Gallant Canadians Gained Objectives

Show Their Mettle in Victorious Struggle With Germans.—Progress of the War

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Since last report the Canadian Corps in France has carried Hill 70, covering approach to Lens, from northwest.

On the eighth-ninth of August, a small force consisting of an officer and twenty men, surprised one of the enemy's outposts in Lens and without loss to themselves accounted for the whole garrison.

At 4.25 a. m. on August 15, two Canadian divisions attacked the enemy's trench system on a front of 4,000 yards, from the Lens-Bethin road northwards to Bois Hugo.

Our final object consisted of a line of German trenches which ran east of Cite St. Elizabeth and Cite St. Mile, just west of the defences of Cite St. August and east of Bois Rase. The greatest depth of our objects from the old German front line was 1,500 yards. The southern half of the ground attacked was covered with the ruins of a group of suburbs of Lens, Cite St. Elizabeth, Cite Edouard, Cite Emile and Cite Laurent. The northern half included the rising ground known as Hill 70, together with Bois Rase and the western portion of Bois Hugo. The whole was defended by an elaborate network of trenches and barbed wire and studded with strong points and machine gun emplacements. Our infantry attack, supported by our artillery, was immediately successful.

By 6.40 in the morning both divisions had captured the whole of the German front line system to a depth of some five hundred yards, and were established on the line of their first objectives. After a short halt to enable the assaulting troops for the remainder of our objectives to pass through, the attack was resumed. Hill seventy was captured by assault, and less than an hour later the whole of our objectives were in our hands except for a short length of trench at the spot of our attack opposite Cite St. August. Here our troops were held up within a short distance of the enemy's trench line by heavy machine gun fire from Cite St. August, and the brick fields at this southern end. The attack on this position was delayed until the German machine gun emplacements should have been located and dealt with by our artillery.

Between 8 and 9 a. m. a series of counter attacks were delivered by the enemy's local reserves east of Cite St. Mile. These were all driven off by rifle, machine gun and artillery fire. At midday a counter attack developed north against the left flank of our attack. The enemy advanced across the open under intense fire and the attack collapsed with very heavy losses. An hour later, two other counter attacks in the neighborhood of Bois Hugo and opposite Cite St. August were similarly broken up.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The Germans made an attack last night in the Argonne region. Today's official statement says they were repulsed three times, suffering heavy losses.

London, Sept. 29.—British casualties reported during the month of September total 104,598 divided as follows: Officers killed or died of wounds 696 men, 13,302 Officers wounded or missing 2,151, men 83,509.

London, Sept. 30.—Eleven persons were killed and 82 injured in last night's air raid. The material damage was not great. Four groups of German airplanes attempted to attack London in the course of last night's raid, but most of the machines were driven off. Bombs were dropped in the northeastern and southeastern districts of London and at various places in Kent and Essex. The casualties are believed to be comparatively light.

London, Sept. 30.—A British report announces the capture on Friday of Mush Aldridge, in the region of Baghdad. The British attacked the Turkish main position in the region of Ramadiah, from the south, east and west and continued the attack Saturday, the enemy everywhere surrendering. The captures by the British include guns, ammunition and several thousands of prisoners, including Ahmed Bey and his staff.

London, Oct. 1.—British naval air patrols destroyed two enemy machines and brought down another says an official announcement. A Gotha also was brought down and is believed to have been damaged. All the British machines are safe.

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.

No Advance in 3 Years

With war-time prices so terribly high for nearly every article of food, it must be a particular satisfaction to those who love good coffee to know that there has been no advance in the price of Red Rose Coffee for three years—and the great increase in the sale of Red Rose Coffee this year shows that the price is appreciated.

People everywhere seem to be using much more coffee than they did before.

Red Rose Tea is economical on account of its superior quality—but Red Rose Coffee is economical both on account of its quality and price, a combination hard to maintain in war-time.

