Allied Guns Soon Trained On Austrian Fleet Trapped at Pola

English and Italians, Says Report at Italian Embassy in Washington, Are to Attack Warships; British and French Defeat Raiding Enemy in West

New York, Aug. 31.—The New York World in a despatch from Washington, says the Italian embassy has received a despatch from Rome as to further successes of General Cadorna, and indicating that:

"The Austrian fleet, bottled up in Pola, also is in danger, as it is the intention of the Italians soon to turn on the warships of the enemy the guns of Anglo-Italian monitors, now busy bombarding the coast to the northwest of Trieste."

MSHAKI LINES FIRM

London, Aug. 31.—The repulse of a German raid on the front below Lens is reported in today's official communication as follows:

"The weather is unsettled. During the night the enemy heavily shelled our forward positions near Arleux-Es-Gobelle (five miles southeast of Lens), and at an early hour this morning attempted to raid our lines. The German troops were repulsed completely."

SAVING ON FRENCH FRONT

Paris, Aug. 31.—East of Cerny a German patrol which attempted to approach our lines was repulsed by our fire, says today's official statement.

"There was active artillery fighting on both banks of the Meuse. In Alsace an enemy attack south of Hartmannswillerkopf was repulsed completely. There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front."

PRISON TERMS FOR SPIES WHO HELPED THE SUBMARINES

Gave Information About Vessels Ready to Sail From Norway—Two Germans, One Norwegian

Christiana, Aug. 31.—Three German spies have been convicted at Bergen for supplying information to submarines regarding the sailing time of vessels, which were torpedoed. Captain Laven and Peter Schwartz, German citizens, and a Norwegian, all were given terms in the penitentiary. Laven was sentenced to five years, Schwartz to four and three to two years imprisonment.

Captain Laven admitted that he worked under instructions from the German authorities. He said that German subjects were forced to obey such orders.

Norwegian newspapers, in commenting on the trial, emphasize that the country must take note of the fact that German subjects must obey orders from their home country.

Close Co-operation Between England and United States in Matter

London, Aug. 30.—Louis P. Sheldon, who is associated with a London bank firm, has been asked by Herbert C. Hoover to accept appointment as representative of the American food administration board in the United Kingdom. It is understood Mr. Sheldon has accepted and that it is now being determined whether or not he shall become an attaché of the American embassy.

As Hoover's representative, Mr. Sheldon will deal with the British food controller, Baron Rhonda, for the purpose of bringing about close co-operation between the United States and England in regard to the control of food.

OOTING IN BURNING CITY SOON STOPPED BY STUDENT BANDS

Petrograd, Aug. 31.—The fire last Monday in the city of Kasan, on the Kasan River, 480 miles east of Moscow, spread so rapidly that the population led to outgoing fields and forests. A correspondent of the Bourne Gazette so elegantly, Ruffians began to pillage on a great scale, but students of military schools acted energetically and stopped the looting. Later the flames spread to the reservoirs and the town was involved in smoke. The fire burned for thirty-six hours, during which time the people remained outside the town. Order is being restored gradually.

SAYS WAR WILL BE SPEEDED UP

Kerensky Sees Good Results From Moscow Conference

OBJECTS WELL ATTAINED

Declares Lasting Effect on Russian Nation Also Will Result—Greater Part of People Ready to Make Necessary Sacrifices

London, Aug. 31.—The Moscow conference will have a lasting effect upon the Russian nation and the conduct of the war will be speeded up, Premier Kerensky declared in an interview at Moscow on Wednesday. The government convened the Moscow conference, the Exchange Telegraph Company's report of the interview says, in order to get acquainted as fully as possible with the opinions, tendencies and needs of the country, to tell the representatives of all classes, races and creeds the truth concerning the crisis through which Russia is passing, and to impress upon the entire nation the necessity for united efforts for the defence of the country and for securing liberty for the Russian people.

The government, the premier added, feel confident that these objects have been attained to a very considerable degree and are convinced that an overwhelming majority of the nation is deeply democratic and prepared to make sacrifices for liberty and the defence of the country.

All parties are willing to make mutual sacrifices to ensure united efforts.

THE GOVERNMENT SPEEDING UP TO FINISH NEXT WEEK

Prorogation Expected Then—Soldier Vote Bill Tomorrow and Closure Again Likely Used

(Special to Times.)

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 30.—The bill for the purchase of the Canadian Northern from Mackenzie and Mann was closed through the House of Commons at two o'clock this morning. The vote was fifty-three to thirty-seven. A good many Conservatives remained away and escaped voting. One Liberal, Champlain, voted with the government against the Pughley amendment, which proposed that parliament should have the right to accept or refuse the valuation placed upon the property.

The third reading was finished at two o'clock and it was announced that the soldier vote bill will be taken up Saturday. The government is rushing the franchise bill, which will probably be put through by closure.

THEY HAVE HIM AGAIN

Deposed Emperor of Abyssinia, Who Escaped, is Recaptured by French

London, Aug. 31.—Lidj Jassou, deposed Emperor of Abyssinia, who escaped from Magdala, has been captured, according to a despatch to the Daily Mail from Jibuti, French Somaliland.

Lidj Jassou is a grandson of the late King Menelik, who succeeded in 1912. He was deposed in 1916 by his aunt. A London despatch of August 29 reported that the deposed emperor and his followers had defeated 800 of the government forces who had been trying to capture him for six months.

Austrians Face General Famine

All Available Food Being Reserved For Army—Vatican Hears This From Diplomatic and Ecclesiastical Sources

New York, Aug. 31.—A cable to the Sun from Rome says: Reports are reaching the Vatican from diplomatic and ecclesiastical sources in Austria of the effect that the food shortage throughout the empire has become so serious that the effects of starvation among the people are causing the gravest concern.

The intellectual depression among school children, due to insufficient food, is rendering it practically useless for them to continue their studies, and it is probable the schools will have to be closed soon.

As an instance of the high prices for foodstuffs, it is said, a sack of flour costs $40, and a pound of pork, $2. Fat is very scarce, and less than a pound in fifteen days is allowed for each person.

Owing to the lack of bread, some are authorized to wear soft-hat dresses and hoodies.

The remedies so far adopted have proved useless. All food available is reserved for the army, and a general famine seems inevitable.

DEATH OF SECOND SON IN WAR HASTENS THE PASSING OF FATHER

George B. Fraser of Chatham Lost One Son Nine Months Ago, Another Only Recently

(Special to Times.)

