Head of Dominion Government Declares Every Effort Will Be Made At Special Conference To Bring About Better Relations Between Employers and Employees - Lockouts Nearly As Destructive As War, Says Borden.

Ottawa, July 14.—Sir Robert Borden has communicated to the press 'he following with respect to industrial and labor conditions:

"As announced in the governor-general's speech at prorogation, it is the intention of the Government to summon, within a few weeks, a representative conference for the purpose of an intimate and friendly discussion of the relations between employees and employers and for consideration of the report of the industrial relations commission. The provincial governments will sion. The provincial governments will be invited to attend, and various organizations of employers and employees will be requested to appoint representatives. It is hoped that such a conference will be productive of better understanding and a more thorough concertions. operation.

Meantime, it is most important that actual world conditions should be fully realized by the Canadian people. For five years the world has been wasting the productive capacity of about fifty million men actually engaged in war-like activities. The remainder of the producing population has been to a conlike activities. The remainder of the producing population has been to a considerable extent occupied in producing munitions and implements of destruction. Millions of men must now resume the normal activities of peace. The business of the world has been completely disorganized and a long period will probably lapse before it can be completely re-established. After the present period of inflation has passed Canada will probably face a period of depression.

"To meet the possible imminence of such conditions, the Government has pledged the credit of the country to a pledged the credit of the country to a very large extent in order to provide employment for the gallant men returning to our shores from war service, and for those engaged in war industries which have now ceased. Many employers of labor have undertaken work at little or no profit in order that their lines of industry might afford every possible opportunity for employment. Up to the present such opportunities have been fairly abundant, but this conditions may not continue indefinitely. Ifforts to provide employment will obviously be of little avail if the energy of

"No one would claim or even suggest that injustice in respect of hours or wages should not be redressed by reasonable and effective means. But lockouts and strikes are almost as destructive as war itself in the waste and loss which they occasion, and in their disturbing influence upon the industrial life of the country. They remove large numbers of men from productive employment, they react detrimentally upon other industries and create unemployment through lack of necessaries of life.

This country is second to none in its opportunities to recover speedily from the effects of the war and to attain a prosperity even more marked than that of the past; but Canada cannot expect wholly to escape trying experiences, which certainly must result from the waste of the last five years with its inevitable inflation and its widespread disturbance of industrial conditions, A recurrence of lockouts

Rumanian King Is Seeking a Bride For Crown Prince

Princess Yolando of Italy Is Mentioned As Prospective Wife.

Vienna, Friday, July 11.-King Ferdinand of Rumania, according to reports received here, is endeavoring to find mong the European princesses a wife for Crown Prince Charles. Among those mentioned in this connection is Princess Yolando, the eldest daughter of the King of Italy.

Crown Prince Charles last September married Miss Zysiz Lambrino without the sanction of the king. He was disciplined for his morganatic marriage, and it was reported at the time that the crown prince said he would rather lose his throne than give up his wife. A report received in Paris on June 11 said that the crown prince had shot himself in the leg because his father insisted on his leaving Rumania for six months in an effort to forget his morganatic wife, from whom his parents had forced him to obtain a divorce. The dispatch added that Charles was still deeply attached to his former wife.

Sir Adam Beck Alleged To Have Barricaded Highway, Shutting Off Hotel From Easy Access by Motor-Property Belongs To the City, It Is Said.

Erecting of poles and then the removal of them is one of the newest games at Port Stanley, begun only the last week. The game is said to have been started by Sir Adam Beck, who provided the construction part of it, while Commissioner F. G. Mitchell furnished the destructive portion. Whether the end of the play has been reached is not known.

Sir Adam is alleged to have started the ball rolling by causing to be erected a barricade of stout poles across the highway leading to Invererie Heights at the Port. These poles had the effect of preventing, vehicular access to the Invererie Hotel and adjoining property except by a roundabout route.

Just Above Brow.

The barricade was constructed just above the brow of the hill, and extended crosswise of the highway for a distance of nearly forty rods. Not only did the row of poles form an effective barrier, but it is believed by many who saw it that it would have constituted a very serious danger to motorists at night, since no lights were placed on the poles, and a motorist, they say, taking as a matter of course the road which has been in common use for many years, and a motorist, they say, taking as a been in common use for many years, and a motorist, they say, taking as a been in common use for many years, and a motorist, they say, taking as a matter of course the road which has been in common use for many years, and a motorist, they say, taking as a matter of course the road which has been in common use for many years, and a motorist, they say, taking as a matter of course the road which has been in common use for many years, and a motorist, they say, taking as a matter of course the road which has been in common use for many years, and a motorist, they say, taking as a matter of course the road which has been in common use for many years, and a motorist, they say, taking as a matter of course the road which has been in common use for many years, and a motorist, they say taking as a matter of course the road which has been in common use for many years, and a motorist

TRIBUTE PAID TO LATE G. ROBINSON AT FIRST CHURCH

Qualities in His Character.

