BRITISH REGAIN LOST POSITION NEAR MONCHY

Important Outposts East of Infantry Hill Succumb to Attack.

FRENCH LOSE TRENCH Germans Make Slight Progress Near Vauxaillon — Canadians Win Success.

London, June 20. — On the fighting fronts in France the British forces under Field Marshal Haig have recaptured important positions from the Germans east of Arras, while the Germans in the Champagne region have gained a foothold in French first line trenches.

The British gain was made east of Monchy-le-Preux, where Monday the Germans under cover of a violent bombardment drove back the British and occupied their trenches. Between the Ailette River and Moelin de Lafaux the Germans in a strong attack in which huge effectives were issued, captured a section of a trench held by the French. The attack was delivered over a front of about two-thirds of a mile and it followed a violent bombardment of the French line.

Near Lens the Canadians in an assault on a position held by the Germans which was barring the way to the coal city, routed out the defenders and captured the trenches and re-occupied them into the British lines. The Germans in vicious attacks endeavored to regain the lost terrain, but were beaten off.

Recapture Posts.
The report from the British headquarters issued today reads: "The posts east of Monchy-le-Preux, from which our advanced detachments were compelled to withdraw on the occasion of the enemy's attack against Infantry Hill Monday morning, have now been re-established by us."

Last night the enemy heavily bombarded our line north of the Souchez River and delivered three counter-attacks against the positions captured by us yesterday. In each case his attacking troops were completely repulsed.

The official report from British headquarters in France tonight reads: "After the failure of the three hostile counter-attacks north of the Souchez River reported in this morning's column, the enemy made a fourth attempt later in the night to recover the lost position and was again completely repulsed."

The weather was less favorable for fighting yesterday, but the work, in conjunction with the artillery, continued with good results. One German aeroplane was brought down in the neighborhood of the other was shot down by our anti-aircraft guns. Two of our aeroplanes failed to return."

French Loss Trench.
The official report issued by the French war office tonight reads: "After the bombardment reported in the communication of this morning between the Ailette river and Moelin de Lafaux the German attacked our positions on a front of more than one kilometre. The attack was very violent and was carried out with large effectives. It resulted in the enemy's gaining a foothold in a section of trench of our first line east of Vauxaillon."

"South of Plain another German attempt against the salient in our line east of La Royere farm brought no result."

"The artillery fighting was lively between Hurbais and Chevretz, and on the Verdun front and Italian positions and Chambrettes."

"Belgian communication: An enemy patrol attempted to surprise one of our advanced posts south of Dixmude last night, but was repulsed by our fire. The enemy bombarded our trenches east of Ramsappelle and in the neighborhood of Dixmude and Lillers. During the day the two artillery batteries were moderately active along the whole front, except near Dixmude and Steenstraete, where the action was more spirited."

CANADIANS CLEAR Foe FROM LENS DEFENCE

By Stewart Lyon.
Canadian Headquarters in France via London, June 20.—The approach to Lens has been made less difficult by a successful minor operation north of the Souchez River. The object of the attack was a nest of German trenches lying at the foot of Reservoir Hill. These trenches radiate from the ruins of mining buildings which are to be the chief places of shelter for the enemy between our front and Lens. Yesterday afternoon parties of bombers went out to capture these trenches by bombing operations. The attack was entirely successful. The trenches were cleared of the enemy, and the dugouts in which the Germans were believed to have been lurking were blown in and the ground incorporated into our system. Thirty-five prisoners were taken.

Barrette, Member for Berthier, Moves That Conscription Measure Be Given Six Months' Hoist—Judge McKenzie and Lapointe of Kamouraska Support Referendum Proposal.

By a Staff Reporter.
Ottawa, June 20.—J. A. Barrette, Conservative-Nationalist member for Berthier, upset the political apple cart tonight by moving that the government's conscription bill be given the six months' hoist. This action came as a surprise. The French speaking Conservative members, including the Nationalists from the province of Quebec, were known to be opposed to the bill, but it was generally understood that they would join with the government in voting down all amendments. Mr. Barrette in his speech tonight clearly indicated that the Nationalists at least, would not only oppose the bill but would support any destructive amendments that might be offered by the opposition. The Barrette motion for the six months hoist will call for the first test vote on conscription. If it is defeated, the Laurier amendment calling for a referendum will then be voted on.

Crothers is Aggressive.
The debate upon the second reading of the conscription bill was resumed this afternoon by Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, who made an aggressive speech in favor of the government policy. He was followed by Judge D. McKenzie, Liberal member for North Cape Breton and Victoria, who amused rather than instructed the house by a lengthy speech in which he pledged his fidelity to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and supported the referendum. Mr. Middlebro, Conservative member for North Grey, followed in a clear-cut argument for conscription, and was in turn followed by Mr. Ernest Lapointe, Liberal member for Kamouraska.

Mr. Lapointe spoke in English, and was rewarded by a well filled and attentive house. He made the point argument so far advanced against the conscription bill and fairly ridiculed the claim that the government could enforce the present Militia Act. He said that conscription could not be enforced if it were imposed upon an unwilling people. He also pointed out that the referendum would involve no longer delay than it would have involved in Sir Robert Borden's proposal to form a coalition government, pass the conscription bill, and then allow it to remain in abeyance until after a general election. Next came Mr. Barrette who spoke in French, and moved the six months hoist. Fred Pardee, chief Liberal whip, addressed the debate.

Crothers Resumes Debate.
Hon. T. W. Crothers minister of labor, resumed the adjourned debate upon the second reading of the conscription bill. He said that in August, 1914, the house unanimously decided that Canada should go into the war on the side of the allies and remain in the war until victory was achieved. We could not remain in the war, he argued, to a finish or for any considerable length of time, unless we raised more battalions, and the voluntary system having broken down we

TORONTO CITIZENS GENEROUS AS EVER

Not So Many Large Donations This Year, But Roses Sold Readily.
ALL MADE IN CITY
Over Three Hundred Thousand Had Been Sold Before Noon.

