Investment News.

St. John's, July 29th, 1913.

THESE are good reasons why Maritime Rail Preferred Stock is a desirable investment by itself, without any other inducement.

IN point of security it ranks next to a comparatively small bond issue, one-tenth of which is being retired annually. Aside from this advantageous feature, the present security is unusually strong, as there are assets by appraisal equivalent to $150 for every $100 share of Preferred
Stock, not counting the assets covering the Bonds now outstanding.

DIVIDENDS are 7 per cent.
and cumulative. The excellent record of the issuing Company in the past, and its enhanced prospects for the future, as the result of recent improvements reducing costs 7 1/2 per cent and increasing output 40 per cent, altogether furnish satisfactory assurance of these dividend requirements being met.

THE Common Stock Bonus of 50 per cent., now included with each share of Preferred at par, is therefore an additional inducement making a purchase of the Preferred one of the most attractive investments offered in the Maritime Provinces for some time. Ask for the circular which tells the whole story.

How to Make Your Flour Go Further

WHEN the oven is hot and you face the bustle of baking day, don't forget that Rainbow Flour will go further than any other brand.

Why? We'll tell you.

Only the cream of the wheat berry can meet the exacting standard we set for Rainbow Flour.

There is no fibre, no germ, no dirt in Rainbow Flour. We remove all these in our extra-careful milling. There remains only a picked portion of the choicest of wheat, the nutriment.

Most quality to the pound—that's why Rainbow Flour goes furthest.

Try a 7-lb. bag. Its use is true economy.

RAINBOW FLOUR

MAKES GOOD BREAD

Sold in 7-lb., 14-lb., 24-lb., 49-lb. and 98-lb. bags and in barrels.

CHAPTER XIX.
TWO MONTHS.

"She will be here in a moment," I answer.

"Well, Theo, dear, how are you?" says Loys, sitting down on the chair which I think Theo had intended for Adrian, if he had only come down a little sooner.

"Oh, much better!" answers Theo.

"How is your hand?" I ask, taking the opportunity to insert the small sting I have been saving during the last half hour.

"I think, if you all go in to dinner," I suggest, "she will be better with me alone; and perhaps, when her arm is properly attended to, she will be able to come in."

Theo rises very willingly, and Adrian is compelled to give her his arm; the others follow after, Loys first stopping to kiss Stewart and tell her what a brave girl she is.

In an incredibly short time Mr. Wynne returns with a young man whom I have seen once or twice in the village and on the road. He has evidently heard all Mr. Wynne knows, and asks immediately if we have a flask of oil. Mawson says he thinks the cook has some, and, being sent in search of it, produces a huge jar containing about a gallon. I wonder, though I say nothing, what she can possibly use it for.

"That is the very thing," he says; "the pain will be over in a moment. Take off those rings."

Stewart does as she is told, and is standing by, with an anxious face, having refused point-blank to go away. Dr. Wood turns her sleeve up above the elbow, and, cutting the bandage off, plunges her arm into the jar of oil.

"There is no pain now?" he says, with a smile.

"No," answers she, with a sigh of relief; "but it was dreadful before."

"I have no doubt of it. Still, it might have been much worse;" then, turning to Lane: "You are very sensible, brave young woman; your presence of mind does you great credit."

"Well, sir," she answers, "I did my think I should have burned to death."

"What have you on it?" says Adrian.

"Lane has tied it up in oil and cotton wool," answers the girl, turning back her sleeve. "She was very brave in crushing it out, but—but—the tears fill her eyes, and I see that the shock and the pain are too much for her to bear."

"Wynne," says Adrian, hastily, "is there a doctor anywhere about here?"

"I'll go," he answers.

Stewart begins a feeble protest; but Mr. Wynne is already gone. Adrian leaves the room with him, but returns in a moment, bringing a large goblet of wine, which he holds to Stewart's mouth, and compels her to drink.

"I seem to be making such a fuss," she says, trying bravely to bear up.

Adrian pats her on the shoulder.

"You have more pluck than nine men out of ten. I should make more row about a headache."

"I think, if you all go in to dinner," I suggest, "she will be better with me alone; and perhaps, when her arm is properly attended to, she will be able to come in."

Theo rises very willingly, and Adrian is compelled to give her his arm; the others follow after, Loys first stopping to kiss Stewart and tell her what a brave girl she is.

"I have no doubt of it. Still, it might have been much worse;" then, turning to Lane: "You are very sensible, brave young woman; your presence of mind does you great credit."

"Well, sir," she answers, "I did my best, though I'm afraid that I hurt Miss Dare more by crushing it out than if I'd slipped it off her."

"Oh, no, nothing of the sort! Now, can you give me a sheet of cotton wool?"

In a few moments the arm is carefully bandaged up, and the doctor has taken his leave, saying he will look in in the morning, just to see how it is going on.

"Now," cries Adrian, cheerily, as we make our appearance in the dining room, "how is the patient?"

"Much better," she answers for herself; "in fact, almost well."

"I believe your soup is being kept hot for you, but fish you mustn't expect. Take my advice, and make as good a dinner as you can; you need it after such a shock as you have had."

"I will do my best," she says, with a smile.

"Really, Audrey," says my husband, presently, "that maid of yours is a most sensible woman. You must take care of her, for you will never get such another."

"She is a very valuable servant," I answer, quietly, whereupon Theo immediately transforms her face in such a manner that I wish heartily Adrian would turn suddenly and catch her.

"If you please, my lady," says Lane, when she is undressing me, "that gentleman who dined here—"

"Mr. Wynne?" I say. "Well?"

"Well, my lady, he put something into my hand, just after dinner, when I was crossing the hall, and it's a ten-pound note."

"Well?" I say.

"I don't like to take it, my lady," she says.

"Oh, you may do so with an easy conscience!" I answer. "He was very much struck with your presence of mind in saving Miss Dare."

"Audrey," says Adrian, half an hour later, "Wynne borrowed a tenner of me when you left the table; what could it be for?"

"Oh, it was for Lane!" I answer, calmly.

"By Jove," he exclaims, "he must be hard hit!"

"I really don't see it; she undoubtedly saved the girl's life!" I am surprised and a little hurt that he thinks the sum too large. It sounds as if he would not do as much for me.

Two months have passed, and Theo is still with us; and, what is still worse, she does not seem to have the very smallest intention of going away.

My plans, my efforts and my hopes are all dispersed. I have realized my worst fears. The fact that Adrian's heart is no longer in my keeping must, I think, be apparent to the meanest observation. He never addresses me by any of the pet names he lavished upon me in the first days of our marriage. He does not seek to disguise that his first consideration and thoughts are for Theo. As often as not, he consults her about improvements in the garden, and alterations are made of which I know nothing. Nine days out of ten Theo drives with him in the Stanhope phaeton, and I stay at home, or go out in the open carriage by myself.

Theo is in a perfect elysium of happiness. Already she has discarded her widow's cap indoors, and now wears the diamonds Adrian gave her next to her wedding ring. Of course, neither of them know that I am aware that Adrian had anything to do with the gift of that ring. I do not suppose it would make any difference if they did.

"Theo," I say, at luncheon one day, "Lady Myers called upon you a fortnight ago. Don't you think you ought to return it?"

"Oh, yes, sometime!" she says, impatiently. "I can't go to-day."

"Why?"

"Because I am going out with Adrian."

"Very well," I say, politely. "I am going to Lady Myers."

"Oh, you must not do that!" puts in Adrian, hastily. "Wait till tomorrow, and Theo can go with you."

I look straight at my husband, without speaking. He reddens a little, and says, in a gentler tone:

"You know, it will look so strange. What will Lady Myers think?"

