BEAVER

"BEAVER FLOUR" is the unfailing friend of the housewife. It saves her the trouble of keeping two kinds of flour—one for bread and another for pastry. Being a perfect blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat, it gives to bread the rich, nutritious properties of the former and the lighter qualities of the latter, making a large white loaf of delicate texture and exquisite flavor. Pastry, biscuits and cakes, made with BEAVER FLOUR cannot be excelled. Ask your Grocer for it today.

CHAPTER XIX.

TOLD IN THE FIRELIGHT.

"Myrtle!"
"Well, Lynette?"
The two girls were alone in Lynette's large, comfortable room, after Prentiss had gone, sitting before the big wood fire, toasting their pretty bare, pink toes before retiring to bed. They had been sitting silent several minutes, the lamplight and firelight shining on the pretty picture of the white-gowned girls, Myrtle braiding up her beautiful golden locks for the night, and Lynette staring gloomily into the leaping flames.
She started all at once, as from a painful retrospection, and cried out:
"Myrtle!"
"Well, Lynette?"
Lynette moved her chair closer to her friend, whispering:
"I'm going to tell you something perfectly dreadful!"
"Oh, dear! what can it be?" cried Myrtle, her big, purple-blue eyes dilating with curiosity.
"It's a great secret, mind, and I may be doing some one an awful wrong; so, if you think so, you must never, never tell on me."

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleriver, Que.—"Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the uterus. I suffered like a martyr and thought often of death. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital, and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I went back home much discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise."—Mrs. EMMA CHATEL, Valleyfield, Belleriver, Quebec.
Another Operation Avoided.
Poughkeepsie, N.Y.—"I run a sewing machine in a large factory and got all run down. I had to give up work for I could not stand the pains in my back. The doctor said I needed an operation for womb trouble but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did more for me than the doctors did. I have gained five pounds. I hope that everyone who is suffering from female trouble, nervousness and headache will take the Compound. I owe my thanks to Mrs. Pinkham. She is the working girl's friend for health, and all women who suffer should write to her and take her advice."—Miss TILLIE BROWN, 345 St. Poughkeepsie, N.Y.
Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

prison, and the other hated one to have you promise of marriage. It is surely enough to drive one mad, is it not?"
"Yes, darling, it is, and my heart aches for you. But surely the all-seeing God will pity and save you. My advice to you is to break off this marriage, even though at the eleventh hour."
"I must—b, I must! for I can never marry 'him now that these terrible suspicions haunt my mind. For, Myrtle, I haven't told you all yet!"
"Go on, Lynette. I am deeply interested."
"Of course you know how bitterly Prentiss hates Belcourt. That was jealousy, of course; and he had done everything that he could against him, even to poisoning Uncle Jack's mind. Well, you remember that after we rode out, and you told about Mrs. McDonald coming here to identify the dead girl as her daughter. Have you forgotten how ill he appeared for a moment?"
"I remember it perfectly. I was telling about the girl's locket, and he started and turned so pale that I cried out in alarm," said Myrtle.
Lynette was trembling very much as she proceeded:
"When we reached home that afternoon, Prentiss, on leaving us, lighted a cigar and burned off the end of his mustache. He pretended it was an accident, but it was not—it was not; for I saw him do it, and it was by deliberate design."
"Good gracious!" ejaculated Myrtle; and she caught the girl's cold hands in her own and held them tenderly, while she waited for the next words.
"The next day he came here with his hair arranged differently and his mustache cut off. Then I began to loathe and fear him, for I said to myself: 'Why was he so frightened to bear about that dead girl's locket, and why did he hasten to alter his appearance, unless he feared the recognition of the dead girl's mother?'"
"Very true!" cried Myrtle excitedly.
"Well, and then he went off to Cincinnati, pretending business; but I don't believe a word of it—not a word! It was just to keep out of that woman's way!" cried Lynette, in an accession of angry excitement.
"It certainly looked that way," agreed Myrtle. "And, oh! my darlings, how hard you have thought and studied on this subject, to reason it out so cleverly!"
"Oh, Myrtle, I had so much at stake you see, and my mind was busy all the time—all the time—till I was nearly crazed. I wanted to tell you all, but I feared even you would laugh at me, and think I exaggerated everything. So I waited—waited—and I was almost in despair when that wonderful thing happened last night."
"Wonderful!" echoed Myrtle.
"Yes, Myrtle, you heard him when he first came up and took me for a real apparition. He recoiled in horror, and cried out: 'Madge, Madge, my God!'"
"Yes, yes; I heard him plainly—and so did Vida."
"But did you notice the tone of familiarity in his utterance of that name? 'Madge, Madge,' he cried so wildly, as if he knew and feared the owner of that name!"
"I remember it," assented Myrtle.
"Was it not very strange, for if he had never seen or known that girl, why should he speak to her thus, even supposing he believed it to be her ghost?"
"Yes, why?" echoed Myrtle, aroused to the strangeness of the occurrence.
Lynette remained silent a moment, with her eyes fixed on the fire, then half-whispered to her friend:
"If I were Graham Prentiss may Heaven forgive me, but—but—as I confronted him last night after he uttered those words, the suspicion flashed through my brain that it was he who had killed the girl, and then—because he loved me and hated Mr. Belcourt, and desired to lose me—he turned the crime to account by hiring Jason Ball to swear he saw the killing done by Belcourt. All this flashed through my tortured brain, and in a fury of indignation I threw prudence to the winds and shrieked out madly, 'Murderer!'"

"Yes, I heard that awful word, and I saw him go down before it—go down as if it had been a dagger in his heart!" exclaimed Myrtle.
"Did it not look like guilt?"
"Yes."
"And his effrontery afterward in coming home with us, and trying to overcome the suspicion he had engendered—was it not monstrous?"
"Yes."
"Then, Myrtle, you believe that I am right in my suspicions—that Prentiss is a fiend, and Mr. Belcourt a martyr?" cried Lynette, the tears stealing down her pale cheeks.
"Yes, Lynette, I do believe it. It is wonderful what a case you have worked up in your mind against Prentiss. It impresses me strongly, although I do not know now a lawyer would look at it."

"Sluggish Liver Action" Causes indigestion, constipation and bilious headache—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the cure. "Sluggish-liver has been my trouble," writes Mrs. I. P. Smith, Paris, Ont., "and I have been greatly benefited by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I have taken medicines from several good doctors, but none ever did me the same amount of good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I could not keep up and do my work if I did not use these pills when the bilious spells come on, and I have recommended them to many. Dr. Chase's medicines were about the only kind that came into my father's house 40 or 50 years ago, and they were always satisfactory."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are prompt, definite and direct in their action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, and are therefore the most effective treatment obtainable for indigestion, indigestion and constipation. 25 cents a box, 5 for $1.00, at all druggists, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Why should I buy a roofing that needs to be painted every little while to keep it tight, when, for the same money or less, I can buy AMATITE which needs no painting?
The outer surface is composed of red mica and mortar, which makes painting unnecessary.
With an Amatite Roof on your building you end your roofing troubles. When you buy a roofing that requires frequent painting you begin them.
Smooth roofings that require painting are a nuisance and an expense. When you buy them, you buy trouble—not protection.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By MYRTLE GARDNER

My small niece Rosalie had been kept awake several hours one night by a mosquito in her room.

In the morning her mother was comforting her and armed with the which hand, was hunting for the little warrior's wounds which seemed to be surprisingly few.

"Why, Rosalie," she finally objected, "he doesn't seem to have bitten you more than two or three times. I don't see how that could have kept you awake so long."

