CHAPTER XXX. You used to say that you would never be poor, but in the end you'd have hated it as much as I should. He paused, as if expecting her to speak, but she was plucking at the blue-and-white fringe of the tablecloth with nervous fingers.

When Choosing the Material for a washable frock for the growing child— MOTHER naturally thinks of the possibilities of the fabric shrinking in the wash. It is therefore a relief to her to know that the fabric will not shrink or lose its charm if Lux is used for its cleansing.

LUX FOR DAINTY FABRICS. The beautiful pure Lux flakes are whisked into a creamy, bubbly lather in an instant. Gently squeeze this cleansing foam through and through the soiled texture—then rinse in clean water and hang to dry. Lux cannot harm a silken thread. It coaxes rather than forces the dirt from the clothes.

go on. Micky had given it to her, she knew, but she would have bitten her tongue through rather than have told this man. It had been Micky all the time—Micky.

"You don't seem to care. I've often wondered if you knew—and if you minded!" He sat staring before him, and there was a little smile in his eyes. "We do things in style now, I can tell you," he said with sudden change of voice.

"What are you thinking, Lallie?" he asked her. She sat very straight and stiff in her loneliness rushed back. Where could she go? Then she suddenly remembered the hotel from which Micky had written to her. She would go there. It would be somewhere at least to sleep and rest.

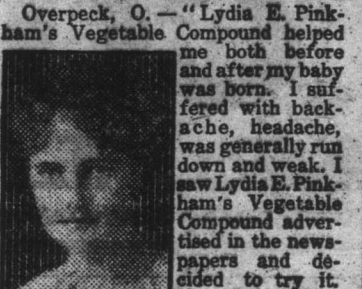

"I am thinking," she said. "How impossible it seems that I can ever have thought that I cared for you." Her voice was low but very clear, and he heard each word distinctly. "I am thinking that you are the most contemptible thing I have ever met in my life—I am thinking how sorry I am for the woman who is your wife."

"I've told them to bring lunch in here," he went on. "You'll like it better than the public room—and I haven't had mine yet." Esther looked up at him. "And can we—can we go back to London to-day?" she asked.

BEFORE AND AFTER CHILDBIRTH

Mrs. Williams Tells How Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health

Overpeck, O.—"Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound helped me both before and after my baby was born. I suffered with backache, headache, was generally run down and weak. I saw Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and decided to try it. Now I feel fine, take care of my two boys and do my own work. I recommend your medicine to anyone who is ailing. You may publish my testimonial if you think it will help others."—MRS. CARRIE WILLIAMS, Overpeck, Ohio.

For more than forty years Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring women to health who suffered from irregularities, displacements, backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues." Today there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been made well by it. That is why Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.

A wave of bitterest jealousy surged through him. He fell back a step, struck dumb by the force of his emotions, and Esther fled away from him down the street. She seemed to have wakened all at once to her true position. She was alone, with only a few shillings in her pocket and in a strange city.

But where to go? The old blinding fear of her loneliness rushed back. Where could she go? Then she suddenly remembered the hotel from which Micky had written to her. She would go there. It would be somewhere at least to sleep and rest.

"I am thinking," she said. "How impossible it seems that I can ever have thought that I cared for you." Her voice was low but very clear, and he heard each word distinctly. "I am thinking that you are the most contemptible thing I have ever met in my life—I am thinking how sorry I am for the woman who is your wife."

"I've told them to bring lunch in here," he went on. "You'll like it better than the public room—and I haven't had mine yet." Esther looked up at him. "And can we—can we go back to London to-day?" she asked.

Germany Makes New Offer.

Coal Strike No Nearer Termination--Mine Owners Submit Proposals--No Turning Back for South Africa--Attempt to Lynch German Officers Frustrated.

GERMANY'S OFFER.

BERLIN, April 26. Germany offers to pay fifty billion gold marks, the present value of which converted into annuities totals two hundred billion gold marks. Payments under this proposal would be made according to her ability. As evidence of good faith, the note says, Germany is prepared immediately to place at the disposal of the Reparations Commission one hundred and fifty million marks in gold, silver and foreign exchange, and eight hundred and fifty million gold marks in treasury notes, redeemable within three months in foreign exchange or foreign securities. Germany declares the present proposals are only capable of being carried out if the system now in force is discontinued forthwith and she is given freedom of trade. Germany proposes the issue of an international loan, the proceeds to be placed at the disposal of the Allies. On this loan Germany would pay interest at four per cent. The sum of the reparations total not provided for by this loan would be provided to the limit of Germany's capacity of payments of goods and materials.

NOT NEAR AGREEMENT.

LONDON, April 26. Three hours' conference to-day between miners and mine owners with Sir Robert Stephenson Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, presiding, brought the disputants in the coal strike no nearer an agreement, although the mine owners amended their proposals. However, hope was expected to-night over the fact that the miners had agreed to meet Sir Robert Wednesday morning, after which the Chancellor will have another separate conference with the mine owners. In a statement issued after to-day's conference, the Miners' Federation says that on both fundamental issues at stake, national pool of wages, and wages board, the mine owners' new proposals, represent no advance at all toward an agreement. The proposals of the owners were as follows: First, that for a temporary period any change in wages shall be on a flat rate basis in each area. Second, that wages rates shall be calculated on area instead of District basis. Third, that owners shall forego profits for 3 months. Of these proposals the miners say, first, the miners demand for flat rate advances and reductions on national basis are in no way met; second, that areas are only a minor variation from the old districts; and third, that capital having always based its claim to reward on the assumption that in taking risks of industry, it should bear losses in times of depression as it reaps profits in good times.

SMUTS IN THE SADDLE.

LONDON, April 26. Sir Edgar Walton, the new High Commissioner for South Africa, in an interview with the Times says, General Smut's Government has got well into the saddle and already has done much to unite the people. In the view of Premier Smuts, Sir Edgar says, it is desirable to maintain the present system of Imperial relations, as it provides a maximum of freedom with a minimum of interference.

IRLAND SUSTAINED.

PARIS, April 26. The Chamber of Deputies to-day gave Premier Briand full liberty for action after hearing his report on the reparations conference and his declaration "if on May 1st satisfactory proposals with acceptable guarantees are not made by the German Government, Ruhr will be occupied." The Chamber voted confidence in the Government 424 to 29, with 39 Deputies abstaining from voting. Briand said he had full confidence that if the Washington Government decided to transmit the German counter proposals they would be such as to safeguard the interests of the Allies on reparations. "But," he added, "there is another violation of the Treaty of Versailles which Germany cannot invoke impossibility of fulfilling, namely, disarmament, which she had failed to carry out." Andrew Tardieu and M. Mandel, formerly Clemenceau's chief of cabinet, led an attack against Briand after the Premier had concluded his declaration. M. Tardieu asked for an immediate discussion of interpellation whether the occupation of Ruhr was for the enforcement of the Treaty of Versailles or the Paris January Agreement. The Premier refused to discuss the matter before May first and made it a question of confidence. In his statement Briand said that France and Great Britain were completely in agreement so far as the principle of coercive measures were concerned. He reviewed all violations by Germany of the Treaty of Versailles, laying special emphasis on Germany's failure to disarm in accordance with the Treaty, her refusal to pay one billion gold marks on March twenty-three, failure to transfer her gold reserve and non-payment of twelve billion gold marks remaining due on May first. The Premier declared that the German proposal that Washington mediate was "another dodge to gain time."

TRYING GERMAN OFFICERS.

LONDON, April 26. A riot was narrowly averted outside the Bow Street court to-day at the luncheon adjournment of the inquiry into the accusation of cruelties and atrocities against former German army officers. The police rescued the Germans from a great crowd of ex-service men.

DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO.

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 26. A tornado hit the town of Braxton this afternoon and demolished every business house, except the bank. There was no wire communications between here and Braxton to-night, but reports from Mendenhall, County seat of Simpson County, in which Braxton is situated, said eight persons had been killed and a number injured. Braxton is a town of about six hundred in-

Old Feildians Celebrate

Champion Hockey Team Dined. A large gathering of Old Feildian met at Wood's Restaurant last night to do honour to their hockey team which has, for the second successive year, been successful in gaining the much sought for League Hockey Cup. The affair was presided over by the President of the Old Feildian Club, Mr. Whitford McNelly, whilst among those present were Messrs. W. J. Higgins, K.C., M.H.A., and J. Tobin representing the Hockey League, Mr. C. J. James representing the press, Dr. Blackall, Messrs. R. R. Wood, C. J. Hunt, and representatives of the other teams. After an excellent dinner had been partaken of the Toast List was gone through. The speeches were of an exceptionally high order, and the various toasts were interspersed with some excellently rendered songs. On the whole the dinner proved a most enjoyable affair and was voted a great success by all who attended.

The Toast List was as follows:—
The King—Prop. by the Chairman: God Save The King.
Song—Mr. Jack Strang.
The Feildian Team—Prop. by Lt. Col. W. F. Rendell; resp., Mr. T. V. Pynn (Captain).
Piano Solo—Mr. G. LeMeasurier.

The Hockey League—Prop. by Mr. C. J. James; resp., Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., M.H.A.
The Feildian Club—Prop. by Mr. C. J. James; resp., Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., M.H.A.
The Feildian Club—Prop. by Mr. C. J. James; resp., Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., M.H.A.
Song—Mr. T. V. Pynn.
The Chairman—Prop. Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C.; Resp. Mr. Whitford McNelly.

And Lang Syne.
GOD SAVE THE KING.
 Before the proceedings began the Chairman read a letter from a distinguished Old Feildian, Judge Johnson, regretting his absence and wishing good luck.

St. Andrew's Society

HOLDS ENJOYABLE CARD PARTY. A most enjoyable card tournament was held by St. Andrew's Society and their lady friends in their club rooms, Water Street, last night, under the supervision of the Social Committee. The prizes were awarded to Messrs. Tessier and W. McGillie, and Messrs. J. Wallace and W. McGillie, who had the largest number of points. After the card party, dancing was indulged in. The Ladies' Auxiliary served supper during the evening. The St. Andrew's Society are arranging for a big day for May 11th, when a "bridge drive" will be held in the afternoon and an auction tournament and dance in the evening. The proceeds will be devoted to the Beaumont Hamel Fund, and it is expected that both affairs will be largely patronized and an enjoyable time is assured. The Social Committee are also arranging a regular old time Scotch concert to take place next month, particulars of which will be announced in due course.

