionist leaders are bequeathing to themselves, if they have the luck to come into office, a terrible problem. They are pledging themselves to destroy Home Rule. Will the wreckers dare do it if they get the chance?

The best that can be hoped is that the Asquith Government will remain in power until Ireland has got under way, and the Unionist party will then be spared the difficulty and perils of attempting to undo a sovereign act.

Lady Sackville gets her millions. Her ladyship certainly has a taking way.

In Johannesburg the war between capital and labor has superseded the war between Briton and Boer.

The militant suffrage movement appears to be in a state of collapse. This is a hopeful sign for the women suffrage movement.

The Australian fleet unit will be completed within a month. The Canadian fleet unit—but then we are told the achievement is beyond us.

The self-restraint exercised by the Borden Government in refusing to wipe out the Liberal party by ordering an election rises almost to a Christian virtue.

PUBLICITY THAT IS HEALTHFUL.

[St. John Telegraph.]
President Woodrow Wilson not only believes in publicity, but fully understands the great gain arising from the dissemination of correct information. More than any President that ever sat in the White House, he has systematized presidential publicity. The President receives all of the accredited newspaper and press association correspondents every Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and every Thursday afternoon at 3. The meeting is without formalities, and anyone is at liberty to ask all sorts of questions within the canons of good taste.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT.

"My Friends, I Shall Occupy Your Time Only a Few Moments."

A LIFE-SAVING ADVANCE.

[Toronto Star.]
A train which arrived in Toronto on Sunday brought with it a triumph of civilization—a passenger car—not a Pullman—made of steel, roof, walls, window frames, seats and floor—nothing that would burn but the cushions. If such cars were in general use, a collision would not mean a horrible death from burning, and there would be less danger of the cars being smashed.

[New York Sun.]
Adam heard them blame the cost of living on the millenium.
"The only thing they don't blame on the first man," he thankfully observed.

WHY BRITAIN IS FREE TRADE.

[Philadelphia Record.]
The recent official annual statement of the trade of Great Britain shows that in the last five years there has been an increase of imports of $760,000,000 or more than 25 per cent. During the same time exports increased $550,000,000, nearly 30 per cent. The increase in imports was largely made up of raw materials, while increase exports consisted mainly of manufactured goods. There has never before been a season of greater trade activity in the United Kingdom, nor of such full employment for all persons willing to work. Is it any wonder that British people enjoy such remarkable industrial and commercial prosperity should refuse to abandon the system of free trading under which great forward strides have been accomplished?

GEORGE WYNDHAM.

[Lord Curzon, in the Times.]
"As the years go by, and his comrades recall the past, there will always emerge from this young and debonair figure, like a Greek hero in the range of his attainments and perfections, possessing the physical beauty of a statue, and endowed with the chivalry of the knight errant, the fancy of the poet, and the deep tenderness of a woman. If his spirit wanders tonight in Elysian fields, it can only be with spirits akin to and compatible with his own."

JACK FITZPATRICK BEAT
HIS FORMER TEAM MATESPitching For Guelph Yesterday He Handed London a 4 to 1
Beating—Finn and Deneau Opposed Him—
Bierbauer's Stick Work Again Features.

[BY JINX.]

Baseball tradition says that when a ball club releases a pitcher and he is signed up by another club in the same league, and is pitched against his former teammates, he invariably hands them a nice trimming in large-sized packages. Maybe tradition is right, and maybe it isn't, but Simon Pure Johnnie Fitzpatrick, the Buffalo Bad Man, was pitching to tradition yesterday and he won. Guelph 4, London 1.

To those whose memory can go back far enough, it will not be necessary to explain that once upon a time not so very long ago, the aforementioned Johnnie was a member of the much-maligned pitching department of one, Rube Deneau. However, owing to several wide discrepancies in Mr. Fitzpatrick's ability to pitch ball and his ability to win the games he pitched, Mr. Deneau was forced to apply the can, or present the tinware or whatever it is that causes a pitcher and his former manager to part company.

FITZ PITCHED GOOD BALL.

And so it came to pass that Mr. Fitzpatrick dusted out of these parts, and with that reckless abandon that had marked his pitching for the London club, signed up with one Louis Cook, who is camping in our midst at this writing. Thus it came about that "Fitz" was brought face to face again with his old pals, and maybe he didn't give them something to remember it by. Maybe he didn't pitch the kind of ball that would have earned him a life job with the London club, and maybe he didn't have his old-time playmates tied up in various attitudes of bewilderment and dismay. Maybe he didn't, but he won anyway, and so we are compelled to recount the doings of a losing game and record a victory for Johnnie Fitzpatrick.

