NO MORE ASPHALT BETWEEN THE RAILS

Engineer Barrow Brings New Ideas From Convention in Detroit.

Improvement in Sewer Construction---Separate Water System for Fire Purposes.

for use here. One of these regards asphalt astruction between the street car tracks, Mr. Barrow says he will advise that hereafter no more asphalt be used between the rails. Either granite blocks or bricks, he is convinced, is the proper thing. The oil gets on the asphalt, he says, and wears it out too fast. This was large cities, according to the views prelarge cities, according to the views presented at the convention. Mr. Barrow discussed roads with President Tilson, road commissioner of Manhattan. Mr. Tilson pointed out that the perfect road had not been discovered yet. The asphalt, while sanitary and having many advantages, was found too slippery in wet weather; maedam was dusty in summer and muddy in other seasons while grante blocks made too much noise.

Mr. Barrow picked up another pointer on sewer construction that he will make use of in Hamilton. The experience of other large cities, he says, has shown that a substitution of concrete with iron for the old form of brick, is found cheaper and more durable. The danger of joints sliding is also done away with. Mr. Barrow says that for all main sewers constructed after this he will advise that the new material be used.

Still another idea that Mr. Barrow says is bound to be taken up by Mamilton in the future respects the waterworks. In nearly all the large cities it has been found necessary in the congested parts and with the increase of high buildings to separate the fire service from the domestic to get the proper cressure. The ordinary pipes for domestic use would not stand the pressure of 200 pounds. Mr. Barrow thinks that while the pressure in Hamilton is quite satisfactory now, that with the growth of big buildings around the centre of the city the time is approaching when a separate system for fire purposes will have to be installed. A pump house could be erected at the foot of Simcoe street or near there. Toronto, Philadelphia, and other big cities are taking up this scheme he says. The delegates to the convention he declares had a bully time.

Dr. Roberts, Medical Health Officer.

Dr. Roberts, Medical Health Officer, who was in Atlantic City last week atter-ding the annual convention of the American Public Health Association, declared this morning that he was more convinced than ever, after hearing the typhoid papers read at the meetings, that Hamilton has considerable to boast of in its low typhoid rate. One instance that amused him was Knoxville, Tenn, where the typhoid rate was 130 and the officials thought they had, reduced it to normal when it showed only 50. Professor Amoyt, of Toronto, read a paper showing Hamilton had a rate of only 8, the best on the great lakes. Dr. Reberts says that while the filtering basins here are not Professor Amoyt's ideal of a system, he advises Hamilton to spend $200,000, he says it could get an almost perfect system.

City Engineer Barrow, who spent last week in Detroit, has returned home loaded up with valuable information and street between King and Main streets, as ordered by the Ontario Railway Board me new ideas that he will recommend and wants to know if it will be permitcommittee will not meet to-morrow night on account of the Mayor's picnic, but the majority of the members, it is said, have no objection to the five-foot strip, providing the company pays for the extra foot. The city was ordered to supply the material for the work.

City Engineer Barrow said this morning that he had received a report from the men who inspected the sandsucker, stating that the boilers were not injured at all, and that very little damage had been done to the machinery by the fire which put it out of commission last week. He thinks the damage can be quickly repaired and the dredge begin operations again. week. He think quickly repaired operations again.

Engineer McFarlane's report of water pumped for September shows 22,332,360 gallons or an increase of only 5 per cent. compared with an increase of 17 per cent. for the previous month. The city engineer think the metres may have something to do with the decrease in the consumption. It required 3,182 pounds of coal to pump each million gallons.

Mayor Stewart on Saturday sent a letter to J. G. Farmer, solicitor for the Board of Beach Commissioners, on Saturday explaining clearly the city's stand on the dispute over the road between the basins and emphasizing that the city will not assume any responsibility in indemnifying anyone in connection with the roads built at the ends of the basins.

Secretary Brennan, of the Board of Works, received a telegram this morning from Superintendent U. E. Gillen saying that the Hamilton Street Railway had withdrawn the injunction to restrain it from crossing Barton street at Ferguson avenue with another crossing and that the diamond would be put in after midnight to-night. night to-night.

There is one Wentworth County physician at least who thinks Hamilton is very fortunate in its low typhoid rate. He has no fewer than fourteen typhoid patients, a number of whom have been sent in to be treated in the hospitals in the city. There is a great deal of typhoid in the country districts, and its prevalence there while the city rate is so low speaks well for the purity of our water supply.

The Coal Oil inlet matter will probably be discussed at the Board of Health meeting again to-night with a view of some action being taken.

the officials thought they had reduced it to normal when it showed only 50. Professor Amoyt, of Toronto, read a paper showing Hamilton had a rate of only 8, the best on the great lakes. Dr. Reberts says that while the filtering basins here are not Professor Amoyts ideal of a system, he advises Hamilton to stick to them until it gets something better. If Hamilton could afford to spend $200,000, he says it could get an almost perfect system.

Mrs. Davis had left her home prepared to deliver the punishment which she thought Salisbury had merited. She carried the whip concealed under her wraps, and, taking her station on Third street near Leonard street, waited for Salisbury to come up the street. She asked if he was Mr. Salisbury and upon being informed that he was, started to perform her task.

The cause of the whipping is reported to be remarks made by Salisbury. These alleged remarks are said to have been repeated to Mrs. Davis by a friend, whom she believed to be reliable. She was very much angered over the reports that reached her ears and thought that the only method of redress open to her was to administer the punishment herself. After the whipping the street assumed its usual quiet, and the police have taken no action in the case. No complaint has been made to them.

Weston peaded guilty and elected to be tried by the Magistrate. Homer Bowman, the complainant, was a novelty. He is a deep black colored man , but his head is surmounted by brilliant red mop of fuzzy hair, that made a striking contrast. He stated that he owed Weston $3, and that the defendant asked him for it on Saturday at noon, and he told him he did not have it, but would pay him later. Weston

"Yes," said Sylvia, in a low voice; "and it is well for us women sometimes that they are." And she thought of the way in which Lord Lorrimore had saved her from Lavarick. "But why are you so unhappy, dear? Is it because he has not found Neville Lynne?"

Audrey shook her head without raising it from the cushion.

The servant came in to announce that the brougham was at the door.

CHAPTER XXV.

Old Mrs. Parsons wept tears of joy when she was at last made to understand that the tall young man with the bronzed face was her "Master Neville," and welcomed him with a mixture of affection and respect that made poor Neville's heavy heart throb.

