

MONTREAL, SATURDAY, JULY 2, 1904.

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE IS PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY THE TRUE WITNESS P. & P. CO., Limited.

4. P. C. Box1188 . IDBORIPTION PRICE—Oity of Montreal (delivered), $1.50; other parts of made, $1.00; United States, $1.50; Newbundhand, $1.00; Great Britain, Iroland & France, $1.54; Beigtum, Italy, Germany and Australia, $2.40. Terms, payable in the second description of the Managing Director, "Taus Wir-all Communications should be addressed to the Managing Director, "Taus Wir-s"P. & P.Oo., Limited, P. O. Box 1188

EPISCOPAL APPROBATION

"If the English-speaking Outholies of Montreal and of this Province consulted the interests, they would soon make of the "True Wilness one of the most properous an experience of the second of the "True Wilness one of the most properous and rysel Outholie papers in this second of the second of th

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

THE LONG VACATION is again at hand. We have now reached the season when the young people are about to lay aside their books, to from their studies and to enjoy the weeks of well earned repose that come to them yearly. Each year we have had our word of advice to give to parents in regard to the man which their boys and girls should spend their summer holidays. For a change we shall address ourselves a change we shall address ourserves briefly to the young people this year. Remember that the summer vaca-tion is a time of rest and recuperation: it is a season during which the d should be freed from the ordeal of daily tasks. Thus it is that fresh vigor is acquired to be used in the term that will commence with Sep-tember. But while it is proper that the drudgery of study should be avoided, it is well not to let mind grow rusty, nor to forget in . a suple of months all that you learn ed during the ten long months of your scholastic year. It is proper that from time to time, but not in a mer likely to cause fatigue, you should revise what has been so care-fully learned and cast a granes over what is likely to be the subject matthould revise ter of the coming year's studies. next point that we desire to emphasize is that of the locality sected for the vacation. In all proba bility the greater number will spend the summer months in the homes of their parents. But there is a certainty that many will go to the sea-side, to summer resorts of different kinds. What we have now to applies to both the parents and the young people. Before selecting place for the summer vacation make sure that there is a church within reach and that it is there possible to attend Mass. Not only does the ob ligation of hearing Mass on Sunday exist during the nolidays as well as at any other time, of the year, but there are other considerations a grave nature. At all times and in all places are we exposed to the dangers of sicleness, and in vacation time re than ever to the dangers of accident. It is well to know that we are within reach of a priest, for we know not the moment nor the ces under which we may be obliged to call upon him for ser-vices that he alone can render. It vices that he alone can reputer, is not necessary to dwell any further the subject. The upon this phase of the subject.

cently the faculty of a Catholic Col lege spent $305.50 in sending cir-culars to 1000 priests and 10,000 Catholics, in order to advertise the Institution. It cost that much for postage, stationery, printing and selaries of clerks. The Principal of the College told a Catholic editor of the amount he was spending to have his institution known to the world and the editor most aptly replied: "Your ideas of publicity are good but your means of securing fit ar costly and laborious. My paper goes into 10,000 of the choicest Catholic -a better list than even the good list you got by writing the clergy.

"Now, I will print your circular which is ten inches long and four inches wide, at the top of the best page in my paper where it will be are it will attract attention, and I will charge you $20 for the ervice. I will run it twelve times in my paper in July and August and September, where it will be seen week in and week out for about half what you have expended on one circular. This is business and is commo nse We now call attention of all our friends in the various education al institutions of this country to this item. Possibly they may take hint that will save them money and help the Catholic press.

"A HOLY CONFRATERNITY." -His Grace the Archbishop of Westminster, Dr. Bourne, speaking of the League of the Cross, the great temperance organization, called it Holy Confraternity. He begged that all those who were launched in the temperance boat would stand to their pars, and never relax for a moment their efforts The task is huge, he admitted, but there is the inevitable blessing for those engaged in the great work. He said that every word wisely said or done earns reward that delayed success canno assen. It is evident that, like his illustrious predecessors, the Archbishop of Westminster is a determined advocate of temperance

DANGER OF WATER. - All the lements have their elements of danger, fire, air, water. In the summer time the water seems to us to be the most fatal. There is danger in in drinking cold, and especially ice-cold the arrival of the French discoverers could go into every home in the land and that every individual could hear Keep away from the river Sundays as much as possible.

rue

BISHOF ARCHAMBATILT. ent has been made The annound the appointment of Mgr. Archambau ce-Rector of Laval University. Montreal, to the newly-created See of Joliette. The creation of the mocese had been long expected, it was partly surmised that the cor ing Bishop would be the learned and ergetic Vice-Rector. No more hap Py selection could have been made Although comparatively young in years, the Bishop-elect has done great and good work, has left the impress of his zeal and administrative capa-city on both diocese of Montreal, of which he was canon, and the University which he has directed in a ma terly manner, during the brief period of his administration. The new cese of Joliette presents a grand field for his activity and devoted zeal His hand will write the first opage of the history of that new dio and they will be memorable and bril liant. As the organ of the English speaking Catholic element in this dis trict, we desire to convey to new Bishop the sincere expression o our most hearty congratulations, the best wishes we can form, and ervent prayers that he may be 80 corded many long years to com mence and carry on the glorious sion. that Providence has given him in the Church

A NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY. On the 24th June, the city of St. John, New Brunswick, was 'in state of high festival. Flags floated to the breeze, and the entire place put on an air of festivity. It was the three hundredth anniversary of the landing on American soil of the explorers, De Monts great French and Champlain. It was they founded that city and called it St. John, because they reached its side on, the 24th June, 1604, the least of St. John the Baptist.

At daybreak salvos of artiller, were fired by the French, English and American men-of-war in the port They, as well as all the merchan shipping in the port, were decorated in gala style. The most interesting part of the ceremony was the repr duction, as perfectly as possible, of the landing of De Monts and Cham plain. An old sailing vessel, made to appear, as much as possible, like the one that had carried the explor ers, entered the port, followed by some fifty yachts and pleasure boats When it was fied to the wharf, Det sons dressed in the costumes of th eventeenth century, representing Do Monts and Champlain, and their com panions, disembarked. The procession moved up 'the streets, followed by a vast throng of people.

A tablet to the memory of Monts and Champlain was unveiled at the Carnegie Library, in presence of the representatives of Frank the United States. Several ha dresses were delivered. These were followed by a reception at the Royal Society of Canada, where an essay or their Church is to be found in .the Parliamentary return, which takes the form of the 37th annual report close in the presentation of an ad-dress to Rev. Father Rioux, the new of the Registrar-General of Marriages Births and Deaths in Ireland. The Rector of St. Ann's, in which windly return gives a series of decennial summaries of the marriages, births, the Redemptorist Order in behalf of and deaths, and causes of oeath in made a graceful and happy reply, during the course of which he euloireland for the years from 1891 to 1900. We will quote from a sumgized the noble work of the Christian mary of that report, which in itself Brothers and the results achieved, of is only a summary of the statistics It runs thus :

hown by the pupils during the after-"The Registrar-General points out that in the decade under review the Rev. Father Heffernan, Rev. E births in Ireland numbered 1,055,020 Strubbe, C.SS.R., Ald. Daniel Galagainst 836.035 deaths, indicat lery, M.P., and Mr. C. A. McDonnell ing a natural increase io the populaalso delivered brief addresses tion of the country of 218,985. Dur gradulating the Brothers and pupils ing the ten years 433,526 emion the high standard of their studies. grants, of 9.5 per 1000 of the mean population, left Ireland. The num A GARDEN PARTY .- As we go per of emigrants would thus appear to press a most successful garder party is being held by the new to have exceeded the excess of births over deaths by 214,541. The numparish of St. Agnes. ber of emigrants in the preceding de cennium was 770,706. The actual decrease in the population of Ireland from April 1891 to the 31st of PERSONAL NOTES - Rev. J. A March, 1901, was 245,975. McCallen, S.S., of Baltimore, The report informs us that the well known in St. Patrick's parish, is now in this city. He is a guest of the Sulpician Fathers at the prestotal number of marriages registerad during the ten years 1891-1901 bytery of Notre Dame. was 221,608, as compared with 213. 095 during the previous decade, show ing an increase of 8513, or 4 per Mr. D. J. Byrne, of the well known cent. in a decreasing population. The firm of Leonard Bros., the largest average annual marifage rates per importers and exporters of fish 1000 of the population were, for th Canada, has gone on a business trip two decahes, 4.31 for the earlier and to Western Canada. 4.84 for the latter." The larges number of marriages which place in any one year was 23,120 s at the rate of 5.07 per 1000. in the year 1895; the smallest was for the year , 1900, when the number was 21,330 or at the rate of

McPhail, C.SS.R.; Ald. Daniel Gallery, M.P.; Messrs, C. A. McDonnell

John Slattery, Hugh McMorrow, P

Kenehan, Dr. Mullally, Mr. Arder

The hall was crowded by parents and friends of the pupils, and each item of the programme which we give

below was most deservedly applaud

The intelligent, caim, and business like manner in which the various per formers acquitted themselves was striking evidence af the high standar

of training which the establishment

Chorus-Soldier's Chorus, Schoo

Musical Review, Music class under the direction of Prof. P. J. Shea.

The programme was as follows

Addition Club. Juniors

and J. L. McCaffrey.

per 1000 of the population."

The

ed.

effords.

Choir.

The many friends of Mr. Thoma Burke, a charter member of the Young Irishmen's L. & B. Associawho recently suffered a mos tion. painful accident, will be glad ' to learn that he is now convalescent.

. . .

. . .

Education does not make a ma successful in business, but to the man successful in business it is invaluable aid. The educated man invests business with grace and power. He lifts the mere acquisition of dollars and cents above the groveler, whose only delight is his hoard and places wealth on the plane where it justly belongs and where its re mas F. Heffernan, St. Anthony's sults are beneficial to humanity. Revi A. Cullinan, St. Mary's; Rev. Pittsburg Catholic. Father Fortier, C.SS.R., Rev.)Father

(By a Regular Contributer.)

This week I have not much to tell bout my old books, for the good reason that I am a long way away from them, and I naturally canno recall the dates and all the details connected with them. I had th pleasure of giving the readers a lot of information regarding my collection of the "British Essayists"; regarding my colhave another bundle of old books, of still greater antiquity, and of a very peculiar interest. Before writing about them I would preler to again look them over and take them in compensate for the disturbance

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Witness

The Rector

The function was brought to

references were made to the efforts of which so marked evidences had been-

education in the parish.

(From our Own Correspondent.)

There is scarcely anything to be old from here this week but the various local celebrations of St. Jean Baptiste. While the city of Montreal had the great general national demonstration, each parish, or disrict has apparently selected some day for its own celebration. In Ottawa, in Hull, in the surrounding villages, at Buckingham, at Aylmer, and elsewhere the great Saint, who is patron of the French-Canadian people, has been fittingly honored. It is certainly a good sign to witness all the deep faith that these people display-for each celebration begins with a High Mass and the offering up of the day to God and the invocation ol the Almighty, through the advocacy of their patron saint, for the blessings needed for the year to come. Another point that mould not escape attention, is the fact that universally these demonstrations are most orderly, peaceful and yet enthusiastic. Rarely does intemperance intrude upon them, and still more rarely are there any discordant notes heard. If ever one forgets himself, the case is such a marked exception that it serves to accontuate the general rule.

THE SESSION. - Last week endd with the memorable debate on the Dundonald affair. This week seems to be given over entirely to the consideration of the estimates. It is true that Dominion Day will make a. gap in the legislative progress; but then there is little or nothing left to be done. All the private bills. are passed and ready for sanction; all the Government measures, except one, have been disposed of. Perhaps that one-which is the new Militia Billmay, on account of the recent Dundonald difficulty, create a certain amount of debate. But that and the Militia Estimates alone can give rise to any protracted discussion. Conequently it is about fair to expect. that by the 15th July, the fourth session of this very exceptional emorable Parliament will be closed. Then comes the ever-recuring question as to the general elections. Wo all know how last year it was supposed at one time that there would certainly be elections. But circumstances changed in the course of few months, and all those who had made preparations, more or less for that event, were disappointed. may be the same this year. Still, the very fact of so little being said on the subject might incline us to think that there is a greater probability this year than ever there was last year, of an appeal to the peoplef At all events, we can only rely upon one thing; the general elections will have to take place inside of twelve or fourteen months. for it is a time of fearful turmoil the country, and few care for it, as the profits it brings to a few never holiday. Perhapa on account of the bumber of pupils being so great in the date is a transfer to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The boys of 81. Ann's in all de subservers is a draw as the state is a state to boaring. The state is a state to boaring. The state is a state to boaring. The state is a state state to boaring. The state is a state to boaring. The state is a state to boaring. The state is a state to boar and state is a state board and studies in tas a state board and studies in tas a state way and cocasion, to refer to bar state to bar state to bar state to bar state is the state the percentage of lings the state the percentage of lings the state the percentage of lings the state to bar state

THE PURE ATUNESS AND CATHOMO DECROPTORE

This week I am going to do some copying and culling. It will probab. y be remembered that some twelve This ago I reproduced a number of dis from the admirable essays of mas Davis. Among them was on "National art." I am not ite certain, at this moment, for I have not the fyle of the paper hand, whether or not I published my sketch the passage concerning will now serve as an introduction to what I desire to give the readers; if I did, then I can only say that they can bear repetition

WHAT ART REALLY IS, -The first passage I take is the following : "Art regenerator as well as a copyist. As the historian, who composes distory out of various materials, diffors fr m a newspaper reporter, who sets down what he sees-as Plutarch ers from Mr. Grant, and the Abbe Barthelmy from the last traveller in tia-so does the historical painter, the landscape composer (such Claude or Poussin) differ from the most faithful portrait, landscape or scene drawer. The painter who is a ter of composition, makes hi pencil contemporary with all times and ubiquitous, Keeping strictly ure and fact, Romulus sits for him, and Paul preaches. He makes Attila charge and Mahommed exhort. and Ephesus blaze when he likes. He pays the most minute attention truth in his orawing, shading te and coloring, and by imitating the torce of nature in his composition, all the ids that ever floated by him, and the forms of the dead, or the stranger, hover over him.

But art has a higher sphere than this. It is a rreator. Great 8.5 odatus and Thierry are, Homer and Beranger are greater. The ideal has resources beyond the actual. The Apollo is more than noble, and Hercules mightier than man. The Michael Angelo is no likeness of the inspired law-giver, . nor of any other that ever lived, and Ra phael's Madonnas are not the faces of It is creation, it is reprewomen. enting beings and things different from our natures but true to the In this self-consistency is the own. only nature requisite in works purely imaginative. Lear is true to hi nature, and so are Mephistoples and Prometheus and Achilles; but they are not true to human nature: they ere beings created by the poets' mind and true to their laws of being. It is a blunder to require commistency to the nature of us and our world in works of poet or painter

To create a mass of great pictures statues or buildings is the same statu sort of ennoblement to a people as to create great poems or histories, on made great codes, or win great bat-tles. The next best, though far in-ferior, blessing and power are to inherit such works and achievements. The lowest stage of all is neither to possess nor to create them. To collect into and make known the best works of our living and dead artists is one step towards procuring for the country a recognized National Art, and is one of the greatest factors in the elevation and education of a FRCA."

JUST A' HYPHEN .- This pane

me is truly the mother and nurse of th fine arts, and can never rid herself of the predilection for them that she has brought along the ages from out the old classical world.

But what an impulse is given this ancient Catholic tendency by the possession of a noble gallery ings, statuary and other art works ! The training of the eye, then, goes hand in hand with the development of the imagination; the historical ele ment of art keeps pace with psychological process; the best works of past ages and every school lies be fore the youthful beginner; the faithful model is forever there, in silent and changeless perfection, chiding gently but efficaciously the raw and unpromising attempts of the begin. er. This was no doubt the rewhy in the meeting rooms and cha pels of the old mediaeval guilds there were always kept specime ns maste pieces of their work that the young apprentice might have ever him in a finished product both the laws of his craft and the technique of execution.'

INTERPRETERS OF LIFE .- "Th fine arts are indeed a monumental exegesis, a helpful interpretation of all lile. No one can wander through the infinite spaces of the minster at Cologne or look down upon the glo rious hand work of the freestone pile at Freiburg, and not feel that he listening to the voice of the past as truly as if he were reading the pages of Moliere or Cervantes. They repr sent the highest efforts of those who went before us to translate into visible realities the invisible and vague truths they felt more keenly than they could express. They embody for us an educational ethos or temper of soul, inasmuch as the fleeting vision of the brain or the secret longing of the heart that created them, keep ever infinite,y ahead of the accom plishment and so drew out, unfolded. all the capacities of the disciple Your true artist is dissatisfied in his highest triumph; he has seen a glory and heard a harmony that are foretaste of heaven but are therefore unrealizable on earth. It is essentially a Christian and not a pagar rament, the product of faith in another life, and therefore deeply im bued with melancholy, the straining and breaking of the heart for the final land of peace and love beauty. There are, in our English literature, many moving pages that are inspired by this peculiar educational office and function of the ine arts. And though his lines are trite with much quotation, I, cannot forbear to recall the profounding ro mantic expression which our national poet has given to this eternal chalenging of our better self by the ar tistic spirit. I mean that vision of the Alpine youth escalading, but in vain, some inaccessible white dome;

There in the twilight, cold gray, Lifeless, but beautiful, he lay.

And from the sky, serene and far A voice fell, like a falling star Excelsior.'

