effectives and in the struggle the French took some prisoners.

It has been said in this summary that the Germans must shorten their lines in the calculable future if they wish to secure reinforcements for their central reserve of 50 divisions, which they employ on offensives. It may well be that the German high command feels the imperative need of securing more men to send to the help of secure a decision in France by breaking the French front. But the ficial statement that the French had brought 51 divisions into action on this front, and a statement by Major Moraht in the German press, that the Germans are now opposed by two to one at Verdun. About one man to three is sufficient to put up an adequate defence. The ion of the puzzle must lie in the proposition that the German neral staff has reason to believe that the French are preparing to ttack them from the Verdun salient. The military value of this alient to the French, and its corresponding military danger to the mans, lies in the fact that a short French advance from Verdun rould cut off the Germans in western France from their communications with Metz, and would endanger and perhaps also cut off their amunication with Luxemburg. So the renewal of the German duestion remains to be decided, why do the Germans not cut their losses by attacking the French at some easier point than Verdun, the strongest sector in the French battle line? Why do they continue their mad dance of death before Mort Homme and Hill 304 and the Louvemont ridge? Why does the great general staff, acting as it considers in the best interests of Germany, choose to continue a battle which seems to be hopeless?

An apparent inkling of the solution is given in a German official statement that the French had brought 51 divisions into action

LONDON, May 10.—(6.10 p.m.)—In official circles here it is not anticipated that the sinking of the White Star Liner Cymric will cause a breach between Germany and the United States, while, according to the admiralty, the Cymric was an ordinary freighter, on which the government was sending freight in common with private shippers. The fact that no Americans were on board, and the doubtful status of the ship, create a belief that Washington is hardly likely to make an issue of the sinking.

It is known that American officials here are making only the usual enquiries.

Then the leader of the opposition had said that in every province the majority must rule, and that the only remedy for the minority was to agitate until they won the majority over to their way of thinking.

Some of the statements contained in the resolution before the house were unobjectionable, but that was no reason why we should adopt it. The house would not be justified in affirming the ten commandments as a rule of conduct, calling the Ontario Legislature's attention to it and admonishing that hody to pay better attention to them hereafter. Everything for a Lively Game of Tennis

T HE first and probably the most important thing to do to get ready for your season's fun at tennis is to make certain the ground is as level and smooth as is possible to make it. It may be a bit soft and uneven, especially at the beginning of the season, and so an iron roller will be an important acquisition to the court just now, as well as throughout the season when it is necessary to roll it after each fall of rain.

We show a variety of sizes in lawn rollers in the basement that are all made of heavy, water tight, shell steel and fitted with roller bearings and weighted handles. The drums are the Germans, who were on the offensive at Verdun, all that month, lost

German lists showed totals of over 2,500,000 and the public is asked to believe that the German casualties in the past nine months have only been something less than 300,000. As a matter of record the total German losses for the first seventeen months of the war have been discussed and tabulated by every military statistician in Europe and the conclusions of all these men are approximately about the same, namely, that the Ger-three million permanently disabled and prisoners. The margin of difference between the calculations of the various statisticians is a quarter of a million, or 125,000 more or 125,000 less than the four million. There is nothing inherently improbable in these figures. They only indicate a permanent loss of 6 per cent, a month for the German units engaged in the campaign. This corresponds roughly with the permanent allied losses

AT THE HIPPODROME.

A feature playlet, "The Southern Porch Party," which provides an unlimited range for fine scenic effect, and which combines some of the southern atmosphere in its make-up, is the headliner for the Hippodrome next week. The management has also been fortunate enough to secure a Red Letter photo-play, entitled "A Youth of Fortune," introducing the popular Broadway stars, Carter De Haven and Flora Parker De Haven, in an up-to-the-minute college and society drama, filled with love, thrills, detectives and intrigue. Britt Wood appears in the amusing playlet, "When Ruben Came to Town." and Jesse Standish features in "The Pride of the Regiment," Loughlin's Dogs, real dog actors, show to what extent it is possible to train domestic animals, and Williams and Christie, the musical pair, complete a bill filled with exceptionally high-class offerings.

"MY LADY'S SLIPPER."

At the Strand today and for the At the Strand today and for the balance of this week the headliner at the Strand Theatre will be "My Lady's Slipper," with beautiful Anita Stewart in the leading role. From the time of Cinderella to the present day it is a lady's slipper around which the hearts and hopes of men have centred—a lady's slipper which has played havoc with our hearts and not seldom with our fortunes. In this delightful photo-play of Paris in the reign of Louis, the "Sun King," Anita. Stewart is seen at her very best. The play is one with a plot at once convincing and compelling. The story is of intense human interest and the action is of the finest possible calibre.

NURSE CAVELL'S MARTYROOM

"The Martyrdom of Nurse Cavell," the thrilling photoplay tribute to the memory of England's noblest heroine, is attracting large crowds to the Gayety Theatre this week. Everyone who has seen it has been struck by the tense realism with which the tragic events are depicted leading up to Nurse Cavell's supreme sacrifice before the German bullets. The scenes of her trial and execution and her unfalling steadfastness in the presence of the German murderers commands these admiration of all. While the final scenes, showing her last prayers in her cell and the last march into the Brussels prison yard, are on his screen, Miss Virginia Kellogg Waite's rich soprano voice is heard in the solemn benediction of "Abide With Me" to organ accompaniment, and the effect is indescribably affecting.

In order that all the school children may have an opportunity of witnessing this thrilling patriotic lesson, the 208th Irish-Canadian Battalion has made arrangements with the consent of the board of education to put on special matinees for them from 4 to 6 p.m. daily. Original Proposal.

