New York, Oct. 19.—O. P. Taylor, baseball writer, died at Winona, Minn., today. He was 47 years old. He was born in Dayton, Ohio, in 1870, studied law in Cincinnati and came to New York in 1897, where he first took up baseball work. A LETTER FROM DAWSON CITY.

There are rumors of a new stampede—Strong Men Die While Asleep—Sickness in Dawson.

New York, Oct. 19.—Joachim Miller writes the following to The Journal, the letter having been sent from Dawson City to Vancouver by courier via the Dalton Trail:

Dawson City, Klondike Mines, Dominion of Canada, Aug. 25, via San Francisco, Oct. 18.—Let me call the attention of the country to the condition of things here, which have never but once been able to avoid curves of any mail facilities this side of tide-water. Twice before that time we have had to send out our mail men by our own couriers, and once by a high-priced party, who went out for the miners, a purse having been made up.

POPPELSTRA COSTS

And Surrender the Church of St. Joachim.

A FRENCH ABBE'S ACTION

Places Upon His Holiness One of the Worst Sights Possible.

This Church Was Destroyed as a Memorial of the Papal Justice, but Had Management Placed it in Danger from the Sheriff, and the Vatican Helped it Out—The Abbe Was to Be Deposed, but He Went to Law and Proved That He Owned the Church.

Rome, Oct. 19.—The lawsuit brought by the French abbe, Brougdon, against the Pope, in the Italian courts, here, for the possession of the Church of St. Joachim, has been decided in favor of the priest, and against the Pontiff, who is condemned by the terms of the judgment to surrender the church in question to the abbe and to pay the legal costs of the proceedings. It is considered certain in clerical circles that the Pope will, under the circumstances, place the church, which is not yet entirely completed, under interdict and excommunicate the abbe, who has thus been the means of placing upon His Holiness one of the worst sights possible which he has been subjected since his election to the papacy.

London from Zanzibar, via Kikuyu, which place the expedition reached on Aug. 5 last.

The explorer has had a remarkable journey, lasting less than a year, during which he traversed much of the unexplored continent.

Even the Boranias, who were so hostile to the expedition commanded by Dr. Donaldson Smith of Philadelphia, freshly supplied Cavendish with cattle and provisions.

At many of the villages Cavendish and the expedition were frequently begged to remain in the country and defend its inhabitants against the invaders.

It seems, however, that in their case suffocation is only resorted to when a member appears to be dying from natural or other causes.

It is held to the sufferer's face, his collar being pulled up over his head and his hands and feet are fastened to the ground.

THE PRODUCTION OF NICKEL. Although we hear a great deal about the increasing uses of nickel the production of this metal makes little or no headway. The demand does not grow, and the business is in the hands of a few concerns, whose productive capacity is far beyond the present requirements of the trade.

THE HOUSE FOR OUR FARMERS. By Dr. Liveright. 'I have seen a great deal of the farmer's house in Canada and I have seen a great deal of the life of the Canadian farmer. Excepting, perhaps, perhaps, there is no other class of people in our country who are so much interested in their homes as the farmers are. It is one in a while has opened the door to the divorce court.

THE AWFUL PRAIRIE FIRE. One of our Toronto men who is out near Stony Mountain, en route for the Klondike, writes to The World his experience with a prairie fire. 'Ever since the rumors of the fire had reached us, I had written, "I had wished to see a large prairie fire as closely as possible without danger; but now that my wish has been granted, I have no means eager to see another. We had often noticed signs of fire, rolling clouds of smoke by day, and at night, and had even seen the flames of small fires, but until Thursday last had never come to close quarters with one. I had been to the Mountain for the night, returning over the top of the hills, and had been away to the southwest a vast mass of rolling smoke, which I had seen in the distance, but which I had not seen so close as I was now. THE SALARY OF BANK CLERKS. Banks which make money enough to pay their shareholders 10 per cent. dividends can make no defence to a charge of paying inadequate salaries. The young man who was charged with stealing some $50,000 from the Dominion Bank at Nanapanee received a salary of $12 a week. He was responsible for the safety of the bank money, of which there was often more than $50,000 on hand.