The lesson given by Sister St. Stanislas was a decided success. Insects A Teacher Should Know Wm. McIntosh, provincial entomologist followed with a most valuable illustrated lesson on Insects a Teacher Should Know. In closing he urged all teachers who wished to send to his office for lessons on any special insects, weeds, etc.

Public Meeting A public meeting in the evening was held in the same building; as were the previous sessions of the Institute. The programme was a most excellent one, being as follows: Instrumental Duet—The Misses Babineau. Address—Inspector P. G. MacFarlane. Vocal Solo—Miss Mary Kerr. Address—Mayor W. B. Snowball. Selection—Convent Orchestra. Vocal Solo and Chorus—Convent pupils. Address—J. L. Stewart, Ex-M. L. A. Vocal solo—Miss Lillian Shields. Address—Director R. P. Steeves. Address—Rev. Principal Roach of St. Thomas' College. Selection—Convent Orchestra. Patriotic Song, with violin accompaniment—Convent pupils. God Save the King. The vocal and instrumental was all of a high order and much appreciated. The address were timely and instructive, Mayor Snowball and Mr. Stewart speaking more particularly on the schools and educational conditions in Chatham, Mr. Steeves on the ideal Education, while Inspector MacFarlane and Principal Roach gave helpful suggestions to the assembled teachers.

Friday's Sessions The Institute opened its fourth session Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Co-operation The first address was one on "Co-operation between Parents and Teachers" by Principal Perley Quail of Millerton. Mr. Quail who is the president of a very successful Parish Teachers' Association, noticed appreciatively the growth of co-operation the world over, with the increased interdependence resulting therefrom. That the school should be a success there must be cooperation between the Principal and his fellow-teachers, and between the school and the home. Teachers should take a greater interest in the home life of their pupils, and more attention should be given in the home to the training of the children.

The teacher should visit often the homes of the pupils. By doing so he can find out facts that will help in his teaching. He agreed with Principal McLellan that "we are all born to be educators, to be parents, as we are not born to be engineers or sculptors, or musicians, or painters." It is part of the teacher's duty to help in the development or cultivation of the natural gift of teaching in the parents. A simple knowledge of the general principles and elementary truths of physiology and psychology is necessary for both parents and teachers. Teachers should make use of the press in bringing educational methods before the public. Much good may be done through the Women's Institutes and other social meetings.

The parents should visit the school, and cooperate with it in discipline, and in seeing that lessons are studied. The regular meeting of the teachers of the parish with each other and the parents would be of great help. The Derby Parish Teachers Association meeting at Millerton, was organized a year ago and has grown in membership from 4 to 8 or 10. The Teacher's problems are discussed, and the last meeting in June was thrown open to the parents. Such associations may include parents among its members. This has been found to be of help in bringing the parent and teacher closer together.

BRITISH ADMIRAL SAYS

ROYAL NAVAL CLUB, Portsmouth, England. Dear Sirs,—I have found Zam-Buk most reliable for healing cuts and abrasions; while for the relief of skin irritation it is invaluable. (Signed) RODNEY M. LLOYD, Admiral.

ENTIRE CREW PRAISES ZAM-BUG From Admiral to stoker, all grades of service praise Zam-Buk. Stoker Kingsnorth, of H.M.S. "Cochrane," says:—"I slipped and fell on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly frizzled the skin on my arm. At once the ship's surgeon directed the burn, but the injury would not heal owing to a lot of dirt from the pipe causing blood-poison. I was in fearful pain and didn't know how to get ease. For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments proved no good. Indeed, I got worse. I therefore obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first application, healing commenced; and a few boxes of Zam-Buk healed my wound completely." Zam-Buk cures eczema, ulcers, abscesses, ring-worms, bad legs, varicose ulcers, piles, cold sores, chapped hands, babies' sores, etc. All stores at 25c., or sent free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Teachers' Institute

"Education is the chief business of the State." Democracy must win in the present struggle. Democracy and universal suffrage will demand universal education. For a great cause our gallant boys are now dying by the thousands on the battlefields of France and Belgium. Blood based upon their great sacrifice, we see our noble British Empire rising most glorious and more mighty than before.