He first sought information conberning the manufacture of fuses at the request of W. H. Banfield & Sons, Toronto, the Canadian representatives of his American interests. A Gen. MacDonald informed him that the shell committee was the only medium thru which to solicit fuse business. He told of his first interview with the committee, the proposal he laid before his business partner, Patter-

Backed Up Patterson. All the discussion up to this point, he said, had centred on the manufacture of fuses in Canada. This was be-

Witness corroborated Mr. Patterson in his story of their efforts to secure loading facilities in Canada, and the refusal of the Banfield concern to undertake the manufacture of compressions. manufacture of component parts. Patterson and himself, witness said, endeavored also to secure experts in Canada, but failed. On April 24, they again met the shell committee and laid he difficulties in the way of Canadian

The shell committee, he said, was afil very anxious to have the goods manufactured in Canada. It was at witness' suggestion that in the early witness' suggestion that in the early part of May Col. Toronto is With Us Heart and Soul!

Right heartily have many friends come forward already with big, generous subscriptions. One lady gave $5,000. A manufacturer, who employs many women, volunteered $1,000. Cheques for $500 are being received.

Women in at least one large factory have opened up a subscription list among their friends and associates. It is hoped that the spirit of giving will become contagious all over the land. For be it remembered there is but one hospital in all Canada where a woman, too poor to pay, may receive treatment by a physician of her own sex.

Why in the world haven't such necessary hospitals been amply provided long ago? This is the kind of suffering the generous public never hear about. Even the poor victims themselves haven't the courage to make known their plight much less to accept attention from physicians of other than their own sex.

Everybody Wants To Help The Women's College Hospital

The Women's College Hospital with only a dozen public ward beds has shown how vast and pressing the need really is. Only ten months ago the present hospital opened. To-day it is turning away patients.

The campaign has started off with a swing. Endorsements and encouragement are heard on every side. Toronto is with us heart and soul. We hope, too, that our diffi-cult message has reached the hearts of the good folks in the towns and eities of Ontario—everywhere.

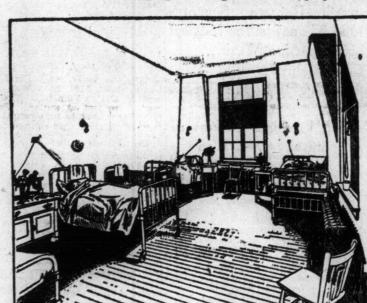

Everybody can help - every. body's help is needed. The new buildings must be begun at the earliest date possible. Let us all-EVERYBODY—join in and make this a rousing three-day whirlwind campaign of generosity. Let us make sure that not a dollar less than the $120,000 needed will be subscribed. Oh, how those silent, suffering women will thank you-for some of them have waited for twenty years

Please be generous. A part of your subscription may be paid down -the balance may be extended over a period of two years.

If our canvassers do not reach you in good time, send in your subscription by cheque, post-office order or registered letter to Mrs. F. G. Clarke, Campaign Treasurer, 11½ Queen Street East, Toronto. Make cheques and money orders payable to Mrs. E. G. Charke. See coupon

It has voiced solitary labor member in the Ontarithe unanimous sentiments of all real Americans as no other utterance of the president's has done. Such a concurrence of opinion among the newspapers of the United States is only met with when the national heart has been touched and the national mind given expression. The New York Times has never been anti-German in its attitude, but it comes out in unmeasured terms in praise of President Wilson's final

There is henceforth to be no room for mistakes. "A scrupulous execution" of the terms of Germany's undertaking is to be the rule. Violation of these undertakings will at once lead to the breaking off of diplomatic power is swept aside. The words are unequivocal, and Germany must now know that she can have war with the United States any moment she likes.

There are other nations besides Great Britain to be considered among the allies, and Germany's attempt to single out Great Britain as her enemy in chief indicates that beneath all her professions and the alleged cause of the war in the assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince, it was Great not in the world, and those who are Britain that Germany aimed at. The Women's College Hospital Among the many claims that have been brought before the public during these war times, it is natural that some which in happier days would receive prompt attention fail to get the support that is indispensable. The Women's College Hospital is an intitution with peculiar claims upon all who entertain a regard for the finer aspects of humanitarian endeavor. The nature of women makes it difficult for them in many cases to submit to the publicity of the ordinary hospital with the same degree of willingness that may be expected from men. A hospital clinic for a woman of delicate feelings where a doctor and a crowd of students, however gentle and courteous, are all males, is something to which no man would care to subject his own women.

It is to provide for such cases that the College Hospital has been organized, A small dispensary in Seaton street, was compelled to install beds. Then it was found necessary to open the present hospital at 125 Rushol road. After ten months it is overcrowded. Thirty beds are needed instead of a dozen. The operating room must be enlarged.

For Medical Inspection. Directly the board of education's es timates were reached Trustee Shaw asked permission to address the council on the amount required for medic inspection purposes. He explained that the organization of the medical department was begun according to statute in 1910. In contending that the board had in every way tried to follow out the policy of retrenchment, he said that since 1913 they had been called upon to take care of 13,000 extra children, and yet they only asked for an increase of $10,000. He appealed to the members to grant the amount, as the members to grant the amount, as medical inspection in the public schools was absolutely necessary.

Trustee Brown followed with an ex-

Ald. Ball moved that the item of $71.-050 should be reinserted in the estimates, and in so doing said that it seemed to him that the whole thing could easily have been settled at a conference between the two boards. He maintained that by cutting the amount out the council would be only precipitating a legal fight between the two bodies. They would attain no object by so doing, and would not make any headway. He urged the assimilation of the two departments.

Ald. McBride, before criticizing the board of control as a whole, attacked the estimates as current expenditure, however, but the council ruled that it should be raised as proposed.

He exclaimed that the whole matter was childish from beginning to end, and it was absurd to imagine for one moment that the trustees of the board of education were not just as capable as the members of the city council.

Controller Cameron denied the charges that the board had shown antagonism to the board of education in the fight before the committee of the legislature or at any other time. He declared that the whole affair had been regarded by him as a business matter, and before taking action he had acted on the advice of the legal department.

