Morgan, Erie Street, then left on the 11.16 train for Niagara Falls where they spent a few days before going to Toronto where they will remain until next week. NOTE AND COMMENT

Rochester Herald: Germany's submarine tactics are those of an outlaw. Her attempts to excuse or explain them are insults to the intelligence and self-respect of this nation and of every other neutral power.

The Toronto News offers the following as a National Policy for Canada, which is a good one: One recognized language for the English-speaking provinces and no more concessions or privileges to racial elements. National control of transportation, early provision for a public railway across the continent, and as soon as practicable, complete public ownership of railways in Canada. Organization of the Empire for trade and defence, equal citizenship for Canadians, and a full voice in Imperial policy.

Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph:—The British boast that the Union Jack is a safeguard to their citizens the world over is exemplified in Mexico. One American woman testifies that the Mexican desperadoes not only have no respect for the Stars and Stripes, but that the sight of our emblem actually has the effect of inciting them to outrages. "I am utterly ashamed to admit it,"

Greenville, S. C.—"I want others to know of the great benefit I have derived from Vinol. I am 81 years old and Vinol has given me strength, a healthy appetite and overcame nervousness. It is the best tonic reconstructor I ever used."—Mrs. M. A. HUTCHISON.
Vinol is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, guaranteed to overcome run down, weak, debilitated conditions and for chronic coughs and colds.

"JUST LET 'EM COME OUT!"

she says, "but" whenever trouble started we began to hunt for a Union Jack. It was by no means a bullet-proof shield but it was the only flag I ever saw in Mexico that the Mexicans paid any deference to." In illustration she cites the case of a young Englishman who had committed suicide. Thinking he was an American, the Mexicans hurriedly dug a shallow hole and were about to put him away without ceremony when they learned he was an English citizen. The officer in charge immediately stopped the burial, ordered the body preserved, and for four days tried to get in touch with an English consul.

Planting Weak Seed Corn

Although seed corn has tested fairly well at the Ottawa Laboratory, corn growers whose seed has not been tested would do well to take special care this season that their seed is of strong vitality. Owing to unfavorable ripening and harvest weather some of last year's seed corn crop may be low in both percentage and vigor of germination. This seed should not be planted until the soil is warm and the weather at its best to encourage the growth of the young corn plant. The rate of seeding may be increased, but no amount of fairly weak seed is likely to give a good stand of plants unless the conditions of growth are most favorable. Seed Branch, Ottawa.

Long Standing Asthma. Many have suffered so long from asthma and have tried so many so-called remedies they think that there is no real help for them. They should read the letters received by the manufacturers of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy from hundreds of cases once as desperate as their own. Even in long-neglected cases this famous preparation brings prompt help.

The Kingsville Reporter, in boosting the Health Act, says: "Many houses throughout the township of Gosfield South have been placarded for measles, and yet the inmates persist in going to their neighbors and carrying the disease. Anyone doing this is subject to prosecution. But aside from the law in this regard, persons who will wilfully carry disease of any sort to their neighbors, are to say the least, selfish and unkind."

No one need endure the agony of corns with Holloway's Corn Cure at hand to remove them.

To be rid of them and spare the child suffering, use Miller's Worm Powders. They will correct the digestive irregularities by destroying the worms, conditions favorable to worms will disappear, and the child will have no more suffering from that cause.

ON THE LITTLE FARM.

able farm may often be made profitable. Of late years efforts have been made to prevent grape juice fermenting and to preserve it in vessels of such size and shape as can easily be transported, thus rendering its use possible at all times of the year. Until recently its use has been almost exclusively restricted to medicinal or sacramental purposes. Unrestricted and general use has been retarded through lack of knowledge of the principles underlying the process of manufacture. This lack of knowledge and of the necessary skill in applying it has resulted in many failures, thus rendering the production of a good article uncertain and expensive.

Use only clean, well ripened, but not overripe grapes. After the grapes have been picked wash and place in an aluminum or porcelain lined kettle, cover with boiling water and cook until soft. Some tantes like to separate readily from the pulp, mash with a wire potato masher and place in a jelly bag to drain. Do not squeeze the juice out, but hang on a nail to drain. If you wish to get as much as possible from your fruit, after most of the juice has drained from the pulp, it can be put through a sieve and the seeds and skins removed from the pulp. Sugar can then be added and all cooked until thick, and that makes an excellent marmalade.

