Grand Duke Nicholas Retires From Eastern Half of Great Polish Capital to Escape Pincers

Great Russian Fortresses of Kovno and Lomza Under Heavy Artillery Fire While Some of Novo-Georgevsk Forts Have Been Captured — Germans Describe British Gain of Nearly Mile Simply as Battle.

London, Aug. 9-While the Austro-German armies made fresh progress today in their campaign against the Russians, the conflict on the western front took on new impetus when Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary forces, reported a fierce artillery engagement in which British and French forces captured trenches at Hooge along a front of 1,200 yards.

The occupation of Praga, reported by Berlin, brings to a dramatic climax the first phase of the drive at the Polish capital and the region of eastern Poland of which Warsaw is the dominating centre. Praga is essentially a part of the capital with great railway stations on the roads running to Petrograd and Moscow. Few details have been received of Grand Duke Nicholas' final stand at Praga but the indications are that the withdrawal of the Russians ing together in their rear.

RUSSIANS HOLD THIRTY MILE STRIP.

The German lines spread along the River Narew on the north and the Vistula on the south, are contracting gradually as the armies in the north and those in the south approach each other. The strip of territory across which the Russians may withdraw to safer positions now is hardly more than thirty

Berlin reports a steady hammering at the great Russian fortresses of Kovno and Lomza, the chief significance of which is their proximity to the lines of railway communications to Petrograd. Novo Georgievsk is the only place west of Warsaw at which a Russian garrison remains and its fall seems im-

The attitude of the Poles towards the new German regime is arousing deep interest as the occupation of Warsaw unites for the first time three branches of the Poles heretofore divided among Russia, Germany and Austria. Under the Russian regime Poland has been a hotbed of disorder and it ins to be seen whether control of this territory will be as difficult a prob-

The official report from Berlin characterized the operations around Hooge as "a battle," but Sir John French's later report shows them to have been another trench light preceded by a severe artillery exchange and resulting in the re-capture by the British of nearly a mile of trenches previously taken by the Germans. This has served to divert public attention temporarily from the magnitude of the German sweep in the eastern field but operations in the west

BRITISH SUBMARINE STRIKES ONCE MORE AT TURKISH NAVY: SINKING FIND BATTLESHIP

Constantinople, Aug. 9—The Turkish battleship Kheyred-Din Barbarossa, of 9,900 tons displacement, and formerly the German warship Kurfust Friedrich Wilhelm, has been sunk by a submarine of the Entente powers, according to an official annonneement issued today by the Turkish government.

A majority of the officers and men composing the crew of the battleship was saved.

The official statement telling of the loss of the Barbarossa, which was sunk this morning, however regrettable in itself, does not affect us excessively, except that it places the strength of our ships com-

The Barbarossa was built at Stettin in 1891 and was purchased, together with the battleship Reis, from Germany by Turkey in 1910. Her complement consisted of about 600 officers and men. She was 364 feet in length and was rated at 17 knots. She cost $2,200,000. Her armament consisted of six 11-inch, eight 4.1-inch and eight 3.4-inch guns

POWERFUL GERMAN FLEET REPULSED BY RUSSIANS AT RIGA: THREE SHIPS DAMAGED

Petrograd, Aug. 9, via London, Aug. 10-The following official communication was issued to

"A German fleet of nine battleships and twelve cruisers with a large number of torpedo boat destroyers persistently attacked the entrance to the Gulf of Riga, Sunday, but everywhere were repulsed.
"A cruiser and two torpedo boat destroyers were damaged."

Petrograd, Aug. 9, via London, Aug. 10-An official explanation of the attack of the German fleet on Riga, as given out tonight, follows:

"The Gulf of Riga would allow the Germans to give powerful aid to their army now occupying the western coast of the gulf. With the object of penetrating the rulf the fleet appeared Sunday off Dirben Channel, which is the only practicable way for large ships to enter. The enemy made three attacks with the object of breaking the mine barrier protected by our fleet.

"Our scaplanes and warships co-operated to repell the enemy. The Germans did not succeed in passing our defenses. Three of his ships were damaged by mines near Dirben. None of our ships were lost."

London, Aug. 9, 8.30 p. m.—Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces in France, reports that the lost trenches at Hooge, east of Ypres, in Belgium, have been retaken by the British troops, and that they have advanced on a front of 1,200 yards.

The statement of Field Marshal French says:

"Since my communication of Aug. 7, the artillery on both sides has been active north and east of Ypres. In these exchanges the advantage has been

"This morning, after a successful artillery bombardment, in which the French our left co-operated effectively, we attacked the trenches at Hooge captured by the enemy on July 30. These were all retaken, and following up this success we made further progress north and west of Hooge, extending the front of the trenches captured to 1,200 yards.

"During this lighting our artillery shelled a German train at Langemarck (live miles northeast of Ypres), derailing and setting fire to five trucks.

"The captures reported amounted to three officers and 124 men of other ranks and two machine guns."

New York, Aug. 9—Italy will send 650,000 fresh troops to either France or the Dardanelles within the next three weeks, according to Captain Victor Del Francis, of the Italian army, who arrived here today on the steamer Duca

DARING FRENCH AIR RAID INTO GERMANY.

Paris, Aug. 9—The following official communication was issued tonight: "The day has been comparatively quiet on the whole front. In Artois, between the Somme and the Ooise, and in the valley of the Aisne some artillery fighting has been reported and Rheims again has been bombarded.

"In the Argonne near the Fontaine Aux Charmes, the enemy attempted to capture our positions, but they were repulsed everywhere.

"In the Vosges there was only artillery firing. This morning an air squadron, consisting of thirty-two bombarding aeroplanes, convoyed by some scout speed planes, sallied forth to bombard the station and factories of Sarebrucken (northeast of Metz.) The atmospheric conditions were not favorable, the valleys being concealed under fog and the sky cloudy.

