The Stuff that is Real.
The test of a man is the fight he makes. The grit he shows. The way he stands in the heat and takes. Fate's numerous bumps and blows. A coward can smile when there's aught to fear. When nothing but progress bars. But it takes a man to stand up and cheer. While some other fellow stars. It isn't the victor after all. But the fight that a brother makes. The man who, driven against the wall, still stands up erect and takes. The blows of fate with his head held high. Breeding and braved and pale. Is the man who'll win in the long run. For he isn't afraid to fail.

Life's Real Values.
One does not usually look to a trade journal for a thoughtful article on real values in life as the following, which appears in the American Lumberman—
The person who spends his entire life in accumulating money—who devotes all his time and energies to promoting his own selfish interests—no matter what the financial return may be, is at last acquired only a livelihood for himself and family. All the surplus, when it is the product of narrow penuriousness as it altogether too often is, is evidence of a misdirected ambition.
When one can expand his fortune without narrowing his mind, when one can enlarge his property interests without sacrificing his right to growth in character and influence, the accumulation of wealth may work no appreciable harm. But when the pursuit of wealth so narrows the vision and so limits the ambition that they do not extend beyond the single purpose, the seeker of wealth is hardly above, if indeed he is not below, the lower animals.
Of course there are not many persons in the world who deliberately set out with a determination to follow Iago's advice—to get money in their purses at any cost, but there are many who in the pursuit of that object deprive themselves of finer pleasures that lie along the pathways of life's direct from sources of supply. Having ample capital, they pay cash, thus securing everything at the very lowest market price.
Many a man, many a farmer and many a business man pursue their vocation so long and so persistently that they become utterly incapable of enjoying themselves in any other way than by working and accumulating. They live for three objects alone. They may be loathe to acknowledge the fact, but when they continue to produce and accumulate beyond their own needs and yet return for their own use wealth that they can not hope to use, they are not far from the miser who starves himself that he may store up gold. For the person who deprives himself of the pleasure of doing for others is as truly starving himself as if he deprived himself of food. Money alone can not make a life rich; too often it makes life wretchedly poor. The rich man is he whose life has been made rich by service to his fellow men to the world—no matter how thin his purse. The men who live in history are not the producers of great wealth; and our wealthy men, having learned that fact, are seeking to perpetuate their memories by sharing their wealth with their fellows.
In Canada today the test is being applied to men of wealth as never before in the history of this country. Are those who have meant to lose giving most to support the cause of the Allies in this great war? Or are there in every community, even the smallest, prosperous men and women who detach themselves from any sense of personal responsibility and go on accumulating wealth, or spending it for their own pleasure and satisfaction? Of illustrations of rich men giving with splendid generosity there is no lack, but are there not many who pursue the opposite course? The Lumberman is perfectly right when it says that wealth alone cannot make a life rich, and none of us envy the poverty of a man which prompts a man to go on trying to enrich himself when his country is in the throes of agony and fighting for its life. Very many business men in St. John and in Canada at large resolved at the outbreak of the war to be well content if at its close they were somewhat poorer than before, and they have given freely of their funds for all patriotic purposes. They have set a noble example, although as a matter of fact the conditions have been so prosperous that neither industry nor trade has suffered to any extent as a result of the war, and the ability to give has been universal.
After the war—what? Will there be a renewal of the scramble for wealth and pleasure, or will there be a fuller realization that the riches of life lie in service to our fellows and the world? We may at least hope that the energy now devoted to war purposes will in large measure be directed after the war into new and not less patriotic channels of welfare, work and real social service.—St. John Times.

Three Hundred Fox Companies.
The solid and staple character of the silver fox for breeding industry in Canada, attested by the manner in which Canada's fox companies have during the past two years stood the stress and strain of war conditions, closed markets and diminished values, is one of the 300 companies engaged in breeding has sought and obtained. On the contrary, they have during their business operations increased their herds, and the payment of dividends, they have increased the numbers of their breeding stock and added largely to their productive capacity.
The pioneer silver fox breeders, built better than they know. They created a new industry necessary to commerce and capable of a vast expansion. It is especially adapted for extension in every one of the nine provinces in Canada and the ten or twelve border states of the great American Republic. Any farm throughout these vast agricultural regions might profitably add a fur ranch to its equipment. Fur farming is an adjunct to agriculture, adds a profitable factor to the ordinary farm, without displacing or disturbing any of the ordinary activities. The grove or wooded lot furnishes the site and supplies the lumber for ranch construction. No farmer who adds a fur ranch to his establishment need keep fewer horses, cattle, sheep, swine or poultry on that account. A small ranch will hardly require any addition to the number of farm help.

