CUT the weeds, clean up the streets, and keep Watford clean and tidy. There is no excuse for Civic Ugliness. The quality of Citizenship is reflected in the appearance of the town, and good citizens in every community could not occupy themselves in a more desirable movement than in organizing some united effort to produce in their civic surroundings, that which, appealing to the eye, will have a tendency to develop in the heart and mind all that is expressed in the words—The True, the Good and the Beautiful.

READ the Want Column page four.

WATFORD is in literary darkness this week. The Guide-Advocate is taking its annual holiday, the editor spending the week offing up for another year's activity. The Guide is one of our brightest exchanges.—Petrolia Advertiser.

MRS. B. NOXELL, of Chatham, organizer of the Junior Dept. Epworth League for Western Ontario, will occupy the pulpit in the Methodist church on Sunday, Aug. 20th, morning and evening. Subject—"The Relation of the Adult to the Youth" and evening "Kadeshbarnea."

EAST Lambton Teachers' Association will meet in Petrolia on Sept. 28th and 29th. Mr. Robertson, of Stratford Normal school, will give three addresses on Arithmetic. The Executive Committee of the Association will meet in Petrolia on Saturday, Sept. 2nd, to complete arrangements for the association meeting.

THE Government is seriously considering the establishing of a parcel post system for Canada. They have been investigating the exorbitant charges of the express companies and think the country has been pirated long enough. The people want a system that is reasonable and efficient and the express companies are neither. Parcel post is bound to come sooner or later.

THE regular meeting of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. J. Humphries on Wednesday evening, Aug. 2nd. There was a good attendance. After the business Miss Trenouth gave a good selection on the piano. There were also readings on canning fruit and ways of saving money, after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess. Meeting closed by singing God Save the King. Next meeting to be held at Mrs. Abbott's.

CUT the weeds, clean up the streets, and keep Watford clean and tidy. There is no excuse for Civic Ugliness. The quality of Citizenship is reflected in the appearance of the town, and good citizens in every community could not occupy themselves in a more desirable movement than in organizing some united effort to produce in their civic surroundings, that which, appealing to the eye, will have a tendency to develop in the heart and mind all that is expressed in the words—The True, the Good and the Beautiful.

I TELL you it's a picture to see one of our daintily dressed Watford girls walking down street with a most satisfied air and knowing of course that she is just about the correct article and then to see two or three women who look as if they had their clothes built at the wagon works, turn around and giggle at the well dressed and cosy looking little creature.

THE Watford High School at the recent midsummer exams has made a very creditable showing, thus maintaining its past enviable record. The following is a summary of the results issued by the Educational Department: Out of 50 candidates who wrote, 4 obtained entrance to model standing, 9 entrance to Faculty, 24 entrance to Normal, 6 obtained full and 3 partial matriculation standing.

FEW people are aware of the exact distinction between Dominion bills and ordinary bank notes. The Dominion Government issues the coins currency, and the one, two and four dollar bills. The banks are only permitted to put out five and multiples of five. The Dominion notes are legal tender, the bank notes are not, technically speaking. The Government also issue $50, $100, $500 and $1000 bills. Gold coins are legal always. They carry themselves. Silver coins intrinsically are worth 50 cents on the dollar, copper 20 cents. Copper and silver are not real money; they are 'token money.' Coppers are legal tender up to 27 cents, silver up to $10. Then you can force the street railway conductor to accept $10 worth of change if you want it. No, you cannot force anybody to take money. You can force a creditor to accept money in legal tender, but that is different.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."

—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

NOTE AND COMMENT.

A returned visitor to the Northwest says that one of the remarkable things he noticed on his trip through the prairie province was the large number of abandoned farms to be found in Manitoba. There he saw tract after tract of land, which once yielded bountiful crops but are no longer under cultivation. The parties who first worked the land, simply reaped harvest after harvest, completely exhausted the soil, then flew their kite to other parts. This practice of taking everything from the land and returning nothing is spreading more or less all over the great prairies and the folly of it will sooner or later come to be fully realized. Land, in some choice sections is being held at as high as $20 an acre and with no buildings on it at that. When one considers that with five or six thousand dollars he can secure a splendid, well improved one hundred acre farm in the Garden of Ontario and enjoy every advantage comfort and convenience while occupying it and making a pretty sumptuous living off it as well, there is no earthly reason of him being lured westward. If you're comfortably situated or making headway where you are, he advises all with that restless feeling to stick in the old groove.