The minister's restrement will be at tributed to ill-health, but the real reason, according to the correspondent's advices, will be due to two blunders, the first being the Austro-Hungarian note to the United States regarding the exportation of munitions which was sent to Washington without consulting the Kaiser, and the second being the revelation contained in the Belgian Gray Book that Herr Von Jagow urged the division of the Belgian Congo between Germany and France.

That conscription was now a certainty in England was the opinion expressed by Colonel McBain. He stated that it was rendered necessary, not so much because of any difficulty in getting recruits as because of the industrial situation, which rendered organization of those industries allied with the war necessary. Colonel McBain was inclined to agree with those who blamed the labor unions for many of the difficulties which had presented themselves in obtaining munitions supplies.

THE GALLANT CREW OF THE BRITISH SUBMARINE E-11

By their successful operations in the Sea of Marmors the British submarines have proved their worth. One of the sharpest thorns in the side of the Turks is the E-11, commanded by Lieut.-Commander Martin E. Nasmith, V.C., who is seen in the centre of the three officers on top of the conning tower. The E-11 is a new and powerful boat of $10 tons submarged displacement. Barly in May she paid her first visit to the very watergates of Constantinople, and a transport was torpeded alongside the areanst there. In addition to this, the attacked and sank the "Nagara," carrying a quantity of ammunition for heavy howitsers, several gun mountings, and a 6-in, gun, and also torpedeed a store-ship at Rodosto whilst a second store-ship was chased and driven ashore. One Turkish gunboat was also destroyed by the E-11, and when well on her way home she sighted another transport, and at once turned back and successfully torpedeed her. The other officers in the illustration are Lieutenant Guy d'Oyly Hughes, D.S. M., and Acting Lieutenant Robert Brown, D.S.M., Royal Neval Reserve. That the submarine had a hot time is seen by the shot hole through her periscope tube. This hole would at once "blind" one eye of the submarine, but qwing to a shutter fitted at the base of the tube little water could get into the beat; the second periscope would then be used for navigation purposes. It is understood that the First Division, which is in France in a depleted condition after the St. Julien and Festubert fighting, will be brought up to strength by reinforcements, and with the Second Division, which is still in England, will form an army corps, which is expected to take the field during the coming autumn.

The reinforcements necessary to keep an army corps of 40,000 men up to strength will be heavy, and this explains

WITH RESPECT TO THE SENDING OF THINGS TO SOLDHERS

The following letter has been received to this, I can report that I have made are three days ago and will endeavor to give you all the facts.

Any parcels addressed to certain men will be delivered as soon as possible without being opened. However, they should be securely wrapped and tied up or they will be obliged to re-wrap them. I made arrangements so that any parcels addressed in care of me will have special attention and be forwarded at once. Therefore, if anyone desires to send a parcel to any member of the 25th or 26th battalions they can address them in care of me and they will then be forwarded promptly to me and I in turn will see that they are handed promptly to the correct parties.

We also talked about sending the supplies to me and I would give them out with great care and see that they were not wasted and were put in the hands of those needing them most. In regard by one of the members of the executive rangements so that any boxes addressed to me will be given prompt and special attention and reforwarded to me at any luly 19, 1915, by Capt. H. R. Hill of the lay occasioned waiting to find out where I am or what I might want.

Dear Madam:

26th Battalion.

Dear Madam:

You have no doubt been wondering why you have not heard from me regording the matter of sending parcels over on this side of the Atlantic. On my first trip to London I did not have an opportunity of seeing Mr. J. G. Colmer, so was not in a position to send you the desired information, however, I did secure the information two or three days ago and will endeavor to give you all the facts.

I am or what I might want.

I might say at this time that sincs coming over here I have volunteered to take over the work among the boys of the 25th battalion, they not having a Y.M.C.A. secretary with them so you see and then, too, I will perhaps have several smaller units when we get into three days ago and will endeavor to give you all the facts.

This device changes the up and down Koyen and O. C. Erickson, Detroit Harmotion of a windmill pump rod into a rotary motion. The pump rod is connected with a vertical lever by means of a bell crank and rod. On this lever Assignor to Peerless Silo Supply Co. Racine (Wis.)

The new idea lies in the method used to prevent the triangular lever from remaining on dead centre. This is prevented by two springs. When the triangular lever is at the extreme left, the right hand spring moves it beyond dead centre; when it is at the extreme right the left hand spring does the same.

SILO HOOP.

Each section of this hoop consists of twin rods attached to end fittings. It takes three sections to make one hoop.

STLO DOOR

This silo door is designed particularly for metal silos but can be used on others. It consists of front and back plates, the back plate being made flush with the inner face of the silo to permit easy slippage, of the ensilage. This plate has an outward curved flange around the edge which bears against packing in a groove of the door jamb. This makes the door practically water tight. The front plate has a handle which also serves as one rung of a ladder.

The door opens inward on a double hinge, that is, on a hinge with two pivots. It is held closed by four clamps.

Protection Against Insanity. (New York World.)

(New York World.)

The American people desire a sane Germany, but if they cannot have a sane Germany they certainly will not rest content with a maniac Germany running at large and trampling down all the rights and liberties of mankind. We know of no force that can compel sanity, but there are forces by which rational people can protect themselves from the depredations of the insane.

armory would be used again in the coming winter for the accommodation of troops but it appears that this is scarcely likely in view of the report of the medical officer against the hygiene of the smaller rooms in which some of the men of the 26th were necessarily crowded. In fact the health of the troops who were quartered in the exhibition building was said to have been much more satisfactory and if any troops should be quartered in the city next winter it is more than likely that they will be put there.
