EXTRACTS FROM THE CONSTITUTION

OF THE

FRENCH CANADIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

II. The operations of this Society shall embrace—the employment of ministers, teachers, book-venders, and scripture readers, (whose native language is French, if possible,)—the establishment and support of schools, and places of worship,—and the distribution of the Holy Scriptures, and such publications as may be requisite in accomplishing the object of the Society.

III. No person shall be admitted or continued a Minister, Teacher, Agent, Trustee or Office-bearer, under any name in connection with this Society, whose religious sentiments are not decidedly in accordance with the great evangelical doctrines of the Protestant Faith, namely, the fallen and totally depraved condition of human nature; the supreme divinity of our Lord Jesus Christ; the sacrificial character and design of the Saviour's death; the deity, personality and saving influences of the Holy Spirit; justification by faith alone, through the atoning-merits and all prevailing intercession of the Son of God, the necessity of holiness of heart and life as produced and maintained by the indwelling Spirit of God; and the endless duration of future rewards and punishments. The above summary of doctrine shall equally apply to all Books and Tracts distributed by the Agents of this Society.

IV. This Society shall maintain an entire absence of a sectarian spirit in the choice of its agents, the application of its funds, and the management of its concerns. In the selection of its agents, there shall be alone consulted, their religious and intellectual fitness for promoting the grand objects in view, namely the bringing of souls into the Kingdom of God, and building them on the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone.

THIRTY-FIRST ANNIVERSARY

French Canadian Missionary Society.

The Annual Meeting of the French Canadian Missionary Society was held on the 27th January, 1870, in the Wesleyan Church, St. James Street, Montreal; Rev. W. Taylor, D. D., Vice-President in the Chair. After devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. Canon Bancroft, D.D., an abstract of the Annual Report was read by Lt.-Col. Haultain, Secretary, after which the following resolutions were adopted:—

2. Resolved,—"That the assembling of the so-called Ecumenical Council at Rome, is a fit and obvious opportunity for the Reformed Churches to re-affirm their belief, that the teaching of the Church of Rome is subversive of the essential principles of the Gospel, having substituted the inventions of fallible men, for the written testimony of the Infallible Word. And this meeting recognizes the duty of evangelical Christians to do all in their power to make known to their Roman Catholic fellow-countrymen, the true doctrines of a Scriptural Christianity."

The pupils from Pointe-aux-Trembles sung several hymns during the evening. After the Doxology, the Rev. W. B. Clark pronounced the Benediction. The proceeds of the meeting amounted to $420.

THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT.

KS.

Within the Province of Quebec there are probably not less than a million of its inhabitants, who have hitherto been amongst the most devoted adherents of the Church of Rome. Romanism, perhaps in its best garb, but with no real abatement of its pretensions nor diminution in its errors or superstitions, has been able in the main, to hold its own amongst the masses of the population. The priesthood, wealthy and powerful, have spared no efforts to isolate their people, retarding, as a necessary consequence, and in the most marked manner, both their material and intellectual improvement.

Pressed from without, by the persistent efforts made by the Protestant community, to place the means of education within the reach of all, they have been compelled to concur in the establishment of schools and seminaries amongst their own people. By the immense power that they wield in the Councils of the country, they have, however, been able virtually to obtain the supreme control of all such institutions, and to mould the system so as best to further their claims and purposes. From their earliest years and onwards, the most unquestioning obedience to their ecclesiastical masters is fostered in the mind of the French Canadian youth, and in many instances, may be said to make up the chief part of the education they receive.

It is not therefore to be wondered at, that moulding the young by a supreme control of their education, and controlling the adult portion of the population by the terrible power given them by the confessional, the Priests of Rome may be said still to be masters of the situation.

Among such a people, the work of evangelization has had to meet with no ordinary obstacles. The very general ignorance that prevails amongst them—their well fostered suspicions of every attempt on the part of Protestants to enlighten them—the determined and persistent efforts on the part of their spiritual guides, to prevent the free circulation of the Scriptures—the ecclesiastical censures and crushing persecution these ruthlessly resort to, against those who would question either their authority or their teaching,—all combine to intensify the difficulties that have to be met and overcome, before efforts put forth for the spread of Bible truth could be generally successful.

The Committee would urge upon the friends and supporters of the Mission, a just and earnest consideration of the difficulties inseparably connected with the work that is committed to their guidance and supervision.

To know how best to penetrate the walls of separation so skilfully raised and carefully watched, by a more than human wisdom and vigilance, requires the united exercise of faith and wisdom, patience and boldness, which are His to bestow, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, and these can be reasonably expected from Him, only as they are humbly and diligently sought.

This obvious duty and high privilege, the friends of the Society are pressing invited to share with the members of the Committee, and with the laborers in the field, and thus uphold the hands of those who are called upon more directly to wage the war against Rome's overspreading influence, prestige and power.

