DIRECTORS' CASE GOES TO ENGLAND

Hon. W. F. Nickle Confirms Report Lawyer On Way To Appeal Bank Decision.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Feb. 18.—Hon. W. F. Nickle, Ontario attorney-general, today confirmed the report that D. K. McCarthy, K.C., was on his way to England to ask the judicial committee of the privy council for leave to appeal against the decision that the Home Bank directors shall be tried by a judge without a jury.
Asked whether it was not true that the Dominion government for many years cut off appeals in criminal cases, Mr. Nickle said that was true, but the present appeal is an appeal on the question of a mandamus and was a civil proceeding. He said it was also true that ordinary interlocutory decisions in civil cases could not be taken to the supreme court of Canada.

Ontario Should Censure Theatrical Performances, Mothers of City Declare

Executive of Union Mothers' Club Holds Important Session Last Night.

O. T. A. IS INDORSED

Express Confidence in Education Board's Efforts To Better Secondary School System.

A request for provincial censorship of theatrical performances, indorsement of the O. T. A., and an expression of confidence in the board of education in its efforts to secure more adequate secondary school accommodation, featured last night's meeting of the Union Mothers' Club executive, held in the Technical School. Representatives from practically every mothers' club of London were present at this, one of the most important meetings of the year, over which Mrs. W. A. Tanner presided.

A very lively discussion took place over the question of censorship of theatrical performances. For three months representatives of the Mothers' Clubs of the city have been investigating the type of performance which is shown in the city, with the result that they feel a more rigid censorship should be brought into effect. It was pointed out that moving pictures were submitted to a provincial censorship, but that outside of the movie film there was no public censorship whatever.

The resolution, which is to be forwarded to the local Social Service Council, is to the effect that that body renew its efforts in pressing for provincial censorship, of not only moving pictures, but all performances.

The resolution regarding the secondary school question came as the result of a talk on the subject by Dr. A. G. Grant of the board of education. It is a resolution of confidence in the board in its efforts to provide adequate accommodation for secondary education, and trusts that the city council will grant the request of the board of education in this direction. This resolution is to be forwarded to the city council.

Resolution on O. T. A.
In discussing the question of support of the Ontario Temperance act, the mothers were of the opinion that their action in this direction could not be too strongly emphasized. The result was a resolution supporting the O. T. A., which will be forwarded immediately to the Provincial Legislature. It came as the result of a communication from the local branch of the W. C. T. U., asking that the women's organizations throughout the province voice their opinion on this matter before definite action is taken by the Legislature with regard to a new referendum.

Another important piece of business of last night's meeting was the granting of permission to the Trafalgar School to form a Mothers' Club in that district. A request to form the club came from Princess L. D. McCamus. This new club will make the twenty-second Mothers' Club in the city of London.

Organization is to take place on Friday, February 22, the president of the Union Club and two secretaries having been appointed an organization committee.

Dr. Grant pointed out how 1,355 College students were being educated in a city where there was proper accommodation for but 600 and that by next September that number would be increased to 1,500. He condemned the old Princess Avenue and Victoria schools as absolutely inadequate to accommodate high school students, and made a strong plea for new buildings in the east and south sections of the city. He declared that it was absolutely nonsense to go into the old Princess Avenue School building and talk about hygiene and sanitation, and condemned the old Victoria School as a fire-trap.

It would take less than three quarters of a mill on the dollar to provide adequate accommodation, in these districts, he said. And further, he declared that it was not always wise to consider the education of the children on the basis of hard-headed business. He believed the city council would be willing to support the program of the board of education, did the members feel that the people of London were behind that program.

CARTER ADVISED TO RESUME WORK

Government Demands New Start On Work in Tut's Tomb.

LAYS DOWN CONDITIONS

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Feb. 18.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Cairo says the Egyptian Government has given Howard Carter forty-eight hours in which to resume work in the tomb of Tutankhamen. In case he fails to do so, the despatch adds, his license will be annulled.

On the receipt of a message from Mr. Carter protesting against his exclusion and emphasizing that it was urgent he should be allowed to take precautions to safeguard the contents of the tomb, the minister, Mohammed Zagloul, in a note, expresses extreme surprise that Mr. Carter failed to take such precautions before closing the tomb, and reminds him that the measures of which he complains are due to his own action in refusing to carry out the program agreed upon by the minister.

The Egyptian Government has decided that Mr. Carter will be permitted to continue his explorations provided he accepts conditions formulated by the government.

These conditions stipulate that the work shall be carried out directly under control and direction of the government. The expense of continuing and completing the work is to be borne entirely by the government and the entire news service in connection with the tomb is to be undertaken by the government and distributed to the Egyptian and foreign press through a press bureau. In the event that Mr. Carter refuses to agree to these conditions the tomb is to be re-opened independently of him. He would then be free to take any legal action.

Associated Press Despatch.
Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 18.—A renewal of the present bituminous miners' wage scale for a term of three years was approved unanimously by the sub-committee of miners and operators of the central competitive field here today.

The agreement was counted as a victory for the miners and their international president, John L. Lewis. There is hardly any doubt that the policy committee and the full joint conference will give prompt approval.

M'MURRAY IS SILENT ON QUITTING CABINET

Canadian Solicitor-General Refuses To Comment On Recent Rumor.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Feb. 18.—Whether or not Hon. E. J. M'Murray, solicitor-general, has been offered to resign from the Canadian government because of business transactions between his legal firm and the Home Bank, is open to question. When he emerged from the privy council chamber this evening at the close of the cabinet meeting, Mr. M'Murray was informed that certain newspapers had announced that he had offered to resign.

QUALITY OF FLOOR SURFACE AT BOYLE HIT BY TRUSTEE

Rev. Roy D. Mess Denounces Methods Used—Clashes With Udy.

ESTIMATES DISCUSSED

Strenuous objections to the quality of floor surface laid at Boyle Memorial school and the suggestion that it should be taken up, made by Trustee Roy D. Mess, featured the meeting of number two committee yesterday afternoon.

Although the meeting was called primarily for the purpose of discussing the estimates of Captain Robinson, superintendent of works, other matters were taken up having no bearing on the estimates.

After carefully considering every school in detail, as far as repairs and renewals were concerned, it was found that it was possible to cut approximately $400 off the estimate of $17,400.

During the discussion on estimates the question of the medallion head of Lord Roberts, to be cut in the stone of that school was mentioned, and the secretary was instructed to write the contractor regarding it.

The matter of cupboards at Rectory street school was introduced by Mr. Mess. Chairman Bryden N. Campbell suggested that these be made by the boys at the Technical School, and that if this were done there would be very little cost to the city, besides giving the boys some practical work.

That marbles would roll under it, was one of the objections made to the erection of a wire fence at the rear of Rectory street school. The objection was raised by Mr. Mess. It was decided to replace the old wooden fence with a similar one.

Coal Question Delayed.
When the question of next year's coal supply was brought up, Captain Robinson stated that nothing could be done at present, as no dealers would sign a contract until April 1, the miners not fixing their price until March 31. The estimated amount for coal in the 1924 estimates is $22,035, as against $24,419 last year.

It was decided to pay the clerk of the works at Empress avenue school $125 monthly for the present, any change in the salary being a matter for the discussion of the board as a whole.

Following this, Mr. Mess took the stage. Turning to the chairman he said that he would like to ask some questions relative to Boyle Memorial school. He said he understood the contractors had sent in a request for the final payment, but that he had heard that yesterday they were back at the school doing some work.

"They have suddenly reappeared," said the trustee. "Things were going along at low speed, when without any warning and missing intermediate altogether, they jump into high. They have started working on the floors. They put some sort of wash, eye wash, I presume, on the surface to finish it off and prevent the dust from rising. Why have they suddenly become active? Is there something wrong with the flooring surface?"

He moved that the final payment be suspended until the dust preparation had proved itself. He also asked for the specifications regarding the surface.

Chairman A. N. Udy stated that he had been told the floor was a little rough, but otherwise O.K.

Asks About Overseer.
After reading the specifications, Trustee Mess asked who had seen to the carrying out of the architect's directions.

E. N. Campbell, chairman of the board, informed him that there had been no clerk of the works at the school when that work was done.

"The quality is O.K.," declared the architect. "They made the mistake of trowelling too soon with the result that it is a little thin in places. We have a year's guarantee on it any way."

"We want no more of these rotten floors," declared Mr. Mess. "We have too many of them now. It's time they were all ripped up and the contractors made to lay new ones. They are not up to the specifications."

"How do you know they are not up to the specifications?" interposed the chairman, A. N. Udy.

"Never mind about that," was his answer. "The top is not right and I know it. If it was all right why has it suddenly been gone over?"

Architect Carothers stated that he had received no complaint about the work until a week ago, whereupon he had examined it and found it not up to his standard. He had informed the contractors who had evidently started to repair the work. He had not passed the floor for acceptance.

"There is something wrong," again stated Mr. Mess. "The architect says he received no complaint until a week ago. I was told a complaint had gone into his office a month ago. Directly I begin to press this there is extraordinary activity by all. This floor matter is hard on my temperament and I want something done. We have not the right kind of floor. There is something wrong."

The matter was left with the architect and a committee appointed at the last meeting.

FIRST STEP TAKEN TO SECURE NEW COLLEGIATES

REPRESENTATIVE CITIZENS VISIT OLD COLLEGIATES

Council, Various Clubs and Parents' Associations Are Represented.

WILL GO TO WINDSOR

This afternoon the first visible concrete step towards securing new collegiates in London was taken when members of the board of education escorted representatives of the city council, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, London East and London South Parents' Associations and the Union Mothers' Club around the present collegiate units.

The party, in motor, left the city hall at 2 o'clock and first visited the old Princess Avenue School, now used as the London East unit. Following this, Central was taken in the party winding-up at the London South Collegiate.

Prior to this inspection, all matters dealing with new schools have been a matter of verbal discussion, the necessity for them being pointed out in many addresses made at different meetings in the city.

On Dr. Grant's suggestion, the inspection was undertaken in order that representative citizens might see the conditions under which the high school students of the city were working and the stage of overcrowding reached as well as the condition of the two old public schools now used for collegiate purposes.

The second step will be taken tonight when a deputation of the board, accompanied by the architect and Principal E. A. Miller, will leave for Windsor to inspect the new Windsor-Walkerville High School. This building, completed a year or so ago, combines the latest improvements, and while the aim of the London trustees is not for an elaborate building, they feel that the best points of several should be picked out and crystallized into a complete whole. After inspecting the Windsor-Walkerville school, it is likely that the party will journey to Sarnia and look over the collegiate at that center.

Following their return to London, the same deputation may travel up to Kitchener, Galt and Guelph, although this has not been definitely decided.

WOMAN GIVEN FREEDOM ON PAYMENT OF FINE

Magistrate Warns Sentence Must Not Be Taken as Precedent.

Because former employers testified to her honesty and industry, Magistrate H. M. Graydon exercised extreme leniency in sentencing a local woman $250 and costs on a charge of theft in police court today.

"It always distresses me to impose sentence," said the court, "but on a woman it is doubly hard. However, this woman had no excuse for wholesale theft of articles from the Empire B. B. Company, such as some prisoners might have. Poverty was unknown to her. Her offence was apparently prompted by avarice and greed, nothing else."

William Henderson, counsel, read letters which said the latter was in good repute among former employers. He stated that the woman would suffer if she was sentenced and spoke of the shock it would be to the husband.

The court stated that was no excuse. The woman had been found in possession of numerous tape, plumbers' supplies and other articles taken from the company in which she was employed over a period of a year or more.

In imposing this light penalty, the magistrate concluded, "I don't want it to be taken as a precedent for any future case."

THIRTEEN PERISH AS N. Y. TENEMENT FALLS TO FLAMES

Occupants of Flimsy Structure in New York East Side Are Trapped.

BELIEVED INCENDIARY

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Feb. 19.—Thirteen lives were snuffed out in a few minutes in a fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, which early today swept from basement to roof of a five-story tenement in the heart of New York's Lower East Side Ghetto.

Seven of those killed were children. The blaze, fanned by a draft from the tenement's open front door, flared up the stairs, blocking escape of the eight families who occupied the building.

Some of those in the two upper stories, awakening to find the flames at their bedside, met death before they could even try to brave a dash through the roaring furnace with which they were confronted.