Baby's Great Danger During Hot Weather.
More little ones die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, infantum and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a mother is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in homes where there are young children. An occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets will prevent stomach troubles that plague the pathways of life's trail to enjoy them.
Many a man, many a farmer and many a business man pursue their vocation so long and so persistently that they become utterly incapable of enjoying themselves in any other way than by working and accumulating. They live for three objects alone. They may be loathe to acknowledge the fact, but when they continue to produce and accumulate beyond their own needs and yet return for their own use wealth that they can not hope to use, they are not far from the miser who starves himself that he may store up gold. Tommy Relating His Experiences.
The wounded Tommy was relating his experiences. "Yes," he said, "I was in a bit of a hole over there. There were two German snipers at me, and I only had one bullet left. They were a good bit apart, too, so I couldn't work round to get them in line. I shot at one of the other would get me more. What did I do? Well, my knowledge of mathematics saved me. I got behind a stone and angled on a scrap of paper, stuck up my bygone in the sand with the edge towards me, took careful aim at it, and let her go. And boys, the plan worked, for the bullet struck the bayonet and the bullet was split clean in halves, and one hit and killed the German on the right while the other blotted out the blighter on the left. Another time I was—" But his audience had fled.

Sleepless Nights With Eczema.
Mrs. Link, 12 Walker St., Halifax, N. S., states: "A few three years of miserable bed-ridden and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining any relief, but slight temporary relief, I had been patiently and entirely cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the first fourth application of this grand ointment I obtained relief, and a few days later sufficient to make a thorough cure."
While inspecting examination papers recently a teacher found various humorous answers to questions. A class of boys averaging 12 years of age were examined in Geography. The previous day had been devoted to grammar. Among the geographical questions was the following:
"Name the zones."
One promising youth, who had mixed the two subjects, wrote:
"There are two zones, masculine and feminine. The masculine is either temperate or intertropical; the feminine is either torrid or frigid!"
"Are caterpillars good to eat?" asked little Tommy at the dinner table.
"No," said his father, "what makes you ask a question like that while we are eating?"
"You had one on your lettuce, but it's gone now," replied Tommy.

No Law's Delay Here.
In Pease, in the Malay peninsula lawyers find no business, for a modified form of trial by ordeal decides all disputes. In place of the legal practitioner the pleader is a native boy who is assigned to one or the other of the sides and is given a bamboo tube in which is sealed the pleading of the person or party whom he represents. When all is ready the two stakes are driven in the bed of a stream, and by aid of a bamboo pole the heads of the two boys are submerged at the same time. By grasping the stakes they are enabled to remain under water for quite a while after their natural inclination would bring them to the surface, but at least one of them gives up and confesses his guilt on the spot. The other side is then held in the case as the case.

Sympathy.
The man and his wife in the motor car came face to face with the man on a fully laden hay wagon in a narrow lane. Quite as a matter of course the husband of the woman made a movement to back out and allow the wagon to pass. But his wife objected.
"Let him back out," she said coldly. "We were here first; he must have seen us coming!"
Her husband pointed out that a sharp curve in the road rendered this impossible.
"I don't care!" reiterated the dame in the car. "I don't intend to move! I'd rather remain here all day!"
"But—" her husband began feebly.
"Give over, man!" said the car man, and the tone of his voice expressed wondrous sympathy. "I don't argue any more! I'll back out! I've got one like 'er at home!"
Eugene was a very mischievous little boy and his mother's patience was to the limit. She had spoken very nicely to him several times without effect. Finally she said:
"You are a perfect little heathen."
"Do you mean it?" demanded Eugene.
"Indeed I do," said the mother.
"Then, mother, said the boy, 'why can't I keep that to rent a week you give me for the Sunday school collection?' I guess I'm as hard up as any of the rest of 'em."