"I am going to get ready," says Theo, airily. "I shall not be long, Adrian."

I lean back in my chair, and, with restless fingers, crumble the remains of my bread.

"Lady Myers will think it so strange," he continues, crossing his arms and leaning forward on the table.

"It is strange," I say, significantly.

"What do you mean, Audrey?"

"Exactly what I say," I answer, with provoking calmness.

My husband does not care to make me speak; perhaps he would hear what would not be very pleasant to him.

"Then you mean to go to Lady Myers?"

"I do."

"Then I tell you that I distinctly forbid it; if you persist in going, I shall be very angry."

"The time has gone by for your threat to be of any value," I say, coldly. "A month ago nothing would have pained me more than to incur your anger; now I prefer it to your pleasant moods, because I know that one is real and the others are not."

I go up to my room, but Adrian does not answer, or follow me. I do not expect he will, and yet I am disappointed when I see them drive away together.

My husband's face is grave and dark; but Theo is more bewitchingly lovely than ever. Just as they move from the door she puts up one hand and smooths the collar of his coat which is turned up a little; he looks down upon her, and speaks, at which she laughs. Oh, how the hand of iron clutches my heart as I turn from the window! And yet I am obliged to try to appear as usual, for Lane is in the room.

 LONDON, July 28.
 A report from Australia that King George and Queen Mary will lay the foundation stone of the Parliament House at Canberra, the capital of the Australian Commonwealth, is discredited to-day by the Pall Mall Gazette, which declares that Canada will be the next British Dominion to be visited by their Majesties. The Gazette takes it for granted, while being so near the States they will cross the border, and it is thought probable that they may visit Washington, and, perhaps, New York.

LONDON, July 28.
 The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent says that the Red Cross Society has arranged an armistice between the Government forces and the rebels, which may probably last eight days. The correspondent says that 800 Southerners have surrendered. A despatch from Peking says that the rebel leaders are disheartened by the defeats and by dissensions in their ranks. Besides approaching President Yuan Shi Kai with a view to negotiate peace, and transferring their funds to Japan, since martial law was declared here, a number who flocked to Peking when the revolt started, bringing large supplies of bombs, have been arrested and executed. Many of them were women.

JOHANNESBURG, July 28.
 The mine situation here has become grave. There is danger of a general strike throughout South Africa, and the miners are dissatisfied with the concessions offered by the mine owners and the Government. It is feared that a settlement of the trouble is impossible.

Died To Rescue Fellow Workman.
 Endeavoring to rescue a fellow-workman from under the wheels of a shunting engine at the Remi street crossing of the Grand Trunk Railway at 10.30 o'clock this morning, John Firth, foreman shunter, living at 63 Paris street, was crushed to death under the wheels.
 According to investigation made on the ground by Lieut. Collins, Edwin Gray, a shunter working under Firth, had gone underneath the engine. While he was still there a signal was given by another shunter to move ahead. Engineer Smith, in charge of engine 710 at the time, knew nothing of Gray's presence under the locomotive and started the engine.
 As the engine began to move Firth, the only one aware of Gray's position, shouted to the engineer but escaping steam prevented his cries being heard. He made a jump for the locomotive with a view to employing the brakes himself, but was thrown under the wheels and badly mangled.
 Gray was taken from under the big engine after it had been brought to a standstill, uninjured.
 Dr. McNaughton, of Mountain St. was called and pronounced Firth dead before the ambulance from the General Hospital arrived.—Star, July 22.

Two Christian Bcs. Rescued by a Priest.
 Montreal, July 25.—After clinging for nearly nine hours to the ladder of a stationary light in Lake St. Louis, two Christian Brothers and two employees of the Pointe Claire parish school were rescued wet and nearly exhausted yesterday morning by Rev. Father Mongeau, pastor of the parish. The four men were caught in the gale which swept the lakes on Wednesday night. Unable to reach the shore they sought refuge at the light stakes where their boat, lashed by the waves, broke away leaving the men helpless in the drenching rain.

INTER-TOWN MATCH.—The Grand Falls baseball team will visit the city next week to play the first inter-town baseball game with the St. John's nine for the Bell trophy. The team from the paper town has some excellent material in their ranks and much is expected from them.

Explorer Radford Studies Animal Life in the Arctic.

Edmonton, Alta., July 22.—Word has been brought to Edmonton that the explorer Radford, who is outfitted by the Dominion Government, has reached Herschell Island.
 The bearer of the news was Howard Allen, who has been in the Arctic for four years. Radford had been heard from in the Hudson Bay country, but no previous word ever came that he had been at Herschell Island. Allen says that a year ago a guide walked into the post at Herschell Island and laid in a stock of supplies for Radford, who had been in the North country for over four years, and who is now making a special study of animal life.
 It was reported two years ago that Radford had gone insane and that his guides had left him close to the barren lands.
 In the note which the explorer sent into the post at Herschell Island he stated that he intended to work farther North, and would probably remain in the north country another two years.

Minimise The Loss.
 Practically farmers may easily minimise the loss, due to a backward and cold season, by the judicious use of Sulphate of Ammonia as a fertilizer.
 Sulphate of Ammonia contains over 20 per cent of nitrogen, as against 15 per cent in Nitrate of Soda, and is therefore more than 25 per cent better than nitrate of soda as a means of quickening and increasing the growth of crops.
 The use of Sulphate of Ammonia has increased enormously of late years and it is recognized to be the most valuable fertilizer obtainable. By its judicious use the production of root crops per acre may be doubled, and the growth of late crops stimulated.
 We invite the attention of Farmers to our special pamphlet on the best methods of using Sulphate, copies of which will be forwarded free to any address on application.
 The price of Sulphate is moderate, and our terms are accommodating.

Formed Human Chain.
 Ten Feet Above Niagara Falls to Save a Fox Terrier.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 24.—Taking their lives in their hands, Reservation Constable Arthur Alexander and Frank Glassbro, hackmen, formed a human chain in the rapids, ten feet above the American Falls, at 6 o'clock last night to rescue a fox terrier which fell into the river sixty feet above the cataract. The rescue was accomplished at imminent risk of the lives of the two men; while a hundred spectators looked on in terror. Once Glassbro lost his footing on the slippery river bottom and was nearly carried over the brink. When the animal was brought ashore a woman member of an auto party, in a car bearing a Michigan license, took the animal saying, "I'll take him back to Michigan as a souvenir."

Woman in Flames.
 On Motor Cycle out of Control.—Machine Sped Through Streets with Victim Shrieking in Terror.

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—After seeing two girls narrowly escape incineration on the same machine, Mrs. Minnie Daum mounted the motor-cycle of Julius Schneider, of Edwardsville, Ill., and was probably burned fatally to-day when her skirt took fire from the cycle's engine.
 Excited by the third accident of its kind within an hour, Schneider lost control of the machine. Through the main streets of the city it sped with the woman in flames on the rear seat shrieking in terror.
 At the bottom of a hill Schneider ran the machine against a terrace and attempted in vain to beat out the flames. Firemen came to the woman's rescue with a chemical tank. Every inch of her body below the waist, however, was seared by the flames. Her recovery is doubtful.
 Schneider was exhibiting the machine to a party of girls and invited them to ride. The skirt of the two who preceded Mrs. Daum also took fire, but the blaze was speedily extinguished.

Sensational Act.
 Kansas City, Mo., July 22.—"Kiss me good-bye, and I'll go away and never bother you again."
 With this request, Albert Snyder, thirty-six years of age, approached his wife, Olivette G. Snyder, to-day, as she was about to enter a downtown store, where she was employed as book-keeper, threw his arm about her neck, and fired a bullet into her forehead. He then fired a bullet into his own brain.
 At the hospital, it was stated that the recovery of either was doubtful. Recently Mrs. Snyder instituted proceedings for divorce.

