

GET TOGETHER SPIRIT RULES CONVENTION

Delegates Attending the N. B. Tourist, Game and Resources Convention Op- timate Over Future.

LAUDABLE BOOSTING SPIRIT EVIDENCED

Association Ready to Scatter Propaganda Setting Forth Natural Resources of Province.

Special to The Standard.

Dalhousie, N. B., June 16.—Beautiful June weather prevailed on the opening day of the All New Brunswick Tourist, Game and Resources League convention at Dalhousie. It is quite appropriate that the second annual convention of this association which has for one of its aims a wider knowledge among our own people of the beauties and possibilities of New Brunswick, should take place here. The scenery of the surrounding country is magnificent and the Inch Arran Hotel, in which the business sessions are being held, overlooks the wide expanse of the famous Bay Chaleur.

The St. John party arrived at Dalhousie Station early this morning in their special car. At eight o'clock they were met by the citizens of the town and driven in automobiles to the Inch Arran Hotel where breakfast was served. The route led through the Main Street, which was decorated with flags and bunting, and they turned into the drive, leading to the hotel, the cars passed under an arch inscribed with words of welcome.

The convention was formally opened at eleven o'clock, Hon. C. H. Lablache, Mayor of Dalhousie and President of the League, presiding.

Addresses of welcome were given by the Mayors of Dalhousie and New Brunswick, and by the Hon. C. H. Lablache, Mayor of Dalhousie. The different speakers all referred in glowing terms to the scenic beauties of New Brunswick, and of its great natural resources which are at present lying dormant.

A get-together spirit characterized the opening and if the game program, mainly for the benefit of the province will result.

Delegates Present.

The following delegates were present at the opening session besides the St. John representatives mentioned yesterday. Mayor C. C. Avar, of Sackville; David Champoux, President of the Board of Trade, Campbellton; George McKenzie, Judge McLatchy, Peter Shannon, Fred MacRae of Campbellton; T. H. McEvoy, S. Blanchard, Dalhousie.

Welcome Speeches

Hon. C. H. Lablache, in his opening remarks, regretted the absence of the President, F. B. Edgewood, but he said that the decision of the meeting last year to hold annual meetings in different sections of the province was a wise one.

"On behalf of the citizens of the town of Dalhousie I have much pleasure in extending a hearty welcome to the delegates of the New Brunswick Tourist, Game and Resources Association assembled here in their second annual convention. Our people appreciate the fact that at the first convention held last year in the city of St. John, it was decided to hold the convention of 1920 on the North shore of New Brunswick and in our quiet little town of Dalhousie. You will enjoy your stay among us. We had hoped to have been able to treat you to a sail on our river, and on the famous Bay of Chaleur. But, knowing that at this busy season you could not spare more than two days, and with so many important matters to consider, we were to set you to be satisfied with our good food and rest assured that in the North shore population you have citizens who will always be ready to co-operate with the other sections of our little province towards developing the great heritage that has been handed down to us by a good Providence. Again let me welcome you to our town and country."

Dr. Murray, Mayor of Campbellton, in an address to the delegates from his town, he said the citizens of Campbellton were pleased to co-operate with their sister town of Dalhousie in extending a welcome to the visiting delegates. The honor conferred upon Saintjohn County was fully appreciated and will not be forgotten. He expressed the hope that before the delegates returned to their homes that they would take a sufficient car- go of first-hand evidence of their own province, in referring to the objects of the Association, and that every reason to believe that the visit would result would be the practical development and expansion of our own Province's assets and the inauguration of a new era in the social, economic and industrial life of the Province.

PEEL BEING TRIED ON THREE COUNTS

Great Interest Being Taken at Amherst in the Case—Crown Presents Strong Case.

Special to The Standard

Amherst, N. S., June 16.—The court room was crowded to the doors when at 12.35 this afternoon Alva Peel of Oxford, N. B., charged with murder, arson and negligence, was escorted into the prisoner's bench. He seemed perfectly calm when the three counts of the indictments were read to him by the prothonotary. On the first two charges he pleaded "not guilty," but to the third stood mute on the advice of his counsel who previously had endeavored unsuccessfully to quash this count. His Lordship ordered the Crown to enter a plea of "not guilty." The afternoon session of the court opened under the same congested conditions, the crowd reaching well into the hall and filling every available bit of standing room. The empanelling of the jury was first proceeded with when the pro- secutor J. A. Hanway, K. C., opened the case for the Crown. He went over the general trend of the evidence, outlining the theory of the prosecution. The evidence of Mrs. Rushton, who overheard a conversation and smelled her own oil, was particularly stressed. He concluded by exhibiting to the jury a scale plan of the interior of the Wood-Patton block where the alleged crimes took place.

Cyrus Halliwell, one of the principal witnesses, told of the meeting in Peel's store and of certain things that went on there, including drinking and the carrying of a small fire from an overturned lamp. Testimony of the coroner corroborated the evidence of Halliwell. Mrs. Rushton was then further cross-examined and told of hearing sounds of a fight in Peel's store afterwards dragging sounds and later a voice say "Al, Al, you damn fool you're over-riding on fire, I'll complain on you." The witness stated "Ted, Ted, come down here," later all heard a laugh and a cry together. Soon afterwards he had smelled smoke and discovered the fire. Col. Hailston and Mr. Logan cross-examined the witnesses for the defence. At 4.45 p. m. the court adjourned until 9.30 a. m. next morning.

McDonald, organizer, and will permit the longshoremen to work for the Fisheries Company and all other employers pending final settlement with Mr. Robinson of the Reid Newfoundland Company, who now awaits an answer from the head office in Halifax. The men appreciate greatly the fair treatment accorded them by the Fisheries and Saiter Companies, North Sydney, but contend that the Reid Newfoundland Company will not recognize their communications, and are importing men from the Ancient Colony, with residence and food aboard the company's ships, and yet who do the work that should be the prerogative of the men of the town.

GOV'T'S BUDGET RESOLUTIONS ARE PASSED

Many Modifications Made Which Come Into Effect Today, and Merchants Should Take Notice.

THERE WILL BE NO REFUNDS

Those Who Have Paid Taxes on Full Value of Suit of Clothes May Kiss His Money Farewell.

GOV'TS BUDGET Special to The Standard

Ottawa, June 16.—A great variety of business was transacted by Parliament today. Chief among the accomplishments was the passage of the Government's budget resolutions in their entirety, and the securing of first reading for the bill based upon them. In view of the novel and highly controversial character of some of the new taxation measures (some of them have been regarded with amazement half a dozen years ago) the progress made was remarkable, and Sir Henry Drayton has reason to be thankful that the ordeal is over. There have been many modifications of more or less importance, modifications which are unquestionably an improvement upon the somewhat haphazard, but and miss proposals in their first form. These latter come into effect tomorrow, and merchants must guide themselves accordingly. Upon one point, however, they may rest easy; there will be no refunds, and the person who paid taxes on the full value of a "luxurious" suit of clothes, or a fifteen dollar hair of natty boots, or a pair of shoes, or a pair of trousers, or a pair of comfortable living dead-line may kiss his or her money farewell. The minister, who has changed his mind since last week, declared that refunds would be impracticable, and no doubt merchants will agree with him, as the House most certainly did.

Militia Estimates

The evening was spent on militia estimates, and they produced a surplus of heat and discussion. With the war over, the Opposition has once more adopted anti-militarism tactics, and professed to discern all kinds of danger in the Government's estimates.

Mr. Macdonald's moderate militia estimates were met with a storm of criticism. Mr. Norman Angel and the fearlessness of militarism and the tyranny of armaments and increased expenditure on them, which Sir Sam Hughes had introduced one amendment regarding one item, which cost thousands of dollars. Mr. King, curiously enough, found an ally in that crusading sturdy defender of a strong militia, Sir Sam Hughes, who said he did not understand why such a large standing force was necessary, and, in his usual fashion, took occasion to revive his old vendetta against General Bains.

The now somewhat hoary reflections upon the capacity and, indeed, the valor of the Corps Commander were repeated by Sir Sam's characteristic style, but the House was not impressed by Sir Sam's attacks upon General Curtis are now a very, very old story, and the House does not believe them, is weary of it all. It likes Sir Sam, knows that he played a fine part in the early days of the war, and wants to give him Hughes for what he did; but it does not like to see him (as it suspects) run up his own record by running down that of a man whose achievements were much lauded upon Canadian arms abroad.

The end of the session is well in sight. The Opposition is attempting to put up a fight against expenditures for military matters, and threatens to block the new naval estimates, but its heart is not in the fight and pro- rogation is likely to come by the end of the month.

WILSON BLAMED FOR FAILURE OF PEACE TREATY

French Publicists Claim He is Responsible for Attitude of Moderation Toward Germany.

Cross-Atlantic News Service. (Copyright.)

Paris, June 16.—Criticism of President Wilson's peace policies by French publicists continues. Increasing feeling here that French policies are being more and more submerged in moving public men to bitter assaults on various aspects which they regard as underlying the increasing international attitude of moderation toward France's late enemies. Alfred Capus of the Academie Francaise writes bitterly in the "Journal": "Whether at San Remo or Hythe or at Spa, all conversations and discussions have been dominated by the attitude of the Wilsonian spirit, and that constitutes the real reason for all difficulties, present and future."

"Let us first forget that Wilson dreamed of giving the German defeat a mystical character. He wanted to hold Germany up as an example, but he would not allow peace to be published and he sought various combinations by which the guilty could repair the damage done without suffering the consequences of their crime to repent," he said one day without remarking the contradiction between repentance and constraint. He shut himself up in his study and he was with him in a sequestered suburb which Mr. Lloyd George had no interest in unravelling."