H. H. Stuart In discussing Principal Quall's paper, H. H. Stuart spoke, in part as follows: In order that the teacher may have the best opportunity to do his work:

The pupils should attend school regularly. Compulsory attendance, optional in all our districts, is in many places, through lack of proper enforcement, a joke. This is often due to carelessness on the part of the parent, but also often to the need of the parents for the financial assistance of their children before the latter are old enough to leave school. Child labor is a glaring evil. Making children work at too early an age undermines their health, stunts their minds and results in the weakening of the next generation, and if not soon checked, may destroy the nation. All children should have an equal opportunity in life. Parents too poor to send their children to school should be assisted to do so. Widows with children should not be compelled to part with their little ones or send them to work. They should be pensioned, according to their need, until their children are past school age.

Pupils sometimes lack books and apparatus—why not have the latter freely supplied them at the expense, as is done in many parts of Western Canada and the United States?

It is hard to interest some pupils. Lack of interest could largely be overcome by adhering to the curriculum in all districts so as to include Manual Training, Domestic Science and school gardening. While all children must be taught the same elements, the child early tends towards specialization, and should be encouraged to proceed along the line for which he is best fitted. Many pupils backward in other subjects will find what they like in manual work. These new subjects should be taught in all schools.

Most teachers have too many classes to attend to. They should not have more than two or, better still, more than one. All the advantages of town schools can be secured to rural districts by consolidation of neighboring villages. The pupils in such schools would be free from many of the temptations facing town pupils.

Some pupils—many of them—are physically defective. All schools need medical inspection. It is already optional in all districts, but adopted in none. It should be compulsory and universal.

Moving pictures—some of which are good and many not good, for children—should be more strictly censored and the law against young children going to the pictures unattended by their parents or guardians much more strictly enforced.

The governments that order the teachers to hold up tobacco in all forms, as well should see that the growth and importation of tobacco is stopped and the tobacco fields turned over to the production of food. But the Food Controller, who advises the housewife to economize, says nothing about stopping the use of tobacco. The tobacco business should be suppressed. What is the use of warning the boy against the use of tobacco when he sees a pipe, a cigar or a cigarette in the mouth of nearly every man—prominent or otherwise—he meets? It would be the most stinging irony of history if we should lose this war because of our unwillingness to do without liquor and tobacco.

Democracy will not finally win unless it is founded on an educational system that not only aims to train and develop but actually does train and develop the child in the right way physically, mentally and morally, that not only professes to believe in equal opportunity to all but ensures that all have an equal opportunity.

R. W. S. Manzer Mr. Manzer, Manual Training teacher of Chatham, followed with a description of the good work done by the Parent-Teacher Association of Calais, Me.

Inspector MacFarlane Inspector MacFarlane recommended more visiting on the part of the teacher. He agreed that the moving picture censor must be more particular, and the pictures improved, and the children limited in their attendance at the Picture Shows.

He was greatly in favor of consolidation of schools. There were none in Northumberland or Restigouche, where there were lots of suitable locations. People are not yet willing to pay the price. He knew of only one school in this county that has a screen door and screened windows.

Nature Study Harland P. Hovey of Ludlow and Miss Nellie Stohart of Millerton gave excellent papers on The Study of Plants and Nature Study, respectively.

The report of the audit committee pronounced the Secretary-Treasurer's Accounts correct and a balance of $30.75 on hand. It was adopted. In the afternoon session Ralph W. S. Manzer gave a fine address on the Advantages of Manual Training.

Following officers were elected, on recommendation of the Nominating Committee: President—G. H. Harrison, Chatham.

Vice-president—Miss Jennie M. Fellows, Newcastle. Secretary-Treasurer—H. H. Stuart, Douglastown.