During a Thunderstorm.
Do not use the telephone. The telephone wires may receive a heavy shock.
Keep away from stoves, radiators, and the like. They are large metallic masses, likely to become heavily charged.
Avoid screen doors or other metallic bodies connecting with the exterior of the building.
Keep away from chimneys and open screened windows.
Out of doors the most dangerous places are under isolated trees and near wire fences in open fields.
Small sheds and other shelters are dangerous if isolated from larger buildings.
Thick timber is undoubtedly the safest place to seek out of doors, since a single tree in a forest is not so likely to receive a stroke as a single person or an object in an open space or equal area.

Specific for Bronchitis.
The turpentine used in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine is not the ordinary commercial article, which is little used because of the unpleasantness of taste, but is especially extracted from Italian and spruce gum and so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be at the same time pleasant to use and wonderfully effective in the cure of affections of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

The Quebec Bridge.
Unless some unexpected obstacle presents itself, the central span of the Quebec bridge will be floated in to place the first week in September. The actual day has not been fixed yet, but fair notice will be given of an event which is destined to become historic.
When the estimates for work on the Quebec bridge were under discussion at the recent session of the House of Commons, the Hon. J. D. Reid, then acting minister of railways, announced that a parliamentary party would be taken to Quebec to see this tremendous feat of engineering.

Crowns Worn in War.
Monarchs no longer ride forth crowned to battle, as did Richard III. to his fatal fight on Bosworth Field. Nevertheless, every day crowns figure in the spectacular side of war more often than is commonly supposed. The King of Italy, for instance, although he does not of course always wear it, carries his crown with him wherever he goes, and frequently dons it when he reviews his troops on ceremonial parades.
This is in accordance with the custom and tradition of his house. The crown is supposed to render its wearer immune from harm, because included with the gold is a tiny circle of iron, said to have been made out of the

Forced to Leave School, Had St. Vitus' Dance
Astonishing Cure of This Nervous Trouble Effected by Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Here is a case where life-long gratitude will be felt for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. As a school girl and in later life Dr. Chase's Nerve Food came to the rescue when the nerves gave out. Now a healthy, robust woman, happily gives the credit to this great food cure for restoring her to health and strength.
Miss Madie M. White, 11 Waterloo Street, Fredericton, N. B., writes:—"When ten years of age a friend of mine had St. Vitus' Dance and she had to leave school and go under a doctor's care. Instead of benefiting by the treatment she appeared to get worse. Her tongue and tongue became so swollen that she could scarcely take any nourishment. For two weeks she was this way and then took convulsions and nearly choked to death. She was ordered to the hospital, but soon got worse again. I recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to her and she used nine boxes, steadily growing better. Three years later a severe fright brought on the nervous trouble again, and she suffered everything a human being could endure. Her mother bought a dozen boxes of the Nerve Food, and with this treatment she was fully restored. I wish you could see her now, a strong, healthy, robust woman with two lovely babies. She still uses the Nerve Food when she feels out of sorts, but has had no return of the old nervous trouble."
"For weak, puny, nervous children there is nothing like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to enrich the blood, restore the starved nerves and start them on the way to health. When they fail to get proper nourishment from the food they eat, this food sure presents the necessary ingredients in condensed and easily assimilated form, and gives strength and vigor to restored. It costs a box, 6 for $3.50, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Company, Limited, Toronto.

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

Editorial Brevities.

The Canadian Trade Commission which has been conducting a campaign in the interests of Canadian business, has carried out its mission most successfully. It is announced last week that 1,700 forms have been filled in by British manufacturers and merchants who pledged themselves to purchase from and sell to Canadian houses goods formerly purchased from and sold to enemy countries.

Several members of the Saskatchewan legislature have been found guilty of accepting bribes from the liquor interests. They should be punished in such a manner as would be a lesson for all time to representatives in that province who might be tempted to betray the trust reposed in them. This country will not be freed from the curse of political bribery until the punishment is made to fit the crime, and is administered without hesitation or delay.

Pictou Academy, from whence many graduates have gone to fill honored positions, will celebrate on August 27, 28 and 29 the one-hundredth anniversary of its founding. Three commemorative services will be held on Sunday, at each of which the sermon will be preached by a graduate of the Academy. Addresses and social events will make up the program on Monday, and on Tuesday the unveiling of the commemorative tablet will take place. Rev. Dr. Forest will deliver an address upon the part Pictou Academy has played in the life of the Dominion, and will also unveil the tablet.