"Why lor', Master Neville," she exclamied after the first outburst. "It do seem as if it was only the other day seem as if it was only the other day when you and Miss Audrey used to steal up to the lodge window and shout out just for the fun of seeing me jump in

He stood looking down at her, his eyes fixed upon her as if he feared to put the question that yet must be put.

"There is some one, isn't there, Audrey?" he said in a low voice.
She did not answer, at least in words, but her head sank lower, and her face the first five minutes, then—well, just to the fun of seeing me jump in my chair."

"You used to jump first rate, Mrs. When the first five minutes, when—well, just to the first five minutes, then—well, just to the fun of seeing me jump in my chair." with shame. to punish us you always made us come he asked, in a voice he in and eat some of tose wonderful cakes

"Who is it?" he asked, in a voice ne tried to keep steady.

Audrey tried to lift her eyes to his, but it was as if a heavy weight hung on her lids.

"I—I am engaged to—to Jordan Lynne," came in a whisper at last.

Lorrimore started, and a terrible change came over his face. His Spanish blood, what little there was of it, would have glowed if she had mentioned any other name, and his heart would have glowed if she had mentioned any other name, and his heart would have glowed if she had mentioned any other name, and his heart would have glowed if she had mentioned any other name, and his heart would have glowed if she had mentioned any other name, and his heart would have glowed if she had mentioned have glowed if she had mentioned have glowed in the heart would have glowed heart would have g

That Jor.

Neville sighed.

"I suppose you've heard that she's going to marry Sir Jordan," she went on, as she bustled in and out of the tiny bedroom she was preparing for him.

Neville nodded gravely, for of course lillain, helt it.

"Took us all by surprise, it did. Sir Jordan being so much older than Miss Audrey, not that he looks his age. I so she even."

"No," said Neville, and his tone caused Mrs. Parsons to stop with a pillow case

"No," said Neville, and his tone caused Mrs. Parsons to stop with a pillow case in her hand and look at him.
"Oh, dear, dear me: yes, I remember," she said. "Well, it isn't every one as ean get on with Sir Jordan. He's a very great man now, Mr. Neville, and we don't see much of him. The last time he passed I went out, and gave him a courtsey, but I don't think be remembered me, as was very natural." she added, as if desirous of explaining that she was not complaining. "He wasn't my boy, you were, you know. Lor', how glad I am to see you. Now, if Miss Audrey was here we should be all complete, so to say. And you haven't seen her yet, Master Neville?"

"Not yet, Mrs. Parsons," he said. "And to say. And you haven't seen her yet, Master Neville?"

"Not yet, Mrs. Parsons," he said. "And I wish to see no one, or be seen, just at present. You must let me be your nephew come home from sea, or something of that kind, for a little while."
The old lady nodded after a moment's pondering.
"Whatever you say is to be shall be, Master Neville," she said, with the implicit obedience of an old servant. "I did have a nephew as went off to sea, but I'm afraid he's drowned. Oh, don't you be afraid, Master Neville; I can keep my lips shut, as Mr. Trale knows."
The tiny bedroom pp under the thatched roof was as clean as a new pin and as sweet as lavender, and Neville slept soundly for the first time for many a night.

In the morning he looked round the cottage and found a patch of what ought to have been marked but west received.

many a night.

In the morning he looked round the cottage and found a patch of what ought to have been garden, but was at present a weedy wilderness and he amused him self during the day, much to the grief and horror of Mrs. Parsons, by digging it

PLANT LIFE REPRODUCTION.

Prof. Dufour Tells of Discoveries in Vegetal Embryology.

Paris, Oct. 5 .- Prof. Leon Dufour made known this week the result of his recent researches in plant life, which demon-strated the existence of a vegetal embry-ology closely analogous to the embry-ology of animals.

"A plant often records," says M. Du-A plant ofter records, says M. Du-four, "by the successive form of its leaves from the time of its germination, its history and its evolution. Thus successive leaves of one species often re-produce forms of the adult leaves of an entirely different species, indicating how various species are delivered each from the other."

Belleville, Oct. 5.—Twenty men, women and children were up in the Police Court this morning, charged with stealing fruit, they having stripped two orchards belonging to Messrs. Balis and Stewart, of the Deaf and Damb Institute staff. They were given a severe reprimand and fined amounts ranging from $1.50 and costs.

BULLET IN HIS FOREHEAD.

The Body of Nicholas Pautler Found Near Galt.

Galt, Oct. 6.—The body of Nicholas Pautler, who had been missing for over a week, was found this afternoon at Moffatt's Flats, a short distance south of the town. The body was lying beside the river, with a bullet hole in the forehead. Although the gun has not yet been found, indications point to suicide. The deceased was well known in Galt, where he had resided for many years. No reason can be assigned for the suicide. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

When the Judge asked her why she com-mitted the misdeameanor, the girl replied:
"Sincé I was nine years old I have worked with mamma as a seamstress. Even getting up-early, I could only earn 75 cectimes (15 cents) a day. How do you expect me to live on 15 cents a day? It is society that is guilty—the society which condemned me to strevation,"

Just before judgment was passed she add-ed: "I regret my act because I have learn-ed that the man who painted the picture like me, also suffered poverty and hard-shlos."

The case has attracted wide attention, as the cared the girl will have imitators am-onk miscreants in search of notoriety.

ARROGANCE OF THE LORDS.

Buffalo, Oct. 7.—Defending himself against the furious attack of a mob that assembled in front of his saloon, 358 Lovejoy street, and began to hurl stones through windows, as he said, Wladislaus Szpara rushed out at midnight on laus Szpara rushed out at midnight on Saturday and began shooting into the crowd. He killed one man, the others escaping without injury.

The dead man was Joseph Dombrokski, who lived in Playter street. He was not killed instantly, but died at Emergen. Hospital, where he was taken immediately after the shooting. It was found that a bullet wound in his right side pierced the lung and caused hemotrhages.

The police heard the shooting, and rushed to the saloon. They broke up the mob, had the wounded man taken the mob, had the wounded man taken to the hospital, and then placed the saloonkeeper under arrest on a charge of murder. He says he is innocent of any wrongdoing; that he was defending his life and property, and that he did not shoot until he was forced to do so.

DOGS AS POLICE A FAILURE. Experiment Tried in Antwerp Not a Success.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Dogs as night police assistants have proved a failure in Antwerp, according to a report received from the Vice United States Consul-General at that city. The Antwerp pclice experimented with dogs as assistants to the night watch service in the isolated section of the city. The experiments have proved negative, and at one ments have proved negative, and at time it was even proposed that the city give up the kennels altogether.