Finn Pitched for London. Singles by Dunn and Daniels, coupled with "Dad" Stewart's wild throw to the plate, brought in another tally. In the eighth, singles by Cook and Wright and Fryer's sacrifice fly scored one more, and in the ninth, Daniels' single and Fitzpatrick's double brought in the last one. Fitz was caught trying to stretch a hit into a triple.

London Scored Once. London's only run was scored in the fourth after the Guelph fashion of two hits. Bierbauer opened with a double and got as far as third base while two men died. Neale was forthcoming with the needed single, however, the big left fielder angling to right. In the first inning, Matteson and Bierbauer bunched singles, but with two on bases, Stewart fouled out to Wittse and Dunlop fled to Wright.

Linnborn on the Paths.

In the third inning Linnborn got as far as third base with one down, but on an attempted squeeze play, Matteson popped a bunt into Wittse's hands and Linnborn was doubled at third base. Again in the eighth, Linnborn got to second and with two down Bierbauer singled to centre. Linnborn kept on to the plate, but a pretty throw by Dunn nipped him at the scoring station.

Loey's Good Stick Work. The hitting of Bierbauer was a feature of the game. Loey was breaking a couple of Louisville slingers just imported, and he got three nice bingles in four times up. The other time he struck out. Daniels featured for the visitors, with the same number of hits for four times up. Neale and Wright were the only players on either team to get two hits.

The box score details the story:

ROYALS GET MULLIN.

Formerly of Detroit. Montreal, July 7.—A deal which has been pending for some time between the Washington club of the American League and the Montreal club of the International League, was consummated over the week-end, and Geo. Mullin, a former Detroit and Washington twirler, will join the Royals tomorrow at Rochester. Mullin has already accepted the salary terms offered by Montreal.

Mora McKinley will not be in the M. and M. as she has been sold to a Pittsburgh matinee man. Murphy will rely on Mundy.

SAINTS HAD NO TROUBLE
BEATING OTTAWA IN FIRST

Shaughnessy's Pitchers Were Hammered Hard—St. Thomas Scored Five Runs in First Spasm.

St. Thomas, Ont., July 7. — St. Thomas gave the Ottawa champions a bad beating here today, and by so doing got a firmer grip on first place position. The Saints jumped away in the initial inning, hits by Kopp, Kustus, and Forgue, and sacrifices by Gurney and Craven sandwiched in with a walk, a batsman hit and a wild leave, netted five runs. Kubat, who started to hurl for the Senators, was replaced by Merchant. He also was anything but a puzzle, and five more runs were piled up before the game was over. Elements was in fine form, and with the exception of the second inning was never in trouble. Kopp's fielding in the left garden featured. The score:

PETE'S THREE TRIPLES
IN A ROW FEATURED GAME

Red Sox Were Beaten in Liftoff City By Score of 4 to 2 in Good Game.

Peterboro July 7. — Three consecutive triples for two runs featured the batting of the Petes, who defeated Brantford today by 4 to 2. A hit by pitcher, a sacrifice and a single in each of two innings gave the locals two more. Wagner's double and Kane's single in the third and a pas and Lamond's double in the fourth gave the Brants their runs. Stirling fanned the side twice. The score:

PIRATES BEAT THE REDS

Cincinnati's Third Baseman Made a Bad Pair of Errors and Let In a Couple of Runs.

Brooklyn, July 7. — The Giants made another gain in the National League race today, when they won their twelfth straight game. Brooklyn was the victim, 6 to 1, and the victory increased the gap between New York and all three of the other first division clubs.

Demaree allowed plenty of hits, but kept them well scattered. In the seventh, when the home team did not get a run, it required three hits and an out to get the score across. New York won the game in the sixth, where two bases on balls, two steals, two errors and one hit were bunched for three tallies.

SENATORS SPLIT EVEN

Yanks Won First Game, But Griffith's Men Took the Second One—Tigers Lose to Browns.