The most drastic campaign publicity legislation ever passed in either branch of Congress has been adopted by the U. S. Senate with the following important features: No candidate for the House or Senate shall spend in the election more than a sum equal to 10 cents for each voter in his district or state. No senatorial candidate shall spend a total of more than $10,000 in the primary and general election; and no candidate for the House shall spend more than $5,000. Publicity must be given to all primary campaign contributions and expenditures. All general election expenses must be made public before the election, beginning 15 days before the election, and making publication each six days until election. All promises of political jobs must be made public. The bill further makes it illegal to promise political places to secure election support; or to aid in influencing the election of any member of the state legislature.

An Ontario inventor claims to have invented a process by which the pores of ordinary clay can be permanently closed so that it will not admit water, so that when a clay road is treated accordingly to his process the surface is hardened, and the roadway made smooth, dustless and noiseless. If the claim of the inventor turns out to be well founded and if the method is cheap enough to be practicable for general use, the invention will work a wonderful improvement in this county.

The Life We Live.

It's waking and sleeping, and heaving a sigh, and watching and weeping, and saying good-bye. It's long hours of labor and short hours of rest, it's helping our neighbor, and doing our best; it's fasting and dining, and striving in vain, and joy and repining, and sunshine and rain. It's laughing and crying, it's darkness and light, and wishing the dying a loving good night. It's dancing and wailing, and battling with men, succeeding and failing, and trying again. It's wooing and and mating, it's foolish and wise, it's loving and hating, and dealing in lies. Man says it is dreary as graveyard he goes; he says he is weary and longs for repose; he says it is hollow, deluding, and vain, and others who follow repeat the refrain. But I shall not worry this old world to leave; what though it may worry and gall us and grieve? It gives us good measure of joy as we go; there's always a pleasure to pay for a woe. I'm fond of the mixture of laughter and tears; I'd fain be a fixture for ten thousand years.—WALT MASON.

Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand?
Knead your bread with honesty; but ter it with serenity; chew it with deliberation; thus treated, it will prove nourishing.

The tillage of the soil is done to-day by one-third of the people of the country and fully one-half more is produced than when it was done by 90 per cent. of the people.

When cane-bottomed seats become slack through use they are uncomfortable and unsightly. Sponge both sides of the cane thoroughly with hot soapsuds in which a handful of salt has been dissolved, then stand the chairs in the open air. Treated like this, the seats will become as firm as when new.

A little time used in overhauling and cleaning up each piece of machinery when one is through with it is well spent. Tighten up all the bolts, saturate the bearings and cover all wearing surfaces with a good grade of machine oil. This will stay on from one year to another, and keep the parts from rusting. Plow lays and all polished parts should be cleaned or covered with oil or grease of some kind, to keep them to keep them in good condition. There is no part of the farm operation at which a little time can be spent to better advantage than looking after farm machinery.

TESTING AN EGG.

Many Ways to Detect Staleness Besides Smell and Taste.

It does not require a very discriminating palate to detect an old egg from a new one, says a correspondent of the New York Sun. The former has a musty flavor that the latter never has, and the mustiness may range from a slight taint to a very pronounced one. It is always noticeable in storage eggs.

If any one wishes to verify the judgment of his palate, the following tests may be used:

1.—It is almost impossible to peel the shell from a fresh hard boiled egg without having some of the white come away with it.

2.—A stale egg cannot be beaten to a froth.

3.—When a fresh egg is broken into a dish the yolk stands up and the white does not spread, whereas in a stale egg the yolk lies flat and the white seems watery.

4.—The shell of an egg after a certain length of time loses its chalky appearance and becomes shiny.

5.—The air space in the large end of a newly laid egg is about half an inch in diameter, and as the egg ages this space grows larger. In storage eggs it sometimes extends to one-fourth the length. An expert can very closely approximate the age of an egg by examining this space. This is known as candling and is done by holding the egg in a beam of light. A simpler test is to hard boil the egg and notice the relative size of the space.

6.—A MARVELLOUS THING.—When the cures effected by Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil are considered, the speedy and permanent relief it has brought to the suffering wherever it has been used, it must be regarded as a marvelous thing that so potent a medicine should result from the six simple ingredients which enter into its composition. A trial will convince the most skeptical of its healing virtues.

THE GHOST OF THE PAST.

It Rose Up to Taunt and Haunt the Poor Human Derelict.

The small crowd of grimy loafers lounged weakly in the little circle of light from the fitfully flickering lamp about the door. Two or three of them were leaning against a many colored poster, almost unreadable in the gloom. The door swung open—it was never shut—and a dapper figure in a red jersey and peaked cap of the Salvation Army appeared with a cheery greeting:

"Come in, men; come in. Fine treat tonight; splendid gramophone; and the latest from the music halls. Come on in."

