

HARRY THAW'S FIGHT FOR LIBERTY.

Asks Court to Release Him From Asylum.

Evelyn Thaw Willing to Help Him.

Jerome Must Prove Him to be Crazy.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., May 4.—Harry K. Thaw's fight for liberty, which has been in progress almost every moment since he shot down Stanford White on the crowded Madison Square roof garden theatre nearly two years ago, was continued in the supreme court here to-day. Twice tried for murder, the second time acquitted only to be sent to the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane, Thaw now will endeavor to prove his sanity and his right to freedom.

The proceedings, which began to-day, were based upon a writ of habeas corpus taken out at the instance of the prisoner to procure his release from the asylum. The writ was issued by Justice Morschauer at White Plains on April 22, on application of James G. Graham, a Newburgh attorney.

It was made returnable before Justice Morschauer in this city to-day. An interesting sidelight on Thaw's matrimonial affairs, which have attracted much attention since his removal to the asylum, was contained in a statement given out by Russell Peabody, one of Thaw's counsel, before the opening of court to-day.

Young Mrs. Thaw, who has begun suit for the annulment of their marriage, has not seen her husband in more than two months. Mr. Peabody said, however, that Mrs. Thaw has offered herself as a witness in her husband's behalf should her testimony be necessary to obtain his freedom. He did not know whether it would be necessary to call her to Poughkeepsie, he said, but if he believed it necessary as the case develops she will be summoned.

Thaw himself undoubtedly will go on the stand in his own behalf. Mr. Peabody said he desires to have the prisoner willing to submit to any examination the court or the district attorney may desire as proof of his sanity.

Mr. Peabody said he and Mr. Graham will oppose any attempt to have the case transferred to New York county, while it was reported Assistant District Attorney Garvan would make the opening of the hearing.

"We want the case tried in Dutchess County," said Mr. Peabody. "Thaw's place of confinement is here. The writ was made returnable here and we believed that the crowds of curiosity seekers would be avoided in Poughkeepsie."

"We hold that the burden of proof rests upon Mr. Jerome to show that Thaw is insane. Mr. Jerome's comment in the first trial adjudged him sane. The jury in the second trial deemed him sane. The opening of the hearing was delayed by a conference between District Attorney Mack, of Dutchess county, and Assistant District Attorney Garvan, of New York, who was endeavoring to transfer the case to New York county. Dr. Baker, the acting superintendent of the Matteawan Asylum, was called into the conference."

Mr. Garvan and District Attorney Mack appeared in court before noon, accompanied by Assistant District Attorney Johnston. Mr. Graham formally filed his writ and received from the District Attorney his return to it. District Attorney Mack then addressed the court and moved that the proceedings be sent to New York county.

Thaw looked rugged and well and his color indicated that he has had plenty of outdoor life at Matteawan.

FOR HARMONY.

Labor Lawyer Addressed Street Railway Union.

At the meeting of the Street Railway-men's Union on Saturday evening, Mr. J. G. O'Donoghue, Toronto labor lawyer, and Mr. Chas. G. Bird, President of the Trades and Labor Council, poured oil on the troubled waters, with a view to restoring harmony in the organization. The younger men were out in force. On the suggestion of Mr. Bird, a committee composed of five of the members who come under the head of senior men, and five men nominated by one of those who tried to form a new union, was appointed. This committee is to consider the question of hours and report to the union at its next regular meeting. It is stated that to secure harmony the older men will work two nights a week, to give the younger men off nights.

AFTER KITCHENER. TO SAVE THIS YOUNG MAN.

Plot Discovered in Calcutta to Kill the General.

Calcutta, May 4.—The police are investigating the native plot revealed here yesterday to murder Europeans by means of bombs, and the more they go into the matter the more serious and widespread does the conspiracy appear. Documents seized at the house where bombs and explosives were being manufactured reveal that it was part of the plot to kill Lord Kitchener, commander-in-chief of the British forces in India, and other high officials.

The authorities believe they are facing an attempt at revolution. A number of prominent Bengalees are implicated, and sensational arrests are expected to follow.

HAD TO PAY.

Vaudeville Artist and Auto Held Up at Bridge.

Hal Davis, the popular actor, who played in the sketch, "A Race for a Wife," at Bennett's last week, was held up at the bridge and made buy an Ontario automobile license. Two real autos were used in the sketch, and instead of shipping them back, Hal thought he would drive to Buffalo, where he has an engagement, and view the scenery en route. The attentions he received at the bridge made him speak slightly of the Canadian authorities there.

SEIZED NET.

Inspector Kerr Will Prosecute Four Young Men.

Fishery Inspector Kerr seized a pike gill net set out from Bay View wharf last evening. Four men were seen working and overhauling the net all the afternoon, but Mr. Kerr got after them. They had a camp fire and, it is said, quite a supply of booze. The inspector interrupted their picnic by suddenly appearing right in the camp. Three of the law breakers fled up the steps in the direction of the hotel, but one remained. This one, who gave the inspector the name of Bert Langhorn, denied all knowledge of wrong doing. Mr. Kerr also took the number and the name of the owner of the boat, and it will also be seized and proceedings will be taken against all four men.

CENTRAL CHURCH.

Preparations For Opening About Middle of Next Month.

Central Church building is nearing completion, and it is expected that the formal opening will be held in June. Special dedicatory services will be held and arrangements are being made to mark this important epoch in the religious life of the congregation in a manner befitting the occasion. Dr. Black, of New York, has been invited to preach at the opening services, and Dr. Gordon, of Queen's University, and other eminent divines will assist in these impressive services. There will also be a service especially for the children.

Mr. C. Percival Garratt, the musical director, will give an organ recital, and there will be a special mid-week service. The congregation will also have a social evening. These services will be looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

RALPH CONNOR.

Author and Preacher Talks About Evangelistic Work.

A meeting of the Hamilton Ministerial Association was held this morning in the school room of Centenary Church, and was attended by a representative gathering of the ministers of the city. The principal business was the address given by Rev. Dr. Gordon (Ralph Connor). Dr. Gordon gave an outline of the work accomplished at the recent evangelistic campaign at Philadelphia under the direction of Dr. Chapman. He spoke of organization, and the impressions he had received while working in the campaign. He thought it would be a splendid idea to have similar work done here under Dr. Chapman.

A later meeting of the association will be held to consider the matter.

GONE TEN DAYS.

This Man Is Said to Have Threatened Suicide.

A belated report reached the police this morning, when T. Goss, 274 Barton street east, reported that Richard Hubbard, who formerly boarded with him, has been missing since Friday, April 24. The missing man left on that date to hunt for work, and has not been seen since. He is about 38 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall, medium build, dark hair, brown moustache and wore a dark grey suit and a black fedora hat when last seen. As he had threatened suicide several times during the winter and this spring, fears are entertained for him. The police are investigating, but do not hope to learn much at this late date.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

Employer Desires to Stop Stealing and Set Him Right.

Great Scott! Let us have a decent campaign! There is nothing small about the small-pox accounts. Perhaps Whitney will promise to bring the Central Prison here.

The fact is Ham is no lady, or he wouldn't have treated the satiffleet people the way he did. They say that Gamey is rated at Toronto as worth $100,000. Where did the money come from? Whitney is spending over $8,000,000 a year. Ross got along with some $4,000,000. Just blows it in. Col. Hendrie is going to get mighty few labor votes this time.

Adam Zimmerman is always doing something for Hamilton. See how he has been helping along the movement with extension, and how he is looking after our drill hall. Adam's all right.

Look out for squalls to-morrow evening. Peebles weather. I suppose the Mayor thinks the Dominion Government should pay for the keep of the smallpox patients. I never saw such a man.

That La Rose mine deal was done under the rose, sub rosa, as it were. Now let Col. Hendrie and Mr. Wardrope meet in joint debate and Mr. McClelland and Mr. Scott do the same, and let us all enjoy the fun.

Allow me to draw the attention of the Liberal voters of the city to the way the Hamilton Herald is showing its "independence" in this campaign. What do they think of it?

The trouble with Ham. Regan is that he wouldn't know the three-fifths clause though he saw it on the market. How will Whitney explain away the three cent an hour prison labor contract?

A change of a few votes here and there and Mr. Whitney will have to regret to report the day after the battle. Get the Times and get all the news, and save your family from being annoyed and worried with a lot of fake schemes that never should be allowed to get into your house.

Dan Reed is going to be re-elected. He told me that himself. But it all depends on his Reform friends turning out and placing him where he ought to be, and I believe they will do it.

Then again, why did Whitney take away our Normal College? Does the Trades and Labor Council think we can get electric power competition by making a thirty-year contract with the Hydro people?