"But mother," protested Rosalie, "he buzzed so. It wasn't what he did so much as what he acted as if he was going to do."

It seems to me that poor, little, sleepy Rosalie quite unknowingly described an outlook on life that does more harm than all the other species of mental cross-eyedness put together.

For the most part, it isn't what our troubles do to us that makes us so unhappy. It's what they act as if they were going to do.

We could stand the few real attacks they make upon us, they fear real injuries we think we are going to suffer.

Suppose you could see all the mental energy your possible troubles have cost you in one total, and that which your real troubles have taken out of you in another—which do you think would be the largest?

The first, I fancy, for most people don't fret at all about real troubles—they just endure them.

It's buzzing, not bites that keep us awake of night times and makes us unhappy daytimes, and makes us thin and sad and sour looking, and uses up the precious vitality that we need for other purposes.

And remember this, all you who want to succeed in the business of life—and I suppose that is equivalent to saying everybody—he who is constantly fighting ghosts is seldom capable of fighting any of the real battles on the highroad to success, which require all a man or woman's full powers.

Buster Brown has a resolution on the subject of the needless unhappiness caused by the buzzing of that mosquito which so seldom bites, which I'm sure you'll appreciate, whether you are a victim or not.

Resolved: that worry is work. People who worry have got a life job with no pay envelope on Saturday. Worry is crossing the bridge before you come to it, and while you're on it and after you're over. Tige says he never thinks about it until he gets there and if the bridge is down he swims the creek. I guess we can't worry if we stop saying "If."

Buster Brown.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgment.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medicinal roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrapper. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this fine, pure remedy of known composition. Ask your druggist. They must know of many cases made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Household Notes.

- To mend rubber use soft kid from an old glove, and paste the patch to the gum with automobile paste. The leather adheres better to the gum than a gum patch.
- A delicious sandwich filling is made from one part chopped almonds and two parts of shredded or grated celery with a dash of salt. Moisten the mixture with mayonnaise.
- Nothing is more helpful in dusting polished floors than the absorbent broom bag, which can be purchased for a few cents or may be made at home from a piece of cotton flannel.
- The white of an egg beaten in lemon juice and slightly sweetened is a simple remedy for hoarseness. The mixture should be slowly dissolved in the mouth before swallowing.
- When nuts have become too dry to be good, remove the shells, let stand over night in equal parts of milk and water; then dry them in the oven, and they will be fresh and good.
- Melted beef drippings or tallow can be used in the place of paraffin over the top of jelly. Be sure when cold to cover the space around the edge where it has shrunk away from the glass.
- Remove grease stains by saturating the spots with alcohol rather than benzine, as the alcohol will not leave the ring around the spots that is left by the benzine. Wash with cold water.

Neuralgia and Sciatica

Caused great suffering for 25 years. Nothing effective until Dr. Chase's Medicine was Used.

"It affords me pleasure to speak favorably of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills," writes Mr. W. T. Collins, Morpeth, Ont. "I had been a sufferer for 25 years from sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia, and tried nearly all the remedies advertised without one particle of benefit until I began the use of Dr. Chase's medicines. Before I had finished two boxes of the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I noticed considerable benefit in my condition. I have so much confidence in these medicines that I have recommended them to dozens of my friends."

In severe cases of this nature the combined use of these medicines brings results which are both surprising and satisfactory. The Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of kidneys, liver and bowels, while the Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the nervous system. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Cascarets Cleanse Liver and Bowels

No Pile-ness, Headache, Sick, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Coated Tongue or Constipation.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Head-aches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which acids and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give you a thorough cleansing inside and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret dose and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

If the seats of caned chairs are sagged down, wash well on the bottom side and when nearly dry rub the bottom over with water in which a little shoe has been dissolved. Let them dry bottom side up.

The most satisfactory method of marking clothes that go out to the laundry is with a rubber stamp, bearing your name. The stamp is inexpensive and may be had with a pad of indelible ink for a few cents.

Man Hunt in Manitoba.

Desperate Kidnaps Pretty Young School Teacher.

Snow Flake, Man, Sept. 13—A fierce man hunt and deadly skirmish resembling Indian warfare has been underway for the past twenty-four hours, ten miles between here and the United States border. This sensational situation is the climax of the kidnapping of a pretty young school teacher, Eleanor Gladys Price, by a desperado believed to be Henry B. Wilson alias Bill Miller, of Hannah, N.D.

During the night a force of 300 pursued the fugitive through the bush and many shots were exchanged. At sunrise he was surrounded in a dense wood.

Hoodlums picked up the trail five miles from the school house where he rascal captured the girl on Monday afternoon. She returned home a frightful condition last night.

The populace is in an infuriated state and the score of constables detecting the pursuit will be unable to "shoot the man if he is caught."

The United States officials just over the line have sent a posse into Canada from the south.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms Can be Cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing." Often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

Would Not Salute Stars and Stripes

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The public school authorities of New Jersey were called upon yesterday for the first time in the history of the state to deal with the situation arising from the refusal of Catherine Audsley, a 14 year old girl, of Perth Amboy, N.J., to salute the American flag or take the oath of allegiance during the exercises in her school. The state school laws compel the salutation of the flag and the taking of the oath of allegiance to it every morning. The girl refused to comply with this law and was sent home by the school superintendent, M. F. Audsley, the girl's father, is a British subject.

Newfoundland and Reciprocity.

(Halifax Chronicle.)

There is one point in connection with the present discussion, which though little in our columns by an esteemed correspondent, has not received the attention its great importance demands. It will be remembered that some years ago a treaty—commonly known as the Blaine-Bond treaty—was negotiated between the United States and Newfoundland. It was much less extensive than the present bargain, but so far as concerns the point now made, was similar, in that it provided for the free admission of Newfoundland fish into the United States, in return for the concession of fishing privileges by Newfoundland.

So far as the United States and Newfoundland were concerned, the treaty was concluded. But at this point, Canada woke up to the seriousness of the situation. It was recalled by all parties, without any political distinction, that if this treaty were allowed to go into effect, it would entail the most disastrous consequences for our great fishing industry.

There was never a suggestion that such a treaty was a thing not worth our having, to say nothing of being a distinct detriment to us. On all sides, it was admitted that if our sister Colony was allowed to make such a treaty separately, it would not only be a great gain to her, but a most serious detriment to us.

The Canadian Government did act quickly and firmly. It represented to the Imperial Government that it was most improper and unfair to the Maritime Provinces of Canada to allow such a treaty to be made by Newfoundland independently. It was a harsh contention, as respects our sister Colony, and she argued with a great deal of force that it was most unfair and dog-in-the-manageish of Canada to prevent her from obtaining a favor from the United States, merely because she would like a similar favor for herself, but could not get it. However, the influence and representations of the Canadian Government were so strong that they prevailed and the Imperial assent to the treaty was withheld. Newfoundland's resentment was, and still is, both deep and loud, and, considering the circumstances, perfectly natural.

Some ten years have elapsed and now Canada is asked to ratify an agreement which, so far as fish is concerned, is even more favorable to her than the Blaine-Bond Treaty was to Newfoundland. Would it have been believed possible that party frenzy could have so maddened the opponents of the Government that they are asking the voters to reject the very thing which ten years ago they were insisting was so advantageous that Newfoundland could not be permitted to have it unless we were allowed to share in its benefits? Yet so it is.