Place the clear juice in a kettle, add about a cupful of sugar to each quart of juice. Some tantes like it sweeter than others, and if the grapes are very ripe it will require less sugar than when they first ripen. Bring quickly to the boiling point, and then push the juice into sterilized cans, being careful to fill the cans slowly at first and shake the hot juice up on to the sides, as the cans break much more readily than with canned fruit. Seal quickly, and you will seldom have a can work or mold.

A serious mistake is sometimes made by putting the juice into bottles so large that much of it becomes spoiled before it is used, after the bottles are opened. Unfermented grape juice properly made and bottled will keep indefinitely if it is not exposed to the atmosphere or mold germ, but when a bottle is once opened it should, like canned goods, be used as soon as possible to keep it from spoiling.

The average housewife has not learned to eat canned apples, does not know, in the majority of cases, that such fine gallon apples are to be obtained and at an actual saving over the fresh fruit. The canners have not pushed this line of goods, except to the bakers, and the wholesalers and retailers, as usual, have done nothing to inform the public. If gallon apples were packed in a proper fashion and the people knew of them in cans it would take an apple crop as large as the present record one every year to supply the demand for them in cans. And there would probably be more money in them for the canners than in any of the great staple crops as now sold.

Sandwich's Wonderful Drum.
The eccentric Lord Sandwich had, according to his biographer, a strange passion for the thunder of big drums, for the gratification of which passion he had caused the entire side of one large music room in his mansion at Hinchinbrook to be covered with parchment, so that when it was struck with a massive stick it gave out a roar sufficient to terrify any sensitive soul. Many who heard this drum once struck positively declined ever to enter the apartment again lest they should be given a second performance.

Poor Middle Child.
Middle children are to be pitied for being condemned to be constantly made over out of the luckier eldest's outgrown raiment. How can Tommy be sure he is Tommy when he is always walking around in Johnny's shoes? Or Polly, grown to girlhood, ever find her own heart when all her life it has beaten under Anna's pinafore?—Atlantic.

Kept Them Quiet.
"I went to a symphony concert yesterday afternoon."
"Did you enjoy it?"
"It was the most wonderful experience I ever had. Just think of sitting in the same room with 2,000 women and not one of them saying a word."—Melbourne Age.

Disappearing Cannon.
"Some of our cannon are disappearing," remarked the lieutenant.
"Well, things will disappear when you have careless help," responded the lady who was going over the fort. "I find that a great trouble about keeping house."

Saving.
Governess—Why don't you use your brains, Douglass?
"Because I want them to last."

Try this: When telling a piece of scandal, don't say "they say," just say "I say."

Making the Little Farm Pay

By C. C. BOWSFIELD

As land increases in value farms decrease in size. The average farm will soon be less than a hundred acres. Men and women are getting the vision of ten, twenty, and forty-acre tracts so handled as to yield a sufficient income for family maintenance.

When farmers learn to cut out the waste and to secure larger returns from various articles which at present are regarded as being of little account agriculture will reach a more profitable basis. A correct principle in conducting any place, large or small, is to have each interest prominent enough so that it will receive proper attention. If it is an orchard, a vineyard, a poultry yard, a pigeon loft or a variety of such things aim to make each product pay a definite amount. Let there be enough to it so that it can have a reasonable amount of time and attention.

Housewives have a full share of responsibility in this particular. They should be able to prevent all kinds of fruit and vegetables going to waste by methods of canning and preserving. On some farms enough preventable wastes occur almost every year.

WATFORD, MAY 12, 1916

NOTE AND COMMENT

Toronto Globe:—Even Germany has not gas in illimitable quantities. Perhaps the amount used in the note to the United States resulted in a shortage of supply for the Zeppelins.

The sheriffs of Ontario at their last annual meeting in Toronto again adopted a resolution advocating the use of the electric chair as the means of carrying out capital punishment.

The public is requested to refrain from the use of meat every Thursday and to abstain from alcohol every Monday in the interest of economy, in an appeal issued by a committee of twenty-six of London's most prominent citizens, including Government officials, scientists and writers.

Despite the aversion to compulsory military training by all democratic countries, Britain's experience in the present titanic conflict seems to teach more and more that universal training and service as a duty of citizenship is the one effective method of obtaining adequate forces to cope with a powerful adversary.

The Empire has given five millions of men to the war. In addition the Empire has coerced France, Italy and Russia, has supplied the French and Russian troops with most of their equipment, and kept Russia in munitions, not to mention financing everybody all around. There is also the little matter of the Navy.

A DANCE FROCK.

A Charming Model in Bouffant Effect For the Debutante.

SO ELEGANT.