Chatham, N. B., Aug. 31.—George B. Fraser, one of Chatham's oldest and most respected citizens, passed away this morning at an early hour in his seventy-first year. He had not been in the best of health for some time and the news of the death of his youngest son, Mac, in France two weeks ago, hastened the end. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Roderick, of Reston, Ont., and Lieut. Brydson J., headquarters staff, Winnipeg, and four daughters—Mrs. H. Gordon Legie, of Peterboro, and Marion, Dorothy and Edna, at home. Two sons of the late Mr. Fraser made the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields of France, Archibald being killed in action about nine months ago and Mac about two weeks ago.

OBJECT TO THE TITLE 'JEWISH REGIMENT'

Earl of Derby Will Have it Changed at Request of Hebrews in England

London, Aug. 31.—A deputation of prominent English Jews, headed by Lord Swaythling, visited the Earl of Derby, Secretary for war, yesterday, and urged the abandonment of the title "Jewish Regiment," which had been adopted for a Hebrew regiment recently organized. The deputation pleaded that 40,000 Jews now serving in the army were fighting not as Jews but as British subjects and wished to continue to do so.

Lord Derby agreed to the adoption of the title and promised to give the regiment a new designation. The Daily Mail adds that the decision was received with great regret by the promoter and organizers of the regiment.

RUSH MURDER TRIAL TO CATCH STEAMBOAT

Otherwise Means Keeping Witnesses All Winter

Seward, Alaska, Aug. 31.—Efforts were being made today to bring to an end by Monday the trial of A. F. McLean, a government teacher at Nushagak, Bristol Bay, charged with the murder of his native wife, on January 2, 1916. The government desires to avoid the expense of maintaining witnesses here through the winter.

Some of the witnesses brought from Bristol Bay would be compelled to remain in the winter if the trial is not ended by Monday when a steamer will leave here on the last trip of the season to that district. The trial promises to be the most expensive in the history of the territory. Witnesses first were taken nearly 2,000 miles last fall to testify before the grand jury at Valdez and brought almost as far to testify here.

Believe Arrest Has To Do With Dynamiting Of Lord Atholstene's Home

Elie Lalumiere, Prominent Anti-Conscriptionist in Montreal, is in Custody; Habeas Corpus Proceedings Begun By Brother

Montreal, Aug. 31.—Elie Lalumiere, who has been prominent in the anti-conscription meetings here as president of the "League des Constitutionnels," being held by the dominion police and it is said that his arrest was made in connection with the dynamiting of Lord Atholstene's country home at Cartierville a few weeks ago.

The authorities decline to say where Lalumiere is being held as they evidently fear that efforts might be made by his followers to secure his release.

It is said that some thefts of dynamite have been traced to him and rumors had it this morning that he had confessed that he was one of those who had done the dynamiting and had also implicated some of others, who would be arrested soon.

Lalumiere's brother, in addressing an anti-conscription meeting last night, told of his "disappearance" on the night previous and said that he had come to take his place. Further developments are expected hourly.

So far as can be learned, no arrests of the anti-conscriptionists who last night smashed plate glass windows, injured four policemen and shot one man in the arm, have been made.

Lalumiere appeared before Judge Monet in the Practice Court this morning smiling and apparently unconcerned. Yesterday at the instance of his brother, Wilfrid, Judge Monet issued a writ of habeas corpus against A. Regimbal, of the dominion immigration service; Chief Campsen, of the Montreal police force; Major Carter, of the alien enemies branch; J. H. Gassard, of the Thiel detective agency; Colonel Sherwood, of the dominion police, and Detective Giroux. All were required to produce the body of Lalumiere this morning. Albert Gorman and Albert Theberge appeared for Lalumiere and demanded his release on the ground that he was being illegally detained. Hearing in the case was set for half-past two this afternoon.

IT MAY MEAN CHEAPER BREAD

Wheat Price Fixing Permits of Fourteen Ounce Loaf For Five Cents

Washington, Aug. 31.—A reduction in the price of bread is in sight today as the result of the fixing of $2.30 a bushel as the price of the 1917 wheat crop. The licensing system for flour and bread dealers soon will be put into effect, and, although not extending to the small dealer, the food administration is expected to find a way to hold down bread prices.

Members of the price-fixing committee are agreed that a price of $2.30 will permit of a fourteen ounce loaf of bread for five cents. Allowing a fair profit to both the flour manufacturer and the baker, the price of the loaf would be approximately $2.49 a bushel. Up to the present average price paid to producers for wheat was the price of $1.97, practically $2.49 a bushel. Up to the present a minimum of seventy-six cents paid in December, 1912, to that maximum of $2.49 a bushel has been maintained, but never has such a high level been reached and maintained as since the outbreak of the war.

DAUGHTER OF GOVERNOR GENERAL IS TO WED

Lady Maud Cavendish and Captain A. Mackintosh to be Married

Toronto, Aug. 31.—The following interesting announcement was given out here today in behalf of the Duke of Devonshire:

"A marriage has been arranged between Lady Maud Cavendish, eldest daughter of His Excellency the Governor-General and the Duchess of Devonshire, and Captain Angus Mackintosh, A. D. C., Royal Horse Guards.

Captain Mackintosh has been at Rideau Hall for the last two years, having been with the Duke of Connaught for some time before the latter's departure from the city as prior to the order which stopped them recruiting, they were securing a large number of men from St. John and throughout the province.

RESUME RECRUITING FOR HEAVY ARTILLERY AND THE ENGINEERS

That recruiting for heavy artillery and the Canadian Engineers, cancelled two months ago, is to be resumed at once was the information received at the office of the new Brunswick command this morning.

This will mean that all the artillery units throughout the district will now get into the field for recruits. The Canadian Engineers' Depot at St. John will very likely open another recruiting station in the city as, prior to the order which stopped them recruiting, they were securing a large number of men from St. John and throughout the province.

ELEVATOR MATTER IN POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning there was a hearing in the matter of a complaint against the Eagles Bellows Contracting Co., who are building the new elevator in Water street. They are charged with obstructing the sidewalk and also with placing pieces of stone and cement to fall from the top of the elevator to the danger of passersby. Workmen returning home from work report that stones were dropped on them and insulting remarks made. Some evidence was taken and the case adjourned until next Wednesday in order to enable the authorities to find those who dropped the stones and used the insulting language.

Major-General Maurice Explains Why Fighting is Not Continuous on Italian and Flanders Fronts

London, Aug. 30.—The past week has been marked by a pause on all the western fronts—a pause which was inevitable after the great success of the previous week, a pause accentuated by the bad weather which affected the operation all the way from the North Sea to the Italian coast.

At the moment it is the Italian front where the situation is the most interesting. Here also, after a really important advance, there now comes a pause, pending the readjustment of the artillery positions. There is much work to be done during these pauses.