One by one they went. Comic songs and Sousa marches rang nasally through the hall. Then the cheery voice was heard again:

"Now for some grand opera, gentlemen."

One living derelict who had subsided silently after his arrival from the public house roused himself at the words. "Opera—grand opera," he muttered basely. The familiar whirr of the gramophone began again, and then a voice from the aluminum horn announced, "Song from 'I Pagliacci,' by Pompey Carlyle, the famous tenor of grand opera."

As the name of the singer was announced the ragged waif stiffened upright where he sat. Then as the first notes rang out his face held all the agony of a lost soul. Straight to his feet he bounded; then, with a cry, "Stop it, for heaven's sake stop it!" and with grimy hands pressed over his face he rushed from the hall, followed by a storm of abuse.

"What's the matter?" queried the commissioner.

"Queer bloke," answered another waif, still gasping from an attack of coughing which had torn his frail body. "Sings outside pubs. Used to be in hopera 'Isself. Booze done it."

"What do you call him?"

"Pompey Carlyle."

"Heavens, it was his own song he heard!"—London Tit-Bits.

TOBACCO CHEFS.

Experts That Make Sauces For Flavoring the Different Brands.

"I am a tobacco chef," said the sal-low man. "I make the sauces that give us smoking or chewing tobacco as a food chef makes the sauces which give us sole Colbert or poulet creole."

"Take this dark, sweet, juicy plug of 'navy brown,' so popular among the more prosperous type of teamsters. Well, the flavor of this plug is due to a sauce made of sugar, licorice, whiskey, and honey."

"Here is a mild, cool pipe tobacco that college boys favor. Smell it. Very aromatic, eh? Well, it has been steeped in a sauce composed of the essential oils of citronella, bergamot and cassia."

"But it is when you come to the high grade Havana cigar, the cigar that sells for 40 or 50 cents, that you see the tobacco chef at his best. He doesn't make his sauces then of such common ingredients as sugar, bergamot, licorice and so forth. No, he makes them of bacteria. The flavors of the high grade Havana tobacco depend, you see, entirely on their fermentations. Each tobacco undergoes a different fermentation, and here the chef comes in, applying the bacteria of years which cause these fermentations to the leaf.

"Yes, the tobacco chef of the highest type, the one who ferments Havana tobacco, handles the various breeds of bacteria as an ordinary chef handles pepper and salt, mustard and cloves and mace."—Buffalo Express.

Punishment After Death.

A negro, already under sentence of life imprisonment, was convicted of two charges of assault on murder. With great gravity the jury sentenced him to five years on each charge and ordered the prison officers to keep his corpse for ten years after he died. Perhaps a little theology entered the decision, the jury feeling as did the man found hammering away at a spike after he had killed it and who explained by saying he believed in punishment after death.—Judge.

A Statesman's Queer Ambition.

The great Lord Grey had an ambition far above politics. He had passed the reform bill, but that did not satisfy his soul. There was talk of T. Giloul, and Grey said quite earnestly, "What would I give to dance as well as she!"

The statesman who had been prime minister and had left an indelible mark on the history of his country, was actually envious of an opera dancer!—London Globe.

Right Back at Her.

"Does your husband allow you to have things charged at the stores?"

"Oh, I think he would, but—"

"But the stores wouldn't. Is that what you were going to add?"

"Oh, no. I was going to say that he gives me plenty of money with which to pay cash. Does yours?"—Buffalo Express.

An Unbiased Champion.

"Queer world, isn't it? See that chap over there, the one who is putting up the big boiler for individual drinking cups for public use?"

"Yes."

"He hasn't drunk a drop of water for seven years."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Publish My Letter The World Over

The Words of Harold P. Bushy, Who Was Permanently Cured of Chronic Lumbago by "Nerviline."

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive." These words open the sincere, straightforward letter of H. P. Bushy, a well-known man in the plumbing and tin-smithing business in Portland.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get in a day's work before that knifing, cruel pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in the Montreal Witness about Nerviline, and got five bottles. It is a wonderful medicine—I could feel its soothing pain-relieving action every time it was applied. When I got the disease under control with Nerviline, I built up my strength and fortified my blood by taking Perrozene at meals. This treatment cured me permanently, and I urge everyone to give up the thick, white, oily liniments they are using, and try an up-to-date, penetrating, pain-destroyer like Nerviline.

"Please publish my letter the world over. I want all to hear of Nerviline." Don't be satisfied into receiving anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." Large bottles 50c., trial size, 25c. Sold everywhere or The Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Sparks from train engine destroyed 200 rods of fence and 25 acres pasture for John Stinson, Mosca.

John Culley, one of the best known business men of Forest, died on Friday of last week.