Terrified on opening their hall doors to find a vortex of flame rushing down from the roof through the smoke-choked corridor, the families on the lower floors retreated in panic to the windows from which they managed, in some cases by seemingly impossible means, to reach safety. Several were severely burned; others were injured in falls.

Of the dead, five were boys and two girls, four women and two men. One of the children who lost his life was an infant, whose charred body was found at the breast of its dead mother.

The fire was discovered by a passing policeman who saw smoke and flames rising against the inner side of a window. He rushed into the house and up the stairs, hammering with his fists on doors and shouting a warning.

Descending flames checked at the roof and whipping their way downward stopped him before he reached the upper stories. The front door was open as he entered, and as he dashed out he saw Louis Choenfeld, a news vendor, running from the entrance with three men at his heels. He took all four to a police station where Choenfeld, who appeared to police to be mentally deranged, babbled in answer to all questions:

"I haven't got any matches; you can search me."

Later Dr. Charles S. Rubenstein of Gouverneur Hospital, recognized him as a man he had treated several times for epileptic seizures, and who, he added, had come to him for treatment late last night about an hour before the fire was discovered.

He said several days ago he had taken two stitches in a cut on Choenfeld's head, and that last night he had removed the stitches.

Fire-escapes at the back of the building were cut off by fast approaching flames. Those on the third floor of the Lifschitz and Pabes families, including Mrs. Lotta Lifschitz, 90 years old, jumped to the roof of a lower adjoining building.

Mrs. Lifschitz was assisted through a skylight on the adjoining structure and taken unharmed to the street. A fireman caught in his arms a child who had jumped or been thrown from an upper-story window. At the hospital, where the child was taken, it was said recovery was probable.

Election Tangle Still Unsolved As Acting Mayor Wilson Leaves For Ottawa.

Special to The Advertiser.

Windsor, Feb. 18.—The city is without a mayor again today and no date has been set by officials at the city hall for the new elections ordered last week by Mr. Justice Logie in the court of appeals at Toronto.

These were the developments over the week-end in the unprecedented situation caused by a supreme court decision handed down last week, which declared elections held Dec. 2 void because of irregularities.

Miss Martha A. Dickinson, city clerk, said today she hoped to have a ruling Wednesday as to whether the board of education would have to be re-elected and the hospital bylaws voted on again.

Former Mayor Herbert W. Wilson, who assumed the duties of mayor Saturday, left for Ottawa today. It was expected Frank J. Mitchell, ousted mayor and chairman of the finance committee, would act as mayor until he returned. Mr. Mitchell did not appear at the city hall, however.

POSTAL CLERKS FACE TRIAL ON THEFT CHARGE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Moose Jaw, Sask., Feb. 19.—Charged with robbing the mails, H. A. MacDonald, C. D. Armour and J. T. B. McElroy, Dominion postal clerks, were arrested here yesterday and were remanded for a week when arraigned in court. The thefts which they are accused of are said to involve a valuable "parcel post" package.

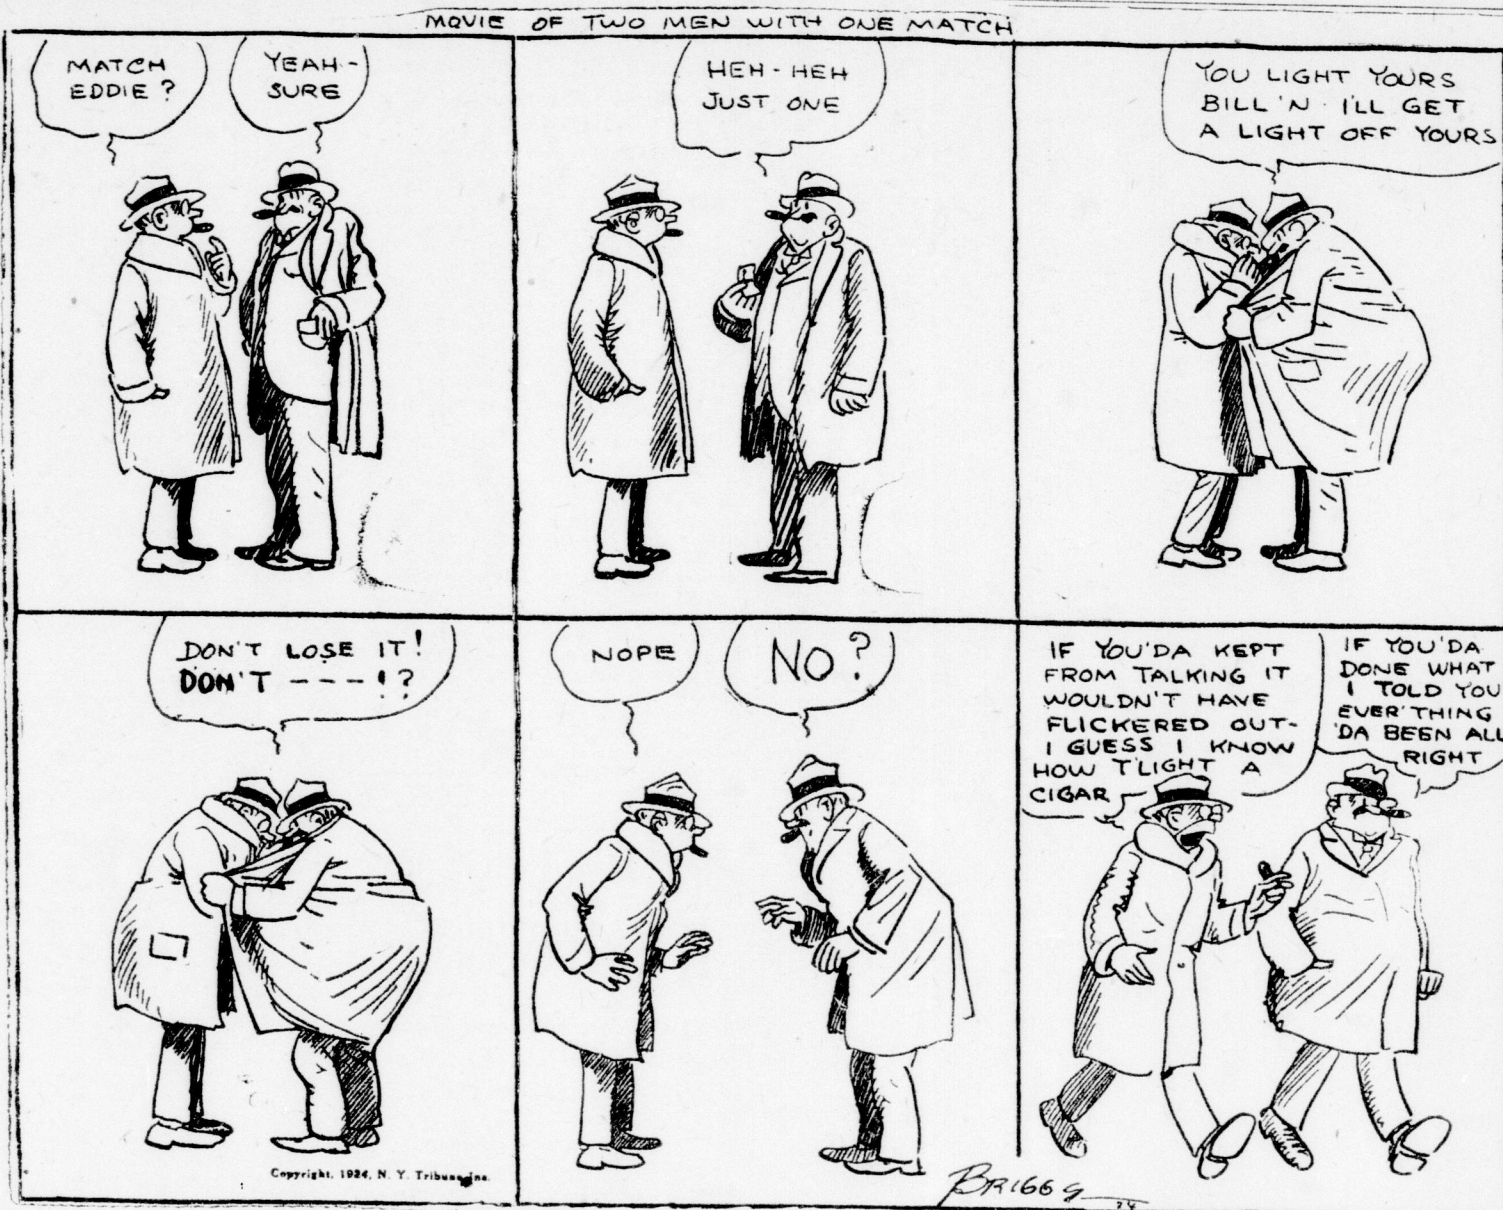

PLAN FURTHER ACTION.

London's baby "crop" bears little promise of being an abundant one during 1924, if statistics at the city hall since the beginning of the year may be taken as a criterion.

The figures show births in the city since the beginning of the year to be almost 25 less than for the same period last year, there being only 100 babies brought into the world during January.

It is difficult, however, to state exactly whether males or females predominate. Up to the present the females show a slight gain over the males.

DEEP THERAPY X-RAY INSTALLED

Dr. Glasser of Cleveland Standardizes New Machine in Victoria Hospital.

The deep therapy X-ray outfit at Victoria Hospital, which has recently been installed at a cost of $5,000, was inspected and standardized yesterday by Dr. Glasser, X-ray expert of Cleveland.

The new apparatus is to be used for the treatment of cancer and similar diseases.

Dr. Glasser complimented physicians at the hospital on the efficient manner in which the machine was installed and the splendid protection afforded both the operator and patient from the penetrating rays of the machine.

The outfit is installed in a large room with walls thickly lined with lead sheets to offer resistance to the X-rays. The machine can be operated from an adjoining room, the operator having a full view of the patient through a pane of lead glass. The patient lies on a bed so designed that only the portion of his body which is to undergo treatment is exposed to the rays.

MAYOR ATTACKS ADOLESCENT ACT

Suggests Advantages of Higher Education Only Suitable For Professional Men.

Mayor George Wenige is not making the rounds of the schools this afternoon with members of the board of education and such representatives of other civic organizations as have been invited.

"I don't need to go," the mayor explained. "I have been in all the schools. I know conditions there. I do not need to go again as I have had my answer to the school trustees ready for months past."

"Let each teacher have a larger class," advises the mayor, and do not education those students who are not fitted for the professions. There they will simply mark time until they have reached 16 years of age, to comply with the provisions of the adolescent school law.

The mayor agrees with the claim advanced from time to time by some public men that the adolescent school act should be optional for children of 14 years of age or older. They should be allowed to choose one of two courses, remain at school or go to work; and if they do not appear to be specially adapted for art or other professional occupations, but are of the mechanical turn of mind, allow them to leave school.

RUSHING BUSINESS IN THE POLICE COURT

Agony of Dentist's Chair Leads to Painkiller and $10 Fine.

"In again, out again, back again, Rush."

This paraphrase of the ancient melody describes the experience of Daniel Rush, whose visit to the police department Saturday last was apparently so enjoyable that he returned this morning. Saturday he paid $10 and costs for being disorderly. Immediately after his release, Rush rushed to a dentist, had two teeth extracted and took a couple of snorts to alleviate the pain.

Then Mr. Rush rushed into the hands of a police officer and was rushed to jail in the patrol. This constituted the second arrest of his life, and the second in three days.

"I only had one or two drinks," the prisoner explained. "To Our Province" was proposed by Mr. W. C. McKelvey and replied to by Rev. J. Culp of Tara and Dr. Hacking of Tara. Rev. Mr. Dinick of Arkwright proposed the toast to the guest of the evening, Warden Sinclair. The final toast, "To Our Ex-Reeves and Douglass and replied to by Messrs. J. M. Cleoman, Howard McFadden and J. J. Corbett.

Solos by Miss Dorothy Patterson and J. F. Brunton were delightful features of the program. Township Clerk C. A. Speer and County Clerk D. Forrester combined with the committee in preparing the interesting program.

PUBLIC UTILITIES EXPLAINS SYSTEM

Manager Outlines Cause of the Trouble in Trimming City Trees.

Again complaints are being made by the Horticultural Society regarding the tree trimming being carried out by the public utilities commission, with this suggestion added to the complaints, that in trimming the centers of the trees should be cleaned out, allowing the branches to grow upward.

