HER INSURANCE MONEY IS GONE

Some Seven Hundred Dollars of It Taken by Husband No. 2.

Detroit, Nov. 21.-It was reported at the home of Mrs. Charles R. Holmes, who says she was drugged, robbed and deserted in Windsor, Ont., on the night of her wedding by her false husband, that she was much improved and would recover. She is extremely nervous, nowever, over her strange experience.

Vernon, Mich., Nov. 19.-Mrs. Charles R. Hollmes, formerly Mrs. Hattle E. Norton, of Vernon, Mich., who was married, drugged and robbed at Windsor, is an old resident of Vernon, Mich. having lived at Vernon about twenty years, and is well known and highly espected by all that knew her. She has a very comfortable home of her own, and a grown-up family of five children, three boys and two girls. About two years ago she lost her husband by death, and received $1,000 insurance. The $700 she lost at Windsor was the insurance money she received through her husband's death.

TWO TRAGIC EVENTS.

PRINCE TUAN UNDER ARREST

Vicinity of Tien Tsin.

Allies Resolved to Resort to More A Score of Persons Killed and Large Vigorous Measures in China.

Berlin, April 21.-A special dispatch from Pekin says that Prince Tuan has been arrested and stripped of power by order of the emperor and empress dowager, but that fears are felt of Gen. Tung Fuh Siang, who, with 16,000 regulars, is in Hu Jang Pu.

Government officials, says a New York Times dispatch from Washington, no longer make any attempt to conceal their disbelief in the sincerity of the protestations made by the powers that they do not contemplate the partition of China.

FIGHTING NEAR TIEN TSIN. Tien Tsin, Nov. 20, via Shanghai, Nov. 21.—There has been considerable firing recently in the neighborhood of Tien Tsin, and owing to a report that the German quarter of the city would be attacked fast night, the German troops were held in readiness for action at an instant's notice. Nothing happened, however, to show cause for the alarm. Today all the Chinese servants of the Bengal Lancers' officers and men left, saying that they had been informed that the Boxers were marching in a large body on Tien Tsin and Pe-

FORCEMENTS. Berlin, Nov. 21.—Count Von Waldersee cables from Pekin that he has advices from Col. Yorck's corps showing that the Chinese General Ho, with 10,000 regular troops and much artillery, is near Kalgan, prepared to resist energetically a further advance of the expedition. Col. Yorck therefore will await reinforcements before attempting to proceed. London, Nov. 21.—"At last," says the Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post, "the allies in Pekin have resolved upon stronger measures to bring matters to a crisis. They have asked the viceroy of Nankin to state definitely his position toward the Chinese court, and the question of forwarding

ANOTHER EXPEDITION.

The German war office has received the following telegram from Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee: "A detachment, consisting of two companies of infantry, a force of mounted men and two guns, under command of Maj. Muhlenfels, has been dispatched, via Sian Kia Tien, 21 kilometers west of Pekin, with orders to push on to the great wall. The column under Col. York arrived 25 kilometers southeast of Hsuen Hwa Fu Nov. 17. turning Col. York will establish communication with Major Muhlenfels." RUSSIAN VIEWS.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.-Readers of Russian newspapers cannot avoid remarking the close parallelism between them and the German Socialist newspapers on the Chinese question. Rossi anticipates the United States will antagonize the Anglo-German programme

Russia is retrenching on account of the Chinese troubles. The proposed increase in the appropriations for popular schools in 1901 will not be made. VON BUELOW DEFENDS THE KAISER. Berlin, Nov. 21.-Count Von Buelow, imperial chancellor, replying to Herr Richter in the reichstag yesterday, said: "Prince Von Hohenlohe was much impressed by the article in the Freissinigne Zeitung, which contended that it was advisable to assemble the reichstag. I am betraying no secret when I say that I am one of those who saw very serious and important reasons for summoning it." Referring to Herr Richter's criticism of Emperor William's speeches, Count Von Buelow remarked: "I accept the full responsibility for them. The speech at Bremerhaven was extemporaneous, delivered at a time when it was assumed that all the Europeans at Pekin had been murdered. It was natural in such circumstances that the kaiser should have spoken as a soldier and not as a diplomat. AT WASHINGTON. Washington, Nov. 21 .- The Chinese situation was the main topic under consideration at yesterday's cabinet meeting. The administration is not disposed to join with other governments in making demands upon the Chinese imperial authorities which the Chinese government cannot comply with. So far as the United States government is advised, the foreign ministers at Pekin have not yet agreed upon all points under discussion. may be stated, however, that the United States government purposes not to be driven out of the concert relative China until all proper interests of the United States in China shall have been conserved.

WITH 140 TRUNKS. New York, Nov. 20 .- Madame Bernhardt, who arrived here yesterday, looked in the best of health. She said she was glad to revisit this country, as she expected to write a great deal of America, in her memoirs. The actress denied that Rostand was insane, and asserted that the stories to that effect had been cinculated by the author's enemities. Mme. Bernhardt brought and in the excitement of the moment over with her 30 pieces of personal it seemed as though they were all baggage and 140 trunks containing har

Amount of Damage Done.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 21.-A special to the Age-Herald by long distance telephone from Columbia, Tenn., says:

A terrific cyclone, moving in a westerly and northwesterly direction, struck this place at 9:30 o'clock last night, and left havoc in its path. The northern and western sections of the city, populated by negroes, was almost entirely swept away. Fifteen persons are known to have been killed, and it is feared that this number will be largely increased by later reports.

THE DEAD. The dead are: Misses Florence and Evelyn Farrell, Capt. A. F. Aydolette, wife and one son; another son and daughter missing; Miss Kate Forsythe, James Cherry and six negroes, names unknown. The cyclone lasted for five minutes. and its path, about a thousand feet wide, is clearly marked by devastation. Many houses, including a large number of negro cabins, were blown down and many others unroofed. freight train on the Nashville, Florence and Sheffield Railroad was lifted from the track, but as far as reported no one was injured.

LA GRANGE SUFFERS. Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 21.-A tornado struck the town of La Grange, Tenn., 49 miles east of Memphis, on the Southern Railroad, yesterday evening, and as a result not a church is left standing except the Episcopal.

The streets are littered with the debris of destroyed buildings, merchandise, telegraph and telephone wires, and poles. Several persons are dead and injured. The dead recovered up to the time

A Bushel of Artificial "Crinders" Seized for Duty.

"Look in His Teeth for Diamonds," Was the Cable Warning to the Custom House.