Not filled with sadness and sorrow but with joy and calm was the special remembrance service held in the First Methodist Church on Sunday morning in honor of the late George Robinson, one of the oldest members and officials, who passed away recently at the age of 93 years.

Rev. J. Kennedy, an old friend of the deceased, having known him for 57 years, spoke very kindly of his relationship to him, and paid a high tribute to his kindliness of spirit, his splendii character and great liberality to all good causes.

Rev. Dr. R. G. Peever declared that their had been some fine men and women in church life. In speaking of some whose names were reve day, he mentioned Samuel Peters, Thos. McCormick, Samuel McBride, William McBride, Samuel Abbott, Samuel McBride, Samuel Abbott, Samuel Screaton, John Green, Thomas Green, Sheriff Glass, James Eaton, R. J. C. SEIZED 35 POUNDS OF BUTTER; EVERY ONE UNDER WEIGHT

Inspector Not Certain About Starting Prosecution.

Inspector J. W. McCallum seized 35, 1-pound prints of butter from a woman vendor on the market on Saturday, and every one of them proved, when weighed to be under weight. The discrepancy varied from three drachms to a full ounce, and averaged 5½ drachms, or about one-third of an ounce, for each print.

The aggregate shortage in the 35-pound lot was just about 12 ounces, or three-quarters of a pound. At the price asked, named 60 cents a pound, this would have represented, therefore, 45 cents out of which customers would have been cheated if the 35 pounds had been sold in the ordinary way. been sold in the ordinary way.

Inspector McCallum stated today that he was not sure whether a prosecution would be instigated in this instance, but he declared that he was determined to the continued to the co to prevent, if at all possible, continue ance of the practice of selling short-weight butter on the local market.

Captain B. J. (Barney) Dunlevy, 454
Quebec street, city, who left London in September 1914, as a staff sergeant in the first Canadian contingent, a former instructor in the Royal Canadian Regiment stationed at Wolseley Barracks here, and a well-known London soldier returned to this city Saturday night, after almost five years service overseas in the Canadian army.
Proceeding to Valcartier shortly after the outbreak of war, this popular officer crossed to England with the First Canadian Contingent, and while stationed on Salisbury Plain, was promoted to the rank of sergeant-major.
He crossed to France in February 1915, with the 1st Canadian Division, although over the age limit, and was later awarded a commission and appointed commanding officer of No. 1, Canadian Field Bakery in France.

Barney, as he is known to local and overseas friends, served very efficiently in his new duties, and his good work being recognized by his superiors resulted in a captaincy for him. He was returned to England after the signing of the armistice, and he crossed the Atlantic to Canada on the S. S. Empress of Britain.

A son, Pearson Dunlevy of this city, enlisted as a gunner in the 63rd Battery here in 1916, after taking an officer's course, and he served in France as a gunner with the Canadian Artillery until transferred to his father's unit. He is now in England awaiting transportation to Canada for demobilization.

All Excited.

The voice of Mrs. Pearson trembled as she said: "There are so many things we want to do today to get ready for him, and we are all so excited, we don't seem to be able to accomplish anything. We heard the 16th Brigade was sailing on the Carmania, but we didn't definitely know he would be coming till we heard his name was in the paper as having arrived. Walters was a pressman at the time of his enlistment in the 63rd Battery.

Long Day of Joy.

"There are 48 hours of joy in the day for us today," said E. W. Harrison of 563 Simcoe street, speaking for his wife and the other members of the family. Yesterday he got a telegram from his son, Signaler "Ted" Harrison, from Halifax, stating that he had landed and would be home Tuesday. Mrs. Harrison was one of the mothers who had never expected her son would live to come back from Russia, who more than once mourned him as dead, when many months elapsed without word coming through.

Young Harrison, who was ticket agent for the London and Lake Erie electric road, enlisted early in 1916 with the 63rd Battery, going over to England with a detachment from the battery in September. Taking his signaling course in England, he was transferred to the 2nd Howitzers. BUFFALO, N. Y., July 13.—Keith Murray, aged 29, of London, Ont., married, and having a family residing in London, died in St. Jerome's Hospital, Batavia, N. Y., with a fracture of the skull, as the result of an accident occurring Saturday morning at 4:20 o'clock on Bryon road, one mile northeast of Batavia, when a roadster, in which six persons, including Murray, were riding, overturned three times. One woman, Miss Ina Davis, 21, Batavia, was instantly killed, her head being crushed. The other five were all seriously hurt. Attending doctors say Mrs. Gabriel has her head crushed and is injured internally.