Mr. Buchanan, general manager of the commission, when speaking about the alleged butchers who are breaking declared he had every confidence in E. E. Graham, parks superintendent, who is in charge of the trimming. He also pointed out that the work was being done as a measure of unemployment relief.

Referring to the suggestion that the center of the trees taken care of, Mr. Buchanan stated that the mistake was not with the present, but rather with the past, as when it was seen that branches were breaking out a short height above the ground they should then have been trimmed and not allowed to grow into substantial dimensions. To cut the center brush out of a tree now would not tend to make the heavier limbs grow upwards.

Drugs claim they are enjoying a splendid trade in cold creams and other materials that rid the hands of chaps. A big demand is also registered for drugs to assuage the sting of frost bitten ears.

CATTLE EMBARGO SOON TO BE LIFTED

Hon. W. R. Motherwell Declares Ban Was Only Intended To Be Temporary.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—The lifting of the newly imposed cattle embargo may be expected almost hourly, according to Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, today. The minister stated that the embargo was designed to locate disease that has broken out among Irish cattle and that in order to do this the British authorities had found it necessary to close all ports for a brief period.

Mr. Motherwell stated that there were very few, if any, Canadian cattle in transit at the present time, and any loss suffered would be trifling. A similar embargo was imposed last fall, said the minister, but at that time a few ports were left open to take care of the Canadian trade. In this instance the embargo is of such a temporary nature that it should not cause any alarm or affect the trade.

PETTY CASH ACCOUNTS FOR CITY HALL HEADS

But City Treasurer Doubts Their Success or Their Economy Value.

The proposal has emanated from the city council to practice further economy by providing all city department heads with "petty cash accounts."

City Treasurer Bell questions the suggested economical feature, pointing out that the existence of a cash account will not obviate the necessity of using vouchers for every purchase, unless the council desires to upset their regulations as to "declarations."

On each voucher is a declaration to this effect that "no member of the council or officer of the corporation is benefiting, directly or indirectly from this transaction."

How to circumvent this declaration with a cash payment system is a problem for the councillors, the treasurer points out.

COUNCIL FEELS LOSERS SHOULD BE RECOMPENSED

Will Urge Government To Aid Depositors in Home Bank.

TILE IS CRITICIZED

Monday Night's Session Shortest and Quietest in Two Years.

The quietest and shortest regular session of the city council during the last two years was staged last night, with Ald. L. H. Douglass, chairman of the finance committee, presiding. Strict necessity compelled Mayor Wenig's presence elsewhere, but he arrived in time for a few words before Ald. Drake's motion to adjourn.

Routine items and recommendations from the finance committee and the board of works were dealt with, the majority meeting with general approval.

The proposal from the board of health to ask the board of education to allow school nurses to be placed under the control of the former was snowed under, Ald. Douglass recognizing the support of Ald. Frank McKay alone in this measure.

One representative of the Welfare Association, H. J. Root, appeared, presumably to ask the city council to place a mill in the tax rate to be at their disposal. Others of the deputations had evidence arranged to be there at 8:45 o'clock, but at that time the councillors had completed their business. In any event, members of the finance committee pointed out that, in the regular order of business, the association should make its initial request to the committee.

When Ald. Greer, chairman of the board of works, reported that certain concrete tile in use on the Wellington-High street sewer job had shown defects, Ald. Douglass recalled that he alone, as a member of the 1923 board of works, had voted against the purchase of the tile in question.

City Hall Economy.

Ald. Allan Tove submitted notice of motion that he would move, in the interests of greater economy and economy in city hall offices, that departmental heads be furnished with certain funds for petty cash accounts.

Ald. Anderson moved, seconded by Ald. Gordon Drake, that the members of No. 1 committee consider the proposed amendments to the market bylaws. Ald. Smith moved and Ald. Walsh seconded a resolution of condolence for Mrs. William A. Wilson, relict of the late ex-Ald. Wilson.

The council gave final approval to the following recommendations already submitted from the respective committees:

1. Introduced a bylaw to authorize the construction of a sheet asphalt pavement on Langarth street, from Edward street to the Wharfedale road.

2. Approved the formation of a central relief bureau in the city hall, under the control of Relief Officer McCullum and No. 1 committee, and that the several relief organizations be assured of the city's co-operation.

3. The Ontario Legislature will be petitioned to amend the assessment act to increase income exemption from $200 to $300 for each dependent.

4. The Ontario Legislature will be asked to enact a more favorable business tax.

5. The federal government will be asked to recompense 2,000 local Home Bank depositors for their recent losses through the collapse of that institution.

6. The Canadian Board of Railway Commissioners will be asked to re-open the Alberta coal question.

7. The Sarnia Bridge Company was awarded the contract, at a cost of $515, to move the butchers' pavilion.

FIFTY THOUSAND WOMEN would comprise a vast army, yet that is the number who have replied to the questionnaire recently sent out by the Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co. of Cohasset, Ont. Ninety-eight out of every 100 letters from these women contained positive assurance that they have been benefitted or restored to health by taking this old-fashioned root and herb medicine. This is most remarkable evidence of its power over the ills of women. Therefore, with 98 chances out of 100 that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such ailments for you, why should you continue to go through life in pain and suffering?—Adv't.

LOEW'S PRESENTS SPLENDID FILM WITH FINE CAST

Pathe Shows Exclusive Pictures of "Granites"—Percy Mar-mont in Feature Film.

"SWEETHEARTS" PRETTY

Local fans paid tribute to the Toronto Granites yesterday at Loew's, thus unwittingly making the Pathe film the center of attraction on the picture program. Pathe shows exclusive pictures of this famous Canadian hockey team just before they left for the Olympic sports on the other side of the Atlantic.

The news film this week is of special interest also because it shows the new premier of Great Britain and his associates in office in remarkably fine poses, and from an unusually fortunate angle the photographer has caught the king and queen on their way to the opening of the first Labor parliament, amid all the historic pomp which has been associated with this event.

"The Man Life Passed By," a Metro picture, is the feature. Percy Mar-mont does some fine dramatic work with the opportunity afforded him as an inventor whose patents have been swindled from him by a capitalist. It is a picture of rather more sombre effect than usual, though there are moments of lightness and comedy. Its chief distinction is the cast, which includes Hobart Bosworth, Cullen Landis and Jane and Ed. Novak.

"MONKEY SHINES" BEST BURLESQUE TO VISIT LONDON

Comedy At Grand Theater Is Clever, Clean and Refreshing.

CHORUS BEAUTIFUL

After seeing "Beef Trust Beauties," "Monkey Shines," the burlesque showing at the Grand Theatre the first part of the week, comes as an exceedingly welcome successor.

"Monkey Shines" is one of the most entertaining productions on the Columbia circuit.

George Shelton's comedy has a lot to do with the pleasure one receives on seeing this first-class show, but the vivacity and beauty of the chorus run an excellent second. Appearing in a variety of becoming costumes, and revealing exceptional dancing ability, the 25 or more girls comprising it are to be congratulated for their all-round good work.

All the scenes in "Monkey Shines" are arresting, original and eminently suitable for getting the best out of comedy situations, with which the show abounds. Written and produced by Messrs. Clark and McCullough, who recently forsook Columbia burlesque to engage as chief entertainers in Irving Berlin's "Music Box Revue," the production bears all the earmarks of high-class direction.

Fifteen attractive scenes make up the show, with a dozen musical numbers that are tuneful and jingly. Mae Myers, who yodles, sings and dances pleasantly, and Miss Harrison, a plump comedienne, are pretty leaders of a bevy of girls who form an ensemble of sprightly and graceful dancers. Half a dozen choice members of the chorus render special dancing numbers which charm the audience.

George Shelton is a born comedian, and knows how to extract the highest possible element of humor out of every situation. Some of his jokes were a bit cobbled, but the few under this classification were so good as to be worth telling twice.

There is nothing pretentious or extraneous about "Monkey Shines." It is a show which is guaranteed to keep its audiences entertained for two hours and a half, and that is no easily filled order. It fulfils this requirement, and when Shelton appears the urge to laugh becomes perpetual.

"Monkey Shines" is crammed full of features, each distinct and possessing an originality which makes the show one of the most satisfactory of its kind seen here for some time.

FISHERMEN'S GRIEVANCE OVER NETS IS SETTLED

New Mesh Standard Places
Americans, Canadians On Equal Basis.

AFFECTS LAKE ERIE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—At a conference here today between representatives of Ontario and United States fishermen and the provincial minister of mines and fisheries the old grievance as to the size of the mesh in fish nets was settled.

The new standard adopted will not come into effect until the conclusion of the fishing season of 1924-1925, but in the meantime the government will recognize a system of measuring which will put Canadian fishermen on an equal basis with the American in international waters. The meshes of the nets now are to be measured when the net is wet and stretched. This is the system in the United States. In the season 1925-26 the mesh of the nets is to be three and one-sixteenth inches.

The conference more particularly affects Lake Erie fishermen, and representatives were present from the states of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. The present law allows the use of a three-inch mesh, but the Canadian fishermen complained that the conditions under which the nets are measured forced them to use a larger mesh than the regulations governing the United States fishermen. It was decided that for this year the same system of measurements as prevails in the States would apply in Ontario, and next year the mesh will be 3 1-16 inches.

The agreement for the 3 1-16 inch of Winnipeg, solicitor-general for Canada, who offers to resign from the federal cabinet if his present position with the Home Bank is an embarrassment to the government.

mesh arrived at today provides: "The new 3 1-16 inch rule shall be settled and determined by representatives of the respective states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan, the federal government at Ottawa and the province of Ontario. Fishermen may acquire nets of three-inch stretched measure up to the first day of July, 1924, after which time purchased shall conform to the new measurement of 3 1-16 inches stretched measure. All 3 1-16 inch rules hereafter shall be stamped and authenticated by the government of the state."

FERGUSON WINS ON STRAIGHT VOTE IN LEGISLATURE

Government Supported As
Doherty Want of Confidence
Move Is Lost.

HOLD NIGHT SESSION

Speakers Urge U. F. O. To Join Liberals To Form Opposition.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—On a straight party vote tonight the government carried Premier Ferguson's amendment to the amendment to the address expressing confidence in the administration in the Ontario Legislature. Hon. Manning Doherty's want of confidence amendment was lost on the same division.

Mr. Ferguson's amendment to the address in reply to his honor's speech from the throne, which the House carried, was: "This House desires earnestly to assure your honor that the measures referred to in the speech from the throne, and especially those relating to agriculture, will receive its most earnest and most helpful consideration." Determined to bring on the budget at today's session, Premier Ferguson declined the request of Peter Heenan, Labor member for Kenora, for leave to adjourn the debate on the address this afternoon, compelling a night sitting. Resuming at 8 o'clock, Mr. Heenan caustically commented upon what he considered the premier's lack of courtesy to himself and the Labor forces of the province. He said he would not speak to empty benches, and reserved the bulk of his address for another occasion.

Assails Government?

As a Northern Ontario man Mr. Heenan assailed the government for appointing under the guise of an under-secretary for the north country, what he interpreted as a Northern Ontario Conservative organizer. He declared that "anybody could no more afford to have its representative wandering off into other constituencies than other constituencies would brook his interference."

Outstanding in nearly a dozen speeches which marked the wind-up of the debate on the address was the contribution of E. P. Proulx, Liberal member for Prescott.

Besides Mr. Proulx, J. W. Sangster and E. P. Teller, Liberal members for Glenora and North Essex, contributed to the discussion, as well as J. W. Widdfield, Progressive member for North Ontario, R. H. Kemp, Progressive, Lincoln; J. A. McCausland, Conservative, Southwest Toronto; R. R. Wigle, Conservative, Center Huron, and Peter Heenan, Labor, Kenora.

This afternoon Hon. W. E. Raney drew the attention of the attorney-general to the report of a police court case in which two breweries were charged with breach of the Ontario temperance act. Two charges had been dropped against them, after they pleaded guilty to one charge and the minimum fine imposed.

Hon. Mr. Nickle, replying, said the department felt it could not sustain the three charges, and asked Mr. Raney if he would have done differently. Mr. Raney said he would have, and that while he was attorney-general there were instructions not to bargain with the defence. J. W. Widdfield (U. F. O., Northern Ontario), continuing the debate, said there were 46 farmers in this Legislature. He said the Farmer group in the house was not class conscious, but citizen conscious. He declared that the premier in not recognizing the U. F. O. as chief opposition had contravened a statute.