FORMATION OF TASTE .- "There is another advantage that accrues to an advanced school from daily Tush is merely a hyphen between of men to whom beauty was truly a what Davis wrote sixty years ago religion, a delightful service of the and what Rev. Dr. Shahan, of the Master of Masters, of that ineffable contact with the admirable said, Beauty that is ever old and ever taste. It is not enough that student should learn to know the nature and limits and purpose the student learn to recognize with ease and accuracy the works of beauty. Taste in the realm of the imagination is akin to a delicate and tender conscience in morals, to' rect and pleasing speech in our cial relations, to a sure practical SENSE OF THE BEAUTIFUL. -"The sense of the beautiful is tru-The sense of the beautiful is trutraining in youth. It is the judg ment exercising itself with discrim nation and nicety in the region of ideal forms and creations. It can be perverted like the moral sense, which it is in very close contact. It can be dimmed like the sense of truth anh learn to see "Helen's beauty in does the sense of the beautiful and learn to see "Helebs beauty in training and direction in order that a brow of Egypt." Hence, the most the may not be misled, or corrupted or cultivated of peoples does not speak CATHOLIC ART. - "This training grees on easily and habitually, to a trolled by Catholicism, for the Church simply of taste, not of le gout but

o rebellion and wron on that St. Paul re when he spoke of the dualism in our mature, the double law in our mem-bers, and that good old Horace felt: Nitimur in vetitum cupimu

TRAIN SENSE ARTISTIC. -"S we cannot begin soon enough train the tender sense of heauty, crowd the eye with visions of wh is according to the best criteria in all the provinces of the fine arts to stamp with the final authority immortal names certain positive con-clusions in the mind of youth. Fitted out with this array of wise and permanent judgments, it will soon be better enabled to exercise and trust its own independent reasoning, its own personal emotions and impressions. It will vary and extend its udgments as life unrolls before the panorama of things and events ever the same and yet ever new for each beholder and participent, since for the individual man and the world is ever as fresh and turesque as when it came from hands of the Creator. But amid all its individualism the trained mind has once been polarized, has acquired a certain orientation, a certain just tesse of thought and appreciation that may be forgotten as it wer amid its new acquisitions, but which work on with silent efficacy. Here among the works of the greatest mas ters of the fine arts, we may hope to see grow in each ardent young intel lect, more by the noiseless inocula tion of daily intercourse with an ar istocracy of genine, than by severe instruction, all the principles and criteria of taste. The eye and the heart will hold here an uninterrupted communion from which will grow an harmonious perfection of every natu ral gift, directed toward the easy recognition and proper enjoyment of all that is truly beautiful, truly worthy of imitation."

A Week's Anniversaries

(By an Occasional Contributor.)

SUNDAY LAST was the fourth after Pentecost. It was also the 19th June, and a day commemora tive of many important events. 1584, on that date the famous Arch bishop O'Hurley, of Cashel. .wa hanged as a traitor-because he was a Catholic prelate-by the British. In 1810 Bishop Concannon of New York died. In 1541, King Henry VIII. was crowned King of Ireland In 1864 the Kearsage had sunk the Alabama-an event that almost produced international complications. In 1786 General Nathan Greene died. In 4800 the great battle of Blenheim was fought. And in 1863 the State of West Virginia was admitted to the Union.

. . .

JUNE 20TH .-- In the year .1860. Archbishop Blanc of New Orleans died In 1632 Maryland's famous charter was signed by Calvert. in 1631 the sack of Baltimore, in Ireland, by the Algerine pirates took place. This is an event which furnished a subject for one of the fines poems ever written by an Irishman, from the pen of Thomas Davis; in 1763, Wolfe Tone was born. In 1815 Napoleon the Great abdicated. It was on the 17th June that Ligny was fought, on the 18th Waterloo, on the 19th on the 18th Waterloo, but he 20th he field to Paris, and on the 20th abdicated. In 1849 James Clarence Mangan died, at Meath Hospital

JUNE 24TH-In the 200 Newfoundland was discovered; in 1817, Thomas McKeau, one of the eigners of the Declaration of Indepen-dence, diad; in 1808, Matthew Thornton Mied; in 1814, Robert Bruce defeated Edward II. at the reat battle of Bannockburn; in 1979 Archbishop Hughes was born, and in 1747 John O'Keefe was born.

WHY SHE WAS NOT PROMOTED The following story is told by one of our exch The head of the linen department of a large city retail store was much pleased with the appearance of new saleswoman who had been 88 attracted my attention. signed to this department. She is healthy, neat and quick in her movements," he said to his as sistant. "She has the face of an intelligent, honest and ambitious girl sistant. I have put her at the towel counter, but if she does well, it will not long before she is promoted to lace counter." "You are inclined to favor her,"

was the comm ent. "Only because I think she is will

"they say that there is trouble

at old man Brown's"; "they where the money comes from." might go for a whole column

that Mrr .Tones is beginning or to be answerable therefor.

ered in, or imagined.

exceptionally clever girl, and will deserve it" was the reply, "I know that she is poor, and needs badly." Miss Scott, the girl in question soon impressed all the other sales-women with the conviction of her cleverness. She talked well and upor every subject but -linen. She had thought more than any of her com panions upon the question of suitable occupation for women, and startled them by her fluency.

moment of the responsibility sin thereof. In all probability "Why should not women be educat ed in the law, sit in the judge's seat? she said to her companions. "Are they not quite as likely to be honest as men ? Did you read that decision in the railroad case to-day ? Anything more unjust-"" "Have you any huckaback towels?" asked a customer. Miss Scott turned, apparently ritated at the interruption, flung down the package, and went on whis-pering, "If I had been the judge in that case, or the prosecuting actorney "These are not huckaback."

"Then we have none." The customer turned away. "A more atrocious injustice tinued Miss Scott. The floor walker happened to be near and overheard what had been biald. "Miss Scott, we have a large liv of huckabacks," he said sharply. Show them. The next day Miss Scott was en plaining to the other girls what she would do if she were an artist. "I have no patience with women wh are content to paint ching plates and nenus. If the time ever I can devote myself to art-noble fig-

"Double Irish damask, fringed ?" said ,a busy matron, memorandum in hand. Miss Scott placed some goods be

"No, these are Scotch, I want

Miss Scott looked hopelessly among the shelves. The floor walker, who had grown anxious with regard to her, stood near, and motioned to another clerk to take the customer, Why do you not learn the shelve u are not waiting on cus tomers ?" he asked. He caught sight of a pamphlet hidden under the counter. "Higher Employment for counter. "Higher Employment for Women," and understood the cause. Women," and understood the cause. high that they were soon lost to You think then One day, two or three weeks later, view. Ambrose's father thought he Did they never Miss Scott's mind was so full

SATURDAY, JULY 2, 1904.

This week I am not exactly going with moral cowardice that is very to relate any of my experiences on the curbstone, that is to say my obpression "they say", is at once put on as a mask, just as does the servations in the regular form. It has been too warm this week, and not feeling too well, I kept indoors. burglar put a mask over his face when about to commit a crime. He However, within I hear a great many things that might have never came thinks and hopes that the piece of black cloth that hides his features to my ears had I been outside. will preserve him from detection and am just now reflecting, in a more or consequently from the punishment due less lazy way upon the remarks that to his breach of the law, So it is with the scandal-lover; he identity of the inventor of the evil report with the flimsy mask made out "THEY SAY" .- Invariably I hav of the two words "they say." found that when people have any un-

such a person to task for some bad pleasant story to relate about anighbor, a bit of scandal to take up report about a neighbor, and he will at once seek refuge behind his shield and send on its way, a bad report to circulate, or anything to tell that -he will say, "I only repeat what I heard, I did not invent, or start the they might feel ashamed .of, or perstory, I am not to blame, I sim-ply said what everyone else says : sponsible for, they begin with "they say." For example that "they say Then ask him. "who are they that say so?" He will probably reply: John Smith has taken to drink, "Every person," or "a lot of people But he will be very careful not t up give you the name of any one in par-ticular. He fears that he might be to put on a lot of style, they all wonder held responsible; he knows that there is such a thing as libel, defamatio of character, or whatever else you re peating the various things, good, had and indifferent, that "they say." may call it. Consequently he not start the rumor; not at all, he All this time the person who is really merely gave it a good shove around saying the thing, and actually doing to keep it going and see that it did as much injury as he could manage the harm, does not seem to think for to make it do. Never for a moment does he reflect that his action is just or she, thinks that "they say" i sufficient to cover the whole affair as bad and, possibly, worse in a certain sense, than that of the one who to whitewash the scandal-monger and first told the evil to a neighbor. And to shift the responsibility on to other shoulders. But "they say" is even should he never be held answerable for it in this world, he need not not a person or persons, with any imagine that when God calls him shoulders or soul, to bear the burder account for the slander there will be Yet. any excuse before the Almighty. it is a delightfully handy fiction to It will be no use saying to God, said it." Let them-if others "they help the lover of scandal and the Let them-if others there possessor of an evil tongue, when rebe-look after themselves. You are tailing the evil that has been gathonly responsible for your own acts, words and thoughts, and the deeds of others will neither bring you condemnation nor save you from one. I will admit that the expression 'they say" has become so common that many use it without any intent-simply through a force

A COWARDLY WAY. - Whenever I hear a person commencing to relate something to the discredit of a neighbor, by saying, "they say that. etc." I at once have a feeling that habit. But, all the same, you should th person in question must be very much always "take with a grain of salt" of a coward. Perhaps not a phywhatever is told you injurious to sical coward; more likely, in that others, wheh it is prefaced by "they sphere, a bully: But certainly tinged say."

open, in the courtyard of his father's | unknown in that country; although palace. His nurse, who had gone to have a little chat with another the green Isle is so sweet a place that I think the bees must have servant on the opposite site of the yard, was suddenly startled by seeing made honey there ever since Noah let them out of the ark. whole swarm of bees fly towards the cradle, circle above it for a mo-

GOOD MANNERS. - There is one ment or two, and then settle upon charm within the reach of every gin and that is the grace of good manthe baby's face. The woman was alarmed lest the insects should sting ners. Some faces are fairer than the child; especially when she saw others, some voices are naturally muone after another fly into the baby's sical, while others are harsh, mouth and fly out again in a regular each of them can be sweetly courteous Instead of envying another girl the She was just going to "shoo" them She was just going to snoo then won her way into hearts away when little Ambrose's father won her way into hearts came along, and, noticing the strange possess it for yourself. charm of manner by which she won her way into hearts, resolve to nurse to let them alone. After a few REVERANCE TO PARENTS. -- Do minute's when the queer visitors had not forget the pains and weariness, all paid their respects to the baby, and watching, and fatigue, which they flaw away of their own accord your j and went right up in the air.- so you, your parents have experie for you. seys the "Orphan's Friend." You think them peevish, perhaps. never pass over your faults, and look mysterious sign, and remarked: "If with a tender eye on all your God grants this child length of days he will one day he something great." and cannot spare the time to r with a tender eye on all your misbe. And everybody knows how true his them any attention. Were they too busy to watch over your helple There is another story about bees to guide your unskilled feet, to sit related in the life of St. David of by your sick bed, weary days and

STATE SAIN ST. BARNABAS. aint was not on Apostles, still he was le by St. Luke, and d with him.

tive of Cyprus, and of Levi. His first n of Levi. but the Apostle calle which means "Son He was one of the Jerusalem to sell all to the poor and a Gospel. He worked at Antioch. By a sp the Holy Ghost, he were sent to convert His journeys are related of the Apostles; and in he was born, he fina life for the faith.

ST. ESKILL. - T was both a Bishop an was an Englishman b the Swedes abandones in the 11th century, h in the link and was his kinsman, St. I bishop of York. They ful mission, and befor to England St. Eskill secrated Bishop. The Bloody" became King revived paganism, and back to save his people er. As the people w a sign of His power, arose that overturned tar and the sacrifices But the sign of God' only enraged' the peo turned on St. Eskill a ST. ANTHONY OF 1 Saint was the great of his age, and his na hold word in every C. So important is his fo cull the following sket and labors, which will deep interest by all : "Born at Lisbon, in

. .

to death.

christened by the name which he changed on the Franciscan Ordet, St. Anthony of Egy saint of the chapel in the habit. At fifteer he entered the regular St. Augustine, but ter joined the Franciscans. he went to Africa to p Moors, but through a was obliged to return journey the ship in ed touched at Messing where he was informed Francis was holding a ter of the Order at Assi repaired to pay his the seraphic saint. In closer touch with St thony begged that he r Italy, and was accord into the hermitage of near Bolonga, where his was to serve in the kit learning, however, came his superior insisting o ing a discourse to an Franciscans and Domini Forli. St. Francis, he discourse, which was by eloquence and erudi its author to Vercelli, made to go through a of theology, which fitte wondrous work of contr onverting heretics and Gregory IX., who heard preach at Rome in 122 styled him the Ark of t to express the spiritual regarded him as displayi France, Spain and Ital places which would hold diences, he preached. of St. Francis, the second the Order, Brother Elia veral abuses, mainly of to creep into the Order many of the provincio willing to let thing dians But St. Anthony and an named Adam pressed i sary reforms, and wer and had to appeal to t deposed Elias. St. Ant advantage of this to see cialship of Romagna, at seclusion at Padua. 1231, being then only St. Anthony died. Nu cles testified to his sam even at his death the ver the streets proclaimed, "The Saint is dead." was canonized by T IX

Catholic University, recently on the occasion of the presentation new. I mean the development to Trinity College, Washington, of the "O'Connor Memorial Building and Art Gallery." The address in If is a real little work of art, and ideal beauty. It is necessary study for students of word painting but the great lesson it teaches is of art galleries as educators of the people. We will divide under headings in order to emphasize the different points.

innate and original with man, even the sense of the good and true. ut even as the latter need guidance and exercise, lest evil and falsehood should get themselves accepted under the guise of goodness and truth-and what else is Christian education?-so es the sense of the beautiful need

Dublin A mere mention of this fact must suffice, for poor Mangan's work was so glorious and his life eo miserable that no ordinary volume could able that in tell his story.

JUNE 22ND. - The great fire in New Yorls City took place in 1820. In 1798, Molyneux-"Case of Ireland stated"-was burned by the public executioner.' In 1527, Machiavelli, the Florentine, whose name has gone down as famous for the principle that "the end justifies the means." died; In 1535, Bishop John Fisher was beheaded on Tower Hill, Londom; in 1812, the famous Iriah chemist, Ri-chared Kirwin died, and in 1845 greater responsibilities." the great American General, Andrew Jackson, died.

of Springfield, N.J., was fought; in 1859 the battle of Solferino, the first Abby the pathe of Solferino, the first step along the pathway of glory for Napoleon III., was fought; in 1757, the battle of Plassy was fought; and in, 1793 took place the massacre of the white people of San Domingo – just at the time that the Reign of – in fact being just a roly-poly Terror was sweeping thousands into human shambles in Paris, nsible places in this country that she made a mistake as to the price of Russian crash, and her check was returned to her from the desk. "I really have not learned

meaning of all the tags on goods," she said to the head of on the the department. "Then you must go elsewhere find other work.'

The next day Miss Scott was told politely her further services were not Then the manager added desired. dindly. "To be faithful in selling tof weling committed to one's care might one's true worthiness . for . . .

THE SAINTS AND THE BEES.-JUNE 23RD.-In 1780 the battle the lives of the saints of the inter course between those holy personages and frational animals of all kinds Am and brose. Before Ambrose was either a saint or great, when he was decidedly little of --in fact being just a roly-poly baby into in his cradle-he was lying fast asleep one day with his mouth wide aw in so stro nge an occurrence opportunities for girls to hold resprediction became.

behavior of the bees, he told

high that they were soon lost procession.

th

One of St. David's monks, an Irishman, named Madonnoc, could not resist, in his old age, the desire es once again his native country. Such a longing is very common in people of all nationalities; they like to die where they were born. Well, Madonnoc received the nece sary permission from his superiors and went on board the vessel that was to carry him to Ireland. No sooner had the monk embarked, how-ever, than all the bees of the monas-tery flew down to the shore and es-tablished themselves on the yessel's bowsprit. Madonnoc denounced them to his superior, and tried repeatedly to chase them back; but it was of no to chase them back; but it was of no use, the bees hadn't taken any vows of obedience, and they persisted ' in witcking to the vessel and accompany ing Madonnoc to the Emeraid Isle. Ever since that time bees have been found in Ireland. Some histo-rians may that previously they ware more weary nights? They are old, and you can enjoy yourself better with your companie with your companions. Your young companions may be pleasant, and you may pass your time very casily mong them, but who of all the num ber will care for you as has vour own tender and forsaken mother?

"Forget not thy mother when she is old." Then is the time she needs that your support, your presence, your No cheerful voice, to comfort her heart, how-and guide her trambling steps during the last and most difficult part of the last and most difficult part of the journey. Whatever may be the fashion, or whatever may be the opinions and practice of others, let nothing cause you to withhold the love and respect due to your parents. Do not give them a rude or impati-ent answer; you will be sorry for it when they are dead. Do 'not leave them to be cared for by others, or

OTHER SAINTS. other Saints of June, mention St. Basil the G nowned Archbishop of one of the greatest Doci

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATROLIC CERONICLE.

£2,500,000—the immediate result would be that there would be $\pounds7,-$ 22,500,000-the immediate result would be that there would be £7.-500,000 on which to carry on the en-tire Irish administration. From the moment of making such an arrange-ment there would be every induce-ment there would be every induce-ment to economize, every saving would then be a saving to Ireland, not to the Treasury, as at present. The intalligent people in Ireland all knew perfectly well that the admini-

year flows: The expenditure of the taxation of with perfect regard to the interests and efficiency of the public services, be reduced by 81 millions.

Bearing in mind that in Ireland now indirect taxation now amounts to 75 per cent, of the total, it will be running through it. Here is some evident at a glance how necessary a old African marble from the Libyan evident at a glance how necessary a settlement on Mr. Gladstone's principle is. It would at once afford means of stopping that indirect taxation affecting the necessaries of life which is pressing upon the Irish pea-santry, and driving them to emigrate from the country.

