TURKS MAKE NEW VIOLATION OF NEUTRAL ZONE; CAVALRY AT MOUTH OF DARDANELLES

ARMISTICE CONFERENCE ABOUT OCT. 2

Turks Ask British Promise Not to Reinforce at Chanak

Sultan Sees Throne Lost—Three Candidates for Succession Discussed, With Present Ruler's Nephew Having Best Chance.

(Canadian Press Cable.)
Constantinople, Sept. 26.—The armistice conference to arrange for the cessation of hostilities between the Greeks and the Turkish Nationalists will be held at Mudania on or about October 2, if the Ankara government accepts the provisional peace terms outlined in the note from the Allies.

This was decided at a council of the allied high commissioners yesterday afternoon in the British embassy, and attended by Hamid Bey, representative of the Nationalists. Hamid asked pledges from the British government that the positions around Chanak be not reinforced during the progress of the negotiations.

The Ankara government has protested to the Allies against the presence in the Bosphorus of the Greek flagship Averoff, which it alleges infringes the neutrality of the Constantinople region.

The remaining members of the Greek military mission, the personnel of the Greek naval base, which was discontinued yesterday, and prominent members of the Greek colony have boarded the Averoff, which is to leave for Athens.

A large Greek transport filled with troops and artillery passed through the Bosphorus yesterday on the way to Rodosto, to strengthen the army in Thrace. The Greek newspapers announce the arrival in Thrace of General Papanicolaou, Nider and Leonardopolis, and other prominent military leaders, who are expected to reconstitute the army and inspire the men with new spirit.

SULTAN SEES REIGN AT END.

Constantinople, Sept. 26.—The sultan was stirred by the deepest emotion when his brother-in-law, Damad Ferid Pasha, suddenly left for Switzerland without bidding him farewell.

In Nationalist circles candidates for succession to the imperial throne are being freely discussed, but thus far only three of these are understood to be acceptable to Mustafa Kemal Pasha and his followers. Prince Selim, a distinguished cavalry officer, and a nephew of the sultan, appears to have the best chance.

Abdul Medjid Efendi, fifty years old, a cousin of the sultan, comes next. His facilitating attitude towards the nationalist movement, however, has a tendency to alienate him from the Ankara leaders.

Darizade Abdullah Efendi, former Sheik-Ul-Islam, highest Moslem religious authority, who had denounced the nationalist movement on violent terms, fled the city yesterday with two former cabinet ministers.

THEFT OF HALF A MILLION CHARGED

Former Partners in Bankrupt Stock Broking Firm in Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 26.—A warrant charging Jules Gosselin and George W. Fairbanks, formerly partners in a bankrupt stock broking firm, with the theft of $500,000 was sworn out this morning.

The warrant was issued at the request of Maurice Demers, acting on behalf of himself and clients of the firm. The indictment charges the partners with converting certain stocks and bonds, the property of their clients, to their own use.

"RUSSIA TO BE SHOT AS JAPANESE SPY"

Soviets Said She Was in Russian Service Bot Gave Information to Japan.

Moscow, Sept. 26.—A woman, claiming to be Princess Anna Probuskaya, daughter of a Kiev professor, was sentenced to be shot after a trial before a revolutionary tribunal in Moscow. The woman was arrested in Vladivostok on a charge of espionage in the service of the Japanese.

The Soviets further said that she had gone to Vladivostok in the interests of the Soviet government, but was simultaneously giving information to the Japanese.

KUM KALESI, WHICH COMMANDS STRAITS IS SEIZED BY THEM

Russia Sends Allies Note Refusing Agreement as to Waterways Unless She is at Conference—Optimism in England—France Tells Kemal His Troops Must Leave Neutral Ground.

(Canadian Press Cable.)

Constantinople, Sept. 26.—Simultaneously with their occupation of Kum Kale, the Turkish Nationalists also took possession of Kum Kale, at the mouth of the Dardanelles. The occupying forces consisted of cavalry.

Seizure of these places constitutes violation of the neutral zone of the straits, Eren Keul being between Kum Kale and Chanak, which later place is held by the British.

The Kemalists have an entire cavalry corps at Adramyti, fifty miles southeast of Chanak.

NOTE FROM RUSSIA.

Moscow, Sept. 26.—Soviet Russia, in a note addressed to Great Britain, France, Italy, Greece, Roumania, Jugo-Slavia, Bulgaria and Egypt, proposing an immediate conference designed to find a solution of the Near East situation, warns the European powers against again ignoring the interests of those countries directly interested in the freedom of the Dardanelles.

The note reiterates that Russia will refuse to recognize any decision unless she is a party to the agreement.

CAN CHECK KEMAL, SAID GEN. MAURICE

Constantinople, Sept. 26.—Major-General Frederick B. Maurice, British military expert, who has just returned from the British position at Chanak, expressed the opinion that the British would be able, if necessary, to hold this key position against any attempts to drive them out. He thought there was no question that Mustafa Kemal Pasha would accept the allied proposals, with reservations.

"But if he elects to fight us," added the general, "we are prepared. Our land, naval and air forces are such that we can prevent him from crossing the straits and invading Thrace and can successfully keep him out of Constantinople."

SAY IT IS WAR OF RELIGION.

Constantinople, Sept. 26.—The Greek residents of Constantinople are apprehensive of the results should the Turkish Nationalists take over the capital. Many frankly express their fear of a repetition of the Smyrna massacres.

"If the Kemalists take Constantinople and attack us," said one prominent Greek, "we will fire our homes before we flee, and will not leave a penny's worth of property."

"A Turkish invasion without the restraining influence of allied forces may bring consequences far more terrible than in Smyrna. The Christian minorities so ignominiously abandoned by the Allies will again, as in the year 1453, save Christianity in Europe by their lives."

"This is no more a war of conquest, but a war of religion. Europe is threatened with a Moslem renaissance. The Turkish army in its delirium of victory will pass over the corpses of thousands of innoculated Christians in an effort to reconquer the Turkish provinces lost in Balkan wars."

Peace Conference.

Rome, Sept. 26.—Instructions have been sent to the authorities at Venice to resume preparations for the Near East peace conference, which it is expected here will meet in that city in about three weeks. It is expected there will be about ten delegations, comprising probably 500 members.

The Italian press is urging the government to follow the example of France by sending an authoritative representative of Italy to Mustafa Kemal Pasha, and mentions Baron Romano Avezana.

London, Sept. 26.—Further indications of the restlessness of the Turkish Nationalist over their enforced idleness while waiting for peace to be arranged are recounted in late despatches from Constantinople.

Two divisions of Turkish cavalry, or about 3,000 men, have occupied Eren Keul, which lies only ten miles southwest of Chanak, the main British position on the southern shore of the Dardanelles, and eight miles east of Kum Kale, from which heavy guns command the entrance of the Straits from the Aegean Sea.

Brigadier-General Sir Charles Harrington, British commander, has sent a note to Mustafa Kemal Pasha, Nationalist chief, for the withdrawal of the cavalry. Pending receipt of his reply a British mobile column has been prepared to leave today. The exodus included many prominent local journalists, and 20,000 Greeks were said to be frantically applying for passports.

CALAMITY IS THREATENING REFUGEES

Balfour Appeals to Nations and Presents British Offer—Some Fear of Massacre.

Geneva, Sept. 26.—The Earl of Balfour brought before the assembly of the League of Nations yesterday information from his government which he said showed a great calamity was threatening the Greek and Armenian refugees in Smyrna. He said Great Britain was ready to give £20,000 to a relief fund, and he appealed to the other countries to contribute to this fund.

Lord Balfour especially asked the Persians, representing the only Moslem nation here, to do what they could in the special situation they occupied toward relieving this situation, and Prince Dowitch of Persia offered to give him all the help he could in promoting the relief work and to serve as mediator, if necessary.

The assembly was much affected by Lord Balfour's appeal and by reports from British sources that a massacre was impending at Smyrna. According to the British reports such a massacre had been set for September 30.

A Smyrna despatch on Sunday said Mustafa Kemal Pasha had set September 30 as the date by which the evacuation of the 50,000 or more refugees remaining in Smyrna must be completed. If vessels were not sent by the evacuation of the 50,000 or more refugees remaining in Smyrna must be completed. If vessels were not sent by the evacuation of the 50,000 or more refugees remaining in Smyrna must be completed.

CRITICIZES THE MINE DIRECTORS

District Attorney's Statement in Connection with Argonaut Mine Disaster.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 26.—T. G. Nettich, district attorney who is questioning witnesses at an inquest here on the Argonaut gold mine fire, which resulted in the death of forty-seven workers, issued a signed statement in which he criticized the board of directors of the mine. His statement, he explained, was based on testimony of witnesses at the inquest.

It says, in part:—"The Argonaut Mine Company had planned no adequate fire fighting apparatus in making the strongest effort to keep the Turks out of the neutral zones and avoiding all incidents, it was explained today in official circles.

"This explanation followed confirmation of a Constantinople message to the effect that General Pella, French high commissioner, had requested Mustafa Kemal Pasha to cause the removal from the neutral zone of the troops which had invaded it near Chanak.

No indication of what Mustafa Kemal's reply to the allied note had been received at the foreign office up to half this afternoon.

HALF WAY ACROSS; GIVES UP THE SWIM

Dover, Eng., Sept. 26.—Walter Peterson, a Bridgeport, Conn., swimmer, started at 3:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Cape Gris-Nez, on the French coast, in an attempt to swim the English Channel, but gave up the attempt at 7:40 p.m., when half way across, owing to a cramp in the leg. He had a narrow escape from missing the attending boat in the darkness.

SENATOR WATSON OF GEORGIA DEAD

Washington, Sept. 26.—U. S. Senator Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, died suddenly at his home here early today. Death was said to be due to an acute attack of asthma, from which he had suffered recurrently for some years. He was in his seat in the senate on Friday. He was stricken suddenly after dinner last night and passed away a little after three o'clock this morning. He was 66 years of age.