WEARING DOWN GERMANS IN FLANDERS

ANOTHER DECLARATION OF WAR IS EXPECTED

Washington Will Not be Surprised if Aid Extended Brings Austrian Action

Washington, Aug. 31.—The possibility that Austria and perhaps other allies of Germany may soon declare war against the United States because of the financial aid given to Italy, is recognized by administration officials.

It was carefully explained that there was nothing in the existing situation, either diplomatic or military, that would cause the United States to take the initiative, but it was not denied that an anomalous state of affairs might result in broadening the war did exist.

Relations of the United States with Germany's allies are defined as still a state of broken diplomatic relations. Officials hesitate to describe them as unfriendly, although admitting that they could scarcely be called friendly.

"Algeron is very interesting," said the stock broker's daughter, as the Bits tells it. "What does he talk about?" inquired her father.

"Why, he's ever so well posted in Shakespearean quotations," said the young woman, said the financier, "don't you let him make sport of your ignorance. There ain't no such stock on the market."

NOTED DEAD WHO HAVE REFUSED TO REMAIN DEAD

Although Sir Hector Macdonald lies dead and buried in the Dean Cemetery, Edinburgh, an American paper will have it that he is still alive and leading the Russian advance in Galicia under the name of Brusilov.

The legend of Sir Hector is one of the strangest, most persistent and most romantic in modern history. Its persistence is particularly amazing. Ever since the famous British general committed suicide in a Paris hotel in 1908 thousands have refused to believe in his death, and when he was buried after the Russian advance in Galicia under the name of Brusilov.

Napoleon's Double Death. Napoleon was dead. According to certain historians he died at St. Helena, but in a restaurant in Rome, through overeating spaghetti, many years after he was supposed to have been laid to rest under the weeping willows on the sea-girt Atlantic isle.

The Emperor's great general, Marshal Ney, also returned to this vale of tears after he had been shot in Paris for trying to bring the Bourbon after Waterloo. Rumor has it that the great general found the law more to his taste than the sword, and became a school-master in America under the name of Peter Nev.

The John Orth legend is also worthy of mention. John Orth, Annapolis, was a former heir to the throne of Austria. He renounced his royal rights, however, and set sail for Europe. Since then he has not been heard of, but it has been established that his ship was sunk off the coast of South America, and that he was lost with the rest of the passengers and crew. Still there are many who assert that John Orth still lives, and that one day he will come back and claim the throne of the Dual Monarchy.

THE VILLAGE BAND. Indispensable is the drum major of a rural brass band, and the envy of the small boy is he as well. This functionality is about as serviceable as a fire-engine on a battleship, yet his duties are beyond estimation in keeping the tubas and trombones from stumbling into mud puddles and guiding the alleged musicians past refreshment emporiums. His success rests on the extent of his ability to shift the stick over three-story buildings and catch it behind his back on its descent. He is to the band what the monkey is to a hand organ. All eyes are upon him while the ears feast on the music. Big city bands often roam about the streets unescorted by a drum major and feel not at all discommoded by his absence, but a country band would not deem itself fit to be seen on parade without this distinguished appendage—Zim in Cartoons Magazine.

ALLIES' OFFICERS TO HELP TRAIN AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Washington, Aug. 31—A group of French or British army officers, specialists in various details of trench warfare, will be attached to National Guard and national army camps under plans worked out by the War Department to expedite training troops for special conditions they will meet at the front. French and British governments have been asked to detail officers, and probably eight or ten will be assigned to each of the thirty-two camps.

The foreign officers will not come in direct touch with the American troops. The training will be done entirely by

THE COMMANDER OF AMERICAN TROOPS

Pershing Adds to Sound Health The Ability to Work Without Worrying

Unmoved by Difficulty—Eager in Preparations for Campaign, But "Will Never Do Anything Rash," Said Joffre

(By Charles H. Grasty in the New York Times.)

Paris, Aug. 31—It is doubtful if any other man has been more in the public eye of Europe these last few weeks than General John J. Pershing. The English and French public have watched General Pershing with the interest that centres in the head of one of the greatest movements the world has ever seen.

America will shortly be asking, if she has not already, how Pershing is measuring up to the work of leadership. The New York Times dispatches have indicated the preliminary success achieved by him. As a diplomat I doubt if he is surpassed in the service of any country. He begins with the advantage of looks, though he has none of the drawbacks of masculine physique. If a sculptor were commissioned to make a heroic statue to represent West Point he could not do better than take General Pershing as his model. Nor is he merely a military figure. His personality is equally typical of American strength and manhood.

These personal attractions and graces are used with a naturalness which won Paris instantly. I doubt if there is another man of any race who at this moment could bring to bear a greater influence on a Paris crowd if occasion should demand. It may be set down as a certainty that in all dealings with the French public and his relations with the statesmen and generals the American commander will "do his country proud."

No less promising are what may be called his business methods. He is devoted to his work. He never tires of talking to him and must have expressed my sense of admiration with considerable emphasis. He encouraged me to do so.

One day he said to me:

"General, you have enough responsibilities; I am not going to worry you with fault-finding about the censorship."

"Well, if you are letting that idea trouble you dismiss it," he replied with a smile. "I don't let it worry me. I try to do a good day's work, and when it is finished I go to bed, and what is more I go to bed with a wonderful doctrine: if a man can only live up to it. And General Pershing does, absolutely. Perhaps it is largely a matter of sound health. His optimism is there—he would rather almost be accused of dereliction than to be thought ill."

Perhaps that is a survival of the farmer's pride of strength. The farmer boy is always bobbing up in Pershing. Linn County, Missouri, would be proud to see the evidences of her early imprint on the man whose name is so prominent in an occasional look from the window or the porch at the most beautiful garden in all Paris—for such is the garden of the general. This is a garden Linn county would still keep its temper and serenity has a right to be considered a seasoned optimist. Even war-worn Europe seems pretty good after Mexico, of which it has been sung:

More rivers and less water,
More cows and less milk,
Further to look and less to see.

than any other country in the world.

General Pershing has a right to his view of the relation between duty and opportunity. If he should become a great general, a deliverer of civilization from the onset of Hun barbarism, history would put him alongside Lincoln and Grant in respect to early hardships and their influence on his development.

When the president's address of April 2 reached Mexico and was read by General Pershing at his headquarters, he could not restrain his enthusiasm. There was no self-seeking in his feeling; he hadn't then the faintest idea of commanding the European forces. He was deeply stirred by the great address when he read the pregnant and eloquent sentences, and jumping to his feet gave his feelings full vent in the presence of the soldiers and newspaper correspondents who happened to be in his headquarters.

"I'd rather live today and have some part in these great things," he said, "than to have lived and occupied the highest station at any previous time in history. We are going to establish democratic institutions in the world for all time and every man who can have a share, however small, in the work, may be proud."

