EDUCATIONAL CLAUSES

House is Still Hammering Away at Autonomy Bill.

Mr. Bergeron Proposes an Amendment Tantamount to Clause 16 (No. 1) and Baita Fitzpatrick—Claims That Promises Made by England in 1783 Were Made to the French in Canada and Not to Provincials.

Ottawa, June 30.—The House went again yesterday into committee on the school clause of the autonomy bill. Mr. Bergeron proposed his amendment. He said he gathered that Bourassa's speech must have struck home to the Government, judging by the eloquent harangue with which the Solicitor-General sought to draw a red herring across the trail. He denounced the amended section 16, as "opportunistic, neither granting rights to the minority in the Northwest, nor placing them under the constitution. Instead of talking about the abstract letter of the constitution, it was better to see what was the intention of those who framed it."

England's Promises. The promises made by England in 1783 were made, not to the Provincials, but to the French-Canadian people, wherever they were, and "those who are in the Northwest Territories," he said, "must have come from somewhere. They didn't come from the moon." Promises were made in Manitoba, and the party that broke them was the same party that today was doing the same work in the Territories. Clause 16 (No. 2) amounted to nothing at all. If the Premier had stood by the original clause it would have been a triumph. The Premier had become frightened. The Premier desired to get rid of Sifton, and cleverly utilized this opportunity. But when the Minister of Finance showed his teeth it was a different matter, and the change was made. It was a dangerous thing for a chief to show that he could be forced to make changes. The practical effect of clause 16 (No. 2) would be to forever prevent Roman Catholics from having their own denominational schools in the new Province.

His amendment was as follows: "Section 93 of the British North America Act, 1867, shall apply to the Province, as if the date fixed for the coming into force of this act, the territory included in the said Province were already a Province, the word 'union' in the said section meaning the said date. (2) The Legislature shall have the right to pass laws with reference to education, but it shall always guarantee: (a) the existence of separate schools and their enjoyment by the minority, Protestant or Catholic, who may claim them; (b) the effective control of said schools in matters of teaching by the said minority; (c) the full liberty for the majority in any school section, to have such school as it may desire; (d) the equitable and proportionate distribution between the majority and minority of all moneys appropriated for education."

There was a kind of a fight. Mr. Fitzpatrick declared that Mr. Bergeron's amendment would give the Roman Catholics nothing at all. "If that were so," Mr. Bergeron came back, "his hon. Minister and his friends behind him would vote for it." (Laughter.)

Mr. Fitzpatrick explained that, in support of Mr. Bergeron's amendment, it meant anything at all, was the same as the amendment of Mr. Bourassa.

"Which I voted for and you voted against," Mr. Bergeron interrupted.

The Minister of Justice said that Bergeron's amendment made no provision for financial support to separate schools.

After Mr. Leonard had spoken in French in favor of the amendment, Mr. Bourassa arose, and in a fiery speech, announced his intention of supporting the amendment, also as being in favor of establishing separate schools.

This ended the incident, and the committee divided on Mr. Bergeron's amendment, which was defeated by 125 to 7, the seven voting yeas being Messrs. Martin, Bergeron, Monk, Paquette and Lacombe, Messrs. Bourassa and Laverne, Liberals.

Then Mr. Lamont, Liberal of Saginaw, sprung an amendment calculated to increase the privileges of the Roman Catholics, as to religious instruction in public schools, and a hot debate ensued.

Mr. Lamont's amendment, which was accepted by the Government, was carried by 33 to 27. Then the clause 16, as thus amended, was put forth and carried by 96 to 28. Clause 2, which also deals with education, was taken up and an amendment embodying the principles of section 93 of the B. N. A. Act was moved by Mr. Bourassa and lost on division.

TILLSONBURG OLD BOYS

About 25 of Tillsonburg Old Boys located in Chatham leave on the Wabash noon train on Sunday to revisit their old home. The celebration takes place on Monday and Tuesday, elaborate preparation having been made. About 500 are going on a special train from Detroit, accompanied by the Light Guard Band. All wishing badges may get them from Mr. Gray, of Austin.

Neil Watson, of Mull, was in the city last evening on his way to Midland, where he will attend a meeting of the Hoo-Hoo. The meeting would not be complete without the popular Neil.

WAS THRILLING

Magnificent Exhibition of Speed and Gymnastics by Excitable and Spirited Stead.

A hippodrome, circus performance and steeple-chase, all for the one price of admission, was what the people of the east end of the city were treated to yesterday afternoon when Dr. Rutherford's horse, attached to his new steeple-chase carriage, ran away. The animal was tied in front of the office on King street east and succeeded in some manner in getting one ear free of the bridle. A moment later it grew restless and a jerk freed its whole head and the show had started.

The boy who had charge of it made a gallant attempt to stop the animal, clinging to its neck until shaken off at the Mansell House. A large plow was at work tearing up the cobblestones on William street but the runaway cleared it by a neat jump. Down William street to Wellington street, the horse and carriage occurred. On the corner of Adelaide street the next "thriller" occurred, when horse and carriage were pushed out of the street by the cart of O'Leary Mitchell. Mr. Mitchell was knocked down and quite severely bruised. The impact of the collision caused horse and carriage to dissolve partially, the horse continuing its spectacular career down Wellington street, the carriage being scattered, being thrown into the ditch.

The horse headed for its stable on Kirk street. Will Collett was unloading some furniture before the house of James Rhinoceros when it dashed up, crushing the shafts of the carriage, striking Collett's rig. The horse on the furniture wagon started to run and the procession began to resemble the historic ride of John Galt. The Collett rig was jammed in the doorway by a tree, but the other horse continued until it ran up on the lawn of Geo. Tick, where, after trampling the flower beds, it endeavored to enter the house.

The damage to the doctor's rig is quite extensive. The Collett outfit had an axle broken.

THE MARKET

The Building Will not be Completed Owing to Lack of Funds—Committee to Rush Work on Sheds.

A meeting of the Building committee of the City Council was held in the City Clerk's office, Harrison Hall, last evening, with Chairman King, Mayor Cowan and Ald. Edmondson, Potter and Ainsworth and Solicitor Gundy present.

The agreement with the architect, Mr. Parry, in connection with the market building, came up for consideration. Mr. Rutley asked for 3 1/2 per cent. on the work that goes on and 1 1/2 per cent. on all the work specified by him in plans that does not go on. The committee was unanimous in objecting to pay for work that does not go on, and Mr. King and the solicitor were appointed to meet Mr. Rutley to-day and come to some agreement satisfactory to both parties.

