MRS. SHENK IS HELD AS MURDRESS

Chicago Woman Charged With Murder of Husband After a Night of Revelry in Their Home

Mrs. Charles Schenk of Chicago, who confessed that she shot her husband after a night of revelry was this week ordered held on a charge of murder. While giving her testimony before the coroner's jury, Mrs. Schenk was overcome. Failing, she struck her head against a desk and suffered a painful cut over the eye. She related the incidents of the party, which she said was in celebration of the fourteenth wedding anniversary of "Chick" Fraser, a former National League baseball player. She said she was put to bed by other women in the party, but was awakened later by Schenk calling her from down stairs. She got a revolver, feeling burglars, and hurried to the top of the stairs.

Then she said she could see her husband stopping on the stairs. She admitted the revolver was discharged but said she did not know the shot was fired and had no knowledge of the events immediately after. He heard two shots fired about a minute apart.

"Fraser testified that he and his wife and five other couples began a night of gaiety at a church euchre party. "Then we went to Schenk's home, where we had no drinks, we went to Park Ridge, to a hotel, where some members of the party were dancing. During the dance Mrs. Schenk got dizzy and she was put to bed. Everyone was happy.

The discovery of the second bullet in a register on the second floor put an entirely new phase to the shooting, according to the police. They believe Mrs. Schenk quarreled with her husband and shot at him, while he was standing in the door of her bedroom on the second floor; that he fled down stairs, and as she leaned over the stair rail and fired the shot, that ended his life.

OTTAWA MILITARY MAN CAUSED STIR IN GERMAN GARRISON

London, March 25.—(Canadian Press)—Col. Morrison, D. S. O., of Ottawa, who is here on his wedding tour, has just returned to London after a visit paid by him, by permission of the German Emperor, to the famous West end and the Eschborn works ground on the Belgian frontier. He says he was everywhere received most courteously and given exceptional opportunities for making an inspection of the famous military grounds and defence works.

Col. Morrison saw where Lieut. Brandon was out riding with German officers the greatest excitement was caused among the strictly guarded precincts without the indispensable permit and he adds that while he was out riding with German officers the greatest excitement was caused among the inhabitants, who believed that he was a British or American spy, who had been captured in making drawings of works of obtaining information by improper means.

"THE FALLS AND FREEDOM"

The reversible fall at the mouth of the St. John river is among the greatest phenomena of nature, the falls reversing with the change of the tides. At times the river ripples along beautifully, undisturbed. Calmly the waters pass in their glide. Like the birds of the morn. Hark, now they madly rush to the sea. Like the storm of the storm. Think ye, such seething anger were there? In haste they vainly boast of their bravery. The strongest man may now be a slave. Hear the loud wailing surge to the sea. Calm in their gladness—Look at such madmen—

APPEAL FROM MOTHER ENDS DIVORCE CASE

Tells Court That Man and Wife Arranged for Separation So That Woman Could Marry Wits

New York, Mar. 25.—An undefended suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Sarah Fish against Woolf Fish has been discontinued in the supreme court because the mother of the principal witness had written to Justice Giegerich declaring Mr. and Mrs. Fish had arranged the suit so Mrs. Fish could be married to the principal witness, Louis A. Sheinar, an architect, of this city.

Justice Giegerich asked the young man if the handwriting in the letter was that of his mother. He said that it was not. Then Justice Giegerich read this letter: "I am the mother of Louis A. Sheinar, who is the witness for her and she only wants to be divorced to marry my boy. It was all fixed up between her and her husband. My boy is very young and these people have done this and are driving him crazy to marry her.

"Do not break a mother's heart by allowing such a trick. I could write a whole lot more about how they tricked my boy, but I don't think well before you take another step in this matter."

"Please do what you can for a broken hearted mother, who is praying to God that they will not succeed in tricking my boy to marry this woman and trick you in giving a divorce. I will ever pray for you. His devoted mother, Mrs. F. Sheinar."

Asked if he intended to marry Mrs. Fish, the witness said he did not know. He said Mrs. Fish then announced that she wished to withdraw from the case, but Justice Giegerich refused, declaring he would allow him to discontinue the action if he desired. The lawyer adopted the court's suggestion.

"Young man, you have heard your poor mother's letter," said Justice Giegerich, turning to the witness. "Now my advice to you is to think well before you take another step in this matter."

LOBSTERS SCARCER. The present season for lobster fishing has been a remarkably poor one, but fishermen who have been lucky enough to catch even a few have made a good sum out of their labor. In New York and Boston they have been dear eating and those who had them on their bill-of-fare paid as high as 65 cents a pound, which would mean that an average lobster would cost 90 or 91 cents. Of course, if they could be had for local consumption, fish dealers say, the cost would only be half that amount. The cold and stormy weather is said to be the cause of the scarcity.