"This is the old of an old Parisian who inviting a grand duke to dinner, proposed that the diner try his luck at a new game. "What is the game?" "Odds or evens?" "Odds or evens," replied the nobleman. "You lose," said the Parisian. "Now let's play for the champagne. Odds or evens?" "You lose again."

"What is this game?" asked the astonished grand duke, and the old Parisian replied: "Well, you see I think of a number. If I think of an odd number and you call even you lose!" "What is this kind of a game which Mr. Wilson is playing?" "It is a game of the sum which she owes us. Today we can see that it is better to lose her military aid than to see profit by all occasions progressively to eliminate from the peace treaty all that remains of the Wilson spirit."

SUGAR PRICES TO ADVANCE TWO CENTS

No Reason Given by the Refiners for the Sudden Big Advance.

Montreal, June 16.—Notices were sent out this afternoon by all the Montreal sugar refiners that at 4 p. m. today the price of granulated sugar would go up two cents per pound or 12 per hundred pound bag at the Montreal and Stanley Code, Secretary of the Board of Trade, also stated today that the wholesale price of granulated sugar in Montreal would be 21 cents per pound with proportionate increases in other parts of Canada according to freight charges.

No statement was issued by the refiners as to the cause of the increase, save that it was due to the high price of raw sugar and the increasing cost of refining with higher wages and higher cost of everything involved in the manufacture of sugar.

SIR SAM HUGHES DIRECTED THE FIRING SQUAD

Hot Shots Fired During the Debate in Parliament on Militia Dept. Estimates.

COL. PECK'S MODESTY WAS QUESTIONED

Sir Sam Charges Sir Arthur Currie With Being a Coward, and Having Been Reprimanded.

Ottawa, June 16.—(By Canadian Press)—Charges that there had been a propaganda to boom Sir Arthur Currie, "who was not an unwilling victim but an unwilling hero," were again made in the House this evening by Sir Sam Hughes, former Minister of Militia during the debate on Militia Department estimates. Sir Sam charged that Sir Arthur Currie had allowed the odium of being called a coward to lie over the head of an other officer, and when he, Sir Sam, was investigated, he found that it was "A. W." and not "John" Currie who had run away and hid in his dugout. Sir Sam declared that General Currie had been reprimanded by a British officer. Other generals, like Turner and many others, were infinitely superior to General Currie in strategy and personal courage.

Debate Full of Fire at Times.

The debate was full of fire at times. Col. C. W. Peck, V. C. (Ebenes), in praising the work of the Canadian Artillery, said he was sorry the member for Dorchester (Lucien Cannon) had not had the same opportunity of studying the work of the Canadian Artillery as he himself had had. Mr. Cannon, in reply, said that while the members on both sides of the House were honored in having among them one who wore the highest decoration of the British Empire, Colonel Peck had apparently overlooked one of the qualities of heroism, which was modesty.

A few minutes later Mr. Cannon appealed from a ruling by Deputy Speaker Bolvin, who was in the chair. Mr. Bolvin was upheld on division by a vote of 92 to 46, a government majority of 46. The Progressives, 14 strong, voted with the government in support of the chair.

No Summer Camps.

Chief discussion during the evening was on an item of $130,000 for allowances to active militia. In re- sponse to the item of $125,000, Hon. Hugh Guthrie said the idea had been there was an increase of 40,000,000 over last year was erroneous. Many times, charges last year to war appropriation had this year to be charged to Militia Department.

He announced that, instead of summer camps, the drill this year would be confined to city units. This would save the country approximately $400,000. He informed Hon. Mackenzie King that there would probably be supplementary estimates for Militia Department amounting to $1,000,000 or $2,000,000.

WORKMAN'S PROTEST UNDER CRITICISM

Sir Newton Moore Declares Position of Mr. Workman Not in Accord With Former Statements.

London, June 16.—(By Associated Press)—In regard to the objections formulated by Mr. Mark Workman concerning the promotion of the British Empire Steel Corporation, Sir Newton Moore, another member of the London Advisory Committee of the Dominion Steel Corporation, told the Canadian Press, today, that he was aware there was some opposition to holding a meeting on June 15th, but apparently it had been postponed from June 12th to June 15th to allow of protests, made by certain dis- senting directors, being placed before shareholders. Sir Newton said he understood the question of the merger proposal would not be discussed at this meeting but proceedings would be confined to ordinary business.

"Mr. Workman's remarks now," continued Sir Newton, "are somewhat at variance with his previous written and public statements, in which he expressed himself most enthusiastically in regard to the proposal, and he regretted that there was not that unanimity that was anticipated. Members of the syndicate here are quite satisfied that directors of the Dominion Steel Corporation will safeguard the interests of the shareholders. The full information being included in the organization will be given to those interested. The British Empire Steel Corporation has not yet committed itself to any of the minor companies which are still subject to negotiations, and important concessions have already been obtained."

"Unless further concessions are made, some of these companies may be left out of the organization," concluded Sir Newton. "It has been clearly stated in the President's notice to shareholders."

SEN. FOWLER CRITICISES THE CIVIL SERVICE

Thinks Employees and Officials of the Upper House Should be in Control of Senate.

NOT SATISFIED WITH REORGANIZATION

Advocates a Return to the Old System of Appointment for Outside Service.

Ottawa, June 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—The Government's amendment to the Civil Service Act, which came up for a second reading in the Senate today, produced a great deal of criticism of the administration of the Civil Service Commission, Senator Fowler (Sussex, N. B.) moving an amendment taking the employees and officials of the Upper House out of the Commission's control and the committee of the whole, considering the bill, having to rise and "report progress" without passing the measure. The bill will be the first order of business tomorrow, when it will be decided whether or not Senator Fowler's amendment shall be accepted.

Senator Bradbury and Senator Power (Halifax) expressed disapproval of the work of the reorganization being given to a United States firm. Senator Tarliffe referred to the claim that half a million dollars had been saved by the Printing Bureau reorganization. This reorganization, he pointed out, had been brought about by a committee of Canadian printers, and not by Arthur Young & Co.

Advocates Old System.

Senator Fowler advocated a return to the old system of appointment for the outside service, claiming that a member of Parliament was the best judge of, and the only one directly responsible for, appointments. It is not by much his conduct in Parliament as his recommendations of officers that decides the fate of member of Parliament," said the New Brunswick Senator. "The Government has its ear to the ground for a certain type of moral and social reformers rather than for commonsense business people."

Senator Robertson said that the principle guiding in the Civil Service administration since Confederation had resulted in the aged and infirm securing the higher salaries, and the young and virile the lower. The principles of Arthur Young & Co. were born in Glasgow and ended in reclassification work in the United States. Canada had no such firm. Many of the employees of Griffen-Hagen Company were Canadians.

The Government, in any case, retained full authority to reject, accept or amend any of the proposals of this firm, and the Civil Service Commission was in full accord with the work being done. Senator Robertson asked that the bill be adopted. Senator Robertson added that the contract with Griffen-Hagen Company for the work of reorganization had not yet been signed.

Moves Amendment

When the bill reached the committee stage, Senator Fowler moved an amendment providing that the 1918 Act and amendments thereto should not apply to employees, officers and clerks of the Senate. Supporting his amendment, Senator Fowler said that it was desirable that the Senate should have control of its own staff. He said the House of Commons had, of late, shown a tendency to encroach upon the privileges of the Senate. The present Speaker of the Commons had said that no Senator must come within the Lower House's sacred precincts. "Al- though I am a former member of that body," said Senator Fowler, "I am debared from its precincts, and I mention this merely to show that we should be careful to safeguard our rights and privileges."

WILL REJECT OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

Sinn Feiners Not Ready to Accept Proposed Amendment to Irish Home Rule Bill.

London, June 16.—The House of Commons has tabled proposed amendments to the Irish Home Rule Bill which were designed to prevent setting up a Republican parliament in Ireland, by making it essential that all candidates take the oath of allegiance to Great Britain in order to qualify for office. The amendments also provide that, under certain conditions, the British Viceroy in Ireland would be empowered to assume supreme legislative authority.

Sinn Fein sympathizers declare the amendments bore out their prediction that the government had a joker up its sleeve, adding that no Sinn Feiner would take the oath of allegiance.

KINGS CO. MILK PRODUCERS' ASSN.

(Continued from page twelve.) over twenty-four hours old by the time it reached him. Talked about a substitute in case the city went "dough-dry" as far as milk is concerned, he said that he did not believe that it would be as good as the Kings County Association would wish the St. John citizens to believe, but even if there was going to be such a great shortage of milk the citizens would have to become accustomed to the use of condensed milk or some other milk product which can be purchased in so small quantities in nearly all the grocery stores. He stated that he uses considerable of the canned goods and feeds them all right. In fact he said that in a great many of the suburban districts the suburbanites use the canned article nearly all the time and it would only take a very short time for people to become accustomed to this substitute and if they did there would not be such a demand for large quantities of milk coming in from the producers.

DAYLIGHT TIME QUESTION

It was some time ago that the Kings County Association gave notice that the changing from the Summer time would not work well with them and that unless this train in question was kept on the Atlantic time they would cut off the supply. A delegation met the C. N. R. Superintendent, who promised a reply to their request at a later date. Then a meeting of the citizens of St. John was called at the office of Mayor Schofield in City Hall, and after the matter was thoroughly discussed it was decided that the Sussex train be kept running on Daylight time. This decision was made known to the Kings County Association, who gave the C. N. R. up till yesterday to shift the train back to the Atlantic time. It was stated that if this was not done there would be no milk shipped to St. John after the 16th, which was yesterday. The following letter from the secretary of the Kings County Association was received by The Standard last evening, who, in speaking for the Association, gives reasons why the producers are taking any action which they feel is justifiable. The letter reads:

SECRETARY'S STATEMENT

Sir:—At a well attended meeting of the Kings County Milk Producers, held at Apohaqui last evening, it was unanimously decided that after Wednesday, June 16th no milk or cream would be shipped to St. John until the Sussex Express has been put in its proper place and run on Atlantic Standard time.

