C. of Simcoe for the defence. Mr. Kelly asked for an adjournment of one week on the plea that he had no time to prepare his case, and the court so agreed. RELIEF WORK.
Fifteen dollars and forty cents was expended in relief work by Relief Officer William Glover during the past month. One half ton of coal, one half ton of wood, and $6.00 worth of provisions were supplied to families in distress.

VOTERS' LISTS.
The voters' lists for the year 1918 are being prepared by the city clerk, assisted by the assessment department. Work on the lists was commenced this morning.

NEARLY READY.
The G.W.V.A. clubhouse on Dalhousie street is rapidly nearing completion. The various rooms are being equipped and furnished and both the interior and exterior are assuming a better aspect.

POLICE COURT.
The O.T.A., although more severe than its predecessor, the Ontario License Act, has exercised this effect that no one is ever charged with being "drunk" but face a charge of being "intoxicated." For having imbibed too freely and become "intoxicated" Joe Kondon paid $10.00 and costs in the police court to-day.

CLAIMED THAT THERE IS TO-DAY IN CANADA A PRONOUNCED SPIRITUAL PASSION TO CONTINUE THE WAR. The outlook is good and by the latest six months should bring marked developments, when almost every missionary supporting nation will have been in a field against autocracy. The forces of liberty must win.

Mr. H. P. Jones followed. He claimed that the present patriotic duty is to obey war measures. Selective conscription, Food Controller's orders, everything designed to help carry on. A patriot will observe, maintain and uphold the institutions of the land to which he belongs and this should be an easy matter for Canadians. There was, he thought, little fear of the surrender of the right to freedom of speech and worship given to the British of to-day, and defended at such sacrifice by past generations.

Mr. Frank Reid read a carefully prepared paper on practical patriotism.

Rev. Fulton concluded the discussion by announcing his firm conviction that the atheism of force and the atheism of fear, or the want of a longer arm of Faith, were to-day the main hindrances. The pastor had requested these gentlemen to assist in a discussion of "True Patriotism," and for this part the innovation was quite acceptable at the evening hour of worship.

Odd Ends of News.
They do some Saturday night business in the North ward too. Curfew rings to-night and through the winter, at 8 p.m.

In Saturday's issue "Mr. Towns" should have read "Mr. Towns."

Sneak thieves are stealing fowl as well as potatoes in the North Ward. Soldiers' wives and widows are generally favored by their calls.

ALMOST STUCK IN THE MUD OF FLANDERS
The first photograph shows that small branches have been laid down on the mud to give the horses a slightly better footing. The water part is a heavy one, and one of the animals so employed has given up the struggle and collapsed. The last is scene behind the lines, showing a pair of pack horses taking their load of shells up to the guns, and the nature of the ground which they have to go. Both horses and the soldier in charge have considerable difficulty in extricating themselves from the mud.

NERVOUS TROUBLE The nerve system is the governing system of the whole body, controlling the heart, lungs, digestion and brain; so it is not surprising that nervous disturbances should cause acute distress. The first stages of nervous debility are noted by irritability and restlessness. In which the victims seem to be oppressed by their nerves. The matter requires immediate attention, for nothing but suitable treatment will prevent a complete breakdown. The victim, however, need not despair, for even severe nervous disorders may be cured by improving the condition of the blood. It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood, that this medicine has cured extreme nervous disorders after all other treatment had failed. The nerves thrive on the new blood made by these pills; the appetite improves, digestion is better, sleeplessness no longer troubles the former nerve-shattered victim, and life generally takes on a cheerful aspect. Every sufferer from nerve trouble, no matter how slight, should lose no time in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, thus regaining their old-time health and comfort.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brookville, Ont.

THE SITUATION

Five air raids upon London within seven days, constitutes pretty good evidence that the Germans have determined to maintain a continuance of these murderous assaults. Daily the demand is growing for reprisals and small wonder. Such attacks are repugnant to British ideas, but so, in the first place, was the use of poisoned gas, yet it was found later that the only policy was to resort to similar tactics.

East of Ypres, the Teutons have been making strong counter attacks upon the British, but without result. The impression still prevails that there is some big movement on the tapis on this front with regard to which the correspondents have been asked to say nothing.

Major-General Maude, commander of the British expedition in Mesopotamia, reports a splendid victory in a battle which took place beyond Lagdad. Mushaid Ridge, an important point of the Turkish positions, was taken, and the Turkish commander and his staff and several thousand troops made prisoner. Much ammunition was also obtained.

The Italians have made another powerful drive, resulting in the capture of high ground in the Isonzo sector. Fourteen hundred prisoners were taken. Italian aviators have also carried out another successful attack on the Austrian naval base of Pola.

As the result of a conference between the British and French ministers of blockade, it has been decided to tighten the belt around Germany by prohibiting the export of certain articles to Sweden and Holland, the same having leaked through to the Fatherland.

The unofficial announcement comes from Ottawa that the proclamation calling out the first draft under the Military Service Act, will probably be issued about October 10th. The call will include men from 20 to 34, inclusive, unmarried, or widowers without children.

U. S. ORDERS COME TO CANADA

The slight slackening in the new business of the textile mills of Canada coming from domestic sources is finding compensation in the orders that are being placed by the United States Government for war supplies. So far as The Financial Post can estimate the amount of the orders already in hand, these will exceed $8,000,000, and as in many instances the securing of orders by Canadian mills is simply a matter of ability on their part to accept and give deliveries, the total will continue to increase rapidly for months to come.

These orders are arriving at a most opportune time, and in some respects may be said to resemble in results the speeding up of factories in Canada in 1915 and 1916 from munition orders, and the subsequent growth of business that went in the train of the increased buying power of the public.

From the point of view of the investor it will be found that for a number of mills these United States orders will enable them to bring up their output to that of last year or beyond, and the pressing need of the War Department for rush deliveries naturally has resulted in a rather better price to the mills than if the contracts had been thrown open to a merciless competition.

On the other hand, it is to the credit of several of the Canadian industries that they were chosen by the United States experts in preference to those on the other side, simply because they had reached a higher state of efficiency in manufacture of the military lines required than the corresponding factories of the United States.

Orders were not always conferred on Canadian manufacturers, just because the U.S. mills could not guarantee deliveries. Often their facilities were superior, or their efficiency higher and the price so much lower; sometimes it was a question of a supply of wool in Canada being more assured. In any case, Canadian industry has been paid a high tribute in the last few weeks, the extent of which it is impossible to reveal at the present moment, for military reasons.