Went Out in Taxi.

J. W. T. Park, 215 Colborne street, father-in-law of the young Londoner, was speaking with him a short time before death occurred. Mr. Murray, in company with a clerk at the Richmond Hotel at Batavia, had hired a taxi to go to Horseshoe Lake, a summer resort not far distant, according to the story of both the men. They arrived at their destination and dismissed the taxi driver, as they expected to remain at Horseshoe Lake for three or four hours. The clerk, who had been to this place several times before, advised this, saying they would be able to get back home with some motorists.

When the time for the return home came the two young men met the party that figured in the accident and naid For Military Celebration.

A party of local young people, numbering fifteen, journeyed east of this city along the River Thames on Saturday afternoon for a little outing, and caching the lunch boxes beneath a tree nearby, played an exciting game of baseball. At the conclusion of the game, all set out to seek wood for a fire, and the nucleus of the evening meal was left unguarded.

When the female members of the party returned, they discovered one box of chocolates missing. However, there remained a second box, and after dark it was passed around the camp fire. Declares Ontario Meeting of Liberals Was "Illiberal and Intolerant."

[Special to The Advertiser.] TORONTO, July 13.—Mr. H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., leader of the Liberal party in Ontario, tonight declared over the long distance telephone from his summer home at Uxbridge, that no difference has ever existed between himself and Hon. N. W. Rowell upon the liquor question.

Mr. Dewart made this announcement in reply to the statement issued by Hon. Mr. Rowell who, from Ottawa today said that Mr. Dewart's elevation to the leadership of the Liberal party in Ontario and the deposition of Mr. Proudfoot was due to the activities of the liquor interests.

"Hon. Mr. Rowell's statement is a gross libel.. There is not a modicum of truth to it. There has never been any difference between myself and Mr. Rowell upon the liquor question," said Mr. Dewart.

"Ottawa, July 11, 1919.

Dear Mr. Davison,—
"You have asked my opinion as to what the Liberal-Unionists in Ontario should do in view of the hostile attitude shown at the recent provincial Liberal convention in Toronto toward the Liberal-Unionists and the choice by that convention of Mr. Dewart as leader.

leader.

"In the fall of 1917, the Liberals of Canada were actually divided over a great national issue, involving the future of our country and the support of our gallant defenders overseas; but this division did not extend to provincial politics in Ontario—both sections of the party co-operating under the temporary leadership of Mr. Proudfoot, whose sound Liberalism, integrity, courage and unselfish patriotism must be appreciated by all Liberals.

"Illiberal and Intolerant."

"Prior to the meeting of the Toronto

"Illiberal and Intolerant."

"Prior to the meeting of the Toronto convention I confidently anticipated that this co-operation would continue and that the policies for which the provincial Liberal party in Ontario had fought for so many years would be supported by a united provincial Liberal party. The convention has changed the whole situation. The illiberal and intolerant attitude of one section of the party, apparently largely represented at the convention, toward Mr. Proudfoot and other Unionist-Liberals, shows that co-operation at the present time is impossible in provincial politics. Further, and, I am sure, not less significant at this time, was the choice of Mr. Dewart as leader, for the leadership largely determines the character of the party for the time being at least.

"Mr. Dewart was not only opposed to the formation of the National or Union Government for the vigorous prosecution of the war and the support of the men overseas, but, in cooperation with Mr. Murphy, he led all the diverse elements in our population in Ontario hostile to Union Government and Canada's war policy and put forth his utmost efforts to defeat both. It is true his efforts in Ontario hopelessly failed and only eight members

"Another factor in the situation and "Another factor in the situation and exceedingly important in the eyes of thousands of the citizens of Ontario is Mr. Dewart's attitude toward the liquor traffic and prohibition. Under Sir Oliver Mowatt, who promised the people of Ontario prohibition to the full limit of the jurisdiction of the province and more particularly during the last seven years, the provincial Liberal party has stood out as the active and aggressive opponent of the bar and the organized liquor traffic. quor traffic. "The demand on the part of representative delegates at the recent convention in Toronto that a prohibition plank be inserted in the party platform, shows that strong elements in the party still stand by that policy, and in my opinion, these delegates representations."

in my opinion, these delegates represented the overwhelming majority of the party on that question. Not only has Mr. Dewart not sympathized with, but he has been opposed to the policy of the Liberal party on this issue. As leader, he will undoubtedly command leader, he will undoubtedly command and secure the support of the organized liquor traffic and their friends in On-tario, irrespective of party. They look tario. irraspective of party. They look upon him as their rising hope.