But this is the least important aspect of the case. Newfoundland is still more anxious for a reciprocal arrangement, respecting fish, with the United States, and is watching the course of events in Canada with the keenest interest. A gentleman well acquainted with the island informs us that nothing would please her people better than the rejection of Reciprocity by Canada, because it would mean the immediate resumption of negotiations with Washington. Our foolishness would be her great opportunity.

Of the result of those negotiations, in the present frame of mind of the Washington Government, there can be no doubt. A treaty would be entered into at once. Canada could make no opposition. With what face could she oppose Newfoundland obtaining something which she had just declared was of no value to her, and which she did not want?

Before six months were over, our fishermen and fish exporters would find themselves in competition with a Newfoundland that had free access to the American market.

Of the result of that competition, there cannot be a moment's doubt. Newfoundland is our most formidable rival in the fish business at present. So great are her natural advantages in that respect that even now some of our fish houses, notably the great firm of N. & N. Smith, find it to their advantage to have branches in that island and transact a large part of their business there.

But with all of the American markets, including Porto Rico, open to her and closed to us, her superiority would be so overwhelming that there would be only one course open to our people—namely, to transfer themselves and their industry bodily to our sister Colony.

There is no possible room for misapprehension or doubt. Every vote against Reciprocity is a vote to transfer our whole enormous fishing industry, in all its branches, from Nova Scotia to Newfoundland as a free gift.—Halifax Morning Chronicle, Sept. 16.

Public Notice. CENSUS, 1911.

The following Regulations in connection with the Census are published for general information:—

1. The father of a family, if alive and present, is the proper authority to give information of his family; if the father is dead or absent, then the mother or person in charge shall speak for him.
- (a) Provided that any child over sixteen years of age objecting to be classed in religion by the parent may be permitted to name his or her religion to the Magistrate;
- (b) That the wife, boarder or servant, or other person of full age present in a house, may speak for themselves, and can have alterations made by applying to the Court of Revision.
2. No person who has been continuously absent from Newfoundland for eighteen months immediately preceding the time of taking the Census shall be included in the Census, but this shall not be taken to exclude (1) Any child who is absent at school; and (2) Any head of a family who is employed out of the Colony, but whose family continues to reside in the Colony.
3. Every person resident in the Colony at the time the Census is being taken shall be included without reference to the length of time during which such person has resided here. In other words, the name of every actual and bona fide resident must be included.

Housing Problem.

In the Executive Council Chamber last night was held a meeting of the Assembly and Civic representatives of the city. The Public Health Officer, Dr. Brehm, the Secretary of the Municipality and press representatives also attended.

On motion of Sir Edward Morris the Mayor took the chair. The latter outlined the problem which confronted the city in this respect and the urgency of the solution. The Health officer had reported one hundred houses unfit for habitation, and his survey was by no means complete. The Mayor considered the old railway line as a suitable location, which would have the advantage of city water and sewerage connections and comparative proximity to the places of employment. He strongly urged that approaches should be made to employers of labor to take up the question of the erection of houses for their employees.

Sir Edward Morris said he had discussed the problem with the Mayor and with the President of the Reid Mtd. Co. Other calls upon himself and the Mayor had prevented the holding of a joint meeting at an earlier date. He favoured the idea of approaching the larger employers of labor and suggesting to them that they do something to relieve the situation. Mr. W. D. Reid had expressed the willingness of his company to erect 10 houses, and it was probable that other employers would do something. He did not think the East End Railway track suitable, but he favoured empowering the acquisition of suitable sites by legislation if necessary. He instanced what Lever Brothers, the Cadburys and Pullmans had done abroad, pointed out what had been done at Grand Falls and by the Ropewalk Co.

Mr. Kent, M.H.A., saw the urgency and some of the difficulties of housing. He was in general sympathy with the making of an effort for the betterment of the housing of those who were living in unfit and unsanitary habitations. He would do whatever he could do to forward the movement.

Mr. Kennedy, M.H.A., favoured the enforcement of the law compelling landlords to keep houses in a condition fit for habitation.

Mr. Shea, M.H.A., had been acquainted with the problem from the discussion of it by the City Council. Such discussions had been held off and on for many years. The only practical proposition before the meeting was the suggestion to interest employers, and that suggestion he favoured.

Councillor Martin favoured the erection of new factories in the suburbs to relieve congestion in the city. He also pointed out some of the difficulties of landlords.

Councillor Myrick believed that with the co-operation of Government, municipality and philanthropists, strong flat roofed houses of the kind needed could be put up at from $400 to $500 each.

Councillor Mullaly strongly supported scheme and especially the erection of dwellings in suburbs and the extension of tram system.

Dr. Brehm expressed his sympathy with movement and endorsed what he had reported previously to the Council as to the unimproved condition of many houses. There were, so far as he had estimated, some 200 houses inhabited which were not fit for habitation.

After some further discussion the following resolutions were passed:—

RESOLVED: that this meeting is of opinion that the best way at present of dealing with the unsanitary condition of many of the houses now occupied by the working classes, would be to encourage the building of a number of up-to-date model workmen's houses by the heads of industrial concerns in this city.

RESOLVED: that a Committee, to consist of the Premier, the Mayor, Mr. Shea, Mr. Mullaly and Mr. Myrick, be appointed to wait on the heads of the various firms and industrial concerns with a view of interesting them in the matter.

Received Promotion.

Mr. T. Hanrahan, of Placentia, who has been in the Royal Bank of Canada for 8 years past, has been transferred to the branch Bank at Halifax. This is a great promotion for Mr. Hanrahan and means a substantial advancement for him also. It will also mean a step up for the other clerks, and Mr. R. Cross will take Mr. Hanrahan's place. Mr. Hanrahan leaves to-morrow for Placentia to see his friends and goes to Halifax by the next Florizel.

Is In New York.

We learn to-day that a letter was recently received by friends of his in the city saying that Thos. Evans, who committed a series of robberies here, is now in New York, is settled down and is working there. It will be remembered that some time ago Evans and another prisoner, named Bussey, escaped from the Penitentiary, the latter being recaptured and the other escaping.

Will Parsons Coming.

Messrs. Hearn & Co. to-day had a letter from Hon. Jno. Harris saying that he with Mr. Hepburn, F. J. Morrish and Miss Mary Morris will leave Liverpool for here by the Carthaginian on the 23rd inst. There will also come in the ship Mr. William Parsons, photographer. Will's many friends will be glad to see him as he has now been away for 9 years.

Marine Notes.

The Devonian, 46 days out from St. John's, is due at Brazil with fish from A. Goodridge & Sons.

The Checkers, 31 days out is due here from Oporto.

The Olinda will load for market to-morrow at Monroe & Co's.

The Mayflower, Capt. Hallyard, will sail for Oporto to-morrow with 3,000 tins of fish for A. Goodridge & Sons.

Train Notes.

The west bound express arrived at Port aux Basques on time.

The local arrived from Carbonear at 12.15 p.m. to-day bringing 40 passengers.

FIONA'S REPAIRS.—The S.S. Fiona is getting a thorough overhauling on the R. N. Co. Dock for a five years re-classing. All the copper sheathing is being taken off. The work is being done by Mr. R. C. Hopkins, master shipwright. The ship will come off next Friday.

33000 CASES LOBSTERS.—We learn from good authority that the local catch of lobsters for the season over the whole Island is 33,000 cases which is much in excess of last year. The crustacean is larger all round than that of last year and the price averages $17 per case.

