From the Swiss Times of May 30th.]

We have already drawn attention to the any nual meeting of the Society of Arts held on the 23rd current, under the presidentship of M. Th. de Saus ure, and are now able to furnish some further details.

Professor Soret, in delivering a most interesting report, passed in review the operations of the Industrial section, in reference to Commerce, laying great stress upon the competition that has taken place in the manufacture of chronometers. This competition was instituted with the object of testing the workmanship and precision of chronometers turned out by Geneves manufacturers, and none but those adopted for pocket use were admitted. They were deposited in charge of the authorities at the Observatory, and underwent the most searching ordeal possible to be applied to pocket instruments of this class. The jury specially retained to decide the difficult question as to whom to award the palm of excellency unanimously decided in favor of Messrs, J. M. Badollet & Co. This firm having carried off the sole prize by whibiting a chronometer which fulfilled in the highest degree every condition required, crowned their first success by gaining honorable mentions for two other chronometers. The aliusion his triple honor was received with enthaliastic applause, and Professor Humbert, President of the Fine Arts Section, closed the necting with a happy and humorous dissertation upon subjects connected with this department. EALED TENDERS will be received at the office of W. H. A. Keans, E-q., Ritchie's Building, un to Sarurday, 31st August, next, at 2 c'clock, noon, for

One Element Satisfied.

Government disasters in the Commons Elections naturally distress Government leaders, Government support- of the bad example becoming contagers, prominent Gevernment office holders, and the noble army of Government office seekers. Opposition defeats, electioneering trickery which distinin the same manner, exert a dispiriting guishes certain sections of the adjacent influence on Opposition leaders fighting for the Treasury benches, and on active Oppositionists who have distinguished themselves in elections, hoping that "our side" will soon have the distribution of the loaves and fishes. It might be supposed that these classes comprise officials in their efforts to elect Caldwell, the whole of the male population of Canada. But it is not so. We have in the country a third element, which is neither Government nor Opposition,neither enthusiasts nor indifferentists, -neither office seekers nor man-worshippers. They are the Railway men. They either have or expect contracts. They hope for "extras," or they anticipate profits on what is yet in the future. To them large Party majorities bring no delight. A Government sustained by a narrow majority, Parties pretty evenly balanced, are the right sort of thing. Then it is they can "make their they can the they can t They hope for "extras," or they anticiinfluence felt." The Government needs their registerness the Government of their assistance; the Government of course, must pay for it. They may hold the balance of power; the Government, with their aid may still hold the Treasury; or the Opposition, with their assistance, may come in and take possession. Nursery Rhymes, No. 14. JIM BOGBEAN. Jim B gbean, on a summer's morn. Rose from his *bunk, haggard and worn. Beneath his straw hat there peered an eve. And his empty stomach grew flabby and dry, He whistled a tune with a vague unrest, And a tear coursed down his yellow-tailed ves

He tsallied out on the open street. And he sought in vain for a man to treat. Some one came, but his pallid cheek Told the playful story he couldn't ||repeat. He leaned his frame 'gainst a friendly porch, And his Claret-bin shone like a well-lit torch. Oft hath he stood 'neath the moon's bright glow And watched the Policeman come and go. For of all sad words e'er writ in a book. The saddest are, "by a peeler took." With a shambling gait Jim sauntered along, Humming a bar of a popular song. His ballad grew faint and his breath got shorter, When he halted in front of a postle and mortar. And his lips turned white, and he shivered with As he modestly asked for a couple of pills. He looked as wild as an egg hard boiled.

And he thought of his garments seedy and soiled. Then he threw his pipe and his cup away.