"Anti-Prohibition Leader."

"No one will question the right of Mr. Dewart to entertain such views or his right to the support which such views will bring to him, but it is inconceivable that the men and women who demanded the inclusion of a prohibition plank in the platform, and the tens of thousands of Liberals throughout Ontario whose views they repretens of thousands of Liberals through-out Ontario whose views they repre-sented, can ever follow an anti-pro-hibition leader, when at the time it is so vital. The men and women of Ontario who are opposed to the menace of the liquor traffic have two great tasks ahead of them. The first is to make sure that in the approaching referendum the law is sustained; the second, to see that in the general elec-tion in Ontario, whenever it comes, men are elected and a government is secured in connection with the law, and who in connection with the law, and who can be depended upon to secure its effective enforcement.

"I cannot see how Liberal-Unionists, or the Liberals, though not Unionists, who believe that temperance and social reform are vital to the best interests of our province, can support a leader who

The August Convention.

"You have asked me also as to what hould be the attitude of the Liberals Durham County, who supported the nion Government, Doward the appropriate convention in August and proaching convention in August, and toward the continuance of Union Gov-ernment, and you have intimated that the Liberals who supported me in the the Liberals who supported me in the last election are anxious for an indication of my views at this time.

"In reference to the proposed convention in August, as you are aware, it was not called by the Liberal members of the House of Commons, but it by Mr. McKenzie, as the leader of that section of the Liberals opposed to Union Government. As you are no doubt aware of the 132 Liberals elected to the House of Commons, 50 were elected as supporters of the Union Government and 82 opposed; and of the 69 Liberals elected to the House of Commons outside of the province of Quebec, 49 were supporters of the Union Government and 20 opposed; and of the 52 Liberals elected west of the Ottawa River, 42 were supporters of the Union Government and 10 opposed.

They present many tiny openings for millions of bacteria to attack the unenameled tooth base. Tooth-base decay quickly follows. Even if the cavity be filled and the tooth saved, the gums continue to recede. Remember, too, that inflamed and bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting joints or tonsils-or causing other ailments.

ORANGEMEN OF THREE COUNTIES CELEBRATE

IN THE FOREST CITY

Loyal Orange Lodges of Middlesex, Elgin and Perth Counties All Take Part in Annual Celebration of the "Glorious Twelfth."

It was for all the world like the Western Fair out at Queen's Park on Saturday afternoon, visitors swarming about the grounds as the afternoon progressed, refreshment booths selling hotdogs, sandwiches, tea, coffee, ie cream cones, popcorn, peanuts and soft drinks so fast they could hardly get time to make change for customers, bands playing, and a big program of attractions going on in front of the grandstand.

The occasion was the proper celebration of the ("Glorious Twelfth") by the thousands, accompanied by mothers, wives, sisters, sweethearts, daughters, sons, children of all sizes down to lniants in arms.

in regard to this "sport feature."

The gathering was undoubtedly one of the most colorful which ever assembled in the park, the typical Orange celebration with its wealth of regalia and symbolism, its gorgeous standards and pennants of the order and, conspicuously displayed, the Union Jack.

Music was discoursed so frequently that no one had a fighting chance to get downhearted, music played by the 7th Regiment and Hussars' bands, Macdonald's talented juvenile pipers, the fife and drum band from St. Thomas, a band from St. Marys, excellent indian bands from Oneida and Muncey, a band from Purple Hill, and a pipe band from Belmont, the pipe band of Beaver Lodge. 2101, and the Hackett and Forest City fife and drum bands. sembled in the park, the typical Orange celebration with its wealth of regalia and symbolism, its gorgeous standards and pennants of the order and, conspicuously displayed, the Union Jack.

Double Celebration

Emphasis was laid by speakers upon the fact that the celebration of Saturday was a "double-header," not only the traditional celebration of the anniversary of July 12, 1690, but the celebration of the close of the world's most terrible war, and the triumph of right over might, of freedom over autocracy. Hadn't the Orangemen a very proper claim to a peace celebration?

No less than 80,000 members of the Orange order enlisted for service in the war and, at the present time, a campaign is being carried on to raise funds to erect an orphanage for the children of Orangemen who were killed fighting the battles of freedom and empire.

An exceptionally able speaker of the afternoon was W. K. Cornelius, who spoke on behalf of the Indians, expressing himself clearly and forcibly and in choicest English.

Many Members "Over There."