It was not all exaggeration that was contained in an article in a New York commercial paper a few days ago, admitting, with a measure of complaint, that orders for 12,000,000 pairs of woollen gloves had been given to Canadian mills because they could turn out through their superior machinery and skill derived from similar orders for the Canadian troops, gloves at $3.50 a dozen that cost $6 for the American mill.

In the case of the Dominion Textile Company orders for webbing were given as the only firm in America that could turn out the special kind that was required for the haversacks and other equipment of the United States "Sammy."

As illustrating what is coming to Canada from the other side, the following sample list is presented, illustrating the sizes of the orders and the prices that are being paid:

Table with columns: Item, Amount. Includes Stratford Glove Makers ($203,232), Scotch Glove Co. ($210,600), Ferguson and White, Stratford ($207,500), Mitchell Knitting Co., Mt. Pellet ($210,600), Stockings, Boyd Caldwell and Co., London ($60,000), Mercury Mills, Hamilton ($27,600), J. McMurchy and Sons, Brantford ($50,400), Kingston Hosiery Co., Kingston ($157,500), Shirts, Montreal Shirt and Overall Co. ($19,800).

NOTES AND COMMENT

Maude has made the "unspeakable Turk" find his voice. He is yelling for mercy in Mesopotamia.

Guelph has increased in population the past year by 286 and in assessment by $53,705. It still takes this bustling burgh to grow the way to the other smaller centres.

Despite the temperance wave that air these days clearly has a nip in it.

A despatch from Berlin states that the health of the new German Chancellor "leaves very much to be desired." He had better fortify himself for the boot.

Milk is going up so high that all the cows hereabouts may expect to find themselves hoisted over the moon, after the manner of the nursery rhyme member of their tribe.

Viscount Ishii, head of the Japanese mission now in the States, during the course of a speech in New York on Saturday, declared a Monroe Doctrine for Japan in the East.

In this regard he issued a warning to the world that his nation would not tolerate aggressions against the independence of China.

OTHER NEWS OF PARIS

Rally Day Services in Methodist and Baptist Sunday Schools.

Paris, Oct. 1.—(From our own correspondent)—Last evening at the close of the services in the Presbyterian church, Dr. J. A. Pearce, the talented organist and choir leader, gave an organ recital that was very much appreciated by the large number present.

Real estate moving in Paris, as last week the late Geo. S. Scott's residence in Upper Town, was purchased by Mrs. Postill from Mr. Albert Huron, South Dumfries. Saturday the large ranch home on William Street belonging to Mrs. David Brown was purchased by Mr. Wm. Barker of Princeton.

Harvest Thanksgiving services were held in St. James' church yesterday, and despite the rain, large congregations attended the services. In the morning Rev. Mr. Turnell of Mohawk Chapel, Brantford, gave a very timely sermon from St. James, the 5th Chapter, 7th and 8th verses. In the evening the sacred edifice was filled, the preacher on that occasion being the Ven. Archdeacon Mackenzie, of Brantford, a favorite with Paris congregations. The Rev. gentleman took his subject from Genesis 2:8, "and the Lord God planted a Garden." From those few words the Archdeacon held the close attention of his hearers for nearly one hour, delivering one of the most helpful and comforting sermons heard in St. James. The choral portion of the service throughout the day by the choir, was ably rendered, and Miss Stewart, the organist, as also the choir, are to be congratulated. During the offertory, Mrs. James A. Sinclair very feelingly rendered a solo, "Leave it with Jesus."

Yesterday afternoon Rally Day services were held in the Methodist and Baptist Sunday schools. There was a good attendance of adults and scholars and an excellent program given.

"THE LOVE OF A KING"
So long is it since the public has seen a really refined romantic comedy, that the return engagement of "The Love of a King" which takes place at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, October 6th, matinee and night, is of the utmost importance. The production marks a direct departure for the delightful actor, Albert Brown, who has a chance to show his serious side of his art, and realizes a long-cherished ambition. It is from the pen of the brilliant playwright, Paul Kester, whose drama "The King of the Mountains" was in "Flowery" written for Julia Marlowe, is still remembered. Mr. Kester believes that he has surpassed all his previous efforts in this play, which deals with the historical story of George, Prince of Wales afterwards King George III., and the Quakeress, Hannah Lightfoot. Comedy and sentiment are mingled in the most delightful way, and it affords to Mrs. Brown and his leading lady, Lesora Phelps, whom his production will cause a new opportunity that the greatest actors might envy. The production will be rich and beautiful in every detail, and the carefully selected includes many artists of rare ability.

BREAD FULL WEIGHT.
Only one sample of the twenty-one examined by Bread Inspector Glover during the last quarter was found under weight. In this case action was taken in the police court and a penalty inflicted. Six of the bakers' samples were slightly over the required weight. The premises were mostly in a good clean condition.

CITY'S INSURANCE.
The municipality's accident insurance policy, which has been allowed to elapse, and over which there was a warm session of the City Council some months ago, is again to be in force. A letter received this morning by Mayor Bowly from the London and Lancashire Company, which formerly carried the insurance referred to, a recent conversation with the manager of the underwriting department had with His Worship some time ago, when Brantford's Chief Magistrate (non-Orario) stated that a policy was not in force until the first premium had been paid. Accompanying the letter is an enclosed estimate for the Ontario Statute reading as follows: "Where the contract of insurance has been delivered it shall be as binding on the insurer as if the premium had been paid, although delivered by an officer or agent of the insurer who had no authority to deliver it."

The program consisted of motion songs, recitations, solo and scripture verses repeated in concert. The method of taking up the collection and of recognizing the birthdays during the week were very interesting items in the program. The new members for the Cradle Roll were reported, two who had been on the cradle roll received diplomas on their graduation into the primary department, and nine boys and thirteen girls received diplomas to mark their graduation from the primary department into the intermediate department of the school. HARVEST SERVICES.
A record for attendance was set at St. Jude's church yesterday, when on the occasion of special thanksgiving services the congregations packed the building to the doors both morning and evening. ANNIVERSARY SERVICES HELD

Alexandra Presbyterian Church Yesterday Commemorated its Founding

SPECIAL PREACHERS
Clergymen From Hamilton Officiated Morning and Evening.

Special anniversary services were observed in Alexandra Presbyterian church yesterday. In the morning the Rev. W. H. Sedgwick, B.A., of the Central Presbyterian church, Hamilton, preached, while in the evening the sermon was delivered by the Rev. D. E. Drummond, D.D., of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Hamilton. The attendance throughout the day was good, and in keeping with the occasion, Mrs. A. G. Seord sang at both services and the choir wore their new gowns for the first time.