New York, Nov. 21.-The Sun says: Franklin D. Kelly, the Peoria dentist, started for home triumphant over the officials of the customs house. The telegraph wires that Dr. Kelly has the warm sympathy of dental circles of Peoria in the noble fight he is making for the Peoria or diamond-studded

It was asserted by Dr. Kelly's friends in this city that the last thing in the world the Peoria dentist desired to have happen was that his sample diamond-studded teelth should be concealed for a moment from anyone interested in dentistry. Dr. Kelly was, in fact, on his way back from the Paris Exposition, where he had been exhibiting the glittering creations of his brain and buzz-wheel to the whole wide world. His diamonds glitter in the teeth of opera singers and he has given the pugilist Fitzsimmons a plug in the jaw, so to speak, of a permanent and brilliant character.

It soon became apparent to the deputy collector that a misunderstanding had led to the seizure on Sunday of the baggage of Dr. Kelly, or rather that of his clerk, Miss Dorrance, who came to this country on the same steamer with him, the New York, of the American Line. The treasury department had been informed by some mysterious person on the other side of the ocean that a Dr. Kelly, accompanied by an attractive young woman, was attempting to smuggle a trunk full of diamonds into this country on the New York. The department's informant was very insistent. Col. Phelps was interrupted in his labors again and again by the receipt of telegrams telling him to be sure not to let the diamonds get through without paying duty. In at least one of the telegrams was a hint that the diamonds would be found concealed in Dr. Kelly's teeth. This warning now indicates to persons not officially connected with the department that somebody was playing a practical joke on Dr. Kelly or the department.

Col. Phelips was so impressed with the necessity for keeping a sharp look-out for the diamonds that he sent four of his best men to the pier to meet the New York. There is sometimes said to be friction between the officers of the collector's office and the officers of the surveyor's office. It was not observed that the collector's men showed any signs of great grief at the pier when they saw Deputy Surveyor Dowling and his assistants put the large chalked flourishes on Miss Dorrance's trunks which showel that they were "passed." The collector's men simply advanced to the trunks and said that they wanted them opened. The surveyor's people had the trunks opened. The collector's people found the diamond-studded teeth. There were about a bushel of the teeth in the trunk, studded with diamonds. A paper was exhibited by Dr. Kelly, which the surveyor's people had already looked at and had made out to be a certificate that all the teeth, diamond-studded and otherwise, in the doctor's collection, were products of the United States and exported for the purposes of the exposition. To the collector's people it seemed to look more like a bill of sale for the diamonds. The trunks which contained the teeth were sent to the appraiser's stores, and the reporters who wanted to know what it was all about got a story about a "seizure of uncut diamonds." But yesterday morning the dentist and his assistant went to the custom house in no very pleasant frame of mind. They seemed to feel that not only had a slight been put upon them person-ally, but upon the whole diamondstudded school of dentistry. Miss Dorrance, who said on the pier on Sunday, "I'm something of a Republican myself," seemed to think that somebody was going to lose his official head right away.

After a talk with the two, Col. Phelips said that he rather thought that a mistake had been made. A formal visit was made to the appraiser's stores. The teeth were gone over. It was found that they were all of American growth or manufacture. A. diamond-studded set that had attracted particular attention in Paris was a fac-simile of the set which now decorates the mouth of Mr. Fitzsimmons. About $27 worth of diamond chips were found. On these Kelly was required to pay duty. All the baggage of the dentist and Miss Dorrance was then released and was at once forwarded to Peoria. Peoria, Ill., Nov. 21.—This city was shocked to learn of the conflict between Dr. Franklin D. Kelly and the customs officials of New York. Dr. Kelly has become famous in the west by his success in filling teeth with diamonds. He has built up a substantial practice among the citizens of Peorie and Chicago.

400 ARRESTS IN 36 HOURS

Pickpockets, Highwaymen and Burglars Gathered In in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 21 .- Four hundred arrests in 36 hours is the record of the Chicago police department since the drag net was thrown out on Saturday night. At daybreak Monday morning there was not an unoccupied cell in any station in Chicago. Among the men in custody are scores of old offenders. Pickpockets, highwaymen and burglars with numerous aliases and known police records were caught in the general round-up. There were no big raids to swell the list of arrests. but the police, from South Chicago to Evanston and west to the city limits were unusually active. "Arrest conspicuous characters" was the order given them. Prisoners with police records and those arrested for particular crimes were arraigned and the cases continued in order to give the police an opportunity to connect them, if possible, with any of the recent robberies in the city. Victims of highwaymen will be asked to look over the lot to see if they can identify their assailants.

WELL-KNOWN TRAVELER DEAD. Toronto, Nov. 21.-Word was received in this city yesterday of the death of Mr. George H. Bailey at Montreal. The deceased, who was a well-known commercial traveler, had been ill for some time, and died from the effects of an operation. He was born in Ingersoll 42 years ago, and in early life was engaged in the business of his father, a carriage manufacturer, then of Ingersoll, but who now lives in this city. He traveled for a cigar firm for many years, and two years ago was appointed agent at Montreal of the Wm. Jessop & Sons, cutlers, of Shef-field, England. JOTTINGS FROM NEAR-BY PLACES

The last of a series of meetings being conducted in West Middlesex in connection with the Orange Order by Mr. Thomas A. The meet-ing was a most successful one through-In addition to Glencoe Lodge, visiting members were present from Mount Brydges, Appin and Metcalfe.
Mr. Duff addressed the meeting for an hour and a half on the growth and progress of Orangeism, and also on the urance branch of the order. At the close some members handed in their names for a policy. At ten o'clock an irnment was made to the American Hotel, where 30 members of the order partook of a bountiful supper, prepared by Mr. McRae. As well say the butcher and baker are needed on that day. Such people are as guilty as the manufacturer or railway manger who asks his men to work seven days in the week. Then, by what law of Christian conduct do business men keep their shops open till midnight on Saturday, thus depriving their assistants of the rest so necessary to enable

School Board Offers to Withdraw Suit If Granted $20,000-Council Would Grant Nothing.

In accordance with the suggestion made by Mr. Justice Meredith, the council and the school board met yesterday afternoon to endeavor to effect a settlement of the suit now before the court. They could not agree. The trustees, with the assurance that the broad principles involved would be decided in their favor, were satisfied to abandon the case provided that the council, in turn, would grant them debentures of $20,000 to rebuild Park avenue and Victoria schools, and provided, also, the judge make a declaration of the respective rights of the two bodies. The council agreed to receive Judge Meredith's declaration on the main issue, but refused to grand the

THE SCHOOL BOARD. The trustees assembled at 4 o'clock. Those present were: Chairman Bayly and Trustees Boyle, Macpherson, Jones Evans, Gillean, Teasdall, Blackwell, Wilkins, English, Morgan, McCormick, Colerick and Hamilton, Secretary Mc-Elheran and Solicitor Hellmuth.