"Foreign Help."

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—Now that the question of encouraging "Home Industry" is so ably mooted amongst us, and that we are asked (and rightly so) to buy our own home-made goods, is there not room to make a suggestion re the engaging of foreign help in our stores at the expense of our own equally reliable men and women? To be plain, I refer to late happenings, which occurred along Water Street, when some of our own citizens were dismissed from stores and several young men who did not belong to this country at all were retained. In one large firm on Water Street there are four or five clerks hailing from across the water, who openly boast that they cannot be gotten rid of, and whilst, city-born co-workers have to get out, those same "dandies" cut the impudent swagger of the hiring "It for anything." This is not good enough, Mr. Editor, and we as a people are too prone to give those who are "hotnam and jetsam" undue patronage. Newfoundlanders abroad are not treated with such consideration (as I have reason to know) and meet with no such kindly treatment. Yours very truly,
 FAIR PLAY.

"I will do anything to get strong and well. I have been sitting here too long already."
"Well, you send to the drug store for six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and take one pill after each meal and at bedtime. Believe me, it will not be long until you feel the benefit of this treatment and find yourself gaining in health and vigor."
"How do you know?"
"I know from personal experience. After I had the 'flu' I was left just like you are now—all run down; could not sleep; the little food I ate did not seem to do me any good, and I was getting pretty blue."
"Yes."
"Well, my wife had been using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and insisting on my giving it a trial. You know the rest, for I was soon about again, as hale and hearty as ever. I have told lots of people about this Nerve Food, and never knew it to fail yet."

NORFOLK DISQUALIFIED.
 GLOUCESTER, Mass., April 26. The American Committee of the International fishing schooner races to-day decided that Norfolk, Va., would be unable to enter the proposed schooner in the races this year, because she would not be finished in time to do the season's fishing on the banks, a requisite for entry.

CANTEEN PROFITS.
 OTTAWA, April 26. About half a million dollars came into Ottawa to-day when a package of one hundred and thirty pounds was received by the Receiver General. This money is the second installment of Canada's share of the Expeditionary force canteen profits. The former shipment amounted to nearly one million dollars. There is still about half million dollars to come. This money is not part of the Army and Navy Canteen profits. The canteen profits of the Canadian Expeditionary Force were derived from canteens situated in France, Salonika, Egypt and other actual theatres of war.

HOLD INDOOR SPORTS.
 The Indoor Sports held in the C.C.C. Armory Monday night were an unqualified success in every respect. During the evening there were present Acting Mayor Mullaly, Rev. Fr. Pippy, Chaplain, Mr. N. J. Vinnicombe, M.H.A., besides Chairman Parker and members of the C.C.C. Committee and Major O'Grady and officers of the Corps, and Chairman Collins of the C.C.C. Boat Club. The different events were well contested and proved that the old sporting spirit is not yet dead among the members of the C.C.C., but on the contrary still going strong. It was encouraging to see still alive with the same spirit such old Cadet men as John Murphy, E. J. Brophy and many others who in days gone by were pillars of the Cadets. The exhibition by John Bell was a special item and from present indications he is in better form than ever before.

 During the evening the full band of the Corps were present and rendered some excellent music.
 For years I have never considered my stock of household remedies complete unless a bottle of Minard's Linctment was included. For burns, bruises, sprains, frostbites, or chilblains it excels, and I know of no better remedy for a severe cold in the head, or that will give more immediate relief, than to inhale from the bottle through the nasal organ.
 And as to my supply of veterinary remedies it is essential, as it has in very many instances proven its value. A recent experience in reclaiming what was supposed to be a lost section of a valuable cow's udder has again demonstrated its great worth and prompts me to recommend it in the highest terms to all who have a herd of cows, large or small. I think I am safe in saying among all the patent medicines there is none that covers as large a field of usefulness as does Minard's Linctment. A real truism good for man or beast.

Word "Obey" Omitted.

AN "ETHICAL" MARRIAGE.
 Great interest was taken in the marriage which took place recently at the Ethical Church in Baywater, London.
 The parties were Mr. Cuthbert Clark and Miss Mary Eyles. There were no bridesmaids, no best man or groomsmen, and the bride was not "given away."
 Mr. R. Dimsdale Stocker, the writer and lecturer, who performed the ceremony, took his place in the president's chair, and facing him, standing on a blue carpet in front of two chairs, were the happy couple. Mr. Stocker wore a red robe, like a cassock, over which was a black gown. The word "obey" did not appear in the service, the formula for both parties being:—
 With this ring we wed each other, pledging ourselves in honor to prefer each other's good and together to live for the common good. "Inasmuch as ye have made these vows," said the president, "I now pronounce you husband and wife."
 Then followed the benediction: The blessing of the Just and Merciful, your own Love and Righteousness, and the Eternal Order of things, be your strength and peace until the end.
 The whole ceremony occupied 20 minutes.

BE ON GUARD.

The answer to the question asked by Sir John C. Crosbie in the House of Assembly yesterday, should be closely considered by the people of Newfoundland, and analyzed by them down to the last word. It is quite possible that an evasive reply may be given, or one unsatisfactory, but no matter which, its significance must not be winked out of sight. There is too much at stake. The question as asked in full by the member for Port-de-Grave is:

"To ask the Hon. the Prime Minister if any decision has been arrived at by the Government in connection with a Company to be formed here relative to working the Grand Lake and Humbermouth proposition; and to inform the House what policy they intended to pursue?"

"To ask the Hon. the Prime Minister if it is correct that this country is going to be asked to guarantee the principal and interest up to $25,000,000, to carry on this work? If that is not correct to inform the House what are the actual facts and to lay on the table of the House all correspondence in connection with the same."

All who read the above question must be astounded at the magnitude of its scope. Yesterday we referred tentatively to this matter by uttering an initial word of warning, in order that readers might be prepared for what is about to be sprung on the country. To-day we make equally brief reference to the proposal, so that it will not be forgotten, and to-morrow and the days after we shall, if necessary in the public interest go further and further into the details of this gigantic scheme, the promoters of which have the audacity, according to report, and the question put to the Prime Minister, to ask Newfoundland, and the people of Newfoundland, to become guarantors for a sum which figures out at one hundred dollars per head for every man, woman and child in the Colony. A charge in perpetuity. A millstone around the necks of the whole population for ever. Surely the people who suggest this take us for the most simple and arcaid folk. The Reids have thrown their railway and coastal service, apparently, on the Government, or the Government have taken it over themselves, a distinction without a difference, and now the gentlemen who were interested in these adjuncts to their company are no longer so. They have other designs in view, and with the aid of a wholly inefficient Government they expect to be well-served in the carrying out of a project, upon the future of which no report whatever has been made. Once we heard of National Products, Ltd. It came to nothing. The proposed working at Grand Lake and Humbermouth may be a Natural Products, Ltd., in a new guise, with this difference that whereas the latter concern asked for nothing beyond the usual concessions, the Reid, Greenwood, Blackstead, et al, Company want Newfoundland to become sponsor for the colossal sum of TWENTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS plus interest at 5 per cent. per annum. It is time to be on guard when such deals as these are made the subject of a question in the People's House.

Last Sad Rites.

The funeral cortege of the late Canon Smith, which proceeded from Cavendish Square yesterday forenoon, to the last resting place at Portugal Cove, was met along the route by many friends and parishioners of the deceased clergyman. The officers and members of St. Philip's L.O.L., of which the late Canon had been Honorary Chaplain, the officers and members of the Men's Club, and the Clergy in their robes joined the funeral procession. On the way to the cemetery the L.O.A. Band played a number of the favorite hymns of their late pastor. At the cemetery the casket was uncovered, and the people were given a last view of him who had labored so many years among them as clergyman and physician, the deceased being robed in surplice and cassock and wearing his Canon's stole. The service at the graveside was conducted by Rev. A. E. E. Leggs, Rector of the Parish of Portugal Cove, assisted by Revs. Moulton and Pike. The hymn "Now the Labourer's Task is O'er" was sung and after the Benediction the Nunc Dimittite was chanted to a tune which Canon Smith himself had taught the congregation. The body was laid in a grave beside that of his wife, who was buried eleven years ago. Among the floral tributes of affection which adorned the casket were wreaths from Rev. Father Gough and the Roman Catholic congregation, and from Rev. A. E. E. Leggs and the Church of England people of Portugal Cove.

Sealing Voyage Closed.

With the discharge of the S.S. Ranger yesterday, the 1921 sealing voyage closed. The total catch is 101,452. Last year the turnout was 93,885, the Viking closing the season on April 18th. Although the catch is three times greater than last year, the value is but slightly more. The following is the turnout by the different steamers:

Table listing steamer names and their respective turnouts: Diana (7,282), Eagle (7,270), Sagona (7,793), Seal (14,897), Neptune (10,424), Thetis (18,149), Viking (17,668), Terra Nova (10,754), Ranger (7,395). Total: 101,452.

Child Welfare Lecture.

On Thursday next at the Infant Welfare Centre, Public Health Office, 268 Duckworth Street, a health talk on Child Welfare will be given to mothers by Dr. Fallon. This health talk will be the first series to be rendered by various medical men of the City. As valuable advice will be given, it is hoped that all Mothers who have the welfare of their little ones at heart, will attend. At these meetings demonstrations will be given by the Community Nurses as to the proper preparation of foods, methods of feeding, etc., and bathing of infants.