"For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself." "For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord; whether we live therefore or die, we are the Lord's." This passage found in Romans, 14:7-8, was the subject of the morning. The speaker related the circumstances under which these words had been written by Paul. He explained that practically the same conditions existed then as now. The epistle had been written by Paul to some of his friends who were entering the Christian faith and who were contemplating how much of the furniture of isolation they could carry over the frontier into the realm of Christianity. This same problem, the speaker pointed out, confronted many young people and their elders who were leaving their old practices behind and entering the Christian life. They wished to know just how many of their old practices they could retain without injuring their Christian standing.

Just as Paul answered the question of his friends in the old day, not by a petty rule or regulation, but by a wide principle, enunciated in the text, so by just such a method those who in the present day are puzzled as to the retention of their lives could be guided by a general principle. If the pursuit of any pleasure or practice interfered with the Christian's vision of the Almighty, then it should be discontinued. Otherwise there was nothing to fear.

The Rev. Mr. Sedgwick made an effective reference to the men who have gone from our homes and given up their lives on the battlefields of Europe. The future destiny of these brave soldiers, contending the manner in which they had lived, and more particularly the manner in which they had died, those who had given up their lives on the battlefield had sacrificed the dearest of their possessions, and dying thus in sacrifice, they would surely be the Lord's.

The pulpit was occupied in the evening by the Rev. D. E. Drummond of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Hamilton, who spoke on "Compulsion." The text was founded on Acts 4:17. "But that is spread no farther among the people let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name." The speaker outlined several acts of our lives which are irrevocably necessary and must be done, governed as they are by a force and power independent of ourselves.

"One Meatless Meal a Day" is a good food slogan for war time, or any time—better make it two meatless meals a day—it would mean health and strength for the nation. But be sure and get the right substitute for meat in a digestible form. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the ideal substitute for meat. It is 100 per cent. whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Two or three of these little loaves of baked whole wheat make a nourishing, satisfying meal at a cost of only a few cents. Delicious with milk or cream or fruits of any kind. Made in Canada.

LOCAL LEAGUE
ELIGIBLE TO ONTARIO B.C.

Representatives from the Hamilton Amateur Baseball Association, Toronto A. B. A. and Ontario Baseball Commission, held a joint meeting in Toronto on Saturday to discuss the baseball situation throughout the province. A ruling as to the status of the Brantford League was requested by them, and it was decided that on the evidence presented they were eligible to compete against teams under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Baseball Commission they
to be notified, however, that Messrs Allan, Bradley and McKelvey, who played against the Toronto International team, are not included in this ruling. McKelvey was under the ban of the A. A. U. of C. before this latter offence. The Brantford League has notified the Commission that they desire to be affiliated. It was decided to hold a meeting in Freston on Thanksgiving day with the object in view of organizing that district. Representatives will be requested from Brantford, Galt, Kitchener, Guelph, Waterloo, Hespeler, Freston and others, to attend the meeting. It is hoped to form these towns in districts under the baseball commission. Messrs W. J. Smith, chairman of the commission; Geo.
C. Walsh, E. G. Seyler, of the T. A.
B. A., and A. J. Waite, of the H. A.
E. A., were appointed to arrange for the meeting and attend St.
Mary's of Toronto, will play in Freston on that day.

RALLY DAY
SERVICES

Despite the inclement weather,
the attendance at the Rally Day service at Wellington Street Church yesterday afternoon was very large.
Superintendent W. G. Ranton was in charge of the fine program. The Primary Department, under Miss Emma Jackson contributed the first part of the little play occupying the platform. Their choruses and exercises were performed very creditably indeed. Then followed a missionary exercise under Miss Falls, who was very capably assisted by the following bright girls of the intermediate department: Nellie Tol-
hurst, Helen Daniels, Anna Wilson, Dora Waterman and Edna Cooper.
All the Bible Classes had record attendance. Many visitors from the city and outside places were present.
The Home and Needle Roll Departments were shown to be in a very prosperous condition. The musical part of the program was well looked after by Messrs. Geo. K. Crookall, and Thos. Darwen. The special offering for the S. S. Extension Fund was very large. Much credit is due to the committee who looked after the decorations. They have never been surpassed on any occasion. The pulpit platform in the church was so beautifully festooned that Dr. J.
Ross, of Norwich, the preacher of the day, made special mention of it.
Dr. Ross was pastor of Wellington Street Church nineteen years ago.
His sermons and address of the afternoon were very much enjoyed by the large audience.

CASUALTIES;
ARE HEAVY

An unusually heavy list of local casualties is reported over the weekend, giving rise to the belief that Brantford men are sharing in the latest drives of the British upon the Ypres front. The list follows:—
Killed in Action

Main Ottoman Positions in

CAPTURE THOUSANDS Commande at Ramadie and Entire Staff, Forced to Surrender.

Courier Landed Wire
London, Sept. 30.—A British official report concerning the operations in Mesopotamia, announces the capture Friday of Mushad ridge, in the region of Bagdad. The British attacked Turkish advanced positions in the region of Ramadie from the south east and west, which they overcame, surrendering.
They continued the attack Saturday after surrounding Ramadie, and captured practically
the whole garrison, the enemy everywhere surrendering.
The captives by the British include guns, ammunition and several thousands of prisoners, including Ahmed Bey and his staff.

This is the first news for a considerable interval of time received from Mesopotamia. The hot season of that region, which is exceedingly oppressive, renders operations very difficult, and activity on any large scale
has not been looked for. That Gen.
Maude has been on the alert and has by no means been idle is indicated by the signal success just communicated. It will bring to mind the forecast made some few weeks ago by Lord Curzon, who in a reference to the activities of the hand of the caliph, recommended the public to keep their eyes on events likely to happen there. Gen. Maude's latest brilliant achievement will lend certainty to the presumption generally entertained, as a result of Lord Curzon's remark, that the British forces possess distinct advantages over the enemy, and that with the resumption of operations, which has now occurred, events of great importance will follow each other with rapidity
in the Tigris valley.

Take Supply Base
London, Sept. 30.—The war office
last night announced a further success against the German forces in German East Africa. The text of the announcement follows: "Our troops yesterday occupied Nanyung, an important German supply base 83 miles southwest of Kilwa, after considerable resistance. Our advances in the Lukuledi Valley and the forward movement of the Belgians on Ma-tengo are continuing steadily."