Referring to the duplication in the work of the two departments, he maintained that the nurses of the school board had no authority to go into the homes, which was the work of the city medical department. Manning Loses Pitchers' Battle With Jarman-Losers Put Up Good Exhibition.

An attempt to revive horse racing in Chicago was formally announced yesterday on behalf of the Illinois Jockey Club, recently incorporated. It is planned to hold a meet July 1-15 at Hawthorne track and to offer a purse of $10,000 for a race to be known as the American Derby. Enforcement of the law against betting caused the close of the Chicago tracks in 1904.

Tailoring Supremacy

THE SUIT OR TOPCOAT to measure here is not just an $18 garment. Scotland Woolen Mills Suits and Topcoats at $18 are like others only in price.

Anybody can make a suit or topper for $18. Our supremacy lies chiefly in that splendid "Direct From the Mills" system, which enables us to do better for you than others.

We tailor every garment complete in our own tailor shops. The same class of tailors do the work on S. W. M. Suits at $18 as on suits sold elsewhere at $35.

Men who formerly paid $25, $30 and $35 for their clothes are today our most enthusiastic "boosters." No Better Time to Come In Than Now

These Suits Are Designed to Please "Hard-to-Please" Men

IN planning the styles of our spring suits we didn't follow the line of least resistance. We figured if we could please the "hard-to-please" men that we'd be sure to satisfy all men.

THEREFORE, these suits, planned to withstand the criticisms of the overcritical and sure to arouse the genuine enthusiasm of every man in Toronto.

CANADIAN HORSE BREEDERS WILL PRESENT AMBULANCE

This week the Horse Breeders' Associations in Canada and kindred organizations will present to the minister of militia a fully-equipped Blue Cross field ambulance for the use of the Canadian forces at the front. The cutfit complete comprises an ambulance and transport wason and twenty horses, four to haul the ambulance and transport, and sixteen for the use of the Veterinary Corps in their work at the front. Everything, including harness, saddles, blankets, etc.,

It might be stated that about $300 is needed to complete the fund and pay for everything provided. This deficit would not have occurred had the Percheron society made the grant expected of it. The committee are, however, making an appeal to horse lovers to make up this amount, and believe they will do so when they learn of the need. The secretary or the treasurer of the fund will be glad to receive donations at the committee's headquarters, 181 Simcoe street, Toronto.

Sir Sam Hughes Will Be in

for Blue Cross Association—To Cost Six Thousand Fully Equipped.

Of less than $30, or a little more than one-half of one per cent. The buying of the horses, no light task, and securing other equipment has been done at a minimum of expense, thus placing the Canadian Blue Cros Field ambulance Fund almost in a class by itself among the patriotic institutions for low cost in gund have given their time and services free.

DOME ORE BODIES

Big Glory Hole With Area of Ten

No Approximate Estimate of Tonnages Has Yet Been .

ublic attention has been spected to the Pearl Lake sectorcupine, and the consolidation recently announced by the Can-adian Mining and Finance Co., Limi-icd. Each of this 2 1-3 miles is the very recently has taken an option on the Dome Extension adjoining on the east; 46,000 shares of the Dome are to be transferred in payment. At the present price of the stock this amounts to the tidy sum of $1.288,000

The Dome Extension holds 200 acres and if the deal goes thru the Dome Consolidated will have the same acreage as the Hollinger Consolidated; this however is merely a coincidence, for acreage alone does not make a mine. The Timiskaming series of fragmental rocks are exposed on a small section of the Dome properties, and the mining now going on is near its contact with the Keewatin volcanics. Between the Dome and the Dome Extension there is about a quarter of a mile on which the auriferous formation does not show on the surface, but it is proved on both sides, and or "glory hole" elliptical in shape, and having a total area of about 10 acres; over 90 per cent, of this material from this has been blasted out and sent to the mill during the past four years, and values have averaged about $5 per ton. This is a remarkable recthan 10 per cent. of its contents was discarded as waste. It may be said without fear of con-adiction that there is no other gold aine in the world capable of making a equal profit from quarrying operations on such an extensive scale. ent is now going on beyond the limits of the quarry within an area 1500 x 400 feet, and it is proved that the potentially productive ground extends considerably beyond these limits. Several enormous shoots of ore have been met with. At the 600-foot level than the considerably by 215 feet long by ere is an ore body 315 feet long by feet wide, carrying $11 per ton. liues have been improving below 300 tt, and it is probable that in the near tuture the ore will be equal in grade to that of the Hollinger Consolidated. at the Dome, but there has to some extent at the Consolidated. But now that the latter are preparing to crush 3500 tons of ore per day they will, naturally, have to use increasing tonnages of iow-grade ore.

The ore bodies at the Dome are so large, and occur over such an extensive area it will be several years yet before we are able even approximate-ly to estimate the enormous tonnages the market letter of a Toronto broker stated that ore occurred over a length of 1500 x 300 feet. If this continued to a depth of 5000 feet it would give 170,000,000 tons. At $8 per ton this would be $1,356,000,000. It is not probable that there is any continuous ore body of these dimensions, but there are many big shoots which may aggregate 100,000,000 tons when mined to great values. One can see in the Dome what has yet to be located in other mines of Porcupine, drifts showing veins up to 150 feet wide. This is remarkable when it is considered that No. 4 vein on the Hollinger, the largest in the mine, shows only 45 feet wide of ore.

An illustration of the Dome can be seen in the huge Glory Hole where the cre body was so wide it could not be mined from below like ordinary ore bodies. This huge amount of ore will average around $4 a ton.

Dome Not Low Grade.