The Antwerp police have seven dogs, know as the Belgian shepherd dog, which are trained to look upon men in uniform as their only friends, suspecting uniform as their only triends, suspecting all others, and more particularly a man lying down. At night the seven dogs, all muzzled, are turned over to seven policement, who conduct them by a strap, only letting them loose when wishing to pursue an evil-doer. BOY SHOCKED TO DEATH.

Hanging Over Trolley Wire.

Stamford, Conn., Oct. 7.—William Buton, 19 years old, a plumbers' apprentice, was shocked to death here to-night. The end of a broken telephone wire which had crossed a trolley wire in Main street lay across his path and he picked it up to toss it aside.

Six hundred volts of electricity passed trough him and he was unable to let go of the wire. Three of his fingers were burned off and he fell face downward on the wire.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

MONDAY, OCT. 7, 1907.

GOOD LIBERAL DOCTRINE.

The St. John Sun gives expression to vernment to take effective action to centrol the great corporations which it creates, and to secure for all concerned the benefits of united capital without subjecting the public to extortion, or the weak to the rapacity of the strong. This is so clearly the duty of the Government, rather than to itself undertake ownership and operation of all the various and complex business ventures, as is clamored for by the victims of municipalization crazes, that one won ders at the obsession that leads to the neglect of the immediate work while urging the undertaking of vastly great er and more dangerous responsibilities. The Sun is a strong advocate of making the corporations toe the mark, and properly thinks that the Government's posishould be that of arbiter, and that it should be active in enforcing just dealing. It says:

Indeed a man cannot to-day be dubbed

Indeed a man cannot to-day be dubbed an extremist when he advocates some efficient Governmental control of the great corporations. To insist upon such control is not to carry the war into the enemy's country. It is rather to insist upon a defence of territory already acquired and rightly held.

Moreover, there is not in this same demand for Governmental control of trusts any essential enmity to this modern method of finance. It doubtless has yet to justify itself, but there is abundant reason for the belief that the corporation has come to stay and that because of the increased efficiency it affords But the real test of that efficiency is not possible when there is not a rigid inspection of corporation methods and an impartial insistence upon fair and just dealing. The essential excellence of this modern method will be discovered when it is divested of all unfair dealers. To justify upon justice her lence of this modern method was a covered when it is divested of all unfair covered when it is divested of all unfair legic of this modern method will be dis-cevered when it is divested of all unfair advantage. To insist upon justice be-tween rival corporations and between corporations and individuals is to insist upon an equal opportunity to all men to exercise their talents in the world's work. It is to reiterate the old dogma of democracy in terms suited to the times. It is the modern attempt to con-trol the strong fist of the bully and to convert his energy into useful and social advice. That there will ultimately be such control is an article in the creed of every sincere believer in Government ry sincere believer in Government the people. That such control will be obtained without struggle and ure is evident to every man who failure is evident to every man read aright the history of the past and the signs of the present.

That is the truly Liberal doctrin enforce justice and to prevent wrong; compel us to abide by the laws it nuckes in the equal interest of all, and to remain the great court of appeal of people. And if Government is to do that duty, the less it projects itself try and the more diligently it sets itself to work to execute justice the better. eretes, what hope is there of its giving vice in attempting to own and operate many and vast industrial projects? True Liberalism does not blindly worship Government, and it is wisely jealous of too much Government meddling. Govment will find its immediate duty of governing -- regulating -- employment enough, if the work be well done.

and Almost Friendless at the Falls.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 6.—One of the saldest cases of hardship inflicted by the United States immigration laws on record occurred here yesterday. The victim was Mrs. King, an aged Scotch woman, whose home has been in Toronto. Mrs. King is 74 years of age, and a woman of evident refinement and education. Financial misfortune impelled her to leave Toronto to take up her home with a daughter who lives in Buffalo, her daughter having agreed to meet her. She had just enough money to pay her railway fare.

When she reached this city she took an Amternational Railway car from the Bridge street station for Niagara Falls, N. Y., terminal, intending to change there to a car for Buffalo, her daughter having agreed to meet her at the station with the work of the wor and Almost Friendless at the Falls.

There she was further questioned, and the autocrat in buttons ordered her deportation. In vain she pleaded that her daughter in Buffalo would take care of her, and that she was in no danger of becoming a charge upon the public. No argument availed. When the car came on its return trip the tearful old woman was put aboard it and the railway company had to bring her back to Canada. then required her to leave the car and

CRITICISED THE THEATRE.

Rev. F. W. Hollinrake on the Modern Institution.

Thinks the One Valid Reason Is Amusement.

Makes Wrecks of Those Who Embark Upon Its Sea.

"Nearly all those who have embarked on the theatrical sea have strewn the shores of that sea with the wrecks of actors and actresses," declared Rev. F. W. Hollinrake, pastor of Zion Tabernacle, last evening, in the course of a sermon on "What Harm Is There In the Theatre!" His text was Matt. vii. 20, "Wherefore, by their fruits ye shall know them." Ine question might be raised, he said, that because he was not a frequenter of the theatres he was not in a position to discuss their merits and demerits. It was not necessary to visit saloons to discuss the liquor traffic or see what it was doing. The only valid reason given for the theatre to-day was that it was a place of amusement. People must and should have amusement. It admitted that, but seldom if ever was the reason given that people went to theatres for educational advancement. Ar. Hollimrake said the theatre originated in the church, was fostered and utilized by it for imaprting religious instruction to the people. The first theatre was the church and the first actors the priests. It was later observed that it had a degenerating effect on the church and it was abolished, the Christian and Jewish churches taking exception to it as producing immoral influences. The theatre then became a divorced and separate institution, bidding for the natronage of the public. in a position to discuss their merits and and separate institution, bidding the patronage of the public.
"We ask," said Mr. Hollinrake," "is

"We ask," said Mr. Hollinrake," "is its influence for good or evil? What are its demerits and merits? The question is often raised by young people: What harm is there in going to the play?' It is a significant thing, the very asking of that question, and shows doubt. You do not hear people asking if there is any harm going to the Y. M. C. A., to Toronto, to church, and so on.