Discussing the effect of the Garrison he says : The garrison means the army of salaried office-holders, place. hunters and pensioners who, by them selves or their relatives or families or friends, at the present moment monopolize almost every official position in Ireland. The Garrison generally speaking, Protestant, but a Catholic will be admitted on the terms of joining in hostility to hi country. To their credit it can be said that the Catholic turncoats are not one in ten thousand, strong as are the baits and bribes held out to them.) I am guite within my mark when I say that the Garrison divide among themselves and their supporters at least £1,000,000 a yea -that is, one tenth of the taxation Wealthy men like some of the Irish Unionists peers are the strongest and most active supporters of the Garrison, not for the money for themselve but because they find this a handy means of retaining a powerful political following by what is in reality a gigantic system of bribery and corruption. In other countries bribery and corruption assume the vulgar form of giving and receiving money -in Ireland the method is to keep a Garrison who will shout for the Union even though they see it is de basing and ruining their country. If a fair, reasonable annual sum were fixed as the Imperial contribution, leaving the remainder for Irish purposes, under Irish instead of Lon don supervision, the Garrison would be at once dismantled, taxation would be reduced to a comparative trifle, and Ireland would soon be come as prosperous as Belgium and other small nations. But the Garrison will struggle hard, with the aid of their English friends, to prevent a reform from affecting their own pockets, which are the measure 0 their loyalty."

N. S. S.

Gregory IX., who heard St. Anthony of sculpture produced in modern times. For two years and more whereby a body of Irishmen will be therefore of grave importance at a "A world's exposition of marble," h at Rome in 1227, afterwards time of religious revolution due to styled him the Ark of the Covenant, Patent Report. empowered to limit and control and Professor Aurelia, a famous Roman was the astonished verdict of an new conceptions of the Bible. express the spiritual treasure he utilize taxation is the Alpha and American visitor the other day, as artist. lavished on this beloved work regarded him as displaying. Through France, Spain and Italy, often in Omega of Home Rule, or what his highest genius and utmost care. is he issued from the fine Cathedral, Nothing could give us a more ex-Below will be found a list of pat-ents recently granted by the Cana. called the Irish question. The third volume of Mr. Morley's "Life of Glad stone" reveals to us the paramount hastening on the final preparations It is an ultro-relievo presentation in It is an ultro-relievo presentation in finest white statuary marble of Gar-Bible at the hands of those so-called market-places and fields as the only d look ra of Loon arda Da Vinci's "Last would hold his vast au- dian and American Govern "higher critics." Out of all this cri importance which Parnell attached to the financial aspect of the Bill of your misdiences, he preached. On the death for the solemn consecration and re-Supper," that matchless fresco flung ticism the only practical result of St. Francis, the second general of the Order, Brother Elias, suffered sethrough the agency of Messrs. Maso prodigally on the perishable walls may be, e to render re they too that the Catholic Church alone opening, now but five weeks distant. 1886. rion & Marion, Patent Attorneys, of an old Gothic Church in Milan, re-And such, truly, is the sight which mains the infallible and faithful cus-As things stand at present, Irishveral abuses, mainly of extravagance Montreal, Canada, and Washington, and now fading out of existence. todian of the sacred Book, and that to creep into the Order, and men have no object in saving ex-penses in any public department. If greets the eye when, passing through to creep into the Order, and found many of the provincials and guar-dians willing to let things so remain. But St. Anthony and an Englishman named Adam pressed for the neces-sary reforms, and were persecuted, and had to' appeal to the Pope, who deposed Elias. St. Anthony tools advantage of this to seek from the Pope permission to retign his provin-cialship of Romagna, and retire to seelusion at Padua. On June 13, 1281, being then only thirty.six St. Anthony died. Numerous mira-cles testified to his sanctity, which even at his death the very children of Words fail to paint the varied pernelplessness D.C. ¢ the very sects of error that base the graceful entrance porches of Auspenses in any public department. If any item is maved or cut off in Ire-land, the saving only goes to swell the already too high Imperial contri-bution. Moreover, economy in one department may be of no advantage to the people. For instance, Sir Anthony MacDonnell has reduced the expenditure on police and law by £240,000; but this money, by a pro-cess of bookkeeping, is transferred to meet interest on the bonus of £12,-000,000 given to the landlords under the recent Land Act. Thus the taxfections which win for this magnifi-CANADA. themselves upon it are tearing it leaf Nos. trian oak, and stained glass, cent altar-piece the spontaneous ad. ays and just 87,686-Albert Tison, Montreal, feaby leaf to pieces. ey are old. miration of every visitor, be he traincompleted by Mr. M'Adorey, of Dun ther renovator. 87,871-George Bryar, St. John, N. B., nut lock. dalk, one pauses between the Porta ed artist or simple countryman. The snowy purity of the material, the wonderful relief and delicate finish of Santa columns of the lofty organ gal our young lery, and gazes astonished at wonderful relief and delicate finish of DEATH OF MR, THOMAS EAGAN the 87.875.-Fahien Beauregard, Montvery easily II. the numforest of white marble around real, Que., washing machine. 37,884.—John M. Young, Kerem of detail, make one involuntarily ask oneself is it really marble at all. And distant choir. There is marble, not merely in such comparatively small B.C., rail chairs. 87,887-James P. Donald, Lindsay, Ont., improvements in leggings. then the living reality of the scene works as altar or pulpit; there is the What a world of varied gesture and The death of Mr. Thomas D. Egan, when she Cardinal's throne with a canopy 32 she, needs ce, your her heart, leet high. side screens to the choir, expression in so small a space ! Each son of Mr. Maurice Egan, of Wood-UNITED STATES. of the twelve figures is an Apostolie 24 feet high by 30 feet wide; a high altar reredos still loftier than the stock, Ont., which occurred in New the recent Land Act. Thus the tax the recent Land Act. Thus the tax-ntion remains the same; the landlords get it instead of the police. So far from there being any inducement to economize, the common idea is to keep and spend as much as possible in Ireland, as any saving will only go to the Treasury. biography in stone, each face a type tes testified to his sanctity, while even at his death the very children of the streets proclaimed, calling out "The Saint is dead." The next year 781,850-John McLean, Moosomin, York recently, has been announ 781,880—John McLean, Moosomin, N.W.T., scrub hook.
781,983—Alexander Murray, Gol-spie, Ont., gats latch.
782,886.—William Cross, Medicine. Hat, N.W.T., washing and dry-ing apparatus for photographic Tailor. screens, and an organ gallery from 21 feet high by 37 feet wide. al of individual character, and the group part of her be the others, let Deceased was a native of Woodstock, tells its sfory so eloquently that one can almost see coming from the parted lips of the divinely grave and 011 Many years ago he went to New xecuted in the most precious York, and was for a time on the staff of a Catholic newspaper, the "Free-man's Journal." During recent years he had been engaged in busi-ness on his own account, of which he made a great success. Mr. Egan leaves a widow and five children to mourn his loss May his soul rest in peace. he was canonized by Pope Gregory statuary and other marbles. beautiful figure in the centre the It is safe to predict that this gem of classical perfection alone will suf-fice to make Armagh Cathedral a Only, however, when the visitor Only. however, when the visitor passes on to a detailed inspection does he realize that the white quar-ries of Carrara are but one of a be-long ago. Those columns in the base of the pulpit? They are a famous marble-Verde Antico-the old color OTHER SAINTS. — Among the other Saints of June, one should mention St. Basil the Great, the re-nowned Archbishop of Castarea, and one of the greatest Doctors of the or impati-or impati-orry for it not leave thers, or 762,942-Jao A. Ranson, Carberty, Man. Grain Drill Shoe. 768,005.-Harmas Larose, Vercheres. Que., Baling press. On the present rate of taxation, if an arrangement were made on the you will principle proposed by Gladhtone – sd green of Genos and Tuscan-found namely, let Ireland pay a fixed an-nual sum as her Imperial contribu-tion to the British Treasury-say 50 500 control to the new Westminster Cathedral. Yonder is some Breccia, a strange knew perfectly well that the admin-istration of the whole machinery of tells us so in excellent English, and Irish government could be well carri-ed on at half the present expenditure. There is not a public department the cost of which would not be cut down 50 per cent. by any reasonable body up on the topmost floors of a towerthe ing scaffold, painting on the groined sould, roof of the nave and chancel a choice history of the Irish saints, from St. Patrick to St. Laurence O'Toole.

"Beside you there is some Porta Santa Rossa red marble, from near Carrara, with veins of all colors quarries, a deep blood red, with small spots. You can tell why that red marble from Verona under the pulpit steps is called Brocatello; the weight of mile deep mountains brocaded wildering variety of places on which Armagh Cathedral has levied toll. Fully a score of different marbles might be enumerated, scattered in artistic profusion through column and plinth, canopied niche and inlaid panel. A dark, draper little man in painter's overalls is busy putting the finishing touches of gold leaf to the splendid front row of dumb pipes for the organ casing. We look at our watches-it is two o'clock. "Give us a few minutes of your dinner hour, Signor Amici, and tell us something about all these beautiful marbles. He is pleased to be of service, and Brigid's Altar; they are the lovely delicate green marble from Switzerland and Greeco-the workmen call it "Cipollino" (little onion) because it so resembles in color and grain. the familiar vegetable they eat with their coarse bread. Sometimes it is 'mandolato," (almonded), i.e., with yellowish white spots in it like almonds, sometimes, as in this altar, "marino" wavy like a rolling sea.

Here in Our Lady's altar you can see the two chief kinds of yellow.marble. One of then, is Italian, "Giallo di Siena," a bright yellow marble, with large purple streaks, half spot, half vein. The other, Grecian marble from Milos, is a striking con-trast-old golden yellow with black pr deep or yellow rings. And so on through "Peacock's Eye," "Lapis-lazzoli," "Peach Blossom," "Corsican Jasper." and a host of polished beauties, till our neads swim and we wake to the consciousness that, spite of the blazing sunshine outside, our obliging Italian friend may be troubled by uneasy visions of a cold dinner.

It is interesing to know that th Lady Altar, which with its reredos cost over $7500, is the magnificent gift of Miss Close, an Armagh lady now residing in Belfast. From her sister, Miss Maria Close, comes gift of equal beauty 'and grandeur, the altar of the Sacred Heart in the end of the current fiscal year. Whenby eloquence and erudition, sent for its author to Vercelli, where he was ever such a change takes place it will carnations and bunch of roses; Mrs. The Armagh Cathedral St. Brigid, but for a masterpiece of ciety and by the American Bible Sobe found that the question of Irish taxation must be at once grappled with if Ireland is not to be crushed made to go through a special course of theology, which fitted him for his O'Connor, cross; Mrs. A. McGourty, pots of flowers; Mrs. P. Sullivan, pot modern art the visitor must go to ciety in 1904 to put forth both the the high altar. On its frontal newly revised version and the old he will see what is, without exaggeraondrous work of controverting and of shamrocks. version of 1611 as authoritative out of existence. The means, or me converting heretics and sinners. Pope tion, one of the most exquisite pieces translations of the Scriptures thod, or system, whatever it is to be,

THE BIBLE'S FUTURE,

(By a Regular Contributor.)

If the future is to be judged by the past, and fit is generally a fair test, the salvation of the Bible, for all time to come, depends upon the Catholic Church. No sane man will to-day risk his reputation for seriousness and honesty, in prefending that any truth ever existed in the old accusation that the Catholic Church prevented the people from having the Holy Scriptures. She alone, throughout the ages, conserved and preserved the Bible. It was only when Protestantism came on the scene, with its private interpretation, that the Bible was exposed to destruction. To-day they are issuing revised and corrected editions of the old King James version; but who are the revisors and correctors ? What inspiration can they claim ? If the Bible were ever the work or God, it must have been written by men acting under diving inspiration. Yet not nine out of ten of those, who base all their faith on the Bible alone will admit the inspiration of the very Book that they profess to hold Sacred. What is the attitude of the Catholic Church? Read the definition of the inspiration of the Scriptures as it was enunciated by the Vatican Council. It says: "These (books) the Church regards as sacred and cannonical, not because they were composed by mere human inqustry, and subsequently approved by its authority; nor because they contain a revelation without error; but because, being written by the inspiration of the Holy Ghost, they have God as their author, and as such has been intrusted to the Church." This is a plain, clear statement. It will admit of no equivocation. The Church teaches that God, is the author of those books of Holy Writ, and that the men who wrote them were only God's instruments, whom He used just as they used their pens. Outside the Church, in the great field of Protestantism, with its conflicting creeds, how do they treat God's inspired word ? How do they deal with the very Bible that . they profess to accept as their standard of faith ? Dealing with the subject, and with the new versions, the New York Sun says :

"At this time, when the new . revision is made authoritative, there is throughout Christendom a criticism of the Scriptures which goes far beyond the mere imperfectious of any translation. It weighs in the balance and rejects even the authenticity and authoeity of the Biblican originals themselves. The Bible em-erges from its testing furnace no onger the word of God, but the words of men- fa, lible, legendary, contradictory, defaced by frauds, and limited by an ignorance of the natural laws of the universe which betokens a human authorship at periods when superstitions swayed the minds and governed the religious concep-

SOME SAINTS OF JUNE

to svoid being created Archius He died in Cornwall in a hermi that he had there built for him ST. BARNABAS., -While this great mint was not one of the invite Apostles, still he was called an Apos-ile by St. Luke, and the title has over that he had there built for himself Another Saint of June, is St. John Francis Regis, Confessor, and a mem-ber of the Society of Jesus, He was born in 1597, and died on the 31st December, 1840. Then we have St Botulph, an Abbott, who was one of two noble brothers of English race de by St. Luke, and the title has ever remained with him. He was a ne-tive of Cyprus, and was of the Tribe-of Levi. His first name was Joseph-but the Apostle called him Barnahas -which means "Son of Consolation" who were among the early convert to Christianity after St. Augustine's arrival. St Botolph and his brother St. Botolph came back to England He was one of the first inhabitan of Jerusalem to sell his lands, give all to the poor and go preach the Gospel. He worked with St. Paul they became spiritual leaders of re-ligious houses. St. Adulph became Bishop of Maestricht, in Holland, but at Antioch. By a special election of the Holy Ghost, he and St. Paul were sent to convert the Gentiles. His journeys are related in the Acts St. Botoph came back to England and died an Abbot in 655. of the Apostles; and in Cyprus, where was born, he finally gave up his life for the faith. . . . ST. ESKILL. - This great Saint

ST. ESKILL. — Integrat Saint was both a Bishop and a marity. Have an Englishman by birth. When the Swedes abandoned Christianity, in the 11th century, he went to con-vert them, and was accompanied by his kinsman. St. Sigefride, Archhis kinaman, St. Signific, Andrew bishop of York. They had a success-ful mission, and before their return to England St. Eskill was also con-secrated Bishop. Then "Sweyn the Bloody" became King of Swedeh. He revived paganism, and Eskill went back to save his people from the danger. As the people would not lister to him, he present him, he prayed to God to give a sign of His power, and a storm arose that overturned the pagan al tar and the sacrifices were destroyed. But the sign of God's displeasure only enraged the people, and they turned on St. Eskill and stoned him to death. . . .

ST. ANTHONY OF PADUA. -This int was the great wonder worker of his age, and his name is a house hold word in every Catholic family. So important is his feast that we cull the following sketch of his life and labors, which will be read with deep interest by all :

of

"Born at Lisbon, in 1195, he was christened by the name of Ferdinand, which he changed on his entry into the Franciscan Ordet, in honor St. Anthony of Egypt, the titular saint of the chapel in which he took the habit. At fifteen years of age he entered the regular canonate of St. Augustine, but ten years after joined the Franciscans. he went to Africa to preach to the Moors, but through a severe illness! was obliged to return to Spain. On the journey the ship in which he sailed touched at Messina, in Sicily, where he was informed that Francis was holding a general Chapter of the Order at Assisium, whither he repaired to pay his respects the seraphic saint. In order to be in closer touch with St. Francis, Anthony begged that he might stay in Italy, and was accordingly received into the hermitage of Mount Paul, near Bolonga, where his humble task was to serve in the kitchen. earning, however, came out through his superior insisting on his deliver-ing a discourse to an assembly of ing a discourse to an asse

good man-fairer than turally mu arsh, but ly courteous her girl the h she has resolve to

ENTS. --Do weariness, ue, which nced for s Friend." perhaps. fretfulness et, to

elf better

nt, and yo

as yo mother?' your

eps during

hold the

more be

repeat what I , or start the blame, I sime else says : are they that obably reply lot of people' y one in parthe might be ws that there l, defamation er else you ently he did it at all, he

shove around

e that it did

could manage

for a moment

action is just

orse in a cer

the one who

eighbor. An held answer.

he need not

calls him to

there will be lmighty. It

others there

s. You are

ir own acts, d the deeds

ng you a ou from one.

expression

so common at any evil

, you should ain of salt"

ed by "they

; although

eet a place must have

since Noah

here is one of every gin

force

urious

2, 1904,

000000000

00000000

ANDAL'

00000000

000000000

that is very

ter. That ers at once put

a crime. He the piece of es his features a detection and of

win So it is

he covers th

or of the evil

mask made out y say." Take for some bad

r, and he will

nd his shield

as does over his face

form, and members. Reaching the old Catholic cemetery, the procession halted, and the flowers were distributed by Mr. W. M. Williams. They were then laid on the different graves Prayers for the dead were recited over each grave, and the hand softh played the Adeste Fideles. After the graves had been decorated, the members assembled in the centre of the graveyard and together sent up petitions for the departed souls. When all was concluded the procession marched by way of the grounds of St. Patrick's Industrial School to th

A. O. H. DECORATE GRAVES.

The New Freeman, St. John, N.B. in its issue of June 18th, says a

At 2 o'clock on Tuesday afterno

the members and Knights of Division No. 1, A.O.H., formed in procession

at the head of King street and march ed to the old and new cemeteries, where they decorated the graves of their deceased brethren. First in procession was a barouche filled with flowers, followed by the City Cornet

Band, then the Knights in full uni-

new cemetery, where the same imposing ceremony was performed. The grave of the late Bishop Sweeney whose remains are interred in the new cemetery, was decorated with a beautiful wreath, cross and cut flowers. At St. Peter's burial groun the grave of Dr. Collins, the shi fever hero, was decorated. Mrs. Edward Finigan superintended the work of gathering flowers, and was ably ears after assisted by the Ladies' Auxiliary of After this the A.O.H. The following floral decorations were received :

> Twenty-six crosses of roses, carna tions and smilax from the Ladie Auxiliary of the A.O.H.; Mrs. John Murphy, bunch of sweet peas; Mrs. J. St. Ritchie, basket of sweet peas; Miss McCoskery, bunch of roses and carna. tions; Miss M. Delay, bunch of carnations; R. O'Brien, wreath; Miss Mc. Williams, wreath; Mrs. A. Scott, basket of flowers; Mrs. J. Callahan basket of flowers; Mrs. E. Finnegan, six bouquets; E. Driscoll, cross: J L. Mullaly, large bunch; Mrs. P. Fitz-John Grady, Miss L. Burke, Mrs. Thomas Kickham, Mrs. Wm. Logan, His Mrs. J. Bowes, Mrs. John Cliff, Mrs. William McAvay, cut flowers; John Crowley, bunch of roses; Mrs. J. S. McGargan, roses and carnations; Mrs. T. Burns, crescent of roses and Hermit, a priest of the Arobico-th century. He fied from Ireland In Ireland,

> An Irish correspondent of the Man chester Guardian, in a recent issue of that journal, says :

A few days ago I placed before your readers a brief summary of the taxation of Ireland and the increase which will be made to it under the present budget. For the year ending March, 1905, the amount will be £10,998,000. I will now draw attention to the channels of expendi.

