WILL JUSTICE BE DONE?

TALK OF PUNISHMENT FOR BRUTAL LYNCHERS.

Morbid Curio Hunters Seize Pieces of Bones From Body of the Mob's Victim.

Wilmington, Del. June 24.—The natural and interesting question whether the authorities will take action looking toward the arrest and punishment of those who were prominent in the lynching of George White early yesterday. That many of them are known cannot be doubted for they were seen by the thousands who witnessed the affair. It is also known that the arrangements for the lynching were made in advance, and that men were invited to participate and given notice of when and where to assemble. It is a fact that public sentiment so generally approves the lynching that it would be hard to secure the conviction of a lyncher even if arrests were made, which seems doubtful. During the day thousands of persons went to the scene of the lynching, many of them intent upon securing ghastly relics. In this, however, they met with little success, as the burning had been so effectual as to destroy almost every vestige of the victim's body. The only remains were pieces of his bones, which were eagerly snatched by the crowd.

Judge Grubb of the County Court made a public statement, in which he deplored the lynching of White, and its consequent reflection upon the good name of Delaware. Judge Grubb also explained the action of the court in refusing to call a special session of the Grand Jury for the indictment of Miss Bishop's murderer. He says the trial would have been attended by such public clamor and prejudice that a fair trial would have been impossible, and the court would have been compelled to grant the motion of the prisoner's counsel for a change of venue. Once the prisoner was moved to the insecure jail of Kent County or Sussex County he might have escaped.

During the sensational sermon preached on Sunday night by Rev. R. A. Elwood, pastor of the Olivet Presbyterian Church, to which previous reference has been made, he said: "Should the murderer of Miss Bishop be lynched? Yes, but only under one condition, and that is this: If his trial shall be delayed until September, and then, though he is proven guilty through some technicality of the law, or any undue influence upon either judges or jury he be not given capital punishment."

Yesterday Mr. Elwood said: "I am very sorry it happened as it did. I believe the man should have had a legal trial, but I also believe that he should have had a speedy trial. The lesson we can learn from last night's outbreak is that the people are tired of the delays of the law. Certain terrible crimes require stern and speedy punishment, and when the machinery of the law is not set in motion the people, impatient of the delay, move themselves. I personally deplore the lynching. I believe, however, if the judges yesterday had announced that they would call a special session of the court and try the man at once the lynching would have been averted."

Nearly all of the clergymen in the city held a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Hall and adopted resolutions condemning the lynching as an act which has brought reproach upon the State, and calling upon all classes and conditions to condemn and berate such lawlessness and inhumanity. The resolution concludes with a pledge to insist on the sanctity of the law through the pulpit.

SONS OF SCOTLAND.

Meeting of the Grand Camp at Brantford.

Brantford, June 24.—The Grand Camp of the Sons of Scotland commenced its annual meeting here yesterday, and business will probably be wound up to-day. About 120 delegates are in attendance. Last night an informal reception was held at the Kerby House, and a social evening was heartily enjoyed. This morning addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Halloran and Mr. T. H. Preston, M.P.P., and responded to by Mr. John Donald of Toronto and Mr. Bartley Craig. Ald. Leitch also assured the visiting delegates that the city was theirs.

An official address of welcome was read by Mr. S. M. Thomson, on behalf of the local lodge, Camp Scotia, and this was feelingly responded to by Grand Chief Fraser.

At the session in the afternoon an honorarium of $1,600 was granted to the Grand Chief, Alex. Fraser, for his splendid services during the past two years. The salary of the Grand Chief was fixed at $500 per annum for the next two years, and that of the Grand Secretary, D. M. Robertson of Toronto, was increased from $1,200 to $1,500 per year. An increase was also granted to the Grand Medical Examiner, Dr. Wylie of Toronto. In future he will receive 50 cents instead of 35 for every certificate he examines. It is possible that the officers may be elected to-night, and most of the officers are slated for re-election. There is likely to be a fight for the Grand Chairmanship, the candidates being Dr. Gilchrist of Orillia, S. Mearns of Toronto and the present holder of the office, J. B. Dow, of Whitby.

EXCURSION

The St. Andrew's Sunday School held their annual moonlight excursion down the river last evening on the City of Chatham. Although the weather might have been better, yet the excursion was not a failure. The boat was by no means crowded, still there were many who purchased tickets who did not go, so that a considerable amount of money will be made.

Those who did attend were in a joyful mood and a very pleasant time was spent. The 24th Regiment Band was in attendance and furnished excellent music during the entire trip. The ladies who managed the refreshment stands were kept busy all the time and succeeded in disposing of the greater part of their goods.

J. M. Park and Dr. Duncan were the favorites with the band. At intermission these gentlemen came to the bandmen with ice cream. The gift was much appreciated.

IRISH LAND BILL SAFE.

SERIOUS OPPOSITION HAS BEEN WITHDRAWN.

The Landlords Have Accepted an Amendment Enlarging the Purchasing Powers of the Tenants.

London, June 24.—A compromise was reached between the Nationalists, landlords and the Government whereby serious opposition to the Irish land bill is withdrawn, and unless unexpected difficulties arise the measure, which comes up again in the House of Commons to-morrow, is likely to be speedily passed. The compromise consists in the landlords' acceptance to an amendment to the first clause, enlarging the purchasing rights of the tenants.

A NOVEL SUICIDE.

New York Man's Fatal Jump From a Train.

New York, June 24.—Archibald Morrison, a salesman, committed suicide to-day in a novel way from the Brooklyn Bridge. He climbed the platform railway south of the Brooklyn tower, jumped on to a train bound for Brooklyn, fell off the last car, struck the third rail, was flung across the track, fell through the ties and landed on Front street, more than 100 feet below, a mangled corpse. Morrison was not seen by anyone before he landed on top of the car. A passenger on the rear platform of the last car of the train saw him jump and yelled. This brought everybody in the car to their feet, and all was excitement. As Morrison jumped part of the car ran under a bar crossing the trestlework, and he was hit by it. It swept him off the car, landing him on the third rail. He was probably dead before he landed in the street.

DOUGAL CONVICTED.

Another Chapter of the Moat House Murder.

London, June 24.—Another chapter in the now famous Moat House mystery was closed, when Samuel Herbert Dougal was found guilty of the murder of Miss Camille Holland and was sentenced to death. The trial took place at Chelmsford, commencing yesterday, and Dougal, who offered no defence, listened throughout and, apparently unmoved to the strong circumstantial evidence given against him. Miss Holland, who was a wealthy woman, well educated, but eccentric, went to live with Dougal, a stalwart man about fifty years of age. They rented a gloomy old building known as the Moat House, at Saffron-Walden, Essex. One day, according to the evidence of their housekeeper, Dougal and Miss Holland departed in a trap, ostensibly for the station, it being said that Miss Holland was going away for a few days to visit friends. Dougal returned without her, and no one ever saw her alive again. Months afterwards suspicion was aroused by Dougal trying to obtain money, which had been banked or otherwise invested by Miss Holland. He was arrested, and after a long search Miss Holland's body was found buried in the Moat House grounds, with a bullet wound in the head. Dougal was then charged with murdering her.

CONFESSED EMBEZZLER.

Hamilton C. Wallace of Sarnia Surrenders in New York.

New York, June 24.—Hamilton C. Wallace, formerly cashier of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Sarnia, Ont., was held in $2,000 bail in the Tombs Police Court to-day upon his confession that he was wanted on charge of absconding with $58,800 belonging to the Sarnia bank. He surrendered voluntarily.

Our old friend Gayman is in a bad hole now, eh? What makes you say that? Because of a death in his family. You don't say. Who's dead? Why, Gayman.

SIX MONTHS' HOIST.