Taking the one valid reason that it gave amusement, Mr. Hollinrake emphasized that this must be attested by principles that should govern amusement, and not by rules. There was a wide difference between principles and rules. It was possible to make a rule but not a principle. Rules came within man's power but principles did not. Did the tneatre recreate? Did it help man to work better? Did people go there under the best moral influences? Was their going there apt to lead others to do what might harm them? Life, he emphasized, was to be spent in work and not play. Amusement was but a side issue. Mr. Hollinrake spoke of the different forms under which the theater was known, the ballet, coinedy, vaudeville, meloddama and the drama.

within, as contrasted with the external, formal and ceremonial. Secondly, he dealt with the power of the Christian life and how it was obtained, and what the renewed man was begotten into, viz., a living hope through Jesus Christ. In the evening he preached on the captivating power of the love of Jesus Christ and its power to lift above the cares of life, so that all through the journey, as well as at eventide, there may be light. The choir was assisted by Mr. Chrystal Brown, who sang three solos. In the morning he sang Howell's "By the Waters of Babylon," in the evening Croger's "I Cling to Thee" and "At Evening, Bring Us Home."

Mr. Hewlett gave a short organ regical at the close of the evening service.

At Bennett's Theatre.

Amusement was but a side issue. Ar. Hollinrake spoke of the different forms under which the theatre was known, the ballet, comedy, vaudeville, meloddama and the drama.

"The ballet," he said, "I am convinced violates every one of the four principles governing annusement. In comedy," as a ridle, laughter is provoked at the expense or righteousness, fun is poked at the preachter. O man that makes fun of the principles that your mother holds dear is caned a funny man. Can we find amusement in comedy." Then vaudeville, which holds the boards so much in our city, is nothing but a variety show, no connected thought or sustained action in it, interpersed with songs, dancing, jokes and so on. I take occasion to utter my protest against the extremous efforts put forth to seduce our boys and girls to these institutions at the present time. The effect on the young lives can not be anything but demorraiizing and tusir tender natures receive a taint that abides with them and gives them a wrong impression of the seriousness of life. I take occasion too, to utter my protest against conditions are also under his management. This act has been on the road considerably longer than School Days, and it is of a self-left of the seriousness of life. I take occasion too, to utter my protest against engaging, hiring or brioting boys and girls to drive through the streets in a venicle hooting and yelling at passersby, and drawing attention to signboards around the venicle advertising the shows and theatre. I look upon it as an, insult to intelligence and robbing young people of their innocence and simplicity. Have we any right to obtain amisement at the physical, moral and spiritual welfare of those who furnish it?

Mr. Hollinrake said it was true that few, if any, evangelical denominations uphold the theatre, but nearly every one declared strongy against it. The theatre-going publie was surprised to see a Christian at a play. Those seeking God or religion did not apply to the theatre-going people for instruction. The theatre-going people were the hardest to reach for Jesus Christ in his service. People did not want to see their minister at a theatre. There were people spending their money at the theatres who would feel the pinch of poverty before the winter was over. There were many people who had dollars and days for the theatres, but only mites and minutes for Jesus Christ. There was famine in the land. Gaunt hunger stalk

There was famme in the land. Gaunt hunger staik-ed through the tents of the people. Swastika, daughter of chiefs, appealed to the gods to avert their wrath and offered herself as a sacrifice to appease their anger. Holy and pure was Swastika and the gods accepted the sacrifice. "Bread shall satisfy your mouths and ye shall be once more a people, mighty in valor. Corn shall fill thy storehouses to overflowing and ye shall be blessed."

be blessed."

"Give me a sign, ye mighty ones, that I may know these things shall be."

And the gods answered, "A sign shall blaze in the heavens at midnight, and at noon of another day it shall sear thy forehead and thy people shall know that the gods are mighty."

Thus Swastika went forth to the people and they fasted and prayed all the night long. The day died in the west and the stars shone forth, and lo, at midnight a new constellation blazed in the heavens in the form of a wondrous cross, and the people shouted in awe and wonder as the jewelled stars glowed in the heavens. When another day broke a great storm arose and the lightning flashed from the four corners of the heaven the sign of the new cross.

Then they led Swastika forth at noon and a wail of mourning rent the air, for she was beloved of the people. And as she prayed to the gods above, the lightning smote her and she fell, her forehead seared with the sign of the mighty ones who kept their pact with Swastika.

Then they blazed their tents with the cross, the sign of good luck and in memory of the maid they named it "Swastika," for it brought then peace, plenty and prosperity.

Discoveries Made by Cornell Expe. dition in Orient.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The first report of the Cornell expedition to the Assyro-Babylonian Orient has just been received by Professor Sterrett, its organizer. The report says that the principal sites of the region explored have been fixed astronomically for the first time, disclosing many defects in even the best maps. At Boghaskeui, at the suggestion of the German excavators, the Hittite inscription, one of the largest known and generally considered quite illegible, was studied, and as a result of two and a half days' work, the greatest part of the studied, and as a result of two and a half days' work, the greatest part of the inscription was read.

most important city of Southeastern Asia Minor, has been found. Much of the pottery found there is similar to the early types found at Troy. Over three thousand potsherds have thus far been collected and studied.

Most important are the various sherds of Mycenaean character showing connection with the Greek world of the time of Homer. In the light of the material collected it seems almost certain, says the report, that some of the most widespread views in regard to the earlier people of Asia Minor and their connection must be modified or abandoned. A marble idol of a type hitherto found only in the Greek islands in pre-Mycenaean settlements was obtained at Angora. This link, between the early, inhabitants of Greece and of Asia Minor is of very great interest. 10 lbs of Redpath's Best Sugar for ..... 47c

FATAL FIRE IN TORONTO

Two Lose Their Lives and Ten Others Injured.

Inmates Awakened With the Flames About Them.

Two Girls Fell Through Roof of Adjoining Building.

THE DEAD.

mrs. Rachael Orenstein. Jenny Orenstein, Her Daughter.

Toronto, Oct. 7 .- A swift and sudder tbreak of fire in a tailor's store at 156 York street in the early hours of Sunday morning woke the twelve occupants of the house from their sleep, and in the panic which ensued Mrs. Rachael Orenstein, wife of the occupant, and her daughter, Jenny, aged six, received in juries, from which they died after their removal to St. Michael's Hospital; Louis Firnstein, aged thirty-six, a cabinet-maker, is delirious in St. Michael's Firnstein, aged thirty-six, a cabinet-imaker, is delirious in St. Michael's Hospital, his mind unhinged by his sufferings; his wife, Rachael, who was rescued from death by suffocation by the promptitude of P. C. Mowat (281), is in the hospital with burns; Frank Schwartz, aged eighteen, a tailor, who leaped from a three-storey window to the pavement, was badly burned about the face and eyes and his feet smashed by the impact; Arnold Greenfeld, a Roumanian tailor, aged throy, sustained injuries to his feet by leaping from a second-storey window into a pile of broken plate glass, and five others, Mira Isaacs, aged twenty-five; Harry Orenstein, tailor, aged twenty-five; Harry Orenstein, tailor, aged twenty-three, who had arrived in the house from New York but a few hours before, are all in St. Michael's Hospital suffering from burns and injuries received while attempting to escape.