500 Dress Robes at 1-3 off Regular Prices.
 Owing to the recent unfavorable weather we are disposing of our entire stock of Summer Dress Robes at a GENUINE REDUCTION OF 1-3 OFF THE REGULAR PRICE of every garment.
 This large stock includes Linens, Embroideries, Serges, Foulards and Silks, all of the latest cut and style and in all the usual stock sizes.
 The Linens are in many dainty shades, piped with self or contrasting colors and trimmed with buttons. The Embroidered robes are a charming selection, they are beautifully modelled, the designs are exclusive, trimmed with exquisite insertion and lace, tucks, etc.
 The Serges are modish and well-tailored, equally suited for town or country cool-weather wear. The Foulards and Silks, in stripes and other designs, are really lovely. Some have the new long shoulder effect and slightly raised waist-line, others have a mere suggestion of striking color, just enough to add distinction to the gowns; and all are this season's models.
 Every woman is interested in a real bargain and these dainty gowns with their 1-3-off-regular-price reductions are one of the greatest genuine bargains ever offered in St. John's. Come and see them at the

Intolerance Put Down.

We congratulate Mr. R. A. Squires, Provincial Grand Master and his associates on bringing the mail fast hard and fast down upon intolerance. Yesterday afternoon his attention was directed to the sale of a book purporting to be a collection of Orange Songs. He visited the shop, which a Mr. Short of Boston, was temporarily occupying for the sale of emblems, pictures, books, etc. He examined the book and certain pictures and denounced them as offensive and unauthorized and asked that the sale of them be stopped. He then called the attention of the Grand Secretary to the matter and they paid a visit together to the shop and were assured that the sale of the book and pictures had been stopped. After tea, Mr. Squires discussed the matter with a number of leading members of the Association and at 9 p.m. accompanied by P. P. G. M. Kean, P. G. S. Jordan Milley, P. G. Treasurer J. C. Puddister, Hon. J. C. Croshie, S. H. Peet and others, they secured the services of Supt. Grimes and two policemen and proceeded to the shop. The Deputy Minister of Justice, Mr. Hutchings, P. P. G. N. and Supt. Grimes and others entered the shop and the Supt. advised Mr. Short to close the business and suggested that he should leave town to-day. Supt. Grimes and the police remained to see the directions carried out. Mr. Short complied with the request and to-day the business is closed and an unpleasant incident which gave rise to much adverse discussion is closed.

The song book we understand is a collection compiled by Mr. Short and published as a private venture and has been repudiated most emphatically by the leaders of the Organization. The leaders have shown a most commendable attitude in the matter and are to be congratulated on their prompt repudiation of the acts of Mr. Short. The situation required strong handling, and Mr. Short got it. Under the circumstances nicely would have been out of place, and Mr. Short got no more than his deserts. It is clearly a case of All's well that ends well. Mr. Short's actions were pro-

Destructive Fire Last Night.

Mr. J. W. Campbell's Stores on New Gower Street Gaffed. Shortly after 12 last night while Mr. Butler, of the Reid Nfd. Co's stores, was on his way to work he found that Mr. J. W. Campbell's fruit and confectionary store on New Gower Street, was on fire. He quickly turned in an alarm and the Central and West End Companies soon responded. The roof in the rear of the building was then blazing and the fire had good headway when the men arrived. Three streams of water were taken from the plug on New Gower Street and after a short but hard fight the fire was under control. The fire worked out also towards the centre of the building, and between water, fire and smoke the place was badly gutted. The all out signal came in at 1.20 a.m. Mr. Campbell and his partner, Mr. T. Sparkes, left the premises at 11.15 last night and everything up to that time was O.K. There was some fire in the furnace when they left the place but nothing of much account, and it is not known how the fire originated. Supt. Grimes proved himself to be a good man under those conditions; he handled his men carefully and well and many admired the dispatch with which he quenched the blaze, and the admirable manner with which Chiefs Dunn, Kean and Winsor worked under him. I. G. Sullivan, that most competent official, could not have done better, and we congratulate Mr. Grimes.

SECOND ALARM. At about 2.30 another alarm was sent in for a fire in the same building. It was almost as extensive as the first one, gutting what was left intact after the first outbreak. The firemen again did good work and controlled the blaze in the same efficient manner.

The ship is 16 days out from Liverpool for Halifax and met very poor weather coming out. The ship was built in 1906 by Campbell, Laird & Co. of Birkenhead, for the Fishguard and Rosslare Railways and Harbours Co. and was not long ago purchased for the Great Lakes trade. She can take 1,000 passengers, has three funnels and is a speedy boat. Her dimensions are:—2,456 tons gross; 79½ tons net; 352 feet long; 43.2 feet beam; 16.2 feet deep. She will likely get away for Halifax to-day. The Reid Nfd. Co. are her agents.

Another Wedding.

MENEILL—MILLER. A quite but pretty wedding took place in Montreal on Monday, June 30th, when Bella Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, Snow Road, and William James McNeill, Montreal, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. S. Lee at 1233 De Lorimier Ave. The bride was attired in a suit of navy blue broad cloth. With this was worn a handsome blouse of white marquisette and a white legioni hat trimmed with roses and touches of pale blue satin. After the ceremony the happy couple left for Snow Road, where a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride was recipient of many handsome and costly presents. After the honeymoon the bride and groom will leave for their future home, 188 Cartier St., Montreal.

The above clipping is from the Lanark Era, Lanark Ont. The groom, Mr. W. J. McNeill is well known here having worked for a number of years at Oke's Carriage Factory. He has been residing in Montreal for the past couple of years being employed in a large carriage factory there and is doing well.

WASHINGTON, To-day. President Wilson does not believe the public mind in the States is excited over the situation in Mexico, nor is he convinced a crisis has been reached in the revolution itself. Usually Arise From Same Cause—Relief and Cure Effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Nearly everybody knows of Dr. Chase's Ointment as the most effective treatment for piles or hemorrhoids that medical science has been able to compound. So much suffering and misery arises from this ailment that one is not long in telling his friends when he has found an actual cure. This accounts for the enormous sales of Dr. Chase's Ointment. This letter tells of relief from the suffering of varicose veins by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Many suffer from this trouble not knowing the comfort to be obtained by the use of this great soothing ointment. Mrs. R. J. Evans, 187 Munro street, Toronto, writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for years. I have been troubled with varicose veins, and find it the only thing that gives relief. For every purpose when a soothing, healing ointment is needed there is nothing so good as Dr. Chase's Ointment." 60 cents a box all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co. Dog Carried Boy to Destruction.

Barrie, Ont., July 21.—The little son of Bert Fisher, a farmer living between Thornton and Cookstown, died yesterday as the result of terrible injuries received here. His father and a hired man were drawing in hay and the boy was playing about the field with his big dog, and it is supposed the dog carried him under the wagon, where he was knocked off the animal's back as the wagon started. The wheels passed over the child, crushing in his ribs on one side and his chest, and breaking both legs.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Rev. A. G. Mercer, of Bay Roberts, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's Kirk here at both services yesterday. The organist on the occasion was Master Bert Munn, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dugald Munn. He is to be complimented on his bravery and on the excellent way he handled the organ.

The s.s. Beatrice, having discharged her coal cargo to the Harbour Grace Coal Co., left this a.m. for Bell Island, where she will load from there for Sydney.

Miss Greta James, of St. John's, who is here visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brunies, attended the Presbyterian Sabbath School yesterday afternoon and recited a beautiful piece for the children, entitled "Old Ben's Guest," in excellent style. Mr. R. M. Dill favored the children with some sacred selections on his splendid gramophone. The visitors, teachers and children all enjoyed the afternoon, and passed a unanimous vote of thanks to their kind friends.