Past Master E. T. Essery, mentioning the "double-header" nature of the celebration, enumerated the many times that members of the L. O. L. have served the colors in Canada, under have served the colors in Canada, under the British flag, the good old Union Jack. He would have no other flag for Canada. Flags shown as "Canadian" flags may be all very well for river barges and merchant marine.

The Union Jack is the glorious flag of empire and of Canada, the Dominion. Mr. Essery at this point, explained the significance of the details of the flag that "for a thousand years has braved the battle and the breeze."

Punish Kaiser.

Punish Kaiser.

He would have the kaiser punished to the extreme limit of the law. If a man is hanged for one murder, why should a criminal of the magnitude of the "shrivel-armed son of Satan" be dealt with more gently? Mr. Essery wouldn't politely shoot the kaiser at sunrise like a soldier, He would hang him, string him up like a dog, and let the crows pick his bones. If the wearers of the colors black, red and orange, wouldn't march to defend the principles of liberty, then the past master expressed the belief that their patriotic women folk would "knock the tar out of them."

John MacFarlan, M. P. P., who was discovered in the audlence, made a brief speech, of patriotic nature and formation to reporters at one and the same time.

Orangemen practically claimed London as their own on Saturday, when lodges from all over Western Ontario gathered to celebrate the "Glorious Twelfth." A feature of the day's celebration was the parade, when ladies'

The ladies' lodges were from Beecher, Wilkesport, Chatham, Wallaceburg and Walpole Island.

Each lodge had its band and, as they paraded the streets with their banners flying a most imposing scene was staged. The bagpipes were much in evidence and among the players was the famous "Jock" Wilson of St. Thomas.

There were many in the parade who had passed the allotted three score and ten years, but who on this occasion walked with a spring to their step, some of whom had walked over the same parade path many a 12th of July.

Italy in the Forefront

Italy is rapidly "coming back," arriving, as the French put it. Before the war Italy seemed little more than a picturesque ruin, not as lifeless kind of herring drawing? We all know that as Spain, but like Spain, respected and interesting, mainly because of a glorious past. Today Italy is one of the five powers dominating world affairs, possessing great military potency and a matchless position for the achievement of her Col. Allison in the shell game, as well as Governaspirations commercially and industrially. The Italians have shown admirable aggressiveness and promptitude in going after a place in the sun, whatever may be the opinion as to their methods. They have made themselves masters of the Adriatic and have boldly forced themselves into Eastern Mediterranean and Asia Minor affairs, spheres of influence in which they hitherto had little part.

Italy, however, proposes to expand far beyond the immediate neighborhood, and to this end has put in a request for a concession at Shangtung. Italy, like everybody else, desires to get a good footing in the world's markets, and China offers unlimited possibilities. Italy has been charged with flouting the principles of the league of nations and of selfishly "grabbing while the grabbing is good," but there is no doubt she has to be reckoned with as a live wire, enterprising, ambitious and with the courage, tenacity and strength to back up her demands and foreign policies.

Inspect the Stable Doors

There are always a lot of dangerous horses waiting for the moment when carelessness or chance-taking will leave the barn door open. And the moment the stableman's back is turned. tragedy and leaving white and black crepe on a succession of doorways.

The wise men and newspapers all know what to do after the barn door has been closed again. But they have never yet brought back a life with all their preaching. They never spoke before an Iroquois Theatre fire or a General Slocum issaster or before a boy walked into a river hole or another pulled the trigger because he did not think it was loaded.

So that occasionally it is well to issue warnings in general to the public, to the children, to the parents, to the drivers of those juggernaut motor cars that are as tractable as an elephant until the off-guard moments reveals them all as rogues at heart. Of course, we all feel that we can take certain chances-carefully, in our case. But it is quite as probable that some day our names will appear in the newspapers, ours or our children's or the children of someone else.

Are you in a business or do you engage in occupations that with all your precautions con-

Searching the Shallows

The effort of the high cost of living commission was a searching of the shallow places. The lead lines were cast out only when it seemed that the committee would not be kept too long on the job. Whenever it appeared that the lines were going deep, the committee evidently believed that the depths need not be fathomed and the hurried sounding of the troubled ocean revealed, according to these marine surveyors, a clear course, without reefs and other dangers to navigation. Witnesses called from the great companies which held the magic lamp of governmental influence during the war, were not kept on the stand for more than an hour or two. The attitude of the spokesmen of the committee seemed who had questioned the cleverness of the committee when matched with Sir Joseph Flavelle's right-hand man, appeared before the committee, he was given the roughest time of all those who

O'Connor to delve into the practices of these companies. However he might have disliked the task, it is practically certain that the support of public opinion would have prevented interference with his methods. As it was, everyone, including the company that made more than 300 per cent profits, "got away with it," and must have blushed at the implied eulogies to their business acumen expressed in the report.