Mr. Hellmuth said that the case of the board was the simple question of whether it was within the power of the council to cut down, revise, amend or alter the estimates of the school board. "I have no hesitation," he said, "in advising the board that there is not a single judge on the high court bench who would say anything but that the board of education had a right to make estimates, and, having done so properly and in good faith, could not be interfered with." He explained the technicalities upon which the council was defending the case. The council had not attempted to say that it was right in cutting down the regularly-made estimates of the board of education. Judges and lawyers might disagree upon these technicalities, and thus prolong the case indefinitely. If this defense were eliminated and the court simply asked for a declaration as to where the ultimate power of fixing the estimates of the school board rested, he had no hesitation in saying that the declaration would be with the board of education. He did not know why the case could not be dropped if the council would concur in asking for a declaration of

Mayor Rumball was invited to speak, and he advised that the two lawyers argue the point of responsibility before the judge and settle it. All that was wanted was a judgment defining the powers of the two boards. The counsid had been forced to set up technicalities otherwise the case would have gone by default, and an extra rate would have had to be struck. He agreed, however, that the case was now so hedged about with technical points that they might defeat the desire to having left the Gelderland at Port settle the primary difference. Dr. Teasdall moved that the solicitors of the board be instructed to argue the point of the board's rights, in regard to estimates, and have a judg-ment delivered. If this were done, further cost would be stopped. He had confidence that with the judgment the council would not dare refuse their estimates next year.

Mr. Gillean seconded. Neither Mr. Macpherson nor Mr. Jones had this confidence, and thought that it would be wiser to get a quid pro quo for their concessions. They moved in amendment that the council be requested to grant the board $20,000 the Boers, pro-Boer deputations and journalists, does not bear the aspect of debentures. If this were done, then the board would consent to withdraw the suit, after having obtained the decision upon the rights of the board.

In response to Trustee Jones' query, Mr. Hellmuth told the board that it would be quite possible for the council to refuse next year's estimates upon the same technicalities as at present and so continue the suit. "If we do and so continue the suit. not get the money now," said Trustee McCormick, "the council will throw us down again."

the council, at this late hour, was justified in making any grant. He then moved that the council express itself as not feeling justified in entertaining the board's proposition.

Ald. Cooper arose and signified his pleasure at seconding the motion just made by Ald. Pritchard. The fourth warder, with much emphasis, stated that he had opposed the granting of the board's estimates in council and in committee, and he opposed it now. The committee had tried to keep down the rate, but in spite of their efforts they had reached 241/4 mills. Had the board's demands been granted the rate would have been 28 or 29 mills, and people would have been driven from the city. If the board dropped the present suit and put in their estimates next year in the proper way no doubt the council would give the money.

Ald Stevenson rose and asked Chairman Bayly why the board had asked for $17,400, when they knew they could not spend the money. Mr. Bayly replied that he had been instructed. He was not before the council to answer questions. Ald. Stevenson characterized the course of the board as a scheme to build monuments to certain members by erecting schools. The board had brought the suit; let them keep on with it. Ald. Brener said that the board had received over $83,000 this year, and had their estimates been passed as put in their expenditure would have been over $100,000. It was unfair of the board to ask so much when taxes were so high. Ald. Bartlett was of the opinion that the ibest way was to let the board at once submit estimates for their expenditure for next year, and allow the people to vote on it.

Speaking as an alderman from London South, Ald. Gerry was of opinion that something should be done at Victoria school, as it was unsafe and liable to fall down any time. It would need $1,700 to put that school in proper shape. Ald. Winnett was one of those who had favored the proposal to give the board the $20,000 debentures. council had sided with his view, all the litigation and costs would have been saved. Ald. Winnett then moved in amendment to Ald. Pritchard's motion, that the board be asked to withdraw its requisition for $20,000, and that the question of the responsibility of the two bodies be argued before Mr. Justice Mereditin, and his judgment obtained.

Ald. Wray seconded Ald. Winnett's amendment.

Ald. Cooper rose again and said he was surprised the board had not taken the opinion of Trustee Jones, a practical man, on the subject of repairs and rebuilding, when he doubted not they would not be so anxious to waste $30, 000. He had been informed on good authority that the South London school could be repaired for a few dollars, as it only needed the replacing of a few bricks in the front. Ald. Cooper's remarks as to Trustee Jones' opinion lose some of their force when it is remembered that the latter gentleman is one of those most insistent upon the board getting its full measure of right in the matter in question between the two bodies. Ald. Douglass had always been opposed to the granting of the $30,900 debentures, as he did not believe the proposed new schools were needed. A few years ago the board got $80,000 from the council, and they then promised they would not be back for more eight or ten years. The members of the Real Estate Association, al practical men, had taken this matter and had declared that $700 was amply sufficient for repairs to all the schools. Ald. Douglass was quite willing to let the people vote on the ques-tion of expending the money, as it would be defeated five to one. In Ald. Dreaney's opinion some of the repairs and rebuilding asked for the board were unnecessary, as to his own knowledge Park street school was all right for another year at least. A teacher in one school told him that $4 would repair that school, yet the board's architect said it would

Mayor Rumball said he was anxious to keep the tax rate down. He would rather see the money spent on schools than on law courts. His worship tried to induce Ald. Pritchard and Cooper to have their motion combined with Ald. Winnett's amendment, but the two irreconcilables stoutly declined to have this done. The mayor warned the council of the danger of the suit dragging on for a year or more.

Ald. Douglass did not think there was danger of this, as the "kicking" trustees would not be re-elected. After the discussion had progressed to an advanced stage and after every member of the council present save Ald. Winder had expressed his opinion, the mayor put Ald. Winnett's amendment, to the effect that the board be asked to withdraw their requisition, and that the court's judgment be obtained as to the principle at stake, as to whether the council can interfere with the board's estimates. The amendment was carried by 8 to 4, and on the yeas and nays being called for, they resulted as follows: Yeas-The mayor, Ald. Stevenson Brener, Bartlett, Dreaney, Gerry, Wray and Winnett-8.

Nays-Ald. Douglass, Cooper, Pritchard and Winder-4.

The council then adjourned.

Elective Judges and Appointments to Office.