Such is the type of the man. Whether he possesses the diversified abilities, whether he can be the many different kinds of man necessary for carrying on to the end, remains to be seen. He has the gifts of diplomacy and of organization.

General Pershing is sound, cautious, considerate. He has a good heart and an abundant sense of humor. Marshal Joffre said to me: "General Pershing will never do anything rash. He will consider first and act afterward. You can put this over against what an English statesman with American associations said to me the other day about a great executive position: 'We want a man for that job who is willing to take a chance on splitting the beans.'"

THE WORRIES OF A HOUSE-WIFE

(By Zim in Cartoon Magazine.)

Women are given to worry more than men. When anything threatens to go wrong, a man, he finds solace in the little brown jug. But women cannot look adversity in the face with such calm abandon. They are not built that way. As near as I can make out, it is a difference in temperament. Women are more highly organized than men. Her nervous system is much better developed. If you notice a look of worry on your wife's face and ask, "Well! What's up today?" she sighs and says, "Oh, dear, dear! Everything's up. We're getting old and shabby and the house is becoming dreadfully dilapidated, and now to cap the climax I've broken my mop stick."

Moses kept a second hand clothes shop, and on leaving it in charge of his son, they, during the dinner hour imparted to him the fact that on the price ticket one dot represents $1, two dots $2, and so on. Returning Moses inquired of his son: "Haf you had any customers, key?"

"Yes, Fader, I have sold de grey coat and vest for $8."

"Well, vell, now, you did good business for it was only $5."

"No, Fader, I kept the ticket; see, it has eight little dots here."

The old man scratched his head, and smilingly remarked: "Jubilee Jerusalem! I vill never kill another fly."

ONTARIO CROPS

(Toronto Globe.)

It is probable that more grain was put in the hands of Ontario during the last week than in any other six days in the history of the province. The progress made towards the harvest is very much in excess of the average of the province. In the southwestern Peninsula R. H. Herbert says, some farmers had not a sheaf cut at the beginning of this week, but now they will be housed in a matter of days. In the northwestern part of the province, the grain is well advanced. In the west, the grain is well advanced. In the east, the grain is well advanced. In the south, the grain is well advanced. In the north, the grain is well advanced. In the west, the grain is well advanced. In the east, the grain is well advanced. In the south, the grain is well advanced. In the north, the grain is well advanced.

THE FRENCH SOLDIER.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

One of the most striking characteristics of the French soldier, remarks a recent writer, is the way he has of getting to work again at his trade as soon as he gets home, even if it is only for a few days' leave. Thus the farmer will pick up his daily work at his little farm almost at the hour he arrives, and the collier will get him to his last, eager to see how many of his old customers he may serve during his stay at home. A famous aviator, on our day's leave, donned his white apron, just as soon as ever he could—he was a restaurant keeper—and was glad to spend his short holiday serving the little coterie of guests with his wife had kept together.

Canadians Winning Fresh Laurels

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Aug. 30.—(By Stewart Lyon, Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press)—During the operations which culminated in the capture of Hill 70 and the pressing of the enemy backwards to the centre of Lens, many heroic deeds were performed by Canadian officers and men, a list of men who have been decorated for exceptional action during this fighting was given out today.

Here is a story of heroism and resourcefulness that is not often paralleled. A battery of Canadian field artillery was engaged in a concentrated fire from enemy guns. Gunner William MacLean was an old German gun pit during the bombardment, when a direct hit caused his casualties.

Wounded in the chest and hand, MacLean crawled to the edge of the trench, where he was in a desperate struggle to get to the position in which he was to be awarded the military medal. He was wounded in the chest and hand, but he was not deterred. He crawled to the edge of the trench, where he was in a desperate struggle to get to the position in which he was to be awarded the military medal.

Corporal Wesley Rees Zinck, of a Nova Scotia battalion, has received the Military Medal for conspicuous gallantry while operating a Lewis gun. The patrol to which he was attached was surprised by an enemy party which opened fire on them. Zinck's great courage and coolness are officially recognized as having saved part of his control from disaster.

Private Charles Joseph Gagnon, of a Manitoba battalion, is given the Military Medal for fortitude under imminent peril. Gagnon was bringing up a limber full of bombs when a shell burst nearby, shattering his right arm, which was afterwards amputated, and blowing away the tailboard of the limber.

Sergeant Thomas Duncan Waldo MacVicar, of a Manitoba battalion, is awarded the Military Medal for going forward alone though wounded into an enemy trench and killing two snipers who were harassing his platoon during an attack on the enemy's front line.

Corporal Peter MacVicar also entered an enemy trench during the same operation, and killed eight of the enemy, clearing the way for those who came after. He also received the Military Medal.

Corporal Alexander Findley, of a Quebec battalion, got the Military Medal for saving the lives of three men of his battalion under fire. Findley, while at work during a heavy enemy bombardment of the front trenches, found that part of the trench had been blown in and three men buried. He at once proceeded to dig them out, and with this dropping all around him, rescued all of them.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

Evidence In Harris Murder Case A In; Defence Testimony

The taking of evidence in the Harris murder trial in which John O'Brien and Everett Carland are the accused, was completed last night about 10.30 o'clock before Chief Justice McKeown in the circuit court. The case for the prosecution closed during the afternoon and the defence closed its case at night. Dr. Wallace, prosecuting attorney, stated that he might have some rebuttal evidence but in any case it would be brief.

Detective William Duncan was on the stand when the hearing resumed at 2.30 o'clock. To Dr. Wallace he stated that the prisoner had made statements at the police station. Carland made a statement twice and on one of the occasions was warned that he said might be used against him.

Dr. Wallace then proceeded to put in the evidence of John M. Wilson as given before the police magistrate at the preliminary examination, but Mr. Mullin objected on the ground that it had not been established that the stenographer had been appointed by the magistrate.

His honor stated that Dr. Wallace was sufficient to put the prisoners on the stand. He said that he was not sworn for the purpose, as Mr. Henderson, clerk of the court, had stated that Mr. Leonard was already sworn as a provincial stenographer.

Mr. Mullin again took objection on the ground that Wilson's deposition was not signed by the magistrate. The signature was affixed at the last page beneath a statement to the effect that the evidence was sufficient to put the prisoners on the stand.

His honor asked Dr. Wallace what he had to say, whether he thought it complied with the statute, and crown counsel thought it did.

Mr. Mullin here arose and stated that the name of Robert Harris, as a witness appeared on the back of the indictment. He contended that the crown should call Mr. Harris as he had a right to cross-examine him. He asked that Mr. Harris remain in court for this purpose.

Dr. Wallace stated that he was under no obligation to call Mr. Harris, Mr. Harris came forward and his honor called him to the stand.

