KING EDWARD

Yeomanry.

LONDON, July 25.—King Edward presented medals to 3,000 returned yeomanny at the Horse guards parade today. The ceremonial was the same as observed at the former presentation of medals, but the inclement weather robbed the function of its brilliancy. Queen Alexandra and Prince Edward, son of the Duke of Cornwall and York, were present. Considerable comment has been aroused by the refusal of 32 non-commissioned officers and men to attend the cermony, on the ground that their pay was in arrears. These men have addressed letters to King Edward, pointing out that they cannot submit to be decorated while their wives and families and some of their number are starving. The claims of the men who say they have not yet been paid vary say they have not yet been paid vary from £63 to £127. Some of the claim-ants allege they have had to pawn their earlier medals in order to pro-cure food for their families.

and informed him he must leave the country by 10 'clock this Friday evening. Mr. Kennah was not allowed to leave his room in the interim, but he was courteously treated.

This action by the Russian authorities is taken under the law giving the minister of the interior authority to Russian authorities, but has not asked

Mr. Tower to intervene in the matter.

Mr. Kennan, in 1891 published his Siberia and the Exile System, the results of investigations made in Siberia attention and was translated into most

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Lloyd Tevis Breckenridge, grandson on the paternal side of the late vice-president Breckenridge, and grandson on the maternal side of the late Lloyd Tevis, president of the Wells Fargo Express Co., committed suicide last night at the family home in this city, where he lived with his grandmother and uncle, Dr. Harry Tevis. A rubber tube leading-from the gas jet to the-bed where the body was found told the story of his death.

of insurgents in the Island of Saman five hundred men, with two field guns, thirty rifics and seventy bolos, giving themselves up to the authorities.

The opinion prevails among the United States officials that it will take years to accomplish the economic programme of General Corbin. The civil and educational authorities hold that a continuance of the protection over minor posts is necessary, aside from that afforded by the constabulary. It is generally expected that the concentration will be more gradual than is anticipated in Washington.

THE FOSBURG MURDER. Presents Medals to 3,000 Returned Jury Acquit the Girl's Brother Without Leaving Their Seats.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 25.—In the Fosburg case yesterday the mother of the prisoner swore that the murder was committed by burglars and that the relations between members of the family were most affectionate. Two affidavits were submitted from a woman who signed herself Olive M. Gray of New York, who swore that the man named Gray, with whom she had been living, told her that he and another had entered a house at Pittsfield and that the other man had found a revolver on the table and shot someone. PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 25.—At the opening of court today in the Fosburg trial Judge Stevens instructed the Jury to bring in averdict of not guilty, and this was done, ending the trial. The jurymen did not leave their seats. The verdict was received with shouts of applause, which the court immediately suppressed. The demonstration, however, was one of the most remarkable that has ever occurred in a court of justice.

able that has ever occurred in a court of justice.

Judge Stevens in a few words expressed his thanks to the jurymen for their careful consideration of the case during its present action to them. Young Robert was discharged from custody and court was adjourned.

The great crowd then rushed as one person to shake the hand of the smiling young man, and it was several minutes before the court room was cleared.

A MISER'S HOARD.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Mrs. Catherine Griffin, who, for years had lived at Yonkers, largely a dependant upon charity, died yesterday in a wretched room that she had occupied for the last ten years. She had received a pension of $24 every three months, but aside from this was not known to have any income. A sister, living in Brooklyn, Mrs. Brown, was notified. She went to the house. There she found a bank book on the People's bank, showing deposits amounting to $15,000. Besides Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Griffin left three sisters, Mrs. Bridget T. Leonard of Albany, Mrs. Mary Carmady of Schenectady, and Mrs. Ellen Kenny of Ireland.

Miss Arnold made a tour of stores of this sort this morning, and found that there were few objections to the suggestion. Many were delighted with the idea and wished Miss Arnold every success in her undertaking. There are some who hesitate lest some tourist patronage will be lost, but there is no doubt that the tourists, when they learn of this movement, will make their purchases as willingly during the day as in the evening, and there will be no material loss to the store kæpers.

BOSTON, July 25.—The Boston submarine Signal Co., Henry M. Whitney, president, has obtained important permit from the United States government to erect a cable house on Egg Rock. Whatever may be done to lighten the burden without loss is vorthy of the thoughtful attention of the people. reform movements in general.

