SPECULATION RIFE ABOUT TEXT OF BRITISH NOTE

Request to Delay Publication
Has Official Washington Guessing.

NEW NOTE PROMISED WITHIN A WEEK

Postponement to Give British Government Chance to Consider U. S. Note of July 17,
One Theory Advanced.

Washington, July 27.—The request made by Sir Edward Grey, British Minister for Foreign Affairs, that the State Department withhold from publication in tomorrow morning's papers, as originally planned, the text of the British note received yesterday in reply to the American protest against the British order-in-council, caused much speculation today in official circles.

No explanation for the delay was made except that another note on the same subject was promised from London "within the week."

Requires Special Consideration.

This communication, known as a caveat, recited that in view of the differences understood to exist between the two governments as to the principles of law applicable in prize court proceedings in cases involving American interests, and in order to avoid any misunderstanding as to the attitude of the United States, the British government is informed that the American government would insist upon the recognition of the rights of American citizens under the principles of international law as hitherto established, governing neutral trade in time of war, without limitation or impairment by order-in-council or other municipal legislation by the British government, and would not recognize the validity of prize court proceedings taken under the restraints imposed by British municipal law in derogation of the rights of American citizens under international law.

The British note delivered yesterday is understood to be framed upon the theory that the order-in-council does not transgress the rights of neutrals as laid down in international law, though it is admitted that in some respects the application of the legal principles is new. In view of the sweeping objection by the United States to the order-in-council made in the caveat, the British government feels, it is understood, this phase requires special treatment at this time.

Right to Blockade

Through Neutral Ports.

One feature of the British note is understood to deal exhaustively with the right of a country to blockade an enemy through neutral ports. That the United States in case it should be plunged into war with the European countries outside of the British Isles, never could successfully maintain a blockade so long as the enemy country could receive ultimate supplies across the borders of an adjacent country is regarded by the British as a fact which should be considered in dealing with the effort to cut off supplies being received by Germany through Swedish, Danish and Dutch ports.

STUBBORN RESISTANCE OF RUSSIANS CHECKS AUSTRO-GERMAN ADVANCE

Progress of Enemy Now Measured by Yards—Petrograd Reports Enemy Thrown Back Across Narew at Several Points—Russians
Come Back Strong in Baltic Province, Delivering Fierce Attack at Mitau and Inflicting Severe Loss.

London, July 27.—The Austro-German attempt to envelop the Russian armies defending Warsaw and to capture the Polish capital, which for a time progressed almost with the momentum of the offensive which cleared Galicia of the Russian troops, have been nearly brought to a standstill, and where the Germans are moving forward it is only yard by yard and at tremendous cost in men and material.

The German Field Marshal Von Mackensen has taken a few villages on the way to the Lublin-Chelm railway between the Vistula and the Bug rivers, and the Austrians, by a counter-offensive at Sokal, have captured positions which will make the German flank safer, but, as has so often occurred lately, Berlin officially reports that "otherwise the position of the German troops under Von Mackensen remains unchanged."

Along the western bank of the Vistula from Iwansorod to Novo Georgievsk even less progress apparently has been made, while along the Narew, where Field Marshal Von Hindenburg has been directing operations in an effort to drive a wedge in behind the city he is now largely occupied in meeting the Russian counter-attacks. These counter-attacks, according to Petrograd, have succeeded in forcing the Germans who had crossed the river to return to the northern bank at several points, but Berlin asserts that they completely failed, and that the German force is advancing in an easterly direction.

The Russians, who were defeated in the Baltic provinces recently, have also turned, and, according to a Russian official report, have delivered an attack from Mitau, which, however, was repulsed.

Further to the south the Germans continue their advance eastward, towards the Vinnitsa-Petrograd railway, but there is a report that they cover before this is reached, and it is considered more likely that Gen. Von Buelow, who is in command here, will turn to the southwest to threaten the Russian armies which are facing Von Hindenburg.

Everywhere the battles are at their height, especially that in which Von Mackensen is engaged. All the military critics here believe that this is the most critical of the campaigns for the whole German plan depends on their reaching the Lublin-Chelm railway.

With interest largely centred on the west, the important offensive of the French in Alsace has been almost disregarded. They report tonight another success to the north of Munster, which apparently is their objective, and the repulse of a series of German counter-attacks. The French have concentrated a lot of artillery in this region, and with high explosives have been simply tearing up the German defensive works, which are among the strongest along the whole line.

Artillery, likewise, is playing an important part in the battle on the Isouzo, where the Italians are reported to have concentrated for three days their fire is said to have exceeded in violence that which the Austro-Germans employed against the Russians in Western Galicia, which up to that time was the most terrific ever experienced in war.

AUSTRIANS DID SMALL DAMAGE IN AIR RAID

A Dozen Bombs Were Dropped
But all Failed to Hit the Mark at Verona.

Verona, Italy, July 27.—About a dozen bombs were dropped on this city today by an Austrian aeroplane. There were no victims of the air attack and the damage done to property was insignificant.

An alarm was given as soon as the Austrian machine made its appearance over Verona early this morning and all lights were extinguished. All the forts defending the city directed a fire at the aeroplane which, after throwing down the missiles, succeeded in escaping.

MAKE LID TIGHTER ON THE NEWSPAPERS?

Maj. Gen. Lessard Forecasts
More Rigid Censorship of Canadian Publications.

Vernon, B. C., July 27.—Censorship for Canadian newspapers was today forecast in an interview by Major General Lessard, Inspector-General of Canadian forces. General Lessard is in Vernon to inspect the thousands of men who are mobilized and training here. His remark as to the censorship was made in a discussion of the enterprising persistence of Canadian newspapermen in regard to those military secrets which they have been forbidden to publish. He cited the case of a British battleship which had a "wave" painted on her bow in order to deceive the enemy and give the impression that she was at full speed when really standing still. Of this photos were printed.

"That 'story' as you call it," the general said, "was doubtless a triumph for the newspaperman who got it, but consciously or unconsciously he gave away important information. There is a sort of censorship in Canada at the present time, but I think that this will be made a little more strict."

SAMUEL BLURTON IS ARRESTED IN NEW YORK

Had Run Away from Montreal
With $7,000 Payroll of Canadian

New York, July 27.—A man the police said was Samuel Blurton, of Montreal, was arrested on the street here today on a charge of being a fugitive from justice. The police declared that Blurton left Montreal on July 10 with a payroll of $7,000 belonging to the Canadian Steel Foundry Company.

They added that since Blurton disappeared a search has been made for him in several cities of the United States and Canada. His whereabouts was determined when he mailed $300 to his wife. The police said the man had more than $4,000 in cash on his person when arrested. Blurton was said to have told the police that he was willing to return to Montreal to face the charge against him.