Ireland is made under six different heads or departments, each of which is quite distinct from the others, and measured and understood These six departments or divisions are: (1) Law and police; (2) Dublin Castle; (3) education; (4) local grants; (5) Post Office; (6) Imperial Contrib the expenditure under each of these six heads for the year ending 31st of March, 1904. I select that year be cause in it the taxation of Ireland, including the corn tax, amounted to £10,205,500, being nearly the amount as that for the present financial year.

cludes pensions, salaries of judges, police, and what is known as class The cost of this department was £2,212,500.

2. Dublin Castle .- This is used a genuine name for an institution which comprises and controls seven sub-departments or sub-divisions namely, the Lord Lieutenant. the Board taxes, superannuation, Board of Ag-004.500.

3. Education-This includes Cork and Galway, £21,000; what is known as class 4, £1,345,-000. Total cost of education, £1,-866.000.

subdivisions-Exchequer grants, £1,- 630.000.

000.

year ending 31st March, 1903, the gain to the Imperial Exchequer from Ireland was £2,852,000. That is on the assumption that the police and all the other charges mentioned were to be treated as local Irish

ernment may be in office before the iscourse, which was distinguished ment Board, surveys, collection of Total cost of this department, £1,- 5. Post Office, the cost of which

6. Imperial Contribution, £2,852,

+he

of Works, the Local Governriculture. The cost of each of these ub-departments was as follows: Lord Lieutenant, £21,500; Board of Works etc., (class 2), £372,000; surveys, £83,000; collection of taxes, £246, 000; superannuation, etc., £83,900

three Queen's Colleges in Belfast, and

4. Local Grants .- This includes four

441,000; railways, £124,000; hospi-tals, etc., £17,000; rates on Government property, £48,000. Total, £1 was £1,140,000.

It will thus be seen that in charges.

south transept, which with its fitt-ings complete cost nearly $7000. nciscans and Dominican Friars at It is possible that a Liberal Gov-Forli. St. Francis, hearing of the There is some very beautiful sculp-ture in the altars of St. Joseph and by the British and Foreign Bible So-I can give the accurate figures for 1. Law and Police .- This head in-

Random Notes and Gleanings.

turbance.

A MEMORIAL. - A large meetin

of the clergy and laity was held at the Archilehop's House, Westminster, recently, to consider the question of erecting a suitable memorial to the late Cardinal Vaughan. His Grace the Archuishop of Westminster pro-posed that the memorial should con-aist of a secondary day school for referring to the fact that the Cathe dral would always be a permanent

it had been felt that to suitably per petuate his memory they should look for some work of more urgent neces sity. His Grace considered they had found that work in proposing to erect as near Westminster Cathedral as possible a first rate secondary school

DOCTOR'S FEE. - In a recent ase before the courts in which a me dical practitioner claimed a large

be considered in making out the bill

ousness of the complaint, the skill and time required, the result reached

may all be considered; not the pa-

MUST BE TEMPERATE. - Accor ding to the provisions of the will o

a citizen of New York, who has left nearly $40,000 to each of hs children, they are to be cut of if they

. . .

NOT FOR SELF. - Rev. T.

silver jubilee of his ordination.

the erection of a beautiful pulpit.

St. Michael's Orphan Asylum

which the Bishop purchased a yea

ago. It will cost $40,000. - Col.

Morris, of Atlantic City, whose be quest enables the bishop to make this improvement, was a generous be-

. . .

A CENTENARIAN. - Mrs. Mary

Limerick, Ireland.

and

Dillon, aged 102, has just died at

Up to a few months before her death

she occasionally walked from her home to Honeyfound, a mile distant,

. . .

THE ROYAL DECLARATION. -

The Duke of Norfolk has given no-tice to move in the House of Lords

"that whereas under the Bill of Rights and the Act of Settlement,

the Sovereign is required to join in land, as by law established,

ommunion with the Church of Engnefactor of the diocese.

Croom, County

to attend Mass.

. . .

become addicted to drink.

. . .

tha

not

lee, the presiding Judge ruled the wealth of the patient must memorial of His Emine

for boys.

tient's pocketbook.

TOLERATION.-Lord Dudley, the popular Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, researdly delivered a most touching address to the Catholics of Cork. He then proceeded to Belfast and there he lectured on the dangers of bigot-ty and intolerance. Amongst other things he said : "Mutual tolerance and respect are of the essence of ible without freedom. We canit claim freedom for ourselves un we are willing to allow it in equal measure to those who differ from us." All sensible men will accept this as good advice. boys, to be erected as near as possi-ble to Westminster Cathedral. After CHURCH BAZAARS - We had intended commenting upon a paragraph that appeared in the last issue of the London Universe, regarding the m of bazaars for churches, but as the passage is commentary in itof and gives us a very great truth in very few words, we will simply reproduce it. The London Universe fers to a special matter :

"Lady Jeune remarked at a Wes-leyen bazaar which she opened at rrow, that 'bazaars are a rallying place for women. They are a centre of our energy and devotion. Without becaars half the churches and chapels in England would never have been We do not wish to criticize built. the lady's statement, for fit is not The character of the service, the seriout as regards modern churches and chapels, though she might have ted out that the great churches and the venerable parish churches which dot nearly every Anglican parish in England, were built from a very different form of 'devotion, than zaars, namely, the love of God. practised and taught by monks who are nominally outside the law in Eng land and absolutely outside it France at the present day." The point to which we would cially draw attention is that of the manner in which for long centuries before the bazaar system existed, the grandest temples-the cathedrals and ches of the world-were built by the Catholic Church.

EDUCATION REPORT. -The Intermediate Education Board for Ire-land has just published its annual report for 1903, and the same has en presented to Parliament. The details are of great interest those who are now fighting the edu cational issues regarding Ireland in the British Parliament. Of course we do not find that these statistics affect us in a very direct manner, but all the same they show us such facts as the decrease in the number of examinations and the increase in in ae over expenditure of the Board. Possibly the most interesting figures given are the following :

'We find that 6461 boys and 2093 girle intimated their intention at themselves for examination. The actual number examined was 5987 boys and 1922 girls, being a of 100 or 1.06 per cent. in the case of boys, and of 370 or 16.1 par cent in the case of girls, as com. pared with 1902. The amount of the school grant paid to managers of on account of examinations in 1908 was £57,318, the number of schools concerned being 262. The grant was distributed as follows Leinster, £22,916: Illster £15 578 Munster, £15,077, and Connaught, £3751. The excess of income over expenditure of the Board during the year under review was £5652.

. . .

DECORATION DAY. in the United States this year was fittingly observample securities are provided to

On S distinguished prelace disc ly of heart failure. His re Monly of heart failure. His remains will be taken to Rome in September. The death of Mgr. Guidi recalls, in its suddenness, that of Mgr. Conroy and that of Mgr. O'Bryns, both Papal representatives abroad. and reasonable to him, a thrashing which was wisely followed up by the police taking the tailor to the police station to answer for causing the dis-----

LANDMARK. - A has been appointed by the "Land-mark's Club of California, to us ertain the condition and cost of storing the old Franciscan Mission, San Antonio, founded July 14, 1771 by Padre Junipero Serra. Architect Wm. D. Shea reported that in his es imation the monastery could be stored at an outlay of $1000 and the Church at $2000. He recom-mended that the roof of the Church be replaced before the wet season further damages the interior of the edifice. A MAGNIFICENT CROWN. - In iew of the coming grand and universal celebration of the fiftieth annive sary of the definition of the Imme culate Conception, the following iter of news from Rome will prove very deep interest to our read "The diamond crown which the Pope will solemnly place upon the head of the statue of the Immaculate Virgin in St. Peter's Cathedral next ember on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the definition If the dogma of the Immaculate Conception promises to be one of most splendid pieces of jewelry in the world. The Pope himself has some magnificent jewels for the pose, and in the last few days giver DU the presents of jewels received by the committee have been very generous M. Moester de Ravestein has given a ring containing 'five splendid dia monds, and the Neapolitan Duches Del Gallo has sent a jewelled crowp a ring, a brooch and two diamone ear-rings. Moss Matete of Gand ha sent a diamond cross. Miss Neve of Brussels, Belgium, two magnificent diamond buckles, a pin and two rings, while the Children of Mary in the famous institution of Itelme have collected a large number

HONORING FRANCISCANS .- The Most Rev. Father Schuler, General Minister of the Franciscans, has been named a Consultor of the Sacred named a Consultor of the Sag Congregation of the Propagandai At the same time Father Maicinus Holguin, General Definitor of the same Order, has been appointed Bishop of Huaraz, in Peru. He is a native of that country. Thus it is that even the humble habit of the monk cannot cover the worth of its weare

ANOTHER DIOCESE .- Still Goes the Church go on extending her li-mits and increasing her influence and strength in every land.' According to a recent press cablegram from San Juan, a Pontifical document creating the Diocese of Ponce and Mayaguez and elevating that of San Juan to an Archbishopric has been published. nd it has made an excellent impression. No wonder; for we are constantly told of the falling off of Ca-ces and predilictions are always pleas-we should prefer to see the figures re-rersed. A Cathedral may be built with the quarter-dollars of servant girls, as has been said of St. Patlege has ever been built except by the munificence of the rich. At one time it was kings who provided the funds for the establishment of un-versities; now it is captains of indus-

Ecclesiastical Notes

ST. PATRICK'S SEMINARY. The Rev. Dr. Henry Ayrinh of St. Mary's Seminary at Baltimor has been appointed Superior of t theological department of St. Pr rick's Seminary at Menlo Park, Si Francisco, which will be opened t coming fall, under the direction the Sulpician Fathers. Dr. Avrir hac is an able theologian, and appointment is said to give great sa tisfaction to Archbishop Riordan.

LOCAL CHANGES in the ranks o the clergy in Irish parishes have oc-curred. Rev. P. McDonald, curate for many years at St. Gabriel's, has been transferred to St. Mary's, tak ing the place of Rev. Robert. E Callahan, who has been named as assistant to Rev. J. P. Kiernan, P. P., St. Michael's, while Rev. Father Fahey, connected with the latter pa rish during the past two years, goes to St. Gabriel's.

NUNS QUALIFY. - At the recen examinations held by the Pennsylva-nia State Pharmaceutical Examining Board, in Harrisburg and Pittsburg Sister Mary Regina Martin and Sis-ter Mary Cornelius McMenamin, of the Mercy Hospital, Wilkesbarre, passed and received certificates practice

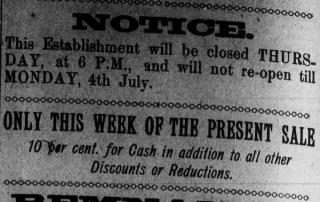

. . .

HOUSEHOLD NOTES TEA-It is said on excellent authority rity that consumers have a choice of two thousand flavors of tea. The only one familiar to the mass people is probably not included this list, because it is not, properly speaking, a tea flavor at all. Good tea is easy to get. easy to make, and to be colloquial, easy to arink. The higher grades only should be pursince even at a dollar a pound it costs only about two cents a good sized pot when brewed. Th president of the American Tea. sociation writing in a well known trade journal, says : "There are Astrade journal, says : four exact rules to be followed in making tea, and the neglect of any one of them will render the article valueless. Nearly every housewift The four rules are these : The water must b freshly drawn from the faucet; it should boil hard for five minutes before pouring on the tea leaves; should remain on the leaves less than ten minutes, and not should then be poured off into another heated teapot; use one teaspoonful of tea for each cup of water uless a weak infusion is desired.

FISH. - At this season fish should be substituted for meat at least once a week. With too many people a fish dish means fried codfish steaks od to exchange compliments. We have a striking example of this last week in Europe. The Grand Master of the Italian Freemasons, Seignor,

COLONIAL HOUSE

PHILLIPS SQUARE

nd, S.J., too

tion at St. Mary's

"Amen, I say unto y not go out from hence pay the last farthing.

Father Drummond p he word "Indulgence he Catholic Church meaning which is at

words of his text con

which the human, mind turally, that when on

sin must be paid for in other to the last farth

tians they had the c

belief that Christ thei

for all their misdeeds

scriptural to go so fa testants do in putti upon Christ and requi-thing themselves. So thing themselves. Sc edly says that each ma

according to his wor prove to the contrary,

distort the Scripture

shall be saved by

slipping in the word

lieve that the blood of more than was necess

sins of any number

worlds, but that no s

ply that atonement to

he did some good wor had the intention of

Once they grasped the man must atone for h

way himself, they rea

ginning of the meanin

-Indulgence. They w

ts in this no question sion of sin; it is not

sion to commit sin,

falsely said, nor is it e

of sin, it is only the

the temporal-not the

ty due for each sin co

every sin there is the sin-its wickedness age

ful and loving God; th

given by God, and

through the instrumen

and when a sin is thus

sternal punishment of

But, besides the etc

ment there may be, as a temporal punishmen

they have several exam ture, notably the ca whose sin was forgiven

yet punished for it by

David, whose sin was

who was yet punished

child. An indulgence i remission of the temp

ment due to sin, and t

upon the over-abundan

Jesus Christ and of H

sufferings, the life, th

Christ were infinitel

would be necessary to able worlds, therefore t

sury of merits unbound tible, from which the

the right to take what

and give to her children

the commission given

and a case is recorded

ians, 5.5, where it was

St. Paul. Father Dr

on to explain the prac

early Church in this m

with the canonical pene

on the first Christians

St. Cyprian as an early

the practice of indulger ther traced the doctrin

This was clear fr

mitted completely.

had no right there.

common use of the

atonement, expi

BENENANTS All Remnants of Coloured Dress Goods. Dress Muslins and Challies, HALF PRICE. Etamine Dress Patterns.

(Worth $25.00.)

Balance of these beautiful Dress Patterns. To clear at $1500 each-less 331/3 per cent. and 10 per cent. extra for cash. Making Silk Department.

Black and White Shepherd Plaid, all size checks, in Louisine, so much Japanese Foulard Silks, in stripes, Persian pattern, also dots and floral designs, per yard LESS 50 PER CENT.

Ribbons and Laces.

	Wide Fancy Ribbons
	Wide Fancy Ribbons
4	Ottoman Ribbons, light shades
	Black Satin Bibbons
	Black Faille Ribbons
	Net Neck Ruffs, black, white, white and black, black and white 75 per cent
	Large assortment of Laces white cream and not Assortment of Valenciennes Edgings and Insertions Finished Chiffon Veils 50 per cent 00000000000000000000000000000000000000

WAISTS. SCARCE GOODS.

Received to-day, a shipment of Ladles' Black Muslin Walsts. AMERICAN WAISTS.

Sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 ins., price

... $2.19 LESS SALE DISCOUNTS.

MILLINERY.

Further Reductions in Trimmed Millinery, 33 1-3 per cent. Discount and 10 per cent. extra for Cash.

LADIES' CORSETS. WHITEWEAR. NO JOB LINE. We cannot speak too highly of our

But the choicest of our regular stock resent stock of LADIES' UNDER MUSLINS. at

EXCEPTIONAL PRICES You can make no mistake by buying Corsets or Corset Waists NOW, as the lines are all new and up to date, and of STANDARD RRAND

If you do not require them to-day, you will be sure to later on, you will have to pay more. Every detail of these Corsets has been carefully studied, and we have confidence in recommending every

Noted for

FIT, COMFORT.

DESIGN, FINISH,

LADIES' SKIRTS. LADIES' CORSET COVERS. mall, medium and extra sizes, at 10 per cent. discount, with 10 ALL STRAIGHT FRONTS per cent. extra vfor cash.

ture.

and hand made.

The above line represents Canadian, American and English manufac-

For daintiness of material, trimmings, and general effect, together

garments excel anything we have ever before shown, both in machine

LADIES' NIGHT DRESSES.

LADIES' CHEMISES,

these

with superior workmanship,

chased. neglects at least one."

tholicity in those regions. But facts speak for themselves. . . .