Toronto citizens again did splendidly yesterday when they contributed $15,864.92, as a result of the Queen Alexandra Rose Day collection. Toronto's third Alexandra Rose Day opened with brilliant promise which continued without alloy until the clouds gathered up about three o'clock and a heavy downpour of rain sent the workers scuttling to their cars and other shelter, like flocks of chickens to the wings of the old mother hen. From an early hour the pink boxes were being buzzed with the activities of the flower-sellers in pretty dresses and rose, pink, green or yellow or the silk sweat-dress of the rain.

Outside districts did their work so well that when the wayfarers reached the downtown sections there was often nothing left but the "pickings." All the teams in every district kept at their work courageously and the public as a whole seconded their efforts. It was noticeable, however, that large subscriptions were lacking in the majority containing themselves with the silver nickel or dime. Occasional bills of one or two dollars found their way into the pink boxes of the rose-seller and at least one fifty dollar-bill is recorded, but these were rare. While the citizens generally were spontaneous in their generosity there were not a few "scoopers" whose set faces aroused speculation as to the reason of their attitude. "I've met more dead people to-day than I ever did before," said one of the sellers after a number of the above class had come within her radius, but the generosity of the majority put irony to flight and the worker was at it again in search of fresh fields for her roses.

Three hundred thousand of the little pink blossoms were distributed amongst the captains and their workers early in the forenoon the call for replenishment had come out. At one section in West Toronto no less than three thousand were sold at a single corner before seven o'clock. Reports in various parts of the city varied, some being that things were "draggy" while others had the cheery "fine and dandy" as a report. Interest was added to the occasion by the knowledge that the same beneficent work was going on in England where the beautiful day originated, at the very same time that it was taking place in Toronto. Unlike the roses used in other years, those of yesterday were made here, conditions prohibiting their coming from England. This has opened up a new industry for our city, the originator of the work being Mrs. White, who has gone to the homes of crippled girls to teach them to make the pretty petals of stamens. Returned soldiers and soldiers' wives have also had a share in the production. Some of the girls who work on tinners spent their off hours "tagging" and returned to their work a little tired but a good deal cheered by their experience.

festooned with roses. Still another which attracted general attention was a car in Mrs. Ambrose Small's section, where she and her assistants, Mrs. A. E. Wilkes and Mrs. A. E. Apted, were surrounded by a crowd admiring the doll which, like a real live baby, rose up out of a great pink rose cradle, holding in its hand a scroll which said, "Help the Children."

Homes to Benefit.
The children's homes and hospital which will benefit are the I. O. D. E. Preventorium, Home for Incurable Children, Boys' Home, Girls' Home, Protestant Orphan's Home, Sacred Heart Orphanage, Sick Children's Hospital, Children's Home in Pariscourt, the Infants' Home, the Central Board of the Toronto Cheque and Children's Shelter.

The work of Rose Day is under the auspices of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, and the organization was superintended by Mrs. R. S. Wilton, regent of the Municipal Chapter, who had for her committee, Mrs. E. F. B. Johnston, Mrs. Angus MacMurray, Miss Elizabeth Dixon, Mrs. W. H. Riddell, Mrs. John Bruce, Miss Knowles, Mrs. Harold Scandrett, Miss Etta Jolley and Miss Flora Macdonald. The following are the captains of the districts: Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Strachan Johnston, Mrs. S. M. Sterling, Mrs. W. J. Law, Mrs. George Royce, Mrs. H. B. Johnston, Mrs. A. Bolland, Mrs. A. E. Goodenham, Jr., Mrs. George Reynolds, Mrs. Arthur Poyntz, Mrs. Cyril Ridge, Mrs. Dyas, Mrs. Singer, Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. Arthur Browning, Mrs. E. J. McClung, Mrs. J. A. Phil, Mrs. C. Simmonds, Mrs. J. J. Beck, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Leonard, Miss Kathleen O'Brien, Miss Laura Brodigan, Mrs. Maude Weir, Miss Margaret Taylor, Miss Marion Armstrong, Miss Hart.

Nerves Were Paralyzed

Astonishing Cure Effected After Three Years of Helplessness—Now Healthy and Happy.
Stratford, Ont., June 20.—All Stratford is interested in this report of the cure of paralysis by use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
Some years ago Mr. Wik had typhoid fever. After a relapse paralysis set in and in spite of all doctor and specialist could do he remained in a helpless condition for three and a half years.
He remained for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to cure him. The restoration was gradual, but he felt the old strength returning and kept up the treatment until he was well again and able to return to his work.
Mrs. J. Wik, 75 Cambria street, Stratford, Ont., writes: "In 1914 my husband was taken ill with typhoid fever. Later he had a relapse and paralysis of the nerves set in. For about three and a half years he was helpless and under the doctor's care. Then we had a specialist, who held a consultation with our own doctor. The result was we were told that all he required was building up. A friend advised us to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. At first we found the whole pill too strong, so we cut it in two. As given his health has done for a while, and later the whole pill. The results were simply splendid. Of course after such a long illness it took some time to get his system built up again. But in about a year and a half he was able to go to work again, and has not lost any time since. For the last fifteen years he has used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at intervals, and has never been disappointed in results. He generally takes one Kidney-Liver Pill a week, also. With this combination he keeps well, with no signs of the old trouble. We can therefore recommend the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and also the Kidney-Liver Pills, very highly."
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, full treatment of 6 boxes for $3.00, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Spence & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint.—(Advertisement.)

WILL ADVISE AGAINST ADMITTING WEAK-MINDED Deputation Visits Government to Ask for Appointment of Royal Commission to Report.

Hon. W. D. McPherson, provincial secretary, and Hon. Dr. W. C. Macdonald, education, received a deputation yesterday representing the Provincial Association for the Care of Feeble-Minded and composed of President Dr. F. J. Conboy, Vice-President, Mrs. A. M. Hueston, Rev. Canon Flannery, Rev. Father Mitchell, Col. Farewell (Whitby), Dr. P. H. Bryce (Ottawa), and Miss Clark. The deputation advocated the appointment by the government of a royal commission to enquire into and report on the subject of the best means of dealing with the problem of the feeble-minded in Ontario. The attention of the ministers was drawn to the fact that resolutions had been recently passed by Anglican synod and the Ontario Board of Mental Deficiency. This argument was related when Justice Louis Robt. was in the chair. He stated that he was entitled to the "profits and emoluments derived from office" who represented the crown. Dominion officials should also be exempted.