The St. Thomas Times a short time ago published articles on the above subject, urging particularly with reference to judges that they should be appointed without reference to the church to which they belonged.

With much that our esteemed contemporary has to say, we quite agree, but not with all. For instance, it says: "In the matter of our judges, under the guise of its being a government appointment, it is fast becoming or has become a political or sectarian affair." With this we cannot agree. We think the recent appointments quite equal to any of their predecessors. Take the appointment of Chief Justice Armour to the position of Chief Justice of Ontario. It will be acknowledged that he is as able a man as ever sat on the bench in Canada, and it cannot be claimed that either politics or religion dictated his appoinment. It was simply on account of his great ability and fitness for the position. Or take the appointment of Chief Justice Falconbridge to fill the position as chief justice of the Queen's Bench Division, vacated by the appointment of Chief Justice Armour. His politics are Conservative and his religion Episcopallian. They will scarcely be held to be the cause of his appointment. Then he is recognized by members of the Bar, young and old, as a very pleasant judge, always good-natured and possessed of good common sense, as well as legal knowledge. His promotion was deserved. The only other recent appoinment is the Western Bar, a man of strong personality and long experience, the fact that he was a Liberal member of Parliament ought not to be held to be a bar to his appointment. He possesses many of the qualities possessed by the

We think we are quite justified therefore, in taking exception to the statement quoted from our contemporary. There are points, however, in this connection which our contemporary has not touched upon, but which ought to be remedied. A judge of one of the Divisional Courts can make about a thousand dollars a year more than a judge of the Court of Appeal, and hence if a judgeship in the Court of Appeal is offered to one of the judges of the Divisional Court he can't afford to accept it. Judges, like all other men, require their salaries to live on, and the sum they require to sacrifice is more than they can afford to pay for the increased dignity.

competent to fill the position.

We consider what we have pointed out to be a serious defect. All judicial appointments should be from the front rank of the legal profession, and if possible the judges in the Court of Appeal should be more able men than those in the Divisional Courts, while the appointments to the Supreme Court should be, if possible, better still. The question of salary should not be ignored, and whatever is necessary to pay to secure the best men should be paid. The payment of the Judges of Appeal should be increased with the least possible delay. It is not reasonable to expect the best men to take the highest positions at less pay than the judges of the Divisional Courts receive.

We quite agree with our contemporary that judicial positions should not be canvassed for and that a man's religion should not be the cause of his appointment or non-appointment. The appointments should be made because of fitness. As a matter of fact we do not think the religion of any of the judges has ever affected their judgments, and therefore, any discussion

The whole question of the salaries of all the judges might well be taken up, and such increases made as are just and necessary in the interests of the administration of justice. We can- not be expressed in terms of pounds not afford for any reason to have any or dollars. The thing is done now, but the best men on the bench,

A Mistaken View

We are glad that the British press is affairs, and that on the whole there is a just appreciation of the situation. Sometimes, however, we meet with statements which would be amusing if the matter were not so serious. Quite recently, the Graphic, one of the lead-Mr. Tarte was mentioned as being substantially loyal, though not quite as careful as he might be in matters of international etiquette. There had been, it was said, a serious attempt to Borden, M. P., as Sir Charles Tupper's force him out of the Cabinet, fout Sir went on to say, seemed on the whole averse to the sending of the contingents, and Mr. Tarte might in turn have to save Sir Wilfrid. To any one who knows the situation this is all ludicrously incorrect, but unfortunately a great many people in the old land do not know. This writer was all wrong, for though our soldiers were ing place, there was practically no attempt to make the war business an election cry. It did not come within the range of our politics to discuss the merits or defects of British statesmanship and diplomacy. It was sufficient for us that the Empire was subjected to an unprovoked attack, and part of Her Majesty's territories wantonly outraged. What was done by Canada was as nearly unanimous as anything could be that was done by a large body of people. It cannot be said even that the point whether or not it would have been better to have called Parliament before sending the contingents was an election issue. In fact. to put it briefly and mildly, "khaki" was not in it. In Quebec, men who opposed the sending of the contingent were defeated, while those who were returned favored such action with practical unanimity. What the issue was we are not now called to discuss. We tried to make it plain before the election, but certainly the writer of the article in the Graphic showed that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing in Canadian politics, as elsewhere. However, on the whole, we believe that in Britain there is increasing knowledge of Canadian af-

How Dr. Landerkin Was Defeated.

We learn from reliable authority in Markdale, Grey county, that Dr. Landerkin, for so many years the worthy representative for South Grey in the Dominion Parliament, was defeated because of the persistent appeal, in a ly adopted. secret underhand manner, to Protestant electors to vote for Mr. Richardson because Dr. Landerkin supported has just secured a concession to exSir Wilfrid Laurier, and Sir Wilfrid plott the Perhena gold fields, which are Laurier, being a Roman Catholic, supported the Church of Rome. First, Dr. Landerkin's unscrupulous opponents gerrymandered his constituency that of Mr. Justice Lister to the Court | so as to put him in the minority by of Appeal. When it is considered that | 150 votes. Then they found that he Mr. Lister was one of the leaders of was too popular to be affected by that, and so they raised the cry, most craftily circulated, that Protestantism was in damger because Sir Charles Tupper had not been given the place of Sir Willfrid Laurier, and they succeeded by these rascally expedients in Chief Justice of the Court of Appeal, estranging enough of votes from Dr. and is proving himself to be quite Landerkin to secure his defeat. And yet these men were enthusiastic in posal to coerce Manitoba. Fortunately will proceed to Flushing without touchthe time will soon come when the ing at France. Gerrymander Act will be repealed, and then not even an appeal to race and religious prejudices, however craftily made, will succeed in keeping South Grey out of the Liberal procession. It unfounded. is, nevertheless, damentable that a party should be reduced to such expedients as race and creed warfare, in order to aid them to victory. They cannot be too widely exposed, or too severely condemned, or too closely watched in the future.

The Cost of War.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer in England has made a statement concerning the South African war, which still drags on its weary length, or at least its slow, lingering agonies. The cost of this sad business will mount up to over one hundred million pounds sterling, a sum that can easily be put down on paper, but the full magnitude of which it is hard for us to realize. No one indeed will realize the meaning of the whole thing; but the British taxpayers will have some idea of what it means when the Government dips into his pocket time after time to make up this hugh deficit. Pro-Boer and anti-Boer will be alike in this, that they will help to pay the bill. So the taxpayer, whatever his opinion may be, will have brought home to him the financial meaning of war; and as a general election is just over, he will not be able to express his feelings of discontent by voting against the Government, but will simply be able to keep time to Kipling's tune, "Pay, pay, pay."