DARE-DEVIL FEATS

Steeplejack's Performance for Wager Twenty-Five Dollars.

Halifax, Eng., Sept. 26.—Hair-raising feats that would put a circus troupe to shame were performed for a £5 wager by three steeplejacks who have been repeating one of the tallest chimney stacks in the Hebban Bridge district, near Halifax.

They hoisted a bicycle to a wooden platform on the top, and one of the men balanced himself on the saddle, while a second sat on his shoulders with outstretched arms.

Another man stood erect on the tip of the lightning conductor and then hung head downwards from the top-most rung of the ladder with his legs pointing to the sky. He afterwards raised himself and stood for a few seconds on his hands.

Thousands of spectators were thrilled by the extraordinary feats.

COALITION FOR GREECE

Venizelos Would be Included in Cabinet—Reported Activity of Serbians and Bulgarians.

Athens, Sept. 26.—Premier Triantafyllakos is planning to strengthen his cabinet still further, according to the newspaper, by proposing the creation of a national ministry representing all parties and including Venizelos, who would serve as a special envoy in the Entente capitals.

This move is described as the cabinet's answer to the project of bringing General Metaxas into power, and is hailed not only as a clever political initiative but also as a step calculated to assure a united Greece at the moment of complete international isolation.

Former Premiers Gounaris and Stratos, and also General Metaxas, would be invited to become members of the ministry under the coalition scheme as outlined.

Alexander Dimoede, former minister of finance, who is recognized as an active leader in the Venizelist party, is planning to proceed soon to Paris to consult M. Venizelos.

Public opinion in Greece is exercised over the reported mobilizing of Serbian forces near the northern frontier of Greece, together with the activities of the Bulgarians.

The opinion is expressed that Jugo Slavia and Bulgaria plan to take advantage of Greece's present position, occupy Macedonia and thus secure outlets on the Aegean Sea.

TRAGEDY ON A FARM IN WEST

Young Ontarian Killed in a "Wild West" Shooting Accident.

Montmarle, Sask., Sept. 26.—Edward Poulton, a farmer, aged about twenty, whose home is in London, Ont., was accidentally shot and killed on the farm of Ferdinand Steffan, near here, on Sunday afternoon.

Poulton and a lad named Runke had decided to have their pictures taken in wild west style, each having a gun pointed at the other.

Before pointing the camera fine shells were taken from one of the guns and Runke appears not to have been aware that there was still a shell left in the barrel. When he pulled the trigger at a distance of six feet from Poulton, the latter received the full charge in the breast.

ARMADA TREASURE HUNT.

Interesting Finds From the Wrecked Spanish Galleon.

The treasure hunters at Tobermory (Scotland), who are searching for the treasure that was sunk with the Spanish Armada, have had two interesting finds.

A great muzzle-loading gun, silver-plated, and a sword scabbard have been received.

They bear the mark "P and P" which is taken to mean Phillipps and Isabella of Spain, whose joint reign extended from 1559 to 1570.

The weapons were found amid stout portulaca after a fight of two hours. The treasure seekers are hopeful of ultimate success.

THE CONSTANTINOPLE FIRE NOT SO SERIOUS AS WAS FIRST THOUGHT

Constantinople, Sept. 26.—The fire which broke out in Constantinople yesterday, and which has been reported to have originated in a music hall. The blaze originated in a music hall. The audience was stampeded, but so far as could be ascertained there was no loss of life.

Small fires which started simultaneously in other parts of the city accentuated the fears in many quarters that the fire might spread to the city.

Toronto, Sept. 26.—Animosity against Ignace Paderewski, famous pianist, because of pogroms alleged to have been committed against the Jews in Poland while Paderewski was premier of that country, is warming up in this city in anticipation of his visit here on Nov. 27. A disturbance is threatened at the concert.

A. Rahnwitz, editor of the Hebrew Daily Journal, this city, has written to a local paper on the matter. "There must be no Paderewski concert in our fraternal city of equality between Jew and Gentile," he says. "The blood of our killed cries for justice. Would any Torontonian receive coldly the murderer of his brother or his sister? For it is in cold blood that the pogroms were committed by hordes led by Paderewski's party members. We do not seek revenge, but we cannot receive an anti-Semitic and instigator to murder."

TURKS ACCEPT ON CONDITIONS

Reply to Allies' Note Ready—Nationalists Insist on Right of Military Movement While Conference is on.

(Canadian Press Cable.)
Constantinople, Sept. 26.—The reply of the Turkish Nationalists to the allied peace note has been completed, and comprises acceptance of the conditions laid down at the Paris conference, according to Essad Bey, aide-de-camp to Mustafa Kemal Pasha, who has arrived here from Smyrna.

The Nationalists, however, insist upon their right to conduct military movements during the progress of the conference, and also demand admission to the meeting of all the allies of the Ankara government, including Russia, Persia and Bulgaria.

STOCKS DOWN ON RAILWAY MEN NEAR EAST NEWS

New York, Sept. 26.—(10:30)—Overnight cable despatches announcing the entrance of Turkish cavalry into the neutral zones cast a dampening influence on the opening of today's stock market. Prices opened lower and continued downward in the first half hour. Gulf States Steel, which had been pushed up in rapid fashion, was the hardest hit, dropping 2-1/4 points. Crucible Steel dropped two points and losses of a point or more were registered by American Ice, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Woolen, Retail Stores, Union Pacific, Chandler, General Asphalt and Mexican Petroleum.

Several specialties, which had shown signs of strength in the last few days, also yielded to selling pressure, which extended over the entire list. Foreign exchange rates also because of the uncertainty of the Near Eastern situation.

(Canadian Press Cable.)
Geneva, Sept. 26.—The report of the committee on reduction of armaments, which was brought before the League of Nations assembly today by Lord Robert Cecil for final action, recommends that the European powers, with the exception of Spain, Belgium and the newly formed states, reduce the total of their expenditures for military, naval and air forces to the amounts spent in 1913.

The report further asks continuation of the work of collecting statistics on armament and proposes international conferences on traffic in arms and to consider extension of the Washington naval accord to the members of the league.

THE GIANTS AT CHAMPIONS TENTH

Long George Kelly Drives in the Deciding Run

New York Plans for World Series to Open With McGraw's Men at Home—Several Offers from the U. S. Cabled to Battling Siki.

(Canadian Press)

New York, Sept. 26.—The New York Giants today are champions of the National League for the tenth time in their career. Eight of these triumphs have occurred since 1914, under the indomitable leadership of John J. McGraw, and this year's victory came after a typical McGraw finish—a batting drive in which the club landed on top despite the loss of its star, Phil Donnell, the collapse of the rest of its mound stars, and in the face of an eleventh hour menace by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Long George Kelly fished out hit that scored Pisch with winning run in the tenth inning. The tenth received credit for a home run. The Yankees, leading 1-0, needed but one more victory to win the pennant.

London, Sept. 26—(Canadian Press)
—Swift MacNeill, ex-M. P., a noted in the history of cabinet government.

The manifesto was due to the external office of the cabinet secretariat which,
Mr. MacNeill says, is an institution unknown to the constitution and the sole creation of the present premier. This unfortunate foreign policy manifesto, he adds, with the foreign office out of the picture, ought to be the death warrant of the secretariat.

SUIT AGAINST A FORMER SUB-INSPECTOR

Fredericton Livery Stable Firm Take Action Against
J. Merryfield.

(Special to Times.)
Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 26.—Before
Mr. Justice Crockett this morning trial was begun in the case of Camp Bro-vs. J. J. Merryfield. The defendant belongs to St. John and a few years ago was a liquor inspector when Rev.
W. D. Wilson was chief inspector.

The action is based on the allegation of the plaintiffs that in 1917 the defendant hired a team of horses at their livery stable in this city to drive to Keswick and returned the horses at about 10 p. m. in such a condition that one had to be helped into the stable; that a veterinary was summoned but was unable to save the life of one of the horses for the $250 had been offered, and that the other was useless for some months. The condition of the animals was due to over-driving, according to the statement of the plaintiffs, Scotch Lake having been reached by them, though farther than the destination intended. Reparation, they say, was promised, but that nothing ever was received from the defendant.

The case is defended by C. J. Mel-liday, appearing for Merryfield, who also is attending court.

for the accused drew attention to the

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE

Montreal, Sept. 26 (10.30)—The paper issues featured the early trading on the local stock exchange this morning, displaying further strength. Brompton was a half stronger at 34, Laurentide was unchanged at 35, Price Bros.
registered a gain of 1/4 point to 44, Rio-don went up 1/2 to 8 1/2, while Spanish River common was a quarter point stronger at 9 1/2. The preferred stock of the latter was off that fraction at 10 1/2. Other leaders were quiet.

UPTURN IN THE WHEAT MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Renewed anxiety as to warlike developments at the Dardanelles gave the wheat market a new upturn today in the early trading.
Some traders were disposed also to regard the threatened strike of sailors on the Great Lakes as being a bullish influence. It was contended that an immediate effect of the strike would be to delay the movement of the Canadian crop and to increase demand for wheat at the Gulf of Mexico and as eastern U. S. ports.

The opening, which ranged from 7-8 to 1-4 cent higher, with December 105 to 105 1/4, and May 109, was followed by continued firmness within the initial range.

Corn and oats were firmer in line with wheat. After opening unchanged to 3-8 cent higher, December 59 to 59 1/8, the corn market showed but little disposition to react. Oats started December 46 1/8 to 36 3/4, and later hardened a trifle more.

Despite weakness in the hog market, provisions reflected meter shipping demand for lard and meat.

The Right Breakfast - Less than One Cent

If you would finish the day right, you must start it right by eating the proper breakfast.

And the finest morning meal is the most inexpensive. Everyone should start the day on oats, the greatest food that grows, and the most economical.

The oat is more nourishing than any other grain food—it makes bone and brawn. But the maximum of oat nutrition, flavour and value is not found in ordinary rolled oats sold in bulk—it comes only in the Quaker carton.

