

URGES CARE OF FEEBLE-MINDED

Dr. Margaret Patterson, addresses meeting of Women's Institute Delegates.

Eighty per cent of our social problems would be solved if we had proper places in which to care for the feeble-minded...

Dr. Patterson, in her address to the delegates, declared that the feeble-minded are a menace to the state...

She urged that the state should take responsibility for the care of the feeble-minded, and that the community should be organized to deal with them...

She also pointed out that the feeble-minded are a source of crime and that the state should take steps to prevent this...

Dr. Patterson's address was well received and she was warmly applauded throughout...

United States Elections. Some U. S. Democrats may be hardy enough to come forth and state that they expected the landslide in that direction.

The results of the polling show that there are forces at work that the administration of PRESIDENT HARDING can hardly hope to stem.

The government has lived through a series of years in which there was a great deal of unemployment, strikes, long, bitter and fatal, and these things are hard to meet when the electors turn to the ballot-box to pay their respects to the men they hold responsible for their evil days.

The tariff bill that became law only a short time ago has had the effect of making the cost of living jump. In fact, almost immediately the results noticeable, and when the pocket-book of the nation is touched there is a quick response in the way of an adverse vote.

The policy of alcoholism which the Harding administration has persisted in maintaining may have had nothing to do with the results, but there are many serious-minded people in United States who know that it is in the interests of United States that that country shall be represented in the affairs of the world.

The Canadian people have received no special consideration from the HARDING government. No tendency has been shown to trade with the people of the Dominion.

The United States ballot used in elections on Tuesday had an eagle over the Republican ticket, a rooster over the Democratic and a torch on the Socialist ticket.

China Watching Russia. A glance over the topics dealt with in recent magazines published in China shows that many of the articles deal with labor problems, and the manner in which they have been dealt with in other countries.

It is dangerously significant that many of these articles are based on the experiences in Russia of the Soviet government.

The recent changes in the Chinese alphabet, whereby the characters have been reduced from 8,000 to 39, means that reading is going to become a widespread art in China, and that the printed word is going to have a greater force with the common people than ever before.

A Canadian, who has spent many years in China, and who expects to return there shortly, stated to THE ADVERTISER that the Russians are busy carrying their propaganda to China, and that the theories of LENINE and TROTSKY are being persistently spread.

The Chinese as a people are at the point of starvation most of the time. The home, as we know it in Canada, hardly exists in China, because the amount that members of a family can earn does not permit of its establishment.

In such a ground there is a splendid chance to sow the seeds of discontent, bolshevism, or anything else that makes the appeal of liberation from present conditions.

Many of the manufacturers who start factories in China have been guilty of exploiting Chinese labor, and a wage notoriously low has been the result.

It history repeats itself, China will have its labor wars, or something worse, in the future.

The BOOKSHELF

SOME ESSENTIALS OF RELIGION: Vol. 1 of The Layman's Library of Practical Religion, issued by the Church of England in Canada. Macdon & Co., Toronto, 50c.

The demand is rightly made that the clergy should be adequately trained for their high calling; it is none the less essential to the efficiency of the church that the laity should be adequately educated in the vital truths of the faith.

There will not be real devotion, loyalty and enthusiasm unless the man or woman who has realized that Christ is the ground of her salvation, advances to a clear understanding of the various questions that center round the great verities of the faith: "Add to your faith, virtue," says St. Peter, "to virtue, knowledge" (II Peter, I, 5): Faith, character, knowledge—this is the order of growth.

The Layman's Library of Practical Religion represents a well-thought-out effort on the part of the Church of England in Canada to promote the education of the laity. The effort will assuredly not be in vain if the succeeding volumes measure up to the standard of the first one that is before us.