FELL OVERBOARD.—At 12.30 p.m. to-day a fireman of the s.s. Bonaventure, under the influence of liquor, fell overboard. He succeeded in swimming to a wharf pile, to which he clung like grim death. A boat from Harvey's wharf put off and rescued the man, who was much exhausted from his immersion.

PATRIDGE SHOOTING.—A large number of sportsmen went out partridge hunting by the 8.45 train this morning. Amongst them were Messrs. Bowring, Clapp, Bartlett, three officers of H.M.S. Brilliant. Messrs. Kent, Hutchings, Jackman, King, Payne, O'Rourke, Monroe, McNeil, Power, Parrell and 40 dogs.

Lost $5 Dollars.

On Friday a young man named Chafe came from Petty Harbor with $5 in his pocket in notes and some loose change. The money was in a purse, and during the evening he indulged somewhat too freely and became overcome with his potions. He remembers being in a house towards which a narrow lane led, and he was later picked up on the Promenade in the West End and brought to the station. On being released he found that his purse and the $5 had vanished. He believes that it was stolen from him in a house which he thinks he entered, and the police are looking into the matter. The man brought the money here to buy provisions, etc., for the winter and the loss to him is irreparable.

Recovering.

Miss Christabel Ryall, daughter of Mr. S. Ryall, of Anderson's, who had been stricken down with typhoid at Placentia while there on a visit to friends is now out of danger, and will be able to return home soon, thanks to the kind attention of Dr. Lynch and her aunt, Christabel did well in the C. Family of Tobacco Millionaires.

Death of Mr. H. O. Wills.
We regret to announce the death of Mr. Henry Overton Wills, a member of the great tobacco family, which took place yesterday at Kelston Knoll, near Bath.

Mr. Wills, who was nearly eighty-three years of age, was a son of Mr. H. O. Wills, one of the founders of the firm of W. D. and H. O. Wills, of Bristol, the elder brother of Sir Frederick and Sir Edward Wills, and cousin of Lord Winterstoke. The three brothers and Lord Winterstoke have all died since the beginning of 1909, and all have left immense fortunes. Sir Frederick Wills left nearly £3,000,000, and Sir Edward Wills's fortune amounted to £2,580,095. The estate of Lord Winterstoke, who died last January, was provisionally sworn at £1,000,000.

Princely Gifts.
Mr. H. O. Wills, whose death is now announced, also derived a large fortune from the family tobacco factories, and he gave princely sums to various institutions at Bristol, where he was born. It was chiefly through his munificent gift of £100,000 that the University of Bristol was established.

He was made a freeman of his native city three years ago, and he was chancellor of the university, but failing health has prevented him from taking an active part in its work. Another of Mr. Wills's benefactions was £10,000 to the Bristol Convalescent Home, opened by Queen Victoria.

Mr. Wills's eldest son, Mr. George A. Wills, succeeded Lord Winterstoke as chairman of the Imperial Tobacco Company.—Daily Mail, Sept. 2.

Newspaper Controversy Has Fatal Results.
Havana, Sept. 11.—Ernesto Mendoza, editor of El Tomba, made good the name of his paper yesterday by killing Rudolfo Fernandez, editor of the Guines De Rumbou. Both papers are published weekly at Guines, about 40 miles from Havana. The men met in a street of that town and Fernandez attacked Mendoza with a cane. The latter drew his revolver and shot Fernandez. The trouble arose over a newspaper controversy.

Points Needing Care.

1. Have a strong iron length of flue piping fixed to the opening left for it on the side or back of the stove. Unless this is done the fumes from the meat cooking in the oven escape into the kitchen and house. The pipe can be carried out into the open air, or into some chimney.

2. Sometimes an objectionable smell may be noticed in a house where a gas stove is used. This may be caused either:
(a) Because the oven shelves, sides, door, etc., are dirty and greasy.
(b) Because the gas has "lit back," as it is termed; that is, through some sudden draught, or banging the oven door, or applying the match the instant the tap is turned on, the gas has "lit back in the air-chamber of the burner.

The result is that the flame will be yellow, instead of bluish; there will be a peculiar roaring sound made by the gas; the burner will become blackened and sooty; there will be but little heat, and an unpleasant smell given off.

If the gas does light back, turn off the tap, or taps, turn them on again slowly, and allow a little gas to escape before applying the match. Sometimes it has to be re-lit several times for some reason or other.

Fell Over Precipice.

Field Marshal Lord Methuen met with his most thrilling adventure, not on the battlefield, but on the Alps, when he and a friend were mountaineering. A storm burst on them just as they had reached the summit of Dome des Michabel.

For seventeen hours they fought it, and, though starving and stiff with cold and fatigue, held their ground. Then a flash of lightning caused Lord Methuen to make a false step, and fall over the precipice, but the guide to whom he and his friend were fastened was quick enough to plant his staff in the snow and enable himself to resist the shock of the fall. For a time Lord Methuen remained suspended in mid-air, when any moment might have been his last. He shouted to his comrades to cut the rope and save themselves. But friend and guide, by a superhuman effort, dragged him back to safety. That was Lord Methuen's last experience in mountaineering.

LONDON, Sept. 18.

The Bill providing for the payment of members of the House of Commons slipped through Parliament almost unnoticed and undiscussed. It was passed at the actual moment when the attention of the Commons was fixed upon the final struggle with the House of Lords over the Lords Veto Bill, and when chaos existed both as regards the railway strike and the Moroccan situation. One member wrote to the press that he had returned his draft to the Treasury with the request that no more drafts be sent him so long as he might remain a member of Parliament. Another member sent his stipend to the principal authorities to be applied to the reduction of the taxes in his constituency. Others simply returned the drafts to the Treasury with the request that no further remittance be made. Others again presented their drafts to particular charities. Magnus suggests that 158 radicals who raise and don't approve of payment, apply their combined salaries to the reduction of the taxes of the very poor, or the endowment of universities. Sir Max Aitken, speaking at Manchester, said that many reports were circulated about him now that he had the honor of representing Lancashire constituency. He denied that he had cornered cotton and thereby interfered with the Lancashire cotton workers. He characterized as a lie the story that he had bought shares in the Canadian Cement Company for seventeen million dollars and sold them at a profit of fourteen million dollars. Sir Max concluded by saying that he would not touch a penny of the money paid him as a salary by the Government.

Harbor Grace Notes.

The schr. Rose May, owned by the Messrs. Stewart, of Bell Island, while on the way from this port to the island on Saturday, mis-stayed near Foxes Point and went ashore, becoming a total wreck. This is the schooner we noticed some time ago as driving from her moorings and getting on the Point of Beach. It was with considerable trouble she was got off then, and now she becomes a total wreck on the southernmost point of our harbor.

The C. C. C. attended Mass in the Cathedral yesterday morning. The laity turned out in good numbers. It is very gratifying to all our citizens to see these church parades of our Father's Brigades. It must tend to make them better men in every way, and their guardians and drill instructors will never know what good has been accomplished in this way. Be attentive, boys; yours is the advantage.