CITIZENS AROUSED

Whatever men may think about the merits or demerits of the commission plan of government, there can be but one opinion concerning the action of the city council in its attempt to deprive the citizens of St. John of the right of self-government. The council, by a majority of one, which could not have been secured but for the absence of two members, decided to ask the provincial government to appoint a royal commission to draw up a new charter for the elective commission plan carried, or still to draw up a charter if that plan failed to carry.

THE CHURCH AND THE WORKINGMAN

Many public champions of labor accuse the church of alienating the masses, of arraying its power on the side of moneyed interests, and consequently failing to solve the social problems of the age. The early church bridged the gulf between the plebeian and the patrician. At all times it has held the people until now. If there is any failure at present it may be due to the fact that the church has not yet adjusted itself to the industrial struggle.

improve those imperfect relations. "Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," but meantime the fact that man is often cold and hungry and tired and sick proves that he is not in complete harmony with his natural surroundings. Men are going blundering along in the midst of introducing harmony in human relations. It is a slow and arduous process. Mistakes and blunders have continually been made, and will be made in days to come.

Justice, establish tribunals, where, in the midst of interminable wrangles, some of our theories are applied to settle disputes. In fact about all we do outside of our strictly private affairs is to seek for the proper adjustment of antagonistic interests of various kinds. The rest of our time and all our toil is taken up in trying to adjust the glaring disharmony between man and nature. There is no possible escape from this form of conflict. Hunger and thirst are continually recurring, and if friendly bacteria, and water, and the egoistic microbes. Much of the bitterness of human relations is due to the failure to recognize these fundamental conditions.

By the time Mr. Carvell has concluded his debate with Hon. Mr. Fleming on the question of the Valley Railway the people ought to be able to tell whether the Hazen government has any railway policy, and if so what it may be. Up to the present time it has been playing the game of politics.

IN PRAISE OF DENMARK

There are some things that the older nations do better than the Western World. Power, which has for its motto, "The Land of the Free and Home of the Brave," Denmark is an illustration. A law has just been passed giving women who are taxpayers, or whose husbands are taxpayers, the right of suffrage at municipal elections. In this land of the free, the right of suffrage in many States is confined to the genus man. The genus woman is often heard of under the head of taxpayer, but as a voter she is unknown. Is not such a state of things a travesty upon the claim that we are all equal under the law? The country of the Northmen has furnished us a genuine example of what real equity is. Let us profit by it. —Wheeling (W. Va.) Register.

THE STOMACH NEEDS HELP

The Liver, Kidneys and Bowels Must Be Kept Active to Ensure Health.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Not one person in a hundred can get along at this time of year without using something to lighten the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. Too much eating of heavy, artificial foods, too little outdoor exercise, this is the explanation. The liver and kidneys are overworked in their efforts to purify the poisonous waste matter from the system. The food becomes indigestible and the bowels become constipated and stomach derangements follow.

What might be done if men were wise? What glorious deeds, my suffering brother, might they unite. In love and right, And cease their scorn of one another? Caught a Heavy Cold.

It Left Him with a Hacking Cough.

Mr. J. H. Richards, 1852 Second Ave. East, Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"Allow me to write a few lines in praise of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Last fall I contracted a heavy cold which left me with a hacking cough, and every time I would get a little more of this hacking cough would be a lung splitting one. It kept on getting worse and I kept on spending money for different cough remedies. My friend told me if I had ever tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, I told him I was willing to try anything I thought would cure me. On the same day I bought two bottles. Before half the first one was used my cough began to get much easier, and in some time I had used a bottle and a half my cough was gone. I am keeping the other half bottle in case it should come again, but I am quite sure I have a positive cure. Let me recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup to all who suffer from a cough or throat irritation of any kind."

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"All that ought to be done can be done."
—Kant.

"I ought, I can, I will."
—Vincent.

LET me tell you a little story of a great change. The change is in a woman's personality and the story of it has impressed me anew with the tremen- dous power of the "I will" character forming.

The young woman in question took the training for a convalescent nurse a couple of years ago.

When she made up her mind to do this, everybody prophesied failure because she did not seem at all the kind of person for this sort of work. She was im- patient and nervous, inclined to quick temper and had a rather "loud, unpleasant voice."

The other day I heard someone speak of her, and asked how she had succeeded.

"Wonderfully, Miss Cameron," said my informant. "And you never saw such an improvement in anyone in all your life. She visited me a few days last week, and really she's a changed woman."

"You know how nervous she used to be and how im- patient if things didn't go just as she wanted them for? Well, because I had to, I realized that when I took my first position."

