OFFICIAL MESSAGE DISPELS ALL HOPE

Lists London Boy as Having Been Killed in Action.

An official message received by Mrs. Ellen Colling, 229 Waterloo street, today dispells all hope of the safety of Pte. Gladstone Colling, her son, who is now reported killed in action at the battle of Hooge between June 2 and June 5. Early last month, Pte. Colling was reported as "missing," and hope was entertained that he might be located, as so many London boys have been recently, in a German prison camp.

Pte. Colling enlisted in a western battalion at Edmonton, and went to the front with that unit. He was a London boy and well known in this city, where his father, the late Rev. Thomas Colling, was at one time a pastor of the Askin Street Methodist Church.

Pte. Morley Colling, Signal Section of the 135th, who is now home on his last leave, is a brother.

All Delville Wood Now In Hands of British; Counter-Attacks Failed

Fifth Brandenburg Division Driven Out of Strong Position by Haig's Men, Leaving 2 Officers and 158 Men Prisoners.

Germans Penetrate British Trenches at Neuve Chappelle, But Are Immediately Expelled.

(Canadian Press.)

London, July 28.—British troops have captured Delville Wood in its entirety, a British official statement announced this afternoon. The German position in the Somme region had been defended by the Brandenburg Regiment, which was driven out.

GERMANS DRIVEN OUT.

The text of the British official statement follows:

"After severe fighting we have driven the Fifth Brandenberg division from their remaining positions in Delville wood, capturing three officers and 158 men.

COUNTER-ATTACKS FAIL.

"The whole wood now is in our hands, and two German counter-attacks have been beaten off with heavy loss to the enemy.

"We made further progress in Longueval village and near Pozieres, and in the latter area we captured 48 wounded Germans.

"Last night the enemy guns were active against our new positions, and there were heavy artillery duels in various sectors of the battle area.

FIGHTING AT NEUVE CHAPELLE.

"Near Neuve Chapelle small parties of Germans succeeded in entering our front trenches at two points, but at once were driven out by a counter-attack, leaving a few wounded in our hands.

"Northeast of Souchez and at several other points our artillery shelled the enemy's front line and communication trenches."

GERMAN OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, July 28.—Via London, 5 p.m.—Strong British attacks against the German positions in Foureaux Wood, in the Somme region, broke down yesterday under the German fire, says the official statement issued today at German army headquarters.

The text of the German official statement follows:

Western theatre: "A German patrol in the district of Neuve Chapelle brought in two machine guns and thirty prisoners, of whom three were officers.

"North of the Somme the English fire was increased to its greatest strength. In the afternoon strong attacks were launched near Pozieres and at Foureaux Wood and to the southeast of it. They broke down in front of the German positions.

A FALSE REPORT.

"At Longueval and in Delville Wood there was hand-to-hand fighting, but there also the enemy remained unsuccessful.

"South of the Somme the artillery of both sides continues active. Otherwise there were only attacks of hostile hand grenade troops near Soyecourt, which were repulsed.

"To the east of the Meuse French enterprises against Thiaumont works failed."

STEADY STREAM OF OBJECTIONS FROM ROBLIN'S COUNSEL

Trial of Minister Slowed Up by Constant Interruptions.

HORWOOD TELLING STORY

Defence Lawyers Claim Architect Cannot Be a Crown Witness.

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, Man., July 28.—Formal objection to the evidence of V. W. Horwood, former provincial architect, being offered by the crown against the ex-ministers was entered this morning when the trial was resumed, and noted by Mr. Justice Prendergast. A. J. Andrews, for the defence, said he wished to reserve any right necessary in this matter. Witness, he said, was one of the defendants indicted with the accused, and the indictment against him had never been disposed of. Counsel claimed Horwood was a competent witness for the defence, but not for the crown, under the Canada evidence act.

Horwood Examined.

Horwood's examination was continued by R. A. Bonnar for the crown. He said there was no contract for caissons. Nothing was said as to what Contractor Kelly should get for the caissons, aside from Horwood's estimate of $534,288. Defence offered many objections to the course of the examination, and George R. Coldwell sat with the lawyers and actively advised them.

Horwood told again of a meeting with Mr. Coldwell shortly before tenders were advertised for, at which it was decided to change from piles to caissons and from reinforced concrete to steel. The defence objected that Bonnar was cross-examining his own witness.

"I was thinking," replied Bonnar, "that a little later on I would ask permission to cross-examine the witness."

A Stream of Objections.

There was a steady stream of objections from the defence tables, twenty in the first hour. Andrews said he was "exasperated" at the way the crown was conducting the case.

Horwood had recommended employing a firm of engineers to draw plans for the caissons. This was not done, and when the caissons were almost in, Dr. Montague being "desirous of protecting them," employed Engineers Shankland

No More 'Dope' To Be Imported Into U. Kingdom

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 28.—The importation of opium and cocaine into the United Kingdom is prohibited by a royal proclamation issued today.

There has been considerable agitation lately in this country against the sale of cocaine, which, it is said, has been used in increasing quantities during the past few years, and particularly has been the habit of many people since the outbreak of the war.

New York, July 28.—A London cable to the Journal says:

Ald. Wilson to Take Proceedings to Unseat Ald. Palmer.

Ald. W. A. Palmer. He still contends that Ald. Palmer has no right to his seat.

"Let him go ahead," said Ald. Palmer. "He will lose some of his money, that's all."

BLACKLIST NOTE OF WILSON IS JUST POLITICS

According to Tribune, Object Is To Catch Votes In November.

NOT TO "CALL" BRITISH

Protest Is Put in the Same Class With Lusitania "Apology"

AND THE SUSSEX AFFAIR

President Accused of Using All Crises for Party Purposes.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 28.—A Washington dispatch to the Tribune says:

"With the dispatch of a note to Great Britain from the state department, controversy over the British blacklist passes from the international stage to the range of domestic politics.

"Although the communication is addressed to Ambassador Page for delivery to the London foreign office, and follows all the rules of diplomatic usage in reality it is a document aimed at the thousands of voters on this side of the Atlantic who between now and November must make up their minds as to the merits or demerits of the Wilson Administration.

"For one accustomed to regarding the foreign affairs of a nation as set apart from the designs of politicians, as something to be deliberated on with an impartiality akin to that of the supreme court, such a charge no doubt will come as a rude shock. But for one who has witnessed the changes in Washington during the last week the conclusion is unavoidable.

"Nor is the charge a new one. Suspicion has been raised before that international matters, like the "apology" for the Lusitania attack, responsibility for the Sussex affair, and the whole Mexican situation, were being made to serve the exigencies of Democratic and White House politics. Now, the British blacklist has been added to this class."

Political Strategy.

Like the president's dramatic descent on the capital to insist on the passage of the child labor bill, the blacklist note is a shrewd bit of political strategy. Weak as the American case is—and for its purpose that makes little difference—it gives the Administration the appearance of a "strong stand" against British encroachments in these vital days before November. It is a shot that politicians are figuring will carcom into votes.

In the first place, Administration leaders are seizing on the note as refuting the "pro-British charges brought against the president by German-Americans and other 'hyphenate' sympathizers." While from present indications it is going to be extremely popular to condemn everything that is not "simon pure Americanism," silently the Democrats have been mourning the loss of so many German votes, especially in Wisconsin and Missouri. If they can do anything that will covertly suggest that Great Britain is to be "next" who knows that they might not win back many of the hypens? And, besides, the German-Americans, there are many other elements which have always welcomed anything of an anti-British issue.

BRITISH CAPTAIN IS PUT TO DEATH BY THE GERMANS

Executed Because He Tried To Ram a Murderous Hun Sub.

TAKEN ON THE BRUSSELS

Capt. Fryatt Sent to Death By a German Court-Martial.

REFUSED TO SHOW FLAG

Germans Charge He Was Following Instructions of the British Admiralty.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, July 28—By Wireless to Sayville.—Capt. Charles Fryatt of the Great Eastern Railway steamship Brussels, which vessel was captured by a German destroyer last month, and taken into Zeebrugge, has been executed by shooting after trial before a German naval court-martial. The death sentence was passed upon Capt. Fryatt because of his alleged action in attempting previously to ram a German submarine.

Testimony was presented at the court-martial to show that while Capt. Fryatt did not belong to armed forces, he had attempted on March 28, 1915, while near the Maas lightship to ram the German submarine U-33.

Capt. Fryatt and the first officer and the first engineer of the Brussels received from the British admiralty gold watches for "brave conduct" and were mentioned in the House of Commons.

The submarine U-33, according to the official account of the trial, had signalled to the British steamer to show her flag and to stop, but Capt. Fryatt did not heed the signal, and, it is alleged, turned at high speed toward the submarine which only escaped by diving immediately several yards below the surface. Capt. Fryatt, the official statement says, admitted that he had followed the instructions of he British admiralty. Sentence was confirmed and the captain was executed and shot for a "franc tireur crime against armed German sea forces." The trial was held at Bruges, Belgium, yesterday.

When captured by German torpedo-boats on June 24, Capt. Fryatt was piloting the steamship Brussels from Rotterdam to Tilbury. Several German warships dashed out of the naval base at Zeebrugge and escorted the Brussels back to the Belgian harbor. On board the Brussels was an unusually large number of Belgian women and children refugees, and she carried an all-British crew of 44 men. Included in the cargo were 400 tons of margerine and quantities of fish, butter and meat.

Dutch newspapers said it was generally believed that the capture of the Brussels was brought about by a passenger who said he was an American, but was believed to be a German. This man remained on deck throughout the voyage, and was said to have made signals with lights, with the result that the German warships steamed up and halted the vessel.

ALL NICKEL SALES UNDER SUPERVISION OF CANADIAN GOVT.

Officials of International Company Declares Ottawa Controls Since War Began.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 28.—James L. Ashley, treasurer of the International Nickel Company, today reiterated that all sales of nickel made by his company since the beginning of the war have been under the supervision and control of the Canadian Government. Speaking of an alleged interview referred to in Canadian papers, in which he is quoted as saying that "he knew nothing of the reported refusal of the company to sell nickel to Germany," and that, "the company could not refuse to sell nickel to any purchaser," Mr. Ashley denied that he ever gave any interview whatever upon this subject, and denied that the statements which he is alleged to have made are correct. "All sales of nickel made by the International Nickel Company since the beginning of the war," Mr. Ashley said, "have been made under the direct control and supervision of the Canadian Government."

NO VOTE REGISTRATION FOR SOUTHWEST TORONTO

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, July 28.—There will be no registration of votes for the Southwest Toronto bye-election for the Provincial House. There were 4,700 registration votes in the last election, and as these were mostly young men, and their class is largely away at the front, it has been decided that the expense of registration is not necessary, so the 1914 lists will be used.

DARING RAID BY WEST ONTARIO MEN DESTROYS LISTENING POST OF ENEMY; CANADIANS CONSTANTLY HARASS FOE

Canuck Batteries, Patrols and Snipers Too Active and Dashing for Enemy at Many Points—Sir George Foster, Mr. Rowell and Parliamentary Party Visit Trenches.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, July 28.—The weekly eye-witness report from the militia department relates a number of minor incidents, there having been no heavy fighting on the Canadian front. The visit of the Canadian parliamentary party is also noted. It reads:

"In general during the past week hostile artillery fire was unusually light, but on two occasions, sections of the Canadian front were subjected to an intense bombardment by the enemy guns and trench mortars. Our batteries responded vigorously.

Foe Driven Off.

After one of these duels, several small parties of the German infantry attempted to approach the trenches held by battalions from Montreal and Vancouver. At all points they were met with rapid machine gun and rifle fire and driven off.

Further at the left a determined effort was made by the enemy to raid the lines of a battalion which also had been heavily shelled. The attempt failed and the raiding party was successfully repulsed. On more than one occasion enemy working parties were discovered by our patrols and dispersed by artillery and machine gun fire. At a few points our positions were advanced without opposition from the enemy. In one instance a German forward trench was reported unoccupied. A party immediately took possession and consolidated the post.

Patrols Are Active.

The activities of our patrols and snipers were well maintained. Early one morning a party of an Ontario battalion, under Capt. Shephard and Lieut. Brownlee, accompanied by Sapper Harper, blew up a German-covered listening post with a charge of gun cotton. Patrols from several battalions crept up to the enemy's trenches and threw hand grenades among the garrisons.

Lieut. Routledge of a Montreal battalion, with a small patrol, crawled into the German entanglements. A large section of the wire was cut by hand and a rope was attached to the severed portion.

Forty men in our lines then hauled on the rope and dragged the entanglement to the Canadian side of No Man's Land.

Another night a patrol of a Winnipeg battalion, under Lieut. Dunn, followed an old communication trench towards the enemy's lines. Three Germans were encountered. Lieut. Dunn shot one of them with his revolver. The other two ran back and joined a larger party of the enemy, who at once commenced throwing bombs at our men. In spite of this fire our patrol advanced, and secured the wounded German, who was carried back to our lines by Lieut. Turnbull and Pte. Rule. At 10 o'clock one night the enemy blew up a small mine immediately in front of the trenches occupied by a Mounted Rifle battalion. The crater formed was 8 feet wide, but no damage was done.

The Canadian corps was visited by a party of Canadian parliamentarians, consisting of Sir George Foster, Senators Landry, Belcourt, Ross and Dennis, and Messrs. Rhodes, Nickle, Shepherd, Knowles and Armstrong. Another visitor at the front was N. W. Rowell of Toronto.

Kaiser Too Busy With British—Can't Send Help

(Canadian Press.)

London, July 28.—The Geneva (Switzerland) correspondent of the Daily Express wires:

"I learn from Innsbruck that the Austro-Hungarian staff appealed several times during July to the German headquarters for assistance against the Russians in Galicia. Small numbers of reinforcements were sent, with the statement that it was impossible to send more troops during the strong Anglo-French offensive on the Somme.

"Thereupon the Austrian heir appealed directly to the kaiser, who replied:

"'When we have beaten the English I shall reconsider the matter. I cannot spare troops at present, as the situation is serious.'"

SERBS START AN OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE BULGARIANS; CARRY AND HOLD HEIGHTS

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 28.—11:10 a.m.—Serbian forces have begun an offensive against the Bulgarians in Greece, according to a Havas dispatch received here today from Saloniki. The Serbians have occupied a series of heights and are maintaining their position despite the artillery fire and counter-attacks of the Bulgarians.

For the last three days, the dispatch adds, the Serbians had been making methodical preparations for the purpose of driving the Bulgarians from the positions which they had occupied six or seven miles south of the Greek frontier.

KAISER IS BADLY SCARED; PASSIONATELY ASKS HIS PEOPLE TO STAND FIRM

London, July 27.—A letter from Kaiser Wilhelm passionately appealing to the German people to stand firm and unwavering, no matter how the tide of battle flows, has been printed in all the German papers. The letter was circulated by the semi-official Wolff News Agency. Dated from the front in the west, the letter says in part:

"The battle is raging, huge beyond all previous imagination. Rejuvenated, perfectly equipped with all they want, Russia's armies again have broken against our bulwarks in the east. This has eased the situation in Italy. France has experienced a regeneration in this war of which she hardly believed herself capable. She has dragged her dilatory English ally into joining the offensive on the Somme, and whatever inward worth the British army has, it has an abundance of artillery.

The Iron Hurricane.

"The iron hurricane rages against our brave German men at the Somme. Negroes and white men come upon us in wave after wave, in ever-fresh storms, wild and sullen. Everything is at stake. The ice-cold haberdashers on the Thames yearn for our holiest things. The health and life of our women and our children are menaced. Even neutrals must bear hunger. Only the depths of the ocean are open to us.

"What, German people, is your duty in this hour? The army wants no exhortations. It has fought superhumanly. It will fight until final victory. But the people at home—this is their duty. To suffer in silence, to bear their renunciation with dignity. Those at home are not all doing these things. Not all are alive to the tremendous seriousness of the times. Are our people at home the same people as at the beginning of the war? The writer fears not.

The Hour of Destiny.

"Let us remember that this is no ordinary rupture of ordinary life. It is the hour of destiny for our Fatherland, the hour which will influence us for centuries. We must unite in opposition to the entire world. We must co-operate in the struggle.

"Any man or woman who hangs his or her head or suffers despondency to enter his soul is guilty now of treason. Every word of complaint or discouragement is a crime against our fathers, our sons and our brothers. Let us show the greatness of the German nation. To not jeopardize everything by petty squabbling. It is no time for internecine strife. But it is time for holding together. In this hour the best blood of the nation, mature men and budding youths, are presenting their breasts to the iron hail of the English, Russian and African hordes. Everything is at stake."

This is in strange contradiction to repeated assertion from German sources that the British offensive has reached its high-water mark. It is taken here to show conclusively that Germany is thoroughly alarmed.

Capt. Hugh Niven To Rejoin "Pats"

London Hero Sticks by Famous Corps and Will Not Come Home.

Capt. Hugh Niven, one of the original Princess Patricias, who was wounded some time ago, will return to his regiment within a short time, according to word recently received by his mother, Mrs. J. S. Niven of Colborne street. It was hoped that he would be invalided home, but his determination to remain with the corps in which he has given such constant, heroic service, prevented this.

"I must get back at once," he said in his last letter.

He is probably again in the trenches at this writing.

TORPEDO BOAT OF FOE PUT IN BADLY DAMAGED

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 28.—A Journal dispatch from Amsterdam says:

"Reports received here today state that a German torpedoboat, badly damaged, put into her base at Zeebrugge after a cruise in the North Sea."

RUSSIANS CLEAR GERMAN TRENCHES ON WESTERN FRONT

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 28.—Noon.—Russians reconnoitering at Auberve, in the Champagne says the French official statement issued this afternon, penetrated the German trenches and cleared them with hand grenades. The Russians took some prisoners.

A German attempt to attack near Lihons, north of Chaulnes, was arrested by French infantry fire.

On the right bank of the Meuse, in the Verdun region, German preparations to attack Thiaumont work were stopped by artillery fire.

Two German aeroplanes were shot down in the Somme region.

DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED IN RECRUITING OF 199TH

Fight Being Waged by Toronto Officers Against it Interesting Locally.

Although the department of militia at Ottawa announces that the 199th (Irish Rangers) of Montreal was granted special privileges to recruit men all over Ontario, the fight against the Quebec battalion securing Ontario men is on in earnest in Toronto. As was announced last night, the unit was accorded the privilege of taking men in this district, but no strenuous objection was raised locally, it being considered that few, if any, recruits would be taken here.

London and district officers may have been quiet in the matter, but not so those in Toronto. The city council is taking a hand in the case there, and officers of Toronto and No. 2 district have protested to Ottawa against the special favors accorded the 199th.

The instructions given to the 199th, according to the statement issued in Ottawa, were to the effect that the recruiting officers were to avoid all friction with units in Nos. 1 (London), 2 (Toronto), and 3 (Kingston) districts, where they had been authorized to get men. The statement is further made that the 199th secured recruits in the city of Ottawa, and that no objection was raised there.

Lieut.-Col. Herb Lennox of the Irish Battalion, Toronto, has sent in a formal protest against the recruiting of the Montreal Irish Battalion in what he considers his legitimate field, and so interesting developments are expected.

CAMP BORDEN DUST AND ASHES HARD ON LUNGS

Several Hensall Men Under Treatment at Home—One Seriously Ill.

HENSALL, July 27.—Some of the soldiers who came home from Borden Camp on harvest leave are under the doctor's care. Pte. Jackson of the Hensall platoon is very low, and his friends are very anxious about him. Pte. Dougall, who was taken to London on Saturday by Dr. Peck, has been successfully operated on, and is improving at Victoria Hospital. Several of the boys are being treated for bronchitis. Borden Camp dust and ashes are said to be hard on the lungs.

Already nearly $2,000 have been spent by property owners in Hensall in wiring their houses and stores for hydro.

COSTING TOO MUCH FOR TRANSPORTATION FROM CAMP BORDEN

Men Spend Nearly All Their Pay to Visit Home.

NEW SYSTEM PLANNED

Four Days Per Month at Home May Be Allowed Troops.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CAMP BORDEN, July 27.—Headquarters is considering an arrangement whereby the members of Western Ontario battalions can enjoy their leave. At present they get little time in their homes and the rank and file spend practically all their pay in transportation if they live in Windsor, Sarnia and points in that district.

The commanding officers of these battalions have asked the authorities to consider a proposition under which each Western Ontario battalion will get four days out of a month in their homes. Headquarters is doing its utmost to make all happy in these units and the camp.

A private in the 135th Battalion was taken to Barrie today to answer to a charge of theft and aggravated assault before a civil magistrate. During a quarrel he almost tore a comrade's eyes from his head. Lieut.-Col. Robson, the headquarters staff and all concerned agreed to the trial.