The King Edward Brigade also turned out yesterday morning and attended service at the Kirk. About 50 of the laity were present and listened most attentively to the very able discourse prepared for them especially. Speaking from the words "What your hands findeth to do, do it with your might," the Rev. Mr. Coffin addressed the boys—perseverance and punctuality being particularly placed before them. The danger of cigarette smoking was also referred to, and we are sure the laity will not soon forget the good words spoken to them by the rev. gentleman. A very pretty anthem was rendered by the choir—"Whither Pilgrims are ye going?" A quartette by Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Archibald, Miss McKinnon and Mr. Max Duff was also well rendered and much appreciated. It was entitled "Though your sins be as scarlet," &c. The service will long be remembered by those present.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

I often think what I'd achieve if I possessed ten million bones! How I would comfort those who grieve, and still the sound of human moans! I'd built a big hotel for tramps, where they might rest, with payment, naught to pay; I'd give town children summer camps in CHARITY tangled wildwoods far away. I see a thousand pleasant ways in which to help my fellow man; if I ten million bones could raise, you wouldn't find me shy a plan. And while I dream such dreams as that, which give my soul a fuller life, some neighbor comes to pass the hat, to help old Quigler and his wife. "Misfortune's camped upon your shack," my neighbor says, "misfortune grim; old Quigler's flat upon his back, his wife is worn out, nursing him." "Oh, chase yourself! Go, jump the fence!" I cry; "I'm weary of that tune; I gave old Quigler twenty cents three years ago coming June! I'm busy thinking up a way to benefit the human race; if Quigler's busted, as you say, the poorhouse is his proper place."

Cab Fares and the Lost Book of Euclid.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—I have very carefully studied the List of Cab Fares, which you published in your paper of Saturday last—and I must seriously admit, I don't understand them yet, perhaps I am stupid, but they are certainly too deep for me. I have never made a study of mathematical science! Euclid was a great author who flourished in Alexandria during the reign of the first Ptolemy, B.C. 300—285. He is said to have founded a school. But we find no record in history that he ever had anything to do with the preparation of a scale to regulate cab fares—Euclid, was good on Data. Divisions of Superficies, treatises on Harmony, Optics and Catoptrics, the Phenomena (Celestial) etc., besides a work on Porosities, and others now lost. Until the lost books of Euclid are discovered, our city fathers should give to the public a plain simple tariff that everybody can understand and still be a paying one to the cabsmen. I am not going to review the long list which you published, but would point out, $6.00 for all day—what is meant by all day. There are 24 hours in a day—what is an afternoon, when does it begin and end. Mr. Mayor? to regulate a cab fare properly in this town—it must either be so much per mile, or so much per hour. Let us divide the day into twenty-four hours, 12 hours single fare and 12 hours double fare. Within the Municipal Limits 20 cts. minimum fare, with luggage 50 cts. 7 a.m. to 12 p.m. $1.50 per hour; 7 a.m. to 12 p.m. $1.80 per hour with luggage. After 12 p.m. to 7 a.m. double fare. Shopping and visiting $1.00 per hour. In the above arrangement you have perfect simplicity, without luggage it figures out at 2 cents per minute, and with luggage 2 cents per minute. At six miles an hour, the above figures are at 20 cts. and 30 cts. per mile. After midnight it is double. It seems to me, Mr. Editor, that it will be almost necessary to have two scales of fare, one for the Municipal Limits, and one for the 12 mile limit. In the meantime I submit one for general information, that should appeal to the public as simple and easily understood. I would suggest to the Council to get all the information they possibly can, before deciding.

CITY FARE.
20 cts. (minimum) with luggage, 50 cts.
7 a.m. to 12 p.m. $1.20 per hour.
7 a.m. to 12 p.m. $1.80 per hour with luggage.
After 12 p.m. to 7 a.m. double fare. Shopping and visiting $1.00 per hour, or proportion thereof.
Mr. Editor if you could inform me what is a cabman's day for $6.00 we can then take the second schedule up for the 12 mile limit.
Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

Americans Buying Fish

The Gorton Pew Co. of Gloucester, the past week or so have a large schr. at Fox Harbor, P. B., buying fish at that place and neighbouring localities. She will take all the green fish there and all that may yet be caught, and the price paid is $3 per cwt. green, which would average about $6.10 per pt. dry. She filled up with dry last week, and after discharging in Gloucester will come back again for more fish, visiting other parts of Placentia Bay.

Treasure-Laden Ship Goes to Bottom.

SEATTLE, Sept. 14. — When the steamer Ramona foundered and sank off Spanish Island, Alaska, last Sunday night, she carried down with her $150,000 in gold bullion from the Treadwell mine, consigned to San Francisco. The ship lies in water that is usually smooth and it is believed that the treasure will be recovered.

General Strike ON IRISH RAILWAYS.

Complete Tie-Up at Queenstown and Cork.

Special Evening Telegram. DUBLIN, To-day. A mass meeting of railway employees was held last night and a resolution was adopted in favor of a general strike on the Great Southern and Western, the Great Northern, and the Midland Great Western, the three principal railways in Ireland. So serious do the authorities regard the situation that the Dublin regiments, absent on practice, have been ordered to return to the city. Little violence is yet reported. The Dublin mounted police are guarding the railway stations. The question of increase in wages for shorter hours does not enter into the present trouble. The strike is due to the refusal of the three railways to accede to the demand of their employees that the railways should decline to handle consignments of coal from firms. Involved in disputes with their employees, the company being entirely unable to handle the incoming supplies. At Queenstown yesterday, the whole staff of the station, except the Station-Master, quitted their work at one time. The same thing happened at Cork, completely tying up the traffic.

More Trouble in China

Special Evening Telegram. PEKING, To-day. The Anti-Railway Loan movement has given rise to scenes of an increasingly dangerous character and the Government, concerned over the recent meet of the anti-loan agitators in Hong Kong resolved to organize and strengthen its position in the provinces and to have the Peking palace and the residents of officials protected by extra guards.

A Railway Die-Hard.

Special Evening Telegram. LONDON, To-day. Lord Claud Hamilton, Chairman of the Great Eastern Railway has declared his belief that the settlement of the recent strike by the appointment of a Railway Commission was inopportune. His personal desire was to fight it out. He was satisfied that four days more would have seen the termination of the strike, for soon the men would have deserted the strike leaders and hurried back to work. Under no circumstances would he recognize the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants. Since the Socialist element has obtained a majority in the Executive Councils of the Trade Unions and become aggressive and militant, threatening great danger to the liberties of the industrial population and to the commercial prosperity of the country.

McMurdo's Store News.

TUESDAY, Sept. 19, 11. Colds, which are likely to be prevalent during this damp weather, can usually be checked or prevented altogether by the use of our Formalin and Cinnamon Lozenges. These lozenges have great detergent and antiseptic qualities, and destroy the germ which causes inflammation of the mucous membranes of the nose and throat. Price 25c a bottle. Muscular and nerve pains of rheumatic or neuritic origin are promptly relieved by the use of McMurdo's Chillie Paste. This paste is one of the most efficient counter irritants and rubefacients to be had. It is equally valuable for cramps, "growing pains," etc. Price 25c a bottle.

Still Unheard Of.

The young man John Fitzgerald of Barnes Road, who was reported missing to the police last week, has not been heard of since. A man who was on A. J. Harvey & Co's. promise when the Adventure was leaving says that he saw him on the deck of that ship. If he is on board Capt. Couch would not trouble about wiring as to his presence on the ship unless asked. This was not done of course, if the man went in the Adventure he will return in her. WORK PROGRESSING.—Work on marine railway dock at Harbor Grace is progressing rapidly and a large number of men are now employed on it. Hundreds of piles are already driven and it is hoped to have the dock open for business it is said by November.

Anglicans Will Seek Union.