It was decided not to complete the building according to No. 2 plan, including a municipal building, owing to lack of funds. The committee was unanimous in their opinion that it would be better to put up the whole building at once, but the amount of money voted by the people is insufficient for this purpose and the committee will have to confine themselves to the building of the sheds and police station and the pavement. The work on this will be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible. The contractor will put a big force of men at work to-morrow and bricks are being carried to the square to-day in preparation for the work. The contractor assures the committee that he will engage as many men as he can get. The work will be put up and likely completed by the middle of next week.

It was decided that the appointment of an inspector on the building was unnecessary.

The Mayor and Ald. King and Edmondson examined the work this morning and as far as they could see everything is being carried out according to contract.

In reference to the cemetery building the committee decided to reduce the cost on the plans submitted by Architect Wilson and the chairman will bring in a report on this at the next Council meeting.

Brigadier Southall, of Toronto, who is Secretary of the Trade Department of the Salvation Army, will visit Chatham on Saturday and Sunday, July 1st and 2nd, and conduct special services at the Army Bazaar. The Brigadier will be accompanied by his old friends, as he was one of the first officers sent to take charge of the Army here and experienced some rough times in the early days. He is a forceful and earnest speaker and old and new friends are invited to his services, which are being looked forward to with great expectation by the Army folks of this city.

RIPE FOR REVOLUTION

Russian Government Almost Paralyzed by Odessa Events.

All Depends on the Army—Fears Expressed That Many Regiments Are Honeycombed With Sedition, and Admiral Skrydloff Openly Expresses Opinion That Kruger's Bluff-jackets Will Not Fire on Comrades.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The Russian Government, although almost paralyzed by the events at Odessa and the news that the sailors at Libau also have mutinied, is making desperate efforts to stem out the flames of revolution before they can spread to the army, the last bulwark of the autocracy. With Poland red with revolt, the Caucasus almost in a state of civil war, agrarian disorders spreading rapidly, the whole country profoundly stirred and the intelligent classes solidly arrayed against the Government, all conditions seem ripe for the long predicted revolution.

Fear is expressed that many regiments are honeycombed with sedition, and there is grave doubt of their loyalty should they be called upon to fire upon the revolutionists. The most startling stories regarding the unreliability of the troops are being repeated.

Precautions to keep the news from the public are in vain, the revolutionaries and the Liberals everywhere spreading it by mouth, and within 24 hours it will be known in the uttermost confines of European Russia.

Will Not Fire on Comrades. At the Admiralty the orders sent to Kruger were not unanimously approved. Among others, Vice-Admiral Skrydloff openly expressed the opinion that Kruger's bluff-jackets would not fire on their comrades on the Kalas Potemkin, and that they, too, might revolt should they be ordered to shoot. Odessa despatches state that millions of dollars worth of property, including ships, has been burned or otherwise destroyed. The city is terror-stricken and hundreds have been killed or wounded. The fact that the troops and police made no attempt to interfere with the burial of the martyred sailor is regarded as significant.

Under cover of the darkness produced by the dense pall of smoke hanging over the city, it is reported, the mob has begun to sack and plunder. Foreign property has suffered heavily.

Admiral's Message. In naval circles the cause of the mutiny on board the Kalas Potemkin is attributed principally to the severity of Vice-Admiral Chukhin's regime. He is a martinet and several of his sailors have already been shot for disobedience. At the time of the mutiny a court-martial was actually in progress at Sebastopol and several of the crew of the battleship had been sentenced.

Late despatches from Libau say that property losses there are considerable and that all the workmen have gone out in sympathy with the blue-jackets. Artillery is said to have been employed against the mutineers.

Gripenberg's New Job. St. Petersburg, June 30.—Lieut. Gen. Gripenberg, who was recalled from Manchuria for disobeying the orders of Gen. Kuropatkin, has been appointed Inspector-General of Infantry.

Danish Ship Sunk by Russian. Batavia, Java, June 29.—The Danish steamer Prinsesse Marie was overtaken June 24 by the Russian auxiliary cruiser Tarek, and after her cargo had been declared contraband, the ship was sunk. Her crew are safe.

STEAM HEATING

Yesterday Mayor Cowan received the following message from Councilman Lily:

"Hon. Geo. W. Cowan, Mayor:

"Will you make steam heating franchise fifty years, 25 years exclusive. Find it difficult to finance scheme without at least 25 years exclusive. Answer."

Sd. M. E. LILLY.

The Mayor sent the following reply:

"I feel certain of 50 years, first 20 years exclusive, would be approved by Council."

Sd. GEO. W. COWAN.

It will be remembered that the Council gave these people a fifty-year franchise—forty years of the term being exclusive, and then reported themselves of their act, mid by striking the word "exclusive" out of the agreement, gave them a straight franchise for fifty years.

Both Mayor and Council are opposed to exclusive franchises, but desire to protect an enterprise of this sort in a reasonable manner and think that to prohibit anyone competing against them for 20 years would afford them ample protection.

AT VACATION TIME.

The practice of taking a vacation for a week or two in the summer has become more and more popular; indeed, necessary, by reason of the strain and hurry of present day life, points out the St. Thomas Times. It has been proven that holidays really pay, for the time lost is more than compensated by the renewed health which the rest from labor brings.

There are many ways and many places in which a vacation may be spent, and all may prove acceptable on the old principle that a change is as good as a rest. Nevertheless, it is a well-known fact that some vacation trips prove more enjoyable than others, and holiday-seekers naturally wish their outing to rank with the best in the pleasure and profit which it brings. There are no broad lines which can be laid down as the basis for the most satisfactory vacation. The opportunities afforded are as varied as the varied tastes of people can demand. The all-important thing is for each vacationist to take the trip which best suits his individual taste. The stickler for personal comforts is apt to be as happy in a camp as a humble-bee in a bottle; while the man who goes off to seek the simple life, and lands in a fashionable summer hotel will feel all the liberty of a fish caught in a water pipe. Let the two-exchange situations and they will probably enjoy themselves. It is largely a matter of personal inclination.