Under a blistering sun the 9th Brigade, Lieut.-Col. Robson commanding, marched 15 miles today. Only one man who should have been in camp, but insisted upon following his commander, dropped out. The men returned to camp in the best of sprits and engaged in games.

Lieut.-Col. Robson goes on his last leave this week-end. He handed over his brigade duties today to Lieut.-Col. Royce. This battalion is over strength and although it has some illegal absentees he is certain they will return before the departure of his unit.

991 Are Absent.

There are 991 illegal absentees, about 300 of whom are from the London brigades. One-third of the camp strength is away on harvest, and the last leaves Monday.

The finishing touches will be put on the training of overseas units. Privates in Toronto units will be court-martialed on a charge of setting fire to grass in the training areas. Within four days two chums, Privates Draycott and Rosseau, of a Muskoka battalion, who enlisted at the same time and left on harvest furlough together, died from pneumonia at their homes.

DOMINION ASSOCIATION FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

London Men Are Strongly in Favor of Project.

Arrangements are going forward steadily for the formation of a Dominion-Wide Returned Soldiers' Association. The movement was inaugurated in the Maritime Provinces and has met with hearty support from all the independent associations approached so far. The returned men in London are entirely in accord with it, and at a meeting some time ago forwarded their consent to Lieut.-Col. P. A. Guthrie, O. C. of the 236 Battalion, New Brunswick.

The following reply has been received by the secretary: "I am glad you agree with my views as expressed in my letter. Shortly, I hope to have under way an organization of a Dominion-wide alliance of returned veterans. You will hear from me regularly.

"Yours faithfully,

(Signed) "PERCY A. GUTHRIE."

CLINTON BOY IN 18TH WINS COVETED MEDAL

Sergt. Cunningham Awarded D. C. M. For Bravery on Field.

Sergt. Richard Cunningham of Clinton, a member of the 18th Battalion who trained in this city when Lieut.-Col. E. S. Wigle and his men were preparing for the firing line, has been awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal, according to dispatches received from the old country.

The official account of Sergt. Cunningham's award says that it was granted for carrying wounded men under a heavy bombardment.

LITTLE STORIES OF CAMP BORDEN

Exhibition of the Johnson-Willard fight pictures at the samp has started a discussion that has spread from battalion lines to headquarters. Headquarters does not know whether it has the power to permit the exhibition of these pictures in the camp or not.

The medical board, which has been working for some months on the second examination of all enlisted men and officers, is speedily bringing its work to a conclusion. The number rejected on this second test average only 35 per battalion, and the majority of these are either those over age or those who, by false statements, have got into C. E. F. units under age.

None of the men who were associated with the private of the 204th (Toronto) Battalion, who is now suffering from spinal meningitis, are even "carriers" of that disease. All have been examined and no trace of the dread scourge has been detected by the mdical officers.

"Pure devilment" is the excuse given for the two Toronto soldiers who are to be tried by court-martial for setting fire to grass in areas away from their camp quarters on Tuesday last.

Construction of the wireless tower at the camp, with which it is expected to train wireless men by the interchange of messages with the stations at Toronto and Niagara camps, is being rushed.

Those in the "absent without leave" class are becoming fewer in number, according to the camp reports. The total is now under the 1,000 mark, and officers claim that it will be steadily reduced from now on. Prospects of early departures overseas of so many battalions have brought back many men whose sole objection was to a long-continued stay in Borden Camp.

A 3-year-old son of Pte. Kent of the Irish Battalion, was the camp mascot for two days. The little chap has been missing from home and was discovered in the camp after he had been sleeping and eating there for two days. His mother came up from Toronto and took him home.

According to the story of the Irish mascot, he has had a "whale of a time" in camp. His pockets were lined with coppers when he was discovered.

Inspection by Major-General Lessard of those battalions warned for an early departure overseas, is being continued. The units are being given more than the casual "once over" of the ordinary review. Military discipline, equipment, training and general fitness for the firing line are being subjected to a rigid test by the inspecting officer.

Brigades going on field manoeuvres and on night operations are now required to establish a field telephone system in order to keep in touch with the camp headquarters. This is for the purpose of giving the men full advantage of active service conditions.

Because three more battalions are scheduled to arrive in Camp Borden shortly, the reduction in the camp strength through the departure of the units warned for overseas, will be smaller than at first supposed. It is also claimed that as indications point to a filling up of the battalions already under canvas the total strength of the camp will remain approximately where it is until the break-up of the camp at the end of the "open season."

The total number of troops now at Camp Borden has been listed as slightly more than 32,000, making an average of 914 of all ranks to each battalion. The actual battalion average is lower than this because the camp strength includes all officers and men on the camp staff, subordinate staff, military police, engineers, army service corps, ordnance corps, medical corps, dental corps and all other auxiliary units.

Because of the new establishment for infantry battalions that reduced the total number of all ranks to 1,019, a number of the units are listed as over strength. The 135th (Middlesex) Battalion, from this district, is included in the "over strength" list.

WELL-KNOWN ENGINEER ENLISTS AS A PRIVATE IN CONSTRUCTION CORPS

D. Lytton Macdougall, With Extensive Railway Experience, Joins New Battalion.

D. Lytton Macdougall, an engineer of wide experience, son of James E. Macdougall, of The Advertiser, enlisted yesterday as a private in the Railway Construction Corps (230th of British Columbia), for which recruits are being received in this city.

Mr. Macdougall has recently been engaged in appraisal work for the United States Government on the Old Dominion Railway of Virginia, and upon completion of his task immediately came to Canada, intending to enlist as a private in the infantry. Learning of the construction corps under organization, he offered his services to Lieut. Taylor, recruiting officer.

Mr. Macdougall was born in Winnipeg 34 years ago. He spent seven years as engineer with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore, five years with the National Transcontinental Railway during the construction period, and was locating engineer for the Alberta and Peace River Eastern Railway, a project of the late Duke of Sutherland.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE CAMPS

DIDN'T LIKE LONDON.

Pte. Sydney White, late of the 99th Battalion, who was arrested in Windsor as a deserter and who was brought up before Magistrate Legate at that city this morning, claimed that a personal dislike for London was the only reason he left his unit. He claimed that he had been content with his life as a soldier as long as the battalion was in Windsor, but that when it came to London it was another story. He got homesick when he got there.

LEAVES FOR EAST.

Lieut.-Col. Kingsmill of Toronto, a cousin of Major H. A. Kingsmill, medical officer of the London recruiting offices, has left with his battalion (123rd) for an eastern point. The 123rd left Camp Borden yesterday.

Lieut.-Col. Kingsmill is well known in London, where he has been a frequent visitor.

ALREADY PLANNING FOR BIGGEST CAMP EVER HELD IN CITY

Winter Months Will See Many Here, Is Claim.

KEEPING UNITS TOGETHER

Those Battalions Still at Camp Borden To Be Brought to London.

Summer is hardly half over, but already plans are being formulated for the winter militia camp that has been promised London as some compensation for the loss of the major portion of the summer camp. It might be said that these plans for the winter are still in a most embryo stage, but, according to officers who are in a position to know, the inside workings of the militia department, if such a thing were possible, the city will have more overseas troops in training here during the winter months than ever before.

It is claimed on the best of authority that all Western Ontario units which will still be under canvas at Camp Borden when that camp is broken up for the winter will be brought to London. Just how many of these there will be is naturally problematical, but it is said that the department has decided on concentration this winter, rather than the policy of dividing up the men which was in effect during the winter of 1915-16.

All new battalions that will be recruited, or are now recruiting, will be accorded the billeting privileges enjoyed last year, it is believed, but it is claimed that any units that have been under canvas during the summer months will be kept together during the winter, and that London has been selected for the winter training grounds of No. 1 district.

The billeting scheme was the best, from a recruiting standpoint, of any adopted by the militia department to that date, and it is expected to have an equally good effect during the coming winter. Advantages of living at home during the preliminary training were such that many men were secured and enlisted who might otherwise waited some time before joining the C. E. F.

Naturally, the smaller towns of the district will be putting in "bids" for troops during the winter months, but the present recruiting plans now being evolved by Capt. MacConnell, the new recruiting officer of the district, will provide these places with sufficient men to satisfy the demands.

COL. CASGRAIN IN COMMAND OF BIG CONVALESCENT HOME

Organizer of No. 3 Winning Praise for Work.

ON ROYAL PLAYGROUND

King's Bushby Park Estate Under Jurisdiction of Windsor Doctor.

Lieut.-Col. H. R. Casgrain, who organized No. 3 Stationary Hospital in this city, is now commanding King's Canadian Red Cross Convalescent Hospital at Bushley Park, Hampton Hill, Middlesex, and according to reports from the old country has one of the most efficient C. A. M. C. units across the pond. The colonel's comamnd is quartered in the royal sporting ground, for King George turned over his Bushley Park estate to the Canadian medical service.

The park consists of 1,100 acres and has what has been called a most magnificent natural setting for a hospital in its wooded areas, its deer parks, its tree-lined avenues and delightful streams.

Old Manor House Used.

In the inclosure occupied by the King's Canadian Red Cross Convalescent Hospital, the old brick and stone manor house, until recent years occupied by the late Lady Paget, together with the adjoining stables and servants' accommodations, has been transformed into quarters for the administrative staff, and wards for the patients.

The dispensary, dental operating room and laboratory, as well as the general administrative offices, occupy new and splendidly constructed asbestos-walled huts near the main entrance to the grounds. Similarly-built huts with accommodation for 200 patients have recently been completed near the main driveway. All the most modern ideas in hospital construction have been embodied in these huts, which are a complete unit in themselves and altogether independent of the wards in the manor. The new wards are large, airy, and cheerful in appearance, and will with the kind consent of their majesties be named after the children of the royal family.

In another section of the grounds a commodious concert hall has been erected. This is utilized by the patients as a music and recreation room during the day, while in the evenings it is often the scene of high-class concerts and musicales arranged by patriotic and kind-hearted artists and artistes, the majority of whom have wide reputations as entertainers.

All visitors express the greatest admiration for the manner in which the Canadians have transformed the place into a veritable Garden of Eden.

Secured Canadian Recognition.

Lieut.-Col. Casgrain, who was succeeded in the command of No. 3 by Lieut.-Col. Evans Davis of this city, is credited with being the officer by whose influence Canadian medical officers were first allowed to perform operations and attend the sick in the Shorncliffe Military Hospital.

Although No. 3, composed almost wholly of London and district men, was organized for service in France, it volunteered for the Dardanelles and on its lonely station at Lemnos Island was the only Canadian unit in the Dardanelles zone.

It was there that Col. Casgrain fell victim to the tropical climate that invalided him first to Egypt, where his life was despaired of, and then to England, where he took over the command of King's Hospital. However, the colonel is now demonstrating his administrative ability at the Bushley Park institution.

To the King's Canadian Red Cross Convalescent Hospital there come for rest and recuperation soldiers who were enlisted in all parts of Canada; men who fell wounded at Ypres, Givenchy, Festubert, Loos and St. Eloi, and men who passed unscathed through the horrors of those fields of carnage.

NOW IN VALCARTIER

No. 1 Construction Battalion Men, Recruited Here, In Eastern Camp.

Members of the No. 1 Construction Battalion, who were recruited in London and No. 1 District, are now in the big camp at Valcartier for mobilization purposes. The London district men left with a draft from Toronto that went on Wednesday evening.

Lieut. G. Fleming, who organized the battalion's recruiting campaign in this district, has been left in Toronto with a small detail of men to continue further recruiting there.

MILITARY CROSS FOR OWEN SOUND OFFICER

Lieut. John Creasor, Second Man of Town Honored.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OWEN SOUND, July 27. — Police Magistrate A. D. Creasor received a message yesterday informing him that his son, Lieut. John Creasor of the 60th Battalion has been awarded the Military Cross in recognition of special services in France. No further particulars have been received, but it is expected that Lieut. Creasor's act was performed while engaged in reconnoitering.

Lieut. Creasor is an Owen Sound boy, a grandson of the late Judge Creasor, and is a graduate of McGill University. He was connected with Kennedy & Sons as a mechanical engineer since graduating. He enlisted with the Irish Rangers, but was later drafted to his present battalion. He has been in France only a few weeks. Major Bishop of headquarters staff, London, is a cousin. Lieut. Creasor is the second Owen Sound boy to win a service medal, and the citizens are very proud of his achievement.

RUSSELL REFUSED PASSPORT.

EX-LONDON BOY NOW HEADS BIG PACKING FIRM

Takes Over Sulzberger & Co. Interests in $30,000,000 Plant.

HIS PHENOMENAL RISE

From Office Boy to President His 25-Year Climb.

MANY NEW POLICIES

Thomas E. Wilson, Who Lived Here, Revolutionizing Meat Industry of States.

Thomas E. Wilson, the former Londoner, who has become a power in the packing business in the United States, has established a company of his own, taking over the Sulzberger & Co.'s plant, the new firm being known as Wilson & Co. His rise has been phenominal, and his friends and relatives here are not surprised at his advancement. R. Wilson, of the postoffice, is an uncle, and Mrs. Fred White, Ben Higgins and others are cousins.

The Chicago Herald has the following to say of the change:

Beginning today Sulzberger & Co., the $30,000,000 packing corporation, will be known as Wilson & Co.

The reason for the change is that Sulzberger & Co. is Wilson—Thomas E. Wilson, who on March 22 became president of the concern. It was his latest climb on the ladder which brought him, in a period of twenty-five years of service, from the position of clerk at $6 a week, to that of head of the Sulzberger organization at a salary said to exceed $100,000 a year.

A meeting of the board of directors decided the move. The directors felt that the name Wilson was just as valuable as the man Wilson in the packing business. Even in the short period that Mr. Wilson has been head of the firm he has worked wonders.

Open Door His Policy.

"Of course I have plans for the 'new' firm," said Mr. Wilson laughingly. "Here's the keynote to all my plans."

He pointed to the door of his office. It was open.

"It's the open door," he continued. "I don't keep my door open because it happens to be hot right now. I keep it open all the year round, to let the fresh air in and to let people in. I don't care whether it's the president of a bank or the poorest employee of the firm. Anybody who has anything in the nature of a grievance or an idea, can come in to talk with me, and talk with me as long as it is necessary to relate the grievance or expound the idea.

"The open door means 'get acquainted,' and 'get acquainted' means success. In our business we deal with three main factors—the stock raisers, the public, and our people—our employees.

Going to Get Acquainted.

"I am going to institute a campaign of 'getting acquainted' with the stock raisers. Not the great ranchmen who control thousands of acres, but the little fellows with 200 or 300 acres. I am going to try and help them grow better stock so that they will make more profit on it and so that the public will get better meat.

"I am going to try to get on better 'speaking terms' with the public. I want them to know that nothing is spared to reach the higher degree of cleanliness and value in our products. They won't believe it until we get acquainted with them and show them.

"I am going to try to get on better 'speaking terms' with my employees. I am going to try to make their working conditions more pleasant. Already I have inaugurated the 'daylight saving' plan among the office help. They start to work an hour earlier in the morning and they quit at 4 o'clock. It gives them a chance to play a little golf or tennis, or go for a swim, and that makes them happier, and it makes them more efficient."

To Enlarge Activities.

Mr. Wilson announced that the firm would go in more for by-products than formerly.

"We are going to manufacture fertilizer, which is something we have not done in the past," he said. "Of course we have always produced raw fertilizer, but we have not gone in for the manufacturing. We are also going to pay more attention to the refining of our oil products."

In Mr. Wilson's program the expenditure of more than $500,000 for improvements is contemplated. These will include more efficient manufacturing facilities, improved working conditions and the application of the most approved methods of scientific management in the various plants of the firm.

CITY BREVITIES

CAR CAUGHT FIRE.—An automobile, No. 6814, belonging to Stanley Evans, took fire last night at the corner of Dundas and Adelaide streets. The fire department was called and saved the car from serious damage.

ALMOST RECOVERED. — Donald Langden, the 3-year-old ward of the children's shelter who ate a box of heart tablets, thinking they were candy, has almost recovered from the effects of the medicine. He is still in Victoria Hospital.

LITTLE GIRL BETTER.—Little Cora May Claxton, the 2-year-old South London girl who almost bit her tongue in two as a result of a fall from her carriage, is today reported as being much improved. The little tot is still unable to eat, but it is expected that a complete recovery will be made.

INQUEST TONIGHT.—The coroner's inquest to determine the cause of the deaths of Conductor Garnet Cuttin and Brakeman C. Stone, who lost their lives in the G. T. R. wreck of Wednesday last, will open at police headquarters tonight. The inquiry will be conducted by Coroner Maclaren.

NAME OMITTED.—The name of Miss Bessie Assiter, daughter of Rev. G. F. Assiter, pastor of the Christian Church, was omitted from the list of those who successfully passed the entrance to the Normal School. The omission was due to an oversight on the department of education. Miss Assiter will enter the Normal School here this fall.

INVESTIGATION HELD UP. — The official investigation into the G. T. R. wreck at Hale street on Wednesday, being conducted by Superintendent W. R. Davidson, cannot be completed until such time as the evidence of the injured men can be secured. Engineer Wrigley and Fireman Webb, both of Fort Erie, who are in Victoria Hospital, are doing as well as could be expected, according to information from Victoria Hospital this afternoon.

WANT REPAIRS PAID FOR ON FRONTAGE TAX ASSESSMENT

Controllers Favor Classification as Local Improvement.

ASKING CHANGED ACT

Legislature To Be Requested to Amend Present Statutes.

The Ontario Municipal Association will be memorialized to have the municipal act amended so that all repairs and improvements to roads and streets must be paid for as a local improvement, and not out of the general rate, as has been the custom for many years.

The board of control discussed the situation today, and decided that the change would be beneficial.

"When the debentures on a pavement run out, the city must pay the cost of repairs and improvements," declared Controller John M. Moore. "I contend that the property owners should pay. The same rule should apply to ordinary streets. If the road is graveled, the property owners on the street should pay for it. Then we would have fewer bad roads. I know several streets where the improvements have been excessive, and property owners in other parts of the city have to pay for it. I do not think it fair. Let every street bear its own burden."

The controllers agreed to this, and the Ontario Municipal Association, will endeavor to have the law changed to permit of this.

FIGHTS GALORE RESTAGED DURING POLICE COURT

Various Kinds From Domestic to Street Corner Type Represented.

George Pumridge appeared in police court today charged with disorderly conduct and drunkenness, the charges having been laid by his wife and son.

He was fined $5 or the option of fifteen days in jail in addition to being bound over to keep the peace in the sum of $50 for the next six months.

Go As You Please.

Charles Leith and George Clarke, who staged an impromptu fighting exhibition, bare knuckles and go-as-you-please rules, at the corner of King and Talbot streets last evening, were requested to donate $3 apiese or accept ten days in jail for their efforts to rejuvenate pugilism.

Accused By Mother.

John McGuire, charged with using abusive language towards his mother, will appear again next Tuesday when Mrs. McGuire will be summoned to give evidence.

Claimed Provocation.

George Waddell was fined $3 and costs on a charge laid by Fennel McKay, a boy, who claimed Waddell had struck him for no cause.

Waddell on the other hand maintained that McKay had made remarks to his wife on the street.

They Blamed Each Other.

Gerald Harden was fined $2 and costs and Frederick Hopkins $3 and costs, both being charged with disorderly conduct.

The evidence showed both had been fighting, and each blamed the other for starting the fight.

"That's right, blame it on to one another. Of course, you're both right, I suppose," commented Magistrate Judd, who made Harden's fine less because he pleaded guilty with less persuasion than Hopkins.

Six citizens, each charged with a breach of the motor vehicle act, paid sums ranging from $2 to $5 as a lesson to in future obey the law.

Sidewalk Users Fined.

Five bicyclists donated $1 apiece for preferring to ride on the sidewalk in preference to the road.

Chas. Constable, for driving past a standing street car, left a $2 bill to remind him not to let it occur ugain.

"Jakey" Trespassed on Line.

"Two dollars or five days in jail" said the magistrate to "Jakey" Butts, who pleaded guilty to trespassing on the L. and P. S. property.

SEARCH FOR WATER TO BE THOROUGH IN EVERY PARTICULAR

Various Possible "Fields" Will Be Drilled.

750,000 GALLONS MORE

This Is Estimated Increase Through New Pumps at Horton Street.

In its effort to increase the water supply of London by at least 2,000,000 gallons per day, the waterworks department of the utilities commission will conduct investigations in all the various "water" fields in the vicinity of London. The commission starts its work at once.

