Death of Mrs. Nattie Margerson.
At Waterville, N. S., May 20th, after a long illness, Mrs. Nattie Margerson passed away at the age of eighty years. She was a daughter of the late Thomas Browne, of Clarence, N. S., and joined the Clarence Baptist church when very young. She was a woman of staunch integrity and upright character. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Best, of Waterville, and a son in Massachusetts.

Death of Henry W. Baker
The Amherst News of May 27th contains, besides a long obituary notice of the late Henry W. Baker, whose death occurred in that town on the 26th, a column editorial in reference to the loss of one of its most prominent citizens. Mr. Baker, who was formerly a newspaper man, had been for many years customs officer in Amherst, and was highly respected by everybody, leaving a host of friends and no enemies. He was a cousin of Mrs. E. A. Hicks, of this town.

HAWKER TELLS OF RESCUE
The Sea Was Exceedingly Rough When Taken off by Small Boat

LONDON, May 26—Harry G. Hawker, in his account of his flight from Newfoundland, after describing how he was forced to descend to the sea, to be picked up by the Danish steamer Mary:

"The sea was exceedingly rough, and despite the utmost efforts of the Danish crew it was ninety minutes before they succeeded in taking us off. It was only at great risk to themselves, in fact, that they eventually succeeded in launching a small boat, owing to the heavy gale from the northeast which was raging.

"It was found impossible to salvage the machine, which, however, most probably is still afloat somewhere in mid ocean.

"Altogether before being picked up we had been fourteen and a half hours out from Newfoundland, and we were picked up at 8.30 a. m. Greenwich time.

"From Capt. Duhn of the Mary and his Danish crew we received the greatest kindness on the journey home. The ship carries no wireless and it was not until we arrived the Butt of Lewis that we were able to communicate with the authorities. Off Loch Erribol we were met by the destroyer Woolston and conveyed to the Scapa Flow, where we had splendid welcome from Admiral Fremantle and the men of the Grand Fleet."

U. S. Airmen's Tribute
WASHINGTON, May 27—On behalf of the United States naval air service Secretary of the Navy Daniels has sent the following message to Harry G. Hawker and Lieut. MacKenzie Greive.

"The American aviators, co-pioneers in the conquest of the air, send greetings and warm commendations of their pluck and endurance of their associates. This spirit of high adventure, born of resolve to open all elements to the dominion of men ennobles our manhood."

Deputy Head for Fisheries Proposed.
Ottawa, May 27.—The Minister of Marine and Fisheries made a statement of great importance to-night regarding the fisheries of Canada. For some time representations have been made to the Government that fisheries should be under a separate Deputy and greater attention given to their exploitation generally. He has his estimates an increase of one hundred thousand dollars to be applied to the further expansion of the fisheries of Canada. Canada will be divided into three sections—Atlantic provinces, Prairie provinces and British Columbia, each being under a chief inspector with an overseer for each district in the different section, who will give his whole time to the work. Special guardians will also be appointed at certain time of the year. More steam trawlers will be encouraged to engage in the business.

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthine.