As between that life, where an attempt is made to cook one's own meals, and the hotel or boarding house life, there is, apart from the general principle of personal taste, a difference somewhat in favor of the latter. The pleasure of eating half-cooked meals on a sapphire-sweet table wanes somewhat after the first few experiences, and the spiders which vie with the plums in the golden pudding become more noticeable as the days go by. Camp life always looks well on paper, but to most civilized beings the advantages of primitive life are most acceptable when they can be had without its discomfort. So far as cost is concerned, it will be generally found that in the end tenting in a neighborhood is quite as expensive as boarding in the same vicinity, and in the case of the camper there is a lot of hard work which counts for nothing.

There are some things which tend to increase the pleasure of summer resorting under whatever conditions. The home paper is of course one of these; those who have taken vacations without it will bear witness. The camera, of which the popularity knows no wane, is another. Views taken at holiday time will serve to recall happy days in years to come. It is the rule that anything in the way of outfitting clothing or supplies should be purchased before leaving home. At the summer resort the article wanted may be unsatisfactory, double-priced, or unobtainable altogether. Besides, the home merchant is entitled to just as much trade as it is possible to give him. A few books or magazines for rainy weather should be included in every outfit. The chances are that they will not be used if the weather is fine, but it is well to be prepared. So-called "heavy" reading is sometimes included in the vacation trunk. It usually stays there. After all, there is a time to laugh, and literature of the "dry" variety will prove altogether too thoroughly for the average summer tourist.

These are only a few of the things which make vacation pleasant, but they are among the important ones. On the whole, the pleasure seeker who determines to have a pleasant summer outing and uses reasonable intelligence in going about it will have an enjoyable time—especially if he seeks the comfort of those about him. The chronic grumbler who is determined to find fault will assuredly find what he is looking for, and will doubtless resort to the mean satisfaction of trying to lessen the pleasure of those about him. But a summer resort would not be complete without its "Disagreeable Man," and as a rule his grumbling provokes only the laughter of the happy-spirited who, The Planet hopes, will include all those of its readers who will this summer enjoy the delights of a short period of complete rest.

For Dominion Day excursions Mr. W. E. Rabin will sell return tickets to all points in Canada, going to Detroit and Buffalo, good going June 30th, July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, returning July 4th, at single fare for round trip.

WORLD OF SPORT

LAWN TENNIS

London, Eng., June 28.—All of the Americans with the exception of W. A. Larnie are now out of the running for the British lawn tennis championship.

The result of the Wimbledon tournament has given the British players a new lease of life, and they are already claiming certain victory for the Doherty brothers.

BASEBALL

WILL CLEVELAND WIN?

New York, June 28.—When John McGraw, manager of the Giants, was asked what team he thought would win the pennant of the American League, he said he could not say, but it looked as though the Cleveland had an excellent chance. "I think they will get away with the flag," he said, after a little reflection.

Then he was asked if he thought his team could beat the Cleveland in a series for the championship of the world.

"With my pitchers in good condition," replied McGraw, "I am confident my team can beat any other in the world, not barring Cleveland."

"The only one of my pitchers who has not been in good condition is McGinnity, and, judging by the last game he pitched in Cincinnati, he has begun to get into his best form. With McGinnity in condition to do his best, I will not have any misgivings as to the outcome of a series with any club in the world."

"I know that Lejole has an exceptionally fine team this year, and I tell you that any truth that beats them out will have to hustle as it never did before. It is immaterial to me which club wins the American League pennant, for I believe we can beat any team in the country."

SONS OF SOOTIA

The Grand Lodge of the Sons of Soothia, held its convention in St. George's Hall, Toronto, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. J. G. Kerr and Wm. Anderson were delegates from the local camp. The report that all Canada was represented from Halifax to Vancouver, the delegates numbering about 300. The lodge was found to be very firmly entrenched, a surplus of over $220,000 having accumulated. This is due in a great measure to shrewd management.

Grand Chief Fraser proved a stronger man than F. S. Mearns, of Toronto, and beat him out for the office, being re-elected. Both delegates were kept very busy, but succeeded in having an enjoyable time. Mr. Kerr was nominated for the committee on laws.

BEST PEOPLE ON EARTH

The B. P. O. E.—Best People On Earth—more shortly known as Elks, held a grow-wow Wednesday night when much cheer was initiated and received their visitors. Those who know may the ceremony is more fun than a minstrel show.

After the initiation an impromptu concert was given by the members. A survey of the membership list will tell you that this must have been rich. The club remembered the Home of the Friendless by sending them a couple of baskets of fruit.

BIRTH CERTIFICATE

J. W. Humphrey received a very peculiar document this morning. It was an original English birth certificate, the property of William Alfred John Rogers, formerly of this city, now of Detroit.

A few days ago Mr. Humphrey received a note from the Dead Letter Office at Washington, D. C., telling him if he would send them two cents they would forward him a letter addressed to him.

It turned out that Mr. Rogers, after he had gone to Detroit, posted the letter to Mr. Humphrey, but used a Canadian stamp. The certificate was needed by Mr. Humphrey in reference to some insurance.

A NUISANCE

The residents of Lansdowne avenue are up in arms against a number of colored men and women who are in the habit of congregating in Victoria Park in the evenings when they put on sketches from operas both grand and comic.

"It is becoming a regular nuisance," commented one resident this morning. "Every night without fail these people—there seems to be about 30 of them—meet over at the band stand and there they keep up one continual howl until one and two o'clock in the morning. Carstaker Vanstone tried to stop them one night but it was no use. They were soon back again. It is simply an impossibility for any of the residents around there to go to sleep until the music ceases. Something should be done to stop this nuisance."

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be opened upon, as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs, of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors, but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by All Drug-gists.

The Public school closed on Thursday. Miss Clark Peck, who has been attending the Ursuline Academy, Chatham, will spend the holidays with her parents here.

The football game between Jeanette's Creek and Tilbury resulted in a victory for Tilbury. The game stood 2-0.

SHOULD READ MISS SCHWALM'S LETTER
In All Parts of Canada Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Secured Similar Cures.

Many wonderful cures of female ills are continually coming to light which have been brought about by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and through the advice of Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., which is given to sick women absolutely free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham has for many years made a study of the ills of her sex; she has consulted with and advised thousands of suffering women, who to-day owe not only their health but even life to her helpful advice.

Miss Annie E. Schwalm, of 386 Spadina Ave., Toronto, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a specific for Leucorrhoea, with which I have been troubled for years. I also had irregular and painful menstruation which affected my general health until last spring. I was only a wreck of my former self. In my affliction I was advised to use your Compound, and am so glad that I did so. I found that in a few short months there was no trace of Leucorrhoea, my strength gradually returned, and in a very short time I recovered myself a perfectly well woman. I realize my good health, and beg to assure you that I am most grateful to you for discovering such a wonderful remedy for suffering women."