SENATE AGAIN KILLS UNION LABEL BILL.

It Had Few Friends Among the Members, Who Thought it a Boycotting Weapon.

Ottawa, June 24.—In the Senate Senator Watson moved the second reading of the union label bill, and asked that it be referred to a committee to hear all parties affected. Senator McMullen cited a case where the employees of a Missouri manufacturer went out on strike because the employer refused to mark his goods "union labor product." He moved the six months' hoist. Senator David opposed the bill and characterized it as a despotism of the worst kind. Sir Mackenzie Bowell saw no advantage in referring the bill to a committee, as they were all thoroughly aware of what was proposed. Senator Sullivan thought the six months' hoist would be discourteous. He did not approve of the bill, but would give its supporters a fair hearing. Senator Ferguson would support the motion for the six months' hoist, as he believed the bill was intended to enable labor unions to boycott non-union shops. Senators Dandurand, Vidal and Perley spoke, and on vote the Speaker declared the six months' hoist carried.

The Senate passed a bill for the incorporation of the new Canadian Company, after Senator Landry had denounced the promoters for publishing falsehoods and misrepresentation in England. He charged them with asserting that the port of Gaspe is open all the year round, or for at least ten months, and that 70 out of 140 miles of railway had been constructed. The latter was a deliberate falsehood. Senator Dandurand replied to Senator Landry.

The Chinese immigration bill was read a third time and passed.

GUARDING RAILWAY MEN.

Amendments to Mr. Blair's Bill in the Commons.

Ottawa, June 24.—The House made good progress with Mr. Blair's railway bill, and passed a number of important clauses, including the safety appliance sections, in which were incorporated the chief provisions of the bill to promote the safety of employees, promoted by the trainmen's associations. This evening supplementary estimates for the current year were again under consideration.

Hon. Mr. Fisher introduced the bill to give effect to his resolution respecting the marking and packing of butter and the prohibition of the manufacture of process butter.

Last evening the House went into Committee of Supply upon the estimates for the Northwest Mounted Police. In reply to Dr. Sproule Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he regretted that he saw no prospect of reducing the force for some time. The old settlers would have to be gradually left to look more after themselves, but the men who were released in this way were required for the new districts that are constantly being opened up. The estimates for Mounted Police, amounting to $900,000, were voted in 20 minutes.

The steamer Bayfield was sold last March to Harrison & Co. of Owen Sound. She had been used as a survey boat and lighthouse tender, but was condemned and sold for $3,200. The Opposition complained of the sale of the boat by other than public tender. Mr. Bennett said the boat had been disposed of to a party friend of the Government, and had she been offered by public tender, she would have brought twice as much.

Mr. Thomson (North Grey) reiterated the assertion that the Bayfield, if put up at auction, would have brought double the amount the Government received.

Hon. Mr. Prefontaine replied that the vessel was sold on the advice of Mr. Stewart, an old and responsible officer of the department, but of course

Mr. Bennett and Mr. Thomson might have superior knowledge regarding the value of the vessel as compared with the men whose duty it was to examine the boat and who advised the sale. As a matter of fact the purchasers, a few days after they had paid for and took possession of the vessel, wanted their money back again.

Mr. Bennett expressed the opinion that the Minister of Marine and Fisheries had by his action in this case justified the fears expressed by many Liberals and a section of the Liberal press in Montreal when he was called to the Cabinet, that he was a dangerous man. The sale of the Bayfield was nothing more nor less than a political job, connived at by the Minister and aided and abetted by him.

Hon. Mr. Prefontaine promised bringing down the report upon the condition of the Bayfield, together with all the papers on the subject.

Two Engineers Killed.

Raleigh, N.C., June 23.—In a head-on collision between two seaboard air line freight trains at Naigara, near Southern Pines, N.C., to-day, Engineers S. D. Stewart and W. P. Well, both of Raleigh, were instantly killed, and Fireman Wright of Raleigh dangerously hurt.

SCHOOL OF LANGUAGE.

Mr. Gamey, having figured in the Globe as Achah, Titus Oates, Piggott, a moral monstrosity, a vulgar scoundrel, a pirate whose veracity has been honeycombed, a shattered idol and a vulpine gamester, is described in the same journal as Barabbas, which is surely carrying Scriptural allusion pretty far. The Globe searches the Scriptures and dives into history, sacred and profane, for abusive language to apply to Gamey, and the Premier makes a similar use of the judges' report. Under these circumstances the Globe's expressions of horror at Mr. Gamey's language are somewhat out of place.—Toronto World.

REV. T. T. GEORGE.

In the departure of Rev. T. T. George, who has resigned the pastorate of the Victoria avenue Methodist church to accept the proffered principalship of one of the denominational colleges, Chatham suffers a distinct loss.

During his two years pastorate in this city Rev. Mr. George has earned the admiration and esteem of the entire community. His pulpit ministrations have been signally successful, while as a citizen he was always found in the forefront of every movement redounding to the progress of our people and the elevation of our citizenship. He was earnest, energetic and enthusiastic in every good cause. Mr. George will be missed in Chatham—but he carries with him to the new field in which he will henceforth labor a sincere and universal "God speed" from the people who have learned to love him here.

DO NOT ALL APPROVE.

The report of the judges of the Royal Commission does not meet with the approval of all the Liberal newspapers of Canada. The Huntingdon, (Quebec), Gleaner, an honest Liberal paper, says:

"That Gamey's record in business is shady, and that he went into politics without conscientious or honest intentions his own admission in the witness box showed. The record justifies all the two judges say about him, but proof of Gamey's worthlessness does not dispose entirely of the charge he made on the floor of the Legislature. He declared advances had been made to him to support the Government and money paid him in hand. Whatever doubt may rest on Gamey's statements, there is no doubt as to money having been paid him. Until it is shown where the money came from and with what intent it was paid, it is vain to pretend no suspicion hangs about the Government. Proof is necessary on this point, and such proof is completely lacking. Knowing as the public do that the Government had an interest in securing Gamey's vote, the conclusion is natural that it will be held guilty until other light is thrown on the case. Rightly weighed, the evidence brought out during the investigation merely justifies the verdict of not proven, which is far from equivalent to not guilty. The matter becomes the more serious for the Government when the evidence taken before a committee of the house is considered—that the first mover in the Gamey plot got a timber limit for $250 that was worth $9,000, and that the chief clerk in the Crown Lands Department was a trafficker in conveying to Government supporters public property for much less than its value."

PRESENCE OF MIND.

The Duke of Wellington's Experience With a Murderous Maniac.

One day as the Duke of Wellington sat writing at his library table quite alone his door was suddenly opened without a knock or announcement of any sort, and in stalked a gaunt man, who stood before the commander in chief with his hat on and a savage expression of countenance. The duke was of course a little annoyed at such an unceremonious interruption, and, looking up, he asked, "Who are you?" "I am Dionysius," was the singular answer. "Well, what do you want?" "Your life," "My life?" "Yes; I am sent to kill you." "Very odd," said the duke, sitting back and calmly gazing at the intruder. "Not at all, for I am Dionysius," said the stranger, "and I must put you to death." "Are you obliged to perform this duty today?" asked the commander in chief. "I am very busy just now and have a large number of letters to write. It would be very inconvenient today." The visitor looked hard during a moment's pause. "Call again," continued the duke, "or write and make an appointment." "You'll be ready?" "Without fail," was the reply. The maniac, awed doubtless by the stern old soldier, backed out of the room without further words and half an hour later was safe in bedlam.

HE WASN'T JEALOUS.

But From What He Said There Was Something Wrong.

Characters: Guy Fenton, engaged to Miss Grey. Mrs. Grey (her mother). Scene: Inside a carriage, driving home from a dance.