Two voices have lately been heard in England, of men viewing life and its problems from widely different standoints. Herbert Spencer recently turned aside from his sympathetic philoso phy and those great questions of mind and matter concerning which he has written with such profound insight, and uttered a plea for the mitigation of the war spirit. These are his words:-

war spirit. These are his words:—
Whatever fosters militarism makes for barbaxism; whatever fosters peace makes for civilization. There are two fundamentally opposed principles on which social life may be organized—compulsory co-operation and voluntary co-operation, the one implying co-ercive institutions, the other free institutions. Just in proportion as militant activity is great does the coercive regime more pervade the whole society. Hence to oppose militancy is to oppose return toward despotism. My fear is that the retrograde movement will become too strong to be checked by argument or exhortation.

The other voice heard this week was

The other voice heard this week wa that of Lord Salisbury, as great in the realm of practical statesmanship as Spencer's in that of science. His lordthip did not discuss the philosophy of war and peace, but devoted himself to the purely practical side of the question as it has forced itself upon the mind of the nation. Addressing the ouse of lords this week on the finance bill the premier said.-For years public opinion was in fa-vor of a pacific policy; but now that state of opinion has passed away. The tide has turned, and who am I, and state or opinion has passed away. The tide has turned, and who are we, that we should attempt to stem the tide? If the tide has turned, we shall have to go with it. We are in the presence of forces far larger than we can wield. The noble lord (referring to Baron Weiby) has alluded to the celebrated passage in which Sydney Smith warned the American public against the dangers and discomforts attaching to the pursuit of slory. No doubt it was thought at the time to be a very wise lecture. But has it been successful? Has he induced the American people to adopt his views? On the contrary, we know that one of the most powerful engines of the state consists in appeals to that mational and imperial sentiment to which we have been so much exposed, and which we are so much bound to abide by.

Lord Salisbury's remarks have been scribed as pessimistic, but that is hardly correct. He simply states the fact. There was a pacific period, there is now a militant one. These two al-

Chicago is Having a Hard Time to Get Along This Summer.

(New York Mail and Express.)

The city of Chicago presents the most melancholy spectacle of any one of the list of misgoverned American municipalities. Its income is restricted by a constitutional limit upon its power to issue bonds. To this restriction has been added the Juul statute, passed at the last session of the legislature, limiting total taxes to five per cent. upon assessed valuation and requiring that the sinking fund and interest must be met out of this revenue This list provision reduces further available income about $1,000,000. An effort to increase the assessed valuation of taxable property from $300,000,000 to $400,000,000 meets with violent opposition. Meantime, a cut of 20 per cent. In all salaries has been ordered by the mayor. The police force has been so reduced that the peaceful inhabitants will be more than ever at the mercy of the desperate criminals who infest Chicago. Public works are at a standatili. It is the partisan use of enormous patronage that is in large part responsible for this pitiable condition. But it is also evident that Chicago needs a new charter that will give to it one set of officials institud of a dozen, and a constitutional amendment that shall allow a bonded indebtedness adequate to legitimate needs.

Hon. N. Clarke Wallace on Coronation Oath and Delpit Marriage

(Toronto Mali and Empire.)
The Grand Orange Lodge of British North America, organized 1 years ago, opened its annual convention at Viotoria Hall Monday afternoon. Between 100 and 200 delegates, representing some 60,000 Orangemen, were present.
Every province and the North-West Territories were represented. Although the convention is not the largest on record, the delegates are unanimous in stating that the order has never been in a more prosperous condition.

GRAND MASTER'S ADDRESS.

GRAND MASTER'S ADDRESS.