The testimonials which are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She asks nothing in return for her advice. It is absolutely free, and always helpful.

A remarkable record of thrift comes from Morrisville, Vt., where a young man has purchased a farm from the savings of five years' labor in the tineries. At no time did he receive over $10.65 a week and much of the time less, yet he laid by $1,200 clear besides supporting his family.

Japanese Cadetships.
Cadetships in the Japanese navy are open to every subject in the Empire, as are also commissions in the army and all civil appointments under the Government, says The London Chronicle.

There is no system of nomination, and the successful candidates are chosen entirely by competitive examination. The naval exploits during the present war have naturally given a strong impetus to the eagerness of high spirited youths to enter a service which has won such glory for their country, and the applications for naval cadetships during the present year already far exceed in number those of any preceding entire year. In one district of the four in which they are received they already amount to over 3,700 as against 3,000 in 1903 and 5,500 in 1904.

Builds a Mausoleum.

What will be at its completion one of the finest mausoleums in America has been started in the last few weeks by Senator George Cox. It is to be built in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto, and is of the finest white granite. The interior will be of marble. It is in the southern part of the cemetery, in the new portion. The background is a beautifully wooded hillside and the whole, when completed, will make up one of the most magnificent sights in Toronto. It will be 47 feet long, 25 feet wide and 22 feet high. The work will probably be finished by fall.

DAY PAST FOR STATUTE LABOR.

Tenor of Belief at Eastern Counties Good Roads Conference.

Brookville, June 29.—The Eastern Ontario Good Roads Association opened a two days' convention yesterday morning with a large attendance of municipal officers, principally clerks and wardens from, not only the eastern, but many western counties. The meetings are under the auspices of the Leamington and Grenville Council. The president, ex-Warden Cummings, of Carleton County is ill, but he sent along his address, which was read, referring to the increased interest taken in road improvement since the organization of the association five years ago.

The association stated that a township in the counties east of Kingston had commuted statute labor or constructed cement culverts. There was not a mile of road except that built by the tolls road companies. Now fully one hundred municipalities are using concrete exclusively. Half the townships of the County of Carleton have commuted statute labor and others are following the example. The association has given examples of scientific road construction. The County of Lanark last year expended several thousand dollars for the construction of a leading system of county macadamized roads and purposes expending $100,000 in this work.

The commutation of statute labor and the construction of permanent roads were the two leading topics of the day. The commutation system in Blenheim Township, County of Perth, was explained in an admirable manner by Reeve Bonis of St. Marys, and "How Commutation Has Succeeded in Fitzroy Township" was handled by Clerk A. Murphy of Antrim. Both were strong believers in the abolition of statute labor. Provincial Highway Commissioner Campbell of Toronto talked on the progress of the good roads movement. He thought the time had arrived in older Ontario, when economic road building should be studied and practiced by the commutation of statute labor, which has long since served its usefulness. Road building should be let by tender and conducted in business like manner. The Government stood ready to aid counties willing to buy toll roads off.

The other main speakers were Highway Commissioner McDonald of Conneaut, and Warden James McElwain of Drayton. At each address there was a lively discussion.

FRANCE CONSULTED RUSSIA.

Count Lamsdorff Advised Her to Meet Germany Half Way.

St. Petersburg, June 29.—At Great Britain's door The Novoe Vremya lays much of the responsibility for the Franco-German crisis, saying she is pursuing her traditional policy of encouraging a conflict between her competitors in order to profit thereby.

"Great Britain," the paper adds, pushed France into the Morocco adventure, sustaining M. Delcasse, the former Foreign Minister, in his resistance to Germany's claims. For decades Great Britain's hostility has been directed against Russia, at last succeeding in having another country accomplish a task from which she herself shrank. With Russia no longer dangerous for the present, all Great Britain's machinations were set in motion against Germany, now her chief competitor in Europe.

The Novoe Vremya, however, believes that, with Premier Rouvier in charge of the negotiations for France, Great Britain's plans will be defeated and the Moroccan affair will be satisfactorily adjusted.

Premier Rouvier's note was submitted to Russia before it was transmitted to the Berlin Government, and Foreign Minister Lamsdorff was apprised of every step taken. The statement that France has already called upon Russia to mass troops on her western frontier, however, is authoritatively denied. Russia is believed to be advising her ally to meet Germany half way.

Berlin Quiescent.

Berlin, June 29.—The Moroccan question has entered on a quiescent phase so far as Berlin is concerned. The Foreign Office feels that the acute stage of the controversy with France has passed and contemplates calmly the further developments.

G. T. P. COSTS LIVES.

Two Surveyors Are Drowned and Another Becomes Insane.

Ottawa, June 29.—Mr. Robert Smallman and Mr. Pickering, of party No. 7, district C. of the Grand Trunk Pacific survey, have arrived home after experiences of a most eventful character. Mr. Smallman was with Messrs. Almond and White when they were drowned last week, and saved his life by clinging to the canoe. They reached New Liskeard on Saturday with the bodies of their chief, Mr. M. B. Almond, and the second engineer, W. White.

For ninety miles Messrs. Pickering and Smallman canoed and carried the bodies of their late chief and his assistant, until they reached the Long Portage, twenty miles from Ville Marie. Here rough boxes were constructed and the remains were taken on to that village, thence to New Liskeard on the Government tug Dora.

Surveyor Goes Insane.

Amadee Bayard, jun., a son of a resident in Janville, a suburb of Ottawa, went insane while surveying with the Transcontinental party at New Liskeard last Saturday night. He attempted suicide by jumping from a wharf, but was rescued and brought to Ottawa yesterday and locked up for examination.

AFRAID OF ATTEMPTED RESCUE.

Extra Guard Is Ordered Over Gaynor and Greene.

Montreal, June 29.—Special precautions are being taken at the Montreal jail in view of the approaching conclusion of the Gaynor and Greene case to see that the famous fugitives do not escape.

Yesterday morning Governor Vallee of the City Prison received explicit instructions from the Solicitor-General to engage extra men if necessary and take every possible precaution to make sure that no rescue can be carried out.

It has cost over a million dollars to defend them in the courts in the last three years.

Fire Scars in Theatre.