The test of the Macgregor wells, now being conducted, will be most thorough. Driller Jos. Harvey will be here next week to sink wells in order to help out the present wells.

Six new Webber lifts for the old wells are being ordered. It is expected that these will increase the supply of water from the present wells by at least 750,000 gallons.

Commissioner F. G. Mitchell and General-Manager E. V. Buchanan are favorable to the Macgregor well scheme provided there is a sufficient quantity of water there. Some figure that there will be at least 1,000,000 gallons a day. It can be brought to the Ridout street pumping station by gravity, which is much in favor of that scheme, as it will not make it necessary to duplicate the pumping plant. There is sufficient capacity at Horton street to pump 6,000,000 gallons of water, possibly 8,000,000, if needed. The only thing needed is to bring the water to this station.

More Horton Street Wells.

Driller Harvey will sink some deep wells. There are two in the vicinity of Horton street that are not used, and Mr. Harvey will drill through them in order to see whether or not there is water-bearing strata lower down. Experts figure that there should be some deep wells there.

There is not much hope of wells in the east end, although it is probable a well may be sunk there. A large body of water can be located at a low depth, but there is no impervious strata above it, so that the quality of water would be always open to suspicion. Deep wells in that vicinity have shown sulphur water altogether. However, experiments will be made there in order to see what can be obtained.

Want Water Close In.

The idea of the commissioners is to develop a field in close proximity to the Horton street plant, as it will be cheaper to handle the water from that station.

"It is all right to try and save the water, but we must look ahead to the future," said Commissioner F. G. Mitchell. "There is plenty of water to be found, and I think we can get it close to the Horton street plant. The well system can be increased. The Macgregor wells, if there is a sufficient quantity of water, will be all right. The water will flow into the Horton street plant by gravity, and we can pump it all. I think we should experiment in all directions. There is no doubt about water being available. We must get it."

Commissioner Mitchell also expressed the opinion that the Webber pumps would increase the present well supply greatly.

WILL PROCEED WITH STREET-OPENING PLAN

Board of Control Purposes to Go On With Euclid Avenue Proposition.

Several petitions against the opening of Euclid avenue were presented to the board of control today, but as they were insufficiently signed the board decided to go ahead with the work.

Some of the property owners consider the price excessive.

DENIES ANNOUNCING DOUBLE-TRACKING

A. E. Silverwood Says He Told Rotarians It Would Be Done When Possible.

A. E. Silverwood, in a statement today, denies that he informed the Cleveland Rotarians that the double-tracking of the London and Port Stanley was to be consummated at once.

"What I said in effect was that Sir Adam Beck, who was unable to accompany the trade expansion tour party, and who had been asked by the executive to deal with the question of transportation, had stated that the line would be double-tracked as soon as conditions would permit," says Mr. Silverwood. "I certainly did not say that the double-tracking was to be proceeded with at once."

TAG DAY NETTED $753

Organizations Made a Splendid Appeal to Citizens Yesterday.

As a result of the tag day held for the returned soldiers yesterday $758.43 was collected.

All parts of the city were canvassed. Miss N. Miller had charge of the work in the northern part of the city. Miss Reta Brown and Marjorie Croden covered the territory in the vicinity of Queen's avenue.

Sergt. A. C. Joseph, who returned from the front only recently, was another of the energetic workers. He was assisted by his son Carl, 8 years old, and Mrs. Joseph.

W. A. Gough, of the Peoples' Loan and Savings Company, assisted by counting the money and arranging it in compact form.

The record for the day was made by Mrs. George Wyatt, wife of Pte. Wyatt, a returned 34th Battalion man. She collected $47.41. Miss M. Stevens collected $29.17 and Miss M. Keyes $28.

WAKENED ST. JOHNS

For This Heinous Crime Lobo Man Is Remanded by J. P.

"It's a long, long way to Tipperary," sang William Thorton of Lobo, in a voice that could be heard a great deal farther than William anticipated as he wandered up and down the main avenues of St. Johns at an early hour this morning.

William's vocal efforts, which were noticeable more for volume than quality, attracted the villagers who protested. Indifferent to protests, William opened next with an oration on several subjects in which he attracted a still larger audience.

The "hard-hearted" constable refused to listen to William's wild outburst and gathered him in, and this morning he appeared before Squire Chittick on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was remanded until Saturday for a hearing.

POPULAR OFFICER OF 135TH IS RECEIVING COMPLIMENTS ON WORK

Major Gregory of the 135th Battalion, who is spending his final leave at his home in the city.

He has legions of friends in London, who regard him as one of the finest soldiers the city has given to the cause, and they are taking the opportunity of wishing him the best of luck, and complimenting him on his success with his battalion.

BOARD'S APPROVAL ONLY NEEDED NOW TO BIND CONTRACT

Will Seal Street Railway Agreements for Year.

EXPECTED NEXT WEEK

Little Fears of Carless Sunday Though Bylaw Still Unsigned.

The city council had a special meeting at noon today to pass a bylaw giving the London Street Railway Company the right to run Sunday cars until May 1, 1917.

All the agreements, plans, etc., have been agreed to by the company and the city, and they only need the approval of the Ontario railway and municipal board to become binding. This assurance will be given within a week, and in the meantime, Mayor Stevenson, acting on instructions from the council, will not sign the Sunday car bylaw until the officials of the Ontario railway board give that approval. It is possible that the company may lose one Sunday, in case the agreement is not signed next week, but this is hardly likely, as the order will be ready in time it is expected.

There was an objection made to the third reading of the bylaw, as the Richmond street pavement was not included in the agreement. When City Engineer Brazier explained that it would be impossible to put down the Richmond street pavement this year, the objection was withdrawn, and the bylaw was carried.

NEW MOTOR FIRE TRUCK IN COMMISSION SHORTLY

Will Be Here In Ten Days, Says Report —More Pavements Ordered.

The new motor fire truck, replacing the one destroyed at the G. T. R. Talbot street crossing, will be delivered in London within ten days. The board of control was notified today by the La France Company, of Elmira, N. Y., that the truck had been completed and would be forwarded to London at once.

The agreements for the Tiffin flusher, ordered some time ago, have been forwarded, and it is expected that it will be ready for service within two weeks' time.

City Engineers Brazier was instructed to make a report on the best system of storm drains for West London.

It was decided to construct an asphalt pavement on Tecumseh avenue, from Edward street to Wortley road, and a vitrified brick pavement on Bathurst street, from Wellington to Waterloo.

The board will obtain the report of Engineer Willis Chipman, made in 1912 on the sewer system of London, and will discuss it at the next meeting.

The bylaw giving the court of revision power to give rebates of taxes on vacant premises will be presented to the council at the next meeting.

RENEWED FRIENDSHIPS

Business Manager of Coop & Lent's Circus Former Londoner.

A. E. Roote, business manager of Coop & Lent's circus that played London yesterday, was by no means a stranger to this city. As a matter of fact he is a former Londoner, for seventeen years ago he was manager of the old Grand Theatre in this city.

Mr. Roote has many friends in London, and he renewed old-time acquaintanceship with a number of them during the time he was in the city with his company.

Former Member of 33rd, Now in Mounted Rifles, So Reported.

Pte. Ernest Myers, 401462, a former member of the 33rd Battalion, who was drafted to a mounted rifles regiment in England, is reported as being dangerously wounded, in a private telegram received here today.

Fred Clements of 1351½ Adelaide street has been advised by the militia department that Pte. Meyers has been admitted to No. 3 casualty clearing station, dangerously wounded. The date of his admission is given as July 25.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

The funeral will be held on Saturday from the undertaking parlors of John Ferguson's Sons to Woodland Cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. McDougall Hay of Elora.

JAMES P. BROWN.

The death of James P. Brown occurred at his late residence, 25 Emery street, Thursday afternoon. He was 69 years of age, and had been living retired for some time. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. H. H. Humeston of this city and Mrs. James Henshaw of Nissouri, and one son, Fred Brown of this city.

Funeral arrangements have not been fully completed, but the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be made at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON.

Mrs. Charlotte Judd, widow of William Judd, died at the residence of her son, William Judd, concession 2, West Nissouri, on Wednesday. She was 83 years of age.

The funeral was held this afternoon from her late residence at 1:30. Interment was made at Brown's Hill.

COMPREHENSIVE RECRUITING PLANS FOR THIS DISTRICT TO BE EVOLVED AT ONCE

General Conference on August 3 Expected to Bring Them to Head—New Battalions Forecast and Efforts to Fill Existing Ones Will Be Made Immediately.

Capt. E. B. Manning of Lieut.-Col. Williams' headquarters recruiting staff, is in the city completing arrangements for the recruiting conference, which is to be held here on August 3 next.

The meeting will be held in the Masonic Hall from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It is expected that fully 200 recruiting officers, mayors, reeves, representatives of civilian recruiting organizations and of manufacturing concerns and tradesmen will come to the city. A party of nineteen men has been arranged as a delegation from Walkerton, and eight men and five women from Chatham have expressed their intention of being present. Numerous women representatives from various localities are expected in the interests of the Women's Emergency Corps.

To Discuss Registration.

The meeting will discuss the general problem of recruiting in No. 1 Military District. It is believed that the question of conscription or registration will be discussed.

It is hoped to arrive at a basis of understanding with the manufacturers and tradesmen, whereby employees who have obviously no good reason for refusing to enlist should be urged to do so. The recruiting officers hope to arrange a working agreement that will meet with the approval of the employers and which will disturb labor conditions as little as possible.

New Battalions Coming.

It is stated that a number of new battalions will be authorized as soon as those at present in the field are up to strength.

Capt. Manning is hopeful that the immediate result of the conference will be the rapid enlistment of a sufficient number of men to fill up the present units.

Wants Kiltie Unit.

Some localities, notably Bruce County, are anxious for the authorization of new battalions. Bruce County wants a kiltie unit and it is stated that the money necessary for the extra equipment has already been arranged for.

Capt. Manning has been chief organizer of recruiting in No. 3 (Kingston) Military District. It is claimed that the system in vogue there is the most comprehensive and efficient so far involved for handling a very difficult question.

His wife, Mrs. (Capt.) Manning, is taking a strong personal interest in the matter, working chiefly among the women of the district.

SPECIAL SERVICE UNIT FORMED IN DISTRICT

Will Be Attached to 160th and Under Lieut. L. Davis.

Lieut. L. Davis, late of the 73rd (Kiltie) Battalion, Montreal, and son of the Very Rev. Dean Davis, is to have command of the new special service company of the 160th Battalion.

His company will be composed of men of other units who have been found medically unfit to proceed overseas at the present time. A new order promulgated last week provided for the transfer of such men to some junior C. E. F. unit, there to be formed into a special service company. It is intended to form a special service battalion composed of such men when they become sufficiently numerous. These will be available for guard, police, pickets and for similar duties.

In the past it has been customary to discharge men with minor physical defects. It was felt that this entailed too great a loss to the country, as a large proportion by a small operation or eventually, in course of time, become so improved that they are quite capable of taking their places in the firing line. Such men will be drafted from the special service battalion to active units of the C. E. F. as they become fit.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE CAMPS

VOTES FOR B. C. SOLDIERS.

Special arrangements are being made to enable British Columbia soldiers serving in this district to cast their votes in the forthcoming provincial elections in the coast province. Capt. W. F. Cox of the 143rd Battalion has the arrangements in hand.

An act passed in the British Columbia Legislature on May 29 last provides for the registration of votes of all British Columbia soldiers.

CAN ENLIST CHEMISTS.

The order prohibiting the enlistment of chemists has been cancelled. Headquarters at Ottawa now have a sufficient number of chemists, and men of this porfession may now be accepted in C. E. F. units.

CHURCH PARADES.

Commanding officers of the local battalions will make their own arrangements for church parades on Sunday. Roman Catholic soldiers, as usual, will be paraded to St. Michael's Church for divine service, with the exception of those at the Cove camp. These will proceed to St. Martin's Church in South London.

MORE ENGINEER RECRUITS.

W. D. Wright and R. R. Osgood, both of St. Thomas, signed up yesterday for overseas service with the engineers.

TAKING RECRUITS NOW FOR CYCLIST PLATOON

Recruiting Officer at Armories Accepting Men for Interesting Service.

Recruits for a platoon of cyclists to be raised in Military District No. 1, are now being taken by Capt. Irvine, recruiting officer at the armories. Thirty men will be required, and when that number is obtained, they will be sent to the cyclist training depot at Niagara.

The work is an interesting diversion from that offered by infantry regiments. It will consist for the most part of dispatch riding, although other lines of work will be included. Two such platoons have already been raised in this district and have gone overseas. No officer for the present platoon has yet been appointed.

Recruiting has picked up a little during the week, and more recruits than usual are coming in. Recruits for the 259th Construction Battalion are being signed on at the armories as well as at its own recruiting depot, 418 Talbot street.

The latest recruits are: J. A. Dickson, A. M. C.; C. M. Irwin, Signallers; F. W. Mahoney, C. M. R.; F. A. Murphy, A. M. C.; D. L. Macdougall, 259th Construction Battalion; C. W. McLean, A. M. C.; D. R. Stephen, Engineers.

FIVE TOWNSHIP BRIDGES ORDERED

Dorchester Council Will Award Contracts for Them on Saturday.

The Dorchester Township Council is tomorrow awarding contracts for five township bridges to replace wooden structures on extensively traveled highways. Two of them will be of steel, and the others of reinforced concrete construction. The steel bridges will be between concessions four and five, one being north of the River Thames and the other south. They will be 28 feet and 30 feet respectively, and will cost $1,500 and $1,000. The concrete bridges will be of 18 feet and 12 feet in length. The 18-footer will be on the Elgin road, while the others will be at Harrietsville and Crampton. The estimate cost is $500 and $300.

LOCAL CAMP LOSES AGAIN; ITS POSTAL CORPS BEING CUT

Orders Will Leave But One Man Here.

CANNOT HANDLE MAIL

4,000 Troops Dependent on Solitary Clerk, If Orders Are Adhered To.

London camp is now feeling the heavy hand of the militia department in the matter of postal service. Consequent on the withdrawal of eight battalions, No. 1 Detachment of the Canadian Postal Corps, on duty at Carling Heights, was ordered to send four of its eight men to Camp Borden. At Borden there are more than thirty trained postal clerks, including some taken temporarily from the 135th and other battalions, to serve the troops in training.

Now, notwithstanding the forthcoming departure from Borden of some seven battalions overseas, it is proposed to draft three more military postal clerks from London. This would leave one man here to handle incoming mail for three battalions, two A. M. C. units, district headquarters, the batteries, engineers and various details. The field state at headquarters shows approximately 4,000 men on the strength of the camp, which is the same as last fall, when a postal detachment of three was kept so busy that a request was made for more help.

Postal work at the camp includes the handling of hundreds of pieces of registered mail almost daily, in connection with the district paymaster's branch and other offices; headquarters' mail to and from the various active militia units of military district No. 1, which comprises the eleven Western Ontario counties, and naturally a considerable volume of personal letters to and from the men of the units here. In the last-named class, the addresses are in many cases indefinite, requiring considerable ingenuity on the part of the staff before correct delivery is achieved.

Lieut. F. D. Sharman, commanding London detachment of the C. P. C., was on duty at the camp last year, but this year the detachment at the Heights is in charge of Staff-Sergt. Frank Anderson.

The convenience of being able to purchase stamps and money orders in camp is one much appreciated by all ranks, but apparently the privilege will be lost without a protest. It is obvious that one clerk cannot effectively conduct a postoffice at camp and make collections. If attempted, it would mean locking up the building so frequently as to destroy its usefulness.

"This is only London" seems to be the philosopny of the camp on the subject.

HAD PREMONITION OF DEATH ON FIRING LINE

Pte. Hugh McKay, Former Londoner, Wrote to Mother Forecasting Death.

Letters received by the mother of Pte. Hugh McKay, son of the late Hugh McKay, cigar manufacturer, of this city, who was killed in action in France, indicate that the young soldier had a premonition of his fate. A letter written just before he fell in action and received by his mother, now residing in Kingston, after his death referred to this premonition that was proven by events that transpired between its writing and its delivery.

Mrs. Cal Parker of Ridout street south is a sister of the dead soldier.

BUILDING CRUSHED STONE COUNTY ROADS

Gravel Scarce Near Parkhill, Hence Use of Stone.

The building of crushed stone roads near Parkhill, to connect with road systems previously completed, is now in the course of operation.

The roads at present under construction extend for one mile from the main street of Parkhill, between the townships of McGillivary and West Williams on the Rob Roy road, south of Parkhill.

The other road to be improved is the townline road section, between Parkhill Village and West Williams. The stone is brought from St. Marys for the purpose.

The estimated cost of contruction is $2,500 a mile, of which the village of Parkhill is paying one-half, the townships assuming the balance.

Crushed stone is being used, not because it is regarded as a better road, it is claimed, but because gravel in that section is not obtainable. The crushed stone, it is said, is hard to control and will not settle as gravel does, but forms ruts that make the road rougher in the summer than those of gravel construction.

In the early spring the crushed stone road has one advantage, that it will dry up with greater rapidity. It has also been found more expensive in Middlesex to maintain stone roads than gravelled.

CITY WATER SUPPLY WILL BE INCREASED SOON AS POSSIBLE

Experiments With Artesian Wells To Begin at Once.

WANT 2,000,000 GALLONS

Work on the New Hydro Building Will Be Started Shortly.

That efforts will be made at once to increase the water supply of the city was made certain at the meeting of the utilities commission yesterday afternoon. General Manager Buchanan reported that the tests of the Macgregor wells would be continued this week, and also that Joseph Harvey of St. Catharines would be here by the first of August to continue experiments with the artesian wells. He was engaged at $150 a month for his work and a drilling rig will be supplied.

"We must have two million gallons more than we have at the present time, if not more," said Commissioner Mitchell.

It was thought that fields near the present pumping station at Horton street could be developed, sufficient to serve the city for some time to come.

It was decided to engage Andrew Dale and A. Screaton as auditors for the commission at $450 for the waterworks department, and $600 a year for the electrical department. Frank G. Jewell will be engaged as consulting auditor at $500 a year.

It was decided to purchase two Tate Electric Trucks at $2,200. This would result in a considerable saving in dray hire. It was decided to go ahead with the hydro building as soon as possible. Figures for the construction will be obtained at once.

Jail-Breaker Sent to Jail From Which He Escaped.

James Leslie McDonald, who was arrested here Thursday morning by Detective Harry Down, on instructions from the Simcoe police, who charged him with jail-breaking, was taken back to Simcoe Thursday afternoon on the 4:25 G. T. R. train.

McDonald was awaiting transfer to Guelph Prison Farm on the charge of bigamy when he made the alleged escape from the Simcoe jail.

An additional charge will now be laid against him of breaking jail, for which the statutes provide a maximum penalty of two years.

STREAM OF OBJECTION

and Brydone-Jack. Defence objected to Horwood drawing inferences, and said he might as well deliver the verdict.

Half a dozen lawyers talked at once, objecting and replying, and the judge told the crown trio that only one of them could talk, while since there were three accused the counsel for each might speak. Bonnar objected to defending counsel insulting the witness.

Witness said Dr. Simpson gave him amounts to add to the estimates for steel work.

At this stage, Andrews entered for the defence an objection to the manner in which, he said, the crown conducted the case. He asserted that Bonnar's way of examining the witness was melodramatic and lacking in dignity, and accused him of "smirking for the benefit of the jury."

The judge declared he considered Andrews' objection not altogether without cause.

Horwood said all letters he wrote were on instructions he received. Witness said E. C. Shankland and Prof. Brydone-Jack, engineers, were working with him and the government "in making a plausible estimate" for the north wing steel construction. Shankland and Brydone-Jack were, he said, "experts trying to protect the extra cost." They told him he could not add the amount. Dr. Simpson gave him the tonnage of steel, but he must add the erection expenses. This steel contract was let at $236,100. Working with the experts and himself he said were Sir Rodmond Roblin, Dr. Montague, G. Coldwell, Thomas Kelly and Dr. Simpson.

Bonnar asked if Howden had any connection with these matters. Witness told of Howden and Coldwell seeing him about keeping Salt away, and them giving him $10,000 for Salt. When Horwood reported that Messenger Hook had been robbed of the money Howden said he thought "the Liberals had it."

At this point adjournment was made.

SPORTS SHIRTS AND DUCKS ON STAY-AT-HOME WARRIORS IN EVIDENCE AT GRAND BEND NOW

Some Youths Still Find Call of the Summer Resort Drowns Out the Bugle Call — Racy Sketch of Vacation Life.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GRAND BEND, July 26. — "No sir-r-r-e-e-e, not until we can hear the railway trains a-rumblin' in Thedford will there be rain."

