The Insurgents Surrender Four Courts to Regulars

Rumors of Fire and Explosion—Cable Between Southern Ireland and England Cut—Free State Troops Attack Irregular Strongholds in Donegal—Snipers Said to Have Fired on British.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, June 30.—A message from Dublin timed 12.25 p.m., indicated that Rory O'Connor's men were still occupying portions of the Four Courts. Front and rear, with Free State troops occupying an intervening section of the building, thus dividing the Republicans.

Dublin, June 30.—The insurgents who have been occupying the Four Courts in Dublin surrendered at 4.10 p.m., it was officially announced, says a press association statement. The surrender was preceded at four p.m. by their hoisting the white flag over the building.

An explosion, which blew up a section of the building, preceded the surrender by a few hours. It is believed a considerable number of the insurgents were wounded by the explosion, although they were not occupying that part of the structure when the explosion took place.

Dublin, June 30.—Unofficial estimates of the casualties in the two days fighting here place the number killed at thirty, with more than fifty wounded. This forenoon twelve deaths were reported and twenty wounded, the latter including both men in the fighting forces and private citizens.

A little after 5 a.m. seven open lorries loaded with British soldiers, in full battle dress and rifles and followed by a machine gun, passed along Adelaide road and were sniped at.

It is reported the British were on their way to protect the naval station at Kingstown, which was attacked yesterday by irregulars.

An Irish Republican poster says that Eamon De Valera, Republican leader, is on active service with the Dublin brigade, fighting for the "Irish Republic."

London, June 30.—The Postmaster General announces that the Anglesey, Wales and Kingstown cable has been cut and that telegraphic communication between Britain and Southern Ireland has therefore ceased.

The cable to Belfast, however, is working and it is also improbable that letters can be delivered anywhere in Southern Ireland.

EVENTS AT THE FOUR COURTS. Dublin, June 30.—An official bulletin issued from the headquarters of the Free State troops at two o'clock this morning, describing the capture of the greater part of the Four Courts, says that in the buildings, special precautions were taken and the fact that the casualties on both sides were not heavy, was due to the skill with which the attacking party conducted the operations.

When the Four Courts was occupied, thirty-three irregulars were made prisoners. The Free State forces occupied the greater part of the building, including the central hall and library, and the irregulars were forced to retire to the rear of the eastern section, a considerable portion of which was blown away by artillery fire.

During the evening application was made to an officer commanding to admit a nurse in uniform with a woman to the Four Courts, says the statement, the appeal being made on the grounds of humanity.

The officer became suspicious, and when the nurse was taken for interview the discovery was made that she was Thomas Darcy, one of the signatories to the irregular manifesto. He was made prisoner.

Entering the building they found the mines had been laid, but these were disconnected. A large quantity of ammunition including twelve mines, were also captured.

Yesterday while the government forces were passing through the city were subjected to frequent attacks from men in plain clothes in the streets.

The statement says the troops "have shown extraordinary control in the face of the provocation given in this way."

While returning with wounded from the vicinity of the Four Courts, an ambulance driver was fired on by the irregulars, according to the statement, and dangerously wounded.

DELAYS AIDS INSURGENTS. London, June 30.—Despatches from Dublin emphasize that the Free State government troops in Dublin had been able to capture the Four Courts from the insurgents a couple of hours after the siege began.

The rebels have extended their activities in a remarkably enterprising and apparently successful manner. They occupy a number of buildings scattered throughout the centre of the city, mostly at commanding points where important thoroughfares converge.

They are strongly fortified, armed, each constituting a centre of revolt and a rallying point for the insurgent army. Another point much stressed is the increasing activity of the communists in support of the Republicans.

Uncover Munitions Store. Belfast, June 30.—The Belfast police

CONFESSION OF MURDER FOUND IN A BOTTLE

"J. Small" Wrote on Back of a Label That He Had Killed Three People.

Rochester, N. Y., June 30.—"Oh God forgive me for my sins, I have killed three people," signed J. Small, scribbled on the back of a confectionery label and found in a floating bottle by a fisherman off Manitow Beach yesterday, is giving the sheriff of Monroe County a mystery to solve.

The bottle bore the name of a Chicago soft drink manufacturer, and the label on which the note was written was imprinted with the name of a Toronto confectionery house.

Rochester authorities are investigating in an effort to determine whether the mysterious note has any connection with the disappearance of Ambrose Small, missing millionaire theatrical manager.

EMPLOYMENT REPORTED TO BE BETTER

Ottawa, June 30.—(Canadian Press)—Employment figures for the first of June show a continued betterment of conditions throughout the dominion, according to information at the employment service branch of the department of labor.

From the first of the year, it is said, the improvement in conditions has been steadily maintained, until now there is considerably less unemployment than in June last year.

The other teams remained idle.

AFTER THE FRESHET.

C. C. Kirby, district engineer of the C. P. R., has returned from the scene of the damage done by the floods last week.

He said this morning that trains were being run over the C. P. R. bridge at Hartland and that order had been restored all along the line.

The country, he said, looked quite normal. The damage to the railway was due chiefly to small creeks running down side hills carrying with them gravel and refuse on to the tracks.

The province had made an improvised bridge of the jammed logs in the Beaugunac river above Hartland and cut off the tops and made a driveway across the river.

DOG RESCUES TWO.

He goes to the Aid of His Drowning Master and Mistress.
Tacoma, June 30—Rex is basking in the sunshine of his own glory which has made him the most talked-of dog in the state, following his heroic rescue of his master and mistress, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith, as they were near drowning in Spanaway Lake.
The Smiths were bathing together when Smith stepped into a deep hole and became confused. His call for help brought Mrs. Smith, and he clutched his wife in a hold she was unable to break and her cries were added to those of her husband.
The dog heard his master's calls for help, swam out and brushed across Smith's half-submerged face. Smith caught at the dog's collar, got a firm grip and the dog started for shore, snorting and struggling hard to prevent Smith's weight from dragging him under. Freed from her husband's grasp, the wife was able to swim back to shore alone.

A Ticklish Point

There is a trifling disadvantage to daily newspaper advertising which those who sell other forms of publicity use for all it is worth, and trust that the prospect will not reason too far to refute it.

That is: the absence of color. They point to certain other forms of advertising and say: "Look, you can show your product big and in color so that he who runs may read."

That's good selling argument from their point of view. But stay! Is the running reader apt to gather the impression which the advertiser intends! May not the impression be too cursory? Will it be seen at all!

The fact is that the daily newspaper is the Great Intimate Human Medium.

Insofar as the woman in the Home is concerned, it is her only point of contact with what is going on in the outside world. From the birth of a neighbor's baby to the marriage of a King's daughter it is her news mentor—the loom that weaves for her the knowledge of what is going on.

This is the Time of Times for concentration upon Daily Newspaper Advertising. Daily Newspaper Advertising is the most powerful vehicle of publicity yet given to the use of man. It is the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End of all successful advertising.

Advice as to the best ways and means of doing Newspaper Advertising will be given to those who inquire of us; or, consult any recognized advertising agency—a list supplied on request.

PREACHER ORGANIZES A NEW COMMUNITY
Winchester, Va., June 30.—Convicted that modern life is corrupting and spiritually demoralizing, and that church members themselves are not living up to the right standards, the Rev. M. Albert Stickle, until recently pastor of a group of churches of the Disciples of Christ, announced plans to set up a "real Christian community" in Patrick County. Those who joined in the movement, he said, intended to dwell together according to their conception of the manner "in which the Scriptures require Christians to live."

The leaders of the movement are reported to have acquired a tract of land and the colony will start with about fifty members.

BETTER THAN HARD COAL
Soft coal so free from soot that it does not make whiffers on stove covers or pipe and does not mat or cake when burning, is far better than Hard Coal for general household use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and can also be used for open fires and small heating stoves. Such a coal is Broad Cove soft coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article. No other soft coal burns just like Broad Cove. You will know it by the above characteristics.

DOMINION DAY.