OPPONENTS OF THE CHURCH. Men of the same principles, the same dispositions, the same prejudisan, pastor of a parish in Trenton unset diamonds. All these will N.J., some time ago celebrated the used in the crown, which will be made by the pontifical jeweler, who Or that occasion he was presented with bas charge of the papal tiaras." a purse of $2000 by his parishioners. Father Hogan used the amount in DIOCESAN WORKS! - Bishop Mc-Faul, of Trenton, N.J., has two important works under way this sum mer. One is the $33,000 addition to Hopewell, including a mortuary cha-pel in memory of the late Bishop O'Farrell. The other work, of equal importance, is the erection of the Morris Hall, a home ,or elderly peofrom the all-scrutinizing eye of the ple, on the Lawrence township farm, Church.

in evi grave to the tie of stated old s mun's the S Hill, GE2 Mary distrit table SOC Brusse was w triet, "Down"	a thousands of citizens assisted ery city and town were held. The sof Sister Anthony, who went e aid of the soldiers at the bat- f Pittsburg Landing, was deco- by a body of veferans. The oldiers marched to the famous grave, at the mother house of listers of Charity, back of Price Cincinnati. ••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••••	Jy called the declaration against transubstantiation, which is deeply and needlessity offensive to many mil- lions of loyal subjects of his Majesty, this House is of opinion that the de- claration aforesaid ought to be amended so as not to include the condemnation or reputiation of specific doctrines which form part of the conscientious beliefs of any of this Majesty's subjects." MGR. GUIDI DEAD. — Some two years ago, it will be remembered, that after all the difficulties that arose in the Philippine Islands, Mon- seignor Guidi was sent there to re- present the Vatican in the negotia- tions with the Philippine Commission	gratulations and fraternal greetings" to M Combes, on his opposition to the Holy Father. What a delightful spectacle. We can figure the Italian Grand Master rejoicing to find a man capable of doing things that he would like to do, but would not dare. How Ferrari would like to pass a Law of Associations in Italy. REFERRING to the statement of Archbishop Ireland that the report that Mr. James J. Hill is giving $1 500,000 to the new Cathedral at St. Paul is premature, "The Casket," of Antigonish, remarks : The Northern Pacific Railway magnate is a Catho- lic in his wife's name only, but even though his generosity should be as great as reported, it does not con- stitute an argument for mixed mar- tinges. Mr. Hill's ons are Protes- tants and married to Protestants is faughters are Catholics, but mar-	Our happiness must be the joy of others. It is impossible to feel joyful without those about us sharing it. Therefore it is our duty to cultivate happiness.	ing the department, where all Corsets can be fitted to the figure by experi- enced saleswomen. COCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCO MANTLE DEPARTMENT. Silk Shirt Waist Suits, less 20 per cent. Musia Shirt Waist Suits, 20 per cent. White Linen Suits, 20 per cent. Ladies' Wash Dress Skirts, 20 per cent. Ladies' Musiin Wrappers and Ki- monas, less 20 per cent. Ladies' Musiin Wrappers and Ki- monas, less 20 per cent. Ladies' Musiin Wrappers and Ki- monas, less 20 per cent. Ladies' Black Cloth Costumes, 50 per cent. Boecial lines of Waterproofs, 50 per cent. Ladies' Wash Underskirts, 25 per cent. COCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCO	 in white, pink, blue and stripes, Special values, the balance of the sample line advertised last week. COOCOCOOCOCOCOCOCOCOCOCO BOYS' READY.MADE Children's Washable Linen and Galatea Sallor Suits, trimmed, navy, light blue and red, 38 1-3 per cent. and 10 per cent for cash. Boys' Shirt Waists and Blouse Waists 20 pes cent, and 10 per cent for cash. Children's and Boys' Norfolk Suits, in English and Scotch tweed, all sizes, 50 per cent., and 10 per cent. for cash. Boys' Home Spun 3-piece suits, in light gray and fawn, all sizes, 50 per cent for cash. Boys' Home Spun 3-piece suits, in light gray and fawn, all sizes, 50 per cent for cash. 	centuries, and lucidly e is meant by the terms ' full, and ''partial'' indi- ably refuted the idea the 'meant a sort of laxity Vice of God by showing itee of gaining an indul of the best means of d to God in purity of so- fection of life. To go indulgence one must ha of mortal sin, no attack to vesial sin or thos into which worldly peo- drate requisite, therefore 'come really sinless not the but in heart. The required are—a good co- for the conversion of si the Akingdom of God. Sometimes a strict for required; so as indulgen- being a laxity is really a mortineation, a me
--	---	---	---	--	---	--	--

d THURS. re-open till

00000000000 ENT SALE all other

00000000000 rs: ss Goods. lies,

0000000000 erns.

clear at $1500 cash. Making

0000000000 t.

ine, so much so dots and

*** ******

90c

0000000000 es.

white 75 per cent

......50 per cent.50 per cent.20 per cent. 000000000

In Walsts. $2.50 000000000

-3 per cent. sh. 00000000

o highly of our

EAR.

MUSLINS. material, trimeffect, together nanship, these ing we have oth in machine

DRESSES. ISES,

rs T COVERS. extra sizes, at ount, with 10 cash. The nts Canadian. glish manufac-

ange of NDERWEAR

DE

t.

TATHER DRUMMOND at; there is no such thin or was, as mercantile traff IN MOLENES

Speaking to a crowded con tou at St. Mary's Church on tent Sunday night on the subj for all their misdeeds but it was unscriptural to go so far as the Pro.

fing to his works, and had the intention of boing som

man must atone for his sins in some

tha

Once they grasped that idea,

way himself, they realized the

ty due for each sin committedf

rings, the life, the death

mitted completely.

Christ:

allowed in indulgences; most of such cases reported are false, and if any are true they are condemned by the Church; the fact remains that indul-gences are an excellent thing. If they on a re have been abused it has been ve seldom, and on the other hand th ences," the Rev. Father and, S.J., took for his text are generally used with most pote Plamen, I say unto you, Thou shalt not go out from hence till thou re-pay the last farthing." and excellent effect." Proceeding, Father Drummonc laid further stress on the conditions' required to se-cure an indulgence, namely perfect sorrow for sin, and complete detach-Father Drummond pointed out that the word "Indulgence" as used by the Catholic Church has a special ment from even the slightest sin, and showed that the Protestant doctrine aning which is at variance with meaning which is at variance with the common use of the word. The words of his text contained the idea of atonement, expitition, an idea, which the human mind embrances na-turally, that when one sinned the sin must be paid for in some way or other to the last farthing. As Chris-tians they had the consoling belief belief that Christ their Lord atoned for all their mindereds but it was unthat a single expression of belief is all that is required is really most extraordinary plenary incul-gence ever conceived. He next eluci-dated the doctrine of the Church regarding the application of indulgen ces to the souls in purgatory, and he called their attention to the fact that the acts of virtue performed in gain ing an indulgence are really more valuable to the gainer than the indulgence itself, inasmuch as they scriptural to go so far as the Fro. testants do in putting everything upon Christ and requiring to do no-thing themselves. Scripture repeat-edly says that each man shall receive thereby accumulated merits for eter nity; the indulgence would only free them from the temporary pains purgatory; the acts of virtue perform ed in gaining it would give them a prove to the contrary, Luther had to higher place in heaven. In conclusion: Father Drummond distort the Scripture and say "man shall be saved by faith alone" ummarized the teaching of slipping in the word "alone" which had no right there. Catholics be-Church, and showed that indulgences are scriptural, reasonable, and were lieve that the blood of Christ atoned neve that the blood of Christ atoned more than was necessary for all the sins of any number of possible works, but that no sinner could ap-ply that atonement to himself unless he did some good works, or at least had the intention of course held and practised by the very earliest Christians, and are a most consoling doctrine to the devout Christian soul. -Northwest Review

HIS HOLINESS AND STUDENTS

ginning of the meaning of the work The Roman correspondent of the -Indulgence. They would see there Liverpool Catholic Times writes : ts in this no question of the remis For the first time during many years a scholastic tourney has been on of sin; it is not either permis sion to commit sin, as was often he,d in the presence of the Sovereign falsely said, nor is it ever forgiveness Pontiff. This was on June 9, when of sin, it is only the remission of the temporal-not the eternal-penala disputation was sustained by the students of the Pontifical Roman Se-In minary. A throne had been erected for His Holiness in the Clementine Hall, and hither he repaired about every sin there is the guilt of the sin-its wickedness against a power ful and loving God; this can be for-Hall, and hither he repaired by his half past ten, accompanied by his given by God, and is forgiven Court and a picket af the ugh the instrumentality of mer Guard. Several members of the Sa and when a sin is thus forgiven the cred College attended. So also did sternal punishment of that sin is rethe Vicegerent of Rome, the Vice-Camerlengo, Archbishops Adami, Sy-But, besides the eternal punish mon, Rubian, several Bishops, etc.

The English College was represented ment there may be, and generally a a temporal punishment, and of this by the Rev. Dr. Cronin, Vice.Rector and Repetitore, who was accompani-ed by Rev. Mr. Burdess. The these they have several examples in Scrip ture, notably the case of Miriam, were one hundred and forty-two in whose sin was forgiven but who was number. A journalist-theologian has yet punished for it by leprosy: and David, whose sin was forgiven ; but had criticism for these, and his re marks have been answered by the who was yet punished by losing his child. An indulgence is precisely the Osservatore Romano. The criticism was, in brief, that the subjects wer remission of the temporal punishtoo speculative, as well as remote from daily life. This is a South Eument due to sin, and that is founded upon the over-abundant merits of Jesus Christ and of His saints. The ropean appreciation at best. I scan ned the printed list, and remarked the large element which Loci Theolo-gicl held. They occupied all the first of were infinitely more than would be necessary to save innumerable worlds, therefore there is a treaportion. With this printed list in the hand, all were able to follow the disputation; no one, perhaps, sury of merits unbounded, inexhaustible, from which the Church has the right to take what is indulgen-and give to her children as indulgen-ceed This was clear from Scripture, the commission given the Apostles, and a case is recorded in I Corinth-being Bishop, actually performed to spin Bishop, actually performed being Bishop, actually performed the Lord's Day. So long as a peo-ple or an individual observed this positive command of God, the bless-ing of God rested on them, but as the Pio Seminary: A. Braccini, of the College of the Sons of Mary Im-this field upon them. In conclusion he urged his flock to have nothing what-ever to do with Sunday excursions. ereated a deep impresmore than the Holy Father, the right to take what is necessary St. Cyprian as an early witness of the practice of indulgences. He fur-ther traced the doctrine in the prac-tice of the Church throughout the Seminary. The attacking party was formidable. It was composed of

ST. PATRICK'S SCHOOL -Th closing exercises and distribution of prizes of St. Patrick's School took lace in Tara Hall on Sunday after on, in the presence of a large num ber of the parents and friends of the pupils. An elaborate and varied programme had been carefully pre-pared, and the manner in which it was carried out demonstrated the careful way in which the boys had been trained. Rev. Father Henning Pastor of St. Patrick's; Father De lacgy, Prefect of the School, and Brother William and his assistants were present, Several friends of th school donated special prizes for vari ous branches, for which there Was keen competition. Among the do nors were Rev. Father Henning, Hon-C. Fitzpatrick, Hon. John Sharules Messre, J. F. Dobbin, T. Murphy, P. F. Bowen and the A.O.H., which organization contributed three valuable prizes for Irish history; J. G. Hearn M.P.P.,; Felix Carbray, ex- M.P.P. etr. Masters Walter Rooney, Ledden and R. Wilson were awarded the prizes for Irish history. Five pupils received their diplomas, and on going forward to receive them were greeted with applause. The vale dictory was read by Master Wilson n which reference was made to the interest Rev. Father Henning had al-ways taken in the school. Rev. Father Henning's appearance on the stage to reply was the signal for an outburst of applause. Education, he said. was a matter which required the co.operation of pastor, teachers and parents. 'The pastor alone, nor the pastor and teacher combined, could not impart education if the parents failed in their duty, and he urged parents to de their duty in this respect in order that pupils leaving the school would be good Catholics, good members of society, and an honor to their country, which was all that could be de sired. The singing of "God Save Ireland" brought the proceedings to a close." . . .

ANNUAL PICNIC. -Between 300 and 400 girls of St. Patrick's en joyed the annual picnic to St. Cathe rine's Grove on the 27th instant They were accompanied by some of the Fathers and a few of the ladies of the parish ... any and lamit

SABBATH DESECRATION. - In the course of his sermon on Sunday on the observance of the Lord's Day Rev. Father Henning referred to Sunday excursions, which he de-nounced in most forcible language. These excursions, the preacher clared had become an abuse in Que bec and were the cause of scandal and a direct violation of the eccles astical laws of this diocese. He said six days were given man which ... he could devote to mundane affairs, but ome were not satisfied with this and sought to rob God of the one day set apart for His honor glory. Father Henning then clearly pointed out the way in which Sun-day should be sanctified, and attri-

REFUGE OPENED. - Mgr. Marol officiated at the blessing of the Night Refuge founded by the St. Vincent d?

THE STATE OF A COLOR OF A COLOR OF A STATE

Paul Society. The refuge is situated on Cote d'Abraham. Besides a number of priests, the inauguration eremony was witnessed by the offcers of the various conferences and a number of friends of the Society.

ROYAL SOCIETY OF CANADA. The death of the late Abbe Cas-grain caused a vacancy in the French section of Letters of the Royal ciety of Canada, which has been filled by the nomination of Rev. Camille Roy, of Laval University.

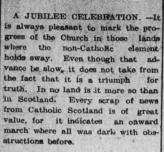

. . . PILGRIMAGES. - The annual pil grimage of the Children of Mary of St. Jean Baptiste Church to th shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, wil take place on July 16th, and the members of the Holy Family of the same parish will have their pilgrim age the following day. AN IMPRESSION

OF PIUS X. Booth Tarkington, in Harper's Monthly," has the following interest ing little impressionist sketch of the Pope as he appeared in a function at St. Peter's : "Pius X. has the of fect of pathos; perhaps its is, the transparent and touching quality the simple goodness that is in his face. Looking upon the Pope, one feels the great pity of it that th man should be a prisoner; for a prisoner he is, not merely out of sentiment, as so many lightly think, or voluntarily, or because of his own sense of right, not even because his policy; but because the policy of the powers of his organization confine him. The satisfaction of bein his own jailer, which was his prede cessor's, is denied to Pius X. remembers well his sorrow in the great trust which he had not sought and thinks of that beloved Venice which he will never see again. The Pope stood in front of the throne, smiling a little, and looking down upon his people; for his they were, from the moment they saw him. No was it difficult to be sure he liked Bish them. You hear, in Rome, that it will not be long before Pius Xi will be as difficult of access as was his predecessor; but, in whatever manner his present small liberties may come to be curtailed, one thing is certain, that he will always want the people to come to him. He would go to them, if he could. Perhaps one might add he will if he can: In all that happy and enthusiastic crowd, it is probable that no one, Roman or stranger, lacked the feeling that the Pope liked him, individually, would have been glad to know him in a friendly, easy way. Pius X. is of a good height, and strongly made, even stout, and has a fine grace of carriage; his dignity is as great as his position, but utterly without haughtiness or pomposity or pride of office. He has none of the "magnetism" of the "popular preacher.' actor, or orator; nevertheles he is remarkably magnetic; it is the magnetism of unmistakable good-ness and good will to all the world His voice, mellow, clear and resonant, yet gentle, has in it the quality of lofty and practical goodness that is in his face. It is a strong voice, too, with the strength of a man who could give an incerrigible fout a finbeating for the good of his soul, and it is what might be called a "brave" They deny that anyone can be ordain voice." A man with that kind of

One of our recent items of pleasant news from Auld Scotia was the celebration, three weeks ago, of the silver jubilee of Rev. Canon McCarthy, at St, Andrew's Pro-Cathedral, Glasgow. The event is not an exception, al one, for we hear weekly of good priests celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of their ordinations; but, on account of the elaborate ceremonials described, and especially on account of the unique and beautiful sermon, preached by His Grace Archbishop Maguire, do we find it a note-worthy occasion. We have great pleasure in being able to give a brief

His Grace preached thus : "Thanks be to God for His un

speakable truth." (9th chap. of St. Paul's Second Epistle to the Corin-thians.) His Grace said : We are here to-day, not only to perform our ordinary Sunday duty, but to join specially in the Mass of thanksgiving in which the administrator of the Cathedral is offering up the twentyfifth year of his first celebration. There is nothing of the usual social celebration on this occasion, owing to his thinking that his people are already sufficiently burthened by the decoration of the Church. The poaltion he stands in to-day has been given by many years of missionary He was appointed by labor. the late Archbishop, and this, I think, puts the seal on his work. And his appointment received the approbation of the whole Cathedral Chapter, What does this mean . to us and to him? Twenty-five years ago a young priest was ordained. You know the ceremony-it has been repeated year after year in this Church. Those who assisted twenty-five years ago saw what we saw a fortnight ago, heard the young priest admonished by the op what his duty was to be, saw his hands anointed, the sacred vesse put into them, and again the hands of the Bishop put upon him with the words "Receive ye the Holy Ghost; whose sins ye shall forgive they are forgiven." Was this an idle ceremony ? You did not think so a fortnight ago, and those who say it twenty-five years ago did not think They saw an unspeakable gift given, that he was called upon fo your sake as well as his own te preach and give sacrifice. God has given great gifts to man. When you God has look around and ask, "Have these gifts really been given ?" what is the the Pope in Rome, at the more than thousands of Bishops, the hundreds of thousands of priests, at the millions of people differing in everything but religion. Ask them "What is this man ?" and the answer will be that he is a priest. For 1600 years all Christianity united in believing that a man ordained was a priest of God, with all the powers that we claim. Even during the past 300 years you find the great majority of the people of the world acknowledging the same. The only exceptions, the only discordant notes came from the people of our country and some little states in northern latitudes on of hands preast attention by the vast assem- Notes From Scotland, "Thou art a priest for ever." If God did not tell us that it was so, blage: a man can be forgiven his sins by his fellow man, but not wonderful when we know that that power was given him from Jesus Christ, who suffered and died on the cross. Wonderful that a man can call down Jesus Christ on the altar, and yet not wonderful when we remember He delight-ed to be with the children of men. Ohthe depth, riches, knowledge and wis-dome of God. That is the consolation. Men there are who guage God:s power by their own, too apt to mea sure His all-embracing love by their own little cold uncharitable They do not realize who gave these

Iney do not realize who gave these unspeakable gifts to man-the same God who gave us His only begotten Son. If He has given us His Son, has He not given us everything ? If you deny the reality of the priesthood, you must give up your belief 'in Providence, the facts of history, the laws of heaven, and your reason also. You will not doubt it: grace of unspeakable word is there. Great gifts give great responsibilities, and so your pastor will think to day not so much on his fidelity, but will be humbly grateful that God has taken the weak things of this world in order to confute the strong- in orsynopsis-indefault of aught better- der to glorify Himself. Great gifts of the sermon. have been given to the priest. How have we profitted by his ministra tions? We have to look to the priest for comfort and advice. If we tions ? have profited this will only be a joyful but a beneficial day for us. Those If who live not in this fold will ask themselves : "Have we not been hasty in rejecting the priesthood ?" thoughts like these come into our minds this will be a day on which all will endeavor to be more faithful than we have hitherto been, to Him who has raised all of us to be His brethren, and made us heirs of His Kingdom.