The s.s. Kyle arrived here from Labrador yesterday morning. Among her passengers were Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Miss Trappell and Mr. Howard Trappell. Miss Trappell went on to St. John's by the Kyle en route to her home in Montreal. Mr. Trappell left for his station at Heart's Content last evening.

Master Fred Munn, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Munn, who is now with his parents at Shoal Bay Islands, Labrador, in writing to a friend here says: "I have a pair of long boots and a suit of oil clothes and I go out to the traps in the middle land. We have some fish as big as myself and Muriel (his little sister, 6 years). We are having a great time."

A gentleman of this town who has lately been visiting the supposed hiding place of pirate treasures in this neighborhood, has unearthed some old, and no doubt, valuable coins. One dated 1707 is the color of brass, we dare not say gold as we are afraid to build his hopes too high, and another dated 1737, besides several others of a more recent date, but still very old. Any person anxious to hear more about them may communicate with us.

Short of Coal.

The s.s. St. George was towed into port yesterday afternoon by the tug Black Cock. The s.s. Kyle, which went to give assistance and which was standing by the ship for several hours, also came along. The St. George was sixteen days out from Liverpool for Halifax and met heavy weather. She was built seven years ago for the Fishguard and Rosslane Railways and Harbors Co. and plied in the Irish Channel service until recently, when she was bought by the C. P. R. to be used for the Great Lakes trade. The ship has turbine engines and accommodation for 1,000 passengers. The Reid Nfd. Co. are agents for the St. George, which is now getting bunker coal at the dock pier.

Old Medallist.

Mrs. Bartlett, the daughter of Mr. James Stott, has met with much success at the Middlesex Hospital, London. She entered that institution in October, 1910, for a three years' training as a nurse, and has done exceptionally well at her periodical examinations. This morning her father received a cable stating that she had passed her final examinations and led her class and had won the Gold Medal. We congratulate Mrs. Bartlett and her father on his daughter Marion's great success.

Bridges, Give Us Bridges.

Time and again the Telegram has sounded the Government in the question of bridges. We find this morning that our contemporary the Daily News, is also giving them a little "dig" in the neck. "Get the Bridges in Position." Well done, friend News, give it to 'em. They'll get so much over bridges, etc. from us that they will be pretty well tired by November. Thanks, however, for your assistance.

BASEBALL POSTPONED.—It is likely the B.F. and Shamrocks will likely compete Thursday next, but likely there will be an exhibition given out at the Garden Party. There will be teams representative of the town and other centres and likely an interesting match will occur. Messrs. McManus and Dench will be the umpires.

Repeals Offensive Literature.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—This afternoon it was brought to our knowledge that Mr. B. J. Short, a resident of Boston, who opened a store on Water Street a day or two ago, was offering for sale and selling certain books and pictures of an offensive character. We immediately called on Mr. Short, pointed out to him the objectionable character of the publications and protested against the sale of the same, whereupon he withdrew them from publication and undertook to remove them entirely from his premises.

Mr. Short explained that the book which professed to be a collection of Orange Songs, had been printed by him in Boston, the publication not being in any way connected with the Orange Association of the United States of America, or of Canada or of Newfoundland, but published purely as a private undertaking on his own responsibility and at his own expense. Mr. Short is not a member or in any way connected with the Loyal Orange Association of British North America, of which the Newfoundland Grand Lodge is a branch. His visit to St. John's was a private business venture, with which neither the Grand Lodge of U. S. A., Grand Lodge of British North America, nor the Provincial Grand Lodge of Newfoundland were in any way connected or of which they had any knowledge. No Orange song book of any nature or kind, and no picture similar to the one referred to are published or by with the consent or authority of the Orange Association of British North America or Newfoundland, and such could not be so published, because it is contrary to the principles, obligations, ritual and objects of the Association to publish and circulate or be in any way a party to the publication and circulation of any such offensive literature and pictures. The principles and objects of the Association are fully set forth in the General Declaration contained in pages 2 to 5 of the Constitution of the Loyal Orange Association, wherein on page 4 the following is laid down as an indispensable qualification for membership:—

"Disclaiming an intolerant spirit, the Association demands as an indispensable qualification, without which the greatest and wealthiest may seek admission in vain, that the candidate shall be deemed incapable of persecuting or injuring anyone on account of his religious opinions; the duty of every Orangeman being to aid and defend all loyal subjects of every religious persuasion in the enjoyment of their constitutional rights."

Yours truly,
R. A. SQUIRES,
Provincial Grand Master for Nfd.
JORDAN MILLEY,
Provincial Grand Secretary.

Grand Black Chapter Opens.

The Grand Black Chapter of British America, L. O. A., opened in the British Hall at 8 o'clock last evening. Grand Master Thos. Hay, of Toronto, in the chair; J. J. Tull, of Vancouver, B.C., in the Deputy Chair; other officers in their places. After the usual opening ceremonies, the Grand Master appointed the Credential Committee who reported in attendance 82 regular qualified voters and 95 visitors. The address of the Grand Master and the reports of the Grand Registrar and Grand Treasurer showed a marked increase in all branches of the Order. The membership showed a net growth of 1,406, and the finances were in an equally progressive condition.

Addresses of welcome were presented by the P. G. Black Chapter of Newfoundland, and also by the Private Preceptory working in the city. These addresses were heartily received by the Grand Chapter and referred to a special committee for consideration.

The committee to draft the Standing Committees then presented their report, which was adopted. The Auditors' report was also received and referred to the usual Committee. An interesting item and one which was received with enthusiasm, was the reading of a communication from the Masonic Club extending to the visitors the privileges of the Club during their stay here, a courtesy that was most highly appreciated and cordially acknowledged. Some minor matters which claimed attention were dealt with, and at midnight adjournment was taken until 9.30 this morning. The Royal Black Chapter will continue in session all day, and will probably close on Wednesday forenoon, just previous to the opening of the Sovereign Grand Lodge Session, which takes place at 2.30 p.m. on that day.

STONE—HILLIARD.

A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, July 23rd, at St. Thomas's Church, the Rev. G. R. Godden officiating, when Mr. Albert Stone, wheelwright at C. Lester's, led to the altar Miss Jennie Hilliard, of New Harbor, T.B. The bride was neatly gowned in white with hat to match the bridesmaids dressed also in white. After the ceremony supper was partaken of at the home of the groom's mother, 56 Flower Hill, and a very enjoyable time was spent. The happy couple were the recipients of a number of useful presents including a dinner set from the mechanics of C. F. Lester; Mrs. Dr. Tait, china preserve dish; Miss E. Tait, china stand and egg cups; Baby Tait (Bridget), preserve dish; Mr. C. Placette, spoon stand and preserve dish; Mrs. Pierce, fruit dish; Miss Goss, preserve dish; Miss L. Spelgrove, photo frame; the groom's mother, half dozen silver spoons and table dollies; Miss Lily and Miss Irene Stone, silver hat pin holder and Jewel Box; Master Ralph Stone, trinket set, and many other useful presents. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome time piece, to the bridesmaids souvenir brooches and the bridesmaids the pins.

BAULD—HAWKINS.