There was no one connected with the committee to get at the facts. It suggested a vague sort of Chamber of Commerce to investigate matters. But the last session has departed, the members have hurried home and the high cost of living, so the people are told, is largely of their own making. The amassing of vast fortunes by means of extraordinary war conditions is given the seal of approval.

An election would reveal that the people would take back all but a reasonable proportion of profits made from war contracts by means of rascally combinations and price control.

It is howled from some quarters that profiteering is simply awful in England. Yes, and some Canadian profiteers have been attracted by it. But are we to be led from the scent by this there are rascals as great in England as in Canada. Perhaps, because Uncle Sam made an example of some profiteers, there has been less of that sort of thing during the war across the line than in any other country. Specialists like ment favorites like Grant Hugh Brown, came across to this side of the line to be at the feast. One of them has been placed under arrest by Uncle Sam. Canada has never arrested a single grafter since war began. She has been forced to turn them from the House of Commons, but it was more in sorrow than in anger.

An Early Closing Appeal

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Having had over forty years' experience in a retail store I have seen many changes and reforms in the method of doing business during that period, and my knowledge thus gained may be of some value in the much-discussed problem of Saturday early closing.

Half a dozen of the new boys were younger and smaller than Tommy, who had reached the ripe age of 7; but Tommy it was who had to lay his cap on the floor in the corner because he let the other little fellows grab while he held back. Tommy didn't like having to put his cap on the floor any better than the hat period, and my knowledge thus gained may be of some value in the much-discussed problem of Saturday early closing.

An old friend of mine whose grocery store was on Dundas street during those good old days when London, with a population of less than 2,000, had not less than fifty barrooms privileged to stay open until 11 o'clock Saturday nights, kept his store open for the many orders which kept his store open for the many orders which is concerned back as who had to lay his cap on the floor appears be let the other blust saws who had to lay his cap on the corner because he let the other blust saws who had to lay his cap on the corner because he let the other blust saws who had to lay his cap on the floor appears be let the other blust saws who had to lay his cap on the corner because he let the other blust saws who had to lay his cap on the corner because he let the other blust saws who had to lay his cap on the corner because he let the other blust saws be put the corner because he let the other blust saws be put the corner because he let the other blust saws brighte having to put in the floor any better than the other boys. But somebody's had to go there, and so it was Tommy's.

It wasn't because he was slow or studied that Tommy, from that time on, later on the last choice of whatever was being given out in the way of favors or jobs or opportunities. On the contrary, I was waiting for you. And I've always been waiting for you all my more than the dother boys. But he was luterly later than the other boys. For years I have been hearing this criticism. Now, reiterated by the returning soldier, and the mothers of these men, I am almost beginning to believe it.

I asked the head of a family what he thought about the allegations that the girl of the new world is a "natural grafter." He said this:

"Perhaps she isn't any more 'naturally' a grafter than other folks, but she has been brought to the grafting business by tradition and training, and being good at anything she sets her mind to, she is as clever and successful a grafter as you can imagine. Of course, women don't have reasons for things. They just do them. So that there is no way of getting at their motives. You get a glimpse of her state of mind when you ask her about a given case. She says she likes to have a good time, and why shouldn't he pay it?—he being the man in the case."

My head of a family gives me this bit of dialogue as typical:

"I know from my own experience," said Mrs. Health, "that these boys speak the truth. During the past winter, I threw open my house every Sunday afternoon and evening to men who had leave from nearby camps. I interested a number of girls to come every Sunday to help serve refreshments and sing and entertain the boys. The boys enjoyed it immensely, but I observed that the girls would become restive; that is to say, many of them would, and would ask to be excused so they could keep an engagement to go to the movies or some lively entertainment.

and children who are whipped and parents who do the whipping.

Is whipping one of the recognized treatments for hysteria, I wonder?

I have never heard a regular practicing physician say that he thought it was—and isn't hysteria just a form of nervous derangement of some sort?

Nerves are strange things. They play Nerves are strange things. They play the oddest kind of tricks, and the queer-est thing they do is to make people be-lieve that they don't really amount to very much.

I knew a woman once who got up in the night and killed herself. Her friends knew there was something wrong with her, but the family said, "Oh, she is just a little progress". a little nervous.'

"Nerves" and "Nerves." Perhaps if they had whipped her good and hard when she began to be what they called "nervous," it might have saved her life.