Boston, July 7.—Eddie Plank, who has been enjoying an almost uninterrupted series of victories, was given a severe shock at Fenway park in the second game between the Athletics and the Red Sox today. The champions landed on him with much joy and drove him from the slab in two innings. They scored often enough to win the game. His final count was 8 to 3, and four of three tallies were made off the left-hander.

In the opener, the Athletics were winners by a 7 to 4 score. Ray Collins was knocked off the rubber in one round, and Rediet also was hit hard. Brown went along well until the ninth, when Boston got to him for three runs. He was derided, Bender relieving him, and stopping the rally.

Schlag was injured by a blow on the left knee from a foul up, and was forced to quit the game. The scores:

KNIGHT ONWARD STARTS AT CLEVELAND TODAY

Will Try For Forest City Stake This Afternoon—Warmer Weather Promised Today.

Cleveland, July 8.—A slight rise in temperature was predicted for the second day's races of the Grand Circuit meeting today. The $2,000 Forest City stake, in which Braden Direct, owned by J. E. Elspass, of Denver, set a new record for 3-year-old pacers of 2:03 1/2 last year, will divide interest with the 3-year-old trotting sweepstakes. Two class races, the 2:09 pace, with a field of thirteen, and the 2:24 trot, with nine entries, complete a full afternoon.

W. LOCKWOOD, ST. THOMAS WAS OWNER OF HAROLD O

Denies That James Battin, of Melbourne, Owned Horse and Not Have Taken $4,000 For Animal.

St. Thomas, July 7, 1913.

The London Advertiser:

Dear Sirs—Allow me a small space in your valuable paper to correct some of the erroneous statements made in your issue of July 4, regarding Harold O, the horse poisoned at London race track.

James Battin, stated as owner, had no interest in the horse whatever, other than the handling of him. I was sole owner of him, having purchased the horse from F. Pole, of Appleton, when a 2-year-old. Battin took him to race last season and had the handling of him since. He was a bright prospect and for this reason I had spent a large amount of money on him, the race at London being the first start where he was out of the money.

As to an American having an option on him for $4,000 could he show a mile in 2:05, this is entirely false. While I could have taken a good sum for him on several occasions, I would not, under any conditions, have taken $4,000 for him if he had made the above time. There is considerable suspicion attached to his death and a thorough investigation is being carried on. I was not notified of the death of the horse and knew nothing of the misfortune until my attention was drawn to it in your paper at Delhi, so I had little chance for a proper examination of him.

Thanking you in advance for your anticipated favor, and trusting that these few lines will correct some of the misrepresentations which have been made, I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed), W. M. LOCKWOOD, St. Thomas.

The Advertiser's story of the death of Harold O, was written largely on information given the sporting editor by Mr. James Battin, of Melbourne, who said that he was the sole owner of the horse and had trained it during its racing career.

Event.

SWIFT RINK BEATEN

Brown of Thistles, Won Game in Preliminary Round, and Is Still in the Running.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 7.—Bowlers from all parts of the province arrived here today, and when the Ontario Bowling Association's annual tournament opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon 81 rinks were present—making a total of 324 bowlers. The rinks of the Niagara Falls Club, Limited, are in first-class condition, 24 rinks in all being available this afternoon. Sport was enjoyable, and with continued fine weather a most successful and enjoyable tournament is assured. One thing is lacking, that is, the presence of Mr. Rennie's team, which is in England. Mr. Rennie is the present holder of the trophy, and his absence is not here to defend his title. Following are the results of this afternoon's bowling:

MR. GEORGE TAYLOR DEAD

Had Been a Resident of London for Nearly Forty Years.

Mr. George Taylor, for many years a well-known resident of London, died in Victoria Hospital on Monday. He was born in Market-Drayton, England, 70 years ago, and came to this city nearly 40 years ago. He had been ill for over five weeks and for some time previously had been in poor health. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. George A. Hatch, and three sons, Charles and Albert, of this city, and Percy, of Toronto. He was a member of the A. O. F. and the A. O. U. W. The funeral will be held from the family residence, 773 Princess avenue, on Wednesday afternoon.

KODAKS

Women troubled with fuzzy growths will be delighted to learn that a single application of a paste made with powdered delatone and water will remove every trace of hair or fuzz without pain or the growth of the hair. If the growth is stubborn, a second application may be required. The delatone paste is spread thickly on the hairy surface, and after two or three minutes rubbed off, then the skin washed and dried. This is a reliable and quick way by which to permanently rid the skin of objectionable hair.