Mr. Sweeney, what about the Jolley Cut? You have jolled us along too long already. After four years' search Whitney has to confess that he cannot place his finger upon a crooked act of the Ross Government.

Of course, Mr. Hendrie looks wise. But he is not as wise as he looks by any means. Don't forget your ward meeting to-night.

But it's a little late in the day to be exploiting, as a news sensation, the putting of electric lights into people's stomachs. That's old. "Workingman." Allan Studholme was elected as a Labor man, but when he is not working at that business, he is a Tory.

TO HEAR CARUSO.

Fifty Hamiltonians Going to Toronto This Evening.

Hamilton is sending its quota of music-loving people circles to hear Signor Caruso, the world-famed tenor, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, of New York, at Massey Hall, Toronto, this evening. Caruso is giving two concerts, and has with him a splendid company of eminent artists. About 50 will go from here, including Dr. and Miss Wickins, H. A. Neylands, Victor Hutchinson, Miss Langrill, Miss Jeannette Vermorel, and Mrs. E. G. Payne, Mrs. Eldon Bell, Dr. Williamson, W. Grayson Brown, Vernon Garvey, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Allan, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wilson, Miss Milla Beck (Penetang), L. E. Eager, J. H. Watson, George Robertson, Dr. McLoughlin, Dr. and Mrs. Sweet, Miss Emma Barnard, Miss Olive Balfour, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. George Kerr, Mr. Ed. Pearce, Mrs. (Dr.) Hopkins and others.

SUMMONES ISSUED.

The other was taken out by Percy Bird, a boy living near the Joeky Club, against Charles Herrmann, a young man on a charge of assault. Both cases come up in Police Court to-morrow.

LIBERALS PLEASED WITH THE OUTLOOK.

Can Win From Scott or Anyone

Is Opinion of the Local Leaders.

Meetings To-night---Mr. Thompson at Work.

"No matter who the Conservative candidate may be, we should win East Hamilton," said one of the leading Liberals of the riding this morning. "The party is in good working order, and has a splendid candidate. Mr. Scott is just as acceptable as an opponent as Mr. Hoodless or Mr. Biggar would have been—we should win against any of them."

M. AND M. TROUBLE.

License Commissioners Asked to Take Action.

A complaint has been made to the License Commissioners in regard to Mr. Richard Baird, the new proprietor of the M. & M. Hotel. The trouble arises from the fact that Mrs. James is still at the hotel, though James is not. Two Police Court cases have arisen in connection with the matter in two days and it is feared that if the landlord continues to allow the woman to remain in his hotel there will be blood shed. Mr. Baird is a single man and was the victim in a pepper-throwing case a year or two ago, and came near losing his sight. Inspector Birrell last week advised the woman to leave the hotel and the host against allowing her to remain, but both disregarded his friendly offices.

Mr. J. Orr Callaghan, Chairman of the Board, stated this afternoon that he would call the members together to see what could be done in the matter. Friends of the woman have made efforts to see her since Saturday's occurrence, but she declined to see either. They were referred to her solicitor, Mr. W. L. Ross, who is also Mr. Baird's lawyer.

Chief Smith announced to-day as soon as he heard the cause of the trouble that he wouldn't give the M. & M. special police protection, as he had done for some days.

THE RICH LIAR.

John Rockefeller, Jun., on Use and Abuse of Money.

New York, May 4.—John D. Rockefeller, jun., addressing the Bible class of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church yesterday, arraigned the rich who told lies, destroyed men's reputations, and took advantage of those weaker than himself, in order to achieve wealth and power.

He warned the young men of the class to refrain from envying such a man and his wealth. He took his text from the fifty-second Psalm, wherein just such a rich man is described and his eloquent, straight-from-the-shoulder talk on tainted money seemed to astonish his audience.

Rev. Dr. Aked, pastor of the church, also seemed astonished when Mr. Rockefeller began his subject in such vigorous fashion, but he nodded his head approvingly at all that was said, and afterward assured Mr. Rockefeller that it was one of the best talks on the subject he had ever heard.

"There is no sin," said Rockefeller, "in accumulating wealth in an honest and legitimate manner and using that wealth rightfully. But this man the psalmist speaks of, had taken advantage of others. Not only was he given to fraudulent practices, but he loved evil." Mr. Rockefeller then drew a picture of the need for men who make little money but lead righteous lives; men who can always be trusted to do the right thing no matter what happens.

VIOLENT DENUNCIATION OF ALL MIXED MARRIAGES.

Redemptionist Father at St. Mary's Cathedral Speaks In Very Strong Words.

"I call these unions damnable, detestable and abominable because of the souls that are lost from the church and God through them. They are passports to hell." Thundering out this denunciation Rev. Father Linder, a Redemptionist from Baltimore, who has been conducting a triduum here, held a congregation that filled St. Mary's Cathedral to the doors spilled last night while he expressed his view on the mixed marriage problem. It was a bitter attack and the speaker did not mince his words.

Father Linder was nearing the close of his sermon when he touched on the marriage subject. He was warning Catholics of evils to avoid that they might remain steadfast in the faith. "Keep away from mixed marriages," he advised. After referring to the number of unhappy unions of this kind in Canada and the United States he declared that he could not comprehend how a Catholic would keep company with a non-Catholic with a view to "an abominable, damnable and detestable union." Such unions were hated by the church and Catholics who in the face of this persisted in them, exposing their faith and souls to danger, he thought, had 120 Persons Drowned.

St. Petersburg, May 4.—A passenger boat on the River Dnieper capsized yesterday near by Kipoff, in the Government of Mohileff, and 120 persons were drowned.

The boat was filled with peasants and their wives and children, returning from church. It was overcrowded and became unmanageable in the middle of the stream. The passengers lost their heads and turned the boat over by crowding to one side.

A Great Man's Simple Speech. I was lately told a delightful story of a great statesman staying with a humble and anxious host, who had invited a party of simple and unimportant people to meet the great guest. The statesman came in late for dinner, and he was introduced to the party; he made a series of old-fashioned bows in all directions, but no one felt in a position to offer any observations. The great man, at the conclusion of the ceremony, turned to his host, and said, in tones that had thrilled a listening senate: "What very convenient jugs you have in your bedrooms! They pour well!" The social frolic broke up; the company were delighted to find that the great man was interested in mundane matters of a kind on which every one might be permitted to have an opinion, and the conversation, starting from the humblest conveniences of daily life, melted insensibly into more liberal subjects.—Arthur C. Benson, in Putnam's.

SWEDEN'S PRINCE.

LEADS GRAND DUCHESS MARIE TO RUSSIAN ALTAR. Royal Alliance is Consummated Amid Great Pomp and Ceremony Characteristic of Statelike Court in Europe—Cannons Thunder Out Paean While Solemn Te Deum is Chanted.

St. Petersburg, May 3.—Prince Wilhelm of Sweden, second son of King Gustave, the popular sailor prince who visited America in 1907, was married this afternoon to Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna, the cousin of the Emperor of Russia and daughter of Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovitch. The ceremony took place at the Tsarskoie Selo, and was accompanied by all the pomp and brilliant display of color characteristic of the most stately court in Europe.

To-night a great state banquet was served, at which toasts were drunk to the good understanding between Sweden and Russia recently reached in the Baltic agreement to which to-day's wedding, the first in modern times at once, the union of the two countries, puts the seal.

The robing of the bride was performed according to court custom, in the private apartments of the Empress. She was dressed by the Empress and the Dowager Empress, assisted by their maids of honor and ladies-in-waiting.

A salute of twenty-one guns and a blare of trumpets announced the start of the procession. At the head came the Dowager Empress, on the arm of King Gustave; the Emperor of Russia, escorted by the Grand Duke of Hesse, Crown Prince Ferdinand and Crown Princess Marie of Roumania, attended by the court ushers and marshals and other functionaries.

Then arm in arm came the bridal pair and behind them marched Prince Nicholas and Prince Andrew of Greece and their wives, Prince Christopher of Greece and Prince Carl of Sweden and his wife and the guests from foreign courts and the Russian grand dukes and grand duchesses.

The imperial guests were received at the chapel doors by the Metropolitan of the court, and a number of priests. After the Emperor had been blessed and sprinkled with holy water he conducted the bridal pair to the altar, before the great golden gates of the high altar. The wedding rings were brought from the altar on golden salvers and placed upon the fingers of the bride and the bridegroom by the Emperor's confessor. The Metropolitan then completed the rites of the Russian marriage services, two of the bride's nearest relatives holding gowns from the heads of the bridal pair during the ceremony. While the Te Deum was being chanted an Imperial salute of 101 guns was fired. The procession

FOUGHT SNAKES.