Forty-five dollars will now buy Men's regular Seventy-four Dollar American Suits at BISHOP'S. The entire stock of Men's Suits has been marked down below replacement values. Ninety Eighty will buy Thirty-three Dollar Suits, and Sixty-five dollars will buy your choice of those high class Suits, which at regular prices were from Ninety Dollars to One Hundred and Twenty-three Dollars. As there are only fifty-seven suits to be sold and sale prices are from only Thirty-five to Sixty-five Dollars, it will be wise to avoid delay. Many were sold immediately after the drastic mark down of prices on Friday afternoon.

Train Notes.

Yesterday's outgoing express reached Bishop's Falls at 8 a.m. to-day. The Caribony local arrived at 1 p.m. A train left St. John's this morning for Trepan's Bay at 10:30 a.m. Sunday's outgoing express arrived at Port aux Basques late last night. The weather along the line this morning was fine; temperature average from 30 to 50 degrees above.

Coastal Boats.

A TRIBUTE

TO THE MEMORY OF THE HEROIC SONS OF NEWFOUNDLAND!

Following is copy of cablegram received by Hon. R. A. Squires, Prime Minister, on April 25th, from Lieut-General Sir Aylmer Hunter-Weston, K.C.B., D.S.O., who is now at Chanak, Gallipoli, probably with Colonel Rev. Fr. Nangle in connection with the graves of deceased soldiers: "Prime Minister, St. John's, Newfoundland—To the survivors of those who fought 'at the Dardanelles on this the sixth anniversary of the original landing, and in the name of the sailors, soldiers and airmen of the Home Country who fought 'by your side, the old Commander of the 29th Division 'is laying on the site of your glorious achievement a 'wreath of wild flowers gathered from the soil made 'forever sacred to us by the blood shed in the Empire's 'cause. May we who have survived do our best to 'spread the spirit of cheerful self-sacrifice of devotion 'to duty and of comradeship, which they so gloriously 'exemplified, and so help to attain the ideals for which 'we fought."

AYLMER HUNTER-WESTON.

Football Notes.

The various football teams are now getting in trim for the coming season, which promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the game in this country. Two teams have already elected their officers, to-wit, the E. I. S. and the Felidians, and it is probable that all the other teams will do likewise within the course of the next few days. The Felidians have obtained a new practice ground and will probably hold their first practice on Saturday evening. St. George's Field will require a considerable amount of attention before the games can begin, and it would give a great deal of satisfaction to all interested in the League games if a more satisfactory grandstand were built.

It is unfortunate, too, that baseball has to be played on St. George's Field, because it serves to tear up the turf and spoil it for football.

So far as can be ascertained at present, there will be ten teams in the League this year. All of last year's teams, however, remain in the League, and it is reported that the C. L. B. C. Old Comrades will also enter a team.

Both the Methodist and Bishop Field Colleges are now hard at "rigger" practice and the games this season promise to be quite exciting ones.

A DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE.

Comparisons are odious we know, but speaking of musical events, the Concert given by the St. John's Octette on St. George's Night was a veritable oasis in a desert of common-places. The same programme will be repeated on Thursday night. Tickets at Chesman's. Get YOURS early.—apr27.11

McMurdo's Store News.

WEDNESDAY, April 27, '21. We notice among recent arrivals of stock the opening of a full consignment of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, articles which have not been easy to obtain of late in St. John's. The Soap sells for 40c a cake; the Ointment (2 sizes) for 40 and 75c a box. Sutton's Seeds are selling fast these days, and we will soon be running short of some of them. If you want to be sure of getting Sutton's Seeds, let us have your requirements at once, or you may find that they are sold out of some of the items you need. Catalogues gratis and post free.

Personal.

Mr. Thos. Ashbourne, of Twillingate, who has been in Naples for the past nine months in connection with some fish cargoes, belonging to his father's firm, left here yesterday by express and will take motor boat from Lewisporte for his home.

THE FINEST CONCERT IN YEARS.

This statement is not mere hyperbole but the exact truth. Everyone fortunate enough to hear the St. John's Octette at the College Hall on St. George's Night will tell you that it was, without exception, the best musical entertainment that has taken place in this city for years. The programme will be repeated to-morrow night. Secure your tickets early at Chesman's.—11

Ranger's Turnout.

The turnout of the S.S. Ranger, the last arrival from the sealing voyage, is as follows:—612 young harks; net weight 2,647 cwt., 1 qr., 10 lbs.; 1 young hood, 645 bedlamers, weight 467 cwt., 21 lbs.; 127 old harks, weight 158 cwt., 3 qrs., 5 lbs.; total, 7,285. Gross value $12,479.65. Less damaged skins $290.00 and 1 full share $7.50. The crew of 129 men share $39.02. Average weight of young harks 454 lbs.

Railway Complications.

Company is said to be consulting in misery. It may therefore solve a few that, under Government management, railways in other countries have been no more fortunate than in ours. It is said that last year's deficit on German railways amounted to as much as their original costs of construction, and that it was due mainly to overmanning and high wages. The American railways sunk money at the rate of over a million dollars a day under Government control. They are almost handicapped at present under restored private management by the political legacies transferred with them. In Canada the admitted outstanding deficits is greater than was the whole annual revenue of the Dominion a few years ago. And it is doubtful if the half has yet been told.

Better things might have been expected in Great Britain, but to seek them is to meet disappointment. Public management there has been quite as disappointing and costly as elsewhere. High wages and the high cost of necessities, due largely to high wages, with the weaknesses inherent in political management, are at the root of the trouble there as elsewhere. Next to operating wages, fuel is the chief item in railway expenditure. The price of coal has been forced up in Britain by the action of the miners' unions until it is almost prohibitive of industry. The net cost of producing a ton of coal in the Old Country is 34 shillings and eight pence. For its production, wages cost 26 shillings and three pence. Other fixed charges make up the difference. The selling price is 39 shillings and seven pence. So the operators only have a credit balance of four shillings and eleven pence out of which to meet depreciation, interest, etc., and the fixed profits of the owners. This enhanced price of coal is helping materially to swell the expenses of railway operating.

But the wage bills of the railways themselves have all gone up beyond all reasonable measure. Traders are complaining that commerce and industry are being strangled by the consequent increase of railway rates. Under explicit Government orders railway wages have gone up even more rapidly and higher than those of miners. It has been recently shown officially that on the North Eastern Railway the wage bill has increased from £3,000,000 in 1914 to £12,115,038 in 1920, while the number of men has risen from 42,252 to 47,157. In 1912 the average wage of men of all grades on the N.E.R. was £73; it is now £257. In 1912 the average mining wage was £70.19.3; it is now £219.18.0.

But there is another side of the railway story. The tonnage carried by British railways has fallen from 375,595,465 tons in 1913 to 340,000,000 in 1920, the eight hour day, applied rigidly to all employments however light, and all localities however insignificant or remote, has enormously increased working expenses. Evidence was given before the Rates Advisory Committee that, whereas, before the war, a signal station on the Highland Railway was worked by one man at 21 shillings a week, to-day, by reason of the fact that the last train passes the station more than eight hours after the first, two men are required each at 70 shillings a week. That signal station is now costing the railway £2 a week in wages as against 21 shillings eight pence ago. Similarly a level crossing which before the war cost £5 a year now costs £500.

What is the use of complaining of unemployment in such conditions? Employment simply cannot be given because it cannot be made profitable to the employer. Unrestricted access to public treasuries has enabled the railways to carry on so far. The limit has been reached. The public are not going to pay out of their own pockets increasing deficits for the sole benefit of the railways. Nor will they much longer submit to railway rates which are not only impoverishing them, but ruining the country.

If workmen are wise they will recognize that such an artificial state of affairs must come to a speedy end. If they are well advised they will aid instead of opposing a return to more natural conditions. The wages which they are receiving are largely nominal. They are little better off than they were before, and the common interests are suffering alarmingly through high prices and under-production. There must be reasonable concessions on all sides before we can hope to get back again to the normal.—Morning Chronicle.

Carpentier Says Fight Will Last But Twelve Rounds.

Paris—"Jack" got nothing on me, I too, expect to win before the twelfth round." Georges Carpentier, French pugilist, thus declared himself to the United Press to-day. On his return from a triumphant swing around Europe, Carpentier had been shown a clipping quoting Jack Dempsey as saying he expected to win their fight July 2 within twelve rounds. "Georges will sell for New York May 7 on the Savoy. He will begin training for their fight on board the liner. "In the meantime," he said "I'm going to loaf. I'm just going to have a good time."

He left to-day for his old training camp at Yagrybhe. His long exhibition trip left him worn down to 178, a good fighting weight, and his greatest anxiety now is to add a few pounds to be worked off during the training grind in the United States. He talked eagerly of the fight, confidence of his results. His usual confidence was increased by his tour, which took him into Sweden and into northern Africa. He convinced European sportsmen that Dempsey will lose his crown July 2.

IN LOVING MEMORY

of John J. Kennedy, drowned in Barbados April 25th, 1920. Oh the cruel angry waves have taken him away. The raging billows bore him down in the oceans foaming spray; No more will he come to his loved one home or clasp his father's hand. No more on earth will he see his boy amongst his comrades stand. Short and sudden was the call by one so dearly loved by all. But God's own angels they were there to bear his soul on high. To share the joys of Heaven it was God's will for him to die. However long our lives may last, What ever lands we view; What ever griefs or joys be ours, We will remember you. Friends may think that we forget you, When at times they see us smile; But they little know the sorrow, That those smiles hide all the while. May his soul rest in peace. M. J. A.

Rioting Among Striking Miners. In most districts of the South Wales coal fields the extremists are winning the day. In one colliery after another the officials are being compelled to abandon the pumps. Unless something is done to save the mines from the rushing water the damage will be so extensive that 70,000 miners will be deprived of the opportunity of employment for months. In practically every mining area throughout Lanarkshire the menacing attitude is shown by the miners and their wives to the volunteers who are working pumps. There have been demonstrations and scuffings at several pits, necessitating police intervention. At some places there has been much wanton damage, accompanied by looting.