Capt. Chaplain Clarence Mc Kinnon, 21st Batt., in a recent sermon at church parade, said: "Success in war depends more on moral than on physical qualities," also, "It is well to recall the great purpose of the struggle, a world emancipated from a selfish and intolerant ambition, the protection of the little child and the honor of womanhood. It is these big ideals that make life, not our worldly possessions." The millionaire who has too much money and too many worries is like a fly that has fallen in a molasses barrel; there is too much molasses and too little fly. Christianity is a life swept by a great emotion in the achievement of a great and beneficent purpose for God and for humanity. It is following Christ, who for the joy set before Him, endured the cross despising the shame."

A War Loan.

Within a few weeks the Dominion Government will issue new war loan certificates. There is every indication that the response will be all that could be desired.

When a loan of this kind was asked for last year, there was a certain amount of nervousness as to the result. Hitherto the country had done all its borrowing abroad and the people never contemplated the idea of financing their government from their own savings. The appeal, however, proved that there is plenty of money to be obtained in Canada when the security is good and the rate of interest satisfactory.

Since that time the country has been prosperous. The deposits in the savings department of the chartered banks have increased $50,000,000 within the past twelve months. During the same period our foreign trade has steadily improved, the exports showing a gratifying preponderance over the imports. Our war expenditures are approximately $50,000,000 a month, but about two thirds of this is expended in Canada and is, therefore, not an economic loss, except in comparatively small part.

Financially, Canada does not seem to be suffering from the war at all, says the Winnipeg Telegram. Rather the contrary. The people have the money to invest and will probably be even more willing than before to lend it to the Government. With savings banks paying only three per cent, there is an obvious advantage in buying bonds which yield five per cent. This should and doubtless will appeal strongly to seekers of a permanent investment.

The Mount Allison Institutions.

Our readers will notice in this issue the advertisement of the Mount Allison Institutions at Sackville, N. B. The University, Ladies' College and Academy grouped together on the summit of a hill overlooking the beautiful and historic Tantramar Marsh offer superior educational advantages both along practical and theoretical lines. A splendid residence provides accommodation for the male students of the University, and its close proximity to one of the largest Ladies' Colleges in Canada guarantees social intercourse for students of both sexes with the best class of young men and women in our country. The situation is healthy, the courses are complete and thorough, and the social and moral surroundings in the institutions are of the best. Those who are considering a college for the young man or young woman in Canada would do well to enquire concerning Mount Allison.

The trial in the Scott Act repeal election suit, Edwards vs. King, will be held before Judge Ritchie at Annapolis Royal on Tuesday, August 29th. It will not be a jury case.

Unrest in Germany.

Although the majority of the German Socialist support the government, there is a minority which disapproves the war in unsparring terms. The following is a copy of a manifesto distributed by this minority, to stir up a feeling of discontent among the people:

"The inevitable has arrived—lamine in Leipzig, Berlin, Charlottenburg, Brunswick, Mecklenburg, Osnabruck, and many other places. Riots have taken place in front of the provision shops, and the only solution the government is able to find is re-enforcing the state of siege and an appeal to the sabres of the police and of armed force! The government ought to have known that the consequence of a war against France, England and Russia would have been the blockade of Germany. The responsible authors of the war while that 'wicked enemies encircle us.' But why did they themselves pursue a policy which led to this encirclement? The whole Imperialist policy of conquest is a crime, and the German government has pursued this Imperialist policy, thanks to which it has entered on a conflict with all the other states and has had to humble itself to an alliance with that political corpse, Austria, and with that miserable Turkey which nothing can save from bankruptcy.

"One would have thought that the government would take measures against lamine but the government does nothing, and for the mass of the people the gravity of the situation is apparent. It is said, 'We must hold out.' We were led on fairy tales about the effect of the submarine war, whereas it is impossible to arrest the commerce of England, even if Germany possessed the top times as many submarines as she has. Our eyes were dazzled by the tale that an attack on the Balkans would give us air, and that Turkey would supply us with food. Now we are told about the next crop, which is to put an end to all our woes. It is one lie in the more. The crop can not give us what we need.