Terrible Struggle Under Water of a Professional Diver. Chicago, May 4.—A despatch to the Tribune from Cincinnati, Ohio, says: William McNeill, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a professional diver, had a narrow escape from death yesterday in a battle under water with a dozen big bull snakes, and may die from the bursting of a blood vessel.

McNeill is showing at Chester Park, his exhibition consisting of a diving feat, accomplished with the aid of a weighted belt around his body, and a mimic battle with snakes that are let into the water after he has released the belt.

A new attendant blundered and freed the snakes too soon. The weight of the reptiles and the belt kept McNeill under water, though he struggled violently to rise. The spectators looked on, innocently believing they were watching the ordinary performance until a physician saw blood floating from the man's mouth.

Congregational Mission Also Celebrates Its Anniversary.

Strong Temperance Sermons in Two City Churches.

Anniversary of the MacNab Street Presbyterian Church was celebrated yesterday, special services being held morning and evening.

The annual sermons were preached by Rev. Professor Kilpatrick, D. D., of Knox College, and he delivered two thoughtful and eloquent discourses, which were listened to with rapt attention.

In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith in Him. Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

The preacher said that many Christians pray in too formal a way, particularly in offering supplication in public service.

Notwithstanding the heavy demand on its charity account, during the winter months, the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society at its annual meeting, held in the Board of Trade rooms on Saturday night, was able to present a report showing a substantial balance.

THAT LA ROSE GRANT.

Mr. O'Brien Makes a Signed Statement Exposing Whitney's Dishonesty.

A great deal of space is now being used by Tory papers in trying to explain away the La Rose mine incident. It is felt that there is much need for explanation. It is attempted to make it appear that it was a case of Ross regarding Liberal politicians, and that the astonishing legislation passed by the Whitney Government was merely a case of securing justice to all parties and to the Province.

The charge has been made that the title to the O'Brien mine was secured by influence in the closing hours of the Ross Government, and that Mr. M. J. O'Brien, then a Commissioner of the T. & N. O. Railway, secured this valuable property because of his position, and to the detriment to certain people who have now been given a grant of $130,000 by the Whitney Government.

The struggle included the McMartins, the Timmins and Mr. David Dunlop, all prominent Liberals with possibly one exception. It was not a contest in which political influence could have played the slightest part, and this makes the present charge against Mr. M. J. O'Brien ridiculous as well as a gross libel.

Tested the Allegations. A few months after the leases were issued (Mr. Cochrane in the meantime having become Minister of Mines), the McMorton-Dunlop-Timmis syndicate applied to the Attorney-General for leave to use his name in an action to have the O'Brien leases cancelled.

Government Had to Decide. In the meantime, based on a discovery made in September, La Rose had filed claim to 40 of the 357 acres which we considered to be the ground as the land. Mr. O'Brien had filed a claim to 80 acres thereof. The Government had to decide among the claimants.

I say that we were much disappointed over the decision as to the La Rose mine, and sought to appeal to the Executive Council. Mr. Ross refused to make an appeal. If we had possessed political power, surely Mr. Ross would have consented at least to hear us.

Ottawa, Ont., May 4.—About 170 officers and men will constitute a composite regiment for the Quebec tercentenary celebration, to come from the three western military districts with headquarters at Winnipeg, Calgary and Victoria, respectively.

Florists and fancy horticulturists in St. Petersburg are much interested in specimens of black roses which have been produced by Seraphimoff, a master gardener of Voronezh. He claims to possess the secret of growing these freak roses, which scientific gardeners in St. Petersburg have been trying for generations to produce.

Finally the Worm Turned. A muscular Irishman strolled into the Civil Service examination room, where candidates for the police force are put to a physical test.

He sprawled, face downward, on the floor. He was indignant, but silent. "Jump under this cold shower," ordered the doctor.

"Sure, that's funny," muttered the applicant. "Now, run around the room ten times to test your heart and wind," directed the doctor.

The candidate rebelled. "I'll not; I'll stay single." "Single?" asked the doctor, surprised. "Sure," said the Irishman; "what's all this fussing got to do with a marriage license?"

He had strayed into the wrong office. Illustrated BIZ. When a woman is dressed to kill it doesn't necessarily mean that she has been to a slaughter sale.

Finally the Worm Turned. A muscular Irishman strolled into the Civil Service examination room, where candidates for the police force are put to a physical test.

He sprawled, face downward, on the floor. He was indignant, but silent. "Jump under this cold shower," ordered the doctor.

"Sure, that's funny," muttered the applicant. "Now, run around the room ten times to test your heart and wind," directed the doctor.

The candidate rebelled. "I'll not; I'll stay single." "Single?" asked the doctor, surprised. "Sure," said the Irishman; "what's all this fussing got to do with a marriage license?"

He had strayed into the wrong office. Illustrated BIZ. When a woman is dressed to kill it doesn't necessarily mean that she has been to a slaughter sale.

WE ARE NOT DETECTIVES.

Opening of Investigation Into the Marine Department.

Commissioners Refuse to Accuse Any Official.

Justice Cassels Maps Out Line of Inquiry.

Ottawa, May 2.—"I accuse nobody of anything. I neither accuse nor exculpate."

This was the stone wall that Mr. Justice Cassels ran against on Saturday at the opening session of the inquiry into alleged wrongdoing in the Marine Department. The witness was Mr. Fyche, of the Royal Commission that investigated conditions in the civil service. Mr. Fyche has not changed his opinion that there are officials in the department who are serving two masters, who lack conscience, and who are dishonest, but he declines to name them on the ground that he is not a detective, and that the evidence of misconduct is open to the judge and counsel in the department itself.

The investigation was begun at noon to-day in the court room of the Supreme Court. There was a large attendance of members of the departmental staff, members of Parliament, and three Civil Service Commissioners, counsel and others interested in what promises to be one of the most remarkable investigations affecting the public service during recent years. That the investigation will be a public one and will be thorough in respect to the whole working of the department during the period covered by the references made in the report, is a beginning made to the present, was made evident by Judge Cassels' opening statement as to his views regarding the scope and nature of the inquiry.

Those who made the charges were naturally the first called upon to give evidence from which a beginning might be made to clear up the cloud of suspicion now resting upon every official of the department. Commissioners Fyche and Bazin, who particularly dealt with that portion of the report bearing upon the Marine and Fisheries Department, and who are primarily responsible for the serious charges made, were examined. Unfortunately, however, little assistance was gained from them which might help either to specify the parties who are guilty or to exculpate those who are not.

Would Mention No Names.

Mr. Fyche stoutly declined to give the names of the officials whom he had in mind when he admitted he could name no one of officials whom he had in mind when he wrote the report, he repeatedly refused to point to any one individual.

The only assistance that the present commission could get from him, he asserted, was what was already contained within the civil service report itself. He took the ground that, having found the system in vogue in the Marine Department wrong, the officials must, therefore, be guilty. Beyond that, he would not particularize, nor would he express any regret for having condemned in one sweeping charge the staff of the whole department, innocent and guilty alike.

Minister Not Involved.

Commissioner Bazin also refused to give any particulars as to whom he considered were the particular individuals guilty, and declared that he had no one in particular in mind, and could name no one. He voluntarily stated, however, that the condemnation of the department on the score of dishonesty did not apply in any way to the Minister in charge.

Owing to Mr. Justice Cassels' engagements to preside at the Exchequer Court sittings next week, the investigation will not be continued until Monday and Tuesday, May 11 and 12, after which there will have to be another interval of probably two weeks unless other engagements are made for filling the exchequer appointments in the Maritime Provinces.

Every Official Under a Cloud.

Mr. Justice Cassels, in opening the inquiry, read of his account of the proceedings as to the scope of his commission. "My duties," he said, "are defined by the commission. I cannot enlarge its scope, and, on the other hand, I feel it my duty to have a thorough investigation." He referred to the specific extracts from the commission's report in reference to "a lack of conscience" on the part of the officials of the Marine Department, and the charge that some of the Government officers were "serving two masters, and apparently succeeding with both, and with such success that the public was not the wiser." He stated that the charge was of a grave and serious nature. "Every official of the Marine and Fisheries Department is under a cloud of suspicion. As I understand the object of the commission, it is to enable each official of the department to have the opportunity to free himself from the charge if the facts justify it. Or if the facts sustain the truth of the charges as to any official, then it should be found and the guilty official reported."

Go Back Three Years.

With regard to the period to be covered by the investigation, his Lordship noted that the Civil Service Commission was not explicit in regard to the years embraced in their sweeping charge. But, after reading their report and the evidence, the charges seemed to be mainly confined to the fiscal years 1904-5-6-7. The investigation, therefore, in the alleged wrongdoing of these years would suffice for the present. If considered necessary it could be further extended. As to what should be inquired into he enumerated the following:

(1) All contracts with the department for work performed on the property of the Dominion or for supplies purchased.