Cornflower blue taffeta is developed here in puffy panniers and full skirt. The simple corsage is blue net over a foundation of white shadow lace, the net being arranged surplice, with shoulder bands caught by a spray of lilies of the valley, which also trim the plaited girdle. The effect is picturesque and individual.

FACE POWDER.

Some Cruel Facts About the Cult of Powder Puffs.

Many women whose faces are blotchy and unclean looking can trace the trouble to the powder they use. Even the best powders on the market will clog the pores if applied too heavily and too often.

Powder was not meant to cover the face till it looks as if the flour barrel had been visited head first. It was intended as a means of removing shine from the skin, giving it a velvety look, and to protect the skin. What have we done with powder?

Too much powder is unsightly and only focuses attention to blemishes.

The tint of the powder used must depend on the coloring of the user. Blondes must use one color, brunettes another, and according to the degree of fairness or darkness; also for evening use there are certain shades of powder which are much more becoming than the tints most attractive to the daylight.

The kind of powder? Any pure powder. In cheap powders there will be some sort of adulteration that will harm the skin. The best is the cheapest.

The best powder to use is a powder that is very soft and light with clinging qualities—one that does not seem to "pack."

The powder should be used in the morning. If during the day the face shines gently rub over it the powder puff wrapped in a fresh handkerchief.

Nougat Cake.

Cream one-half cupful of butter, add one cupful of sugar and beat until very light. Sift two cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and add alternately with one-half cupful of milk. Flavor with two teaspoonfuls of vanilla, beat thoroughly, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs and bake half an hour in a shallow tin. Cool and spread with nougat frosting.

Nougat Frosting.—Chop one cupful of almonds and brown them in the oven. Melt one-third cupful of sugar to a caramel, add the almonds, cool and pound to a powder. Boil one cupful of sugar and one-quarter cupful of water until the sirup will thread, add the almond powder, pour slowly into the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and beat until stiff enough to spread.

Meat Scarce in Berlin

London, May 9.—A Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that the police of Berlin searched the shops and dwellings of the butchers to-day for hidden stocks of meat. The result showed that the supply of meat in Berlin is sufficient for only a few days. For this reason the food question over-shadows all others.

All butcher shops, including Wetzmann's large meat market, have been closed. The best quality of meat now costs fourteen marks per kilo (2.20 pounds).

Children's Potato War Plot Fund

In the Spring of 1915 the Ontario Department of Agriculture offered to supply children taking part in Rural School Fairs with sufficient potatoes to plant a plot 1x2 rods, if they would agree to dispose of the crop and contribute the money to some patriotic cause. Applications were received through the District Representatives and the children showed great interest in the work, so much so that the prospects in the early part of the season were that between 10 and 15 bushels of potatoes would be produced. Unfortunately, however, the season proved to be very unfavorable for the potato crop and greatly reduced the yields. In many cases the potatoes suffered so severely from rot that they were not worth digging. However, thirty-four counties taking part in the work reported sales from over 2500 children's plots and the Department has received up to date, $1843.18.

In order to create special interest in the work the Children's Potato War Plots were inspected and prizes given for the best kept plots. A medal was also given to the boy or girl in each County producing the greatest yield of marketable potatoes from his or her plot.

Before deciding upon the disposition of the money received from the children, the Officers of the Canadian Red Cross Society were consulted, with the result that a McLaughlin Motor Ambulance was purchased and formally presented to the Red Cross by the Hon. Jas. S. Duff.

The inscription on the plate on the ambulance is as follows: "The Children of the Rural Schools Fairs in Ontario, Canada, organized by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, donate this car from proceeds secured from sale of potatoes grown by them for this purpose, 1915."

Women and Thrift

Upon the women of the land will rest the greatest burden of success in the campaign for thrift that has been inaugurated. As heads of the household they are the cancellors of domestic exchequers. It is for them to bear in mind that expenditure upon articles that are not actually needed is not alone lessening their own resources but also depriving the country of something that might be more profitably applied. The majority of men will agree that so far as the household is concerned their women are pretty thrifty. But stinginess, parsimoniousness, or miserliness is not thrift. The thrifty woman combines with a natural aptitude for economy the wisdom of selection and utilization. She knows when to save and when to spend. She knows what is necessary and what can be done without and she makes the best use of everything. Neither does she do all things herself. When help is at hand she utilizes it with discretion.