ONE FIRST CLASS FARE To all Stations in Canada, Port Arthur and East.

Good going June 30th and July ist Good to return until July 4th, 1904

Portland and Old Orchard. Through Parlor and Sleeping Car Service. Trains leave Windsor St. 9 a m. week days, 7.45 p.m. daily.

Ticket Office, 129 St. James street (Next Post Office.)

GRAND THUNK BALLY

Dominion Day Reduced Fares to Quebec, $4.00. Toronto, $10.00 Sherbrooke, $3 35. Hamilton, $10.65 Quebec, $4.80.

SINGLE Going Dates, June 30 and July 1. Return Limit, July 4. 1904.

Rail and WaterTrips Going by Rail-Returning by Boat to Montreal.

CITY TICKET OFFICES: 137 St. James Street, Telephones Main 460 & 461, or Bonaventure Station.

THE MONTREAL

THE CHARACTER OF CHRIST.

ed Lord hed by Rev. O. H. Mopreached by Rev. O. nna, O.P., on the occas on the Holy Name ty in one of the parishes rebdicesse of Philadelphia. her McKenna said in part:

"I am the Good Shepherd, I know Mine and Mine know Me, and I give My life for My sheep."-John x., 18. Throughout the Gospels our Bless-ad Lord presents Himself to us under different figures. One time He tells us He is discussed to be the tells the He is the way by which we are to travel to sternity; at another as the door by which we are to enter to sternal life. Again, He calls imself the vine of which we are the s; that we must cling to Him have divine life in us. At ano-time He reveals Himself as the ather of the prodigal, showing pity and mercy. Again, as the Good How sad to reflect that this God of love, who suffered and did so much for fallen man, should be the object of their hatred ' and their blasphemies ! That far from loving Him, their studied aim is to alt Him and, if possible, blot out the religion He came to establish. But that is not all. His own chilm, who believe in Him and adore Him, unite with those bitter enemies outraging and insulting His Ador Oh, children of the faith what has blinded you to unite with mies of your religion and your God ? One day you must stand in judgment before Him to answer for every insult and blasphemy uttered against His Holy Name. Oh, as you esire to see His face in glory, unite now with His true children in loving and adoring His Holy Name, that you may be found worthy to praise that sacred name in a happy sterni-

Under no character could our ed Lord have presented Himself to us more fittingly than under the character of the Good Shepherd. The Good Sh hepherd loves his sheep, leads them into rich pasture, tenderly cares for the sick lamb, guards his flock from the beasts of prey and risks his life to save them from ruin. Behold. my brethren, a striking image of our Lord, who has so tenderly loved us, instructed us in His heavenly doc trine, safeguarded us from error through His infallible Church, fed us with His own adorable body and blood and gave us His life to save us from hell. " What does He ask o us in return ? Simply that we know Him and love Him. "I know Mine and Mine know me." He says. Without knowing Him we cannot love Him. Yet it is rigorously deman of us that we love Him. For St. Paul says : "He that loveth not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be anathe (I. Cor. xvi., 22.) ma marantha." Let him be accursed and cast forth from the body of the faithful into the company of reprobates. It is with a view to our better knowing our Lord, so that we may love Him more, that I have under taken this discourse. May our Bless-ed Mother assist us in the knowledge of her adorable Son. We can never know Him enough. We can never love Him as He merits ! Alas how little do we try to know Jesus Christ ! How little do we try to know Him ! We have time for guiring useless knowledge, time for sement, idle reading and versation, but little time for reading books which would give us a know-ledge of Jesus Christ; little time for better, so that we may love more. we shall never offend Him in the future. infinite perfections; and, secondly, Holy Spirit of God, Spirit of Know- the fangs of the serpent, and m our minds and fill our heart Jesus Christ. beautiful and amnable. Now there is their aid.

to deserving of our love, not fills the soul with more And first as to His perfe is God of God, light of light, be mity, with gotten from etc nning, equal with the Father in power, in wisdom, in goodness and in all things. He is His Father's im-age, His word, the splendor of His glory, the object of His sternal com-plaisancy. With the Father, He' preated all things, and, as St. John tells us, "without Him was made nothing that was made." Nay, ac-cording to the feaching of the great Apostle of the Gentiles, "Jesus Christ is the image of the invisible God, the first born of all creatures, for - all things visible and invisible, in heaven or on earth, are established built on Him, whether throne demomination, or powers or princi-palities. "All things are created by Him and in Him." As He would say, "Heaven and earth, men and angels, were created for the inherit-ance of Jesus Ghrist." Becoming man, Jesus Christ eleva

ed human nature to a union with th Divinity, and thereby communicated to this created world an almost infinite grandeur, and rendered it in measure an object of complaisancy before the eyes of His Father. Th beloved among thousands, the most beautiful of the sons of men; as the Holy Ghost calls Him. He is the desired of the eternal hills. And since we could not gaze on His unveiled majesty, He clothed His glory with the tender innocence of a child to pears under the most loveable form, the tender innocense of a child, to attract our love while He still continues the power and wisdom of His Father.

Teacher of nations, His words are light and life. Sickness and sorrow vanish at His approach. He dried up the tears of affliction, released the captives of the demon, and raising the dead to life gave joy to the affiicted mourners. One ray of His Di-vinity escapes Mount Thabor, , and the prophets and apostles unite to adore Him. Is He born in obscurity? The wise men of the East and the angels of heaven proclaim His royalty. ' Does He humble Himself in the waters of the Jordan? A voice from heaven proclaims His Divinity Accused by false witnesses, His judges proclaim His innocence. to death on the Cross, heaven and earth proclaim that He is God. Buried in the tomb, death proclaims His dominion over it. When He wills He mounts to heaven clothed with the sun, and is followed by a vast multitude from Limbo, who proclaim Him their deliverer. He sits at the right hand of His Father, the Judge forever of, all nations, the joy, the titude of the saints, who share His glory for all eternity. Behofd, my brethren, what Jesus Christ is in His two natures. Behold how He unites all that is beautiful and fair, and lovely, and sweet, and gracious through His manhood, being the most beauti,ul of the sons of men, with the wisdom, and the glory, and the omnipotence of His Divinity Having seen what Jesus Christ in Himself, we shall next see what He is in His doctrine. We must consi. der the state of the world at the coming of the "Son of Justice." Then weakness and old age and poverty were despised, wealth and luxury and avarice and revenge and voluptuous-ness were deified. By two words He Catholic sermons or instructions. Let better, so that we may any service of the s in the paths of truth and rectitude? Him they who suffer." And suffering and If we once love Him ardently, poverty are hailed and embraced with joy by His ardent followers. Tens of And first we should love Him thousands of the bravest sons as St. Thomas teaches, with a love fairest daughters of the Church forand ence; that is, with a love sake the wealth and luxuries of the above all other loves, because of His world to clothe themselves in garinfinite perfections; and, secondly, ments of the poor, and over seven-with a love of gratitude, because of teen millions of the best and bravest all He has done and suffered for us. courted the rack and the gibbet, and the ledge and of fair love, do Thou en- teeth of the lions in their martyrdom for love of their Master. Two with the knowledge and the love of words more, and helpless innocence. Jesus Christ. It is natural, my brethren, for the human heart to love that which is beautiful and amaable. Now there is nothing so beautiful, so loveable and therefore so entitled to our love beautiful and aminore. nothing so beautiful, so loveable and therefore so entitled to our love as our Lord Jesus Christ. Not to love Him, it would be necessary that we never knew Him or never paid the slightest attention to what He is in Himself or what He is to us. Let us apply ourselves to know Him and we shall not only fulfil the primary and of our creation in loving Him, as our catechism taught us long ago.

tals, the Daughters of St. Dominic sathering the orphans around them and caring for them with more than mother's fondest love; if you see the Little Sisters of the Poor gather neglected old age to lavish on it a daughter's fondest affection; if you dest affection; if yo see the daughters or the venerable John Udes, the wondrous Sisters of the Good Shepherd, stooping down in all their virgin purity to lift up and press to their hearts the low and wilest of their sex; oh, learn that all these were inspired by that other word of Jesus : "Whatever you do to the lowliest of Mine, you do to Myself."

And now what shall we say of the character of His sermons, the manner of His preaching ? Before His time whatever there was of science, of learning, of philosophy, was present. ed in enigmas, clothed in pompous words, delivered in unintelligible oracles. Oh, how different the character of Our Lord's preaching ! Possesse of all knowledge, knowing all that has since been revealed or discovered in science or in art, He never leaves the mission His Father gave Him to attract the vain admiration of the and multitude by speaking on science. He propounds the most sublime doctrines in the simplest language and by th most familiar examples. The grain time of of mustard seed, the vine, the field, the seed planted in the ground, the shepherd, the sheep. Oh, wiscom of God, how you confound the misery of our pride by the humility of your example What shall I say of His dealing with His Disciples ? How gentle in His reproofs, how forbearing with their shortcomings, their rudeness their mean, petty jealousies, their ignorance, their incredulity and them treachery. Do the Pharisees con demn them ? He hastens to their defence. When He is apprehended, He has only one request; it is for the safety of His followers. He even refused not the polluted kiss of Judas. The most unkind word that He has for the traitor, is to call him friend. If we have a right to love our Lord for His Divinity, His perfections, what shall we say of the benefits He has conferred upon us? Louis of Granada tells us that noble souls are attracted to love and admire an object because of its intrinsic beauty or worth, while less noble souls are more attracted by the favors which the object of their love confers. Even wild animals are made attached to by benefits. Let us consider briefly some of the benefits conferred on us by our Blessed Redeemer. Through Him we have a knowledge of the Father and of the Trinity; through Him we are able to call God our Father through Him the world was enlightened and the darkness of idolatry dispelled. But what shall we say of the Church which He established, the "pillar and ground of truth, which for nineteen hundred years has greatest gifts of the Son of God to a sinful world? We are all sinners and have offended God in many ways But, oh, God ! how few sufficiently appreciate the benefit of this life giving Sacrament, and how much we need its wonderful efficacy. If the Holy Eucharist is the Sa love, Penance is the Sacrament mercy. If Jesus lifts us up to self in Communion, He con to our wretchedness and misery purify us in Confession. dare approach Communion if did not have the means of throwing away the defiled garments of and making their souls clean pure in the blood of the Lamb Confession ? Behold some of the be nefits conferred on us by the Son of God. But there is one more, the mainspring, the fountain of all these One that merited all, that purchase all, and it is to this especially the Gospel refers. Behold, we asce to Jerusalem, and all will be complished that was spoken by the prophets concerning the Son of Man. He will be delivered up to the Gen tiles, who will mock, and scourge scourge and spit upon Him, and after they scourge Him they will put Him to death. One day a strange sight was witnessed by the Roman populace in the time of Mark Antony. The great orator was seen carrying with him a precious burden wrapped up in a mantle. It was the dead body o Caesar. He commenced to address the people by telling them of the greatness of Caesar; how he loved Rome and fought for her interests. Yet in reality it was not for Rome, bus for himself he fought; not to make Rome free, but to become h tyrant, her despôt. When the orator had moved the populace to sympathy and to tears, he unfolded the mantle and showed the place where Brutus stabbed the noble Caesar And when at length the orator had aroused the people to frenzy he said:

of Caesar. Let each wound be lips and a tongue to fire, you to avenge the murder of the noble Caesar." Pardon me, my brethren, for speak-ing of Caesar in connection with our Blessed Redeemer, The one sought for his own glory; the other the salvation of His people. The one tried to make men slaves; the other gave His life to purchase our liberty. Oh, Blessed Lord ! that I had the power to show Your people all that You did and suffered for them; to show them the sacred wounds which bled for them; the loving heart that wa pierced for them; that I was able to rouse in their hearts a hatred for able sin, which nailed You to the cross and caused You to shed the last drop of Your precious blood for our demption

"Wait until I show you the

wound

Let us frequently, my brethren, meditate on the sufferings and death of Calvary. Let each day bring us ever been the unerring guide of man in spirit to the foot of the cross-no

Business Cards.

"Granite," Boston, Mass.: "Illustrated in the advertisement of E. L. Smith & Co., Barre, Vt., on an-other page, is practically their complete plant, with the exception of their der-tricks. This Company was the first of the quarry owners to use compressed ar for operating rock drills, and also the first to take up the plug drill. We can say, without exaggeration, that this concern has the best equipped granite quarry in the country."

THE SMITH BROS. GRANITE CO 200 Bioury street, are the sole repro-sentatives of these famous quarries in Ganada. The granite is princi-ally used for the finest class of monumental work.

Loans, Insurance, Henting, and Col-scting of Rents. Moderate charges, and prompt returns.

CONROY BROS. 228 Centre Street.

Practical Plumbers, Basand SteamFitter ELECTRICANS MECHANICAL Tel. Main 3552. Night and Day Service

TELEPPHONE 3833

THOMAS O'CONNELL PealerinGeneral Household Hardware Paints Oils and a fine line of Wall Papers,

Cor, Murray and Ottawa STREET

PRACTICAL PLUMBER. GAS, STEAM and BOT WATER FIFTER RUTLAND LINING, FITS ANY STOVE OHEAP.

Orders promptly attended to . :-: Moderat

METABLISHED 1864. C. O'BRIEN, House. Sign and Decorative Painter

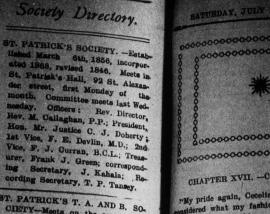

PLAIN AND DECORATIVE PAPER-HANGER. -Whitewashing and Tinting Orderspromptin stended to. Terms moderate. Residence 645. Office 647. Dorchester street ast of Bleurystreet. Monireal Bell Telephone. Main. 1405.

LAWRENCE RILEY. PLASTERER uccessor to John Riley. Established in 1866 ain and Ornamental Plastering. Repairs on kinds promptly attended to. Estimates fur-hed Postal orders attended to. 15 Paris reet, Point 15. Charter RODIE'S CELEBRATED SELF-RAISING FLOUR Is the Original and the Best.

The Plain Truth Tells A PREMIUM gives for the empty bas IO BLEURY St., Montreal.

In roofing as in everything else, if your roof needs only a repair we will candidly tell you so, if a new oments more profitable than those spent in meditation on the wound roof is required we give a guaranof Jesus. This meditation will fil tee for 10, 7 or 5 years, acc our hearts with love for our to price. Our experts are at your disposal, without extra cost; Can Re eemer and sorrow for sins. It will guard us from offending our Blessee we do anything for you? Master in future. It will bring u Holy GEORGE W. REED & CO.P peace of soul and joy in the Ghost. It will be the means of laying up for ourselves rich treasures in Roofers, Asphalters, &c., heaven and give us a brighter vision of God for all eternity.

RDAY, JULY

stant friends would say a Catholic, I felt th

the dictates of my own

I suffered in silence pa

e few can understand

"Poor dear grandma, you

ing yourself a great wro

am truly sorry for you, will permit it. I will help have it righted without de

"I see it all now, and rry I delayed so long.

stand what you mean and to go with you at once to ne of your priests and b

member of your Church. I been for the awful experi-

a few weeks ago I might persisted in my blind cours

"You mean the fire, gran

"Yes, that awful night w

inside a Catholic Church b

was brought, as it were, fa

with death. All the events

life passed through my min

succession, but worse that those doubts. I looked at heart bleeding at what I f

must be suffering, but I was ed to see that a perfect call

tled on your face, while yo were firmly fixed on that

lect the priest had placed tar. You appeared to b

upon some bright spirit I c

ee, for there was a smile

lect trust on your face, and that you were lifted above

the danger surrounding you have the courage to rou, my peerless darling, all others, know that I w

Y, JULY 2, 1904.

ST. PATRICK'S T. A. AND B. SO. CIETY-Meets on the day of every month in St. Patrick's Hall, 92 St. Alexander etreet, at Hall, 92 St. Alexander etreet, at 8,80 p.m. Committee of Manage-ment meets in same hall on the first Tuesday of every month at 8 p.m. Rev. Director, Rev. Jas. Kil. ioran; President, W. P. Doyle; Rec.-Sonn Jac. P. Churging 714 Ca Secy., Jno. P. Gunning, 716 St. Antonine street, St. Henri.

T. ANN'S T. A. & B. SOCIETY, established 1863, -Rev. Director, Rev. Father McPhail; President, D. Gallery, M.P.; Sec., J. F. Quinn, 625 St. Dominique street; M. J. Ryan, treasurer, 18 St. Augustin, street. Meets on the second Sun-day of every month, in St. Ann's Hall, corner Young and Ottawa streets, at 8.80 p.m.

