The mill works splendidly and the shingles manufactured are acknowledged by competent judges to be of an excellent quality and as such demand ready sale. Mr. Rowthorn, who is not only one of the best practical farmers in Botsford, is also a man of genius and enterprise and is certainly to be congratulated for having in a very short time after the burning of Main's mill filled the gap and thus able at short notice to supply the increasing wants of a fast growing and thrifty farming district.

WHOLE NO. 863.

The Curse of China.

The growers of opium in India are much alarmed over the rapid decrease in their exports to China. The poppy fields of the Flower Kingdom are driving the foreign produce from the market. There is a law in China forbidding opium raising, but it has been a dead letter ever since England, simply because she was deriving an annual income of $6,000,000 from the tax on Indian opium, forced China to reopen her markets to the drug.

Opium growing for several years past has been rapidly increasing in China. About one-third of the cultivated land in Yunnan is now devoted to poppy raising. The Chinese describe the valleys of southwestern China as white with poppy blossoms. China is now raising about two-thirds of all the opium she consumes. Other foreign opium also is coming into competition with the Indian product. The Monamberg Opium Company is putting 50,000 acres of land in the lower Zambesi valley into opium, and the African produce is already selling in the Shanghai market.

Meanwhile the curse of opium smoking weighs more heavily every year upon the people of China. One fifth of the population of Peking and Tientsin are opium smokers. It is said that 3,000 of the attaches of the Imperial palaces are victims of the terrible habit in spite of the fact that the Chinese government discourages the practice. There are a number of anti-opium societies, which are doing a work in China, similar to that of the temperance unions here. The Government has also established a large number of refuges, where victims of the opium habit may go for treatment. Sedatives, stimulants, and tonic are administered to cure them of the vice.

Great Britain herself is likely soon to suffer some of the evils with which she has helped to curse China. In parts of India the opium habit is making alarming progress among the natives. The Marquis Tseng called attention to the fact in a letter to the Anti-Opium Society of England the other day. He added that if Great Britain would put a stop to the exportation of opium from India, China would eventually stop the growing of opium within her territories. He said China was willing to cooperate with Great Britain in striking at the root of the evil.

There is more in a heap of coal than most persons are aware of. Besides gas, a ton of gas coal will yield 1,500 lbs. of coke, 20 gallons of ammonia water, and 140 lbs. of coal tar. Destructive distillation of the coal gives 69.5 lbs. of pitch, 11 lbs. of creosote, 14 lbs. of heavy oil, 9.5 lbs. of naphtha yellow, 6.3 lbs. of asphaltine, 4.75 lbs. of naphthol, 2.25 lbs. of alizarin, 2.4 lbs. of solvent naphtha, 1.5 lb. of phenol, 1.2 lb. of aniline, 1.1 lb. of anthracene, 0.77 lb. of toluene, 0.46 lb. of acetone, 0.14 lb. of benzene, 0.09 lb. of xylene, 0.09 lb. of toluene. From the last named substance is obtained the new product known as saccharine, which is said to be 230 times as sweet as the best cane sugar.

The Scientific American says: "If a bottle of the oil of pennyroyal is left uncorked in a room at night not a mosquito or any other blood sucker will be found there in the morning. Mix potash with powdered meal and throw into the rat holes of a cellar and the rats will depart. If a rat or mouse gets into your pantry stuff in its hole rag saturated with solution of cayenne pepper, and no rat or mouse will touch the rag for the purpose of opening a communication with a depot of supplies."

Henry Ward Beecher says that he has no sympathy with an eight-hour man who has a fourteen-hour wife. That is to say, there are some kinds of work which cannot be done in eight hours a day, and the woman, who should get the best, usually gets the worst of it. The men have not much to complain of in comparison with the women whose work is never done, and the ending of a day is something entirely unknown to them.

The spread of the cholera in the commercial town of Rosario, South America, creates great alarm. Saturday there were 72 new cases and 54 deaths. At Cordova seven new cases of cholera were reported Sunday. Congress has adjourned owing to the visitation of the dread disease. Cholera has also appeared at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil and in the Republic of Paraguay.