Additional members of Executive—J. D. Keane, Newcastle and Miss A. Cella Fitzpatrick, South Nelson. The Resolutions Committee—(Principals Keane and Quall) recommended:

(1)—Thanks to the Sisters of St. Michael's Academy for the use of their Assembly Hall and for the numerous courtesies extended to the teachers during their stay in town.

(2)—to the C. G. R.; (3) to Provincial Entomologist and Director R. P. Steeves for their able lectures; (4) That this Institute record its entire sympathy with the movement lately begun for effecting an increase in the government's allowances to teachers and that it record at the same time its disappointment at what it regards as the temporary non-success of this movement, as well as its firm determination to collaborate, at all times, with the other institutes of the Province in any effort to realize the object of the said movement; (5) That this Institute record its deep satisfaction at the growing popularity of the subjects of Manual Training and Agricultural Science, and that it hopes the time is near at hand when these subjects will be incorporated in the curricula of all the schools of the county; (6) That this Institute tender its sincere and hearty sympathy to those of its members who have suffered bereavement through death of relatives since our last meeting.

Inspector MacFarlane urged attention to the teaching of physical education in all schools. St. Michael's Academy was very proficient in this branch.

As the next meeting of the Provincial Institute, which usually comes in June of every second year, will be next year in August, it was decided to hold the next county institute in Newcastle next term, the exact date being left to the Executive.

The business being finished the Institute, which was one of the very best ever held in this county, adjourned with the singing of the national anthem.

Film Fan Calls it "Superfilm"

Picture is Mighty, Gripping, Spectacular and Contains Genius of Great Actress

(By the Film Fan)

"Joan the Woman," the superfilm being displayed at the Happy Hour on Wednesday Oct. 24th, is like the great Joan of Arc was, inspired. But whereas we have learned to view the world's greatest woman as superhuman, "Joan the Woman" shows her as very human indeed—a woman suffering all the emotions of womanhood, but foregoing them all for France. Here is shown, not the sanctified leading of armies by a goddess but the suffering and travail of a woman to bear new life to a nation.

The picture is mighty, gripping, spectacular—as far above other pictures as Joan was above other women. In it is seen all the genius of America's greatest artists.

Geraldine Farrar, the Metropolitan Opera star, gave up her operative work for months to help in the creation of this picture, and the results have established her as one of the premier film actresses of America.

In "Joan the Woman" is all the tragedy and beauty of life. So truly is it staged and so universally fascinating is the life of the "Maid of Orleans" that we live the picture as it passes before us. The plot has very cleverly been so constructed that it connects the story with the present times.

The picture opens with a prologue. A young British soldier fighting on the western front discovers a strange sword of the XIV century type in one of the trenches. While he is examining it a call comes for a volunteer to blow up a certain enemy trench at midnight. The Briton falls asleep and before him passes the vision of Joan of Arc.

In this vision he is Eric Trent, a brilliant English captain fighting with his king to conquer France from Charles VII. He is wounded and a strange peasant maid, Joan, finds him and binds his wounds, saving his life. It is while she is examining his gauntlets that she sees the vision that takes her to the court as the destined Saviour of France.

In the first battle that she fights, Trent is captured. Following the victory, her only requests are that Trent be released and that the people of her village never be taxed. He pleads for a return of his love, and although her heart cries out for him she answers: There is love in each France.

Trent goes to the Duke of Burgundy who is an ally of England's. There one of his first duties is to lead a raid to capture the "Maid of Orleans." He pleads vainly to be released from the duty. He dodges the search, only to see her tried, tortured by the inquisition and finally burned at the stake.

He awakens with the message of Joan of Arc in his heart. It still lacks several minutes of midnight. He volunteers for the service and with the bomb sets out for the enemy trench. He dodges the search lights successfully till he is within a few hundred feet of the trench. Then it catches him. There are a dozen spurts of flame, and he falls. With a mighty effort he lifts himself and hurls the bomb into the trench.

A minute later there is a report at headquarters that the enemy trench is destroyed.