We buy the very cream of the oat crop, which in turn we sift for the best grains. These rich, plump, perfect oats are milled into very thin flakes, and packed in sealed cartons.
The Quaker package protects the Oats, preserves their original flavour, and prevents waste.

Perfect Oats—perfect milling—perfect packing—are the three simple reasons for Quaker's exclusive purity and wholesomeness.

Yet Quaker Oats cost less than a cent per dish.

Ask your grocer for the Quaker package.
You can't get Quaker quality any other way.

When Canadian Corps Smashed Through Canal Du Nord

Audacious Plan of Sir Arthur Currie Described by Lord Byng as Most Difficult Manoeuvre Attempted of West Front.

Lord Byng of Vimy described the plan of attack by the Canadian Corps on the Canal du Nord, successfully carried out on the morning of Friday, Sept. 27, 1918, as the most difficult manoeuvre yet attempted on any battlefield in the war to date. He talked the plan over with the corps commander, Sir Arthur Currie, during a visit he paid to corps headquarters at Neuville Vitasse a few days before the battle opened. Byng knew the difficulties of the ground, for in the previous November he led his Third Army in his assault on Cambrai from the south, without artillery preparation, the way for the infantry being opened by a rolling barrage and heavy tanks. That attack was a great success in its initial stages and would have been carried far into the enemy's lines had Byng behind him the fresh reserves required. These unfortunately were being used up in Flanders before Passchendaele, and included the Canadian Corps, but it remains a fact that the tactics introduced by Byng in November, 1917, remained the model for attack both for ourselves and the enemy during the rest of the war.

The crossing of the Canal du Nord marked the opening of the last stage of the Battle of Cambrai. The battle began on Aug. 26 with the Canadian Corps' attack east of Arras, this first stage culminating in the smashing of the Hindenburg line, here known as the Drocourt-Queant switch, by the corps on Sept. 2. Thereafter the corps lay for three weeks in the desolation of No Man's Land confronting the Canal du Nord. The enemy held the high land on the east bank and commanded the whole corps area with their artillery. They also held the high land north of the Scarpe and the Senese and poured in an incessant fire on our communications. Heavy rains converted the clay land into a quagmire. The men lived in the elaborate systems of dugouts and captured from the Boches and there was every appearance that they must stay there through the winter. The Canal du Nord appeared impregnable. During these three weeks considerable advances had been made further south by the British Third and Fourth armies and the French. The ground in the breach had been won through the enemy's fortified lines. On the immediate front of the Canadian Corps was the formidable Canal du Nord, which was finished work at the opening of the war, but filled with water except at one narrow spot in front of Inchy-en-Artois. Back of the canal—that is to say, east towards Cambrai—the ground sloped sharply up, crowned by the famous Bourlon Wood, captured by Byng in 1917, but subsequently lost. These heights and the plain beyond immediately north of Cambrai were covered with trench systems, fortified by concrete machine gun posts. Even if the canal were successfully breached, very heavy fighting lay beyond. September was wearing on. Weather conditions in October might bring the advance to a halt, with another winter in the trenches. It became vitally important that a breach be made right through the enemy's prepared positions with the object of rolling up his line north and south. And once again the Canadian Corps was selected for the task. The corps commander was instructed to attack on his immediate front. He demurred. He pointed out that the corps lay in the watery triangle bounded by the Canal du Nord on the east and the Senese with its marshes on the north. To attack there was to invite defeat and a slaughter worse than Passchendaele, where at least there was a definite and attainable military objective. He made counter proposals and these finally were accepted, leading to the last stage of the battle of Cambrai, Sept. 27-Oct. 2, to the fall of Cambrai on Oct. 9, and what was infinitely more important, the complete breach of the enemy's fortified area, forcing him to fall back rapidly on to the line of the Scheldt.

During September the corps area roughly comprised the ground bounded on the south by the Arras-Cambrai road, on the east by the Canal du Nord and on the north by the Senese. The enemy's line stretched in a wide sweep north of the Scarpe from well to the northwest of and behind the left of the corps east to the flooded areas of the Senese and thence sharply south along the Canal du Nord. On the defensive, therefore, the corps had two fronts. In attack easterly, that is to say, across the canal and up the opposing slopes, it was essential that a left flank be built up as the battle progressed. Our right flank would rest naturally on the Scheldt canal. The 2nd and 3rd Canadian Infantry Divisions were in the line. What Sir Arthur Currie proposed was to side-slip south from this area to the south of the Arras-Cambrai road, then attack in the form of a spearhead across the dry area of the Canal du Nord on a front of not more than a mile, and then advance on to the Senese at Inchy-en-Artois, which lies midway between the flooded areas north and south of Sains les Marquion and Bourlon Wood. A very wonderful barge, concentric in its action, was devised by the Canadian Royal Artillery, designed not only to smash the enemy's frontal opposition, but by laying down a barrier of fire behind his troops north of Inchy, to hem these in against the canal until our advancing left wing enveloped them. All this was successfully carried out and the battle in its upshot was a triumph for the technical skill of the engineers and the resource of the Canadian gunner. Not less important was the work of the Canadian Engineers, Major General W. B. Lindsay, G. O. C. The attack presented four divisions had to be got through this narrow defile, and in addition there were engineers, artillery, machine-gunners and all the supply trains of various descriptions. To add to these difficulties the canal had to be bridged in many places, especially to permit the passage of guns and limber. "At the very outset, therefore, the success of the battle devolved upon the engineers. While the infantry, under cover of the artillery barrage, might carry the canal in the first rush, it was essential that guns and ammunition be brought forward across the canal as soon as possible. To do this bridges were a necessity. The task set the engineers was of vital importance.

For the purpose of the attack the 11th British Division, which had been transferred to the Canadian Corps from the attack on the Drocourt-Queant switch, again took part in the attack, forming the left flank of the corps, and being entrusted, after the breach was made, with mopping up the east bank of the canal as far north as the Senese. The frontal attack was entrusted to the 4th and 1st Canadian Divisions, with the 3rd Canadian Division in support on the right.

It was vital that the enemy should have no warning of the impending onslaught. In fact he felt himself secure behind the almost impregnable line of the Canal du Nord, and once again was caught napping. The side-slip of the corps south to the new area was therefore made at night, Sept. 26-27. It was dark and stormy with a heavy artillery duel in progress throughout. "Zero" hour was set for 6:20 a.m., and long before that every gun and every man was in position, with a battery trained pointblank on the unsuspecting enemy in the village of Inchy. By 6:30 a.m. the attack had been gathered together, while during the night railroad was pushed up by our engineers almost to our jumping-off line.

The scene was thus set for the opening of the last battle on the great scale to be fought by the Canadian corps, a battle which with its swaying fortunes, its desperate fight for the plateau north east of Cambrai, did not come to a definite decision, was not crowned with victory, until six days later, and then only at a cost heavier than anything before paid by the Canadian corps. But in its complete success it broke the enemy's organized resistance and prepared the way for his surrender six weeks later.

The Epworth League, of the Fairville Methodist church, held its first meeting of the winter months last night. There was a large attendance and much interest and enthusiasm was displayed. Following routine business, a social hour was spent and refreshments were served.

The sewer leading from the St. John County Hospital became clogged yesterday and the services of the water and sewerage department of the city were called upon to remedy the trouble. Commissioner Wigmore and a crew of men went to the scene of the difficulty and soon had it in working order again.

A meeting of the executive of the St. John branch of the G. W. V. A. was held last evening with Dr. G. B. Peat, vice-president of the local branch in the chair. It was decided to resume the tri-weekly dances, which proved very successful last winter. The other matters considered at the meeting were largely of a routine nature.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Kelley, Rev. G. A. Ross, of Hampton, and J. J. Pinker.

Conditions of success depended on the concentration of a tremendous barrage of artillery, great and small, on a narrow front, with provision that as soon as the canal was crossed our field artillery should gallop forward to support the infantry in the final assault on Bourlon Wood. A very wonderful barge, concentric in its action, was devised by the Canadian Royal Artillery, designed not only to smash the enemy's frontal opposition, but by laying down a barrier of fire behind his troops north of Inchy, to hem these in against the canal until our advancing left wing enveloped them. JULY PRODUCTION OF GASOLINE BROKE ALL MONTHLY RECORDS

Washington, Sept. 26—All previous records for monthly production of gasoline in the United States were broken in July, when 560,711,415 gallons were produced, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Mines. The July output represents an increase of 44,000,000 gallons over June production, and 56,000,000 gallons over the figures for May. The increase over July of last year is 150,000,000 gallons.

Domestic consumption of gasoline for July was also the largest ever recorded in a single month, amounting to 586,000,000 gallons, as compared with 607,000,000 gallons for June and 57,000,000 gallons for July of last year. Stocks on hand Aug. 1 were 772,908,919 gallons, or 6.31 per cent. less than the figures for July 1.

Imports of gasoline for July amounted to 4,840,098 gallons, exports were 88,630,402 gallons, and shipments of insular possessions were 1,866,789 gallons.

Greenwich, Conn., Sept. 26—Ernest Woerber, a Greenwich young man noted as an automobile speed fiend, drove past Judge James R. Mead at the rate of seventy miles an hour in a car equipped for the Danbury Paid races.

When Woerber was halted before Judge Mead the latter declared he had broken all speed records here, and that neighbors complained his car was noisily muffled and made a noise that could be heard a mile away.

Then Judge Mead fined the young man $70 and costs.

THE NEAR EAST

The defiant attitude of some of the spokesmen for the Turkish Nationalists and their declarations that they will not accept the terms proposed by the Allies, are not taken very seriously in London. Such outbursts are regarded as part of the bargaining tactics of the Turk. Having gained practically everything that was asked for, it is not unnatural that the Turks must feel that they had made a mistake in not asking for more, and that they now should attempt to remedy that error and to pave the way for further concessions.