Chicago Loses Radium. Fifty milligrams of radium, valued at $5,000, and the joint property of a group of physicians, is lost somewhere in Chicago, a constant menace to its finder. It was contained in a golden capsule. Miss Lillian Brown, the custodian of the treasure, had been sent to a hospital to get it for use elsewhere, and placed the precious box on a window sill of an elevated train car. There was some confusion in the car and when she alighted she forgot the radium for a moment. The train was searched later, but the box had disappeared. This capsule represents practically all the radium owned in Chicago. Physicians have issued warnings to the finder that he is dealing with a living death, and that even in the hands of an expert radium is a dangerous element. The effects are lasting and may be quickly fatal.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

PLAYING FOR TIME. BERLIN, April 26. The German people now know the new proposals, which the German Government submits to the Allied Powers through the medium of the United States. The terms of these proposals were made public to-day, as well as accompanying assurances forwarded President Harding of the United States. Germany, declaring that the peace and welfare of the world are dependent upon a speedy and just solution of the reparations question, assures President Harding that it will do everything in its power to enable the United States Government to direct the attention of the Allied Governments to the matter.

WORTH FOLLOWING. WASHINGTON, D.C., April 26. The example of Canada and the United States, following alongside one another, without fortifications, for a hundred years, was pointed to as one which other nations might emulate by President Harding in an address at an Odd Fellows meeting here to-night, in celebration of the hundred and second anniversary of that order. Such concord might be possible among other nations, the President said, if they possessed the same understanding and singleness of purpose to forward the cause of mankind.

GRÆCO-JEWISH RIOT. CONSTANTINOPLE, April 26. Rioting occurred here to-day between Greeks and Jews, in which several persons were injured. Greeks, who accused Jews on the Golden Horn of being pro-Turkish, paraded about with an effigy of a Rabbi, and they attacked a Jewish procession, and in the clash a number on both sides were injured. British police intervened and stopped the fighting. The Greek High Commissioner here has apologized for the action of the Greeks.

TRIAL OF HUNS. LONDON, April 26. The depositions of fourteen witnesses were taken at to-day's inquiry at Bow Street into charges of cruelty and atrocity against the following German officers—Lieut. Commander Neumann, Commander of submarine U57, for sinking the hospital ship Dover Castle, in May 1917; Captains Hamptmann and Muller, and Non-Commissioned Officers Heinz and Reumann, for cruelty and inhuman treatment of British prisoners in German prison camps. The trial of these officers will take place at Leipzig at the end of May, under the Versailles Treaty.

WOULD MOVE WITHOUT ALLIES. WASHINGTON, D.C., April 26. Events here to-day indicated clearly that the United States, in replying to Germany's counter proposals on reparations, would be guided almost, if not wholly, by decisions of the Allied Government as to whether the new propositions put forward by Berlin were of such a nature as to force a basis for further negotiations. Secretary of State Hughes conferred late to-day with each of the Allied diplomatic representatives, discussing with them briefly the German communication, which was received early in the day from United States Commissioner Dressel at Berlin. The foreign envoys immediately reported to their Governments by cable, and it was understood that the framing of a reply to Germany would await the outcome of these exchanges. The Allied Governments were believed to be in possession of the text of the German proposals, which were made public to-day at Berlin, and it was not thought that the reply would be long delayed. It was suggested, however, that exchanges between Paris and London might be necessary before a final decision was reached.

ESKIMOS STARVING. THE PAS, Man., April 26. Eskimos at Repulse Bay, on the fringe of the Arctic Ocean, are starving, trappers reaching here report. Failure of caribou herds to come into their vicinity caused a shortage of food during the winter, and many deaths are reported.

WRIGGLING OUT. BERLIN, April 27. Speaking in Reichstag yesterday with regard to reparations, Dr. Walter Simons, Foreign Minister, declared that Reichstag had regarded Germany after the Allies at the recent London Conference as too high and members could not take the new offer sent through United States on the basis of increase over previous German offer, but only on an entirely different basis. Neutral experts Simons said, unfortunately had over estimated Germany's capacity to pay.

LONDON TIMES OPINION. LONDON, April 27. Germany's new reparations proposals, says the London Times, are "so devious as the proposals of March, but they are still a way below what the Allies, after voluntary statements, have declared to be their minimum demands."

BEING CONSIDERED. PARIS, April 27. Germany's proposals relative to reparations are still being considered by Premier Briand, and it is probable a decision will not be reached before this evening.

LONDON PRESS OPINION. LONDON, April 27. Consideration should be given Germany's reparations proposals by the Allies, said the Daily News to-day, in discussing the terms of the Berlin Government as published here, reserving judgment as to the acceptability of the proposals until they are more fully examined. The Chronicle says, "Obviously the imminent fear of the occupation of the Ruhr region produced a degree of repentance in Berlin, which no amount of appeals to reason and justice ever produced."

House of Assembly.

NOTICE OF QUESTION. Mr. Yhinloombe—To ask Hon. the Prime Minister if the manufacturers of this city have made representation to the Government for increased duties or further protection, and if the Government before considering the matter will obtain from them and lay on the table of the House a statement showing the dividends paid by these companies in each of the past ten years; the bonuses paid, or increases in capital of stock made in each ten years, and the amount of reserve maintained by each of these companies at the present time.

Sir J. C. Crosbie—To ask the Minister of Public Works to lay on the table of the House a report of the work done by Mr. John Davey for $2,815.00.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Prime Minister, in the absence of Hon. the Minister of Finance and Customs, if Mr. E. Callishaw imported into this Colony within the past few months a number of rifles or guns; if he obtained possession of the same on a free entry or temporary permit and if so why; who signed the temporary permit and his reason for doing so; what is the value of the articles imported and the value of the duty and what steps the Government proposes to take to collect the same.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Prime Minister, in the absence of Hon. the Minister of Agriculture and Mines: (a) If the Government has had any relations either directly or as associated with the owners of the sealing steamers with Major Clayton Kennedy in regard to the operation of airships and what has been the outcome of the same?

(b) If the said Major Clayton Kennedy secured a contract from the Government or the owners of the sealing steamers or both, to maintain and work the airships for sealishery and survey work, and if so to lay on the table of the House a copy of the same?

(c) If the said airships were a gift from the British Government to the Colony and if as part of their equipment there was a motor lorry, and if the same was sold by Major Clayton Kennedy in London, and if so what became of the proceeds?

(d) Did the Government either directly or as associated with the owners of the sealing steamers pay the hotel expenses at the Cochrane Hotel in St. John's of Captain Williams and Mr. Tippen on occasion when they stayed there?

(e) Did the Government either directly or as associated with the owners of the sealing steamers pay to Mr. Skelton a sum of money due him on his contract with Major Clayton Kennedy, and if so what sum was paid him and why?

(f) Are any members of the party of British mechanics brought here by Major Clayton Kennedy or others connected with him still in the city, if so are they owed any money, and if so how much?

(g) If they made representations to the government for the payment of the same or for help otherwise;

(h) Has any money been paid them, and if not why not?

(i) Does the Government owe any money on account of this enterprise and if so how much; and does the Government propose to take any steps to assist these men who came here in good faith to return to their native country?

Sir M. P. Cashin—To call the attention of Hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, as Chairman of the Railway Commission, to an official statement of a meeting of the Commission published in the newspapers September 11th, 1920, wherein the following announcement appears:

Harbor Grace Notes.

Mr. E. J. Ryan of Trinity was in town last week.

The three-masted schooner Oliven, Captain Burden, owned by Messrs. Munn & Co., arrived in port on Thursday last, being 32 days out from Gibraltar, with a load of salt to her owners.

The "At Home" which was held in St. Patrick's Hall on Wednesday night last by the members of Dalton Council, No. 1448, Knights of Columbus and their friends, was very enjoyable to the large number who were present. The affair came to a close at 2 a.m. with the singing of the National Anthem.

The Supreme Court on Circuit opened here on Tuesday morning of last week and the session closed on Friday forenoon.

Miss Minnie Noseworthy, who is working in the city, arrived in town by Friday night's train and spent the week-end here visiting her parents and other friends.

Mr. Willis Davis, of St. John's, arrived in town by Saturday night's train to attend the funeral of his late brother, Mr. Orestes Davis, who passed away in the forenoon of that day.

Mr. E. E. Parsons left for the city by this morning's train to attend the funeral of the late Captain W. E. Parsons, who passed away there on Saturday last.

Miss Lizette Polley, stenographer at the Bank of Montreal, St. John's, having spent the week-end with her parents and friends here, left for the city again by yesterday afternoon's train.

Mr. Allan Parsons of St. John's, arrived here on Friday last to spend a few days.

The funeral of the late Miss Sadie Hutchings, daughter of Leonard and the late Mrs. Hutchings, who passed away at St. John's a short time previously, took place yesterday from the Railway Station, the body having been sent on here by the noon train.

Her remains were laid to rest in the Church of England Cemetery, there to await the last great day. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved family in the loss they have sustained by the removal of this young life to a far better one beyond the skies; but their loss is heaven's gain, and the parting is but transient.

Miss Rita Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Parsons (H.M.C.), who has been working for some time with Messrs. Ayre & Sons, Ltd., St. John's, as accountant, arrived home a few days ago, having resigned her position with that firm and will remain here for some time. Her many friends are pleased to have her with them once more.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whiteway of Bay Roberts, arrived in town by Saturday afternoon's train and spent the week-end, being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Parsons during their stay.

Mr. W. A. Munn of St. John's, was in town yesterday. All his friends are pleased to see him looking so well after his trip abroad.

Through a telegram received in town on Saturday night last by Mr. Robert Lee Whiting, we learn that his daughter, Miss Mollie, who had been ill for some time and was undergoing treatment at a hospital in Montreal, Canada, had suddenly changed for the worse and it is feared that by now she may have passed beyond earthly cares. It will be remembered that Mollie occupied a position as clerk with Mr. W. H. Parmenter of this town for upwards of two years, where she was well liked. Being of a bright and obliging disposition, she made many friends, who will all be sorry to hear this sad news. Maybe, she thought that in the land of the Maple Leaf she would further her ambitions, but apparently the climatic conditions did not tend to the betterment of her health, and since leaving home, the greater part of the time she has been under medical attendance.