This bridging of the span of centuries, and the remarkably well chosen love interest that shows what this woman (who was too great to lose her identity as a woman) was like are touches that have made out of what would still be one of the mightiest pictures of screen-dom, a close, thrilling personal narrative. The plot is well woven, adding to, rather than taking from, the dignity of the woman. It is a climax of picture making.

Major Cecil J. Mersereau, Hon. Capt. Wm S. Godfrey, and Lieut. Andrew Baldwin of Chatham, and Sergeants Dudley McComb of Douglastown, all of the 28th Kliffia, Valcartier, are visiting their homes.

The bean supper and concert held at the Kirk under the management of the Ladies' Aid Society, was socially and financially a huge success. A large number patronized the tea room. Home made candy was on sale. The fish pond and other centre of attraction drew large crowds. The concert room was crowded, and the program excellently rendered. Those taking an active part in the entertainment were Mrs. J. N. Clark, Mrs. Elroy Percy, Mrs. Will Edge, the Misses Florence Harvey, Katie Mills, Zena Walls, Muriel Manderson, Verna Edge, Thelma Johnston, Gertrude Edge and Hazel Johnston and Stan Simpson, Willard Hornbrook, Will Hierlily, Byron Johnston and Wesley Dempsey. Military Service Act, 1917

Explanatory Announcement by the Minister of Justice

THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT has received the assent of the Governor-General and is now part of the law of the land. It will be the people can be relied upon to support it. Resistance to its enforcement, however by force or act must and will be repressed, as resistance to any other law in word must be.

Reinforcements under the Military Service Act immediately required

It is the intention of the Government immediately to exercise the power which the Act confers and to call out men for military service in order to provide reinforcements for the Canadian forces. This is necessary since the military authorities report that the reserves available or in sight for reinforcement will shortly be exhausted unless this step be taken.

First call limited to men between 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917

The present call will be limited to men not in the schedule of exemptions who were unmarried or widowers without children on 6th July, 1917, and at least twenty years of age, and were born on or since January 1st, 1883. Of this Class all those will be entitled to conditional exemption whose services in their present occupations, agricultural, industrial or other, are essential in the national interest, and whose business or domestic responsibilities are such that serious hardship would ensue if their services be required. Conscientious scruples based upon a prohibition of combatant service by the articles of faith of the religious denomination to which men belong will also be respected. The men first required to serve will consequently be those who can be called upon with the least disturbance of the economic and social life of the country.

Civil Tribunals to deal with exemptions

Questions of exemption will be determined, not by the military authorities or by the Government, but by civil tribunals composed of representative men who are familiar with local conditions in the communities in which they serve, who will generally have personal knowledge of the economic and family reasons which those whose cases come before them have had for not volunteering their services and who will be able sympathetically to estimate the weight and importance of such reasons. Provincial Appellate Tribunals constituted from the existing judiciary of the respective provinces will be provided to correct mistakes made by Local Tribunals, and a Central Appellate Tribunal for the whole of Canada, selected from among the present Judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, will be constituted in order that identical principles may be applied throughout the country. In this way every man may rest assured of the fair and full consideration of his circumstances and the national requirements both civil and military.

Proclamation will announce the day

A proclamation will issue calling out the bachelors and widowers referred to and fixing a day on or before which every man must report for service to the military authorities unless he has before that day made an application for exemption.

How to apply for exemption

Applications for exemption may be made by written notice on forms which will be available at every post office, and will be transmitted free of postage. They will not, however, be required to be made in this way, but may be presented by the applicants in person to the exemption tribunals. The cases of those who have given notice in advance will take precedence, and appearance in person will therefore be likely to involve considerably more inconvenience and delay to the men concerned, so that it is recommended that advantage be generally taken of the facilities for written application.

Ottawa, September 11, 1917.