PAID A VISIT TO YPRES BATTLEFIELD

Meets Patricia, Depleted in Ranks, But Dauntless as Ever—Plants Seeds of Maple
Tree on Graves of Fallen Canadians.

London, July 27.—Seen at the Savoy Hotel today, Sir Robert Borden had an interesting story to tell of his strenuous trip to France, where he came in intimate contact with the activities of the war zone. Having been given every facility by the Allied authorities, the Premier visited the French, British and Canadian headquarters, went into the trenches and saw the artillery at work. He also visited numerous hospitals, and conveyed to the wounded Canadians a message on behalf of the Dominion. "My message," said Sir Robert, "expressed the pride and admiration of the Canadian people for what they had done. I also conveyed to them a personal greeting from His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught.

"As to the general attitude of the men in the field or in the hospitals," said Sir Robert, "they hardly realized the marvelous impression their splendid achievements have made on the people of the Dominion. They impressed me as being thoroughly conscious of the world-wide issues involved in this war, and as being inspired by an unwavering determination to perform their duty in the future as in the past."

One of the most touching incidents in the visit of the Premier to the Canadian division was the meeting with the Princess Patricia a week ago, on which occasion Sir Robert was accompanied by Prince Arthur of Connaught. To the depleted ranks of the regiment, Prince Arthur delivered a stirring address, at the close of which the premier called for three cheers for Her Royal Highness the Princess Patricia, which were heartily given. Among the officers met was Captain Talbot Paineau, wearing the decoration bestowed upon him by the King.

Visits Ypres Where Canadians Won Glory.

Sir Robert had already seen Col. Buller and Major Hamilton Gault before leaving England.

The famous battlefield of Ypres was visited, and while gazing from a hillside overlooking the valley, Sir Robert saw a German mine explode, but happily without loss of life.

Referring to the meeting with General Joffre, Sir Robert stated that the French commander-in-chief spoke in high terms of admiration of the conduct of the Canadian forces. The Premier was pleased in return to praise the efficiency of the French military organization. In Paris Sir Robert was the guest of honor at a dinner given by President Poincaré, where he met the British Ambassador, the French Minister of War and the French Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The hospital established by a number of Quebec towns was visited, as were various other institutions maintained by Canadian organizations. Sir Robert expressed his pleasure at having met, both at the front and in the hospitals, many Canadians of French origin, several of whom had distinguished themselves.

EVACUATION OF GORIZIA BY AUSTRIANS BEGUN

Italians Driving Enemy From the Town—All Trains Have Been Reserved for Troops and Ammunition—Work on Fortifications Has Been Stopped—Evacuation of Podgora
Only Question of Hours.

Geneva, via London, July 27.—A despatch from Laibach to the Tribune says:

"Last night the Austrians began to evacuate Gorizia. The evacuation of Podgora also is a question of hours.

"All the trains from Gorizia have been reserved for the troops and ammunition and food supplies will be removed later. The workmen have been ordered to cease strengthening the fortifications. Every measure has been taken for a great retreat.

"At Doberdo the Austrian troops guarding the route to Trieste have been unable to hold their positions.

"On the Carzo Plateau, with the exception of a few trenches, the Italians have captured the entire plateau, the Austrians losing 2,000 men in two days here.

"The great Italian offensive on the banks of the Isouzo is daily progressing favorably."

The number of men in the mine when the accident occurred is not clear, and estimates range from 250 to 450. Less than thirty men were at the entrance when the explosion took place. All save those at the burning entrance escaped.

STRIKERS VOTE TO END THE STRIKE

Standard Oil Employees at Bayonne End Strike at Impromptu Street Meeting.

New York, July 27.—The strike of employees of the Standard Oil Company at its Bayonne, N. J., plant which has lasted ten days and resulted in serious rioting, during which three men were killed and scores injured, is at an end. The strikers at an impromptu street meeting in front of Union Hall so voted today and at the finish of the meeting dispersed with cheers.

The men voted to return on the promise of G. B. Hennessey, the plant superintendent, that he would recommend an increase in wages and would right any wrongs found to exist in the shop if the men return to work forthwith. This proposition was secured by John A. Moffitt and James A. Smyth, the Federal mediators, and is in effect the same proposal that was presented to the strikers yesterday by Sheriff Kinkead, but which was then rejected by a portion of the men.

IDENTIFIED DEAD IN CHICAGO MARINE DISASTER NOW NUMBER 822

Nearly 400 of Those Aboard Steamer When She Capsized Are Missing.

CORONER'S JURY BEGINS INQUIRY

Witness says there was ample time to empty boat had warning been given.

STEAMER EASTLAND WHICH CAPSIZED AT CHICAGO, CARRYING HUNDREDS OF PLEASURE SEEKERS TO THEIR DOOM.

Chicago, July 27—With the taking of testimony by the coroner's jury, the first open investigation into the capsizing of the steamer Eastland started today. At the same time investigations were being conducted by the state grand jury, the federal authorities and the city council, while the State Public Utilities Commission issued an announcement that it would not conduct an investigation as it had planned, the reason given being that the matter was fully covered by other investigators.

Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield arrived today and took up what he promised would be a thorough inquiry. He said he welcomed the most searching investigation possible and that if an inspector were at fault no one was more interested in it than he.

The funerals of the victims continued to be held today, although the great majority will be buried tomorrow.

The work of searching the river and the Eastland's hull for bodies continued with unabated energy today.

At noon the official list of dead and missing was:

Identified dead, 522.
Unidentified dead, 5.
Missing, Western Electric Company list, 383.
Total, 1,220.

The first witness to arrive at the coroner's inquest were members of the crew of the steamer, under guard of policeman. No charge has been formally placed against the men, who are being detained as witnesses.

The coroner's jury was empaneled last Saturday and later inspected the steamer and the bodies of the victims.

Ample Time to Empty Boat, Witness Says

Representatives of State Attorney Hoyne, owners of the steamer, and scores of lawyers who appeared in behalf of various interests, occupied seats near Coroner Hoffman.

The first witness called was Robert Moore, a passenger on the Eastland. Moore said he arrived at the Eastland at seven o'clock in the morning and was on the boat when it overturned. He was asked by Coroner Hoffman to describe what he saw.

"As I went on board I saw a great quantity of water rushing out of the pipe on the side of the boat. The first sign of listing I saw at about 7.15. I was on a rail on the second deck and the refrigerator in the bar tipped over. There was eight or ten minutes interval between the time the boat began listing badly and the time it finally overturned."

"There was ample time, I think, to have emptied the boat had the warning been given."

"There was no warning. When the boat went over I was thrown into the water and was rescued with a number of others."