Mr. A. S. Morton has been engaged as principal of the Wyoming school. He was formerly in Ailsa Craig.

John Hudson, aged about 30, slipped and fell while testing car wheels at the tunnel yards Monday night, and a train passed over his right foot. He was taken to the hospital where the foot was amputated by Dr. Bentley.

While driving across the Grand Trunk tracks at Adelaide street, London, Edward Ings, 70 years old, a drayman, was struck by the International express shortly before eight o'clock Monday night, and died soon after.

Two gypsy women were fined $15 each in London recently on a charge of misrepresentation. The women bought cheap lace from a wholesale house and sold it at exorbitant prices as handsome Irish lace. Many London ladies were fleeced but few admitted it. The swindlers had also operated in Windsor and Chatham.

A Dutton resident was agreeably surprised the other day to receive payment for work performed about a quarter of a century ago. The remitter formerly resided in this country, and moved west, leaving the obligations unpaid, but meeting with prosperity remitted the amount of the debt, which had almost been forgotten by the recipient of the cheque.

While Mr. and Mrs. George Hossie were driving to Petrolia Monday their horse shied at some object and Mr. Hossie was thrown from the rig and dragged some distance. Later he was taken to his home on the Sixth Line in the Petrolia ambulance. His injuries, though painful, are not thought to be so serious as it was at first feared.

John Watson, one of Petrolia's oldest residents, dropped dead Friday night, heart failure being the apparent cause of death. Mr. Watson was one of Petrolia's popular merchants, having carried on a successful shoe business for the last forty years. He came to Petrolia during the oil excitement and opened a repair shop in the east end of the town.

The store of Wm. Cross, Strathroy, was broken into Monday night. Entrance was obtained by cutting a screen over the top of a window. About $1.50 in loose change was taken, but no goods were missed. This is the second time Mr. Cross' store has been broken into this year. Chief of Police Wilson is working on the case, and has a couple of good clues, the burglars not covering their tracks very well.

Judge Macbeth reserved decision Monday in the appeal of Thomas Magladdery, license inspector of North Middlesex, acting under the direction of the attorney-general, from the decision of Police Magistrate James Noble, of Strathroy, in favor of the Walkerville Brewing Co., on the complaint of the license inspector, for selling ale and beer in Strathroy, contrary to the Brewers' and Local Option Acts.

WAR BENEATH THE WAVES.

Feature Spectacle of Fireworks Display at C. N. E.

War Beneath the Waves is the feature number of Coronation fireworks bill at the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

The spectacle shows a first-class battleship at one end. At the other, just beneath the waves, can be seen a submarine, with only its periscope showing above the waves.

The Dreadnought is in a panic and with its great guns is trying to reach the tiny turret that tells of the presence of the enemy that threatens it with destruction.

As the guns crash and boom, calmly and in comparative safety beneath the water, the crew of the submarine are preparing to launch a torpedo.

Finally the torpedo is ready—it is seen gliding gracefully through the water—the ship is struck, and a tremendous explosion follows.

Then comes the scene of destruction. The magazines of the doomed ship blow up, tearing it to pieces, and the terror of the seas sinks beneath the waves, while tremendous clouds of sparks and burning fragments settle down over everything in sight.

THE WESTERN FAIR

Big Electrical Exhibit Will Be One of the Features.

The management of the Western Fair are progressing nicely with the work of preparation for the ever-popular exhibition, which will open this year Sept. 8th. The grounds will be lighted with hydro-electric light, and will be a regular fairy-land. The machinery in the manufacturers' and implement building will be run by hydro power, and the exhibition of motors and dynamos will be well worth seeing. The butter-making contest will take place daily in the dairy building, where ample seating accommodation has been provided for the public to witness the competition and be comfortable. The demonstration of the care of bees will again be a feature this year, when the Government demonstrator, Mr. Pettit, will give practical illustrations of how to handle and care for bees. This is intensely interesting and should be seen by all. It will be located near the dairy building. The exhibit of "Old Curiosities" in the main building will be in charge of Mr. W. Smith, and any person having anything of interest should communicate with him at 1076 Dundas street, or the Secretary of the exhibition. Everything loaned will be properly cared for and returned. Prize lists, entry forms concession privileges, and all information on application to the secretary at the general offices.

REAL ESTATE IN THE GARROT RIVER VALLEY

By A. D. M. HONE.

1. Following up the article entitled "Real Estate as an Investment," the writer desires to give convincing evidence of the statement that Real Estate offers greater returns as a speculative investment than the best class of Stocks and Bonds.