Speaks on O. T. A.

James McCausland (Conservative, Southeast Toronto) said the Liberal and U. F. O. would soon be one, as the people realized that party government was the best after "one dose of speaking of the O. T. A. he said:

"Some of the present members of the government when they sat in opposition had condemned the O. T. A. But," he added, "the elevation to power has had a chloroforming influence." The announced government legislation, Mr. McCausland said, might mean much of nothing. It might mean a vote immediately or not until 1926. If there was not a vote soon he would fight for it in the House.

E. Proulx (Liberal, Prescott), said the U. F. O. had better join the Liberals so there could be a strong opposition against a government which had too much house majority to be warranted by the popular majority it had in the election.

The premier, he said, had played a double game on the O. T. A. in the election, and he was not yet clear on his policy. "His stand now looks as if he were inviting pressure," said Mr. Proulx.

Education in Ontario, he said, was too much centralized in Toronto, and he advocated greater grants to outside universities and colleges. He thought grants to rural and separate schools should be based more on attendance and not so much on the qualifications of the teacher.

He declared that the government should assume 100 per cent of the cost of provincial highways, instead of making the counties pay 20 per cent.

Help For Fruit Growers.

R. H. Kemp (U. F. O., Lincoln), spoke in some detail of the problems of the fruit grower. By a splendid system of co-operative marketing United States growers were able to sell in Canada to the detriment of the home producer. He gave figures to show that Canada in the last two years had, in some cases, doubled their purchase of fruits from the United States.

The solution was better distribution of the Ontario fruit and it could be accomplished with government assistance.

E. R. Wigle (Conservative, Center Huron), said the U. F. O. had done its utmost to get rid of Premier Ferguson in politics.

He wanted the establishment of an office in Detroit to convince Canadians going to United States that Ontario had better chances for them.

He complained of the differences in power rates in small towns to those in the cities. "Hydro seems to work for the benefit of the large centers," he said. Mr. Wigle said the farmer was no harder up than other businessmen. He was not in favor of the province paying 100 per cent on provincial roads.

E. P. Teller (Liberal, North Essex), in his first address in the Legislature, declared himself to be a straight follower of W. E. N. Sinclair, the provincial Liberal leader, and congratulated the premier upon his choice of an official opposition leader.

Mr. Teller criticized a system of highways taxation which compelled the farmer on the back concessions to pay heavily for good roads of no immediate benefit to him, and opposed the system of collecting amusement taxation from every rural social affair and amateur athletic event.

Odds and Ends

BY THE HAIR ROUTE.

Chatham, Eng., Feb. 18.—When William Alfred Wright, an able-bodied seaman in the Royal Navy, appeared in court to answer a charge of ill-treating a seventeen-year-old schoolgirl he told a strange story. He had tried, he said, to get out of the navy on several occasions but had failed, and as a last resort he cut off the hair of Miss Nellie Daniels while she was seated in a tram car. He was sentenced to 21 days' hard labor.

STILL A MYSTERY.

Bath, Eng., Feb. 18.—Determined efforts have been made by the Bath police to solve the mystery of the disappearance over a year ago of Miss Florence Appleby, a wealthy and eccentric lady. Armed with lanterns and a distasteful warrant for unpaid rates, police broke into a derelict mansion belonging to Miss Appleby. Although it had been suggested by words chalked on the door that she was "dead and murdered" inside the house, there was nothing in the dust-laden rooms to indicate her whereabouts. Furniture sufficient when sold, to meet the rates claim was taken away, and the house remains as big an enigma as ever.

BABY DIES BY HANGING.

Hull, Eng., Feb. 18.—Patricia Graham, 10-months-old child, was found dead hanging by her nightgown from a spike on the bedstead. That her fate was accidental is the opinion of the coroner. The child had been put to bed with another child, aged 2, and the parents on returning after visiting discovered the tragedy.

SLOW DELIVERY LETTER.

Brighton, Feb. 18.—A love letter, posted over 17 years ago has just reached its destination. Bearing a local postmark "July, 1906" has been delivered to Herbert Knott, a market gardener, of Gravel road, Bromley Kent. Mrs. Knott found that it was a love letter she wrote, when 17 years old, while on a holiday at Brighton.

HURRAH FOR US!

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 18.—Americans are the outstanding men of the twentieth century, in the opinion of President M. L. Burton of the University of Michigan. His selections are Theodore Roosevelt, Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Orville Wright.

BRITAIN LIKES RADIO.

London, Feb. 18.—More than 12,500 miles of aerial wire have been erected in Great Britain in the past 12 months, so much has the radio craze seized the public. It is estimated by officials of the British Broadcasting Company that 2,000,000 persons are entertained daily at a cost of a farthing each.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

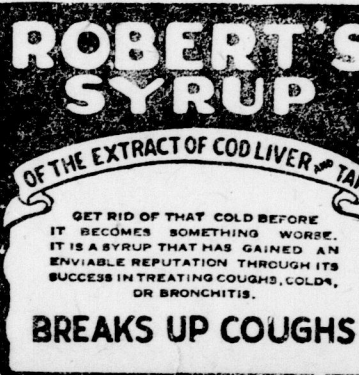

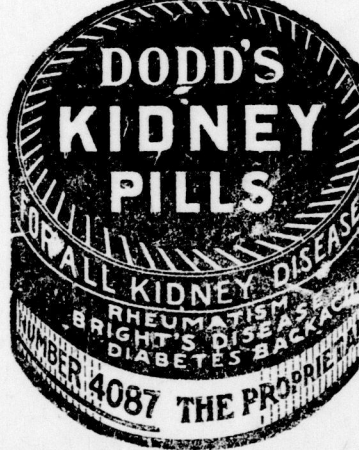

London, Eng., Feb. 18.—Police are completely baffled by a mystery which surrounds the death of Samuel Sharpe, 33, caretaker of a house in Norfolk Crescent, who was found asphyxiated in front of a lighted gas fire from which there was no leakage. The West London coroner at the inquest admitted the case to be most puzzling.

REVEAL SEA TRAGEDY.

Southampton, Eng., Feb. 18.—The mystery surrounding the identity of a vessel sunk on the Isle of Man was solved by divers when they discovered it to be the steam trawler Angle, owned by the Croston Steam Trawling Company, Fleetwood. Her crew of eleven are believed to have perished, as no trace of them has been heard since January 10, the night of the storm.

DOUBTS STRANGE TALE.

Eastbourne, Eng., Feb. 18.—No credence is attached by the coroner to an amazing story in which a domestic persisted, even on her deathbed. The girl, Emily Florence Austin, of Grove road, declared that a tramp came to the back door, and after saying "I am starving," threw methylated spirit over her and a lighted match. She was discovered by her mistress looking like a pillar of flame. No evidence was forthcoming to corroborate or disprove the girl's story.

DENNY BROOKS

A STORY OF COURAGE
By ELENORE MEHERIN.

CHAPTER C. The Threat

"Yes, what job has Peter?"
"A new one—a lovely, lovely one. I heard him talking to Anson about it."

Denny sat up quickly, stared at Petra. "Anson? Isn't he with the Consolidated?"
"No—not now. He's the head of the Independent."

"He's left the Consolidated entirely?"
"Oh, I don't know all his private affairs, do I?" She saw a quick color coming into his face, his eyes snapping. "Oh, you're so foolish, Diddy! Peter says that's idiotic—all that hunch of yours about the Consolidated trying to wreck your work."

It was as though a claw within twisted him in a knot. "Does he say that, Petra? He thinks it idiotic?"
"Yes—of course. Why in the world should they be bothered about a little job like that?"

"Did you tell him about Dunlap?" he asked quietly.
"Oh, he knows all about it, and he says it's just plain silly. He got up leisurely and sauntered over to the piano. 'Are you homesick to hear me sing Dunlap?'"

She expected him to say: "No!" and pull her back, but he answered hastily: "Yes, Sing." He was thinking: "She told her father. Anson was one of the big ones in the Consolidated when all this happened. Now he knows I suspect them. They'll cover up."

He grew so excited he stood up, his fists doubled. Suddenly he noticed that Petra had swung round on the bench and with her hands clasped in her lap regarded him with a quiet reproach. He came over and took her hand.

"You weren't even listening."

"Of course I was."

She shook her head. "No—you might just as well be up there in those dreadful old mountains. I don't believe you've even seen me to-night. Why don't you stop thinking about it? It's all passed now, isn't it?"

"Gee—it's only a little more than a week Petra. If you'd seen what I saw, if you'd heard those fellows when we pulled them out."

"Don't—You might as well forget it."

"I suppose so."

But a force that was stronger than his own will drew him again and again to the dam that first hour of the afternoon when he had listened with an exultance to the noisy roar of a hundred engines; the great rush of concrete. Then suddenly that heart-piercing tremor along the cable, the frightful snapping into the pit. Afterwards, the men lifting the still form of Martin Loop.

Was it the Consolidated had planned that fatal crushing of this fine, young life? Was it they had made that old man take up the hands of his dead son and say in a white agony: "Oh, Martin, my boy, my boy. Oh, God, Martin!"

Was it they had done this? And now they were offering Denny a job? Well—it amounted to that—

His jaw set. Petra got up and pushed him back to the sofa. "Poor dear Diddy, he feels so tragic, and won't look at me and won't tell me he loves me and it's a whole month since he's said it and he just finished promising he'd make it up. Oh, what a gallant wooer I have!"

She reached up and drew his head down till his lips met hers and her hands clasped at his neck. "Now tell me in a dozen different ways you love me. Yes, in a hundred. And you'll go and see Peter tomorrow and will live happy ever after?"

And even then, with her lips on his and her eyes half closed and the delicious sweetness of her breath in his face, a grimace passed through him. It was almost a cry that tore softly to his lips. "Oh, Petra, would you want me to take that job? Good Lord—"

"Want you to take it?" She drew back in a shock. "What do you mean?"

"If these fellows did this thing—"

She smoothed up her hair. After a long pause, "Do you know they did it?"

"No."

"Of course, you don't! You've just got a crazy notion. And, anyway, the Independent didn't do it and they're the ones that are offering the job. Peter is interested in that I suppose you haven't any objection to him?"

"No."

She reached over and let her hand linger on his and looked up laughing. "I know you feel perfectly terrible. Diddy, but think what it means to us. Isn't that worth something? You'll go and see Peter, won't you?"

"Yes, I'll go and see him."

He walked home that night and he kept saying to himself, "I'll be shot before I take that job! I'll be shot. He thought of Dunlap's frightened eyes when he opened the door and then of the way Dunlap had stood up at the meeting of the farmers and said in his curling voice, "This telegram puts the blame where it belongs. It shows the incompetence that has produced a fiasco for us!"

Denny was racing along, his teeth clenched, the same furious rage that had swept him earlier in the evening driving him now. "Damn coward—he did it! He didn't, why was he so interested in that offer of the job? Consolidated? Why did he fight me from the start? But he's put it on me! And now they'll buy me off!"

He was spent as though he had been toiling desperately when he reached home. For hours he lay awake going through a fervid debate with himself.

"I have nothing on him."

"Yes—I'll get it. I'll find Joan. I'll find out who sent that telegram. I'll get a hold of Pedro. Franchita. I'll jam Old Baldy up to the wall and squeeze what he knows out of him."

TELL THIS TO PEOPLE WHO FEEL BADLY

"The majority who come into this store for medicine of various sorts are suffering because they have allowed the liver to become clogged and sluggish," declared a prominent druggist the other day. "What they really need is Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup to cleanse and tone the liver and bowels, put the stomach in condition again and keep them feeling fit as a fiddle these crisp wintry days."

This will help Nature give quick relief in case of constipation, stuffy colds that hang on, sour stomach and gas, sick headaches, poor appetite and a rundown, tired out, upset condition. It is splendid for those who wake up dull and tired, had taste in the mouth, tongue coated and offensive breath—the well known signs of a sluggish liver.

Take this advice! Unless you are completely satisfied your liver is returned. Try just a spoonful of Dr. Thacher's after the next few meals. Get quick relief and tell others what a difference it made in the way you look, eat, sleep and feel. Share it with the family! Act now and avoid expensive, dangerous sickness.

Dr. Thacher's is sold and recommended by R. A. Mitchell, 114 Dundas street and Taylor's Drug Store, 330 Richmond street, half block south of Dundas in London; W. Craig in Dresden; E. M. Croshaw, St. Marys; W. A. McIntyre, St. Marys; and John E. Warner, Alvinston, and by leading druggists in every city and town.—Adv.