Whilst the Committee deem it just to every laborer in the work, to remind those who are outside, of the difficulties to be encountered, they are far from wishing it to be inferred that the record of the past, or the prospects of the present, warrant anything like complaint or discouragement. Far otherwise. To the existence of this Society in the past is due, under God,—the wide dissemination of His truth,—the furtherance of secular and religious education,—the emancipation of thousands from the grinding fetters of Rome,—and above all, the salvation of many immortal souls. And as regards the present and the future, it may be said without exaggeration, that never was there a period in the history of the Mission, when more encouragements to perseverance in the work, presented themselves to the observant mind. There are the plainest evidences that a spirit of enquiry and independence is progressing among the adherents of the Church of Rome generally. The calling of the Council at Rome, has given an impetus, perhaps little contemplated by its Jesuit promoters, to bold discussion and plainness of speech on the part of Roman Catholics themselves, that we would fain hope must tend to the promotion of truth. It has also made patent the fact, well known, but denied with unabashed effrontery, that under a rigid uniformity, calculated only to dwarf the intellects, and deaden the consciences of men, there exists the widest diversity of opinion. Questions of primary importance to the very existence of the Romish system, have given rise to discussions as acrimonious, and intrigues as unholy, among the chief dignitaries of that church, as ever were displayed in the freest of human institutions.

These events cannot but leave their impression upon the more intelligent of the French Canadian Roman Catholics, whilst other influences are at work that, quietly yet surely, are bringing about a very decided change in the social condition of the whole population.

Increased facilities of communication have begotten a more general intercourse with the United States and Upper Canada. The value of edu-education is being more generally appreciated by the people. The prevalence of the English language on this continent, and the knowledge of its being necessary for profitable employment, have given a remarkable impetus to the acquisition of that language, whereby both the English press and literature will be increasingly accessible to all ranks of the population. The restless ambition of the Jesuits, and their abettors the Ultramontane party in the Church, has led them to attempt to draw a tighter rein upon the thought and liberty of their people, which has called forth a bolder assertion on the part of the friends of liberty amongst the enlightened and better educated French Canadians.

This helps to keep alive an agitation that can only be damaging to ecclesiastical assumptions. It is true that this opposition to priestly interference is often the result of a too much vaunted liberalism, the spread of which amongst educated Roman Catholics is inevitable, if, with the extension of advanced education, there be not a corresponding dissemination of Bible truth. The believer in a divine revelation, avoiding alike the rationalistic and ritualistic tendencies of the age, is called upon to enter more vigorously than ever upon the work that is ready to his hand, and to employ the means, and take advantage of the propitious circumstances, that so abundantly offer themselves at the present time. To make known to French Canadian Romanists the gospel of the grace of God, has ever been the great object of the Society and the labourers employed by it. From the experience of the past, the Committee see no reason to alter the division of the work, into the three principal departments of Education, Colportage, and more direct Evangelistic efforts, and under these heads it is proposed to give a short account of the work of the past year.

EDUCATION.

This is in some respects, the most hopeful of the Society's operations. To take the young from adverse influences, and to bring them under the direct and daily instruction of God's word, is to employ on their behalf, the most powerful instrumentality for good, that has been placed in the hands of men. During the present session, at the Pointe-aux-Trembles Schools, one hundred and nine young persons, male and female, between the ages of 12 and 24, have been receiving sound secular education, joined to daily and systematic teaching of God's word.

Besides the assembling of the inmates of the respective schools for morning and evening worship, the Bible lesson occupies from nine to ten o'clock every morning.

To some of the pupils, to whom the sacred volume has been a forbidden and a sealed book, this searching of the scriptures is at first an evident infliction which has to be endured. But as day after day their acquaintance with it becomes enlarged, their prejudices are seen gradually to disappear, their minds to become enlightened, and the deepest interest to take the place of ill-disguised aversion and contempt. After a year's such training, few indeed retain their attachment to the Church of Rome, whilst the great majority reward the toil spent on them, by a bold rejection of the inventions of men, and a sincere reception of the Bible as their only rule of faith. Most interesting instances occur of endurance manifested by the pupils for their attachment to the word of God. The sacrifice of home and friends is not confined to heathen countries, or ages past.

BOYS' SCHOOL.

There are at present sixty-seven pupils at the Boys' School. Coming as they do from all parts of the French country, they help to spread the knowledge of the Gospel. From the banks of the Saguenay and St. Lawrence in the East, from the shores of Lake Superior in the West, and even from those of Hudson's Bay in the North, distances in miles beyond computation by hundreds, the pupils meet at a common centre, Pointe-aux-Trembles, whence, beyond doubt, the Light has been carried to dark and remote corners of the land.

This School is most efficiently presided over by the Rev. G. Mousseau Des Islets. A French Canadian by birth, and one who had himself received his earliest religious impressions at Pointe-aux-Trembles, he can sympathise with the feelings and prejudices of his young countrymen, and by a sagacious union of kindness and firmness, he elicits the respect, whilst he secures the obedience, of those committed to his care.

M. Cornu very assiduously assists the Director in the instruction of the Pupils.

Madame Des Islets directs, most satisfactorily, the domestic arrangements of the establishment, a task requiring not a little tact and patience.