Time: 2:30 a. m. Miss Grey sits opposite Fenton with a bouquet of flowers on her knee. Mrs. Grey leans back in the corner asleep.

Guy—Delightful, was it not? Good floor, excellent supper and any number of pretty girls.

Ethel—I didn't enjoy it.

Guy (sarcastically)—Indeed! Not even while dancing with Captain Ell? Appearances are sometimes deceptive.

Ethel—I was bored more than you can guess.

Guy—And yet you seem to have found his conversation sufficiently engrossing to keep him by your side most of the evening.

Ethel (flushing)—I never wish to see or speak to Captain Ell again.

Guy (wildly)—Even supposing Captain Ell proved unsatisfactory, you didn't appear to be in want of partners.

Ethel (dolefully)—The man I wished to dance with forgot to ask me, and (passionately) surely one has a right to expect one's fiancé to claim at least one dance. Captain Ell would not believe I was engaged to you. That was why.

Guy (interrupting savagely)—Your engagement sits so lightly on you that I am not at all surprised. You insisted on carrying another man's flowers. I therefore gave you the opportunity of enjoying his society as well as his gift.

(The flowers fall to the ground and Fenton, handing them to Miss Grey, says ironically:)

"I hope they are not hurt, as you prize them so highly."

Ethel (defiantly)—I didn't value them. You can throw them out of the window if you wish.

Guy (interrupting savagely)—Your enworld. You must keep them as a souvenir of happy hours spent.

Ethel (tearfully)—Oh, won't you understand that I only insisted on carrying them because they matched this gown you are so fond of?

Dreadful Case of Itching Piles

Doctor Wanted to Burn the Skin With a Red Hot Iron—Patient was Cured by

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Mr. Alex. McLean, Tarbot Vale, N. S., writes: "For two years I worked as sectionman on the Dominion Coal Company's railroad between Sydney and Glace Bay, N. S., and during that time was exposed to all kinds of weather. Gradually my health failed, and I became a victim of protruding piles. At first I did not know what my ailment was, but consulted a doctor, and though he treated me for piles, they only grew worse.

"I was forced to give up work and return to my home. My suffering could scarcely be described. I could not walk or lie down, but while the rest of the family was sleeping I would be groaning and aching from the excruciating pains.

"Again I decided to consult a doctor. This one stripped me, and said the piles would have to be burned with a red hot iron. I shivered at the thought of burning the flesh, and told him I could not think of undergoing such an operation, so he gave me some salve, for which he charged me two dollars, but it did not do me any good.

"I was in a desperate condition and had about given up hope of ever being freed from this dreadful suffering when a friend told me about Dr. Chase's Ointment. He said he had seen so many cases that it had cured that he would pay for it himself if it failed to cure.

My experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment is that the first application did me more good than did the two doctors, and it has made me as well and as free from piles as any man. Since being cured I worked during the winter in the lumber woods and experienced no return of my old trouble. I am not putting it too strong when I say that Dr. Chase's Ointment was worth $100 a box to me. You are free to use my testimonial for the benefit of others, as I feel it my duty to make known this great ointment."

Three doors west from market, King St CHATHAM.

A woman with an overpowering ambition usually is oblivious to all sense of proportion in everyday affairs.

Between the ages of fifteen and forty-five, the time when womanhood begins and motherhood ends, it is estimated that the aggregate term of woman's suffering is ten years. Ten years out of thirty! One-third of the best part of a woman's life sacrificed! Think of the enormous loss of time! But time is not all that is lost. Those years of suffering steal the bloom from the cheeks, the brightness from the eyes, the fairness from the form. They write their record in many a crease and wrinkle. What a boon, then, to woman, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It promotes perfect regularity, dries up debilitating drains, heals ulceration, cures female weakness, and establishes the delicate womanly organs in vigorous and permanent health. No other medicine can do for woman what is done by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

TRAGEDY OF ANIMAL LIFE.

Something Pathetic in the Career of the Passenger Pigeon.

To him who knows the story of the passenger pigeon this group of beautiful, grayish brown birds with the iridescent golden sheen upon their throats is the last word of a tragedy of animal life. America once the land of the wild pigeon. Early American writers are full of references to it. Alexander Wilson, the father of American ornithology, estimated that a flock seen by him in 1808 contained over 2,000,000 individuals. It stretched from the horizon to the horizon, as far as the eye could see, and was over four hours in passing a given point. He saw a nesting colony forty miles long and several miles in width.

In 1805 Audubon saw schooners at the wharves in New York loaded not in packages, but in bulk, with wild pigeons caught up the Hudson river and sold for a cent apiece. Up to 1860 the bird continued fairly abundant. Then a frightful slaughter began to supply an increased food demand. Gun, pole, club, net and sulphur pot were employed. Thirty dozen birds were captured at one spring of the net. One man netted 500 dozen in one day. In the nesting season trees were shaken or felled and wagon loads of squab taken nightly, droves of hogs being turned in to utilize what the "hunters" had left. Wherever the distracted flocks appeared the slaughter began. At the last known large pigeon "nesting," in 1878, a billion birds were killed during the season. Like the bison, it was effectually exterminated, showing the terrible efficiency of man when he sets out systematically in pursuit of a lower species.

CONQUERING THE DESERT.

Scientific Methods Steadily Pushing Back the Arid Line.

In the nineties a wave of population flowed westward over the great plains of the Missouri valley. It was composed of farmers who tried to raise crops by natural rainfall in the old fashioned way. The attempt was a failure west of the middle of Kansas. Nebraska and the Dakotas, and the wave receded, leaving ruin in its track.

Now, as Mr. Charles Moreau Herger shows in the Review of Reviews, there is a hopeful attempt to push back the arid line by scientific methods. Of course irrigation will permanently conquer the desert, but even without irrigation it has been shown that new methods of cultivation will turn a semiarid into a productive region.

A South Dakota farmer, Mr. H. W. Campbell, has introduced the plan of very deep plowing, packing the bottom of the furrow with specially constructed implements and thoroughly cultivating the surface. In this way the moisture that falls is preserved just where the roots of the plant can get at it. Mr. Campbell has raised 142 bushels of potatoes on an acre where the crops of his neighbors were failures.

There are certain crops, moreover, such as alfalfa, sorghum and Kaffir corn, which do not require much rain fall. By the use of these and the new methods of cultivation this arid line is being steadily pushed back, and every mile it recedes means the addition of 640,000 acres to the fertile land of the west.

Literature and Matrimony.

It has recently been proved that although feminine independence, authorship and matrimony are each great in their way, yet the greatest of these is matrimony. The world had no sooner recovered from its surprise at Miss Wilkins' marriage than the news arrived that Miss Alice Hegon of "Cabbage Patch" fame, who dedicated her last book to one Mr. Rice, who had helped her to "discover roses growing among cabbages," had married this inspirer, and now comes the intelligence that Miss Josephine Dodge Daskam, author of a recent book on "Middle Aged Loves," had decided to take a middle aged husband.

Henry James once wrote a story, "The Lesson of the Master," to prove that no man could be a perfect artist if he took to himself a wife. "When," he said the master, "are themselves the sacrifice. They're the idol and the altar and the flame." No one has tried to prove that a woman may not marry and at the same time remain an artist. And one fact shines clear in the midst of matrimonial and literary confusion, that men, even when all other offices have been wrested from them, may still perform valuable service as inspirers of literature.

The "Tree of Life."

The expression "tree of life" has more than a Biblical or a symbolical meaning, according to modern science. All animal life upon this planet is dependent upon the green iron containing substance called "chlorophyll," which gives their summer colorings to trees, grass and shrubs. "Green, not blood red, is the life color."