Mr. Harris, father of the victim, described his son's appearance when he was brought home that night. The boy said he had been struck near Haley's alley, apparently by some blunt instrument. He heard the footsteps of two men behind him and as he turned he received the blow which killed him.

Mr. Mullin's contention was that as Harris saw nobody he must have been drawing on his imagination in saying there were two men behind him.

W. C. Beattie New Witness. William C. Beattie, a carpenter living in Kitchener street, was called in evidence. To Dr. Wallace he stated that he knew both Carland and O'Brien. On the morning of June 15, that is, the morning after the assault, he was going up Mill street in a car about 6.50 o'clock and he saw John O'Brien, one of the accused, near the corner of North street, walking toward the depot. The witness could not say whether or not there was anybody with him. He appeared to be in his working clothes.

Mr. Mullin, in his cross-examination, asked the witness when he first told anyone about seeing O'Brien, and he replied that he spoke about it at home the same day at noon. Asked if he knew Harris had been hurt when he saw O'Brien he replied in the affirmative. He said that he did not suspect O'Brien of being connected with the affair when he saw him that morning.

Re-examined by Dr. Wallace, the witness said he knew Harris was hurt the same night it happened. John McAuliffe, his brother-in-law, told him. To Mr. Mullin, the witness said this was not the same McAuliffe who had given evidence, but his father.

Q.—Did he tell you any of the details or where he heard it?
A.—No.

Q.—Did you ever hear of him calling names after him?
A.—No.

Q.—Then this about the prisoner following your son is not so?
A.—No.

The Crown Rests. Dr. Wallace here announced that the crown rested its case and on request of Mr. Mullin recess was taken for ten minutes to allow time for counsel for the defence to consult with his colleague.

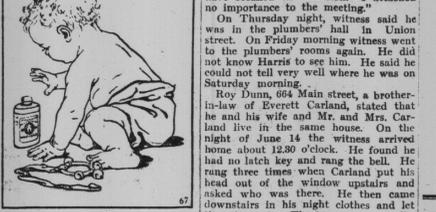

Following recess Mr. Mullin asked if he understood correctly that the crown rested its case. On being informed that he was, he submitted to his honor that there was no case to go to the jury. He recalled that the city solicitor had stated to the police magistrate at the preliminary hearing that there was no evidence apart from alleged discrepancies between certain statements which the magistrate admitted without deciding the question of admissibility.

His honor interrupted Mr. Mullin, saying that he would not assume the responsibility of taking the case from the jury. If Mr. Mullin's contention were correct, he said, his defence would only strengthen his case with the jury.

Mr. Mullin immediately proceeded with his defence outlining to the jury that he proposed to call several witnesses to testify on points of material interest in the case.

Percy Macaulay, a street car conductor operating on the West side route on the night of June 15, that is, the morning after the assault, testified that John O'Brien, the accused, took his car at the foot of King street on either the 10 or 11 o'clock trip, but to the best of his knowledge it was the 10 o'clock one. Cross-examined by Dr. Wallace the witness stated positively that it was the night of June 15. He recalled that there was some trouble that day in front of

MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM

The best known and most used baby talcum in the world.

The Royal Hotel, O'Brien stood in the vestibule of the car all the way home and talked about it in trouble, saying that he had "some rat traps out on the catch scabs."

Mrs. O'Brien on Stand. Mrs. John O'Brien, 43 Duke street, West St. John, testified positively that her husband arrived home on the night of June 14 about 10.30 o'clock. Her son, John, was there at the time. The accused went to bed shortly after, and the witness then retired. She stated that her husband was in bed all night. He went out on the morning of June 15, and left the house about 8.30 or 8.45. He did not return that day, Friday, for dinner nor for supper.

The witness said she was over in town during the afternoon, having walked around the bridge with Vincent Kelly, a tenant in her house. On passing up Mill street she met Joe O'Brien and asked him where Jack was as he hadn't been home dinner. She denied having made any remark to the effect that "he hasn't been home" or "he must be in town."

To Dr. Wallace the witness stated that her husband was always home at night and he was not home that night. John Dwyer, who also lives at 43 Duke street, upper flat, stated that he was very familiar with O'Brien's voice. He recalled having looked at his watch on the night of June 14 that he heard O'Brien knock at the door about 10.30 o'clock. He distinctly heard his voice in the kitchen beneath his room. Severe cross-examination about 11 o'clock. His father called him about 7.50 next morning.

John O'Brien, Jr., aged seventeen years, was a witness. He corroborated his mother's testimony. He swore positively that his father arrived home on the night of June 14 about 10.30 o'clock. He went to bed soon after he came in. The witness passed through his father's bedroom after the latter had retired about 11 o'clock. His father called him about 7.50 next morning.

Mrs. Vincent Kelly, 4 Duke street, West St. John, testified that on the morning of June 15 she saw O'Brien standing in front of the door. She didn't see or hear him coming in that night. The witness was quite sure this was the fifteenth because she had that day recalled her patriotic discourse and had called the check at the Bank Nova Scotia, West Side.

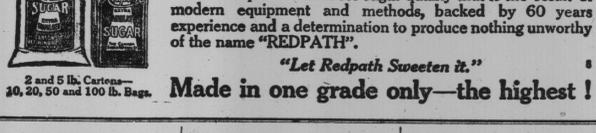

Patrick Gorman, I. C. R. gatekeeper, was going to his work at 8.20 o'clock on the morning of June 15. As he turned down Union street toward Mill he saw a man in a dark suit and a hat. He knew Carland and O'Brien were with him. He did not see them about that time.

At 6.15 o'clock court rose until 8 p.m. Evening Session. Mrs. Matilda Dwyer, of 48 Duke street, West St. John, was the first witness to be called. She said she lived upstairs in Mrs. O'Brien's house. She knew the prisoner, John O'Brien. She remembered seeing him at the gate of the house on Friday, June 15 between 8.30 and 9.45 o'clock in the morning. She gave as a reason for remembering this because the only time she had seen him that day.

To Mr. Wallace the witness said she saw him quite near the railway track at the foot of Mecklenburg street. Harris came along. Witness told of some remarks which passed between Harris and Carland. Witness said she thought Harris lived at Gilbert's Lane. He said Harris was called a "scab." There was always a distance of 500 yards between Harris and the others, on the way from Mecklenburg street to Wright's workshop. The remark: "You'll be without your supper some day, scab," attributed to Carland, and addressed to Harris, was not heard by witness.

To Dr. Wallace, on cross-examination, witness emphatically said the above remark was not made. He said he saw no little girl there at this time. Witness said that such names as "scab" and "rat" were called with no hard feeling and was only called as a reminder.