London, Ont., Sept. 14.—The General Synod assembled the Church of England of the Dominion of Canada last night passed a resolution to seek union with other churches. The resolution was adopted after a long debate which, commencing in the afternoon session, occupied the major part of that session and most of the evening. Rev. Principal Rexford of the Montreal Diocesan College gave the following resolution which was passed unanimously: "The General Synod places on record its earnest desire for Christian union, and as an end thereof recommends the clergy and laity to avail themselves of every opportunity of Christian co-operation, which does not involve a sacrifice of church principles. And that the clergy seek opportunity to confer with their brethren of other communions concerning the principles of church union." A resolution that the delegates to the 1912 Synod at Vancouver be assessed $10 to help defray the continuing expenses was carried, also that delegates expenses for meals while travelling be limited to $2 per day. A message was received from the House of Bishops which read in brief: "We view with great anxiety the need of official religious instruction in the public schools in most of the Provinces of the Dominion the necessity of religious training as a basis to good citizenship and good morals was emphasized. A recommendation was made that parents give their religious instruction at home."

Why Not a Local World Champion?

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.—Just let me have a word in connection with local wrestling. How is it that we cannot have a good contest in connection with our own genuine Newfoundlanders, who are training from the end of the year to the other with strangers who come from all over the world? If reports are true, some of our local talent has repeatedly in practice put to the mortals who have taken hours of so-called hard work to be put there from a spectator's point of view. Now we have in our midst half a dozen or more clubs which can produce the best possible calibre of men possible to imagine, such as Neville, Haytor, Marshall, Kavanagh, Stiek, Goodland, Stafford, Dunn, Cullen, Moxbridge and others. Let us have an amateur night, and then have the best man tackle the champion. Now we have the belt with us, it's up to us to try and hold it. Why not have a champion wrestler from Newfoundland? We have the stock. Come to the front, boys, and don't let it go. Yours truly, H. B. CHAFE. St. John's, Sept. 19th, 1911.

It is said that the firm of Murray & Crawford of Hr. Grace has purchased a large steamer to be engaged in the seal fishery as are the Ventures and the Florizel, Stephens and others. The ship, it is said, is a large one, comparatively new and well found in every respect, and we hear that she will be about the size of the Adventure, if not larger. To effect certain necessary alterations, repairs, about $100,000 will be expended on the ship and she will be delivered to the firm in the early winter. After coming from the seal fishery each spring, she will be engaged freighting in southern waters.

Scotch Heather.

The genuine Scotch heather has been found this week growing in great abundance near Caplin Bay and Ferryland. In one spot the hillside is covered with it. Mr. W. Solater says that the plant is not indigenous to our soil, and that it was brought to Caplin Bay accidentally by a Scotch seaman who was wrecked in a vessel there about 80 years ago. He saved his bed which was stuffed with Scotch heather. Halfway on the road to Ferryland he found the load too heavy and resolved with true Scotch economy to save the sack. He cut it open with his knife and threw the contents out on the path. The wind did the rest and accounts for the fact that the country side is covered with the "bonnie, bonnie heather," to-day.

The Dockers' Point of View

Mr. Ben Tillett and Mr. Blatchford Tell What the Strike Meant.

Thanks finally to Mr. John Burns, President of the Local Government Board, the great strike at the Port of London, which threatened to break out afresh, has been settled, and the great industries of the river side are once more hard at work.

There is a bitter account of what the strike meant to those who organized it by Mr. Ben Tillett in the Clarion, a paper which has a circulation of over 60,000 a week.

It Grew Out of Despair.

"It just grew out of despair; the very madness of despair; almost hysterically the human cry of protest broke out," says Mr. Tillett. "We smothered it for a month, we leaders, we dictators, for we had not realised the real resentment and stubborn determination of the men."

"The employers scoffed at our exasperation. We simply told them what the employers thought of them. The men grew restive, then angry, and then the thought came to them like an inspiration; they would no longer labour. Sukilly, by scores of thousands, they left their work. The work stopped—dead. Milk, ice, eggs, meat, vegetables, fruit, all manner of foods and necessities lay there, out of the public reach. The stream of London's food supplies were stopped. The Earl of Clapham, Lady Clara, Baron Houndsditch, Lady Fozzle, and Sir Isaac Rubens found the stream damned, and damned the stream; but it had stopped. The grand hotel, the West End shop, the patent stores, the busy market; M.P., councillor, peer, artist, man of letters, K.C., suddenly missed the things that had been so cheap—Labour's outpourings."

"The folsom of Dumbdrudge, the benison of the horny hands had been wont to flow like the sun and the rain, rhythmically, clock with the clock of the planetary bodies. Food came in the course of Nature. The slave knew his place, and the parasite knew his place; there was an ethereal beauty in such order; and things were so cheap. All at once the river stopped; the tide failed to rise; the empty barrows, the unheated engines, and the motionless cranes along the bank sides of the deserted docks.

What the Press Did.

"The action of the Press is typical. The Press might scold, and rant, and sneer; but the Press wanted paper! What would the world do without its halfeppenny oracles? What could the oracles do without paper? What would the advertiser say? The Press swanked and blustered and bluffed; but the Press did not go to the Government, nor to the troops, nor to the captains of industry for its paper; it went, to the Strike committee of the working men. The Press, being a thing of wind and words, understood that wind and words will not lift and load and carry tons of paper reels; that must be done by hands; common, hard, vulgar hands. So the Press permitted of Tower Hill, and craved permission of Mob law. It was a lesson; it was a take-down. It was, as the Press too well perceived, a portent. The Press swallowed the dose, but did not like it; made the most damnable faces, said rude words about the paid agitator, and the tyrannical Sansculotte, lording it on Tower Hill. But the Press had felt a draught.

How the Strike Began.

"The history of the strike is interesting. We started our organisation a year ago in Copenhagen; we licked it into shape about six months ago in London by the formation of the National Transport Workers' Federation. The dead heads and the waiters said it was impossible; but they came along, muttering failure. The transport workers' unions took up the idea, paid their fees, claimed a share in the deliberations, and then we sprung the claim of the docker for 8d. an hour by day and is an hour by night on the astounded employers."

"Twenty thousand dockers, six thousand stevedores, six thousand lightermen, six thousand coalers, six thousand wharf workers, four thousand granary men, forty thousand farmmen, and ten thousand others joined; there was no work for tens of thousands of others. Transport was choked, the life circulation of trade was clogged. There are more men killed to the thousands in transport occupations than are killed in the twenty thousand of the average trades. But we have won."

Speaking in Southwark Park on Sunday, Mr. Ben Tillett said "that never had a strike been won as this had been. Most of them had gained a 20 per cent. increase of wages, and they were on the way to becoming an organisation that could stop the entire work of the Port of London within an hour. Statesmen had come down to settle the strike with greater concern than they would have come down to settle a war with Germany."

"The If Tremendous."

Mr. Robert Blatchford, the Editor of the Clarion, in his own paper, thus gives his opinion as to the moral of the Dockers' Strike:

"This moral," he says, "has evaded the highly trained and ingenious intellectuality of Fleet Street.

"If the workers would stick together they would be irresistible. If that is what I call 'The If Tremendous.' A tremendous 'If' indeed."

"Now! Can my honourable confederates of the honourable Press see my drift? What is the moral of the strike? A hint of what would happen to London in time of war? No. The moral, put into the shape of a Sphinx-question, is 'What would happen to England if the workers could stick together?'

If Men Stick Together.

"What made the strike so remarkable? Why was it so sudden, so spontaneous, so successful? Why did it so alarm the classes and the Press? The answer may be given in one word: Federation.

"The various trade unions were federated. They stuck together.

"This London strike is the first battle of the new army of Democracy; it is the first great victory; but it is not the last.