The seven brief chapters deal simply and clearly with the following topics: "God our Father" (Bishop Roper), "Fundamental Thoughts about Jesus Christ" (Bishop Bidwell), "The Bible" (Archdeacon Patterson-Smyth), "Faith" (Rev. H. M. Little), "Prayer" (Dean Owen), "The Holy Communion" (Bishop Donell), "The Sacraments" (Canon Goddard). In all cases the writers manifest a thorough grasp of their subjects, and they have succeeded well in the most difficult task of explaining in un-technical terms the profound truths of the faith. The book will find acceptance among people of all shades of opinion in the church who are loyal to the Bible and the Articles of Religion. The writers are fully conscious of the magnitude and sublimity of their subjects and feel keenly the limitations of space; but they know just where modern doubts and speculations would have them put the emphasis. Hear Bishop Roper on the error of Pelagianism: "God is distinct from his works. He is never separated from it. Is this difficult? An illustration may help us: If it is not pressed too far, an eagle is perched on the topmost bough of a tree. The great bird takes flight. It is in the air, and is upheld by it. The air is in the bird, in every quill, in every feather, yet the bird is not the air, and the air is not the bird. In God we live and move and have our being." But God is not man, nor man a part of God. Our faith in the holiness of God declares that He is within the world, but distinct from it, above it, around it, controlling it, making it the servant of His will. Reviewed by Rev. Professor F. Anderson, M.A., B.D.

H. G. WELLS' FAMOUS OUTLINE OF HISTORY The Romance of Mother Earth Gods, Priests and Kings—(Continued) TODAY'S INSTALLMENT—NO. 52.

IN the early days of Sumeria and Akkadia the city-kings were priests and medicine men rather than kings. Sumeria was only when foreign conquerors sought to establish their hold in relation to existing institutions that the distinction of priest and king became definite.

But the god of the priests remained as the real overlord of the land and of priest and king alike. He was the universal landlord; the wealth and authority of his temples and establishments outshone those of the king. Especially was this the case with the city walls of Hammurabi, the founder of the first Babylonian empire, is one of the earlier monarchs whom we find taking a firm grip upon the affairs of the community.

After dinner the next day Timothy went to the fair in the next county. Alice would have liked to go, but he never thought of asking her. She must cook for the farm hands. "I might as well go to the fair for my money," he observed, looking amiably at his wife. "Want I should bring you anything from the fair?"

She nodded, and he was amazed at the sparkle in her eyes. "Yes, bring me a surprise. I'm going to have one for you, Tim," she replied. "I may be real late, so don't have anything that will spoil," he returned gayly and drove off.

Several times during the crowded afternoon Timothy thought pleasantly of the surprise in store for him. He studied the catalogue and did so did the farm hand that she called in from the field to do some work for her. The lad was from the city, and was new to the place.

"Well, Alice, hope you didn't forget my surprise," Timothy climbed out of the wagon at his return. "Alice had changed her usual blue dress. She wore her best black slipper, and Timothy noted this as he stepped out of the wagon. "Won't you spoil your shoes when you feed the chickens or have you done it already?"

"Alice, with the excitement of her surprise, looked at him fixedly. His eyes dropped before the sparkle in hers. Really Alice looked fine when she moved. He found it expedient to vaguely through his mind as he watched her. "The surprise is down here." She led the way toward the stables, and Timothy followed her. "You for the last time. I shan't soil my shoes tendin' to the chickens because I shan't walk on the new cement walk you've laid down leadin' to the barns."

"What have the barns to do with your old chicken house?" he interjected. "This," she said, swallowing a big lump in her throat, but holding her head high as she threw open the door of the barn. "The chickens are coaxed here for the last time. I shan't soil my shoes tendin' to the chickens because I shan't walk on the new cement walk you've laid down leadin' to the barns."

ancestral temples. He also restored the Jews to Jerusalem. These were merely matters of immediate policy to him. But in bringing in the irreligious Aryans the ancient priesthood was paying too highly for the continuation of its temple services. It would have been wiser to have dealt with the innovations of Nabonidus, that earnest heretic, to have listened to his ideas, and to have met the needs of a changing world.

LOCALS WANT TO SHARE CELLAR WITH 'BURGERS'

Will Have Chance To Get Revenge On Sarnia On Nov. 18 — Cline Likely To Play Saturday Again.

COACH TOMMY ROWAN'S stalwarts will resume workouts tonight at Thomash Park in preparation for their game with Wallaceburg Saturday.