The following are extracts from Rev. Mr. Des Islets report :

"We have sixty-seven boys under our care; they are all healthy and intelligent, some of them are very intelligent and very studious. Our boys have a prayer meeting every Sunday among themselves, which is well attended. We have public worship, morning and evening, and a Bible class every day for the whole school. The children have to learn for the next day, verses bearing on the subject treated of in the morning. The branches taught in the School are as follows:—Reading and Dictation in English and French, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Mental Arithmetic, Geography, French Grammar. Book-Keeping taught in English, History, Compositions, Recitations and Vocal Music, taught very acceptably by Calvin Ameron, one of the elder pupils of the School. On the whole I am satisfied that much good is done by these establishments, I only regret that the funds of the Society do not permit us to have two hundred boys instead of sixty-seven."

first communion at eleven years of age, the whole girlhood of the land, from the age of seven, is compelled from that time to pay frequent visits to the confessional box. It would not be in place here to dwell upon the tendencies of that terrible scourge, Rome's most subtle and powerful device for the enslavement of a people. Allusion is made to it, in order to bring out in bolder relief the importance attaching to an institution, where the future wives and mothers of the land may learn both the duties and privileges of their womanhood.

There are at present, forty-two female pupils at the school, who, with one or two exceptions, are the children either of Roman Catholic parents, or of converts from Rome.

The same care is taken, and the same time employed in their religious instruction as with the boys.

The school is under the direction of Madame Moret, who has given some of the best of her days to a work for the right discharge of which a combination of qualifications is absolutely required. We cannot do better than quote from her report of the school for the past year. She writes:—

"I always find it difficult how to convey to those not personally acquainted with our establishment, what is the condition for the most part, of the young girls that enter it.—Ignorance complete. Not able to read. Having no reasonable sense at all of what true religion is. They come to us fifteen and even twenty years of age, perfectly ignorant of the Gospel. Jesus is to them "the unknown God"—what labor and patience and faith do we need. But God supplies us with needful help.

At the end of three or four months, we see a great change in our young girls, they can then write, read tolerably well, and learn by heart passages of the Bible, which they have to recite at the Bible lesson, which is carefully given every day. And when we have been able to keep them three or four years, some of them have attained to a degree of instruction, which has rendered them capable of occupying places in first-class institutions, some of them, indeed, are at the head of missionary establishments similar to our own. Five of our pupils are at this moment preparing themselves for teachers, all of whom are pious and intelligent young women.

God has abundantly blessed us, during the past year, their health has been excellent, and some of them have become truly serious. Four have made a profession of their faith, and some others are proposing to do the same. As far as we can judge by their conduct and their words, there is reason to hope that their conversion is the work of the Holy Spirit upon their heart. But all have not faith; in the school as in the world.—All are obedient to the rules, and make progress. In leaving us, all will be able to read the word of God, He alone can give them the increase.

The number of pupils during the year amounts to fifty-seven."

Melle. Cadier ably and faithfully assists Mad. Moret in the education of the pupils. Madame Doudiet, though not engaged as a teacher, gives much valuable assistance in the religious instruction of the School, and aids, by her presence, in giving a Christian tone to the establishment.

M. Cornu, from the Boys' School, gives four lessons a week in superior arithmetic.

From among the more promising pupils, it is hoped that a class of teachers may be prepared, to take their place in the Schools of the country, whilst others might be found qualified eventually to occupy the position of ministers of the Gospel. Thus a native agency would be raised up, the most fitting instruments for the evangelization of a people.

Besides the Schools at Pointe-aux-Trembles, Mission Schools are being formed throughout the country, the teachers of which are supported, in whole or in part, by the Society. They are Mr. Mathieu, at Grenville; Mr. Gatignol, at Ste. Cecile; Mad. Muraire, at Quebec; Melle. Amaron, at Hunterstown; Melle. Duclos, at St. Hyacinthe; with Joliette and Belle Riviere not at present supplied with teachers. This is a department capable and worthy of great extension.

THEOLOGICAL CLASS.

We may here allude to the very satisfactory progress being made by the three students, Rivet, Dionne, and Coté, who are pursuing their theological studies under the efficient instruction and supervision of the Rev. Professor Coussirat, who reports of them as follows:—

“Their conduct is irreproachable, their application exemplary, their progress very satisfactory. If they continue as they have commenced, I do not doubt that they will exercise, with God's grace, an excellent influence amongst their fellow-countrymen.”

The services of Professor Coussirat, by an arrangement cordially entered into by the Committee, have also been obtained in connection with the Montreal College of the Canada Presbyterian Church, where several young French Canadians from Kankakee, Illinois, are preparing for ministerial work in Lower Canada.

COLPORTAGE.

This branch of the Society's operations has continued to receive the attention that its great importance deserves. The Colporteurs have been pursuing their most arduous labors in spite of every obstacle opposed to them. From what has been already said, with reference to the people, and the power of their priests, the difficulties thrown in the way of Bible circulation, are of no ordinary character. We have to record the same general opposition of the latter, but we hope with a gradual increase of boldness and interest on the part of the people.

The result of past labors, is sometimes manifested in the case of individuals, sometimes in a general change of sentiment towards the work in special parts of the field. No one conversant with the subject, can doubt that on the whole, from evangelistic effort and other causes, the Colporteurs have increased access to the people in the prosecution of their work.

We have to record the loss of one faithful laborer, Mr. Jamieson, who has been called to another sphere of labor in Wisconsin.

The following are the Colporteurs in connection with the Society, and the localities in which they specially labor:

Antoine Geoffroy,	-	-	Belle Rivière.
Emanuel Richard,	-	-	St. Anne des Plaines.
Louise Marie,	-	-	St. Laurent.
S. Van Bueren,	-	-	Montreal.
Joseph Vessot,	-	-	Joliette.
Daniel Amaron,	-	-	Berthier.
André Solandt,	-	-	Inverness.
J. B. Mauraire,	-	-	Quebec.
Jules Bourgoïn,	-	-	do.
A. Boy,	-	-	Three Rivers.
Hypolite Garayt,	-	-	Rivière du Loup.