Patriotic exercises are not a marked feature of the celebration of Dominion Day in the maritime provinces. The people are proud of the achievements of Canada, and are hopeful that a true national spirit may eventually be developed; but they consider the census and some other things and it has a tendency to dampen their enthusiasm. The census figures issued yesterday show that in Alberta the population in ten years increased 57.22 per cent, in Saskatchewan 53.80 per cent, in British Columbia 38.66 per cent, in Manitoba 32.23 per cent, while the gain in New Brunswick is only 10.38 per cent and in Nova Scotia 6.40 per cent, with Prince Edward Island showing an actual loss. These lower provinces do not lack resources and advantages. They are largely overlooked in the immigration programme of the federal government. They are handicapped by freight rates and have not shared the industrial growth of the central provinces. Their ports have not been developed. Trade which should come here goes through American ports. These provinces have lost to the larger provinces their formerly strong financial institutions. The pledges of confederation have not been kept and the hopes of that period have not been fulfilled. We are charged with being clamorous at Ottawa for special favors, and charged also with a lack of enterprise. Hence, reviewing the past, and remembering that they gave up much to aid in forming the Dominion of Canada, and cheerfully contributed their share to the building of canals and railways and the purchase and development of the west, our people naturally entertain a feeling that the national spirit they displayed for over half a century has not been met by a similar spirit by other members of the confederation. They still entertain the hope that the rest of the country will get their point of view and do them justice, but evidence of a change is not yet forthcoming. They have given to the councils of the nation some of its ablest men, and the like to business and education and the church. And yet, when Dominion Day comes around and the people ask themselves to what extent these provinces have benefited in comparison with what the others have received as a result of the Union of 1867, and when they remember what they gave up to make the union possible, there is a feeling that all is not well, nor can it be until the national spirit in the other provinces takes account of conditions here and there is a belated recognition of just claims. It is this feeling that is drawing the maritime provinces closer in sympathy, a welcome change of which there are growing evidences from time to time. Of course they realize that they must not depend upon the rest of the country for the solution of all their problems. They must take joint action to develop their resources and discover ways in which an export trade independent of the other provinces may be built up on the seaboard. They must go after the right class of immigrants. They must put aside all local prejudices and co-operate heartily along the lines suggested at the recent conference of St. John and Halifax Boards of Trade. At the same time it would be to their interest and that of the Dominion to conduct such an educational campaign in Canada at large as will leave no doubt in any mind that if Dominion Day is to mean all that it should to our people there must be a genuine recognition and acceptance of the spirit of the act of union.

THE PERMIT SYSTEM.

The day is coming when all persons who roam the forest must get a permit. This is now the law in Quebec, and a Bulletin of the Canada Forestry Association says: "The action of the government of Quebec in closing the forest areas to every person except on permit is applauded by all conservationists. Quebec lost at least ten million dollars last year by forest fires that swept 800,000 acres clear of their highly possible crop. It will take those lands a century to recover from the damage done them by thoughtless campers, smokers and other woods travelers. New Brunswick has threatened similar action and other provinces will be forced to follow as the only means of saving the forests from those who profit most by them, the tourist, the fisherman, the 'lover of Nature,' etc. In nearly all European countries, no such liberty is permitted as to enter a forest without leaving some record by which fire casualties may be traced." The annual loss through forest fires in this province is large, and nearly all of it is preventable. Last year's experience should have taught a severe lesson, but there seems little doubt that had not timely rains come in June of this year the destruction which had begun again would have reached large proportions. The government's patrol services cannot cover all the ground. The people generally must co-operate. The campaign of education must be constant. A careless camper or farmer may cost the province a great deal of money and destroy an asset not easily or quickly restored.

THE TRUTH ABOUT HYDRO.

When hydro was a very live topic in this city and a determined effort was being made to discredit the Musquash development and municipal control and operation, much use was made of what is termed the Murray report. William S. Murray, an American engineer, made a survey at the request of the National Electric Light Association of the United States. The whole purpose of this survey was to show that public ownership was not as satisfactory as private ownership, and that it was more costly to the people. The Murray report was received with great joy by the New Brunswick Power Company and its friends, and extracts were published to influence the public mind against municipal control of hydro in St. John. Happily the people were not convinced, since they knew the source and purpose of the Murray report, and now the other side of the story is published. A detachment from Toronto says: "Some time ago a report was issued by Engineer W. S. Murray, attacking the Ontario Hydro and comparing light and power costs in Toronto unfavorably with those in cities served by private ownership. Another American engineer, Morris Llewellyn Cooke, now publishes in the New Republic a strong condemnation of the Murray attack on Hydro. Mr. Cooke is a well-known consulting engineer, who was chairman of the storage section of the United States War Industrial Board in 1917, and executive assistant to the chairman of the United States Shipping Board in 1918. While the Murray report said that the supply of electricity in the United States is cheaper to the consumer than that of the hydro Mr. Cooke says: 'On the contrary, it appears that rates in Ontario are rarely more than half what they are in many American cities.'" Even if Mr. Cooke in his turn made the case appear somewhat too favorable to hydro there would still be a good margin in its favor, and in favor of municipal operation. St. John has made no mistake. It will reap great benefit from civic control and distribution of the current from Musquash. The control must be real and in no way subject to dictation by the New Brunswick Power Company.

THE REVELATION.

Prof. A. Leitch of the Ontario Agricultural College is not worried by the exodus of so many young people from the farms. He says: "Many have come to regard rural depopulation as a serious factor in agricultural economics. It is nothing of the sort. Owing to improved methods, men on the farm are now able to produce more than they did sixty years ago. The demands from growing industry calls for surplus production from the farm to their proper place. Since less are needed on the farm, the others have educated themselves for other callings. Perhaps this has gone too far, but I do not think so." If this be true, why seek immigrants for the farm? Prof. Leitch should come down and look over the abandoned farms in this province.

LIGHTER VEIN.

His Golly Golly. "You look good, Zeke," remarked Squire Witherbee. "I am that, Squire," said Chigger-ville's best known leader. "The been down to the gospel tent hearin' that new sawdust evangelist preach on 'sin of idleness.' Before 'li' feller got through, dog my cats if I didn't think he was personally acquainted with me!"

At 100 Years.

In order to attend the commencement exercises of Wesleyan University, Cornelius Cole, of California, has traveled all the way from the Pacific coast to Middletown (Conn.). Mr. Cole is 100 years old, was a "forty-niner" in California, and a former U. S. senator. He graduated at Wesleyan in 1847. No doubt the brave old centenarian will be the most interesting figure at the commencement exercises.

A Popular Delusion.

Mrs. Alice Turner, widow, was sitting in her kitchen at Farmington, New York, during a terrific storm. Lightning struck the house. Damage was small. The widow was unharmed. Of course Mrs. Turner had heard, like the rest of us, that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place." But something went wrong with the rules. A second bolt knocked her unconscious.

No Sherlock Holmes.

Mother—Do you detect any signs of genius in my daughter, professor? Professor—I cannot say that I do, madam; but then, I am not much of a detective.

Under the Red Flag.

The Karl Marx, the first Bolshevik vessel to reach this country, arrived at Hull yesterday flying a red flag and carrying a cargo of timber.

A SONG OF RAIN.

Others may sing of glancing sunshine, shade and light, and skies that smile, but I shall weave My song upon the warp and woof that's made From silver slant of rain; on mist that leaves Their lace-like gauze upon the earth when flowers Lift up their scented faces to the lips Of showers sweet; and on those fragrant bowers Of leafy arms whose cool, wet finger tips In holy baptism touch my hair; And on the music that I hear both night and day when jeweled drops fall through the air, And on my roof and garden there Ah, beautiful beyond all dream, all thought Are the soft melodies that thus are wrought— Elizabeth S. Montgomery in the New York Times.

THE REVELATION.

(Thomas S. Jones, Jr., in Boston Transcript.) Beloved Saint, for you Patmos shone The deathless One whose footsteps Led from far Hell to where the sea of glass Serged without sound beneath the rainbow bow; You saw the stars like seeds in autumn blow, The earth and sky fade like midsummer grass, And drew from God the Holy City pass Radiant with gold and pearl and jasper stone. Amid the thunder of stupendous doom And burning mystery of the Spirit's Seven, Stood He whose Heart once beat beneath your head; And through the blinding lights and heat, You heard low Love unbars the Gate of Heaven, Where peace shall cease and tears be comforted.