ST. ANN'S YOUNG MEN'S SOCIE. TY, organized 1885.-Meets in its hall, 157 Ottawa street, on the first Sunday of each month, at 2.80 p.m. Spiritual Adviser, Rev. Father Flynn, C.SS.R.; President, P. Kenehan; Treasurer, Thomas O'Conneli; Rec.-Sec., Robt. J. Hart,

C.M.B.A. OF CANADA, BRANCH 26.—(Organized 18th November, 1873.—Branch 26 meets at St. Patrick's Hall, 92 St, Alexander St., on every Monday of each month. The regular meetings for the transaction of business are held on the 2nd and 4th Mondays of each month, at 8 p.m. Spiritual Adviser, Rev. M. Callaghan; Chancellor, P. J. Darcy; President, W. F. Wall; Recording Secretary, P. C. McDonagh, 139 Visitation street; Financial Secretary, Jas. J. Costigan, 325 St. Urbain street; Trea. surer; J. H. Kelly; Medical Advisero Drs. H. J. Harrison, E. J. O'Connor and G. H. Merrill.

OHUROH BELLS.

Bells 100 Ibe. to McShane's

MENEELY BELL COMPANY

TROY, N.Y., and

177 BROADWAY, NEW YORK City

Ranufacture Superior CHURCH BELLS

ROOFERS, Etc.

Any tone desired-Chimes, Peals, Single. SHARE RELL FOURDEY, Baltimore, Md., U.S.A

have given all I possesse share of your happiness. I solemn promise to God the were spared from death I t ay my conversion no longe Cecelia's heart was too words, but she gently cross room, and laying her han grandmother's silvery lo into tears of joy, and the together in silence. 'Grandma,'' she found vo may at last, "are you willi to go with me to my gro Lourdes and say one prayer giving in honor of our dean in heaven, who has sent yo wonderful grace ##

"Yes, Cecelia, my darling, lead the way." It was a cold December d the two heeded not the chill as they knelt together in prethe frozen ground at Mar They did not know that th being watched by both Mi and her sister. "Do look at that !" excla former; "Who would have be if they did not see it with t eyes? I really fear that must be doting. I have not she has been acting very structure But what a wonderf Cecelia has over her

"Yes," said the other, "Ce tainly has a wonderful pow-ber grandmother, but, God ed, it is the power of good she will lead her as a child m

Jesus ever lives in His Church, even guides her mid all the storm rsecutions of earth and hell. Like a noble vessel freighted with all that is necessary for the health and safety of her passengers, the Church is enriched with food, with medicine with physicians for the souls of her children. Oh, Blessed God ! Oh, loving Rede ner ! You said You, w remain with us all the days; You as in the tabernacle of Your Church and with her alone; outside of the Catholic Church You are not to b found on earth. But here You ar with us body and soul, even as You were with the Disciples on the day of Your resurrection. Alas ! how ad it is, brethren, that many of us Catholics, believing as we do, know-ing that Jesus is with us, not dead but living in the tabernacles, yet so cldom visit Him. Ah ! I repeat, we have time to spend with our worldly friends, we can give them hours of precious time in talking ... nonsense, but we have not time to visit cur beleved Prisoner of the Tabernacle. 'And what shall I say of the Sacrament of Penance, another of the

Subscription Rates, Strictly in Advance-

Canada, Newfoundland and United States, SI.00 per ver City and Foreign, Si.50 per year.

h of right. As for her fear, sister, that you were a for her mind is wonderfully c "It is more than I ever day for. She has ever been a mo emy of the Catholic Faith, her presence I have often fen practice my religion as I des "Pardon me, sister, if I a consure you, but I fear you cometimes been too timid wi and as a punishment you are doubtedly about to see your courageous child win the crow might have been yours." Mrs. Cullen was right, for the had once despised the ve Catholic, Mrs. Daton was ed of a noble intellect, which not have so strongly resiste truth had it not been for he ter-in-law's weakness and in matters of religion. It seemed that something was b oud to inquire until won lia's bright example. To the er Mrs. Daton's discredit. that often thought within her there must be something wr den beneath a religious be which one of its members much straid to speak. B had cleared away the cloud

Directory.

DLY 2, 1904.

SOCIETY. -Estab-6th, 1856, incorpor-sed 1846. Meets in Iall, 92 St. Alexanat Monday of the ittee meets last Wed-Rev. Director, an, P.P.; President, ice C. J. Doherty; Devlin, M.D.; 2nd ran, B.C.L.; Treas-Green; correspond-J. Kahala; Re-J. Kahala; y, T. P. Tansey.

T. A. AND B. SO. on the second Sun. nth in St. Patrick's lexander etreet, at amittee of Manageame hall on the every month at 8 tor, Rev. Jas. Kil-W. P. Doyle; Rec.+ lunning, 716 St. St. Henri

B. -Rev. Director -Rev. Director. hail; President, D. lec., J. F. Quinn, que street; M. J 18 St. Augustin on the second Supnth, in St. Ann's ung and Ottawa

G MEN'S SOCIE 85.-Meets in its a street, on the each month, at ual Adviser, Rev. SS.R.; President, asurer, Thomas c., Robt. J. Hart, ADA, BRANCH 18th November, meets at St. 2 St, Alexander

onday of each lar meetings for f business and 4th Mondays 8 p.m. Spiritual, Callaghan; Chany; President, W. Secretary, P. C. Visitation street; y, Jas. J. Cos-pain street; Trea. Medical Advisero n, E. J. O'Conrill.

BELLS. cShane's

., and

W YORH CIty. CHURCH BELLS , Etc.

rything else, if a repair we so, if a new rive a guaran-ears, according are at your tra cost; Can u7

D & CO., ters, &c., TREET.

re have the courage to make the rifice, but the thought of having , my peerless darling, you above the dictates of my own conscience was the hardest of all to bear, there-fore I suffered in silence pange of re-more few can understand." ers, know that I was false to ly unpleasant experiences, believed her mother-in-law to be one. This, "Poor dear grandma, you have been "Poor dear granume, you nave been able yourself a great wrong and I am truly sorry for you, but if you will permit it, I will help you to have it righted without delay."

"I see it all now, and I am very orry I delayed so long. I under stand, what you mean and I am ready to go with you at once to call on my

for

were

one of your priests and become aber of your Church. Had it not been for the awful experience I had few weeks ago I might still have persisted in my blind course." "You mean the fire, grandma ?"

BATURDAY, JULY 2, 19

was brought, as it were, face to face with death. All the events of life passed through my mind in rapid on, but worse than all were those doubts. I looked at you, my heart bleeding at what I felt you must he suffering, but I was surprised to see that a perfect calm had settled on your face, while your eyes. were firmly fixed on that golden object the priest had placed on the altar. You appeared to be looking upon some bright spirit I could, not see for there was a smile of perfect trust on your face, and I knew that you were lifted above fear of the danger surrounding you. I would have given all I possessed for a share of your happiness. I made a solemn promise to God that if were spared from death I should delay my conversion no longer." Cecelia's heart was too full words, but she gently crossed the room, and laying her hand on her

randmother's silvery locks broke into tears of joy, and the two wept together in silence. "Grandma," she found volice to say at last, "are you willing now to go with me to my grotto Lourdes and say one prayer in thanks giving in honor of our dear Mother in heaven, who has sent you this wonderful grace ##

"Yes, Cecelia, my darling, my angel lead the way." It was a cold December day, but the two heeded not the chilling blast as they knelt together in prayer on the frozen ground at Mary's feet. They did not know that they and her sister. "Do look at that !" exclaimed the

if they did not see it with their own eyes? I really fear that mother must be doting. I have noticed that she has been acting very strangely of ate. But what a wonderful power Cecelia has over her

"Yes," said the other, "Cecelia cerunly has a wonderful power over who, having been transmitted from insta-cy to despise the truth, refuse to believe and stubbornly adhere to faisehood rather than listen to the truth when golden opportunities are given them. For such there is un-doubtedly little chance of salvation, and of this class the lady, from ear-the unchessed.

together with the sad fact that religion was too often considered as a secondary matter after the require nents of society had been fulfilled, was the cause of the lady's reticence. But Grandmother Daton was of a far different stamp, and needed cnly good example and patience to teach her the truth she had now so willingly embraced. There are many like her in this world, noble souls they are, and if these spend their whol lives and go to the grave in the darkness of ignorance, is it just to judge them rashly and say that they are more responsible for their error than those who should have been but "You mean the fire, granning, led "Yee, that awful night when, led inside a Catholic Church by you, I finside a Catholic Church by you, I For a time Mrs. Daton's conversion was the talk of her friends many of whom said she was already in her dotage and had been deluded by the women of her household, but her faith had become so firmly rooted that she was able to defend herself among them all, aod after a time the gossipers turned their attention to other and newer subjects.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The days following her grandmo ther's reception into the Church were happy ones for Cecelia. The only thing that now marred the brightness of her home life was the fact that her dear father still remained an unbeliever, but she hoped and prayed with all her heart that the time might not be far distant when he would follow his mother's good example. She wanted only this added blessing, then she would go back to spend her life in the convent where she had been educated. Of the second desire she never spoke, but of the first she could now talk freely with grandmother, who was no less anxious than herself to see his conversion. Of late Mr. Daton had acted strangely at times,, and there seemed to be something on his mind that troubled him deeply, but what it was no one could fathom. Some thought that perhaps his mother's change of religion had something to do with it, but his mind was too little given to such things for that to make much difference. He was pleased to being watched by both Mrs. Daton the ladies of his household all of one faith, and attending church to-"Do look at that !" exclaimed the gether, but the need of anything of former; "Who would have believed it the kind as far as he himself • was concerned had never been seriously considered., He always supplied the ladies with money to give liberally to their Church, and that he considered the end of his duty. If he gave any thought whatever to the hereafter, it was manifested in a belief that as he had always endeavored to ther grandmother, but, God be prais-lead an honest and upright life, he you. I would do anything and every ed, it is the power of good, and was entitled to a higher place in hea-thing in my power." ven than many church members whom "I know you would, Cecelia, and I almost frightened the girl. will lead her as a child into the ters little to me what church they may attend. My mother has a perfect right to do what she likes, and perhaps, after all, it is better to have you all attending the church."

"You are right, papa; but do you not think it would be far better still If you, too, were a member of our Church ?"

"Perhaps so, Cecelia," he replied, unwilling to disagree with her why was far more to him than life itself; "but I have so much to attend to that I have no time to be troubled with church affairs." "Papa," she said, reproachfully, papa, you do not, you cannot mean that. You have a soul to save as well as the rest of us, and should take the time to think of your salvation."

word or example done anything that you would consider unworthy of a Christian ?" "I did not mean it in that way, papa, for you have ever been in your own home aod also in your dealings with others all that a true Christian should be, and I cannot forget your bright example, but it would be untold happiness for me to see your noble life sanctified by the influence of our holy religion, for then in your good works might be found true merit which would bring you a bright reward in heaves." It was more than Cecelia had ever said to her father before, and she with the devotion and love of God with which her pure heart overflow ed. Her father, in spite of the belief that she was carrying things too far, could not help admiring her. He gazed steadily at her for a few minutes. The light in her dark , eyes not have you give it up, but, as I told you before, I have no time to waste on such things, so please do not talk any more on the subject." The words, kindly meant rather than otherwise, cut Cecelia to her heart's core and it was hard for her to repress her tears. At length she found courage to say:

"Dear father, I hope it will not be long ere you feel differently. I feet now that there is some trouble on your mind, and I wish I could help you." "To see my daughter cheerful and happy is all that I ask of her. I must admit that business has caus ed me some worry of late, and perhaps I do show it in my looks, though I would not if I could help it. But such is the way with many in my position and I trust it will soon all pass over."

"I do not comprehend your meaning dear father, but I wish I could help

CHAPTER XVII. -Continued. "My pride again, Cecelia, When I and dired what my fashionable Pro-meta (atholic, I fait that I could me have the courage to make the Child, so long as the members of Child, so Cecella good, for it not only assured called to the parlor, where, to her her that she had made a mistake, but if sounded more like her father of old "Child, so long as the members of my household live up to their prin-greeted her most kindly, but she met ciples, whatever they may be, it mat- him with a dignified reserve which she had ever been accustomed to show

BY MARY ROWENA COTTER.

> among strangers. "You may be surprised, Miss Da-ton," he said, "to receive a call from me in your own home, but you one once rendered us valuable assistance, and I have come to ask another favor of you." "If it is to sing in public, I fear

I must decline." "I deeply regret to have you speak so discouragingly. Our leading pri-ma donna having completely lost her health, has been forced to resign, and you are the only lady I have 'ever met who can satisfactorily fill her place.'-

"I could not think of such a thing. "You sang for us once, Miss Paton; and most beautifully; will you not try once more ?" ""What I did that night was done

"Cecelia, has your father ever by for charity. Under no other condition would I consent to appear in public."

"If you will but consent to join our troupe for a few weeks you will be well paid." "Thank you for your kind offer, but I will say frankly that I do not like the thought of appearing before the public, and therefore cannot consent to leave my home." And she gave a sign that the interview was ended. "Miss Daton, I deeply regret your decision, but I shall not consider it final. I shall call again in two or three days, when you have fully con sidered the matter."

"My answer is final," she said, "so you need not trouble yourself to call, again. There are others in this city who have excellent voices and son of them would be glad to grasp such an opportunity."

"There are, as you say, many who autes. The light in her dark eyes have fine voices, but it would take a long time and much work to train them to fill the place as you once did Our present necessity is a trained of the state of the s have fine voices, but it would take a gion makes you happy, and I would such a voice may cause us to lose voice like your own, and the lack of much of the fame we have acquired." He was strongly tempted to tell her that her brilliant beauty was also an important factor, but he was too much of a gentleman for that, and also was fully aware that to a modest young woman like herself such a thing would be highly offensive. He admired her the more lor her reserve, and he made a secret resolution that if he were to have the good luck of securing her services he would watch over her and protect her as carefully as if she were his own daughter.

"Father," said Cecelia, after the object of Mr. Karsten's visit before I came down ?" "I did, Cecelia."

most unpleasant to me ?"

Her father was silent for a time, and when he spoke his voice was sad

PATHS.

The man her voice was clear as she said: ut she met "Anything in my power." "You are a good girl, Cecelia, and perhaps you may be able to save your father from ruin and keep a home for yourself and parents." "Father, tell me what you mean. Something terrible, I am sure. "Only that I am in great danger of going the way that many a rich man has gone before. I have foolishly in-vested largely in stocks which are in danger of becoming worthless, and we are in great peril of losing . the home which was the pride of my father's early days."

For nearly an hour he talked, explaining everything to her, and many times she was on the verge of tears. For his sake she summoned all her strength to the ordeal, and when he had finished she said >

"Poor, dear papa, I am truly sorry for you. And now, what can I do to help you ?"

"By accepting the offer made you this afternoon." "What ! go on the stage. You cannot mean it."

"Yes, child, I do. It grieves me sadly to think of your engaging in an occupation so distasteful to you, but after tou have sung a few evenings you will not mind it much." "Is there nothing else ? No occupation where I shall not be brought much before the bold gaze of the public? Oh, father, anything but that I would not only be willing, but happy to work hard at home from dawn until dark. But to travel with strangers and be stared at by the public ! It is too hard and I can. not do it."

"Cecelia, there would be much difficulty in your geting work to do at home, for there are already too many idle in the city who are looking for such work, and in any event your earnings would be too small to count."

Cecelia bowed her head for a few moments in sad reflection. "Does mother know of your trouble ?"

"Not yet, Cecelia; I dreaded to tell her because I knew too well what a bitter blow it would be."

"Poor mamma, it will indeed be hard for her, and I wish that it could be kept a secret from her." "I wish so too, child, but this evening she must know all. In regard to your going on the stage, the prospect is no more pleasant for me than to yourself. I dread the thought of being separated from my child, but the hard position in which I am placed compels me to give the matter earnest consideration."

Cecelia could say no more and left man had gone, "did you know the her father with a heavy heart. Deep drifts lay around her grotto, so she could not go there with her new sorrow, but on her knees in her own "Then why did you allow him to room she gave vent to her feelings meet me? Did you not know that in tears and prayers, Within her such a useless interview would be tender heart a terrible conflict waged between duty to assist her father and her love of retirement. Her tears relieved the tension and through God's and when he space his voice was said invoit the tension and through God's Christian, Cecelia Daton, has almost frightened the girl. Whatever might come. It was well enthroned on a high pedestal.

make a sacrifice for me ?" assurred her, at the same time, that He felt her hands trembling, but if she remained faithful to her religion, as she had ever done in the past, God would watch over her and she had nothing to fear. It was not many days ere Cecelia tools her departure from her 'home, and it is needless to say how many prayers and tears the sacrifice her. Her only consolation was in the fact that her confessor had given her his blessing and promised a daily remembrance in his Mass, and Aunt Nellie had gone with her in the capacity of maid and companion and was to remain with her always.

PART SECOND.

CHAPTER I.

Passing a row of pleasant flats in a respectable though not over wealthy part of the great city of New York, our ear catches the sound of a man's voice singing to an accempaniment played on a sweet-toned violin. We pause to listen, and in clear tenor tones can distinguish the words of an old and sad negro melody which almost moves us to tears. Can we be blamed if we take the liberty of ascending the flight of broad stairs and entering the apartment from which the sound proceeds? Everything in the interior speaks of nome comforts as arranged by the hand of a loving, true-hearted woman The interior, like the exterior, shows no sign of great wealth, but there can be plainly seen what is far bet-ter. In deep boxes fastened to the outside of the open windows are bright colored and sweet scented flowers, which are being attended by a woman little past the middle age, but dressed in deep mourning, which tells the sad tale that she has been robbed of the companion she had chosen for life. Her face still bears traces of early beauty, and she has a noble brow, from which luxuriant locks of once dark hair now streaked with gray are rolled back in becoming puffs. Her chief beauty, however, is in her dark grey eyes, which now and then turn lovingly towards her companion.