The idea must not be gathered the that all Dome Mine's ore will run around $4 a ton. Some menths ago an official statement was sent out informing shareholders of the finding of a new ore body amounting to 375,000 tons of an average value of $15 a ton, or then known to contain values totaling $5,625,000. As development work is carried on to greater depths higher grade ore bodies are being constantly encountered. The official statement issued along with production figures in February said: "Several new strikes ly $1.25 per ton. In ore of this tenor profit is possible only when costs are reduced to the minimum, and the Juneau ore is being mined and treated

Dome have been framed with a view of reducing costs, and they are now about $2.50 per ton. At the Hollinger they run $1 higher. At both mines betterments and increases in tonnage are under way. This has a tendency issued along with production figures in hebruary said: "Several new strikes have been made at the Dome property recently, in ground where values were unlooked for. Among these is a crosseral way resemble those at the Hol-linger. There is however a scater tendency to form separate shoots or chimneys. At the Hollinger they are cut on the seventh level, thru twenty-seven feet of ore which averaged $9.90 more linear. It cannot however be said that this has any bearing on either quantity or value. It merely suggests that the force which opened the ore channels was exerted from a different angle and in a different Enormous Ore Reserves.

There has been a wonderful advancement in the physical condition of the Dome during the past year or so.

An opinion is commonly heard ex-pressed by mining men in Porcupine that the Dome has something like nine years of ore, based on the present mill capacity, blocked out above six hundred feet. This does not include the developments of the past few months below that depth and the results of extensive diamond drilling and other exploratory work.

Increased Production.
During 1915 Dome Mines milled 317, 578 tons of ore of a gross value of $1,-468,272, or an average of $4.56 a ton been found that the atmosphere affects the temperature even at that depth and Comparing the production of January 1915, with 23,220 tons of an average 1915. With 23,220 tons of an average value of $3.56 a ton, or a total of $82,$27. and December, with 30,120 tons of ore, averaging $5.34 a ton, or a total of $160,950.70, an idea of the growth of the Dome both in mill capacity and average values can be had. Since the first of this year to the end of March over a half million dollars in sold such the slight changes with the seasons are quite perceptible. Much more would this be the case in Porcupine. The cold air from above forced thru the deep workings would neutralize the increasing terms at the light in the light in depth.

Porcupine is rapidly swinging into line with the Rand. We have definitely settled down to the exclusive use of cyanide as against amalgamation. We are using stamps and many tube mills. We are effecting consolidations and thus reducing costs, and as Mr. Robbins intimates, are also guarding against the risk of loss from geological changes; and, lastly, we are aiming at handling ever increasins tonnages. Porcupine is indeed the only serious rival of the Rand. There is no other now appearing above the horizon in any part of the world.

Dome—A Great Mine.

The Dome Mines, commonly known as "Big Dome," is the rival of the Hollinger for pre-eminence in the Porcupine district. While the Dome is essentially a big medium grade proposition, it must not be considered a low grade mine. While it is perhaps a low grade proposition when compared grade proposition when compared alongside the Hollinger, McIntyre, or some other mines in the Hollinger-Fearl Lake section of the Porcupine gold area, it is not low grade when compared with some of the world's big mines and the gold content of its ore would be considered good pay ore in South Africa, for instance.

But, in considering the size of ore bodies, the Dome is the wonder of Porcupine. It has the largest bodies of payable ore in the camp and, consequently, can mine with greater facility

Silver Advances and the Silver Shares Follow Suit

The strength of the market for bar silver is best exemplified by unce. It took four days to force the price down four cents from 77%c to 78%c, and 8c was recovered in one day. But dealing with the actual commodity is the best indication of how strenuous is the demand for the white metal. One Cobalt company yesterday, made a sale at 80c an ounce. The New York Times, terday, made a sale at 80c an ounce for delivery July 1 next. New York Times, in a recent article, points the hoarding that is going on in silver owing to the belief that paper money will suffer a big depreciation at a later date and claims that this is one of the reasons for the unusual demand for silver metal and that the rise in price is of no temporary character. The Cobalt companies are going to make hay while the sun shines and have already started in on dumps and low grade veins to increase production. Big shipments of ore will be made as quickly as possible Like many other commodities new uses have been found of late years for silver and among them the silver production for the "movies" needs a supply that really counts in figuring up the world's demand. The drop in the price of silver gave some holders of Cobalt stocks cold feet and they released their holdings only to see them increase in price again yesterday. Gold stocks are liable to move concurrently with the securities and the Hollinger amalgamation will draw world wide attention of Porcupine. The Dome statement, it is said, will be a revelation and the finding of ore on the McIntyre Extension at 1,000 feet, has put the McIntyre in the gold producing class as nothing else could. The mining stocks are just beginning to get the attention that their

The present plan of will be removed. The present plan of increased mill capacity, thru the addition of ball mills, means an ultimate capacity of approximately 100,000 tons a month. Many changes are also being made to the sliming section of the quence, and some brokers are talking of a renewal of the big markets of

New Central Shaft.

To facilitate the handling of this enormous tonnage a central shaft is being sunk thru which all ore will be hoisted. Owing to some delays in the delivery of surface equipment this improvement has been held back but it is expected that the steel headframe, for which the foundations have been laid, will be erected shortly. Stations are being cut at all levels and preparations made for handling the ore on a big scale.

It has often been said that under-

It has often been said that under-ground developments at the Dome Mines are years ahead of the mill canew issue will be given for one of the old.

The bulls had their way pretty much in McIntyre. This issue, which has jumped back into the limelight after a protracted period of inactivity, continued to feature proceedings, breaking all previous high records by advancing to 127. And this advance was well maintained, the stock closing at the top price. This strength of Mc-Intyre is attributed to inside buying and also to big American interests, who are reported to be investing heavily in this public favorite.

West Dome Consolidated has been quiet for a long time, but came in for some buying yesterday. Reports from the property which is being aggressively developed are very favorable. The stock opened at 24 1-2 and jumped to 27 on the close. Vipond had a gain of four points to its credit for the day's proceedings, closing at 54. Mines are years ahead of the mill capacity but with this being remedied the Dome will no doubt be in shape by the end of this year to produce a great quantity of gold.