Winnipeg, June 29.—The usual vaudeville performance at the New Dominion Theatre was concluded Tuesday evening by a startling series of loud explosions in the gallery. Flashes leaped to the roof and scenes of great theatre holocausts sprang to the eyes of the six hundred odd people present, and for a time a hideous pandemonium reigned. There was a wild rush for exits, women screamed and fainted and several fell to the floor and were trampled on. The kinetoscope films had caught fire, and the whole machine blew up with a series of terrifying explosions. The fire was soon suppressed, however.

Drowned at Kewatin.

Port Carling, June 29.—No trace has yet been found of the body of Wilfrid Kay, the 13-year-old son of James Kay of Point Kay, Lake Rouseau, drowned at Kewatin on Wednesday of last week. The services of two professional divers have been of no avail up to the present. The body is lying in more than 70 feet of water and probably buried under two tons of stone. Wilfrid was playing around on the pier of a new wharf when the outer pier turned over. The boy was never seen again and was no doubt carried down and buried in the muddy bottom under the stones.

First Wireless Message.

Halifax, June 29.—The first communication by wireless telegraph with Sable Island was had yesterday, when the Camperdown station here received a message from the island that the station there is not yet complete. It is expected that the first message will be sent from the island to the Governor-General. The next station is to be erected at Cape Sable.

Cornwall Railway Strike.

Cornwall, June 29.—The Cornwall Electric Street Railway was tied up yesterday morning. The men who received 13 cents an hour, demanded 47 cents, and no answer being forthcoming from the company they struck.

Damaged by Fire.

Winnipeg, June 29.—The city asphalt plant was damaged to the extent of ten thousand dollars by fire at noon yesterday. It situated in the tankroom. It is the only municipal plant in Canada.

Church Burned.

Wassenaar, June 29.—The Baptist Church of this village was burned down early yesterday morning. Extensive repairs had just been made. The place was insured.

Come to Chalmers' ice cream social next Friday evening. A good game of football will be played early in the evening, and after the supper a choice program of music, recitations, etc., will be given in the church.

THIS MEDICINE IS BREATHED.

That's why it is sure to cure Catarrh. You see it goes direct to the source of the disease, its healing vapor repairs the damaged tissues by catarrhal inflammation. "Ocatarrhoxone" always cures because it goes into those tiny cells and passages that ordinary remedies can't reach, goes where the disease actually is. Impossible for "Ocatarrhoxone" to fail, as any doctor will tell you. Don't be misled into thinking there is anything as good as Ocatarrhoxone, use it and you'll soon say good-bye to catarrh.

The street had been sprinkled and as a result, Mr. Stewart received a beautiful coat of mud.

GOOD SOCIAL

The members of the Debating Society of School Section No. 1, Harwich, have always proven themselves a wide awake band of young people and last evening they gave further evidence of their enterprise and ability in holding one of the most successful strawberry socials of the season.

The social was given with a view of raising $75 to clear the debt on a piano purchased by the society. It is with much satisfaction that it is learned that fully this sum was realized and the social was considered by all a huge success in every way. It was held on the lawn of E. E. Perrott, near Victoria Park, and a better place for such an event could not have been chosen.

A. B. McCoig, M. P. P., was chairman during the evening, and Mr. Houston and E. E. Perrott were called upon for addresses. The musical program was very fine and consisted of solos by Arthur Martin, selections from the Barrell Orchestra and a chorus from six young ladies—Misses Annie and Clara Clements, Grace Irving, Ella Groves, Ruby Gwilt and L. Terry.

There was a very large attendance and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the evening's entertainment.

NO INSURANCE AMENDMENT

Hon. Mr. Fielding intends to look into the question.

Hon. Mr. McMillen moved the second reading. Mr. Mackenzie Bowell said he hoped Mr. McMillen would not press the bill, especially as he understood the insurance department intended to consider the whole question during the recess in interests of policyholders.

Sir Richard Cartwright said Mr. Fielding intended to look into the matter during the recess, and Mr. McMillen was quite willing to withdraw the bill for the present session.

Toronto, June 30.—Mr. Colin Burgess, known in former years as "Cool" Burgess, the minstrel, is in the General Hospital at present with a complication of diseases, from which it is doubtful whether he will recover. Mr. Burgess has been living in England for a number of years past. He was born in Toronto, and when he retired from the stage he returned here to end his days. He is now sixty-five years of age and when he was only 19 he was one of the leading comedians of the continent. He was before the public for 42 years, and with the exception of Joe Murphy, Lou Benedict and Dave Reid, is the last of the old-time show men. He left the stage in 1898, and since then has spent most of his time cultivating his garden in England.

THE EXAMS.

The Entrance Papers Difficult this Year—A Big Class—Matriculation Exams. Now On.

The entrance examinations were concluded at the High School yesterday afternoon, before Miss Irving and Messrs. Park, Twobly and Patterson. The matriculation examinations are now on with Robert Park presiding.

In the entrance examinations 199 candidates tried in Chatham, while in the whole of West Kent there were 423 candidates. This is the largest number of candidates that ever wrote on the entrance in West Kent and the number has been gradually increasing ever since Robert Park was appointed inspector.

Each year, it seems, the class of candidates are younger than the ones preceding. Of the 199 who tried in Chatham a good many handed in their ages as 10 years, while a few were only nine years old. As one person remarked, mothers will soon be taking their children to the High School in baby carriages.
The examinations this year, however, were much more difficult than they have been for some years, and it is expected that only about half of the class will pass. Some of the papers contained a number of catch questions, which, it is expected, will pluck a good many.

TROUBLE AHEAD

The William and Queen street crossings of the G. T. R. are going to give trouble in the near future. The electric road has to cross the railway on its way out to the lake and has applied to the Railway Commission for the necessary permission. The G. T. R. intends to fight the application unless a subway is made crossing in place of the tracks. At the present time the view is obstructed by the house and trees until a person is right on the tracks. One large crossing, with the railroads taken away, would do away with this danger.

MEMORIES.

Very fondly I remember certain nights quite long ago
 When I went a-courting Sarah—that's a girl I used to know.
 I remembered how we lingered when the time had come to part,
 How I said I must be going, yet could never make a start.
 How her pink wool "fascinator" amply justified its name.
 How at last at my entreaty to the garden gate she came.
 Then how the happy moments as we stood and leaned our weight
 With a gentle swinging motion on the good old garden gate.