In commencing his annual address the Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, made an eloquent reference to the demise of the late Queen. Continuing, he said the fervent loyalty which Orangemen ever gave to the throne and person of their late Sovereign would be given unstintingly to her successor, King Edward VII. The grand master suggested that the members of the order should convey their fealty and devotion in some formal manner on the occasion of the visit of His Royal Highness, the Duke of Cornwall and York. He then took up the question of the ness, the Duke of Cornwall and York. He then took up the question of the King's coronation oath, and in strong and clear-out terms indicated that he was strongly opposed to any change being made. "Why," he asked, "should the people of Great Britain sanction the assault on one of the bulwarks of Protestantism?" Any change however trivial would, he thought, be a distinct and important triumph for Roman Catholicism. It was the entailment of the succession to the tailment of the succession to the tailment of the succession to the throne of Great Britain in a Protestant that constituted the great crime in the eyes of the Roman Catholic church. In this connection he referred to the sensational Delpit marriage case. He declared that the Roman Catholic church had set up a pretension that the question of the validity of the marriage was one to be determined by the church alone. A more palpable attempt to give the church supremacy over the state, to subordinate civil to ecclesiastical law, could not be made.

The Orange Association in Canada had, he announced, never been in a more prosperous condition. The membership was greater than at any previous period, and there were many evidences of steadily increasing vitality. He sincerely deplored the loss, by death, of many active and sealous members during the past year, speaking particularly of the late John W. Bell, M. P. for Addington. At the time of his death deceased was president of the Imperial Triennial Council of Oragamen of the World, Mr. Wallace referred enthusiastically to the growth of the order in the West, and declared that the Orange Mutual had become a great and successful insurance company.

In conclusion the grand master re-

One county lodge warrant was issued for Calgary, and three district lodge warrants as well. During the year seven Orange Young Briton lodges, six female lodges, and ten Royal Scarlet chapters were instituted. The report gave these figures concerning the grand lodge during the year:—Initiated, 4,500; joined by certificate, 1,510; reinstated, 925; withdrawn by certificate, 1,749; expelled, 81; dled, 461. ENGLISH ORANGEMEN.

The annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Loyal Oracge Institution of England was held in London recentily. Lord Arthur Hill, Grand Master of the order, who presided, referred to the death of Her Majesty the Queen, and asked the grand secretary to record on the minutes the deep sorrow of the brethren at the national calamity, and to convey their warmest sympathy to the King. A resolution, proposed by the Grand Chaplain, Bro. Rev. Baddenoch, was then carried unanimously, strongly protesting, for reasons set forth at length, against any alteration being made virtually or otherwise in the "declaration against transubstantiation" by the Sovereign on accession to the throne. It was also, agreed: "That the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, inasmuch as it employs and pays clergy who belong to Romanising societies, such as the English Chinch Union, is not deserving the support of the Protestants of the country." DR. ROCH DECLARES

Says a London cable of July 23: The amous bacteriologist, Dr. Koch, in he course of an interview tonight, authorized the statement that he has demonstrated that the meat and milk of cattle infected with tuberculosis may be consumed with absolute impunity.

Tells of His Tests.

Tells of His Tests.

"It would be discourteous to the international congress to elaborate my theory," continued Dr. Koch. "You may say substantially that I have reached the conclusion that mankind's rear of contact with tuberculosis-infected flesh and fluid is unnecessary and unfounded.

"I arrived at the discovery through what I consider practically indisputable tests. These experiments lead me to believe that human tuberculosis and bovine tuberculosis are two entirely distinct species.

"I have found the human tuberculon incapable of inoculation into the animal system. Proceeding from that premise, I am prepared to show that humanity's far-reaching precautions against infected cattle may once for all be abandoned."

Stirs All Experts,

Btirs All Experts.

Dr. Koch's new theory produced an effect like that of a lyddite shell when it reached the ears of a few of the world's medical experts assembled in London for the great tuberculosis congress. Dr. Allen F. Haight of Chicago, official representative of the American Medical association, said:

"If I had not heard Dr. Koch quietsy announce his discovery in the course of private conversation it would seem to me absolutely incredible. I can only say that Dr. Koch is too profound a student and has too much reputation.

ly say that Dr. Koch is too profound a student and has too much reputation at stake to promulgate such a proposition unless convinced of its soundness beyond a shadow of doubt. If he ts able practically to demonstrate his claims the sanitary systems of the world will be shaken to the very roots. 'Revolution' but faintly expresses what the discovery will precipitate,"

What Dr. Reynolds Says.

What Dr. Reynolds Says.

English experts talked of the theory with mingled astonishment and contempt. They asserted that the German professor would encounter a stubborn debate on the part of the learned in disproof of his "mad idea."