Held Child in His Arms

Held Child in His Arms.

Of the twelve occupants of the house only one, little Aaron Orenstein, aged four, escaped injury, and he was saved scatheless owing to his father's action in holding him in his arms when he leaped from a third-storey window on to the flat roof of the kitchen. The two Isaac, girls who followed him in the leap were less fortunate, for the roof gave way beneath them, and they fell through it to the ground beneath.

The origin of the fire is a mystery.

streets. The constable had not got eighty yards away when he heard a crash of glass, and, thinking it was an escaping burglar, whom his passing had alarmed, turned and ran in that direction. Five seconds later he saw flames burst out, and by the time he reached the store the man Greenfeld threw up the second-storey window and climbed out in his night attire on to the cornice and prepared to jump.

Perhaps Collier's with its "utmost disregard for the facts," may say no such letter exists. Nevertheless it is on file in our office, and is only one of a mass of letters and other data, newspaper comments, etc., denouncing the "yellow" methods of Collier's. He at once saw that it was a case of suffocation, and commenced resuscitation exercises to restore breathing. Ten minutes later Mrs. Firnstein was able to breath enturally, and the constable turned his attention to the little girl, Jenny Ornstein, who was also suffocated and had ceased to breathe. He accompanied her in the patrol wagon to the hospital, and brought the child round, but she died later from the burns she had received. At the hospital the constable worked assisting the dectors until 6.30, the bystanders, doctors and nurses being ful of praise for his prompt and efficient thelp. of praise for his prompt and efficient help. The man Firnstein became so frenzied that it took six men to hold him down before the doctors could do anything with him. He was unconscious when the firemen reached him and is now in a delirious condition at the hospital. Soon after midnight Mrs. Orenstein, who was more badly burned than any, followed her little daughter into the unknown. Was Oriekly But Out Was Quickly Put Out.

Was Quickly Put Out.

The firemen got the fire completely out within fifteen minutes. The building is a substantial brick three-storey erction, one of a row of three owned by Messrs. Rosenberg and Camisky. Orenstein had been in occupation since May last, and was insured against fire for $3,000. His stock of tailoring goods was considerably aux ented during last week, and is said to be worth $3,500.

In some quarters the theory is held that the fire originated by an explosion of benzine, an article which most tailors use. A sad feature of the fire is that most of the sufferings were unnecessary, and were caused by the unhappy victims crowding to the front window and the rear stair, both of which were enveloped in flames. Had they waited within their rooms for a couple of minutes they would have been rescued by the firemen.

ANOTHER RAFFLES.

GERMANY HAS ONE WHO PLAYS THE GAME.

When Not Engaged in Burglary He Plays the Role of a Gentleman of Wealth and Leisure—No Bars Can Hold Him.

Berlin, Oct. 5.-The police of Hanover have laid hands upon the prince of German burglars, Franz Kirsch, who is de-scribed as a Raffles in real life and is scribed as a Raffles in real life and is said to have been concerned in most of the big robberies that have taken place in the fatherland for years past. When not engaged in burglary he has played the role of a wealthy gentleman. On one occasion he joined in a game of baccarat in a club and lost large sums. He recouped himself by breaking open the club's safe.

He several times was caught, but always escaped owing to his marvellous

He several times was caught, but always escaped owing to his marvellous impersonation of a lunatic, which on each occasion effectively deceived the authorities and resulted in his incarceration in an asylum instead of a prison. Asylums had no burs which could hold Kirsch. He always carried two pistols, but only once was known to have used them; that was when he escaped with their help from pursuit on on open road near Berlin. On another occasion when he was under police escort Kirsch's accomplices surrounded the escort and forced them to release their master.

It is supposed that Kirsch was responsible for the recent burglary of the State Treasury at Dessau, when only an accidental disturbance saved all of the current moneys of Dessau from becoming his property.

Claim of Nova Scotia Shareholders o

York Loan.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—Because the directors of the defunct York County Loan had, it is claimed, no legal right to sell shares in Nova Scotia, the contention is advanced that all shareholders in that Province should be placed on the same basis as creditors of the company, and so receive a preference in the distribution of the assets. The claim of the Nova Scotians was made before Referee Geo. Kappele by Mr. C. A. Masten. The shareholders in the Province by the sea number four or five thousand, and hold half a million dollars in shares, so that if the claim is allowed it will mean less for the remainder of the shareholders. Brandham was cashing a chrque, and while talking the matter over with an official of the bank he felt someone tugging at his pocket. He grabbed a man who was quite close to him and held him, at the same time accusing him of taking the money. The man was held while Brandham went in scarch of the police, but when he returned with an officer Brandham found that he had been allowed to go. Detective Tipton accompanied Brandham to the Union Station, and outgoing trains were watched. Later in the day, however, a young man who gives the name of Edward Burke was arrested on a general charge of vagrancy. Burke is not the man who was detained in the bank, but he is held on suspicion of being an accomplice. The Canadian Detective Bureau officials have a police photo of Burke at their office. A $500 bank note was found hidden in Burke's elething when he was searched at the detective department. #### SHOT THROUGH THE HEART.

Love Affair.

Montreal, Oct. 6.—His mind unhinged by disappointment in a love affair, a young man named Victor Hane shot himself through the heart on Saturday afternoon. Hane, who was 21 years of age, and came from France not very long ago, fell passinately in love with a young woman in this city. His advances were rejected. On Saturday afternoon Hane paid another visit to the young lady, and, again meeting with discouragement, returned to his house at 117 Joliette street and shot himself through the heart. The body has been removed to the morgue and an inquest will be held by Corner McMahon.

DOCTORS AND MEDICINE.

Prof. Osler Gives Advice to London Students. London, Oct. 5.-Professor William

Students.

London, Oct. 5.—Professor William Osler, regius professor at Oxford, apparently believes that there is a good deal of sound sense in the aphorism, "Physician, heal thyself."

Lecturing to the students of St. Mary's Hospital, he said that success in their profession was largely a matter of good health, and in this respect doctors were notorious sinners.

"II," said the professor, "you do not work too hard, you smoke too much and are indifferent about exercise. The best students seem to pay the least attention to nature's laws."