"And her voice—why you'd scarcely know it was the same person speaking, it is so pleasant and well modulated. What has happened to her? Well, I complimented her on her im- provement and asked her how she did it and she just said: "Because I had to, I realized that when I took my first position. So I did."

"You see that woman was a living example of Kant's and Vincent's doctrine and we who would have discouraged her were altogether in the wrong."

In the other girl, the cartoon call of "I must" brought out the "I can" and she came back from college a well poised woman.

I have read somewhere that the reason a man sometimes surprises himself by doing unusually brilliant work when he is half sick, is that he is making a tremendous effort and calling out all of his powers. The article states that under ordi- nary conditions, we only use about one-quarter of our powers, and that when any obstacle like illness causes us to exert our full power, we surprise ourselves by what we can do.

Doubtless, other obstacles besides illness produce the same results.

All that ought to be done can be done and in the doing the ability will be created.

Just as exercise and the lifting of heavy weights develop muscle, so responsibility develops ability.

It seems to me Phillips Brooks must have been feeling the power of Vincent's motto, when he said:

"Oh, do not pray for easy lives. Pray to be stronger men. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your tasks. Then the doing of your work shall be no miracle. But you shall be a miracle. Every day you shall wonder at yourself, at the richness of life which comes to you by the grace of God."

Daily Hints For the Cook

LOYALTY.
"Is this you, doctor?" asks the nurse over the telephone.
"Yes," answers the physician.
"Well, you know you said Mr. Bondar would not show any signs of improvement for five or six days?"
"Well, this is only the second day and he is a great deal better already. Shall I give him something to make him worse for the other three or four days?"—Life.

POTATO CHEESE CAKES.
Line patty with butter and fill with the following mixture: Two cupsfuls mashed potato, one half cupful cream cheese, one half cupful butter, one half cupful cream or rich milk and four well-beaten eggs. Stir over the fire until scalding hot, take off and add half cupful each sugar and cleaned currants, put in the shells and bake 10 minutes in a hot oven.

APPLE WHIP.
For an apple whip, put the unbeaten whites of two eggs in a bowl and beat just enough to foam slightly. Add two tablespoonsfuls of fine granulated sugar and beat for a moment. Grate quickly two peeled and cored tart apples. Begin to beat, adding the apple pulp a spoonful at a time. Beat until the mixture has in- creased to almost double its first amount and is quite stiff. Add a drop or two of vanilla and beat in glasses. It should not stand more than an hour at the most.

LONG STANDING SCIATICA

Completely Cured by One Box of Father Morrissey's No. 7 Tablets.

Sciatica is hard enough to endure, and harder still to cure, in many cases, with ordinary remedies. Caused, like rheu- matism, by impurities in the blood, which in this case set up an irritation of the sciatic nerve, it is so difficult to get at with external applications that many sufferers try in vain to get back to health.

Mr. Charles McEachern of Sumner- ville, P. E. I., was in a painful position until he started to take Father Morrissey's No. 7. "No. 7" He was cured in a few days and pending large sums of money without avail. I was completely cured of Sciatica of long standing by one box of your medicine (No. 7) (Rheumatism).

No matter how long you have suffered from Sciatica or Rheumatism of joints or muscles—no matter how much medicine or liniment you have used without result—try Father Morrissey's No. 7 before you give up. It has restored health to many who were almost hopeless.

CANADIAN STOCKS IN DEMAND IN ENGLAND

Dominion Financier in England Discusses Money Market Conditions And Gives Some Advice

London, Mar. 25.—The over-subscription of the Grand Trunk issue indicates that for a certain class of Canadian stocks there is ample British money available; on the other hand the Spanish River pulp propo- sition, though a well backed industrial is- sue, brought out under good auspices, was applied for to the extent of only twenty per cent.

The underwriters, however, anticipate that the balance will be gradually absorbed.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and guaranteed cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding, and every form of skin disease. It is the only medicine that will cure all these troubles. See testimonials in every bottle. Get your money back if it does not cure you. Dr. Chase's Ointment.

In connection with the limited applica- tion for this issue a well-known Canadian financial authority was asked his opinion. "There is still congestion in the mar- ket," he said. "It is now more difficult than formerly to underwrite industrial is- sues of a semi-speculative character, par- ticularly those which are propositions rather than going concerns; the reason being that many recent issues of this nature have not been fully subscribed much stock has been left in the hands of the underwriters. You will find that it will be impossible to borrow money at the low rate of interest recently accepted for this class of bonds."

"Speaking as a Canadian who has watched Canadian credit grow and the feeling of the British investor expand from dis- trust to confidence I would like to sound a word of warning to Canadian promoters and sellers of stocks. The habit of prac- tically putting up municipal and industrial issues at auction in order to minimize the profit to the purchaser has resulted in a lack of interest which has been reflected in an indifference by the investing pub- lic, so that many of these issues have gone to a considerable discount instead of being over-subscribed and so creating an ap- petite for more.