The witness said that all the decks were crowded, particularly the upper deck, and declared positively that there was no rush across the deck before the boat overturned.

"There was no excitement," said the witness, "until the list became dangerous."

WATER WAS BAD. GOT DIARRHOEA.

Change of water, change of diet, catching cold, eating unripe fruit, etc., are all causes of diarrhoea.

The safest and quickest cure for diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cholera, cholera morbus, cholera infantum and all looseness of the bowels is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Mr. W. J. Quinn, Shelburne, Ont., writes: "About two years ago I was out in the West for harvest. The water out there was so bad that I took diarrhoea, and became so bad I was not able to work. I procured a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and when I had taken half the bottle the diarrhoea stopped, and by the time I had taken the entire bottle I was able to resume work. I sincerely recommend it to all those troubled as I was."

There are a great many imitations of "Dr. Fowler's" on the market, so see you get "Dr. Fowler's" when you ask for it.

Summer campaigning in the trenches, the agony of the hour of twilight and falling darkness and then the long drawn out strain of the night's watching, working and fighting, all now systematized and carried on according to practically fixed principles, are described from direct experience by one of the editors of the Paris Journal.

break forth with full-throated joy, duty. Under the protection of their comrades in the trench, ready for any attack, the workers, without baggage and carrying only their tools, actively creep out or even walk, where darkness permits, in a cross to the open ground, climb parapets, reach their appointed places and hasten to make the urgent repairs and to accomplish the prescribed work. Those who remain inside the trenches actively handle the shovel and pick, while very carefully avoiding the least revealing sound. But in spite of all precautions, the calm with which the night began does not last.

Outpost Watches for Charge.

"Little by little the trenches fill; at each hole, with fully provided gun, the soldier is watching, a shapeless, hairy mass fixed to the parapet, immovable and silent. Out forward in the middle of the protecting wire enclosure, crouching down in the shaded holes which they have reached by creeping, with eye and ear alert and finger on the trigger, scanning the hostile darkness with steady glance, the watchers of the outposts attentively spy out on the black earth, a still blacker line which is the German trench.

"Nothing is seen, nothing is heard, not a single definite noise, not a breath that can be characterized, and yet this momentary calm, more profound because it is momentary, far from being tranquilizing, arouses anguish and anxiety. One feels that this silence is full of ill-defined movements of active life, hushed and stifled, of confused and dangerous rumors, instead of enjoying the tranquillity of the hour after the obsession of the day's noise the mind works and draws up chimeras, the overstrung nerves take the upper hand, the eyes are opened wide in an effort to guess what is going on in the opaque shadow, with the apprehension of not arriving on time or of being too late for a great effort. One raises one's back, without knowing why, as if expecting a blow to fall.

"But this dreadfully depressing feeling does not last; action becomes imperative; work presses which cannot be done by day and which, like Penelope's web, or the work of Danaids, continues to be done all over again each night without ever being finished. The wire enclosures set up during the day by the enemy's cannon have to be stretched out anew, breaches in the parapet have to be closed, a part of the trench which has been filled in by shelling has to be deepened.

"The work is partitioned out without noise, and each one sets about his

When the people of Port Au Prince learned of this massacre there was a general outbreak of indignation. A mob invaded the Dominican legation, where Gen. Oscar took refuge after his unsuccessful defense of the presidential palace against the rebels, seized Oscar and dragged him before the door of the legation where he was promptly executed in his turn by a fusillade of rifle shots.

The mob, excited to a great degree, then turned to the French legation and threatened to invade this building to compass the execution of President Guillaume. Guillaume took refuge under the flag of France this morning after he had been compelled to flee before the rebel attacks.

Men Dream of Home.

"The rain of iron and fire, in the midst of this infernal noise, before these fair fireworks, of which the luminant fuses are the roman candles, and with shells and grenades added regardless of economy, the troops, pressed motionless against the parapet in order to avoid the missiles, gradually become blasé and sleepy. They dream of the joys of home, of the dear ones who were left behind so long ago and of the luxury of a bed. Some, relying on the vigilance of a neighbor to wake them up in case of alarm, standing up and with head leaning on the stock of the gun, indulge in a little nap, which is interrupted every now and then very disagreeably by an explosion too close or by a spluttering from the parapet.

"Slowly the hours pass away—now in noisy monotones; little by little the stars pale, the night becomes less black. A yellow band comes up on the horizon behind the German trenches announcing the sun. The day begins to break promising repose to those whose turn has come to go back to the second line.

WHOLESALE MASSACRE IN PORT AU PRINCE

Governor caused all Political Prisoners, numbering hundred and sixty, to be executed.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, July 27.—General Oscar, governor of Port Au Prince, and a supporter of President Guillaume, caused to be executed at the time of the outbreak of the revolutionary movement in this city, all the political prisoners in the hands of the government to the number of about one hundred and sixty men.

The victims of this massacre included General Orestes Zamor, a former president of Hayti, who was driven out of the country last year and returned in March of 1915 and was made a prisoner.

"When the people of Port Au Prince learned of this massacre there was a general outbreak of indignation. A mob invaded the Dominican legation, where Gen. Oscar took refuge after his unsuccessful defense of the presidential palace against the rebels, seized Oscar and dragged him before the door of the legation where he was promptly executed in his turn by a fusillade of rifle shots.

ous, punctuated with incessant rifle shots, assisted sometimes by a shell from the artillery. Notified by telephone, generous attention is paid to those parts of the enemy's trench which, as a result of incessant effort, it has been found are most vulnerable.

Workers Flatten Themselves on the Ground.

"Surprised by his sudden appearance the workers have flattened themselves out with their nose to the ground and as long as it burns they remain stretched without a movement, holding their breath, undistinguishable from the rigid bodies of the dead which dot the plain. But, despite the immobility of the body, their hearts are beating tumultuously under tunics soaked with the earth. Have they been seen or have they not?

"Their anguish does not last, for if the Germans suspect their presence, a hail of bullets comes along, a veritable waterspout of them, digging up the ground, tearing the posts on which the wired defences are strung or burying themselves into the earth with a soft thud, a disagreeable and sinister sound. Then all the workers can do is to creep back as quickly as possible, fortunate if none of them has been touched by this first discharge. For once the enemy's attention is aroused, they will sprinkle with projectiles copiously according to their habit and all night long, the suspected corner. Whether the work was accomplished or not, it is now over for the night. Often the soldiers have scarcely left the danger zone when a certain of shrapnel, whistling and smashing, comes down in a rage, plunging up the ground with its steel fragments and making the stones and pebbles fly in the air under its hail of bullets.