English scientists have figured out that such schemes as Sir Oliver Lodge's proposed reforestation of the English black country would help to eke out the 3,000,000 of years for which astronomers tell us the sun will continue to make animal life possible. Disastrous forest fires in the Adirondacks are, upon this view of the matter, a species of "race suicide," and the proposed new undertaking of the United States government to study the prevention of forest waste is the most direct work of self preservation.

WHEN BOYS WERE MEN

By John Habberton,
Author of "Henry's Babes," "George Washington," etc.

Copyright, 1901, by John Habberton.

"They're as close to the bridge as we," said the captain.

"We'll try, anyhow," said the major.

"No sabers, men—revolvers only!" Then the major put his hand on his revolver and shouted:

"Charge!"

We were within 100 yards of the bridge, so we easily heard the Confederate commander, a grayish brown man from top to toe, who rode to the front, dropped his bridle in his saddle, drew two old fashioned horse pistols from holsters and yelled:

"Git!"

Then that grayish brown man fired.
It is astonishing how much damage can be done by the buckshot which can be put into an old horse pistol. I afterward learned that all the horses in the first set of fours, as well as two of the men, were hit, though none was seriously injured, by that grayish brown man's double shot.

In half a minute some of our men were on the bridge, but so were some of the enemy. Ten seconds later the bridge was jammed with horsemen.

"Fire fast! Fire fast!" screamed our major.

The major meant well, but how much firing could be done on a bridge only wide enough for about four men abreast after the men in front had emptied their revolvers? How were any but the surest shots and those nearest the front to fire without hitting their own comrades, who already were using their revolvers as hammers or hitting the Johnnies with bare fists? There was little firing on the other side, for nearly all the Confederates carried shotguns or muzzle loading muskets, which they could not reload in haste, so after firing once they used their guns as lances, punching our men in breast or face and being horribly cured in return.

Meanwhile each horse was looking out for No. 1. The horse is a wedge shaped animal, and each of our four footed wedges pushed his head and shoulders between those of horses in front of him. This gave the animals absolute rest as well as safety while their riders were fighting.

The major turned to the rear, first cautioning his captains to maintain the pressure, and soon we heard him say:

"Two rear companies dismount!
Third company deploy on the right;
fourth on the left! Pepper their rear with carbines as long as there's a man of them in the saddle! Aim carefully!
Be careful not to hit our own men!"

This promised sickening slaughter, for our men with their carbines could get within 100 yards of the most dangerous part of the bridge, and do a great deal of harm before the enemy could dismount and fire more than a single shot. Probably the enemy would follow our example as soon as they saw what we were up to, if any of them were left after we had given them a volley or two. This is not a joke. Our Sharp carbines were as true as sporting rifles.
For several months we had been taught, when fighting dismounted with carbines or revolvers, to shoot from a rest whenever possible, and our practice shooting showed that anywhere within point blank range we could shoot well.

At the major's orders three men of every set of fours in the last two companies dismounted and hurried to trees, logs and fences near the creek.

"Now, men," said the major to us,
"as soon as they begin to fire and clear away the rear you press upon the advance with all your might. If we drive them off the bridge, divide, right and left, as soon as you get across and ride down their flanks, and we'll capture every mother's son of them who's alive."

This seemed practicable, and I hoped it might begin at once. Had there been no other reason, it would be vastly pleasanter to take a lot of prisoners into camp than to bury an equal number of Confederate dead, for burial party duty stays in one's mind.

"Why don't those skirmishers begin firing?" shouted the major, though it was not easy to hear him above the horrid din on the bridge.

"Crack!" went one of our carbines. I reined my horse toward the edge of the road to see when the enemy's rear should become weak enough for the pressure to begin.

"Crack, crack, crack!" sounded in rapid succession, but the sounds were not like the report of revolver or carbine. Something new was occurring on the bridge, for all the men, both gray and blue, seemed to press to one side. A second or two later that entire bridge, containing 40 or 50 Union troops and as many Confederates, went down with a crash and a splash into the creek below.

Here was the unexpected again, and a great deal of it, too, so I looked anxiously at the major to see what he was going to do about it. He didn't seem a bit puzzled. On the contrary, the bridge had scarcely fallen when he roared:

"Skirmishers cover the road on the other side of the bridge! Don't let a reb get away! Second company dismount; lie down along the edge of the bank! Cover every reb trying to get out of the water and order him to come ashore here!"

Out of their saddles dropped Nos. 1, 2 and 3 of each set of fours in our troop, and in less than half a minute men and picked out for himself a gray target in the great gray below. The skirmishers had already begun to blaze away at the gray targets on the other side of the bridge, but the Johnnies, like sensible soldiers, broke right and left into the woods, left their horses pretty well sheltered from fire by the standing timber and then took cover themselves behind the trees nearest the creek and began to operate exactly according to our tactics, firing on our skirmishers and trying to secure prisoners from the struggling mass below. We were the stronger in numbers and weapons, but nature gave the enemy one immense advantage. As members of the Potomac army will remember, creeks on the Virginia coast almost invariably have one bank high and steep and one which is low and shelving, and where we were fighting the steep bank was on our side.

Our fellows could not easily get out, much less drag out prisoners, but the Johnnies had scamped over their own side before all of us were in position to fire. Some, too, whose horses had been hit or who had dropped their guns during the tumble had the presence of mind to take Yankee carbines or horses with them. One had the impudence to lead away two of our horses, including the forage, blankets and overcoat, strapped himself so skillfully with one of the animals that none of the bullets aimed at him seemed to hit. On the other hand, when one of our fellows tried to climb the bank on our side, perhaps with revolver in hand, trying to drive an unarmed prisoner in front of him, he was a capital mark for the other side to shoot at, and if he was hit his prisoner would generally change his own mind and hurry back to his friends, taking with him the wounded man's revolver and carbine as a memento. Such a dash required him to wade the creek, but the water was not very deep, and a man who had once been wet did not seem to mind a little additional soaking.

Suddenly the major, who had been closely eyeing all that had occurred, passed the word from man to man along the irregular line of kneeling, crouching or flat lying skirmishers that at the word of command all should drop over the bank, ford the creek, press the enemy as closely as possible and try to drive them to the left of the road. Two miles away on that side was another road by which we rightly imagined they would hurry for home should they think us too many for them. Men without carbines were warned to have their revolvers fully loaded before crossing.

Handicapped.

The man who started to run a race in chains and fetters would be visibly handicapped. No one would expect him to succeed.

The man who

CHATHAM CLUB IS SUSPENDED

Action of the Canadian Lacrosse Association as a Result of the Detroit Game.

Executive Will Meet in Toronto Friday to Deal with the Case—To-morrow's Game Off.

The Chatham Lacrosse Club has been suspended from the Canadian Lacrosse Association.

Such was the text of the telegram received by Secretary-Treasurer Walter Elliott, of the local team, this morning from President Lennox, of the Association. The news came as a surprise to the local supporters of the national game here who never for a moment thought that such an action would be taken by the Association.

The reason given for the suspension is that Chatham played two Wallaceburg men in the game at Detroit—Lawlor and Tierney. This is true, as these men did play with Chatham, but no secret was made of it and as the game was out of the league series it was thought justifiable. The Executive of the Association, however, seem to view the matter in a far different light. The suspension lasts until next Friday evening, when the Executive of the Association will meet and deal with the matter. It is understood that the Chatham club will then be reinstated.

In the meantime all games are off as far as Chatham is concerned. The game here with Wallaceburg to-morrow will not be played and it may be given to Wallaceburg. This, however, will be decided in Toronto on Friday.