"British investors are looking round all the time for reasonably safe securities

W. G. T. U. SEEK TO HAVE JUVENILE COURTS IN PROVINCE

Bill To Legislature in Fredericton—News of the Union's Work Prepared for The Times

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of N. B. and P. E. I. are circulating a petition which they hope to present at the present session of the legislature asking that provision be made for establishing juvenile courts in the province of New Brunswick.

"It is true, 'tis pity, and pity 'tis 'tis true' that there is great need of such legislation, since the number of juvenile delinquents seems to increase so rapidly, and every possible effort should be made to reclaim them.

Believing that formation is better than reformation, the W. G. T. U. of St. John (North) will again try to organize a Local Temperance League where children will be taught that "wisdom's ways are ways of pleasantness," and warned of the dangers that lurk in the slip of beer, the dead ly cigarette, the unclean jest or taking God's name in vain. We hope to organize on Saturday, March 25, at 3 p. m., in Temple Hall, Main street, where we will meet on Saturday afternoon. The object shall be the education of the boys and girls in the principles of total abstinence from alcoholic liquors, tobacco and opium, and teaching them kindness to the dumb creation.

Each boy or girl must, upon entering the league, assent to the following rules:—I promise to be quiet and orderly, attentive to the instructions of our leader, and to all the exercises of the meeting.

Any boy or girl may become a member and be entitled to all the privileges of the meetings by assenting to the league rules, but to become a member in full standing and be entitled to wear the badge of the league each must sign the pledge of the league. Only pledged members shall be eligible to office.

The badge is a small maple leaf pin bearing the initials W. G. T. U.; colors, red, white and blue.

Little Things.
The memory of a kindly word
For long gone by,
The fragrance of a fading flower
Scents longingly
The gleam of a sudden smile
Or sudden tear,
The warmer pressure of the hand,
The tone of cheer,
The hush that means, "I cannot speak,
But I have heard!"
The note that only bears a verse
From God's own Word—
Such tiny things we hardly count
As ministry,
The giver deeming they have shown
Scant sympathy.
But, when the heart is overwrought,
Oh, who can tell
The power of all such tiny things
To make it well?

HAREM SKIRT WEARERS IN SPAIN NEED POLICE GUARD

In Spain jope-collette-harem skirts do not invariably meet with favor, and moreover, the curiosity of the crowd is apt to take active form. Hence, certain of its wearers have not found it conducive to mental comfort, however satisfactory they may find the freedom it gives to the limbs.

In Madrid the skirt has proved so popular that, at the request of Senor Canalejas, the governor has detailed fifty policemen to protect ladies wearing it in the streets. The drawing is reproduced by courtesy of "L'Illustration," of Paris, which publishes it under the title "The Anticell Racecourse."

Famed Beauty Glad to Earn Living in Moving Picture House

NEW YORK CHATTER

Upton Sinclair Charges Graft in Medical Profession—Woman, Arrested as Vagrant, Had $50,000—The Tipping Habit Among New York Women

(Times' Special Correspondence)

New York, March 24.—Deserted by those who once esteemed it a privilege to bask in the radiance of her sparkling personality, when she was in the zenith of her fame as a beauty, and had the high fliers of the world at her feet, the "Baroness" Blain has come down to running a moving picture show in upper Broadway. From the little glass windowed niche where she sits in grave calm, phlegmatically venturing out for the niceties with a hand that once reached with a fortune of gems, this middle-aged, sad-looking woman can look back through a vista of realities that would try the imagination of romanticists.

For fifteen years she was the most conspicuous queen of hearts in America. She was four times married to men of great wealth, and there were forty others in her train who sought her hand and poured their fortunes in a golden stream at her feet. She taught Fred D. Youngling, son of the millionaire brewer, the art of "getting some" when he was still a boy. Both Younglings died penniless, the son in the prison ward of Bellevue two years ago last September, his death being due to acute alcoholism.

It was not only in America that the "baroness" was famous for her beauty, her clothes, her splendid equipages and her thrilling escapades. Twenty years ago the newspapers of Europe gave her more space than any crowned head, publishing and republishing thrilling accounts of her three months' journey to Nice, Paris and London with the Grand Duke Alexis of Russia and Prince George of Greece in her train. Her chaperone was the Princess Skobloff. The two beauties journeyed through Europe in truly regal splendor. The "baroness" returned to America with some memorable souvenirs of this journey, among them a royal decoration studded with diamonds and emeralds that the grand duke had conferred upon her.