The games Saturday will probably tie up the group, as Petrolea has a chance to draw even with the Sarnia outfit by defeating them at home and London is eager to bring Wallaceburg down into the cellar, which they are unselfishly willing to share with the Orange and Black monogrels.

There are few things needing repairs and Saturday's mix, being a home affair, there should be no difficulty in mustering the London team at its strongest capacity.

Doc Cline will in all probability turn out Saturday on the half line, but otherwise there will be no new men. Coach Rowan will probably give all his men a chance to play Saturday if he can get an early lead on the burgers. The game was held for the first time in the second on Saturday shows that the London team isn't exactly all on paper, and to those who made the revival of O. R. F. U. football possible in London this year the team's playing has been highly encouraging.

Football teams are not turned out in a day or a night, and under many of the circumstances which cropped up, the club has done well to accomplish what it has.

Rowan's outfit will have nothing to do this week but keep in shape for the rush up on what football they've been able to absorb since they started.

It would not be surprising if, from the fans' point of view, Saturday's tilt should not be the best O. R. F. U. game of the season to watch. The Londoners won't admit the teams are even by any chance, but the hope shows that there is plenty of inspiration for their last two games of the season.

should be nip and tuck, unless the Londoners play up to the promise they showed in a condition and the Sarnia looking around for a way out.

The fact that London Central Collegiate Firsts are playing Woodstock College on Friday afternoon at Tecumseh Park will prevent the Sarnia game from a test as a preliminary game to the main game of the afternoon, but later arrangements may be made whereby the fans will see a double bill of rugby.

A further effort to beat Wallaceburg on Saturday and the revenge on Sarnia on Nov. 18 should supply the local crew with plenty of inspiration for their last two games of the season.

Consider the hardy Scot!

He knows that as long as he keeps his body good and warm, his exposed limbs can withstand almost any degree of cold.

This was proved by the gallant Highlanders in the late war.

Pure wool next the skin, the woolen-cloth kilt covering the vital organs; thus is the whole body protected and the health safeguarded.

In damp mist or driving sleet, the hardy Scot, clad with wool, braves the elements.

"CEETEE"

is made of pure, cleaned, Australian-merino long fibred wool, pliant, graceful and absolutely comfortable.

The wool-burrs that cause the itch and scratch in ordinary wool garments are all removed from Turnbull's "CEETEE" by a special and infinitely careful process.

Ceetee is the only Underclothing made in Canada that is reinforced at all the wearing parts.

Made in all sizes and weights for men, women or child.

SARNIA SET FOR HOCKEY

Will Enter Both O. H. A. and N. H. L.—Downing is Manager.

SARNIA, Nov. 8.—A decision has been reached by Sarnia hockey officials to again enter the Northern Hockey League and the Intermediate O. H. A. series this winter, and fans are therefore again assured of seeing good hockey played here, despite the fact that the campaign made during the summer for a new hockey arena failed. Considerable repairs will be made at the local arena, including the installation of shower-baths, and a departure will be made this year in that members of the intermediate team will not take part in city league contests.

At a meeting of the McKeown cup committee, held at the Richmond House last night, the dates for the two final games in the McKeown cup were arranged. The first game will be played at Springbank Park on Saturday, Nov. 25, at 3:15. The second game will be played at the same place on Saturday, Nov. 11, at 3:15.

EXPERTS ADVOCATE 2 YEAR MORATORIUM

Declare Financial Problem Cannot Be Solved Unless Mark Is Stabilized.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—The report of the experts who have been investigating economic conditions in Germany. Professors Keynes, Brand-Jenks and Cassel, advocate a two-year moratorium from reparations payments of cash or in kind, and stabilization of the mark on the basis of 2,500 marks to the dollar by utilizing the Reichsbank's gold reserve. The report contends that the financial problem cannot be solved unless the mark is stabilized and that stabilization would be impossible without a moratorium.

rency reserves the largest possible amount of free foreign assets of German nationals under conditions inspiring confidence; the board of exchange would issue gold bonds guaranteed by the Reichsbank at an adequate rate of interest, payable in gold in one or two years in exchange for foreign bank notes, bank balances, etc. The board of exchange would buy foreign exchange at spot and sell it for appropriate corresponding rates for various periods. Additional notes required to carry on the business of the country during the period of the return to normalcy would be issued by trade discounts and trade advances by the Reichsbank, and the sale of marks by the board of exchange against the receipt of foreign currency, and to the least possible extent, and for a period not exceeding six months, against further treasury bills issued to cover the budgetary deficit during the transitional period before the budget can be balanced.