Up to the end of March this year the Dome Mines produced $5,086,187.29 in gold and are now paying dividends at the rate of $800,000 a year.

To Test Dome Extension.

The Dome Mine is now preparing to give the Dome Extension, on which it has an option to purchase, a thoro tryout. The Dome Extension adjoins the Dome Mines on the east and it has been known for some time that the Dome Mine's ore zone would dip into Dome Extension ground. For the Dome Extension to prove that the Dome ore zone does run into its property would be a big undertaking. It would involve the sinking of a shaft or diamond drilling to a depth of about 1000 feet volve the sinking of a shaft or diamond drilling to a depth of about 1000 feet before any ore would be encountered. The Dome, however, intends continuing the drift on the 700-foot level into Dome Extension property. There is a difference in the elevation of the surface of the two properties.

Practically all the work on the Dome Extension has been done some distance from the Dome Mines line. At 200 feet a big body of low-grade ore was encountered. At present some development work is being done on this but so far it has not proved to be commercial ore. mercial ore.

Changes at Dome Lake.

The Dome Lake is the only other producing mine in the Dome section of Porcupine. For some time the Dome Lake mill has been closed down while a cyanide agitation plant has been added. This should prove of great benefit as it is guaranteed to give an extraction of 95 per cent., whereas the old

Mining Notes

The Beaver Consolidated shaft is now down between 1570 and 1600 feet and very soon a station will be cut and development work started. Within a few weeks it ought to be shown whether the company's policy was the right one. Geologists contend that the lower contact will contain values equal with those on the upper levels from which Timiskaming and Beaver obtained their big values. Manager Culver has held the same opinion, with the result that the Beaver has the deepest shaft in the north country. The Beaver is getting ready a carload of milling concentrates for shipment.

Manager F. L Cuiver of the Beaver Consolidated received word from the manager of the McCane property in Kirkland Lake that a new vein, six inches in width, had been run into on a drift to the west from the 100-foot level. Samples of the ore have been sent to Cobalt to be assayed. The McCane property is under option to the Beaver and considerable development has been done by the Beaver Company

Some assays taken from the tail at Dome Lake last week showed values of only 40 cents to the ton remaining. This is identical with the Hollinger tailings values lost, and speaks well for the efficiency of the new cyanide plant. This is quite a contrast to the conditions previously obtaining, before the construction of the new cyanide plant, when, during the year 1915, in the 11,727 tons of ore treated $21,454,86 was loss in the tailings, equal to a loss of $1.83 per ton, a saving of $1.43

Mark Harris says: The present price of silver is directly responsible for increased efforts on the part of all silver producers in Northern Ontario, and will inevitably cause greater shipments than have ever been recorded, it is directly responsible for the opening of properties in the Cobalt-South Lorrain district. South Lorrain is among those first affected, because of the known values existing there; Beliellen is sacking high-grade ore; the old Wettlaufer, now operated by the Comfort Mining and Leasing Co., has made preparations to concentrate all the lower grades of ore produced. Currie is carrying on aggressive developments; the Lorrain Consolidated is starting off under the most favorable auspices. Mark Harris says: The present price recently in bar silver has been a welome friend to the Cobalt camp, and has incidentally benefited holders of has incidentally benefited holders of Cobalt securities.

In the case of Timiskaming the result has been far more important than the average person realizes. A summary of the position of this important producer gives rather cheerful results. Everyone familiar with conditions behind Cobalt stocks is aware that the known ore reserves of Timiskaming hands at 25 off the board.

The stronger tone in the Cobalts was directly due to the advance in silver. Timiskaming as usual discounted the higher price of silver opening at 69, selling up to 73 1-2 and closing at 72 1-2, a net gain of 3 1-2 points. McKinley - Darragh was stronger for the same reason, selling up a point from the opening at 67. Peterson Lake showed considerable

MARK HARRIS MINES and MINING

After my announcement in last Thursday's "World," re LOR. RAIN CONSOLIDATED, my Toronto office was fairly deluged with orders and letters of enquiry. Among the latter I found many who asked me to fully explain the meaning of underwriting and options.

Underwriting and Options are so familiar to every broker that one often makes the error of thinking that all laymen understand financial terms, whereas when one thinks the matter over, there is no more reason for the shopkeeper, manufacturer or artisan to understand underwriting, options and numerous other financial terms. than for the brokers to know all the technical words of farming, manufacturing or trade.

When a broker underwrites stock or a bond issue for a company, it means in simple language that he signs a contract in which he agrees within a certain period of time to purchase so many shares of stock at some stated price.

For instance, I have underwritten 250,000 shares of the treasury stock of Lorrain Consolidated Mines, Ltd., at 20 cents per share net to the treasury of the Company. Later I offered 100,000 shares to my clients at 22 cents. For the sake of illustration, let us assume that only 90,000 shares were subscribed for, which would leave 10. 000 shares on our hands.

Therefore, although only 90,000 shares were subscribed, I must pay in full for 100,000, thereby purchasing what my customers did not take.

In underwriting 250,000 shares, I have obligated my firm to take this amount of stock at 20 cents per share, even if my customers did not purchase a share, and I think your own common sense will tell you that I have offered you an exceptional opportunity by placing 100,000 shares of this stock within your reach, at the low figure

The fact that I have purchased 150,000 shares at 20 cents over and above what I am offering clients, is the very best evidence of my sincere belief in the future of the Company, and in allowing friends and clients to buy in small lots at 22 cents. I am doing something that is unique in underwriting.

In addition to offering this treasury stock at an advance of only 2 cents per share, I also am offering with every order of 1000 shares an option, good for sixty days, on an additional 2000 shares at 25 cents per share, irrespective of what the market value may be.