"GET BUSY" "GET BUSY"
WOMAN M. P. RETURNS $1,500
Agnes MacPhail Accepts Only $2,500 of Indemnity—Had Denounced Increase Before She Became Candidate.
Increase in the sessional indemnity Miss Agnes MacPhail, M. P., yesterday turned over $1,440 of her sessional indemnity of $4,000 to Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance. In effect, she was returning $1,500, the $60 being income tax on the amount.
"I am quite convinced that $2,600 is not enough for a man who devoted himself to serving his country," Miss MacPhail explained. "What I did object to, was the time when the indemnity was increased and the circumstances. Our men were overseas and the great cry was economy."
"That was why I could not accept the $4,000. If I had known the process in time I should have not forward my bill for a decrease in the indemnity. As it was I saw it would never get through, so I withdrew it rather than risk the remarks that I was playing to the gallery. I am glad the $1,500 is gone. I did not want to touch it."
"I have no condemnation for any one else, but I do think there is no use of Sir Lester Gouin, Mr. Fielding or Mr. Crerar, or any other man, no matter how great, preaching economy unless we can give the people a lead in economy and show the sincerity of the idea. Anybody can use $4,000. A man with a family, away from home and business, probably needs it. "But the sessional indemnity is not a salary. It is a mark of appreciation given by the country for service."
Seems Reasonable. (Philadelphia Public Ledger)

PROMOTERS ARE FOUND GUILTY

Toronto, June 30.—Found guilty after a trial, which lasted seventeen days, on three counts of conspiracy, theft of and receiving "a large sum of money," H. P. Slater and L. J. Thompson, Nukol Company promoters, were remanded in custody until Monday morning by Judge Coaksworth, yesterday. Some of the jurors stood for a recommendation to mercy, but sentiment was divided. Arthur G. Sleigh, K. C., and Peter White, K. C., will apply for a reserved case today. Slater and Thompson were charged with conspiracy, theft of and receiving $400,000 belonging to the Nukol Fuel Company during the years 1919-20-21.

Mother's Tree

The idea of planting trees as memorials for soldiers who fought in the Great War has taken remarkable hold and thousands of trees will be used next fall for this purpose. "Plant a tree for Mother," urges an Eastern editor, "and let it always be known as 'Mother's tree.'" A bit of sentiment like that will bring a light to her eyes. Better a lovely growing graceful elm tree than flowers when she is gone. Associate your trees by name with members of your family and the trees come to seem like members of your family. A humble home, with beautiful shade trees and shrubs about it, is much more attractive than a treeless palace. On one of the sidewalks of Quebec, the head of the family many years ago planted walnut trees, each identified with a son, daughter or grandchild. Today, the trees have grown to great size but the tender associations remain.

ST. PHILLIP'S TAG DAY.

The tag day held by the A. M. E. church last Saturday was a decided success. The sum of $649.20 being realized. The workers report an excellent spirit exhibited by those who contributed, and the conference committee desires to use this opportunity to thank the generous public for their contributions. St. Philip's church under the present pastorate is meeting the needs of the people in a far more satisfactory manner than for some time past. The Rev. M. Stewart, who believes in organization, has succeeded in harnessing every element of the church for service and a spirit of co-operation prevails which is registering success along all lines. As has been done in the previous years, two-thirds of the amount collected goes direct to the church, the other third towards the work of the conference. In this way the presiding elder of the conference is not only helping to take care of many of the burdens of past years, but is making provision for further usefulness for the church in these maritime provinces. Rev. Mr. Stewart says the rumor that a part of the funds collected on tag day had been appropriated to the Paris case is untrue, and had evidently come from an unreliable source.

Teachers' Association Shows Steady Progress

The biennial meeting of the N. B. Teachers' Association was held last evening in the High School assembly hall with the president, B. C. Foster, in the chair, and A. S. MacFarlane acting as secretary-treasurer.

President's Address.

The president gave a brief address, discussing progress during the last few years. At the date of reorganization in Moncton in 1918 the membership was forty-one; the membership is now approaching 700, about one-half of the active teachers of the province, and practically all the first class teachers, but only 219 of the second class, and fifty-three of the third. He thought those who had not yet joined had made a mistake, as the association would greatly benefit those as well as the higher classes. The first salary schedule of the association had been remarkably well received by press and public. The average advance was twenty-five per cent, the association being anxious to advance slowly and gradually. The next schedule showed an advance of from ten to fifteen per cent. This occasioned some friction, but in only three cases was the friction in any way serious. One place was Devon, which this year, has voluntarily gone considerably beyond the latest association's schedule. Another place was Fredericton, where the final settlement was satisfactory, two teachers involved taking better attitudes elsewhere and the others receiving what they had asked. The third place was Hartland. The dispute there led to the formation of a Provincial School Trustees' Association, which fell under the leadership of moderate and broadminded men, and which, he said, would prove a benefit to the teachers as well as the general public, for the trustees' association was an organized body with which the organized teachers could deal. At the trustees' convention a charge was made that some teachers had deceived trustees in the matter of minimum salary. This charge had been thoroughly investigated and proven incorrect.

Salary Matters. The last (1922) salary schedule showed no considerable increases, as it had not been thought advisable to demand any increase at present, or even in the near future, but there should be no recession. The secretary-treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $293.51 up to June 30. William Burns, one of the two auditors, reported the accounts correct. Next came reports from the executive members present. G. H. Harrison reported for Northumberland county. In two or three instances the salary schedule was not reached, due largely to industrial depression in that district. Several cases of under-bidding came from non-members of the association, and one from a member or former member. The county members are unanimously in favor of retaining the salary minimum and were supported by the county members of the legislature.

Miss Agnes Ferguson reported for Kent county. Good progress had been made in the county. Mr. Wetmore reported for Kings. The association had been well received by graded school teachers. The minimum salary had been lived up to or exceeded.

W. J. Myles and J. H. Harrington reported for St. John city and county. The teachers had been canvassed with good results. The great majority of the 184 city teachers belonged to the association. All had joined in petitioning the premier and his colleagues against abolition of the legal minimum salary.

Miss Etta DeWolfe reported for Charlotte county, where much work had been done. C. D. Dickson reported for Queens, and also for Carleton county for 1920-1921. There were good results in the latter county. Work in Queens, where the schools are nearly all rural, was more difficult.

W. M. Burns reported for York. A large number of teachers there were organized. He worked through a committee consisting of the principals of the graded schools. All or nearly all the schools paid the minimum salary or more. Much of the success of the movement in York was due to the help of Mr. MacFarlane, the general secretary.

Miss Bessie A. Fraser reported for Victoria and for Carleton. Many teachers in those counties seemed indifferent. She knew of teachers underbidding, but the trustees taking no notice of it. There was danger there if more did not join the association.

Dr. George O. Oulton reported for Moncton city. All there belonged to the association. There was no underbidding, and no discontent expressed with the pension scheme. Dr. Foster reported that practically all Fredericton teachers belonged to the association.

The secretary then read letters regarding alleged deception by teachers, showing that the teachers were correct. Five definite complaints had been made. In not one case had the teachers deceived the trustees.

Affiliation Defeated.

The next question considered was that of affiliation with the Canadian Teachers' Association, the secretary reading letters on the subject and explaining the nature of the national organization. The affiliation fee was $100 for each province.

W. J. S. Myles, of St. John, seconded by J. H. Harrington, moved that they should not affiliate with the Canadian Teachers' Association under present conditions.

It was moved in amendment by H. H. Stuart, of Sunny Brae, and seconded by I. A. Gilbert, of Campbellton, that the N. B. Teachers' Association affiliate with the Canadian Teachers' Association, at the same time requesting that the provincial fee be rearranged on a pro rata basis.

It was moved in amendment to the amendment by G. O. Oulton and W. H. Irving, of Moncton, that they should favor affiliation with the C. T. A. and refer further action to the incoming executive.

The motions were discussed pro and con, the amendment to the amendment and the amendment itself defeated. The secretary reported re the Brandon teachers' dispute with the school board and whose places had been taken by substitute teachers.

A message of sympathy was ordered sent to the Brandon teachers, no financial aid having been asked by the letter. Dr. B. C. Foster and A. S. MacFarlane, president and secretary-treasurer for the last four years, both declined re-nomination. They were given a hearty vote of thanks for their great services.

Officers Elected. The following officers were elected for the next two years: President—W. J. S. Myles, St. John. First vice-president—G. H. Harrison, Chatham.

Second vice-president—Miss Bessie A. Fraser, Grand Falls. Secretary-treasurer—C. T. Wetmore, Rothesay.

Additional members of executive: Restigouche—L. A. Gilbert, Campbellton. Gloucester—Miss Etta J. Losier, Tracadie.

Northumberland—R. S. Wood, Douglastown. Kent—Miss Agnes Ferguson, Richibucto. Moncton—Dr. George J. Oulton.