A smart damsel at Lapeer, Mich., was offered one cent per hill for digging potatoes, the expectation being that after a dozen or two hills had been dug the fair would stop, but Miss Kittie put on her gloves and threw out 500 hills before sundown, thus securing $5.

At the funeral of a woman who died recently in Palmyra, N. Y., at the age of 104 years, the factious choir incurred the wrath of the mourners by singing "I Would Not Live Always." (Fact.)

It is estimated that between 3,000 and 4,000 horses are annually killed in Spanish bull-fights.

How Science and Theology Differ.

Science, in the broadest sense, is simply that which may be verified; but how much of that which theology accepts and goes upon is verifiable by human reason or experience? This kind of evidence, which theology accepts, or has accepted in the past, is too much like that which led the old astrologer Nostradamus to predict the end of the world in 1886, because in this year Good Friday falls upon St. George's day, and Easter upon St. Mark's day, the very latest date upon which Easter can happen.

Theology, for the most part, adopts the personal point of view—the point of view of our personal wants, fears, hopes, weaknesses, and shapes the universe with man as the center. It has no trouble to believe in miracles, because miracles show the triumph of the personal element over impersonal law. Its strongest hold upon the mind of the race was in the pre-scientific age. It is the daughter of mythology, and has made the relation of the unseen powers to man quite as intimate and personal. It looks upon this little corner of the universe as the special theatre of the celestial powers—powers to whom it has given the form and attributes of men, and to whom it ascribes curious plans and devices. Its point of view is more helpful and sustaining to the mass of mankind than that of science can be, because the mass of mankind are children, and are ruled by their affections and their emotions. Science chills and repels them, because it substitutes a world of force and law for a world of humanistic divinites.

Of all the great historical religions of the world, theology sees but one to be true and of divine origin; and all the rest were of human invention, and for the most part false masses of falsehood and superstition. Science recognizes the religious instinct in man as a permanent part of his nature, and looks upon the great systems of religion—Christianity, Judaism, Buddhism, Mohammedanism, the polytheism of Greece, Rome, and Egypt, etc.—as its legitimate outgrowth and flowering, just as much as the different flora and fauna of the earth are the expression of one principle of organic life. All these religions may be treated as "false" and untrue, but all true with reference to the need to which they minister.

John Burroughs, in Popular Science Monthly for December:

"Canada, Bill," said a confidence man the other day, "was the greatest monte man and cross-roader that we ever had in this country. He died at Senanton, Penn., and I remember his funeral very well. We went out to the graveyard with his body, and just before the coffin was being lowered into the grave one of the party broke out: 'I'll bet a hundred to fifty he's not in the box!' and there wasn't a man to take it. 'For,' said another, 'I've known him to get out of as tight places as that.'"

A Georgia paper publishes as truth the story of a Marion county farmer who became satisfied that he had a treasure. So he carefully baited a fishhook, tied a short line to it, swallowed the hook and tied the line to his buttonhole. Then he waited for a bite. By-and-by he thought he had one and yanked the line; the hook caught in his throat and he had to be dug out. He didn't catch the worm.

A Mr. Heron, of Manchester, Eng., took his life the other day by means of strychnine because his wife never gave him a birthday present. "If it had only been a penny cigar," he wrote to his inattentive spouse, "I should have prized it. I have struggled to find something or other on your birthday, but you always pleaded poverty."

Says the Maine Farmer:—The torch of temperance reform which is lighted all along the valley of the Kennebec, seems to be illuminating other sections of the State, and there is a general movement all along the line looking to a better enforcement of the prohibitory law.

At Comstock, Minn., a eight-year-old girl was driving home cows when a wolf attacked her. One of the cows rushed at the beast and tossed it in the air. A large dog also went to the wolf's assistance, and the cow and dog soon drove the wolf back into the woods.

It cost England and Wales over $76,000,000 in 1884 to care for their paupers. "The one great cause underlying the whole of the matter," says one of the committee appointed to investigate the subject, "is the old, old story—drink."