Besides this tremendous expenditure of money, there has been the great loss of dife and property, so that one hundred million does not nearly cover the financial toss, and the other loss cannot be measured, or at least canand cannot be undone, but it is certainly a reflection upon the civilization of our day, that these brutal methods of settling disputes cannot be avoided. Straightforward writing is so rare an accomplishment that we hasten to extend the hand of welcome to it wherever it is found. Who at First Wanted to Marry Her Mother.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 21.—While her father, Edward Parker Deacon, of this city, now hopelessly insane, drags out his weary days in an asylum at Waverley, beautiful Gladys Deacon, 18 years old, has become betrothed to one of the proudest princes of Europe. News has just come from Biarritz of her engagement to the Prince of Licht-For the first time in years people in Paris, a letter from there states, are talking of the Parker Deacons without any more or less plainly expressed apologies. The terrible tragedy of Deacon's killing Abeille, The terrible whom he had accused of attentions to his wife, is forgotten in the intensity the American colony's interest in the romance.

Not many months ago Miss Deacon and her mother went to Biarritz. week or two afterwards the Prince of Lichtenstein, a rich young German related to the kaiser, registered at the same hotel. Then came the following interesting sequence of events.

The young prince, who is a nephew of the famous Austrian diplomat, Prince Aloys Lichtenstein, met Mrs. Deaton, or Mrs. Baldwin, as she is now known. He succumbed at the first sight of the beautiful woman. It was the old story-exemplified, a few you haven't even met my pretty daughter yet." The next day the prince met the daughter. Spectators of the little comedy smiled at the eagerness of the boy's glances. In short, their romance developed by leaps and bounds. In two weeks Paris had heard of it.

Results of Recounts-Nominations in Quebec Province-Mr. Sifton's Banquet.

MR. ERB'S MAJORITY. Stratford, Nov. 21.-The recount of the ballots polled in South Perth was completed yesterday by Judge Bar-ron. The result made a change of one in Mr. Erb's majority. His majority now is nine, previously it was ten. IN THE WEST.

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.-Mr. LaRiviere, Con., was declared elected in Provencher today by 44 majority. There is a protest to follow, as Mr. Bertrand's counsel at the declaration made affidavit that at a poll which had been removed during election miles distant over 50 Bertrand voters presented themselves, but could not deposit their barts. Mr. LaRiviere's majority at the general election of 1896 was 666. The official declaration for Marquette, made at Minnedosa, gives Mr. Roche, Conservative, 422 majority. and other outside markets weak at The Selkirk recount is still proceeding.

Charlottetown, Nov. 20 .- Court was opened at Summerside, P. E. I., this morning by Judge McLeod for a recount of the ballots in West Prince. Messrs. Hackett, McLellan and their attorneys and returning clerks were present. The ballot boxes, which were brought from Alberton on last evening's train, were found to be one short on arrival at Summerside. Twentyseven were shipped at Alberton and a railway receipt given. During the forenoon dispaiches were sent along the line of railway to recover the missing box. Mr. Williams asked that the recount be proceeded with as far as possible. Mr. McQuarrie objected. Upon opening the boxes 26 packages of ballots were found. The afternoon was spent in discussing the legality re-counting the ballots under existing circumstances. A telephone message at 7 o'clock stated that the box was found, and the re-count will be proceeded with. The whole transaction caused intense excitement. It is understood that the missing box contained a large majority for Mr.

McLellan. NOTES. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will attend the Sifton banquet at Toronto. The official announcement of the result of the Macdonald (Manitoba) election has been postponed till Nov. The following Liberal candidates were chosen in Quebec conventions on Tuesday: Richard S. Cooke for Three Rivers; Dr. Fissette, of St. Floro, for St. Maurice, and Pierre Nault, of Grand Mere, for Champlain county. The Liberals have so far chosen candidates in the provincial elections in 21 out of the 34 constituencies in the Quebec district.

A QUEBEC CONTEST.

Lumbago Driven Out Promptly by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Quebec, Nov. 19.-Although Quebec is called "the Gibraltar of America," and well deserves the name, it is no means impregnable against the assaults of Kidney Disease. Fortunately the inhabitants have an ally in Dodd's Kidney Pills that succeeds in driving the enemy out every time it gains an entry.

Some time ago Mr. John Ball of No. 57 Little Champlain street was attacked with Lumbago. He suffered for two years without getting relief from any of the medicines he used. Then he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, and the first box he used helped him. He used only three boxes, and is now well and strong in every way.

Eldorado, Kan., Nov. 21.-Miss Jessie Morrison, charged with killing Mrs. Olin Castle last June by cutting her throat with a razor, was placed on trial here today. Mrs. Castle lived for eighteen days.

Before she died she made a statement declaring that Miss Morrison had attacked her without provocation, and sent word forgiving her.

Miss Morrison will plead self-de-fense. Her side of the story is that Mrs. Castle called her into the house, and after starting a quarrel, attacked her with a razor, which she took from a bureau drawer in the room. In the struggle that followed, Miss Morrison declared she wrenched the weapon from her adversary, after receiving several cuts, and in defending herself inflicted several gashes in the victim's throat. TESTIMONY FOR THE PLAINTIFFS

In the Long-Drawn-Out Taylor-Davis Will Case.

Peculiarities Shown by Mrs. Burkholder Some Time Before Her Death-Case May Be Resumed Next Week.

The Taylor-Davis will case was continued at this morning's sittings of the assizes, the presentation of the plaintiff's case occupying the court till adjournment for luncheon. The case, which cannot be finished this afternoon, will probably be continued next

Thomas Brenton testified that he knew Mrs. Burkholder for fifteen years and considered that for five or six years preceding her death her mind was failing. Wm. Westland, painter, of South London, had known Mrs. Burkolder a long time. The death of her husband and daughter made her very despond-ent and melancholy. She was sharp and shrewd in matters of business. She often called at witness' shop. On one occasion she told witness she did not urging her to put a memorial window in St. James' Church. Witness plainly saw that Mrs. Burkholder was failing mentally and physically for years.