PASSENGER AGENT NOW TESTIFIES
Nearly everybody, especially railroad men, has heard of the case of Capt. Patty, a 69-year-old passenger agent for the Northern Pacific Railroad, with long experience in the service. He was in charge of the train between Toronto and St. Paul, Minn. He had a long account of general failing health which he attributed to a nervous breakdown and my general health gradually failed me. My principal trouble was indigestion and catarrh, but my whole system seemed to be out of shape. My condition finally got so bad I could not sleep at night, and always after eating I would suffer so with indigestion and heartburn that I felt just like there was a coal of fire in my stomach. My hearing and vision also were affected. I consulted several doctors here in Knoxville, and other cities, and they helped me considerably, and I finally got so could go around, but somehow I just could not feel right and could not sleep at night, which made me awfully nervous, and nothing I could eat, seemed to agree with me. I began reading about "Tanic" when you first came here. I did not decide to try the medicine until I talked with my friend, who told me it was the best thing he had ever taken, and that was sufficient proof to me. I bought "Tanic" and continued taking it, and came home this morning not only to buy the second bottle, but to tell you just what it has done for me. I began enjoying my meals, and I felt just like I was back after effects whatever. I am beginning to feel perfectly well, and I am always going to keep this Tanic on hand. It has done me more good than anything else in the medicine line. I have ever taken. I certainly do recommend it to my friends. It is really remarkable. Tanic is sold in Toronto by Tamblin's Drug Stores.

CITY HALL NOTES

The board of control has turned down the request of the lord mayor of London, Eng., for assistance to the St. Andrew's Hospital at Dollis Hill.

The board of control has sent a telegram of congratulation to Sir Robert Borden on the appointment of Hon. W. J. Hanna as food controller for Canada.

About 70 cadets and officers of the Canadian cruiser Niobe will visit Toronto for three days, beginning June 26, and the city will bear the expense of their stay.

At present the city is not disposed to be responsible for payment of 50 per cent of the cost of the confederation celebration. The celebration committee will be $4300. The board of control will consider the matter.

All the heads of city departments, with the exception of Works Commissioner Harris, held a private conference, under the chairmanship of Mr. Bradshaw, in the auditorium yesterday afternoon on how to increase the revenue of the city.

SUIT OVER MORTGAGE.
Claims Defendant Illegally Transferred Half Interest in Property.
In the non-jury session court before Justice Clute, Samuel McNairn is suing Gabriel Goodman, Rachel Goodman, Samuel Lichman and Annie Lichman, for connection with a mortgage. It is alleged that on October 15, 1912, Samuel and Annie Lichman borrowed $4900 from Gabriel Goodman, and the loan was due to the property on D'Arcy street. He in turn transferred the mortgage to the plaintiffs and when the loan was due to the plaintiffs, Goodman, McNairn now claims the amount of the mortgage and interest which he places at $8572. He also alleges that Gabriel Goodman illegally transferred a half interest in the property to his wife and asks for a declaration to that effect.

NO INFANTILE PARALYSIS.
Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, provincial health officer, stated yesterday that there were no prospects of a recurrence of an outbreak of infantile paralysis in Ontario this summer. One case at Guelph was the only one reported in the province. Last year there were seven deaths and in one month alone 76 cases were reported.

HAIR CUT COSTS MORE.
It is now the high cost of hair-cutting. On June 25 the barbers of the city have agreed to raise the charge to 35 cents, an increase of 10 cents per hair cut. The tonorial artists met yesterday and fixed the price and the day, claiming that the present 25 cents charge is not commensurate with the advance in wages and fittings and the H. C. of L. generally.

NO CITY HALL MEETINGS.
W. Matheson, while making a recruiting speech in front of the city hall yesterday afternoon, was informed that the board of control had issued an order prohibiting the holding of recruiting meetings in the immediate vicinity of the civic pile. Mr. Matheson had been speaking on the James street, and had moved to the front of the building when the recruiters of the 48th Highlanders and 110th Regiment overseas units had finished.

FINED TWO HUNDRED.
Had to Pay, Altho He Was Only Holding the Bottle for Another.
A novel interpretation of the Ontario Temperance Act was given in the police court yesterday when W. B. Shirley, a turtleneck man at Hanlan's Point, was fined $200 and costs for having liquor in his possession. Counsel for the defence argued that his client had been handed the bottle by a man to hold for a while and that in the meantime he was caught with the liquor. The excuse did not avail, however, the magistrate deciding that to hold was to have.

REQUIRES FILE OF MONEY TO BUY SCHOOL CASH Superintendent of Supplies Says He Will Need Over Sixty Thousand Dollars.

Apparently the board of education has a big job in front of it to meet the coal situation for the coming winter, and according to superintendent of supplies, William Kerr, if he is to follow instructions as given by the finance committee and get a stock in hand he will require an extra appropriation of about $64,175. This is due to the abnormal conditions, but it must be remembered this will last until next May. "It is a fact that we shall have to have more money," said Mr. Kerr. "I will only purchase to the extent of the money in hand unless I am ordered to the contrary, and then if no more money is forthcoming, I suppose we shall have to incur an overdraft up to the end of the year."

	Already Est.	Total
Appropriation	$37,044.56	$145,250
T. Schools	7,000	4,128.16

When You Market Consider Your Less Fortunate Neighbor.

"Every citizen who uses more in his household than his household actually needs is increasing the cost of living for those less fortunate, and he is hindering the prosecution of the war."

St. Thomas White, Minister of Finance.

The well-to-do woman who sits at her phone and orders provisions lavishly, regardless of price, is abusing the power of money as a bully abuses brute strength!

No longer can we help ourselves as we see fit from an unlimited food supply—we are either limiting our buying to our own real needs or "hogging" someone else's share.