Chester A. Arthur, during his sophomore year at Union College, was compelled to teach a village school for the slender remuneration of $15 a month.

Mons in labore et ridiculus mus.

THE MOUNTAIN.—A very interesting sociable was held in the Methodist church, Lutes Mountain, on Tuesday evening, the 9th inst. There were about two hundred persons present, and the occasion was most enjoyable one, indeed. Although the sociable was held in the Methodist church, and the object to raise funds for the support of the minister in charge, Rev. John Prince, yet it could not have been the success it was had not the Baptist friends residing in that section given their aid and presence—for they, like their credit, not only attended in large numbers, but brought with them baskets well filled with the choicest viands. Speeches were delivered by several guests present, and the meeting was most ably presided over by Mr. John Roberts, Rev. Mr. Prince delivered quite a lengthy address, in which he congratulated the people not only upon the success of the meeting but upon the good Christian feeling existing among the different denominations living in the place. The proceeds amounted to the handsome sum of thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents. Mr. John McFarlane acted as auctioneer, performing his duties to the satisfaction of all, and realizing first-class prices for the baskets.

It is seldom that even the most enthusiastic writer of religious paragraphs finds such a happy combination of circumstances as the above exhibit in a religious way, the distinguishing doctrine of the day "much cry and little wool," and a desire to improve the occasion.

First then on this truly remarkable occasion, there were "two hundred persons present," and we all know the magnetism of numbers. And then, the object was the most exalted, commanding the enlarged liberality of all, for the cause was that of religion, the support of the minister. Nor was that happy minister supported by his own people, but as became the loyal adherent of a Prince, he was strengthened by the presence of "the different denominations," and although it was a Methodist church, and not to have been expected yet to their everlasting credit the Baptist brethren came, nor were they alone, but came they empty. They came with baskets. Not here and there a solitary hamper, but in large numbers. Nor were the baskets more numerous than they were heavily laden; not with common food, but "well filled with the choicest viands." Why were we not there? Then, as was fitting, where there was much eating there was much speaking. The occasion was great, and several speeches were delivered, and a happy pastor—lucky dog—"delivered quite a lengthy address," a Princes oration. And so we might for were there not two hundred people there in his honour and all laden with gifts—gifts for him, gifts for the Prince to whom he belonged the apostle? Nor were the triumphs of the happy occasion exhausted by the meeting being most ably presided over, for the crown of the evening was the splendid success of the gifted auctioneer, the "realized first-class prices" on the numerous baskets of choicest viand. Happy Arcadia! All were satisfied; for did not the combined efforts of the noble two hundred, ably presided over, well feasted on choicest viands, realized first-class prices, and the flow of soul—did not the whole result in the princely contribution of—$37.50! I'M TIRED!

—Appropos of the slang phrase "to paint the town red," a well-known politician relates the following episode: Mr. B— represented a rural constituency in Congress, and he wanted to be Senator. His opportunity came one day, and when found that his name had been balloted for in the Legislature, he left his farm and went to the State capital to keep his eye on things. When he left it was announced that he had triumphed in the contest, he rushed to a telegraph office, and in the mad enthusiasm of the moment sent this message to his family: "Elected! Hooryay! Paint my old home red!" The state of mind of the noble two hundred, ably presided over, well feasted on choicest viands, realized first-class prices, and the flow of soul—did not the whole result in the princely contribution of—$37.50! I'M TIRED!

—A Georgia paper publishes as truth the story of a Marion county farmer who became satisfied that he had a treasure. A Monster Gun.

What must be considered the heaviest gun at present in existence has been just shipped at Antwerp for Italy. It was manufactured by Krupp, is 46 ft. long, weighs nearly 110 tons without the breech piece, and 118 tons 3½ cwt. with the breech. It arrived at Antwerp on a specially constructed carriage, 105 ft. long, and running on 32 wheels. It was at first intended to send the gun overland, but the St. Gothard railway and other Swiss railways object on account of its great weight, and fearing for their bridges, the weapon had to be taken to Antwerp, and thence forwarded to Italy by sea. Its ultimate destination is said to be Spiez, where it is to be mounted in one of the iron clad ports guarding that harbor.