The great aid to thrift is thoughtfulness. In fact without that element thrift is utterly out of the question. The thrifty woman, too, not only exercises wisdom herself but sees that her children do the same thing not by indulging them but by delegating to them sundry offices of which they are capable, by making them self-reliant. But the woman cannot do all these things by herself. She must enjoy the support, countenance and influence of her mankind. The greatest enemy to thrift is the promiscuous doling out of the money. It is not to boys and girls a sign of good nature; it is death to the recipient. It poisons their disposition and sows seeds of weeds that can never be eradicated. For that sort of thing women are but little responsible, but where their efforts shine is in allowing nothing to go to waste, in making use of everything, and in exercising ingenuity in food, dress, household labour and the bringing up of children. An incentive to the accomplishment of these thrifths is a reflection upon the times, upon the needs and experience of their male relatives at the Front, and upon the fact that every ounce saved is a contribution to the welfare of the country and perhaps to winning the war.

CHILDHOOD AILMENTS

The ailments of childhood are many but most of them are caused by some derangement of the stomach and bowels. Therefore to banish these troubles the stomach must be kept sweet and the bowels regular. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. Thousands of mothers have proved this. Among them is Mrs. Thomas Holmes, Blissfield, N. B., who writes: "Every mother in this locality uses Baby's Own Tablets as we all consider them the very best medicine for childhood ailments." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Starting this week Thamesville stores will be open three night a week, throughout the summer.

THE Postoffice regulations are very explicit regarding the sending of letter communications of any sort in parcels or newspapers and the transgression of the rule is quite severe. It is a very risky practice. A department store in Toronto now has a branch postoffice in connection with their business and notes found in parcels sent there come under the direct notice of the postoffice officials whose duty it is to report to headquarters. It would be regrettable if any people from this district were asked to contribute a fine in connection with a charge of this nature.

As a vermifuge there is nothing so potent as Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, and it can be given to the most delicate child without fear of injury to the constitution.

A HERO INDEED

A Happening at Quince Harbor

By CLARISSA MACKIE

In Quince Harbor village every man is a fisherman. We, the inhabitants, have been brought up as one people, and when anything happens here we all have to hear about it. Perhaps if there were newspapers published every day for us to read about what is going on in the big world we would be less interested in each other's affairs.

Captain Barnabas Fish—every man who owns a boat, be it motorboat or tug, is called captain—has the principal sense of humor among us, and when there is nothing to do and the fishermen, their wives and daughters get together, dependent on one another for amusement, we usually rely on the captain to help us out.

One evening just before supper a lot of us were at Captain Fish's when some one said that nothing had been going on in the village lately and it would be a relief even if there'd be a fire or something to wake us up.

Captain Barnabas Fish slowly filled his pipe and packed the tobacco tightly in the bowl with one huge thumb.

His weather beaten countenance was always a barometer of his mental condition, and now, as I watched his blue eyes twinkling merrily, while his generous mouth endeavored to keep itself straight and in proper order, I scented interesting happenings in Quince Harbor village.

Mrs. Fish was sewing rags for a carpet which she said was much needed in the spare bedroom, which I as paying guest was occupying after my custom, and I was sitting idly enjoying the lovely panorama of the village snuggling among the hills that ran down to the harbor, which was half embraced by lines of sandy bluffs.

Captain Barnabas emitted a throaty chuckle. Maria Fish glanced at him sharply, and I inclined my best ear in his direction.

"For the land sake, Barnabas Fish, what's the matter?" ejaculated Maria at last. "You've been actin' all mornin' as if you was chuck full of somethin' funny and was dyin' to tell it out. Did anything happen at the engine company's meetin' last night?"

Captain Barnabas scratched a match, lighted his pipe and puffed slowly for several moments.

"It was something I heard at the meeting," he admitted; "something that happened to Ananias Sline."

"Why is it," I asked, with interest, "that wherever Ananias Sline is things begin to happen right away?"

"Because he's so deceitful and cat-footed that he's always making trouble for somebody," was Maria's prompt answer.

"Likewise amusement," added Captain Barnabas. "It seems this happened last week while we was over to camp meeting at Rockybrook, so we missed it. I was in the bank the very next morning, and as I came out Ananias was polishing the front windows. I thought he looked mighty sour, and says I in kind of a joking way, 'What you been up to now, Ananias?' And he turned on me like a spiteful little cat, and says he, 'None of your goldarned business!' So I shifted my helm and steered clear of him, but I knew something had happened to upset him. That night he came to me for help, but he was close mouthed about his trouble.

"Last night at the engine house when the meeting was over some of 'em got to telling stories about fires, and all to once they fell to laughing fit to kill over the fire that started in the widder Rowell's house the night we was over to Rockybrook camp meeting. So me, not being there and not knowing about it, the chief told me the story, and it explains why Ananias is so grim just now and why he looks on all the world as his enemy.