Behind The Guns

WHEN the war broke out in August, 1914, the Imperial and Canadian Governments were faced
by no greater problem than that of the assembling
and transport overseas of the army supplies required from this country, not only for the Canadian Expeditionary Force, but also for the British and Allied Armies.
Expert knowledge
was required
otherwise confusion, delays, and expensive operation would be inevitable, and experts with the necessary knowledge for such gi-gantic business
were not easy to obtain. Lord Shaughnessy came to the Government's assistance
by loaning Mr. A. H. Harris, Special Traffic Representative of the C. P. R., and righthandman to Vice-President Bosworth, with a large staff of traffic experts selected from various departments of the C. P. R., to act as a nucleus for the Overseas Transport Office. The work of this office has grown amazingly, so that to-day Mr.
Harris directs no less than four-fifths of the export trade of Canada, inland and overseas, and the best evidence that the work is being well done is the fact that the Government railway and steamship interests are all satisfied, while the general business of the country has been continued with a minimum of disturbance. In fact, the number of people in Canada who are aware of conditions is infinite.

Telegraph Company Makes
Concessions to Striking Operators.

Courier Landed Wire
Montreal, Sept. 30.—The Great Northwestern Telegraph Company has accepted the award of the arbitrators, who decided in favor of the telegraphers.
The striking G. N. W. telegraphers and linemen yesterday received an addition to the chief operators on strike with them, there being seven of them out now along with the original strikers awaiting the decision of the heads of the union in Toronto to-morrow. E. J. Young, chairman of the eastern district, left tonight for Toronto to be present at the meeting between the strikers' representatives and the G. N. W. chief officials.

NO, THANKS.
Brantford will not be the location of the next annual convention of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario. Some time ago His Worship
Mayor Bowby wrote the secretary of the organization, inviting the Association to hold their next convention in Brantford. A reply has been received, to the effect that at a recent meeting of the Directors, Stratford was selected.

FOUR RECRUITS
Four recruits for the C. M. R.
left this afternoon on the 1 o'clock radial for a medical examination at the barracks at Hamilton. The men signing up to-day for the "ride to Berlin" are Harold Curtis, 16 Edwin St., single, aged 18, laborer; Willam Maloney, 87 St. George Street, single, aged 21 years, a laborer;
Russell Wilson, Paris, single, 21 years of age, a dyer; and William Street, 31 St. Paul's Ave., single, aged 21, a horse-trainer.

Mr. A. H. HARRIS, Special Traffic Representative of the C. P. R.
real alone.
The number of checkers, longshoremen, and dock laborers under control of the Department at the several Canadian ports used by the Department now exceeds 1,800 men, with a pay roll of $32,000 a week.
The volume of tonnage cleared from the seaboard has been facilitated, and delays minimized from the fact that the Presidents of the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways, recognizing the growth of the Transport Service, considered concentration of authority necessary to efficient direction and accordingly issued instructions to their Operating Officials that the regulation and control inland of all Imperial transport should be vested in the Director of Overseas Transport. Instructions were consequently issued that all transport consigned to his order should be given priority of movement on the railways over all traffic, excepting passenger. As a consequence thereof, notwithstanding the volume of tonnage affected, transports have not been held for cargo, nor have there been congestion at the Canadian seaboard, such as has been experienced at U. S. Ports.
The actual time occupied by vessels in loading at Montreal has been under 4 1/2 days.
Canada has indeed reason to point
with pride to the successful operation of its transport service due to Mr.
Harris' administrative ability and the tireless energy of an efficient
staff.

LEAF'S LOSE SERIES TO INDIANAPOLIS

Beaten 5 to 4 on Sunday in First Game With Gould Pitching.

PINCH-HITTER DID IT Second Game Was Called in Sixth, with the Score a Tie.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 30.—The Toronto International League champions made a brilliant stand against the Indianapolis American Association champions here this afternoon, but were forced down to defeat in the deciding game of the series. The first game, which went to the locals, 5 to 4, in reality decided the series, giving Indianapolis four of the first five played. The second went 4 to 4 to a draw. Darkness prevented the finish of this game after six innings of play.

Herman Bronkie, batting as a pinch hitter for Cy Falkenberg in the eighth inning, when the Leafs were one run to the good, delivered the punch which counted two of his team mates and won the fracas. The pods were full at the time of the solid blow which put a crimp in the chances of the visitors.

The Canadians made a game stand and fought hard throughout the battle and overcame an early lead, but baseball luck was against them. It was a see-saw affair, with first one club going to the front and then the other, and proved highly entertaining to the ten thousand spectators in attendance. It was a little too tricky to be the best for a struggle of such importance, and a high wind made fielding of fly balls difficult.

Old English Plum Pudding
Take raisins well stoned but chopped, 1 pound; currants thoroughly washed, 1 pound; suet, 1 pound; chop very fine, mix with raisins and currants 1-4 pound of bread crumbs, 3 ounces sugar, 1-2 ounces of grated lemon peel, a blade of mace, 1-2 of a small nutmeg, 1 teaspoonful of ginger, 1-2 dozen eggs (well beaten), 2 cups milk, 1 cup cold water and put it in a cloth, tie it firm and allow it room to swell. Put it into boiling water, boil it for two hours. The cloth I use for this pudding. It dip into boiling water, then squeeze dry and flour it. When the pudding is done, have a pan of cold water ready and dip it in for a moment as soon as it comes out of the pot; this prevents the pudding from sticking to the cloth.

WATERFORD NEWS

(From our own Correspondent)
Saturday, September 29th.—
The following letter has been received from Corp. J. Moulding, who received a gunshot wound in the left shoulder on the 22nd of August. The County of Middlesex War Hospital, Napsbury, near St. Albans, England.

My Dear Friend—Just a few lines trusting this will find you are all quite well, as I am pleased to be able to tell you that I am going on very well. I am still confined to the bed, and I guess I will be for a time. And now I will tell you how it happened. We were taking some German trenches, and I was one of the first line that went over "No Man's Land," and we had just got into the German trenches and had been fighting hand to hand about five minutes when I received an awful crack in the shoulder, which made me drop my rifle, and I wondered what had happened. It hit me right on the peak of the shoulder and passed out the middle of the back, and I am sorry to say it carried a compound fracture. I could not get very far away from the trenches, for there were so many snipers around, so I was three more of my chums lay in a shell hole for fifteen and a half hours before we dare move, for the Germans were only thirty yards away from us. It was a terrible time, you see why we had to wait until dark before we could get away. It was about six o'clock in the morning when it happened. I cannot think how I escaped it all, for I was right in amongst the Hun's, and they were a big set of men. It was the first Prussian Guards and the place was very hot. We were up there thirteen days. We started fighting on the 15th and I was hit on the 21st, and my best chum, Ross Devett, was killed on the 19th. I was sorry for him and wondered who would be the next. You will see by this that I am in England. It is about 20 miles from London, and a nice place. I think I told you I lost everything in the fight. What would you say if this wound caused them to send me home, and quite likely it will. It don't pain me so much now like it did at first. I had only about 10 hours sleep in about ten days, but it is better now, and there is nothing to worry about. I got more than two of them in return for what they did for me. I don't know if I shall be able to post this to-day, as I cannot get my French money changed yet, but I will if I can. And now I will close for this time, hoping you are all well. Don't worry, for I shall be all right.