"We have a food dictator. Too late! It is no longer a question of sharing out, because there is nothing to share. What is to happen? We could continue the war another six months, and perhaps a year, but the future generations will be sacrificed. The dead and mutilated of the battle, fields will be added the sacrifice of the women and children. With its virtues, German militarism is driven into an impasse. Women and children of the people, make your voices heard at last, and from words pass to acts. Down with the war!"

Death of Mrs. Powers.

On Monday, August 21st, Mrs. Mary E. Powers, widow of James A. Powers, was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of her son, William C. Powers, of 305 School street, and the service was attended by many friends and relatives. Her son is a member of the Prospectors' class of the First Baptist church, and a delegation from this class attended. The eulogy was pronounced by Rev. Dr. W. J. Stewart of Wolburn, a former pastor of the First Baptist church and college mate of Mrs. Powers in Nova Scotia.

He paid a fitting tribute to her memory. His words of consolation to the bereaved family were well chosen. There were musical selections by Clyde Wilson. The burial was in Mt. Zion cemetery, the pallbearers being M. M. Coburn, Earl Reid, Lewis W. Dunbar and Arthur E. Perkins.

The floral offerings included the following: Pillow of roses, gladioli and asters, son and wife; mound of lilies, asters, roses and gladioli, brothers and sisters; pink gladioli, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reid; sweet peas, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gardner; purple and white asters, Mr. and Mrs. George Atkins; Abington; pink and white gladioli, Prospectors' class of the First Baptist church; wreath of roses, asters and gladioli, sorting room of the D. B. Gurney tack factory; roses, employees of the Shaw Company of Brockton; white and pink asters, Mr. and Mrs. George I. Winslow; asters, neighbors; pink and white asters, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Monegan; purple asters, Mr. and Mrs. Burton P. Drake; pink asters, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph O. Stanton; wreath of lilies, roses and asters, Webster Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Mrs. Powers was a daughter of the late William C. Hill, of Billtown. Her brothers and sisters are: C. R. Hill, Mrs. R. E. Harris and Miss A. R. Hill, of this town; Ingram K. Hill, postmaster of Niaga, Manitoba; E. M. Hill, K. C., Saskatoon, Sask.; Mrs. J. W. Eames, of Bridgewater, England; and Mrs. C. K. Harris.

Treaty to Protect Insect-Destroying Birds.

Washington, August 16.—A treaty between Great Britain and the United States for protection of insect-destroying birds on both sides of the Canadian boundary was signed at the state department today by Secretary of State Lansing and Ambassador Spring-Rice. The treaty is very broad and covers practically all kinds of bird life. Its administration will be left to local authorities. So far as is known this is the first treaty of its kind ever signed.

On Monday, September 5th, clocks in Halifax City will be returned to standard time. Some few months ago they were set ahead one hour in keeping with the 'Daylight-Saving Scheme.'

Opera House.

Metro has scored again with an unusual and intensely interesting feature picture in 'Black Fear,' a five part photodrama which will be seen here at Opera House on Monday and Tuesday next.

This picture was produced for release on the Metro program, upon an elaborate scale, no expense being spared for either sets or in the quality of the artistry engaged. An all-star cast, including Grace E. Burton, Grace Valentine, Edward Brennan and other prominent artists of the stage and screen were used to make 'Black Fear' one of the sensational features of the season in film and drama.

'Black Fear' contains a gripping story of the last increasing cocaine habit among a certain class of people in New York City. This vital yet somewhat difficult subject is treated in a masterly manner, and there is an interesting love story running through the plot that is absolutely novel and new. The production contains many big scenes including one made in New York's Chinatown, a huge ballroom scene, the death of a man who topples out of the fourth story of a pretentious home in Riverside Drive, a faithful reproduction of Nova Scotia Juvenile Court, and a thrilling scene in the Supreme Court. 'Black Fear' is easily the greatest picture of the season, and a production that causes people to remember it long after they have seen it on the screen. Miss Hamilton, who heads the stellar cast, makes her screen debut in this production. As the creator of the leading female roles in 'The Lion and the Mouse' and other Broadway stage successes, she is known to a host of theatregoers.

NOTICE

To Automobile Owners and Chauffeurs:

Owing to the increasingly fast and reckless driving and the continual disregard of Nova Scotia Motor Vehicle Act, thereby endangering the life and property of citizens, the Police Officer and Constables are instructed to enforce the laws governing the use of motor driven vehicles in the Town of Wolfville. A word to the wise is sufficient. By order of the Police Committee, W. M. BLACK, Town Clerk.