Three months before her death she came to witness' shop and said she was lost, and asked to be directed to Mrs. Kelly's or Miss Robinson's. Both places were very near, yet witness had difficulty in making her understand the direction to go. She told witness on one occasion that she would leave nothing to her relatives, but later she said she had changed her mind. Witness had heard Mrs. Burkholder tell of seeing and conversing with her daughter after the latter's death. Witness was a believer in spiritualism, but did not know that Mrs. Burkholder was. Mrs. Scott, of Bruce street, said she had met Mrs. Burkholder in London South one day, and the latter, although well acquainted with the locality, told witness she was a stranger and asked to be directed to a house. Mrs. Carfrae, of Carfrae street, South London, gave instances of Mrs. Burisholder's absentmindedness and forgetfulness.

Miss Madeline Taylor had known Mrs. Burkholder for about five years previous to her death. Witness knew that Mrs. Burkholder was well-acken most strongly against them, and tate, did not give notice to creditors

Burkholder once told witness she was afraid Mr. Davis was getting workly and that she liked Canon Richardson better after all. Witness met Mrs. Burkholder one day near the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets, and the latter was unable to find the Huron and Erie Loan and Savings Company's building. Witness considered Mrs. Burkholder peculiar.

Mr. John M. Dilion, a churchwarden of St. James' Church, had known Mrs. Burkholder. She often was unable to find her own pew. Witness once met Mrs. Burkholder about 150 feet from the church and she asked to be directed to it. Some time after Mrs. Burkholder had erected a memorial window in the courch, she asked witness which was her window.

Mrs. Lucas, of London South, told of an occasion when she had to take Mrs. Burkholder to the latter's home, Mrs. Burkholder having lost her way, though only about a block distant. Mrs. Burkholder often failed to recognize witness, though well acquaint-

Mrs. McLellan, of Dundas street, gave testimony relating to Mrs. Burkholder's weak memory. Philip Wickson, of Sanilac county, Mich., a son-in-law of the plaintiff Isabella Smith testified that Mrs. Smith is mentally weak and subject to loss of memory. Mrs. Isabella Trinier, of Orillia, Ont.

of Mrs. Burkholder. He had been at times wrong in his mind for over 20 years previous to his death by spicide. Witness knew Mrs. Burkholder from childhood. Witness came to London in 1891 to visit Mrs. Burkholder, and spent a couple of weeks, getting on well with her. In 1896 witness came again on invitation of Mrs. Burkholder. Witness went to Mrs. Kelly's, where Mrs. Burkholder was staying. Mrs. Burkholder was standing in the door of her room, and when greeted by witness she said: "Go away, you are not my niece. I don't want you. I know no ing about you." Witness did not know whether her aunt recognized her or not. Next morning Mrs. Burkholder seemed to recognize witness, calling her "Bella," but seemed anxious to have her go away. In the evening Mrs. Burkholder seemed more affectionate and said she was glad to see witness. She asked witness how many children she had, and on witness answering that she had one, Mrs. Burkholder said, "No, you have two." next morning Mrs. Burkholder's manner toward witness was cold again. Asked by counsel what opinion she had formed of Mrs. Burkholder's mental condition, witness replied that she considered it weak, and that if her aunt continued to act as she was doing, she should be taken care of. In conversation with witness, Mrs. Burk-holder was speaking of how her husband had provided for her, and then she stopped, saying that Mr. Davis would not like it if she talked about it. In 1891 Mrs. Burkholder had told witness that Mr. Davis wanted her to leave money to educate his chidren. and $1,000 to some church institution, but Mrs. Burkholder said that was his view of it, and not hers, as she wanted her heirs to have the money

Philip Trinier, husband of the previous witness, told of visiting Mrs. Burkholder some years ago. seemed glad to see him, and proposed visiting the cemetery with him that he might see her family monument, but later changed her mind, saying Mr. Davis might not like it. She told witness her mind was falling, and that she was paying Mr. Davis to attend to her business for her.

Mrs. Durham, of Scarboro, daughter of the plaintiff Mrs. Taylor, then gave evidence as to family history.

Biggest of Waterspouts

A column of water 60 or 70 feet in height, that covered an area nearly 100 feet square, was a sight that Capone of the defendants, and a niece of tain Liddle and the crew of the steam-Mrs. Burkholder, testified that she was the daughter of Andrew Piet, brother Mexico, off Campeche bank, saw on the morning of Sept. 16. Capit. Liddle, in describing the unusual spectacle, said: "It was about 6:30 in the morning of the 16th, when we were in latitude 23:14 and longitude 87:07, while off the northeast end of Campeche bank, in the Gulf of Mexico, that we observed a column of water whirling in the air at a height of apparently 60 or 70 feet, and covering an area that appeared to be 100 feet square.

"The column, which looked like a mass of steam, made a beautiful sight as it shot into the air. All around it the water was foaming and frothing like breakers in a shoal. As to what it was, I don't know; it looked like a volcanic eruption, though I never heard of any volcanoes in that region. It may have been due to an upheaval caused by an earthquake.

Capt. Liddle said that the spectacle was visible for half an hour, and that as the King Bleddyn gradually sailed out of sight of it, the water callmed down, and then suddenly rose again shooting a steaming column high into the air."—New York Times.

CHAPTER XXIX. It was all over; the two friends had met, and the meeting had been less tebrible than Dolores had feared. It touched her greatly to see the difference that years had made in the stately figure and handsome face of Lady Fielden. Her hair was white as snow and deep lines marked the fair

"I suffered much when my husband died," she said, "and it has changed me greatly; but you, Dolores—I expected to find you grown old. Why, my dear, you look as young as—oh, and for more heautiful than—when and far more beautiful than-when ou left us sixteen years ago! polores, it was very cruel, because I

"I could not remain," returned Dol-res. "If I had not severed myself from everything and everyone connected with the past, I must have died; and I had my two children for whom to dive. I could not help it, Lady Fielden. I did not want any human being to see how I suffered. You must forgive me. I have always thought of you with faithful love and affection"

"I do forgive you, but it is time this unnatural state of things was ended. Your children must take their place in the world.'

"But," said Dblores, "you forget that the shadow of their father's sin will rest upon them, no matter how beautiful or how good they are; people will point to my bright, beautiful Gertrude as the daughter of the man who deserted his wife and home."

"Do you suppose that the world will be so unjust as to visit the sins of the father on the children?" "I know it will," answered Dolores.

"You must not take so disheartening a view of the matter," said her friend.
"Ah, Lady Fielden, you know I am Think of my Gertrude, so beautiful and high-spirited and proud! Suppose that she went out into the world; men would admire her, but who would marry her, not knowing whether her father was living or dead, whether he was a disgrace to society

"Hundreds of men would love her for her own sweet sake, and marry her, notwithstanding the past," re-joined Lady Fielden, quietly. "Then there is Kathleen; what need to keep her in seclusion? So far as I can see, she has nothing whatever to do with the matter; no disgrace can in any way be reflected on her. It would be a most cruel injustice to keep her in ignorance of her real position."