Extravagant buying by those who can afford it, with waste in some kitchens, and excess at some tables, will inevitably bring still greater hardships to those who cannot afford the prices, and hunger to those who must live on less.

Buy for your household as carefully and economically as your husband buys for his factory, store or office. Study food values as well as prices—make it a point to know just what you are getting—eliminate waste—and you'll find that you can feed your family well on far less than you spend now.

Invest the saving in Canadian War Savings Certificates and you will be doubling your service to the nation.

War Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, to be repaid in three years at full face value. They cost $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively, at all Money Order Post Offices and Banks, thus yielding over 5% interest.

BOARD OF TRADE FAVORS CONSCRIPTION MEASURE

Holds Special Meeting to Express Approval of Proposed Legislation.

Approval of the proposed legislation involving the conscription of Canada's remaining man power, introduced by Premier Sir Robert Borden in parliament last Monday, was expressed by members of the Toronto board of trade in a brief, special session at noon yesterday.

In making known the purposes of the meeting, First Vice-President C. A. Beger, who presided as chairman, stated the conscription measure as the most important piece of legislation which has ever been introduced in the Dominion Parliament.

The speaker, quoted from a speech by J. W. Woods when he was president of the board of trade, which declared for the policy of conscription, said the board approved the principle.

PREPARED DUMMY ROLL FOR EXPECTED "HOLD-UP"

Some Peculiar Evidence Heard in Criminal Court Regarding Alleged Robbery.

Found guilty of the theft of two suit cases, a club bag, guitar, watch and some other articles from the apartment of Mabel Somerville by Judge Coatsworth in the criminal court yesterday, William Cummings and Fred Wilson were remanded in custody for a week, when sentence will be imposed.

According to the story told by Miss Somerville, the men, after meeting her in a cabaret, accompanied her to her rooms, where Wilson 'held up' Cummings and afterwards herself, taking rings, a purse and a key to other rooms. While she was notifying the police they rifled her apartments. The men were brought back from Montreal and at the trial yesterday gave conflicting evidence, Wilson testifying that the hold up was framed, the roll of bills being only a wad of paper.

Leave for Tubercular Soldiers Said to Be Most Inadvisable That it is most inadvisable for furlough at home to be granted returned soldiers who are infected with tuberculosis was the conclusion arrived at by the conference of military medical officers held at Ottawa, a number of Toronto officers, including Capt. STATIONING COMMITTEE COMPLETE THEIR WORK

Debate Over Positions Given Pastors Who Are Overseas, But No Change Resulted.

Because of the inability of the stationing committee of the Toronto Methodist Conference to present its final draft at the closing session of the conference Tuesday night, a supplementary session was held yesterday morning at which there was considerable criticism of the report.

The president of the conference, Rev. G. W. Robinson, in reply, remarked that it was one of the many difficulties they had to encounter in the preparation of the draft. They had merely been methodical in their procedure, he said, in cases where probationers had been put down for a charge, the man overseas was left in the first position, but in the case where it was not a probationer, then the appointee was put in the charge and the man overseas had to take a secondary place.

Enemies of Tea

If tea is left open near oranges, soap, spices, matches, etc., the tea will take on the flavor of any of these articles. In fact, tea absorbs odors as readily as does butter. This is because of the high temperature at which it is "fired" during the drying process, which makes the tea very sensitive. It thus quickly loses flavor and strength, and goes "flat" if left exposed to odors, dust or air.

To Protect the Consumer

When you buy a package of Red Rose Tea at your grocer's you get the benefit of the great care we take to protect the consumer, as the sealed package is an armor that keeps out odors, dust and air. It keeps the tea pure, clean, fresh and full strength.

The price printed on the package protects you against overcharge. It is the lowest price for which a tea of Red Rose quality can be sold—a price which allows the grocer only a fair profit.

You will enjoy the distinctive flavor, rich strength and splendid economy of Red Rose Tea. TRY A PACKAGE.

CONTRADICTS SIR SAM ON IMPORTANT POINT

Mark Irish Says He Never Has Spoken to Premier on Subject of Recruiting.

In a telegram forwarded yesterday to Sir Sam Hughes, Mark H. Irish, M.L.A., director of labor in Ontario for the Imperial Munitions Board, repudiated Sir Sam's statement in the house of commons Tuesday to the effect that he had ever said anything to recruit recruiting. Sir Sam's statement was as follows: "Mr. Irish's telegram was as follows: 'Lieut.-General Honorable Sir Sam Hughes, K.C.B., House of Commons, Ottawa, Ont.: Press reports of your speech in the house yesterday evening, you with saying that I urged the prime minister, some months back to let up on recruiting. I have never said anything to recruit nor any other minister of the crown, either federal or provincial, on the subject of recruiting. I do not, and never have, held the views Robert reports to me. In my opinion recruiting, properly done, is a stimulant, not a retardant, to the production of munitions. You should not have made a statement you did regarding me because such statement is not founded on facts.' (Signed) Mark H. Irish."

DE KOVEN OPERA CO.

When the De Koven Opera Company opens the summer engagement at the Grand Monday next in "Robin Hood," the title role will be sung by Ralph Brinard whose splendid tenor voice will be played by W. J. McCarthy, whose unobtrusive performance of the character is a classic. Cora Tracy will be the Alan-a-Dale. James Stevens will be the character of Little John, and Herbert Waterous as Will Scarlet, singing the famous "Armour-er's" song. The chorus is especially good vocally, and with the special orchestra, an excellent production can be looked for.

"THE ROBINS PLAYERS."

Theatrical history will be in the making again next week when Edward H. Robbins and the Robins Players will present to their many friends and patrons, New York's most popular stage star, Miss Edith Taliferro, in the well known author-actor Earle Browne's latest comedy, "Annabelle Lee." Probably no actress on the American stage today is as much sought after as Miss Taliferro and no actress has demonstrated a greater versatility. Miss Taliferro is best remembered to local theatregoers for her splendid rendition of "Rebecca," in Kate Douglas Wiggin's play, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

NEW POLICY AT STRAND.