Before he went to sleep he kept seeing Snag Wilson, doubled in agony, moaning, "Oh, God Almighty! God Almighty!" He couldn't get the frightened cry out of his ears. It echoed in his disturbed dreams.

But in the morning when he went to Peter Channing's office in the Mountain Light and Power Company he was calm, hiding all his suspicions under a quiet reserve.

Peter Channing deserved his title of "amiable." He had fine, amiable blue eyes, an ample yellow moustache and a kindly, florid face. He was frankly glad to see Denny, an enthusiastic about his job as assistant engineer.

"You'll go right up," he said. "We'll see to that. I've talked to Anson."

Denny felt himself growing white. Channing noticed and said quietly, shaking his head: "That's really preposterous. That's dead of yours."

"Oh, I've dismissed that. The farmers got the hunch. But they were ready to grab at anything. They knew the Consolidated wanted their site. I'd never have thought of it on my own account."

"I thought not." This was in a tone to approve Denny's judgment.

"But I'm interested in irrigation. I want to go in for that. It's my line, Mr. Channing."

Petra's father was astonished at this quiet announcement.

"It will take you out of the city most of the time, do you realize that?"

"That's the unpleasant feature of it."

Petra loved his only daughter. He began to argue her case. After an hour, Denny said: "Well, then, I'll let you know tomorrow. When I shake the kind, friendly hand he thought, 'What a hell of a fix to be in!'"

As he passed through those offices where he had first come to work he remembered the bookkeeper, "Miss Blanche Taylor," and her reputation for gathering the city gossip. He stopped at her desk. After quite a talk he said, "Seen Miss Lewis lately?"

"You should ask! Isn't she working for you?"

"No. She left. I wanted to get in touch with her. I've heard of a good job."

"Humph! If I run across her I'll tell her."

While Denny stood there, John Merchant passed by. "Hello, Brooks!" There was cordiality that warmed Denny in the quick, nervous tone. "Hear you're going over to the Independent?"

"Not keen on it, John."

He nodded. "Channing tells me you have a grudge against the Consolidated and so against Anson."

"Oh, I don't know. John. They might have done it at that. They've all done enough dirty work. Look at the rotten deal I pulled up in the Tuamne dam. I keep the water those farmers were just starving for!"

"Got that in your craw yet? You're set."

Denny laughed. And he thought, "You'd be soft, too, John Merchant, if you'd lived with a dirty brute and seen him take up a little dog and hang him and beat him sleep a poor, cowed face and watched him beat his own daughter into a corner. Well—what's the difference whether you push your own child into the street or starve out a whole community?"

The next morning Denny called on Peter Channing. He had framed a dozen ways of telling him he wouldn't take the job. None of them came to him now. He said abruptly, "I've decided to wait for some work in my own line. You see, Chisborough—"

He went into a valiant explanation.

Petra's father listened. Then he asked, with his eyes flashing: "Do you realize all you're doing, young man? I'd like to know that!"

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says Glass of Salts Helps to Overcome Rheumatism Acid.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Glass of Salts, put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove the matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison.

Glass of Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grape and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Adv.

Water will not affect any Electric Range Element
It's the thicker liquids and syrups that injure the exposed wires of the FRAGILE OPEN TYPE PORCELAIN ELEMENTS

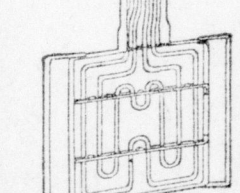

The Indestructible Hotpoint Element is cast in solid iron. There are no exposed live wires and no delicate porcelain to crack, should you accidentally drop anything heavy upon the cooking surface.

As will be seen from the illustration, the Hotpoint element may be lifted from the cooking surface and cleaned with perfect ease. The new Hotpoint Range is a perfect cooking appliance, designed primarily to give service.

Hotpoint Patented Sheathed Wire Elements are Indestructible

The oven elements, of a Hotpoint Range, are of the same construction as the surface type, and are likewise indestructible. They may be removed from the oven and scrubbed with perfect safety.

Hotpoint Patented Sheathed Wire Elements have superseded the exposed type of element, just as modern plumbing has succeeded the pump and pail. The only practical electric range element is the Hotpoint.

C. N. R. and Wabash Railroads Make Appropriations For Needed Improvement.

PLANT AT ST. THOMAS

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Feb. 18.—An appropriation of $220,000 has been made by the C. N. R. and Wabash Railroads for the erection of a combination round-house and locomotive shop in St. Thomas. Supt. H. W. Matthews, in an interview with The Advertiser today, reviewed the history of the amalgamation interests of these two lines, in the Railroad City. The C. N. R. interests bought land in the northern section of the city in 1860 and established themselves comfortably with a station, a freight house and a 16-stall roundhouse. In 1898 the Wabash obtained right over the C. N. R. and entered on a partnership basis or joint expenditure plan with the established railway. Since then nothing but the most harmonious relations have existed between the two companies.

Facilities Inadequate.

It was found in the course of a few years that the present facilities were not capable of handling the annual turnover and with the further development of Wabash interests in Western Ontario the question of better accommodation stared the officials of both lines in the face.
For the last five years local officials have been contemplating the extension of shop work in St. Thomas, but it was not until last year that the companies considered their financial status warranted the expenditure involved. Mr. Matthews stated that freight traffic during the last five years had increased 100 per cent and was growing monthly.

Will Be Modern Plant.

The announcement followed a discussion of tentative plans by the two companies and the supplying of the necessary data to authorize the improvement. The new building will be modern in every detail and will provide for 20 engines of latest type and a splendid locomotive shop to be electrically operated and up-to-date in every respect. The exact location of the building depends on a survey of the yards by the company engineers, their work will be rushed to completion. Some minor changes in the lay-out of the yards will be necessary, but not a large increase in the staff is contemplated barring men necessary for the erection of the building.

NEW JAIL IS NOW DEEMED CERTAIN

Immediate Action Seen As Result of Fire in Sandwich Institution.

Special to The Advertiser.

Windsor, Feb. 18.—Construction of a new jail for Essex county is certain as a result of the fire today which destroyed the westerly wing of the jail at Sandwich, adjoining the courthouse, County Treasurer John Miller said tonight.
Plans prepared in 1922 for a new 100-cell jail and hospital ward, to cost $300,000, have been approved by both the county council and Windsor council, the treasurer said. The only issue now at stake between the county and the city is that of apportionment. The jail committee will meet at Sandwich Tuesday morning to make arrangements for temporary accommodation. Tonight the 25 prisoners are being housed at the Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich police headquarters.

"I am certain that construction on a new jail will start this spring," the county treasurer declared. "Windsor has told us that a new building is necessary and all that remains to be done is an agreement on the city's share of the cost. I don't believe there will be much trouble in arriving at that."

FIRE SWEEPS WING.

Windsor, Feb. 18.—Sandwich jail was threatened with total destruction today by a mysterious fire, which swept the upper section of the westerly wing, where the 100 prisoners were confined. At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon the blaze was under control.

About 25 prisoners, who were in the section of the jail where the fire was discovered, were thrown into disorder, but were quietly transferred to the opposite side of the building.

SOMEWHERE IN FLORIDA.

To be somewhere in Florida, where the sun is always shining, where the golden oranges hang in clusters on the trees, the palms stir gently to the warm breezes and "where the sweet magnolia blooms," is the thought in the minds of hundreds of Canadians every winter.
When Canadians at home are skating and skiing, those in the south are surfing, bathing, sun-bathing, and the warm sands, deep-sea fishing, golfing, etc.

When making arrangements for the trip south consult any agent of the Canadian National Railways for particulars of service. Winter tourist fares are now in effect, valid to return up to June 15th, and good for stopover at all important points.

Moosejaw Constables Confess To Series of Store Thefts Extending Over Long Period

Seven Members of Force Are Placed Under Arrest After Investigations Completed.

HAD GOOD SYSTEM

Canadian Press Despatch.

Moose Jaw, Feb. 18.—Seven city police constables are under arrest and held in the cells at the police station and two others under suspension, all implicated by confessions made by four of them of dozens of thefts from numerous Moose Jaw stores extending over a period of about a year. Truck loads of loot have been recovered from homes of the men.

The robberies have been conducted systematically since early in April, 1923. The clean up came about as a result of investigations made by Chief Townsend and Detective J. Douglas. Those arrested are A. E. Knight, O. Walters, J. W. Reynolds, J. Logan, W. D. Gronloff, S. Wilson, and J. H. Ploenoes.

The series of robberies occurring over a period of nearly a year was conducted by a well organized system. Members of the force concerned used skeleton keys to effect entrance to business establishments where they looted at will. Signals with flash lamps were used by the officers in the downtown sections to give warning of the approach of patrolling sergeants. It is believed the value of the plunder may run into many thousands of dollars.

The principal sufferer from the depredations was Robinson, MacBean, Limited, a large department store. For three months the firm has noticed a gradual depletion of articles in stock and despite the fact that the city police were informed of the affair no clue to the perpetrators of the thefts was for a long time forthcoming.

While investigations are still proceeding and it is not yet certain to what limits the thefts extended, there is no doubt property stolen from the Robinson, MacBean Company was considerable, and it is estimated that the value will exceed $1,000.

Goods recovered from the residences of some of the constables under arrest, and particularly the home of Constable Reynolds, were of a very varied nature, including in the kitchen about ten securities before the clothing, many articles of women's wearing apparel.

WOMAN ESCAPES DEATH IN BOILER EXPLOSION

Leaves Room a Few Seconds Before Floor Goes To Ceiling.

Special to The Advertiser.

Forest, Feb. 18.—Mrs. Fred Taylor, 12th concession of Plympton Township, probably escaped instant death on Saturday morning, as she left the kitchen about ten seconds before the hot water boiler in the basement exploded and completely wrecked the kitchen of the new house. Fortunately, Mrs. Taylor and her little son were uninjured.

The exploding boiler drove part of the floor through the ceiling, shifted a heavy range and broke up the furniture. In the debris is a complete set of Wedgwood china, a present from English relatives. Mr. Taylor was in town at the time of the accident.

BELIEVE MARITIME COAL IS SOLUTION

Extensive Coking Tests of Nova Scotia Fuel Prove Satisfactory.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Feb. 18.—The Dominion fuel board is now preparing a report on the coking of Nova Scotia soft coal at the coking plant recently established by a firm in Hamilton. Extensive tests have been made of the adaptability of Maritime soft coal to coking treatment with a view to ascertaining its suitability as a substitute for anthracite. These tests proved that the Nova Scotia bituminous coal lent itself admirably to the coking process. Coke is now regarded by government officials and others as one of the most promising solutions of the fuel problems of Ontario and Quebec.

It is believed that the results of the Hamilton tests will be an incentive to the establishment of plants in Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa.

The testing of the lignite briquettes recently received by the government from the Lignite Utilization Board of Saskatchewan is still in progress.

The Teeth You See

Those whiter, cleaner teeth Learn how people get them

In every circle nowadays you see countless teeth which glister—teeth which once were dim. They give multiplied attraction, both to men and women.

They indicate clearly that a change has come in methods of teeth cleaning. Millions are daily fighting film. Let this show you what it means to you and yours.

No pretty teeth with dingy film

Your teeth are coated with a film—that viscous film you feel. Despite your brushing, much of it clings and stays.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

That is why so few escape tooth troubles under old ways of teeth cleaning.

Dental science has discovered two film combatants. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.

Many tests which have been made prove these methods effective. A new type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

Leading dentists everywhere began to advise it. Today, all the world over, Pepsodent is supplanting the tooth pastes of the past.

The results are conspicuous

Pepsodent does other things that old methods never do. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, which is there to neutralize mouth acids. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva, which is there to digest starch deposits on teeth.

These combined effects bring remarkable results.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

One week will convince you that this method is essential in your home. Cut out coupon now.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1924.

As a Business Project.

Consider the position of France in the Ruhr from the standpoint of business alone. For this purpose leave out any thought of the propriety or impropriety of the invasion from political or war motives.

The French government has admitted, under pressure, that there will be a 20 per cent increase in taxation.

In the three and one-half years between the signing of the Treaty of Versailles and the French occupation of the Ruhr Germany paid to France more than $3,000,000,000 in money and commodities. When France inaugurated the policy of forced collections on a greater scale, the voluntary payments stopped.