Westmorland—H. H. Stuart, Sunny Brae. Albert—Alonso R. Stiles, Riverside. St. John county—H. C. Ricker, St. John.

St. John city—J. Frank Owens. Charlotte—George J. Marr, St. Andrews. Kings—F. S. Kelstead, Hampton.

Queens—C. D. Dickson, Chipman. Sunbury—Miss Anita J. Gallagher, Tracey Station. York—Eldon MacDermid, Devin.

Carleton—D. W. Wallace, Woodstock. Victoria—A. D. Jonah, Grand Falls. Madawaska—Miss Regina Martin, Edmundston.

Founders Praised. Mr. Myles paid a high compliment to the founders of the N. B. Teachers' Association, which was initiated at the Albert county institute in 1902, one of whom—H. H. Stuart, secretary-treasurer from 1902 to 1908—was present.

Mr. Stuart pointed out that W. M. Burns also was one of the three who organized the first constitution of the N. B. T. A.

On motion of A. S. MacFarlane, seconded by Principal J. H. Harrington, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered The Educational Review for its steady, consistent and valuable assistance to the association.

The editor, H. H. Stuart, replied, saying that the Review could always be depended upon to uphold the interests of the teaching profession.

WALSH OPPOSES DUTY AS CHECK ON CANADIAN TRADE

Washington, June 29.—A duty of 2 1/2 cents a gallon on milk, as compared with the one-cent rate in the house bill, was approved today by the senate, 48 to 18, after a two-hour fight. Senator Walsh, Massachusetts, led the fight against the rate which, he said, was another instalment of an attempt to reduce it with Canada. He held that the would constitute a penalty on the people of New England who depend on Canada for their extra supply of milk and cream during the summer months.

London, June 29.—Lord Chancellor Birkhead read a letter in the House of Lords today from Sir Joseph Robinson, addressed to Prime Minister Lloyd George, asking the king's permission to decline the peerage that has been offered him. 50,000 More Starving Russian Children. have been allotted to the Save the Children Fund workers in the famine areas about Samov, by the All-British Committee. At present, the generosity of the Canadian people has enabled the Canadian Committee of the Save the Children Fund to provide sufficient food for 75,000 children in Russia, who would otherwise have died from starvation. Now that the Russian Relief Fund (including the British Red Cross), the Friends' Relief Mission and the British and Canadian Save the Children Funds have been united under the direction of Sir Benjamin Robertson, more work is being undertaken and there is a corresponding increase in the demand for funds. There is absolutely no hope that Russian children can be helped by Russia itself, until the harvest which comes at the end of August. So it is imperative that money and food continue to be sent through the Canadian and British Organizations right through the summer. Will you give something? 25c. will feed a child for a week. $1. will ensure sufficient food for one child for a month. $500. will establish a kitchen in the famine district and feed 100 children until the next harvest. KINDNESS TO DUMB ANIMALS

Essay by 14-Year-Old Margaret Gale, of West End, Which was S. M. Wetmore's Prize.

At the closing of the Beaconfield School, in the Parish of Lancaster, on the 27th inst., S. M. Wetmore, secretary of the New Brunswick Society for the Prevention of Cruelty, presented his prize of $5 in gold, to Miss Margaret Gale, fourteen year old daughter of Harold J. Gale, of 48 Clifton street, West St. John, for an excellent essay on kindness to animals, as here printed.

It is generally known that many animals possess, in a greater or less degree, the same senses as we ourselves have. Animals can feel pain just as quickly as humans though many of the latter fail to realize it.

SIR GEO. PARKIN LEAVES BEHIND RARE MEMORIES
(Toronto Globe.)

The death of Sir George Parkin, C. M. G., announced by cable last night, will occasion real regret in this city. He was well known locally, having been principal of Upper Canada College for several years, and many of his closest relatives still reside in Toronto.

Sir George Parkin was known not only as a great educationist, but also as an outstanding Canadian, who for the past twenty years had preached the doctrine of Imperial Federation. His greatest efforts went in the direction of arousing public opinion to an appreciation of the importance of such federation, and so great became the influence of his utterances that, in 1898, he was invited by the Imperial Federation League to make a tour of the Empire. On this tour, which embraced Canada, Australia, South Africa and other colonies, his powerful and persuasive advocacy of the cause created a deep impression.

Sir Robert's Tribute.

Sir Robert Falconer, when informed by The Globe last night of the death of the distinguished educationist, expressed keen regret, and added that with the death of Sir George "a life full of labors, the enthusiasm and great accomplishment" had come to an end. "As a teacher, Dr. Parkin had high ideals," continued Sir Robert. "He took as his models the great teachers of England. During his many years as teacher in New Brunswick and in Toronto he inspired many who are now holding high positions in the Dominion. As secretary of the Rhodes Club he laid his foundations well, and travelled through the British Empire and the United States on many occasions to interview and to carry out the system devised. Recently he retired from this position. He had strong convictions as to the influence for good upon the world of the British Empire, and no less so on the necessity for the maintenance of good relations between the United States and Great Britain. As a man of pure character, of religious nature, generous and kind, he will be missed by a host of friends whom he made all through the Empire," Sir Robert concluded.

Almost a Prophet.

"A man with a broad and almost prophetic view on world affairs and a man who wielded a tremendous influence," was the summing up of the late Dr. Parkin, given to The Globe by S. B. Gundy, publisher and president of the Canadian Club.

Dr. D. Bruce MacDonald, head master of St. Andrew's College, told The Globe that he had known the deceased "fairly well." "He was a man of kind character, who was always willing to extend the helping hand," said Dr. MacDonald. "He studied at Oxford with such distinguished men as Earl Grey, Cecil Rhodes and Alfred Milner and he was chosen by Cecil Rhodes himself to superintend the distribution of the Rhodes' scholarships."

New House Will Have 244 Members, An Increase of Nine Over Present Number

Ottawa, Ont., June 29.—There will be 244 members in the house of commons after the next redistribution, according to the revised population figures for Canada, which have been given out by the dominion bureau of statistics. This is an increase of nine members over the present house.

New Brunswick with eleven members, will maintain its present representation but Nova Scotia will lose two seats, being reduced from sixteen to fourteen.

The figures are as follows:

Province	Present House	New House
Quebec	65	68
Nova Scotia	14	12
New Brunswick	11	11
P. E. Island	4	4
Ontario	81	82
Manitoba	17	15
Saskatchewan	21	16
Alberta	16	12
British Columbia	14	13
Yukon	1	1

but at the present time there are only 245.

According to an announcement made by the premier at the close of parliament, a redistribution bill will be introduced at the next session in January.

The chief increases in membership are, as were expected, in the Prairie provinces, which will send eleven more members to parliament after redistribution than they do now. The decreases are in Nova Scotia and Ontario. The place which gets the largest increase is Saskatchewan, with five, while Alberta is a close second with four.

It is not certain whether the Yukon will retain its separate representation after redistribution. That territory was first given a member by act of parliament in 1902. At that time there was a population of 27,219 in the territory,

STREET CAR UNION STILL FLOURISHES

Just a year ago yesterday not a street car was in operation in the city of St. John, as that day marked the climax in the trouble between the New Brunswick Power Company and its employees, and saw the commencement of a long and bitter struggle between the two factions. Last evening the members of the Agitated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees held a reunion in the Trades and Labor Hall, in Prince William street, to celebrate the first anniversary of their lock-out.

Last night's affair was attended by more than eighty members of the union, and Ira D. Farris, its president, occupied the chair. The members talked over the situation in the city and they all expressed their determination to continue the fight for their rights. The members of the union expressed great satisfaction over the fact that few men had deserted their ranks.

The reports received last evening showed that the local was in a healthy condition, although its members are engaged in other lines of work. Speeches were made by several of the members last night and toasts also were honored. Refreshments were served at the close.

EASTERN NORTHERN — PRIVATE SCHOOLS — WESTERN SOUTHERN

In every section of the United States and Canada specialists in education have established schools that are entitled to particular distinction in shaping the characters of their students.

In this issue of THE LITERARY DIGEST there are many advertisements of good schools.

Just which school to select is a matter for the careful consideration of the parent or guardian and we suggest that heads of families and prospective students read our school announcements carefully.

THE LITERARY DIGEST is prepared to make suggestions to parents and the School Advisory Department will be glad to answer letters. The requests must give name and address of parent or guardian; sex and age of child to be placed; approximate price to be expended for board and tuition; locality, and size of school desired.