"And that's a sure sign?"

"Never known to fail in well-nigh twenty years now."

Thus quoth the village star-gazer and weather-tester. His reputation is hard-pressed just now, and his prestige in the barber shop debates and the sugar barrel arguments has gone down several points. For hath he not twisted out the kinks in his left leg several times over the sighing of the east wind, and has he not noticed the sun several times crawling into the lake behind great clouds that spelled rain and thunder? But the rain has not come, and there is consternation, not only with the gardeners and farmers, but with the human almanac that dwells a short piece up the road from the Brenner House.

Optimists All.

The cottagers at Grand Bend are optimistic. They are all having a good time. Even when the supply of vegetables runs out, when the ice melts and the ice man draweth not nigh, they still persist that they are having a good time. That is probably the secret of having a good time at any summer resort, viz., to resolve before you go that after you have come back you have had a whale of a time. To make the outing a complete success this belief must be adhered to in the same fashion that burs stick to the tail piece of a thin donkey.

An Object Lesson.

The average summer cottage is a conclusive argument that the business of furnishing houses in the city has been overworked to a frizzle. These summer mansions are famous, especially for the things that they do not contain. And here again is where the feminine brand of optimism comes in, for here we find a woman who is used to making angel cake over an electric cooker, or to browning beans in a jardiniere over a spirit lamp, out here sputtering over a wood-burning stove that was of voting age when the Tory tub thumpers were first shouting about the National Policy. It beats all how one large dish can serve as a bathtub for the baby, dishpan, receptacle for the family supply of fish, and medium for connecting with the little red cart when the elusive butcher blows his horn on the premises. The dishpan wins the sweepstake in the general utility class.

They Still Exist.

One might have cherished the delusion that nearly all the young men of military age had marched off in khaki this year, or last. But nay, nay; they exist still. They wear the uniform all right, but it is the uniform of the white ducks and that peculiar raiment that travels and exists under the subhead of an outing shirt. Yes, yes; there must be a certain number of this brand left to infest the summer resorts. They must loll around the beaches, crack the jokes for the young ladies, put on a twenty dollar front on the strength of about eight per. Some of those suffering from the most acute stages persist in twanging plaintive noises out of a mandolin. The summer residents as a general thing are tolerant, and so far there have been no casualties. These mandolin operators and these white duckers are not enlisting though. Tut, tut, they are killing men in this war, and although they are brave, like an honorary colonel, still the call of the summer resort is so loud that the toot of the bugle never gets a chance to penetrate their thick lugs.

The Bathers.

Of bathing suits, one sees at the Bend the whole "57 varieties." Some of the garments were fashioned into bathing suits right off the web; others grew that way, while others again started to grow, but quit decolette at both ends. Then, again, there is the concession bathing suits. In company with large, well-filled baskets of things to eat, it arrives under the back seat of the democrat. Of one Mother Hubbard it is told she went to the cupboard. Some of these bathing garments that serve short sentences at the lake remind one that some of the "Mother Hubbards" were also sent to the lake. As a medium for covering up all the carcass and attracting the greatest amount of attention at the same time, they divide the honors with the one-piece bathing suit for the men. And be it known that this one-piece suit refuses to perish. It has been annihilated in reform clubs, it has been cut, drawn and quartered by the funny column men in the newspapers, and it has been lassoed and guillotined more times than the dowager empress of China, and it has been sick nigh unto death as many times as the emperor of Austria. But, hurrah, it lives! It lives! It is a horrible example of the survival of the "fittest."

The Elegantissimo.

Then there are those bathing suits that were never intended to go into the water. Should they go into the water they would get wet, and that is not the intention. True it is that the wearers take them down nigh unto the water, but, like the haughty leper who was told to dip himself in the river Jordan, they do it not. One might be inclined to reach over and purloin a bit of inspiration from the psalmist who wrote of the lilies, "they toil not, neither do they spin," and of some of these elegantissimo beach garments it can be said "they soil not, neither do they swim."

Speaking of Fish.

In every collection of men, particularly when they are away from the restraining ties of home and parson, and where the church bell dingleth not, there are those who can recite mighty tales of fish and fishing tackle. But few there be around the Bend who can go out and give a practical demonstration that there are still any fish living in the woods around here. The wise old chap who has been putting in his summers around here for the past fifteen years simply smiles when the question of a fish dinner is mentioned around his bungalow. He saunters quietly down to the fish house after the nets have been lifted. There is a jingling of silver, and he departs with first-class evidence of the fact that he knows where to catch the fish. Other Benders there be, though, who will take great poles, large cans full of wiggley worms, and enormous baskets, and sit at the end of the pier for hours at a time. They can be certain that they are breathing in hunks of ozone that no person else has used before them that day at any rate. But the fish house has the end of the pier or any place else backed off the map around here as a certain and reliable fishing ground.

PHONE GIRLS BRAVE IN ZEPP RAIDS AND RIOTING

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 28.—Telephone girls' bravery during zeppelin raids and the Irish rebellion which they helped to quell, featured the annual report of the postoffice department, in conjunction with which the telephone system in this country is operated by the Government.

"When the zeppelin raids have been aticipated, sometimes when they have been going on," says the report, "the women have come out of their homes to their work, even when bombs were dropping. They have played an important part in the scheme of air-raid warnings, and have set a good example to the whole country.

"In Dublin, when the bullets were flying and the fires were raging, the women stuck to their work in the exchange, and it was due to them that communication was kept up and that we were able to obtain the military forces which suppressed the rebellion."

More than 25,000 women have replaced men in positions in the postoffice department and telephone system, the report further shows. Out of 90,000 men of military age in these departments, 50,000 have joined the colors, and 21,700 have attested and only await the call to arms.

NOW CHANGE OF POLICY BY RUSS CABINET CHANGE

Foreign Policy of Petrograd Will Remain as Under Sazonoff.

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 28.—The correspondent of the Daily Chronicle at Petrograd telegraphs:

The ministerial changes are still the subject of most animated discussion. Sazonoff continues to receive from all sides telegrams expressing admiration of his character and services. Noteworthy among these are telegrams from the president of Zemstvo union, Prince Lvoff, and from the city council of Moscow I understand that positive assurances have been given that there will be no changes in foreign policy.

Considerable sensation has been caused by the arrest, on a charge of unscrupulous speculation, of several financiers, among whom is a notorious figure named Dmitri Rubinstein, director of several banks.

It is reported that a council of physicians who examined Former War Minister Sukhomlinoff, now under arrest, declared he was on the brink of mental collapse.

BRAVE FRENCH GIRL IS HONORED BY THE BRITISH

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 28.—At a special ceremony in the British embassy here today, Emilienne Moreau, "the heroine of Loos," aged 18, was presented by Ambassador Bertie with the British medal for bravery on the field of battle, and at the personal request of General Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British forces in France, with the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

Miss Moreau already has the French war cross.

The decorations are in recognition of the girl's conduct during the fighting at Loos, when she refused shelter in a cave, and for 24 hours tended the wounded under fire.

HOW LLOYDS IS BETTING.

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 28.—The Morning Post says:

"From time to time some inkling is gained as to the views of businessmen with regard to the duration of the war by the scale of war risks effected at Lloyds.

"Yesterday a policy for £5,100 to be paid if the war is not over by the end of June next year was put up for public auction, with the result that, rising from an offer of £500, a bid of £2,600 was ultimately reached, at which level, however, the policy was withdrawn.

"In other words, the bidder was willing to pay the amount named on the chance of obtaining a profit of £2,500 if peace was not declared within the time mentioned."

The C. P. R. has arranged for another of those family reunions which it inaugurated some time ago, and which will be held in Winnipeg from the 17th to the 20th inst., with a delegation which will number from 200 to 250, representing all departments of the great system in every corner of the Dominion.

The departments represented will include operating, mechanical, freight, passenger, steamships, sleeping and dining cars, stores, telegraphs, fuel, car service, etc.

To this official family gathering the officers of the company, from all parts of the compass, are now turning, and from the East yesterday between 50 and 75 officers took train for Winnipeg.

The object is to stimulate and energize all concerned, so that, efficient as may have been the work in each department, that efficiency may be made more pronounced, through fresh inspirations derived from the meeting together of the men who are responsible, under supreme direction, for the success of the vast organism in all its features and departments. Papers will be read on subjects relating to each of the departments. Free discussions will follow; finally, resolutions will be formulated and carried, based upon the tenor of the discussions, and these, subject to the supreme authority, will be enforced in practice. One great purpose is to get the officials together in a large family circle. This contact has great value. It has a stimulating and provocative effect, but, apart from this, it is desirable that the members of the great family should know one another at close grips, as it were. That being established, it is comparatively easy to get at the industrial and general thought. These are crystallized in the papers and discussions. The results of past family councils have been of the utmost value, according to the testimony of the higher officials. This forthcoming meeting will be the most representative of any yet held, as all departments of the vast system will be represented.

MERCHANT SHIP ARMED DOESN'T CHANGE CHARACTER

American Crew Who Refused to Sail Sentenced as Deserters.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, July 28.—The fact that a merchant ship is armed with a gun for defensive purposes does not change her character so that men engaged as merchant ship engineers can refuse to sail on her, Judge Leet decided today in the case of Frank Smith, Joseph Geraherty, Edward Cook, Fred Rudd and Charles Lawfield, New York, who were charged with deserting their ship. The men were signed in New York as engineers, and when they reached Montreal found the ship they were to sail in was armed. They refused to board her and were arrested. The men were sentenced to ten days each in jail.

CENTRAL STATES SWELTER; MANY DEATHS AT CHICAGO

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, July 28.—Illinois and neighboring states found no relief today from the unusual heat wave, and there was a probability that the records of 100 degrees yesterday might be broken. In Chicago the downtown street thermometers early this morning stood at 89 degrees, higher by several degrees than the maximum of the night before.

Deaths, directly due to the heat, numbered 17 for the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock this morning, according to reports received at the central police station. More than two score prostrations were reported.

Provincial Board of Health Sends Officer to Study Infantile Paralysis.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, July 27.—The provincial board of health is sending an officer to New York and Boston to study measures that are being taken there to cope with the infantile paralysis epidemic. He leaves Toronto for New York immediately, and Major J. W. S. McCullough, secretary of the provincial board of health and Capt. J. S. MOST EMINENT MEDICAL AUTHORITIES INDORSE IT

Dr. Eberle and Dr. Braithwaite as well as Dr. Simon—all distinguished authors—agree that whatever may be the disease, the urine seldom fails in furnishing us with a clue to the principles upon which it is to be treated, and accurate knowledge concerning the nature of disease can thus be obtained. If backache, scalding urine or frequent urination bother or distress you, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, gout or sciatica, or you suspect kidney or bladder trouble just write Dr. Pierce at the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.; send a sample of urine and describe symptoms. You will receive free medical advice after Dr. Pierce's chemist has examined the urine—this will be carefully done without charge, and you will be under no obligation. Dr. Pierce during many years of experimentation has discovered a new remedy which he finds is thirty-seven times more powerful than lithia in removing uric acid from the system. If you are suffering from backache or the pains of rheumatism, go to your best druggist and ask for a 50-cent box of "Anuric" put up by Dr. Pierce. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood have been favorably known for the past forty years and more. They are standard remedies today—as well as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels. You can get a large trial package for 10c of any one of these remedies by writing Dr. Pierce.

Doctor Pierce's Pellets are unequalled as a Liver Pill. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet a dose. Cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

Save your hair! Double its beauty in just a few moments.

25-cent "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or failing hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

HER HOME NO LONGER CHILDLESS

Operation Not Necessary After Taking the Great Medicine for Women.

Miller's Falls, Mass.—"Doctors said I had displacement very badly and I would have to have an operation. I had a soreness in both sides and a pulling sensation in my right side. I could not do much work, the pain was so bad. I was also troubled with irregularity and other weaknesses. My blood was poor. We had been married four years and had no children.

After using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I became well and strong, and was saved from the operation. We are now the parents of a big baby girl, and I praise your remedies to others and give you permission to publish my letter."—Mrs. JOSEPH GUILBAULT, Jr., Bridge street, Miller's Falls, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is famous for restoring women to normal health and strength. When this is done, wives no longer despair of having children.

A woman should be reluctant to submit to a surgical operation until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. If you have a case that needs special advice, write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company (confidential), Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

HARD FIGHTING ON SOMME CONTINUES; ALLIES STILL GAIN

British Get Trench Beyond Pozieres.

GERMAN COUNTER-ATTACK

Bring Up Guns and Men In An Effort To Retake Pozieres.

[Canadian Press Cable.]

LONDON, July 28.—12:10 a.m.—Since the completion of the capture of Pozieres, the news from the British front in France is mainly of artillery actions and testing encounters at various points in the German line.

"The comparative lull, and hot, hazy weather, it is assumed, has given the Germans an opportunity to bring up further troops and guns, with a view to renewed attempts to recapture Pozieres, where, however, according to unofficial reports, the British troops have further consolidated their positions.

Tonight's official report shows that there has been hard fighting all day, with some fluctuations of fortune, but that in the end the British improved their positions northeast of Pozieres, and in the vicinity of Longueval and Delville wood.

Official Statement.

The official statement issued by the war office tonight reads:

"Today there has been hard infantry fighting to the northeast of Pozieres, and in the vicinity of Longueval and Delville wood.

"North of the line of Pozieres-Bazentin-le-Petit we succeeded last night in capturing about 200 yards of an important enemy trench, which hitherto had successfully resisted all our attacks.

"This morning, after an intense enfilade artillery fire, the enemy succeeded in regaining possession of the whole trench, but our troops immediately reattacked and have again regained a footing in the southern end."

"On our right flank, after hard fighting, we have driven the enemy from the east and northeast of Delville wood. Heavy fighting still continues in this vicinity, including Longueval, where we regained a portion of the northern part of the village.

Fighting About Ypres.

"About 1 o'clock Wednesday morning a small enemy party entered our trenches immediately west of the Ypres-Pilkelm road, but were immediately driven out.

"Further south, after artillery preparation a party of British troops raided the enemy's lines. The Germans were encountered in front of their own wire and sustained a loss of some 20 killed. The British infantry then fought their way into the trenches, in which we found many Germans killed by our bombardment.

"Some good work was accomplished by the Royal Flying Corps Wednesday in locating enemy batteries and newly constructed defenses. Owing to the clouds and mists our machines had to fly very low, two of them being missing."

Fought All Night.

Throughout the night British troops continued to press the Germans with hand-to-hand encounters at various points on the Somme front in France.

The official statement issued this afternoon says:

"Throughout the night our artillery had been active, and we continued to press the enemy with hand-to-hand encounters at various points.

"The enemy is using large numbers of gas and tear shells in the battle area.

"Elsewhere on the British front there was no incident of importance in the last 48 hours."

BERLIN, July 27, via London.—4:40 p.m.—The text of the German official statement regarding the western front follows:

"Between the Ancre and the Somme intense artillery activity on both sides lasted into the night. Enemy hand grenade attacks were repulsed west of Pozieres.

"South of the Somme a French attack carried out northeast of Barleux failed.

"During the night several strong French attacks made in the region of Froide Terre and Fleury were repulsed. Fighting continues at some points.

"Strong reconnoitering detachments attacking on the front southwest of Warneton and patrols near Richebourg, were repulsed.

"A French coup de main north of Vienne Le Chateau failed. Near Villeaux Bois and northwest of Prunay our patrols made about 50 prisoners in the French position.

"A French biplane was shot down in an aerial fight near Beine, east of Rheims."

INGERSOLL LIEUTENANT TELLS OF HIS WOUND

INGERSOLL, July 27.—Writing from Shorncliffe Hospital, England, Lieut. Jack Coultis, who up to the time he enlisted was in the Bank of Commerce here, gives particulars of the wound which he received recently in action. He mentions that he went into the trenches on the 30th of June and on the 6th of July, with his men, went to the reserve brigade. During the day the Germans began throwing high explosives, apparently endeavoring to locate British big guns. Three of the men with Lieut. Coultis were killed and eleven wounded. It was while rendering aid to the wounded that Lieut. Coultis was himself injured. A fragment of a shell struck him on the knee. Just how seriously he is wounded is not known, as he does not give particulars in this connection. The Germans at the same time threw gas shells and he was compelled to seek shelter in his dugout.

SIGNALLER DUNLOP KILLED IN ACTION

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KINCARDINE, July 27.—Mrs. D. Dunlop of Kincardine has just received official word that her only son, Signaller Ernest Dunlop, has been killed in action, Somewhere in France. Prior to going overseas Pte. Dunlop for a number of years has been with the regular army stationed at Halifax, N.S. At the beginning of the war he was transferred to Bermuda, and from there was sent to the front.

WINGHAM.

WINGHAM, July 27.—Businessmen have decided to give prizes for attractions which will be put on at the fair, which will be for two days, September 28 and 29. The directors have also decided to hold horse races for the last day. For some years past there have been none.

TURK OFFENSIVE IS AT AN END IN THE CAUCASUS

Cannot Rally Broken Troops, Says Russ Military Critic.

HAD 350,000 TROOPS

Russian Advance From Two Sides Broke Enemy Plans.

ERZINGAN NOT DAMAGED

Turkish Main Forces Withdraw Before the City Is Captured.

[Canadian Press Cable.]

PETROGRAD, July 27. — Via London.—An official communication from general headquarters tonight said, regarding the Caucasus front:

"At Sapker, 20 kilometres north of Erzingan, we took 5,000 hand grenades, 1,000 shells and 600 caissons of cartridges. At Hastahan we captured a hospital of 800 beds. At Erzingan we captured a depot of rifles, revolvers, bayonets and artillery munitions, together with 1,000 pounds of petrol and benzine. The town of Erzingan was not damaged."

Hundred Miles in Week.

Russian trops covered a hundred miles in their advance on Erzingan within a week. The capture of that city means the virtual completion of the Russian occupation of Turkish Armenia, and gives Russia the benefit of the extremely fertile valley, and opens an easy means of communication through Trebizond for the western and southern Caucasian armies.

It is estimated that the Turks had between 25 and 30 divisions between the Black Sea and Mush—approximately 350,000 men. Three months ago the Turks undertook a comprehensive campaign, intended to recapture Erzerum, and incidentally to draw troops from the Russian European theatre. General Eudinch, the Russian leader in the Caucasus, succeeded, however, in holding the Turks in the Erzerum district, while delivering an effective blow at them in the Mush district. In order to counter this flanking from the south and a similar effort from the north the Russians were obliged temporarily to abandon Mamakhatum, fifty miles west of Erzerum.

Four Cities Occupied.

The Russians now have captured Trebizond, Baiburt and Gumish Khaneh and re-occupied Mamakhatum.

The Galician advance of the Russians has caused the Germans to withdraw troops from the Balkans, and Turks were sent there to replace them. The Russians, quick to see the advantage thus afforded, started a vigorous offensive toward Erzingan. Only a rearguard battle preceded the capture of the town, the Turkish main forces having been withdrawn, being forced to retreat toward Sivas.

Colonel Shumski, military critic of the Bourse Gazette, in an article on the victory of the Russians at Erzingan, says:

"This defeat of the best troops of the Ottoman empire has quite broken the Turkish defense. No further serious offensive can be expected, since only parts of divisions from the Constantinople, Thracean and Egyptian armies can be spared to patch up these broken units."

HUMIDITY IS INTENSE

Greater in New York Than Any Time Since July, 1897.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The humidity was greater here today than at any time since July 1897, the local forecaster declared. As early in the day as 9 a.m. the humidity registered 98 with the temperature only 74. No relief is promised.

Today's record marked the climax of a period of excessive muggy and uncomfortable weather that has lasted for nearly two weeks.

CHICAGO SUFFERS.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 27.—Another scorching hot day was reported in the central west today. In this city at noon the mercury stood at 97, the hottest of the season. No relief was reported in Iowa and Central Illinois, where yesterday there were temperatures over 100 degrees.

WILLIAMS—WATSON.

WINGHAM, July 27.—Miss Florence Ethel Watson, daughter of John Watson, was quietly married to Melville Williams. The young couple were married in the drawing-room, the bride being given away by her father. The Wedding March was played by Miss Bessie Watson, sister of the bride, during the signing of the register. A solo was sung by Mrs. Watson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. Hawkins of Blyth Anglican Church.

After a dainty luncheon the young couple took the train for a trip to Buffalo and other eastern points. After their return they will reside in Wingham.

BRITAIN MAKES FINAL PROPOSAL TO AID STARVING

Foodstuffs May Be Sent Into Enemy-Held Territory.