"And now the concert that is to be heard every evening begins, the habitual nocturne. From our trenches the howitzers answer the fire of the Germans; their projectiles, with an enormous flame and with a deafening roar, explode on the enemy's position, which they illuminate with brief dazzling light. The reply is not long to be awaited; we are soon sprinkled with a waterspout can with the debris thrown by shells that pour down seemingly from heaven, and whose blinding explosions shake the ground and tear the tops of the parapets to pieces. Once this exchange of politeness has started it lasts till morning, fortunately more noisy than danger-

TO DEVISE PLANS FOR CONSERVING GOLD SUPPLY IN ENGLAND

Best method for economizing gold for individual engages the attention of Chancellor McKenna.

London, July 27.—The best method of economizing gold for individual circulation is engaging the attention of Reginald McKenna, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, who is desirous that the public utilize currency notes so far as possible.

No steps will be taken to interfere with legitimate exports of gold, Mr. McKenna told the House of Commons this afternoon, but means will be adopted with the idea of mobilizing the war resources as and when required for the purpose of foreign exchanges.

The question was raised in parliament by a questioner asserting that quantities of British gold daily were taken to the continent by travellers, and that Boulogne was infested with

Washington, July 27.—Secretary of State Lansing today received a complaint from "The Fatherland," a German paper published in New York, that Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, had been party to violations of the neutrality laws in recruiting for the British army and in returning Montenegrins for service.

The complaint follows the action of the Ambassador in suggesting to the State Department that the paper in question forecasting destruction of the Lusitania, "had guilty foreknowledge of a crime."

WILL RUSSIA BE CRUSHED?

A German sergeant recently announced to the correspondent of one of the great London papers that "The Russians are down and out," and then he added that "All we need to do is to finish them off and hold them back with a thin line of men and abundance of machine guns, which done, we then move our main armies back to deal with the French, English and Belgians."

Thus, to the German sergeant, the path that leads to complete victory for the Fatherland over all her enemies is perfectly plain and it only remains for her military leaders by the thousand of their fighting machine to translate these proposals into actual accomplishments to secure for Germany the objects for which she defiantly challenged the fighting forces of a very considerable part of the world.

While the world has learned not to take too seriously all the braggart assertions of the war-maddened Germans, yet it is probably true that the continuous retreat of the Russian army before the German forces during the past weeks has not tended to strengthen the faith of the average man in what the Spectator has aptly termed the "inexpugnability of Russia" and to the minds of some who are sincere well-wishers of Russia has come the thought that perhaps after all the day of fatality for her is drawing near and that, as a fighting force, ere long she must be counted out and her place supplied by Britain and her allies.

Whatever be the condition of the Russian fighting machine, at the present time there is no doubt that, to the German mind, it is most desirable that the world should somehow lose faith in its strength and staying power for the psychological effect of such a world temper would react beneficially upon the cause of the Kaiser. It would not only act as a most timely deterrent upon the undecided Balkan States, but it would also tend in no small degree to allay the feelings of dissatisfaction with the German war party which are increasingly in evidence among a not inconsiderable element of the people of the Fatherland. There is no reason to doubt but that there are thousands of plain, decent German people who are heartily sick of seeing their sons being marched off to be sacrificed to the mad lust of world conquest by which the Kaiser and his militarist colleagues have been obsessed.

It is therefore at a time like the present when the swashbuckler in Germany and the fearful among the Allies unite in presaging the collapse of Russian arms that one could wish that the curtain let down by the military censorship might be momentarily lifted and that the world might be permitted to see something more of the increasing might and unconquerable hosts of the Slavonic world.

Meanwhile, let there be no premature confession amongst us that the fighting force of the Little Father is about to be crushed between the forces of Von Mackensen and Von Hindenburg.

Let it be thoroughly understood that whatever be the immediate fate of Warsaw, and of that heroic army which has thrust its lines between that city and the enemy, the conquest of Russia, even under the most distressing happenings to that city and army is far indeed from an accomplishment. Up to the present, the masterful retreat of the forces of the Grand Duke can in no way be construed as a defeat. Time and again in the history of that nation have their armies won victory by means of a retreat, and there is no reason to doubt but that history will repeat itself within the next few months and the Kaiser shall be taught at last the lesson that Pottava taught Charles XII. of Sweden, that Moscow taught Napoleon. Crimes, the Allies, and Manchuria, Japan, namely that such a retreat upon the part of the Russians is not a defeat, much less a crushing of her striking powers, but rather her method, so well known to history, of involving her enemies in embarrassment and frequently, too, that matter, in absolute ruin.

The present condition of the war makes it impossible for the average man to assuredly know just what is going on behind the lines where the world's greatest strategists are drafting their plans and undoubtedly the retreat of one of the allied powers has tended to sober the minds and chasten the boastfulness of the too ready jingo element which is to be found among all people, yet it is altogether aside from good breeding to offer either excuses for Russia or condolences to Russia. Russia has already, upon at least three occasions, saved the cause of the Allies, and at the present time whatever may be her immediate necessities or tactics, she is only now beginning to control her resources,—her all but illimitable resources of men and materials.

Outside of Britain there is no power so well constituted to endure a long drawn out war as is Russia for, in such a protracted struggle, her immense size and absolute self-sufficiency in the matter of food supplies, and fabulous wealth of her people as well as their almost countless numbers, all unite to qualify her leaders to wage successfully a campaign of ultimate conquest of her enemies and when to all these elements that make for her final victory we add the allied military genius and wealth of England, France, Belgium and Italy there seems to be no good reason for doubting but that at last "her winter must turn to spring" and her temporary retreat to a terror-inspiring return.

All alone and terribly unprepared Russia has fought against at least four million men—men armed with every weapon of the most scientific nation on earth, and he it said of a nation whose military leaders have proved themselves to be absolutely without humanity or conscience, and yet we have seen her heroically stand up to her task with a resolution and faith worthy of the world's greatest heroes. Let there be no mistake or misgiving as to the future of Russia. Her marshalled forces represent a power far greater than that of mere military might; underneath all her tactical manoeuvres there is the power of a great new born soul that is panting for emancipation; the soul of a great people that has been quickened by sacrifice and shriven by months of suffering and now at length consecrated by the countless wounds of her hero sons who have lived and died as the martyrs of a cause that is not to be denied its goal.

Let there be no mistake about Russia, for Russia, whether advancing or retreating, throughout all the many and varied vicissitudes of her campaigning is surely marching on to Berlin. Like the crusader of other ages Russia has faithfully carried the cross and like every faithful crusader she shall surely wear the crown.