—The production of gold and silver in the world during the year 1885, was: Gold, $101,580,000; silver, calculated at its coinage value, nearly $125,000,000.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Xmas Cards, Toys, Chinaware, Glassware etc. etc. at cost at J. E. Hickey's clearance sale.

FEVERDENT.—A ewe belonging to Jack Crocker, Bristol, was last spring dropped four lambs which lived about a week. The ewe was butchered a few days ago, and it was found that if her life had been spared she would have eclipsed her previous efforts this season by producing five.

Remember the fine stock of goods at J. E. Hickey's must be closed out at once or below cost.

FROM WALLACE.—The fall up to December 1st has been remarkably fine and open.—The Freestone Quarries have done a fair season's work.—They were about to shut down for the winter, but Mr. Milliken, who is building Dalhousie College at Halifax, has contracted with the Dobson quarry for 500 tons of stone. The stone will be dressed here and will be shipped overland to Halifax.

This will give work to a number of stone cutters and others, and is a credit to the place, and also to the contractor, as the work can be done cheaper here than in Halifax.

Why buy goods elsewhere when they can be bought 25 per cent cheaper at the clearance sale at J. E. Hickey's.

ALISON ESTATE.—The estate of the late Mrs. Milach Allison, concerning which there has been so much litigation, was brought before the Probate Court on Tuesday for final passing of accounts. An agreement was made between Henry B. Allison, the surviving executor of the estate of the late Joseph F. Allison and Charles F. Allison, and the administrators of the late Milach Allison, by which the appeal of the administrators from the Probate Court was discontinued, and Henry B. Allison hands over to the administrators the property in his hands belonging to the estates and pays the sum of sixteen hundred dollars. The estate will realize between $30,000 and $40,000.

MOUNT ALLISON.—The terminal examinations of the classes in the College will commence on Wednesday, the 15th inst., and will continue until the 20th, occupying six hours each day except Saturday.

—Dogs are still making havoc among the sheep, having killed, not less than eleven last Thursday night. Six of the sheep were owned by Nelson Bulmer, three by George Bulmer and two by John Gayton. The dogs are still at large.

—We are pleased to notice that the late and recently arrived stock useful and fancy good for the Christmas trade at C. Pickard's attracts even more than the usual large run of customers, which shows what reasonable prices, an earnest endeavor to increase trade, and selling good articles at a fair price will do.

—The firm of W. H. Johnson is the largest piano house in the Maritime Provinces, and has enjoyed a first class reputation for many years of selling nothing but strictly a number one instrument in pianos and organs. Mr. Fawcett together with Mr. d'Angers, who comes here highly recommended and is Mr. Johnson's able representative, will take charge of the piano branch here that is just opened.

Christmas stock of fine American pianos, the best that ever came to this town. They cordially invite the Musiclovers and the public generally to call and inspect for themselves these elegant instruments, and as Mr. d'Angers is a first class pianist people should not lose the opportunity to hear him play on these superb pianos. Persons thinking of buying a piano or organ, would do well to call on them before buying elsewhere for they are prepared to make terms to suit the purchaser's either very low for cash or on quarterly instalments. Highest prices offered for second-hand pianos or organs as part payment for these celebrated Knabe and Wheelock piano fortes.

Mr. Fernando d'Angers proposes to give free piano recitals Christmas week. Further notice however will be given about these daily recitals.

Messrs. Putnam Emulsion Co. of Halifax, N. S.

Gentlemen.—I have been troubled with weakness of the lungs and general debility during the past two years, so much so as to cause me considerable anxiety. I have taken about seven of your fifty cent bottles, and now find that my general health is much improved, my lungs are clear and my chest stronger, and I have increased in weight twelve pounds, and feel pleased to be able to testify to the efficacy of your Emulsion, which I can heartily recommend to all who are similarly afflicted.