For years we have suggested early application to the schools. It is difficult to find the ideal school during the last weeks preceding the opening of a new session.

other gifts as a token of respect. A happy evening was spent in games and

DOUBLE HEADER TOMORROW.
The fact that the new baseball team has added two new pitchers to its roster, would seem to indicate that they

FAIRVILLE UNION WITH THE CITY
Question Revived by Experience in Recent Fires.

A Fairville correspondent says the recent fire there have revived a suggestion that more protection would be offered both as to fire and police if Fairville were amalgamated with the city. He says prompt action for better protection was expected after the fire of May 1, but nothing has been done and that, but for the lack of wind a more recent fire would have caused very serious loss.
This correspondent calls for immediate action and suggests that a meeting of taxpayers be called at once.

LAST DAY OF
THE TEACHERS' PARLIAMENT

Officers Were Chosen at Session This Morning

Excellent Papers on Measuring of Results of Teaching and on Benefit of Consolidated Schools in Rural Districts.

Between 800 and 700 teachers were present this morning at the session of the Educational Institute of New Brunswick in the High School auditorium, with the president of the council, Dr.
W. S. Carter, in the chair.

Very interesting papers were read by Miss Josephine MacLachey, former editor of the Educational Review in this province, and now editorial assistant to the Bureau of Educational Research, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio,
and Inspector F. A. Dixon of Sackville.
Miss MacLachey took up the matter of "Tests for Measuring the Results of Teaching," and outlined several plans which had been found helpful. Mr.
Dixon gave a strong and impressive argument for the forming of consolidated schools in the rural districts of the province and his ideas seemed to meet with the approval of the meeting.

Mrs. Heber Vroom gave a short outline of the educational work of the I. O. E.
D. E. were doing as a memorial to those killed in the war, and urged that the teachers do their best to help the order to find applicants for the university scholarships given to the son or daughter of some member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

Officers Chosen.
The first item at this morning's meeting was the report of the tellers of yesterday's elections. The results were announced as follows:
Executive committee—Dr. H. S.
Bridges, St. John; Dr. B. C. Foster, Fredericton; C. D. Dixon, Chipman; E. J.
Alexander, St. John; W. M. Burns,
Fredericton; R. G. Mowatt, St. Stephen;
G. H. Harrison, Chatham; John E. Poirer,
Fredericton; Miss Bernice MacNaughton,
Moncton; and Alonzo R. Siles, River-
Albert county.

Representative to the Senate of the University of New Brunswick—W. J. S.
Myles of St. John High school.
Text book committee—A. S. MacPar-lane, Fredericton; H. H. Hagerman, Fredericton; Dr. H. S. Bridges, St. John;
Miss Sadie L. Thompson, Fredericton;
Miss Emma Colwell, St. John; Dr. G. J.
Gault, Moncton, and Dr. B. C. Foster,
Fredericton.

Dr. George A. Inch, the secretary, spoke on the matter of arranging transactions of the day, Miss MacLachey, to the plaitor to read a paper on "Tests for Measuring the Results of Teaching."
Standardized Examination.

Miss MacLachey said she was pleased to return to her native province and to again have the chance to address the teachers.

Examinations had been given for some time and will be given in the future, she said. It was possible to compare by means of tests the proficiency of pupils all parts of Canada and the United States and to standardize the measurements. Standardized papers were made up to give standard values to questions and a standardized number of questions on each part of a subject, according to its importance. A paper would be sent out in the fall as an example of what had been made up from a test of 60,000 pupils.

There were several systems of tests.
The first was an individual test to rank
the children, according to their abilities.
It was estimated that this test had been given to about 2,000,000 children.
A similar system of tests was used in connection with the draft army in the United States.

Another important system, Miss Mac-Lachey said, was the group test, of which there were several very good forms.
The educational tests were also good,
she said, and examples of these were on hand for arithmetic, geography, grammar and spelling. It was thought that soon the educationalists in England would have prepared tests in English and Canadian history.

Miss MacLachey introduced a paper of tests for children of Grades 6, 7 and 8 in silent reading, and explained the value of this in gauging the pupils proficiency in reading and in comprehension of the subject. It was necessary, she said, to make these tests interesting. To find the general ability of the class a new system was in use that of piling the papers in reverse order of merit and taking the middle paper instead of averaging the marks of the class. This, Miss Mac-Lachey said, was a fairer system than that of a mark average.

Dr. Carter spoke a few words of appreciation in respect to the excellent paper presented by Miss Lynda, of the Provincial Normal School, spoke a few words relative to a test she had given.

Rural Consolidation.
The chairman reported that Inspector
A. J. Brooks had been unable to attend for the paper he was to read. Inspector F. A. Dixon, of Sackville, was called on for his talk on "The Consolidation of Rural Schools."

The rural consolidated school, Mr.
Dixon said, was really the graded school taken out into the rural districts. Many of the rural schools were not graded, he said, being under the leadership of only one teacher, who could not adequately handle all the grades. The education of the rural districts was important.

Many young men, he claimed, had emigrated from the rural districts and of this number many had gone, not to the cities or to the west of Canada, but to the United States.

He said that the rural children were handicapped in getting education in comparison with the city children. The cities had the best organized schools and he regretted that the country parts were not also well organized. The rural school taxes, he said, were heavier than those in the city in spite of the better facilities of the city.

The centralized consolidated school, he said, was now bringing 90 per cent. of the children to school whereas about 65 per cent. was the average under the one room school system in outlying districts.
He referred to the establishment of

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

LAST OF MOHICANS IMPERIAL MONDAY

People Advised Early so as to Make Plans to See Historical Feature.

In most family libraries James Fenimore Cooper's historical adventure novel, "The Last of the Mohicans," is cherished as one of the most interesting of all books. It appeals to old and young alike. Not an exaggerated yarn written for the screen alone, but a living narrative of the early struggles of white men on this continent, it contains history, lore, interest and distinct educational value. If such a story were "hot-boiled" and managed by unintelligent producers one might resent the abuse so heaped upon a household classic, but such is not the case. The director who has translated to the screen this famous series of episodes is no less a personage than Maurice Tourneur, the Anglo-French wizard of the movies, the man who actually raised Mary Pickford to her pinnacle of fame. "The Last of the Mohicans" will be a treat to look ahead for the holiday. The Imperial promises a most enjoyable novelty in it.

DOMINION DAY AT IMPERIAL

For stay-at-homes tomorrow and their visitors from outside points the big attraction will be Imperial Theatre. The chief item in the programme at the Keith house will be John Barrymore's serio-comic classic, "The Lulu Baiter," the adventures in love of a man who was not allowed to see a woman until he was twenty-five years of age. The feature packed the house yesterday in spite of the rain. Those following the new serial story will have their second chapter and there will be special comedy acts as well.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

THE VARIOMETER. Briefly, the variometer consists of two coils of wire connected in series, one of the coils being stationary and the other so mounted that it may be rotated.

THE TWO-CIRCUIT RECEIVER. In a simple form a receiver of this type may have a fixed primary winding and a secondary winding so constructed that it may be slipped in and out of coupling.

RECTIFICATION BY THE CRYSTAL DETECTOR. If the series of damped radio-frequency oscillations are impressed upon a crystal detector, the rectifying properties of the crystal allow only the positive or negative currents to pass through.

THE THERMIONIC TUBE. The thermionic tube consists of a small glass bulb from which the air has been exhausted. Supported in the vacuum are three elements—the filament, grid, and plate.

INCREASING TUNERS—THE "HONEYCOMB" COIL. The "honeycomb" coil consists of a multi-layer coil, in compact form, so designed as to function with low energy losses.

These units may be utilized as the primary and secondary windings of the rectifying transformer and an extremely flexible regenerative circuit may be developed by an additional coil connected in the plate circuit and located in inductive relation to the secondary winding.

LAST DAY OF THE TEACHERS' PARLIAMENT

(Continued from page 10.) consolidated schools in Indiana and advised those whose sympathies were not with the consolidated system to look into the records of schools in this state.

Mr. Dixon read an extract telling of the consolidation of schools in Iowa. New Brunswick and Manitoba were the first in Canada to apply the system and other provinces had taken up the matter with a view to action more widespread than in this province.

It is probable that an increase of taxes will be necessary, he concluded, but he believed that it was very well worth the difference.

Dr. Carter here rose to say a few words in support of Inspector Dixon. He said that with good teachers for the consolidated schools, pupils would be attracted to the schools even from long distances and added that cheap teachers did not pay in any district.