The Colporteur is a pioneer in a hard country. The Committee would again record their deep sense of the amount of self-denial and zeal necessary for the right discharge of their most arduous duties. These brethren merit, and have a right to expect our deepest sympathy and most earnest prayers. Extracts from their journals will be found in the appendix.

EVANGELIZATION.

The necessity of providing for the spiritual oversight of the scattered converts from the Church of Rome, must continue to exist so long as by the efforts of the Society, souls are brought to embrace the Gospel. Even Protestants scattered and isolated amongst the almost unbroken masses of Romanists, are found to grow cold and indifferent, and their children to fall an easy prey to the unfavourable circumstances under which they are reared. How much more requisite is it, in order to keep those who have been won from the ranks of Rome, to employ a missionary agency, that by a periodical visitation, the scattered sheep may be encouraged and confirmed, and where in larger numbers they may receive the benefit of pastoral care.

During the past year, owing to the vacancy caused by the removal of the Rev. G. M. DesIslets to Pointe-aux-Trembles, Montreal has been left without a permanent pastor. The pulpit has been supplied by the ministers in connection with the Society, who have cordially given their services when required; also, occasionally by the students going through their theological course under Professor Coussirat. Notwithstanding these unfavourable circumstances, during the year thirteen adults and twenty-three children have joined the Congregation from the Church of Rome.

A series of discourses, on subjects at issue between the Reformed and Roman Catholic Churches, is being given in the French Protestant Church, Montreal. Much interest is being manifested in them, and a more than ordinary number of French Canadian Romanists attended.

The Rev. C. Chiniquy was invited to take part in these discourses, and on the 9th January he took for his subject, "The Priest of the Gospel." The Church was crowded to its utmost capacity, and hundreds were unable to obtain admittance. A certain number attended for the evident purpose of interrupting the service, and the increasing crowds without the buildings manifested the usual intolerance of men brought up in the Romish system, by continued howlings, mingled with many threats of violence towards Mr. Chiniquy. A body of police was called to the scene, and it was thought necessary by them, that Mr. Chiniquy should be escorted to his place of residence by two of their number. For several consecutive nights Mr. Chiniquy continued his addresses, and hundreds of his countrymen continued to attend them. Proper precautions having been taken, with the prompt and decided co-operation of the police authority, although crowds every night assembled, attentive audiences were enabled to listen without interruption, to the most fearless exposure of the errors of Rome, and as faithful a declaration of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus. Nothing could more clearly indicate the change that has come over the people, than the hundreds that have continued, night after night, in spite of the efforts and denunciations of their priests, to listen to the earnest appeals of the excommunicated, and, in the language of Rome, the "apostate" Chiniquy. The interviews he has had with individuals have been most encouraging, and no one is more ready than Mr. Chiniquy himself, to connect the change that has come over the people, with the patient, persevering efforts of this and kindred societies. It is hoped that Mr. Chiniquy may be lead to occupy Montreal as the chief field for the powerful talents God has bestowed upon him, and as specially fitting him to reach his countrymen.

The Rev. R. P. Duclos continues to labor at St. Hyacinthe and surrounding district. Commencing with a congregation at St. Hyacinthe, of only four adults, he now ministers to one numbering thirty-seven, of whom twenty are adults.

The Rev. Mr. Vernon is at present stationed at Joliette, and visits the various stations in connection with it and has given his services, as also has Mr. Duclos, in supplying the vacancy in Montreal.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Much as there is in the work itself to give encouragement and confidence to every well-wisher of the Mission, the condition of the finances, and the causes that have helped to produce it, are such as must call forth the most painful regret, where there ought to have been only satisfaction and thankfulness.

At the close of this year's accounts, the Committee have to announce a balance against the Society of $4500.

It will be remembered by the readers of the last report, that seven additional laborers had been selected in Europe, and brought to this country at considerable expense, thereby leaving the Society in debt at the end of the year to the amount of nearly $2000. But after a careful estimate made by their esteemed Treasurer, it was hoped that the anticipated income would have sufficed to meet the increased expenditure. With the ordinary sources yielding the usual supply such hopes might have been realized.

But instead of this, the debt has been increased by about $2500, which, on comparing the income of last year with that of the one previous, will be found to have mainly arisen from the deficiency in the funds usually received from Great Britain.

In November 1868, the Rev. Mr. Macdonald their then Secretary, visited Britain as the agent of the Society. His mission was not successful, and for some months previous to his return to this country, which took place about the month of August last, no communication had been received from him, neither could any satisfactory report of his mission, or settlement of his accounts, be subsequently obtained; and it is with unmixed pain that the Committee find themselves compelled, in self-defence, to mention in this report, that Mr. Macdonald is at the present time a defaulter to the amount, as far as can be ascertained, of about $850, being part of the monies he had received in Great Britain for the purposes of the Society.

This inability to obtain definite information, obliged the Committee to postpone from time to time, taking any action as regards the agency to Great Britain, thereby losing the collections ordinarily made there.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

We have again to record our thanks to the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland, for the grant of £100 stg.