On and after the week of June 25 the management of the Strand Theatre intend to put on three different programs each week, instead of changing the bill only at mid-week as has been the custom hitherto. There will be one bill presented on Monday and Tuesday; a wholly different one on Wednesday and Thursday; and a quite different one, again, on Friday and Saturday. This policy has been decided on with the object of giving the motion picture lovers of Toronto the opportunity of witnessing a greater variety of photoplays of the highest type, and a greater variety of stars of the first magnitude than has been hitherto possible. "Open Market" features, all the best known stars, and music of the very highest calibre—these, together with many other special features, will form the Strand's policy.

"A SQUARE DEAL" AT STRAND.

A most unusual photodrama of life in New York's Bohemian colony, entitled "A Square Deal," with that sterling actor, Carlyle Blackwell, in the principal part, will form the chief attraction at the Strand Theatre for today, tomorrow and Saturday. The plot deals with a strange web of circumstances wound around the lives

ACROBATS AT BEACH.

Sharrie's band of Arab acrobats are pleasing the patrons of Scarborough Beach Park this week, and they give one of the cleverest acts of the kind seen here in a long time. The musical program is provided by the city military bands, and there are new films on the open air moving picture machine.

KATHLYN WILLIAMS AT MADISON.

A rare treat is in store for patrons of the Madison Theatre today and for the balance of this week when the feature photoplay will be "The Highway of Hope," with Kathlyn Williams and Housie Peters—a remarkably strong combination—in the two leading roles. This is a thrilling story of the great gold rush, throbbing with incident and action and pulsating with human interest.

FAIRBANKS AT THE REGENT.

Douglas Fairbanks, the magnetic comedian, is drawing big audiences at the Regent this week. His high spirits and good humor, with his athletic abilities thrown in, make him a star who has many ways of appealing to his audiences. "In Again, Out Again" is without exception the funniest comedy that has yet been shown in Toronto. There will be a special children's matinee on Saturday at 11 a.m. sharp with a general admission of 10 cents.

WILL SING AT CLOSING.

NORTHERN ONTARIO RICH IN GOLD

CAPITAL REQUIRED

Recovery of Gold Not So Simple a Matter as Early Cobalt Ventures.

World Special Correspondent
Porcupine, June 20. — Gold is one of the most important metals of the world, and it is probably next to iron in the frequency of its occurrence. But very few deposits are far from common. In this respect the royal metal is not unlike "fools' gold" or iron pyrite. Large deposits of this mineral are very rare, but the mineral itself is found everywhere.

In the world of today there are probably not over a score of really big gold mines, and of these the most profitable production. A great deal of the $450,000,000, which now represents the annual output of the world's gold mines, comes from the smaller producers. "Placers" have not now the importance they once had, in fact they do not now yield over a tenth of the whole.

Several of the great producers of the Rand are owing to the grade of their ore barely paying expenses, and the same thing may be said of the smaller operations in Alaska. There two of the largest plants in the world are now being constructed, but preliminary tests as to the value of the ore have been disappointing. As a rule the low-grade proposition returns only a meagre profit, while the risk of failure is great, and the outlay for development and equipment is always unusually large. Limited capital has very little chance with low-grade ore, however large the body may be, for it may succeed with fairly large bodies of average value. Gold mines capable of financing themselves as the silver mines of Cobalt did are very rare.

The development of a gold mine costs just as much as a rich one and, therefore, the tenor of the ore and the margin of profit over operating expenses is always a matter of prime importance.

New Industry.
Canadians are comparatively new to the mining industry, besides the country fairly thrown off their balance by the richness of Cobalt. This created the impression that the whole northland was a treasure house, and that silver was also found at Gowganda. We had one of the wildest rushes of the present century. The "boom" here had few counterparts in the history of the world. Everyone seemed to think that all silver regions should be the same, and at Cobalt practically no capital was required to start a mine. It could be dispensed with. In fact, the rosy conditions of the early Cobalt rather tended to disqualify us for ordinary mining operations, which were necessary in other camps.

In the Porcupine of the present day one can see several failures owing to the adoption of methods of mining which succeeded with the better class of Cobalt mines. In fact, Cobalt generated expectations, and led to the adoption of methods of mining which succeeded elsewhere. Most of the companies going into Porcupine in 1911 did not understand the conditions there, and were not sufficiently prepared to meet them. Hence many failures have arisen, and many good properties have been liquidated by insufficient development and gross mismanagement.

Great Inducements.
There is probably no part of the world which offers greater inducement to gold mining than Northern Ontario. Gold is found over a very considerable area, and there are all kinds of properties, large, small and indifferent. In Porcupine there are a good proportion of very large ore bodies, and a rather unusual feature is that size does not often bring any diminution in the amount of gold per ton of ore. Of course the small veins, those only a few inches in width, are usually the richest, when veins of fair dimensions swell or increase in width the value per ton is often greater than before.

Some of the ore bodies at Porcupine are the richest and richest in the world, and this is mainly due to the extensive shearing and chipping, and the consequent alteration of the originally massive igneous rock.

The Township of Munro, about seven miles east of Matheson, is also worth watching, for there have been the usual crop of failures in Munro, but until large capital was fully devoted to the development of Hollinger, Dome and McKinnley, success was practically unknown in Ontario, and the Munro mines, the Detroit North Ontario and the American Eagle, were the only ones that have shown any promise in those days means very little. Besides, they were in the fragmental or sedimentary series, and as yet there has been no success anywhere in this formation.

Crosses' Neighbors.
The Burton-Munro, which is now operating alongside of the Crosses, must not be confounded with the old Munro mines. The B-M seems to be a very classy proposition, and should, if skillfully worked, prove very profitable.

It is a great mistake to turn down or pooch-pooch any property without a careful investigation. In fact, the "senior zone" or that part of mining camp entirely out of favor, sometimes yields the biggest surprises, and it is probable that a Porcupine property that has suffered abandonment more than once will, nevertheless, become the greatest producer in that great camp.