I remember how the maples threw a kind, obscuring shade
 When the moon shone all too brightly for an all too timid maid.
 I remember what a feeling—that an ecstasy divine
 Thrilled me to the toes and fingers when her soft, warm lips met mine.
 And our talk was all in whispers, and we said the Lord knows what—
 Under house and very likely, quite unmolested rot—
 But it sounded very pleasant at the time, at any rate,
 When two young things were swinging on the good old garden gate.

There is little faith in woman—and there's not much more in man;
 She was false or I was fickle; I forget how it began.
 I suspect some other fellow with her subsequently swung.
 But that doesn't hurt my feelings as it did when I was young.
 For I passed her home quite lately and I had to notice that
 She was not a dream of beauty, and had grown extremely fat;
 She was screaming at her children (she is blessed with six or eight).
 Who were breaking down the hinges of the good old garden gate.

AKERS-DOUGLAS.

Home Secretary Not Well Known But Has Many Good Points.

Every now and again one hears in the despatches of the Right Hon. A. T. A. A. Douglas in connection with his work as Secretary of State for the Home Department in England, one of his duties as such being to act as Minister in attendance at all Royal Births. But although he holds one of the most important offices in the administration, constituting as he does in his person the only Supreme Court of Criminal Appeal in the United Kingdom, as well as being the sole channel through which municipal and public bodies can approach the Sovereign, yet there is no English statesman about whom less is known personally outside of the precincts of Parliament. He is a silent, reserved man, and the impression created by his manner and by his reticence is augmented by his hard, unapproachable appearance. Yet in spite of his apparent coldness and his way of glaring at acquaintances without the slightest token of recognition when he happens to be absorbed, there is no man reckoned better company in the smoking-room, or who is a more welcome and entertaining guest at a shooting party, possessing a wealth of anecdote and a fund of humor all the more amusing owing to the seriousness of his source.

In addition to being the Home Secretary, he is to all intents and purposes the chief of the party organization of the Conservative machine, a task for which he is particularly well fitted by the experience which he obtained during the years that he spent as the whip of his party, the whip being the one man of all others responsible for whipping his fellow members into line, and to see that "coul qu'il coule" a sufficient number of them are always on hand for the divisions.

There is another feature, too, of his work which would go far to develop cynicism and bitterness in any man of less evenly poised character. It is through him that the ambitions of men reach the Premier and the Sovereign, through him that the people who are yearning for knightships, for baronetcies, and for peerages are obliged to make their applications and to put forward their claims, and a considerable force of mind and of self-restraint is necessary to deal with the discontent of those who are disappointed in their aspirations, and to resist the influences of every conceivable character that are brought to bear upon him in connection with the efforts to attain these honors.

Akers-Douglas is a rich man, owning a beautiful place in Kent and another country seat in Scotland. In the morning he is in the House of Lords, being of that kind of timber which constitutes the best material for the construction of the upper chamber of the British National Legislature, namely, the combination of the high bred, high principled, well to do English country gentleman with the experienced man of the world.

Timber in India.
 There is a growing demand in India for timber other than teak, owing to the increase of factories and of coal mines, while there is also a large export. The oldest form of cultivation practiced by the forest tribes of India was to burn a good patch of woodland, leaving all the trunks bare and black, and then to sow among the fertilizing ashes a miserable crop of grain. This was done for two years, by which time the jungle plants grew up and choked everything. In this way perhaps $2,000 worth of timber was killed to grow $20 worth of grain. As some of these tribes to this day know no other way to grow corn, they resent being interfered with and revenge themselves by arson, and more forests are destroyed.

Candid Chang.
 That is a fine story of Li Hung Chang, whose candor was never quite equalled in this world. He was dining with a Swedish traveler.
 "You come from Sweden," said the great man, "don't you?"
 "Yes," was the reply.
 "And what kind of country is Sweden?" rejoined the other; whereupon he received, as was natural, a glowing description of its charms.
 "Ah," he said, "that is very nice; very nice, indeed. When I next communicate with the Emperor of Russia, I will tell him to take Sweden!"—London Chronicle.

Many Women Suffer Untold Agony From Kidney Trouble.

Very often they think it is from so-called "female disease." There is less female trouble than they think. Women suffer from backache, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, and a dragging-down feeling in the loins. So do men, and they do not have "female trouble." Why, then, blame all your trouble to female disease? With healthy kidneys, few women will ever have "female disorders." The kidneys are so closely connected with all the internal organs, that when the kidneys go wrong, everything goes wrong. Much distress would be saved if women would only take at stated intervals.

 Miss Nellie Clark, Lambeth, Ont., tells of her cure in the following words:—"I suffered for about two years with kidney trouble. I ached all over, especially in the small of my back; not being able to sleep well, no appetite, menstruation irregular, nervous irritability, and blood-stained deposit in urine, were some of my symptoms. I took Doan's Kidney Pills. The pain in my back gradually left me, my appetite returned, I sleep well, and am effectively cured. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

BOY GOLF CHAMPION.

Amateur Final That Was Fought in a Blinding Rain Storm.

The wonderful boy golfer, A. G. Barry, only 19 years of age, and one of the cleverest students at St. Andrew's University, won the highest honors in amateur golf at Prestwick recently when the final stage of the amateur golf championship was decided, says The London Mail.

His opponent was the Hon. O. Scott of the Royal North Devon Club, and Mr. Barry succeeded in beating him by three up and two to play, thus capturing the amateur championship and the gold medal.

It was a magnificent display on the boy's part, for his golf was very nearly perfect, and among the best that has ever been seen in the final.

The game was played from start to finish in a blinding downpour of rain, which soaked the players to the skin before they had been 20 minutes at work.

Young Barry, marching bareheaded over the links, with never a switch of his features in any crisis, was, if possible, more nervous towards the end than at the beginning.
 If he won the honor by his play in any one department of the game more than another, it was by his putting. His driving was steady and about equal to Mr. Scott's; he occasionally faltered in his approaches, but he had the courage to hit hard at the ball on the sudden putting greens, and to give the hole a chance every time.

It was in his timid putting that Mr. Scott failed chiefly, and several times he lost holes by being badly short with his long putts.

Despite the heavy rain, there were between three and four thousand spectators, who followed the match with such keen interest that several times they were in the way of the players.
 Mr. Barry is of light build, and looks his age. Nevertheless, he drives a long ball, and in his follow-through almost seems down on one knee. Although he learnt his golf at St. Andrew's, he was born in Cornwall, and in international matches would play for England.

The match was put in Mr. Barry's favor from the very start, for Mr. Scott missed his first tee shot, and the young golfer won the hole and the next one, and thereafter he was never down to his opponent.