As ever,
JACK.

Nursing Sister Alice Trusdale of London, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Trusdale.
A memorial service was held in the Baptist church on Sunday morning for Pte. Marshall Lofler, Wallace Marr and Walter H. Delino, the three Waterford boys who have so far paid the supreme sacrifice. The church was beautifully decorated with flags and purple and white flowers. Rev. gentleman took as his text, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend," and preached a splendid sermon. The music was in accordance with the service.
Misses Marton Pearce and Helen Duncombe left on Monday for Toronto to resume their studies there.

A number from here attended the Women's Auxiliary at St. John's last Tuesday afternoon.
Miss Laurie Pettit has been visiting in St. Thomas.
Miss Bertha Harris has returned to Pittsfield, Mass., after spending the summer with her father, Rev. S. G. Harris.
A mass meeting of the people of Waterford was held in the Baptist church last Sunday evening, and the following resolution was passed and has since been forwarded to Sir Robert Borden:
"That this meeting heartily endorse the appeal from the government to conserve to the utmost the foodstuffs of the country, in the interest of the soldiers at the front, and pledge itself to support the same, but at the same time urges the Government, in the strongest manner, as the most rational course to pursue, to meet the real and ready spirit of self-sacrifice thus displayed by the mass of people, the housewives in particular, by immediately forbidding the use of any such foodstuffs in the manufacture of alcoholic liquors and beverages (except for strictly medicinal purposes, and manufacture of munitions), which, to say the least, are simply luxuries, and the use of which in such critical times as these is rightly regarded by thousands of the most patriotic of the people as a wilful, not to say perfidious, wasteful of the country's most vital resources."
A large number of the town people and vicinity attended the fair in the fair grounds on Thursday afternoon.
Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Teeter entertained Privates Leonard Baker and H. Jensen of Toronto over the week-end.
Pte. Jensen came from Denmark and enlisted at Calgary with the 13th Infantry Royal Highlanders of Canada, January 15, 1915. He lost his left leg in the third battle of Ypres, June 3, 1916. Pte. Baker enlisted in the Canadian army service corps in 1915 at the New Year in St. Johns, N.B. He came from Surrey, England. He also lost his left leg at the battle of the Somme, Sept. 16, 1916. Both of these men are very jolly, and it was very interesting to talk with them.
Mr. George Baushlag is able to be out again after his recent illness.

Belgian Children Slowly Starving!
A bowl of soup and a slice of bread is issued daily to the destitute women and children of Belgium. This will just about keep body and soul together in a grown person. But for a little, growing child—where is the material in this ration for bone and muscle forming?
The answer is found in the thousands, and tens of thousands of Belgian children under 12 years old, in the grip of tuberculosis, rickets and other ills resulting from insufficient nourishment.
Belgian Children's Health Fund.
By means of this fund children given way under the slow starvation are taken from Belgium to Holland, where they are cared for, housed, fed, clothed and given medical attention for six weeks.
Belgian Orphans' Fund.
In this land of broken up families, imagine the thousands of tiny tots ignorant whether their fathers and mothers are alive or not. They must be fed, clothed and educated. The sum of $2.75 per month per child will do this.
Yes, you can help children eat! Suppose your neighbour's child was only getting a bowl of soup and a slice of bread each day! Would you, out of your prosperity help the child? Why in your neighbourhood, if not Belgium, who held back the Hun when the world stood in danger?
Be generous, help to make the next generation of Belgians as strong and valiant as the present generation has proved itself.
Four contributions will get you started through the Belgian Ministry of Education (in the Home Office) to Dutch authorities. The approval of the British and Dutch Governments, and Mr. Hoover's consent, will do the rest.
What will you do for the war of Belgium?

IF BACK HURTS USE SALT FOR KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if Kidneys feel like lead or Bladder bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidneys like the bowels, get sluggish and sluggish and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus averting serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in eye-opening, kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Chocolate Mould.
One pint milk scalded, 2 table-spoonfuls sugar, 4 table-spoonfuls cornstarch, 2-3 table-spoonfuls 3-4 square chocolate, 1-2 table-spoonful vanilla. Mix corn starch with a little cold milk; stir all the time; as soon as thickened pour over the fruit; beat the whites to a stiff froth, adding a table-spoonful of sugar, and spread over the top for frosting; set it in the oven for a few minutes to harden; eat cold or hot (better cold) for dinner or supper; berries or peaches can be used instead of oranges.

TO PROTECT OUR WOMEN

Numerous Suggestions Offered for Protection of Ladies From Affront.

The menace to the women and girls of this city is becoming evident, and problems as to the solution of the difficulty are acute here as in other cities throughout Western Ontario. Throughout the summer, this evil has become more general, and in the East Ward and Terrace Hill districts cases have been particularly common of women and girls being molested on the streets.

The evil is rampant in Hamilton as well as Brantford, and only last week a Brantford soldier lately returned from doing his duty overseas, narrowly escaped death for a second time at the hand of foreigners when he sought to protect two young girls from unwelcome advances on the streets of the Ambitious City. His assault has not yet been captured. Remedies have been suggested, but as yet none have effectively been put into operation. Ald. MacBride suggests that a vigilante committee be formed, while in a letter to the Courier, another citizen has suggested that the girls arm themselves with a club and protect themselves until assistance can be secured and the offender taken in charge. The wife of a prominent clergyman of the city offers a practical suggestion. That when a young woman finds it necessary to go out unprotected on the streets at night, she carry a handful of pepper, and if accosted, throw this in the eyes of the molester to dampen his ardor.