Mr. Herbert Martin of St. John's, has been in town the last few days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Martin.

Mr. Max Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy, who got injured last week while taking a spin in Doctor Cronk's motor car, together with Mr. Shenstone Lilly, which resulted in an accident, is now recovering from the bad shaking up he received. Both young men had been in the habit of going out with the Dr. in his car on different occasions, but this time they thought they could handle the car themselves and accordingly were having a spin on their own account on Tuesday last and having gone up Harvey Street, were making the return back again, when they lost control of the machine, which ended in the car toppling over and throwing the two occupants underneath. However, the car itself is now none the worse for its experience, having been to Mr. A. E. Parson's Garage and had its fenders attended to; Lilly was scarcely hurt at all, and hope to see Murphy around again shortly. We are sure to say, boys should not, etc., etc., but nevertheless boys are boys and often times need to get a very bad lesson and sometimes to keep their fingers out of the pie and let things alone and not overestimate their capabilities.

Saturday last being observed in honor of England's Patron, Saint George, the town closed down for the day and the chief celebration was a grand joint parade. It consisted of C.B.S. and King Edward Branch, headed by the Band, the Sons of England and Orange Societies, which paraded as far East as Cathedral St., thence to Christ Church, where divine service was held, the Incumbent, Rev.

and a similar statement of expenditures showing the cost of: (a) Maintenance of line, building, etc. (b) Making and repairs of engines; (c) Repairs of cars; (d) General expenses?

Sir M. P. Cashin—To call the attention of Hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to an official announcement in the issue of his organ, The Advocate, of Wednesday, December 1st, that on the previous evening the Railway Commission sat for four hours and dealt with many important matters, among them being that "a General Manager for the Railway system had been secured and was to arrive in a few days," and to ask him if such General Manager has arrived, if so what is his name, what are his credentials, what salary is he receiving, and for what period has he been engaged, and if he is not yet arrived, what steps a gentleman understood to have been selected for this position arrived here some three or four months ago and departed again after two or three days; if this gentleman came to look over the railway and allied properties before assuming the position, and if he refused to assume the position because he could not secure any guarantee that he would be able to operate the railway along his own lines and without interference from inexperienced people like the Minister and others; if he regarded the Railroad as being in a hopeless state, and if so, what steps the Commission and others are unsuited to direct it, and if not why he left; and if there is any correspondence between that gentleman and himself or the commission or any member or officer of the Commission, to lay copies of the same on the table of the House.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Prime Minister, in the absence of Hon. the Minister of Agriculture and Mines: (a) If the Government has had any relations either directly or as associated with the owners of the sealing steamers with Major Clayton Kennedy in regard to the operation of airships and what has been the outcome of the same?

(b) If the said Major Clayton Kennedy secured a contract from the Government or the owners of the sealing steamers or both, to maintain and work the airships for sealishery and survey work, and if so to lay on the table of the House a copy of the same?

(i) Does the Government owe any money on account of this enterprise and if so how much; and does the Government propose to take any steps to assist these men who came here in good faith to return to their native country?

Sir M. P. Cashin—To call the attention of Hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, as Chairman of the Railway Commission, to an official statement of a meeting of the Commission published in the newspapers September 11th, 1920, wherein the following announcement appears:

Not Beauty Only

These whiter teeth mean safer teeth as well. No doubt the great reason why millions use Pepsodent is to get prettier teeth. It removes the dingy film. But science has more important objects. Pepsodent brings five effects, and all of them mean better tooth protection.

The ruinous film. Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Old methods of brushing do not effectively combat it. So it often lingers long. Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look cloudy. Countless teeth are thus made dingy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles. Most of the tooth and gum attacks are now traced to that film.

Must combat it daily. After diligent research science has found two ways to combat that film. Many careful tests have proved them. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use. Both are embodied in a modern tooth paste—Pepsodent. Every use attacks the film in two effective ways. It also brings three other results which have proved essential.

Fights starch and acid. Pepsodent does what fruit acids do. It multiplies the salivary flow. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay. These are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. Every use of Pepsodent multiplies their powers.

Effects are apparent. Millions now know the delightful effects. Any one who will can quickly see and feel them. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Then read the reasons in the book we send. A week may bring a life-long change in your teeth cleaning methods. Cut out the coupon now.

Free. Enough for 20 uses—for a 10-day test. That will show the delightful results. Send the coupon.

Must combat it daily. After diligent research science has found two ways to combat that film. Many careful tests have proved them. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use. Both are embodied in a modern tooth paste—Pepsodent. Every use attacks the film in two effective ways. It also brings three other results which have proved essential.

Fights starch and acid. Pepsodent does what fruit acids do. It multiplies the salivary flow. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay. These are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. Every use of Pepsodent multiplies their powers.

Effects are apparent. Millions now know the delightful effects. Any one who will can quickly see and feel them. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Then read the reasons in the book we send. A week may bring a life-long change in your teeth cleaning methods. The ruinous film. Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Old methods of brushing do not effectively combat it. So it often lingers long. Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look cloudy. Countless teeth are thus made dingy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles. Most of the tooth and gum attacks are now traced to that film.

Like the Brilliance of Jewellery
for Your Table

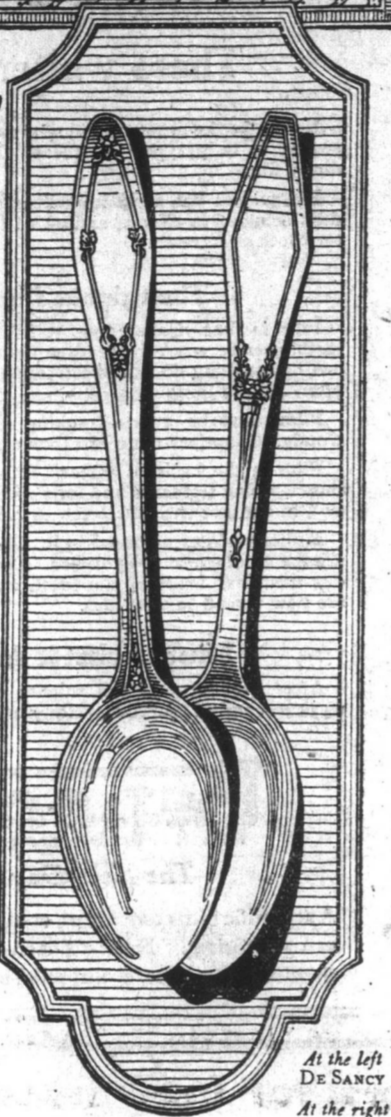

THE veritable glitter and gleam of gems—radiance such as your table never showed before—that is the charm the exclusive "Holmes & Edwards" hand-burnished lustre brings to your table.

And "Holmes & Edwards" yields the enduring satisfaction which only the bountiful use of pure silver can give—sterling silver alone surpasses it in life.

More silver is used in "Holmes & Edwards"—and then, in SILVER INLAID, solid silver blocks are set in at the back of the bowl and handle; and in SUPER PLATE, a heavy extra plating is given to protect these points against wear.

Good jewelers gladly recommend "Holmes & Edwards" flatware and also "Holmes & Edwards" table appointments which harmonize with it in quality and gleaming lustre.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THE RULES OF THE GAME.

The other evening I heard a young man telling how he had broken a certain regulation (I'll give you leave to guess what it was) with an air of triumph and bragadoleio which is the customary concomitant of such confessions.

He evidently regarded himself as a most wonderful good sport because he had outwitted the law in a contest in which, by the way, he had about ten chances to get away with it to one of being caught.

The Prince Couldn't Understand.

In some way I was reminded of a story which was told of the German Crown Prince during the war. It seems that the Crown Prince sometime before the war was taking a trip on an English ship on which the game of deck golf was being played. The Crown Prince was watching the game and had taken special interest in the game of one of the players. This golfer at first appeared to be going to win, then he lost ground and his opponent got ahead. Then the opponent fell behind and the Prince's choice again had a chance to win. He made a shot and just missed his mark. The opponent had been called to the rail to notice some passing ship. "Give it a shove," said the Prince, "and you will win." The player naturally refused. "But if you don't, you won't win," said the Prince, puzzled at this obtuseness to the main issue. But the player refused. He was living up to the rules of the game. Most of us admire him, don't we?

Laws Are Rules of the Big Game.

Why, then, do so many men who would do as he did in any game of chance or skill, and seem to do anything else, regard it as sporting to try to evade the rules of the game when those rules are the law of the land?

Said one of the deputy commissioners of the New York police in a recent magazine article:

"You may think there is no harm done when you break some minor regulation. But these regulations have been made in order to protect the happiness, comfort and security of the community—including yourself. When someone else breaks one of them you, perhaps, are inconvenienced or suffer loss. The same thing happens to another when you break a regulation."

What the Real Sports Do.

Laws and regulations and city ordinances are the rules of the game of life. Some people keep them not because they care about the ethics of the matter but because they are afraid lest they get caught.

And some people, mostly too young and callow to know any better, think that it is a fine thing, a sportsman-like thing, to demonstrate that they are not afraid to get caught by breaking the rules.

But the real sports, in the highest sense of the word, keep the rules because they are the rules of the game for the present and because it is not fair to the other fellow to break them.

Household Notes.

Caramel fudge is twice as delicious when walnut meats are added to the recipe.

A high cutting table, such as tailors use, is of the greatest service in the sewing room.

A fruit salad served with browned crackers and cheese makes a delightful dessert.

Be sure to remove seeds from the lemons sliced for tea, and put a clove or two in each slice.

A Joke Which Proved Fatal.

Trying to play a joke on his sister, little Willie Tarr, aged ten, lost his life recently. He was amusing himself in his father's barn near Lemonville. He saw his sister coming and thought he would scare her. He tied a rope around his neck while standing on a beam and his foot slipped. His sister ran, screaming, to the house, and the mother, Mrs. John Tarr, rushed out to the barn and cut the lad down. A doctor was hurriedly called, and for nearly three hours he worked to kindle a spark of life, but in vain. All hope was given up at noon.