To the National Bible Society of Scotland we are indebted for a continuance of their aid of £10 per month, towards the support of two of the Society's colporteurs; and to the British and Foreign Bible Society, we are indebted for a very acceptable grant of French Testaments.

AUXILIARY ASSOCIATIONS.

We can scarcely overrate the importance of extending both in Britain and on this Continent, local associations in connection with the Society.—Not only are they an efficient and inexpensive means of collecting subscriptions from contributors, but they tend to enlist the sympathies and interest of a larger number of persons in the different localities.

Our warmest thanks are due to all who have, in this way, so materially aided in the support of the mission.

To those in Great Britain, far removed from the scene of our operations we are specially indebted for their unflinching efforts to add to the income of the Society, and in recording our thanks to Samuel Gunn, Esq., Miss Pinkerton and J. D. Bryce, Esq., of Glasgow; Mrs. McNider and Robert Haldane, Esq., of Edinburgh; Bryce Allan, Esq., of Liverpool; we do so both for their aid as individuals and as representing our friends in Great Britain.

We have much pleasure in recording the resuscitation of the Montreal Ladies' Association, with a revived interest in a work towards the support of which they have done so much in the past. We beg the other Auxiliaries in Quebec and Ontario to accept the Committee's very cordial recognition of their self-denying aid.

It is a matter of no little gratification to the Committee, that the Canada Presbyterian Church still continues to countenance and support a Society not in any way directly connected with it—to the Congregational churches also, that have contributed to our funds, the same acknowledgments are due.

And we ask all the supporters of the Society, of every denomination, to accept the thanks we tender to them, whilst expressing our gratification, that the constitution and general work of the Society, still induces and enables many of every phase of evangelical belief, to extend a helping hand, and we trust some times to offer an earnest prayer for His blessing, who alone can make effectual the efforts made for the extension of His kingdom.

BEQUESTS.

The funds of the Society have been materially aided during the past year, by the legacies of $100 from the late G. Hagar, Esq., and $1000 from the late John Redpath, Esq., and to the friends and executors of these lamented gentlemen, our thanks are due for the facilities that have been afforded in obtaining the amounts alluded to.

The Committee desire to express their deep sympathy with the surviving friends of the above, and to record their sense of the serious loss the Society has sustained in the removal of two such warm supporters of the Mission. The late John Redpath, Esq., had been connected with it from its first formation, and for the last two years of his life, had filled the position of President, whilst for many years, Mr. Hagar had served the Society as a member of its Committee.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN CHRISTIAN UNION.

It is with much regret that we have to announce that the above Union has been obliged, from the curtailment of its own resources, to discontinue the arrangement entered into with this Society during the past year, whereby a grant of $250, American currency, per month had been promised.

We can deeply sympathise with our friends of the Union, in their present circumstances, and sincerely trust that, aided by the services of their highly esteemed Secretary, Dr. Butler, the influence and ability of their valuable organization may be greatly extended. In consequence of the above, the Committee have had to consider how best to bring the claims of the Society before the American churches.

The constant stream of French Canadians flowing into the United States, makes the latter in a large degree interested in the work of the mission. Not a few of those who, by means of this Society have left Rome, have also been obliged to take shelter in the larger and freer field immediately contiguous to their own border.

After consultation with friends in the United States, the Committee were dissuaded from the usual course of sending an agent to represent them. An appeal has been issued and circulated, under the superintendence of the Rev. J. B. Bonar, for whose voluntary and gratuitous aid the Committee cannot too strongly express their obligation.

They have only to wait the issue of this appeal, and throw the claims of the Mission upon the sympathy and liberality of their American brethren.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

The various operations of the Society afford opportunities, where christian benevolence may find specific objects for its exercise.

It is matter for congratulation that an increasing number of pupils are supported by Sabbath Schools and individuals, to whom their names and reports of their progress are sent from time to time. Doubtless many might be interested in this direction were their attention drawn to it. Pupils at the schools, students for teachers and missionaries, colporteurs and catechists, might be allotted to any willing to defray their expenses.* Every information can be obtained on application to the Secretary.

AGENCY.

The Society has been fortunate enough to retain the services of the Rev. J. T. Byrne, for the important and self-denying work of Agency in Ontario, which he resumed in October last at the earnest request of the Committee. He also gave his services during the first half of the year, in filling the position of Secretary during Mr. Macdonald's absence. The cordial acknowledgments of the Committee are tendered to Mr. Byrne for his assiduous labors on behalf of the Mission.

CONCLUSION.

Unchecked prosperity has seldom, if ever, marked the career of men in the things of God, whether in their individual or collective capacity.

*Note. The expenses per annum, are—for a pupil, $40; for a student, $120; for a colporteur, $400.

The work in which the Society is engaged, is so evidently the Lord's, that no temporary difficulty should slacken effort or lessen hope. The indications are many and strong, that Rome is reeling under the blows inflicted upon her, by divisions within, and persistent aggressions without.

The attempt being made to turn the world back to the midnight darkness of the past, is recoiling with stern retribution, upon those whose wonderful and persistent energy, is worthy of a better cause. Well would it be were the professed friends of light and truth, to put forth efforts as self-denying and sustained. Energies lie dormant and forces scattered, at a time when the call is loud for vitality and union. It is for us to expose fearlessly Rome's errancy, and to proclaim as faithfully, God's true message to man.