There is a little boy who lives near me right now who comes home from me right now who comes home from school every once in a while shaking from head to foot with "nerves."

He is a beautiful boy, manly, bright and unusually intelligent. But his teacher thinks that "nerves" should not be encouraged, so she slaps him and shakes him and boxes his ears whenever she gets a good excuse—but somehow the little boy's mother doesn't understand that teacher's point of view, and she has taken the little boy out of this school and put him into another—and he has gained three pounds and looks like a different child since they have made the change.

So you see there are "nerves" and "nerves," and methods and methods.

This is my first was greeted letter to your Mail-Box, and I wonder cheering that lasted 31 minues. A sole if through it I could obtain a little is help. I have a girl of 12 years, and would like to place her, in a nice home in the country for the vacation. I wonder if some kind reader would like to board a little girl for a few weeks? We are strangers here and have very few friends; also we are members of the R. C. Church, and would prefer placing her in a Catholic home. She is a big girl and able to help some kind mother in many ways about the house, and I would also pay something for her board. Now, Dear Miss Grey, I hope to see this in print, and if necessary will forward you my name and address. Thanking you deeply in advance, I will sign myself, MRS. A. B. HENRION STOPS WOLVES HAYES' WILD PEG AFTER ORKIE IS DERRICKED

London Makes It Nine in a Row by Winning Sunday Contest at Bay City by Score of 7 to 5.

(Special to The Advertiser.) BAY CITY, Mich., July 13.—"Dad" Stewart and his rejuvenated Tecumseh tailenders continued their winning streak today, making it nine straight victories by turning back the Wolves 7 to 5, after the locals had tied the count at five all in the seventh inning. Okrie, London's star southpaw, had the Wolf pack guessing for the first five innings, but in the sixth they got to his offerings runs, and continued their extra base hitting in the seventh, tieing the Okrie then gave way to Henrion, who set the locals down without a Command singled, scoring Hagel, and then "Matty" Matteson, former Bay City catcher in the Southern Michigan League, drove one over second to score Command. Okrie sent one at Thomas that the big fellow could not field and was safe at first. The hook was then employed and Campbell went to the mound, filling the bases. Then Pittinger singled to score two more runs. Newman bunted and Mitchell scored, but after that the Tecumseh's could not find Campbell's offerings, and went scoreless until the eighth.

Grodick Hits a Triple.

Bay City scored one in the fourth when Grodick drove one to right field fence for three bases after Briger was safe on Matteson's muff of his infield fly, and two more came in the sixth on two singles, a double and a sacrifice fly. Rellly Looks Good.

It was "Flip" Reilly's first appearance in the box here since the old Canadian League days, and, despite the handicap of a bad knee, he showed his old-time form. He had a fine change of pace, which, mixed with his curves, had the Flint hitters guessing. In the fourth inning Manager Pierce of Flint removed Plue and put in Carlson at second base. Plue had three chances and booted two of them, both easy ground balls.

Now that the New England League has blown up, the Mint League clubs will likely strengthen up with players from that circuit. It is rumored that several have been notified to report by the Kitchener club.

Hamilton ought to change places with London in the league standing. Looks like the Tecumsehs are the only ones in the league able to beat Saginaw. Shaughnessy will soon have to show something or the Aces will make it a parade.

Plue, who was taken out of the game here Saturday because he made a couple of bad boots, hit a home run for Flint on Sunday. The Halligans are going badly at present. The Red Sox beat them on the Sabbath.

The Mint League has an unusual lot of good third basemen. Brown of the Flint club is one of the best seen here with a visiting club this season. However, Pittenger looks like the pick of them all.

"Lefty" Newman is Leading CALGARY CAPTAIN Clouter on Stewart's Team

But "Dad" Is Right Behind Him, According to Hitting Figures Compiled Up To and Including Saturday's Game.

Averages of the London Mint League players compiled up to and including July 12, with the exception of the game played at Flint a week ago last Saturday, show that "Lefty" Newman, the star first sacker, is leading the team in hitting with a .431 mark. Newman has been clouting the ball hard since he joined the club, and he looks like one of the best hitters in the league. Manager "Dad" Stewart is also well over the .300 mark. He has an average of .343 for eighteen games. Stewart has been hitting the ball well, especially with men on bases. Command is the leading fielders. How To Look and Feel

Bright in Hot Weather

When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the afternoon or wening, just bathe the face in a lotion

If Lynch should whip Kilbane, and there is a chance that he will, it will only serve to enhance the reputation of Wilde, who, though only a flyweight, was able to stay fifteen rounds with the New York baitler, and even get the decision, though English sportsmen declare he deserved nothing more than a draw, if that.