2. In this district, which is usually known as the Carrot River Valley District, the best land could be purchased at $3 or $4 per acre before the railroad was built through the district, while now RAW LAND is sold at from $12 to $20 per acre. This increase in price covers a period of seven or eight years. Every year there is an increase in the value of farm property. Last year large quantities of land could be purchased at $10 per acre, but now the same land is held at $12 to $15 per acre. The conclusion is that land does not depreciate in value. Thus you can scarcely compare such an investment to stock speculation where you may buy to-day and six months from now be compelled to sell at a loss; in lands however, a purchaser may pay $12 an acre now and, let us suppose, for sake of argument, that he is forced to sell in six months. He can do so at a profit of $2 per acre, possibly more. The fact is, however, that payments are made yearly, and after the purchaser has made one payment, he has a full year in which to raise the second. While one may sell before the second payment, most speculators hold their lands longer.

LAI D UP FIVE YEARS
 Until Half a Bottle of Father Morrissy's
 Liniment Cured His Shoulder.

Mr. Joe J. Roy, a prominent tinsmith of Bathurst, N.B., July 16, 1909:
 "I cannot let this opportunity pass without letting you know what benefit I received from your Liniment. For five years I had a sore shoulder, which prevented me from working or from sleeping at night. I had tried everything possible and still could find no relief, until I was advised to try a bottle of your liniment, which I purchased without delay. I only used one half of the bottle when I was completely cured, and now I feel as if I never had a sore shoulder. I would advise anyone suffering from Rheumatic pains to give your liniment a trial, for I cannot praise it too highly."

A liniment that will do that is the liniment you want. It is equally good for sore throat or chest, backache, toothache, ear ache, sprains, sore muscles, cuts, bruises, burns, frost-bites, chapped hands or chilblains. Rub it in, and the pain comes out. 25c per bottle at your dealer's, or from Father Morrissy's Medicine Co. Ltd., Montreal, Que. 64 Recommended and for sale by the Taylor Drug Co., Special Agents, Watford.

CHASING GUN RUNNERS
 A PERSIAN GULF POLICEMAN TELLS HIS STORY.

British Naval Service Men Are Stewing In the Heat of the Tropics Keeping the Arabs From Carrying Rifles into Afghanistan—Extra Pay and the Hope of Excitement Scarcely Compensates for the Hardships.

This vivid sketch of actual life gives a peep behind the scenes of gun-running in the Persian Gulf, which is now being suppressed by British warships.

I met him in the newest of new raiment leaving the matinee; long, lean, and sallow, with the stamp of the Services on his jaw and the wrinkles of the seas around his eyes. "Home for good?" quoth I. "Five weeks," he said laconically. "And you've been where all this time?"

"Playing at policeman in the Persian Gulf for the last couple of years. I don't much mind it I never see it again either, he added. "Makes one thirsty to think of it."

But I had not seen Lieutenant Jimmy Gaston, of the royal navy, for a long, long time. I drew him, unwilling and protesting, from the surrounding glitter and rattle and haled him to my rooms. It was early spring, but I sent for ice, poured out a libration of whisky, and said "Talk." And James talked.

"We commissioned the old tub of a sloop at Plymouth—1,000 odd tons, with kennels for cabins and a cage for a mess, no ice machine (all the cold air we made went to freeze the cordite magazine); no electric lights 'tween decks; and not even an electric fan. And I tell you we frazzled by the time we reached Aden, and thought of two years ahead on the worst possible of naval stations. Still, vague ideas of prize-money and a little war and a little, very little, extra pay kept us going. But we weren't lucky, never got a capture of our own bat, and the late senior naval officer of the Gulf had put the fear of a King's ship into 'em."

"Into whom?"

"Oh, gun-runners. That's our job. The Afghans buy European rifles from Muscat, the Arab dhows ship them across the Gulf of Oman to the Mekran coast, Persia, and Baluchistan territory, and then the Afghan caravans come down to meet them. We left 1,200 squatting on the hills under a bullet-proof Mullah, all fighting mad to cut telegraph wires and wipe out friendly because the guns couldn't get through to them. But the whole East Indian Squadron under Slade is up the Gulf and along the Oman coast.

"You are absolutely and completely outside civilization, and nine of ten days you spend under way, unless you're lucky enough to get stuck on a sand bar, and in some beats you don't even close land for the night, but drop anchor forty miles out, get under way again at dawn, as that's the time the dhows try to land their cargoes. That's what kills the watchkeepers. We rarely get a proper night in. Or you shadow a big dhow for a month, bursting with arms, but she flies a foreign friendly flag and you can't breathe on her, but only pray she'll dump the rifles somewhere silly and go away and leave the rest to you. And she doesn't. She goes back to Muscat in a temper and starts all over again. Or you nurse the detached cutters up and down the most weird and barrenest coast Providence ever built, water and provision them, and save them when the bottom boards have burst with ripeness and shimal has upended them. And you're on salt grub pretty often."