THE CARTER ALLEGATIONS

Commissioner Chandler has quite properly decided that it does not come within his jurisdiction to permit Mr. E. S. Carter to fish for evidence in support of his allegations that liquor men in the city of St. John contributed sums of money for the purpose of influencing members of the legislature in their attitude toward legislation affecting the liquor interests, or for a campaign fund. The way is now open for Mr. Carter to make a definite charge against one member of the Government, or of the legislature, in support of the allegations in which he has so freely indulged.

Mr. Carter knows full well that if he can name one member of the Government or of the legislature who received money from a liquor dealer for campaign purposes, or to influence legislation in any way, that gentleman will not be tolerated for a minute as a supporter of Premier Clarke or as a member of the legislature. The Chandler enquiry was organized to investigate charges against the administration of departments of the provincial service. Mr. Carter's latest allegations cannot be so classified. There is, however, abundant opportunity for the Liberal organizer to produce evidence if he has it.

The Standard can state on the authority of the Government of New Brunswick that no member of the Government, or of the legislature, has received, demanded, asked for or solicited in any way contributions of money from liquor dealers in the city of St. John, or from any other person; that no campaign fund has been received, demanded, asked for or solicited, directly or indirectly, from these people or from any others.

The Woman's Toll

(Ruth Duffin, in the Nation.) O mother, mourning for the son who keeps His last dread watch by unfamiliar streams, Or for that other, gay of heart, who sleeps Where the great waters guard his secret dreams, Amid your tears take comfort for a space They showed them worthy of their island race. O wife, who heard across the wintry sea, Death's trumpet shrill for him who goes no more Riding at dawn with that brave company Whose fellowship no mourning shall restore. In its dark heart your bitterest hour shall bring Scenes from the scattered petals of the spring. O maid, with wondering eyes untouched of grief, War's dreadful shadow spares your innocent years, Yet shall you deem the ways of sun shine brief, Paving long hence your toil of hidden tears For love that cherished ere the web was spun, And children that shall never see the sun.

Will the War Last For Several Years?

Several years of indecisive warfare unless Germany wins a notable victory this summer, is the forecast of R. R. McCormick, one of the proprietors of the Chicago Tribune, who has represented his paper with the Russian forces since the early stages of the war.

years to accomplish the result. If they fail in both it appears to me that an Austro-German victory has become impossible. The moral effect of the reconquest of Galicia will wear off. The Balkan peoples are anti-German and anti-Turk, and sooner or later probably will enter the war against these enemies, although it is a distinct possibility that Bulgaria may erupt at any minute as a Turco-German ally.

In no event must an early German defeat be looked for. France appears to have reached her limit. It will apparently tax England's resources for some time to come to maintain an army of 2,000,000 men, and it will be at least another year before such an army will be in condition to manoeuvre in aggressive warfare—probably twice that long.

Russia has trained men and trained officers enough to hold the German frontier and overrun Austria, but she has not equipment for them. She cannot make it. And the surplus equipment of her allies is being used to equip untrained men incapable of taking the field. The English nation cannot comprehend this fact, just as our nation cannot comprehend that it would take us at least three years, probably more to make an army of 2,000,000 men capable of making war as the German armies and Russian armies make war.

Thus the situation is that Germany may win a military victory in France this summer. Failing this, there will be several years of indecisive warfare until the resources of the commercial allies are put at the disposal of the military allies.

The only other contingency appears to be a decisive battle, such as this war has not yet seen, and such as many military authorities believe to be impossible.

THE PRISONERS IN GERMANY TO RECEIVE HELP

Movement started by Women's Canadian Club to assist Canadians in Germany.

The executive of the Women's Canadian Club was called together on Monday afternoon by Mrs. H. A. Powell, the first vice-president, at the request of the president, Mrs. G. A. Kurling. Those present included Lady Tiley, Mrs. H. A. Powell, Mrs. James H. Frink, Mrs. George McAvity, Mrs. John A. McAvity, Mrs. Murray MacLaren, Mrs. R. O'Brien, Miss Grace Leavitt, Miss Alice K. Walker, Mrs. E. H. Robinson, Mrs. H. Lawrence and Miss Lillian Hazen representing the Canadian Club, the provincial and local branches of the Red Cross Society, the Daughters of the Empire and the Field Comforts Association. Mrs. Powell explained the object of the meeting by reading the following letter which was sent to the president of the St. John Women's Canadian Club by Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught:

Government House, Ottawa, July 10, 1915.

Dear Madam—May I be permitted to draw your attention to the work in which the Ottawa Women's Canadian Club have been co-operating with the Canadian Red Cross Society for the relief of the Canadian prisoners of war in Germany, as I feel sure that if your club is not already working for this good object it will at once co-operate with what is being done by the Canadian Red Cross on behalf of these prisoners.

There are a great number of Canadian prisoners of war in Germany and although they may be treated humanely they are devoid of comforts—in many cases necessities—and it is possible for these to be sent from England via Holland.

Mrs. Rivers Bulkeley, convener of the "Prisoners of War Department" of the Canadian Red Cross in England, writes as follows:

"I think that contributions in money will prove the most economical and satisfactory in every way. We send out a parcel of food once a fortnight to each man (who is not otherwise cared for) and consignments of socks, shoes, tobacco, soap, tooth brushes, every sort of thing, at longer intervals. By getting supplies in such quantities we get them cheaper and it also saves packing. Any money we are sent we will invest in the things we hear they are needing most, and will despatch as soon as possible."

I have been informed by Mrs. W. T. Herridge, president of the Ottawa Women's Canadian Club, that their scheme is for the adoption of prisoners, namely that by subscribing $2.00 monthly you can provide for a man, per containing food and comforts which will be forwarded every fortnight to a Canadian prisoner of war.

In appealing to all Canadian women to give some help to ease the hardships of imprisonment of these men of the Canadian contingents who have met with the great trial of having fallen into the hands of our enemy, I feel so in vain. All Canadians have already shown the greatest enthusiasm and patriotism in extending their generous aid to those brave men and boys who are fighting with such splendid courage and devotion for their King, Country and Empire.

I shall be glad to receive contributions, even the smallest, for immediate transfer to the Prisoners of War Department of the Canadian Red Cross in England, or, if it is more convenient, contributions may be sent to any local Red Cross Society.

Yours truly,
LOUISE MARGARET,
The question of helping the Canadian prisoners of war in Germany was thoroughly discussed, and individual expression of opinion being obtained from all present, by the chairwoman, Mrs. Powell. This resulted in the following unanimous resolution:

Agreed: that the members of the Women's Canadian Club, Saint John, recognizing the necessity for the appeal made by Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught, ask for subscriptions to the fund for the relief of Canadian prisoners of war in Germany from all members of the Club, and from all women, whether associated with any organization or working individually for the honor of the Empire, such subscriptions to be sent to Mrs. Richard O'Brien, 114 Wentworth street, St. John, and by her to be forwarded to Mrs. Rivers Bulkeley, convener of the Prisoners of War Department of the Canadian Red Cross in England.