"To begin, it seems that the widder has staying with her a woman canvasser from Little River, her name being Phoebe Pringle, and for looks she's quite a trim sailing little craft—not so tubby as the widder—with a tongue as sharp as her shoulder blades and little black eyes that snap you up sharp."

"She came here," interrupted Maria, threading her needle. "Miss Telham, you remember that impudent little gossip that tried to sell me a cookery book—me who can cook all around anybody who ever wrote a cookery book?"

I remembered the episode of the canvasser, and I had enjoyed her battle of wits with Maria Fish, who justly prided herself on her culinary triumphs.

"Well, it seems Ananias met this

NO ALUM

Miss Pringle three times a day at the widder's hospitable board, as they say in story books," went on the genial captain, "and, her being kind of fascinating as well as some younger than the widder, who considers herself engaged to Ananias, I s'pose you know, ma'am, and the Pringle woman, being fascinating—

"Humph!" sniffed Maria scornfully. "Yellow as saffron!"

"Well, yellow was becoming with her black eyes," said the captain solemnly, "and her being fascinating to Ananias, he got to paying her teeny little attentions, like passing the butter without her asking for it and helping her to pudding sauce three times and forgetting all about the widder Rowell, who didn't get any."

"Then, the widder watching them like cat and mouse, it seems Ananias took to writing poetry to Miss Phoebe and leaving it around where she'd be likely to find it. One day he made a poem and dropped it in one of her rubber overshoes in the hall rack, and Miss Phoebe wore that poem underfoot all one rainy day before she found it, all damp and muddy. Another time he dropped a poem in her umbrella, that being handy, too, in the front hall, and when she opened it in front of the postoffice some silly girls got hold of it when it dropped out, and Miss Phoebe had to pretend she didn't know where it came from.

"I guess Miss Phoebe as well as Ananias was having a hard time, both of 'em being under the widder's eagle eye. But it was worse for Ananias, for he had to keep two jealous females apart and—

"I told you he was double dealing and cat footed," interrupted Maria. "Well, to make my story short, it seems that the night of the fire the widder Rowell had been burning some rubbish in her kitchen stove and when she went to bed there were some rags smoldering there. In some way the fire was stopped up—swallowers' nests in the chimney, I guess—and along about midnight the house was filled full of smoke.

"The widder screamed 'Fire!' and ran out into the road in a blue flannel nightgown, and Miss Phoebe screamed herself hoarse as she stood beside her, she wearing a pink flannel—ahem!" said the captain hurriedly, in response to a warning glance from his wife's eye.

"I don't see why them details are necessary," chided Maria severely. The captain scratched his chin thoughtfully.

"Seems funnier to think of the two of 'em, one in blue and t'other in pink—well, Maria, I'm going on with the story.

"Seems Ananias had been out to a lodge meeting and he was just getting home when it happened, and he found them hollering fire. Cap'n Charlie Willis had already telephoned to the engine house, and there was nothing for Ananias to do but try to save some of the valuables.

"It was an exciting scene, Cap'n Charlie says. The widder was hollering for Ananias to go in and save her pocketbook and her gold watch from under her pillow, and Miss Phoebe was screeching at him if he loved her to go and do the same kindness for her.

"So Ananias, being brave in some ways, tied a handkerchief over his mouth and sailed into the house. He had to grope his way around upstairs to find their pillows with the treasures under them and not trying to save anything of his own he staggered downstairs again and gave the widder a bundle tied in a handkerchief and another one just like it to Miss Phoebe. Then, being a little man and not much stamina to him, he just fainted away from swallowing too much smoke. Just then the fire company arrived, towing the engine, and by the time they'd flooded the widder's dining room and kitchen they discovered that the fire was in the stove and nowhere else, but the smoke was all over the house.

"Cap'n Charlie says that them three was the maddest people he ever saw. Both the widder being caught dishabily, as Miss Pringle said, was bad enough, but it seems that Ananias had mixed up the bundles under their pillows, and while the widder had Miss Phoebe's watch and pocketbook and a small cargo of Ananias' poems to her one of them was called, 'To my Phoebe Bird,' why Miss Phoebe had the widder's watch and money and a package of Ananias' love letters tied with a blue ribbon—Maria, do you sleep with my love letters tied with a blue ribbon under your pillow?" demanded the captain, turning to his good wife.

"Do go on, Barnabas. We're dying to hear the rest of it," urged Maria.