Prof. Osler administered some other salutary advice. For instance, he said: "Be skeptical as to the pharmacopecia assa whole. He is the best doctor who knows the worthlessness of most medicines. Study your fellow-man and fellow-woman and learn to manage them. Remember, above all things, that you are in this profession as a calling, not as a business. Once get down to a purely business level and your influence is gone and the light of your life goes out."

various parts of America.

Usually a private controversy is not interesting to the public, but this is a public controversy.

Collier's has been using the "yellow" methods to attract attention to itself, but, jumping in the air, cracking heels together and yelling "Look at me" wouldn't suffice, so it started out on a "Holier Than Thou" attack on the religious press and on medicines.

"Holier Than Thou" attack on the religious press and on medicines. We leave it to the public now, as we did when we first resented Collier's attacks, to say whether, in a craving for sensation and circulation, its attacks do not amount to a systematic mercenary hounding. We likewise leave it to the public to say whether Collier's, by its own policy and methods, has not made itself more ridiculous than any comment of ours could make it.

Does Collier's expect to regain any self-inflicted loss of prestage by demonstrating through suits for damages, that it can be more artful in evading resentful victims of its defamation, or does it hope by starting a campaign of libel suits to silence the popular indignation, reproach and resentment which it has aroused.

These are his sentiments, with some very emphatic words left out:

"The religious press owes you a debt of gratitude for your courage in showing up Collier's Weekly as the "Yeï-Os Man." Would you care to use the inclosed article on the "Boo Hoo Baby" as the "Yell-Oh Man's" successor?"

A contemporary remarks that Collier's has finally run against a solid hickory "Post," and been damaged in its own estimation to the tune of $750,000.00." Collier's can not dodge this public controversy by private law suits. It can not postpone the public judgment against it. That great jury the Public, will hardly blame us for not waiting unwill hardly blame us for not waiting un-til we get a petit jury in a court room, before denouncing this prodigal detractor of institutions founded and fostered eith-er by individuals or by the public, it-self.

No announcements during our entire business career were ever made claiming "medicinal effects" for either Postum or Grape-Nuts. Medicinal effects are results obtained from the use of medi-cines.

"It is a mistake to say all the world laughs. No cheery laugh comes from Collier's, but it cries and boo hoos like a spanked baby and wants $750,000.00 to soothe its tender, lacerated feefings."

"Thank Heaven it has at last struck a man with "back bone" enough to call a spade a 'spade,' and who believes in telling the whole truth without fear or favor." Perience to acquire.

Now, when any publication goes far enough out of its way to attack us because our advertising is "medical," it simply offers a remarkable exhibition of ignorance, or worse.

We do claim physiological or bodily results of favorable character following the adoption of our suggestions regarding the discontinuance of coffee and foods which may not be keeping the individual in good health. We have no advice to offer the perfectly healthful person. His or her health is evidence in itself that the beverages and foods used exactly fit that person. Therefore, why change?

But to the man or woman who is ailthat person. Therefore, why change?

But to the man or woman who is ailing, we have something to say as a result of an unusually wide experience in food and the result of proper feeding.
In the palpably ignorant attack on us in Collier's, appeared this statement,—'One widely circulated paragraph labors to induce the impression that Grape' Nuts will obviate the necessity of an operation in appendicitis. This is lying and potentially deadly lying.'
In reply to this exhibition of — well let the reader name it, the Postum Co., says:

Let it be understood that appendictis results from long continued disturbance in the intestines, caused primarily by undigested starchy food, such as white bread, potatoes, rice, partly cooked cereals and such.

When the symptoms of the trouble make their appearance, would it not be good, practical, common sense, to discontinue the starchy food which is causing the trouble and take a food in which the starch has been transformed into a form of sugar in the process of manufactors. the process of manufac-

Now, human food is made up very largely of starch and is required by the body for energy and warmth. Naturally, therefore, its use should be continued, if possible, and for the reasons given above it is made possible in the manufacture of Grape-Nuts.

In connection, with facture of Grape-Nuts.

In connection with this change of food to bring relief from physical disturbances, we have suggested washing out-the intestines to get rid of the immediate cause of the disturbance.

Naturally, there are case where the isease has lain dormant and the abuse disease has lain dormant and the abuse continued too long, until apparently only the knife will avail. But it is a well-established fact among the best physicians who are acquainted with the details above recited, that preventative measures are far and away the best.

measures are far and away the best.

Are we to be condemned for suggesting a way to prevent disease by following natural methods and for perfecting a food that contains no "medicine" and produces no "medicinal effects," but which has guided literally thousands of persons from sickness to health! We have received during the years past upwards of 25,000 letters from people who have been either helped or made entirely well by following our suggestions, and they are simple.

Successful Opening and Dedication of the Building.

Stirring Addresses by the Buffalo General-Secretary.

Reception to be Given for Friends This Evening.

The official opening of the East End Y. M. C. A., on Barton street, took place vesterday afternoon under the most favable circumstances, the rain not hav ing the power to keep away the large ed that filled the place. The decica tory service was simple and everyone to be full of enthusiasm, which makes the outlook a splendid one, and augurs well for the success of the Y. M. C. A. in the east end. Mr. W. M. C. A. in the east end. Mr. W. Frank Coote was chairman, and had charge of a very attractive programme. The principal speaker was Mr. W. J. Greene, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Junfalo. His subject was "The Y. M. C. A. in Junfalo. His subject was "The Y. M. C. A. a 20th Century Movement."

Alt. Green at the outset, congratulated the men who stood by the movement to build the branch from the Central Y. M. C. A., and was of the opinion that being placed in such a favorable district, there was no reason why the branch should not prosper. Mr. Green said there were rive reasons why the Y. M. C. A. was a 20th century movement, and why it stood high in the world as a potent factor in the education of markind. The first was that this organization had a great past, secondly that it was great for the personal work done, thirdly for the present programme that was being worked out, fourthly, for the future, and lastly for the power that was being the small beginning that the work had in England in 1844, and showed He told of the small beginning that the work had in England in 1844, and showed work had in England in 1844, and showed its gradual development up to the present day, till now it stood one of the strongest institutions in the world for doing good for men, mentally and physically. The aim of the Y. M. C. A. was to get men for Christ, and to do that they were willing to doing anything or go any place.

To give one a faint idea of the immensity of the work To give one a faint idea of the immensity of the work that is being carried on, Mr. Green said that during the past year, a new Y. M. C. A. was being uedicated every four days throughout the world. The Y. M. C. A. movement is on the high tide on the question of new buildings, and Mr. Green stated that while the tide lasted the Association intended building all it could, for the advancement of the cause.