Health Commissioner Reynolds, when advised of Dr. Koch's discovery, said: "The discovery is certainly of the highest importance, especially as regards milk. As far as meat is concerned, it has not been generally believed that it contained elements of danger when it had been cooked, therefore the announcement is of comparatively less significance to the civilized people of the world.

"Milk taken in its natural state is different proposition. While probably nobody is desirous of drinking the milk of tuberculosis infected cows, yet a great boon is assured if it can be consumed with impunity. The discovery will have a practical result in simplifying the work of milk inspection, although not rendering this unnecessary."

He did not give a base on balls, he did not hit a man, and four men fanned. Does the Recorder expect Webber to hold the Standards down to no runs and no hits. That is good enough for the club hie plays with, and the Recorder need not worry over the matter. A short time back they wanted the same Webber to come to Halifax and they probably would take him now if they could get him. THE CONDUCTOR'S JOKE.

On one of the street cars going to In-On one of the street cars going to indiantown today a conversation between the conductor and two women afforded considerable amusement for the other passengers. The women had got on the car at Paradise row and had blue transfers instead of white. The conductor gathered them in, and after HE DOES VERY WELL.

And then the conductor opened out a series of the conductor opened out and available to them how utterly imand explained to them how utterly impossible it was for anyone to make a mistake unless some conductor had given them wrong information. He reminded them of the fact that although it is very rare, conductors have a small amount of brains. He pointed out that a conductor's business was chiefly to take impertinence from all classes of people, and enlarged on his subject with such good humor that the wemen were much pleased to meet so intelligent a man, and as they paid their fares and left the car at Douglas avenue they thanked him sweetly for his information, and promised not to mistake the asylum for the bay shore.

SHORT BERRY CROP.

It looks now as though the berry crops were going to be very poor this sason. Raspberries, which started in well, are coming in but very small quentities and are now nearly done. The price has kept fairly bigh and shows no signs of dropping. Berries which have come down river are chiefly cultivated ones and but few wild ones have as yet appeared.

The blueberry crop is a complete failure. The Hampstead brings most of these berires, and they are selling at about ninety cents a bucket, with few offering. Gooseberries have been coming for some time, but in very small quantities, and are bringing sixty-five and seventy cents a pall.

The ascendancy of Sirius is gener ally supposed to be the cause of trouble to the canine race, but by the proceedings in the police court this morning the action of this star is not by any means so sirius a matter as the reports of the police officers. When the list was first handed in there were over seven hundred names on it, but through fear of the awful results and the excessive fine imposed, so many of these people have managed to evade the law that today the number of names had been reduced to ninety, and of these twenty-three made various excuses by which they managed to escape. The other reports will stand over for a week.

Looking at the list of dog owners on the clerk's deak today one would be surprised at the number of persons who are entitled to use the letters D. D. after their names. But in this case the letters do not stand for doctor of divinity, but simply dog destroyed, and the bodies of these animals, which, according to the stories told, have met watery graves, should cause, if not another freshet, at least an appreciable rise in the level of the harbor.

The numerous excuses offered today were on the whole below the ordinary standard.

One lady from Sheffield street has not had a dog for a long, long ume. The nasty brute was drowned ever so long ago—the day after she received the notice, and that was last Tuesday. Another dog, knowing that a license was required, began to get cross at once and had to be sent away. A gentleman from Pond street was quite indignant at the imputation. He scorned to own a dog and would not do such a thing. From Clarence street comes the unusual occurrence of the 24th of May celebration killing a terrier and the story went. On Broad street ever since the officer path his visit the animal has been dying. It is still alive, but will certainly die sometime. From Brussels street is a story of a pup now three weeks old, which was given, and on Lombard street ever since the officer path his visit the animal has been dying. Brown, drunk on Canterbury street, four dollars or ten days; John Carrigan, on Main street, the same; and James Curran, on Mill street, eight dollars or twenty days. Curran did not plead guilty, but would not deny that he was drunk. He thought it was a very peculiar thing for him to do, and also a foolish action. So did the magistrate.