The Committee close with the humble and earnest prayer, that God would arise and plead His own cause.

EXTRACTS FROM MISSIONARIES JOURNALS.

From the Report of the Rev. Mr. Vernon, who was accompanied by Colporteur Jamieson, we give the following extract, relative to a Secession of sixty-three souls from the Church of Rome at Ste. Cecile, about twenty-five miles north of the city of Ottawa.

"Every day there were two meetings, one at 2 p.m., at the north part of the township by Mr. Jamieson, and another in the evening held by Mr. Vernon. At the latter the attendance was from forty to fifty of both sexes, all very attentive. After the meeting, the conversation lasted till midnight, and the proceedings were so interesting, that Mr. Vernon, who had been unwell, forgot his sickness and fatigue. When midnight came, they said the subjects were too important to think of sleep, and it must have been three or four o'clock in the morning, before some living at a distance, could have reached home. On the fourth day, those who wished to unite with our churches, came to ask a certificate, and engaged to support the expenses of worship by voluntary gifts, some more, some less. Eleven fathers of families received this certificate, attesting they were now connected with our churches. These represent sixty-three souls, but there are more who wish to examine farther.* On Sabbath, I baptized a child, the father of which was a Protestant, the mother a Roman Catholic. Our meeting commenced at 2 p.m., and ended at half-past six p.m. It was interrupted by a man who came to say, that at last the priest consented to receive a visit from the opposition, even if the Swiss were with them. It was agreed that next morning at nine a.m., we should assemble at the priest's house. The people were most desirous of having such a meeting, and we made it a special matter of prayer, feeling its importance. We had four miles of wretched roads, the rain and the melting snow falling; but the people came from all parts, and as soon as we arrived the house was filled. Here we found the priest, a young man, by his accent from the South of France, seated in his robes. Rules for the discussion were agreed to, which turned chiefly on the necessity of having only the Holy Scriptures as a rule of faith; the priest wished to add tradition, and would not enter into details unless I agreed to this, which gave me the opportunity of giving reasons that could influence the priest to desire tradition, rather than the Word of God. His unwilling admission, that the version of DeSacy was authentic, was of great importance and told greatly on the people. I insisted upon keeping always to the question of what the Scriptures taught, and ignored the attempt of the priest to introduce what Luther, or Calvin, or any other individual taught. Finally after two hours the priest broke off the discussion during which I was able to propound to him some hard truths, and cite passages of the Scriptures to make the audience reflect—All were silent and attentive. After the discussion several said to us: "We are now satisfied, and know that your books are true, and we can read them with confidence." Mr. Vernon found at Ste. Cecile, some old fruits of our mission. One of those now leaving Rome, knew Colporteur Amaron, about eighteen years ago at Ramsay, and entertains a great esteem for him."

THE BIBLE AN UNKNOWN OR A FORBIDDEN BOOK.

"I gave a woman a bible, from which I had read to her, and which had much interested her. Calling upon her a fortnight afterwards, she told me her confessor had forbidden her to read it. He told her it would enlighten her too much, which remark raised her curiosity, and she continues to read it, joined by her husband."

"I have often occasion to visit the better classes amongst the French Canadians. Handsome rooms well furnished, and libraries with many books, including religious ones, but not once have I seen a Bible. I have occasionally asked why this was so generally absent. The reply is, that they learn all that is necessary from the Priest; or, sometimes, that they have the Bible in their bedrooms."

"At the village of——the priest has succeeded in having the school teacher sent away from the place because he had in his possession the Holy Scriptures, of which he could not refrain himself from speaking to his pupils."

"We met an old man asking his bread. We spoke of the bread of life, and gave him a New Testament, which he was able to read. He said he had had one once before, but that the priest asked to have it, and gave him another book in its place. He said that if he ever got another ne priest or bishop should take it from him again. He shed tears as I read some of the words of promise and consolation of the blessed gospel."

"Colported in several of the parishes around——. Found the greater part of the Testaments formerly lent or sold. A few had been destroyed, the excuse being that the Priests had condemned them as bad books."

"In the village of——, we offered the Scriptures without effect. In the neighbouring villages, also, the result was the same."

"In this city, I have had very little success this past month, doubtless owing to the meetings and sermons of the Priests and Jesuits in their churches."

"A young girl pressed her mother to give her money to buy a Testament, and was told that she would not be able to receive the communion if she read it."

"In the parish of——, we found in one house three Bibles, which the Priest had in vain tried to get hold of to burn. We had a long discussion with him in the presence of about twenty people."

"At the beginning of the month, I visited a number of families in town, but sold almost nothing, the answer being almost invariably, 'our Priests forbid us to read your books, as they are bad.' At—— I could speak in almost all the houses, although the Priests and the Bishop threatened the people, that if they received us, they would not be allowed to take the communion."

"There is nothing new in my stations here. In one of the families which receive me, and with whom I had left a Testament, the Priest tore off the cover and threw the leaves into the fire. I find the spirit of the Priests always the same; bitterly opposed to the Word of God."

IGNORANCE AND SUPERSTITION OF THE PEOPLE.

"The people are very ignorant of the Bible, which, in multitudes of instances, they have never seen. Some have an abridgement of it, and imagine they possess the whole."