In London the "baroness" for a while was popular with Lady Brooke, Lady De Grey and Lady Mary Mills. The "baroness" was said to have helped "Freddie" Gebhard, Berry Wall, Porter Ashle and A. L. Walcott to get rid of their fortunes. They moved in her set, and it was said that you could trace the movements of the "baroness" set by the odor of burning money. J. Walden Kirk, King of the Dudes, once appeared to the hand of the "baroness," but their romance failed to terminate in marriage.

Charges Graft to Doctors

Upton Sinclair, who lays claim to inspiring former President Roosevelt with the necessity of the "Pure Food" bill, through his exposure of the conditions in the Beef Trust's "Packtown," is on the trail of the "doctor's trust," which he describes as a grafting organization of humbugs. His philippic on the short-comings of the medical profession was delivered the other evening at a meeting of the Liberal Club at which the question, "What is the Matter With the Doctor," was the subject of discussion.

Two Famous Authorities CORDIALLY RECOMMEND

NEAVE'S FOOD FOR INFANTS

SIR CHARLES CAMERON, C.B., M.D., (Prof. of Chemistry, Medical Officer of Health for Dublin City and County) says "This is an excellent food, admirably adapted to the wants of infants and young persons, and being rich in phosphates and potash, is of the greatest utility in supplying the bone forming and other indispensable elements of food. Although peculiarly adapted to the wants of the young, Neave's Food may be used with advantage by persons of all ages."

A Hot Dish for a Cold Day

It is not easy to warm a poorly nourished body. Heat and strength do not come from cereals or flannels. Bodily warmth and vigor come from foods that are rich in blood-making, tissue-building material. Fuel for the human engine should be free from "chinkers." You can't "get up steam" in winter on impoverished foods.

SHREDDED WHEAT BISCUIT

is all fuel-food—no waste, no indigestible material to clog the system and tax the vitality. Shredded Wheat is made of perfect whole grains of wheat steam-cooked, shredded and baked. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven and served with hot milk and a little cream, for breakfast, will supply all the heat and strength needed for a half day's work. Not "pre-digested," but "ready-to-digest"—not compounded, flavored or "treated" with anything—just plain, whole wheat, steam-cooked, shredded and baked a crisp, golden brown. Being made in biscuit form it also makes delicious combinations with baked apples, stewed prunes or other fruits, fresh or preserved. Your grocer sells it.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat wafer—a crisp, tasty, nourishing whole wheat Toast, delicious for any meal with butter, cheese or marmalades. Always toast it in the oven before serving.

INTERESTING FACTS CONCERNING WOMEN.

Of all places in the world, in South Carolina, and of all organizations in the world, in the Episcopal church, a woman's suffrage movement has developed. It is hard to imagine a more complete combination of social conservatism than a South Carolina Episcopalian. Yet one of the leading churches of that denomination has sent delegates to the approaching conference in Saline County at the last election, a young woman ran for superintendent of schools. The election was likely to be close, and she knew it. So she took a horse and buggy and went across country electioneering. One day just before noon she arrived at a village where twenty men were harvesting. She was the centre of interest at once, and the men gathered round her.

"I want all you men to vote for me," she began.

"What are you going to do for us?" called out one of the men.

"I'll be a good official," she replied.

"That ain't enough, Kin you cook?" came back from the group.

"Yes, I can cook."

"Well, we've been livin' on men's cooking for two weeks out here in harvest, and if you want us to vote for you, cook us a woman's meal."

"I'll do it. Where's your cook shack?" she said, and alighted from her buggy. She prepared a hearty, well-cooked meal for the harvest crew, and when she went away they gave her three cheers and promised her their vote. She was elected by a majority of eighteen, so that meal was not cooked in vain.

AN ECONOMICAL CITY.

The city of Nottingham in England has found a way to dispose of its waste incineratively and at a profit.

Ashes, kitchen scraps and horse refuse generally are placed in receptacles at the rear of the premises, and removed weekly by city employees. The total weight is about 120 tons a week. This is burned in two refuse-destructors. They cost respectively $88,000 and $102,000 to install, but the expense of running them is only about 35 cents for each ton of refuse burned, no fuel being needed except to start the fires Monday morning.

In this way steam enough is produced to furnish electricity for one-third of the needs of the street-car system, with a portion also used for lighting. The average quantity of electric units produced is about 44.23 per ton of refuse.

Besides electricity, the city produces from the refuse more paving stones than it can use. A plant connected with the destructors mixes the clippers with cement and places the composition under hydraulic pressure. The product is harder than stone, and is adapted to building purposes as well as paving, and the engineer in charge claims that it will wear longer than the paving stones generally used, while costing less than half as much.