NONE FOR THE GERMANS

All Products Must Be Reserved For People of the Country.

LONDON, July 28.—12:09 a.m.—Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador, has cabled to the state department at Washington, the text of a letter from the foreign office regarding the feeding of the civilian populations in territory occupied by the Germans. The letter, which has been given out for publication in newspapers of London today, says:

"His Majesty's Government desires to settle, once for all, the whole question of the importation of foodstuffs into territory in the occupation of the enemy. Therefore it makes the following final proposal:

Britain's Proposal.

"If the German and Austro-Hungarian governments will reserve wholly to the civil populations of occupied territories the entire product of the soil, all live stock, and all stocks of food, fodder and fertilizers in those territories, and if they will admit to those territories neutrals selected by the president of the United States, with full powers to control the distribution of food to the whole population and to transfer from one territory to another surplus stocks existing in one and lacking in the other, and if the president of the United States will undertake the selection of these agents, His Majesty's Government will give them every assistance and admit into such territories any imported food supplies necessary to supplement native stocks and afford the population a fair subsistence ration, as long as it is satisfied that the enemies are scrupulously observing their part of the agreement.

The Alternative.

"If this offer is refused or a reply delayed until the harvest in the occupied territory begins to be gathered, His Majesty's Government will hold them responsible and will exact such reparation as can be secured by the Allied arms or enforced by the opinion of the neutral world for every civilian life lost through insufficient nourishment in the territory occupied."

MINISTER NON-COMMITTAL

Declares Ample Steps Will Be Taken to Safeguard Important Resources.

TORONTO, July 27.—Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, minister of mines, lands and forests, informed an influential deputation from Northern Ontario, which waited upon him today to urge upon the Government the advantages of North Bay as a location for a nickel refinery, that he was thoroughly in accord with the view that the refinery should be established at some point in Northern Ontario where it legitimately belonged, and that his influence would be exerted in that direction.

The minister declared that at the next session of the Legislature after the report and recommendations of the nickel committee had been brought down, the Government would enact legislation, which would not only amply safeguard the nickel industry, but allow the people of Ontario to get a fair share of the profits accuring from the commercialization of Ontario's nickel ores.

Mr. Ferguson declined, however, to express himself in favor of any particular locality.

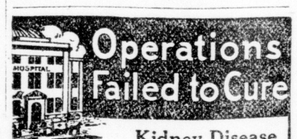

The deputation, 50 strong, was representative of boards of trade and town and township councils as far north as Cochrane, east to Mattawa, northwest to Sudbury and south to Burks Falls.

Shark, Shark, Cry Bathers at Port But It's Only Boy

Crowd Gets Excited and Many Identify "Fish" From Shore.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PORT STANLEY, July 27.—A panic was created among the bathers here Thursday afternoon when the cry of "Shark! Shark!" floated across the water in an unmistakable feminine voice. Many made for the beach at once without waiting to investigate the alarm. Others scanned the surface of the water, but when their eyes lighted on a dark object some four hundred yards out in the lake they too, made for the beach. An excited group gathered in front of the Casino. Without a doubt it was a shark, they all reasoned. One of those dreaded monsters that have caused bathers to be few at the Atlantic summer resorts.

An excited chorus of "Yes, that's its black nose." "Look at the splash from its tail." "I just saw a fin move," and "Willie, let's go home," gave some idea of the excitement of the crowd.

Some daring youths created a thrill by storing a canoe full of clubs and announcing their intention of giving battle to the "ferocious beast." Bravely they paddled close to the "shark." The closer they got the less the object looked like a shark. If it was one it was a new species altogether.

The watchers saw them reach their destination, haul something into the boat and start for shore. When they arrived a weather-tanned lad of thirteen was with them. "It's a pity a fellow can't use a log to learn to swim on his back," he grumbled. The crowd melted.

BOY'S FOOT GASHED

Visitors at Port Stanley Careless About Disposing of Glass and Tin.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PORT STANLEY, July 27.—Arthur Hosak, a Woodstock boy, summering at Port with his parents, stepped on a broken bottle in the lake Thursday afternoon and received a gash that required medical attention.

Cuts from glass and tins on the beach and in the lake are becoming too frequent. Picnickers have got into the habit of throwing refuse and waste pieces of glass and tin on the beach where bathers are most frequent. The beach at many points has been made impossible for sun bathers and children wishing to play in the sand. Garbage tins are in convenient places for the use of these picknickers. Chief of Police Hector McIntosh announces his intention of prosecuting offenders along this line.

A NEW EDUCATION.

JUST BEFORE the war began there was a new stirring in Great Britain towards educational reform. One of the leading advocates of a more democratic, efficient and systematic school training for all was Lord Haldane. The key-note of the new movement was "equal opportunity."

Socialists and visionaries have talked of dividing property and incomes equally, of the natural equality of men. But realists know that there is no natural equality, or at any rate, that men's parts are too complicated for any conclusion to be possible. What is possible, argued the new reformers, is the provision of equal educational opportunity for all boys and girls to develop the talents they have.

This equal opportunity was the subject of various tentative proposals made by Lord Haldane in speeches on his favorite theme. He spoke of a grand system of scholarships and helps provided by the Government, of personal direction given to individual scholars in finding out and training for their life's calling, and of a nice balance between the general education for life and the specialized vocational training.

Not only the school, but the physical development and social relations of boys and girls have to be properly looked after. Opportunity must be made complete. When this ideal is carried into practice, it will, at any rate, not be possible for men and women to speak with bitterness of what they might have been but for circumstances. The twentieth-century elegiast will not say, like Gray two hundred years ago over the poor villagers' graves, that "Their lot forbade." Men will not eternally have to be "breaking their birth's invidious bar." That may be all very well for some wonderful few, such as Lloyd George or J. J. Hill, but more men are broken against the bars of birth and inferior educational opportunity.

When the war is over, will Great Britain be able, under crushing burdens of debt and pension lists, to make headway in this great program? She will have to. There is no standing still possible. Already in some countries, especially favored new lands such as Canada, there is a near approach to the goal of equal educational opportunity. Public libraries, as well as public schools, do wonders.

Is it posible even to attain the aim of an equal social opportunity? The church has not quite succeeded in that direction, after centuries of trial. Private agencies or enterprises like the Y.M.C.A. or Y.W.C.A. have done something. But more is needed. Especially in large cities there are blocks of people who hardly understand a truly socialized existence. Many long to be socially organized, but, nevertheless, the mortal millions live much alone, to adopt a saying of Matthew Arnold. There is a vast scope for educational progress along the line of the suggestive slogan, equal opportunity for all.

HEARST'S "OLD MAN OF THE SEA."

HUNTING with the liquor party hares, while running with the temperance hounds, has brought the Hearst Government to a sorry state of affairs, and the announcement that the South Toronto by-election, caused by the death of Hon. J. J. Foy, is to be held on August 21 means that the Government must shut its eyes and swallow a bitter dose of medicine.

The Hearst Government permitted itself to become entangled with the liquor interests of the province in such a manner as to give the distillers, brewers and liquor stores controlling interest in the Government. The liquor men expended large sums of money to defeat Mr. Rowell's policy, financed Tory picnics, and acted as banker for the campaign fund. For this they were promised protection, and for a certain term they received protection. Mr. Hearst personally may not have been involved in the unholy alliance, but he went to the premiership either an innocent infant unfit to hold the reins of power, or a man with his eyes open as to existing conditions. The Advertiser believes that he is personally sincere in his present attitude toward the liquor question, and that he performed a courageous act when he abolished the evil during wartime. But he invited the ruin of his party by daring to enact such legislation, and he has to deal with those of his party who are allied and have long been allied with the liquor-selling organization. These "booze" voters are now so numerous in his party that they have organized themselves to teach him a lesson. The premier must face this condition of affairs in Toronto, where the consumption of liquor is enormous and the influence of the trade tremendous. He took his political life in his hands when he enacted wartime temperance legislation, just as Mr. Rowell did when he launched the "Abolish-the-Bar" campaign. The result is that the liquor vote is likely to go against him in the Toronto by-election. He has said that he would rather go down to defeat on his policy than renounce it. That was the attitude of a man of conviction, upon whom, unfortunately, is fastened "an old man of the sea." If he tries to throw off the old man he himself goes down, and the race is to the other contestant. And the handicap was self-imposed.

The vote untouched by the liquor influence will vote largely Liberal, as has been the fashion in provincial elections. The Government policy in Ontario has little to commend it, aside from its prohibitive act, and dissatisfaction with the Conservative party as a whole will play the same part as in North Perth.

KIND WORDS OR DOLLARS.

WOULD you rather die leaving 100 million dollars like Hetty Green or,

Would you rather die like James Whitcomb Riley, leaving 100 million friends?

Would you rather gather the millions of Hetty Green and hoard them away or,

Would you rather gather the kind words of James Whitcomb Riley and give them away?

The difference between Hetty Green and Whitcomb Riley is that one hoarded up something that cannot be carried into the next life, while the other gave away his possessions, yet in a sense took them with him—and certainly not to make heaven a duller place.

MIDDLESEX 135TH TO THE FRONT.

MIDDLESEX County is taking leave of its brave sons, ere they depart to take their place in upholding the rights of mankind. It was undreamed of in the philosophy of county sires and mothers that their boys should one day form the fine fighting unit that now goes to contend against the war fiends. Difficult it was a few brief months ago to think that the peaceful fields and valleys of this smiling land that nurses London in its breast should soon yield a legion of warriors. It was not conceivable that there would be more cruel wars, much less that the martial god should reach into the peaceful homes of the county and gather a host of men, whose command it is that they shall go forth to protect the world from the most crushing iron heel of tyranny.

Middlesex, with its warm rural life and its hearty good farmer friendship, was the very symbol of peace. Maid and man were mated and wed, and the good stock continued for generations. There was health and wealth in the deep mother soil of this Canadian shire. The very cows and sheep, dogs and country horses are woven into the picture that the boys will carry away. The song of the bird in Middlesex will soon be taken up in Flanders for the waiting ears of these great boys of ours.

Middlesex is the mother of the regiment, bless her, and her spirit goes with Lieut.-Col. Bart Robson and his sturdy men. He is a son of the county, who personifies the county that gave him birth, and whatever of individuality the county has, it is embodied in the fine farmer who has gathered the hundreds of his duty-pledged brothers and neighbors to his side. He and his officers and men have done their county and their country the supreme service of casting their lives upon the cleansing stream that strives to divert the befouled currents of Prussianism, born in the polluted Hohenzollern springs. In Middlesex and in London their names shall ring as they launch into the maelstrom "with a heart for any fate." As they leave, the thought comes home that no cause is vain which reaches into the homes of such a county and rouses men to carry the sword of liberty into a foreign land. Crusaders of humanity all!

As they come close to the day of departure one feels that inscribed in the hearts of all are paraphrased the noble lines of Rupert Brooke:

If I should die think only this of me;
That there's some corner of a foreign field,
That is forever Middlesex.

GERMANY'S CRY FOR HELP.

WHILE the Germans profess great satisfaction over the announcement that Turkish troops have been sent to their assistance on the east front, when they are needed so sorely in Asia Minor, the incident is probably causing them secret alarm.

The Germans must be in a bad way, indeed, when such extreme sacrifice on the part of the Ottoman Government is necessary. The grand duke's drive on the Caucasus and Persian fronts is again assuming gigantic proportions. The loss of Erzingan compels the Turks to retire west 150 miles to Sivas, or south to Diarbekr, on the Tigris. In either direction transportation will be difficult without the aid of railways. The recent gains of Grand Duke Nicholas along the Black Sea will facilitate provisioning and reinforcing of his men, so that today he is in better shape for continuing his drive than at any time in the past. With the morale of the Turks close to panic it would not be surprising to learn that the Russians were making rapid progress southwest to the Bagdad railway, possession of which would cut off all the Turkish troops south of Mosul.

Under these adverse conditions the Turks are obliged to send succor, such as they can give, to their lord and master on the Russian front. Bulgarians, it is reported, have sent men to help the Austrians. What must be the sentiment in those countries, which were led to believe that the invincible Teutons would be their mainstay through the war, when so soon they are called to the rescue of their great ally? And what will be their feelings when they realize that their great ally is being steadily and surely driven back in the two great war areas?

ICE-BOX CRITICS.

In London, Ont., according to the official figures issued by the Government, the temperature on Monday was 97. This should reconcile the Forest City's soldiers now at Camp Borden to their lot. Conditions at the training ground may make it seem hotter there than at home, but it is not.—Montreal Gazette.

LONDON soldiers are not afraid of the worst burning hot weather Camp Borden can offer. They objected to a moving-picture rehearsal of five hours without water, tongues swollen and nostrils plugged with ash dust, for the glory of Sir Sam Hughes.

Despite the sneers of H. F. Gadsby and others of Hughes' parlor car critics, London soldiers are doing their duty by Canada, and will continue to do so. Men who revolted against Camp Borden horrors were not all from London, showing that Western Ontario has no monopoly of the nation's red-blooded manhood.

H. F. Gadsby, from a comfortable seat beside Sir Sam Hughes' refrigerator, recommends axe handles for the heads of the soldiers who revolted against the cruelties of Camp Borden. Such icebox critics had better get into khaki and do 24 miles through Borden's inferno before they again demonstrate their need of an alienist. Or they might secure positions as special pleaders for the kaiser.

The Counterplot

By Keith Kenyon.

Susy opened and closed her fan impatiently while Bob went on pleadingly: "You used to care, Sue, I'm positive you did. At least you were awfully nice to me, and at the Washington ball you didn't mind a bit when I took six dances. It's all I can do now to get one."

"Bob, you're greedy! Just because it happened that you got more than your share of dances once you expect the same thing forever: Can't you see it's impossible? About twenty men have asked me for dances tonight. Count it up yourself. How can I give every one of them six?"

"You are begging the question, Sue. If one must use plain English, here goes: You know I love you. I told you so two months ago, and you promised to answer my question in a week. That was the week Bert Ewing came, and you scarcely looked my way once while he was here. I guess you forget that I'm still waiting. I can't stand this suspense any longer. What is it to be—yes or no, Sue?"

The spring evening was warm, and the music of the orchestra floated out to them through open doors and windows. Above, a moon almost full looked down upon a wonderful world of lilacs, hyacinths and tulips. The girl and the man wandered down the gravel path until they came to the gate. It was hard even to pretend impatience on such a night, in such a garden, with the distant strain of music in the air.

She temporized. "Suppose it's no!"

"It's just about what I expected!" bitterly.

It was the spark needed to send the tinder into flame.

"You're jealous—that's what you are, and I'm sure it would be anything but heavenly bliss to spend the rest of my days with you. So I'll say no, since you're so anxious to hear it. And please remember that that means I have a right now to be nice to whomsoever I please—Bert Ewing or anyone else."

Bob made no answer. The music had stopped and the return to the house was made in silence.

Susy convinced herself that she had done exactly right in refusing Bob. "If I had said yes to him tonight, that would have meant slavery for the rest of my days. He would never let me dance with anyone else, or take walks, or go motoring with anyone but him. And after we were married he'd lock me up for fear of another person looking at me."

But that night, after she got into bed, somehow things looked different. The despair in Bob's eyes had gone straight to her heart and stayed there. So she cried herself to sleep and dreamed that she was eloping with Bert Ewing and that Bob, with the same heartbroken look, was following on a motorcycle. She stood up and held her hands out to him just as the cycle disappeared over an embankment. She woke with a scream.

"Bob, Bob!" she cried. "Oh! I thought he was dead!" And she sobbed softly into her pillow.

Daylight lightened her remorse, however. She realized now that although she was sure she loved Bob, she was just as certain that he was unduly jealous. And so her busy brain hatched a plan that was calculated to set everything right in the future. She would cure Bob's jealousy by making him believe she was going to marry some one else and then, when he had given up all hope forever and ever, she would tell him the truth and marry him upon the condition that she could do just as she pleased.

A simple "no" might be final with some people, but Susy knew Bob's persistency, and that, like truth, once crushed to earth, he was likely to rise again. The only way she knew was to substitute some one else to show Bob she meant what she said.

So she wrote the following letter to Bert Ewing and dispatched it forthwith:

"Dear Bert: You told me to count upon you when I needed a friend. I do need one now, and I want you to do me an unusual favor. I don't want to be engaged to you for two reasons—first, because I don't love you, and second, because you don't love me—but would it be convenient to let people think we were for a little while? You see (I may as well tell you) it's Bob. He's so jealous and I want to cure him before I take him for good and all. I refused him last night.

"Faithfully,

"SUE."

To which letter Bert replied in the affirmative, declaring his intention of spending the next two weeks in town anyway and saying they could "fix things up."

So Bert arrived and, by paying Susy constant attention and acting the part of the devoted lover, the rumor soon got abroad that they were engaged.

But, to Susy's consternation, the effect upon Bob was not all that could have been desired. Just as she had predicted, in spite of his hopeless look the night she had refused him he had rebounded with great elasticity, but in spite of all her scheming it was not in her direction. His spirits had risen like a barometer on a bright sunny day, the cause being apparently pretty Isabel Fleming, whose brother happened to be Bert Ewing's host.

Bert took Susy to dances and picnics, motoring, walking and riding. In the mornings they played golf or tennis and apparently had no desire for any other society than their own. But it was all lost on Bob, who was so busy enjoying himself that he had no time to see.

Secretly Susy raged. "Bob's making a perfect goose of himself. The idea of pretending to be so completely annihilated when I said no. Why, he's so crazy about that Fleming girl he's got everybody in town talking about them! I think she ought to be ashamed of herself, too! She knows he's always cared for me and she is doing all she can to get him away from me."

Bert had to leave finally, and Susy went with him to the station. There they met Isabel and Bob waiting for the same train. Susy's heart sank when she saw the traveling bags. It looked like a honeymoon! But, to her relief, Isabel said good-bye to her escort and turned to Bert as the train came in.

"Take good care of her!" called Bob.

"You bet I will!" returned Bert as he and Isabel disappeared inside.

Bob faced Susy. "May I drive you home?" It was the first time he had spoken since the night she had refused him.

"Yes," she answered. And then with a catch in her voice: "Oh, Bob, when you can't get Isabel you want me! Do you think it's fair? You've scarcely looked at me lately."

"It works both ways, I think," he said grimly. "You haven't had much time yourself."

"But I didn't mean anything, Bob. Really, there was nothing in it all."

"All right, I'm glad of it, but I don't see why you're telling me."

"Be——because I don't love any one but you, Bob, and I'm sorry I said no."

They were in the motor now and had taken the long way home. The road, walled in by trees on both sides, was quite secluded.

"You're sure you mean that, are you, Sue?"

"Yes, I'm sure! Very sure!"

He drew a long breath. "It's good to hear you say so, dear. I've always loved you devotedly and I do this minute, dear little Susy."

"But why were you so nice to Isabel?"

He hesitated. "We were good friends; that's all. Just like you and Ewing, I suppose. Do you know where they are going?"

"They? No."

"To be married. They've been engaged all along."

WAIT A MINUTE!

There is going to be a golf course at Camp Borden. A game of golf with ginger ale at the end is not so all-fired exciting.

Capt. Koenig of the submarine should sing that old anthem, "We don't know where we're going, but we're on our way—perhaps."

The appearance of Sir Rodmond Roblin and other politicians in a criminal court should have been a deterrent to other persons who obtain excessive profits, to put it mildly, but it seems to have been no lesson at all. There should be a flock of folks in jail when the war is over.

German farmers are making fortunes selling rabbits, we read. We hope to see the farmers on the jump soon, too.

Kaiser Bill has presented a fine excuse for some persons to remain out of the trenches. Blame God for it.

Oh well, there will be snow in December. We should worry.

The heat wave was not broken by the heavy rain, nor was it even slightly bent.

Rain may be on its way here, but it seems to have met pleasant company somewhere along the line.

This is the season of our discontent. We had to borrow a boy to go to the circus.

The trip of the board of trade to Cleveland showed the advantages of mutual trade between the two cities. The folks from here saw that Canadian product, Glad Graney, in action.

John Cowper Powys, he of the long hair and far-away look, who ofttimes has lectured in our midst, has written a volume of poems, one of which is culled and handed out:

Blow out the candles, my little one,
Lest more moths burn themselves;
The moon must soon give place to the sun,
And our watch by the dead be over and done;
O I am cold—cold!

Out of the marshes the wild geese rise
And float away on the misty skies;
And the ash-tree leaves on the pale grass shiver
To feel the dawn come up from the river.
O I am cold—cold!

Fetch sticks for the fire, my little son;
We know of what wood those are,
And who gathered them for us, one by one
As far as he went—how far!
Never again, son, never again!
Why does the dawn tap on the pane
Like a traveler sick and old?