"I lent two tracts to a gentleman—I afterwards said to him: "Well sir, have you read my books?" "No sir, God preserve me from reading such books." "Why?" "Because they are full of blasphemies." "What! you have found blasphemies in my books; you are truly a clever man—Will you show them to me?" "That would be difficult for they are burnt." I would like very much to know what you have found so bad in my books and why you have burnt them." "Well, they are all the same—your books—it is always Christ here, Christ there, Christ every where." "Ah! I understand, it is this 'Christ' that offends you; whilst it is the name that the Holy Scriptures give to the Saviour, and you in your ignorance, thought that it was used as an oath." I shewed him that it was so in the Scriptures, which removed his objection to the books offered him."

"In discussing one day the new doctrine of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mary, Mr. B——, wanted to prove the power of Mary by relating an anecdote of her which I never heard before, and which was related publicly in church some weeks ago. The priest said that when Joseph and Mary were flying into Egypt, the Jews that sought to kill the child pursued them. Mary saw them at a long distance. As she was passing close to a field where some men were sowing some barley, she told them to hasten to the house and get their sickles, for the barley would be ripe when they came back. They went at her word, and when they came back found the barley ripe, and Mary, Joseph and Jesus, hid in a bush at some distance. When the Jews arrived there, they asked the reapers if they had not seen a man, his wife and child. Yes, said they, they passed here when we were sowing the barley. Then said the Jews, they must be far off, it is no use to pursue them any longer. And thus by this miracle was the Virgin saved; then must we not pray to her if she is so powerful."

"A man told me of a miracle performed by a priest, which is similar to many others believed in by the Roman Catholics. A Protestant Minister entering his pulpit one day to preach, found a huge serpent, which would not let him in. A Roman Catholic priest was sent for, and after ranging the Protestants and Roman Catholics on each side of the passage, he entered the pulpit in his canonicals and commanded the serpent to leave at once. This it did along the passage, when the Protestant minister with his congregation seeing the miracle, became all Roman Catholics."

OBSTACLES TO THE RECEPTION OF THE TRUTH.

POWER OF THE CONFESSIONAL.

"There is a great stagnation among the Roman Catholic families here. Sometimes one is led to expect a great change, and see them throw off, with disgust, the yoke of the Romish Church. I have truly encouraging conversations with them, but when the time comes that they are obliged to go to confession, and have to examine their conscience,—and knowing they will have to confess to the priest their conversation against Romanism—they keep away from me. This lasts till they have made their devotion, as they call it, that is, until they have done penance for listening to other teachers than the priest, and have received the communion."

"They are subject to petty persecutions as soon as they have any intercourse with the colporteurs, for every man's neighbour seems ready to accuse any who permit the 'Swiss,' to enter their houses."

MARY THE OBJECT OF CONFIDENCE.

"A lady said, upon whom I had pressed the supreme duty of praying to God and to Jesus, "The dear name of Mary was the first that my mother taught me to stammer upon my knees, and I never go out of the door without first making the sign of the cross with holy water."

"I have the happiness to tell you that one of our most bigotted catholics Mrs. ——— now reads the Scriptures and comes with her husband every Sunday to our meeting. The priest has lately arrived from Europe, since when he speaks of nothing but the Holy Virgin."

OPPOSITION TO THE MISSIONARIES.

"In one village, almost entirely French Canadian, I met with bitter opposition, I was not able to dispose of one New Testament. Some of the people would have liked nothing better than to injure me, but the Lord protected me. Nevertheless in two families I have been able to witness for the truth, and have even been listened to with much attention."

"In the parish of ——— some poor people subscribed together to buy a Bible, and in passing the house a few minutes afterwards, we noticed them listening with attention to a child reading it aloud."

"The friends of the Gospel here ———, are daily strengthened in the study of the Scriptures. There are at least fifteen completely separated from the Papal church. What good news from Spain and Italy. It is hoped we shall have such good times in this country ere long."

"If I met with trials, I had also encouragements. I found a great number of persons ready to listen to the Word, and to receive it into their houses. At ——— I had a meeting attended by about 20 persons, some of whom shed tears."

"I visited ——— with Mr. ———. At this place, Mr. M——, a converted French Canadian, has charge of an establishment and we had a meeting attended by about fifteen French Canadians. At the close, as some of them shewed a desire to have the Word of God, we left some copies with Mr. M——. In the journies I have had everywhere, we meet with encouragement, the people seeming alive to the errors of their church—indifferent perhaps but curious to know what kind of a book it is they call the Bible, and ready to listen to its reading."

"A person asked me to let him have the completest copy of the Bible I had, as he earnestly wished to know the book. I found him what he wanted, and shortly after he came to the house to buy another for a friend."

"It appears to me that we have cause to thank God and take courage for the influence of the Priests is lessened day by day among the French Canadians. They cry out against us and our books, but the people say why are we not permitted to read the Bible, and how is it that those who read it leave the Church of Rome. These questions agitating the people, causes a spirit of enquiry."

"A gentleman of ———, has been reading the New Testament for some time and finds it most precious to his soul. He has to leave it in a Protestant family, to prevent its being burnt by his wife and family, who are all opposed to him. He has promised to attend our meetings and talks of leaving the Romish Church."

"In the second range, I had remarkable success, having sold, in two days and a half, one Bible and twelve Testaments. I met one family who astonished me by the way they seemed to understand the Scriptures when I explained them."