Fresh mackerel sold in Boston last week at 15 cts per pound. Tern schr. Emma Belliveau has cleared from Halifax with a cargo of oil for Newfoundland. The schooner Dorothy M. Smart sailed from Digby on Wednesday for St. John, where she baited Thursday. Mr. George B. Morecroft, manager at Meteghan River for the Howse Construction Co., was a passenger to Boston on Saturday evening. Captain William Snow and a number of men who have been fishing out of Yarmouth arrived in Digby Thursday and will go boat fishing from there. Tuesday's Yarmouth Herald: The Yarmouth Trading Co.'s schr. Loren B. Snow arrived on Sunday and reports a fare of 10,000 lbs. halibut and 20,000 shack. Captain A. M. Zinck and the crew of five men of the three masted schooner Richard B. Silver, of Lunenburg, arrived at Yarmouth last week enroute home. After discharging troops at Halifax the transport Northland sailed for New York. She is in command of a Nova Scotian, Captain Morehouse, a native of Digby county. Shelburne Gazette: There was a shesby in town this week in the shape of a blue lobster, which was still kicking. It was caught by Locksley Crowe of Sandy Point. The schooner Cora Gerlie, of Freeport, made her first trip of the season to Digby on Saturday when she landed 10,300 pounds of fish for the Maritime Fish Corporation. Friday's Halifax Herald: There have been no mackerel to speak of taken around this coast yet, although several boats are out. There is a seiner off Sambro waiting for favorable signs. Captain Arthur Moore, late of the schooner Lucille, has taken command of the schooner Helen Mathers, owned by I. H. Mathers & Son, of Halifax and now loading deals at that port for Great Britain. It is hoped to produce a million pounds of fish meal annually from fish waste and offal at a plant that is to be established at Tiverton. Most of the product will probably be marketed in the Maritime Provinces. Capt. Charles F. Lewis, who was in Yarmouth for several weeks in charge of dredge No. 7, has with his first officer, Benjamin Hains, been ordered to St. John to get the dredge W. S. Fielding in readiness for the season's work. The maritime wrecking tug Sarnia City has cleared from Halifax for Grand Manan. She will work with the tug Hercules in an effort to float the steamer Troja, which sank on a trip from Louisbourg to St. John with a cargo of coal. George O. Hankinson, of Yarmouth was in Halifax last week and while there sold the schooner Lucille which recently arrived there from Barbados with molasses, to Moulton & Son, of that city, who in turn disposed of her to Newfoundland interests.

Yarmouth Telegram: The Westport schr. Alice & Jennie, Capt. Hicks, arrived on Wednesday afternoon for a harbor. The schooner is bound to Liverpool for a cargo of salt for Westport and Grand Manan parties and will proceed as soon as weather is favorable. Steamer Grand Manan completed her repairs at the New Burrell Johnson Iron Co.'s docks on Saturday and that afternoon left to resume her service on the Grand Manan Eastport route while the steamer was in Yarmouth the service was kept open by the steamer Harbinger. The Digby yacht Migrace, which was purchased last week by E. C. Sallows, representing the Acadia Gas Engine Company, of Bridgewater, was shipped by rail to that port this week. The Migrace was built for J. F. Cripps and was one of the prettiest and speediest launches ever on the Basin. One of the greatest strikes of herring known to fishermen along the Northumberland Strait has appeared. Nets in Buctouche harbor and other harbors along that coast were sunk by the weight of the fish. More than one hundred men from Grand Manan are at Northumberland Strait points smoking herring. Non union weimen down the bay are said to be selling herring at one plant near Eastport for $10 hoghead. The other Canadian weimen's association, are holding out for $20. None of the factories in Eastport have started but one or two have opened at nearby points. Prospects for a favorable season are far from bright. Schr. Morning Star, Capt. Harry Ross, arrived at Gloucester, Mass., from Western Banks Thursday morning with a nice fare; halibut for 10,000 lbs. fresh halibut $5,000 fresh fish and 16,000 lbs. salt cod. The halibut sold to the American Halibut Company at 12 cents a pound for white and 9 cents for gray. The three masted schooner being built at Salmon River in the Foley shipyard is progressing rapidly. The keel was laid on March 20th, and at the end of last week the hull was in frame, the keelsons were in, garboards laid on and planking and ceiling were going on. It is expected now that she will be launched about the last of August. The Tiverton schooner Enid Hazel, Capt. Stevens, arrived in Digby Wednesday and is loading ice for the Davis Company's branch at Freeport. The Lunenburg fleet have started to come home from their spring fishing trips and the first to arrive are the schooners George Cook 900 qts; Muriel Winters, 1200; Madeline Hebb, Hebb, 1200; Lucille Creaser, Mossman, 500. The latter vessel had her rudder stock broken. Word was received in Yarmouth on Saturday that the Boston lobster smack Gertrude Mabel, which sailed from a south shore port on Tuesday night with a cargo of 14,000 lobsters, had gone ashore at Cape Ann and was a total loss. The craft was owned and operated by Thorndike & Hix, the widely known Boston commission firm, and had made several trips to Nova Scotia ports this season in their interests. There was no insurance on either the craft or the cargo. New schooner Alma R., of Meteghan River, commanded by Capt. LeBaron Holder, of St. John, completed loading deals at that place on Thursday and sailed at noon on Friday for Limerick.