KINGS CO. MILK PRODUCERS' ASSN.

 will over twenty-four hours by the time it reached him. Talking about a substitute in case the city went "bone-dry" as far as milk is concerned, he said that he did not believe that it would be as best as the Kings County Association would wish the St. John citizens to believe, but even if there was going to be such a great shortage of milk the citizens would have to become accustomed to the use of condensed milk or some other milk product which can be purchased in small quantities in nearly all the grocery stores. He stated that he uses considerable of the canned goods and finds them all right. In fact he said that in a great many of the suburban districts the suburbanites use the canned article nearly all the time and it would only take a very short time for people to become accustomed to this substitute and if they did there would not be such a demand for large quantities of milk coming in from the producers.
 When asked what he thought the Kings County producers would do with the twelve thousand quarts per day when not sending it to St. John, he remarked "well they might make it into butter or cheese and if so it is possible that the price of butter would in a short time drop in price, at all events the producers will find a way to use their large quantity of milk and very little of it would be destroyed."

Daylight Time Question.
 It was some time ago that the Kings County Association gave notice that the changing of the Daylight time from Atlantic to Daylight time would not work with them and that unless this train in question was kept on the Atlantic they would cut off the supply. A delegation met the C. N. R. Superintendent, who promised a reply to their request at a later date. Then a meeting of the citizens of St. John was called at the office of Mayor Schofield in City Hall, and after the matter was thoroughly discussed it was decided that the Sussex train be kept running on Daylight time. This decision was made known to the Kings County Association, who gave the C. N. R. up till yesterday to shift the train back to the Atlantic time, and notice was given if this was not done there would be no milk shipped to St. John after the 16th, which was yesterday. The following letter from the secretary of the Kings County Association was received by The Standard last evening, who, in speaking for the Association, gives reasons why the producers are taking such action which they feel is justifiable. The letters reads:

SECRETARY'S STATEMENT
 Editor, St. John Standard:
 Sir—At a well attended meeting of the Kings County Milk and Cream Producers, held at Aponagu, last evening, it was unanimously decided that after Wednesday, June 16th, no milk or cream would be shipped to St. John until the Sussex Express has been put in its proper place and run on Atlantic Standard time.
 The farmers feel that the changing of the train to the so-called "Daylight Time" was an unfair and unwarranted action on the part of the railway officials and against the best interests of the majority of the people throughout the district supposed to be served by this train. The train in question is an express and not a suburban and especially has it been considered to be the farmers' train carrying as it does four-fifths of the milk and a large amount of other farm produce used in the city of St. John.
 Following the action of the railway officials in changing the time of this train, which was done with only one day's notice to the farmers, a delegation met with W. R. Devenish, Eastern Superintendent of the C. N. R., presented sound arguments and asked that the train in question be run on the old time. An answer received a week later was to the effect that the train would not be changed.
 The farmers were then asked by Mayor Schofield to send a delegation to his office and there meet a number of suburbanites. This was done but the only result was to hold the farmers back for more than a week longer.
 The farmers have no quarrel with either the milk vendors or the consumers of St. John as a whole. From information which we have we believe many in St. John are opposed to Daylight Time and we regret that our action will without doubt cause these people inconvenience. We believe that the "Daylight Time Plan" was brought forward and pushed through by a few enthusiasts and gradually forced upon many not in favor. It has been shown that Daylight Time is not favorable to farm operations and the farmers do not purpose being forced to adopt this time.
 The farmers have therefore been compelled to make the decision of last evening and are prepared to stay with that until their demands for train service are met.
 Thanking you for space, I am
 Yours truly,
 W. H. HUGGARD,
 Secy. Kings Co. Milk and Cream Producers' Association,
 Norton, June 16.

 Mayor Schofield of St. John, introduced as one of the promoters of the Association, referred to the large representation he had brought with him from St. John. The underlying idea of the Association was the keeping alive of that harmony and get-together spirit which had been fostered by the war. Their aim was not only to develop the tourist business but, also, to interest the people of New Brunswick more and more in their own province. He said that St. John was ever ready to co-operate with the other associations of the Province in the furthering of mutual benefits.
 Mayor Avard, of Sackville, said that one of the aims of the association was to get the people of New Brunswick enthusiastic about their own province and then tell of its beauties to others. He extended an invitation to the association to meet there next year.
 R. T. Hayes, of St. John, paid a tribute to Hon. C. H. LeBlond, the chairman, and remarked on his pleasure in meeting the North Shore representatives. L. P. D. Tilley paid a graceful tribute to the hospitable people of the North Shore. He said there had been in the past a lack of get-together spirit among the people of our province. There was need of a good strong organization and he felt that after this convention co-operation would result.
 N. R. DesRivray, district passenger agent of the C. P. R., said it was always the policy of his company to promote tourist traffic to New Brunswick. Lack of hotel accommodation was a great drawback which would have to be overcome.
 R. E. Armstrong, Secretary of the St. John Board of Trade, felt this convention would have far reaching effects. He assured the Northern delegates that the St. John Board of Trade is ever ready to promote the interests, not only of St. John, but of the whole province.
 Judge McLachly, in referring to his interest in all works that had as their aim the mutual benefit of every section of the province said the lack of a real live boosting spirit was our greatest drawback. He would have the school children taught more about the beauties and resources of our own province.
 David Champoux extended a welcome on behalf of the Campbellton Board of Trade.
 At the conclusion of the speech-making a committee was formed to prepare material for the session tomorrow. The following delegates composed the committee: R. E. Armstrong, T. H. McEvoy and C. C. Avard. The morning session was then adjourned.

GOVT BILL TO REGULATE EXPORT OF COMMODITIES

Believes it in the interests of Public to Restrict Exports of Certain Articles Needed at Home.
 Ottawa, Ont., June 16.—(By Canadian Press)—A resolution, preliminary to the introduction of an Act to give the Government power to regulate the exportation of any commodity produced or manufactured in Canada, when circumstances call for such restrictions, was introduced in the House of Commons by Sir Robert Borden at the opening of the day's proceedings.
 The Prime Minister explained that strong representations had been made that, in the interests of the Canadian public, it would be necessary to restrict exports of such articles of general consumption as sugar, coal and newspaper paper. He asked Parliament to postpone the usual discussion of the resolution and permit the bill to be introduced forthwith. It would be referred to a select committee of Parliament, which would probably have some revision to make, and then the bill could be debated in the House in committee.
 Sir Robert said that he hoped the select committee would find some way of meeting the emergency which had called forth the bill which would take out of the hands of the Government the great responsibility involved in carrying it out. But he understood that in the matter of newspaper only two per cent. of the present export from Canada was required to meet the needs of 27 newspapers in Canada which would have to discontinue publication unless they could get paper.

 Hon. W. S. Fielding approved the Prime Minister's suggestion of postponing discussion. Every member would be glad of an opportunity of reflecting on such an important measure. The resolution was reported, and Sir Robert Borden immediately introduced a bill based upon it, which was given first reading.
 Regarding the resignation of W. F. O'Connor from the Board of Commerce, Sir Robert told Mr. Jacobs that a statement would be forthcoming within a couple of days.
 Hon. N. W. Rowell told Mr. McColl that, as far as his information went, there would be no strike of letter carriers.

 Starting This Morning
 The two greatest Suit opportunities we have ever offered the men of St. John—and the reason we can do this is told below.
 During the past few weeks many clothiers have poured in cancellations of orders to Montreal manufacturers, becoming panicky over the tremendous sacrifices of men's clothing going on in the United States—which indicate surface conditions only—below the surface conditions are entirely different.
ENGLISH WOOLLEN MILLS are so far behind in production that, according to present indications, no new business can be taken on for nearly a year to come. Spinners in England likewise have sold their entire output for more than twelve months in advance. In the face of these facts alone can clothing prices take a permanent drop? A study of world economic conditions says—no!
OUR BUYER while in Montreal a few days ago was told of these big cancellations, and seeing an opportunity to help his customers hold down their clothing expenses, made special offers for many of these lines. He was finally successful in procuring two lots comprising 765 suits at such special concessions that these suits were immediately shipped to St. John, and following our motto of "Large Volume at Minimum Profit," we are now able to offer these suits in two special lots for

Gagetown

Gagetown, N. B., June 11.—The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held last Friday evening at the home of Mr. Wm. C. Bolyea, and although the meeting was unavoidably small, it was very enjoyable, and some important business was also transacted. Plans were made for meetings during the summer in the afternoons and a final payment of $44.07 was made on the site of the Memorial Hall. The members felt a degree of pardonable pride in what they have been able to accomplish during the past month, as well as some helpful local donations. At the close of the meeting ice cream and refreshments were served by Mrs. Bolyea.

A number of the members of the Gagetown Driving Club have been advocating the building of a permanent race track near the town, and several possible sites have been looked over with a view to laying down the course. SHORT OF BREATH

Could Hardly Walk Without Resting.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected, there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first signs of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nervous system.

Mr. Stephen Cross, East Clifford, N. S., writes:—"I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting, as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them. Three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work on the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Newcastle

Newcastle, June 14.—A large moose paid a visit to Newcastle early Friday morning. About six o'clock the animal was just noticed on the street near the hospital, running along leisurely. After about half an hour it returned to the woods near the Iron Ore Spur.

The death occurred at her home here Saturday of Mrs. Thomas Herbert, after a lingering illness of dropsy. The deceased was formerly Miss Mahoney of Miramichi, and is mourned by her husband and the following children: Beale, Mrs. J. Ervin.