(2) The prices paid therefor.

(3) A comparison of current market prices for wages or goods at the time of such contracts or purchases, with the prices governing the contracts, and the discounts usually allowed. In the case of any overpayments the commission would inquire into the reasons therefor, and the official responsible would have the opportunity of exculpating himself, if possible. The investigation was a judicial one, he said, "I wish it to be thoroughly understood that the work of the Exchequer Court has the first claim upon my time, and if the investigation is delayed on this account it cannot be avoided so far as I am concerned. The task imposed on us is an onerous one, and must necessarily occupy a great deal of time."

Asks for Public Aid.

Mr. Watson, K. C., said that both he and Mr. Perron, quite recognized the importance of the duties which had been laid upon them. "We shall present," continued Mr. Watson, "all the evidence which is available bearing on the subject of this inquiry, and I am especially pleased that the proceedings are to be conducted in open court, and with the dignity which belongs to a judicial forum. We desire especially the co-operation of everyone who is possessed of information which may be considered material to the subject of this inquiry."

Captain Gregory Represented.

Senator Choquette at this point rose to say that he appeared for Captain Gregory, marine agent at Quebec, who had been placed under suspension when this commission's inquiry was granted, and who was especially desirous of an early opportunity of clearing himself of the charges against him. Mr. Gregory was a very old man, over 70 years of age, and was most anxious that, as he had been accused by his suspension, the enquete, in so far as he was concerned, would begin at once.

Judge Cassels replied that he was quite willing that every official whose conduct was under examination and who desired the advantage of counsel should be free to avail himself of this assistance. At the present time, however, there was no charge against Mr. Gregory, so far as this commission was concerned. If any charge was laid against him he would certainly be given the opportunity of availing himself of whatever assistance he desired to clear himself of the same.

Mr. Watson gave an outline of the organization of the Marine and Fisheries Department and of the various public services which it administers, a list of the officials who negotiate or recommend expenditures, and produced also a series of bulky files of papers containing particulars of all the departmental expenditures and contracts.

Origin of the Charges.

As the present investigation had in a measure grown out of the statement made in the report of the Civil Service Commission, they had asked the civil service commissioners to attend on the present occasion, so that Judge Cassels might have the advantage of any information which these gentlemen could supply pertinent to the subject of the present inquiry, and the charges of dishonesty against officials of the Marine and Fisheries Department.

STRANGE DUALITY.

A MERCHANT BY DAY AND A BURGLAR BY NIGHT.

Curious Double Character of Thief Captured at Leicester—John Spencer, Sunday School Teacher and Robber—Protested Against Inefficiency of Police Protection.

London, May 3.—The solution of the mystery of the theft in December last of $25,000 worth of diamonds from the bedroom of the wife of Capt. David Beatty, of Brookly Hall is promised with the arrest of John Frederick Spencer, a remarkable Jekyll and Hyde—Sunday school teacher and burglar. The arrest of Spencer was the culmination of a series of the most skillfully executed burglaries in the fashionable Milton Mowbray and Leicester districts ever perpetrated in England. Scotland Yard itself all but admitted defeat in unravelling the mystery. Time after time detectives made an arrest, only to be compelled to release the prisoner for lack of evidence.

Suspicion never once fell on Spencer, who was regarded as a model business man of Leicester, running a good dry goods store there on week days and teaching a large Sunday school class of boys and girls on Sunday. He attended meetings of charity organizations, gave liberally to the poor, and was personally acquainted with many of the best people of Leicester. In fact, so exemplary was his life that he won the local prize known as "The Town Hundred."

This consists of 100 pounds sterling, or $500, which is advanced for twelve years without interest for especially worthy young men to enable them to start in business. When several burglaries in the neighborhood of his own home took place Spencer called a public meeting, which he addressed himself, and protested eloquently against the inefficiency of the police protection of property.

At night he was always mysteriously missing; and it now develops that, armed with a set of burglars' tools, and with opium and poisons with which he quieted sleepers and killed troublesome dogs, he was robbing many of the persons whose acquaintance he made in business and in church. He was finally captured by the merest accident, the policeman into whose arms he ran all but refusing to believe his eyes when he tore the mask from Spencer's face.

Over forty burglaries, in which the booty is valued at several hundreds of thousands of dollars, are now laid at Spencer's door, and he has just admitted that the items found in his possession is the same with which entrance was gained to Capt. Beatty's residence. Not a single article of all the valuables he stole, however, has yet been located or recovered.

HORSE FELL ON HIM.

William Fraser Killed at Fort William While Driving.

Fort William, May 2.—William Fraser, aged seventeen years, was killed last night by being thrown out of a rig; the horse falling on top of him. Fraser had been out with two companions driving round the streets and about 11 o'clock started to return home. In trying to cross the bridge they missed it and started down the bank to the river. The horse became unmanageable and the occupants were all thrown out, Fraser being flung forward and the horse falling on him crushed his life out.

A NEAT AND PRACTICAL WORK APRON.

No. 5708.—The comfort and convenience of a work apron that covers the entire skirt is apparent at a glance to the woman who has little duties to perform about the house. The illustration shows a garment of this kind made of striped gingham. It requires but little time to make and is easily laundered. The skirt is gathered and attached to the belt and the bib extends out over the shoulders in a very becoming manner. Holland, gingham, percale and linen are all suitable for the making. The medium size will require 3 3/4 yards of 36-inch material.

Ladies' Work Apron, No. 5708. Sizes for small, medium and large.

The above illustration will be mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents.

Beyond the Skyx.
Pluto had introduced Wackford Squeers, late of Dotheboys hall, to Simon Legree, late of Uncle Tom's Cabin. "Glad to meet you, Mr. Squeers," said Legree. "You and I, I believe, are two of the most celebrated of the old masters." But Squeers, who had just been compelled by Pluto to take his regular dose of brimstone—without the treacle—was too surly to answer.

THE TERCENTENARY.

The Pope Lauds British Rule and the Quebec Celebration.

Quebec, May 3.—The coming Quebec tercentenary got a big boost to-day in the shape of a papal decree, which was read in the Roman Catholic Churches, highly eulogistic of both Samuel De Champlain and Mgr. De Laval.

The Pope's encyclical is addressed to Archbishop Begin and the other archbishops and bishops of the Canadian Church. The Pope declares that because of his special affection for Canada and of the close relations existing between them, he could not permit his voice to be absent for the general chorus of joy in connection with the coming fetes.

After paying a tribute to the fidelity of the bishops and Canadian Catholics generally, the decree says that the church in Canada enjoys a greater liberty than perhaps anywhere else, and for this he pays a tribute to the just influence of British rule.

Samuel De Champlain, says the Pope, appears upon the earliest scenes in the history of Canada. French by birth, remarkable for both genius and courage, but much more for Christian wisdom, His Holiness eulogizes both Champlain and the early Jesuit and other French missionaries in Canada,

SWEPT OVER THE DAM.

Joseph Torrance Drowned at Fenelon Falls.

Fenelon Falls, May 2.—This morning while assisting in putting in some stop logs in the side a young man, Joseph Torrance, son of Mr. Andrew Torrance, of this place, was accidentally drowned. The cant hook with which he was handling the stop log became fast, and he holding on to it was thrown into the water just above the falls. In one moment he was swept over the dam and dashed into the swirling waters below. The thing was done so quickly that the men working beside him could do nothing to save him. The body has not yet been found.

Child Burned to Death.

Hepworth, May 2.—On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. McGovern were absent from the house for a few moments, leaving a little sixteen months old child playing in the house. An incubator in an adjoining room attracted the little one, and she upset the lamp used in heating it. The child was so badly burned that she died in a few hours.

HIGHLANDERS AT ST. PAUL'S.

Fine Turnout For First Sunday Parade of Season. Strong Sermon by the Chaplain of the Regiment

On the Text, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

There was a magnificent turnout of the 91st Highlanders yesterday morning, when the first spring church parade to St. Paul's Church was held.

The parade state was as follows: Col. Logie, Col. Moore, 13th, Col. Bertram and Col. Grafton, Dundas, Capt. DeKam, Corps of Guides, Col. Rennie, Capt. Bell, Adjutant, Capt. Wiselmid, Paymaster, Capt. Dickson and Lieut. McEduards, Surgeons, Capt. Somerville, Quartermaster, Capt. Drummond, Chaplain, Staff Sergeants 10, Signallers 9, Buglers 36, Band 33, Pipers 23, Bearers 20, A 36, B 46, C 41, D 41, E 42, F 47, G 38, H 43; total, 494.