"The workers have votes enough to return three hundred members to Parliament. They have money enough to run a daily paper.

"The strikers are simply availing themselves of the lessons taught by the most superior and class authorities on political economy," adds Mr. Blatchford. "Is not self-interest the strongest motive of mankind? Then why not of the docker? Do not low wages, irregular employment, and dangerous work cause suffering and loss to the wives and children of the dockers? Do the other classes care a hang, or lift a finger to help?"

Liberty of Contract.

"And is not the golden keystone of the glorious arch of our faultless industrial system 'liberty of contract'? Who dare question the Briton's right to bargain? Let the worker strike for higher wages; let the employer lock him out to compel him to take lower wages; and let the devil take the hindmost. There we have the great commercial and industrial charter, which has made proud England what she is," says Mr. Blatchford.

"And if for once in a way the golden rule works out so that the docker is not the hindmost, what remains to be said?"

Cab Fares.

THE CABMAN'S SIDE.

Dear Sir.—The cabman and his charges have been the subject of a lot of discussion the past few days. Being one of the oldest cabmen in the city at present, I will, with your permission, Mr. Editor, give our side of the story and let you decide whether you think by reading the same of the newspaper articles that have lately appeared. Twenty-five years ago, Mr. Editor, I as a young man started in the business with a square body wagon, and the whole outfit did not exceed $200; but since then, in order to cater to the general public and meet the demand of the times, we have improved on them from year to year, and to-day every cabman plying in the city has a turnout that cannot be excelled in any part of the world. This talk of the cabman and his charges is started every summer by a lot of so-called tourists who arrive here from American cities. Some of these visitors are not to be classed with others, because I have often driven the better class and they understand and often told me how our horses and carriages stand up under a lot of hard work on the other hand I have driven on the cheap-lack crowd and the were afraid to venture outside the sight of the steamer in case they would lose their dinner or their tea. Now, sir, with all the improvements that the cabman has made, his fares are just the same as in the days of the old square body, with a few exceptions, because to-day there is a fiercer rivalry between the cabmen and one is trying to exceed the other so as to have the best fare. I do not think it fair to say that a day's not would not pay as well as in olden times with less expense we would get our $4.00. When the street car can no longer run, when the horse and the auto is no longer used, the cabman stands upon the street, called upon to drive friends everywhere that are impossible to any time to bring a clergyman or a doctor to some sick or dying friend, or to some far-off lonely home.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I do not think it fair to say that the cabman has the interest and attention the care of citizens, wives and children in their keeping, and which they so jealously guard, should not be subjected to the unjust and unfair criticism as to which has been made in the columns of our local journals. Everyone of my number, as a cabman, as well as myself, has a reputation, a character and a standing, and we consider our calling as honorable and as honest as any other occupation in the city.

THE CABMAN'S SIDE.

Dear Sir—The cabman and his driver have been the cause of a lot of discussion the past summer. Being one of the oldest cabmen in the city at present, I will, with your permission, Mr. Editor, give our side of the story and will leave it to the intelligent public to decide whether we are such desperados as one would think by reading some of the newspaper articles that have lately appeared. Twenty-five years ago, Mr. Elton, I, a young man started in the business with a square body wagon and the whole outfit did not exceed $75, but since then, in order to cater to the general public and keep abreast of the times, we have improved our cabs from year to year, until today every cabman plying in the city has a turnout that cannot be excelled in any part of the world. This talk of the cabman and his charges is started every summer by a lot of so-called tourists who arrive here from American cities. Some of these visitors are not to be classed with others because I have often driven the better class and they would probably tell me how our horses and carriages stand such hills and roads while on the other hand I have driven the cheap-jack crowd and they would venture outside the sight of the steamer in case the wind was their dinner or their tea. Now as for the improvement that the cabman has made for his last 25 years in his turnout, his prices are just the same as in those days of the old square body with six seats. Because to-day there is a healthy rivalry between the cabmen and he is trying to excel in order as to have the best horse or carriage. Ten dollars a day now would not pay as well as in olden times as with less expense we would get our job. When the good of summer time is over, when street cars are no longer run, when the horse is no longer heard, the poor hounded-down cabman of long ago is called upon to drive, freights over roads that are impassable—many times to bring a clergyman or a doctor to some sick or maybe dying person in his lonely home.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I do not think it fair or just that men who have the interest and oftentimes the care of citizens, wives and children in their keeping, and which they are to be paid for, should not be subject to the unjust and unfair criticism as that which has lately appeared in the columns of our local journals. Everyone of my brother cabmen as well as myself, has a reputation as a character and a standing which we consider our calling as honest and as honest as any other occupation in the city.

S. COLE, Cabman,
57 Farlane Street.

Rain Was Boom.

Lumbermen generally say that the rain fall of the past couple of days and night was a great boon to people of their class. The waters of the lakes and rivers, such as Red Indian and Lloyd's lakes, where lumbering is carried on to a great extent, have risen very much and the drives of logs will be facilitated as a result. Several small mills which closed down recently owing to shortage of water can now resume operations again.

They Suffered Much.

Several young men who belong to the city and who are still living in camps at Nagle's Hill and in other parts of the country suffered great inconvenience as a result of the rain storm Sunday night, yesterday and last night. The camps were flooded in most cases and their clothing saturated as well as the bedding on which they slept. Most of them are now quitting this mode of living and will not resume it until the arrival again of the "good old summer time."

Giving Up Cape Fishery.

Last week most of the Fox Harbor and Placentia boats used the fishery at Cape St. Mary's, and only a few are still prosecuting it. The weather of late has been more or less stormy, and for sometime past there has been a great scarcity of bait. These conditions impelled the men to quit for this season. The fishery at the Cape has been a poor one and far below that of last year.

Makes the Hair Beautiful.

At last a remedy has been discovered that will positively destroy this pest Dandruff.

Dandruff is caused by germs as accepted by every sensible person. Dandruff is the root of all hair evils.

SALVIA will kill the dandruff germ; and improve Dandruff in ten days, or money back. 50c. a bottle.

Young Though Old.

Laxatives Which Help You to Carry Youth Into Age.

Expect a good long, useful life. Hold your thoughts persistently. Simply refuse to grow old by counting your years or anticipating old age. Refrain from all kinds of stimulants and sedatives; they will shorten your life.

One of the best preventatives of old age is enthusiasm and interest in the work of the day.

Keep in the sunlight; nothing beautiful or sweet grows or ripens in the darkness.

Avoid fear in all its varied forms of expression; it is the greatest enemy of the human race.

Nature is the great rejuvenator; her spirit is ever young. Live with her; study her; love her.

Avoid excesses of all kinds; they are injurious. The long life must be a temperate, regular life.

Contemplate beauty in all its forms, and you will drive everything that is ugly out of your life.

Keep mental cobwebs, dust and brain ashes brushed off by frequent trips to the country, or by travel.

Don't allow yourself to think on your birthday that you are a year older, and so much nearer the end.

Never look on the dark side; take sunny views of everything; a sunny thought drives away the shadows.

Be a child; live simply and naturally, and keep clear of entangling alliances and complications of all kinds.

Cultivate the spirit of contentment; all discontentment and dissatisfaction brings age-furrows prematurely to the face.

Keep your mind young by fresh, vigorous thinking, and your heart sound by cultivating a cheerful, optimistic disposition.

Don't live to eat, but eat to live. Many of our ills are due to overeating, to eating wrong things, and to irregular eating.

Don't be too ambitious; the cancer of an overhauling ambition has eaten up the happiness of many a life and shortened its years.