Mr. Hober Vroom commenced by commending Inspector Dixon and Dr. Carter on their remarks about consolidated schools.

Reference to the matter of her address, the I. O. D. E. scholarships, she told of the works in relation to the giving of prizes and scholarships by the order in memory of those who fell in the war.

SCOTIAN IN WITH 233 PASSENGERS

Quebec, June 30.—The Canadian Pacific steamship Scotian, from Liverpool, Capt. W. P. Hains, D.Sc., after being considerably delayed by fog relating shipping for the last week in the North Atlantic, arrived at Quebec last night at ten o'clock, with 118 cabin and 115 third-class passengers.

Among the former were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Benson, Mrs. M. Brennan, Mrs. E. J. Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lawrence, Mrs. A. E. and Master Louder and Miss M. Roberts, Toronto; H. A. Canadine, Saskatoon, Sask.; E. T. Critchley, Calgary, Alta.; Mrs. J. M. Bernard, London, Ont.; Mrs. J. Cummings, Vancouver, B. C.; J. Gordon, Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Gray and Mrs. W. Wilmings; E. James, Hamilton, Ont.

Both the cabin and third-class passengers, speaking of their belated arrival, said that they were so well and constantly looked after by the officers and crew, who provided amusements for them, that they by no means felt the delay irksome.

OUR OWN MR. BAXTER. Halifax Echo—Hon. Mr. Baxter, of St. John, has not enhanced his reputation as a politician during his first session at Ottawa, but it cannot be said that he has allowed the occasion to pass without providing some amusement and excitement for his fellow-members.

Mr. Baxter's first speech was on Monday of moving an amendment on the Crow's Nest agreement question, for which he and the eccentric W. E. Maclean, of Toronto, were the only members to vote; secondly, he got into a controversy with his fellow New Brunswick member, Mr. Caldwell, the Progressive member for Carleton, which almost ended in a "fistic bout" in the lobby.

ON COMPULSORY SCHOOL LAW

At the afternoon session of the Educational Institute of New Brunswick, yesterday, in the high school auditorium, very strong and interesting paper was read by Mr. Mark Mills of St. Stephen on strengthening the Compulsory School Law.

In opening his illuminating address on Strengthening the Compulsory School Law, Mr. Mills took exception to the word "Compulsion" as it savored of force. He pointed to the titling of the act in Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Alberta and Ontario, where the heading was the "School Attendance Act." While it was acknowledged that the state has the right to insist that every child accept the education provided, it was also the right of the parent to require that the studies should be adequate.

This compulsory law had been placed on the statute books in 1906 and was only optional in its application to the various school districts. He believed that this optional feature of the act was one of its principal weaknesses. He took up several of the sections and dealt with them fully, comparing the provincial act with other acts in operation throughout Canada.

Concluding, he repeated his criticism concerning the optional feature. "What is even worse," he added, "if the act is adopted by a council at any time." He contended that such clauses "good reasons for failure to attend" should be removed from the act and definite exceptions from attendance should be definitely stated. He believed the act was too general and that more certain exceptions should be stated.

If the act was its force all over the province, he advocated an amendment to provide for the appointment by the government of a provincial school district officer. He went further and advocated that school attendance officers should be appointed by the respective boards of school trustees and that no police officer should have anything to do with the enforcement of the act.

Summing up, he thought that any law relating to school attendance should be part of the general school act of the province; that there should not be any local option as provided by the present act; that the government should make the law and enforce it; that the act should provide that every child should commence attendance at school at the age of six years and continue attending until that child had passed the grade 8 examinations and that attendance should be continued until the 11th grade was finished with only a few definite exceptions to the latter provision.

All exceptions from attendance should be clearly and definitely stated by the act and little as possible left to a systematic board of school trustees. An examination of the acts of the western provinces in regard to the question, particularly the acts of Saskatchewan and Alberta, would be beneficial in drafting a new act for this province and the sooner this is done the better," said Mr. Mills in conclusion.

Dr. Carter agreed with Mr. Mills that enforcement of attendance should be under direct control of the government. As it was now districts, after they had adopted the act, did not report further to the board of education.

Dr. H. S. Bridges, of St. John, said that no particular exception could be taken to the paper. As Mr. Mills said, the 120 days' attendance at school was inadequate. Youngsters could attend 120 of the 200 days and then leave school legally. At the request of St. John, attendance there had been made compulsory for the whole of each year, up to the age of fourteen. The school attendance in St. John averaged about ninety-two per cent—a very high showing. Non-attendance was not always the fault of the child. Home environment often was bad. The remedy for that was a "parental" school, like the Industrial school of St. John. Compulsory attendance beyond age of fourteen was a debatable point.

Principal H. H. Stuart, of Sunny Brae, editor of The Educational Review, agreed on general principles with Mr. Mills and the other speakers, and suggested legislation granting allowances to mothers with dependent children, so that no child need leave school too early because of poverty.

Dr. Bagley. Dr. Bagley said that a compulsory act demanding only part time attendance was not worthy of the name. Responsibility lay on teachers to see that the schools were such that the pupil should have no valid reason for not wanting to attend. Canadian teachers were better prepared than those of the United States, the latter being on the average less qualified than those of any other civilized country. Untrained teachers should not teach. But in the United States there were between 15,000 and 20,000 teachers who had no more than an eighth grade education themselves, and he had seen a sixth grade graduate teaching in that country. He favored extension of school attendance, to keep all children in school up to the age of sixteen years. Boys who left school early generally wandered from job to job for several years. He was not in favor of very early vocational differentiation of children. Vocational guidance should begin at the age of twelve. Children needed character formation and general culture.

Principal W. A. Nelson, of St. John, also advocated government enforcement of attendance. He knew of teachers who had themselves outfitted poor pupils for school. But pupils too poorly dressed for school could coast all days on the streets! He agreed with the idea of reform schools for truants. Police officers should help to enforce attendance. He himself refused to accept parent's requests for children to get out of school early to attend the movies or practice for concerts, as the law said they must attend the whole time.

On motion of Dr. H. S. Bridges and Chairman Jones, Mr. Mills was given a hearty vote of thanks. The rest of the afternoon was taken up by voting for members of the executive and representative to the U. N. B. senate. The results will be announced this morning. The institute will conclude with morning and afternoon sessions today.

RECREATION HUT FORMALLY OPENED

"No ecclesiastical structure is more worthy of solemn dedication than this little building," said Rev. F. S. Porter, speaking at the opening ceremonies in connection with the Red Cross recreation hut at the Lancaster D. S. C. hospital, which were held last night.

Regrets were received from His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Tugsey, that he was unable to be present at the meeting.

Mr. Hayes expressed the thanks of the association to Neil Brodie, for his work on the plans; to William Brodie for the gift of a phonograph and records, and to various societies and persons for cash contributions toward the furnishings.

Dr. McCarthy, who is in charge of the Lancaster D. S. C. R. Hospital, said that he wished to voice the thanks of the department toward the society, and declared that the hut was a living tribute to the foresight and energy of the Red Cross.

After the meeting concluded, the band played several selections, and those present made an examination of the building. It is of one story and is in one large room, with a small stage at the end.

There is no need to suffer from any foot trouble, any more. Be it ever so simple or ever so serious this specialist, who is a member of the Staff of Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the noted foot authority, can show you the way to immediate relief and to ultimate

CRITICS OPPOSE
CREEDAL VIEWS OF NEW SCHOOL

Several Methodist Pastors at Theological Union Voice Protest.