Oak Hall Makes

Announcement of Special Interest

After months of careful study of existing market conditions, watching with interest the tremendous sacrifice of men's clothing going on all over the United States and hearing of many Canadian manufacturers restoring cancellations of large orders from merchants who have been patently, Oak Hall are led to believe that these indications do not point to a permanent lowering in price of clothing, because both spinners and manufacturers of cloth are still over twelve months behind in deliveries, many of them refusing to accept any orders at all—the demand is still far in excess of the supply, and there are many other good solid reasons why the price of clothing at the present time cannot take a permanent drop.

The Oak Hall clothing buyer was in Montreal a few days ago, and understanding these conditions, decided to take advantage of the many cancellations that had been given the manufacturers and finally was successful in procuring 765 men's suits at radical price concessions. These have now been received in St. John, and are being consolidated into two big selling prices, $28 to $35 values, marked $24.65 and $40 to $45 values, marked $34.85, so that for four days—Thursday to Monday—Oak Hall is making the biggest suit offering ever made in St. John.

Every one of these suits is backed by the Oak Hall guarantee, there is no luxury tax to be paid, the price represents a saving of $5 to $10. Regardless of present surface conditions prices are not going to be any lower next fall, if you are wise you'll take advantage of this sale now.—The Oak Hall windows will tell you a whole lot, look them over.

FACE-RESISTED WITH PIMPLES. Itched and Burned, Scarcely Slept. Cuticura Heals. "Pimples affected my face. They were large and always festering, and they were scattered all over my face. They afterwards turned into scales and when they fell off they left big marks until my face was disfigured. They hebed and burned so that I scarcely slept at all. I had been bothered for nearly two months before I started using Cuticura, and after I had used three boxes of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss L. Oxford Cricket And Baseball

Real Old Baseball is Being Played on Oxford Athletic Fields Side by Side With Immemorial English Game of Cricket.

BY HAL S. WHITE. (Cross-Atlantic Service.) (Editor's Note.—Hal White, a graduate of Bowdoin College, and a Rhodes Scholar, now at Oxford University, is taking prominent part in Oxford athletics. He won the high jump at the Oxford and Cambridge Sports in London last April.)

Oxford, June 11.—Side by side with the immemorial English game of cricket, real American baseball is being played on Oxford athletic fields this summer. The two national games offer an interesting contrast of the English and American temperaments.

The cricketer comes on to the field in the brilliance of immaculate white flannels and white shoes. A picturesque silk scarf of many colors takes the place of the belt. The sleeves of his white shirt are not rolled up over his forearms, but are worn at full length. Dignity characterizes his dress and actions. He plays hard, but with an unruffled calm born of the sense of the ancient authority of the game he plays. Most characteristic of all is the sedate silence which attends his play.

On the adjoining field, dignity is being sacrificed to speed. Here baseball, just offering of cricket, disports itself at the home of its forefathers; and Englishmen marvel to see how the American up-bringing has changed it. The same ideals of sport are cherished in both cricket and baseball—fair play, and may the best man win.

The teams were as follows: 1913, 1914, 1915 and 1916. Fletcher—E. B. Jackson, Colorado Col. U. S. A.; Branson, Colorado. Catcher—P. B. Moran, Yale, U. S. A.; St. Johns, Oxford.

1917. Fletcher—G. A. Feather, Univ. New Mexico, U. S. A.; Oxford, Oxford. Catcher—A. C. Dick, Charleston Col. U. S. A.; Christ Church, Oxford.

Wichita, Kansas, June 16.—Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion of Europe, who is here today, issued a challenge to Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, to meet him after October 10 at any time or place Dempsey will name. Carpentier expects to return to France in July and be back in the United States after a few weeks.

Trapshooting Last Evening

Gathering of Spectators Were Delighted With the Fine Showing Made by the Shooters—Results of Handicap.

Last evening at Glen Falls everybody enjoyed themselves not only the shooters but the audience. It is generally conceded that trap shooting is a sport only for the contestant, but not so. The audience last night got as well enthused as the shooters and the side bets were real interesting.

The scoring according to the handicaps was as follows: the possible being fifty targets. C. Carnell 45 A. Gundry 44 W. Andrews 44 H. D. Papson 41 H. W. Berry 38 C. McAvily 37 J. S. Coonan 36 F. E. White 35 B. Dakin 35 P. McAvily 35 D. Stanton 33 Dr. P. S. Seaway 32 R. P. Seely 30

One of the features of last night's shoot was a prize donated by George Blizard, of 50 shells. To see each shooter go after the ammunition was real good. C. Carnell won the prize and immediately put it up again for next Wednesday's meet.

Down in the canyon of commerce, on the lower island, in society and around the hotel, the question is: "What did Babe Ruth do today?" In the stock exchange the baseball ticketer dray almost as many eyes as the tape with the latest quotations. Visitors in town usually stumped for something to do, ask the hotel clerks now to while away the afternoon.

"Have you seen Babe Ruth?" is the first suggestion. With the season just about one-fourth gone, the Babe has played more people than the Yanks drew in the whole season of 1917. Twice he has packed the huge Polo Grounds, a feat that they have never before.

The purchase of Ruth for $150,000, timed last winter the prize bid of fifty by venturist speculators, has turned out to be the shrewdest bit of business pulled off in the history of baseball.

Babe knows he's the talk of the town, but it hasn't bothered him. He's the same unassuming, generous, hard-working player. The other day Manager Huggins was in a bad way for a pitcher. Babe approached him and volunteered: "Need a lift, don't you? Let me pitch."

RESUME OF OLD COUNTRY SPORTS; MANY ATHLETES ARE SHAPING UP.

Good Prospects for the Olympic Trials in England—Hill Showing Plenty of Speed—Tommy Burns Revealing Past Form is Seriously Regarded by the Boxing Experts.

London, June 15.—Anything concerning the Olympic trials is bound to interest sportsmen just now, and as the festival draws nearer enthusiasm will increase. Admitting that the fixture will be on us before there has really been time to unearth new material, there is no doubt the early resumption of international rivalry on the athletic field will do good only for the benefit it will bring Belgium, the festival deserves to be a great success, as undoubtedly it will be.

Of course some of the nations will find it difficult to organize a really representative team, and Great Britain and France will suffer in this respect. The United States will not be greatly handicapped save for the team that we saw at Stockholm last year. At the time of writing it appears as if the Americans will make the trip across on a vessel supplied by the United States navy, which makes one wonder why a like facility should not be put before the British Olympic representatives.

The latest announcement by the British Olympic Council shows that very little money has so far been subscribed towards the expenses of the team. Nor was it possible to make any arrangements with those who have purchased the British rest camps at Antwerp, which it was hoped might be utilized for the use of the representatives.

Charges will be high at Antwerp, and meet the situation the Belgian authorities have placed a school building at the disposal of the British Olympic Council, and this will be fitted up as quarters for the team. Sweden will, perhaps, be the best off of all the competing nations regarding a strong team. Having gained third place in 1916, and first place in 1912, that is, taking the total number of points scored in all events, the Swedes are sure to strive hard to retain this fine record. The United States was second at both festivals referred to, whilst Great Britain was first in 1912 and third in 1913.

It is too early as yet to say what likely results at Antwerp, but it may be assumed that Sweden will be very successful. Great Britain will have some good athletes and the Empire combined will be strongly represented. The United States team is to be deplored, but it seems now too late to alter it.

Good Performers. Many Olympic trials are being held in England with a view to finding new material. So far no discoveries have been made. Several excellent performances by retired athletes during the Whitnitside holidays featured the scene. One of the most hopeful of the relay races, however, was that of the Old Course. Several excellent strong hands in some of the track events. W. A. Hill, the sprint champion, is already showing wonderful form, and he bids fair to set a new best time of last season. Running at Stamford Bridge on Monday he was only beaten by a few seconds in the 100 yards handicap, which he won in 9.45 seconds so that he was travelling. Later in the afternoon he easily won the 100 metres (166 yards) in 10.45 seconds, time which might be good enough to win at Antwerp.

Several level events between representatives of the Empire were decided at the Stamford Bridge meeting, besides Hill and the home men won the 200, 400 and 800 metres and the relay races. The 100 metres was successful in the two miles run, the javelin and discus throw, and also in the modified Marathon race of 14 miles. In the latter event, A. Brass covered the course in 1 hour, 24 mins. 14 seconds, beating A. Djebella, a French Arab, by 35 seconds.

Toronto Girls In The Olympic Swims

Ask They be Given Chance to Compete—Matter Will be Decided by Can. Swimming Assn. President in Winnipeg.

The Toronto swimming girls wish to compete at the Olympic trials at St. Helen's Island on July 2nd and 3rd. Toronto can boast of some really expert young ladies who want to go in for the high diving from the big Montreal Swimming Club tower at the island. The every girls are asking to be allowed to compete against the men in the championship events from the monster stand, which is about 45 feet high. The committee are taking the matter up with the president of the main body, Robert Stevenson of Winnipeg, and expect to get a decision soon as to whether the girls can compete in this event.

De B. Handley, the well-known swimmer of New York, has just sent word to E. D. Vernon of the Rubenstein Bath, giving details of the death of Arthur McAleenan, who was to have been one of the United States star aquatic men at the coming Olympic games. As reported in the Star, McAleenan together with two other U. S. Olympic aquatic candidates, Toddy Cann and Stephen Ruddy, were injured when a motor car, in which they were riding ran into a huge steel elevator shaft at the Hotel Hamilton, Jackson Avenue, Long Island City, May 13th. McAleenan was the most hurt, he suffered a fractured skull and serious injuries from which he died a few days ago. McAleenan was well known in the Canadian aquatic world. He won the Canadian championship spring-board diving at Halifax in 1911, and only lost his honors the following year at Toronto by a margin of points. The sad news of his death will cause regret amongst his many friends here, who held Arthur in high respect.