It was not difficult for France to invade the Ruhr. Germany was not armed and France was. That part was comparatively easy but the trouble started when the French began to operate the district that the Germans refused to work for them. It cost the French more to take coal from the pits than the selling price. There is a deficit for the year on the Ruhr operations of at least $150,000,000. This must be paid by the French taxpayers.

Then there was the shortage in French finances owing to the $1,000,000,000 a year which had been coming from Germany being stopped. That called for more borrowing and more taxation.

Add also as a result the depreciation of the French franc in the last 12 months, which is estimated at a $2,000,000,000 loss to the government.

There is no unemployment in France, but the depreciation of her currency in recent months has seriously crippled the buying power of the people, so that the majority of them are not now getting a living wage. There is almost a suspicious parallel between the position in France and the first stages of the German financial debacle. The only satisfaction the French people can derive from the situation is the knowledge that if they are feeling the pinch the Germans felt it before and are still feeling it more keenly. From a pure business outlook it is a poor one for the French.

The Worst Crime.

Comte Romeo De Trevan is 93 years of age. The authorities in Gloucester and in Windsor have passed him along, and now he is in the county jail at London.

He has committed the unpardonable crime of growing very old and very poor at the same time.

He has also made the discovery, made it by rebuffs here and cold treatment there, that no person wants him.

In this enlightened, professedly Christian land, there is apparently no place for this man of 93. The courtesy of the jail is his at present, but he is not even wanted there.

Now and then cases of this character come to the surface where we can see them; in more frequent instances they carry their trouble under shelter of their pride, or a subsistence that is not much removed from the old man who came into court. Their suffering is done in silence.

It is time we remedied this condition. We are not pauperized to the state where we can allow an aged person to crawl from pillar to post in the hope of finding an open door. We have money for many other things not half as important.

But there he stands today, 93 years of age, and as poor as he is old. He asks us if we have a comfortable, warm place where he can spend the last few years of his life, and by way of reply we shove him from town to city, and from police station to county jail.

Publicity Will Do It.

London still has a number of municipally-built houses on its hands, eight at Pine Lawn and sixteen on Garfield avenue. A number of the latter are rented with the option of purchase, and the authorities believe a number of these options will be taken up.

Every house that the city owns will have to be sold at less than the cost price. That was decided upon some time ago, and following that plan no time should be lost in disposing of these properties.

The best chance that the city has of coming somewhat nearer to an even break is by disposing of the empty lots at Pine Lawn, and there are a large number of them in the hands of the city. The location is all right, and the lots have been laid out in fairly generous proportions.

If the city were to use some good, well-directed publicity, it might be possible to clean up on the whole thing, get rid of the vacant property, and retire from the housing business as a municipal enterprise.

Printer's ink has sold a great many things, and there is no reason why it should not be used by the city in getting rid of the property it holds at Pine Lawn. The sooner it is sold and built upon the sooner it becomes a source of revenue for the city.

Fat Years and Lean.

The commission inquiring into conditions under which men work for the British Empire Steel Corporation suggest that a plan be worked out whereby the surplus earnings of fat years be used to make some provision for the men employed during the lean years.

That is somewhat of an innovation, but it is so good that it should not be dropped.

It is not very far back since the steel business in the east was very prosperous; holders of stock made money, and it may be that much of the prosperity was dissipated in this way and at once.

The question that the men in the works have a claim to consideration in years when this prosperity is not so evident is just and fair. Not only that, but it is the surest way to discount labor troubles.

The commissioners can see that the plan will have to be carefully worked out, but they are to be commended for having put their finger on a very weak spot in the present way of doing business.

It is not right that men should work in a prosperous year, and the one following find that they have not worked enough to buy food and clothing. The fact that we have done business that way in the past is no reason why we should continue to do so.

Scolding Ottawa People.

A correspondent in the Ottawa Journal is shocked almost beyond the point of adequate expression over the way in which people there behaved when Prince Erik of Denmark was being married to Miss Boot.

And the worst of it was that the moving picture men were there taking in the whole performance. Even with that restraining influence the people kept on shoving and pushing.

Why, they didn't know how to behave at all!

We wonder if all this much-proclaimed democracy of ours has a real good tap root in fact? The legislators at Ottawa say Canadians cannot have titles—even a man who brought out an exceedingly good French book could not have a foreign recognition.

No, we are democratic people, and no title shall taint our simple blood or plain vision.

But when a prince comes along to carry off a wealthy heiress, Ottawa—well the place shoved and jammed and crowded. It didn't behave itself like a real honest-to-goodness democratic capital should.

And now after this all over Ottawa people are using the papers to scold each other about the way they acted. And Ottawa just did what most other places would have done, for the world dearly loves a wedding where a prince and an heiress play the leading parts.

IMPROVEMENT. An amateur poet in need of new shoes, With labor and longing once courted the Muse;

And the poem he turned out was a gay thing and rippling, But, "Poor," said the critics, "he imitates Kipling."

Undaunted, again a new poem he essayed, Of all that was in him his verses were made; It was rounded in form, it was perfect in letter, But, "This," said the critics, "by Poe was done better."

"Imitation would seem," said the lad to himself, "My curse in my efforts to win fame and pelf; 'I'll write; but no others shall aid me a jot!'" He did. Said the critics: "His poem is pure rot."

The young poet courts now no long, The Muse. He peddles not verses but contraband booze; He's a rich businessman, not a poor weedy beggar, For, "He is," say the critics, "a first-class bootlegger!"

Ruskin's Letters

JOHN Ruskin, English critic and writer, was never a social lion, nor was he at all fond of drawing-room affairs. One of his letters written in 1859 give Ruskin's impressions of London society and the drawing-room:

"My Dearest Mother.—Horrible party last night—stiff—large—dull—filthy—strange—run-against-every-body sort of party. Naval people, Young ladies acquaintance with me—I know as much of her as of Queen Pomare. Talk: get away as soon as I can—ask who she is—Lady—: as wise as I was before. Introduced to a black man with chin in collar. Black man condescendingly abuse different things to black man; chiefly the House of Lords. Black man says he lives in it—asks where I live—don't want to tell him—obliged—go away and ask who he is—as wise as before. Introduced to a young lady—young lady asks if I like drawing—so away and ask who she is—Lady—: as wise as before. Get away at last. Very sulky this morning—hope my father better—dearest love to you both."

THE BREATH OF THE SPIRIT. The wind bloweth where it will. . . . So is everyone that is born of the Spirit.—St. John iii.

Here is the sea on which you float, the sea of human life, with its shifting tides and currents.

Yonder is the sky that bends above you, the pure and sovereign will of God.

Out of that unsearchable heaven comes the breath of the Spirit, like "the wind that bloweth where it listeth, and thou canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth."

If you will spread your sail to catch that breath of life, if you will lay your course and keep your rudder true, you will be carried onward in peace and safety to your desired haven.

Nay, more; if there seems to be no breeze stirring near you, if you feel that you are lying idle and helpless in a dead calm, drifting upon the dark currents which may bear you to destruction, you have only to ask for the saving breath and it will come.

For earthly parents are not more willing to give good gifts unto their children than your Heavenly Father to give his Spirit unto them that ask him.

Ask then, for what you can surely have, and sail, and steer, and leave the secret things to God.

Labor Should Protest.

People From Britain are Being Brought to Canada Where no Employment is Waiting for Them. Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir—I noticed in the Mail and Empire last week that the Labor organizations of Toronto has sent a protest to the British premier against emigration, and denouncing the way the authorities are inducing people to sell the little homes in the old land and come to Canada on a wild and false goose chase.

I wish to say that it is time the Labor parties of London, Ont. got together in protest against the immigration here in Canada. Here is one family who sold their little home in England after being promised great things in Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Smith arrived in London in January after being promised employment on a farm near London. After they got out to the farmer's place he told them that he was about it as he had not applied for a man.

After spending almost all they had in paying board for themselves and their three children they managed to get a job on a farm. This is only one case out of six that I have known about this winter. Something ought to be done to stop the way in which the working people of Britain are being deceived, and in my opinion it is only being carried on to bring down the wages of the working people of Canada.

News From University.

The Original "Disgusted" Comes Back in Order To Make Clear His Point. Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir—I must beg of you some of your valuable space in order to answer two letters, one written in The Advertiser and the other in the Press, both defending the sensationalism of a newspaper and criticizing me for attempting to voice a complaint.

To the student who wrote to The Disgusted Student, I must say that I envy his position as "a man of upper years," since he is able to make a general forecast of the results of examinations. He is wasting his time trying to get a degree, because such a prophet as he appears to be would make his mark out in the world.

He will never learn any younger, this "senior," that a fact and a guess are entirely different, and that it is the duty of a newspaper to print facts and not mere guesses. Any man should be ashamed to admit that he failed to pass an examination that demanded that he answer only half the paper correctly. What do we go to the university for? Is it just to scrape through examinations, to get a B. A. and then try and fake the world with it? Attempts at being made to establish such a standard, universities as will allow only those that can make the grade to hold a degree and therefore be worthy of it.

Now, to "Enlightened," the man who wrote the letter published in the Free Press, is this of interest? I do not, nor does anyone else, wish news of the events at the university kept secret. We all wish our university to be known, but we do not want notoriety. I am sorry if I have given him the impression that I could only find only to me, but to the majority of the students. Within the last two weeks six articles have been printed, some having no foundation and others of the character of those printed by Sunday newspapers on their sensational sheets.

I will emphatically say that there are no ways of getting figures that can be relied upon except those that are officially announced, and no one, not even an "enlightened student," can make any assertion, unless they have an official source to back them up in their statements. To prove this, when certain professors at the university were shown the reports in a newspaper regarding the results they were indignant and said that the reports were as incorrect as they could possibly be.

The only news from the university that is authentic is that which comes from the officials connected with it. Yours originally.

THE DISGUSTED STUDENT.

Not Real Freedom.

Hilderton Correspondent Points Out That the O. T. A. Was Made by the People Themselves. Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir—The article in Thursday's paper signed by Charles Lush, head of "Can't Do It by Law," merits a reply, and will probably receive same from an abler pen than mine. He cites the case of a young man who had the "habit," "going on a spree," "drinking as much as he could," in other words a confirmed drunkard, repeating what he had said after the passage of the O. T. A. Forsooth he lays the results to the change in the law, and then goes on with his loose and false statements, "Lo and behold reports come from all over North America," etc., and states, "More than 50,000 people whose health ruined by bootleg liquor."

This may or may not be true, but even if so would be an insignificant fraction of the total during one year of free liquor.

Again, "a small army, blind as bats," etc., sounds very much like a "pipe dream."

Then he says, "We think the devil disgraced a free nation." Well this "most atrocious law" was sponsored by our chosen legislative body and supported and approved by the united churches of the Dominion at a time when all the virile powers of our young nation were needed for the great struggle, and later was sanctioned and supported by an overwhelming majority of the voters of the whole province. Deduction: Our wise friend Lush must have a monopoly of all brains and knowledge of the province stored in his cranium.

Then he says, "We think the devil a very stupid creature," etc. No, we do not, but we know, "He is wise as a serpent," so wise that he employs certain agents to help on his love under the guise of men who love freedom.

Freedom forsooth to do as he pleases. "You cannot change human nature by passing laws." Wrong again. During the past quarter we have been studying in our Sunday schools the leading out and training of God's chosen people, and one of the most important lessons was the giving to the people of the law, the Ten Commandments. Does our wise friend presume to claim that he knows more than Jehovah, as according to his reasoning the law delivered by Jehovah to Moses for the chosen people was unnecessary and only a "simple notion," and of no use to a free people.

No, friend, you are not free, but are under the law in all your actions, and because of this we as long as we obey this great law of helping one another, we are free indeed.

Colors In Movies.

Optician Says There Is Nothing in Sight That Could Put Colors in Black and White Pictures. Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir—To settle an argument, will you kindly decide which of us is right? A says that he can see colors in the moving pictures, such as brick houses, which he claims are red; also he can see colors of dresses, such as red, brown, green, etc. B claims that you can only see white and black (except moonlight or night scenes which may be a blue silver, and special hand-tinted films which are very seldom screened). In other words, in the ordinary film which shows a brick house is not necessarily red, but actually shows black and white. The Union Jack on a ship is naturally red, white and blue, but on the screen is white and black shade.

Thanking you in advance for your valuable space, we beg to remain, A. and B.