TRAFALGAR DAY. The City Council and Public School Board have done a good thing in deciding to commemorate Trafalgar Day by hoisting the flags on the public buildings. The anniversary of Trafalgar occurs, as everyone knows, on Oct. 21. It is a date and an event in which every citizen of the British Empire ought to take more or less personal interest and pride. Trafalgar still continues to serve as the sign by which Great Britain's supremacy at sea is manifest to the world. The Empire's existence is entirely dependent upon the ability of the British navy to hold the command of the seas.

THE TORONTO WORLD. The scheme of preferential trade between England and her colonies, referred to in The World of Monday as having been submitted to The Colonial and Exporter of London, by Mr. J. G. Colmer, is almost identically the same as that proposed in our issue of 5th inst. The idea in both is that England should abolish the duty on tea (Mr. Colmer adds coffee and cocoa), and impose a small duty on such articles of foreign produce as can be procured from the colonies; and that under this policy the British revenue would suffer no loss, nor would the consumers of the United Kingdom be put to any great cost for the necessities of life.

THE HOUSE FOR OUR FARMERS. My football friends can take heart of grace. Charles Wood, an English youth, has just been playing lawn tennis. Excepting, perhaps, perhaps, there is no other class of people in our country who are so much interested in their homes as the farmers are. It is one in a while has opened the door to the divorce court.

THE AWFUL PRAIRIE FIRE. The black charred and seemingly bare earth, rising to the fanning of the wind, broke out fresh into flame, running along a score or two yards, to finally die out for want of matter on which to feed. The black ashes raised in puffs by the wind, and the smoke, which was especially when engaged in clearing out your eyes; you went about in the path of one of these after-spurts of the warm fire, until the heat became unbearable. Some of the wind-affected spots with the feeling that it might be added to the list of the different places are heart-rending. An elderly man was telling me of his loss. He said that he had been in the place for many years. He had a farm, he had a large stock of horses, stables, granaries, etc., and had accumulated quite a large fortune. In a flash everything he possessed was wiped out as though it had never been.

THE SALARY OF BANK CLERKS. 'Now, then, my plan in a word is this: A farm house should be drained and dry, have a basement, and a good water supply. Next it should be well heated all over, and to do this a farmer may as well first as last put in a hot-water or steam-heating system and distribute the pipes throughout the house. It is all possible—and this means a steam plant or a windmill and a big reservoir. Many a farmer could lead a pipe from springs that are higher than his house and have a well heated all over, and to do this a farmer may as well first as last put in a hot-water or steam-heating system and distribute the pipes throughout the house.

TRAFALGAR DAY. Gunning accidents have not only in Canada, but in the Dominion generally, been increasing. John Tolson, accidentally shot by the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie Bowden, is a case in point. There appears to be no room for doubt that the affair was an accident, but throughout the Dominion, as in many other places, the fact that the gunner is a member of the House of Commons does not seem to have any effect on the number of accidents. A man who handles a gun should be careful, and he should be careful of his fellow-citizens. It is a shame that a man who handles a gun should be careless, and he should be careful of his fellow-citizens.

erly, lack of nourishment, lack of healthy surroundings are the causes of crime and disease. That is nearly all my philosophy. You can abuse me if you wish, you may ask how did our fathers and mothers live with any of these things; I shall stick to my point that the intelligent Canadian farmer can afford such a house as I've described and he can afford to have it long before he indulges in pianos, carpets, fancy furniture, bougier and the like. I can justify a mortgage on a farm for a comfortable house to live in, but for nothing else.

And, later on, I'll tell you what our country will help to make the farm attractive. But before abusing me for my revolutionary ideas I trust the good wifery of our Canadian farmers will give my little lecture their serious consideration. I am not their enemy but their friend.