Lawrence Tennis. Quite the biggest surprise of recent events in the lawn tennis world was the form of the Hon. F. M. B. Fisher at the Surrey Championships, decided at Wimbledon. He astonished many people by beating Gordon Low in the singles, his hurricane methods being too much for the latter. Then came victory over the veteran M. J. G. Ritchie, while T. M. Marvoldato went down before the New Zealand star in the final. On his latest form, the Hon. Mr. Fisher may prove a formidable rival to the best of the candidates at Wimbledon when the important world's championships are in question.

Another of the features of the Surrey championships meeting was the participation of Mrs. Lambert Chambers. She was too scientific for Miss Byron in the ladies' championship, the Californian player failing to win a set. Mrs. Chambers' success in wrestling the world's title from Miss Lenglen, the young French girl having been the only champion in respect to activity, and reasonably, she ought to be better than last season. Still, the English lady is capable of putting up a great fight, and she has shown her success over Mrs. Ryan.

The South African players, whose mission to England is in connection with the open championship are getting all the practice on grass and with ideal sunny weather the order, they are feeling more at home every day, and it may soon reach the top of their form.

Old Golf Stars Shine. The older stars of the professional golfing world are still very much in evidence in the big tournament at Galashiels a few days ago, James Braid beat the field with a return of 29 strokes for 72 holes. He did the last round of 18 holes in 76, whilst in the final nine holes there were six's and three's.

The leading sixteen players are now meeting under match play conditions for the big money prize and we shall get a good indication during the next few days of how the candidates for the open championship are shaping. Apropos to this, a number of American sportsmen have sent a big sum to England with instructions to back Hagan, of the United States, at R. 1 or even shorter odds, so they evidently fancy his chances.

The Americans are scheduled to play the Alerts of the City League in the afternoon on the East End grounds. The Alert line-up is to be substantially strengthened and a good game is anticipated.

A. F. OF L. STANDS FOR IRISH REPUBLIC. Reaffirms Its Determination to Recognize the Irish Republic. Montreal, June 16.—Amid a great demonstration the American Federation of Labor, in its convention here today, re-affirmed its stand for recognition of the Irish Republic, and requested that the military forces of occupation in Ireland be withdrawn, and that the Irish people be accorded the "right of self-government."

The executive committee was instructed to call a conference of the international unions concerned in the organization work for the purpose of getting their "full co-operation" in the campaign.

BOY SCOUT HOLIDAY CAMP. Weather permitting, July 1st will find a large number of Boy Scouts from St. John and nearby towns in camp at Gondola Point. Through the courtesy of Mr. P. W. Wetmore a splendid camp site is made available, with all facilities, including an excellent beach for bathing. Tents will be provided for the occasion and the Scouts will leave St. John by train Wednesday at 12.20, daylight time, for Fairville where they will hike to Gondola Point. All baggage will be trucked from the train. The party will return Friday morning after spending a day of sports and camp life on Thursday. The return fare will be 60 cents, half of which will be paid by the local association.

Responsible men will be in charge of the camp. The strictest discipline will be maintained as far as necessary to keep an orderly camp and a competent leader will be in charge of each tent. On Thursday the camp will be inspected and a prize awarded to the troop keeping the neatest ground. All Scouts will be required to bring blankets, and food for at least five meals with cooking utensils. The regulation "Billy Fun" is recommended. Under supervision the Scouts will do their own cooking and will be expected to erect a camp fire. Bathing suits must be brought for the swimming, and bathing will be permitted only at specified hours, when swimming guards will be posted.

Yachts Didn't Race Yesterday. Newport, R. I., June 16.—Nature cancelled today's race between the Resolute and Vanitie in the series held here to decide which shall defend the America's Cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's entry. The committee directing the trials went outside this morning on the tender Montauk in quest of a wind, but an almost complete calm prevailed. On the committee's return the two racing craft which had been riding at anchor with mainsails and club topsails set were made snug for the night with the tally still standing five to three for Resolute.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE. The City Intermediate League game went to the Blue Rock Flyers last night when they trimmed the St. Roses of Fairville 12 to 5 in a fast game played on the Queen Square diamond. The batteries for the winners were Wright, Thompson, and Kobies, for the losers, Murphy and Murphy.

The St. Roses and the Caritons will feature in tonight's game. To display their camping and wood craft ability and a splendid opportunity for the newer troops to gain experience.

CHANGES IN THE TAXES.

The discussion which has taken place in the House of Commons regarding the new taxes has resulted in considerable number of changes being made, both in the articles affected and in the amount of taxes to be paid on them. This was only to be expected, for when the application of the new taxes came to be practically tested it was inevitable that conditions would be found to exist which would make changes necessary in order to make the new law workable with as little inconvenience and injustice to the community as possible. That opposition to many of the new items of taxation would be strong was of course only natural; extra demands of any kind upon the purse are not appreciated by those called upon to meet them; but, as has been pointed out before, it is much easier to criticize measures of taxation than to devise means of raising funds necessary to carry on the business of the country.

The new taxes were well intended. Being placed chiefly on articles that the public can most readily do without, they were expected to act as some check upon unnecessary extravagance. That it should as a consequence hit business to some extent is perhaps unfortunate, but it cannot be helped. To overcome this the Finance Minister has lost little time in making such changes in the original budget proposals as it has become apparent are necessary or desirable in the interests both of the merchants and the consumers. He has altered in a more or less radical manner certain taxes upon boots, clothing and other wearing apparel, and placed new taxes upon goods which previously had escaped altogether or in part. The changes will be generally welcomed.

The adoption of the principle of requiring a tax upon the excess cost over a stated sum instead of upon the whole cost of an article exceeding a certain value is much more logical. Under the original budget the purchaser of a pair of shoes at $10 paid less than $3 paid no tax whatever. Now the buyer of a $10 pair of shoes will pay a tax of 15 per cent, or 15 cents, whereas he was formerly mulcted in the sum of $1. This tax was too heavy to be borne with equanimity. It simply killed the sale of shoes at $10 and created an inordinate demand for shoes at $9.

The luxury budget, while inflicting trade, was not likely to be as productive of funds as the Finance Minister had hoped. The new budget should bring larger returns, to the extent that it does not injure trade. Merchants will stand under the proposed new regulations a $100 suit of clothes will cost the purchaser $7.50 additional, which is a reduction of only $2.50 upon the previous tax. The tax falls lightly in a comparative sense upon the suits that average $50 to $70, which more generally prevail than do $100 suits. Thus the customer for a $69 suit will pay a tax of only $2.25, whereas under the former budget he paid $6.

The Minister shows some thought for those contemplating house furnishings, for while he has placed a tax upon expensive furniture, allowing the serviceable but less costly furniture to continue untaxed, he has reduced the tax upon carpets. The feature of Sir Henry's action is a desire manifested to make the taxation, which is irksome in any event, as fair and acceptable as possible. The Government should continue to carefully review the effect of the new taxation and to provide whatever adjustments are considered advisable.

THE BANK OF ENGLAND.

The Bank of England is to be rebuilt. The governors and court of directors of the institution for the past 27 years have considered the advisability of replacing the black one-story, "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street," with a more modern and commodious structure. The inadequacy of the venerable pile to meet present day needs has necessitated the establishment, since the beginning of the war, of six outside branch offices in various parts of London to house the bank's growing army of clerks and newly created departments.

Established in 1694 by a Scotchman named Patterson, the Bank of England is the oldest national bank in Europe. Millions of people throughout the world know the outside of the low black building which for more than two centuries has been the Empire's financial centre. Its central part was erected in 1732-4, but the outer part, which one sees from adjacent streets, dates from 1788.

The present building spreads over four acres of what is perhaps the most valuable real estate in the world. In the heart of London's world-trading centre. At least once, in December, 1825, it saved the country from bankruptcy. During the Lord George Gordon riots of June, 1780, it withstood a two-days' attack by a mob which was driven off by soldiers stationed outside and clerks and bank officials who mounted the water towers. Since that date the bank has been guarded every night by a detachment of thirty-six soldiers who, commanded by an officer, march down from London Tower and take up their positions on the walls at sundown.

ST. JOHN & QUEBEC AND MAINE CENTRAL CONNECTIONS.

Frederick Gleason. The proposal of Mr. W. P. Jones and others, made to the Minister of Railways at Ottawa yesterday, to connect the Maine Central and the St. John & Quebec roads by building a short line from a point on each road and connecting at the boundary line, is not new. It is the scheme of the late Hon. Frank Cochrane, who as Minister of Railways devoted considerable attention to whole-some and practical development of the transportation systems, and whose principal advisor was Mr. Gutelius, then manager of the Government railways. There is no doubt as to the soundness of the original proposition, and there has never since been any doubt that the connection would be made. The Minister of Railways admitted that surveys have already been completed, that the estimated cost of construction is less than a million dollars, that the link will make a profitable investment and that the general scheme has the support of officials of the Canadian National.

This connecting link, however, should be built by the Federal authorities, who will operate it. There is no valid reason why the province should build lines of railway for Dominion Government owned systems. We have already had too much of that kind of business in this province. The principle is unbusinesslike and unsound; our experience has been costly and sad. The scheme of the late Hon. Frank Cochrane involved the purchase of the St. John & Quebec by the Dominion Government; and there is yet reason to believe that, if the excessive cost of construction, in the present operations as well as in the past, is not a difficulty which will delay negotiations, the transfer will be made within the next twelve months. The Minister of Railways may have had this phase of the situation in view when he told the delegation yesterday that the proposition, as submitted, could not be taken up this year, but the scheme as favored by the officials of the Canadian National would be given first attention at the next session of Parliament. There is no doubt that the Cochrane and Gutelius scheme will be carried through. It is part of a large national development proposition, and must be treated as such. Fortunately the St. John & Quebec road is an important factor in the working out of the scheme.