Throw aside your dignity, and romp and play with children; make them love you by loving them, and you will add years to your life.

Think beautiful thoughts—harmony thoughts, beauty thoughts, truth thoughts, thoughts of innocence, of youth, of love, and of kindness.

ARRIVED ON TIME.—The west bound express reached Port aux Basques at 10.20 last night. The Invermore left for Sydney at 11.45.

Sure and Steady!

THE great secret of success in business is to grow step by step and not expect to get rich in a jump. Who of our advertising friends could not with profit hark back to their school days and again learn the lessons to be derived from a close study of the snail on the wall "Sure and Steady wins the race!"

Now, this is what the

has been doing for its clientele of advertisers for many long years—bringing them business through its columns, and helping them get rich by the "Sure and Steady" process.

Tor's Cove Festival.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—Your readers will be looking out for some report from the races at Tor's Cove.

Well, the heavy rain put a damper on the race, but the sociable part of it was enjoyed to the full. It would take you out of a fit of the blues to see how the people assembled here yesterday enjoyed themselves. Ample provision had been made by the ladies in charge to feast one thousand people (that's the way they do it always). Although the weather was bad many came from the neighbouring parishes, and so high ran the enthusiasm of the people of the Shore, especially the young bloods, there was a certainty not only of making the day enjoyable but memorable. No need of fire water to tone up the spirits of the boys along the Shore once they got started, and they were started, had boats of several classes ready for the race, their muscles up for the sports and their pockets heavy to back up the favorites.

The settlement would hardly contain all the people that would certainly have been here, and it would take a lot of cold water to keep down their temperature. Races, sports on the Southern Shore? If the men who have gone into this venture with so much spirit had racing clubs and boats of a suitable class, you could "let" Kitty Vitly. To say that all enjoyed the sociable at the mill does not express it. They went away chock full of fun and good things, and dashed out into the rain after daylight with the same gusto they did a hornpipe. The time they had and the wondering whether the races will be held on the 21st inst., will be the chat of the week. The races will go on if the weather does not again object and breezes make it too difficult, owing to the lateness of the season, to get along boats.

If a Racing Association be formed on the Southern Shore, and competitive racing and sports be held occasionally during the summer, when the train runs, you won't be able to keep people in town.

Yours for
Tor's Cove, Sept. 18, 1911. SPORT.

Head of the Firm.

Inheritance by Ill-Trained Sons.

Mr. Oscar S. Hall, of Bury, Lancashire, in a paper on "The Education of the Coming Leaders of the Textile Industry," at the congress of the Textile Institute at Belfast recently, contended that the greatest weakness at the present time in the industry was in the education of those who were coming forward to take their places as employers.

They would need to remedy this if they were to hold their place as initiators and not content to be imitators. Many sons of employers by force of circumstances were placed at the head of concerns, and they worked great mischief to the economic prosperity of the country when badly equipped. He advocated progressive technical training in the first few years of their business life.

Mr. J. H. Quilter, of Leicester, said that as a body manufacturers' sons were afraid of dirtying their cuffs when dealing with machinery. If the manufacturers' sons gave as much attention as the workers' sons to technical training they would soon have plenty of leaders. The workmen's efforts to educate themselves were not sufficiently recognized by employers.

St. Joseph, Levis, July 14, 1903. Minard's Liniment Co. Limited.

Gentlemen—I was badly kicked by my horse last May and after using several preparations on my leg nothing would do. My leg was as black as jet. I was laid up in bed for a fortnight and could not walk. After using three bottles of your MINARD'S LINIMENT I was perfectly cured, so that I could start on the road.

JOS. DUBES, Commercial Traveler.

Here and There.

Dr. C. Y. Murphy will resume practice Monday, Sept. 4.—aug26.131

NO BOATS OUT.—Owing to the storm yesterday no boats were out at Harbor Grace Island.

Be sure you have a bottle of Stafford's Liniment in your home.—aug19.11.

HOUSES FLOODED.—Several houses in Georgetown were flooded by the rain storm yesterday.

Stafford's Liniment, a genuine remedy for poisoned wounds, old sores, cuts, bruises, etc.—aug19.11.

FISHING GOOD.—Fishing is still good at Lark Harbor. Boats averaged 2 qts. each yesterday on hook and line. Squid bait is plentiful.

Did you know that all kinds of Spectacle and Eyeglass Lenses are ground from the rough glass at TRAPNELL'S?—sep9.11.

IN AID OF ST. BOYS.—An entertainment in aid of St. Bon's will take place at the Aula Maxima tomorrow night. Mrs. Keegan has charge of the programme.

Did you know you can get all the different English and American styles in Eyeglasses at TRAPNELL'S?—sep9.11.

DISCHARGING LUMBER.—The s.s. Luetta is now at Horwood's west end wharf discharging a cargo of lumber from Dr. Grenfell's mill at Roddicton, Canada Bay, French Shore.

Dr. de Van's Female Pills
A reliable French regulator; never fails. These pills are exceedingly powerful in regulating the generative portion of the female system. Relieves all cheap imitations. Dr. de Van's are sold at 25c a box, or three for 75c. Mailed to any address. The Rosehill Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

GUESTS AT BALSAM PLACE.—L. E. G. Davis, North Wales; Fred. W. Sandon, Whitby, England; Dr. Hugh P. Gruly, Pillsbury Island; Mrs. Dr. H. P. Gruly, Pillsbury Island; Mrs. Ada L. Janes, New York.

PEBBLE STEAMER DELAYED.—The s.s. Flora, now loading phosphiates at Mannuels, will not get away till the end of the week. The recent N.E. storm kicked up a heavy sea along the shore and put a stop to the work of freightage off the beach stones in boats.

More Poverty in New York.

This Summer Than Last Year, According to Report.

New York, Sept. 13.—There is more suffering from poverty in New York this summer than last year, according to a report made last night by the New York Association for Relieving the condition of the Poor. The Association's figures for July and August show a decided increase in the number of families dependent on charity in whole or in part.

Striking features are the fact that intemperance has charged to it in the report less than two per cent. of all distress and that 43 per cent. of families cared for are recorded as being reduced to poverty by sickness. Unemployment is second on the list of causes with a percentage of twenty-five. Insufficient incomes sent twelve per cent. of the total number of families to seek relief.

TWO ARRESTS.—The police made two arrests for drunkenness last night. The offenders were held at the lockup till the court opened.

Electric Restorer for Men
Phosphonol restores every nerve in the body to its proper position; restores tone and vitality. Premature decay and all sexual weakness arrested at once. Phosphonol will make you a new man. Price $2 a box, or two for $3. Mailed to any address. The Rosehill Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

STEFANO BREAKS RECORD.—The s.s. Stefano, the new Red Cross liner, commanded by Capt. Clarke, has beaten all records on the run to Halifax. Leaving here at midnight Saturday she arrived at Halifax at 2 p.m. yesterday, going up in 38 hours and beating her previous quick trip by one hour.

SHOOTING SEASON.—The season for shooting snipe and partridge will open to-morrow. A large number of sports men of the city will go out by the train to Cape Shore, North Shore and Tickle Harbor Barrens to-morrow. Partridge have been seen in great plenty down on the peninsula between Trinity and Bonavista Bays.

BIG LUMBER CONSIGNMENT.—At present there are landing at the wharves of the Horwood Lumber Co. three large cargoes of lumber from the mills at Dog Bay and Campbellton. These were cut during the summer. The company will soon send a large gang of men into the woods to make ready for the winter's cut.