This means, I am giving you something for nothing, because give you the option free of charge and unless the market price of Lorrain Consolidated was above 25 cents no one would care to exercise his option.

When a broker gives a client an option, he simply gives him a letter stating that at any time within the date mentioned, the broker will deliver a certain amount of stock at a certain price.

The options I gave stated that at any time within sixty days, I would deliver double the amount purchased at 25 cents per share, therefore, after the stock is listed on the exchanges, my clients have only to watch the market quotations and should Lorrain Consolidated sell at 30, 40 or 50 cents per share, they can immediately write or wire me to deliver them the amount of stock called for in their option at 25 cents per share.

With silver at record breaking prices today, and going higher every week, it looks like a certainty that all good silver stocks will sell at much higher prices and Lorrain Consolidated, being a good silver stock, should share in this big advance.

Only last September, silver was selling at 46 1/8 cents per ounce —today it is over 76, an advance of 30 cents, and unless all the known signs fail, it will be worth $1 or more an ounce before long.

Do you realize what this all means for producing silver mines? Just to bring the full meaning home to you, let us take a parallel example. Suppose through some economic reason connected with supply and demand that the earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railroad were just doubled this year, also that the prospects for these greatly increased earnings to continue for many years were extremely good—do you know what this would mean for Canadian Pacific stockholders?

It would mean that the price of Canadian Pacific stock would immediately advance from its present figure, $168 per share, to above $300 and every stockholder owning stock valued at $5000 today could, if he so desired, dispose of his holdings at $10,000 or more.

Putting it another way, let us assume you own a large farm of 1000 acres, for which you paid $100 per acre. Suppose you had 900 acres of wheat ready for the harvest when wheat suddenly advanced from $1.00 to $2.00 a bushel, with every indication that it would sell at $2.00 or more a bushel for many years. Would you sell your farm for $125 or $150 an acre? Certainly not. You would know it was good value at $200 or more, and if you really wanted to sell, you could no doubt find many buyers, for the profits on wheat at $2.00 would be considerably more than double what it was at $1.00, for the second dollar advance is all clear profit. whereas there is the big expense of sowing, raising and harvesting to be deducted from the first price.

This in a nutshell is the situation confronting all good producng silver mines and I would not be at all surprised to see many stocks selling at double their present value before 1916 ends.

The cost of producing silver in the Cobalt district is decreasing hrough new and scientific methods, while the metal itself is going higher all the time. The result is inevitable—values must go up.

My sincere advice is to secure an interest in some good silver property today. This you can do by purchasing its shares and as I said last week, LORRAIN CONSOLIDATED IS THE BEST SILVER OFFERING I KNOW.

After these few shares are gone, the only way you can purchase orrain Consolidated shares will be in the open market, and I feel quite safe in saying you will pay more than 22 cents for them.

We Have Made Two Records

To Which We Must Call Your Attention---

We advised the purchase of McIntyre at 45c. We have advised its purchase ever since then, consistently, persistently, and all the time. Today McIntyre is 1.30 bid, and spectacular news coming from the mine.

We advised our friends and our clients to buy BOSTON AND MONTANA at 35c on February 7th. We have consistently and persistently urged its purchase ever since. Today it is quoted at 1.25 firm, and gives every indication of going much

We can see no good reason why LORRAIN CONSOLIDATED should not repeat the record made by McINTYRE and BOSTON AND MONTANA.

MARKET NOTES.

When The World reporter first visited the cattle market as reporter, 19 years ago, Charles Zeagman, jr., was buying buils for the late William Levack for export. Altho a boy then, he was a good judge and a good buyer. He is evidently a good seller of buils, ys he sold two choice butcher buils at $8.50 per cwt. yesterday; this is the highest price we have heard of thus far.

WITH STRONG MARK WITH STRONG MARKET

New Rush of Buying Carries Prices to Higher Levels.

MONTREAL, May 10.—Following the strong market of Tuesday, a new rush of buying this morning carried prices of representative sharps to higher levels, in some cases to the highest of the year. Detroit passed its previous high record of 113 by nearly five points. Iron rose 1½ to 53, its best price of the year, while Steel of Canada, on an advance of 2½ to 62½, came within a half of the highest price on record. Other features were Scotia, which equaled the best price of many years, 118, and Cement, which equaled its high record quotation of 65. Early gains of varying degree were recorded by other stocks, in which activity was on a smaller scale, among them Car, Steamships pid., Canadian Cottons. Ames-Holden, Canadian Locomotive and Macdonald.

Montreal Power was active and rose 2%.

Total business amounted to 30,980 shares, 505 mines and $20,900 bonds. MISSOURI PACIFIC WOES.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Foreclosure proceedings based on a default of interests on $10,000,000 collateral mortgage bonds were brought against the Missouri Pacific Railway in the federal district court today by the Bankers' Trust Co., which holds the bonds as security.

The action follows litigation instituted in Missouri some time ago to foreclose the first and refunding mortgage of the road, for which a receiver was appointed last year.

TRADING CUT DOWN ON STOCK MARKET Even First Hour's Business at New York Was Nominal.

MEXICO CAUSED FEAR Sugar Shares Alone Remained Consistently Strong in New York.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The only noteworthy feature of today's market, aside from its further irregularity, was the marked curtailment of operations. Even the first hour's business was only nominal, and thereafter trading steadily diminished. The uncertain trend of the opening was occasionally relieved by spasmodic advances or declines, but these proved to have no actual significance, except in a few prominent issues, whose movements resulted from well-defined causes.

Mexican affairs continued to engage the attention of speculative interests and Mexican affairs continued to engage the attention of speculative interests and the possibilities of a federal inquiry of the coal situation caused some selling of stocks which may come within the scope of such investigation. Trade authorities referred to a "slow down" in the steel and iron industry and the '. S. Steel April tonnage statement, which broke all previous records, seemed to fall on barren ground.