An impressive service at Fernhill cemetery, and the decoration of the graves of departed brothers marked the annual memorial day observance of the Knights of Castles yesterday afternoon. All members of the order were present, and the service was followed by a banquet at the Temple Hall, presided over by Past Chancellor W. H. White. Other hymns followed and an impressive address was delivered by P. S. P. James Moulson, Rev. D. Hutchinson led in prayer.

Mr. Moulson spoke as follows: "Since I have accepted your invitation to address you on the occasion of your decoration day service. It is to me at this time that I have been at all previous ceremonies a matter of grave concern what to say to you. But first of all on behalf of the knights of Pythias I thank those who so generously donated flowers and those who assisted in arranging them, also the president, directors and superintendent of Fernhill and those in charge of other burial places for assistance.

"I am glad to be here and to be able to address you on this day. I am sure that I should make us interested in each other's welfare and the order's good, it seems to me that I should aim at saying something that might lead to you to that high ideal life which is a practice of pythian teachings leads.

"You are taught to be cautious in word and deed, to love truth, to be brave in the right, to avoid a personal act or word injurious to the worthy, to be loyal to principle, to family, to friends and your country and at all times to do unto others as you would have others do unto you.

"I am sure that the golden rule but under many conditions it is easier to preach than to practice. A sincere effort to live by the golden rule is a stronger and nobler and helps them to win a victory over man's weakness. That is the true strength of a man, a strength of character unknown to those who do not.

"Many a fraternal tie has been severed or weakened by a hasty unkind word, thus creating a breach that widens as the days go by. Apologies may be offered but they are accepted and the sting of the hasty word remains and hinders a complete restoration of the former friendship and peace of mind. A word never can be an asset in the life of man and once uttered it becomes a liability that it is always with you. There are some who cannot recall some incident when in an unguarded moment they give expression to words that have and will to the end of their time cause them regret. How important then to be cautious in word and act. Life is the same today as it always was. There are the same temptations to do wrong. Some are the straight and narrow way and others choose the broad. The latter want to be with the crowd; they get lost and are lost to the world. They are the same temptations to do wrong. Some are the straight and narrow way and others choose the broad. The latter want to be with the crowd; they get lost and are lost to the world.

"You came here today to place beautiful flowers upon the graves of those who have passed on. Several of our members are ill. They have our sympathy. We are hoping for improvement in their condition. When the time comes for again observing the ceremony of the day others may be missing. They may be taken from among the sick, and may be taken from the ranks of the strong.

"As we conduct this service we remember our brave brothers who made the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields of France and our best wishes go for those at the front. May they be spared to return to us and their loved ones waiting for them at home. And now my closing thought. All must die. If you have reached that state of life that enables you to read your title clear to mansions in the sky 'tis well, but if not still you get ready for the summons that will call you hence.

"May all be prepared to give a good

Incessant Gunfire Still Rumbles in Amphitheatre

Tongues of Flame Leaping From Artillery on Both Sides—Warm Tribute to Canadian Wounded.

With the British Army in the Field, Aug. 30—The war's greatest battle amphitheatre is still rumbling with incessant gunfire. On a hilltop of the further side of the battle zone and in full view of where I am viewing this appalling shellfire, German correspondents also have been watching tongues of fire leaping from both sides of this fiercely contested area, of which Ypres is its most disreputable monument. But there are more tongues of flame from the British side.

British planes move at will over the German lines, while during the whole afternoon only two German planes have ventured on this side and they quickly scurried back through a mass of shellfire, German correspondents also have been watching tongues of fire leaping from both sides of this fiercely contested area, of which Ypres is its most disreputable monument. CHOOSING HIS SUIT

The Squire Would Not Look at the Modern Method

In the English classics one reads of the old squire who had suits which he grew fonder of from year to year. These were suits of pure silk linings—and they give the wearer years of beautiful satisfaction. This kind of Semi-ready suit, in pattern and material, can be seen in only half-a-dozen retail tailor shops in all Canada. Most tailors think them too expensive. Those tailors showing them charge from $65 to $85 for them because they are exclusive and pure.

From $21 to $60 the Semi-ready Special Order Service offers a range of patterns from half-a-million dollars' worth of imported British woolsens.

In the Semi-ready store in King street the new fall fashions and patterns are now on view.

Mrs. Tinkins was taking her son to school for the first time, and after impressing the school-master with the necessity of his having a thorough education, finished up by saying: "And be sure he learns 'Latin'." "But, my dear madam," said the schoolmaster, "Latin is a dead language."

"Oh, right," said Mrs. Tinkins, "he'll learn it." "He's going to be an undertaker,"—Buffalo Commercial.

The Situation In Ottawa Last Night

More About Liberal Caucus — Election Likely Late This Year With Votes For Some Women — C. N. R. Measure Through Under Closure

Ottawa, August 30.—Liberals of the commons and senate, in caucus this morning, unanimously and enthusiastically approved of the attitude taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in declaring in the commons yesterday that the military service bill, "Having now become law with the sanction of his excellency the governor-general, it behooves us as British subjects to see that it is carried out as harmoniously as possible."

Acting on the fundamental principle of respect for law once passed and sincerely desiring that the unity of Canada's war efforts should be great as possible, the caucus approved the stand taken by Sir Wilfrid, that it was his duty to accept the invitation of the prime minister and name half of the board of selection to be established by joint resolution of the house of commons and to be entrusted with the duty of appointing the local exemption tribunals throughout Canada. A small committee was appointed to confer with Sir Wilfrid in regard to the selection of the Liberal half of the board of selection.

The general political situation and the party's attitude on the remainder of the session's programme was generally discussed. Absolute confidence was expressed in the judgment, patriotism and statesmanship of Sir Wilfrid who was enthusiastically cheered at the conclusion of the caucus.

It was noticeable that neither Mr. Turiff nor Mr. Gauthier, both of whom are said to be still ready to enter the Borden cabinet even though the premier's "Union government" plan do not now contemplate as large a measure of union as was at first offered, were not in attendance at the caucus, although both were in the building this morning. Dr. Michael Clark was not invited to attend, his break with the party being complete.

CONSERVATIVES TIED TO BORDEN.

On the Conservative side of parliament today opinions are somewhat divided as to the effect of yesterday's caucus and the re-endorsement of Sir Robert Borden as a leader. It is recognized that although the political outlook is still far from satisfactory, and although there are still murmurs and doubts as to the "effective leadership" the resolution passed by caucus yesterday irrevocably binds the party to Sir Robert's leadership until after the election at least. The insurgents are still quietly criticizing, but they know it is hopeless under present circumstances to revolt again. Sir Robert is left practically to his own discretion in carrying out a badly needed reorganization and strengthening of his cabinet. The general belief is that he will take no definite action until after prorogation, thus obviating the necessity for by-elections should any new men be taken in.