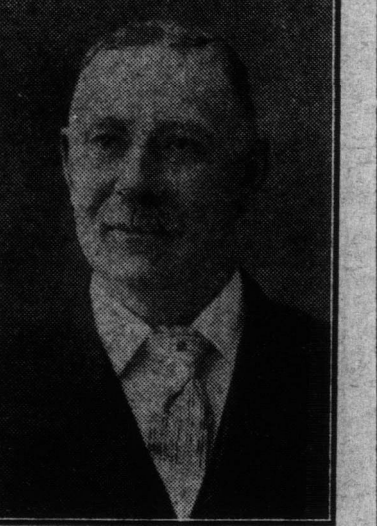

There was held this morning at 9.30 in St. Andrew's Church, a quiet wedding when Duncan Stanley Bauld, son of H. G. Bauld, of Halifax, and city representative for Bould Bros., and Miss Lillian Hawkins, of St. John's, Nfd., were united in marriage by Rev. Robert Johnson. The bride was unattended and looked charming in a suit of grey, with hat to correspond, with tangerine plume and carried a large bouquet of crysanthemums. Mr. Bauld is one of our best known young men, being Captain in the 66th Princess Louise Fusiliers and senior vice-president of the Wanderers' Amateur Athletic Club. As an athlete he is known all over Eastern Canada, being a footballer of first class caliber, having captained the Wanderers football and cricket teams and played on the football team that represented Canada a few years ago that toured England. In hockey circles he was equally well known, always playing as an amateur. The bridal couple left by the Bluenose for a two weeks' fishing trip at Kedgemoakooe Rod and Gun Club, Kedgemoakooe, Queens Co., and on their return will occupy a flat in the Victoria apartments. The large number of presents received testified to the popularity of the couple and included a four piece silver set from the Executive and members of the Wanderers Club, of which for a number of years the groom has been a very active officer. The bride has been very popular during her stay in Halifax and will have the best wishes of a number of friends.—Ex.

KENNY—BADCOCK.

A pretty wedding occurred at the R. C. Cathedral at 6.30 p.m. Sunday when Mr. James Kenny, the popular grocer of Cabot Street, led to the altar an equally popular young lady in the person of Miss Esther Badcock. The bride looked very pretty in a gown of cream serge, and was attended by her sister Miss Theresa Badcock, while Mr. David Dempsey was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Kenny are very popular people and after the wedding ceremony a reception was held at their home on Cabot Street. Bride and groom received many valuable presents. To both the Telegram extends cordial greetings and wishing them a long life of conjugal felicity.

Speeding to Death Bed

Of Daughter Who Had Died in a Boston Hotel, Wealthy Man's Car Runs Over and Kills a Boy.

Boston, July 21.—Speeding in a high powered automobile toward a Boston Hotel, where his daughter, Miss E. F. Beebe, had just died under mysterious circumstances, J. Arthur Beebe, a wealthy business man, was halted in a tragic way to-night, when his car ran over and fatally injured a boy in Chelsea.

After taking the boy, Harry Somblousky, ten years old, to the Naval Hospital, where he died, the anguished father was forced to wait until his chauffeur was arrested, charged with killing the lad. After giving a bond for the chauffeur he was able finally to resume his run to this city.

When he arrived at the hotel, Mr. Beebe learned that his daughter registered there this morning, was taken ill this afternoon and sent for a physician, saying that she was suffering from poison. The doctor had difficulty in entering the room, and when he was able to open the door he found the young woman dead. The cause of death, according to an informal statement by the physician, was heart failure. Miss Beebe had been suffering from a nervous trouble for three years. She had been living recently at the family's summer home in Manchester, Mass. She was 25 years old.

Medical Examiner Leary said Miss Beebe committed suicide by taking an alkaloid poison.

L.O.A. Parade.

The proposed programme outlined for to-morrow is a mammoth parade through the city from four to six o'clock. Brethren from the nearby outposts will take part in the parade as will also the C.I.B. Guards, Highlanders and S.A. Bands. His Excellency the Governor will be called on. To-morrow night there will be displays of fireworks while immense bonfires will illuminate the Southside Hills. On Thursday night in the College Hall a banquet will be held.

Pretty Decorations.

The Orange Hall, last night, was certainly worth seeing. A representative of the Telegram viewed it from many points, but he thought to look at it from Harvey Road about the residence of I. G. Sullivan, was the very best vantage point. Every outline of the building was visible, was done in varied-colored lights and the Maple Leaf was a very distinctive feature. Just above this was the word "Welcome." On the east end were the words "Newfoundland L.O.A. Jubilee, 1868-1913," the whole looking very good. The Methodist College Hall was also beautifully decorated, as was also the British Hall.

Ratine Thread.

There is a new kind of washable cotton thread for crocheting and embroidering. It is rough and woolly-looking like Turkish toweling and is called "ratine." It comes in four colors, white, blue, brown and black, fifteen cents a bunch. Crochet bags of ratine thread are handsome and unusual to carry with summer costumes of ratine. A striking gown is made of coarse white voile, with the skirt cut in three sections. The hem of each section is finished with a simple embroidered design, alternating between a long and short stitch, done in blue "ratine" thread. The long stitch is about three-fourths of an inch long, the short one, a half inch, so that the threads will not pull in washing. The stitches are close together to give the effect of a solid border. The waist is trimmed with buttons, hooped with blue ratine cloth to match the embroidery, and the collar and cuffs are of blue ratine cloth. With the gown can be carried a blue bag crocheted from the same ratine thread. The thread is really much more suitable for crocheting than embroidering, as it is rather thick to work with. In embroidering choose a loose-weave material and use a tapestry needle.—No 22.—Mrs. Howard L. Willett in Woman's World for August.

Fashion Defied.

Paris, July 1.—The Paris Law Courts have just had to occupy themselves with an extraordinary pretension on the part of a customer of a Parisian dressmaker. The customer actually demanded that she should be able to walk in the "tailor-made" she had ordered from a Madame Price, had ordered a dress in Scotch tweed. When it was delivered the skirt proved so tight that she was forced to adopt the walk of the crushed-footed Chinese woman. This she declined to do, and demanded that the skirt should be widened. Such a demand for the dictates of fashion infuriated her dressmaker, who faintly resorted to doing anything of the kind. Every self-respecting Parisienne, she declared, must be prepared to make every sacrifice to the behests of the mandarins of the Rue de la Paix. Madame Price not only refused to pay the bill till the necessary changes were made, but asked for damages for the inconvenience she had been put to. These she assessed at the modest sum of 25 francs. The puzzled judge called in the services of an expert, who took the dressmaker's view of the duty of customers to yield blind obedience to the decision of their dressmakers. Mrs. Price promptly assented, and this time won her case. She was, it is true, ordered to pay for the dress, but she was given the 25 francs damages she asked. The dressmaker was ordered to pay all expenses in the lower court, while those of the appeal are to be equally divided between the parties.
The price of the dress in Scotch tweed has probably by this time run into several thousand francs, but Mme. Price can congratulate herself on having secured the Magna Charter of the dressmaker's "client," and emancipated her from the autocratic tyranny of the Rue de la Paix. Of course, the latter will expompiate her by "bell, book and candle," as unworthy of the name of "une femme chic."

Denial From President F. P. U.

Special to Evening Telegram.
NEW YORK, To-day.
The public despatch Saturday, states the Herald publishes a report from the northward to this effect: "that Coaker favors joining Bond on conditions that Coaker and two other Union men run Benavista and three Trinity, the Bond candidates withdrawing, Coaker to get portfolio Marine and Fisheries if Bond wins; if Coaker is defeated to be Commissioner of Agriculture; but many Coakerites oppose this plan because they want balance of power."
I have no hesitation in denouncing this as a pure McGrath concoction. No such report was ever sent from the Northward. Coaker will not accept any salaried position from any party forming next Government. I consider the position of President of F.P.U. superior to any public appointment in the Colony and will entirely devote my time during the coming four years to Union duties. No Union man will accept any salaried position from incoming Government. I have visited 22 harbors and not found 100 Grabbal supporters at them all. A united opposition will sweep every district from Harbor Grace to St. Barbe. I say this from knowledge that is indisputable and from the experiences of this trip everywhere I have received unsurpassed receptions. With the Opposition united there will not be a Grabbal returned north of St. John's. Let McGrath ask Mott what happened at LaSce. As for Agricultural Commissioners after November that scandal and outrage will be obliterated.