Rails were fairly active, but realizing sales contributed to the heaviness of that group. Rock Island, vesterday's outstanding feature, received a moderate setback, while leaders like Union Facific, Reading and New York Central were under restraint, with heaviness in New Haven.

Peace rumors, which were no less tangible or vague than in the preceding session, were again responsible for the pressure against munitions, in which declines varied from one to over three points. Mexican Petroleum, the motors and United States Industrial Alcohol backed and filled in confusing fashion.

For the first time in a fortnight, shipping shares failed to exercise the slighter influence. Mercantile Marine and United Fruit lost some of their advantage and prominence on denials that outside interests were seeking control of those properties.

Sugar shares alone were consistently side interests were seeking control of those properties.

Sugar shares alone were consistently strong, American Sugar showing unusual activity and gaining 3%, with one to two points in others of the same group. Final prices were mostly at lowest levels, fresh selling causing renewed weakness, Total sales amounted to 520,000 shares.

Bonds were lower, with the exception of Rock Islands, the debentures and refunding issues, making further response to reported reorganization proceedings. Total sales (par value), $3,335,000.

C.N.R. EARNINGS.

C. N. R. gross earnings for the week ended May 7 were $677,400, an increase of $257,800. From Oct. 1 to date gross earnings are $20,934,000, an increase of $7,031,000. U. S. STEEL TONNAGE.

The monthly report of the U.S. Steel, The monthly report of the U.S. Steel, out yesterday, shows unfilled tonnage 9,829,551 on April 30, an increase of 498,550 tons in the month. This compares with a gain during March of 870,000 tons. in February 640,000 tons and in January 116,000 tons. The present total of unfilled orders makes a new high record in history, and compares with 7,806,222 at the end of last year, 4,152,214 a year ago and 4,277,063 two years ago. The low last year was 4,152,244 in April and the high 7,806, 222 in December; in 1914, high 5,023, 440 in February and low 3,224,592 in November.

Silver is King

Last year Copper was king of metals, advancing from 12 to 30 cents a pound.

This year Silver is King, and is advancing by leaps and bounds—no man dare say what the ultimate price will be. Last summer silver was worth 46 1/8 cents per ounce—today it is 761/4 cents and going higher every week.

The advance in copper last year caused a sensational market in copper shares; many low-priced copper stocks advanced more than 1000 per cent.

That was last year, this year it is Silver and now is the opportune moment to purchase high-class silver stocks.

We have underwritten 250,000 shares of Lorrain Consolidated Mines, Ltd., at 20 cents per share net to the Treasury of the Company, and are now allotting these shares to our clients at 22 cents.

The fact that we have underwritten this large block of treasury stock, thereby guaranteeing the Company $50,000 for development purposes, is the best evidence of our sincere belief in the future of the Company.

Lorrain Consolidated has, in our opinion, the three necessary elements of a successful mine. The Company owns outright, 53 acres in the South Lorrain-Cobalt silver district on which engineers have located four large and six smaller veins. $40,000 has already been spent in proving up the property and two shafts have been sunk, one 162 feet, and the other 110 feet. Drifting and cross cutting to the extent of several hundred feet has also been done.

feet has also been done. The management of Lorrain Consolidated is in the hands of men whose names stand for everything that is honorable in

Men of this character do not associate themselves with a mine unless they are fully convinced of its merit, and we never underwrite a stock until we are satisfied it has a good chance of making good. This Company has a well located property, an honest and efficient management, and ample capital for development. We, therefore, feel justified in recommending the purchase of the stock. Application will be made for listing the shares in Toronto, Boston and New York. Reports of development work to date and extracts of engineer's statements will be furnished free on application.

TRAFALGAR DAUGHTERS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Many Red Cross Supplies Sent During Year-Seventeen Meetings Held.

The last meeting for the season of the Trazalgar Daughters was held in the rooms of the Heliconian Club, the president, Mrs. G. D. Atkinson, in the chair. Reports showed that 17 Red Cross meetings had been held during the year and 10,000 sponges, 2600 compresses, 2200 pads, besides many towels and shirts had been made. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. E. G. Graham; vice-presidents, Mrs. J. E. Webster and Mrs. W. O. Forsythe; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Allan Keith; treasurer, Miss Jessie Taylor; convenor of the hostess committee, Mrs. Gallanough; convenor of the program committee, Mrs. Edward Potts; convenor of the musical committee, Miss Edna Mortimer; press committee, Mrs. Trueman Black.

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN FOR BLUE CROSS FUND

A charming musical program, arranged by Mrs. Freeman Wright, was given at the home of Mrs. W. P. White, 121 Spadina road, when the doors were thrown hospitably open for the occasion, and a nice little fund collected in the interests of the work of the Blue Cross. Musical numbers were given by the Rosedale Quartet, Elma Ferguson, Arthur Baxter and Mrs. Freeman Wright. The hostess gave some humorous readings from her own compositions, which were very much enjoyed, and Major Austin Campbell gave a talk on the Blue Cross, showing how it benefits the sick and wounded horses during war times.

ELECTED NEW OFFICERS

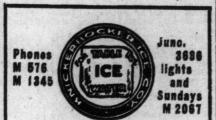

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Toronto Social Study Club: Hon. president, Mrs. James L. Hughes; president, Miss Elizabeth Fusteed; vice-presidents. Miss Edith Barnes, Mrs. J. C. Carroll, Mrs. Moir; corresponding secretary, Miss Nettle Williams; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Scott; treasurer, Mrs. James Dousley, and librarian, Mrs. E. W. Harmon.

EQUAL FRANCHISE MEETING.

The old Bank of Upper Canada building, known as the De La Salle Training College, at the corner of Duke and George streets, which has been the home of the Christian Brothers since 1371, was vacated by them Wednesday. The brothers, with their 70 students, have gone to 'heir magnificent new training college at Oak Ridges, 20 miles up Yonge street.