The back of the pulpit was tastefully draped with the flags of the regiment, and during the morning the choir rendered a beautiful anthem, Miss McCoy and Mr. Vernon Carey taking the solo parts.

Rev. D. R. Drummond gave a splendid address. He said it gave him a great deal of pleasure to again welcome the members of the 91st regiment, and the representatives of sister corps. He took as his text "Am I my brother's keeper?" from Genesis, 4th chapter. He said it was an old question, that had existed from the time Cain and Abel were on the earth. It is important, because no man is sufficient to himself. It is only as we stand shoulder to shoulder that true success is attained. The answer of that question gives a color to a man's life and character. This question affects business, social life and ideals. If any man believes he is his brother's keeper, it will have the effect of changing his convictions, the assuming of this responsibility contains many difficulties.

There are some men who refuse to be their brother's keeper, said the speaker. They have come to such a pass in their lives as to disbelieve the disinterestedness of other men's motives. In their eyes, every man is a rogue until he has proven himself a gentleman. Some men there are who look upon a brother's help in the light of a tool for the workings of another man's contempt.

Then again there are men who use their brothers as a means to their own ends of selfishness. It is not often that a man can give direct help without offending the people whom he would wish to benefit. But there is a method of working indirectly by placing oneself as an example for others to follow. There are other ways also, for the creation of a healthier public opinion, which will help a brother. The man of manhood is not won by the willing and earnest endeavors to help oneself, but by the assumption of responsibility in helping brother man. There are men who feel the necessity of defending themselves when they fail to assume some of the responsibilities of a brother's keeper. When such men seek to defend themselves, they show that they are conscious of wrongdoing. The world was born with an interdependent spirit, not independent. No one family can make a nation, and no one nation can make a race.

The speaker contended that everyone was his brother's keeper, and that what might be said to the contrary, God has appointed us to this world for this purpose. The best things in life come to those who are willing to assume the responsibilities of a brother's keeper. Is a nation strong when it is torn by internal dissensions? Sometimes it is only a small thing one may do, but it will be enough to break the gloom and save a soul from death.

To get money at any cost seems to be the ambition of the business man of today. The speaker had heard of graft and plunder in political life for the purpose of robbing the influence of the electorate. These things could not be done in leaving with the standard as laid down by God. What is needed is clearness of mind and purity of political, business or social life. What does the boast of your colonel, that he can put out at a moment's notice some of the finest fighting men in Canada, amount to, if one's personal life is not right with God? In the name of manhood, every one should seek to live so that one's influence will tell mightily in keeping a brother from falling to death.

JUVENILE GOOD TEMPLARS.

The attendance of members at the weekly meeting of the International Juvenile Temple, I.O.G.T., in the Canadian Oddfellow's hall on Saturday afternoon, was the largest in many months past. The superintendent, Mrs. D. B. Smith, who presided, was assisted ably by Alex. Lawson, a P.C.T. of the adult lodge. Six candidates were initiated and two propositions for membership were received. After the secretary-treasurer of the Temple, Tom Macraughton, had given his report for the past quarter, showing the Temple to be in a flourishing condition, the officers for the ensuing term were installed by the superintendent. Short speeches were given in order and among those who spoke were Mrs. F. W. Ambrose, Mrs. C. A. Hardy, Miss D. Winifred, Mr. J. A. Hardy, Mr. Lawson and Dean Boniface, the new Chief Templar. The programme for next Saturday is in the hands of the new officers.

CADETS NEW UNIFORM.

The Collegiate Cadets paraded fifty-six strong yesterday to attend the ceremony at Stoney Creek battlefield. It was the first appearance of the corps in the new khaki uniform and it certainly presented a smart appearance. The officers in charge were Drill Instructor Syme, Captain Medina, Lieut. Ireland and Lieut. Stevens.

Music and the Drama

Manager Driscoll has succeeded in getting together another bunch of all-stars for his show at Bennett's this week. The headline is the company travelling under the name of the Raindrops. They put on a realistic imitation of a rain storm, in which the electrical effects are remarkably fine. The sketch, "The Unexpected," has a racy plot, with plenty of excitement in it. Inez Macaulay, who plays the principal part, is a dashing young actress, who makes the most of a good part. She is assisted by Clarence Oliver, a well-known comedian. Nonette is a clever violinist, who will give an assorted programme. Warren Keene has a number of mysterious sleight of hand tricks to introduce, and is also a monologue artist of no mean ability. The Cartelle brothers are a team of very smart skaters, and will prove interesting to the roller skating enthusiasts in the city. Welch, Mealey and Melrose, a comedy trio, are knock-about comedians. Their principal claim to recognition is a parody of a baseball game, which is a big scream from beginning to end. The special feature this week will be the new fantasia that John Hackett will put on. In it ten Hamilton amateurs will take part. The motion pictures will be as good as usual.

English Organist Coming. Sir Frederick Bridge, after visiting Brantford and London, will arrive in Hamilton at noon on Thursday. In the evening he will give his lecture-recital on English cathedral music in Centenary Church, with illustrations by the choir.

Wagner to Tour America. New York, May 4.—Negotiations, it is announced, have been entered into with Sigfried Wagner, the son of the famous composer, Richard Wagner, for a tour of the principal American cities, beginning in October. Herr Wagner for his American engagement, will conduct the philharmonic orchestra of Berlin, Germany, which is composed of 65 musicians. Wagner will also be accompanied by Frau Wagner, his mother, and four soloists, who will be heard in selections from his own compositions.

"The Red Mill" on Wednesday. Messrs. Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom are again to the fore with a comic opera, which is said to far outshine their latest collaboration, "Mlle. Modiste," which was written especially for Mme. Fritzi Scheff. "The Red Mill" has undoubtedly proved the most important success that has been on Broadway for many years, as it continued to play to capacity audiences for one entire year at the Knickerbocker Theatre, so its presentation here will surely prove of more than passing interest. The advance reports of the piece, the sort that come from the privileged ones who have been to New York and witnessed it, indicate that "The Red Mill" will certainly be presented here to a capacity audience on Wednesday night, when it will be seen for the first time here.

Last Twilight Recital. Mr. W. H. Hewlett gave the last of his twilight recitals for this season at Centenary Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Manley Pickard, soprano, of Toronto, before a large and appreciative audience. Saturday's recital was the 34th, and was the last of the fifty series.

Mrs. Pickard's voice contains qualities of charm and sweetness not often met with, while Mr. Hewlett's playing was superb. The programme was as follows: Chorale—Wachet Auf, Ruft Uns Die Stimme. J. S. Bach. Fugue in C minor. D. Buxtehude. Reverie in E flat. E. H. Lemare. March—From the Ruins of Athens. (Beethoven)

Funeral of the Late George Bamberger. The remains of George W. L. Bamberger were laid at rest yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the funeral taking place from his late residence, Dundas road. Rev. D. R. Drummond conducted the services. The pall-bearers were: Percy Frid, Harry MacDonal, Henry A. Bingley, W. Buttrum, and Mr. Mape.

The funeral of Roy C. Newson took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 87 Pearl street north. Services were conducted by Rev. F. W. Hollinrake. The pall-bearers were: F. W. Hollinrake, J. H. Lemare, Henry Wilkinson, T. Hewitt, John Frid, and Victor Lowrey.

Irene V. Sirett died last evening at the City Hospital after an illness of several weeks, aged 19 months. The body will be taken to Stirling, Hastings street, from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sirett, 169 King William street, where the parents are residing. The funeral will be held on Wednesday.

Grace Merritt to-night. Miss Grace Merritt, who will appear as Mary Tudor in Paul Kester's dramatization of Major's great novel, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," at the Grand to-night, is one of the most talented and beautiful actresses of the day. Miss Merritt is possessed of just the nature necessary for the exacting requirements of the part, and her ability to shade and repress is remarkable, considering the various emotions, at times violent, again bright and gay, then defiant, sad, broken-hearted, and lastly just sweet womanhood, she is called upon to interpret.

Fifteen Hundred People Join In Imposing Event.

"Ninety-five years ago eight hundred loyal Canadians drove back to New York three thousand invaders from this very ground on which you stand to-day, and below this flower covered spot before you rests the dust of some of these brave men who fought a great fight and won a great victory." Thus spoke Right Rev. Philip DuMoulin, Bishop of Niagara, in opening his consecration address at Stoney Creek battlefield yesterday afternoon before upwards of 1,500 people. He told the great story of the battles of 1813, which centred around Stoney Creek and vicinity. He related in stirring manner of how the brave eight hundred had fought for their freedom and their country at the time of the invasion. "We now live at peace with our neighbors across the borders and have done so for years," he said. Touching on the Quebec tercentenary, he said "An affair of great importance, is the centennial of Quebec this year, when those whom we vanquished and those who have vanquished us will meet together to commemorate the days of Wolfe and those other brave men who fought for their country." The Bishop spoke of later victories and those of the present day in the fight against sin. His address was brief, but well put, and touched the hearts of the thousands who stood uncovered listening to him.