NOTES ON NEWS. Bismarck's strongest weapon was a threat of retaliation. When all other arguments failed, the Cardinal submissively withdrew, and an hour afterwards the King yielded. Bismarck used the same argument with the Emperor of Germany. He tried it with his grandson and was taken at his word. Gladstone, too, was constantly retiring and constantly being requested to continue in power. Even now he presents the spectacle to the world of a man at 88 leading one of the two great parties of the greatest Empire on earth.

A man who handles a gun should be careful, and he should be careful of his fellow-citizens. It is a shame that a man who handles a gun should be careless, and he should be careful of his fellow-citizens.

THE AWFUL PRAIRIE FIRE. The black charred and seemingly bare earth, rising to the fanning of the wind, broke out fresh into flame, running along a score or two yards, to finally die out for want of matter on which to feed. The black ashes raised in puffs by the wind, and the smoke, which was especially when engaged in clearing out your eyes; you went about in the path of one of these after-spurts of the warm fire, until the heat became unbearable. Some of the wind-affected spots with the feeling that it might be added to the list of the different places are heart-rending. An elderly man was telling me of his loss. He said that he had been in the place for many years. He had a farm, he had a large stock of horses, stables, granaries, etc., and had accumulated quite a large fortune. In a flash everything he possessed was wiped out as though it had never been.

THE SALARY OF BANK CLERKS. The City Council and Public School Board have done a good thing in deciding to commemorate Trafalgar Day by hoisting the flags on the public buildings. The anniversary of Trafalgar occurs, as everyone knows, on Oct. 21. It is a date and an event in which every citizen of the British Empire ought to take more or less personal interest and pride. Trafalgar still continues to serve as the sign by which Great Britain's supremacy at sea is manifest to the world. The Empire's existence is entirely dependent upon the ability of the British navy to hold the command of the seas.

THE HOUSE FOR OUR FARMERS. My football friends can take heart of grace. Charles Wood, an English youth, has just been playing lawn tennis. Excepting, perhaps, perhaps, there is no other class of people in our country who are so much interested in their homes as the farmers are. It is one in a while has opened the door to the divorce court.

THE SALARY OF BANK CLERKS. 'Now, then, my plan in a word is this: A farm house should be drained and dry, have a basement, and a good water supply. Next it should be well heated all over, and to do this a farmer may as well first as last put in a hot-water or steam-heating system and distribute the pipes throughout the house. It is all possible—and this means a steam plant or a windmill and a big reservoir. Many a farmer could lead a pipe from springs that are higher than his house and have a well heated all over, and to do this a farmer may as well first as last put in a hot-water or steam-heating system and distribute the pipes throughout the house.

TRAFALGAR DAY. Gunning accidents have not only in Canada, but in the Dominion generally, been increasing. John Tolson, accidentally shot by the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie Bowden, is a case in point. There appears to be no room for doubt that the affair was an accident, but throughout the Dominion, as in many other places, the fact that the gunner is a member of the House of Commons does not seem to have any effect on the number of accidents. A man who handles a gun should be careful, and he should be careful of his fellow-citizens. It is a shame that a man who handles a gun should be careless, and he should be careful of his fellow-citizens.

erly, lack of nourishment, lack of healthy surroundings are the causes of crime and disease. That is nearly all my philosophy. You can abuse me if you wish, you may ask how did our fathers and mothers live with any of these things; I shall stick to my point that the intelligent Canadian farmer can afford such a house as I've described and he can afford to have it long before he indulges in pianos, carpets, fancy furniture, bougier and the like. I can justify a mortgage on a farm for a comfortable house to live in, but for nothing else.

And, later on, I'll tell you what our country will help to make the farm attractive. But before abusing me for my revolutionary ideas I trust the good wifery of our Canadian farmers will give my little lecture their serious consideration. I am not their enemy but their friend.