For four holes in the middle of the first round the match was squared, and again for the last four of the same round, but after that Mr. Scott was never on level terms with his opponent.

At the sixth hole in the morning an odd incident turned the luck against Mr. Scott. Mr. Barry made a seven yards putt, and his ball hung on the very lip of the hole for three or four seconds. It looked like staying there, but gradually the ball, soft turf on the edge gave way under its weight, and it fell in.

The best putting performance of the match was accomplished by Mr. Scott—namely, one, for he got down from 18 yards range.

Mr. Barry wound up with a brilliant drive, a deadly approach, and a certain putt for a 3 at a 285-yard hole, and when his ball went down he was the youngest golf champion on earth.

Then, for the first time yesterday, he lit his pipe.

Charity covereth a multitude of sins, especially when it begins at home.

When a woman doesn't want to show her age she covers it with a coat of paint.

STONEHENGE.

Rights and Wrongs of Sir Edmund Antrobus in His Wire-Fence Fight With the British Public.

Stonehenge is to England what the pyramids are to Egypt, being indisputably bound up with the history of the nation. Its age, however, antedating the dawn thereof, since its origin has been ascribed by the most eminent scientists of the day to an epoch nearly 2,000 years before the birth of Christ. Under the circumstances the public has taken exception to the action of Sir Edmund Antrobus, the owner of the stone, upon which it is situated, in surrounding the hoary ruins with a wire fence, and in charging an admission fee. People feel about it, indeed, in much the same way as they might feel if the Khedive of Egypt were to surround the approaches to the great pyramids near Cairo and of the Sphinx with a fence and to debar the public from access thereto save on the payment of a fee.

The matter has now been brought to the fore by the lawyers which have been brought against Sir Edmund Antrobus by societies organized for the avowed purpose of protecting the rights of the public, says the Marquis de Fontenay. And finding that there was no means of either inducing the Government to purchase Stonehenge from Sir Edmund in the same way that I might buy a park for the use of the people, and that, moreover, the title of Sir Edmund and the land on which Stonehenge is located is unassailable, they have brought suit against him in the Court of Chancery in London on the plea that the public has a right of access to the monument.

The Attorney-General and a big array of legal talent are conducting the case against Sir Edmund, and it looks much as if he would be defeated, although he has made clear his position—namely, that if he has surrounded Stonehenge with a barbed wire fence it is for the purpose of protecting the stones from the injurious treatment to which they formerly were subjected by people without any reverence for the hoary past. Moreover, as some of the stones are in danger of falling, he fears that in the event of anybody being injured thereby he might be held financially responsible.

That the ruins have undergone the most shameful treatment it is impossible to deny; the stones of the great Stonehenge are located in the midst of a ground through holes dug by gypsies. And while so many of the tourists contented themselves with merely clipping the stones in their anxiety to secure relics, there were others who actually attempted to blow them from their position by means of gunpowder and dynamite, with a view of ascertaining whether there were not any treasures concealed beneath.

All these arguments of Sir Edmund are held to be of no avail by the Attorney-General, who claims that, inasmuch as Stonehenge has lain open to the world since English history began, the public has acquired a right of way to every portion of the ground, and he adds, that anything in the shape of a modern enclosure tends to destroy the spell formerly created by the aspect of those immense stones, standing alone in strange circles, far from human habitations, in the midst of a vast open, rolling plain—those stones which were regarded as prehistoric already a thousand years ago, when Henry of Huntingdon wrote of them.

Caxton, the inventor of printing, referred to the mystery of their origin. Sir Philip Sidney sang of them in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. King Charles II, beguiled a day after the disastrous battle of Worcester, in endeavoring to count the stones while hiding at Holes House, and Daniel Defoe, of Robinson Crusoe fame, likewise described his pilgrimage to the spot.

The price for which Sir Edmund offered to sell the ruins and the twenty acres of land on which they stand to the Government or to any public or private body was $750,000, and there has always been a dread lest Andrew Carnegie, J. Pierpont Morgan, or some other American multi-millionaire should take advantage of this offer, purchase the whole property and ruins, and ship the latter off to America, at the same time subjecting their present site to an exhaustive exploration, by means of excavations, which would probably reveal wonderful interesting relics of the creators of the temple, and, possibly, treasure.

Sir Edmund is a distinguished soldier, who served with much gallantry in the Crimea and in the Boer war, retiring from the army as major-general, and as partner in the representation of the hereditary family interest in Coutts' Bank in London. He is married to Florence Sartoris, a niece of Mrs. Nellie Grant, Sartoris, and his uncle, the late Mr. Frederick Antrobus, was for many years secretary of the British legation at Washington during the presidencies of Lincoln, Johnson and Grant. He retired from the diplomatic service as first secretary, entered holy orders of the Catholic Church, and became superior of that extraordinary monastic ecclesiastical establishment in London known as the Oratory at Brompton.

Sir Edmund Antrobus is known officially as "of Rutherford," the first holder of the Antrobus baronetcy having received Royal permission to assume this style, as the owner of the Rutherford estates, formerly belonging to the Scotch barony of Rutherford. This peerage became dormant in 1724.

The Peace King.

Proposing the toast of "The King" at a dinner of the German Benevolent Society of London, Count Bernstorff, first secretary to the German embassy in London, made graceful and fitting references to His Majesty's qualities as a statesman.

"The wise ruler of this powerful Empire," said the count, "has won with his own people, as with all the nations of the world, the name of a prince of peace. King Edward is incessantly endeavoring to bring nations more closely together and to clear away misunderstandings between them."

"None are better able to appreciate this conciliatory activity on the part of His Majesty than the Germans who make their residence in this country, and who live here a happy and contented life."

In submitting the toast of "The Queen and the Members of the Royal Family," Count Bernstorff said: "We think of Her Majesty to-night as the truest friend of the poor, the sick and the aged."

MEN AND WOMEN.

Nearly Every Human Quality Is Unlike In The Sexes.

"A man is a man down to his thumbs, and a woman is a woman down to her little toes," writes Dr. Havelock Ellis in his book "Men and Women." There is hardly a measurable quality of any sort which is not unlike in the two sexes. Women even button their garments on the other side from that chosen by men and choose Sunday instead of Monday as their favorite day for making way with themselves. So far as laboratory tests go Dr. Ellis says that women are unquestionably superior in general tactile sensibility and probably superior in the discrimination of tastes, with no advantage either way in the case of the other senses. Women have better memories, read more rapidly, bear pain better, recover better from wounds and serious illness, are less changed by old age and live longer.