It is the young man in whom we are most interested, for it is the sound of his voice that has attracted us hither. Allyn St. Clair, is in feature much like his mother, and any judge of human faces might easily see the marks of a noble character.

is a man of about twenty-one, with every prospect of a brilliant future before him. "Surely," one might almost say, "God's image shines from those clear, honest eyes." but no, for he is a confirmed infidel, who is ready to stand up in the face of the world and the strongest religious principles and declare emphatically that there is no God and that the grave is the end of all, excepting the record we may be able to leave on the pages of the world's history. Some of our Christian brethren may be strongly tempted to censure the youth and to deny him a place in their friendship, where the true

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE.

Mrs. Cullen was right, for much as the had once despised the very name of Catholic, Mrs. Daton was possess- ef of a noble intellect, which might not have so strongly resisted the truth had it not been for her daugh- tersin-law's weakness and reticance in matters of religion. It almost ment that something was being hid- den from her and she had been too Proud to inquire until won by Cacc- in was to something with second something?" It's bright example. To the young- er Mrs. Daton's discredit, the lady there must be something wrong hid- en her att be something wrong hid- en her att be something wrong hid- en her and she something wrong hid- en Mrs. Daton's discredit, the lady there must be something wrong hid- en her att be something wrong hid- en her att be something wrong hid- en her att be something wrong hid- en her and she had beens too proud to inquire until won by Cacc- er Mrs. Daton's discredit, the lady there must be something wrong hid- en her att be something wrong hid- en her att be something wrong hid- en her and she had beens too prout to inquire until won by Cacc- er Mrs. Daton's discredit, the lady there must be something wrong hid- en here the best." The it is really, so that you atter I have assured you it is not in your power to aid me ?" The secret troubles of her father, a there must be something wrong hid- en here atter I have assured you it is not in your power to aid me ?"	 Booken, we an nave an nave to meet many processing in this world, and is prevent her mother that evening, is you are no longer a child, it is is you are no longer a child, it is is you are no longer a child, it is is you are no longer a child, it is is you are no longer a child, it is is you are no longer a child, it is is you mean, father ? I do not comprehend." "What do you mean, father ? I do to console the root er mother that evening, and to prevent her from revealing the secret which they wished to hide as long as possible from the elder Mire. The father hand the secret which they wished to hide as long as possible from the elder Mire. The dot (it is state and to forger). The father hand the secret which they wished to hide as long as possible from the elder Mire. The father hand the secret which they wished to hide as long as possible from the elder Mire. The father hand the secret which they wished to hide as they have made they have made themselves. They was then the difficult for they was been trained to be from infancy, but the father they have made themselves. They was there the store has that the shift for they was there the store has they have made themselves. They do have has a secret which they wished to hide as they have made they have the th
---	--

THE TRUE WITTIES AND CAVE ON CONCINE

with the Po

The Empire of Business

There is always danger of our serv-ing mammon rather than Almighty God. Never was the danger greater than it/is to-day. There are too many Christians who would wish to be friends with mammon without be-coming the enemies of God. They daily with the one and try at the me time to give a half-hearted serwice to their Creator. All experience false position. Where one's treasure is, there will be the heart also. Easy going Christians would try to com-promise on a divided love. But this is impossible. God requires an honest service, a whole-souled fidelity. We cannot cheat Him, however clewer we may be in circumventing four neighbors. He tells us very plainly that we must serve Him with our whole heart, or we are none of His

These thoughts naturally arise He has given us a new chapter in his gospel of wealth. It. all the value of a work done by a specialist. The very titles chosen by Mr. Carnegie for his book are a permussion to regard the ethical and social side of his writing as more im-portant than his mere technical discussion of economical questions. Now it is strange-passing strange- that Mr. Carnegie's pages contain more than one glowing tribute to poverty. At times we rub our eyes in bewilderment, wondering whether we are not reading some rapturous hymn of that lovely Saint, Francis of Assist, dressed to the beauty of his wellbeloved bride, Lady Poverty.

Mr. Carnegie writes, "The cry." "goes forth nowadays, abolish poarty, but, fortunately, this cannot be done: the poor we are always to well as just sources are more than have with us. Abolish poverty, and double those which come from just mhat would become of the race ? Progress, development would cease. Consider its future if dependent upon the lionaires. For, if it does, then, it is rich. The supply of the good and the great would cease and human society would retrograde into barbariam."

And again : "We can scarcely read one among the few immortal names has rendered exceptional service to our race, who had not the advantage of being cradled, nursed and reare in the stimulating school of poverty

Such is the splendid preaching coming from such a source !. The praise poverty coming from one of the richest men in the world is rather startling, indeed.

Pale priestess of a fane discredited Whose votaries to-day are few or none:

vulgar shun

Wise mother ! least desired 'neath the sun

But the great master of finance goes further. He tells us, and this accords closely with the teaching of the Saviour, that wealth "is a delusion and a snare, and that it never happiness or satisfaction " And then there is that other famous decharation of his, that "to die rich Fraser, the Hon. Mrs. Codrington, is to die disgraced." One cannot Miss Berners, Miss Fox, Miss Clarke. help remarking that its author laboring generously to avoid this disgrace. Great as have teen his (Father Henry.) princely donations to libraries other public gifts, he is still suffciently rich to stand in imminent danger of coming beneath his own self-pronounced judgment.

working mechanic who finally rule in sway, branch of afairs, without caple tal, without family influence, and without college sourcation." Powerty is good because it has the promise of this life, . Its stern discipline forces men into habits which least to the accumulation of /wealth. "He insists that "there is nothing so en-ervating, nothing so deadly in its effect upon the qualities which least to the highest achievement, moral or "intellectual, as hereditary wealth." "That is, as was just said, splendid preaching, and largely true, for those who are poor want to be rich, and great. Mr. Carnegie's gospel of wealth is efficacious to asve only those who take the kingdom of riches by force. It leaves unblessed the unfortunates who are born within infortunates who are born within the fold. All this is very fine and encouraging, especially since it comes from one of the foremost millionaires concentration of wealth may be made Whole neart, or we are hone of his concentration of weater may be made You must choose between him and mammon. And it is impossible not the greatest instrument in the ad-vancement of civilization; and few differ with the saying that those who have acquired wealth by their own exertions are the men who are best from a recent reading of Mr. Car-fitted to use it to the greatest 'ad-cepted the Protectorship with vantage of society. "Wealth," de- greatest pleasure. Father I clares Mr. Carnegie, "is a sacred trust, to be administered by its pos-sessor into whose hands it flows, for the highest good of the people." That is well said, and he who says it has added the force of example to precept.

It would be well if a few more of our millionaires were ready to ac-cept the truth that "wealth is a sacred trust," and use it accordingly. Then, that hard saying of the Gospel ol Christ about the needle's eye would not vex their conscience overmuch. One of the Greek philosophers it was who said: "He must be good as well as rich. And good in a high degree, and rich in a high degree at the same time he cannot be. Some one will ask, 'Why is this?' and here is the answer : "Because ac quisitions which come from unjust as well as just sources are more than sources only.' L' We hope this saving does not apply to our American mildifficult to see how it can be main-tained that "wealth is a sacred trust to be administered for the highest good of the people." At any rate, the truth set down in the Gospel of that were not born to die, or who Gos and mammon. The thing is im possible. -- Rev. Morgan M. Sheedy in the Champlein Educator.

> FOREIGNMISSIONARY WORK.

Joseph's Foreign Missionary Society, Goddess austere, whose touch the Mill Hill, London, S.W., was held at Archbishop's House, Westminster, S.W., on June 11th. The President of the Council, His Lordship the Marquis of Ripon, K.G., took the chair, and there were also present His Grace the Archbishop of Westminster, His Lordship the Bishop of Emmaus, the Dowager Duchess of other public gifts, he is still suffi-ciently rich to stand in imminent fanger of coming beneath his own self-pronounced judgment. Passing by the statement, which sage beneath the statement, which sage statement, which barse statement, which sage statement, sage statement, which sage statement, sage statemen

6th, set the request belo ness, and obtained his m ness, and obtained his most gracious assent. On a ball-blist photograph of Plus X, which the Superior pre-sounded, His Holiness wrote to the students : "Dilectus fills Apostolican Benedictionism peramanter impertainus Plus P.P.X." On another phototified at the good work being done, and he bless his heart. A similar retimed at the good work which who being done, and he blessed it with all his heart. A similar report was sub-mitted to the Holy Father, who was also pleased to express his gratifica-tion and approval of the work. We cannot close this account of the Secretary's visit to Rome with out adding a lew words of profound gratitude to His Grace the Arch-bishop of Trebizoub, to whom the whole success of the visit. was due. Archbishop Stonor was kindness it-self, and by his influence arranged all the interviews both at the Vatican and Propaganda, on each occasion ac-companying and introducing Father Henry to His Holiness and the other exalted personages whom it was his privilege to mest. Montion has been made that a Ge-meral Chapter of the society is to be held at Mill Hill in Angust next, and at the present time all the Superiors graph which Father Henry was to take to his sisters, both of whom take to his sisters, both of whom are in a convent at Malta, one of them being Mother Superior, the Holy Father wrote, Deas Omnipotens repleat vos omni benelistione. Pius P.P.X. The Pontif blessed Mill Hill and its students and all. wits Apostolic works most effusively, and also blessed all the members of the Society, and the clerics and hy perons taking any part in the work At half past six in the eveni Archbishop of Trebizond took Father Henry in his carriage to the Vatiof our time. Once more, he reminds us that the nal Secretary of State. His Eminat the present time all the Superiors of our various missions are now or ence was absent for his drive, but while the visitors were speaking he their way homef This may account entered the apartment from behind them, and touched Archbishop Etonin some neasure for the dearth missionary news in the present re-port. This we frust will be more than made up for by the presence at or on the shoulder. He then took them into an inner room, and acour next council meeting in November of several of the Superiors, who will the greatest pleasure. Father Henry placed before the Cardinal a small then be able to give a personal count of their missions and the photograph of His Eminence, and begged him to sign it. (Oh, that was taken before I was a Cardinal."

bors of our missionary Fathers. he answered. "Perhaps you'd like to however, draw attention, and that is have this,' and he produced a very to a letter from Bishop Hanlon which have this, and he produced a very large and richly mounted photograph which he signed with a dedication and blessing as follows: "To the Rector and students of St. Joseph's recently appeared in our Catholic pa pers, in which His Lordship describes the fearful havoc caused by a cyclom in Uganda on Easter Sunday last College, Mill Hill, and to all and on which occasion his principal members of St. Joseph's Society for Church was totally destroyed. Foreign Missions, with a special bless Easter Sunday morning at last Mass ing from their Protector. Rome May 8, 1904.—R. Caro. Merry de the church was crowded with over 2000 people; 1500 had been del This photograph, with that Holy Communion on that day, and of His Holiness and two others will that night the storm came and utten be framed and put up at Mill Hill. ly ruined the church, so that all th One of the others is of the Arch. Catholics of that Mission, some 5000 bishop of Trebizond, the second in number, are now without a build-Camassei, lately rector of the ing in which they can assemble Urban College, and now Archuishop hear Mass. Severe damage of Naxos, who, like Cardinal, Merry also done to other churches and buildel Val, has been a visitor to Mill dings in Bishop Hanlon's mission. His Lordship makes an appeal to the Hill. Father Henry came to the Eternal City on St. George's Day, chasity of Catholics at home to help and has been the guest of Mgr, Giles him in his great need, and some £46 at the English College during his stay. He left Rome for England on has been sent for him to Mill Hill One benefactor, in sending £20, sug gests that 49 others should so a similar sum, and so make up £1000 which the Bishop asks for. the The Council will be The Council will be pleased to hear that the new additions to our Apostolic School at Freshfield have been completed, and were solemnly blessed and opened in March last by His Lordship the Bishop of Liver-has been collected in response to those appeals. Before submitting his report the meeting, the Secretary stated that two generous donations just been placed at his disposal, one of £20 from the benefactor who h At the commencement of the last given a similar sum to Uganda, and one of £50 from their vice-president, Mr. Charles W. Clifford, in memoriam of his brother-in-law, the late Count Moore. Both these donations the new buildings at our Apostolic School at Freshfieldf

The Chairman then proposed that

the

had

Vol. LIII., No

THE TRUE W

BUBBCRIPTION PE Canda, $1.00; United S ad France, $1.50; Belgi dvance. All Communications attractions ""P. & P. Co., Limite

" If the English-speak best interests, they would an penergul Optholic papers in work

NOTES

DANGEROUS CELE

It is natural, and it is the people of any cour

brate, by special rejoic

monstrations, the day

national holiday. It i

sociated with tradition

ries that are glorious calculated to stir up i

a love of country and institutions We woul

see a lapsing into ind

that regard, on the par

ple; for that would be that precedes the night humiliation. It seems

among the younger nati

among the younger

spirit is more lively and

We have a fair sample

our neighbors to the So

no land in the world is enthusiasm on the occa

tional festival, than i

States. With them the in all the year like the

July. And it comes at season when the days

and brightest, and whe

every opportunity of giv

to the exubrance of spir

up in the breast of a y

And young and old seen

enjoy the day; they for

of life and go in for a

On the other hand, no

that such an occasion is a thousand dangers. Th of enjoyment leads to p

are of a most regrettabl

and that cast a cloud of the otherwise brilliant ne

val. This year the list of connected with the celebr

Fourth of July in the U

is one that should suff

people pause and think.

cursions, picnics, boating

works and the like, we

as present calculations go list, for the entire Reput

night of the Fourth of J

sisted of twenty-five dean thousand three hundred a four injured; some fatall;

maimed for life, and yet

slightly hurt. The list

too long. Just imagine of fam lies that will rem sorrow the 4th July, 19

of whom will find each ot

Including accidents d

IS PRINTED AND P S Basby St

EPIS

Support of States And States and

BOYS' FINE TWEED SUITS

For School Closing and the Holidayse

These are Smart Buits, that you will like for their style and good -ness. You'll like them better when they save you a dollar and a half on each Buit They were bought from a well known manufacturer, who had all his short ands of fine tweeds made up into Boys' Suits, and they are the best Suits you will find anywhere at a dollar and a half more than The Big Ekore's prices.

THE COOLEST OF HEADWEAR AT THE LOWEST OF PRICES. In all the different kinds of Straws you can think of, and in the most stylish of shapes. Just the kind to suit your own particular Men's and Young Men's Featherweight Panama Canvas Hats, smart styles. Mon's and Young Men's Features weight Falanta Calivas Inte, Smart styles. Price. Mon's and Young Men's Flain and Hustic Straw Hats, fancy and plain bands, a collection of the latest New York, London and Panama Straw Hats, best shapes and makes. Modestly priced, from. $1.65-

MEN'S LINEN UNDER WEAR

MEN'S SUMMER COATS

For Office or Street Wear.

Men, don't worry and swelter in the heat, with unseasonable lothing. It makes you irritable. Wear a Gool Goat and be com-

S, CARSLEY Co. IMITED 1765 to 1788 Notre Dame Street, 184 St. James Street, Montreak

JUNE DISCOUNT SALE

Of Carpets, Rugs, Mattings, Curtains, House Furnishings Brass and Ensmelled Beds, Bedding, Etc., is drawing to a close. After July 1st Original Prices will be maintained Unheard of discounts in every department. Mail Orders Carefully and Promptly Executed.

THOMAS LIGGET, ST. CATHERINE STREWT

in the City, pay us a visit. MASS at 9,30 a.m. on Sunday. Sacred Concert on Sunday Even-

The half-yearly meeting of St.

Newcaetle, Mrs. Ambrose Harmar Henry read out the list of subscrip ing, Miss Mason, the Hon. Mrs. Mr. Wegg-Prosser, the Rev. Herbert Vaughan, D.D., and the secretary

trian Tyrol.

the time of his lamented death June, 1903. The rules and constitution of the society, were approved by the Holy See "ad decennium per mo-oum experimenti," by a decree dated January 11th, 1897. The society has four colleges exclusively devoted to the education of missionary priests for "heathen and pagan lands. These colleges are : St. Joseph's, Mill Hills London; St. Peter's, Freshfield, Liverpool; St. Joseph's, Roosendaal, Hol-

Val.'

Mgr.

Joseph's

land, and St. Joseph's, Brixen, Ausscholastic year there were 136 stu-dents in these colleges, of whom about 80 were engaged in the study of philosophy and theology. Some 28 priests of the Society are engaged in will go to inaugurate the fund for teaching in these colleges. The Holy See has entrusted the Society, with the following missions: District of

May 19th." When in Rome Fathe Henry had an interview with Cardinal Prefect of Propaganda, His Eminence Cardinal Gotti, to whom he gave a full report, of which the following is a short synopsis: - St. Joseph's Society for Foreign Missions was founded about forty years ago at Mill Hill, London, by the late Cardinal Herbert Vaughan, the late Cardinal Herbert Vaughan, pool, assisted by Dr. Preston, Bisho who was its Superior-General until of Phocea. A debt of £2500 he debt of £2500 has in been contracted for these necessary tu-buildings, and we are anxiously hop-by ing that some devout clients of St. Josef and St. Peter will soon com to our aid. During the half year During the half year appeals have been made in seventeen churches, and a sum of £203 3s 3d.

 Arange of the factoring is present through the distribution of the protocol and great men of the world have reached eminence from the distribution of the protocol and great men of the world have reached eminence from the distribution of the protocol and great men of the world have reached eminence from the distribution of the protocol and the proto	Any Bargains in Ready Wear Lines. COUNTS Off Irish Lace Work all this Wesk. Trish Lace and Lace Work and as we are the Canada tause Hows Incorrect the Canada tause to Bollowing dise. STOOLE OOLLARS, $4,600 to the Laces 265 p.c. The Laces 26
--	---