That there would be some reorganization is taken for granted although at present everyone is in the dark as to the means of strengthening the cabinet personnel.

PROROGATION LIKELY NEXT WEEK.

Prorogation of parliament is looked for at the end of next week or the week following, with the Canadian Northern legislation through the commons by closure and a majority for the bill apparently is assured in the senate, although on this there is still some doubt.

The only large item of contentious legislation left to consider is the franchise bill. The government has decided to bring one in but its final details are still under consideration. Present indications are that the original intention of disfranchising voters of alien enemy origin will not be carried out, but the franchise will be extended to women of Canadian or British birth leaving out several hundred thousand of women of foreign birth including those born in the United States. It is hoped that by this device any adverse influence of the foreign born male vote will be neutralized.

The government has already given instructions to the enumerators in the unorganized districts of Ontario to hold up the work of preparing the lists on which they started some time ago. This work will be done according to the provisions of the new franchise act. The preparation of entirely new dominion lists will mean the postponement of a general election until at least late in November or early in December, and there is a possibility that the government will not face the people until some time after the new year.

C. N. R. BILL THROUGH FINAL STAGE.

The government bill "for the relief of MacKenzie and Mann with the Bank of Commerce as the respondents" as D. D. MacKenzie put it, or as Mr. Kyle intimated tonight, the government's resort to raise a new campaign fund since the ex-minister of public works had left the government in a huff and had taken the campaign fund with him—was closed through its final stage in the commons tonight. The gag rule worked steadily.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who had previously not discussed the bill in the house was one of the first victims. By the irony of fate, however, Sir Thomas White was himself caught in the noose he had fastened for the opposition. R. B. Bennett, of Calgary, speaking from the government side of the house, made a slashing and effective attack on the bill, pointing out a number of vital defects and lack of safeguards in it and caustically criticizing the finance minister.

Sir Thomas whose verbosity is proverbial, could not begin to cover in his twenty minutes the rapid-fire attack of the Calgary orator and was stopped by the Speaker without being able to make any effective reply at all. Mr. Bennett's concluding remark had been shut off under the twenty minute rule and to the amusement of the Liberals, he walked across the floor and gave the concluding part of his redrafted bill to Hon. George P. Graham, who read it to the house for him.

At the opening it was suggested to the minister of finance demurred and the speaker necessarily sustained him. "Then I shall hope that the other chamber of this parliament, the senate, will protect the interests of the people of Canada in this transaction," warmly declared the Calgary Conservative.

House Opens With Queries. Ottawa, Aug. 30.—(Eastern Press)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier enquired of the prime minister in the commons today as to the truth of a newspaper report that a military service council had been appointed to assist in the enforcement of the conscription. Sir Robert Borden replied that the formal order had not yet passed but it was the intention of the government to appoint such a council.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley asked to the truth of the statement that F. P. Gutelius, former manager of government railways, had asked for volunteers for running trains in France, and had stipulated that their pay would be supplemented in order to bring it up to their railway pay, but that instead of the promise of Mr. Gutelius being implemented these railway men had only received $84 per month instead of $90, their railway pay.

"So far as I am aware, every promise made by the railway has been carried out," replied Hon. Frank Cochrane. The debate on the third reading of the bill was closed.

WHY THE "GAG" WAS APPLIED TO JAM THE C. N. R. BILL THROUGH

(Halifax Chronicle.)

But, granting that "emergency" justified the introduction of conscription in the way in which it was introduced, was possible excuse can be used in extenuation of the political crime now in course of perpetration in connection with the Canadian Northern Railway? A new parliament must be elected within the next twelve months. The present parliament has 22 seats from the west, which have never been filled. There are in it 24 vacant seats. It represents only a little more than one-fourth of the electors of Canada, and already outlived by a year the term for which it was elected. Notwithstanding these facts, and the fact that the Liberal party in parliament is solidly against the measure which has the unqualified condemnation of leading financiers and business men of the dominion, a bill is being forced through the house of commons, for unstarred reasons, to certain carefully concealed individuals who have been speculating in C. N. R. stock which a special expert commission, appointed by the government, reported to be entirely without value.

To emphasize the utterly abominable character of this proceeding, the bill is being driven through by closure—the parliamentary "gag." The opposition, to which no government owes the time in which to do this vile thing, is not to be allowed even to call the attention of the public fully to the prospective evils of this outrageous measure.

The Canadian Northern Railway Company, consisting namely of two promoters by the name of MacKenzie and Mann, have already been handed out $2,000,000 from the Canadian treasury, that is to say, from the pocket of the people of Canada. The $20,000,000 which they are next to be given will amount for them in a few weeks to practically a gift of $152,000,000, for which the government will have no better security than a mortgage which they now hold but refuse to foreclose, and some stock which has not only been proved to be worthless but which may involve liabilities of the most dangerous character. No wonder such a government is anxious to rehabilitate itself in the eyes of the country by introducing a measure which will allow Liberals to join its ranks, and, in default of them, propose to go on in the name of the unknown Liberals in quest of supposedly unattained, because obscure, Conservatives for purposes of political blood-transfusion.

Canadian Northern bill was then resumed, Sir Thomas White moving the application of the closure rule. A vote was taken upon the motion which carried by 65 to 48. Messrs. J. G. Turiff, Michael Clark and Levi Thompson voted with the government and Mr. J. A. Barrette with the opposition.

The speaker then intimated that under the rules speeches would be limited to twenty minutes, at 19 minutes therefore, he would ring a bell once, and at 20 minutes twice. He explained later that this was a plan of his own to facilitate the work of the house and hoped that the members would assist him in carrying out the rules.

In giving notice of motion for morning sessions of the senate on Monday Sir James Loughheed announced in the senate this afternoon that the prime minister expected that the bill would be placed a week from Saturday.

Third reading was given in the senate today to the bill providing for an over-seas minister of militia, a parliamentary secretary of militia and a parliamentary secretary of external affairs, the bill providing for incorporation of companies organized for purposes other than for gain; and the bill for the preservation of game in the Northwest Territories.

The income tax bill received second reading. The senate adjourned until Monday.

DEATH PENALTY OF ESKIMOS COMMUTED

Are Told If They Ever Kill Again, They Must Suffer

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 30.—The final scene in the Eskimo murder trial was enacted in the Supreme Court here when Sinnialak and Uluksuk, Copper Mine Eskimos, who were found guilty by a Calgary jury of murdering Father LeRoux, an Ojibwa missionary, at Dease Bay, in November, 1916, appeared before the Chief Justice of Alberta to receive their sentence. The Calgary jurors brought in the strongest possible recommendation for mercy, and this verdict was conveyed to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa, together with the chief justice's endorsement that it would be a crime to enforce the death penalty upon these men. A milder form of punishment, which would have the effect of acting as a salutary lesson to the Eskimos, was suggested.