"Black Fear"

A Sterling Five Act Drama.

Defies the Frost King

King Winter is armed with countless millions of ice-hard snow-crystals, driven by the full force of winter winds; his destructive work is aided by rapid changes in temperature, which freeze tiny particles of water in the pores of unprotected woodwork, tearing the wood fibres apart as freezing water splits a wrought-iron pipe. In the course of a long Canadian winter he can cause irreparable damage to an unprotected silo, barn or home. He attacks in vain, however, the building protected with

B-H "ENGLISH" PAINT

The pure white lead (70%) and pure white zinc (30%) which it contains, serve as a thin but effective metallic armor-plate, defying all the forces of natural decay for many years. The superiority of B-H "English" Paint is due both to the purity of its ingredients and to our special methods of manufacture. These produce a paint, which on account of its smoothness and marvellous fineness, spreads easily and penetrates far into the fibres of the wood.

Was a Nurse in France.

MRS. JONES, WHOSE HUSBAND DIED OF WOUNDS, BACK FROM THE HOSPITALS VISITING AMHERST.

Amherst Guardian.

That the general impression in England is that the war is likely to continue for two years while French opinion is that the struggle will be over by next spring was the information gained by The Guardian from Mr. Clifford Jones, of Calgary, and Mrs. Stanley J. Jones, whose husband recently died of wounds, received while fighting on the western front, when they were guests of Major or Jones' sister, Mrs. B. J. Lawson, in Amherst this week. Mrs. Jones spoke of the opinion in France where she has been on duty in Red Cross work while her brother-in-law spent more especially of the feeling in England where he had been for some weeks. Both were agreed, however, that there is absolute confidence as to the final victory resting with the Allies.

Mrs. Jones has been across the water since early in the war, having crossed to England shortly after her husband went overseas with the Princess Patricia's. While Major Jones was fighting for the Allies his wife was engaged in Hospital work in France and was given the rank of lieutenant in the French service. When word came that Major Jones had been wounded in the fierce fighting of some weeks ago Mr. Clifford Jones went from Calgary to England hoping to be able to get near his brother. Unfortunately, however, Major Jones was not only severely wounded but was taken prisoner by the Germans and he died in a German hospital whence he was buried with military honors.

Mr. Jones and his sister-in-law reached Amherst on Wednesday evening, having landed at Halifax. They stayed with Mrs. Lawson until noon on Thursday when they left for Calgary.

Mrs. Jones has three months' furlough. When that has expired she will return to France to take up Red Cross work again, having volunteered for service for the duration of the war. Not only did she volunteer for service as long as the war continued but she is also giving her services free, paying all her personal expenses such as maintenance, etc.

Mrs. T. A. Pearson and little daughter, Annie, is visiting at South Farmington and other places in Annapolis county.

Miss B. Bishop returned from Halifax last week much improved in health.

Miss Bessie Frazer is visiting at Scott's Bay.

We understand our new school teacher, Miss Thorpe, will begin her duties here on Monday.

From the 'Nova Scotia Highlander,' Camp Aldershot: 'Will the Wolfville lady who so kindly presented the 21st Batt. with a fine mascot in the form of a white silk-haired goat, accept our best (unofficial) thanks. 'He's a bird.' When a volunteer was called for to look after him the face of every man on parade brightened. For a moment the silent tension was oppressive, but not long did they hesitate. As one man, the battalion dashed away the tear that started to his eye and cheered in ringing Irish tones, 'I will, sir!'

JAM FOR SOLDIERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ACADIAN: DEAR SIR,—Will you give me a little space in your paper to draw the attention of the members of the Women's Institutes of your county, as well as all other women, to the urgent request for more jam for the soldiers. Splendid work was done for this cause last year, but more is needed this year and if the amount can be doubled or trebled the result will be gratifying. The jam must be put up in quart bottles, and if possible the express charges prepaid to Halifax. Where this is not possible the Provincial Red Cross will defray expenses. This is work that ought to appeal at once to the women of Nova Scotia and I particularly beg the members of the Institutes to bear in mind the good work of last year and endeavor to do what was possible. Anyone wishing particular information should write the Secretary of the Provincial Red Cross Halifax. Thanking you for your kindness, Mr. Editor, I am,

Yours sincerely, JENNIE A. FRASER.