(Staff Correspondence of Toronto Globe) Whittby, June 28 — That orthodox Methodism is not prepared to accept the "called higher criticism of some modern biblical scholars was evident from the discussion which followed Rev. C. Washington's lecture, outlining not necessarily his own, but the attitude of liberal churchmen toward Christ and His creeds at the meeting of the Theological Union Saturday night. Resentment was expressed to them an over-continuation by modern churchmen of the humanity of our Lord, several veteran ministers rose in protest. Others were not satisfied with the somewhat lukewarm treatment of miracles by the historical critics whom Mr. Washington quoted. "It is all about as clear as a Scotch mist or a London fog," pithily remarked Rev. H. M. Manning. Revision of existing creeds to conform with the results of modern historical criticism was the gist of the case advanced by Mr. Washington as that of the modern churchman. "With their attitude in general toward the great orthodox creed of the church," he said, "most of us here tonight would be in agreement. Some conservatives assert that the Athanasian and other creeds are the last word in logical definition. The modern churchmen do not believe that. Candidly, we do not believe that either. We must, to sum up, agree with them that we can revise the creeds drawn up in the centuries following Christ, that they are not infallible documents. We may agree also that we must interpret even the writers of the New Testament, and the particular philosophy which sometimes colors that truth may not be shared by us as an essential." Supreme Revealer of God. Miracles, in the opinion of modern churchmen, were, he said, evidence of an overwhelming personality. Christ to them was the supreme revealer of God. They stressed altogether His humanity, and in their thoughts of Him they kept Him within the bounds of humanity. Formerly many Christians denied to Christ a real human will and spirit. This, although repudiated by the church officially, was still the best of the popular mind. I believe modern churchmen are more orthodox than their critics and others who would need first aid were the term heretic applied to them. I am very doubtful if any one among us can accept literally every statement of doctrine in the 25 articles, sermons and notes of our founder. I believe some day the creed of the Methodist Church will have to be revised. That does not say that we will abandon any of the fundamentals. Everything, even in the august standards of Methodism, is not fundamental. We are facing the same problem concerning John Wesley and the early conferences as the Church of England faces concerning Athanasius and the Bishops of Chalcedon. Why should their statements be imposed upon the centuries of subsequent Methodist history as infallible?

NEGROES MAUL

Two Thugs Spring on Grocer and Fiance, but are Routed in Desperate Fight—Victims Save Each Other.

New York, June 30.—Attacked by two negroes on the West Drive of Central Park, Hilmar Ternlund and his fiance, Miss Sigfrida Swensen of 24 East Eighty-sixth street, fought their assailants until Ternlund collapsed from many knife wounds on his face and arms. His desperate battle had protected the young woman, and she in turn probably saved his life by bandaging his wounds. An hour later the police arrested a negro suspect. Ternlund, who is twenty-nine years old, a grocer, of 177 East Ninety-seventh street, and his companion, entered the Park at Eighty-sixth street and Central Park West, to come to Fifth avenue. It was then some time after midnight. They did not see their assailants until the arms of both the man and woman suddenly had been seized from behind at one of the darkest parts of the road. Dashed by the sudden attack, Ternlund found himself being forced by one of the negroes to one side of the path, while the other negro began dragging the struggling girl to the other side. Her captor had another her cry of terror with his hand. Then the thug almost lifted the girl with one arm and moved his hand to her throat, stifling for the moment any further effective resistance. With both his arms pinned behind him by the grip of the other negro, Ternlund, who is nearly six feet tall, strong and muscular, was unable to free himself until he had been pushed off the road. Then, realizing his companion's plight, he threw himself upon the negro and both fell. Ternlund was first to his feet, and as his assailant attempted to renew the attack he was felled by a blow on the jaw.

is necessary to perpetuate and to spread as it is no less necessary in times of peace than in times of war. All distinctions of race, language or religion which had vanished in the face of the common enemy must not reappear now that each has returned to his hearth or to his province. We must continue to uphold our sentiments of understanding, continue to hold broad and noble views. More important still, we demonstrated that, by the effort of all, we were able to accomplish magnificent achievements which bore on their edges a truly Canadian imprint. All that we decided upon, we accomplished the moment we brought into play the full weight of our united forces.

Precision plays an important part in the manufacture and assembly of the Special-Six. It is largely responsible for the dependable service that has singled out this Special-Six as an incomparable value.

Six hundred and eighty inspectors safeguard precision in the Studebaker factories. They literally inspect every part that goes into every car—and every operation on every part. Before a car is passed for delivery 9,500 inspections are made.

In the Special-Six there are 1,120 mechanical operations to the accuracy of one-thousandth of an inch, 360 to one-half-thousandth.

As to the car's performance, a brief experience will reveal its superiority far more convincingly than we could tell it. Studebaker cars make friends quickly, because they give most for the money. THE NEW CANADIANISM.
(Montreal La Presse.)

Sir Arthur Currie's address, delivered to committees representing the universities of the Dominion, which met in convention at Winnipeg, marks a new epoch in the annals of Canada's nationhood. With the authority and assurance which denote a profound conviction, McGill's distinguished principal defined the programme which our people must follow, the spirit which must be developed in all classes of society, that we may rise to the rank of a powerful and influential nation among the other nations of the world.

Placed in direct contact with citizens of the different parts of Canada, who composed the regiments which came under his jurisdiction (orders) during the great war, Sir Arthur was able to gain first-hand knowledge of the magnificent exploits which the union of the bravery and energy of the different parts of the Dominion made possible. He had seen soldiers from every province live the same lives in the camps, join in meeting the same dangers, share the common glory, creating thus among them a spirit of understanding and solidarity which inspired each to devote himself and, where necessary, to sacrifice to maintain the high reputation of the name Canadian. This is the explanation why the word Canadian rapidly became a synonym of excellence and perfection.

It is this spirit of solidarity which it

Giants and Philadelphia Players In Fist Fight On the Polo Grounds

New York, June 30—Players on the New York National and Philadelphia baseball teams engaged in a fight at the Polo Grounds yesterday, in which it is reported that John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, was involved. Others said to have been engaged in the fight are George Smith, who pitched for Philadelphia, and Ralph Shinnars, a substitute outfielder for the Giants. One version of the fight, given by a

SAY SHE WILL BE THE CHAMPION

Story of Ethel Baker, Thirteen-Year-Old Swimming Marvel of New York.

(New York paper.) Since it will be only an interval of about a couple of years before the world will know an attractive child whose name is Ethel Baker, there seems no reason why we should let the good opportunity go by of learning a few things of little Miss Baker now. She is scheduled, the experts say, to become the world's woman champion swimmer when she gets a little further along in her teens. Ethel was thirteen just the other day and her sprightly 108 pounds would seem to be principally a co-ordination of sturdiness and fighting spirit of the sort that will not let any one pass her in a race if she can help it—no matter how swift or famous that person may be. She has attended quite a number of swimming meets with the New York Women's Swimming Association, and when questioned about these excursions she admitted that she never yet came home without a medal. She has about fifty of these stored away in a bureau drawer. The one she treasures most was for winning a 200-yard swim in a scratch race in which she made the amazing time of 8 minutes 44.5 seconds, at the New York Philadelphia meet for women. A few weeks ago little Miss Baker made a sensational record swimming 300-yard race against the former world champion, Mrs. Charlotte Boyle Cling. Ethel covered the course in 4 minutes 20.8 seconds, against the former Miss Boyle's 4 minutes 16.5 seconds. The indoor standard time of this was 4 minutes 20.2 seconds, and the outdoor record of the world champion, Ethelda Bleibtrey, is 4 minutes 18.5 seconds. At the beginning of this race Miss Baker had been allowed a handicap of two lengths of the pool because she is such a little thing and was apparently an uneven match for such an opponent, and there was considerable surprise when she came in with her customary sprint at the finish.

As this article goes to press, we receive the news of Ethel's latest achievement, the winning of the women's metropolitan A. A. U. 100-yard junior championship. In this event she made the extraordinary time of 1 minute 12.9 seconds, defeating Miss Doris O'Mara by five feet. Miss O'Mara took the lead at the start, but Miss Baker's superior endurance enabled her to pass her rival at the eighty-yard mark.

Any one might pick Ethel out as the handsomest child in a bathing suit crowd at the edge of a pool. When she gets her bobbed hair properly imprisoned in a scarlet swimming cap and poses for a plunge this little girl approximates the ideal of physical perfection, besides which she is a pretty and charming young person whose head has not been turned by the success she has won. She thinks the principal reason why she makes such good scores is because the older members of the Swimming Association seem to expect her to do big things.

This little girl, with so much speed stored up in her slender body, confesses that she likes a long swim better than a short one. She would rather swim 300 yards than 100. She enjoys storing up a certain amount of strength for the finish, but she has never troubled to analyze just why it is she shows such wonderful form on the final lap when she invariably comes in with a sprint. "I am always surprised when I win a race," she confessed. "But I just won't let any one beat me if I can help it." Ethel uses the double trudgeon crawl stroke for free style and back swimming, and she is an adept at the racing breast stroke and the English over-arm stroke. Those who have been watching the progress of this water sprite in the past few months and checking up the uniformity of her achievements in various kinds of swimming consider that she has everything except weight and size to place her even now among the champions.

THIS PROVINCE NEEDS HOTELS

Plain Talk by Boston Herald on Conditions in St. John and Elsewhere.