The following is a despatch from Toronto to The Planet:—

Toronto, June 24.—President Lennox, of the C. L. A., has suspended the Chatham Club for playing Tierney and Lawlor, of the Wallaceburg Club, in the game at Detroit last week. The certificates of these players are also suspended and the case will come up at the meeting of the Judiciary Committee to be held at the Palmer House on Friday night.

UNKNOWN KILLED.

Body of Man Found on the G. T. R. Track Near Thamesville.—Coroner Bray Will Hold an Inquest.

Coroner Dr. J. L. Bray was called to Thamesville this morning to investigate the death of an unknown man, killed on the G. T. R. tracks some time during last night a few miles out of Thamesville. The body was cut in two.

The engineer of a freight train saw the remains and they were removed to Thamesville this morning. The man was evidently killed by a west-bound train, as the legs of the unfortunate man were found on the south or west-bound track. The body was found between the tracks a short distance from the legs. Death must have been almost instantaneous. The remains are in charge of Harwich authorities.

Cheese Markets.

Ingersoll, June 23.—Only 210 boxes were boarded to-day. No sales; 10½c bid; asking 10c. Cheese all sold in this market up to last Saturday. Ruling price, 10-10½c. Campbellford, June 23.—At the Cheese Board meeting to-day, the market was rather quiet. Sales:—Hodgson Bros., 420 at 10½c; McGrath, 335 at 10½c; Cook, 335 at 10½c; Brenton, 235 at 10½c; balance unsold.

Toronto Live Stock.

Trade at the Western Cattle Market to-day showed considerable improvement over that of Friday. The demand for cattle was better, and the run was larger and for fairly good quality. In export and butcher cattle prices were rather firm, sheep were about steady and hogs were 12½c per cwt. easier. The total run amounted to 85 cars, including 1,000 cattle, 575 sheep and lambs, 337 hogs and 90 calves.

Export Cattle.—The market tone was decidedly better than it has been for a week or so, and trade was fairly brisk. There is shipping space waiting to be filled, and Chicago markets have stiffened up a little, and the price being given for one lot of very fine animals, averaging about 1,400 lbs. each. The general run of cattle was sold at about $4.50 to $5, and mediums brought about $4.30 to $4.70.

Butcher Cattle.—The demand for cattle has improved, and with a very good trade to-day prices were well maintained, and in some cases characterized by a firm tendency. Quotations, however, continue about steady. Picked lots sold at about $4.80 to $5, choice brought about $4.40 to $4.50, and fair to good about $4.10 to $4.30. Most of the cows were of poor quality and sold at $2.50 to $3.

Stocks and Feeders.—There is some demand for these cattle, but the absence of trade prices are almost nominal, and are unchanged. Beef steers run at $4.40 to $4.60, medium at $4 to $4.40, and light at $3.50 to $4. Stockers are also quiet, and are quoted at $2.50 to $4 per head.

Milch Cows.—The run was fairly good and all were sold. The range of prices is about steady at $3 to $5. Cows are somewhat firmer at $3.50 to $4.50, and culls were steady at $2.50 to $3.50. Hogs.—Despite a rather light run, hog prices declined 12½c per cwt., and the market is now quiet for sales. Choice mixed, $5.50 for lights and fats, and $4 to $4.25 for sows.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

Chicago, June 23.—Cattle.—Receipts, 250 head; steady; prime shipping steers, $5 to $5.50; butchers' steers, $4.25 to $5; culls and heifers, $2.75 to $4.55; bulls, $3 to $4.25; stockers and feeders, $2.50 to $4.25; cows, $2.50 to $4.25; calves, $2.25 to $6; Texas fed steers, $3.50 to $4.75; heifers, $2.25 to $4.55. Hogs.—Receipts, 2,100 head; active; 10c to 15c higher; heavy, $7.40 to $7.45; mixed, $6.50 to $7.40; light, $6.40 to $7.40; rough, $5.40 to $6.50; stags, $4 to $4.50; sheep and lambs—Receipts, 2,200 head; sheep slow; lambs quarter lower; lambs, $5 to $6.75; yearlings, $5.50 to $6.75; ewes, $4 to $4.50; sheep mixed, $2 to $4.75; wethers, $5 to $5.25.

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, June 23.—Cattle.—Receipts, 5,000; weak to 15c lower; Texas, $5; good to prime steers, $5.10 to $5.25; poor to medium, $4.25 to $4.50; stockers and feeders, $3 to $4.50; cows, $1.50 to $4.50; calves, $1.50 to $2.50; bulls, $2.25 to $4.25; calves, $2.25 to $6; Texas fed steers, $3.50 to $4.75; heifers, $2.25 to $4.55. Hogs.—Receipts, 15,000; left over, 5,000; opened steady to strong, closing 10c to 15c lower; mixed and butchers', $6.50 to $7.40; good to choice heavy, $7 to $8.25; rough heavy, $5.85 to $6.55; light, $5.30 to $6.50; bulk of sales at $6 to $6.10. Sheep.—Receipts, 10,000; sheep steady and 15c lower; lambs steady in 3c higher; good to choice mixed, $5.25 to $4.25; native lambs at $4 to $7.

GENUINE Rubber Rings FOR FRUIT JARS, 10 Cents Dozen.

As no doubt you know there has been a great deal of trouble with rubber rings the past two years. Rubber is high, and the demand was for cheap rubber rings. The public certainly got them, but they lost much more than the price of the rings in the spoiled fruit. This year we have rubber rings that are REAL rubber. You can depend on these to keep your fruit just right.

MUSICAL.

A DELIGHTFUL RECITAL.

"The Burrows method, which you have seen illustrated, is a good method, but there is a better one. It is the Houston method, and it is based on diligence and good, hard work."

Such was the kind compliment paid to Miss Margaret Houston by the Rev. T. Beverley Smith when presenting the medal and diploma to the graduating class at the recital given by the pupils of Miss Houston's musical kindergarten, at Holy Trinity Sunday school last evening.

"I felt that an honor had been bestowed on me when I was selected to present the medals and prizes," continued Mr. Smith, "and I congratulate you most heartily upon your success."

In presenting the silver medal given for general proficiency, to Annie Douglas, Mr. Smith said that only one could be at the head, but only one should strive for the position. It was a good place to have and to keep. Annie had made a good start and should strive to keep it up. Jennie Lind, the greatest singer, was much loved for her gentle manner and kind disposition. This was a good example for the children to imitate. In addition to presenting the medal to Annie Douglas, Mr. Smith presented diplomas to the little graduates, Annie Douglas, Margaret Goodland, Lyle Keller and Wilson O'Loane.

The Burrows method of music, while an innovation in musical education, is a wonderful means of instructing the young, and Miss Houston is to be congratulated upon the knowledge of music the little folks in her class have attained under her instruction.

Miss Ada Ross and Miss Blanche Baxter assisted at the musical. Miss Ross never sang better. Her rendition of "Good-bye, Sweet Day," was a vocal masterpiece. This solo is perfectly adapted to the rich, full tones of Miss Ross's marvellous voice.

Miss Blanche Baxter sang in her own charming style "Kathleen Mavourneen." Miss Baxter has a voice exceedingly suited to bright Irish lyrics. Her solo was much appreciated.

All the pupils acquitted themselves so well that special mention of any one would be unfair.

"Miss Keyboard's School" teaches them the position of the octaves and the "Audition Exercises" following trains their ear to recognize the sound of any note when played on the piano. Terminology teaches all the familiar terms by a song illustrated by cards. In their ordinary lessons the children also spell these names with blocks. "The Note Family" is a method of learning the values of the notes by means of a wooden apple divided into 16 sections and by writing the notes and rests on the blackboard. "The Scale Boys" is a song illustrated by taking blocks from a chart. These blocks are marked with the degrees of the scale and are used for games. "The Rhythm Exercises" teaches how to distinguish and recognize the different times used in various pieces of music.