While the Turks announce a programme that differs materially in some points from that laid down by the Allies, and some of the Greeks tell what they will do if the Turks attempt to enter Thrace, the Allies await an answer to their note from one person who is in a position to answer it, Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the leader and dictator of the Nationalist forces, to whom the note was addressed. It is quite probable that the answer will call for further negotiations before an agreement is reached, but it is confidently expected that the concessions made by the Allies are sufficient to ensure a peaceful settlement of the affair.

That danger of conflict still exists is denied. The Turkish forces, with victory and the Turks may be inclined to regard the actions of the Allies as a concession or unwillingness to comply with the situation. Unfavourable circumstances it is not impossible that they might be tempted to go beyond the limits of safety, and provoke a conflict. It must be remembered, however, that the Allies are united in their action, and if they maintain an unbroken front it would be not merely rashness but madness for the Turks to risk the gains they already have made, for the sake of further concessions, by an appeal to force.

The Allies are pledged to a certain course of conduct, and Britain, at least, is not neglecting the precautions which are the part of wisdom in dealing with the Turks. The demand that Great Britain should suspend all naval and air movements in the Straits during the conference is not a demand that is not to be given. Terms are settled, it will support the contentions of the Allies with the argument which the Turk can best understand—a show of strength sufficiently great to assure him that the Allies are in a position to enforce their terms. In this case military preparations probably are the best guarantee of peace.

THE THREE-MILE LIMIT

The possibility of international complications arising from the seizure of a Canadian schooner by United States law enforcement officers outside the three-mile limit probably is much more remote than some exciting journals on this side of the border profess to fear. The incident is an unfortunate one, in that it shows a regrettable disregard for international law. But the action of the Canadian officers, although upheld by the United States courts, is probably in conflict with international law that it is reasonable to expect that the decision will be reversed by a higher court; if not, the matter will be dealt with by diplomatic means and a settlement will be reached. Canada and the United States are not going to rupture the friendship of more than a century's standing because of the activities of some alleged rum-runners, and the rights of vessels flying the British flag will be upheld as established before the incident is closed. Meanwhile there is no cause for alarm.

The incident which has given rise to so much discussion began with the seizure of the Nova Scotia schooner Ruby by United States government officers, when the craft was some miles off the United States coast. Seizure was contested by the owners and a federal judge ruled that non-running vessels were not immune from seizure by the mere fact that they are beyond the three-mile limit. In his decision, the learned judge said:

"The high seas are the authority of no nation. They are free to the vessels of all countries. But that does not mean that a nation is powerless against vessels offending against its laws and remain just outside the three-mile limit. The line between territorial waters and the high seas is not like the boundary between two nations. There must be, it seems to me, certain width of debatable waters adjacent to our coast. How far our authority shall be extended into them for seizure of foreign vessels that have been our laws is a matter for the legal departments of the government rather than for the courts to decide."

Though Canada has no desire to do those who break the laws of the United States, or of any other nation, and although Canadians who respect for law and order have little sympathy with those who in such attempts, it is recognized that this decision cannot be permitted to stand. It is not Canada alone that is affected, but the British Empire and all the craft that fly the British flag, to say nothing of those of other nations. No one will dispute the right of the United States to pass what laws that nation may desire to have upon its statute books, nor the right to enforce those laws within its own boundaries. When international law is disregarded, however, and the persons and property of another nation outside its jurisdiction are seized, the case assumes a different aspect, and no judicial decision in an inferior court can justify that conduct. The principle involved is too important to permit the incident to pass unchallenged.

An appeal has been made to a higher court and it is probable that, before the case is ended, the illegality of the seizure will be recognized and amended made, thus disposing of the matter. Meanwhile, it is said, unofficial representations have been made on behalf of the United States government, intimating that Washington is not quite ready to support the stand taken by the judge who made the decision which has attracted so much attention. The matter is receiving attention at Ottawa, also, where reports have been registered, and it is expected that the Dominion government will communicate with Washington and with the British government. It is pointed out in Ottawa that, when the Canadian marine and fisheries department attempted to enforce regulations restricting the activities of American trawlers inside the twelve-mile limit, it was held by the Canadian authorities that Canada had no jurisdiction over foreign vessels when more than three miles from the coast, and that a similar interpretation of the law would prevent action against British vessels which did not approach within three miles of the United States coast.

Enough machinery has been set in motion to ensure that the present dispute will be thoroughly threshed out, and there need be no uneasiness over the result. The freedom of the seas has been maintained too long to be upset in this casual manner, and the common sense methods which have been successful in the past in dealing with disputes with the United States undoubtedly may be depended upon to take care of this situation satisfactorily.

The Premier of Greece is planning to strengthen his cabinet, and will invite Venizelos to join it. The change of heart is too late. Venizelos was forced to quit when Constantine was welcomed back, and from that day on the administration of Greek affairs has been in weak hands. The return of Venizelos would be a great thing for Greece even now, but the nation never can regain what it has lost through Constantine's foolish policy.

FOR A SPECIAL RACE WITH THE MAYFLOWER

Bluenose Skipper Ready if it is Made Real Contest Over Sea Course.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 26.—Following announcement of the international fishermen's cup trustees confirming their rejection of the Boston schooner Mayflower as an entrant for the trophy, the Herald has a despatch from Boston stating that it is understood there that the owners of the Mayflower will not make any further attempt to get her into the international series, but will offer a handsome prize for a match race following the international fixture off Gloucester between the Mayflower and the winner of the series.

The Herald communicated with Captain Angus Walters of the Bluenose, and asked him if, in case the "Bluenose" was the winner of this year's Nova Scotia fleet race and the international, would he accept such a challenge as that outlined in the Boston despatch. He said he would on one condition—that the race must be sailed over a sea course—not a harbor course—of forty miles, and that the course must be covered within five hours. This would not be intended to be a fisherman's race, he said, "but a race to test the speed qualities of the two vessels under conditions that will make a decent race of it. I do not want a drifting match; I want a real race, with some wind—that is why I place the time limit at five hours."

SOME COMPARISONS OF STRIKING INTEREST

Floor Space is Proper Basis for Fixed Charge for Electricity, Mr. Kribs Explains—Small Cottage Should Not Pay Same Minimum Amount as Large Mansion.

Comparisons of much interest to the public were made yesterday by Gordon Kribs, electrical engineer for the N. B. Power Commission, who said that practically all organizations furnishing electric current have some form of demand charge. In the case of the New Brunswick Power Co., he said, it is an arbitrary fixed charge of a dollar a month, whether for a one-room house with one light, or a mansion with twenty rooms and fifty lights. In the case of the rates proposed by Mr. Kribs, the fixed rate is based on the amount of floor space, and the reason for this is perfectly logical.

The small cottage of five or six rooms and a floor space of, say, 800 feet will not have an average of more than eight to ten lights installed, and of these not more than an average of four will be in use, and there never can be a demand for more than ten, while in a large house of, say, 2,500 feet floor space there will likely be at least twenty-five lights installed, and though there may not be more than five or six of these in use on special occasions, and the company or municipality must have in reserve the power necessary to supply current to all these lights when the consumer makes the demand. Hence the floor space fixed charge. This floor space charge has no connection with the charge for current used. If the floor space is 1,800 feet and the consumption is 16 k.w.h., the bill under rates proposed by Mr. Kribs would be:

This sum is against $2.03 charged by the New Brunswick Power Co., or practically one-half.

1,800 ft. floor space at 8c. per 100 feet	$0.84
16 k.w.h. at 4c.	1.12
Less 10 per cent.	.11
Total	$1.85

Four and six-tenths cents per k.w.h. against 13.5, a trifle more than one-third.

Fifteen k.w.h. is a small consumption for a 2,000 feet gross area.

Suppose a consumer used 50 k.w.h., the company's charge would be $6.75, while the hydro bill would be $2.25 net. Suppose he added an electrical stove and use 150 k.w.h., the company's bill would be $17.25 net and the hydro bill $4.16 net—an average company rate of 11.7 cents against a hydro rate of 2.8 cents.

SATURATION CURRENT. A limiting value of the plate current in a vacuum tube resulting from an increase in the plate voltage to such a value that all the electrons emitted by the filament are drawn to the plate and consequently no further increase in plate current will be obtained by a higher plate voltage.

MICROPHONE. A transmitter consisting principally of a diaphragm and a small amount of carbon in granular form contained between two carbon plates in a close receptacle. The sound vibrations of the voice actuate the diaphragm which, by regulating the pressure of the carbon grains, controls their resistance and thus varies the current, through the transmitter, so that it conforms to the wave shape of the impressed sound.

RANGE (Transmission). The distance over which a transmitting station is able to reliably transmit messages is known as its normal range, which is the distance transmitted, by the station, when conditions are exceptionally favorable.

RESONANCE. A condition existing in an alternating current circuit when the amounts of inductance reactance and capacity reactance are so adjusted as to neutralize each other so that the only resistance offered to the flow of current is the ohmic resistance of the circuit.

DISTORTION. In transmission, a condition which exists when the modulation system of a transmitting station does not properly control the out-going waves and therefore the wave form does not correspond to that of the speech or music. When distortion occurs, the high frequency oscillations are not correctly moulded and consequently the quality of the received sound varies considerably from the original sound.

REACTANCE REGULATOR. A form of "choke" coil of high self-inductance usually consisting of an iron core over which is wound a few turns of heavy insulated wire. The coil is in general use for the purpose of regulating the amount of current flowing through a transformer in an alternating current circuit.

GRID BIASING BATTERY. A small battery commonly known as the "C" battery, usually of the flashlight type of dry cells, connected in the grid circuit for the purpose of maintaining the grid at a negative potential with respect to the filament.

PERMANENT MAGNET. A substance which having been magnetized, retains its magnetism permanently. Steel is commonly used for permanent magnets due to its power to resist demagnetization.

DIELECTRIC. An insulating medium which separates the plates of a condenser and has the ability to conduct electrostatic lines of force. Air, glass and mica are examples of a dielectric.

LIGHTER VEIN. One Way of Sealing It. Judge—So you deceived your husband? Fair Respondent—On the contrary, My Lord, he deceived me. He said he was going out of town, and he didn't go!