"What's a 'shimal'?"

"Northernly squall—blows all autumn, winter, and spring. Open boats have to beach at once and haul up. I did three weeks in our cutter. Lived and dressed as pirates. Then we were smashed up. Cable parted; I anchored with my screw and the Maxim mounting, and then we drove into breakers and swam or paddled ashore with our rifles. Once a day a dhow would come all about us."

LUNG TROUBLE
 Mrs. Biny Brown, of Tenessee, N.S., Was Cured by Catarrhoxone of Lung Trouble and Catarrh, After Hundreds of Other Remedies Failed

If your lungs are weak; if there is consumption in your family; if Colds, Catarrh, and Bronchitis bother you, be sure to use Catarrhoxone. It is especially adapted for these diseases and cures every time.

Mrs. Brown took cough mixtures, but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but, after resorting without benefit to poultices, she tried Catarrhoxone.

"I used 'Catarrhoxone Inhaler,'" writes Mrs. Brown, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized that it was going to cure me. I could feel the soothing medicinal air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhoxone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold, or catarrh can exist if Catarrhoxone is used."

No treatment is so clean, so pleasant, so certain to cure as Catarrhoxone. By means of the Inhaler, the local symptoms, such as coughing, inflammation and congestion are speedily corrected. Ferrozone tablets, which are taken after each meal, purify and cleanse the blood of all poisons, and build up and strengthen the system.

This local and constitutional treatment is always effective, and cures cases that have been given up as hopeless. Money can't buy or produce anything better, and to get cured it is absolutely necessary to use Catarrhoxone.

and we lived for a week on dates and water. You get awfully sick of boarding dhows, and so do their nakhdas—skippers. Each cutter has a native interpreter as part crew, and your parent ship has an Afghan interpreter as well. He goes with the boarding party and insults the heathen in Pushtu (the Pathan language) to see if there are any Afghans among them. Sometimes the sheikhs of the villages are uncommon civil, sometimes they're not. It's practically active service on the blockade and you're always under war conditions. They say we're going to be given a frontier medal for it. I've seen medals got easier."

"Do dhows ever resist?"

"Under certain conditions they will fire on you and run. A cutter full of rifles and a Maxim, ten days food, and plenty of ammunition isn't light, especially if she's been long in the water and has a dirty bottom. If they won't down sail when you hail you fire a shot or two over them, then at them."

"Where do these arms come from?"

"Oh, England (but that's all over now), France, Belgium, America, Germany and Russia. There was a rumor that the Japanese had shipped a big batch to the Somali coast. A Mauser rifle you pay a hundred rupees (six guineas) for in Muscat will fetch from 400 to 1,200 on the border. Mannlichers, Lee-Smiths, old Service patterns, Martins and Mauser pistols too, .303 calibre is most popular, as the Afghans can pinch ammunition from the frontier outpost to fit them. The last big take was six months ago. Burning the dhows afterwards has shaken the runners-up a bit. And wireless telegraphy, of course, beats them into fits. English firms complain that French and Belgian firms collar all the profits these days. Ain't it amusing on top of all this 'entente'?"

"How do you know?"

"Oh, everybody knows. And ask any of the big banking firms in Bombay or Karachi. Well, you're spoiling my evening, but this is number one piece of whisky."

"Tell me what sport you get, and then you can trot back to your hotel if you'll dine with me later, Jimmy."

"Right-oh. Very little. Mixed bags. A cheetah, perhaps, gazelle, curlew, stint, and cocklelites. A rare game of tennis at the Muscat consulate or hockey at the fort at Jask or Chabbar. We've got little detachments of Mahraita Infantry with white officers scattered up and down the Gulf. But you're too busy chasing boats and shifting their cargoes most days. How would you like to go through a dhow full of firewood or loose grain during the middle watch?"

"What extra compensation do you get in pay?"

"I, personally? Three shillings a day while on detached boat service in my cutter. And all officers get the same as tropical allowance during the hot worst months in the Gulf. Take it from me, it's not worth three pounds a day, what with beriberi and Bagdad boils. One more lump of ice and I'm away to keep an appointment. Five weeks is soon gone, but it's something to get Christian clothes to my back—and to have tea with an English girl again."

"PILLS LIKE A FYLE"

So Harsh and Drastic are Many Pills as to Seriously Injure Health.