When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the afternoon or evening, just bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. You will find this more refreshing than an hour's rest.

As a wrinkle-remover the saxolite lotion is remarkably successful. Its action is almost magical. The deepest furrows, as well as the finest lines—whether due to age, illness, weather or worry—are immediately affected. Enlarged pores are reduced, flabby skin is YACHTSMEN GATHERING PUT-IN-Bay, Ohio, July 13.—What is said to be the largest group of yachtmen ever assembled in one place is here for the Inter-Lake Yachting Assowhether due to age, illness, weather or worry—are immediately affected. Enlarged pores are reduced, flabby skin is "drawn in," facial contour is improved wonderfully. The simple ingredients of course can be had at any drug store, and you need not hesitate to try the lotion, as it will not harm any skin in the least.—Advt,

Only Two Vessels of British Fleet To Visit United States Harbors

LONDON, July 13.—(By The Associated Press.)—H. M. S. Regnown, the ship on which the Prince of Wales will make his tour to Canada, has returned to England from an Atlantic cruise in support of the R-34.

In view of the suggestion that the British fleet is going to America, it is said that the Renown and a light cruiser escortare the only British naval vessels likely to visit any American harbor for some time.

"I believe that the visit of these men and the encouragement they gave to lawlessness, which is being preached throughout the land, has added greatly to the campaign of assassination of innocent policemen who were only doing their duty to their king and country Captain Jos. Thompson, a former controller of Toronto, in an address to his fellow Orangemen expressed regret that the Dominion Government should see fit to repeal the war-times election act so as to give the Austrian and his wife the vote. Captain Thompson declared that the Government, in this matter, had gone decidedly against the opinion of every loyal citizen in Canada."

Innocent policemen who were only doing their duty to their king and country, and who were foully murdered on the roadside, with men looking on who had not the courage to arrest the assassins or give such information as would bring them to justice."

What Science Has to Say About Wood Alcohol Dangers

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. Johns Hopkins University).

Wood alcohol is reported as the cause of more than a dozen deaths in New York city last January.

In no case is it possible to tell positively that wood alcohol is present except by a chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach or some other organ. organ.

There have recently been reported at the barracks of the provost guard in New York city twelve examples of sus-ing the violators of the law.

The death of Fred J. McSherry, a cook, is cited as a typical case. At 3 o'clock one morning he met a policeman, to whom he appeared to be in good health. McSherry remarked that he was on his way to bed. He was found dead in bed partly undressed a few hours later. A chemical examination of the stomach contents disclosed the presence of grain alcohol and what the chemist termed "a large amount of wood alcohol." A month before his death the victim had been discharged from the army.

ined at the barracks following their recovery, each of them insisted that he had "a couple of drinks," which had such an uncommonly powerful effect that they could remember nothing more until they woke up in the guardhouse.

Wherever soldiers have been arrested with liquor in their possesion the liquor has been tuned to the fact that a someone has taken possibility that someone has taken wood alcohol by mistake for ordinary alcohol.

Answers to the hardest there is to control, because alcohol is the fact that a because alcohol is common. It is the purposed alcohol by alcohol know that it is common. It is the fact that a because alcohol is common. It is the fact that a because a manent blindness recently encountered are due to wood alcohol used in cheap toilet articles.

Wherever soldiers have been arrested with liquor in their possesion the liquor has been turned over to the health department for investigation, while in the possibility that someone has taken wood alcohol by mistake for ordinary alcohol.

Fatality from wood alcohol polsoning is very great. Of 720 cases of poisoning is very great.

EMPRESS OF BRITAIN PARTY DEMOBILIZED AT CARLING HEIGHTS

Eight Officers and Two Hundred and Seventy-One Other Ranks Are Discharged.

A party of 8 officers and 271 other ranks, who crossed the Atlantic on the S. S. Empress of Britain, arrived in this city on Saturday night shortly after six o'clock, detraining at the Quebec street station of the C. P. R., and there was a large crowd of relatives and friends at the depot to greet the men. The Canadian Garrison Regiment brass band was on hand at the station, and following detrainment the troops marched to Tecumseh Barracks for dispersal.

Following demobilization, which was carried out by the staff at the dispersal station in record time, the veterans were served with luncheon by the local ladies of the Red Cross in the dining hall at Tecumseh Barracks. Although members of the civic reception committee were present at the station and Carling Heights, speeches of welcome were dispensed with. Following luncheon, the Londoners of the party, numbering 39, proceeded directly to their homes, while the out-of-town men were conveyed to local railway stations in autos, from where they proceeded directly to their respective men were conveyed to local leader stations in autos, from where they pro-