The returned soldiers of the city do not take kindly to this peril to our womenfolk at home, when they have gone overseas to combat just such another force that is impelled

Toronto Woman Tells of Her Wonderful Recovery With Tanlac

It is not what the manufacturer claims for it, but the testimony of the multiplied thousands who have benefited by it that has made Tanlac the most famous medicine in the world today. Mrs. Amy O'Brien, a lifelong resident of Toronto, whose husband is with the Canadian Expeditionary forces, "Somewhere in France," in an interesting interview at her home, 134 Lansdowne Avenue, recently said:

"One day I saw in the paper where a lady who described my symptoms exactly had gotten relief by taking Tanlac, and that's what caused me to take it and find relief from my troubles. So no one knows the good they may do by telling what helped them out of their sufferings. I have been afflicted with rheumatism for five years and my general health had become all broken. And although I spent lots of money for treatment and medicines of various kinds my condition grew worse until I began taking Tanlac. I would have attacks of acute rheumatism when it seemed like the pain would drive me distracted. Just sharp shooting pains all through my arms and legs, my muscles so sore I could hardly bear to touch them. I was swollen around my waist; my joints were swollen and so stiff and painful I could hardly bend them. There were knots puffed up on the backs of my hands as large as an egg and many a morning I have gotten up with my fingers so swollen and hurting me so I couldn't slice up the bread for breakfast. I didn't seem to have much strength, couldn't sleep well and always felt tired and worn-out. I never felt like even getting out of the house and my work was a burden to me.

RALPH CONNOR, Author of "The Sky Pilot."

"Tanlac has certainly been a God-send to me. It is truly wonderful how the two bottles I have taken have helped me. I don't feel the rheumatism now at all, those unsightly knots have disappeared from my hands and the pain and swelling have all left my arms and fingers. My sleep is sound and peaceful and I get up in the mornings feeling fine, and my general health has improved more than I can tell. I honestly believe my rheumatism is a thing of the past and my tired, worn-out feelings gone, too. I really feel better than I have in many years and can not only do my work with ease but feel like getting out and going somewhere every day. Tanlac has been a grand thing for me and I will gladly tell anybody personally how it has helped me."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Milton H. Robertson and Co., Ltd.; in Orillia by M. H. Cooke and Co.; in Elmville by W. J. McGuire; in Port Hope by E. R. Smith; in Sturville by N. B. Music and Drama

THE GRAND

A crowded house greeted "Hen-pecked Henry," the third musical burlesque in the Grand Opera House last Saturday night, and enjoyed more than a few hearty laughs at the escapades of the brow-beaten benedict. Pleasing musical numbers, classic costumes added to the success of the production, while the scenery is also deserving of a word of praise.

"STINGAREE"

Maid Norman, who owns an Australian sheep run, is in financial difficulties, but Tabourin, a young Englishman who is on the ranch as a stocker or apprentice sheep raiser, undertakes to raise the horse which is about to sacrifice her favorite horse. Tabourin conceives the idea of capturing the noted outlaw "Stingaree" and gain a large reward. Chance is in his favor for "Stingaree" and his pal Howie come to the ranch to look at the animal which has been advertised. Tabourin surprises them, but his shots going wild, they turn on him and capture him. From the youth "Stingaree" learns of the motive that prompted his attempt. So he whips up a plan to Howie's advantage on his mission. "Stingaree" pretends carelessness and allows the youth to overcome him and take him off to the bush police station where the reward is found. The meantime Howie created terror at the nearby settlement by holding up the bar. The police rush there to capture him, but while they are making pursuit of a dummy on horseback that he has made to resemble him Howie slips to the station, vanquishes the solitary guard and makes "Stingaree" a free man again.

"THE VIXEN"

The passion for power is the ruling motive in the character of Elsie Drummond, the part which Norma Talmadge takes in her new screen play for William Fox, "The Vixen," as seen at the Rex the last of this week. Elsie's main idea in life is conquest of men who interest her, and who, she sees, can be useful to her in life. Elsie is a young girl whose elder sister Helen (Mary Martin), has acted the mother for years. The debut of the two in Washington society is the signal for the beginning of Elsie's career. She meets Martin Stephens, a wealthy lawyer (A. H. Van Buren), who has been in love with Helen, but Elsie's powers draw him away. Only after he has been ruined through the wiles of the younger sister does he realize his mistake. Elsie has lost all his money, and hence all his attraction for her, quickly gets rid of him.

In a search for fresh material she once more comes across a lover of her sister. This time it is Knowles Murray (Herbert Heyes), member of the diplomatic service. He is about to leave for a foreign consulate, and Elsie's main idea is to leave with him. To effect this, she contrives to make Murray believe that Stevens and Helen are having an affair. To Helen she says that Murray loves her, and asks, "Why should I love people who are unhappy, if only one need be?" Helen, accustomed to sacrifice, gives in. But she does not know the tricks that her sister is practicing on Murray. She does not realize that Elsie is changing letters, arranging meetings and lying to Murray, to win him away from her.

The younger sister is successful. She leaves for Paris, and for a few years she and Murray live together happily. Two children are born to them. Then they return to the United States, to take up work in Washington. They find Stevens once more wealthy and famous; and Helen still sorrowing for Murray's supposed desert.

Elsie's first idea of returning to Washington is to find new worlds to conquer. She meets Kingsley, a young lounge, and proceeds to captivate him. But Murray hears of the acquaintance, and comes near leaving the truth. Only another lie on Elsie's part deludes him; the result is that Murray believes Kingsley's attentions are being paid to Helen instead of Elsie.

Helen leaves of this new device, and calls Elsie to a final accounting. Stevens, who still loves Helen, comes in while the two sisters are talking, and learns the truth of Elsie's lies. He is anxious to enlighten Murray.

"I'm not going to have Murray or anyone else think ill of you. I'm going to expose these fearful lies," he says.

But Helen's pleas force him to give in. He will not ruin the lives of the children.

Elsie, chastened for once, returns to her husband.

Operations Along British Front Still Veiled in Secrecy.

AIRMEN STILL ACTIVE

Germany, However, Are Apprehensive as to What is Transpiring.

ONLY SIX MILES AWAY

Part of Ostend-Lille Railway Within Reach of the British Guns.

London, Oct. 1.—The veil of secrecy which has hung over the operations along the British front in Belgium and northern France since the latter part of the week still remains impenetrable, so far as the news of the British War Office are concerned. Since Friday nothing except the most laconic statements have reached the outside world from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters.

That another big offensive is in preparation by Haig seems forecast, however, in Sunday's Berlin official communication, which characterizes the artillery duel along the Belgian coast and southward to the Ypres-Comines Canal as "severe." Berlin also indicates that the British troops are keeping the enemy on the alert by snipe bangs and there from reconnoitering parties—those little forays that always render the Germans anxious as to coming events and tend to get on their nerves.