"Well, the rest of it was a terrible wrangle between the widder and Miss Phoebe Pringle when the two ladies exchanged private and personal property and private and personal opinions of each other, and their opinions wasn't flattering, neither. As for Ananias, when he found out what had happened he gave himself up for lost, and naturally he come to me to weather the gale. Miss Phoebe went hot foot back to Little River, while the widder's been busy cleaning up her house."

"And where's Ananias been keeping himself all this time?" asked Maria suspiciously.

Captain Barnabas removed his pipe from his lips and pointed out to the bay where his ship, the Indus, lay at anchor, enjoying an idle old age in her home port.

"Ananias shipped aboard the Indus the very next day, and if you look you will see his little dory bobbing out toward her now. I reckon he's got his victuals in a basket, and he cooks for himself, and he'll have a quiet, peaceful time till the widder Rowell forgives him and sends for him to come back again."

"How about Miss Phoebe Pringle and her blighted affections?" I asked curiously.

"Homely as a scrag fence!" interpolated Maria.

"Miss Phoebe—why, she took her blighted affections back to Little River, and she's having the poems that Ananias wrote to her all printed in the Little River Echo with her own name signed to 'em, and Ananias is bitter against her, but he don't dare say a word."

"That's the punishment of the deceitful and the cat-footed," said Maria as she arose to prepare supper.

Ingenious Rimes.
Sir Owen Seaman is to be congratulated on his ingenuity in riming "Bagdad" with "swag, dad," but the palm for audacity in riming must remain with Browning, who matched "ranunculus" with "Tommy make room for your uncle us," or the seventeenth century bard who wrote:

The Duke of York a daughter had,
He gave the Prince of Orange her;
So now your majesty will see
I've found a rime for peringer.
—London Standard.

Welcome at Times.
"I wish a doormat," announced Mrs. De Style.

"Here is a very nice pattern," said the salesman, "with the word 'Welcome' woven into the fiber."

"I see. I suppose that will do if you can add the words 'Tuesdays and Fridays.'" —

Preparedness.
"Darling, won't you marry me? I would die for you!"
"How sweet of you! How much are you insured for?" —

"It's far better to love and be poor than be rich with an empty heart.—Lewis Morris.

Steam Power.
The power of steam was known to the ancients, a mechanical contrivance in which it was used being noted by Hero of Alexandria about 130 B. C., but nothing came of it, and it was not till the seventeenth century that its power was again recognized.

A Dead One.
"He is a dead one" is not slang. It occurs in Longfellow's "Spanish Student." The clown Chispa says, "I have a father, too, but he is a dead one."

Much Harder.
"There is nothing harder than getting out of a bad habit."
"Yes, there is—getting into a good one."

Beat Him.
"My ancestors came over in the Mayflower," announced the man who prides himself on his blue blood.
"Huh!" snorted the man of red corpuscles. "Mine sailed in the ark!"

HERE'S A SECRET

If you want to cure that skin disease of yours, you can only do so by using an ointment so refined as to be capable of penetrating to the root of the disease. Zam-Buk is capable of doing this, whereas ordinary ointments remain on the surface skin.

Besides its wonderful power of penetration, Zam-Buk is such a strong germicide that germs cannot live where Zam-Buk is applied. Thus, all germs, both on the surface and in the underlying tissues, are destroyed. Then the herbal essences, of which Zam-Buk is composed, promote the growth of new tissue, and a complete and permanent cure is the result.

Prove it for yourself. All druggists, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

SPRING SPORT SUIT.

For Young Ladies is This Smart Suit of Towing.

A 1916 MODEL.

This texture is one of the season's novelties, a polka dotted cotton toweling in blue and white. The skirt is cut with a wide inverted plait to give fullness, while the coat is yoked as well as paneled in front, this portion being buttoned on with novelty pearl buttons. The trim little black straw turban is also smart.

YOUR RUGS.

How Bright Ones May Cheer Up Dark Rooms.

One may select a very bright rug of the oriental order to gladden a room from which the sun is excluded, and according to the colors of the cloth cushions the wall paper is tempered, as are also the mural decorations and the hangings. For the room where repose is sought subdued colors are recommended, and these are to be had in some of the beautiful Persian patterns that go very well with reproductions of eighteenth century English furniture.

When one cannot afford the large rugs and there is doubt of any kind as to the proper carpet it is well to have the floor laid with a perfectly plain color in good quality domestic weave, and thereon spread here and there the small oriental rugs. For an informal room the effect is infinitely more pleasing than when one large rug is used.