Exemption Tribunals in all parts of Canada

The local exemption tribunals will be constituted with the least delay possible, consistent with the selection of representative individuals to compose them, and the instruction of the members in their duties. There will be more than one thousand of such tribunals throughout Canada, each consisting of two members, one of whom will be nominated by a Joint Committee of Parliament, and the other by one of the Judges of the existing Courts. Every effort will be made by the wide distribution of tribunals, and by provision where necessary for their sitting in more than one place, to minimise the inconvenience to which men will be put in obtaining the disposition of their cases.

A Registrar will be appointed in each Province, who will be named in the proclamation and to whom enquiries may be addressed. Each Provincial Registrar will transmit to the appropriate tribunal the applications for exemption which have been submitted in advance of the sitting, and men who have sent these in will not be required to attend the tribunals until notified to do so. Other applicants should attend personally on the tribunal without notice.

How to report for service

Men who do not desire to claim exemption will report to the military authorities for service either by mail or in person at any time after the issue of the proclamation. Forms of report by mail will be found in all post offices, and, like applications for exemption, will be transmitted free of postage.

Early report advantageous

No man who reports for service will, although he may be medically examined and passed as fit, be required to go into camp or join a battalion until after a day fixed by the proclamation sufficiently late to permit of the disposition by the local tribunals of most, if not all, of the applications for exemption which may come before them. Thus no advantage will be gained by delaying or disadvantage incurred by prompt report for service on the part of those who do not intend to apply for exemption.

Facilities for immediate medical examination

Immediately upon the issue of the proclamation, medical boards will sit at every mobilization centre for the examination of men who report for service or who, subject to their right within the time limited to apply for exemption, desire to have their physical fitness determined in order to allay any doubt as to their physical condition, or to know definitely and in advance whether there is a possibility of their services being required. Certificates of physical unfitness issued by these Medical Boards will be accepted without any further investigation by exemption tribunals where they sit. Men found physically fit who have not reported for service may nevertheless apply for exemption on any of the prescribed grounds, including even their physical condition if dissatisfied with the Medical Board's conclusion.

Notice to join the colors

As reinforcements are required, notice to report to the nearest mobilization centre will be given from time to time to the men found liable and passed as fit for service. Disobedience of such notice will render the offender liable to punishment, but punishment for failure to report for military service, or to report subsequently for duty when called upon, will be imposed ordinarily by the civil magistrates; offenders, however, will remain liable for the performance of their military duties notwithstanding any civil punishment which may be imposed and will be liable to military punishment in cases in which civil proceedings are not taken.

Watch for the Proclamation

Notice of the day appointed for the making of a claim for exemption or for report for military service will be published as widely as possible, but, as no personal notice can be given until the individuals called out have so reported themselves or claimed exemption, men possibly concerned are warned to inform themselves with regard to the day fixed, since neglect may involve the loss by them of important privileges and rights.

CHAS. J. DOHERTY, Minister of Justice.

HYMENAL

EARLE—DOAK
 A very pretty wedding of much local interest was solemnized at St. Thomas Presbyterian Church Doaktown, at 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening of last week, when Rev. Chester Moore Earle, pastor of Noel, N. S., was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Annie Harvie, eldest daughter of Mrs. R. H. Doak.

The church was beautifully decorated by the bride's girl friends with evergreens, autumn leaves, cut flowers and potted plants. The bridal party stood under an arch and a huge bell of sweet peas. They entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss McDougall of Black River, cousin of the bride. The bride came in on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Thomas Flett of South Nelson, and wore a beautiful gown of white silk crepe de chine with trimmings of Georgette crepe and embroidery, also an embroidered and beaded jacket, Juliet style and caught with orange blossoms; she carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Doak, who was gowned in rose paillette silk, with trimmings of Georgette and lace, and carried a bouquet of bouquets. The groom was supported by Rev. W. S. Irving and the nuptial knot was tied by Rev. A. J. MacNeil.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Earle have gone for a trip through New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. The bride's travelling suit was of navy serge, with large hat to match.