A little proxin robbed on eyebrows causes them to come in thick and lustrous, and thin, stubby eyelashes will grow long and curly by applying proxin at last-hairs with thumb and forefinger. Be careful and don't get any proxin where no hair is wanted.

KNOLLWOOD PARK FOLK ARE DEPENDING ON MOON

No Lights Yet, Although Long Promised—As Are House Numbers.

Whether hydro is on or off makes little difference to the residents of Knollwood Park. Despite promises that the Niagara juice would soon glimmer in the streets of that newly-annexed district, there still are forces to depend upon the moon and stars by night for illumination. Brackets have been placed on the poles along Oxford street from Adelaide to Quebec, but so far have not been adorned by globes, and the residents are wondering when the juice is to be turned on.

Another thing that is causing inconvenience to citizens in that section of the city is the fact that the houses have not been numbered. "We're getting tired of denoting our residences by saying so many houses past the corner on the east side, etc.," stated a resident Monday. "More than that, we are often put to serious inconvenience by having parcels delivered at the wrong address. Drivers of delivery wagons have great difficulty in locating the places to which the parcels are addressed, with the result that frequently the parcels are left back to the city undelivered, and we have to make the trip downtown and call for them ourselves. If the city would just tell us what numbers to put on, we'd soon buy them, because they would save us a lot of trouble."

CITY TO BUY A PULMOTOR

Also a Steel Boat To Be Used in the Thames Drowning Accidents.

CEMENT WALKS ORDERED

The city council on Monday night ratified the purchase of a pulmotor and a steel boat for use in drowning accidents. These will be kept at the central fire station, and will be taken out whenever the fire department responds to calls for assistance.

After a long discussion it was decided to expend $450 in improving the emergency situation. Mr. Harry Gramlich and other residents from that street, waited upon the council, claiming that they were paying for a good road, which had not been constructed. On the recommendation of the city engineer, cement walks will be laid on Nelson, Regent, St. George, Partridge, Bathurst, and York streets and Duchesne avenue.

York Street Walk. Several of the Aldermen questioned the necessity of laying a cement walk in front of the G. T. R. freight sheds on York street. Ald. Bennett said in reply, "We go right along laying walks in front of the property of small householders, but when a big firm like the Grand Trunk Company petitions against an improvement, it stops. This is not right. The council by a vote of 9 to 3 decided to lay the walk, a two-foot wide being required, and Mayor Graham casting the ninth vote necessary."

Wortley Road Pavement.

A walk will also be laid in front of the Southwestern Railroad property on Bathurst street. Mayor Graham pointed out that the tenants were required to pay the taxes, but Ald. Richter drew attention to the fact that the lease of the road soon expires. Mayor Graham then expressed the opinion that the road would not be released on any less advantageous terms.

The Wortley road rocmac pavement was laid over for further consideration, although a representative of the Roemac Company explained the merits of that pavement to the council.

Summer School of Anglican Church

The combined summer school for mission and Sunday school work of the Church of England was held at Ridley College, St. Catharines, last week, and was a splendid success in every way. The purpose of the school is the training of leaders in normal methods. The Western Ontario diocese was well represented, with the following leaders: Dr. Tucker, Principal Waller, Rev. Arthur Carlisle, Rev. T. Bart Howard and Mrs. Gahan. Many prominent workers of the Anglican Church were present, among them being Rev. Canon Gould, general secretary; the Bishop of Algoma, Rev. H. Hiltz; Sunday School Commissioner Mr. Allin, and a number of missionaries, including Dr. Archer (India), Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker (Herschell Island), and Miss Bowman (Japan). Many workers were present from the Dioceses of Toronto, Ontario, Niagara and Huron. The London delegates returned on Monday and are very enthusiastic over the success of the school.

To Look and Feel Bright in Hot Weather

[From the Woman Beautiful.]

This is the season when she who would have a rosy-lip complexion, lily-white neck and hands, should turn her thoughts to merozolized wax, the firm friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectively overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the soiling, discolored, weathered or coarsened cuticle, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. It also unclogs the pores, removing blackheads and increasing the skin's breathing capacity. An ounce of merozolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve the worst complexion.

When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the evening, bathe the face in a lemonade made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a pint pint with hazel. You'll find this more refreshing than an hour's rest. It is fine for smoothing out wrinkles, even the deeper ones.