This building, which has been just completed, at a cost of $175,000, stands on an eminence 750 feet higher than Toronto, and commands a delightful view of the surrounding country. It is a fireproof structure of reinforced concrete, 180 feet long, 55 feet deep, four storeys high, and attains a height of 70 feet. The exterior suggests the collegiate Gothic period or architecture, and is of stocked red brick with art stone trimming, but without ornamental detail, while the entrance is of an entirely modern character.

The entire property comprises 115 acres, 25 of which are reserved for

The approaching celebration of the anniversary of the battle of Lime Ridge, or Ridgeway, which occurred June 2, 1866, recalls the prominent part the Queen's Own Rifles took in that struggle. The regiment formed the advance guard against the Fenians, and being on the alert, met and held the enemy, whose attack was to have been a "surprise." The small Q. O. R. force lost seven killed and 21 wounded, but their steadiness was largely the savior of the day, proving the "Toronto's Own" possessed that good Canadian stamina which is making Canadian stamina which "Are we down-hearted? No." This was the slogan at the headquarters of the Women's Hospital Campaign yesterday and among the workers scattered over the city, everyone trying to do her "bit" to help on the work.

And it must have been hard to keep up the optimistic song in the face of downpour and clouds, but hope and optimism never wavered and cheerinoss was maintained until the "breakfoff" was sounded and the captains and their teams ceased their labers, to resume them with even more ardor to day.

Returns were not all given in yesterday afternoon, so that it is impossible to give the day's total received. It was estimated, however, that about $7000 fairly represented the morning's effort and the afternoon will protably surpass this.

You gave your time and talent, and would make no social engagements for two days of each week. She went into raptures over a chemisette of white Georgette crepe. I explained that I had embroidered it in a simple, trailing-vine design because it is effective, but requires little work. I padded each petal and leaf, not too thick, and worked thru tissue paper so as not to pull the fragile material, tearing the paper away after the design was completed. Then I showed her how to apply the lace insertion down the front and about the base of the high collar. The collar buttons up the centre-front and has a turnover of the crepe embroidered to correspond with the chemisette. Aunt Katheryn agreed that it was quite simple to make "after you know how."

The second bit of neckwear was a choker with a turnover. I told her to buy crepe de chine for the choker and white organdie for the turnover. The latter must be cut in two triangular pieces, hole-stitched about the edges. Then sections are added which are scalloped and buttonhole-stitched about the edges. Then they are ornamented with a "wee bit" of hand embroidery and bordered with a scant frill of finest Valen-

If it were still the custom to don sackcloth and sprinkle sakes on the head and spend hours on a prie-dieu doing penance I'd feel that there was something I could do to make up for my butterfly life. I've always had the mistaken idea that my dity consisted in giving money to the different charities, and felt a sort of self-righteous after-glow when I had signed a cheque which would perhaps bring happiness to those less lucky; but I've come to the conclusion that if you do not practice self-denial in one form or another, to render assistance to our fellows, you're a pretty poor excuse of a beins.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT The Man of Genius Convright, 1916, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

He's sone on a journey—the great man, be-loved by all who knew him—a long, long journey, and we shall never see his face again until we go on the long journey, too. Yet we are not grieving at his absence. He does not seem so far away, after all. He was always going on a long journey, any-how, unexpectedly, and always coming back just when we weren't looking for him.

when we weren't looking for him.

The last time I saw him he was in the office of the Big Chief and we were all old friends there, and we talked together of old times, old faces and old memories. One entered we had about new things, or things and places that were new to him.

"I'm going to sail on Saturday," said the man who wanted to talk about new things, "We've engaged our passage and nothing's going to stop us.

"Look out of that window. See how the storm swirds. Br-r-r! That's a keen wind out there. Well, two weeks from today—just think of it, two little short weeks from today—I'll be off the Canary Isles—blue water, blue sky, green valleys, flowers—and then the Mediterranean!"

One who knew us all well stepped behind a desk and shook his head frantically at the man who talked of new things, but the man did not see him, or if he did he would not pay attention.

long journey. His spirit was of quick-silver—it could not stay too long in any one tiresome routine—but, oh, luckily for him, his spirit was mar-ried to genius and he could afford to follow his whimful bent as ever he ried to genius and he could allord to follow his whimful bent as ever he chose to.

"A Pleasant Journey Now."

How fresh he always was! How untired! Weary? He never heard of that word! Bored? He didn't know what you meant. Peevish? He couldn't be such a thing. When the routine of life pushed upon him and threateneed to make him one of the great army of stolid marchers, he threw on his hat, drew on his gloves, took his stick from the corner and went out to see the world he loved and the world that loved him.

He was not held down to ordinary standards. How could he be, he who was never an ordinary man?

Is genius ever to be judged with quite the same judgment as stupidity? Not near-genius, not imitation talent, but the real thing? Is there not always about it something that must be, that will be, against every obstacle, free?

ture of mock despair.

"He's gone," he said.

"Gone!" we all echoed. "Gone where?"

"To the Canary Islands," said one who knew us all so passing well, "to the Mediterranean, the Riviera, and all the rest of it. He'll be watching the blue water under the ship's keel in another week. I tried to call you off. I knew you'd start him."

And when we looked the chair where the man who has just gone on the long journey had been sitting was empty, and in an hour there came a telegram from him written on the Limited train for New York.

"Off for the Riviera," said the tele-"

for New York.

"Off for the Riviera," said the telegran. "Back in six weeks."

And he was back in six weeks, worder, and how does he find it there, in that far country? Oh, friend of so many, oh, heart is owell beloved, where do you fare forth tonight and what new adventures do you find?

The rest of us could sit and think of far lands and distant glories, but he, when hearing of them, must go and he a part. He never belonged in the slow, hard, work-a-day world for a day—the man who's gone on the