The bride, who is a very popular young lady, was the recipient of many useful and costly gifts, in all recent cut glass, linen and china; also substantial checks. The out of town guests were Mrs. Earle and Miss Earle from St. John; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flett, South Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. McDougall and Miss McDougall of Black River; Mrs. Alcorn, Dr. and Mrs. Black River; Miss Ullock, Black River; Mr. Cameron, Black River. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome silver set; to the bridesmaid a pendant, and to the organist a brooch. The bride received a beautiful wrist watch from the members of St. Thomas Presbyterian Church, where she had been a faithful worker for several years. She also received a gift in silver from her Sabbath school class.

a Present for the Soldier

YOU can depend on the mothers to think of the little things which will be appreciated by the boy in the camp or trenches. And one article which many a mother has given her boy at the last moment is Dr. Chase's Ointment.

There are so many ways that Dr. Chase's Ointment is useful to the soldier that it becomes invaluable to him. It is used for chafing and skin irritation resulting from heavy clothing and equipment. It brings comfort to sore, scalded feet after the long march. Applied to wounds it prevents blood-poisoning and heals the skin. And it should never be forgotten that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most effective treatment obtainable for piles, a distressing ailment which results from contact with the cold earth, whether in camp or trench.

The Canadian soldiers have been well supplied with this standard ointment, and, judging by their many letters of appreciation, there seems to be few things more keenly appreciated. Just try it in the next parcels you send to the front.

Hurrah! How's This
 Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezeone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store; but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of freezeone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up a corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—the hair falls out fast. Presentation To Rev. L. Beaton

The Rev. L. Beaton preached his farewell sermon on Sabbath, the 23rd September in Blackville and Quarryville. His people expressed in every way the deepest sorrow for his departure from their midst, not only his own people but all denominations with whom he lived in the best of friendship. Coming as a stranger among the people five years ago Mr. Beaton made a host of friends on the Miramichi River. Previous to his departure a delegation from Renous and Quarryville called upon him when the sentiment of the people in that section of his congregation was expressed by Mr. Hood of Montreal, manager and overseer of the Free Stone quarry at Quarryville. Not only was the sentiment of the people expressed in words but in deed, one party presenting Mr. Beaton with a beautiful toilet set and another with a purse containing $25.

On the eve of Mr. Beaton's departure he was called upon at the home of his son Dr. John Beaton when a number of his intimate friends representing the Blackville congregation presented Mr. Beaton with a purse containing $75 and Mrs. Beaton with a purse containing $25 accompanied with the following address:
On behalf of the members and adherents of the Presbyterian church of Blackville we have come to express our regret at your departure. You have been our pastor for over five years ministering to the needs of the people in the fullest sense, ever keeping before our minds the Message of Christ's Gospel. The social as well as the spiritual welfare of the community has been benefited and uplifted by your presence and influence. You have shown a kindly interest in our pleasures and success,

Business and The Draft Law

Employers of Labor Express Pleasure at Early Chance to know what Employees are Liable for Service

Business men throughout the country are expressing their satisfaction with the system of Medical Boards for selecting men for military service of which early notice has been given by the Military Service Council in the press of Canada. The system will enable employers to tell in a comparatively short time how many of those in their employ are liable to be drafted, and what men are not concerned in the call. The physical test is, of course, the most important. Meanwhile, the economist "sharps" are busy speculating as to whether introduction of method and order in the system of removing men from industries of national importance, or rather the advent of a system of leaving such men at their tasks, will have any particular influence upon the trend of prices for the necessities of life. Some hold to the opinion that since labor difficulties have caused much trouble in a number of industries, safeguarding the labor of such industries must help to keep prices down. However, the question is generally regarded as a complicated one which must wait for solution in future developments.

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy." — Mrs. Wm. Green, 332 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.
If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Kept Good by the Sealed Package

Rally Day In Sunday Schools

Rally Day Services were held in the Sunday schools Sunday afternoon, a good program being carried out.