His Name For Basin. Teacher—Does anyone know what a basin is? London Boy—What I 'as my bread-and-milk in.

True Gratitude. A little girl on hearing her mother who had been out walking complain that her feet were tired observed: "My legs gets tired, too, when I go out running, but I think what a nice ride my body has had."

Left-Handed Compliment. "I saw Mrs. De Synthe in town this morning," said Nell, angrily, "and just because she was with Mrs. Bullion, she pretended not to know me."

"Don't you worry," said her friend, "just as if you are not her equal. Why, she's a hand-painted, conceited doll."

Joy Turned to Sorrow. A letter which had been brought by the postman was thinner than the bulky ones which a struggling young author usually received, and he tore it open eagerly and read: "Your recent favor stating that you enclose manuscript of story, with stamps for return if not suitable, has been received. Your contribution is accepted."

"At last!" exclaimed the young author joyfully. But his heart seemed to sink as his eyes caught the following: "P.S.—You neglected to enclose the manuscript."

SIXTY CITIES GET GAS RATE CUT

Reduction of Five Cents a Thousand Cubic Feet is Ordered by New York Service Board—Standard Also Changed.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 26.—A reduction of 5 cents a thousand cubic feet in gas rates in more than sixty cities and towns of New York State was ordered by the Public Service Commission. Twenty-three companies supplying gas to municipalities are affected by the order, which becomes operative on Oct. 15. A change in the standard of gas to 537 British thermal units also is directed.

A statement by the commission, announcing the reduction in rates and the reduction in the number of thermal units, said that the reduction in the thermal units, on the average, accounted in the rates.

"The saving through this economy varies in different companies, but the average would be about 21-2 cents a thousand cubic foot," the statement says. "This is only one-half of the reduction of 5 cents which is ordered by the commission, so that the public is getting the entire benefit of the saving in the change in standard and an additional saving as well."

In carrying out the commission's order, all the companies affected will be required to file new tariffs making effective the new rates showing reductions of at least 5 cents a thousand. "In some cases," said the commission's statement, "the schedules will show greater decreases and in others the rates will produce a greater reduction and flexibility in price in consideration of the quantity used."

THE PROVINCIAL BOARDS FAVORED One board of motion picture censors for the dominion has been urged in some quarters but Dr. H. S. Bridges, chairman of the New Brunswick board of censors, who returned yesterday from attending the annual conference of the chairmen of motion picture boards of the dominion, which was held in Montreal last week, said last night that, while the matter had been thoroughly discussed, the conference had come to the conclusion that the plan was not feasible. The provinces are striving for uniformity in their censorship and it is believed that by degrees a general consensus of opinion may be arrived at, but as in the United States, each state has its own censor board, so in Canada each province needs its own jurisdiction in censoring.

A New President. It was decided to ask that the tag of the National Board of Review be eliminated from all pictures shown in the dominion from January, 1923, as the conference did not consider that that board had any status or that its judgment carried weight. Howard Douglas, of Edmonton, was elected as the new president and Dr. Bridges was chosen as vice-president.

Dynamite Kills Lad Near Sussex

Bernard Osborne Killed and Murray Virtue Badly Injured When Blast Fires on Their Way to Examine It.

Sussex, Sept. 25.—A very sad fatality occurred near Jefferies Corner, about nine miles from Sussex, at 5.30 o'clock this afternoon, in which Bernard Osborne, aged eighteen years, was almost instantly killed by dynamite and Murray Virtue, about the same age, was badly hurt. The two boys were engaged in blasting rock on the Sam Virtue property, quite near the house. The first charge was set off all right. After lighting the fuse of the second charge it did not fire and they returned to the rock to investigate and were caught by the terrible explosion. Young Osborne was frightfully mangled. Young Virtue was badly cut about the face and arms and may lose the sight of one eye. He managed, however, to notify the nearby neighbors of the terrible accident. Bernard Osborne is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Osborne and is survived by his parents, brothers and sisters. Murray Virtue is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Virtue, all residing near Jefferies Corner. Francis Fritz, son of Dr. H. D. Fritz, left for Acadia University on Saturday to enter in the freshman year in arts.

I. O. D. E. CHAPTER RECEIVES CHARTER

Alexandra chapter, the twelfth primary chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire to be organized in the city of St. John, received its charter yesterday at the meeting of the Municipal chapter, when Mrs. H. Vroom, the vice-regent, presided. In presenting the charter to Mrs. B. A. Corbett, the regent of Alexandra chapter, Mrs. Vroom wished the new recruit to the ranks of the primary chapters all success and also conveyed the good wishes of the provincial executive meeting, which she had attended recently. Mrs. Corbett, in accepting the charter, expressed the hope that Alexandra chapter would uphold the ideals of the order, and promised its strenuous endeavor to do so.

Miss Vallie Sandall acted as stand-by bearer and the treasurer's statement was presented by Mrs. T. H. Carter. Several matters were discussed, many of them relating to the various avenues of usefulness which were open to the order and these were to be referred to the primary chapters. Mrs. Corbett and Mrs. B. A. Corbett, Brunswick delegate to the annual meeting of the national chapter in Vancouver, gave an interesting report, full of suggestions for work that the local chapters might undertake, and containing a splendid summary of the ideals and aims of the order. She stressed the need of encouraging Anglo-Saxon immigration and British publications and the need of completing the War Memorial scholarship fund. The overseas scholarships of the fund were still lacking something of their total.

Regarding the war memorial, Mrs. Robinson related an interesting circumstance. She had been in Portland (Or.) and had been able to tell of what the I. O. D. E. War Memorial aimed to be. As a result there had appeared an interesting paper in the Portland paper, which referred to the I. O. D. E. War Memorial as the greatest educational scheme since the Rhodes scholarships.

One resolution passed at the annual meeting dealt with the desirability of retaining in Canada the services of workers trained in occupational therapy as these skilled workers were being sought for by other countries.

One member at the meeting yesterday spoke from personal knowledge, telling of the benefit of this work in institutions where nerve cases are cared for or where long illnesses are the rule.

REPRESENTED THE MONCTON AND ST. JOHN CLUBS

Mr. and Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond returned yesterday from a pleasant three weeks' vacation, during which they visited several of the larger centres in upper Canada and attended the annual convention of the Associated Canadian Clubs at Hamilton (Ont.) Mrs. Raymond was the delegate from the St. John Women's Canadian Club and Mr. Raymond was appointed by the Moncton Canadian Club to act as its representative. Mrs. Raymond last night spoke of the annual meeting of the Canadian Club as having been very satisfactory, friendly and enjoyable. The delegates were most hospitably entertained and it was her pleasure during her trip to meet with many former friends, with whom she had first become acquainted at the gatherings of the National Council of Women and other notable women's meetings. On their return journey to St. John, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond stopped at Ottawa, Toronto, Montreal and Quebec. They had delightful weather throughout the trip. Mrs. Raymond spoke most enthusiastically of the wonderful sight which the fruit district presented. She had never seen such a profusion of fruit and such fine quality as the Niagara district had produced this year. Mrs. Raymond will present her report of the annual meeting of the Associated Canadian Club to the executive of the St. John Women's Club at an early date. She related one incident of the convention in connection with the taking of the official photographs of the delegates, which those who know Colonel McCullough, "Father of Canadian Clubs," will recognize as typical of his enthusiastic desire for a closely united Canada. At the taking of the first photograph he called Mrs. Raymond to stand at his right hand and Mrs. Heineman, president of the Women's Canadian Club of Victoria, to stand at his left hand, as being the presidents of the women's clubs from the extreme east and the extreme west. He then posed for another photograph

Coats

Beautiful new fabrics are luxuriously fur trimmed or used alone for the stunning coats of latest mode. Plain English looking models, made from heavy tweeds or thick plaid backed materials are fashioned with big pockets, comfortable convertible collars, and raglan sleeves. The backs are free hanging or belted and the wide sleeves are in many cases filled in with protective dust shield. Fur trimmed coats are more elaborate in style, material and trimming effects. You'll find many unusually nice models among them. Shades of brown, fawn and blue among the predominant.

Frocks

Crepes weaves are holding high favor for frocks among women who like to dress well. Modes are varied, but the straight line frock with slightly low waist line is considered a leader. Gay embroideries, beads, and fabrics in contrast to the foundation of dress are effectively used as trimmings. Skirts are longer, and panels of uneven length bring about a new silhouette that is much admired. More elaborate frocks are massively beaded and are showing in bright novel shades; or the more subdued of grey and leather.

Suits

Street or dressy modes are here now in kinds and colors to please the discriminating. Mannish tweed mixtures fashioned in plain tailored styles are finding favor for sports wear and general utility uses. Coats and skirts are both to be worn longer than for the previous seasons; and the new styles are altogether as smart as could be wished for. Dressy Modes are elaborately fur trimmed, embroidered and developed from beautiful soft piled fabrics in rich shades you'll really have to see to thoroughly appreciate. NEW ALBERT SCHOOL.

At the laying of the corner stone of the new Albert school in the West Side, several speeches and addresses were made and the Carleton Cornet Band gave their services for the ceremony. Chief Justice H. A. McKeown, chairman of the school board, was the first speaker. Mrs. E. R. Taylor handed to H. Coby Smith the trowel with which to lay the corner stone. Mr. Smith, in laying the stone, said that he had felt for some time that West St. John had needed better educational facilities and was glad to see a new building being erected. A large copper box containing records and mementoes was placed in the opening on the upper side of the stone and Mrs. Taylor presented a large picture of the history of the things which were placed in the box. The children then sang Home and "My Own Canadian Home." R. W. Ingraham, Dr. H. S. Bridges, Thomas Nagle, J. B. M. Baxter, K. C. M. P., J. A. Gregory and others spoke. Those present were called upon by Dr. Baxter to salute Mrs. J. W. Brittain, who was one of the first teachers on the west side of the harbor. The building was designed by F. Neil Brodie, and the contracting was in charge of H. O. Clark.