ZION MISSION.

New Methodist Church in West End Opened Yesterday.

Hamilton Methodism has added another place of worship to its growing number. The field invaded is the west end, and there is a little romance connected with the Zion Mission, Garth street, which was opened yesterday. About two years ago Mr. Malcolm Webb, contractor, was converted, and became a zealous worker in Zion Tabernacle. Recently the pastor, Rev. F. W. Hollinrake, felt the need of extending the cause into the growing section west of Locke street, and mentioned the matter to a number of his people, among them Mr. Webb, who at once volunteered to build a mission and hand it over to the church to show his appreciation of what it had done for him. The building opened yesterday is the result. It is a neat frame structure on Garth street, near Main, and is capable of seating 150 people. It will be carried on as a mission of Zion Tabernacle. Mr. Webb having given a free lease for five years.

The opening services yesterday were most successful. The attendance was large at all services, the evening gathering overflowing the church. Rev. F. W. Hollinrake preached in the morning, his text being, "And he brought him to Jesus." He made an appropriate reference to the new church. In the afternoon Rev. B. J. Treleven gave an address on "Be Watchful." In the evening Mr. John Robinson and the Y. M. C. evangelistic band had charge of the service.

Sunday school will be held every week, as well as church service. To-night there will be a social and go programme, and evangelistic services will be held on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

Bishop DuMoulin Held Two In Outside Parishes.

Bishop DuMoulin had a very busy day yesterday. In the morning he conducted a confirmation service at St. Andrew's Church in Grimsby, at which ten new communicants were confirmed. His Lordship reports that the church is in a very thriving condition. In the afternoon he delivered an address at the consecration of the soldiers' graves at Stoney Creek, and in the evening he held another confirmation service in St. Mary's Church, Bartonville, when 18 people were confirmed. St. Mary's Church has as its head Rev. W. G. Davis, who is accomplishing excellent work in the large parish.

James Street Baptist Church Singers Make Presentation.

Mr. Chester Walters, choirmaster of the James Street Baptist Church, entertained the choir on Friday evening last at his residence, 117 Hughson street south. There was a splendid turnout of the members, and a delightful evening was spent in games, etc. The choir sprang a surprise on Mr. Walters when Mr. Daice presented him with a handsome mahogany music cabinet, as a slight tribute to his popularity among the members. Mrs. Walters was presented with a beautiful bouquet by Miss Jessie Coutts. The party broke up at an early hour on Saturday morning.

HYGIENIC SERMON.

Rev. Delos Smith Gave a Talk on Health Laws.

At Unity Church last evening the minister, Rev. W. Delos Smith, discussed a recent work by Dr. M. J. Keane, of Brantford, "Health Science." The speaker held that although his address might not technically be called a sermon, yet practically few themes for pulpit discussion deserved more attention than the "Gospel of Health."

He said that what has been called "disease" is largely due to the violation of the laws of health through ignorance. Without health man is less able to cope with life's problems, perform his tasks or enjoy his blessings. Whoever teaches men the fundamental principles of the laws of health, therefore, is their benefactor. And this educational phase strongly characterizes Dr. Keane's book. Its key-note is sounded in the following: "With the spread of education and enlightenment and the progress of science, the physician of the future will be less than his other self, the priest or minister, who believes that he is set apart for the purpose of bringing men into communication with a supernatural power, must restate his 'creed' and 'confession of faith' in terms more acceptable to thinking minds and govern his practice accordingly. The age of miracles is past. The stage of the human mind, which holds that disease is a test of faith or a visitation of Providence, is passing. The universe is governed by law, which, so far as we know, is never changed by superhuman caprice, or in response to our 'poor necessities.' * * * We are passing from the dominance of priestly and medic' superstition and the shadow of ignorance and fear into the light of science and hope."

Mr. Smith, in discussing the main body of the work, emphasized the hygiene suggestions in which it abounds. Personal health bears a close relation to social or communal health and depends upon the general conditions of "maintenance," "resistance" and "incidents."

In conclusion he said that the physical laws of the body are supplemented by the psychical laws of the mind, and that much of health depends upon a proper exercise of the will. Out of obedience to the laws governing the body and the mind come happiness and success.

MACHINE LOADS MAN ON EAST HAMILTON.

J. J. Scott Chosen Tory Candidate Against the Wishes of the Party Convention.

Speakers Try In Vain to Work Up Enthusiasm For Him--Mr. Hendrie In West.

"That man can't be elected. The working people of the city of Hamilton are too intelligent to be fooled into anything like that. We have a chance of carrying East Hamilton, but if you put up Scott we can't do it and therefore lose the seat." Opinion expressed by prominent Conservative worker when Scott was nominated.

Declaring it was impossible to elect him, charging that the nomination has been cut and dried by the machine, delegates to the Conservative convention on Saturday night protesting against the endorsement of J. J. Scott, K. C., as the candidate for East Hamilton created a scene that amounted to a remarkable demonstration of disapproval of the choice of the party bosses.

It was a climax of the trouble that has been brewing in the Conservative ranks for weeks past over the East Hamilton nomination. The big wigs of the party made strenuous efforts last week to straighten matters out, and probably thought they had the situation well in hand before the convention. The other probable candidates had not promised to withdraw, and J. J. Scott, who looked like the keenest contender, was prevailed upon to nominate Scott. This was calculated to pave the way for peace, but President John Milne had scarcely announced that he was prepared to receive nominations for East Hamilton before the storm broke.

It was 8.30 when President Milne called the convention to order. His remarks, like the speakers who followed, were largely in the nature of an apology for Mr. Scott, and intended to smooth over the trouble that was apparently brewing. The officers of the association, he said, thought it was only a matter of courtesy to ask Mr. Scott if he wanted his name submitted to the convention.

At the last election, Scott had done all he could to win, and the association had given him its best support. Mr. Milne then gave a hint of the dissonance that the executive evidently expected would follow, when it came to the nomination of the candidate for the East. "There is no doubt," he said, "that several names will be brought before you tonight, and sometimes we would probably like one name and sometimes another, but as I look at the matter we are a Conservative association. The Government is in power. It is not exactly the man. We want good men, and we want to support the Conservative Government."

There was no doubt in his mind, that the Government would be returned to power. The Premier had fulfilled every pledge as far as possible, and what he had not accomplished he was starting in to accomplish. Mr. Milne confessed that perhaps he had voted for the man he did not care for personally. The view he took of it was, "I am going to vote for my party and its interests." Things had changed materially since the bye-election in East Hamilton. The party was well organized at the time, but it was up against conditions it could not help. Things were changed to-day.

"The Liberals," he said, "are putting up a man; you know who he is, Mr. McClelland. They have a perfect right to do this. The Labor party are putting up Studholme, and that is right. The Liberals will stick to their man, there is no doubt about it; and we should stick to ours, for, although Studholme is going to get some support, he is not going to be elected."

Mr. Milne then called for nominations for West Hamilton. But apparently not satisfied with his efforts to smooth over the East Hamilton trouble, he made another reference to the matter. The officers of the association, he said, had only done what they thought was right in the matter. They sent a message to Mr. Scott, asking if he would permit his name to stand, and the reply received was as follows: "Cable received. Will consent, if Executive considers it in the interest of East Hamilton and party."

"Mr. Scott consents to stand, that is, if you think it is in your interest to do so," the President added, in a half apologetic tone. Col. Hendrie Nominated. George Lynch-Staunton, K. C., in nominating Col. Hendrie for West Hamilton, attacked the record of the Liberal Government, before the Conservatives grasped the reins of power. Mr. Staunton amused even some of the Conservative stalwarts with his blarney of the "Whitney Government." He also eulogized Col. Hendrie, and declared he had succeeded in getting the Government to build "the great School of Pedagogy in West Hamilton."

He also gave him credit for standing up for the Beach people, when the railway tried to ride roughshod over their rights. Mr. Staunton then swung off another tack. "If we look to our own selfish interests," he said, "it is our absolute duty to nominate and elect John S. Hendrie. Remember, there is to be established in this Province a technical college. The erection and equipment of that college will entail an expenditure of more than $300,000, and remember, if we wish to be the manufacturing centre, we must have men with the best technical knowledge of their arts and crafts. If we desire to have that school here, with all its attendant advantages, greater than the finest universities, we must have a man, who, in and around the council chamber can advocate our claim, who can impose arguments on the Government, a man persona grata, a favorite with the Prime Minister, and then we may hope to get that great and coveted prize."