Mr. Green wanted it carefully understood that the association was only a supplementary agency of the churen, as it recognizes the church as being the primary object in the building of the vast organization. Mr. Green was very opti-

Allr. John E. Brown, President of the Central Y. M. C. A., spoke in a congratulatory strain to the members of the new branch and looked for great things to be accomplished in the future.

During the afternoon the Y. M. C. A. quartette rendered in an effective manner, "The Waysile Cross" and "Remember Now Thy Creator." The Victoria Avenue Baptist Sunday School orchestra also assisted in the services.

This evening a reception will be held by the members to their friends.

ONTARIO BANK'S CLAIM.

Writ is Filed Against Ex-President Cockburn.

Cockburn.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—The statement of claim of the Ontario Bank against ex-President G. R. R. Cockburn has been filed for $87,599,50. The claim alleges that in 1903 President Cockburn, being the owner of certain shares, agreed with General Manager McGill that the bank should buy twenty-seven shares of the capital stock then standing in Cockburn's name. It is also alleged that the General Manager placed $37,599,50 to the credit of the President, which the latter afterwards withdrew and appropriated to his own use. It is contended that this transfer and the attempted ale of stock were not authorized by the Board of Directors.

HOME-MADE MIXTURE SHOULD BE USED PROMPTLY.

A well-known authority states that Backache and pains in the loins are only too often the danger signals which notizy the patient that something is wrong with the Kidneys, and warns every one to be careful, particularly at this period of the year, when the skin pores are closed, forcing the Kidneys to do double their work of filtering the impurities and poisons from the blood and system.

At the first sign of Backache or pain in the region of the Kidneys, or weakness and Urinary trouble, the following simple home recipe should be used. Any one can easily prepare it:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Any good prescription pharmacy will supply these three ingredients at small cost, which can easily be mixed by shaking well in a bottle. Few people seem to know the value of these common remedies in the treatment of the kidneys. This simple prescription, when taken as directed, will regulate the urine, clear up and remove sediment, overcome back pains and cleanse the entire kidney structure, correcting bladder troubles in just a little while.

Dr. Nelson flayed the indifferent attitude of people on this subject of graft. Indifference he declared was the colon baccile that always lead the way for the germ that did the work. The man who would stand by and see the public robbed could not himself have taken a very positive attitude towards God's commandment. In the first place, there was no public decay without personal degeneracy. Dr. Nelson referred sarcastically to the architect in he Harrisburg steal as one of the cigarette and whise bottle type, who considered it was the business of the common ordinary people to work and the extraordinarily clever fellows to work the workers. BRITISH ARMY AIRSHIP AFFORDS LONDON A SENSATION.

Sailed From the Camp at Farnboro' and Spent Some Time in the Neighborhood of the Cathedral and Government Offices.

London, Oct. 5 .- London to-night is talking of only one thing-the flight of the British army airship, Nulli Secundus, which to-day travelled to London dus, which to-day travelled to London of the metropolis, sailed around the dome of St. Paul's Cathedral, circled about a number of Gevernment buildings in the West End, crossed the river to Surrey, and finally descended on the grounds of the Crystal Palace.

The airship's 32-mile flight from Farnborough to London was accomplished in just a little over an hour and a half. Hundreds of thousands watched its progress through the city and the wonderful manoeuvres it executed. The airship crossed the Thames at Blackfriars bridge and headed for St. Paul's. As it neared the cathedral it was so low that the two passengers, Colonel Capper and Mr. Cody, could be clearly distinguished, and the propellers on either side of the car could be seen reyolving rapidly. Gracefully circling St. Paul's dome on an even keel, the airship was headed for the War Office. Its route was down Ludgate Hill, across Ludgate Circus and on from there over Fleet street and the Strand to Trafalgar square. The airship travelled at the rate of about fifteen miles an hour. The Union Jack fluttered astern.

Objection Filed to Several Recently Naturalized Voters, Who Will Have to be Decided by a Judge at Regina.

Prince Albert, Sask., Oct. 6.—The ele tion campaign is going on merrily. Both parties are hard at work canvassing and holding meetings in the outlying parts of the city. The chief incident of Saturday was the discovery on the part of the Liberals of an alleged piot to keep Liberal votes from being polled. The prospective voters expected to receive their final naturalization papers on Saturday, but an objection has been put in which ties them all up until the Judge can decide on the merits of each case. The fall court sits in Regina next week, and the Liberals claim the objection is merely a ruse to prevent men who are entitled to vote from exercising the franchise. On the other side it is stated that there are doubts as to the qualifications of some of the applicants for naturalization, and that it will only be prourday was the discovery on the part of uralization, and that it will only be pro per for them to prove their claim. Kier Hardie's Speeches Stirring Up Dis content Among Hindu Workmen— The Whole Country Disturbed— Series of Murderous Assaults on

Series of Murderous Assaults on Europeans.

Lendon, Oct. 6.—The Indian discontent has been brought vividly within the ken of the British public his week. It was no little shock to the average Englishman to be told that the condition of Eastern Bengal under British rul; was worse than that of Russia, and that the atrocities committeed there would, if known in England, provoke more horror than did the Turkish outrages in Armenia.

The Englishman rubbed his eyes and asked himself if he were dreaming. Then he saw that the author of these charges was James Keir Hardie. He knew Keir Hardie and did not attach any importance to what that ebullient labor leader said, and was at first inclined to dismiss the whole matter with good-humor, is the meant strike in both its misst he had not yet come. Then it was borne in upon him that the natives of India did not know Keir Hardie, and that the latter's statements of how he and the parties he represents in England would throw in their lot with their brown brothers might do inconceivable damage by fanning the flame of discontent into a conflagration. A feeling of uneasiness is taking possession of the country.

"Is there to be an outbreak in India?" is a question frequently heard these days. Generally the answer is in the negative, but the horizon is dark with possibilities. The whole country, with its teeming millions, certainly had been disturbed during the last few months; agreed to deal with the matter at one.

Hamilton got the ball shortly after, and a combination play by Burton, Glassford and Harper, who passed in the order named as soon as they were pressed, ended in the last named going over for a try. Smith failed to convert. Hedley forced Clark, of Dundas, to rouge shortly after, and in three minutes Glassford nailed Mallet in goal and forced him to sacrifice another point.