It was further decided that a minute of the meeting with a copy of the letter from Her Royal Highness and the resolution be published in the daily papers. This to be the public appeal for contributions of money, large or small, made to all women for this fund.

Mrs. Rivers Bulkeley, who will be pleasantly remembered as Miss Evelyn Pelly, is a war widow whose bereavement is particularly sad as Lieutenant Rivers Bulkeley, who had not been married two years, was killed almost as soon as he entered the trenches very early in the war. Since his death Mrs. Rivers Bulkeley has her own signature.

YESTERDAY'S EVIDENCE FAILS TO PROVE CHARGES

Testimony at Gloucester County inquiry did not substantiate allegations of Carter and Veniot — Witness shows how road work was done while Veniot represented County.

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, July 27.—Commissioner W. B. Chandler, K. C., decided this afternoon that the charges which Mr. E. S. Carter, suggested he might make relative to alleged payments by holders of liquor licenses in St. John city and county to some unnamed persons and which might have come into a government party campaign fund, did not come within the scope of the departmental inquiry which he was carrying on. The commissioner announced his decision in that regard shortly before the hearing adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Today's proceedings were unproductive of results at all beneficial to Messrs. Carter and Veniot. So far they have succeeded only in humiliating some French Canadians. The Crown lands charges by which it was hoped to involve Mr. A. J. H. Stuart, M. L. A. for Gloucester were not substantiated by any evidence to show that anything had been cut off Crown lands specified in the charges. Mr. Stuart was in court, but found the proceedings so devoid of anything of importance that he left for home this evening after informing Commissioner Chandler that he would go on the witness stand before the investigation is closed, which the commissioner said would probably not be for two weeks.

Different to Days When Veniot Represented County.

Probably the most interesting witness of the day was Jean J. Robichaud who was in charge of special work done on a road at what is known as Robichaud Plain, in Gloucester county, and his evidence included a striking revelation as to methods employed on road work in that county when Mr. Veniot was in charge of the investigation of the constitutionality of the legislature and ran things pretty much to suit himself. Supervisor Robichaud said that he had been out in charge of about 1 1/2 miles of work on Robichaud Plain road by Martin J. Robichaud, M. L. A., and that he did not know the exact date when they started or finished the work.

Witness had hired men at the rate of $1.50 per day. He employed Louis L'Esperance as cook and he cooked for the crew at the boarding house conducted by witness. The men boarded there and paid witness 50 cents per day.

Witness then made the following explanation regarding the boarding of the men on the work.

"I hired a man to work on the road. He had a small house so that the men would board themselves and they offered to give me 50 cents per day if I would board them and I told them I could not do it. He then said that he would do it, but that he could not get it in a full time. I decided I could save money for the government by hiring a cook and cookee and the men put in full time. If I did this I did it from experience."

"I repaired a bridge on Lemoine Road during the time that J. Veniot was a member. At that time three men were sent from St. John and all local men boarded at Kane's while the three men from St. John boarded five miles from the work. Not one day did they begin work at 7 o'clock and do it, the distance being too great, as the men could not get it in a full time. I consider if I acted in the same manner the Plain would have cost $200 more because the work we did on Lemoine bridge cost far more than it should have."

Witness secured supplies for men and paid for them himself, but was unable to give evidence on the amount of board having no account. He had secured supplies from his own witness. Witness had paid some of the workmen in cash and others received supplies from his store. Supervisor Robichaud said he had placed L'Esperance's name in as a laborer and not as a cook, through an error of his own. He had paid L'Esperance $42, some of this amount he supplied in goods from the store. Milk was paid on the same basis as L'Esperance but received all in goods from the store.

Witness said he had asked to be paid 10 per cent commission on the amount expended as this was the old custom. He had asked Martin Robichaud, M. L. A., to be paid in this way having been appointed special supervisor by Mr. Robichaud and not by the department at Fredericton.

Commissioner Chandler pointed out that Docteur P. Chaisson who had worked on the road in a different section had been paid at the rate of $2.50 per day.

Return for this work was made up by Mr. Robichaud. Witness said he had not told Mr. Robichaud of the arrangements with L'Esperance and Mallet but he explained that C. Lantique did not work on the road.

Two hundred loads of brush had been purchased by witness from Edward Savoy at 15 cents per load, but when settlement was made he cut down the price to 10 cents per load. Witness devoted herself to the welfare of the soldiers, and it was largely through her efforts that this committee was formed. It might also be added that the letter from Her Royal Highness is a personal appeal appearing over her own signature.

number of loads, Savoy having charged for about 300 loads.

Referring to the bridge repaired on Lemoine road, when Mr. Veniot represented Gloucester county in the legislature, witness said he had worked on the bridge. One of three men who worked on the bridge at this time was Capt. Boone, but he did not know the names of the other two. Witness said that led him to make other arrangements on Lemoine road work in the Fall of 1914. At the time of repair work done to the bridge, Eugene Robichaud was paid to bring men to work and drive them back to their boarding house, while the bridge was being repaired. Men from St. John had told witness they were brought from St. John by Mr. Veniot.

Supervisor Robichaud said he knew Joseph Guignard, but did not know why he was not at the inquiry. He believed he was at the time. Guignard is stepfather of Supervisor Robichaud, but refused his transportation to Fredericton. Witness said that Guignard had brought supplies to the men and had also worked on the road.

The name of Chrysoslogos Dupuy appeared on the pay sheets for work on the road every day. Witness had attended the Conservative convention at Caracquet on October 12th, but the work on the road went on as usual.

Witness as he left the stand told Mr. Veniot in French that the men who attended the Conservative convention at Caracquet had paid their own way and were not paid to attend as the Liberals had been.

No Lumber Cut as Stated in Charges.

Commissioner Chandler next considered the charges regarding unpaid stumpage on logs alleged to have been cut on land under license to Mr. A. J. H. Stuart, M. L. A. The charges read that Mr. Stuart had sleepers cut from that land, which lies between the Miramichi River and Bass River, in Gloucester county and comprising 3 1/2 acres, during the winter of 1913 and 1914, and that Freeman Goodwin cut logs from the land in the same season.

The scaler for this district, Mr. Wm. Hayden, had made no return to the department of lands and mines and was the first and only witness called yesterday afternoon. He stated emphatically that to his knowledge no lumber had been cut off Mr. Stuart's land during the season mentioned in the charges. The fact that Mr. Hayden made this statement seemed to arouse the ire of Mr. Veniot who was in a very unpleasant mood during the latter part of the afternoon.