"The Scholars' Names" deals with the positions of all the notes on the keyboard. "Muscle Exercise" develops the muscles, and "The Bass Lines and Spaces" shows how to learn the notes in the bass lines and spaces by means of writing notes on the blackboard and taking corresponding notes off the blackboard work. It can be seen at once how much easier and more interesting this is than the old way, in which children were required to learn all this same mass of information as a mere memory exercise. After completing this course, which occupies one year, they are fitted to enter the intermediate grade of piano classes.

It is hard to determine just when a man has passed over the middle-age line.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restore a Young Lady to Full Health and Strength

Doctors and nurses recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because they have seen their wonderful power to make new, rich, red blood, and to cure all diseases due to poor blood or weak nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are not a common medicine. They do not purge and weaken. They contain no poisonous drugs. They are safe, sure, simple, stimulating and scientific. That's why these pills should be taken by all who are weak, bloodless, nervous and sickly. Here is a bit of very positive proof of the wonderful power to conquer disease which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills possess.

Miss Esther E. Lewis, Lynn, N. S., says: "At the age of sixteen my health failed me completely. At that time I was attacked by la grippe, which was followed by measles, from the after effects of which I was left in a deplorable condition. I became very pale, suffered from headaches, dizziness and want of appetite. I tried several medicines, but they did me no good; on the contrary, I was growing weaker and finally became so bad that I would take spells of unconsciousness lasting fifteen minutes to an hour at a time; and I had become so weak that I could hardly move about. At this stage I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have good reason to bless the day I began their use. I had only taken them a few weeks when I began to recover, and under their continued use for some time longer I fully regained my former good health. I will be glad if my experience will be of benefit to some other poor sufferer."

When buying the pills see that the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The kindergarten method of musical instruction was originated by Miss Katherine Burrows, of Detroit, Mich. It is a system by which children learn the rudiments of music in the easiest possible way, namely, by songs, games and blackboard work. It can be seen at once how much easier and more interesting this is than the old way, in which children were required to learn all this same mass of information as a mere memory exercise. After completing this course, which occupies one year, they are fitted to enter the intermediate grade of piano classes.

It is hard to determine just when a man has passed over the middle-age line.

THIBODEAU & JACQUES

Extracts From Recent Speech of Hon. Clifford Sifton in London, Eng.

There is in the Dominion a distinctly national sentiment of its own. We have a Canadian sentiment, but if I could express the idea correctly, I should say while it is a Canadian sentiment, it is also a British sentiment. It is the sentiment that we are engaged in overcoming a great many natural difficulties for the purpose of building up what we believe will be, outside of England, perhaps, the greatest British community in the world. I had occasion to say a few words at Montreal when some delegates from the London Chamber of Commerce were being entertained. I told them it was my duty to look after the subject of emigration, and that owing to our efforts a great many substantial and desirable people were going from the Western States to the Northwest. I said we desired to carry on the work so as to settle one or two Britishers alongside every man that came from the United States, and I am delighted to know the result of our efforts has been such that immigration from Great Britain has been largely stimulated, and I think I may safely predict that on the Western plains of Canada there will in time be one of the greatest and most prosperous communities of Britishers in any part of the civilized world.

For myself I have serious doubts about the effectiveness of any attempt to more closely unite the different members of the Empire by anything in the nature of a paper constitution. You who come from the colonies well know the number of local circumstances you have to deal with, and that it could be, perhaps, more likely that a paper union would result in disunion and discontent than in greater union or in greater feeling on the part of the colonies for the Mother Country, and that the result should come about surely it would appear that such a paper union would be a mistake. During the late trouble in South Africa it was the wonder of the world that the British colonies came forth as one man—not as a group that they sent troops, but that they sent them spontaneously. That is a very satisfactory condition of affairs, and I think we should think frequently and carefully before attempting to make any radical change in the position.—From London speech of Hon. Clifford Sifton before Royal Canadian Institute on May Day.

THE SEA GULLS.

How They Follow the Boats From Seattle to Victoria, B.C.

To the traveler on Puget Sound there is nothing that so holds the interest on the day's trip from Seattle to Victoria, on Vancouver Island, as do the sea gulls. These birds distinctly are the feature of the trip.

The sea gulls of Puget Sound are an institution, and as an institution are protected by the governments of the State of Washington and of British Columbia. To kill a gull is a crime, and punishment is swift and sure to any one who is caught committing such a deed. The gulls are the scavengers of the Sound and are faithful to their self-appointed task, always on hand and ever ready to swoop down and remove all refuse from the surface of the water or from beneath the surface if it is within range of their acute vision. Despite the protection accorded by the law many of the gulls are shot and others are trapped by taxidermists and curio seekers, or by men working in the interests of these two classes.

Take the boat from Seattle, leaving the port at 9 in the morning and arriving at Victoria in the afternoon some time after 4 o'clock according to the weather, and the first thing to greet the eye as the boat leaves the dock is a flock of from 200 to 500 of these gulls. Watch them well, for with few variations they will be your companions until you tie up at Victoria that night. There are some five or six different varieties in the flock, some white all over, some nearly all brown, others marked in various ways with brown, and also showing a decided difference in the proportionate size of their wings to their bodies. The bodies appear to be full and plump, but any one who has seen one of the birds plucked will tell you there is little if anything to one of these bodies when the feathers are removed.

As the steamer sails out into the Sound for its northward trip the gulls take up their position. From the outset of the trip they start their apparently tireless circling about the steamer, always going north on the eastern side of it until twenty to fifty feet ahead and then turning and passing back on the western side.

Why He Celebrated.

One of the professors at Cornell University was born in Canada. He has, however, been for a long time a resident of the United States, and his children were born there. The New York Times relates an amusing anecdote, which the professor himself is fond of telling.

One Fourth of July the professor's eldest son had exploded, early in the afternoon, all the firecrackers that he had provided for the day. The youngster and his little friends wanted more, so the boy found his father, and asked for some money with which to buy a new stock of fireworks.

"I will give you the money, my son, if you can tell me what it is that you are celebrating with all those fireworks," replied the father. "I can do that easy enough," said the boy. "This is the anniversary of the day we licked you fellows."—From a New York Paper.

An Advantage of Khaki.

One definite advantage in substituting khaki for blue cloth uniforms for the army in the tropics and in summer was not considered when the change was discussed in the War Department, the anopheles mosquito pest having at that time been exhaustively studied. The malaria breeding mosquitoes will not light upon substances having a yellow color, but swarm about blue fabrics.

A prominent club woman, Mrs. Danforth, of St. Joseph, Mich., tells how she was cured of falling of the womb and its accompanying pains.

"Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is sapping away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me, I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—Mrs. Florence Danforth, 1007 Miles Ave., St. Joseph, Mich.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cannot be equalled by any other medicine in the world.

THE BROAD JUMPER.

His Training Must Be Systematic to Get the Best Results.

Every schoolboy thinks that he can broad jump, and so he can to a certain degree. But this event is one which should be gone at systematically to get the best results. The jumper should first carefully notice his stride on going up to the take off, so that he can mark off a distance—say twenty-five yards back—and by stepping on this mark with one of his feet as he runs by he will be sure to strike the take off when he comes to it. The jumper cannot be sure of getting his best efforts into his jump unless he is practically sure of hitting the take off. After this has been acquired the athlete can get to work.