TOO MANY MEN
GO TO COLLEGE,
SAYS HOPKINS

Dartmouth Head Would Restrict Attendance to Men of Brains—Declares Chief Aim of Many Students is to Obtain Social Preference.

Hanover, N. H., Sept. 26.—Opportunities of higher education ought to be increasingly restricted to an aristocracy of brains, composed of the intellectually alert and eager, if democracy is to become a quality product rather than one of quantity, Ernest M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth College, said in addressing the student body at the opening of the academic year.

"Too many men are going to college," he declared. "The opportunity for securing an education by way of the college course are definitely privileged and not at all universal. The privilege of attending college is a privilege which should be extended, and it should be extended to those from whom the privilege should be withheld, is essential, he continued, saying:

"This is a twofold necessity: on the one hand that men incapable of profiting by the advantages which the college offers, or indisposed to do so, shall not be withdrawn from useful work to spend their time, profitlessly in idleness, acquiring false standards of living; and on the other hand that the contribution which the college is capable of making to the lives of competent men, and through them to society, shall not be largely lessened by the slackening of the standards of competence.

"It would be incompatible with all the conceptions of democracy to assume that the privilege of higher education should be restricted to any class defined by the accident of birth or by the fortuitous circumstance of possession of wealth, but there is such a thing as an aristocracy of brains, made up of men intellectually alert and intellectually eager, to whom increasingly, the opportunities of higher education ought to be restricted, if democracy is to come a quality product rather than simply a quantity one, and if excellence and effectiveness are to displace the mediocrity towards which democracy has such a tendency to slide."

President Hopkins said he would carefully safeguard his statements by reiterating that "it behooves every student to avoid confounding the symbols and the actuality."

He continued, "that instances we might mention in the gymnasiums, and in the social organizations, are only seeking a reputation for affording action."

GREATEST SUCCESS IN HISTORY OF MEDICINE

More Than 30,000,000 Bottles of Tanlac Sold in Less Than Eight Years. Merit Alone Has Confirmed It in the Favor of the People of North America. Foreign Countries Clamor for It.

Most proprietary medicines are sold by the dozen or by the gross; some are bought by the trade in quantities of from ten to twenty gross; a very few are sold by the carload, and then to only the largest jobbers, covering extensive territories. The fact, therefore, that scores of jobbers have a demand sufficient to justify them in ordering not one carload, but from two to three carloads of Tanlac at a time makes Tanlac's pre-eminence in the field of medicine all the more noteworthy.

Orders from retailers of from fifty to seventy-five gross are not uncommon, and practically all of the leading retail firms buy Tanlac in from ten to twenty-five gross lots to supply their normal demands.

Tanlac has now been on the market about eight years, and more than 30,000,000 bottles have been sold. It has stood the acid test of time and public trial. It is known and honored, a household medicine, throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba, and this enormous and ever-increasing popularity is the one great outstanding proof of its merit.

Ten's of thousands of men and women of all ages and in all walks of life, afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney trouble, some of them of long standing, and some of them apparently on the verge of collapse have testified publicly that they have been fully restored to their normal weight, health and strength by its use.

truth and of clothing plausible falsehood with respectability should not prevail!

"As a tangible and practical objective, college men could commit themselves to no purpose more in accord with the spirit of the foundation by which they seek to benefit than the early and utter elimination of the spirit of propaganda in the affairs of this world, and in the discussion of those of the next. There could be no more searching for truth than in militant opposition to and repudiation of this spirit, whether it emanate from the manufacturer's association, the office of organized labor, the editor's column, the preacher's pulpit, or the college officer's desk. The principle of the method are invariably wrong, however worthy be the motive."

Householders will be invited to give Croydon Council's Plan to Help the Poor.

Croydon, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Councilor S. Roden of Croydon is making plans to compile what he describes as a "census of misery."

For the sake of war-born children being to live in overcrowded rooms on insufficient nourishment, he wants to bring to the notice of the more fortunate members of the public how life is lived by the less fortunate.

Originally, Councilor Roden appealed for letters to be sent to him from the "down and out" of Croydon, but he has now decided to make a systematic canvass of representative streets.

particulars of overcrowding, unemployment, general weak conditions, and any other point of interest, and as family budgets. Every paper will be treated in confidence, and only the general result of the census will be published.

"I hope in this way," said Councilor Roden, "to arouse the sympathy and interest of those who have the power to make things better."

Still others who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered from indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizziness, sour, gassy stomachs, coated tongues, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and of terribly dejected, depressed feelings have stated through the public prints that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by the use of Tanlac.

So the people have made Tanlac. Millions have used it and told other millions. Tanlac's success cannot be based on mere advertising, for no article of trade can survive for eight years which does not produce actual and positive results.

Tanlac now enjoys a wider sale and popularity than ever before. It is the triumph of the pharmaceutical science, the greatest success in the history of medicine.

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

"MARRY," SAYS
MAYOR, WEDDED
FOR 33 YEARS

It's Not a Question of Dollars, but One of Common Helpfulness.

Saturday was the thirty-third anniversary of the marriage of Mayor Hylan of New York. The mayor and Mrs. Hylan spent the day quietly at their home, 959 Bushwick avenue, Brooklyn. Intimate friends and relatives dropped in and extended congratulations. The mayor was in a happy frame of mind.

"The thirty-three years of my wedded life have been so happy," he said, "that I hope we will have at least thirty-three more. My advice to young men is 'get married.' If a young man wins the right kind of woman, and if he is the right sort of fellow, the union is sure to be a happy one."

"Can two live as cheaply as one?" the mayor was asked.

"It is not a question of two living as cheaply as one," the mayor replied. "The question of marriage is not one of dollars, but one of mutual helpfulness and encouragement, built upon the solid foundation of true love. If the young couple are sensible persons, they will live within their income, no matter what that may be."

"A man with a good wife and happy home is always fired with the zeal and the strength to climb the ladder to higher things. Early struggles to rise may at times seem insupportable, but if they are made easy where true love reigns. Often we read of marital trouble, it is true, but think of the millions of happy marriages the newspapers never tell about."

BULGAR PEASANTS
FLOGGED NOTABLES

Three ex-Premiers Among Those Captured—Finally Released at the King's Intervention.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 26.—The attack made by peasants on a train carrying delegates to the Opposition Party ("Bourgeoisie") Convention at Tirnova has been of a more serious nature than the first accounts indicated.

Three former premiers, as many former cabinet members and a number of deputies, all of the Opposition, were forcibly taken from the train which was en route to Tirnova after having been beaten with sticks and brushwood. Only the personal intervention of King Boris today caused their release.

One of the prominent men attacked, ex-Foreign Minister Madjarov, had his mustache and beard cut off with a knife and finally was held by a crowd of peasant party partisans at Tirnova before a rump tribunal.

Several minor individuals caught in the raid on the train were beaten to death, according to eyewitnesses, and many others were wounded. Scores of passengers on the train which was carrying delegates to both the Peasant Party and Opposition convention at Tirnova, set for Sunday last, were routed from the train when the peasants entered the cars at a small station.

The passengers fled, many of them scantily clad, in to the surrounding country, where they stumbled, bruised and bleeding, under the lash of bundles of brushwood switched wielded by a group of some 150 peasants.

The attacking party, which had become exasperated by announcements that the Opposition Convention was planning to overthrow agrarian rule, tried, "to the death" as they flouted their victims, some of whom were innocent non-participants in the anti-peasant movement.

The peasants demonstrated threateningly when the train left Sofia Friday evening carrying the Opposition delegates a group of Government Peasant Party chiefs, headed by M. Dasca, the protective measures necessary to meet any emergency and remained on the train throughout the demonstration.

The three ex-Premiers, M. Malinov, M. Danov and M. Thodoroff, who were in the groups attacked, were accompanied by ex-Ministers Danouloff, Grunov and Michardoff. The last named was formerly Bulgarian Minister to London, and later Minister of Foreign Affairs. In the attack he was seized and held and was one of those who had his mustache and whiskers cut off. Some of the attackers spat in the ministers' faces and threatened them with death.

The train stopped at every station en route to Tirnova. Some of the former ministers were imprisoned in a sleeping car. They were also arraigned before "the peoples' tribunal." The king's personal intervention prevented any sentences from being pronounced.

Why Pretty Teeth
Are shown everywhere today

Look about you. Note how many teeth now glitter. Note how people show them as they never did before.

Millions of people are brushing teeth in a new way. If you don't know the good results, make this free test.

Fight dingy film
One object is to fight the film on teeth—that viscid film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stirs. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So, under old methods, beautiful teeth were less often than today.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs bred by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Very few people escaped such troubles under old ways of teeth cleaning.

New ways found
Then dental science found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Abie authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists everywhere began to advise their use. A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. In that tooth paste are embodied those two great film combatants.

Five effects
But Pepsodent brings five effects. These are very important. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to constantly neutralize the acids which cause decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Pepsodent also polishes the teeth so film adheres less readily.

You see them now nearly the world over These glittering teeth are now seen nearly the world over. Careful people of some fifty nations are now using Pepsodent. And those whiter teeth mean safer teeth.

"My Boy was Starving to Death"

"As He Was Getting No Nourishment He Was Gradually Wasting Away."