The sewage of the city is spread upon a farm of 1804 acres, five miles away. About 10,000,000 gallons of sewage are run upon the farm every 24 hours, the soil being sandy and well suited to filtration. The cost, $80,000 a year, is covered by the income from the farm.

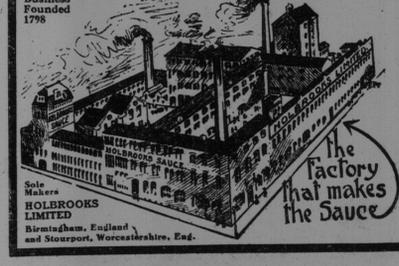

In Nottingham women vote. We are glad that if women had the ballot in America, the business affairs of our cities would go to rack and ruin. It has not turned out so in England, nor in Scotland, Ireland, New Zealand or Australia.

MC2035 POOR DOCUMENT

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN'S, N. B., SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1911

EACH HAS NEED OF OTHER

It was a common opinion, said Hon. Mr. Oliver, that the vast size of Canada, with the long distances between Montreal and Winnipeg and Edmonton, would prove a disadvantage to Canada, with its long hauls east and west. On the contrary he thought this vast size constituted a stupendous advantage for the dominion, while the western unsettled country offered great incentives to the energy of the east. The British Empire spread over the whole world, and was held together by bonds of sentiment, and similar bonds would always hold Canada together. (Applause.)
Further Mr. Oliver declared that Canada was a much more homogeneous country than the United States. While the latter country was divided north and south, with climatic and other differences which made really two peoples, Canada extended laterally, with a similarity of climate and production throughout which was much more favorable to the welding of a united race, with the formation of a common nationality with common ideals and purposes from ocean to ocean.

Even now this was being made clear. He could remember thirty years ago when people used to speak of themselves as English, Irish, Scotch, Nova Scotians, or New Brunswickers, according to their birth. Now they call themselves Canadians. (Applause.) And he considered that the opening of the Northwest had played no small part in this change of feeling.
"The opening of the Northwest," said Hon. Mr. Oliver, "has furnished an outlet for Canadian ambition within the bounds of Canadian nationality, and has assisted in the development of that national pride which has become so marked a feature of our development during the past two decades. People in the east now know that those of the west are not hunkobors or half-breeds, but men of their own blood, the leading work being done by men from the eastern provinces who have brought with them the same ambition and hopes for the future of Canada that animate the people here. And the United States as the natural field for their future, they are now looking to the Canadian west, and going there to build up Canada. (Applause.)"

"Twenty years ago that feeling towards the United States was in full force, with the result that today there are a million Canadians in the States, to the great advantage of that country, and Canada's stupendous loss. Those pioneers who then went to the Canadian west were animated by real national pride and patriotism. Their confidence has been more than justified, and today instead of Canadians looking to the States the Americans are looking to Canada and coming here in large numbers."

"We in the west are strongly imbued with the sense of nationality and the necessity of building up a Canadian people, and that is what I want to hammer into the people of the east when I hear them talking of the condition of mind of the western people. The idea of making a united nation of this Dominion is being strengthened in every way by the filling up of the west." (Applause.)

Big Future for West

Hon. Mr. Oliver then said that the west must inevitably occupy a large place in Canada's future. Last year 22,000 persons made homestead pre-emption, taking up 500,000 acres, under conditions demanding the cultivation of 2,500,000 acres, an area equal to twice the size of that portion of Quebec lying south of the St. Lawrence and west of Quebec city, while in the previous year 40,000 people had taken up 9,000,000 acres. Records showed that the number of people entering the west in 1909 had doubled with every five years, while the ratio of increase was constantly growing. In 1909 there were 7,700; in 1905 there were 34,000, and in 1910 no less than 92,000 homestead entries. The amount of land placed under contract last year equalled the whole of the western peninsula of Ontario, which comprised a quarter of Canada's population. This could not go on indefinitely, as the land to be given away must be used up. But last year the west produced 280,000,000 bushels of grain, and there were enough people there to double and treble that production within the next few years, if not another settler came to the country.

The area of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan was equal to that of the seven adjoining states. But the soil on the Canadian side was more productive, had greater persistence for wheat-growing, and its

HEAVY WORK IN A WESTERN QUARRY

Brought on Kidney Trouble That Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured

There is a Lesson for Workmen in The Story Told by John McMullen, of Robinson's Camp, Alberta

Robinson's Camp, The Gap, Alta., March 24.—(Special)—Men who work hard and make heavy lifts have learned that the back is the first part of the body to call for help, and John McMullen, who works in the quarry here has proved to his own satisfaction and that of his fellow workmen that it is really the Kidneys that require relief. "Last summer," says Mr. McMullen, "I had some heavy work in the quarry here, which was hard on my back. My head also ached, and I got so that I was always tired and nervous, and was often dizzy. I sent for two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they fixed me up."