In this run the jumper's highest speed should be reached at about ten or twelve feet before the take off, so that he can gather himself for the jump. After leaving the take off he should shoot out and up. He must have elevation or his efforts will be in vain. He should go into the air at an angle of at least forty-five degrees. A good way to get this elevation is by placing a hurdle in the jumping pit and jumping over it. The jumper should gather himself together as he goes through the air, and at the finish, just before alighting, he should force himself on by a spasmodic effort with his arms and body. The legs will strike the ground at the farthest possible distance. Practice will show how far out the feet can be thrown without the athlete's falling back into the pit. It must be remembered that the greater the speed the farther out the feet can be thrown with safety. A great deal of practice is necessary to become a good broad jumper, but this is an event which it is not well to practice too frequently, as it is very hard on the legs. The broad jumper will therefore not expect to get at his best during his first season.—G. W. Orton in St. Nicholas.

Athletic exercise should not be taken when the body is exhausted by business toil.

POEMS FOR OLD BOYS

THE THREE PRIZE WINNERS IN REGENT, TORONTO COMPETITION.

Liberal Prizes of $100, $50 and $25 of the Board of Trade of Queen City Went to Mr. Duncan Campbell Scott, 1st; Miss Helen M. Merrill, 2nd; and Miss Marjorie Pickthall, 3rd.

The Old Home Committee of the Toronto Board of Trade, in offering the liberal prizes of $100, $50 and $25 for the best poems on the old home sentiment, met with a very ready response from all quarters of America. Nearly two hundred poems were submitted from every part of North America. The committee of judges was composed of Rev. Dr. Clark, Prof. Maurice Hutton, Prof. Pelham Edgar and Prof. W. S. May. The names of the competitors were unknown to the judges, but were sent under seal to the Secretary. On opening the envelopes it was found that Duncan Campbell Scott of Ottawa had won the first prize, Miss Helen M. Merrill of Picton the second prize, and Miss Marjorie Pickthall of Toronto the third.

Duncan Campbell Scott is already well known as a Canadian poet. His works have been published in England and the United States. Miss Helen M. Merrill of Picton has written a considerable number of verses and her work has been published in the periodicals of the United States and Canada. Miss Marjorie Pickthall is a resident of Toronto, being a young girl of seventeen, whose poems in the local press have attracted the attention of many of our literary authorities, who are of the opinion that her poems give very great promise. The prize winning poems follow:

First Prize—The Home-Comers.

From the smoke where cities welter,
From the quiet glens of earth,
To the land that gave us shelter,
To the land that gave us birth;
We, the wanderers, the dreamers,
That for love of fortune roam,
In the gleams of the morning
In the light, come streaming home.

Men whose fathers, mocked and broken,
For the honor of a name,
Would not wear the conqueror's token,
Could not sell their bread with shame,
Plunged them in the virgin forest,
With their axes in their hands,
In the province as a halcyon
For the loyal of the land.

Men whose fathers, sick of dead lands,
Europe and her weary wars,
Saw the fading emerald headlands,
Saw the heather quenched in haze,
Saw the land of France or Italy,
Like a glimmer sink and cease,
Won the ample land of maples,
The domain of wealth and peace.

Won it by the axe and harrow,
Held it by the axe and sword,
Bred a race with brains and marrow—
From no alien overlord.
Gained the right to guide and govern;
Then, with labor strong and true,
Forged the land a shield of Empire
Silver sea to silver sea.

Fighting makes the heart grow fonder,
Labor makes the heart grow fair,
Still wherever we may roam,
We are of the lion strain;
We may trample foreign markets,
We may delve in outland loams,
Yet when memory cries and calls us,
All our hearts come leaping home.

Now from smoke where cities welter,
From the quiet glens of earth,
To the land that gave us shelter,
To the land that gave us birth,
Lo, we bring thee our achievement,
Won by strength and patient pain—
Thine the strength and thine the patience—
Bring it to thy breast again.

And we bid Ontario quicken,
Under snow and under sun,
Where the spruces root and thicken,
Where the aspens stand and run;
Bid the towns of glad Ontario
Gather to a diadem,
Draw a circuit round Toronto,
As with gems the peerless setting folds
And holds the gem.
—Duncan Campbell Scott.

Second Prize—The Home-Comers.

Across the dawn the Whitethroat calls—
Twice happy the impassioned song
That from the leafy thicket falls
"Sweet, sweet Canada, Canada, Canada,"
Oft he repeats each perfect note,
From his shining throat,
A-bow the land where maples rise,
And elms to arch the sapphire skies;
"Sweet, sweet Canada, Canada, Canada."

The homelands sea is broad and blue,
The homelands shores are fair to view—
Along the sunset twilight rest
Visions of half-forgotten days,
Like dim mirages, in the soul
Their holy images lie;
For him, homecoming, as of old
After the twinkling roof-tree gleams;
And by the starlight's opal beams
The splendid city of his dreams—
Toronto, of the golden north,
Whence, harking back have ventured forth
A thousand fearless hearts to fight
Of other lands; and more near
Of silent longing, smiles and tears,
Strange winds, and stars, and creeds,
Come home.

To view once more their native land,
And in the shadow of its domes,
Clasp one another by the hand.

The Whitethroat calls across the dusk
From wood and meadow with pine and must,
What time the purple twilight rest
Upon the city's glimmering breast:
"Sweet, sweet Canada, Canada, Canada,"
The night wind hushes, and more near
The sound of revelry I hear;
And by the starlight's opal beams
Aly woodbird whistles in its dreams,
"Sweet, sweet Canada, Canada, Canada."
—Helen M. Merrill.

Third Prize—The Home-Comers.

Bounded by saltless sea and pine crowned hill,
Tail-spread and tree-embowered, the city lies;
And the loud songs of labor upward rise
From street and factory, from forge and mill,
Beside her wharves the steamers lift and strain,
While the dark smoke drifts down and
On her fair upland heights the orchards are
With garden-plots, and fields of ripening grain.

How many hearts have held this picture dear?
How many hearts still hold it, and shall
How many hearts, as the long years unfold,
Send all their dreams, their tenderest memories here,
How many, cradled here, that rove and roam
In distant lands where stateroom scenes may please, Yet hold this picture holier far than these—
Each street a heritage, each house a home?
How many, wandering long in devious ways,

OCEAN TRAMPS

(From Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for July).

An odd thing about officers of tramp ships is that so many of them are consistent smugglers. On the big liners it is the men of the crew who do the smuggling and on one trip from Southampton to New York I saw thousands of dollars' worth of dutiable stuff brought over by the men about me. With the tramps, the men have no certain market or opportunity for smuggling, but the officers having the right to come and go ashore, and, knowing in advance what the next port will be, make quite a business of taking in goods on the quiet. One captain had a big Newfoundland dog, and he always gave this dog a basket full of very valuable stuff to carry ashore. No customs house officer ever thought of bothering the dog. Another officer who had a regular port of call on the Spanish coast always took a spool of twine when he made his first trip ashore, and let it trail in the water behind him. That night his confederate on shore would pull in the twine, and to the end of it would be bent a thin line. The end of this on board ship was at the top of the mast, and when it was made taut to a secluded place on shore it was a trolley down which hundreds of pounds of valuable goods could be conveyed before daylight.

NOT ACCORDING TO EVIDENCE

Mr. St. John Moves an Amendment to this Effect After a Clever Arrangement of the Government.

W. R. Smyth is Preparing a Motion Asking that $10,000 be Offered for Information as to Where the $1,500 Came From.

Toronto, June 24.—By way of change, the floor of the Legislature was in possession of the Liberals during nearly all of yesterday's session, the Opposition manifesting a keen desire to have the question put. Mr. St. John concluded his address in an hour in the forenoon, and moved an amendment expressing the view that the report was not in accordance with the evidence. He was followed by Mr. William Rickard of West Durham, who concluded by moving an amendment to the amendment, adding to the main motion an expression of censure on Mr. Gagey for his conduct in connection with the case. Mr. Pettipiece followed in a speech which was closely reasoned and filled with a number of strong, new points. Mr. Milton Carr spoke briefly, and Mr. Pattullo took the floor at 5:30, occupying it the rest of the evening. His address was an excellent, logical effort, characterized by his customary eloquence. The public interest in the debate continues, the galleries being crowded all the time. Mr. Hoyce opens the debate to-day, and Mr. Hanna, Colonel Gibson and Mr. Graham are expected to speak to-day or to-morrow.