"Here's a story which will interest every mother. Before my boy was born, I was in such delicate health that the doctor didn't think I would survive the ordeal. For weeks after he was born my life was despaired of, so I couldn't feed him and the poor little fellow was left to the care of friends. He wasn't naturally strong. No care was taken in choosing his food and his poor little stomach became so weakened that he couldn't keep anything on it. As he was getting no nourishment from his food, he was gradually wasting away. Finally, in desperation, we sent for a child specialist and he said that my boy was starving to death. He gave me some medicine and advised a certain diet. The child did improve but somehow couldn't seem to get strong. This went on for four or five years and the boy still continued weak and puny looking. He could not play like other children without fainting and lying down and rest. My sister who lives on a farm near the sea, said that she could fix him up if I would send him to her. While I hated being separated from him, I was ready to make any sacrifice to get him strong. He was away from me for three months and it was with feelings of great excitement that I awaited his return as my sister had written me that I would be surprised when I saw my boy. When my sister got off the train, I could not believe that it was my own boy that she was leading by the hand. I never saw such a change in any child. He was fat and rosy and full of life with a happy smile! "What on earth have you done to him," I said. "Why," she replied, "I simply made him live out of doors, gave him good food—and here's the secret. I gave him three bottles of Jo-Bel. Before he had taken his first bottle his whole appearance had changed. He got heavier, his face took on a color and he would run round for hours at a time." The change in my boy is the most wonderful event in my life. I am a regular fan for Carmel and never lose a chance to boost it. As I write I am looking out of the window and when I see that rosy, active, healthy child running round, I cannot believe that he was once a puny, delicate boy."

Carmel is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

THE WONDER SALVE (Registered)

Will Cure Anything Curable
Mr. David Jones, Nauwigewauk, one of the Fighting 20th, returned from overseas with an apparently incurable sore on his leg. A year ago he could only walk with the aid of a cane, and thought his leg would have to be amputated. He had been in the hospital without result. Someone told him to try Jo-Bel. He did—one 50 cent box cured him. Maybe it was a miracle. Watch this space.

Sale all druggists, or Joe A. Murdoch, 197 Orange Street, St. John, N.B. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Mail orders promptly filled.

LIFE SENTENCE IS SHORT ONE

Prisoner at Kingston Sued by Leap to Concrete Floor.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 26.—Raffaele Ruffini, Hamilton, serving a life sentence in the provincial penitentiary at Portsmouth, committed suicide last week. When his cell door was opened after the gong rung for supper, Ruffini, who had been brooding over his fate, jumped on the railing of the fourth corridor and leaped thirty-five feet to the concrete floor, being killed instantly.

Deceased was thirty-three years of age. He was sentenced at Hamilton seven years ago, to life imprisonment for manslaughter, having killed a fellow-Italian in a brawl. The dead convict had no relatives in this country as far as is known.

HEALTHY MOTHER Merry Children Happy Home

TO maintain a happy home the housewife must keep in good health. Her duties are many and various, and it seems as if every other member of the family depended very much on her.

"Where is my hat?" cries the boy. "What did you do with my coat?" asks the daughter. "I can't find any handkerchiefs," yells the husband. The housewife is usually the advisor and general manager of the family.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women to maintain a happy home by keeping them in good health.

Winnipeg, Manitoba—"I cannot speak too highly of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a nervous wreck and I just had to force myself to do my work. Even the sound of my own children playing made me feel as if I must scream if they did not get away from me. I could not even speak right to my husband. The doctor said that he could do nothing for me, owing to my condition. My husband's grandmother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I started it right away, and everyone noticed what a different woman I was in a short time, and able to do my work."—Mrs. EMILY DAVIS, 721 McGee Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Cumberland Bay, N.B.—"I was troubled with weak feelings, headache all the time, a cough, fainting spells and pains in my back and sides. I could not do a single bit of work and had to be helped out to the hammock, and I had to be carried up and down stairs. After other medicines had failed, a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she said it was excellent for any one in the family way. Before the first bottle was taken I could walk alone and as I kept on with it I got stronger, until I was able to do all my work. My baby is a big, fat, healthy fellow."—Mrs. MURRAY J. BARTON, R.R. No. 1, Cumberland Bay, New Brunswick.

40 MAKE HOTEL RAID, AND GET $500,000 DRUGS

Three Trunks and Two Suit Cases Containing Narcotics Seized, and Five Arrests Made—Declares Place is Headquarters of International Ring.

New York, Sept. 26. — The headquarters of an international drug ring is believed by the police to have been uncovered in a spectacular raid on the Douglas Hotel, 207 West Fortieth street, just west of Seventh avenue, where three trunks and two suit cases, containing about $500,000 worth of morphine, cocaine and heroin, were seized, and five persons, including the two owners of the hotel, were arrested. A "black book" found in the raid gives the names and addresses of many alleged customers, one of whom later was arrested. Forty detectives took part in the raid, which was headed by Dr. Carleton Simon, special deputy police commissioner in charge of the narcotic division.

More than 1,000 persons crowded the street to get a glimpse of what was going on, and reserves from the West Thirtieth street police station, who had accompanied the raiders, had their hands full to keep the throng in check. There was great excitement in the hotel until the guests learned they were in no danger of being taken to the police station.

Dr. Simon said that the hotel probably was the principal illegal wholesale distributing drug centre in the United States, evidence having been obtained by his men that shipments from there were made to various towns and cities in the south and west. No sales were made for less than fifty ounces. The drugs were sent out in trunks just before train time, so that no suspicion was aroused. Shipments of drugs were received at frequent intervals from Europe, and a consignment was said to have been received only a few days ago.

Accompanying the raiders was Olaf Lenbke, an expert on safes and vaults, for Dr. Simon had received information that the drugs were hidden in a wooden vault containing rather difficult combinations. However, the services of the expert were not required, for the vault was open. A negro porter, Clarence Smart, was getting a trunk ready to be shipped out in the cellar, according to the police. Drugs were found in the trunk. Two other trunks and two suitcases in the baggage room were found to contain drugs, and detectives said these also were seized. The clerk, Samuel Spirech, was caught in trying to transfer a package containing drugs from his drawer to a drawer connected with the telephone switchboard, according to the police.

The porter and the clerk, the student Benjamin Dorsett and a man, alias "Dutch," both of whom said to be owners of the hotel, and Joseph Fishman, a man who gave his address as 141 Madison avenue, Fishman was arrested earlier in the afternoon, just after he had delivered 180 ounces of morphine to detectives and received $3,000 in marked money. The detectives had negotiated for the purchase of 200 ounces, and twenty ounces were delivered on Thursday in order to give the purchasers the opportunity to give it a test.

Detectives had been at work on the case for several months. Detectives Frank Quigley and Thomas Farrell had registered at the hotel as salesmen and recently they were joined by Detectives Milton Moffatt and Frederick Butley. Several days ago Dr. Simon said he received a letter from Chief of Police Martin O'Brien of St. Louis telling him that Max Gordon and Abraham Goldfelder, under arrest in a hospital there, were involved in an international drug smuggling plot that had headquarters in the Douglas Hotel in this city. Dr. Simon said that he received information from the Royal Mounted Police of Canada that quantities of drugs had been shipped into that country from the Douglas Hotel here.

On information obtained in the raid, the police last night arrested August Del Draccio at 94 Chrytie street, known as "Little Augie." No drugs were found, but the police allege that the man had a revolver in his possession, and he was arrested for violating the Sullivan law.

NEW CLASS IS OPENED IN THE LORNE SCHOOL

The number of pupils in grades three and four in the Lorne school and Alexandra school was so great that it has been necessary to open a new room in the Lorne school, so Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of schools, said last night. The new class room in the Lorne school is in charge of Miss Audrey Mullin, who was reserve teacher for the school under Miss Alice Gale, the principal of the school. There has been some delay in the opening of the manual training room in the new school as the lockers needed have not arrived yet. It is hoped to have the manual training department opened in the Lorne school by Oct. 1.

RALLY MEETING OPENS SEASON

The first of the rally meetings of the Central Baptist Sunday school was held last evening and was presided over by the pastor, Rev. F. H. Bone. Last night was young people's night and a splendid body of boys and girls met for the purpose of arranging a workable programme for the coming year. The programme as outlined will be a four-fold one, including physical, educational, spiritual and social work. The Tuxis boys organized their first basketball team, but the organization of the second team was postponed until the next full meeting. Mr. Shrumman was elected as physical director for boys' work, including the Tuxis boys and the Tuxis Rangers. The organization of the C. G. I. T. will be completed at the first regular meeting. which, by the way, is as powerful a thing as the screen has ever known. When Perkins met the fate that he had intended for Cameron, we, for one, were sorely tempted to cheer.

It would be unfair to select any one member of the cast for special mention—they were all splendid. Gaston Glass, who scored so triumphantly in "Hunoreque," is seen again as a young mounted policeman, while Vivienne Osborne and William Colvin are seen in roles to which their talents ideally suit them.

In addition to this excellent story by Ralph Connor, with its Canadian atmosphere and local interest because of Ernest Shipman's activities in St. John at the present time, the Imperial has a splendid line-up of mixed pictures. There was a very funny Torchy comedy entitled "Torchy's Feud," which kept the crowds in gales of laughter. The Pathe News Budget gave glimpses of the Græco-Turkish war, European subjects, Canadian affairs and was generally instructive. The Topics of the Day as usual kept everybody smiling.

"Cameron of the Royal Mounted," will be concluded today along with the other pictures mentioned and tomorrow the Imperial is to have a brand new picture, singularly enough also of Canadian locale. This is called "Over the Border" and is in reality Sir Gilbert Parker's snowy action "She of the Triple Chevron," and it features the popular players Betty Compson and Tom Moore. The story deals with rum running adventures up north.

WHAT REQUEST OF POST OFFICE REALLY MEANS

Some of the letters and postal packets delivered from the local post office recently bear the request stamped on the face of the envelope, "Please return cover to postmaster for enquiry." It was ascertained last night at the post office that this request was made in cases where letters were underpaid; where the cancellation of stamps was not properly carried out or for some other irregularity. The marked tendency towards lower money rates makes it highly improbable that established Canadian corporations will make further issues of long-term mortgage securities yielding as high as 7%.

An Improved Gasoline at the Same Price

Starts even more quickly than Gasolines which cost more and is a better all round Motor Fuel —

Many gasoline users in the Maritime Provinces have been paying much more than they should for gasoline due to the fact that they have bought it on the basis of quick starting ability regardless of price or the loss of power and mileage which invariably attends the use of such a gasoline.

Realizing this, our experts have been working for years to produce a motor fuel which would at least equal higher priced gasolines in quick-starting ability and at the same time embody the other qualities of a perfect motor fuel which these gasolines have lacked.