The Kidneys are the first organs to feel heavy wear and tear on the body. If you cure them when they first call for help all will be well. If you neglect them Rheumatism, Bright's Disease, Gravel or Diabetes will be the result. Dodd's Kidney Pills always give the help they need. They always cure.

grain products were of better quality than these states could grow. These seven states now had between eight and ten million people, and had not developed nearly as quickly as the Canadian provinces were now doing.

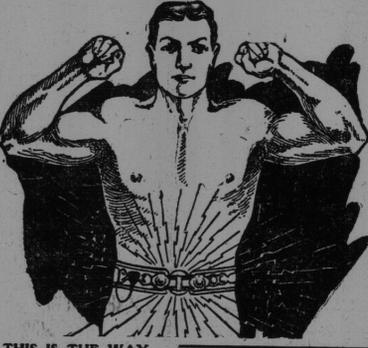

"From this," said Mr. Oliver, "a mere arithmetical computation will show you the progress of Canada, and speaking as a western man, not as a member of the government I am sure that the future progress of Montreal as a commercial and financial and transportation centre of Canada depends absolutely upon the progress of the Canadian west."

"Whatever tends to the development of the prairie provinces tends in exactly the same ratio to the development of Montreal. I have no patience with people who hold that there is any diversity of interest between any one section and any other of the people of Canada. (Applause.) We are here today with a country as large as western Europe, which holds the destinies of the world in the hollow of its hand, and we have a population about comparable in number to that of Europe's smallest country, Belgium."

"There is something to do in Canada. There is some section and old men may be proud of what has been achieved, but there is even greater opportunity for the young men, and this can only be realized by united effort. The east needs the west and the prairie need the east. In this day of mergers there is no longer room for the small nation. We in the west realize the need of this unity of effort, just as the prairie need the east. And it must be recognized that this progress can only be secured by recognizing to the full the rights and interests of every section and every class of the community. Only in this way can we secure the ultimate high destiny of this country."

OFFER TO WEAK MEN

I make this offer to weak men, particularly those men who have spent their earnings for years on dope (the drugs that make them feel like a young colt one day and like an old, broken-down hack the day after), those men who have tried so many things, that they are tired of fooling and want a cure. These are the men I appeal to, and to any man who will give me reasonable security I am willing to give my

THIS IS THE WAY THEY FEEL

The men who had given up hope, who thought there was no cure for them, until they came upon Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt. Now they are full of life and overflowing with joyous spirits. Pains are gone, weakness has gone and full vigor is in every action.
Do you want to feel like that? Then wear the grand life-giving appliance for two months at night. It will charge every nerve with electric life, and you will feel rejuvenated and invigorated. It puts steam into your run-down body, drives away pain, and renews youth.

Tell me where you are and I'll give you the name of a man in your town that I've cured. I've got cures n' every town.
That's enough. You need the cure. I've got it. You want it. I'll give it to you or you need not pay me a cent. Come and get it now. The pleasurable moments of this life are too few, so don't throw any away. While there is a chance to be husky and strong, to throw out your chest and look at yourself in the glass and say, "I'm a man," do it, and don't waste time thinking about it.

FREE BOOK I've got a beautiful book, full of good, honest talk about how men are made big and noble, and I'll send it to you free, sealed, if you send this coupon.

Electric Belt on Trial Until You Are Cured

I claim that I can cure weak men; that I can pump new life into worn-out bodies; that I can cure your pains and aches, limber up your joints and make you feel as frisky and vigorous as you ever did in your life. That's claiming a good deal, but I have a good remedy, and know it well enough to take all the risk, if you will pay me when you are cured.
No man can lose on this. If the cure is worth the price you don't have to pay me for it until you get it. When you are ready to say you are a big, husky and frisky specimen of vigorous manhood; that you haven't got an ache or pain in your whole body, and that you feel better than you ever did in your life, I get paid. If you can't say it after using my Belt for three months then give me back my old Belt and I won't ask a cent.
A short time ago I took a case that I couldn't cure, and I didn't see why as I had cured hundreds like it. Anyway, my patient returned the Belt and said I hadn't done him any good. He said he thought I had treated him honestly and wanted to pay me the cost of the Belt, because it could not be used again. I refused, and told him that I had made a contract to cure him or get nothing, and I wouldn't take a dollar I hadn't earned.
I don't charge much for a cure. My Belts are as low as $5. That will cure some cases, and it won't cost a cent if it doesn't. Did you ever see a doctor who would agree to cure you for $5 and wait for his money till you were cured?
I've cured lots of men who had paid over a thousand dollars to doctors before they came to me.