R. T. ALLEN.

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed at night and broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with teething, or by a child who is crying with pain of a cutting tooth? If so, send for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is a positive cure for all these troubles. It is a positive cure for all these troubles. It is a positive cure for all these troubles.

Point de Bute.

Point de Bute.

—Sidewalk making is over for the season.

—Winter is here. On Friday the snow was going, and on Saturday the mercury was down to zero.

—Mr. Wesley Jones who was stricken with apoplexy two weeks ago is still very low.

—Howard Wells, brother of the late Maurice Wells has just returned from California. Mr. Wells went to California in 1852, going round by the Horn. He came home to see his friends in 1856, and again in 1860, and has not been home since, till now.

—The temperance meeting here last Thursday evening was a decided success. D. Fullerton was chairman, and the choir under the leadership of Miss Ackman added largely to the enjoyment of the occasion. Rava, S. R. Ackman and D. Chapman and Lawyer Hickman from Amherst, were the principal speakers.

River Herbert.

—As your correspondent at River Herbert seems to count in his duty, we shall endeavor to inform you of a few of the matters that have fallen under our notice.

—The "Squire" has removed the blinds from his front windows, thus gratifying the public with a view of the beautiful new cottage and extensive stock of goods.

—Our "admiral" has recently been to New York, and, from from manoeuvres, we conclude his object must have been to put his frigate in fighting trim for a winter's cruise.

—The temperance cause is booming here at present. Rainbow Division, organized in July, and Riverside Lodge are increasing so rapidly in numbers that one bar is closed and the proprietor of the other is fast of coat.

—The Railway directors should be warned that friend Bowline is building a residence so near the line that, unless extra precautions are taken, they will be frequently molested in damage for running over some of his "Oliver Branches."

—See by the papers that some of the notorious travelling troop of quacks failed to put in an appearance at Moncton. It is now being thought that one of their number, being the best of the best, has strayed to these regions, as there is a certain individual answering the description now "settled" at the Joggins Mines.

—A Yankee venturer has started a Patent Medicine factory in our midst, the factory consisting of a well-worn wash-tub and boiler with a few yards thrown in. Unfortunately for the success of the enterprise, the proprietor has been too lavish with his molasses and too saving of the "O. B. Joy" to the public.

—The public having wasted a good deal of time, leather, horse-flesh and bad run on the "Big Fish" at present, the proprietor, nauseated with it, but, as rumor says, it is to be rebuilt with a million more legs in it and launched "again" next spring. You had better make your arrangements to come over, Mr. Ed. Joy, hoping you may be successful in assisting at the "launch" as was Warden Ogdens.

Parabro.

—The Salvation Army continues to frighten the Devil and keeps up its evening perambulations as usual.

—Messrs. Loasby & Haycock have the rink in good condition for flooding. Sir John, as factotum major in the rink, is at present, the rink is in good condition for flooding.

INSPECTION INVITED.

Bale Verte.

—Sleighing around town is quite good. A little more snow, however, would be quite acceptable.

—Rev. S. R. Ackman will deliver at Temperance Hall on Thursday evening a lecture, Subject, "Sixteen Proverbs. Admission 10 cents. Proceeds for church purposes.

—Our items last week duly mailed at this office on Wednesday morning last, but it seems did not reach in time for publication. There must be something wrong in Denmark.

—There is quite a number of persons engaged in smelt fishing on the Gasperus and Tuluish rivers and large quantities are being taken, which are immediately shipped to Boston.