Montreal, Oct. 7.—The Montreal Rugby football team defeated the Toronto Argonauts Saturday afternoon on the M. A. A. grounds by seventeen points to eight, in the first game in the new Inter-provincial League, after a great battle, in which the visitors made a fine showing. Toronto, indeed, would probably have won but for the strength of the Montreal forward line, which is without doubt the finest aggregation that has represented the city for the past few years. For the opening game it was unsatisfactory, for neither team played the ball that was expected of them, the Argos' line being weak while the Montreal defence was absolutely ridiculous at times, playing like juniors.

Toronto arrived late. It was not till 300 that the game was called. Asked if Hamilton gained the ball from the kick and carried it close to the line on two bucks and a kick was tried. It was a good exhibition of football all through. The Tiger cubs won the game handily by a score of 32—10, and one other fact for them to feel proud of is that not one Dundas man was injured in any way, while the Dundas men had a cub down for the count every few minutes. The most serious of dirty play was in the last quarter, when Smith, playing full for the cubs, made an attempt to kick the ball down the field, when pushed. Clark, of Dundas, ran in game handily by a score of 32—10, and one other fact for them to feel proud of is that not one Dundas man was injured in any way, while the Dundas men had a cub down for the count every few minutes. The most serious of dirty play was in the last quarter, when Smith, playing full for the cubs, made an attempt to kick the ball down the field, when pushed. Clark, of Dundas, ran in and jumped right on him, blocking the kick and knocking Smith out.

Glassford would not see a brother cub abused that way, and he started in to make a mess of Clark. Glassford and Clark, were both ruled off. They were the only men put in charge of the penalty timer for the whole game. The cubs are a most promising looking team and look like sure things for the championship.

The line-up was as follows:

Carey muffed the pigskin, but Burton, of the locals, was on the job and fell on it. The cubs lost the ball on their second down, but got it back on their opponents' first, it being passed out for run to Norton, who dropped it. Glassford grabbed it and was downed before he could get started. Shortly after this Sinclair began to do individual bucking, and several times he gained four or five yards. The day was cool and cloudy, with no wind, and was favorable for football. Montreal opened the game with a rush and in three minutes Stinson had made a touch-down. The first half was in favor of Montreal. They played faster and more aggressive football at the outset. Toronto seemed almost nervous at first, and played on the defensive, but in tight places managed to save themselves owing to fine work by the halves, Flett doing splendid work at centre.

In the second half Toronto woke up and played championship ball, and right up till the whistle blew kept foreing their opponents. During the second half the ball was only twice on the Toronto side of the centre line, but one of those was for a touch-down by Reynolds.

Time and again Toronto had the ball on Montreal's line, and a touch-down seemed only the work of a few seconds, but the Montreal halves and full-back saved the situation every time.

The Toronto team was slightly heavier than their opponents, and the wings broke through Montreal's line almost at will. The Montreal halves are very quick and aggressive. Smaill, right half, fumbled very often, but his running and kicking were good while Craig and Russell shone as halves and left nothing to be desired. For Toronto Flett played a perfect game at centre. His fault seems to lie in trying to play the whole game himself. When he was injured and went off his absence occasioned a decided loss. His kicking was a treat to see and every punt counted for a gain. He is also a sure tackler. In tackling, Toronto had the better of the game, and also had the advantage in fast following up and on the wing line. Montreal's back division excelled, and in general the easterns were faster.

TEMPORARY STANDS.

Carpteners started at work this morning to put up extra seating accommodation for the crowd that is expected at the game on Saturday, when Montreal will me here for the first local game in the big league. That there will be a good crowd of rooters is a certainty, as many Toronto people have signified their intention of seeing the Montrealers again, having recollection of the fine exhibition the Tigers gave when opposed to a real fast team last fall. Judging by the game if Montreal on Saturday, the Tigers will have to go their best to win, but that every man is doing his best to get into shape is certain. Practices will be held every afternoon and evening during the week, and the signal work will be given a thorough drilling.

Dundas, Oct. 7.—The services in co nection with the 74th anniversary of the Dundas Methodist Church Sunday School began yesterday and were very interesting and largely attended. At the mornservice the pulpit was occupied by Rev. H. B. Christie, of the Simcoe Methodist Church, Hamilton, whose sermon was much appreciated. At the afternoon meeting, held in the Sunday School building, addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Christie and the pastor, Rev. T. J. Mansell. Vocal solos were sung by Mrs. (Dr.) Currie, (nee Sellery), of Singapore, India, and Miss Lottie Krompart. A motion song by the "Busy Bees" was a very pleasing feature of the service and was followed by the presentation of imperial diplomas and seals to the members who were entitled to them for regular attendance and efficiency during the year. In the evening the regular service was held in the church by the pastor. This evening the services will be continued in the Sunday School building, the programme for the occasion being a specially attractive one composed of singing recitations, dialogues, fancy drilk, etc. Many of the vocal selections will be contributed by Fred. and Reg. WEATHER NOTES.

The area of low pressure which was over Northern Saskatchewan on Saturday has moved very quickly southeastward to the great lakes, whence it is likely to move eastward into the St. Lawrence valley. The weather continues fine and moderately warm in the western provinces, and somewhat unsettled with occasional showers from Ontario to the Maritime Provinces. Cautionary signals are displayed at all lake ports.

THE FOREIGNERS.

Problem Before Hamilton Minister ial Association To-day.

Rev. D. G. Protich, of New York, who has been here for some days, representing the Upper Canada Bible Society, working among the foreigners, delivered an address to the Ministerial Association this morning. He says Hamilton has a very large foreign population that is not under the influence of the Christian churches, and he suggested that a Bible churches, and he suggested that a Bible woman, who can speak several languages be secured to work in the homes of these foreigners. While Mr. Protich can speak thirteen languages, he came across foreigners he could not converse with. To his knowledge there are 15 languages other than English spoken by Hamilton citizens. He also suggested that secular night schools for foreigners be established, so the children can be taught English and instructed in the laws of the land. The influence, he said, of the teachers would be for good. He gave some figures as to the number of people from different eastern countries. There are 700 Roumanians in the city, he stated.

The association decided to discuss the question of taking steps to get in closer touch with the Protestant foreigners at touch with the Protestant foreigners at the next meeting. The opinion was expressed that if law and order are to be maintained in the annex the city authorities must lend a hand. It is likely that the Board of Education will be asked to consider the question of opening night schools for the chidren of foreigners. Arrangements were made for holding religious service at the Sanitarium every Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. John Morton will speak on "The Indefinable in the Preacher and His Creed" at the next meeting of the association.