G. T. R. ESTABLISHES RECORD AT TORONTO

MONTREAL, Nov. 8.—More cars, loaded and unloaded, have been handled in a seven-day period by the Grand Trunk Railways at Toronto than ever before in the history of these terminals. The Grand Trunk handled in all 25,343 cars as against 19,687 in the corresponding week of 1921. Both through and local freight traffic is heavy, and in a single day as many as 3,800 freight cars have been handled by the railway, making a new transportation record for Toronto.

SAYS CHINA IS BEARING CRISIS

Arthur Rugh Speaks at "Y" Luncheon on "What Next in China?"

That China is fast approaching one of the biggest crises in her history, and that in a short time an "explosion" will occur in that country, was the theme of a lecture given by Arthur Rugh, a student secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, who addressed a luncheon meeting of the senior members of the "Y" Thursday.

Mr. Rugh made a deep impression on his audience by his extensive knowledge of conditions, political, commercial and social, in the Orient, and by his deep insight into the dangerous position the Chinese millions find themselves in at the present time.

as well as a small part vaudeville comedian. Then he came to Canada, and came out as the apostle of prohibition, being "one time" secretary of the Dominion Alliance and a strong advocate of the temperance cause, often filling the pulpit in Newcomer.

He left Montreal for the Antipodes a couple of years ago and spent some time in New Zealand and Australia, returning and working in various trades, finally returning to Montreal and publishing The Axe. He has been well treated, lifting public morals and secure justice.

He also made requisitions for a brush and other personal articles, but this was refused him. When he goes to the common jail he will sadly miss the ordinary prison food and will have to comply strictly with all the regulations of the prisoners sentenced by the courts.

LARGE CONGREGATION HEARS TORONTO MAN

Daniel Finstone of Toronto Addressed Sparta Baptists on Consecration.

SPARTA, Nov. 8.—Mr. Daniel Finstone, a converted Jew, who is a business man of Toronto, preached in the Baptist Church Sunday morning last. A number belonging to other communions were among the worshippers who were attracted by this son of Abraham. He gave a very interesting talk on consecration. A special Thanksgiving offering of $20 was asked for.

Wilson Mills and Bagnel & Henderson, who are engaged in the apple business, have about completed their season's work. The former has packed 2,000 or more barrels, and the latter some 1,500 barrels. The work at both evaporators is completed, except packing of the dried fruit.

The Ladies' Aid of Dexter held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Austin Smith, with an attendance of about 30. The afternoon was spent quilting. A Bible reading was given by Mrs. Huser. SUFFERED SO FROM HEART AND NERVES LIFE WAS A BURDEN

Mr. A. H. Lee, Beamsville, Ont., writes: "I am delighted to let you know what I have to say regarding the good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did me."

A short time ago I suffered with heart and nerve trouble, and was so bad I could not sleep, only about two hours each night. My heart was so bad I had spells when driving on the road and would faint away, and neighbors would carry me in from my wagon. I also took these pills in the night and during my daily work on the farm. My nerves were so bad I would jump out of bed, and was then compelled to walk the floor before I could settle down again, but after taking a few boxes of

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called acid indigestion. Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach aches. Food ferments and sours, creating a distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart. It is the worst of follies to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Blaurated Hill in a quart glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and what might be called the acid lining out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Blaurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

POSTPONE PAYMENTS

Wirth Government Delivers Proposals To Reparations Commission.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—The German proposals delivered to M. Barthou, president of the allied reparations commission, although the text is withheld, are generally believed to be Germany's request for reparations modifications, strongly influenced by the findings of the committee of experts.

The Wirth government proposes organization of an international banking syndicate to negotiate control, stabilization and a loan, with the co-operation of the Reichsbank. The government also requests temporary exemption from reparations gold payment and deliveries of goods in kind and coal, and will agree to proceed with the work of building up the devastated areas, which enterprise is to be financed with an internal loan.