Kirkland Lake is unique among the gold camps of Northern Ontario. The veins, as a rule, are small. They are the channels through which the auriferous solutions moved. The gold is mostly found in the grey and red felsic porphyry, which forms the walls, and these rocks are hard and tough. The ordinary methods of mining are of little value in grinding several years ago. But the ore is generally high grade, and impregnate or the lode structure is one of the features of all alluvial regions.

Kirkland Lake.
The ore bodies at Kirkland Lake seem to follow the bottom of a synclinal contact between a granitic and igneous rock, and along this contact there is always a good chance for payable ore.

AMERICANS WHO VISITED GOLD CAMP POWERFULLY IMPRESSED

"Detroiters who visited Porcupine, the newest bonanza gold camp, came back enthusiastic over Canadian scenery and mines." Under the above caption, Milton R. Palmer of the Detroit Saturday Night gives the following description of a visit to Northern Ontario:

"When a party of us left Detroit for a visit to the Porcupine Lake mining district of Northern Ontario, most of us had the vaguest of ideas of just where or what the district might be. Only one man in the crowd had even been there, and he was acting as guide for the rest of us.

"Everyone had read of Cobalt and the fortunes made by its silver and nickel miners. Other names, such as Timiskaming and Timagami were just a trifle familiar thru seeing them in the newspapers from time to time. The map told us that the Porcupine district was off to the north of these places.

"No one could have told us of the beauty of the scenery along the route or have conveyed an idea to us of the wonderful possibilities of this newest frontier. It is necessary to see the district for oneself. Not only does it include developed mining districts of proved worth, but its rugged beauty and its scenic features and sloping hills afford commercial resources not to be overlooked.

"Of course, we were greatly interested in gold. There is something about the mining of gold that appeals to every imagination. At the same time, there have been some disappointments in gold mines that all of us were in a show me attitude of mind. Our skepticism was routed by what we saw.

"Leaving Detroit Saturday afternoon, we awoke in the morning to find ourselves in a pleasant country of rolling hills and valleys. The scenery is beautiful between. We were at the beginning of the new country which stretches north from the eastern tip of Georgian Bay. The deep rich soil is already inviting the work of the farmer, despite the fact that the summers are short. These northern Ontario tracts are empty, and the land is cleared. Log houses were to be seen in the clearings at each side of the right of way of the railroad.

"Later in the day we passed thru Cobalt, long since past the boom stage, and now a settled mining territory with vast mines producing their ores from it. In the afternoon we reached Porcupine Junction, and shifted to the branch railroad which runs down to Porcupine Lake.

"At Timmins.
"There, at the little town of Timmins, we had our first view of one of the great mining camps of Ontario. At the crest of a hill we saw the outcropping of white quartz, veined in dark mineralized streaks and decked with dots of pure gold. It is a vast property which centres about this ledge of rocks and from it are to be seen other mining properties which lie along the same reef of quartz.

"Returning to the deafening vastness of the giant mill where 100 stampers are already in operation, with as many more being installed, we followed the progress of the ore to the screens and riffles which catch the metallic particles freed by the powdering of the rock in the stamping mill.

"Getting gold in Porcupine district is not a matter of finding nuggets in a narrow vein of ore. It is, instead, a question of mining out huge deposits of quartz and schist in which gold is to be found everywhere but in varying quantities. With modern methods it is possible to determine in advance just how much it will cost to mine and mill and treat the ore, and the average of the high-grade and low-grade ore is such as to produce a profit that is wonderful considering the labor required.

"Invisible Gold.
"Much of this ore shows not the slightest trace of gold to the eye of the layman. It looks like a slaty building stone. But hidden in its mass is the precious golden metal, waiting to be released by the process of modern science.

"Like all mining camps, it was the high-grade ore that first attracted attention to Porcupine, when it was discovered in 1909. Developers began then, but a great fire swept the district, causing the loss of many lives and destroying the towns. Men whom we met had saved their lives only by taking shelter in the lake and dipping their heads beneath the water except when they came up for breath. After the fire came another period of construction and then the war and consequent shortage of labor and materials for a time. Now one of the great mineral groups of America.

"Toronto, Montreal, New York and Chicago have had a part in the financing of these properties. Detroit will have its place in the development of this camp from now on.

"At the Davidson.
"Along about the same time that the Hollinger mine was discovered, the bodies of ore which lie within the South Porcupine, and in the same district, was found. Its discoverer sold his interest and died. Then the property got into the hands of a man who has been in migration until a short time ago. Hugh H. Southland, who had trapped the district with a prospectors' pack in the Davidson mine, which was a bushel, and lodging cost $7 a night in the bare pine hotels—stuck to the mine and finally secured its ore. Fred C. Southland, secured its control.

"The Davidson mine was our goal on Monday. We found it a collection of typical mine buildings above ground and a maze of winding rock-out galleries below ground. It lies off in the hills, with a dark pine and birch forest all around it.

"What had been done at the Davidson mine is to sink a shaft, run galleries off from it and 'block out' the bodies of ore which lie within the property. Then when the mill is put up, this ore will be mined, hoisted out and treated to recover the gold in it.

"The gold-bearing rock of the Porcupine district is a great ledge which has been tilted up endwise in the earth by seismic action ages ago. How deep it goes down only years of mining can tell. In fact, the ledge of quartz and mica is so deep that it is impossible to find the bottom. It was so rich that the gold was almost in nuggets like placer gold.

"With lights, lanterns and picks we went down into the mine galleries and took out our own specimens of rock as we fancied them. At one level, we found a small ledge of quartz, and winding thru this ledge was a small pocket of quartz. Even the schist surrounding the quartz was low-grade gold ore. Down at the 100-foot level we found this ledge of quartz again, and will pit around 15 men at work during the summer, doing shaft sinking and other prominent work necessary to secure our own sample of mineral rock was ledge of quartz. It was so rich that the gold was almost in nuggets like placer gold.