O that this night might have lasted on!—
Listen! Is that their feet?—
With you and me, my little son,
And him there, under the sheet;
Lasted on and on and on!
O I am cold—cold!

* * *

However, we want to state right here that we are not a bit cold, not a dogone bit! In fact, we are rather "het up."

PREACH SERMONS.

Honorary Lieut.-Col. Revd. Bunkum Blank
Preached a sermon eulogizing Genl. Sam,
When speaking to the soldiers up at the training camp,
And his bouquets would a funeral carriage cram.

The soldiers, as they listened to the preacher's flowery talk,
Must have agonized to hold back a broad smile,
As they, one and all, remembered how, to honor the great man,
They'd been hard worked, dry, for many a weary mile.

'Tis dangerous to sermonize, the subject being alive,
Even in the case of men of normal type;
And more dangerous still to do the same, the man being yet on deck,
And for fool tricks and antics always ripe.

That much-betitled shepherd, when preaching to the men,
Better point the path of virtue and its joys,
And waste no time lauding a man who needs no help,
To raise sardonic laughter 'mongst "His Boys."

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

Where Did It Go?

Dear Miss Grey,—I read your page every evening, though not to see the acknowledgment of receiving my letter, inclosing 2 blocks, 1 blue and 1 red and white, and 10 cents for "Aunt Nannie's" quilt. And the titles of 12 songs, and a stamped, addressed envelope for sigarette flags. I sent it three weeks ago. Hoping it is not lost, and that you will kindly look it up, I remain,

REKA DOM.

P. S.—I see where "Farmer's Wife" has trouble with her chicks. Feed them wet cornmeal until they get old enough to pick the wheat. I feed cornmeal for about two months, and I never have any trouble.—R. D.

Ans.—"Reka," your blocks or letter never came at all, and I don't believe you can be any more sorry than I am that they went astray.

The blocks of several others seem to have found the same fate, and apparently came to an end in the "D. L. O."

Aunt Nannie's Thanks.

Dear Cynthia Grey and Mail-Box Friends.—This oppressive heat has been too much for my weak heart, and I've not read much only "oor page," so after reading in paper received this morning "Snow Bird's" letter, I looked over back papers to see what "editorial" she meant. You dear people to take up the cudgels in my defence. It seemed so awful to need assistance, as we have always before been able to help others. I am sending with this a letter from a minister, affidavits from deaconess and others, so you may know we are reliable Christian people. I was sorry to see by a letter someone missed cosmos seed, as I have a quantity of self-seeded. I can send plants to anyone who wishes them. I have some pink in bloom; have inclosed a blossom, also a little Dorothy Perkins rose from our vine-covered porch. We have had cosmos blooms for more than a week. I was hoping I could some way have postcard pictures of the "Patriotic Lovequilt" for each one that makes a block. I want to have the quilt exhibited at the town and county fairs. No other quilt can have a history like that one. Each stitch a heart throb for another's grief and sorrow. When I read of the poor boys at Camp Borden, something seemed to grasp my throat and nearly strangle me—the dear, tired, thirsty fellows—each one some mother's boy, and all willing to go to the front. I hope they are more comfortable now. My love goes out to you all. You dear people who in the midst of your own sorrow have time and thought for one who, though an American, belongs to the same fraternity of a soldier's mother. AUNT NANNIE.

N. B.—I sent you by this morning's mail a black rose bead necklace. I only wish I could have put a clasp on it. I also sent samples of salt and starch beads, bread beads and spice beads. I had strung and sent away the good ones, but these samples will shew what they are like. The large, pinkish ones on string with spice beads are the bread crumb beads. They are nice, as they can be worn any time, the salt and rose beads are apt to be affected by excessive perspiration and stain the neck if worn inside collar on very warm days.

Ans.—Readers will be glad to hear from you once more, "Aunt Nannie." The quilt will delight your heart, I am sure. Some of the Cynthians are such good needleworkers, and have made their blocks quite artistic. I am writing you privately about the quilt, and hope to send the blocks to you next week.

The cosmos blooms were lovely, and I only hope my own turn out half as large. Re sending them to any reader, I'm afraid the poor things would not stand traveling in this heat. Am printing your bead formulas. So far your package of beads has not yet come to hand, but I shall be looking for it.

A Busy "Thelma."

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am again. I guess I should have sent in my stamped envelopes for the coupons (Comfort soap or Gillet's lye) before, but we have been so busy with the strawberries—we have sold 2,500 quarts this year. The raspberries and black currants are getting quite ripe.

1. What can I put on my arms and face to take off the tan? Believe me, you would think I was a Jew.

I copied out "The Lips That Touch Liquor Shall Never Touch Mine," and Monday it was published, so I will not send it in.

Say, don't you think we girls from the Collegiate should get our promotion as well as the boys? I have been working at home since Easter. My writing and spelling were both so poor I would not try my departmental exam. this year.

Papa is calling for me to spray the potatoes, so I will have to leave.

Say, my sister has mumps. What will cure them? With luck from,

THE THIRD THELMA.

Ans.—You will receive the coupons probably before you see this in print. What a busy girl you must be to help in picking all that fruit. No wonder you are tanned. The next time you are in town get a box of peroxide lotion; it will help some, I think, but don't be ashamed of tan. It is a sign of a healthy, happy outdoor life.

Sorry to hear "sister" is afflicted with the mumps. She is best under the doctor's care, so I shall not "prescribe."

Inquisitive Oriole.

Dear Miss Grey,—1. Could you give me a sure remedy for freckles (summer and winter varieties), telling how and when remedy is applied?

2. Are raw eggs of any use in helping a person to become fat?

3. What will take oil stains out of a green coat?

ORIOLE.

Ans.—1. No, I cannot vouch for the sureness of a freckle remedy. If readers have discovered one, I hope we may hear from them.

2. They are supposed to have special tissue-building properties. Maybe taken whole and unbroken, or beaten up with the addition of milk, sugar and a very little vanilla or nutmeg.

3. Afraid they could not be removed without affecting the color of the coat. To press them with brown paper over the stains might help. Use a fairly hot iron.

Sorry for Tommy.

Dear Miss Grey,—Have just been reading "Tommy Atkins" letter, and feel so sorry to think she has to lie a-bed this weather. Sorry, too, to think all the velvet rugs were gone before her letter reached you. I found one, and am sending it on for you to send to her. I have had a letter from "Bizzie," thanking me for the patches, and she has sent me a lot of nice crochet patterns. Have also heard from "Mother of Four," who is also a very "busy" woman, and would put many a younger person to shame the amount of work she can get through.

Have also found some "Flannelette" gum flags. Anyone want them?

Thanks, "Curly Bob," for the information re "Daylight Saving—the Origin Of." WYNNE.

Do you have any calls for print patches or wool material?

Ans.—I'm sorry for "T. A.," too, Wynne, and was wondering if our correspondents wouldn't like to give her a postal card "shower." It might cheer the long hours a bit. Your rug flags, together with an odd one I chanced to have, is being sent to "T. A."

Now, you folks to whom "Wynne" couldn't send patches, what shall we do with the stamps you sent me? "Wynne" has returned them all to me. They may come in useful again, or I'll return them if you wish, reserving postage.

Oh, "Wynne," people are just crazy for the flannelette flags, so you needn't hesitate to send them at "onct."

The Light Brigade.

Dear Miss Grey,—Can you print or send me for stamped addressed envelope, Tennyson's "Charge of the Light Brigade"? Please answer this as soon as possible. With thanks in advance, I remain, AUTUMN.

Ans.—Don't you live near a library copy of the famous poem? I shall see that a copy is inserted for you, anyway, on our page. Re the "surprise," guess I missed it too. I was away from the Mail-Box for a while, and it must have happened then.

Help of All Sorts.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a very interested reader of your page ever since it started, and although I have resolved to "do my bit," this is my first appearance, but I assure you I will call again, if I may.

Poor little "Puss in Boots" has trouble with her glass pitchers. So, too, did I, until I read the following in a magazine: "Put a large tablespoonful of common salt in whatever article is water-stained; moisten with good vinegar and rub over all parts; let stand a few minutes before washing, and, lo! all stains are gone."

To clean light (not white) kid gloves try this home cleanser: Wet a small sponge in clean, sweet milk; then rub over castile or any pure white soap; then rub all over soiled glove. Rinse off, sponge, and use fresh milk to rinse glove. Clean on the hand. This leaves it soft, with gloss of a new glove.

As it is preserving time, must give one recipe more, or it will be too late.

Fruit Jelly—One box each of red raspberries, red cherries, red currants, prepare as for canning; cut in pieces one box seedless raisins and three peeled oranges. Mash all together and add an equal amount of sugar, and cook about 45 minutes, or until thick, as required. This is delicious. I always double amounts. Can in small glasses.

AGNUS.

Ans.—Glad you didn't delay your visit any longer, for we would then have missed your hints and recipe. Hope you remember your promise and call again.

Profits and Poultry.

Dear Miss Grey,—After reading the article in your issue of July 7th, headed "An Appeal to the Soldier Wives," I feel that I must write and express my disapproval of the sentiments expressed therein.

Briefly, the idea was that in anticipation of a number of our soldiers coming home with their nerves in such a condition that they will require perhaps a year or two to recover, it was suggested that their wives start vegetable or fruit gardens, keeping bees or raising poultry, so that the husband can, when fit, do this light work while his wife, if necessary, finds other employment to keep the pot boiling. What gratitude from such a splendid country as Canada and what a homecoming for our heroes!

Five hundred thousand men go across the sea to fight for us, to defend our rights, and give us liberty. "When the boys come marching home" we tell their wives to go out to work to keep the home fires burning; such treatment will be a blot on the name of Canada; the country is capable of better things, and I feel sure she will rise to the occasion.

Intensive farming is a science, and even if our boys get the land (which by the way, for such farming must of necessity be close to town and be very valuable land), where are they to get experience? It is easy enough to say raise vegetables and fruit, but that does not get results. I will repeat again, it is a science and takes years of hard work and experience to understand.

It requires a thousand times more skill to get a living (or even a profit) off 3, 10 or 40 acres than it does off the 320 acres one can get out here.

Now, with reference to poultry farming, your correspondent gives much misleading information; she gives an instance of two Quebec ladies, without capital, who started poultry farming with "One hen and eight chicks," must mean eight chicks, anyhow say eight full-grown hens. "Inside of two years these ladies cleared $500 on poultry alone." I am afraid that some of the farm women in Ontario are awfully slow. Figure it out, Miss Grey: Eight chickens and their increase, no capital, no runs, no buildings, no feed, no experience—result, $500 profit in two years.

Ontario farm wife, or say a professional poultry farmer: 100 hens and their increase, good buildings, 20 years' experience, good runs, good pasture—What is the corresponding profit?

How many make it?

There is money in poultry farming, but there is also a—well, a science in it. To make a profit, and the maximum profit, poultry requires every attention, buildings and runs, costing considerable money, and there are other expenses too numerous to mention here. Hens will rustle for their keep and lay eggs when they are cheap, but there is no money in it. One has to get eggs all the year round. Cockerels have to be fattened up and marketed at the right time, and it is one person out of 500 that will be able to start right in and make headway from the first, or even make any profit at all. "Anyone can keep chickens, but chickens will not keep anyone."

I would be very interested to see the accounts kept by those two Quebec ladies. I do not say they did not make a success of poultry farming, but I do say it is impossible for anyone to start with eight hens, charge everything up to their business as poultry farmers that should be charged up, and make $500 clear in two years. They could not have charged up the cost of buildings, etc.

There is only one way for Canada to use her sons who come home broken in health, and who require even as long as two years in which to recuperate, and that's to use them as sons and foot the bill. She can afford it and let us by all means say we will afford it. It is the cost of war. We gave $23,000,000 away just lately to two great railroad coporations, and here all our boys come home after two years of the most nerve-racking experience, away from home, from wife and the bairns; they are stunned, they are weak, they are racked to pieces, a large number; they want peace, they want rest and love. We break up their home, we send the wife and mother out to work to keep the pot boiling—where—in nine cases out of ten it will be in a factory.

Lots of these men love their wives with a true, strong love. Can you picture their feelings when they see another partner in this great and glorious heritage of ours, "Canada," drive by in a swell automobile, forgetful of the debt they owe to the crippled hero, and who even tell him to send his wife out to work?

I saw where a correspondent was asking for information re the 65th Saskatoon Battalion. This battalion has been in England a week or more. The landing was announced in the same issue as the question was asked in.

Please excuse this writing; the longer the letter, the faster I write, trying to catch up. It's a failing of.

A LONELY HOMESTEADER.

Ans.—This letter is of very great interest, and I should like to hear from others in respect to profits of poultry farming. Some of our busy farmers' wives, please write.

Daily Bible Question Club

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.
(All Rights Reserved.)

The six daily studies for this week constitute the International S. S. Lesson for next Sunday. Read the Bible Story on which this study is based, as you ponder the following questions:

The word of the cross.—1 Cor, 1:1, 2:5.

Golden text.—Far be it from me to glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ. Gal. 6:14.

15. Verses 17-25. Why is salvation through Jesus' death on the cross foolishness to worldly-wise men?

16. Wht is "the power of God" which the "saved" experience, and through which the wisdom and love of God are seen in the cross of Christ?

17. Why is it that the wisdom of the ages has been so important to save men from their sins, while belief in a crucified Saviour has been all powerful to do this.

London Rowing Club Bowlers Win the Three W. O. B. A. Trophies.

James Bell's Rink Wins Labatt Trophy

Premier Trophy of W.O.B.A. Tournament Goes to London Rowing Club—W. J. Snelgrove's Quartet Captures Tecumseh Trophy From J. McDougall, Who Wins McNee Cup.

Fred Beltz, Dr. J. A. Wright, J. A. Connor and James Bell of the London Rowing Club comprised the rink that won the Labatt trophy at the Western Ontario Bowling Association, which was brought to a close last night, defeating F. N. Allen's Thistle Club rink in the final game, 21 to 19.

In the semi-finals for the premier trophy, James Bell won out from James McDougall, 16 to 10, and F. N. Allen defeated W. J. Snelgrove, 19 to 12, leaving the Thistle and the Rowing Club to fight it out for the finals.

As was natural, the finals for the Labatt trophy was the principal attraction during the afternoon, and the game provided plenty of excitement for both players and spectators. It was nip and tuck right from the start, first one rink leading, and then the other. When the final end came, Bell was lying four shots to the good, and although Allen's rink tried hard to win out, the best they could do was to get two shots, which left them two down.

London again came to the front in the Tecumseh trophy, when W. J. Snelgrove's Rowing Club rink won out in the final game from Dr. Wylie of Brantford, 16 to 14. In the semi-finals Dr. Wylie administered a 20 to 15 defeat to A. A. Langford, and W. J. Snelgrove won out from James McDougall, 25 to 16. This is the third time that a Rowing Club rink has won the Tecumseh trophy, and it now becomes the permanent property of the club.

C. K. Bluett, Dr. Jarvis, A. A. Langford and James McDougall got into the semi-finals of the McNee trophy, and Bluett and McDougall went into the finals by defeating Jarvis and Langford respectively, 25 to 16 and 23 to 16. In the finals McDougall defeated Bluett, 15 to 13.

In the play-off for the third and fourth prizes in this event, Dr. Jarvis lost to A. A. Langford, 15 to 18.

McDonald and Rennie defeated Thrower and Smith, 16 to 13 in the final game of the Scotch doubles (primary match), and in the play-off for the third and fourth prizes, Chambers and Little defeated Stewart and Taylor, 20 to 12.

In the second match of the Scotch doubles, Polson and Walker defeated Downey and Arnett, 17 to 12, and Pastorius and Bedford got the long end of a 14 to 6 score from Bush and Loveless. The final game was one of the closest of the tourney, Pastorius and Bedford winning from Polson and Walker, 15 to 14.

W.O.B.A. Tourney Draws Criticism From Bowlers

C. O. Knowles Points Out Weak Spots in Present System—Says Results Bear Out Claim That London Rinks Had Advantage of Draw.

The following letter has been received by The Advertiser from C. O. Knowles of Toronto, with reference to the Western Ontario Bowling Tournament.

Mr. Knowles skipped one of the Toronto rinks in the tourney, and is a bowler of wide experience. His criticism is very fair and no doubt expresses the views of a number of the out-of-town rinks.

Dear Sir,—As a participant in the recent bowling tournament held under the auspices of the W. O. B. A., and speaking as a bowler interested only in the development of the game, and the perfection of the system under which bowling tournaments are being conducted, permit me to offer a few words of criticism of the plan tried out in London this week.

I am aware of the fact that the new draw was an experiment, and I want to congratulate the officials of the W. O. B. A. for a courageous and honest attempt to remedy some of the long-standing grievances of the old system. That the new plan was not an unqualified success in its first try out is no fault of the officials, nor does it necessarily damn the system, although some of the players may have been tempted to express it in that way. The new plan could only be tested in operation. The test has been well worth while, because it has shown that it has many objectionable features, which, however, are not necessarily fatal defects. I believe that many, if not all, of the faults can be rectified, and I am confident that the executive enriched with this year's experience, will be able to devise means for obviating the worst of these, and thus produce a system which has much to commend it.

The playing of a fixed number of games in order to qualify for final rounds is a good idea, but as worked out this week it was very unsatisfactory and positively unfair.

In the first place the drawing of all the London rinks against all the outside clubs was a cardinal mistake—although done with the best of intentions—as it was an undoubted advantage to the London rinks, which became more apparent with each day's play. The theory that because London had an entry of thirty rinks, the rinks were much weaker than would have been the case had a dozen picked rinks been entered, and thus the outside clubs enjoyed an advantage, will not bear close examination. The reverse is the case. Every skip who has had any experience in visiting tournaments away from home knows that it is not so much a question of how to get the strongest rink as it is of how to get any rink. The material available for rinks when several days' absence from home and considerable financial outlay is involved, is distinctly restricted. The large choice of players is always with the clubs playing in their own home town.

It would have been better and would have added variety to the play if for the first two or three games a pure draw had been made irrespective of how the teams lined up. In order to avoid the possibility of collusion the draw for the fourth and fifth rounds could be arranged so that no two rinks from the same town would play together.

In the second place, the playing of London against the world meant that every default—and, of course, there were several—went to a London rink. With five games played the defaults were repeated in the second, third, fourth and fifth rounds, which meant that with five rinks failing to make the tournament, no less than twenty-five defaults were distributed amongst the thirty London rinks, an average of nearly one apiece, and as it worked out many getting two, and I believe, one rink getting three.

This difficulty might be overcome by adjusting the draw so that rinks getting defaults on the first day would play against each other, and thus would actually play the specified number of games.

The defaulting was rendered more objectionable on account of the plus score of three points, which was awarded in such cases. The unfairness of this is apparent when it is remembered how many hard fought games are decided by a single shot.

The fact that only one outside rink qualified for the eights is not conclusive proof that the draw was unfair, but rather supports the theory that the odds in favor of a London rink winning the tournament were about ten to one.

When the time came for figuring out who were the rinks that had qualified it was found that only three had gone through without a single defeat, and each of these had a win by default. Quite a number had lost only one game. Those with the largest plus score were eligible, and one of these had enjoyed two defaults. There were three rinks tied with the same plus score for the last two places among the fortunate prizewinners. The three names were put in a hat and the first name drawn was "eliminated," the other two getting a place. The man drawn out of the hat happened to be R. B. Rice of Toronto.

Rice took it with a smile, but it cannot be disputed that judged by the actual play of he qualifying rounds he was more entitled to a place than some of the fortunate rinks which qualified partly on defaults and the plus scores thus secured.

On account of the accident of the draw the plus score awarded with defaults put two, and possibly three, London rinks in the final group.

I have still faith in the system which provides for playing a definite number of games in order to qualify for the eights, but it is apparent there are many features which must be altered.

It is interesting to note that the Dominion tournament committee is also trying out a new system on August 14th. It is quite different from the London plan, and while it may develop some flaws it will not be open to these objections. I have not attempted to do more than point out what I consider are faults in the new system. It has also many good features which are equally apparent.

Yours in the interests of the game.

C. O. KNOWLES.

WELSH AND LEONARD IN SHAPE FOR BIG SCRAP

New York, July 28.—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, will face Benny Leonard, a contender for the title, in what is scheduled as a ten-round bout at an open air boxing club in Brooklyn tonight. Both pugilists completed their training yesterday afternoon, and Leonard expects to weigh in below the lightweight limit in order that there may be no question regarding his right to the title should he succeed in stopping Welsh. Billie Roche will act as referee, but no decision can be rendered by him under the New York state boxing rules, if both boxers are on their feet at the end of the ten rounds.