Answer—An experienced optician was asked to settle this point, and his answer is, there is nothing he knows of that could cause a person to see colors in the ordinary black and white films. The imagination of the viewer is the cause of the color of adding the customary colors to dress, houses, etc., but there is nothing in the sense of sight that would add these colorings.—Ed.

Ephraim had put on a clean collar and his best coat, and was walking majestically up and down the street. "Aren't you working today, Ephraim?" asked one of his acquaintances.

"Yes, suh."

"Well, why isn't your wife helping you to celebrate it?"

"My present wife, suh," replied Ephraim, with dignity, "ain't got nothing to do with it. She's do foth."

To His People At Home

Dear Jack—

At last the French have found the Achilles Heel of American divorce procedure in Paris, and it's just publicity in the old home town.

The French minister of justice has issued a decree to the effect that all divorces granted Americans must be granted only on grounds admissible in the applicant's home state, and also that publicity must be given to it in that state. So much for the wisdom of the minister. Here is the result in less than ten weeks. Forty applications for divorce have been withdrawn, and only six are now pending before the court. Even the divorce lawyers with their living dependent on the number and vigor of the applications admit that this decree has "spiked their guns," and also the guns of the would-be divorced. Blessed for once is the light of publicity and the power of the press.

The poor old country is due for another invasion this summer, and one of a peculiar nature. One thousand American lawyers, together with one hundred of their Canadian brothers in writs, are to descend on the shores that have for centuries repelled less dangerous attacks, and will be the guests of the British Bar Association. This last I imagine is the real cause at issue, and the reason of their raid into friendly waters. At the same time there is to be a gathering of numismatists (collectors of old coins) in Rome. It seems that in my time I have met a great many lawyers with a numismatical turn of mind.

Y.M.C.A. WOMEN'S AUXILIARY ASKS O.T.A. BE SUSTAINED

Strong Resolution Forwarded to Premier From Yesterday's Meeting.

BOYS' WORK PROGRESSES

Very Fine Reports of Supper Meetings Are Presented.

A strong resolution supporting the Ontario temperance act was passed at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. The resolution came as the result of a discussion on the temperance situation in the province in view of a proposed referendum, introduced by a letter from the local branch of the W. C. T. U.

The resolution, which will be forwarded to the premier of Ontario, reads as follows:

"We cannot believe that any well informed Christian woman could do other than abhor the trade of intoxicating beverages. Especially must this be true of mothers and of those whose work lies amongst the young. No tongue could describe or can portray the anguish and misery and the loss for time and eternity that has grown out of this evil business. Therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A., are a unit in our approval of the O. T. A. We trust that it will never be called into question by our legislature, but if any effort is made to lessen its scope or weaken its power, we will do our utmost by vote and influence to sustain and strengthen it. We further call attention to the need for a much more vigorous enforcement of the O. T. A. in the city." Signed on behalf of the Women's Auxiliary, Lily Henderson, president, and Ella H. McTavish, secretary.

Reports of the splendid work being carried on by the auxiliary among the boys at the Y. M. C. A. were read. The Bible reading was taken by Mrs. J. P. Finnigan, Mrs. Herbert Henderson was in the chair.

Miss Carrie E. Carmichael, president of the National Council of Women, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon which is being arranged by the Local Council of Women to be held in the Indian Room at the Teumseh House at 1 o'clock on Tuesday, Feb. 26. Three representatives from each of the affiliated societies are being invited to attend the luncheon and meet this distinguished Canadian woman. Arrangements for this function were made at a special meeting of the Local Council executive held at "Lenmore" yesterday afternoon, over which Mrs. John Rose presided.

On the same day the public will be given an opportunity of hearing Miss Carmichael, who will address a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club on "Geneva Reflections." The Canadian Club, knowing that many Londoners, outside its membership, will be anxious to hear Miss Carmichael, is throwing the meeting open.

Miss Carmichael's talk will have a special interest in view of the fact that a labor government has recently come to the fore in Great Britain. She visited Geneva as a representative of the Canadian government at the International Labor Conference held there recently. At the luncheon, Miss Carmichael will speak on National Council of Women affairs and "Save the Children Fund."

All of the affiliated societies are asked to report to Mrs. John Rose, the president of the Local Council, not later than Monday morning, and to furnish her with the names of her representatives.

The members of the executive signed the Alberta Coal Petition, which is being circulated in the province by The London Advertiser, and the president has promised to bring the matter to the attention of the affiliated societies.

Farmer Brown's Boy Serves Reddy Fox and Old Man Coyote Alike

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

With food so scarce, it was something to have half a dinner. Reddy Fox was grateful for even this. So was Old Man Coyote. Each knew that the other needed that food quite as much as did he himself. But the law of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows is self first. So Reddy and Old Man Coyote spent most of the time they were awake in trying to think of some plan to outwit the other.

Old Man Coyote had the advantage. He was the biggest and more than a match for Reddy Fox. He knew this. So did Reddy. Reddy had obtained half a dinner by being a little bolder than Old Man Coyote and getting to it almost as soon as it had been put out by Farmer Brown's Boy. But he knew that that wouldn't happen again. He knew that next time Old Man Coyote would be in hiding before Farmer Brown's Boy appeared with the food.

Reddy Fox is clever. His wits are sharp. There are no sharper wits in all the Green Forest or on all the Green Meadows. But, though he thought and thought and thought and thought, he couldn't think of a plan of outwitting Old Man Coyote again.

"It is useless for me to go up to Farmer Brown's tonight," muttered Reddy as late in the afternoon he came out of his home and looked longingly over toward Farmer Brown's. "If a dinner is put out tonight Old Man Coyote will get every scrap of it. I guess I'll go somewhere else and hunt."

But for the life of him Reddy couldn't keep away from Farmer Brown's. The thought that there was likely to be food there was too much for him. "Old Man Coyote may not go up there," he muttered. "Something may happen so that he will not get there at all, or if he does he may be late. I certainly cannot get that dinner if I am not there. And if Old Man Coyote does get it I won't be any worse off than if I don't go up there."

So the coming of the Black Shadows again found Reddy Fox up at Farmer Brown's. This time he did not hide behind the barn, for he knew that Old Man Coyote knew that that was where he had been before. He hid this time behind the stone wall on the edge of the old Orchard. Perhaps you can guess how surprised he was and how delighted he was when he saw Farmer Brown's Boy come out with a pan of food just after the lights in the house appeared. It was a good two hours earlier than the food had been put out the other times.

Hardly had Farmer Brown's Boy entered the house again than Reddy was over at that pan. When he had licked up the last crumb he trotted off toward the Green Forest, chuckling happily. He was thinking of how disappointed Old Man Coyote would be when he arrived a little later.

But when Old Man Coyote did arrive he wasn't disappointed. That pan was heaped with food. He, too, licked the pan clean, and then trotted away chuckling. He was chuckling to think how disappointed Reddy

He hid this time behind the old stone wall on the edge of the Old Orchard.

Fox must be. And watching from a window of the house, Farmer Brown's Boy was chuckling. He had seen all that had happened the previous nights, and so this night he had played fair. He had filled that pan a second time, that both Reddy and Old Man Coyote should have a good dinner. (Copyright, 1924, by T. W. Burgess.)

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Two Young Bachelors Who Are Afraid of Being Caught—The Young Girl Who Dreads the Proposal of an Old Friend—The Girl Who Is Jealous of Her Fiance's Dead Sweetheart.

Dear Miss Dix: I write on behalf of myself and another bachelor—weighed down with apprehension. We have been "walking out" with two young girl friends. The four of us find more pleasure in each other's company than is usual, and our happy spirits are causing the usual remarks and expectant smiles of the ever-ready matchmaker. Also we have reached the stage where even at private dances one is not asked without the other.

Now, our intentions are honorable but remote. Should we continue our innocent friendship or risk gossip by leaving the city? TWO BACHELORS.

If you wish to remain single, I should say that flight saves your life. The truth of the old adage that "absence of body is better than presence of mind" is never so forcibly illustrated as in love affairs, and the man who does not mean to name the wedding day takes his freedom in his hands every time he steps out with a girl whom he has found entirely congenial and who has become a habit with him.

Also public opinion is, next to propriety, the great matchmaker. We are insidiously compelled to do the thing that everybody expects us to do; the thing that there will be a great howl about if we don't do. This occult force becomes almost a moral mandate to a man. It impels many a poor chap into the holy estate before he is ready for it, and marries many a one off to a girl whom he likes as a pal, but whom he doesn't desire as a wife.

Tom and Sally have been friends for so long, and he has been going to see her for so many years, and everybody has been so certain they would get married, that finally they do get married just because gossip has united them and they haven't the nerve to face the composite Mrs. Grundy and tell her that she didn't know what she was talking about.

The fact is, dear bachelors, that twosing is a very dangerous game to play if you are fighting shy of matrimony. It leads you into a blind alley that is mighty apt to end at the altar, because you are pretty sure to get more and more dependent on the woman you have found to be a kindred soul; you acquire more interests in common, and just because you are always together you get segregated and cut off from the society of other young women who might prove a counter-attraction. There's safety in numbers, in love as well as war.

But why, if you have found the one woman, do you defer marriage to some remote future? Love is like a cake. It has most flavor to it when it comes hot out of the griddle. Left to cool through a long engagement, it is apt to be flabby and tasteless when you sit down to the nuptial banquet. It is only youth that knows the romance and the glamor and the circling wings of love, and then is the time to marry.

If, however, you are unalterably opposed to marriage at present, fly. Do it also for the sake of the girl. It isn't fair to monopolize them on the off chance that some day you might think more kindly toward matrimony.

Dear Dorothy Dix: For five years I have been going with a man who is expecting me to say "yes" to a question that I am dreading to hear. I like him very much, but I suddenly realize that I do not love him enough to live with him the rest of my life. One thing that I object to about him

Where Daily Bread Comes Big.

Rural Hungarians buy bread in such great loaves that one loaf is all one man can carry with comfort. These loaves are about the size of a bushel basket three feet in diameter across and nearly one foot in thickness.

is that he has never had to think for himself. He is an only child, and is selfish in a way, although he has a big heart about most things. His mother waits on him, and takes for him, and I can see that he will expect me to fill her place and that would not be agreeable to me. I want a husband who will go fifty-fifty with me.

But the main thing is that I do not love him. I don't know whether I am brave enough to express my own thoughts when the moment of the great decision comes, or if I will have so much respect for his feelings that I will sacrifice my own life for his happiness.

HEART FULL OF SYMPATHY.

Don't marry any man, my dear, unless you love him with all your heart and soul, and unless you feel that life with him under any sort of conditions is better than any existence away from him. Marriage to a woman means eternal sacrifice of her own tastes and inclinations. It means hard work without a pay envelope, it means sickness and suffering, and being tied down at home with babies. And nothing on earth pays for it and makes it worth while, except a great and overwhelming love for a man.

Liking is not loving, any more than skimmed milk is cream. It is a poor, weak, pale, flabby sentiment that does not stand the strain of daily domestic life. And so, no matter how much you like a man, no matter how much you esteem him, no matter how much you admire and respect him, no matter what admirable qualities he has, don't marry him. Wait for the man with whom you will some day fall in love.

And don't marry a man because you are sorry for him, and because you think that you can make him happy. Instead, you will make him miserable. No woman is a great enough actress to keep up the pretence of caring for the man for whom she does not care. Lies are never convincing. You can't camouflage real affection, and sooner or later you will get tired of the living lie. Your make believe will break through, and your husband will know the bitter truth, which will break his heart, as your refusing to marry him would never have done.

Furthermore, it is an awfully risky experiment marrying a spoiled only son to whom you have to be mother and wife both. Better pass up the job.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am engaged to a man whose first sweetheart died before they were married. It makes me very miserable to think that if she had lived, he would never have loved me, nor made me his wife. Shall I ask him if, were she living, would he choose her or me for his wife? BLUE EYES.

Yes, silly child. And God grant him enough sense to answer you like a gentleman and a lover. But you are certainly an adept at borrowing trouble. DOROTHY DIX. Copyright, 1924, by Public Ledger Company.

TEXAS CHORUS GIRL HAS THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Rosalie Gordon Hangs Suspended Mile Above Earth When Parachute Fails.

Associated Press Despatch.