An Admiral's Advice to the Boys.

Writing, in 1906, to General Baron, Lord Charles Beresford said: "I do not believe that alcohol in any form ever has or ever will do any one any good. I am now sixty years old, and since I have entirely given up wine, spirits and beer, I find I can do as much work or more, physically and mentally, than I could when I was thirty. I am always well, always cheerful, laugh at the 'downs' of life equally with the 'ups', and always feel fit and in condition.

"It only some of the young men would try going without liquor for about three months, I do not believe they would think liquor at all necessary again. Get some of your splendid young men to try it and report proceedings after the three months."

A Tribute to Women.

The light cruiser Frauenlob (Frau of Woman), some of whose crew have been rescued by a British tugboat, was one of the most odd-odd man warships afloat. An early Master-singer, Henry of Meissen, sang the charms of womanhood so assiduously that he came to be known as Frauenlop, and on his death in 1318 his body was carried in state by women to his grave in Mayence Cathedral. When first it was decided to build a German fleet the women of Germany raised a large contribution towards its cost by special collections among themselves.

To commemorate their efforts a cruiser launched in 1853 was called Frauenlop, and the name has since been borne by five other warships.

The Scrap Bag.

To Lengthen the Life of a Broom.—A broom will last much longer if dipped for a minute or two in a pot of boiling water, once a week.

To Clean Nickel.—To clean nickel stove trimmings rub with kerosene and whiteness, and polish with a dry cloth.

To Keep Salt Dry.—Put a little cornstarch in salt shakers. This will prevent the salt from becoming too moist to shake out.

Baking Cup-Castards.—Get them into a pan of hot water and put in the oven. When you remove them from the oven set them at once in a pan of cold water to prevent longer cooking, which will harden the custard.

To Iron Embroidery.—Place the embroidery right side down on a pad of soft flannel or Turkish towel and iron.

A Drawer that sticks.—Should a dresser drawer not slip in and out easily rub the unvarnished edges with paraffin wax, or soap. The same treatment may be given to the run-in of extension table.

Value of Gelatine.—It was thought for a while that gelatine was of no importance as a food. Recent investigation has discovered that it is of great value, especially when used in conjunction with albuminous food.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unhesitating earnestness: "They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood, it changes weakness to strength, it makes them sturdy and strong and active."

Skirts.

Modest people, who have been holding their breath may now let it out again. They have received the maximum shock. The momentous question whether skirt borders were to follow demurely after shoe tops receding ankleward, or were to still higher, on the rebound as it were, has been answered. Skirts are to be longer. Paris has said it and the New York Sun declares that when Paris says so the thing is as good as done. But even Paris does not promise that the lengthening will be sufficient to restore to present application Sir John Suckling's lines:—

"Her feet beneath her petticoat
Like little mice stole in and out,
As if they feared the light."

There will be no low visibility about feet. They will be perfectly frank and apparent; also ankles, for skirt hems will be from five to six inches from the ground, according to this fall's models. It is explained that while the new skirts are not really narrower, they are straighter, and therefore must be longer in order to give good lines. The panier effect's fulness about the hips is to be shifted to the shoulders, although we are assured that we are safe from anything approaching the old leg of mutton sleeves.

Just why skirts should be longer for winter's slush and mud than for summer drought is 'one of the things no fellow can find out,' but then it's none of his business anyway.

Luther Burbank, who has not only made two plants grow where one grew before but has created new plants and flowers, has been given a large grant by the United States Government to continue his experiments in California. Mr. Burbank is known as the Plant Wizard as the result of the many new plants and flowers he has produced. In his hot houses in California he has raised thousands of experiments under way while over half a million different plants are raised each year. He has already produced an edible cactus pitta, pines and new varieties of apples, berries, grains, grasses and vegetables. Mr. Burbank was born in Massachusetts in 1847 and spent his boyhood on a farm, where he became interested in vegetable life. He is probably the greatest living authority on the biology of plants.

The doctor looked at him, as the Boston Transcript relates it. You are a dyspeptic, he said. Then he put his ear to the patient's heart and gravely added: "A high liver."