The Island of Yap.

That is a small word and it represents a small place but it is creating a big interest among the nations. In our English, Yap means "to bark to yelp." Well, Yap, is making considerable noise. It is the name of the chief island in the western group of the Carolines and lies about a thousand miles east of the Philippines. It formerly belonged to Spain but after the Spanish-American war it fell into the hands of the Germans. After the late great war it was agreed by the Council of the League that Japan, for her assistance, should have the former German islands north of the equator and Great Britain should have those on the south. The United States, refusing to ratify the Treaty of Versailles, was not represented in the League Council, and so was not consulted when these assignments were made. But Yap is a very important cable station and the United States is much interested in it because of the connections it makes with the Philippines and other American Pacific possessions. Naturally the United States is opposed to this island falling into the hands of any nation whose policies might be opposed to her own, and she has notified the Council of the League that she cannot consent to seeing Yap and its cable lines fall into the hands of any single power. Of course it did belong to a single power, Germany, before the war but circumstances have changed and Japan and the United States have some other problems between them which are difficult to solve. This is a very delicate question. Japan does not seem inclined to yield anything from the mandate given her by the Council of the League, but recently the United States has renewed her protest and declared that she would not agree to any such disposition of the matter.

Careful diplomacy will be required to effect an amicable settlement of the difficulty.

London Full of Troops.

Owing to the strike of the Triple Alliance, London is more filled with service men than at any time since the war. They are mobilized in Hyde Park and Kensington Gardens in such numbers that the gates have been closed and the public has no opportunity to see them. The Duke of York's house is used as headquarters and filled with officers, the home of the Prince of Wales is guarded and Buckingham Palace has been fortified against attack. The Cabinet has gathered forces ready to despatch them to any point in the British Isles on a moment's notice. This mobilization of the military gives rise to the question where the troops are coming from. Some have arrived from Ireland and from the Rhine.

READING BOOKS.

Read helpful books that fill the mind with gems of noble lore; in such great volumes you will find the world's sublimest store. But if you read them all the time, you'll exhaust, and you will think such books a crime, and noble lore a frost. If you would keep an appetite for thoughts from noble domes, you ought to read some fiction light between the stately tomes. Read Milton till his sounding verse no longer thrills your bones, then buy and read "The Plucker's Curse, or Who Slugged Johnnie Jones?" Read Bacon's essays, one by one, until you're feeling bored, then buy and read "The Poisoned Bun, or Who Swiped Henry's Ford?" The man who lives on pie alone will find that diet dire; 'twould do him good to gnaw a bone, or chew a rubber tire. The modern pie's the greatest treat that science can produce, but it should go with beans and meat, and prunes stewed in their juice. And so the works of guys inspired, like Milton and that bunch, as steady grub are not desired—they finish up a lurch. I always shun the student pale who says, with misfit pride, he never reads the trifling tale with vamps and gore supplied.

Dempsey Getting Ready for Fight.

New York—Heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey has arrived here to begin training for his contest with Georges Carpentier in New Jersey, July 2.

Dempsey stated that he weighed 191 pounds, and would start active preparations for the bout as soon as the definite site of the match was announced. He will lead up to his work by spending the next two weeks at the home of Freddie Welsh, where he will play golf and do light outdoor training, including long walks.

The big champion of all the batties looked to be in splendid condition. He confessed to tipping the beam at just 196 pounds, which is some ten pounds more than he actually weighed when he made Willard chuck it at Toledo.

"I'm ready to fight right now," said Dempsey, as he playfully knocked the writer's brand new Kelly twenty feet across his room at the Belmont.

"I'm eager to get to work for the big thing," said Dempsey finally. "I love to fight. Nothing pleases me more than to be swinging at the other fellow. I've plenty of time to get down to real training for Carpentier. Don't run away with the idea that I'll hold him cheaply. I hold no man cheaply, but I know the man doesn't breathe who can whip me. That's not boasting; that's simply being sure of myself."

"Gunboat Smith hit me as hard as I'm ever going to be hit in this life, I hope, and I didn't feel it. You know I once told Jack Kearns never to thro wup any sponge in my corner until he was sure that I was through.

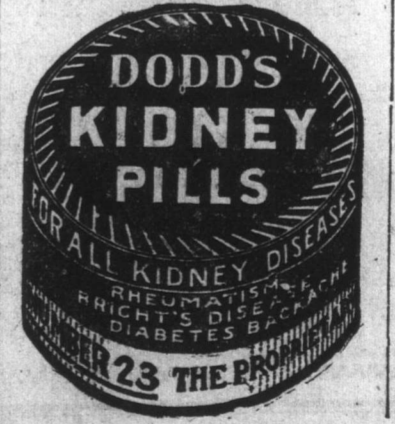

I never believe it a real fight until I've been knocked down five or six times."

"At any rate, I'll be ready. I'm going over to Freddie Welsh's farm at Summit, N.J., and I'll just loaf around, chase the dog up and down a bit and play a little handball with Freddie. This doesn't mean that I've selected Fred's place as my permanent quarters. However, if I find that it is the best possible place I may stick it out there. Let no friend of mine worry about my condition. I'll be better than I was at Toledo and that was fair to middling, wasn't it?"

German Competition.

Let it be remembered that owing partly to the state of the exchanges and partly to the fact that Germany is deliberately refusing to tax her people on anything like the same scale that the British people are taxed, German competition has again become intense in certain trades. In the silk trade, for example, Germany has been pouring goods into this country at prices so preposterously low that competition is utterly impossible and British looms are standing idle—London Telegraph.

Saw It, Nail It, Paint It, Wash It

Beaver Boarding is just that simple.

These big, flawless panels of built-up lumber go up quickly and easily, without muss or litter—on new stud-ding or over old walls and ceilings.

Then they are ready for the most decorative finishes. Once painted, they are good as long as the building lasts—wash them with soap and water whenever you wish.

Beaver Board is just as applicable to a beautiful living-room built by carpenters as it is to the simple finishing of an attic. It is just as economical in the new home as in brightening up the old home.

The result is sure if genuine Beaver Board is used. You can identify it by the Beaver Quality trade-mark on the back of every panel.

Look for this trade-mark also on Vulcanite Roofing—Asphalt Shingles, Slabs and Rolls which make better roofs.

Beaver Board and Vulcanite Roofing are sold by lumber and building material dealers.

What Every Woman Knows.

"Woman is losing her modesty," a man remarked the other day, "now that she has the ballot. Since we have given her that dear privilege she will doubtless snatch from us other purely masculine rights, and will, I prophesy, in a few years be giving the proposals of marriages, and then no man will be safe."

"If we refuse we will be considered mean old things, and we cannot run away for a woman can run a man down any time. It was once considered the prerogative of royal women only to propose marriage, but with the passing of royalty and the present emancipation of women, the fair ones will follow nothing but their own sweet wills. We poor men will be in a tight place, sure," sighed the man, who is a bachelor and something of a grouch.

Should that man prove to be a good prophet and women usurp the privilege of proposing, it will be but proof of the truth of King Solomon's assertion that there is nothing new under the sun.

When Priscilla, the Puritan maiden, asked: "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?" she was but following precedent in the matter of encouraging the bashful lover. Shakespeare heroes took the initiative in love making more than once. Desdemona bravely hints that she wishes the Moor to woo her. "I am your wife if you will marry me," is the candid proposal of Miranda to the patient log man. Helena demands the hand of Bertram as the price of restoring health to the king.

Miss Kenrick, an English heiress, celebrated in the ballad of "The Berkshire Lady's Garland," fell in love with Benjamin Child, a handsome young attorney, and sent him an anonymous letter demanding satisfaction for injuries received. After trying in vain to ascertain the identity of his challenger, the young attorney, much puzzled, went to the field of honor, to find only a veiled woman awaiting him.

The woman demanded that he marry her. He cautiously requested that she first lift her veil. The lady declined to unmask until she should show her face to her husband. Whether piqued by curiosity or moved by other motive, fear or love, Child decided to surrender and the two hid them to the church where the knot was secretly tied.

The impetuous hero of this peculiar romance found that the marriage brought him a place among the gentry and brought him beauty, honor and riches. He was made high sheriff of Berkshire in 1714.

Dr. Richard Baxter, a Puritan divine of the 17th century, and the author of some 160 books on theology, was saved the trouble of seeking a wife by Margaret Charlton, who sent him a proposal by messenger. Margaret had the feminine curiosity to stand listening at the study door of the doctor while the message was being delivered by her ambassadress.

Hearing the doctor decline the offer, she rushed in and dramatically fell at his feet, declaring that she made the offer from as worthy motives, but because she believed that life with the divine would be good for her soul. Baxter accepted and they lived happily ever afterward.

Dr. Thomas Dawson, celebrated as a physician for both soul and body, one day found one of his women patients reading the Bible. She had chosen the 7th verse of the 12th chapter of the second book of Samuel, and had a finger pointing directly to Nathan's words to David, "Thou art the man." The good doctor took the hint and proposed.

There is a story of a pretty, red-haired girl who sold matches at the big London railroad station. One day a good-looking man approached and asked: "Could you oblige me with a match?" "Yes, if you do not object to a red-headed one," was the quick reply. Now they are married.

It was an Irish girl to whom a shy man said, "I wish we were on such terms that you would not mind calling me by my first name." Like a flash came the answer, "Oh, your surname is good enough for me." She got it.

These are but a few of the recorded instances in which the woman has taken in hand the matter of the marriage proposal. There are countless unrecorded ones. Every woman knows that "there are 57 ways to catch a man" and every woman knows that "there are methods to bring the lizard lover to the point of 'popping the question.'" Any married woman could tell you how she did it. But you need not ask her, for she will never, never tell—Bina Ethel Payne, in Kansas City Star.

Here in a world where there's so much to do!

To-morrow calls us to the better day,
One task accomplished, write a thousand say,
Untouched, and to the last
Men boast some petty story of the past.