In a letter written from his home in Valencia, Mr. Marsh Selwyn does service to thousands by drawing attention to the injuries inflicted upon delicate people by drastic purgative pills. "For a long time I suffered from constipation. This condition compelled the use of pills. Like many another, I made the unwise choice of using pills that were like lightning in their activity. I began to be filled with intestinal disturbances, constant ramblings, gas in the bowels and diarrhoea. I grew pale and emaciated. Then the doctor told me drastic irritating pills had caused catarrh of the bowels, an almost incurable disease. Explaining my situation to a friend, he advised a trial of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I speedily experienced the healing and curative effect they exert on the stomach, liver and bowels. The intestines, freed from irritating drugs, rapidly regained natural tone, the bowels acted as if nature and not Dr. Hamilton's Pills were at work. I know it will be of value to thousands to know that a pill as mild and curative as Dr. Hamilton's is available to the suffering." For bowel disorders, sick headache, constipation, liver and stomach derangement, there is no pill so invariably sure to cure as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse a substitute. Sold in 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrh-ozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

WHICH ROAD?

A Case Where the Wrong One Brought Great Happiness By CLARISSA MACKIE Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

It was a hard, level road with many a sinuous curve that kept the siren tooting hoarsely as the dusk obliterated the stiff sentinal woods on either hand and gave Justin Delos little opportunity to test the speed of his new racing car. "Hi, mister, hi!" shrieked a young voice above the rush of his machine. With a few rapid movements he stopped dead short and tried to pierce the twilight with his sand filled eyes. "Well, what's up?" he demanded curtly. "It's me," said the small voice, with a hint of a sob in it. "I'm up in this tree—right over your head." "My gracious, what are you doing up there?" Justin stared upward to where the limb of a wild cherry tree bent over the road. The air was filled with the pungent smell of wild cherry blossoms and the bruised bark of the tree. There was the glimmer of a small white face and a white blouse balanced perilously on the limb. "Now, you just slip off that limb and drop—that's the boy! Caught you, didn't?" said Mr. Delos. Justin kicked the boy in a corner of the seat and prepared to resume his ride, but the boy placed a cold little hand on his and raised his voice in protest. "Please don't, mister! I'm afraid to go up that road," he bawled lustily. "What are you afraid of? How do you expect to go home if you don't take that road?" "I'm lost!" wailed the strayed one. "Where do you live?" demanded Justin. "Cross Highway!"

IT GROWS HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk. Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course, in none of these cases were the hair roots dead, nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair. We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. It does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out, and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. W. McLAREN, WATFORD.

"Well, you're all right then—this is the Cross Highway," reassured Justin

HE LOOKED AT HER WITH ASTONISHMENT, as he threw in the clutch and pulled the starting lever, but the boy grasped him with trembling fingers.

"No, it isn't, sir; I missed it way back. I ran away from nurse, and I've been trying to find it ever since and"— A handsome lampost supported a large electric globe which gave down sufficient light to convince Justin that he was indeed on the wrong road. "Well, I'll be jigged!" he exclaimed at last. "I told you it was the wrong road," piped the little voice rather triumphantly. "So you did. Well, it's the first time I knew this old road went beyond Cross Highway! Seems to stop right here too. Do you know where this drive leads to, son?" "To perdition!" said the little fellow calmly. "Perdition!" repeated Justin, scandalized. "Who told you that?" "Mother did. I asked her. I waited in the carriage once when she went inside, and she said it was perdition. So I asked cook what perdition was, and she said it was—you know the hot place." "What's your name?" "Frederick Templeton Leeson. That's dad's name too." "Ah! Then you're Leeson's little chap, eh? Well, you are a good boy from home. Guess I better run up this drive and telephone to your folks that you're all right. What do you say?" Justin turned the car into the drive and sped swiftly up its length. "I don't want to go to that—place!" wailed Master Frederick Templeton Leeson. "Cook says they fry you on toasting forks if you're naughty." "Never you mind, son. You're a good boy. They won't fry you nor bake you. Very likely all the ladies will kiss you and call you a sweet child." "I hate ladies, and I won't be kissed, and I won't be fried!" protested Frederick, kicking the shins of his rescuer with sudden fierce ingratitude. "You stop this car, mister!" "At your command, sir," said Justin as he brought the machine handsomely under the lighted porte-cochere and jammed down his levers. His siren uttered a brief commanding salute, the door opened instantly, and a man servant appeared. "I've missed the road, my man," said Justin, "and I would like to be set right if you can direct me to the Cross Highway." "A mile back, sir. You probably passed the turn without noticing. From there on is private property. If you turn around and go back over your own tracks you'll find your way all right." "Thanks," said Justin, tossing the man a coin. "Oh, I wonder if your people would allow me to use a telephone for a moment. I've picked up a little lost boy and"— "Certainly, sir. If it's Mr. Leeson's little boy it's all right. They've been telephoning here to know if we've seen him. Come right in." He held open the door and admitted Justin and his sleepy charge into a wide entrance hall softly carpeted and delicately lighted with carefully disposed electric bulbs. A wood fire whispered in the wide fireplace, and several comfortable chairs were gathered around the hearth, where a white haired woman was dispensing tea. There were several other women, some within the tall shadow of the settle. The white haired woman dropped a teaspoon with a silvery clatter and arose to her feet. Justin saw with dazed eyes that her face was started out of its customary sweet repose and that she looked at him with astonishment and displeasure rather than welcome.