The Most Feminine Texture.

The other day a woman said, "If I had a lot of money I'd wear silk all the time." The richness of the material makes it one to be greatly desired and admired, and this season there are so many varieties of silks on the market that one could find a different kind for every day in the week.

Crepé meteor is among the many silks to be obtained. It was used in a soft shade of gray for a gown seen a short while ago. Heavily padded embroidery in blue and gray wool was added effectively to ornament the blouse and the skirt.

A novel feature of the skirt was the use of chiffon panels, which were so full that they added extra width to the skirt, which was not very scant before their appearance.

The waist line was very nicely defined by silver rosebuds. The crocheted rings and tassels suspended from the belt were gray. Sealskin formed the hem of the skirt and the abbreviated collar of the blouse.

Timely Tips.

If the dainty crepe de chine blouse shrinks a bit after its first laundering and—as many of these ready made blouses do—becomes just a trifle too scant to cross the bust, the edges at the front may be fixed all the way down with similar material and the blouse worn open over a chemisette of organdie. These chemisettes in all manner of pretty styles come ready to slip under the bodice, and for the purpose just described the best model is one which opens slightly at the back, kept crisply in position by a bit of stiffening.

Knickerbocker Figs.

Wash half a pound of figs and stuff each with a mixture of pecan nuts and Maraschino cherries, two cherries to three nut meats. Mix a teaspoonful of lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and half a cupful of sherry in a small saucepan, add the figs, cover and cook slowly until the figs are tender. Let them drain, roll in powdered sugar and put into paper cases if you like.

MANY IN WATFORD

TRY SIMPLE MIXTURE

Many Watford people are surprised at the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka. This simple remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. A few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-ka is astonishing.—Taylor & Son, druggist.

Destroy Sweepings Barn Floors and Granaries

Sweepings from threshing floors and granaries are frequently dumped in the barnyard and later hauled to the land with the manure. The sweepings from the floor and its crevices are usually fowl with weed seeds.

Unless the yard scapings or manure is thoroughly rotted most of these weed seeds will retain their vitality and produce a vigorous crop of weeds. Burning the sweepings would be a much safer method. If they contain grain, boiling will make them a safe feed for poultry or live stocks.

"The Store that Satisfies"

AVERAGE FIRST YEAR DEPRECIATION OF THE FORD CAR IS $125 AS AGAINST $250 TO $400 FOR PRACTICALLY ANY OF THE LOWER PRICED CARS.

It is difficult to set any definite figure for the depreciation of an automobile. So much depends on the condition of the individual car at the end of the season.

The average price paid for used cars in the $1000-or-less class at any time during the first year is about $250 to $400 less than the first cost. But the average used Ford sells very quickly for $125 less than the purchase price.

Compare the Ford depreciation cost of about $10 a month with the probable $30 or more a month that the other kind will cost you. Which is the better investment?

Address and Presentation

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Saunders, 4th line, Warwick, when over 80 of the friends and neighbors met to do honor to Pte. Bert Saunders, who has enlisted for overseas service with Lambtons 149. Mr. A. Rush, acting in a very appropriate manner, presided as chairman. A program was then given of patriotic songs, speeches and instrumental music and selections on the gramophone which was supplied by Mr. Wm. Harper. At the end of the program Pte. Saunders was asked to take the floor when an address was read and he was presented with a beautiful signet ring and wrist watch with luminous dial. The following address was read by Miss Margaret Chambers and presentation made by Miss Viola McNaughton.

Watford, May 4, 1916,
To Mr. Bert Saunders,
Watford, Ont.

Dear Friend:—We, a number of your friends and neighbors, have gathered here to-night for the purpose of expressing our appreciation of the noble step which you have taken in answering the call of our King and country. Yet we admire your hearty response when duty calls and that we know you are not only fighting to defend your own home and dear ones but you are defending the homes and families of this community as well. But we trust that our Heavenly Father will guard and protect you and that you may have a safe and speedy return! We feel that we could not let you depart from among us without in some way expressing to you our esteem and good wishes in which you are held. We ask you to accept this ring and wrist watch, and as it ticks off the minutes may it ever remind you of your many friends at home.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors,
Margaret Chambers,
Viola McNaughton.

Although taken by surprise, Pte. Saunders made a very feeling reply, thanking his many friends for their kindness to him. The ladies then took possession and served a very bountiful repast of sandwiches, cake and coffee, after which the pleasant evening came to a close by singing "For he's a jolly good fellow" and "God save the King."