Cable News.

Special to Evening Telegram.
NEW YORK, To-day.
Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first Provincial President of the Chinese Republic, who led the revolution against Manchu rule cabled the following proclamation to Shanghai. When three months ago Yuan Shi Kai, unconsciously concluded a loan with bankers representing the Five Powers, almost immediately after the discovery of documents implicating the Chinese Government on the assassination of the Nationalist leader, General Sung Chiao Jen, I appealed to the Governments and people of Europe to withhold the payment of the loan temporarily, knowing the Chinese people would denounce Yuan Shi Kai for the loan and for murder, and that Yuan Shi Kai would suppress their protest by force of arms. My appeal fell on deaf ears and Yuan Shi Kai supplied with funds by a loan poured troops into Southern provinces to dismiss the Governors and subjugate the people because they did not approve of his high handed action, and insisted on a thorough investigation into the murder of General Sung Chiao Jen, the province of Kiang Si resisted invasion and troops sent by Yuan Shi Kai and six other provinces rose and joined with Kiang Si to drive him from office. The present war will terminate as soon as Yuan Shi Kai retires from Presidency which he has disgraced. I cannot bear to see my life work destroyed by despotism. Manchus replaced by that Yuan Shi Kai, I will fight for the people's righteous cause, which notwithstanding great odds, must ultimately triumph. The Powers are misinformed as to the situation in China and have assisted Yuan Shi Kai with funds which caused the present war. I earnestly appeal to all desiring peace and an early cessation of a long sanguinary conflict, entailing much misery to cease giving further financial assistance to Yuan Shi Kai, I make this appeal in the name of humanity and justice.

Special to Evening Telegram.
SHANGHAI, To-day.
After two nights quiet, firing was resumed last night, shells burst over the foreign settlement. A Portuguese foreigner had a narrow escape. At this hour firing is still continuing. It is suspected that the rebels are deliberately treating their Chinese fellow countrymen in revenge for Shanghai volunteers having armed three hundred soldiers and twelve officers to stop Saturday's panic among the Chinese crowds who were flocking into the foreign settlement from the native city. All the boundaries are constantly patrolled by foreign detachments.

Will be Surveyed at Halifax.

Having finished taking her coal supply at Sydney, the S.S. Beothic, which was ashore and refueled, left to-day for Halifax. Finger Tip Brains.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

There are a great many different kinds of brains in the world. Some people think there is only one kind. Thereby they prove how little of the subject under discussion they possess themselves. A man of this class, one of those unfortunate products of our colleges, who have evidently spent their life in living, to learn instead of learning to live, was speaking of a successful young business man about his own age, who had just been elected to public office. "It's a shame such men should represent us," he said, loftily. "I know this man and he is absolutely unpolished, and hasn't any brains to speak of."
 Now, the man in question went to work in this city several years ago as a grand boy. He was fifteen years old. He had a grammar school education and no more. To-day he is, no, not a multi-millionaire, far better than that, he is owner of a small but prosperous, honest, and constructive business. He has made his money by genuine production. He has made it slowly; there are no enormous profits in his line, and no opportunities for graft—for him at least. His success has meant constant watchfulness, constant planning, constant seizing of opportunities, constant application to all kinds of business problems.

Tell me, business men and women, do these things require brains or not? Personally, I think the winning of an honest business success means an amount of brains to which the average college professor might well take off his hat.
 No, of course they are not the same kind of brains which this man's critic has, or thinks he has.
 But they are brains just the same, and valuable brains.
 A young friend of mine wanted to take up hair dressing and the care of the scalp as a profession. They wanted to educate her to be a teacher or a librarian just as her sisters and aunts had been. "Have you no more brains than that?" they protested. They expressed a painfully common idea that manual work and brain work are wholly distinct things and that manual work is lowering.
 Could anything be more absurd?
 Work in which the hands must carry out the orders of the head requires a different kind of brains, to be sure, but not less than straight head work. I am sure the lady who makes my hats has more brains in the tips of her deft fingers than many college girls I know have in their whole heads.
 No work is lowering that is done well; no brains are to be discounted if they are honourably employed. Not to acknowledge that there are many kinds of brains in the world, and an urgent need for every kind is to prove one's own lack of any kind.

Envelopes That Puzzle People.

"Should there be any disposition shown to dispute or propound my will I request that you will at once hand the inclosed to my solicitor, F. W. Capron."

The above was written by the late Sir John Scott to Lady Sackville and had reference to an envelope sealed with five separate seals which has lately been opened in private by the judge in the Scott will case, Pearson's Weekly states. All that the public knew at the time of writing is that the envelope contained a duly executed codicil to the will.

The case which was begun a year ago by the offer of a reward of £10,000 for discovery of another codicil which is believed to exist, has just been ended in favor of Lady Sackville. It is rather odd that this is the second time within a few months that a sealed envelope has figured prominently in the courts.

About three years ago, there died a well known solicitor, Frederick Holden Turner, of Bedford row. No will could be found, but his executor was able to prove that he had made a will so long ago as 1895. The case was a very strange one. In July, 1910, Mr. Turner had a stroke, which left him quite helpless, yet with his mind perfectly clear. He had a sense of touch in one hand, but as for tearing up a sheet of paper he was utterly incapable of anything of the sort.

Soon after his seizure he told his nurse to fetch a drawer from his writing table. He made her take out a particular paper and put it into an envelope and seal it. He then said—"Write on the outside, 'My last will.'"

This she did also. The envelope was put back and the drawer locked. After Mr. Turner's death his nephew went with the nurse to the drawer, only to find that the will was missing from the envelope.

Nurse's Years of Experience

Proves Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Best Treatment for Kidney and Stomach Troubles.

The trained nurse has even greater opportunities than the doctor himself to watch the action of medicine in specific cases.

For years the writer of this letter has been recommending the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills among her patients, and is firmly convinced that no treatment is so prompt and effective.

This is the most valuable evidence obtainable, and we believe that all who know Mrs. Duffy will appreciate it to the full, knowing that she would not recommend anything in which she had not the fullest confidence.

Mrs. Duffy, nurse, 35 Lewis street, Toronto, writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for years, and recommend them to my patients for all disorders of the kidneys, liver and stomach. In all my professional experience I have found nothing better."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers of Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Wire Wounds.

My mare, a very valuable one, was badly bruised and cut by being caught in a wire fence. Some of the wounds would not heal, although I tried many different medicines. Dr. Bell advised me to use MICHARD'S LINIMENT, and I used it first, then stronger as the sores began to look better, until after three weeks, the sores have healed, and but of all, the hair is growing well, and is NOT WHITE as is most always the case in horse wounds.

Cayenne Hotel is Surely 'Hot Stuff.'

Paris, July 24.—In consequence of the popularity of Cayenne, the French penal settlement, as a port of call for tourists, the government has sanctioned the construction there of a hotel to be run on novel lines—by ex-prisoners, many of whom refuse to leave the colony when their sentences are completed.

The proprietor was convicted of murder, his maitre d'hotel was an incorrigible rogue and vagabond, the waiters all criminals of some degree.

But they are all reformed, and tourists may seek refuge under their roof with equanimity.

The colony numbers 2,000, divided into settlements of twenty-four, over which an armed warder keeps guard. The death rate from fever is terrible, something like 50 per cent.

It would put one in mind of old times, said a sport on the bank last night, to hear the lively airs disengaged by the C.L.B. band.