Swift as the years
Are conquest's chasers,
Nor with one splendid feat is life complete,
To-morrow's work all men must waken to seek,
Live not with what is done,
But keep your thoughts forever dwelling on
The bright new morning, and forget
The past, remembering what swains you yet.

Live not with praise
Of by-gone days,
Pride dalls ambition's edge. When men grow vain
They cease to struggle to attain,
Though fair the finished task to see,
Brighter shall glow what is to be.
He only meets life's sternest test
Who hopes and works to do his best.

Salmonier Ferry Service.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—In your issue of the 19th a "Subscriber" makes some statements about the Salmonier Ferry Service, some right, and some wrong; the right, I'll consider, the wrong, I'll not. "Subscriber" states that the boat was handed over to me last June, to operate according to contract from July 1st, but did not appear until the 13th of that month. The fact is the boat was handed over to me July 2nd and an utter wreck; the keel broken off at stern-post and also amidships, rudder broken off and some propeller blades turned in against the stern-post and lock nuts gone, all fittings of engine, tank, batteries, feed-pipe, gasoline cocks, etc., all gone and the boat barely able to float across the harbor. The cabin house was taken off and destroyed, a part of the roof being laid across the engine to keep out the rain and snow of the previous winter.

Now! all this does not tend to alter the wording of my contract, but it does tend very considerably to satisfy reasonable people that the contractor may be a fairly tolerable mechanic and yet fail to get this boat in operation a day before or even a few days after she came into his possession. And you, gentle reader, be whom you may, no doubt forthwith begin to divine that "Subscriber's" letter should have been much longer to be strictly honest.

"Subscriber" says the service until the end of October was anything but satisfactory. Well then, we may assume that it was passable, and that it could have been worse, as those who know something of previous contractors will recall. That was the time the deck-house was removed. Presumably it wasn't necessary then as it was customary in bad weather to submerge and remain under until the storm was over. "Subscriber" sarcastically refers to the small salary of $1,800. It is small; $200 less than the previous contractor was allowed during the Cashin Administration.

I may get some criticism; I need be no better than I am and yet escape it all, but that is not my point. Like the fishing skipper would say, I want to work in over the ground. It is not to my mind sufficient to hold the edge. I can look ahead to what this ferry service ought to be, and I don't want Jim Jones' or George Smith's wife or child to have their health destroyed or even their Sunday suit ruined, because they may be obliged to make the three mile run on the boat. Why not have the best possible as far as circumstances will allow, even if we do curtail one or two per cent. of service, while we're getting to it. Salmonier is a big harbor, nine miles long and about three quarters wide. It is a kind of centre for outlying settlements of the Bay, having five Post and Way Offices, three Telegraph Offices, two churches, half a dozen schools and being a port of call for coastal steamers; so that it can be seen at a glance what a boon this ferry can be if properly utilized.

The boat, which is 35 ft. long by 8 feet wide, has been rebuilt the past winter and has been given 7 inches more draught amidships. The engine has been removed to the forward part of the boat, requiring 17 feet of shaft. A cabin and engine room have been added, the cabin to accommodate 10 passengers. The cockpit also has been refitted and provides for 25 or 30 more passengers. The actual service this summer will be four round trips daily touching at six points, each way over a three mile section of the harbor. The coastal wharf being a point of call is therefore connected with all other points, which is a great convenience, and freight is carried, the last trip in the evening for an insignificant charge averaging 5c. a package.

Considering all of which, Mr. Editor, I trust you will kindly give this space in your columns, in satisfaction to all concerned and to oblige,

Yours very truly,

St. George's Society.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—In time of peace prepare for war. It has been said that the proper time to prepare for the next battle is immediately after the preceding one is finished. Acting on that principle I am going to state a few thoughts which occur to me concerning next year's St. George's Day Parade. This year's was very successful and a great many participated, but unless I am very much mistaken there will next year be twice as many, for it is quite probable that the Masons, the C.E.I. and Jewelers Clubs may join in. The St. George's Society, which was only revived this year and which was represented only by Mrs. Barle and myself, will next year, take part. I shall be greatly disappointed if that Society does not turn out to be far and away the largest in the island, certainly a thousand members and possibly two. Of course there will be many members of St. George's Society, parading with the other Societies, but there will be many, like myself, who, belonging to no other society, will parade with it. What is the object of the St. George's Society? Its object is to help those unable to help themselves. Particularly, destitute Englishmen and women or the descendants thereof, generally mankind. It is a society whose members get nothing but give. The membership fee for gentlemen is five dollars and for ladies two dollars and fifty cents. Englishmen and women (including Welshmen and women) and their descendants and their wives and husbands are eligible for membership. It proposes to help the Child's Welfare, those to whom Mrs. Barle devoted her life, orphans, children whose parents are alive, but who are unable to properly care for them. In time we hope to have a building where we can feed, clothe and educate and prepare for the battle of life such children, but that may not be for some time, although it may come sooner than we anticipate, especially so if some one thinks well of our Society and makes us donations. Our revenues will be from members' subscriptions, concerts, theatricals, sports, etc., etc., and we further hope that we will from time to time receive donations and legacies. We further expect to have branches of the society throughout the island. We are sure there are thousands who are patriotic enough to part with five dollars or two-fifty to associate themselves with the movement, which cannot fail to be of great good to the city and country. I understand that the St. John's Octette will contribute the proceeds of Thursday night's concert to the Society. If they do they will have the honor of being the first organization to do so. That would be most fitting for they made their debut, which was so successful on St. George's Night the same day on which the Society was formed up. The start having been made others will follow. We have already members endowed with the gifts to make any entertainment in which they participate a success, so that whenever we wish we can put before the public something to which they will gladly go and so pass a pleasant time and help a deserving cause. Secretaries of the Society are Mr. R. G. Ash, Mrs. Julia Salter Barle, and the Treasurer is Mr. Gordon Winter. Those who wish to join can communicate with them and send their subscriptions. I am sure we are going to have great success and our membership will be a very large one.

Yours truly,

House of Assembly Losing its Dignity

Occupants of Gallery Again Create Disorder--Prime Minister Makes Poor Defence.

There was no occurrence of any great interest apart from the interruptions during yesterday's session of the House. The proceedings were mainly taken up with the speeches of Mr. Hibbs, the Prime Minister and Mr. Vinicombe. There were continual interruptions during the session chiefly from Government rosters but the Government also came in for a considerable amount of heckling from supporters of the Opposition. Questions were productive of some little interest caused by the remarks of Sir Michael Cashin and a letter received from 16 men of Bay Roberts, who stated they were still owed money for fish by the firm of Fraisham's now in liquidation, and they had written to Hon. Dr. Barnes who had not bothered to answer them. This, said Sir Michael, was the letter he had told Mr. Gosse about on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Gosse said his feelings deeply hurt by Sir Michael Cashin's remarks and got to his feet and entered into a long-winded profession of his independence. He said that he had not sold any fish to the Government.

Sir Michael Cashin replied in scathing terms to Mr. Gosse. That gentleman had asserted that he was very independent but he (Sir Michael) wished to compliment him on the manner in which he sold his fish. He was evidently not so innocent as he seemed. Mr. Gosse had sold his fish to the Government and had taken Government money for it and he could prove it.

The Committee appointed comprised Lieut. H. Small, Sergt-Major LeGros and Lt.-Col. Sullivan.

The questions on the Order Paper were next gone through.

Sir John Crosbie enquired of the Prime Minister whilst that gentleman was answering a question referring to his trip to Italy, whether he had found that any "Blue Ruin" messages to the Consorcio had emanated from him.

The Prime Minister entered into a profuse explanation of what he was pleased to term the "Blue Ruin" propaganda circulated by a certain section in the country. He said that the propaganda concerning the Fish Regulations sent him to Genoa. Sir John Crosbie's name had not been mentioned in connection with this propaganda.

Sir John Crosbie said the Prime Minister didn't have the common decency to answer his question properly. The only messages he had sent dealt with his private business affairs. But, he would state on the floor of the House, as he had done 15 months before, that nothing but "Blue Ruin" was coming to us. He was interrupted by Government rosters in the Gallery whom he warned to keep quiet. A man arrested on the previous day had, he said, an order for rum from Dr. Campbell in his pocket. Worse than that was the fact that foremost among the disturbers of yesterday in the gallery was a doorkeeper of the House who was drunk. These men are deliberately filled up with liquor and brought here to make a row. Primed to come here and cheer for the Government because it is well understood that no man in his sober senses would cheer for this Government. If that sort of thing kept on he could understand how the House could become like a bear garden. If it couldn't be conducted better it would be just as well to close it up. Men had been deliberately brought there to create a row and the quicker that sort of thing stopped the better it would be for all concerned. He moved that a man named Cullen, who was particularly obnoxious, should be put out.

The Speaker appealed to the Gallery to refrain from further interruptions or he would be forced to use the authority vested in him.

Mr. Hibbs spoke to the Amendment. He began by saying that he could not support it because he thought it was insincere and unnecessary as there was a Bill on the Order Paper for the repeal of the Regulations. He anticipated there would be a shortage in the Revenue this year of $4 million dollars. He believed in the principle of the Regulations but thought they had not had enough support. He spoke of a former speech of Mr. Fox in which that gentleman eulogized Hon. Mr. Coaker and said he was sorry to find that Mr. Fox had changed his view.

Mr. Fox—"The subject of my remarks has changed also."

Mr. Hibbs concluded by hoping that there would be more harmony in the House in future.

He was followed by the Prime Minister who made a fairly lengthy address which was a very poor apology for the Government's past actions, and was singularly deficient in any sign of a policy for the betterment of the Colony's economic distress. He dwelt for a considerable time on a hymn of praise for the outport members and said they had been the victims of a great deal of personal abuse which he greatly deplored. He uttered a solemn warning to the people of St. John's about the drastic results that would follow any attempt on their part to abuse outport members. He followed this eulogy up with a digression on snow shovelling, and he also gave expression to his confidence in Dr. Campbell, whom he believed to be a thoroughly reliable and honest friend.