Women and children are shown in the driving rain, while scores crowd the platform of the shaft house waiting for news from below. Arrow points to the mouth of the shaft.

HON. F. C. BIGGS WILL OPEN NEW HIGHWAY

Brantford and Hamilton Citizens To Meet On County Line.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 8.—The Brantford-Hamilton section of the provincial highway will be formally opened on Wednesday, November 15, whether the road be completed by that date or not. Brantford will share largely in the opening, arrangements being made at a meeting held yesterday by Alderman W. Ballantyne, chairman of the board of works of the city council, W. H. Todd for the chamber of commerce, and George Harris, chairman of the Brantford and Brant County Motor Club.

Proceeding to the Brant-Wentworth County line, where they will be met by the Hamilton delegation. The ceremony of declaring the road formally open for traffic will be made by Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of highways.

On completion of the ceremony, the entire party will motor back to Brantford, then to Hamilton via the new road. A variety of cases greeted Magistrate Blake when police court opened this morning. Although there were only three on the docket, they were made of seven infractions of various laws and bylaws.

Two breaches of the motor vehicles loading act were dismissed with the customary fines. For being intoxicated over the week-end two offenders drew fines of $40 and costs. One case of a vicious dog was laid over till Friday, to allow Chief Donnelly to investigate the record of the animal.

BEGIN SEARCH FOR KIDNAPPED GIRL

Airplanes Comb the Barren Wastes To Find Trace of Missionary Helper.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Assisted by peaceful Eskimos, a British rescue party in an airplane is scouring the barren wastes of Labrador in a search for trace of the wild "fish fang" tribe, who, it is believed, have abducted Miss Marguerite Lindsay, a London society favorite.

Miss Lindsay, who is 24, went to Labrador to work with missionaries. She went over the objection of her mother and father, the latter a retired stock broker of wealth. Occupied Hut. She occupied a hut with another girl and one day announced her intention of going down to the sea to bathe. Her companion warned her not to go alone, but Miss Lindsay laughed and said she would be back for lunch.

ADVISE BUILDING FOR CHILDREN

Brantford Sanatorium Board Members Point Out Need of New Building.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 8.—The question of caring for children at the sanatorium was brought before the council by F. T. Watt on behalf of the sanatorium board. He suggested that a separate building should be erected by the board, and told the council that the present time children had to occupy the same building as those adults who were in an advanced stage of tuberculosis. This he maintained is not a satisfactory situation. He asked that the council would give $3,000. The Sanatorium Club offered to give $10,000 and the sanatorium would undertake to raise an additional $5,000.

Mr. Christopher Cook said that 34 of the majority that could be accommodated at the present time. Fifteen of these were under 19 years of age. The facilities at the present time were practically taxed to the limit and that a children's building was absolutely necessary. He was sure that he could get the structure furnished without any expense to the city. He did not think it wise to delay the matter as it was a case of necessity.

Mr. H. Spence spoke on behalf of the Shriner's Club, and told the council it was the desire of the club to help to get a building for the children. He suggested a two-story main structure and to erect two wings to take five beds each, this allowing the building to accommodate about 25 children. The club would undertake to make further additions in the future. Ald. Simpson thought that the city should take advantage of the splendid offer of the club. He thought that the matter be referred to the finance committee. He thought that he spoke for every member of the finance committee that all were in favor of the grant. The resolution was seconded by Alderman John Hill. Alderman Taylor said that the various sport organizations had $1,700, $1,800 in the bank which was going to be given to the sanatorium. The motion was passed unanimously.

EXPECTS RUSH FOR GOLD WILL OULTRIVAL KLONDYKE

SYDNEY, N. S. Nov. 8.—That Newfound and Labrador next spring will see a gold rush that will outrival the famous Klondyke stampede of 1898 is the opinion expressed by W. D. Harte, a veteran prospector, who has just come down from the north after staking extensive claims at Stag Bay, where rich strikes have been reported. During the last three weeks news of the strike has created a gold fever in Newfoundland, and more than 700 claims have been filed at St. Johns. The claims are large, comprising 320 acres each.