GET SOME LIFE INTO YOU

What's the use of dragging your legs about like a wooden man? Feel like a man of spirit. Away with the pains and aches; off with this wretched feeling as if you were seventy years old and had one foot in the grave. Come and let me give you a new supply of youthful energy. Let me make you feel like throwing your chest out, and your head up, and saying to yourself, "I'M A MAN!" Let me give you back that old feeling of youthful fire, vim and courage. I can do it, so that in two months you will wonder that you ever felt so slow and poky as you do now. Act today. Life is sweet, so enjoy every minute.

London, Mar. 23.—Most Canadians remember the wealthy Baroness Burdett Couttee, especially British Columbians, for she contributed regally to the various Anglican, church missions and churches in that diocese. Her interest in things Can-

At the two latest of the little dinners given there, Canadians were present in the persons of Mrs. Gale of Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Newton of Winnipeg, F. William Taylor and several others.

(Continued from page 7.) Sinclair said he spent $15,000 in three years on physicians and drugs in an effort to get cured of dyspepsia and finally had to give up the idea of physical culture in order to get back his health. Now, he said, his boy swims in a Jersey creek when there's snow on the banks and isn't even chilled. Drug companies, Sinclair charged, have an enormous corruption fund and doctors get it. He showed the audience checks which he said a prominent member of the New York County Medical Society had accepted for "pushing along" a certain remedy. One optician, it was alleged by Sinclair, paid $40,000 to $50,000 in gifts to doctors and clinics.

Replying to Mr. Sinclair's graft charges, Dr. Robert T. Morris said: "I do not deny that there is graft among the medical profession, but it does not exist among the better class of physicians. The 'system' is to blame, as Mr. Sinclair has told you. But I want to say in all seriousness that the finding of the cause for a case of dyspepsia is not so easy as Mr. Sinclair would have you think. And, also seriously, it should not cost less than $500 to get a thorough and correct diagnosis of the average case.

Arrested, Had $50,000

Arrested as a vagrant, a well-dressed refined-looking woman who refused to give any information concerning herself, and who was found wandering aimlessly about the streets the other afternoon, was discovered on examination to be a walking trust company. Secreted about her, the police found $50,000 in government bonds, bank books showing deposits of $20,000 and $18 in cash, the whole aggregating a fortune of more than $60,000. Subsequently relatives called for the wanderer and took her away without intimating her identity. There is a strong conviction, however, that she is the wife of a prominent official of the New York City Railway Company and received the securities and money from her father, whose death occurred recently.

Women and Drink

The "tipping" of respectable women in New York has provoked Dr. Henry Williams, a prominent local practitioner, to call attention in a public statement to the heavy price they have to pay for the privilege of indulging their weakness for strong liquor. Alluding to the question, he sums up the toll thus:

"A woman pays more for alcohol than does a man."

"A woman loses her good looks through drinking more readily than does a man, because her looks are of a finer character."

"She dulls her morals more quickly because she is more highly organized."

"Women are actually and immediately more moral than men from the sex point of view," he added.

"They are by nature, and they have been made through all the years they were created, properly and guarded as such. Unquestionably drink does impair the morals of anybody and a woman loses more than a man, because she has more to lose."

And as for the effect of alcohol on a woman's good looks, it does not need a scientist to know that a woman's physical attractiveness is of a far more delicate order than a man's. Her skin is finer than a man's; her looks are fresher; a youth more easily impaired. A woman may drink a little each day for years and not show it; for years, but sooner later alcohol is bound to destroy any claims to beauty a woman may have. But the main reason why a woman should not drink is the deepest reason of all. Dr. Williams went on: "If additional evidence of the all-prevailing influence of alcohol is required, it may be found in the thought-compelling fact that the effects are not limited to the individual who imbibes the alcohol, but may be passed on to her descendants. Impaired vitality of the most depressed character."

Win Fight for Millions

By the decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, Daniel Edgar Crouse, who died in 1892, leaving an estate of $3,000,000, was not the merry old bachelor the world thought and his relatives believed him to be. The court holds that the Countess Potulicka was his wife and Mrs. Dorothea Crouse McKelver their child; the secret union, which was concealed until after the death of the millionaire.

Under the ruling of the court, the daughter will receive $1,200,000 from the estate and her mother $1,800,000. The balance will go to twenty-two cousins and other heirs who have been seeking for many years through the courts to establish that the countess had never married the deceased and that her daughter was not his child.

The countess has been stubbornly fought through the different branches of the court until the final adjudication of the case by the Appellate Division. Crouse was widely supposed to be a woman hater up to the time of his death, and the countess put in by his wife subsequent to his death caused something of a sensation at the time in New York.