The reply of the Minister of Railways shows that his department is as deeply interested as ever in the original proposition. And there can be no doubt that, when satisfactory arrangements are completed, the department will proceed.

In the view of The Times, the Hon. Edouard Lemieux is probably the worst informed man in Canada regarding the port of St. John. The Times apparently holds the view also that he has a grudge against the city, for that he twice in this session has made disparaging remarks about it. Mr. Lemieux is one of the leaders of the Liberal party in this country. He was a member of the last Liberal government, and by many was looked upon as the probable successor to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It is more than likely that he will be a member of any future Liberal government, if ever the people of Canada should be so shortsighted as to again place that party in power.

It is more than likely that he will be a member of any future Liberal government, if ever the people of Canada should be so shortsighted as to again place that party in power.

Sir Thomas Lipton's optimism is no new phenomenon. It is many years since it first heartened us, and apparently time has had no effect upon it, nor has disappointment dimmed its bright keen edge. Sir Thomas has arrived in New York as confident as ever of bringing back the America Cup. His confidence and enthusiasm have done much for the science of yacht building, and if he has not had success so far, even his opponents must admit that he has deserved it. On this occasion his yacht with its huge sail area, Shamrock IV, seems more cunningly adapted than any of its predecessors to the unusual conditions of racing off Sandy Hook, and we can only hope that the ingenuity and the daring of the designer will have their due reward, and that Sir Thomas will be justified in his optimism. But, we have discovered, the Americans are not easily beaten. In the matter of the race for the Cup they have certain advantages, and we may expect they will make full use of them.

There will not, we sadly fear, be any great amount of public sympathy extended upon those individuals who find themselves with large quantities of hides left upon their hands, that they were holding for a rise in prices, now that the bottom has dropped out of the market. It has been pretty generally realized that these people have been reaping a golden harvest during the past year or two, and that the heavy increase in the price of leather has not been altogether due to any extraordinary demand for leather or to any legitimate shortage in hides. The greater drop in the price of hides, the cheaper should leather become, and with it a drop in the cost of boots and shoes.

A sale of a million and a half pairs of shoes was held recently in New York, by a great trading corporation, which frankly acknowledged that it loaded up with the shoes in expectation of getting enormous profits. It has immense quantities of clothing, which also must be sacrificed. This says the Toronto Mail and Empire, illustrates where a good deal of "demand" came from.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Work, Ye Tarriers, Work. (London Times.) The All-Russian Central Executive Committee of Soviets has passed a resolution complaining that in response to the decree of March 5 last, ordering the return of qualified transport and railway workers to work on transport, the Government had been "directing all Soviet institutions immediately to apply the decree, and warning them that inaction, slackness or delay in applying the decree will be punished with all the severity of the law."

A Monarch in the Air. (London Times, May 20.) The King and Queen of the Belgians, after staying but a few days for the Curzon Memorial, have been back again to their own country. This is the fourth time they have come to England by aeroplane. One of the results is the London, which would cheer no hero of the war more heartily than King Albert, has never had a proper chance of welcoming him. The nearest approach to it was when, about a year ago, he attended the concert in Belgium's honor at the Albert Hall. His journey then was rapid and not sufficiently public. But what a cheer the audience gave him!

The King and Queen of the Belgians returned to Belgium last week by aeroplane. Their Majesties arrived in England in the same manner, in order to be present at the wedding of Mr. Oswald and Lady Cynthia Mosley. The start homeward was made at 4 o'clock. There were three D.H.4 machines, and a successful journey was reported, the machines being seen passing over Lyme as half-past four.

It was reported from the Air Ministry later that Brussels was reached at 5.1. The King of the Belgians was presented last week by Messrs. Handley Page & Co. Limited, with a new Bristol "Highwing" aeroplane, fitted with a Rolls-Royce "V" 12-horsepower engine. The machine was flown to Brussels from Cricklewood for the occasion by Major Woods Humphrey, who was accompanied by Lieutenant T. Capps and Mr. J. Richard. Brussels was reached in one hour and 40 minutes, the distance being covered at the rate of more than 120 miles an hour.

On Getting Gold Out of France. (Manchester Guardian.) English visitors to France would do well to forget that the French law now forbids the exportation of gold or silver in any form, for the law seems to be applied in a somewhat drastic manner. A correspondent writes that when he was recently embarking at Boulogne on his return to England the French officials took from him all his English silver money above a certain small amount, and gave him, instead, French notes to the same amount at the normal rate of exchange. I am told that a well-known peer not long ago had a still stranger experience. He had paid a short visit to France on business and on his return the French officials at the port from which he crossed said that they must confiscate his watch and chain because they were made of gold and could not be taken out of the country. The peer naturally protested, and as the officials remained obdurate he opened his mouth, showed them the gold stoppings in some of his teeth, and asked them whether they also proposed to take them. This seemed to have impressed them. At any rate, after a long discussion, they at last allowed him to keep his watch and chain.

But proceedings of this kind seem to be a matter for friendly representations on the part of the British Government.

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no night so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance. When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.
"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the rightness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little-ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrup was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

WORLD FACING A COTTON SHORTAGE.

Manchester, Eng., June 16.—Professor J. A. Todd, secretary of the Empire Cotton Growing Committee of the Board of Trade, has just delivered to the Textile Institute a warning of the prospective world scarcity of cotton in the near future and emphasized the need for developing new sources of supply as well as experimenting with cotton substitutes.

After dealing exhaustively with the labor position in the United States and ravages by boll-weevil as well as the acreage position, the Professor said: "It is obvious that we were not going to get 15,000,000 bales of cotton this year." At home it seemed to him the consumers had not yet felt the full weight of the high cost of the raw material. Even in America he did not see such sign of the consumer's intention of doing without cotton fabrics.

The statistics for America's domestic consumption for the first three months of this year were on a basis unacceptably near to 7,000,000 bales a year. British consumption before the war was nearly 4,000,000 bales and the total American crop last year was only 11,000,000. What was going to happen when the rest of the world—and particularly the continental countries—woke up and began to demand more cotton?

By next year, he said, the continental mills probably would be more active than now and the demand increased and the Oriental demand would also be much higher. So long as the workers and producers of the world were making so much more money than they ever were before, he did not see how the demand for cotton goods was ever going to be substantially reduced. The world was not producing sufficient cotton to meet this demand and was not likely to do so unless some way was devised of making use of even the lowest grades.

It was only a question of time, he asserted, when the world would face a scarcity of cotton, and it was high time, therefore, that something was done to develop new sources of supply, for even when they were found they would not be able to afford substantial relief for five or ten years. He was not sure that the time had not come for them to look around for an efficient cotton substitute, for the world was full of textile fibres which had never been exploited.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS
EQUALLY POPULAR.
Flowers and fruit are the delights of the hour, so far as the trimming of summer millinery is concerned, but just for the moment, fruit-trimmed hats and toques are even more popular than those which are wreathed with flowers. A fascinating black satin toque has a crown entirely hidden under a mass of most realistic black cup-rants. At the back is a bow of black velvet ribbon.

For sports and for town street wear, ribbon hats are numerous. They are made of narrow ribbons and wide ribbons cut and shaped into place. A new model is made of ruffled rows of navy blue faille ribbon. It has a rounded crown and a rolling brim, and

Two Youths Are Sent To Dorchester

Yesterday Afternoon Willie Taylor and George Wilkins Were Sentenced For Stealing — Two Other Theft Heard—Other Cases Dealt With.

After having been convicted of breaking and entering the Davis Confectionery Store, St. Patrick street, and stealing a quantity of goods, Willie Taylor and George Wilkins were sentenced by the police magistrate yesterday afternoon to do time in the Maritime Penitentiary.

Although both boys are only sixteen they have previous police court records. Taylor was given two years and four months, and Wilkins three years. Peter Ferris was before the court on the charge of not properly covering an excavation on City Road. The case was allowed to stand over for further evidence.

Hearing was begun in the morning in the case of Murray J. Chase, and James F. Rogers, charged with breaking and entering the store of Charles Magnusson and Son, and stealing goods to the value of $250 on the night of the 13th of June.

Rogers pleaded guilty but Chase denied it. Rogers said they went to the store of the store, that Chase took out a pane of glass and reached through and unfasted the window. He said Chase went in while he stayed outside for about five minutes and then went away. He said he has known Chase for about three weeks.

Charles Magnusson testified as to goods taken. The case was postponed. Joseph London was charged with being drunk and was given in charge by Mrs. John Bryant for accosting her in the street. Mrs. Bryant said the accused accosted her in the street and she met Policeman Thomas and told him to arrest him, which was done. Later she laid the charge against him. The case was postponed.

A case against Norman Curley charged with breaking and entering the store of R. L. Adams, West Side, and stealing jewelry valued at $250, was resumed but postponed until to-day.

Five men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded to jail. A charge of using abusive language preferred by Mrs. Jennie Hawiart against Mrs. Anita Stowell, was dismissed by the magistrate. He advised the women to settle their quarrel out of court.

Charles Taylor was charged with driving on the wrong side of Charlottetown street and speeding. He was fined $10 for driving on the wrong side of the street and the fine of $10 for speeding was allowed to stand.

Natural History Society Happenings

School Children Bring Flowers and Plants They Found While Roaming the Woods and Become Students of Nature.