Mrs. Guthro once more bobbed up serenally and called as witnesses her daughter-in-law, Jane Guthro, Jane's husband, Samuel O'Donnell, Fred Breedall and a dago by the name cf Guiseppe Persegerini. They were unanimous in declaring that the house is not a disorderly nor a bawdy one, but nothing further was elicited. Mrs. Guthro wanted her hotel register produced in court and the case was adjourned until tomorrow.

Joseph Guthro was brought in and asked mamma to go on the stand as a witness in the charge against him for beating his wife.

"Do you know that my wife drinks?"
"I does."

"I does."
"Have you ever seen her drunk?"
"Not paralysed."
"How often?"
"Three or four times."
"She smokes?"
"She do!"
"Use bad language to me?"
"Yes."

"Use bad ing."

"Yes."

"Hit me?"

"Yes, and you hit her."

"See her drink out of bottles that men brought in?"

"Yes."

"Have you ever seen her filrt with other men?"

"No, I don't think so.

Mrs. Guthre gave other evidence which seemed in direct contradiction which seemed in direct contradiction which seemed in direct contradiction.

which seemed in direct contradiction to the statements made by her on her own case. She will not keep Joseph's wife any longer, as she does not want to run an orphans' home, and thinks that if the men would act half decent to their wives they would get along all right. Joseph claims that those women only want to get the husbands out of the road so they can smoke and drink and go round with other mea. Joseph's brother was also brought as a witness and the case further adjourned.

A branch of the Holy Ghost and Us church has reached the city and head-quarters for the province have been made here. Already there are about thirty or forty workers in New Brunswitck, and of these twelve are in the city. They come from the training school at Shiloh, Maine. A Star reporter this morning had a talk with Elder G. W. Higgins, who is the head of the organization here. He said that the training school, from which the workers come, has now between three and four hundred students of both sexes; one half of them are in the field at present, some in different states of the union, some in England and others in this province. The body is entirely undenominational and emphasizes no one particular doctrine over another. They claim to teach the Bible as Christ and His disciples taught it. There is no organization among them resulting from the election of man. Spiritual selection, made known to the individual and to others, characterizes their election of officers.

At the school there is no charge made for tuition, board or room, the student puts his trust in God. He provides food for the ravens, and the members of Holy Ghost and Us live in the same happy, trusting state. The large building at Shiloh has been put up without solicitation of money or any such thing. God provided it. These fortunate people now have properties that of Holy Ghost and Us live in the same happy, trusting state. The large building at Shiloh has been put up without solicitation of money or any such thing. God provided it. These fortunate people now have properties that cost $125,000.

Following out this idea of faith and trust for supplying the things to satisfy natural wants, the workers receive no salary, and take up no collection at their services. With them the idea that a collection is a necessary religious ceremony was never held. They remark on this subject that they do not believe that Christ, after His sermon' on the Mount said, "Peter and John will now pass the hat for a collection." So the ushers in the church of the Holy Ghost have lost their most important office and the man on the front seat does not have to give a large piece of silver. The money, however, comes in abundantly whenever needed, and contributions thus forwarded range in size from one cent to substantial cheques.

"We are entirely opposed," said Mr. Higgins, "to spiritualism, Christian science and Mormonism. Our practices are those of the New Testament. We believe that the sick can be healed by the prayer of faith, and I have often offered prayer and witnessed the effect. In fact it as common and practical for us to pray in faith, for the recovery of the sick, as for other people to use ginger tea, panacea and anodyne liniments. We are extremely simple in our tastes, and have come to cheerfully do without things which others might perhaps consider necessaries. For us these are luxuries. Our work is all done at the command of God. He tells us where to go and what to do. Obeying we are cared for. In, regard to healing the sick let me say that we believe thoroughly in the fact of sickness and pain, but know that God can over-rule it all. Wonderful cures have resulted. So far there have been mone in St. John."

'The present campaign is the result of, a command received by Mr. Sanford, the head of the body, direct from its, to the first of the year. In regard to it, the official organ of "God has shown us that the second campaign on the western hemisphere is to be in New Brunswick, the state of New York, and in the western part of Massachusetts, and workers are already in these different places." New Brunswick is to be plucked as a brand from the burning, and the work has commenced in St. John.

The simplicity of the life of the Church of Holy Ghost and Us members is shown by the bare furnishing of their headquarters in this city. But the members are quite happy and the prospects are good for work here, they say.