Catcher Patsy Hailey of the Buffalo Internationals has been sold to the Philadelphia Americans.

Manager Bill Carrigan of the champion Red Sox has begun calling in reinforcements for his big "western drive." He has recalled Vean Gregg, the veteran southpaw, from Buffalo, and he will report for the opening game at Detroit on Saturday. Carrigan has been endeavoring to come to terms with Smoky Joe Wood, but instead of agreeing, as at first announced, they have agreed to disagree. Wood wanted $7,500, but the Sox leader balked. The deal that recalls Vean Gregg from Buffalo provides for the sending of Pennock to replace the old-timer.

After Pomp won the fifth race at Hamilton he was claimed by E. Trotter for $2,000. Three claims were put in for Conowingo, and G. Alexander secured her for $1,400. W. Alexandra and D. A. Ewert also had claims in for the filly.

The stewards of the Hamilton Jockey Club have handed out a notice refusing the entry of the horse Thornhill for the balance of the meeting for inconsistent riding.

Pitcher J. E. Coffindaffer of the Pittsburg Nationals has been released to the Minneapolis team of the American Association. He was recently obtained by the Pirates from the Chillicothe Club of the Ohio State League.

The fund being raised in New York to purchase a gift for Christy Mathewson now totals over $600. Donations ranging from five cents to $100 have been received, not only from New York fans, but from all over the country.

Coveleski is billed to start for the Tigers today with Harper or Gallia as Griffith's choice.

Following is the card for the final day of the Detroit Blue Ribbon meet, the feature of which will be the 2:06 trot:

2:06 trot, purse $1,200—Joan, Guy Nella, Lizzie Brown, Lucile Spier, Mirthful, Omar.

2:05 pace, purse $1,200—Camelia, Don Densmore, General Todd, Joe Patchen II, John Malcolm, Jones Gentry, Leila Patchen.

2:12 trot, purse $1,200—Brescia, Donna Clay, Esperanza, San Felipe, Vanko, Worthy Prince, George N. Patterson.

2:07 pace, purse $1,200—Altawood, Bingen Pointer, Bondalin, Dicto, Hal Leaf, Hazel Armstrong, Pat Carmody, Polly Ann, Lord Seymour, Kate McKinney.

The champion Red Sox open at Detroit tomorrow for a series of six games. A double-header will be played in the afternoon, the first game commencing at 1:45. A number of local fans are taking advantage of the Maccabee excursion to see the games. The special will travel over the M. C. R. road, leaving London at 7:30, and arriving in Detroit at 10:15.

Manager Bill Carrigan of the Red Sox, is the proud possessor of a wrist watch, which was presented to him by admiring Toronto fans on his recent visit to that city.

Several of the major league clubs are after Jack Snyder of Macon, Ga. An offer of $3,000 from the Detroit club was recently turned down. The Athletics and both the St. Louis clubs are among the other big league clubs that are after him.

Steeplechase Jockey Stevenson, who was painfully injured as a result of riding Frijolee at Hamilton on Wednesday, is still unconscious in one of the Hamilton hospitals. When Stevenson fell, the horse, Jack Winston jumped on him.

A Polish band was responsible for holding up the game at Cleveland yesterday for ten minutes. Umpire Silk O'Loughlin ordered the band to stop playing, and when they did not do so stopped the game. Manager Lee Fohl of the Indians, protested, and after the argument had proceeded ten minutes the band finally stopped playing.

Twenty-eight days of solid racing are provided for the Windsor meets this fall. In addition to the usual two weeks' racing of the Windsor Jockey Club, the dates of the new Kenilworth track have been allotted for the first week in September and the corresponding week in October. The Kenilworth track is fast rounding into shape. The stand is ready and the track nearly so, and carpenters are at work erecting stables that will accommodate 700 horses. Thirty-three pari-mutuels machines will be used the first meeting, and if it is found that they are not sufficient the number will be added to for the second meeting. With the opening of the new track Windsor will become the most important racing centre in the Dominion.

Joe S. Jackson of Detroit, who is president of the Baseball Writers' Association, at its fall meeting will ask for a revision of several sections of the scoring code. He points out one play for which an official ruling is necessary. When two fielders collide after one has just caught the ball, and the ball is dropped as a result, there is no uniform rule, says Jackson. Some scorers credit the batsman with a hit and others charge an error against the fielder that dropped the ball.

Without doubt, Bill Rodgers, formerly of the Cincinnati Reds, and now guarding the keystone sack for the Portland (Ore.) team, is now the greatest baseball hero in the boundless west. A few days ago, while playing the Salt Lake team in the latter city, Bill executed a triple play unassisted. Only eight times, beginning with Paul Hines of the Providence National League team, May 8, 1878, has this been done. This is how Bill came into great fame:

Ryan singled, Orr walked. Then Guigini hit a terrific liner at Bill. At the crack of the bat Ryan and Orr began to sprint. Bill caught the ball, touched Orr as he sped along the line, raced back to second, touching it before Ryan, who sought to return to it, could reach it. Even the saddened Salt Lake fans couldn't refrain from according Bill an ovation.

Outfielder Wade Killifer has been sold by the New York National League Club to Louisville, Ky.

Boland Proves Effective Against Washington—Rube Oldring Gets Homer With Bases Full at Chicago, Winning Game for the Yankees.

DETROIT, July 27.—For the third time in as many days Washington lost to Detroit, the score being 7 to 4. Boehling, who opposed Boland, pitched good ball, but his support was erratic, and the misplays behind him were costly. Henry was put out of the game for arguing with Umpire Owen in the second inning. Veach was forced to retire when a ball that took a false bound hit him in the face. Harper replaced him and was in turn succeeded by Cobb, who has been out of the game because of his injury to his throwing hand. Score: R. H. E.

HOMER WINS IN NINTH.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Rube Oldring's homer with the bases full in the ninth crowned a five run rally that snatched victory from defeat today for New York. In the ninth Scott had the Yankees well in hand through Peckinpaugh's sacrifice, a home run and single had driven in three runs. In the third round Alexander was passed and Mullen, a pinch hitter, singled. Scott also walked Caldwell, filling the sacks with no one out. Wolfgang took the slab and forced Baumann out on a short fly. He then passed Peckinpaugh, forcing in a run, and fanned Pipp, but Oldring cracked the ball through the fence in left field for the round trip. Score: R. H. E.

MANITOBA TRIAL IS LIKELY TO CONTINUE FOR MANY WEEKS

Roblin Thinks It May Last Until Winter.

HORWOOD AGAIN WITNESS

For Fifth Time Is Telling of Construction of Parliament Buildings.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, July 27.—How long will the ex-ministers' trial last? How long will the jury selected Wednesday be kept under guard? Six weeks is the answer according to the general opinion expressed today, but the estimate varies from four to eight weeks.

Joking with some of the veniremen excused from duty, Sir Rodmond Roblin said today: "If you had been called upon to sit through this trial you would have gone home in sleighs." Sir Rodmond at the trial seemed to be quite at ease, conversing freely with his friends and with newspapermen. The three distinguished prisoners have not been placed in the prisoners' box, but are given seats behind their counsel inside the rail.

Horwood Witness Again.

For the fifth time, V. W. Horwood, former provincial architect, is telling, under oath, the story of his knowledge of the construction of the Manitoba Parliament Buildings. He took the stand in the assize court this afternoon as the first witness for the crown in the trial of Sir Rodmond Roblin, George R. Coldwell and James H. Howden, and a start was made in his evidence, which will be continued tomorrow.

R. W. Craig, K.C., in his preliminary address to the jury, traced the various "extras" for work on the buildings, and outlined what the crown would endeavor to prove.

R. A. Bonner, K. C., conducted the examination of Horwood, whose story began with the competition among architects for the securing of plans for the buildings. A. J. Andrews, K.C., for the defence, remarked, at one stage, that it was "quite evident the witness was prepared to say that anything he did at that time was wrong."

Desperate Fight Gives British Possession of German Second Line

PARIS, July 27.—The capture of the village of Pozieres from the Germans, military officers say, means that the British are in complete possession of the German second line in the Somme region.

The fight for Pozieres lasted eleven days, from July 14 to July 25. The place was defended by 200 machine guns of which all but 30 were destroyed or put out of action by the British artillery.

A species of fort in the centre of the village was defended by a company of Bavarian infantry. These troops resisted for twelve hours and at the end of that time only four men were found alive. In a dugout close by a heap of 60 bodies remained unburied.

The last defenders of the village were the men of a Bavarian battalion who were decimated as they crossed the 300 yards between the village and a cemetery where they made their last but unsuccessful stand.

NEW BRITISH VICTORY IN GERMAN EAST AFRICA

Enemy Forced From Strong Positions by General Northey.

LONDON, July 27.—8:15 p.m.—The following official on the progress of the campaign in German East Africa was given out tonight:

"Brig.-Gen. Northey reports that on July 24 he drove the main German southern detachment of the enemy from strongly organized positions across the new Irangari road at Milangil. After coupnter-attacks the enemy retired hurriedly in the directon of Irangi, abandoning a 4-inch howitzer and two machine gune.

"Among a number of German Europeans captured recently was Dr. Stir, late governor of the Neu Langenburg district. Dr. Stir has since died of wounds. A majority of the surviving members of the crew of the German cruiser Koenigsberg form a part of the German forces in this area."

LACHINE CANAL REOPENED.

MONTREAL, July 27.—Navigation is again in full swing in the Lachine Canal, the waste weir, which broke down on July 15 having been patched and a cofferdam put in.

STORM OF SHELLS FROM BRITISH GUNS ON DELVILLE WOOD

Every Yard Hit at the Rate of Three Per Minute.

LEAVES NOTHING ALIVE

Haig's Artillery Starts In To Clean Up Everything of Foe.

[BY FREDERICK PALMER.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN THE FIELD, July 27—5 p.m.—Via London, July 28—1:03 a.m.—The British went after Delville wood again today and took it. The Germans had been quiet because the British made no infantry attack, but all the while the machine guns had been rattling and the artillery had kept up a thunderous drumbeat in what before this offensive would have been referred to as a violent artillery duel. So commonplace has the continual bombardment become that one officer, whose post of duty is with the transport, just out of range of the shells, complains that he is awakened when there is a lull at night.

This morning the British artillery turned on Delville wood the heaviest artillery shelling ever directed against field fortifications. Even the gunners were amazed when they computed its volume per minute in preparing the way for the infantry. Counting the front a thousand yards, there must have been three shells a minute falling on every yard.

Started to Clean Up.

The purpose was to leave nothing standing—nothing living. Not a single German sniper in a tree, not a single German machine gun, but was to be put out of business before the tornado of blasts. Delville wood has left Trones wood with a tame reputation. The infantry of both sides there have no dugouts. Their only protection is shallow trenches, such as are dug in open field operations. A shell which tears a hole among the roots of a tree, killing a man, makes some protection for his neighbor who survives the scene.

Snipers and machine guns watch for any head that shows itself. Patrols which go out in the night engage in hand-to-hand encounters. The flash of a bursting shell may reveal one patrol to another, and give to it the advantage.

Take All But Acre.

When the infantry advanced this morning they did not expect to recover all the wood, but before the charge had finished they had taken all except about an acre of the northern end.

The troops engaged around Longueval and Delville wood, where the fighting exceeds in ferocity for the possession of the valuable ground anything yet seen in the offensive, have been both hardened regulars and new army battalions. The new army men, fresh from the English drill grounds, when put into this "hell's crucible" have shown the same racial stubbornness as the regulars.

"No shell fire could be worse than the way the teachers had pictured it to us," said one of the new army men. "We were expecting it all—machine guns, bombs, snipers, big shells and little shells—and so we were not surprised."

"Good Boys" All Right.

The commander of one famous division told the men if they were good boys and fought well when they attacked July 14 they would not be put permanently on the reserve, but would have another chance in the offensive. They had a week of this uninterrupted orgy, and when they came out to rest their commander informed them they had made good and could go back. The dust-caked veterans cheered this announcement.

"How anybody comes out of Delville wood alive is a miracle," said an officer, who had been in the thick of the struggle. "But I know men who were bowled over five times by shells, knocked down by branches of falling trees, whose scalps were cut with machine gun bullets, and yet came out."

This morning the British found there a hundred Germans, mostly with some kind of a wound, who had survived the fearful bombardment, which had left them stunned, and hugging the bottom of shell holes or the remains of their trenches.

FRENCH CHAMBER GIVES WAR COMMITTEES CONTROL

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, July 28.—The question of parliamentary control of the army was solved in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday by the adoption by 269 votes to 200 of a resolution to the effect that the chamber delegates to its war committees "the powers necessary for exercising effective control on the field and within the limits of their powers, as provided by the chamber order of June 22."

RUSSIANS CAPTURE 34,000 PRISONERS WITHIN NINE DAYS

Result of Sakharoff's Drive Against Teutons.

MANY GUNS ARE TAKEN

Vienna Says One Thousand Russians Were Made Prisoners.

PETROGRAD, July 27.—Via London, July 28.—2:03 a.m.—The official communications from general headquarters, issued today, say:

"During the battles between July 16 and 25 Gen. Sakharoff's troops captured 34,000 Germans and Austrians, 45 cannon and 71 machine guns.

"During the night of Wednesday nearly a company of the enemy launched an attack on our position south of Lake Voltchino to the north of Lake Miadziol. The attackers were driven back to their trenches.

"In the district of Lobuzy, southeast of Baranovichi, there were artillery duels and engagements with our front-line detachments.

"An attack by an enemy detachment of about 50 or 60 men launched Wednesday in the region of Urochistch-Bereznoie, about twelve versts northeast of Lake Vygona, was repulsed by our fire.

BERLIN'S REPORT.

BERLIN, July 27, via London.—The text of the German statement relating to operations on the eastern front, says:

"The Russians yesterday evening made a futile storming attack against our positions on the Shard River, northwest of Liachovichy. They also were sanguinarily repulsed west of Berestechk. Otherwise, apart from an outpost fight on the Komaira, south of Vidzy, which was only productive of severe enemy losses, there is nothing to report."

WHAT VIENNA SAYS.

LONDON, July 27.—9:01 p.m.—An Austrian official communication as received by Reuter's Telegram Company, says:

"Repeated severe enemy attacks yesterday afternoon between Radziviloff and the Styr collapsed.

"On the both sides of the road from Leszinow the Russians continued their efforts, but were repulsed after bitter fighting, leaving a thousand prisoners in our hands.

GINNELL'S SPEECHES BARRED HIM FROM IRISH PRISONERS

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 28.—Speeches which he had made to prisoners, describing them as martyrs and demonstrations held by the prisoners when he visited them, was given as the reasons by the crown attorney why Laurence Ginnell, Irish Nationalist member of Parliament for North Westmeath, had been refused permission to visit Irish prisoners in England, when hearing of the charge against him of attempting to gain admission into the Knutsford barracks, was resumed in the Bow street police court today.

Called Prisoners Martyrs.

The crown attorney said that when Ginnell visited the Irish prisoners at Stafford he told them they had done more for the Irish cause than anybody else, and that they were looked upon as martyrs. On a similar visit to the prison at Wandsworth there was a disturbance among the prisoners, who carried Ginnell around on their shoulders.

After this incident an order was issued refusing Ginnell permission to visit any places where Irish prisoners were detained, and he was arrested when he tried to gain admission at Knutsford barracks under the name of Lebries McFingle.

Laurence Ginnell was arrested at the detention barracks at Knutsford July 15. On being arraigned he protested to the magistrate against his arrest, saying there was no case against him. The name McFingle, he declared, was Irish for Ginnell, and the whole incident could be easily explained. He was remanded for trial and released under bond. Mr. Ginnell yesterday caused a short suspension of the sitting in the House of Commons when he refused to withdraw when ordered to do so by the speaker.

Mr. Ginnell was fined £100.

BILLION DOLLAR CROP EXPECTED

After a thorough canvass of various points throughout Western Canada, Dr. McGill of the Dominion Grain Commission is quoted in Calgary as saying that Alberta would have a crop as good as last year, that the Dominion would have a billion dollar grain crop, and that the grain crop of the three prairie provinces would be little if any behind that of last year.

"The country as a whole never looked better than it does at present," said Dr. McGill. "The weather was made to order, as you might say, and I am of the opinion that this year's harvest will be another wonderful one."

Those who contemplate going West will do well to remember that the most fertile districts in Western Canada are served by the line of the C. N. R., and that this season they can travel from their home districts to destination Canadian Northern All the Way.

Arrangements have been made whereby passengers may travel in comfort. Colonist and lunch counter cars being a feature.

The first of these excursions will be run in August; the date will be announced later.

TO PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE WEIGHT

Most people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day, and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Most thin people stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay there in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition it is well to recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is simply a careful combination of six of the most effective and powerful assimilative and flesh-building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet has been wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often, according to reports of users, has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by all good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

If you find a druggist who is unable to supply you, send $1, money order or registered letter, to the National Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, and a complete ten days' treatment will be sent you postpaid, in plain wrapper.—Advt.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation.

Doubtless, if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, bismuth, soda charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little magnesia—not the ordinary carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisurated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form. Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in your stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that, provided you take a little bisurated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.—Advt.

There is more or less work

Every furnace demands some attention. But there is no reason why the twice-a-day job should be anything but pleasant. And to save a little time and a little bother every day means a lot in the course of the winter.

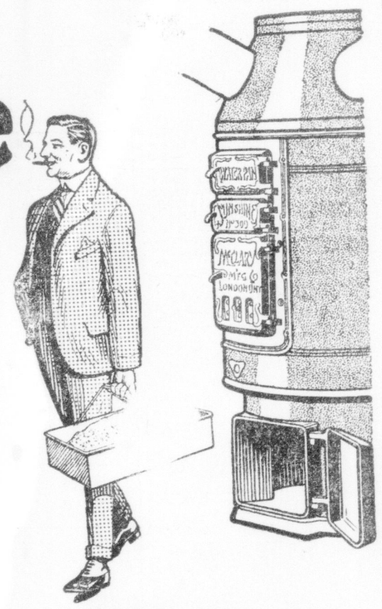

The Sunshine is a furnace any one can look after without spoiling either clothes or temper

The door is large enough for the biggest coal shovel. The grates are strong and turn easily. The ash-pan catches all the ashes without the need of shovelling. The water-pan is located so that it can be filled quickly.

Ash-dust cannot escape when the Sunshine is being shaken down. None of that light dust floats about the house or the basement.

The damper and the check draft can be regulated from upstairs—and perfectly too. The close-fitting doors and dampers hold the fire for hours without waste.

McClary's Sunshine Furnace

Do you know how little it will cost you to enjoy the comforts of a fine Heating System in your home? Send the coupon for a copy of our booklet "Sunshine." And if you wish to have prices of installing a Sunshine Furnace, let our Heating Engineer send you the information. Tell him the kind of a house you have and the number of rooms; give him a rough ground plan of the upstairs and downstairs and he will show you how to plan your heat distribution so as to get the utmost out of it. There is no charge for the service; it is free whether you buy a Sunshine Furnace or not.

Kindly send me without expense on my part:—

1. Your booklet on the Sunshine Furnace.
2. Also forms for filling out, so that your heating engineers can tell me how to order and install a system that will properly heat my home.

FREE TRADERS OUT WITH CAMPAIGN TO BLOCK A TARIFF

Consider That the War Has Not Altered Commercial Conditions.

[Canadian Press.]

London, July 28.—British free traders are preparing to launch a determined campaign against the anti-free trade doctrines promulgated at the Paris economic conference. The Free Trade Union, which has been one of the most influential quasi-political organizations in Great Britain for the past twenty years, will within the next fortnight issue a manifesto re-stating the principles of free trade and analyzing the five main points of the Paris resolution, giving reasons why the acceptance of these points by England would be, in the belief of free traders, fatal to the best interests of the country.

Free Trade Platform.

The manifesto probably will be along lines similar to the platform recently issued by one of the branch organization of the Free Trade Union, which says:

"We note with regret that some of those who advocated a protective tariff before the war are taking advantage of the present situation to revive the agitation. To raise revenue now or hereafter by imposing a general tariff on imports is open to the same objections as before the war. It would create vested interests, cost a large sum to collect, and unjustly fall upon the taxpayers in an inverse ratio to their ability to pay. If direct state action prove necessary to overcome the difficulties connected with our economic dependence, we believe that subsidies, or in some cases state ownership, would be preferable to protective tariffs.

"A system of mutual preference within the British Empire, founded upon the imposition by us of hostile tariffs upon outside countries, has become more than ever difficult owing to our close alliance with France, Russia and Italy."