In the Methodist church the exercises which included the giving of diplomas to 9 graduates from the Primary class into the Junior and from the Junior into the Intermediate were interspersed with addresses by Assistant Supt. H. H. Stuart, Rev. Dr. Squires and Supt. T. A. Clark in the evening 12 of the Sunday School scholars were admitted to church membership.

In the Baptist church F. E. Locke presided; the Missionary Exercises were led by Miss Ella O'Donnell, and an address was given by Miss Grav.

The Presbyterian services were postponed.

Weak Boys And Girls

It is a mistake to think that anaemia is only a girl's complaint. Girls probably show the effect of weak, watery blood more plainly than boys. Delayed development, pale faces, headaches, palpitation, and a feeling of listlessness call attention to weak blood in the case of girls. But many boys in their teens grow thin and "weedy" and have pimples on the face, showing that they have not enough blood. The anemic boy is just as likely to become a victim of consumption as the pale, breathless girl with her headaches and worn-out look. Let the boy in this condition catch cold and he will lose his strength and his health becomes precarious.

To prevent serious disaster to those of the rising generation, let both boys and girls be given the new rich blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are famous the world over for making. When giving these pills watch how soon the appetite returns and how the languid girl or the weak boy becomes full of activity and high spirits. Remember that the boy has to develop too, if he is to make a strong hearty man. Give both the boys and girls a fair chance to develop strongly through the new, rich blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. You will then see active boys and girls, instead of weakly children around you.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be obtained by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MANAGER RICHARDS LOOKS FOR BIG SUCCESS WITH "THE SEVEN PEARLS"

"I consider 'The Seven Pearls' as entertaining and as well produced as any of our best serials," said Manager Richards of the Happy Hour in discussing the Pathé production he will present on Oct. 22nd. "Miss Mollie King plays the leading role in this serial. Creighton Hale, who became popular with serial fans by his work as the 'Laughing Mask' in 'The Iron Claw,' is the leading man. Leon Bary, well known on the French and American stage as the leading man for Sarah Bernhardt, who made a success as the 'heavy' in 'The Shielding Shadow' and again enacts the role of the villain.

"The story by Chas. W. Goddard, a well known dramatist who wrote 'The Perils of Pauline' and collaborated with Mr. Reeve in 'The Exploits of Elaine,' is one that will interest American audiences. It is romantic and thrilling, it has been well produced.

Interesting Letter From France

The following letter has been received by Charles Veno, of Weaver's Siding, from his brother Pte. George at the front:

Somehow in France, Aug. 23rd, 1917
Dear Brother:—Just a few lines to say I am well, hoping to find all the same.

Well, Charles, we are out of the line for a rest now. We had a pretty hot trip this time. Poor Nat Campbell was wounded. Harry is real well. I saw one of the boys of the 26th Battalion, and he said Herman Arbeau was missing.

What do you think of the war anyway, or do you hear much about it? I think perhaps it might be over this fall for we are giving them hell at the present time. I really often wish you were here. For when our guns open fire you would think the world was coming to an end. The shells are falling like rain, for we have to go at them and kill as many as we can, and then some. If we struck a man over there we would have to pay $20 fine but it is reversed over here; you can kill all you like. It seemed very hard at first but I don't mind it now. It is just like going to the woods, only a little more dangerous, for when the guns open you can't see anything only men flying in the air.

When we get up to the Germans they put up their hands for mercy, and if you let him go as soon as your back was turned he would get you. When they put up hands to me that is the time I will go for them. I say you are too late; you should have put them up a year or two ago.

They don't like the Canadians, and I don't blame them, for we don't like them. When I go home if a man says fight to me I will go the other way. I think it is only fun to fight without a gun.

Well, Charles, I guess I have said enough. Write a long letter when you write. Answer soon. Love to all. Bye-bye, from your loving brother, GEORGE.

Note:—Since it has been learned with regret that Pte. George Veno has been wounded and admitted to the Red Cross Hospital.