King Lays Stone of Australia's New London Building.

London, July 24.—Amid great pomp King George, dressed in an Admiral's Uniform, to-day laid the foundation stone of the Australian Government's building, which is to be erected on the Aldwych site, in the Strand.

Receiving His Majesty, Sir George Reid, High Commissioner in London for Australia, said:—

"I feel I need not remind your Majesty that this new building will proclaim something more than the industrial growth of Australia. It will also testify to the increasing intimacy and harmony of the political relationship between the Mother and the daughter lands."

"Some ties have gone, but the ties that really do unite Great Britain and the Dominions beyond the seas, are mutual betterment, pride of race, grandeur of tradition, glory of achievement and loyalty to the throne, and a resolve to stand shoulder to shoulder when our King calls. All these remain and they are strengthened by the light of time."

King Congratulates the Government.

The King in his reply congratulated the Australian Government on the acquisition of such a splendid site and the noble structure which it was proposed to erect.

"When completed," continued His Majesty, "the building will not only serve those useful purposes for which it is designed, but will also call to the mind of all who pass by the immense opportunities and limitless resources of the great continent under the Southern Cross."

"Nothing can gratify me more than the testimony which you bear to the growing sense of kinship and unity which pervades the self-governing communities of the Empire, and to those indissoluble ties which knit them to one another and to my throne."

"I am well assured that as in past in any national emergency Australia will be ready to play her part for the common cause and that the loyalty of her sons will never be appealed to in vain. (Cheers.)"

Among the prominent people present were Lord Strathcona, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Sir Richard Solomon, Earl Grey and the Japanese Ambassador.

Mme. Ada Crossley, the famous Australian singer, rendered the National Anthem.

Priest Died in Pulpit.

Quebec, July 21.—While preaching this morning from the pulpit in the chapel of the Franciscan Monastery, town of Montcalm, Rev. Father Victorin de la Ruelle, dropped suddenly and expired. The awful suddenness of the fatality spread consternation through the large number of worshippers who were assisting at the Mass of Rev. Archdeacon Godbout, who was ordained yesterday. Father de la Ruelle expired just as he fell, and when he was reached he was beyond all aid, and nothing could be done by the physicians who were called in.

Father de la Ruelle was 33 years of age and had been 13 years with the Order. He was born in Belgium. Death is attributed to heart trouble, from which he suffered acutely.

New York, July 20.—Tom McCarey, fight manager of Lost Angeles, today wired Joe Jeanette, the colored heavy weight, an offer to meet Sam Langford, the Boston "tar baby," in a 20-round bout at Vernon, Calif., at an early date, and Jeanette has accepted the offer. After his fight with Langford, Jeanette will sail for Paris where he is signed for two bouts, the first of which takes place early in October.

Such is Fame.

James Jimpson stole a million bones, a bunch of stocks and deeds; and then the press, in thunder tones, proclaimed his mighty deeds. The country echoed with the fame of Jim, who was a bird; in every hut and hall his name became a household word. And every day you read of Jim in papers and in books, and murrur, while your eyes grow dim, "The country's full of crooks." Tom Teller, in the village bank, has worked for thirty years; all day the money's tinnest clink is sounding in his ears, and never has he swiped a plank from all that pile of rocks; and never has he packed a trunk with stolen bonds or stocks. As honest as the day is long, he goes his useful way; if his accounts were one cent wrong, he'd sweat for half a day. No correspondents him indict in red hot telegrams; as covy, men who walk aright aren't worth so many dimes. And so the news is full of Jims, and readers sadly wail: "The land is full of erner limbs who ought to be in jail!" But there are, fifty Toms on deck for every Jimlike skate; and where you see one moral wreck, a hundred men are straight. The upright men don't make a noise in yellow public prints, nor paint the country with the boys, in striking, lurid tints.

Ammunition Famine.

Date of Brigade Shoot May Be Extended.

The C. I. B., C. C. C. and Highlanders are now getting in trim for the annual brigade shoot and much rivalry exists amongst the members of each battalion. We learn from those who will take part that there is a shortage of ammunition in the city; also the military stores of the brigades are consumed, consequently practice is hampered greatly and it is thought that the proposed date for the shoot will be extended.

Fishery Looks Bad.

Within the past fortnight there has not been fifty quintals of fish taken by trypis at Quidi Vidi and during the same period hook and liners got practically nothing.

Yesterday there was a fair sign of cod on the local grounds and trypis averaged from five to twenty quintals; hand liners got a small share also.

Labrador Mail Service

Not Satisfactory—Fisherman Gives the Telegram a Sample of Many Grievances Complain of the Two-Boat Labrador Service.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—No greater proof can you find of the scarcity of fish in this neighbourhood than to get a rather lengthy epistle from one who is solely dependent on the voyage of cod for the maintenance of himself and family.

I must tell you at the beginning that I am not writing for the mere pleasure there is in writing, but to show up the useless waste of public money in putting two steamers on this coast this summer. It is no earthly use to the fishermen, and only an opportunity for the Government to recompense a few heeler's and to tune them up to work again to place the party in power this fall. I have been waiting for some other person to make the complaints, as my conscience is continually bringing me back four years ago and saying "I told you so." My scribble, which is about the mail boats and mail service, will begin with the first trip of the Kyle. She came to Spear Harbor; this is about two miles from this place. Of course we went over for our mails as usual but there were no letters or papers for us. The next that called was the Invermore. She does not call at Spear Harbor, and had to get into a harbor about four miles from this place or account of ice conditions. Well, sir we got into our boat and went to her. The mail man found some letters and papers for us then. They were scattered about the mail room, and I don't believe we would get them this summer had we not gone on board. We fishermen believe that the mail officer when nearing a harbor should have all the mail matter for that place put together and not be compelled to go all over the place when people call for their mail. On the Kyle's first trip she brought our mail and landed it at Francis Harbor. We did not get that mail for three weeks, as that place is about 8 miles from here, and but for a boat happening to go down there we would not have that mail yet. These people seem to care very little about mails, even letters, but a paper is apparently thought very little of. They appear to do as they please, and forget that they themselves, their friends and all the other Government officials are the servants of we (the fishermen) of Newfoundland. Take away the fishery, sir, and the bottom will fall completely out of our country; all the other industries are side issues but the fishery is the mainstay. But to continue my remarks, Spear Harbor is a big place for a steamer to get around, and there is no more suitable harbor on the Labrador shore, but still she never comes in, for what reason I do not know. The same thing happens on very many places on the coast, while at the same time we are told by some of the crew that she generally stays at St. John's from Sunday forenoon until Thursday afternoon. Well, the last time the Kyle went up I had to go on board to get relief for a sick person. I "ran" from this place to Spear Harbor. I had to hustle to catch her, and when I got there she was just coming in around Spear Point. Then I got in a trap boat and sculled to the steamer, over a mile distant, and all this when she should have called in the harbor, even if it took a few minutes of the time the ship's crew would have to stay with their friends in the city. But to make matters worse, just as I got alongside she was struck astern, and I was forced far away from the ship's side. (You understand, she had no anchor out, and was drifting about waiting for the mail boat just inside the headlands.) This sort of treatment was unequalled for, and especially on an election year, when we should be fed with milk and honey. But I don't blame the Government so much as the clique who is attached to them, and who appear to possess a feeling of their own importance and the inferiority of the fishermen. I heard a story one time, Mr. Editor, of an old Irish lady whose house was infested with rats, and after trying every other remedy she set fire to the place, saying "I'll fix ye long tail chaps now." In November the electors will have their chance to "square" matters up and the present incapables will be given a back seat.