HOLLAND DEFIES HUNS, REFUSING USE OF CANALS

Will Not Permit War Supplies To Be Carried In This Way.

BERLIN MAKES THREATS

Talks of Trade Reprisals Such As Are Used Against the Swiss.

BRINGS ON NEW CRISIS

Hague Government Awaiting Next Move of the Germans.

[Canadian Press.]

The Hague, July 27.—Holland has defied Germany, and the threatened reprisals by the kaiser's Government, in refusing the recent demand that she permit canal boats to go from German to Belgian territory through the Dutch canals whatever their cargo.

Under international law munitions of war cannot be permitted to pass through neutral territory, but Germany's anxiety to improve her transportation facilities to the Belgian front led her to demand that Holland violate this law. The Dutch refusal has brought the demand to a crisis and all here are anxiously awaiting to see whether Germany dare attempt to make good her threats.

Germany's action in this case is on a plane with her demands on Switzerland, which have not yet been settled. The Swiss frontier has been closed since early in the war, so far as the export of foodstuffs is concerned, and Germany demands that the embargo be removed. Switzerland, who has not yet replied, does not have international law to fall back on. Her action was taken in self-defence, since all her imports are at the mercy of the Allies, and if she permitted Germany to draw on her food supply she would soon be sharing the German shortage.

FIRM'S DIRECTORS GOOD CANADIANS, IS MANAGER'S REPORT

Answers Criticisms of Electric Truck Purchase.

GERMAN WAS MANAGER

Haltschmidt, of Windsor Dynamiting Fame, Ran Company.

A great deal of discussion took place in the city today over the action of the utilities commission in ordering two electric trucks from the Tate Electric Company of Walkerville.

This is the firm of which Albert Kaltschmidt, Detroit, a rabid pro-German, who was connected with some of the dynamiting outrages on the border, was manager.

Several reputable persons in the city called up The Advertiser and wanted some information on the subject. They thought it rather peculiar that such a firm should be recognized by London.

"The firm was managed by Kaltschmidt," said General Manager Buchanan. "The commission purchased a truck when Mr. Glaubitz was manager from this firm, but we found out that the directors of the company were Toronto men, all sound and good businessmen, although Kaltschmidt was manager. The directors went on a personal guarantee bond for the truck, and it has lived up to the contract.

"Since the trouble over Kaltschmidt, the firm has ceased to manufacture trucks, and sold out its plant to the Chalmers Company. There were two trucks on hand with sets of parts for them, and we were given a chance to buy at a very reasonable figure. We did so. The firm is composed of Toronto men, against whom not a suspicion of disloyalty rests. They got the worst of it in the Kaltschmidt deal undoubtedly, but the men themselves are all high-class Canadians in every respect."

JUNK YARD OUTSIDE AREA, SAY OFFICIALS

Answer Advertiser Query by Saying Gootsons Have No Permit.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Can you inform several readers of your evening journal where the limits for establishing junk establishments are in the southern part of the city. One gentleman working in a factory partly owned by Sir Adam Beck says the Gootson Company have erected a junk "factory" to the east of the new car barns of the L. and P. S., and that they have done so without the city permit. If that is so, several ratepayers would like to know it. I understand the members from Mt. Junkfest are to show the people around here a thing or two. In the language of a former mayor of this town, when the council were quarrelling: "Oh, say, fellers, somebody move somethin'."

A whole lot of people down there would like something moved from down near the river bank. Yours truly,

A GOOD SON.

At the city hall The Advertiser was informed that the property now being used by Gootson Bros. for a junk yard is not in the junk area. The bylaws defining junk areas are now up for consideration and amendment, and it is understood that an amendment, giving Gootson Bros. the right to transact a junk business there is to be included.

No further information was available, but officials at the city hall are looking the matter up.

SLEEPERS AWAKENED.

SARNIA, July 27.—Two drunks who were sleeping on the lumber piles of the Laidlaw Lumber Company last night were arrested and in police court this morning were fined $2 and costs of $4.50.

At the present time there are quite a number of tramps hanging out along the water front and the police have received instructions to clean them up.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Hay was the principal offering on the local market today. About twenty loads were brought in, but the market was unusually slow. The highest price obtained was $10, while some fell below this. For a time the market does not promise to be large. Haying is practically finished, and the farmers require all their time to look after other crops.

Prices for all other produce were particularly firm. Scarcely any changes were noticed in vegetables, which have now started to come in in larger quantities. New potatoes remained at 50c a peck, and imported ones can be bought for less even off the market. Dry weather is responsible for a scarcity of beans and peas during the past week. The prices remained steady at 10c and 20c for quart lots.

Nearly all fruits were scarce, and although few raspberries were offered the price dropped to 13c and 13½c retail. Black currants were offered in larger quantities, selling at $1.50 and $1.60 for 11-quart baskets. No red currants were offered.

Dairy and poultry prices remained steady. Dressed hogs remained high at $15. Live hog prices jumped a little, going from $11 to $11.15.

WHEAT GOES HIGHER.

Chicago, July 28.—Black rust damage increasing and the infected territory widening caused a fresh advance today in the price of wheat. In contrast with yesterday, however, trade was relatively light, and holders showed a noticeable disposition to take profits. Higher quotations from Liverpool tended somewhat to help the bulls.

The opening here, which ranged from ¼@1½@1⅝c higher, with September at $1 24@1 24⅞, and December at $1 27@1 27¾, was followed by a moderate reaction, but when another upturn.

Winnipeg, July 27.—The wheat market closed higher all around, 4¾c for July and October, and December 4⅝c. Oats were ⅛c to ½c up. Barley wound up half a cent more expensive, and flax gained 3¾c for July and October, with November 3½c higher.

A late rally caused wheat to close near the high points of the session. Damage reports made a wildly-excited market in the morning, which sent October wheat nearly 5c higher.

Cash trade was demoralized by the bulge in futures. It was hard to sell wheat, except Nos. 2 and 3. The millers took a little of No. 4 wheat. Premiums in oats and wheat were unchanged most of the day.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.25¾; No. 2 northern, $1.23½; No. 3 northern, $..19½; No. 4, $1.15½.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 44⅝c; No. 3 Canadian western, 43⅝c; extra No. 1 feed, 43c; No. 1 feed, 43¾c; No. 2 feed, 42¼c.

Barley—No. 3, 73c; No. 4, 68½c; rejected, 60c; feed, 60c.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $1.78; No. 2 Canadian western, $1.75.

WALL STREET.

New York, July 28.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Stocks continued their uncertain course at today's dull and contracted opening, with a fairly even distribution of advances and declines. Sears-Roebuck materially supplemented yesterday's gain of over 6 points, and some of the war and equipment issues were substantially better, particularly Industrial Alcohol, Crucible Steel, the Locomotives, Studebaker and American Car. Shipping shares again tended downward. Rails were not much altered, aside from further pressure upon New Haven and some inquiry for Reading. The entire list improved under lead of United States Steel.

Noon.—Stocks were freely supplied on the advance, and this, combined with fresh selling of Canadian Pacific, Alcohol and some of the preceding day's weak issues, notably St. Paul and New Haven, effected recessions. Equipments and minor industrials forfeited about half their advance, with marked heaviness in specialties of various descriptions, including Marine preferred, Maxwell and Willys-Overland, and Cuban Cane Sugar. There were partial rallies towards midday, when trading lapsed into extreme dullness. Bonds were steady, with lighter offerings of international issues.

1:30 p.m.—Improving tendencies after midday were again checked by an abrupt decline in Alcohol to 104, 3½ points under the initial quotation. Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies attracted some attention by its sudden advance of over 3 points.

MONEY MARKETS.

New York, July 28.—Bar silver, 63⅝c per ounce.

London, July 28.—Bar silver, 30 5-16d per ounce.

Paris, July 28.—Trading was quiet on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 64 francs for cash; exchange on London, 28 francs 15 centimes.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, July 28.—The present tone of calmness and steadiness of the stock market is in striking contrast to the panicky conditions which prevailed about this time in 1914, when the markets were closed to stem the flood of selling, and the international credit system was dislocated.

The gilt-edged section is now absorbing securities, which the authorities are offering from controlled banks in order to benefit English creditors. Business otherwise is listless, but the tone is good, and today most of the interest was in shipping shares, which were active and advancing on unconfirmed amalgamation rumors. Courtaulds stock was strong on the increased dividend. American securities were idly steady around parity. Money and discount rates were steady.

NEW YORK COTTON

Prices Advance on Continued Rains in Eastern Belt and Drought in Texas.

[Reported by Thomson & McKinnon.]
New York, July 27.

Prices advanced on continued rains in the eastern belt and dry weather in Texas, together with a rumor that the National Ginners Association put the condition at 74.8 against Government conditon a month ago of 81.1 and 75.4 last year. Texas needs rain. Journal of Commerce reports conditions in Alabama the worst for years and in Mississippi the prospects are also poorer than they were a month ago. It says that during this month, Mississippi has declined 6 to 8 per cent, and Alabama 10 per cent. The crop in Louisiana is very spotty. Boll weevil are threatening in eastern Gulf states.

Liverpool cabled that spinners were becoming uneasy. Offerings there have latterly been light. Meanwhile spot markets are firm. Exports of late have made a pretty good showing. Cotton goods are generally strong with a better inquiry for print cloths. Spot prices here advanced ten points with sales of 1,400 bales. Conservative interests buying on setbacks.

EMBARGO ON NICKEL WOULD INJURE THE ALLIES' CAMPAIGN

Ottawa Again Declares It Cannot Reach the Germans.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, July 28.—A semi-official statement from Parliament Hill today reiterates that there is no ground for alarm that the Deutschland will carry Canadian nickel to Germany. It is claimed that the prohibition of export from this country would invite United States' retaliation, and that the destination of Canadian nickel is checked and controlled in a manner satisfactory to the British authorities.

Among other things it is set forth that an embargo would deny our nickel to Britain, France and Russia for munitions, as it cannot be refined in Canada, would tie up the United States as a source of munitions supply, destroy a great industry at Sudbury, and throw thousands out of employment and cause international complications with the United States. The new plant of the Canadian Refinery Company will be built in units to begin with a first production of from twelve to fifteen million pounds a year.

ST. THOMAS, July 27.—A young man who has been in Windsor for some time returned to his home in this city a few days ago, and was found to be suffering from some peculiar malady. The medical health officers are suspicious of spinal-meningities, and upon a close examination it was found necessary to quarantine his home and place the patient under close observance.

BIG CROWD FROM CITY AND COUNTY ATTENDED CIRCUS

Great Variety of Attractions Delighted All Who Saw It.

GOOD CLEAN EXHIBITION

Special Trains Left in Early Morning for Stratford.

Copp & Lent's circus, the only show of its kind showing in Canada this year, presented two performances here yesterday.

The circus with its display of tinsel and gold trappings, its well-trained Arabian horses and riders, its menagerie, the sideshows and the clowns, attracted large crowds both from the city and surrounding country for each performance.

The sideshows situated directly in front of the main entrance, did a good business. Among the features shown were the tattooed man, Viola the snake-charmer handling several large specimens of boa-constrictors; Verda Wren, the champion lady bag-puncher, and she sure can punch some; Samsic, the mind-reader; Mlle. Isan and her Parisian models in dances of the Orient, Salome dancers, and last, but not least, the famous Dixie Coon Shouters in old time plantation melodies, introducing specialties in buck and wing dancing.

The Menagerie.

The menageries adjoining the main tent, was visited by many in the afternoon and evening, prior to the opening of the main show.

The lion came in for a good deal of attention, the hump-backed camel chewed his cud and gazed indifferently at the people, and the elephants were always ready to accept peanuts.

Inside the "big top" or main tent, the real performance was staged, and went through both afternoon and evening without a hitch. The show advertises to present nothing that is in any way objectionable or that would offend the taste of the most fastidious, and this claim is strictly adhered to, and the various acts are clean in every respect.

The outstanding feature of the show is the fancy riding of Mrs. Eldridge, who puts a handsome bay she rides through many difficult and intricate movements, including imitation dance effects and cakewalks.

The circus opens with the grand entry of all the performers and animals, the pure white Arabian thoroughbred horses attracting especial attention.

Good Trapeze Work.

The first act consisted of trapeze performers presenting difficult stunts of various kinds, the work by the three companies being performed simultaneously in the three rings.

Manager Al Roote announced that one of their best acts was unfortunately forced to be omitted owing to an accident to one of the Zindas in Toronto on Friday last.

This act introduced a very hazardous "casting" feature in which a miscalculation of less than one second by one of the acrobats resulted in a severe fall.

The ball-balancing act by two of the women performers, and the revolving trapeze were received with applause at both performances. The work of the contortionists was of a high order, several features entirely new being introduced.

Suspended in the air, supported only by the firm grip of their teenth, an act introducing three young women whirling from revolving trapezes, drew especial attention.

The tight wire acts were good in every respect, the difficult work of a little Japanese woman eliciting rounds of applause.

The Hippodrome.

The Roman hippodrome races, introducing clown and cowboy racing contests, closed the main performance.

Immediately following the big show came the after performance, this time being slightly different from the ordinary in that it featured all wild west acts.

The actors in this show are all artists in their line, the lassooing feats of one cowboy, in which he encircled four horses on the run with his rope, was especially good.

Picking handkerchiefs up from the ground with their horses on the dead run was another stunt of the cowboy riders.

The after show closed with the riding of a bucking broncho after several ineffectual attempts to mount the animal.

The tents were partly down and the paraphernalia nearly packed before the crowd from the last show had gone.

The circus plays Stratford today, leaving early this morning for that city.

"ECONOMY" IN CITY AUDITING MEANS AN INCREASE OF $1,500

Fight Precipitated in Council Adds to Cost of Work.

UP TO THE COUNCIL NOW

Action of Utilities Commission Leaves That Body No Option In Appiontment.

The action of the utilities commission yesterday afternoon in engaging Frank G. Jewell as consulting auditor at a salary of $500 per annum will bring the whole question of city auditing to a focus. According to information received at the city hall, the employment of three auditors, instead of one, will not increase the cost to the commission of more than $50 a year.

The action of the commissioners puts it up to the city council to engage Mr. Jewell. The commission can appoint its own auditors, but the city auditor must go over the books of the waterworks in any event.

The council will hardly agree to a duplication of expense in connection with the auditing. If some other person than Mr. Jewell is appointed city auditor, he will have to be paid for auditing some of the books of the commission, for which the commission is paying $1,300. It can be seen then that the commission put it up to the council to name Mr. Jewell.

From present indications, Andrew Dale and Arch. Screaton will be appointed auditors for the city, with Mr. Jewell as consulting auditor. This will get over all the difficulties.

Mr. Jewell, under the arrangement with the council, will get $500 as a retaining fee, and $5 an hour for whatever work he does on the city books. This will increase the expense of the city considerably, as the auditing under this arrangement will cost at least $1,500 a year more than formerly.

A plea for economy on the part of some of the aldermen was responsible for precipitating the present auditing muddle, which will be solved by anything but a more economical move.

SAVED DAYLIGHT, BUT NOTHING ON ANY HYDRO BILLS

Effects of Changed Time Unrecognized by Department.

FLOOR SPACE KEPT UP

July Receipts Will, Therefore, Be Equal to That of Any Previous Month.

During its comparatively short regime in London, daylight saving might have saved, or wasted, daylight according to the dispensation of the individual, but it didn't mean any saving on electric light for those who are on the hydro electric service. It was expected that with an extra hour of daylight each evening there would be less of the "white coal" burned in the individual homes of London. The meter readings of the hydro department fail to show any justification for such belief, however.

According to Oliver Ellwood, secretary of the utilities commission, if there was any reduction in the light bills during daylight-saving in London it was so small that it is an unrecognizable quantity by the electric department.

"We can't notice a bit of difference on the bills that are now being sent out," declares Mr. Ellwood. "From all indications the returns from June and July will be just as high as during any previous June or July. Daylight saving apparently didn't mean any hydro saving at the same time."

Under the floor space fixed charge of the electric department there is always a certain revenue coming in whether light is used or not. It is estimated by Mr. Ellwood that this fixed charge is only 50 per cent of the total light bill, so that if there were any saving in the actual lighting bills it could be easily determined.

Different With London Electric.

If hydro users didn't save daylight and electric light at the same time, the users of London Electric current did. Just why there should be such a difference no one is prepared to say, but at the London Electric office the statement was made that the difference caused by the daylight-saving scheme was most appreciable. The books of the company showed a drop of at least 25 per cent, during the time the new time was in vogue, in comparison with the similar months of the previous years when there was no such thing as daylight saving.

The summer months are always considered the lightest of any, so far as domestic lighting bills are concerned, but on top of that the London Electric reports a further 25 per cent reduction.

Blame It On Floor Space.

Those who have become acquainted with the fact that hydro shows no depreciation and London Electric does, blame the difference on the fixed charges of the hydro known as "floor space." The hydro justifies this charge by calling it "service" charge, but the daylight-saving episode of London's history has brought an interesting fact to light, concerning light.

TELEPHONE WIRES FUSED IN CABLES BY LIGHTNING

Investigations by the repair gangs of the Bell Telephone Company, working on the 1,000 and more telephones that were put out of commission during the storm of last Tuesday, show that no less than six of the heavy cables of the company were struck by lightning. The wires carried in these cables were fused by the electricity of the shock, and as a result were totally destroyed. In some cases there were 200 pairs of wires in cables, while in others only 100.

An announcement made by the company today states that it is expected to have the last of the trouble rectified before Saturday night. So great was the damage both by wind and lightning and by the fouling of wires by falling limbs, that the repair gangs have been kept at work almost incessantly since the storm occurred. The number of services, temporarily disconnected by the effects of the storm, was the largest ever recorded here, and even the most strenuous efforts of the "trouble" department have been unavailing to correct all damage up to date.

LONDON'S FINANCES CONSIDERED NOW AS BEING SATISFACTORY

Taxes Taking Care of Immediate Needs.

$540,000 BONDS UNSOLD

City Treasurer Says Market For Their Sale Will Be Better in Fall.

Although city debentures aggregating in value $560,000 are still lying unsold in the city vaults, the claim is made at the city hall that the city finances are not affected by this large total. This is "tax time" in London, and the taxes that are coming in over the counter of the city treasurer's office are sufficient to finance the immediate needs of London, it is claimed.

Some criticism has been levelled at the city because it failed to take advantage of a high bond market that existed some time ago. It is said that the city could have disposed of its bonds on a five per cent basis then, whereas the present market would call for at least a five plus one-tenth basis. In answer to this charge, the statement is issued that the bonds were not for sale during the five per cent market. At that time they had not been authorized by the city of London bill.

Says Market Better.

"The bond market is better now than it has been," declared City Treasurer James S. Bell, "but with the taxes coming in it would hardly be good business for us to dispose of our debentures at this time. We have sufficient money for immediate needs, through taxation, and if we were to dispose of the bonds the money so secured would have to remain in the bank at three per cent interest, whereas we would be paying out considerably more than that.

"We are holding the bonds for a better market in the fall, and indications point to a better sale then than now. The market is in fair shape, and I feel sure we would have little difficulty in disposing of our bonds at 5 1-0 per cent basis."

L. and P. S. Big Share.

Unsold bonds of the London and Port Stanley Railway form a big portion of those now reposing in the city vaults. They total $140,000 in round figures.

Another large block is that represented by the Industrial School issue of $165,000. The others are for waterworks and electrical department debentures, and so on.

WESTERN MINERS STRIKE.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 27. — Miners in the two local mines did not go to work today. They say the trouble is a dispute over an under-foreman, but the real cause is said to be general dissatisfaction over the operators' refusal to grant a 10 per cent increase as a war bonus. Similar action is expected in other mines in this district and up the Crow's Nest Pass.

The Selkirk tunnel will be through in the fall, according to the C. P. R. officials. This is another of the notable things to which the company has put its hand—a tunnel six miles through a mountain whose peaks pierce the clouds—a tunnel which presented engineering difficulties almost unique.

This work will give the public an alternative route through the mountains; it will save six miles of snow sheds; it will eliminate danger, and it will minister to the comfort and convenience of the public. The cost will be $12,000,000 or more. That is about the only big work the C. P. R. has been engaged in lately, but it is interesting to recall that in the years before the war the company used to spend between $25,000,000 and $35,000,000 per annum in the development of the West. If, as a high official of the C. P. R. remarked, the C. P. R. took a dollar out of the West, it put that dollar back again in some form or other. It would hardly be believed, but the C. P. R., since its inception, has spent over $200,000,000 in the development of the West.