When the Legislature resumed in the morning Mr. Whitney asked how many copies of the printed evidence would be at the disposal of the members.

The Premier replied that one thousand copies had been printed, of which 420 would be required for the bound copies of the sessional papers. Mr. Whitney asked if it was not possible to print more now. The matter had been set up on linotype machines and the metal was melted again as soon as the impression was taken off.

Mr. Whitney said he had known only 1,000 copies were being printed, he would have been willing to have saved the people of the Province this expense. He thought it was an outrage that the money should be spent for so few copies. Mr. W. R. Smyth gives notice of a motion as follows:—That this House recommend the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to offer a reward of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for information leading to the discovery of the source from which R. R. Gagey, Esq., received $1,500 which he deposited to Mr. Gagey's Bank at Toronto on the 11th day of September last, and $500 which he deposited in the Ontario Bank in Toronto on the same date, also $500 which he alleges he received on the 20th day of January last; and that the Lieutenant-Governor in Council guarantee immunity from punishment to any person or persons giving such information.

ANGRY MOB AT PEORIA.

Surround Jail and Demand Murderer's Life.

Peoria, Ill., June 24.—Detective Wm. E. Murphy was killed by Billie McCrae, a negro desperado, last night. Murphy, armed with a warrant for McCrae, on the charge of burglary, approached the negro, and informed him that he was under arrest. Without a moment's warning, McCrae shot the officer in the breast. He then attempted to make his escape, but was caught by Detective Chadwick. McCrae was hurried to the city jail and in less than an hour a mob numbering at least 1,000 men and boys had assembled. They made a demand on the Chief of Police for the prisoner, but the chief refused to surrender him. With the hope of attracting the attention of the mob, the fire department was called out, and made a run past the jail. The mob partially succeeded. In the meantime all the electric lights in the city were turned off, and in the darkness McCrae was taken to the county jail. In a short time the mob discovered that it had been deceived, and formed in front of the county jail. The entire police force of the city was called out to guard the jail.

MANCHURIAN SITUATION.

Chinese-Russian Treaty Will Soon be Made Public.

Peking, June 24.—Prince Ching denies that he has signed any secret agreement with Russia in regard to Manchuria or Newchwang, but he admits that he has sent a memorandum to the Russian Legation embodying the results of the negotiations with the Russian Minister. He affirms that the memorandum mainly consisted of answers, from the Chinese standpoint, one by one to the demands contained in M. Plancon's despatch and presented by order of the Russian Government on April 18. In a few days we shall learn the whole truth. Russia meanwhile waits complacently, and time is on her side.

Public opinion in Japan is showing signs of impatience at the protracted uncertainty in regard to the Manchurian situation, which creates general uneasiness and is paralyzing commercial enterprise. Some of the leading journals advocate a direct protest to St. Petersburg, instead of to Peking.

Tokio, June 24.—A severe official order says Russia last autumn made a demand for a twenty-five years' lease of land on the northern bank of the Yalu River. The Chinese Government made no reply, and Russia is now treating the land as though it were her own property.

FIRE AT WETASKIWIN.

A Large Part of the Town Destroyed.

Wetaskiwin, N.W.T., June 24.—A disastrous fire swept this place yesterday about 2:30 a.m. It broke out in Heric's store, and was not discovered until that building was in flames. Without any fire protection except a hand pump, it was soon evident that the town was at the mercy of the flames. From Heric's store the fire swept to the Criterion Hotel, and from there along Railway street, destroying Patenaud's livery stable, the Driad Hotel, John West's general store, W. J. McNamara & Co.'s office, and Bassinger's book store. So quickly did the fire travel that not a thing was saved from these places. It started in Heric's Hall, and may have been from a cigar stub left in the hall. The Clara Hammer Company played in the hall last night, and all their effects were burned. The losses are: Heric & Co., $34,000, covered by $14,000 insurance; the Clara Hammer Co., total loss $3,000; McNamara, $5,000; Peter Patenaud's livery, $500, with $1,000 insurance; Clegg's Driad Hotel, about $10,000, covered by $5,000 insurance; W. R. Membership, the owner of the Driad Hotel, loss $1,000, insurance about $8,000; John West's general store, $60,000; the insurance covers half the loss; W. J. McNamara's office, $5,000, no insurance; G. R. Bessinger's book store, $4,000, insurance $2,000. By the heroic efforts of the citizens the fire was checked at Schmidt's liquor store, the only brick building in town. The total loss, as far as can be learned at present, is $175,000. No lives were lost. The guests at the hotels saved some of their effects, but all samples of travellers were lost with the rest. The fire is now spent, and nothing remains of Wetaskiwin's finest hotels and business houses but a mass of ashes.

NEWSPAPER RATE REDUCED.

Sir William Mulock's Postoffice Bill Introduced.

Ottawa, June 24.—Sir William Mulock has brought in a bill which effects a reduction in the postage on newspapers and periodicals, and makes important changes in the status of certain classes of employees in the postal service. The reduction in postage is from one-half to one-quarter of a cent per pound or fraction of a pound. It applies where the distance that newspapers or periodicals in Canada have to be transmitted does not exceed 300 miles from the office of publication, and where such newspapers or periodicals are not to be delivered under the free letter-carrier delivery system.

The bill increases the maximum salary of fourth-class clerks in city post-offices and the offices of inspectors and superintendents of railway mail clerks from $600 to $700. Two grades of third-class and second-class clerks are created. The junior third-class will begin at $700 and advance to $800. The minimum of the junior second-class be $800 and the maximum $900. The minimum of the junior, second-class $900 and the maximum $1,000. The minimum of the senior second-class $1,000 and the maximum $1,100. In each class the increase is to be at the rate of $50 a year. The salary of first-class clerks is to be not less than $1,200 or more than $1,500 per annum. The salary of a superintendent is fixed on appointment at $1,500, with annual increases of $100 up to a maximum of $1,800. The salary of an inspector is fixed at $2,000, with an increase of $50 a year for six years, and $100 a year thereafter up to a maximum of $2,600. The salary of an assistant inspector is fixed at $1,200, with increases of $50 a year for the first six years, and thereafter of $100 a year up to a maximum of $1,800.

NORWEGIAN LIBELLED.

Mr. Reid of Newfoundland Has a Claim For Salvage.

Halifax June 24.—The Allan Line steamer Norwegian was libelled at Port aux Basques Monday at the instance of Mr. Reid of Newfoundland for salvage of the vessel and cargo when ashore at Larkin's Point, Newfoundland, last week. The Allans are anxious to take the steamer to Quebec, instead of to St. John or Halifax, where it is believed the steamer would be likely to be condemned. Divers examined the vessel's bottom to-day, and although their report was not made public it is stated the Norwegian is considerably more damaged than at first reported. Mr. Andrew Allan is now at Port aux Basques, and will furnish bonds to secure the steamer's release.

UNDERWEAR COMFORT.

The condition of a man's mind is largely dependent upon the condition of his body. If he wears ill-fitting, badly made or unseasonable underwear he is likely to be ill at ease and irritable. Perfect underwear comfort is easily assured if you allow us to attend to your underclothing needs. We have some kinds as thin as a cobweb, and others grading in weight up to the kind that will drive away the shivers on a chilly night. All the most popular weaves of the best makers.