Throughout his speech the Prime Minister was subjected to constant heckling from the Gallery and the crowd outside the bar. He attempted to answer some of the questions hurled at him, but when it came to making any defense of the Government's past policies, he had to own to ignominious failure. He attempted a defence of the Food Control Board and said it had done better than Control Boards in other countries.

A Voice—"What did Harvey and Company make?"

The Prime Minister spoke of the Committee of Enquiry into the Sugar question, and said they would discuss this and kindred information. Speaking of Newfoundland's financial condition the Premier said we were trading on a falling market and that a merchant had told him that last year's dollar was now worth 70 cents for supplies. The war was still on in so far as there was a toll of money instead of blood to pay our war debts. The war had cost us $16,000,000. "If," said the Prime Minister, "the exchange difficulties were solved, then the fishery problems would be also solved." He said he supported the fishery regulations when they were made and he did so now. The regulations had been managed badly but the policy was right. He thought the consignment basis would be the ruin of the country and that in the near future he would be clamoring for more regulations. The Prime Minister next dealt with the railway and said that the Belts had collapsed and the Bank of Montreal would not give them a red cent.

Voice from Crowd—"The Newfoundland Government did."

Speaking of the allocation from the Surplus Trust Fund for the purchase of Labrador fish, the Prime Minister stated that if he had been in town at the time it was made he would have done the same. He concluded by saying he could not support the amendment.

Mr. Vinicombe said he supported the amendment. He thought the Prime Minister's remarks very pitiful. He could see in them only a deliberate attempt to get in the good graces of Hon. Mr. Coaker and the Northern men at the expense of his own district. He was not so lavish in his praise of the Northern people when they drove him out of Trinity Bay in 1918. Although he was trying to get Coaker, the Hon. Minister of Marine and Fisheries had the same opinion of him (Mr. Squires) as he always had. When interrupted by some person in the Gallery, Mr. Vinicombe said that the limit had been reached when, on the previous day, one Hickey had given three cheers for the Newfoundland Disaster when Capt. Keefe entered the House. The Prime Minister's speech had reminded him of the burial of Sir John Moore. "Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note, etc." Referring back to the interruptions, Mr. Vinicombe said that everything that had been done in the House that afternoon had been arranged for at a meeting in the Star Office on Friday night. At 6.30 p.m. Mr. Vinicombe moved the adjournment of the House until 3 p.m. to-day.

Brotherhood Movement.
Service at Gover Street Church. A fine congregation greeted Rev. Mr. Williamson at Gover Street Church last evening, made up of men and women with men, however, predominating. This is contrary to the usual experience, and it seems as if the sisters were afraid of intruding. This fear is certainly needless as all are invited, women as well as men. A special feature of these meetings is the song service conducted by Mr. Williamson. He is the solo which he so affectingly renders. Instead of the usual Scripture lesson, the congregation contributed a variety of verses of Scripture from memory, a most interesting change. The text for the evening was taken from Matthew 22, 42, "What Think Ye of Christ," and from the first moment his grip upon his hearers was complete. Any attempt to convey an adequate idea of the sermon in a few words would be futile or worse, suffice it to say that the preacher put the life of Christ up against the life of each hearer in a way that made thinking inevitable. He held him up as God as well as man, pure, holy, undivided, separate from sinners. He dwelt upon the intensity of that life that in three short years contributed 98 per cent. of all the good that is in the world to-day, and he contrasted that with the emptiness of our lives. The life of Christ is filling music, art, literature. What a wonderful personality, and yet so approachable, so mighty and so meek. His life was full of holy toll for man. He went about doing good. From his lips fell the most remarkable words. He told men of God, not only as high, great and almighty, but as our Father, and therefore all His children are members of His family and brothers to one another, and the life of the world-to-day are due to our failure to recognize this great truth and live in harmony with it. And then the preacher pointed to His death on the cross and all that results from that death in pardon, peace, joy, hope, Heaven. He told of a Sacred Concert which he attended in Albert Hall, London, with Queen Victoria present. At the singing of the Hallelujah Chorus the entire audience stood and sang, the aged Queen, but when the great choir sang, "King of Kings and Lord of Gods," even the Queen rose and bowed in homage to Jesus Christ. To Him every knee shall bow. "What Think Ye of Christ?" Prayers and the Benediction brought to a close a most impressive service. Come to-night at 8 o'clock and hear for yourself.

Was Startled by Ringing of Phone, Says Quebec Man

Nervousness and Other Troubles Overcome By Tanlac, Says Carrier.

"Well, sir, this Tanlac has certainly done me a world of good. For I'm eating better, sleeping better and working better than I have in a long time," said Rene Carrier, 84 Sebeve, Quebec.

"I suffered so with indigestion that I hardly knew what it was to eat a meal without almost doubling up with pains in my stomach. I had no appetite and my work was a work without eating any breakfast. I was so nervous that the least noise like the ringing of the telephone would shake me and the least exertion would cause my heart to palpitate at a fearful rate. My condition was so bad I could not sleep, nor work with any satisfaction."

"Tanlac did a friend of mine so much good I decided to try it, and from the very first I felt an improvement, and by the time I finished my fourth bottle I felt like a different person. My appetite now is splendid. I eat three hearty meals every day, the heartiest being breakfast and never suffer the least bit afterwards. My nerves are as steady as they ever were, and I sleep soundly every night. My work is a pleasure and in fact I'm in the very pink of condition. Tanlac is great."

A Tribute.

"Oh, would we might keep thee, my brother."

Such was the thought of the large number, who on Monday afternoon, followed to its last resting place, the body of the late Capt. W. E. Parsons. Of a genial and kindly disposition, with a high sense of duty, and a conscientiousness and cautiousness that made him sacrifice himself unsparingly, he gained the confidence and esteem of all who travelled with him. Born at St. Grace in Nov. 1850, he took to the sea when a mere lad, sailing up and down the rocky coasts of Newfoundland and Labrador for over fifty years, thus gaining a knowledge of the coast that was really remarkable. For several years he sailed out of the firm of Harvey & Co., and for the past twenty years was with the Reid Newfoundland Co., having command of the various ships that ran on the Labrador Mail Service, which service he was compelled, through illness to lay down last year, which to one of his unceasing activity, was a keen disappointment.

The following lines are a "tourist's tribute," written from Washington, D. C. in 1911 by J. E. P.

"Farewell! old Viking of the Northern Sea.
And may the gods of stress and storm be good to thee.
Long may thy kindly eye and ruddy cheek, be light and bescon both
To those who with thee, keep old Neptune's troth.

Old heart of oak, 'tis Britain's boast
Her walls are sons of sturdy deeds,
No foeman's foot shall press her coasts
While sons like thee she breeds.

Along Newfoundland's cabled coast,
and on the Labrador,
The "Solway's" signal sends thy call,
and wakes each rocky shore,
The fisher bold through storm and cold,
takes heart of hope again
For news of home and friends thou bringst, across the stormy main.

Some day, thou grey and grizzled veteran,
The call shall come for thee;
May Heaven's snug harbor then be thine,
Thou undisturbed master of the icy sea."

On Saturday last the call did come and he "left the familiar moorings, and pushed his prow with no mistaking, to the trackless deep," with the calm assurance that they two would come safe into port—his Pilot and he, He leaves a sorrowing widow, four sons, two daughters in the city and one son in Calgary, three brothers, Mr. J. T. Parsons, Mr. George Parsons, Chelsea, Mass., and Mr. Nathaniel Parsons, Everett, Mass.—COM.

Whitbourne Notes.

Miss Margaret Cook, postal telegraph and telephone operator, is now away on a well-earned vacation. Mr. Healey, who came to supply during Miss Cook's absence, was taken seriously ill suddenly on Sunday, and is obliged to return to his home in the city. A substitute is being wired for to assist Mr. Rogers in the office.

His Lordship Bishop White, who was on Episcopal work at Green's Harbor and Cavendish, T.B., arrived here by the Heart's Content train this morning, leaving almost immediately for St. John's. Rev. C. Jeffery was also a passenger by the Heart's Content train.

Dr. Bolt and Canon Esby, passed through here on their way east last week.

Mrs. W. J. Larner, who was visiting relatives at Placentia last week, is now at home again.

The Roman Catholic School is now in operation again, under Miss Hoskins.

The Children's Sale of Work and tea in the Anglican School building (advertised for the 23rd) took place on Thursday, 21st, and was well patronized by the "grow-ups." The handicraft and needlework display reflected much credit on the lads and lassies, showing talent and artistic taste. The boys had reason to be proud of their collection of wooden articles, viz, tubs, rolling-pins, stools, mat frames, ships, boats and a doll's cradle of elaborate workmanship. One suspects some of the bigger boys (possibly "pater familias") had "a finger in the pie." The large sum netted proved the affair to have been a success financially.

Motor Association Pass Resolutions.

Yesterday afternoon the Executive of the Newfoundland Motor Association held a meeting in the Board of Trade Rooms, when matters in connection with the work of the Association were discussed. The Motor Act of 1919 was reviewed, and it was unanimously decided to approach the Government during the present session of the Legislature with a view to having this matter satisfactorily arranged. A set of resolutions were passed and will be sent to the Government. The Association's annual meeting takes place on May 5th, when the season's programme will be outlined and the election of officers held.

To-Night's Concert.

IN PRESBYTERIAN HALL.
The ladies in charge of the Charity Concert, which takes place in the Presbyterian Hall to-night, have arranged an excellent programme, and everything possible has been done to make the affair successful. The proceeds are being devoted to a charitable object and it is hoped that all who possibly can will attend. Amongst those taking part are Mesdames (Dr.) Murphy, Garland, Calvert, Barter and Oates; Messrs. Moncrief-Mawer, Bulley, Courtenay, Stanfield, Irvine.

Honesty Defined.

It might be curious to consider that honesty as a paying policy was first suggested by Benjamin Franklin, but his definition was only regarded as a pleasant until, say, the day before yesterday. Politicians have not yet adopted it; doctors are considering it; and the lawyers—well the lawyers have not yet heard of it. It has been left to the business man to put this principle into practical application.