At this season, when the fragrance of apple and lilac fill the air, and old Mother Nature is gaily decorated with the waving boughs of myriads wild flowers, saucily displaying their brilliant colors in woodland and meadow, the work at the Natural History Society is greatly increased. For it is considered the refuge of the doubling Nature student, and in Mr. McIntosh, the curator of the society, the school children recognize a lover and student of nature, one wise in wood lore, and possessing the secrets of flowers and birds. It is to him that the youth of the city are greatly indebted for their knowledge of nature, one wise in wood lore, and possessing the secrets of flowers and birds. It is to him that the youth of the city are greatly indebted for their knowledge of nature, one wise in wood lore, and possessing the secrets of flowers and birds.

Whist a representative of this paper was in the society's building the other day, a little chap came in. He had found a young fledgling and had been tending it for ten days, but it still had its eyes closed. He was very anxious to know if it would live and what was its species.

The little fellow was told what food would best suit the feathered orphan, when his eyes opened, and all the other things he wished to know. Hardly had the young foster parent been sent on his way, when a boy of young girls. Each had a plant, some of them several, which they had discovered in their excursions afield, and which they wished properly classified. The scientific and common name, and the family to which each plant belonged was cheerfully supplied. Exit the wise virgins.

Then came a little Assyrian, with large and sparkling eyes filled with that omnivorous thirst for knowledge which these children of the Southland possess to a marked degree. From a little bag emerged a dozen or so stones, and once more the curator's seemingly unlimited store of knowledge came to the rescue. The youngster's collection was found to be a varied assortment, consisting of granite, quartz, hornblende, limestone and several other minerals and the process of its formation, ranging back into those shadowy ages when aeroplanes were elephants, with wings, and young cave dweller soups started light houses, keeping with a cumbersome stone jar and a cheery outlook on life were described to the young student, and another departed content.

That the instruction of the young is worthy of praise, all will admit, and to judge by appearances, oft times the greatfulness of the child is ample recompense.

While a definite shape can be ascribed to it, nevertheless it falls in to the mould of the wearer's head with grace and adaptability. These for a mass of most realistic black cup-rants. OBITUARY.

Mrs. George H. Parise. Gagetown, N. B., June 14.—On Sunday morning the community was shocked to hear that Violet, wife of George H. Parise, had passed suddenly away about four o'clock, at her home on the Mill Road. Mrs. Parise had been afflicted for some years with the rare disease elephantiasis; but had continued busy and active up to her death. She retired in her usual health on Saturday evening, but woke up early in the morning feeling ill, and in a few moments suddenly expired. The greatest sympathy is felt for her husband and son Harrison, as well as the other immediate relatives, who are her mother, Mrs. Margaret K. Law, of Lawfield; four brothers, George A., Humphrey S., and Fred H., of Lawfield, and James of Fredericton, and one sister, Miss Alma Law, of St. John. Mrs. Parise, who was a daughter of the late William Law, was beloved by all who knew her, and she will be much missed by many friends as well as by her family circle.

The funeral took place late this afternoon from her late home to St. John's Church, where the burial service was read by the Rector, Rev. T. T. Buckland, who gave a beautifully worded and comforting address. The choir sang Peace, Perfect Peace; Thy Will Be Done, and On the Resurrection Morning. Interment was made in St. John's Churchyard in the presence of a large congregation from Gagetown, Lawfield and vicinity. The pall-bearers were: Theo. D. Sharpe, John Johnson, Michael Law, Herbert McKinney, Geo. H. Allingham and J. J. Graham. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

A GARDEN AT DUSK. Peace like an angel walks A garden gray. When western stars flame With ending day. As He on Olive found The garden's peace, So we may find from care A calm release. Shy winds with urns of musk Go soft along Or pause to hear enrapt The thrush's song. There tumbly passes not The gateway bars, Only the wings of dusk, The feet of stars! —Arthur Wallace Peach in Boston Transcript.

A Good Pal. "Hallo, Rivers! You seem to have had cold." "Worse I ever had, Banks." "I'm sorry for you, old fellow. Wish I knew of something that would cure you, but I don't." "Give me your hand, Binks," replied Rivers with tears in his eyes. "You're the only man I've seen for three days that hadn't a certain cure!" —Spurs Moments.

Real Distinction. Dibbins was dining with some people who were proud of the recent elevation of a member of the family to the House of Lords. "This," said the hostess, "makes the second of my husband's family in the peerage. Have you any relation in the House of Lords?" "No!" said Dibbins, "but I've two maiden aunts in the Kingdom of Heaven."—London Tit-Bits.

THE FRENCH AMBASSADOR WILL RETIRE

Washington Says M. Jusserand Will Not Return from Present Visit to His Homeland.

WILL ASK FOR RELIEF FROM PUBLIC DUTY

Has Been Blamed for Not Notifying Country of Limits to President's Power.

Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co. Washington, June 16.—Julius Jacques Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States, will not return to his post in the United States after his trip to France for which preparations are now being made at the French embassy. The dean of the foreign diplomatic corps in Washington, who has served his country in the United States for 18 years, has become one of the central figures in the political storm that has swept France as the result of the defeat of the treaty in the United States Senate and his retirement has been determined upon as necessary to help quell the tumult.

Officials of the French embassy have refused consistently to discuss the shifting events in France, brought by what the average Frenchman believes to be the studied indifference of this country to the fate of the treaty. Only the attaches of the embassy, and not all of them, are aware of the fact that M. Jusserand is not to come back to his country as the envoy of his native land, and it is understood the move, when made, will be in the form of a voluntary abandonment by the veteran diplomat that he wishes to be relieved of the burdens incident to a public career.

M. Jusserand celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary this winter. The last forty-four years of his life have been passed in the diplomatic service and in such notorious fashion that even his bitterest enemies can not deny him the right of stepping aside gracefully for a younger man.

France Lulled by Ignorance.

The trend of opinion in France, which is said to have led to the condemnation of M. Jusserand, has its origin directly in the fate of the treaty of peace and the League of Nations before the U. S. Senate. Leaders in French politics have made the charge that M. Jusserand and Andre Tardieu, formerly high commissioner to the United States, failed to inform their country and people of the limitations of the presidential power in so far as treaty making is concerned, and that France therefore was lulled into a sense of false security and given the opportunity to sign the Treaty of Versailles by President Wilson furnished the safeguards against future aggression and sympathy with the cause of the war-ravaged country.

The men who are now attacking the course followed by M. Jusserand say he failed to interpret correctly the sentiment of this country and took the attitude that Mr. Wilson would be able to carry his threat of the treaty and in the foreign service would be a disastrous move, amounting to political death to the party that perpetuated him.

Removal Loss in Washington.

The removal of M. Jusserand from the diplomatic service will be a distinct loss not only to the diplomatic colony, but to social Washington as well. Mme. Jusserand, an American by birth, was Miss Eleve Richards before her marriage, and has been one of the most active hostesses in social Washington. The post as dean of the corps would fall to Senator Don Juan Riano, the Spanish ambassador, who has been stationed in Washington since 1913. The rest of the corps is made up of mere youngsters in point of service. Boris Bakmetoff, who is still listed as the ambassador from Russia, came to his post in 1917, but with these exceptions all of the ambassadorships have been filled by new personalities, sometimes more than once, since the close of the world war.

M. Jusserand, who was born in Lyons, Feb. 18, 1855, received his first foreign appointment after he had served an apprenticeship of eleven years in Paris, when he was appointed consul of the embassy in London in 1877. He served there until 1890. He returned to Paris for duty, and in 1898 was appointed minister Denmark.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain milled coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few quoness will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, then a teaspoonful of what is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Bangor Woman Tells of Trouble

Mrs. Linnell Was Almost a Nervous and Physical Wreck When She Began Taking Tanlac.

"I'm certainly glad I began taking Tanlac when I did. I was on the verge of nervous prostration, but now I am feeling better than I have for twenty years," said Mrs. Ira W. Linnell, of 79 Cedar street, Bangor, Maine, a few days ago.

"I was in dreadful health which had brought on by years of suffering that had simply made me almost a complete nervous and physical wreck. My appetite was extremely poor and I never thought of such a thing as sitting down to the breakfast table. I could hardly digest a thing and no matter how light a meal I ate it always caused acute pains in my stomach. I felt bloated and stuffy all the time and often had such spells of palpitation and shortness of breath that I completely exhausted me, and I would have to go to bed, sometimes before dinner, and stay there the rest of the day. Rheumatism developed and my shoulders, arms and legs hurt so bad I could hardly move without being in pain. Rest, why, I had forgotten what a night's rest was and often couldn't sleep more than two hours all night long. My nerves were simply a total wreck and frequently I went down town and became so completely upset I forgot what I was there for and had to telephone home for them to send someone after me. Headaches, or they were so dreadful I thought they would drive me distracted, and many times I just had to go to bed.

"That is the condition I was in, but thank goodness, those days of suffering are over and it's all because of the good Tanlac has done for me. My appetite is just splendid and it makes no difference what I eat I never have the slightest trouble in digesting it. I am free from palpitation and shortness of breath, and I am not bothered with rheumatism or headaches any more. My nerves have quieted down until now they are steady as a rock. I would want them and I sleep so soundly I have to have an alarm clock to wake me up every morning. I am enjoying just splendid health, and I would be ungrateful not to be willing to tell others about it so they may benefit by my experience."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv't.

BEAT IT-OUT OF THE COUNTRY

Gagetown, N. B., June 14.—Two young men, Arnold H. and Harold H. Lyon, of Hillsboro, were up before Magistrate T. Sherman Peters on Friday on the charge of assault. The troubles started at a wedding charivari at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rathburn, of Hillsboro, whose daughter had been married. The Lyon brothers proceeded to put more pep into the proceedings than is conventional, and ended by beating up one of the guests, who came up the next day to enter complaint for assault. Before the examination was concluded on Friday, the Lyon brothers, seeing that the affair was liable to go against them, hired a car and proceeded to St. John, from whence they are said to have departed for Calais, Maine.