Through the interpreter the sentence was conveyed to the prisoners, who looked very apprehensive. "Tell them that," said the chief justice, "you told them at Calgary I would ask Big Chief far away not to be too hard on them. I have asked him by the way we have here (telegraph), and he says because they did not know our way he won't have them put to death for killing a man. I think they must understand, now they know our law, that if they ever kill again they must suffer."

As a matter of form and in order that the commutation of sentence might be legal, His Lordship then passed sentence in the usual form, setting October 15 as the date of the execution, but later pointed out that on the day in question the Eskimos would probably be on their way home.

If the sanction of the Minister of Justice can be obtained, immediate arrangements will be made to send the Eskimos and witnesses and interpreters north by the boat from Peace River.

GERMAN PRISONERS IN AMHERST ESCAPE

Amherst, Aug. 30.—Two German prisoners made a successful escape from the internment camp on the Highlands at an early hour this morning. How the interned Huns managed to elude the sentry and penetrate the barbed wire entanglements is a mystery to the officers at the camp but in some manner the Teutons did so, crossed over Park street, went through a field of oats and into the nearby woods.

A. Peters and T. Reina are the men who made the escape. The latter speaks excellent English while the former in his own dialect is not far behind his companion.

The descriptions are as follows: T. Reina, complexion fair, height five feet five inches, hair light, eyes blue, right eye slightly crossed and defective, weight one hundred and fifty pounds, tattoo marks on both arms, wearing a dark blue suit.

A. Peters, good appearance, complexion fair, hair light, eyes grayish blue, height five feet eight inches, inclined to be stout, weight one hundred and eighty pounds, wearing dark blue suit.

Since the last escape from the experimental farm the Teutonic prisoners have been conducting themselves with the utmost decorum. The fact that their comrades met has evidently deterred them from making the plunge until the present time. However, they can only go into hiding and will be caught sooner or later. All modes of exit from the country are now closely guarded and the United States hardly offers them a refuge as in former times.

Colonel Morris had a large armed force out this morning scouring the countryside and it is understood tonight that a

TRIBUTE TO OVERSEAS NURSE

A deserving tribute was paid last evening to a worthy young lady when the willing workers of the Central Baptist church presented an address of appreciation to Miss Anna Stammers who returned in July last after over two years service as nursing sister on the battle fields of France and Flanders. Sister Stammers expects to leave soon on her return to duty at the front and her friends made this the occasion of both a welcome and a farewell.

The address which expressed appreciation of the noble service rendered to the boys at the front by Miss Stammers and included best wishes for her future work was read by Mrs. D. J. Macpherson and was accompanied by a bouquet of American beauty roses which was handed to the brave young nurse by little Esther Logue.

Miss Stammers made a suitable reply in which she expressed her thanks for the kindly words, and in a brief way outlined her work at the front. She passed around interesting snapshots of scenes in war-ridden France.

Rev. D. J. Macpherson offered an appropriate prayer after which a short musical programme was carried out, including solos by Misses Gladys Goodrich and Mildred Brown, and a musical number by Roy Edwards. Wendell Belyea acted as accompanist. The gathering was presided over by Mrs. R. D. Christie, president of the willing workers. At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served.

THE ESTEY CASE

The cross-examination of Chas. A. Clark was continued this morning in the trial of Wesley H. Estey, charged with the misappropriation of funds, before Judge Armstrong in the County Court. To J. A. Barry, appearing for the defense, Mr. Clark said various sums had been borrowed from Joseph Campbell, of Sussex; W. H. McQuade and P. M. O'Neill in his business. When asked how large his book debts were, Mr. Clark would not swear that they did not amount to $20,000. He said they were rather large. There was some argument about some entries in the cash book. The cash book was gone over and a large number of checks, amounting to about $12,000, were pointed out, about which Mr. Clark said he could say nothing. Mr. Clark, at the request of Mr. Barry, said that he would bring his clerk, A. V. Cowan, and his Royal Bank book to the court this afternoon. When the court adjourned at 1 o'clock, Mr. Clark's testimony was about completed, but he will be recalled for a short time by the prosecution at 2:30 this afternoon. Estey will probably go on the stand immediately afterwards.

HARRIS CASE IN THE JURY'S HANDS THIS AFTERNOON

Morning Taken Up With Addresses By Counsel

JUDGE BEGINS HIS CHARGE

Was to Resume at Re-opening of Court at 2:30—Mr. Mullin, in Address, Brings up Matter of Failure to Find Slayer of H. L. Williams

The case against John O'Brien and Everett Carland, who are under arrest on a charge of murdering Robert Harris, Jr., will go to the jury this afternoon. This morning Daniel Mullin, K.C., chief counsel for the defence, addressed the jury. He commenced a little after twelve o'clock and concluded about twelve o'clock, after which Dr. Wallace, K.C., who is conducting the prosecution, addressed the jury.

Mr. Mullin spoke about the methods of the police. He criticized their actions in the present case and also recalled the circumstances of the murder of Harry L. Williams and spoke of the inefficiency of the department. He referred to a theory emanating from police headquarters that Harry Williams had committed suicide, and said the reason given by the chief of police for the disappearance of the revolver was that some friend had entered the store and made away with it. If such was the case, he said, why did they not find out the man who got the revolver? With all the resources of the police department, they failed to unravel the murder of Harry Williams and, he said, he feared it would be another mystery.

Mr. Mullin said he did not notice that any money had been voted by the city to help bring the perpetrator to justice in the Harris case, but a sum had been appropriated for that purpose in the Harris case. The spirit that animated the movement, he said, he did not understand, but he only wished to point out the contrast of the effort put forth in that case in comparison with the Williams case. He said the master plumbers' association was behind the movement and they were trying to fasten the blame on the striking plumbers and not on the perpetrator of the crime.

Mr. Mullin then spoke of the arrest of the defendants and criticized the methods adopted by the police. He said the prisoners were taken into custody on a charge of intimidation, and trumped up charges of intimidation, and again and not tried as was the privilege of every British subject. He said that the trial that he would not discharge the prisoners until he got word from city officials. This Mr. Mullin said he could not believe. He said the spirit of the spirit of magna charta.

He then went on to explain about the finger print apparatus and paraphernalia of modern description of the detective department and said that the only thing they lacked to put them on a footing with larger organizations was brains. He said there were skill and brains in other departments of the kind elsewhere, but there was no evidence of such here.

The speaker paid a tribute to the ability of Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., who complimented him. He said that if this case failed, as it surely would, no blame could be attached to Dr. Wallace for it was from lack of effort on his part that everything possible was not held together. He said he would not be held responsible for the failure of the crown to produce sufficient evidence.