William Berry, who one time posed as a labor man, seconded the nomination. No other names were suggested and Col. Hendrie was declared the unanimous choice. Received With Chilly Silence. Then the trouble began. The crowd evidently looked for it, and sat up with an air of expectancy. President Milne called for nominations for East Hamilton. Dr. Hopkins mounted the platform and nominated John Hoodless. The name was received with an outburst of applause, and there were cries of "Carried, carried."

It was a rather embarrassing moment for President Milne. "Gentlemen, I believe there are other nominations," he said when the applause had subsided. This was the signal for another demonstration, and again the crowd called "Carried, carried."

The situation was relieved for the time being by Mayor Stewart stepping on the platform. The Mayor, like the other speakers, began with a sort of apology for Mr. Scott. He was sorry that the situation in East Hamilton was so much different than in West Hamilton. Every man had his favorite, but when the final choice was made, he thought they would all rally to the support of the candidate. He was going to name a man whom he might characterize as a fighter, and who would not lose anything coming to Hamilton for the want of fighting for it. The man he was going to name, he considered, had the first claim. The Mayor then launched into a little explanation of political etiquette. "Mr. Scott having been defeated at the last election had the right of the refusal of the nomination."

And like all the other speakers, the Mayor tried to thrust the "glory" for "securing the Government's promise to bring the Technical College here" on Scott. Mr. Scott, before his election, had promised to do his best to secure for it. If Scott was elected he did not see how the Government could do otherwise than fulfill the promise it had made. "As I said before, you know I have my enemies. All men have, but I feel that the electors, however the choice may be, will take off their coats and elect him." And with this apology the Mayor concluded his nomination address. Mr. Scott's name was received with chilly silence.

Another Apology for Scott. William Armstrong, who seconded the nomination, likewise made an abject apology for Scott. No matter what his faults might be, he thought the Conservatives of East Hamilton would elect him. Every man had his faults, he said, but he certainly got a great trouncing at the hands of the Conservative party, was the frank admission of Mr. Armstrong. "I don't care who the nominee is, I think we are all prepared to do all we can to elect him."

Mr. Armstrong thought it would be better to elect a candidate now than in the bye-election. Mr. Scott, if elected, was sure, would be a good representative, and one good point about him was that any man, poor or rich, who went to him would be received with consideration.

R. McCullough nominated Dr. Carr, who had done much for technical education in the city. Ex-Mayor Biggar was nominated by T. H. Pratt. His name was received with mild applause. Said Mr. Pratt, "I want to place before you a name, which will at least have the confidence of every elector, a name that will carry East Hamilton." S. D. Biggar, who seconded the nomination, James Dunlop seconded the nomination.

Pleas for Scott. Then it looked for a time as though the situation was beyond control. It was expected that Mayor Stewart would be nominated, but no other names were proposed. There was an outburst of enthusiastic applause and cries for "Hoodless, Hoodless." Mr. Hoodless stepped on the platform, and expressed his hearty thanks for the honor the convention wished to bestow on him. Mr. Hoodless spoke of the beautiful example of unanimity in West Hamilton, as though deploring the dissension in the East. He thought that he would be disloyal to the party and the individual to accept the nomination at this time. "Crisis of 'No, no, no, not at all!'"

Mr. Hoodless said there were ties of home, ties of business and other reasons, and that fear of all public men, the scorching tongue, the fact that a man's private matters were drawn into it in a way that was obnoxious, and seemed to make the man who stood before his fellow electors say to himself: "Is the game worth the candle?" When Mr. Hoodless apparently thought that he had the crowd keyed up to the proper pitch, he tried to swing it around to Scott. "I think it would be unfair in his absence to accept the nomination in East Hamilton. He never refused to put up when called on. He has always been with the party, when it stood at its lowest. God knows," said Mr. Hoodless, fervently, "that any man who has any sand in him will make enemies."

Mr. Hoodless wanted to know "if after all the besmirching of a campaign, he was going to turn him down." The crowd became very restless at this point and there were mutters of disapproval at the rear of the hall. He'll be Trimmed. "I feel that it is unfair to turn him down in his absence. We can elect J. J. Scott by the biggest majority ever received by a candidate in East Hamilton," declared Mr. Hoodless, with all the emphasis he was capable of. "He can't, he'll get trimmed," roared one of the delegates. Ignoring the interruption, Mr. Hoodless said, "You know what it means to the city to get the Technical College here. I hope you will feel it." Mr. Hoodless said he would love to accept the nomination if he were able. He caused some laughter by saying, "We have the most democratic lot of men in the Cabinet at Ottawa that we ever there. The poorest man that we and say. We can't get his leader, MacKay, down to it. He is three-fifths in the crowd. "Of course, Toronto," corrected Mr. Hoodless.

Dr. Carr said he felt as Mr. Hoodless did that every man had his time. "I know," he declared, that East Hamilton never had a greater regret than the day after it had elected Studholme." Dr. Carr also harped on the "Government's promise to bring the technical school here."

A Scene of Disorder. When Ald. Anderson got up to talk to a friend, there was evidently an impression that he was going to address the convention. There were cries of "Take the platform," and "Sit down!" Ex-Mayor Biggar assured the delegates that his ambitions did not run toward Parliamentary honors, and retired. Hardly had he left the platform when there were cries of "Hoodless and the machine." For a few minutes there was a scene of disorder.

Mr. Hoodless jumped on the platform and said, "I heard some one mention machine. I am not a member of the Conservative Association. I have never been spoken to by any person. I don't want any one to say—'At this point his remarks were inaudible. "Tell the truth," shouted one of the delegates. "It's all out and dried," said another voice.

"That man can't be elected; he can't be elected in this city," came from another quarter. The interruptions provoked an uproar, during which a delegate, said to be John Carroll, the well known Conservative worker, shouted, "The working people of the city of Hamilton are too intelligent to be fooled into anything like that. We have a chance of carrying East Hamilton, but if you put up Scott you can't do that, and therefore lose the seat."

"Hear, hear," howled the crowd, to the accompaniment of vigorous applause. When quiet was restored, Mr. Hoodless said, "The only thing I don't wish you to do, is to accuse me of being part of the machine. If you come up here—" "I am right here," shouted the interrupter from the audience.

President Milne then took a hand in trying to straighten things out. "I think it is very bad taste of any one to go up here and interrupt any speaker," said Mr. Milne reprovingly. Mr. Hoodless thought it an opportune time to make another plea for Mr. Scott. "I've no doubt that as a question of loyalty we will all stand by the man who stood by us," he said. He moved that Mr. Scott's nomination be made unanimous. Dr. Carr seconded this, and there was very faint applause.

President Milne, in putting the resolution, said, "The others have declined. There only remains Mr. Scott's name before you. I would say that if that is your wish, and that his is the only name our loyal and true support. There is no doubt, as I have said before, that there is feeling. We all have our feelings, but we are not working for our own feelings; we are Conservatives. There is any gentleman who believe it is in his best taste, he is at perfect liberty to come on the platform and make them." Mr. Milne lost no time calling for a vote on the motion. In the ordinary course of events, a standing vote would have been thought the proper caper. There was a very poor showing of hands, and cries of "Lost, lost!" Mr. Milne, however, declared the motion carried.

Col. Hendrie Talks. Col. Hendrie then arose to address the convention. As he did so a section of the crowd started to leave. "It's not very nice, going away in the middle of a speaker's remarks," said President Milne, reproachfully. It was necessary for him to call for order, before quietness was restored. Col. Hendrie made the mistake of crumming his auditors with figures, and little interest was taken in his address. He recited some of the legislation of the Whitney Government, and referred to the redistribution. The Liberals, he said, were much put out because the changes were not made so as to give them a better chance to elect their candidates. "We were not in that business, and we changed the constituencies to suit ourselves," he said. Referring to the three-fifths clause he said, "I would like to know where the Liberals of Hamilton stand on the three-fifths clause. They know how I stand. I would like my opponent to come out

INTERNATIONAL SCHEDULE.

Change Made at Meeting of Baseball Magnates Here.

Good Programme For the Benefit Meet at the Alexandra Rink To-night—A Dead Heat at Jamaica on Saturday.

A meeting of the officers of the International Baseball League and the managers of the four teams in it was held in the parlour of the Royal Hotel on Saturday afternoon. President George H. Long, of London, was in the chair, with Secretary-Treasurer William K. Murray, of Niagara Falls, and Managers Paul B. Wreath, of London, Fred Paige, of Hamilton, and Jack Murray, of Guelph, in attendance. The meeting was closed, as with the exception of the revision of the schedule nothing of immediate public interest was taken up.