Address and Presentation

On the evening of Thursday April 27th about 75 of the friends and neighbors of Pte. Cecil Sisson gathered at his home on the 6th line west Brooke, to spend an evening with him, prior to his departure for London. Mr. Melvin Kelly acted as chairman and an excellent program of songs, speeches etc. was rendered, at the conclusion of which Pte. Sisson was called forward and presented with a wrist watch and the following address. The address was read by Harold Leach and the presentation was made by Russel Shea.

TO CECIL SISSON:—Dear friend and schoolmate.—We, your friends and old schoolmates have gathered at your home to-night to spend a social evening with you before your departure from our midst to join your battalion at London. While we are sorry to miss your cheerful presence, we feel proud of you, the first of our boys to don the khaki and fight for King and Country. We honor you more than we can say for the sacrifice you are making in leaving your home and friends to fight for the cause of freedom and right, you take with you the good wishes of your many friends and our hope and prayer is that very soon you may return victorious with the kaiser satisfactorily disposed of, and with the consciousness that you have done your bit for your country. And now we would ask you to accept this wrist watch as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by your old friends and neighbors.

Signed on behalf of the community by
Russel Shea
Philip Squire

Pte. Sisson, though taken by surprise made a suitable reply. All joined in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" after which lunch was served. The young people then spent the time in playing games, and after wishing Pte. Sisson a safe return to his native land the evening was brought to a close by singing "God Save The King."

Route March

"C" Company Lambtons 149 left here Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock on a route march to Alvington and Inwood. There were 135 men in line, headed by the bugle band, and made a fine showing as they marched along the street. The strenuous military training of the past few weeks has made a big improvement in the men and their smart appearance was freely commented upon by the crowd who lined Main St. The Company was officered by Capt. Stapleford, Lieuts. Swift, White and Stokes, the first two named being mounted. On Wednesday they went from Alvington to Inwood. At both places they were entertained by the citizens and made as comfortable as conditions would permit. They return to Watford this (Thursday) afternoon and at the end of the week, or early next week, will march to Sarnia where they will remain about two weeks before mobilizing at London.

TORIC LENSES

THEIR ADVANTAGES
The comparatively new TORIC lenses are made with a deep curve—not flat—these lenses cover more fully the eye and give more up and down and side to side vision than any other form of lens. This deep curve saves the muscles of the eye and prevents eye strain. They can be made in any focus to suit any sight. If your glasses require changing, try TORIC lenses this time. We assume all responsibility for their being satisfactory. The best is the best.

HARD WORKING WOMEN

Will Find New Strength Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

It is useless to tell a hard working woman to take life easily and not to worry. Every woman at the head of a home; every girl in offices, shops and factories is subjected to more or less worry. These cannot be avoided. But it is the duty of every woman and every girl to save her strength as much as possible, and to build up her system to meet unusual demands. Her future health depends upon it. To guard against a break-down in health the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. To keep the blood in this condition nothing can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They strengthen the nerves, restore the appetite, bring the glow of health to pallid cheeks, and renewed energy to listless people. Women cannot always rest when they should, but they can keep up their strength and keep away disease by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. A. Rhodes, Hamilton, Ont., says: "A few years ago on coming to Canada, working long hours, and close confinement began to tell upon me. I was completely run down, and finally could do no work. I was pale, suffered from headaches, did not rest well, and felt altogether very miserable. The doctor said the trouble was anaemia, and after doctoring for some weeks without getting any relief, I decided to drop the doctor and take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Very soon I began to notice a change for the better, and by the time I had used a half dozen boxes of the Pills I was again enjoying the best of health. I have never had any return of the sickness and never felt better in my life than I do now. I give my experience, therefore, that it may be used for the benefit of others."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

By removing a pane of glass at the back of the store burglars effected an entrance into Noble's grocery, Sarnia, and carried off several bottles of relishes, tobacco and other articles.

The small daughter was industriously ironing her doll clothes when her mother entered. "It's wrong to work on Sunday. Have you forgotten the Lord sees you?" "This isn't work, and if the Lord does see me, he knows perfectly well this iron is cold."—Judge.

You will feel better and live longer if you keep your bowels regular by the occasional use of Rexall Orderlies—15c and 25c boxes at Rexall Drug Stores only.—J. W. McLAREN.

Why send out of town when you can come here and make your selection at leisure.

You have the advantage of seeing how the goods look before you buy.

You won't have to keep one or two rolls which may be left over and there is no delay in getting an extra roll should you require it.

You don't need to send your money before you get the goods.

Our prices are reasonable too.