Doubtless, using former history as a guide, Haig again is heavily pounding the German positions with a rain of shells leveling them and making more easy the pathway for his troops as they snatch points of strategic value to him.

Be sparing with the gasoline, if you approve good sportsmanship, jockey for position, and save a little Sunday shun the long and useless trip. Our Uncle Sam would hate like sin to shut off all our roadside jockey, but down, to the beginning, the long and useless trip, so rob some farmer's apple trees, so mark the long and useless trip, who hee no warning, however kind, who still go scorching o'er the scene, and leave a cloud of smoke behind. They still pursue the wasteful game, and will while they possess the price, and they're the ones who'll bear the blame when all our cars are placed on ice.

Red Rose Tea

Ordinary Tea

Did it ever occur to you that all teas are not "just tea?" In reality, there is as much difference in teas as there is in silks.

There are many varieties of tea: Indian teas, Ceylon teas, Java teas, China teas, etc.—Indians and Ceylons being the choicest of all.

These teas are all just ordinary garden teas, while Red Rose Tea is a blend of teas selected from as many as sixteen different gardens, using largely Assam-Indian teas skillfully blended with Ceylons. The result is that rich strength and smooth flavor that has made Red Rose Tea so popular.

One level teaspoonful of Red Rose Tea goes as far as a heaping teaspoonful of ordinary tea—that proves the true quality and economy of Red Rose.

(From Saturday's Daily.) "But why?" Sally protested perplexedly.

"Sure, I don't have to tell you why," he said diplomatically. "You know as well as I do she's plumb corroded with jealousy of you for winning out with her dear Abigail just when she thought she had things fixed. I don't suppose you know the inside story of how your predecessor got the sack? The Pride person was responsible. Miss Matring was in her way, and a good deal of her own disposition to boot. It lasted—scorching and squabbling and backbiting and tattling and corrupting servants to carry tales—all that sort of thing. To be honest about it, I don't just know which was the worse of the two; they didn't either of them stick at much of anything noticeable. But, of course, Miss Matring was handicapped from being blood-kin, and the upshot was she had to go—and until you showed up the old maid was actually miserable for want of somebody to hate. I noticed the light of battle in those beady little eyes of hers the minute she laid 'em on you. I'd have warned you, only—"

He stumbled. She encouraged him. "Why didn't you?" She didn't like Trego—that was understood—but sympathy was very sweet to her just then, whatever its source, and she had no real objection to disparagement of her slanderer, either.

"Well, it wasn't my fight. And I didn't know how you'd take interference. You looked pretty well able to take care of yourself—in fact, you are. And then—I don't reckon it's going to do me any good to say this; but I might as well make a clean breast of it—was just selfish enough to have a sneaking sort of hope deep down, that maybe you'd find it so unpleasant you'd quit."

"Mr. Trego?" No more than that; he had taken her breath away with his "I guessed that does sound funny, my admission, evading her indignant eye. "You can't trust me, ever. I always say things the wrong way; that's the best thing I do."

"If it's possible for you to explain—" "It's possible, all right, but it's anything but easy. What I mean was—Well, any fool could see that as long as you were so strong for this society racket I didn't stand much show."

"Show?" "Of making good with you. Oh, look here, what's the use of beating about the bush? I'm a rude, two-fisted animal, and that's all against me. I never could flummox up my meaning successfully with a lot of words like—well, name no names. All the same, it's pretty hard for a fellow who knows the girl he's sweet on isn't crazy about him to come right out in plain talk and say he loves her."

She was dumb. She stared incredulously at his heavy, sincere embarrassed face, as if it were something abnormal, almost supernatural, a hallucination. "Meaning," he faltered, "I mean to say—of course—I love you, Sarah—all—Miss Manwaring—and I think I can make you happy."

He was making heavy weather of his simple declaration—laboring like an old-fashioned square-rigger in a beam sea.

"If you'll marry me, that is," he concluded in a breath, with obvious relief, it with a countenance oddly shadowed in the staring moonlight by the heat of his distress.

She tried, she meant to give him his answer without delay; it were kinder. But she found it impossible; the negative stuck stubbornly in her throat. She knew it would stab him deep. He wasn't the man to take love lightly; his emotions were anything but on the surface; their wounds would be slow to heal.

And in spite of the positive animus she had all along entertained toward him, she didn't want to hurt him now; perhaps not strange, remembering that this proposal of marriage was a direct, downright protestation of implicit faith in her, uttered squarely on top of a most damnable indictment—remembering, too, that it was barely two hours since Sally herself had been ready, almost eager, to believe him capable of committing the very crime, of implication in which he exonerated her without an instant's hesitation.

True, she had been quick to exonerate him in her thoughts as soon as the suspicion was engendered in them, but she had done so almost instantaneously, ungenerously, not because the burden of the evidence, together with the counsel of instinct, had been too strong in his favor to permit more than a moment's doubt. And she had repented; but that, it appeared, was not enough; she must be punished in this unique way, have her own unworthiness demonstrated by this artless manifestation of his worth. And however much she might long to make amends to him, she couldn't.

The pain and the pity of it! He was a far better man than she a woman, and he honored her with his love—and she couldn't requite him; she couldn't love him; he was still too far from the mirage of her ideal. "Oh!" she sighed. "Why?" He reconstructed: "I've told you heaps of times—because you're a woman, not a manikin. Marriage would mean something more to you than clothes, Europe, idleness, and flirting with other women's husbands. To me, than hiring a woman to live with me and entertain my friends."

"How do you know?" How can you tell? What do you know about me?" she protested almost passionately, and answered herself. "You don't know; you can't tell; you know nothing about me. You assert things as if only what they were true."

"Oh, they're true enough." "I'm interrupted cheerfully. "I'm not use trying to run yourself down to me. I couldn't feel the way I do about you if you were not at heart as good as an apple, no matter what nonsense you may have been guilty of at one time or another, as every human being's got to be."

"This nobody told you anything about me?" Mrs. Gosnold. "Mr. Gosnold tends her own knitting. And nobody has told me anything—except yourself. More than that, I don't go by other folk's opinions when I make up my mind."

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

THE HABIT OF TALK

There are some people with whom talk is a means to an end. A medium of communication between themselves and their kind.

There are other people with whom talk is a habit. Not exactly a bad habit, certainly not a good one. Something like the habit of chewing gum, or scratching oneself with the perpetual motion of a rocking chair, instead of sitting in a firmly fixed chair and keeping still. The habit of talking like the habit of looking this brother.

Indeed there is something fundamentally similar about gum, chewing or rocking, and the sort of talk I mean.