The new Imperial Premier Gasoline, now being made at our Imperoyal Refinery, is the result of this research and experiment. It starts even more quickly than Queen Gasoline which some engine owners have been using in spite of the fact that Queen Gasoline was a special lighting plant fuel and never entirely suited to motor use.

The new Imperial Premier Gasoline is a properly balanced motor fuel. It is full of "pep" and power. Every fuel charge burns clean in the combustion chambers. There are no heavy ends which might remain behind to cause pre-ignition or hasten carbon formation. Every drop of the new Imperial Premier Gasoline vaporizes completely and is easily converted into power and mileage.

The new Imperial Premier Gasoline is now available throughout the Maritime Provinces. Believing as we do that this is the best gasoline we can possibly make for motor use we have discontinued the manufacture and sale of all other grades. Stop at the Red Ball sign and fill with this new improved gasoline. You will find it even more satisfactory than other gasolines which may cost up to 5 cents more per gallon.

This test will convince you—after your tank has been filled with the new Imperial Premier Gasoline have your carburetor adjusted to use this fuel properly. You will find you can run on a leaner mixture and avoid operating trouble and get better results from your car in every way at a lower cost per mile than ever before.

Scientists Look Up Siki Antecedents; Bid Dempsey Beware

Hit Him on a Head With Maul, So Much the Worse for Maul—Senegalese Wants Big Money for U. S. Bout—Still in Controversy Over Recent Battle.

(Canadian Press)
Toronto, Sept. 26.—A Chicago special to the Globe says: Scientists and anthropologists at Field Museum and the University of Chicago took out their charts and reference books and looked over an assorted lot of negro skulls today, after they had read of the Siki-Carpenter affair in Paris. The consensus was that if and when the Siki person meets up with Jack Dempsey, the aforesaid Dempsey stands an excellent chance of being clouted for a row of dog houses. The lofty brained and bespectacled scientists did not put in just these words, but that is what they meant.

Battling Siki, it appears from records, come of a hard-boiled tribe. The anthropologists point out that Senegal produces a minimum of civilization and a maximum of hardship. One does not survive there without having to overcome a lot of things, that would put a white man out in the first round.

Battling Siki, they said, looks like the fittest of survivors. He has great arms and shoulders and chest. Above the shoulders, they admit, he has not much except a parking place for his hat, but what brain he possesses functions amazingly on what to do in a rumput. There is not a poet or a caecator or a statesman in his pedigree, and he has not been softened by the luxuries of so-called civilization. Hitting him on the head with a maul gets no farther than to put the maul out of business.

Paris, Sept. 26.—The controversy over the dramatic finish of the Carpenter-Siki fight continues, and the

At Last! Here is the Serial For You.

ATTENTION! Mothers—Fathers

For years you have been questioning the wisdom of allowing your children to see the so called Wild West and melodramatic serials, which have been so absorbing and popular. You have been asking all this time "Why do not the picture Theatres offer something of a different and better character of Serial stories?"

For two years the Unique has refrained from showing Serials, waiting for the right one to be made, and we now take much pleasure in announcing the first chapter of a story which every father and mother has placed in the hands of their children just as soon as they could read.

In purchasing this Serial at the highest price we have ever paid, it is with the conviction that parents will, in large numbers, send their children to see this most popular of all child stories in pictures.

former's manager, Descamps, persists in his appeals to the boxing federation for a reversal of the judges' decision awarding the championship to Siki. Many of those who have seen the motion picture films of the contest maintain that Carpenter was clearly outboxed by his opponent.

Victor Breyer, one of the judges, is one of those taking this view, but he expresses the belief that such a foul by Siki could not have affected the outcome, as Carpenter was already a beaten man.

Some of the newspaper experts say it is possible the federation may yet award the bout to Carpenter. In any case Descamps is set upon having another meeting between his protégé and Siki as soon as possible. Carpenter broke his hand on Siki's skull. It was wrong in trying to get him by the head.

The majority of French sportsmen say Carpenter should retire, but only after a fine match in which to establish his reputation as a brilliant fighter. Georges himself is not considering retiring and scoffs at statements that he is planning a stage career. He is a boxer, he says, and intends to remain one.

Meanwhile, the victorious Siki is looking forward for new heights to conquer, and although he is a light weight, has his eyes on Jack Dempsey's crown. His manager realizes this, in order to gain a hearing with Dempsey, Siki must prove his mettle against one of the leading men in his class in America. He has, however, refused an offer of $20,000 to meet Harry Williams, counting with a demand for a 1,100,000 francs guarantee.

TRAFFIC CASES.
Matthew Cavanaugh was charged this morning with speeding in Douglas avenue on Sunday. He pleaded not guilty and brought in observation of Smith, to corroborate his testimony. His contention was that he had been in Portland street at the time he had been reported for speeding in the avenue.

Fred DeForest was charged with speeding in the avenue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. R. on the same day. He said the charge was ridiculous as he had not been going at the rate mentioned and the policeman would be unable to figure his time accurately if he had been.

Paul Cross was reported for speeding at 5.30 on Sunday afternoon in the avenue. He contended that without a stop watch the policeman would be unable to get his correct time and furthermore that he had not been speeding because of those he had with him in the car objecting to going fast.

All the cases were postponed for one week.

Charles Sanson, reported for driving a car on the wrong side of the street at the intersection of King and Charlotte streets on Sept. 19, was allowed to go. The report was made by Policeman Quinn.

A case against William Lunney, charged with allowing his horse to stand in Erin street without a foot strap, was resumed this morning. Lunney contended that he had had a foot strap but that some boys had removed it. Policeman Kilpatrick investigated yesterday and reported this morning that he was disposed to believe the man's story. The case was dropped.

Start Selecting The Paris Jury This Afternoon

Chief Justice McKeown to Preside at Fifth Trial

Two Other Matters Before Grand Jury This Morning—True Bill in the Hicks Shooting Case; Jesso is Freed—Civil Docket as Well.

John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley here on August 2, 1921, was brought to trial for the fifth time this morning before Chief Justice H. A. McKeown in the September sitting of the circuit court. When recess was taken at noon the court was ready to select the jury.

Two other cases were on the criminal docket—

The King vs Hicks, attempted murder, and

The King vs Jesso, rape.

A true bill was returned by the grand jury in the case of George W. Hicks, charged with shooting and wounding Thomas Marshall with intent to commit murder. On account of the fact that no witnesses were present to support the charge against Jesso, the prisoner was allowed to go on his own recognizance, the judge expressing doubt as to his guilt.

The civil docket was as follows:—

Jury.

Guthrie vs N. B. Antimony Co., Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C.

McKay vs Royal Exchange, Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C.

Moore vs Garnett, D. Mullin, K. C.

Marsh vs. Bettina, J. Starr Tait.

Non Jury

Journey vs. Railway Passenger Insurance Co., K. J. MacRae.

California Prune and Apricot Sowers Co. vs. Baird & Peters, K. J. MacRae.

Bond & Fryer, Ltd. vs. Maritime Nall, Co., Ltd., Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C.

Steen vs. Jarvis, K. A. Wilson.

Schofield vs. White & Sons, Ltd., W. H. Harrison.

Blanchard vs. Neve, Teed & Teed.

Blanchard vs. Great Eastern Garage, M. B. Innes.

The Grand Jury.

The grand jury was made up as follows:—

Thomas C. Ledingham, (foreman), William H. Akerley, Isaac H. Northrup, Charles L. Hay, Frederick Crawford, John T. Gorman, George H. Worden, Harry W. King, R. Hugh Bruce, James D. Driscoll, Ernest R. Taylor.

Addressing the grand jury, the chief justice said there were two cases for trial—The King vs. John Jesso, and the King vs. George W. Hicks.

In the Jesso case, he said, he understood that the witnesses were not now present in the jurisdiction.

The charge against the King vs. His Honor that he was informed that they had gone either to Toronto or Boston.

The charge, the judge continued, was rape and the witnesses were not in court by one o'clock he would release the accused, who had been in jail since June, on his own recognizance.

In the matter of The King vs. Hicks, the charge was that the accused, on August 2, did shoot at Thomas Marshall, wounding him, with intent to commit murder. Fortunately, said the judge, Marshall had recovered, so the charge of murder had not been a result. He said it was within the jury's power to say if the revolver, with which the shooting was done, was discharged with intent to kill, or to wound or do grievous bodily harm.

Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., appeared for the crown, and W. M. Ryan for the accused.

Thomas Marshall, Frank Marshall, Margaret Marshall and James Beck, with gave evidence before the grand jury which returned a true bill. The grand jurors were excused until further summoned.

The Paris Case.

Of seventy-one summoned for the petit jury panel, there were twenty absentees.

After the roll call of petit jurors, Hon. J. P. Byrne, attorney general, moved for the trial of the King vs. John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley on August 2, 1921. The selection of the petit jury was proceeded with the attorney general informing the court that the prisoner had already been arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

George W. Hicks was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. W. M. Ryan, counsel for the defence, applied for a renewal of the bail, on which the prisoner had been allowed his liberty, until his case came to trial.

Dr. Wallace said the bail was small in view of the crime and the fact that a true bill had been returned against him.

Mr. Ryan said that the prisoner himself was held in $2,000 and two sureties of $1,000 each.

The judge said there would have to be bail of $5,000 by the accused and $5,000 by others before he could order the prisoner released. He agreed to hear an application from Mr. Ryan later in the day. Hicks was remanded to jail in the meantime.

John Jesso was brought to court. Dr. Wallace said that under the circumstances, he was in opinion that Jesso be held in his own recognizance in $500 to appear before the court at any time he was required.

The judge said that he felt it his duty to say that while it was the duty of the magistrate to commit him for trial, the evidence on the deposition was in opinion anything but convincing and strengthened his conviction that the accused was innocent.

After means of the petit jurors were called in the order of selection for service, the court adjourned until 2.30 when the task of choosing a jury to try Paris commenced.