NOTES ON NEWS. Bismarck's strongest weapon was a threat of retaliation. When all other arguments failed, the Cardinal submissively withdrew, and an hour afterwards the King yielded. Bismarck used the same argument with the Emperor of Germany. He tried it with his grandson and was taken at his word. Gladstone, too, was constantly retiring and constantly being requested to continue in power. Even now he presents the spectacle to the world of a man at 88 leading one of the two great parties of the greatest Empire on earth.

THE AWFUL PRAIRIE FIRE. One of our Toronto men who is out near Stony Mountain, en route for the Klondike, writes to The World his experience with a prairie fire. 'Ever since the rumors of the fire had reached us, I had written, "I had wished to see a large prairie fire as closely as possible without danger; but now that my wish has been granted, I have no means eager to see another. We had often noticed signs of fire, rolling clouds of smoke by day, and at night, and had even seen the flames of small fires, but until Thursday last had never come to close quarters with one. I had been to the Mountain for the night, returning over the top of the hills, and had been away to the southwest a vast mass of rolling smoke, which I had seen in the distance, but which I had not seen so close as I was now.

THE SALARY OF BANK CLERKS. Banks which make money enough to pay their shareholders 10 per cent. dividends can make no defence to a charge of paying inadequate salaries. The young man who was charged with stealing some $50,000 from the Dominion Bank at Nanapanee received a salary of $12 a week. He was responsible for the safety of the bank money, of which there was often more than $50,000 on hand.

A Number of Rumors Which Mr. Minervo Has Heard Concerning Changes in Government House, the Cabinet and the Senate—Something About the Stock Market—Senator Forget Would Not Talk About His Business in Toronto—Montreal News.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—(Special).—One of the heaviest real estate deals yet recorded in the city has just been completed. Some time ago several Canadian Pacific magnates, with R. Prefontaine, M.P., acquired a large tract of land in the east end, near the site of the proposed basin, which are said to be favored by Hon. Mr. Tarte and the Canadian Pacific. It is now announced that Alderman Prefontaine has sold out his portion of the property, amounting to over a million feet, to Sir William Van Horne and several other gentlemen at the rate of 15 cents per foot.

KILLED A GIRL OF FIVE.

Said Fatality Near the Station at Mimico—Little Nellie Wilson Lost.

A sad fatality occurred about 80 yards from the Mimico station on Monday evening, when Nellie, the 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. Wilson, was struck by a passing train and killed. The little girl was picking up coal between the tracks when two trains approached from opposite directions. She was evidently bewildered, not knowing which side to rush for, and in her excitement made for the south side of the tracks and was caught by the P.M.T. express going west. Her little brother, William, was coming to help her at the time, but did not see the accident. Crossing on the track, when the train from the east was coming, she was struck in the chest and excitedly cried in his childish manner: "What's that? When did this happen?" The little girl was lying close to the rails and dead. She had been struck on the head and her back was also broken. Dr. Cotton, coroner for the district, was at once summoned, but on viewing the remains decided that an inquest would be unnecessary. Mrs. Wilson has the sympathy of the community in her affliction. It was only last spring that she lost her husband and she was left with several children, of whom this was the youngest but one.

THE OLD FILM FIAM GAMB.

Henry Higgins was yesterday convicted on the charges of having stolen a watch and a ring. He was sentenced to a term of six months in the penitentiary. The case was heard in the Municipal Court, and the evidence was overwhelming. Higgins had been caught red-handed by the police, and he had no alibi to offer. The judge found him guilty beyond a doubt, and he was taken to the penitentiary to begin his term of imprisonment.

NEW YORK CHURCHES.

A visit to New York would be incomplete without a visit to one or two of the many churches which this great metropolis is justly famous. One Sunday, however, leaves little room for a visit to more than two or three, so on Saturday morning we determined to attend the great Jewish Synagogue of Emanuel, which is situated on Fifth-avenue. It is a beautiful structure, very large and built in the more dignified style of Moorish architecture, with great arches supported by massive pillars of marble and stone. The walls are richly decorated and light streamed in Jew-like colors through the stained-glass windows.