Perhaps it is that all three suggest an amiable cow-like inactivity of mind.

The man or woman who has this habit of talk will talk to anyone about anything.

He talks to his Seatmate in the Train. He sits down in a train and presently he is talking to the person beside him. He begins with the weather, that blessed standby of all who have the habit of talk—and soon he glides smoothly into allied subjects.

If his seat companion is someone who does not care for talk he is either brutal or bored, according to his temperament. But if the seat mate also has the habit of talk (and there are sufficient of them) the talk rambles on through the course of their journey. Seldom, if ever, do they say anything that is one of the hall marks of the true lover of talk. They do not reveal themselves to each other. They do not seek to learn anything about each other's viewpoints. Often neither listens to the other. They simply talk for the joy of talking, of keeping their jaws moving and their ears filled with the sound of their own voices.

Almost Everyone Talks to Salespeople. Another trick of the victim of the talk habit is his volubility to people who serve him in one capacity or another and who cannot get away from him. The familiar talker talks to her maid or her washerwoman. The maculosa talks to the news-boy, the waiter at the restaurant, the conductor, etc.

Perhaps the most interesting thing about the talker is his habit of listening to those he hears. He hears the salesfolks. Just yesterday I overheard a woman who had been buying something saying to the salesman, "Yes, I've always loved the color ever since I was a kiddie. Now what on earth did he care about that?"

A good dish of intelligent talk is one of the most delightful things in the world.

But a continual dribble of thoughtless talk is the opposite. As someone has well put it: "Wise men talk because they have something to say; fools because they would like to say something."

Good Night Stories

ALL IN A WATERMELON CASTLE

I wish watermelons didn't have any seeds!" exclaimed Bessie as she poked the seeds from a slice of watermelon with her fork. "Why, dear, if there were no seeds, there'd be no melons!" replied Mamma. "You see, the seeds are the babies of the watermelon."

King of Watermelon Town. "Oh!" exclaimed Bessie and she lifted her plate and set him free. "This melon was my castle until some one pulled it and carried it away," said the king.

"And you can't understand that I am precisely what you've described—a parasite!" "You couldn't be if you wanted to. Make you think you could, but you're wrong; you haven't got it in you."

OLD-TIME REMEDY MAKES PURE BLOOD

Blood's purification has been and still is the people's mainstay. It is the result of the blood and its wonderful action in purifying, enriching and revitalizing the blood and relieving the common diseases and ailments—scrofula, eczema, rheumatism, eye disease, deafness, skin diseases, etc.

Get Blood's, and get it now from any drug store.

started to run away. "Don't run, Bessie won't hurt you!" called the king.

He led Bessie into the nearest castle. The walls were draped with lovely red curtains and tucked in their folds, nestled shy seed babies fast asleep. Some were dressed in black, these the king told Bessie were ready to leave the castle. Some still wore their little white gowns.

"They are the youngest seed babies, and they're not ripe yet. That's why we hate to see our castles destroyed before the babies are awakened, for when they leave the watermelon castle they're supposed to build castles of their own and you can see these little seed babies aren't old enough to do that," said the king.

"Well I never knew what good those black seeds were, but I guess they're to plant, so they can grow into big watermelons," whispered Bessie.

Just then a heavy rumble shook the watermelon castle, almost jarring the seed babies from their beds.

"Oh, dear, that was a narrow escape!" exclaimed Bessie in a loud voice. "What?" asked Mamma. Bessie laughed, and told her the story that had come into her mind—but she never could quite finish it. See if you can't—it'll be lots of fun!

Pay Will Be The Same

Men selected under the Military Service Act will receive the same pay as those now on active service receive. Pay will start from the time a man reports for duty. Money from the Patriotic Fund and Separation Allowance will also be available for selected men.

Canadian soldiers are well paid. The fact that wages in Canada are generally higher than those paid in Europe is recognized in the system of remuneration for men on active service. Clothing and all equipment in addition to food is also supplied to the Canadian soldier, leaving him with no expense except personal incidentals.

The rate of pay for men in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, other than commissioned officers, is as follows:

Table with columns: Rank, Pay, Field Allowance. Rows include Warrant Officers, Regimental Serjt-Major, Warrant Officer, Quartermaster-Sergeants, Orderly Room Clerks, Orderly Room Sergeants, Pay Sergeants, Squad, Batt., or Co. Serjt-Major, Colour-Sergeant or Staff-Sergeant, Squad, Batt., or Co.-Q.M.S., Sergeants, Lance-Sergeants, Corporals, Lance-Corporals, Bombardiers, Signallers, Drummers, Trumpeters, Buglers, and Drummers, Privates, Gunners, Drivers, Sappers, Balloons, etc.

As in the case of those already gone overseas, Separation Allowances will be available for those dependent for livelihood upon selected men. The Separation Allowance is $20.00 per month for the rank and file, $25.00 for sergeants and staff-sergeants and $30.00 for warrant officers. The experience is that many men can afford to assign half their pay to dependents, in addition.

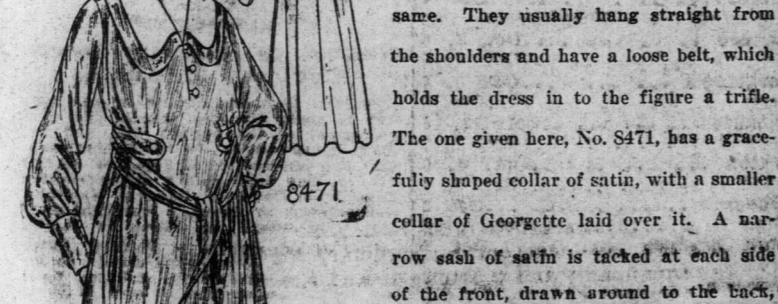

A considerable number of men who have enlisted in the Canadian forces have found themselves better off under the army rate of pay, which is granted in addition to board, lodging, clothing, equipment, transportation, etc., than they were while in civilian positions. Their wants are provided for, and they receive a steady addition to the bank account each month.

Issued by The Military Service Council.

LADY'S DRESS

It really is surprising how the many little individual touches can change the style of these simple one piece dresses, for the construction of them is practically the same. They usually hang straight from the shoulders and have a loose belt, which holds the dress in to the figure a trifle.

The dress pattern No. 8471 is cut in sizes 36 to 42 inches bust measure. With at lower edge of skirt is 2 1/2 yards. As on the figure, the 36 inch size requires 4 1/2 yards 36 inch material, with 1 1/2 yards 36 inch silk for collar and sack.