STREET CAR RAILS FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Canada should procure share of contracts — The time limit for delivery a difficulty.

The municipalities of Great Britain periodically call for tenders for street car rails, and as contracts are frequently placed with United States manufacturers there appears to be no reason (except it be that of cost) why Canada should not endeavor to procure some of such contracts, particularly as sentiment in favour of Imperial trade is obviously growing. The most conspicuous difficulty to surmount is that of delivering quotations on time, says the current bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce. When tenders are called for there is always a time limit for delivery, usually from two to four weeks from date of issue. Apparently the one course open is for manufacturers of rails to be represented in Great Britain by a capable firm in constant touch with municipal requirements, as business would necessarily have to be transacted by cable. Several municipalities state that they will be pleased to give Canadian manufacturers an opportunity to quote when they are again in the market. It would therefore be advisable to prepare for them.

AMERICAN SCHOONER WRECKED ON COAST OF VENEZUELA

Wilmington, Curacao, July 27.—The American schooner Sallie C. Marvil was wrecked July 22, near Buen Ayre, a Dutch West Indian Island on the Venezuelan coast, and is a total loss. The captain and crew were saved and arrived here today.

The Marvil was built at Sharpstown in 1901. She was of 565 tons gross. Her owners were A. H. Bell & Company, of New York.

GOOD MARKETS AVAILABLE FOR PULP OUTPUT

Bathurst Company expects to do fine business—Norway and Sweden handicapped.

How Britain's prohibition of export of coal may prove beneficial to New Brunswick is shown by the statement that the new Bathurst pulp mill has already sold as much of its future output as is desirable and that the mill could be run to its capacity on orders which have not as yet been accepted. The market for Mitscherlich pulp is rising, so the Bathurst people are not particularly anxious about making future contracts just now. Britain's action in shutting off coal shipments has compelled the high class pulp mills in Norway and Sweden to close down. As Germany is the only other country manufacturing this grade of pulp for export to the United States and Canada and as the pulp is not made here at all the Bathurst mill will have all the market it requires. There is practically no limit to the demand just now and the North Shore company is more than anxious to get busy. The mill would have started some days ago but there has been a delay in the receipt of piping to be used for certain connections and this has caused a little hold-up. The pipe is now on the way, however, and within ten days the wheels will begin to turn and between four hundred and five hundred men will find employment in this new industry. The market for the cheaper grades of wood pulp is also in a fair condition so that the prospects are bright for a particularly busy season.

NO PASSPORTS NEEDED HERE

Americans are not required to have these papers in order to travel in Canada.

"Why doesn't the Board of Trade deny those newspaper stories about submarine battles along the Canadian coast; they've killed the tourist business?" was the query shot at a Board of Trade official by a prominent hotel man yesterday.

The official assured the hotel man that the Board was doing its best to run down and contradict reports that were damaging tourist interests, but it found the task almost an impossible one. Letters have been addressed to newspapers, individuals and Boards of Trade in various parts of the United States, assuring Americans that there were no war restrictions placed upon tourists coming into Canada from across the border, but reports to the opposite effect will not stop.

The belief most prevalent in the United States is that passports are necessary to visit Canada. An intelligent American commercial traveller showed a St. John hotel keeper an elaborate passport, with photograph attached, which had cost him $7. The same man had written the hotel keeper from Bangor a few days before and had been assured that passports were not necessary, but he said he wasn't going to take any chances.

Another notion prevailing among Canadian Americans is that they are liable to be pressed into military service if they cross the border. A few days ago an enquiry along this line reached the Board of Trade office and the writer was assured that he need have no fears on that score.

The average tourist is a shy bird, and he doesn't propose to run into any kind of trouble, but he is missing a great opportunity for pleasure by keeping away from the Canadian provinces these glorious summer days. The Americans who have visited the provinces this season say that Canadian woods never looked more beautiful and attractive than they do this summer. The reports of the abundance of big game prospect this year is a very bright one.

It is expected that August will show up well as a tourist month. At the famous C. P. R. resort at St. Andrews, every room at the big Algonquin Hotel has been taken for next month.

STREET IN MAROEUIL SHOWING HAVOC CAUSED BY SHELLS

The village of Maroeuil has recently suffered much material damage owing to incessant German artillery attacks. The village is well within range of their bigger guns, being only about three miles to the northwest of Arras, between that town and Caen. As one of the bases from which the attacks on Neuville St. Vaast and "the labyrinth" were pushed, the station and the village generally were subjected to a very violent bombardment, which is now lessening owing to the German need for their big guns elsewhere.

REMARKABLE CASE OF Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind. I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat all kinds of food, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all in pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 22, Shamrock, Missouri.

To Discard Freckles, Tan, Pimples, Wrinkles

The use of creams containing animal substance sometimes causes hair to grow. You run no risk of acquiring superfluous hair when you use our mercurial-free cream. There is nothing better actually colored skin, as the latter is a natural complexion, full of life and expression. It is the sensible way to discard a freckled, tanned, overcast, blotchy or pimply skin. Get an ounce of mercurial-free cream, erasing in the morning with soap and water. It takes a week or so to complete the transformation. The ideal wrinkle remove is made by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicylic acid in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution brings almost instantaneous results.

LAST WEEK ON THE LONDON EXCHANGE

A week of huge payments - Possibility of a six per cent Bank Rate.

(Special Cable Despatch to the New York Evening World.) London, July 24.—The Bank of England's statement of £56,000,000 increase in public deposits for the week does not show the full volume of war loan subscriptions on Tuesday. Probably £250,000,000 out of the total £600,000,000, or four-fifths of the public subscriptions, was actually paid up.

There are several reasons why this result was hidden in the bank's return. For one thing, joint stock banks while crediting the government on their books with subscriptions made by them, are paying the cash on the installment method—that is, as public expenditure requires.

But it is also believed that the government has repaid the Bank of England £50,000,000 against advances on "pre-maturity bills." The bank itself also repaid the market some millions sterling, borrowed a few months ago to help control the money market. These cross-currents prevented the bank from reflecting accurately Tuesday's huge transactions.

The bank rate being now effective and the money market under control, it is recognized that the financing of imports and the regulation of exchange constitute the next immediate problem. Banking opinion is urging general taxation of imports and higher income tax, with the object of curtailing imports and enforcing general economy. Mr. Asquith yesterday indicated the likelihood of the adoption of some such policy.

Your exchange market is the visible curb of the problem. What will probably happen ultimately will, as heretofore, be determined by the outside market. It would be difficult to make the full 6 per cent effective, because of the guaranteed facilities for borrowing on the first war loan at 1/2 per cent under the bank rate.