—Pursuant to a call a meeting of the Liberal-Conservative of the Parish of Westmorland was held here on Monday evening. A large number from the different parts of the Parish put in an appearance, and judging from the opinions expressed and the deep interest manifested in the Liberal-Conservative cause; a cause which has for its object, among other things, the advancement of good government and the promotion of the interests of the people of Canada in general, there is not a shadow of a doubt but that Westmorland of Westmorland at the next general elections will be true to its colors and give a larger majority than has heretofore to the candidate of the party of progress. A. C. Carter was appointed chairman, and T. A. Wellings secretary. All those in sympathy with the cause having been cordially enrolled their names to the constitution, etc., a goodly number responded. The following officers were then elected: A. C. Carter, Pres.; Bedford Harper, Vice-Pres.; T. A. Wellings, Sec.-Treas. The following delegates to the County Association were elected: Dr. H. R. Carter, Charles Munro, Alfred Moore, E. C. Gooden, Robt. Prescott, Aubrey Copp, John Dobson, James Fillmore, A. C. Carter, Chris. Wry, Jr., Nathan Miner, James Collette, James Carroll, Esq., Vice Pres. of Botsford Association being present, was called upon to address the Association, which he did in a few well chosen remarks, making it appear quite evident that the noble parish which he represented will be the front at the next election and give the Lib. Con. candidate a handsome majority. Short but stirring speeches of triumph in the future were made by the following gentlemen: E. C. Gooden, Rufus Gooden, R. D. Wood, John Houston, Howard Treeman, James Collette, J. Amos Treeman, Albert Goodwin and John G. Lamb. After which the Association adjourned to meet at call.

Amherst.

—Chapman Bros. received an order for a suit of clothes last Monday from New Tacoma, Washington Territory.

—The new Social Club, which meets in the rooms over Bent & Mosher's store, is proving a success and the membership is already large.

—Mr. T. H. Griffin has completed the alterations in his shop and has just put in a beautiful stock of goods suitable for Christmas presents.

—All in need of spectacles or eye glasses, either for themselves or Xmas presents, will do well to examine the beautiful stock exhibited by Dr. Black at Medical Hall.

—Station Master Moore has effected a marked improvement by compelling the rowdy element which formerly infested the waiting room in the evenings to seek other quarters.

—Messrs. Davis, Calhoun & Co. have made arrangements with Messrs. J. T. & J. Ward to take charge of the Terrace Hotel, which they will run in connection with the Amherst Hotel. Messrs. Ward will remain in Amherst this winter and anticipate building a large hotel in the centre of the town early next spring.

—The entertainment by the members of St. Charles Church on Friday evening to provide funds for the Christmas decorations, and the concert by members of the Methodist congregation on Thursday evening were both highly successful.

Prof. Mack, of Mt. Allison assisted at the latter entertainment, and Mr. Chisholm took a prominent part in both performances.

Nothing Like It.

"I was nearly used up with a heavy cold, from which I got no relief until I tried Hagar's Pectoral Balsam. I found it a sure cure. There is nothing like it," says Edward Cousins, Ransom, Ont.

FOR DYSPYPSIA and Liver Complaint, you have a printed pamphlet on every bottle of Hagar's Pectoral Balsam. Sold only by Charles O. Hart, Druggist.

A SLIP OF THE TONGUE.

Among the sources of social and domestic disquietude, one of the chief is the habit of husbands and wives correcting each other in public. I mean that the habit of correction which lets no slip of the tongue pass without a reminder, making the corrected party feel cheap and casting a shadow upon the listeners.

At a party one evening Charles Lee was talking a knot of his friends about the wonderful yield in his corn-land. He prided himself on that bit of horticultural success.

We shall gather a hundred quarts of berries from that bed this season, he said with a flourish.

Oh, Charles, that strawberry bed is your pure delight!

And the wife laughed. But the husband did not leave. He went out to the quick and turned away without speaking further.

Now, an experienced gardener overlooking Charles Lee's strawberry bed during the month of July, would have picked a goodly crop. But his yield for the season would be over a hundred quarts. And Charles had meant to tell only the truth.

Laura, he said, after he had reached home, do you know that this evening I am very unhappy?

Unhappy—? Yes—unhappy because indignant.

Oh, you mean what I said about your strawberry bed?

Yes.

Well, Charles—now I believe if you were to measure every lot of berries—

Stop, Laura. I shall not discuss that. We cannot measure the berries to-night. I only wish to remind you that the habit of correcting me in public is a most disagreeable one to all who hear.

I am distressed, Laura; but if you think you did right I have nothing to say.

Goodness mercy! anybody would think I had done something dreadful.

Don't speak of it now, please! I wish to give