As the original schedule did not call for both London and Guelph being home for the week of the Old Boys, which falls in both cities on August 3rd, it was so arranged that Niagara Falls will play the first three games of the week in London and finish in Guelph. Hamilton will open the week in Guelph and finish in London.

Changes were made to permit of the Tigers springing away from home during the spring meet of the Hamilton Jockey Club, and to allow the Hamilton Police Athletic Association to hold its annual games on Wednesday, August 5th.

The managers reported that enthusiasm was running high in their respective cities, and opening days would draw bumper crowds. Improvements to the different parks throughout the circuit are virtually completed, and the players are to report at the different cities tomorrow.

The new schedule appears at the bottom of this column.

TIGERS' THIRD BASEMAN.

Manager Paige, of the Hamiltons, went to Buffalo today on business in connection with the league. Before he left he received a letter from Bill Gleason, of Boston. Gleason stated that Howard, who played with Lowell, Mass., last year, had accepted the offer of Hamilton, and will arrive here tomorrow. He will accompany Gleason.

and was badly interfered with on the turn. Her rider, Musgrave, had his leg badly scraped by being ridden close to the rail. Fitzherbert went to the front early and set a fast pace to the stretch, where he was overtaken by Trance. They ran on almost even terms through the last sixteenth.

Old Honesty, running a surprisingly good race, and played down from 7 to 1 to 11 to 2, easily won the Long Beach Handicap. Spooner, the 4 to 5 favorite, made the pace in the stretch, when Murt was sent Old Honesty into the lead, and, drawing away, won by three lengths. Spooner stopped badly in the stretch and Riffeman beat him a length for the place.

H. B. C. BEAT GUN CLUB TWICE.

Comment and Chat

The Pari-Mutuel system of betting will receive its first official sanction in America tomorrow at Churchill Downs. According to the following despatch from Louisville, the club officials are well satisfied with their innovation:

As regards the pari-mutuel and the fair game, it would be interesting to reproduce a return of some of the prices obtained in certain events in France. Each day the price a winner would be paid is reproduced in the leading French sporting journals. Here is one set of returns secured to-day:

French Derby, run May 27, 1906—
9 to 2 Flying Star 20 to 1 Kider and reliah. 37 — 1 M. de Bre-
5 — 1 M. Callaut's moon's stable
38 — 1 Montieu
27 — 4 Manton 11 91 — 1 Ny Fox
9 — 1 Gamelin 11 91 — 1 Herod II.
23 — 2 Caramel 144 — 1 Vrioux
11 — 1 Narvaez 192 — 1 Anvers
35 — 2 Biscevier

A mutuel machine was in operation at Woodbine some years ago, and is said to have been abandoned at the instance of the bookmakers.

McDaniel's ride at Jamaica has caused a lot of criticism. The jockey, who has been racing at New Orleans, has lost all his former cleverness and also his former admirers. His ride on Berkby-Friday and on the same horse in his previous start could have been beaten by a green stable hand. According to a prominent horseman, McDaniel needs a rest, as the steady riding has stood him to a large extent.

A despatch from Lexington, Kentucky, says: "Major F. A. Daingerfield, of this city, manager of James H. Keene's, Casino, and a brother-in-law of Mr. Keene, has accepted an invitation, extended through Lord Grey, of Canada, to preside as judge at the Woodbine Park club race meeting at Toronto the last week in May and first of June."

Major Daingerfield is not a racing judge, and Earl Grey does not issue the invitations to the officials for Woodbine.

BETTING ON HORSE RACES.

Newspaper Writer Says Gambling Is Not Blood Disease.

He Says It Is Impossible to Enjoy a Race Unless One Has a Wager On It.

Hugh Keough, of New Orleans, formerly a Hamilton newspaper man, writes as follows in a Buffalo newspaper: "The strongest argument used by those who want to turn back the wave say that gambling is a blood disease that can't be cured, and that therefore the incurables should be allowed to finish their natural bent to the finish, but I can't stand or," said Billy Shakel, who from twenty to fifteen years ago was one of the most aggressive, affluent, and picturesque proprietary gamblers in Chicago, but now is a farmer at Avon, S. D., whence he comes at stated intervals when his chores are done to look after a few pieces of city property in which, as he puts it, he still holds a "fighting interest."

"I am not on the reform lay," he added, hurriedly, as if to take the sting out of what might otherwise be construed as a "snarl." "The bigger the gamblers are the more readily does his system respond to the standard cures prescribed by the reformers. He generally ducks at the first dose, because there is no money in 'sneak' gambling, for the percentage is too strong against the horse and the play itself is a matter of desperation, who are not worth dealing for, even if you could get all they had."

"When I say gambling, I mean the kind that flourished around here in my day—faro, roulette, stud, and the like. Not the horse game. We did not consider that 'gambling' in my time, at least it never appealed to me, except when the races were going on here several wealthy horsemen would drop in of an evening and hit it up to the limit. The houses got a great deal of the race track's wealthy overflow, just as Canfield used to get it at Saratoga. The poolroom is what we called it, we went in for the poolers at all."

"When the servers were put on gambling with innumerate tools many of the old crowd dealt for the house sharks. When the poolrooms were put out of business they took to the race track as bookmakers, backers of bookmakers, or owners of racing property, and you can count on the fingers of one hand the old timers who have prospered at all."

"I haven't looked the ground over thoroughly, but I'll bet there are thousands in Chicago, dealers and players, who were cured of this supposed-to-be incurable speculative itch at the first show of determined opposition, and thousands more who never have contracted it, even though they were born with the germs in their systems."

Of course, there are lots of the forlorn hope kind, who would risk their lives to live in the most outlandish places, just for the chance of getting into or going against faro bank or the wheel. You'll find those scattered about Goldfield, Tonopah, Rawhide, Valdez, and the mining camps. They drift back this way every time there is any inkling of a chance of things loosening up, and it doesn't take much of an inkling to inspire that hope in them. A few days or weeks of feeding on the hope and they are on their way again. They are for the most part homeless. They drift about from place to place through a series of loose and peaceful touches—stake players' pure and simple.

"There is no game worth the candle if it can't be played openly, or at least with a certain feeling of comfort and protection. There may be a zestfulness in indulging in something that is forbidden, but nobody likes to be pinched, even in a good cause."

"The wave that is now engulfing the country started about the time I got out of the business. Perhaps I saw it coming."

"There is no use in anybody fighting it. No more than there is any use in the breweries and the distilleries fighting local option. That's simply water on the wheel on the other side. The majority doesn't want the minority to enjoy themselves in their own way; they don't want it, that's all. All arguments to the contrary are simply words wasted."

"It is hard to revive anything when it is killed, and it starts dying the moment it is threatened."

"The fight that was waged in New York against race track betting did not win this time, but you can get your cheques ready to pay off on it. It looks hard to wipe out the value of several million dollars' worth of property and stop an amusement that furnishes work and recreation for a vast army, but reformers don't care about that."

"I know enough about horse racing to know that racing can't live without a revenue from betting, no more than a theatre can live without the door receipts, and there can't be any betting unless it is conducted openly."

"Even those who don't bet can't have any fun going where there is no betting going on. The highly respectable citizens of the Washington Park Club were the first to desert when the betting ring was closed. They were cured of the speculation disease with one treatment, and they apparently were cured to stay cured."

Took Doctor With Him.

A certain country minister was the owner of a swift and spirited horse. On one occasion, while he was driving through the village, he overtook the local physician on foot.

"Jump in, doctor," he said, pulling up. "I've got a horse here that goes pretty well."

The doctor jumped in, and the parson drove off. The horse did go well, in the sense of speed, but in a little while it began to behave badly, and ended by tipping over the carriage and spilling out both the occupants.

The doctor jumped to his feet, and felt himself over to see if he was injured. The parson also got to his feet.

"Look here," exclaimed the doctor, "what do you mean by inviting me to ride behind a horse like that?"

"Well, you see," gasped the parson, "fluently this time there are no bones broken, but I always like to have a doctor with me when I drive that horse."

DYING IN OPIUM DEN.

Duc de Chaumes Found by High Police Official.

Paris, May 3.—It now transpires that the death of the Duc de Chaumes followed immediately a visit by the unfortunate young man to an opium den. The matter was carefully kept secret by the police, an official of whom helped to remove the Duke in a dying condition to the Hotel Langham; but the face was made known by a member of the Chaumes family.

The story is one of the saddest in the history of Paris society. The Duchess knew her husband was ill when he was put to bed, but she was not aware that he was in a dangerous condition until it was too late for any medical treatment to be effective. It was not until after his death that the Duchess knew the immediate cause of her husband's illness.

Chief Smith is investigating the matter, and in the meantime it is not at all improbable that a law suit will result.