What I complain of here is without doubt the same state of affairs all along the coast. The two-boat service is no better, and in fact not so good in many respects, as the one boat. They call at the harbors allotted to them, and if conditions are not favourable you can scarcely tell where they will touch in.

With a boat of the Kyle's class on the shore a fortnightly trip would be much more satisfactory and thousands of dollars would be saved to the country.

Apologizing for asking for so much space, but assuring you that there is need for it, I am,

Love in the Quicksands

Love cannot last unless it has a solid foundation. Many couples who start out with solid ground under their feet come to a stage when the firmness fails and threatens to turn to quicksand.

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the marriage that fails after this point could be saved if only the husband and wife would be tolerant and patient, and try to get each other's point of view. If a man saw his business degenerating because of a weak point in his system, he would put all his energy into strengthening that spot. If a mother saw her child's health weakening because of malnutrition she would put all her mind upon feeding him. Preserving the success of a marriage is as important as preserving business or the health of a child. It would seem only reasonable to analyze the cause of the weakening and then strengthen it; yet most couples proceed to complete the weakness. They think they are analyzing and generally the analysis of each simmers down to a brooding consideration of the faults of the other and to the conviction that oneself is badly treated.

The point is not at all who is in the wrong; the point is that the marriage ought to be saved. As a rule, when the foundations of such a marriage are slipping from solid ground to quicksand, it is not always the one who is in the wrong who can save it, but often the one who is in the right. The matter is usually one not of right and wrong but of expediency and of action which will secure the happiest results in the long run. One or other of the two, usually the one who loves the more or has more wisdom and largeness of spirit must yield the more, and forget to insist on his or her rights. In nine cases out of ten in such a marriage it is the woman who draws the couple back upon a safe foundation.—Maude Radford Warren in Woman's World for Aug.

Feildians Win.

The Feildians and B. I. S. were scheduled to play a football match last evening. The B. I. S. team did not turn up, consequently the game went by default to the Feildians. This is certainly a clear evidence that interest in football is gone. Rather than disappoint the spectators the Feildians played a picked team from the grand stand and won by three goals to none.

Lobbying.

Lobbying is a genteel and unobtrusive pursuit which consists in buying other people's influence for what it is worth, ranging from a $2 bill to a champagne supper. It is the cheapest known method of securing votes which otherwise would come as high as a house and lot.

The lobbyist is a highly-paid sleuth who is always ready to take credit for the defeat of a measure with which he had nothing to do. It is nothing uncommon for an able lobbyist to beat an important bill which he did not know was pending, but which is good for a few hundred on his expense account.

There are two kinds of lobbying—good and bad. The good lobbyist is one who persuades the city council to pave a street on which we own property and which is about ready for a sale of town lots at $80 per front foot. The lobbyist who can induce the board of supervisors to spend all of the township road fund in front of his farm is a public-spirited citizen, while the neighbour abutting on the east who gets out an injunction to prevent this righteous proceeding is a reactionary of the lowest type.

Lobbying is an ancient practice and originated with Ab-er's successful attempt to talk his brother out of a mess of pottage. As a rule, the lobbyist is a good deal sharper than the people he deals with, and sometimes they never discover the existence of a lobby until served with a subpoena by the sergeant at arms. Members of congress who can't tell a lobby after it has paid their campaign expenses are lacking in one or two important requisites for the public service—a chaperone or a conscience.

Congressional lobbying is paid for by the common people, who can't see any difference in the price of beef and granulated sugar. The ultimate consumer does not object to paying the hotel and railroad expenses of a first-rate lobby if it will prevent the price of hard coal from jumping ten cents a ton every month in the year. But when a lobby sits around and sees premium bacon put where it can't be reached with a stepladder, it assumes a criminal aspect at once.

Eat Whatever You Relish.

Sometimes the digestive machinery gets away off. No kind of Food looks good to you. You need Stafford's Prescription "A."

It is a temporary artificial digestive process to do the work until the stomach recovers normal conditions. Many people think Pepsin is the thing to take. Four times out of five they are wrong. Pepsin will digest eggs, meat, etc., but has no effect on starchy foods like bread, potatoes, cake, pudding—in fact most of the eatables that cause the trouble.

Stafford's Prescription "A" is the thing. It contains all the valuable ingredients for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis, and nervous Dyspepsia, etc.

As what you like, Stafford's Prescription "A" will do the rest.

A New Method of Anaesthesia.

London, July 25.—Great interest was taken in the meeting of the British Medical Association at Brighton yesterday, when Sir Berkeley Moynihan, professor of Clinical Surgery in the University of Leeds, described the discovery by the American surgeon Geo. W. Crile, of Chile, Ohio, of a method of anaesthesia, whereby the area of operation can be shut off for several days if necessary.

The Daily Express, commenting editorially, considers that the discovery is perhaps one of the greatest in modern history.

Death Follows Fall Into Boiling Water.

Rechristened Elsie.

Last evening the race boat Nina, which was built four years ago by Mr. John Taylor, shipwright, and recently presented to the Church Lads' Brigade, was re-named and launched at the lake side. The ceremony was a pleasing one, and was witnessed by hundreds of people including Lt.-Col. Rendell and numerous other ardent supporters of the C.L.B. The rechristening was done by Miss Taylor, daughter of the builder, who broke a bottle of champagne over the bow and called the boat the "Elsie T." her own name. Then Mr. C. E. Hunt, President of the Boat Club, spoke thanking Miss Taylor and her father and called for three cheers for both of them as well as for the "Elsie T." This request was responded to enthusiastically after which the Battalion's Band discoursed "Jolly Auld." The C.L.B. crew, coxswained by "Sam" Rbsary, took the first spin in the "Elsie T." and were cheered heartily. Following this refreshments were served in the Boat House.

Mr. J. W. Myers Sings

THE "PORT OF MISSING SHIPS."
Manager Kieley, of the Nickel Theatre, gave patrons a most interesting programme last evening. The principal picture was "At the Eleventh Hour," a powerful social drama by the Vitagraph Co. In this picture the costumes are magnificent and Mr. Myers sang two beautiful solos—"The Port of Missing Ships," and "To Have, to Hold, to Love." Both are beautifully illustrated, and Mr. Myers sang them in such a manner that the audience was charmed and heaped applause on the singer. The programme will be repeated this evening and all patrons should not fail to attend.

FINN—MURPHY.
At the R. C. Cathedral yesterday afternoon the marriage of Miss Kitty Murphy and Mr. M. Finn was solemnized by the Rt. Rev. Mons. Roche. The bride who was prettily costumed, was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Murphy and Miss Nellie Finn, sister of the groom. Mr. T. Finn was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's mother. Then the bridal party drove to Waterford Bridge and joined the outgoing train for Holyrood to spend the honeymoon. A number of useful and costly presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Finn.

Binding and Printing News.

Owing to the rapid growth of our BINDING AND PRINTING DEPARTMENTS, we have been compelled to seek larger quarters for this branch of our business. We have, therefore, purchased the Daymond Building, next to the Trade Review Office, on Duckworth Street, and have just moved there. This gives them three times more space than they occupied in our Water Street Store. The printing plant now has the whole street floor, while the Bindery occupies both the floors above. Now, with greater space, more and better machinery, and a large staff of expert rulers, printers and binders, we are prepared to fill your every order from the smallest label to the largest special account book. The price will be right, and the workmanship cannot be excelled. A stock, a staff and a store especially adapted for commercial printing. We specialize in making loose leaf sheets for all binders, in special account books and in bill heads, statements, envelopes, bills of lading and commercial forms generally. See samples of the work we have done and get our prices. We have over FIVE MILLION ENVELOPES in stock, and these we can give you printed from $1.70 per 1,000 up.