DANGER LURKS IN EVERY ONE OF US

We Are As Full of Deadly Poisons As A Germ Laboratory.

AUTO-INTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" Absolutely Prevents This Dangerous Condition.

The chief cause of poor health is our neglect of the bowels. Waste matter, instead of passing from the lower intestine regularly every day, is allowed to remain there, generating poisons which are absorbed by the blood.

In other words, a person who is habitually constipated, is poisoning himself. We know now that Auto-intoxication, due to non-action of the bowels, is directly responsible for serious Kidney and Bladder Troubles; that it upsets the Stomach, causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Sleeplessness; that chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Pain In The Back, are relieved as soon as the bowels become regular; and that Pimples, Rashes, Eczema and other Skin Affections disappear when "Fruit-a-lives" are taken to correct Constipation.

"Fruit-a-lives" will protect you against Auto-intoxication because this wonderful fruit medicine acts directly on all the eliminating organs. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

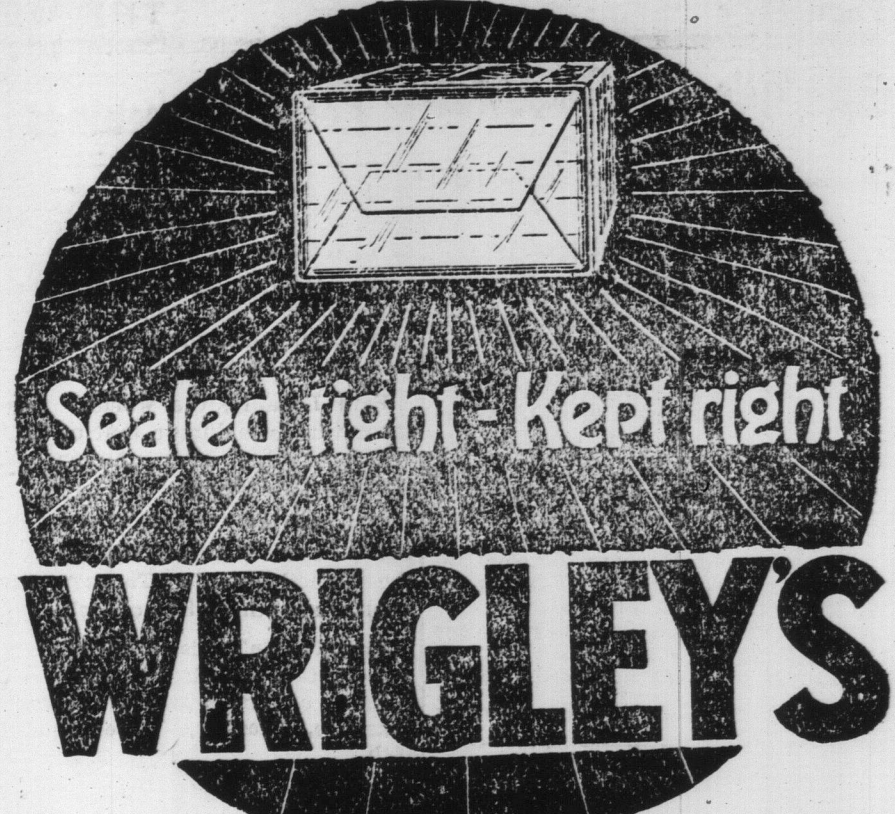

Ireland. The Alma R., was loaded in record time, as it was only two weeks from the day, she left her owner's dock at Meteghan until she sailed from St. John. The schooner was built by the Howse Construction company and was named after the wife of Mr. Siffroi Robichaud, her master builder.