"I have never intended to do so. Lady Fielden; I knew that when Kathleen came of age I must tell her the whole story."
"I consider," said Lady Fielden,

"that ever since your mother's death, Dolores, I have been your best friend; and now, my dear, I tell you very that all this must end. You take your own place in society, give the children theirs."

They were all together in the vine walk when Lord Fielden told them this. Dolores looked sad. She did not like the idea of losing the friends with who she had been so happy. There was a short silence, broken only by the murmur of the river and the song of the birds. It was Gertrude who spoke at last. She stood up alone, a perfect picture, framed by the boughs of a luxuriant lemon tree above her and purple violets at her feet.

"Mamma, I have something I wish to say. May I say it?" she asked, Dolores looked up in surprise. "Certainly, my dear," she replied:

No wonder that Harry lost his head and heart alike as he looked on the girl before him. She wore a pretty fantastic Venetian dress of white and gold, with violets in her hair and at her bosom. No jeweis marred the loveliness of her round white arms or the fairness of her graceful throat. Her long tresses of golden hair were drawn back from her face and fastened with violet ribbon. She looked so fresh, young and lovely. Happy the mother who had such a child! Her mother who had such a child! eyes were gleaming with a new light and were full of earnestness. Harry sighed as he looked. If he had been a young prince instead of a young nobleman, he would still have thought her a thousand times too good for

TANGLED SKEIN

Which Involves the Question of a Daughter's Legitimacy.

Woodstock, Nov. 21.-Richard John Boles was married here in 1853 to Catherine Sutherland. A son was born to them, named James Boles. When the boy was only 4 years old the father separated from his wife and located near the old fields of Lambton county. He changed his name to John Lewis and married Mrs. Emma Sessions, a widow with a son named Fred Sessions, living in Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left Lambton and came to reside in Midland, Mich. A daughter was born to them, and some time later domestic troubles arose. Matters reached a climax in a separation.

Mrs. Lewis-Sessions owned a farm of 40 acres in Lambton county, which according to the will was to be divided equally among her children at her death. This farm is the cause of the present action. Upon her death Fred Sessions took possession, but after-wards sold the property. Flora Lewis, his half-sister, has now instituted pro-ceedings against the owner to recover what she considers to be her share of the farm.

Mr. Mulock Has Too Much Work on Hand to Visit Australia.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Hon. William Mu-lock stated yesterday that he had no intention of going to Australia as the representative of Canada at the opening of the commonwealth parliament. It is understood that his name was put forward on account of the strong interest he took in imperial questions and because of the penny postage stamp which he was instrumental in giving to Canada and between Canada and other parts of the British Empire. Mr. Mulock is too busy a man at home to be spared away at the present time, more especially as parliament will be in session before he re-

The working people are the bone and sinew of the community. But hard work makes "bad backs," and no man can work well if his back aches and pains.

The toilers are the great sufferers from backache and kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills

are the great remedy for lame back and all kidney troubles.

They cure every kidney ill from backache to Bright's disease.

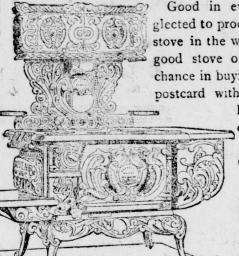

Mr. Wm. Anderson, the well-known carpenter, Parkhill, Ont., made the following statement: Seven years ago I was attacked by symptoms of kidney trouble which steadily grew worse. I had pain across my back and in both sides, sometimes also between my shoulders and across my eyes. I was much troubled with dizziness, drowsiness and tired, weary feeling. The urine was highcolored with a reddish, sticky sediment. I have taken Doam's Kidney Pills and must say that they have done me marked good. They have cured the urinary difficulty, removing the pain from my back and head, and I am glad to say that the dizziness, drowsiness and tired feeling have disappeared

TAYLOR-DAVIS

WILL CASE

-John Kay, who had been an inmate | Testimony of Several Witnesses Takon Yesterday Afternoon-Case in Progress When Court Adjurned.

> At the non-jury assizes yesterday the Taylor-Davis will case occupied the attention of the court all the afternoon, and the case for the plaintiffs had not closed before the adjournment of the court at 6:15.

Mrs. Lock of South London, said she knew Mrs. Burkholder since 1883, and considered her a very strange woman. Mrs. Burkholder was always of the opinion that she was going to be robbed or mundered. Mrs. Trinier, a relative, once came to see her, and she told Mrs. Lock that she did not understand the reason for the visit, except that it was to do away with her. She repeatedly said she was going to leave some of her wealth to Mrs. Trinler, and she led the witness to believe that she was going to leave some to Mr. Davis. During the last few years Mrs. Burkholder became very absent-minded, and would not know some of her closest friends. At times she would speak favorably of Archdeacon Davis, and at others she seemed annoved at him.

Mrs. Gilbert Coombs, of 386 William street, knew Mrs. Burkholder for many years. The deceased boarded with witness for three or four months, but Mrs. Coombs found her so eccentric and peculiar that it became necessary to have her board elsewhere. The witness, however, visited the old tady regularly up to the time of her death, and noticed the great change in her pondition. condition. Witness remembered her speaking of Mr. Davis on three different occasions as a rather selfish man.

Mrs. Mary Bratt, of Elmwood avenue, was an old acquaintance of Mrs. Burkholder, and considered her a very disagreeable, odd woman, who, in her opinion, did not use her husband when he was on his deathbed. Mrs. Burkholder talked strangely, once saying that she wanted to meet her dear husband in crepe when she died. Mrs. Bratt never considered Mrs. Burkholder capable of transacting any business or making a will. Mrs. Burkholder had boarded with Mrs. Margaret Kelly, of Bruce street, South London, for a year, beginning February, 1896. Mrs. Kelly considered Mrs. Burkholder to be most peculiar, almost of unsound mind. When living at Mrs. Kelley's Mrs. Burkholder was visited by Mrs. Trinier, her niece, who was made very unwelcome. Mrs. Burkholder stood in the door leading to her room, and as Mrs. Trinier entered she told her that she had no place for her there, and she might as well go away. Mrs. Burkholder spoke about giving her money to missions, and said Mr. Davis wanted her to eave him some money for the education of his boys for the ministry. Mr. Davis told her he was not able to do it himself, and that giving her cash as asked would be just as much mission work as giving it to a regular mad missionary society. Mrs. Burkholder did not like the idea very well. She use.