"I ask your pardon, madam—Mrs. Stone. I came upon your place by mistake, and I asked your man if I might telephone to this little boy's parents that he was found and that I would return him at once," he stammered after a little awkward silence.

"Oh, it's little Frederick! How delighted poor Evelyn will be. Here is the telephone booth, Mr. Delos." When Justin emerged after reassuring the delighted parents that he would return the wandering Frederick to their arms at once he found Mrs. Stone awaiting him at the end of the corridor. She held out her hand, smiling rather sadly as she did so. "I must ask your pardon, Mr. Delos, for not giving you a heartier welcome. I was so startled at sight of you I quite lost my wits for the moment." "You hardly expected to see me," said Delos with a rueful smile. "I'm afraid if I'd known you were here I'd never have ventured to knock at your door, hospitable as it always was in the past. Pardon me for that blundering reminder," he begged hastily. "Certainly, Justin. Will you come and drink a cup of tea with us?" She paused at his protesting hand. "Thank you, dear Mrs. Stone, but I couldn't—not until you change your mind about me, you know," he said firmly. "Change my mind! Ah, Justin, we did that almost immediately after you left in anger. If you had only read and heeded our explanatory letters you would have known that Mr. Stone was quite satisfied that the fault of the accident rested entirely on a defect in our machine and not in your driving. But you never answered our letters, and you declined to see my husband"— "I never received your letters, Mrs. Stone, and as soon as I learned that Dita—Miss Stone was out of danger I went abroad and have been home only a few weeks. You see, I bought a place not far from here—thought I'd get in a new part of the country and wouldn't meet any of the old crowd. But it's a small world." "It is indeed, and you haven't asked after my daughter, Justin. It's three years since you last saw her, isn't it?" She searched his face with anxious motherly eyes. "I haven't dared ask for her. I've felt that I was to blame for reckless driving, and I shall never forget her white face as she lay unconscious on the stones nor the words of your husband as he accused me of having murdered her—murdering Dita when—oh, what's the use? You knew how I felt about it, Mrs. Stone." For an instant her warm hand pressed his, and then she glided away to give place to a tall, slender form, crowned with golden hair, whose face was rosy with health and whose gray eyes were now alight with a happiness which had been postponed until this blissful moment. Justin could scarcely believe his hungry eyes when her own answered his unspoken appeal and the quiet corridor witnessed the reunion of the parted lovers. After awhile the waiting Master Frederick Templeton Leeson demanded to be taken to his mamma. "I don't like perdition!" he protested. "Perdition!" repeated Justin for the second time that evening. "Why perdition, eh?" Perdita Stone laughed merrily. "It's such a good joke, Justin. It seems his mother told him this road led to Perdition, and he translated it into 'perdition,' and the cook gave him a literal interpretation of that word, and he's been afraid to come here ever since, haven't you, Frederick?" "I like Miss Dita, but I don't want to stay in perdition," yowled Frederick. Justin lifted him to his shoulder and turned to Mrs. Stone with his old winning smile. "I'm going to take Frederick home. Would you trust Perdita with me too?" Without a word Mrs. Stone stood a tiptoe to kiss the tall young man, while Perdita slipped away to don coat and scarf. As they whirled down the dark avenue and into the winding road Frederick snuggled between them and uttered a sleepy sigh. "I guess we're out of perdition now." "And right into paradise," concluded Justin happily.

SUMMER MONTHS FATAL TO SMALL CHILDREN.

The summer months are the hardest of the year on small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and stomach troubles are all common at this time and many a precious life is snuffed out after only a few hours illness. As a safeguard mothers should keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes on suddenly will bring the little one through safely. Mrs. Larry DeGraec, Mizonette, N. B., writes: "Last summer my baby suffered greatly from her stomach and bowels and nothing helped her till I began giving her Baby's Own Tablets. They regulated her bowels, sweetened her stomach, and now she is a big, healthy, happy child." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