THE EDITOR'S MAIL.

To the Editor:

Dear Sir,—I wish to call your attention to the way the contractors are back-biting the service pipes on City road, having heard complaints about the work in walking along City road today at 11:45.

I found two contractors and two other men shovelling and scraping in the back-lift, and not one tamper on the work. I asked them if they had an inspector, and Mr. Parris, one of the contractors, told me he was the inspector and asked if the job did not suit me.

Last year when the large main was laid, there was no tamping done, the earth, snow, and even ice, were scraped in the trench with horses, and in consequence some of them have split already. I refer to Brussels street.

Commissioner Bullock has informed me that Commissioner Jones assured him that he would have the service pipes properly tamped and an inspector on the work.

As any experienced person knows, if a back-fill is not properly tamped, there will be a settlement in the cuts, and it will be useless to lay permanent pavements over them, and furthermore, when construction work is so expensive as it is now, I would say that all work should be properly done, and if it is not worth doing, do not undertake it.

I would also ask the citizens on the other streets to take the same interest in the different public works that are being done throughout the city in order to have it done right, as they are the tax payers and the people who pay the bills, and should take an interest in such matters.

Thanking you, I am, Sincerely yours,

EDWARD A. FORBEN.

Still another man was taken into custody by the inspector. He was fined eight dollars for being drunk, and fifty dollars in three months for resisting arrest. He took three months in Galetown jail.

KINGS CO. MILK PRODUCERS' ASSN. CUT OFF THE LOCAL MILK SUPPLY

Won't Send One Pint of Milk or Cream to City Until Sussex Train is Run on Atlantic Time—Daily Supply Received Here is Over Twelve Thousand Quarts—Secretary Huggard Gives Producers' Reasons.

According to official report from the Kings County Milk Producers' Association no milk or cream will be shipped into St. John today, with the result that the city will be short of about one thousand six hundred eight-quart cans of milk which on previous days arrived in the City of St. John on the so-called Sussex train in the early morning. This means that the residents of St. John will be cut off of no less than twelve thousand eight hundred quarts of milk, and while the dealers have a small supply on hand from yesterday the amount will not go very far.

Serious Situation

The milk producers from farms in the close vicinity of the city have their regular customers and, of course, these customers will undoubtedly be fortunate, as each milkman who arrives in the city during the day with one wagon partly loaded means that his supply is for practically only a few customers. The greater majority of dealers who supply grocery stores, creameries, and householders, receive their milk from Kings county, and now that this great supply has been cut off there will be many a home without milk, if not today, the bottles, pitchers or other receptacles will be dry tomorrow.

As far as could be learned last night nothing much has been done to cope with such an emergency, and while the dealer will suffer as far as his earnings are concerned, the consumer will be badly handicapped for the usual portion of milk in the tea, or coffee, and then the children must be thought of. It is a question which will no doubt be taken hold of today by the mayor and commissioners as something must be accomplished immediately in the interests of the citizens.

The Supply For Today.

It was stated to The Standard last night that quite a number of the dealers who have anticipated the cutting off of the supply from Kings County have laid in an extra supply in order that their customers will not be left without milk this morning, but this is looking out for today, and there will be nothing left for tomorrow providing the demands of the Kings County Association is not met favorable to that body.

The Producer's View.

Last night The Standard got into telephone communication with one of the producers who resides near Norton, and when asked what he knew of the situation he replied that it was indeed too much of a hardship on the producer to get the milk ready in time to send to St. John on the Daylight time. He states that the cows are put out to pasture during the night, and in Daylight time it is necessary that the farmers and their hands get up at 3.30 o'clock in the morning, bring the cows in, and after the milking is finished the cans are filled. It is hauled to the Norton Station for shipment on the St. John bound Sussex train, just an hour earlier than it would be if the train was on the Atlantic time. He further stated that there were from two hundred to two hundred and fifty cans of milk shipped from the Norton station to St. John every morning, and that this train was due to leave Norton at 6.28 o'clock, Daylight time.

When asked how much of this shipment of milk was taken from the city in the early morning, he replied that seven-eighths of the quantity was early morning milking, and the remainder was the milk received from the evening before.

No Milk Today.

The Standard was unable to get in direct communication with Secretary Huggard, of the Kings County Milk Producers' Association, at his home outside of Norton last night, but one of the members of the family, who is perhaps aware of the proceedings of the Association, stated at a late hour last night that he knew the C. N. R. Superintendent had not changed the time of the train from Daylight to Atlantic, and further, it was a fact that not one pint of milk or cream would be shipped to St. John this morning by the members of the Association, and would not be shipped until such time as the train is shifted back to the old time.

The Local Dealers

In speaking to one of the local dealers who handles a very large supply of this King's County milk daily, he informed The Standard that he had not been informed by the Association that the milk supply was to be cut off today and all that he knew about the situation was what he had read in the papers and what was told him by the Standard. He stated that he would be at the station as usual this morning looking for his usual consignment of milk, and while he had enough to supply his customers today in case there was none to arrive on the train, he could not say what would be the result tomorrow. Further the dealer stated that he did not believe that every one of the Kings County producers would stop sending their milk to St. John but he believed that there would be some who would continue shipping here.

There is an additional supply of milk that comes to the city on the Maritime Express arriving here at morning but he believed that the larger percentage was the milk of the evening before. He pointed out that in a great many cases the milk being received by the consumer in the city (Continued on page three).

Wholesalers Were Before The Court

Nine Firms Charged Yesterday With Keeping Intoxicating Liquor For Sale, to Wit: Lemon Extract—Interesting Evidence Heard.

The preliminaries in what may be a very interesting test case, were set in motion yesterday afternoon when representatives of nine of the leading wholesale grocer and drug companies in the city appeared in the police court to answer to a charge stating: "That they did each of them keep intoxicating liquor for sale, to wit: Lemon Extract, contrary to the Prohibition Act of 1916, in their respective places of business in the said city of St. John on Tuesday, the 15th of June, A. D. 1920."

The firms charged and their representatives who appeared in court were: G. E. Barbour & Co.; J. Barbour; Jones & Schofield, F. B. Schofield; Puddington, Wetmore & Smith, A. H. Wetmore; Northrup & Co., H. Northrup; H. & Peters, C. H. Peters; Wilson Chemical Co., H. W. Wilson; Brayley Drug, L. A. Conlon; Vanwart Bros., John W. Vanwart; F. E. Williams, J. Williams.

At the outset some of the grocers advanced the plea of not guilty, while others pleaded guilty of selling lemon extract, but not guilty of selling intoxicating liquor. After hearing further particulars in the case, the whole party pleaded not guilty to the charge.

What Defendants Said.

The grocers admitted that they sold lemon extract, but maintained that they did not sell it for beverage purposes. H. A. Wetmore read a permit issued to firms manufacturing extracts, essences and tinctures, authorizing the companies to have in their possession alcohol to be used for the manufacture of the said extracts.

C. H. Peters claimed that the law was very inconsistent when it gave firms permission to manufacture the extracts, but then arrested them for selling the manufactured article. Lemon extract was pretty bad, but not as bad as some of the whiskey that was being brought into the city from Montreal.

The party declared that there had been no intentional violation of the law, but that lemon extract had been an article of trade for years. If the law was that lemon extract could not be sold, then they would let it go out of business all together and cease to deal in it.

One of the party stated that if it was unlawful to keep lemon extract for sale the inspectors had been violating their oath for the last three years every time they passed a grocery store.

The magistrate took exception to L. A. Conlon appearing for the Brayley Drug Co. Mr. Conlon quoted a section of the Summary Conviction Statutes authorizing a firm being represented by an attorney.

Inspector McAlinh.

Inspector McAlinh took the stand and said that he had visited the places of business of each of the accused and that he had taken a bottle of lemon and a bottle of vanilla extract and notified the firms to appear in court in answer to the charge of violating the Prohibition Act. He did not secure an analysis of the extract seized, but a recent analysis of similar lemon extract showed it to contain 15 per cent of alcohol by weight of from 35 to 42 per cent.

Some of the grocers said that they had not intentionally violated the law and asked the magistrate to advise as to what they had better do.

"Give the clerk a check for $500," said the magistrate.

The case was postponed to next Monday.

About The Law.

When interviewed by The Standard one of the grocers who had appeared in the police court, said that they had no complaint against the law, although they thought it was being wrongly interpreted. As to appealing the case nothing had yet been done in the matter. There was no desire on the part of the grocers to sell lemon extract for anything but household use. It is said that the "beverage" extract had less cut in it and more kick, as far as his firm was concerned, every bottle was identical. The grocers were fully alive to the way some were abusing the trade and were desirous of limiting the manufacture of the extract to the small size bottle of 2 1/2 oz. The government refused, and they had to make use of the large bottles which were perfectly legitimate trade and commerce.

Contradictory Law.

It would certainly appear that the law is to say the least, contradictory, and there is a possibility of an appeal against the decision of the Chief Justice. The appeal would go to the Supreme Court of Canada and finally to the Privy Council.

Yesterday's case followed a declaration of the police magistrate in court Monday, that if all were as willing as he to see the Prohibition Act enforced, the court room would be filled to the ceiling with seized bottles of extracts. Only two bottles were taken from each firm who appeared yesterday, but the spectators left little room for many lemon cases in the court room as it was crowded with citizens watching the proceedings.

Mr. Martin Olsen and family wish to thank their many friends for kindness extended to them on the occasion of their recent bereavement.

A. S. White of Sussex was in the city yesterday.

Walter B. Snowball of Chatham is registered at the Victoria.

QUARTETTE OF DRUNKS. Four drunks were arrested by the police yesterday afternoon and were held in the city. The condition of two of the inebriates was such that the patrol was called to remove them to the General Hospital, where they received medical treatment.