"Heaven, one of the staid old pat-out, it isn't as up there, is it?"

"In taking revenge a man is but even with his enemy, but in passing it over he is superior, for it is a prince's part to pardon."

Things you try to keep dark will come to light sooner or later.

At a certain mill there is a notice on the elevator which reads as follows: "No one allowed to use this elevator except the man in charge. Any one doing so will be discharged."

One morning Billy—a rather witty fellow, was waiting to go up from the second room, when who should step off the elevator alone but the manager.

Billy was stepping on to go up when the manager turned round and said: "Yes, can't you read?"

"Yes," said Billy.

"Well, what does this notice say?" asked the manager.

Billy turned round and read the notice, and exclaimed: "By gum, we'll both be sacked if we're caught!"

How to Test Paper.

You cannot test paper, as you would string by stretching it. It has been stretched so much in the process of manufacturing that it won't stand much more. The way to test it is to submit it in the hands. After such treatment paper is full of holes and cracks. Good paper simply takes the appearance of leather. I much white dress is produced we know it is of a quality of paper. If it cracks it has been stretched too much.—London Globe.

Tommy J. has presented a very favorable appearance at the court since the look of a man who has been stretched with his hands.

Months of the strength of Tommy from his young mother and the kind old grand mother's care, and it was upon was really tested. It was up to the court to see if Tommy was a good man.

"What do you think of Tommy?" asked a woman.

"Yes, what Tommy?"

"How did he appear?"

Tommy J. was stretched to his full capacity of human life.

"We were having a ravel little he explained, but it follows over three toppled me in the region there."

Why did you pour for the world yesterday?

"I am not a man, Miss E. since I put the paper. For a while now."

What do you mean?

"I see just the same old old paper of the English of Boston, and it is full of holes and cracks."

To avoid a very bad paper from a Southern Judge put the question: "Why did you have your hand down just as you did it?"

Who is your man, he replied: "My home, a poor man like me can't afford to have a face and a surname, too."

REVELSTOKE and its BEAUTIES

REVELSTOKE is situated on the Canadian Pacific Railway about half way between Banff and Glacier. It is a town of about 4,500 people having a beautiful view of the leading hotel being the "Revelstoke" situated right at the Depot. Revelstoke is most picturesque situated in the Valley of the Columbia River and is surrounded by mountains. Mount Begbie is always an interesting sight, and the Glacier on Mount Begbie can be seen from Revelstoke. The view from the hotel on a summer evening is magnificent. There are two trips from this place which are absolutely unique in the whole Canadian Pacific Railway. One trip is nine miles north of Revelstoke, along the Columbia River to Silver Tip Falls, through the famous Columbia Canyon, which for scenic beauty and thrill is unsurpassed on the American Continent, and the other is up Mount Revelstoke. The Dominion Government is now building an automobile road from Revelstoke to the top of the mountain, and has recently expended $200,000.00 on this road, which is now ten miles up the mountain. The road zig zags up the mountain, having an excellent grade, a high-powered automobile being able to go up this road on high gear. Tourists who have made this trip as far as the road is completed, claim that there is no trip on the American continent that can compare with it. Should tourists be desirous of arrangements to be made to have saddle horses awaiting them at the end of the automobile road, so that they can continue to the top of Mount Revelstoke where a most beautiful natural park is situated.

INVIGORATING LAURENTIANS

Barrette, and Mount Laurier, are all on the line that crosses this enchanting district for a distance of 156 miles. The atmosphere amidst these resorts is breezing and healthy, and to look on the wonderful profusion of lake, river, woodland, and mountain scenery is in itself a "royal restorer." In any of the holiday places you can enjoy a comfortable rest, or you may ramble out amongst the romantic valleys and mountain slopes, feeling so happy that you forget what time it is, and perhaps return late for lunch or dinner. The waters of the rivers and lakes are clear and refreshing, and as they have washed bottoms they are suited to the temperaments of the most critical of swimmers and bathers. Fishing, canoeing, motor boating, tennis, golf, mountain climbing are amongst the chief sports. But if you do not wish to indulge in any of these you may sit on the shaded veranda of your hotel and enjoy yourself chatting with good steady minded Canadian folks, many of whom will be of your own race of ming.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and back-ache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 709 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISSILOFF, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.