To Mr. Meredith witness admitted that she heard Mrs. Burkholder say she would not leave a cent to her relatives because of the way they neglected her in her old age. During her stay at the witness' Mrs. Burkholder said she had made a will, in which she remembered the minister.

Mr. W. Kelly, husband of the previous witness, gave similar testimony. Mrs. Eliza Gilson, of 628 Lorne avenue, met Mrs. Burkholder seven years ago. Mrs. Burkholder soon wanted to night, the question of some suitable make a confident of the witness. She mentioned the making of her will several times, and said she was inclined to a niece, the balance to be invested for ten years, and the income divided between the Algoma and Huron mis sions. She thought a great deal of Mr. Davis, who was her pastor for some Again she asked the witness advice in the matter, saying that Mr. Davis had repeatedly asked her to make a will in his favor. Mrs. Gilson told her to use her own judgment. Miss Frost, of Elmwood avenue, was another of Mrs. Burkholder's acquaintances. She had heard Mrs. Burkwas very kind to her. Mr. Davis, she said, wanted her to give him the proceeds of a sale of property, amounting to $1,400, to keep for her, but she refused. Mr. Davis also wanted her to leave $2,000 for his two eldest sons. While living at Mrs. Kelly's, Mrs. Burkholder told the witness that she had made a will, but she did not tell how her estate was being disposed of. After Mrs. Scott, of Colborne street, testified regarding the melancholy dis-position of Mrs. Burkholder, also to noticeable two years before her death, the caurt rose for the night.

A young man clerk in a large store in Kansas City had a curious experience with food, as related to He says: "About ten months ago, a dizziness came upon me each morning, kept growing worse and a headache would invariably come on in the afternoon and after meals I would have vomiting spells which would leave me very week; also there was a burning sensation in the locality of my heart, and many nights I have not slept a wink.

"A physician whom I consulted, told me to give up my position at once and go to some watering place for my health, for if I did not, it would only be a question of a snort time until death would claim me. I did not feel able to give up my position, but my condition kept getting worse, and finally my skin turned to a sort of greenish color, appetite left and I was thoroughly discouraged.

"About this time our grocer, by mistake, sent up a package of Grape-Nuts instead of some other goods ordered. I thought I would try it, having no idea that it would in any way benefit my health, but the first day after using the food I noticed a decided change in my condition. My severe headache did not appear usual, and I began to have an ap-

"I thought at first it was the effect of a medicine I was taking, but one of the family suggested that it might Grape-Nuts, for Grape-Nuts had the reputation of being a great nerve builder. In order to be sure, I quit taking any medicine whatever, but contined the use of Grape-Nuts.

"On the eighth day the dizziness en-tirely diappeared and the headaches were very slight. I felt almost like a new man, and in three weeks after I began using the food was entirely well, and am now in better health than I have ever been. My own case proves the truth of the claim that Grape-Nuts food is a great vitalizer and brain food." Wm. J. Woods 1717 Holmes street, Kansas City, Mo.

People are gradually learning that health depends on food, and the wiser the selection of food, the more perfect the condition of health. Grape-Nuts food is the most scientifically made food in existence, and is perfeetly cooked and ready for insien

P. C. WEIR'S DEATH

Popular Policeman Succumbs to Pneumonia -Funeral Tomorrow Afternoon.

After a week's illness from acute pneumonia, P. C. Robert Weir, one of the oldest and most popular members of the police force, died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at his residence, corner of Dufferin avenue and Adelaide street. Mr. Weir's death will come as a great shock to his many friends, owing to the sheatness of his illness. He was on duty on Tuesday of last week, when seized with the attack, which proved fatal. Until Sunday his condition was not considered serious, but he then became unconscious and gradually sank. P. C. Weir was born in Manchester, England, 56 years ago, and came to Canada at an early age. In 1869 he married Miss Annie Waxts, of London township. In March, 1875, he was appointed to the police force and proved himself at all times a most efficient officer. For several years past he has done station duty. He is survived by Mrs. Weir and one son. A sister, Mrs. Marshal, of Petoskey, Mich.; also suirvives. The funeral takes place on Thursday afternoon to the Memorial Church, where services will be conducted by Rev. C. C. Owen. The police force will attend in a body. Mr. Weir was a member of the Masonic fraternity, the Ancient Order of United Workmen, and the Canadian Foresters, from each of windch two pall-bearers will be chosen. The police force will also be represented by two.

Farland's Concert.

At the Auditorium last night Alfred A. Farland, the banjo virtuoso, of New York, for two hours held his hearers captivated with the delightful strains which he drew from an instrument which, however suitable for the production of popular music, has never been considered as a medium for the rendition of the most classical and difficult selections until elevated to that dignity by Farland himself. For this is what he has done for the banjo, and in his hands it has taken rank with the piano, the violin and the harp as a high-class musical instrument. To those who had never heard him before, Farland's playing was a revelation of what can be achieved by a master hand from the

"Iron head and ringing guts" of which Kipling sang, and those familiar with "The Song of the Banjo" must have had new meenings in it, discovered to them by Farland's performance. His playing was a marvel of orilliancy and execution, and his effects of shading, from the fairy-like delicacy of his pianissimo passage, to the sonorous quality of his fortissimo notes, seemed almost incredible. The De Beriot numbers, the Chopin "Choral Nocturne," and the Wieniawski "Grande Polonaise Brilliante" were indeed artistic in the true sense of that much-abused word. The programme was a judicious mingling of classic and popular numbers, and the large audience expressed to the full its thorough appreciation. The heartiness of the encores was equaled by Mr. Farland's graciousness in responding, with the result that the original programme of twelve numbers was lengthened to seventeen. They were: Second Concerto—(a) Allegro Maestoso, (b) Andantino, (c) Rondo Russe (De Beriot); variations on "Old Ken-tucky Home" (Farland); "La Cam-panella" (Paginini); "Choral Nocturne" (Chopin); Menuet (Schuecker); transcription, 'Tove's Dream is O'er' (Farland); Mexican dance, 'Manzanflio' (Robyn); Bolero, op. 12, No. 5 (Maszkowski); "Tripping Through the Meadow" (Farland); "Ell Green's Cake Walk"; "Cradle Song" (Hauser); "Serenata" (Moszkowski); Spanish dance, "La Peloma" (Yradier); Grande Polonaise Brilliante" (Wieniawski).