"Reluctantly the amateur gold-miner dropped his search in order to go back to South Porcupine to visit the famed Dome mine. This is a thing so remarkable that it seems like a miracle. It is to be seen in a hole in the ground as large as the Ford Hospital Grounds and twice as deep as the Majestic Building. That is, it is 'Gore's Hole' of Dome mine.

"The 'Gore Hole.'
"How many thousands of tons of rock have come out of that great narrow shaft since the engineers of the company know. It was a tremendous bed of low-grade ore which has paid for its mining. And it is said that the ledge of quartz is 800 feet below the surface. It requires more than ordinary imagination to conceive of what the Dome mine will be in ten years—a marvelous, man-made valley in the solid rock.

"As a result of their trip the members of the Detroit party invested a considerable sum in the Davidson mine. They had been convinced by their own observations and by comparison with the proved mines of the district.

"I believe that this is a wonderful mine, and I have every confidence in the result of future development," said J. W. Morrison, who has had considerable experience in mining matters. His view was that expressed by all who made the trip.

"In addition to the financial deal, it is probable that there will be other projects for the participation of Detroiters in the Porcupine region, which will come up later. Owing to the various things which have held back the development of the Porcupine district, there are big areas only a short distance from the proved mines which have not even been prospected.

"It is likely that another party of Detroiters will visit South Porcupine before the summer is well advanced as the men who came back this week are zealous converts to the possibilities of the camp and district."

LA ROSE DIVIDEND.
The La Rose Consolidated Mines has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 5 cents per share payable on July 20 to stock of record June 30.

BELLE ELLEN STOCK OFFERING TO PUBLIC

Local Brokerage House Has Underwritten Large Block of Treasury Shares.

Isbell, Plant & Co., brokers of Standard Bank Building, announce that they have underwritten 200,000 shares of the treasury stock of the celebrated Belle-Ellen Mines of the Cobalt-South Lorrain camp, and are offering these before application for listing at 16c a share, without commission. Belle-Ellen was one of the first mines opened up in South Lorrain, following quickly after the Keely and the Wettauer. The Keely began shipping in 1908. Later it was transferred to the hands of English capitalists, who have developed the mine and opened up considerable ore reserves, but were prevented from going ahead by the outbreak of the war. The option held by these interests has been extended and modified so as to enable them to resume operations at any time within six months after peace has been declared. Undoubtedly these interests will take up the development of the Keely when conditions admit. The Wettauer mines now controlled by the Levisons of Kerr Lake, Miami and General Development Company, has paid around $650,000 in dividends and has produced 3,000,000 ounces of silver. The Wettauer began shipping in 1899. Following quickly after the Wettauer was the Belle-Ellen, which made a shipment of a few tons of ore which brought in net $14,000. The Belle-Ellen has been one of the most spectacular surface showings in the history of Cobalt. Some of them were veritable silver sidewalks. The formation of the Belle-Ellen and the mines of the Belle-Ellen, which is located in a space of a mile and a half east and west and a mile north and south, are very much like the Timiskaming and the world needs the precious and the base metals. It is a fact for general congratulation that the mine-owners put their feelings in their pockets, took the money out of their pockets and granted the plea of the miners which will result in keeping the mines of the north open at this time of national crisis.

But the most wanted metal of all during the remainder of the war and after the war will be silver. Uncounted millions of dollars in silver will have to be struck off from the mints in order to meet the requirements of the belligerent nations—especially to pay their soldiers and for army supplies.

There is not going to be any more doctrinaire stuff against "free silver." Silver is going to be restored to a place of dignity and strength in the world's coinage.

Already silver is the metal of India and China, where half the world's population lives. The strong position of the Orient, combined with the extraordinary war needs of Europe and the United States, will place silver, after a long and weary wait and of marching nearly 40 years through the wilderness, right in the Promised Land of high prices.

And right here in our Northland are the silver treasuries of the world—the only great active silver deposits in the world. Silver in the United States is mined as a by-product in association with other metals. Here we get it straight, whether in little strings or bunches or "silver sidewalks"—whether in conglomerate or keewatin diabase.

The close of this year will see over $70,000,000 paid in dividends to the holders of silver shares of the Cobalt-South Lorrain district. This is the record of 14 years.

Now the search for silver has begun on broader lines than ever before. Fifteen years of experience in north country silver mining, the amazing development of geology, the introduction of all flotation and other metallurgical processes for higher recoveries of values—these urge men search to rarer developments in the great mineral kingdom of the north.

Cobalt, which Dr. Miller, the Provincial Geologist, at first thought was a copper camp, and with which his name and fame will go down to history, is an established success. But the world must turn to other sections for new discoveries and developments in order that the great world-hunger for silver may be satisfied.

South Lorrain is considered by engineers to be an extension of Cobalt. The camp was discovered 10 years ago.

The Lewisons of Kerr Lake, hold the Wettauer in South Lorrain, which became a producer in 1909, from which $637,465 was paid to stockholders in dividends.

The Keely Mine, the first producer of South Lorrain, shipped during the summer of 1908. This property is in the hands of English capital, is well developed, with a large amount of ore on hand, but cannot be operated now until after the war is over.

The next property to become a shipper was the Belle-Ellen, which in the spring of 1910 shipped out a few tons of ore which netted around $14,000.

The Pittsburgh-Lorrain Company—a close corporation, the main owner a big Pittsburgh capitalist—is operating the Curry Mine and has over two miles of underground workings and is close about 500 feet, having been operated almost continuously for four years.

Lorrain Consolidated has sunk about 300 feet under the direction of the Steindler interests.

We are offering at net 16c per share, without commission, treasury stock of the Belle-Ellen Silver Mines, Limited, for subscription.

The company has 40 acres of property. It is operating under a splendid management, Mr. C. A. Richardson, formerly of the Timiskaming, being general manager. The property has been vouched for by some of the most excellent mining engineers of the north. Under earlier managements the property was developed in a go-getting and ridiculous manner. Today it is under scientific and systematic development, and the progress being made is very satisfactory and the indications point to early shipments.

The Belle-Ellen has shipped silver ore running 2000 ounces to the ton. It is prepared now to ship out two or three cars of cobalt. This will be a source of revenue when the company is operating on large scale lines, as the values run from 10 to 12 per cent.