Furthermore, according to the same authority, women have relatively larger brains, especially in the frontal region. It has long been said that women are the more like children, but Dr. Ellis says that men are the more like apes. Women, in short, are more civilized than men, and civilization itself is but the process of making the world ladylike. In fact, the only thing left in which man is superior is muscle. Men are two, three and even four times stronger than women, and the occasional exceptional woman hardly reaches the level of the average man.

Even between the ages of eleven and fifteen, when girls are taller and heavier, boys still retain their single advantage in strength. Men, too, if slower of mind and quicker of body, have greater lung capacity and more blood corpuscles and exhale nearly twice as much carbon dioxide. But men are less able to endure confinement and had air. This physical superiority man shares with the males of all the higher animals.

WILY REYNARD.

Few Wild Creatures Can Compete With The Fox In Craftiness.

Those familiar with the "Fables of Aesop" will remember the reputation which Reynard bears among the fables of the animals. It is questionable whether any wild creature can compete with the fox in craftiness. To look at him generally, even in his ordinary habits, he exhibits an amount of cleverness which astounds one. Should a fox catch a hedgehog, whose spines effectively protect him from most of his enemies, he does not waste time, as a fox would, in endeavoring to worry his prey. He merely rolls him to the nearest water, knowing that a drop or two will cause the animal to relax his hold.

It is a rare thing to catch one in a trap laid at the door of his "earth" even. If he is inside when the trap is set he waits until some other animal springs it and then emerges to eat the victim and the bait. Only when driven by the terrible pangs of hunger will he tempt fate in his own person. Most animals gorge themselves when they are fortunate enough to come across a superabundance of food. Not so with Reynard. Should he find a poultry yard well stocked and ill protected he fills hisarder first. Nor does he, as the proverb says, "put all his eggs in one basket." He puts one fowl in a hedge, hides another in a bush, places a third in a hole in a tree, rapidly digs a cavity for a fourth and covers it up again, remembering in each case where his stores are concealed. And when his supplies are sufficient in his own estimation he takes a fine fat chicken or duck to his "earth" for present enjoyment.—London Field.

The world is too apt to turn up the nose at virtues cloaked in rags.

Ignorance may sometimes be bliss, but it is never profitable.

Kniaz Potemkine, Using Full Charges, Opens Fire on City.

Second Mutinous Warship Reported at Cape Fountain, Ten Miles From Odessa—Rebels Fired Several Shots at Cossacks in the Suburb of Langeron—Relief Fleet Leaves Sebastopol—Czar Proclaims Martial Law.

London, June 30.—The Daily Mail this morning prints the following from its Odessa correspondent, received at 10.45 o'clock Thursday night.

“Using full charges, the Kniaz Potemkine opened fire on the city to-night.

Large bodies of troops have arrived. It is reported that there are altogether 16,000 troops in Odessa.”

Another Report.

London, June 30.—The Odessa correspondent of The Daily Telegraph in a despatch filed at 11.35 o'clock Thursday night says that the Kniaz Potemkine is firing on the town, and that Admiral Kruger's squadron is not in sight.

Burn a Steamer.

London, June 30.—The Daily Express prints the despatch from Odessa: “A second mutinous warship is reported at Cape Fountain, ten miles from here. A transport with Russians from Port Arthur and a Russian steamer were held up by the Kniaz Potemkine at 1 o'clock and compelled to lie up under her guns for two hours.

“At 3 o'clock the rebels fired several shots at the suburb of Langeron, where there is a detachment of Cossacks. She then swung round until her guns pointed to the centre of Odessa and fired a heavy cannonade.

“A steamer which the Kniaz Potemkine stopped was seen to burst into flames.”

Fleet Just Started.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—A despatch which arrived here early this morning from Sebastopol announced that a squadron of battleships, the Tri Sviatitsa, Sinope and Rebetislaw, with a cruiser and several torpedo boats, only started for Odessa at 1 o'clock last evening.

This explains the non-appearance of the squadron at Odessa; but it is difficult to conjecture the reasons for delaying departure two days at such a critical juncture.

Killed 22 Officers.

London, June 30.—The Odessa correspondent of The Daily Mail sends the following.

Intermittent firing has been going on all day long. Artillery has arrived and is in hiding. The battleship landed fifteen men to attend the funeral of the sailor Omilchuk, a Russian.

The mutineers liberated nine officers, but killed twenty two.

The port is an absolute ruin from the shelling. The Russian Steamship Co.'s docks.

Omilchuk's Funeral.

Odessa, June 30.—A semblance of order has been restored here, but the situation is still critical. The central railway station was destroyed by fire last night, many persons being injured. The funeral of Omilchuk, which has just been held, became an imposing popular demonstration, but without disorder. A great procession, headed by priests, followed the body to military cemetery. The coffin, covered with the St. Andrew's flag, and with numerous wreaths, was carried by eight soldiers. The populace in full state of vengeance mood. It is alleged that hundreds were killed, and that when the mob tried to reach the steps of the Church of St. Nicholas to reach the boulevard St. Nicholas troops fired repeated volleys into the crowd with terrible results, wagon loads of dead being carried away.

It is stated that three police officers, ten policemen, twenty-three Cossacks and ten infantry soldiers were killed in these encounters.

Transport Crew Mutinies.

The crew of a Government transport, which arrived here yesterday from Nikoloff, mutinied, seized their officers and joined the crew of the battleship Kniaz Potemkine, to whom they turned over the captain and other officers of the transport. It is reported that the foreign Consuls have applied to their respective Governments to send warships to Odessa.

A BLOW AT BRITISH TRADE.

Province of Quebec's Tax on Commercial Travellers.

London, June 30.—(C. A. P.)—The Evening Globe says: “We have commented on the favor shown by the Ottawa Parliament to foreign emigrants, but the Quebec Legislature has gone much further in demonstrating the weakening friendship by imposing an annual tax of $60 per head on commercial travellers employed by firms having no place of business in the Dominion. It strikes in the direction of a heavy blow at British trade, as the number of British commercial travellers is by far the largest.

Halifax, N. S., June 30.—The trial of T. W. Johns, cashier of the Bank of Yarmouth, ended yesterday morning. The jury found him guilty on both counts of the indictment, which was that he had made false returns of the Bank of Yarmouth to the Government, and that these returns were wilfully false.