"I visited the G——, family, which has passed through many trials this past year, but through the grace of God, their faith has not been the least shaken. In summer the fire destroyed $400 worth of wood on their farm, a very great loss for them."

Then during the winter, two of the children died of fever, during which none of the neighbours dared go near them. And when I visited them, young Madame G——, and her daughter were sick, while the old grandmother was far from well, so that they were all glad to see me.

(This one of the most interesting families connected with the Mission. Their oldest son Charles was one of the first fruits to God, and others of the family have slept in Jesus. How much these isolated families exposed to persecution and with hardly any to sympathise with them, need our prayers.)

PROGRESS IN SPITE OF DIFFICULTIES.

"We have found in one of our converts from Popery, a good and strong auxiliary to our work. Mr.——, offers the Bible or some religious books to all his customers. Through his instrumentality many have been led to enquire after the Word of God."

"I repeat that I find here much of ignorance, fanaticism and opposition, but in the midst of it all some souls are accessible, some sinners disposed to hear the good news of salvation. One thing which encourages me and appears to me to be an answer to my prayers. It is the humble evening school which I commenced with much hesitation, and which continues to prosper in spite of the war waged against it by the priests. I have now twelve respectable adults, with whom I read the New Testament every evening.

"This month has been most encouraging. At—— the priests aided by the Jesuits were holding meetings, and calumniating us to the people. I held two meetings in the open air, at which some 30 or 40 persons attended. This facilitated my circulating the Scriptures afterwards, to the number of 34 testaments sold and lent, and 140 tracts given."

"We have in our town a blacksmith who is progressing in the knowledge of the Scriptures. I lent him a new Testament more than a year ago, and it has ended in his buying a Bible. He has lent his testament to one of the most influential men in this place."

"After some conversation, the shoemaker at——, invited me to take a seat and read from the gospel. I did so. He asked many questions which I endeavoured to answer by quotations from the Scriptures. His wife and an old man were present and listened attentively. When I was leaving, he bought a New Testament, and invited me to come again soon, saying that my visit had caused him much pleasure."

INCREASING WANT OF CONFIDENCE IN THE PRIESTS AND THE SYSTEM THEY UPHOLD.

"They laugh at Romanism with us; but before their neighbours, fear keeps them from being decided. A great number of Roman Catholic families find themselves between belief and doubt, hope and fear, not knowing what Master to follow, A large number of such families are accessible to us. Let us hope that God will soon change their hearts."

DISSATISFACTION OF THE PEOPLE.

"In general the French Canadians in the neighbourhood are disposed to emigrate to the States, one of the reasons being the tithes and exactions of the Clergy. In my district I believe that if they could sell their farms, half would leave. They generally say, that if they could get to the United States, they would be able to read the Scriptures without being tormented by the Priests. It is this fear of men, especially of the Priests, that prevents them from procuring the Word of God. The following is an example of what the Priests will sometimes do when they have the power. In a neighbouring parish, a man fell very sick, and sent for his Priest, who came and confessed him, but refused absolution unless the man paid him $20, which he had formerly claimed for the trespass of his cattle in his (the Priest's) field. done before, and sent for another Priest. If he had gone to Jesus it would have been better; but without the absolution of the Priest, he would not have been interred in the Romish burying ground."

"The enmity of the Indians* of the Lake of Two Mountains towards the Romish clergy, is the subject of much conversation among the Roman Catholics. Many speak strongly against the priests."

"One of the richest farmers of——, told me so long as priests were masters Canada would be enslaved, and he was resolved to take his ten children to the United States, where they would be free. There are other families more or less well disposed to the Gospel, likely to leave also."

without any charge or deduction whatever, and I direct that the receipt for the said sum of the Treasurer for the time being, of the said French Canadian Missionary Society shall constitute and be sufficient discharge thereof.

FORM OF CONSTITUTION FOR
AUXILIARY ASSOCIATIONS.

To those desirous of co-operating with this Society, the following draft of a Constitution is respectfully submitted.

PREAMBLE.—That this meeting cordially approving of the object which the French Canadian Missionary Society has in view, namely, “to provide means for preaching and otherwise disseminating the Gospel of Christ among the inhabitants of Canada speaking the French language;” as also, the means employed by that Society, the summary of doctrine to be held by its Agents and Officers, and the absence of denominational distinctions, as set forth in its printed Constitutions, Articles 2, 3, and 4—does hereby resolve to form itself into an Association, for the purpose of co-operating with that Society in endeavoring to improve the religious and moral condition of the French Canadians, to be called “The———Association, Auxiliary to the French Canadian Missionary Society,” with the following Constitution :—

I. That the business of this Association shall be conducted by a Committee composed of——members, with a President, Treasurer, and Secretary——of whom three to form a quorum.

II. That an annual meeting of the Association shall take place in the month of——, or at such times as the Committee may appoint, when a report of the proceedings during the past year, and the Treasurer’s account for the same period, shall be presented. The election of office-bearers shall also then take place.

III. That it shall be the duty of this Committee to aid the funds of the Parent Society by making collections, the proceeds of which, after deducting incidental expenses, to be remitted half-yearly on the first of——and——, to the Treasurer of that Society. It shall also be its duty to circulate the missionary intelligence furnished by the Parent Society.

IV. That this Constitution may be amended at any general meeting, previous notice having been given in calling it, of the proposed alteration.