Application will be made in the near future to list Belle-Ellen shares on the Standard Stock Exchange in this city and other markets.

We predict that with an open market for the shares, the strength of the silver market, the growing need of new silver districts and properties, the location of Belle-Ellen in the heart of a district where the active mines are bunched around in a radius of less than a couple of miles, and where another Cobalt is probably in the making, with capital to back operations, the shares of this company, while not in the investment classification, offer remarkable speculative opportunities.

UNEVENTFUL DAY IN MINE ISSUES

Market Bare of Stock, But Lacking in Real Buying Power.

In the absence of public buying the mining market yesterday pursued an uneventful course with no decided price changes in the list. The little flurry caused by professional bulls on the preceding day did little more than to encourage the active traders to stocks and it may be taken for granted that should a steady demand for stocks come into the market in its present condition some surprising changes would result.

As yet the public traders have not been "shown" that there is a possibility for higher prices and it is this assurance alone that will induce them to enter again on the buying side. This but natural after a prolonged period of depression and falling prices. An adjustment which has been effected between the majority of the mines and their men it would appear that the fundamental cause of recent sustained bearishness has been removed. The bears, however, are evidently hard to convince as the argument now advanced is that increased wages to the men, will advance the already high costs. There might be something in this claim if the men were not working as hard as they are. It is a very real factor in the recent advance in wages asked, their chief grievance has been extraordinarily well met by the economies instituted in their consumption and general economies brought about by the men's work and the increased scale of operation.

"There is no doubt but what we could have carried on in spite of the war and reported a very satisfactory operation for a considerable time yet if our labor had not failed us.

After speaking of the large number of men who have left the camp to enlist and to go to other mines, Mr. Kaeding continues, "There is no longer any efficiency among the mine workmen and the ones still remaining with us are working intermittently and have not been working for some time.

This inefficiency was largely brought about by the animosity aroused between the operators and the men, which occurred the following year, and their differences and aggravated by the labor agitators. Now that the men have been granted the increase in wages asked, their chief grievance has been removed and by their increased efficiency, which it is natural to suppose will result, it may work out to be an actual gain to the operators who have paid the advanced wages. It might have been possible for the mine operators to "stand pat" and force the men to give in without the higher wages, but it would certainly not have improved the already strained relations between the employers and the employees.

There was not much change in the market yesterday. McIntyre made a slight gain to 142. West Dome Con. advanced slightly to 184 and lost it later. Upon slipped off again to 83. The seemed to be a good demand for Hollinger around $3.60.

In the Cobalt list Timiskaming was the active feature. A slightly extraordinary tendency was displayed following its quick advance to 41½, and a loss from this point of 4½ points occurred. Nipissing held at $7.50 and McKinley-Darragh was softer at 49. Beaver carried hands at 32. Manipulative action brought about a sharp recovery in Shamrock to 20.

NEW EXCHANGE OFFICERS.
At the annual meeting of the Toronto Stock Exchange, held yesterday, the following officers and committee were elected: President, H. R. Tudhope; vice-president, George W. Blackie; secretary, O. Heron; treasurer, E. G. Willis; committee, Edward Cronyn, D. S. Cassida, B. R. Playfair.

Strike Prevented --Silver Booming

There is not going to be a strike, and if you are not interested in silver, it is high time you were waking up to the fact that it is the brightest spot in the metal list.

Silver has been strong for the past fortnight, first at 77c and then at 77½c an ounce, pointed higher. Early in the year it sold up to 79c an ounce, but afterwards receded to around 71c, since which time its climb has been steady and more sure-footed.

In view of the fact that the metals have been swept clean of the board—that copper, zinc and lead have had 100 per cent. advances over their low figures before the war—it does not seem to be a wild guess to predict that silver will go to $1 an ounce.

As it is, we have to go back to 1893—24 years ago—to find silver selling as high as 78c an ounce—excepting only early this year, when it sold at 79c.

The commercial metals are rapidly converging to a congested position. Mr. Baruch, of the Advisory Committee of the Council of National Defence, estimated in the beginning that the United States Government would need 50,000 tons of copper, and copper producers agreed in good faith to let the Government have that amount of the metal at 16c, half the ruling quotations. Now it is stated on high authority that the Government will need 3,000,000 tons, or 60 times the original estimate.

The United States Navy Department secured a special price for steel for naval construction—$58 a ton for ship plates. This is much below the market, but is still nearly twice as much as ship plates cost before the war began. And the Shipping Board is paying now $80 to $90 a ton for the same product.

The Canadian Government pays a bounty of ¼c a pound on lead refined in this country in order to foster the opening up and operation of lead deposits.

On every hand are signs of a situation such as never existed before in the metals.

It would have been a national calamity for the mines of Porcupine and the north country to have shut down at this time when Canada and the world needs the precious and the base metals. It is a fact for general congratulation that the mine-owners put their feelings in their pockets, took the money out of their pockets and granted the plea of the miners which will result in keeping the mines of the north open at this time of national crisis.

WASAPIKA HAS FINE CHANCE TO MAKE GOOD

Active Development Work to Be Commenced Shortly—Good Values.

The characteristics of the Wasapika property at West Shingtree are a showing of minerals in the history of distribution of values in the vein. The outcrop is traceable from 800 feet to the property and for five miles south.

Wasapika has the earmarks of developing a large commercial ore body which with the prospect that there are similar deposits in the area, which will be disclosed as work proceeds. It also presents the probability, like Porcupine, from which it is distinguished by its position, of mining occasional bonanza ores in connection with average values running from $3 to $10 a ton.

The first monthly report on mill operations has been issued by the Teck-Hughes mine of Kirkland Lake, and the output does not compare with the large Porcupine gold producers. It is interesting to know that the Teck-Hughes mine has now two other properties, the Tough-Oakes and the Teck-Hughes. Others will probably be added in the near future as preparations for a 150 ton mill are being made.

Tons treated by Teck-Hughes in May amounted to 1295 with an average grade of 75.50.