Houston, Texas, Feb. 18.—Rosalie Gordon, Houston chorus girl, was saved from death yesterday when an attempted parachute leap from an aeroplane failed. The drop was to have been one of a series of aerial acrobatics staged before 5,000 spectators at Ellington flying field here yesterday afternoon.

In making the jump from the plane Miss Gordon's parachute became entangled on the plane and held her suspended some 2,000 feet below the plane, which was more than a mile from the earth. Diavolo, acrobatic aviator, who was in the plane, let himself to the landing gear, but was unable to pull her up to him.

Stepping from a second plane to the one from which Miss Gordon was suspended, Freddie Loon, Houston aviator, relieved the pilot of the Gordon plane, who then assisted Diavolo in pulling Miss Gordon back to the landing gear. The plane landed safely.

THROAT TROUBLE CAUSES MINISTER'S RESIGNATION

BANK INVESTORS WILL FIGHT MOVE DOUBLE LIABILITY

Formal Motion of Liquidator Comes Before Supreme Court Tomorrow.

$1,960,000 INVOLVED

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—Should the 1,800 persons, whose names are on the list of contributors of the Home Bank attempt to appear in person before the master of the supreme court at Osgoode Hall when A. W. Ballantyne, K.C., representing the liquidator, moves for a call upon the double liability, the courtroom will not only be overflowing, but it will be impossible for most to get anywhere near the doors.

As a matter of fact, while there will doubtless be more than will fill the courtroom, only a fraction of the contributors will be there in person. Many of them live at a distance and will be unable to attend. Many of these banded together according to location and have united in retaining counsel, such as the 150 Saskatchewan shareholders represented by J. H. Kilmer, K.C.; the British Columbia shareholders represented by R. J. McLaughlin, W. T. J. Lee, K.C., who was chairman of the Home Bank depositors' relief association represents in his legal capacity some 40 shareholders.

Forty Pay Liability.

Already some 40 shareholders have paid in sums totalling about $25,000 representing the amount claimed from them by the liquidators in respect of double liability. The total amount to be collected naturally equals the amount of stock issue, or $1,960,000.

When the motion for a call comes formally before the master tomorrow at 2 o'clock it is not likely that any contestations will be disposed of in the afternoon. Some three hundred and fifty shareholders have filed defences setting out various reasons why they should not be held liable. These will be sorted out into classes and some work along this line may be done tomorrow. On the other hand, counsel for certain shareholders may dominate the proceedings with a demand for time to examine the liquidators on their statement of the bank's affairs.

Shareholders' Defence.

One defence raised by shareholders is that the bank was trafficking in its own shares, and so the sale of stock to them was unlawful. To this the liquidators will answer that this is not an answer as against the liquidators. It will be asserted that the liquidators are entitled to payment and the shareholder must look for indemnity to the directors.

It is understood that when the master rules upon a defence and admits it as an answer to the liquidators' claim, that ruling will apply to all similar cases whether the shareholders have raised the defence or not.

CHURCH NOMINATION BY BRITISH PREMIER

Ramsay MacDonald Appoints a New Dean of Canterbury To Succeed Henry Wace.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Feb. 18.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald's first ecclesiastical nomination, that of the Rev. G. K. A. Bell for the deanery of Canterbury, to succeed the Very Rev. Dean Henry Wace, who died in January, is likely to be regarded as quite a commendable initial effort in the premier's duty to recommend appointments to high offices of the established church. Perhaps the extreme evangelical party may feel it rather hard that someone has been selected who probably belongs to a wider school of thought than his venerable and eminent predecessor. Rev. Dr. Bell's wide outlook, indeed, almost certainly earned for him the premier's favorable notice, and it seems reasonable to suppose that Premier MacDonald has been largely guided by the advice of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

SEVEN DRAGOONS MUST ANSWER CIVIL CHARGES

Assault on Trooper Bowen To Find Echo in Toronto Police Court.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—Charged with "occasioning bodily harm" to Trooper Bowen of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, seven men of the regiment will appear in police court tomorrow afternoon. Crown Attorney Eric Armon stated today that he had issued directions to the police on instructions of Hon. W. F. Nickle, provincial attorney-general.

The charges are the outcome of an assault on Bowen by a number of his comrades two weeks ago because they claimed, he had made remarks detrimental to the regiment at a religious meeting. Six men have already been punished by Col. Gillman, O. C. at Stanley Barracks.

GRAIN EXPORTS.

Associated Press Despatch.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Grain exports from the United States last week amounted to 1,236,000 bushels, against 1,493,000 bushels the previous week. No American flour exports were noted, but our exported amount to 371,000 barrels, against 551,000 the previous week.

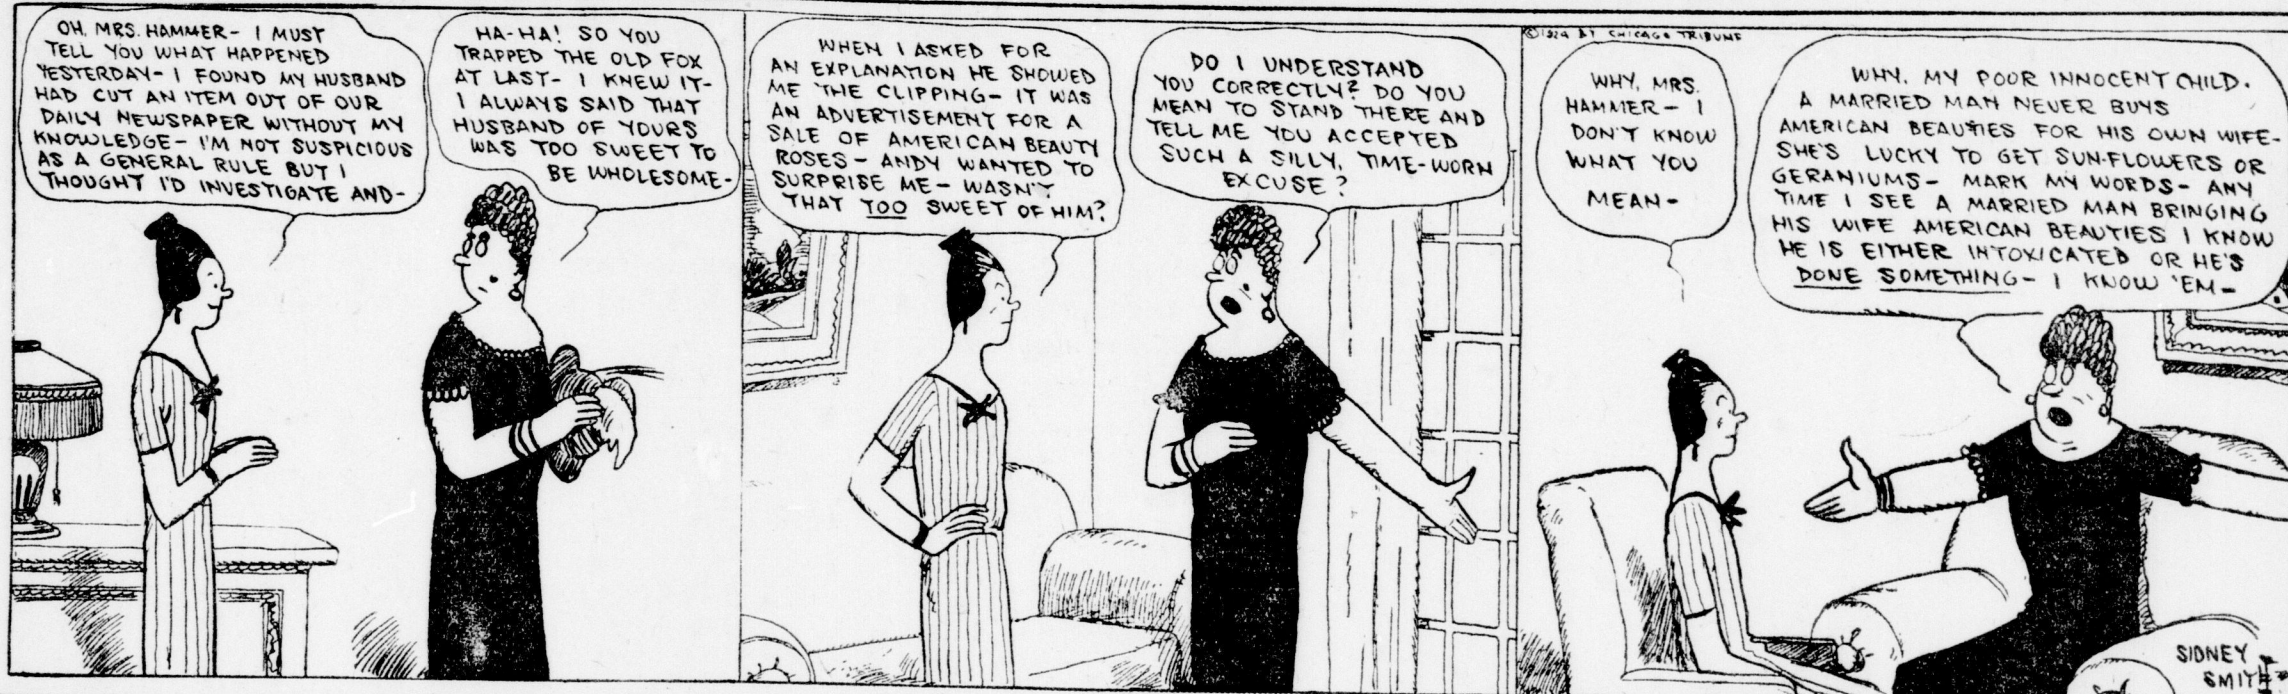

C. P. R. EARNINGS.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Feb. 18.—C. P. R. earnings for the week ending Feb. 14 were $3,168,000, an increase of $625,000.

The BREATH of the AVENUE

SUNSHINE FASHION NEWS FROM MIAMI, PALM BEACH AND CORONADA.
(LAST WEEK'S LETTER CONTINUED)

The Cloche Lengthens Its Days By Shortening Its Brim

The cloche again! And again the cloche is first in the field. Afternoon dresses bring out larger mushroom hats in straw or fabric, but the cloche rules all day long. Cloche shapes make more than half of all the hats that Palm Beach wears. The white felt cloche is the first choice in color and in material. Bangkok is the best of the straws. And high colors for hats are best in bangkok.

The newest note about the cloche is the briefness of its brim. Sometimes it is scarcely more than a cap, pulled well down over the eyes. And this brimless cloche accentuates the smartness of the close coiffure.

A new shipment of these hats just in from New York is announced elsewhere on this page.

The Brilliant Career of the Scarf

Scarf, oblong or square, printed or painted or plain, are the most significant of all resort accessories this year. They have the power to vary color scheme and change silhouettes, and so they are especially important in a season of so much uniformity in the lines of coats and dresses.

Big printed scarfs—a square yard or more of China silk, crepe or chiffon—go with tailored sports costumes, flung about the throat or trailing from a pocket.

The oblong scarf may be either printed or hand-painted, from four to six feet long and two to three feet wide. The smartest and newest type of scarf is the printed oblong worn by Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, a scarf with the red and blue of its scattered poppies and cornflowers echoed in its fringe.

A rubberized scarf is a complement even to the bathing costume. And the scarf collar of self or contrasting materials is an important detail in the trimming of new coats and dresses.

The scarf is an evening accessory, too. In crepe or lace, it is just enough protection against the breeze of tropical nights—and just new enough to be very smart.

The Name and Fame of the Monogram Idea

The monogram goes everywhere—on everything. It is much more popular this year than last. It appears on the beach on a bathing cap, on a bathing suit, on the edge of the cap or the end of a scarf. It is an important detail on sports dresses in the morning and it turns up again at bedtime. Its most brilliant version is a monogram pin in diamonds, an idea adopted by several fashionable women at Palm Beach. The monogram of this season may spell famous initials or it may be simply a monogram design. But with or without a name, it is sure of its fashion now and for the coming summer.

Special Purchase of 100 Different Hats

Spring hats are smaller than ever! But they may be small in different ways. This varied assortment includes becoming turbans, smart matronly hats, and pert little cloches for vivacious bobbed heads. Here are the new cloches with the upturned front, the poke, the beretta, the short-back cloche, and the brimless cloche.

These different shapes are developed in over-cloth and moire in black, in poudre blue, and in oakwood, and in Mexico. They are trimmed with flat flowers in the center-front, with rhinestone buckles, with jaunty quills, ostrich pompons, pleated ribbons and Roman stripes.