(Boston Sunday Herald) In the bygone days the tide to travel to the provinces used to be much heavier than it is in the year 1922, for various reasons. The resort hotels of New England are greater in number; the automobiles have increased to a greater extent than was ever dreamed of; various attractions offers to entice the vacationists to other parts of the country; while the Canadian provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have remained practically dormant so far as keeping up or increasing their hotels is concerned.

Nova Scotia is better off for hotels than either New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island. The management of the Dominion Atlantic railway having taken over the Pines at Digby, and the Aberdeen at Kentville, has injected a modicum of the right spirit into these structures and made them not only habitable but attractive.

New Brunswick is well, New Brunswick—that's all. The hotel men themselves deplore the situation as much as the tourists, and yet they cannot seem to arouse themselves out of their lethargy.

St. John has wonderful natural attractions. The city seems to be growing, particularly on the east side. The Canadian Pacific railway has done wonders on the west side, too—developing, building and maintaining a splendid system of docks, elevators and carriers to take care of its heavy ocean traffic, but the hotels of St. John are neither a credit to the city nor attractive to tourists. The policy of "let well enough alone" seems to permeate the minds of the hotel men. What they need is some real dynamic competition.

City of St. John.

The city of St. John, with its wonderful resources, its climate, its tributaries, the beautiful rivers, lakes and streams to be reached easily by automobile, railroads or river steamers present untold attractions to the tourist—but there is no place to house them. The city has a tourist and convention bureau most ably managed by Clarence B. Allen, who knows intimately all the points of beauty in New Brunswick as well as Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

That Mr. Allen is doing the work alone or with the moral support of two or three railroad agents is self-evident. He receives little or no support from the local merchants or hotel men, but having an unshakable faith in his home to the upbuilding of the tourist business which may be termed as pure philanthropy on his part.

There is a great opportunity for the retail merchants, manufacturers, transportation lines and the men of every occupation in the city of St. John and Province of New Brunswick to link up with the tourist association and do some real work toward encouraging the building of a modern hotel in the city— a dozen or more inns or taverns scattered throughout the province which will be well patronized from day they are opened. What is lacking there is a "get together" spirit—the problem is not unanswerable, but it is not a one man's job and only by getting together with every man and industry pulling at the same time will anything be accomplished.

Burial on Sunday at 9 p. m. from the residence of his father, T. Q. Dowling, 75 Duke street.

What You Owe to Advertisers

You owe to advertisers in daily newspapers a lot more than a thing that has made living more comfortable and healthy.

Daily Newspaper Advertisers of foodstuffs gave you clean foods, just weights and fixed prices for the things you buy to eat.

Daily Newspaper Advertisers gave you better houses, modern bathrooms, hardwood floors, electric lights, gas and electric ranges.

Daily Newspaper Advertisers gave you better clothes to wear by educating the public to the value of good clothes and their economy.

Daily Newspaper Advertisers made your housework easier by giving you quick cleansing fluids, furniture polishes, floor machines, vacuum cleaners, carpet sweepers, aluminum cooking utensils, clothes dryers, sewing machines, gas and electric irons.

Daily Newspaper Advertising made it possible for you to retain the beauty nature endowed you with by suggesting emollients, toilet preparations, shaving creams, safety razors, etc.

The pioneers in all these things were the firms who made them, and advertised them.

They led the way.

It is for this reason that you should always buy advertised goods.

These goods have raised your standard of comfort and living; and the manufacturers of them command admiration for their courage and foresight.

Dollar for dollar, the advertised article is always better value. The reason is that when an article is advertised, production of it is invariably greater. Therefore, the manufacturer has a larger output and a lower cost of production; hence the greater value for the money.

Further, the advertised article generally has superior merit and greater refinements about it. If it were not so, it would not be advertised.

Buy advertised goods, and buy them from the local store that advertises.

$200,000 RUM FLEET TAKEN IN EAST RIVER

U.S. Federal Agents in Launch Seize Three Fishing Boats With 20,000 Quarts of Rye—Caught in Thunderstorm

New York, June 30—Under protection of a violent rain and electrical storm, three small fishing boats, all whiskey laden, attempted to slip through New York harbor and up the East River to Long Island Sound on their way to Boston with cargoes which had been taken from a seventy-five-foot schooner a few miles off Sandy Hook. Trailing all the way from the Narrows by customs agents in the launch Surveyor, the little fleet of rum-runners was captured after they had passed the Fulton Fish Market at the foot of Fulton street. Fourteen men were taken prisoners and the boats and their cargoes of 20,000 quarts of rye whiskey, valued at $200,000 at bootleg prices were seized.

other was reported to shelter 6,000 cases. Saturday night appeared to Deputy Surveyor William Sanders and Special Deputy Surveyor Jack McGill as ideal for an attempt on the part of the smugglers to try and land a cargo. Consequently they were out in the Surveyor's launch Surveyor with a party of seven agents, Christian Schmidt, Ernest Lockwood, George Sweeney, W. H. Howell, Patrick Barrett, Isaac Russo and E. J. Connor.

Cruising around the Narrows they observed the fleet of three small fishing boats headed toward the Battery. Falling back to a safe distance the Surveyor trailed along the three boats. The customs agents had no further reason to doubt the nature of the cargoes of the fleet when the boats continued on by the Fulton Fish Market and passed under the Manhattan bridge on their way up the East river.

The thunderstorm was at its height yesterday morning when the three boats were conveyed to the pier back of the barge office. The fourteen men were taken off prisoners and to an upper room in the building. Anderson, according to Deputy Surveyor Sanders, admitted that he was in charge of the expedition and as "commander" of the fleet used as his flagship the gasoline boat C 508. He is said to have told Mr. Sanders that the whiskey, mostly Hunter and Overholt rye, was taken off a seventy-five-foot schooner off Sandy Hook and was destined for Boston. Zone Chief John D. Appleby, general federal prohibition agent in charge of this state and New Jersey, said that the whiskey was never intended for Boston, but was to be unloaded near Manhattan Bridge.

With Anderson on the gasoline boat were Joseph Ventura, 25 Commons street, Lawrence, Mass., a sailor; Tony Faviola, sailor, no address; Joseph Parantino, sailor, 9 New street, Boston, and Nicola Ruzicic, sailor, 90 North street, Boston. They comprised the crew of the boat. Thomas Murphy, engineer, was in charge of the sloop Peter Metger. He gave his address as the Mills hotel, Thirty-sixth street and Seventh avenue, George Murray, who said he was merely a passenger on the Metger, gave his address as 454 Forty-ninth street, South Brooklyn. Two sailors on the Metger were Peter Scrichi 33 West Eagle street, East Boston, Mass., said to be the owner of the boat, and James Coffey, who gave his address as the Mills hotel, Thirty-sixth street and Seventh avenue. The Metger was found to be leaking badly after the boats had been tied up alongside the barge office. Hand pumps were rigged and a crew set to work mopping them to keep the little vessel and her cargo of liquor afloat.

The Stella's crew was composed of Joseph Frank, captain, Margin street, Boston; John Costa, engineer, 99 North 2nd street, Boston; John Sias, 61 North Shore street, Boston, sailor, and Joseph Bassanti, a sailor of Lawrence, Mass. All three boats hailed from Boston. Vincent, President of the Rockefeller Foundation, in his report for last year, covering the activities of the organization in its campaign against disease, tells of the retreat of yellow fever. The outlook is encouraging, he says, and while it is too early to proclaim a complete victory, the purpose remains steadfast. ported no cases after Feb. 21. Salvador's last case was reported Feb. 15; by July 16 Peru was free, as was British Honduras in November. From Northern Brazil cases were reported, but the situation was being dealt with by the government. It was gratifying to the Foundation, says the report, to be able to advance money for continuing the campaign in Peru at a time when government funds were not quickly available. The advantages of having resources which could be immediately mobilized in an emergency were strikingly demonstrated. It was another example of co-operation. "Probably prevalent in Astez times in Mexico and Central America," continues President Vincent in a summary of facts about yellow fever, "for the last two centuries a dreaded scourge in Mexico, the West Indies, Central and South America, frequently invading North American ports and causing thousands of deaths in the lower Mississippi Valley; fact of transmission by bite of female Stegomyia mosquito established by American Army Medical Commission under Reed in Cuba, 1900-1901; Havana and Cuba freed from fever by Gorgas, who organized anti-mosquito measures, 1901-1902; example followed in Rio