The offering of the £2,000,000 Canadian loan in America excites interest. The incident is welcomed here, even though we feel that it indicates our country's peaceful penetration of Canada. It is one of the increasing evidences of our enormous start in the race for financial leadership and prosperity after the war.

Lombard street recognizes the danger of drifting. The bank rate may go to 6 per cent before very long, with a view to making 5 1/2 per cent effective in the outside market. It would be difficult to make the full 6 per cent effective, because of the guaranteed facilities for borrowing on the first war loan at 1/2 per cent under the bank rate.

REVIVAL IN RAILWAY SHARES CHIEF FEATURE OF YESTERDAY'S TRADING

Late hours of session saw heavy buying with material advances in prices - Canadian Pacific rose five points - Movement due to rumors of grant of rates increase to Western Roads.

New York, July 27.—The demand for stocks broadened today and the market gave the best exhibition of sustained strength which has been witnessed in some time. Of particular significance was the reawakening of activity in the railway shares. The dullness and heaviness of these stocks of late, together with reports of diminishing earnings and the possibility of dividend reductions in some instances, have constituted one of the most unfavorable aspects of the situation. Today, however, a wave of optimistic feeling pervaded all quarters of the market, and the railway issues gradually came into the lead in speculation.

Total sales were 800,000 shares. The rise began with a further marking up of the war stocks, several of which again made high records. The buying movement spread to other specialties, with speculation restricted largely to the industrials during the morning. In the afternoon, however, buying shifted to the railroad stocks, and in the last part of the day the buoyant rise in these issues was the dominant feature. Even the war stocks were almost neglected in the comprehensive movement through the railroad list. St. Paul was lifted five and a half, Canadian Pacific, five, and a large number of others from one to four points.

Among the industrials, Bethlehem Steel rose twenty-nine points to 250, the preferred three points, to 142; Crucible Steel five points to 112; Baldwin Locomotive, two and a half, to 85; Can one and five-eighths, to 61 7/8, and Allis-Chalmers preferred, two points, to 68 1/4, all new high records.

The rise was assisted by a considerable increase in commission house buying. Added impetus to the movement was given by the inferences drawn from the conduct of the market on the break on the torpedoing of the American steamer Leelanaw was interpreted as an indication of underlying strength. Buying of railroad stocks was prompted by an evident scarcity of these shares, and by rumors of a grant of rate increases to the western roads.

There was heavy buying of steel in anticipation of a favorable quarterly statement. This expectation was realized when the statement appeared after the close. Total earnings, as had been predicted, were more than twice those of the preceding quarter amounting to $27,950,055, as compared with $12,457,809 three months ago. After deducting the dividend of one and three-quarters per cent on the preferred stock there was a surplus of $8,267,645, as against a deficit of $3,389,861 for the first quarter of the year.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, were $2,900,000.

CLOSING LETTER OF N.Y. MARKET BY E. & C. RANDOLPH

New York, July 27.—The character of the market changed completely in the afternoon and the railroad issues, which department there was little doing in the first half of the session, became very strong and active. The upward movement was led by St. Paul and C. P. R., the rise in those two stocks reflecting expectation that their dividends will be maintained notwithstanding recent predictions of a reduction in each case. The St. Paul directors will meet on Thursday afternoon and although the road failed to earn the equivalent of five per cent on its stock in the year ending June 30th it is expected that the directors will order the regular 2 1/2 per cent semi-annual dividend in view of the bright prospects for the fiscal period now entered upon. The C. P. R. directors will meet on August 9th and unless there is a decided change for the worse in the crop situation by that time, the quarterly dividend of 2 1/2 per cent will be declared. There was a rumor that the Interstate Commerce Commission had granted an increase of western rates, but it followed the rise in stocks and was not influential in producing the advance. Total sales 900,000. Bonds $2,900,000. E. & C. RANDOLPH.

BASEBALL IN THE BIG LEAGUES

AMERICAN LEAGUE. Detroit, 7; New York, 3. New York, July 27.—The New York Americans returned home today and met defeat by Detroit, 7 to 3. Fisher was hit hard, and the Yankees' fielding was loose. The score: Detroit 00214000-3 7 5. Batteries: Coveleski and Stange; Fisher, Usher and Nunnaker.

Washington, July 27.—Washington celebrated its home coming today by defeating Cleveland one to nothing, breaking Cleveland's longest winning streak since 1913. The game was a pitchers' duel between Gallia and Hagerman. Only two of the visitors reached first base, and neither got any further. Miltch stole home in the first inning, scoring the locals' only run. After the second inning Hagerman did not allow a hit. The score: Cleveland 00000000-0 1 1. Washington 10000000-1 2 0. Batteries: Hagerman and O'Neill; Gallia and Henry.

Philadelphia, 6; St. Louis, 4. Philadelphia, July 27.—Sheehan pitched good ball after St. Louis pounded his delivery in the first inning today and Philadelphia won, 6 to 4. Hamilton was also hit hard in the opening session, and in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings the home team bunched hits with errors and overcame the visitors' lead. The score: St. Louis 4000000-4 13 3. Philadelphia 30001110-6 12 1. Batteries: Hamilton and Agnew; Sheehan and Lapp.

Pittsburg, 8; New York, 1. Pittsburg, July 27.—The New Yorks were defeated by Pittsburg today, 8 to 1. The score: New York 00000100-1 8 2. Pittsburg 10005200-8 12 1. Batteries: Marquard, Ritter and Doolittle; Mammox and Gibson.

Brooklyn, 4; Boston, 3. Brooklyn, July 27.—Boston beat Brooklyn 4 to 3 today. The Dodgers had a one run lead up to the ninth due to an error by Evers, which let in three runs in the fifth. With one out in the last inning, the crowd began to jeer Evers, shouting that he had lost the game. Evers responded with a single and sent Fitzpatrick in to run for him. A hit by Connelly and Magee's long drive to centre sent across the tieing and winning runs. The score: Boston 00101002-4 12 1. Brooklyn 00003000-3 7 3. Batteries: Tyler and Whaling, Gowdy; Douglas, Smith and Miller.

STILL HELD BY AUTHORITIES

Mrs. Frank Conway will likely be sent back to Sussex.

Young Mrs. Frank Conway was taken to the Police Court yesterday and told about the same story as given in The Standard yesterday. She said her marriage license was purchased in a jewelry store in Sussex and she was married to Sergeant Frank Conway of the 56th Battalion on the 14th of this month by the regimental chaplain, Captain H. E. Thomas. Her husband had been arrested and locked up in Hampton jail and on Monday she decided to run away with another soldier who promised to desert from the ranks and meet her in St. John. She gave the name of a young soldier from the North End of this city as being the man who promised to run away with her.