A large delegation from the Canadian Fish Association, made up of members from the Pacific coast, Winnipeg, the Great Lakes district, Ottawa, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, met the minister of marine and fisheries at Ottawa on Wednesday of last week. They presented in a strong manner reasons why a deputy minister of fisheries should be appointed, and made many recommendations in reference to the fishing industry. New Brunswick was represented by W. S. Loggie and Nova Scotia by H. B. Short, Digby and Arthur Boutillier, of Halifax.

The new tern schooner now nearing completion in the yard of the Howse Construction company at Meteghan river is expected to be ready for launching in about five weeks. Like the other vessels built by this company she is of exceptional construction and will class star A1 British Lloyds for 12 years. Her dimensions are 155 feet overall, 125 keel, 24.6 beam, 13 deep. When launched she will probably be named Maria A. Howse after Mrs. R. H. Howes, wife of the president of that extensive construction company of New York, Boston and Meteghan River.

Miss Ethel Daniels, of Bridgetown, took the alumnae prize for highest average in history of music. The Misses Audrey and Hazel Smith, of Lunenburg, graduated in stenography. GRAY DORT The Crowning Virtue

EXPERIENCED motorists determine a car's value by the service it renders. To them, this is the paramount virtue. This is one of the qualities that constitute the crowning recommendation of the Gray-Dort car. You want speed in the stretches, power for hills and poor roads, flexibility and easy pick-up for city driving—the Gray-Dort motor gives all these abundantly. Comfort, of course—over any road. A roomy body, deep upholstery, long springs, insure it. In every phase of motor service that men value you'll find the Gray-Dort excels. And this service you get year after year—service far surpassing the price you pay. The touring car is $1245; the Gray-Dort Special—the car with added refinements and extra equipment, is $135 extra; there are also a coupe, and a sedan. All prices f.o.b. THE ADDITIONAL MAIL SERVICE

As per telegram received from Mr. A.L. Davidson, M.P. for Digby and Annapolis, the additional railway mail service between Halifax and Annapolis, went into effect Monday morning, June 2nd. This means that all mail matter, including registered letters, will be sent both east and West with the morning and evening trains, known as the "Owl". For instance you can send a letter to any station along the D. A. R. with the morning train and receive an answer by the noon train, the same day, a great convenience to the business men, the farmers and the general public. In fact it is one of the best things that has been put in operation in the Annapolis Valley for many years and those responsible for it deserve the thanks of the entire community.

The Secretary of the Bridgetown Board of Trade placed the subject before the Council of the Board at one of the meetings last winter. He was instructed to write every Board of Trade between Kentville and Digby, asking for their united assistance. The only Board which replied at the time was Annapolis. This letter contained splendid encouragement (?) by stating that we would never get the service under the present management. We do not know what management they referred to. After months of waiting Digby replied stating that their Board was in full sympathy with the movement but no other Boards, written to at that time, have yet replied to the secretary's letter.

Mr. Edward A. Hicks, the enterprising president of the Bridgetown Board took up the matter personally. He and the secretary interviewed Mr. A. L. Davidson, M. P., who promised it his support, and Mr. Davidson never ceased to work on the subject until he accomplished it. Mr. Hicks (President of the Board) the secretary and Mr. Davidson, M. P., have all three spared neither time nor expense in correspondence and telegrams concerning this important matter. They were also assisted by Mr. Saunders, secretary of the Halifax Board, in fact all them deserve credit in bringing about the new mail service, which was inaugurated last Monday morning and we feel sure their efforts will be appreciated.

Annapolis celebrated Victoria Day, Middleton celebrated the King's birthday. Digby will celebrate Dominion Day, will Bridgetown celebrate Labor Day? We should have a public meeting to consider this important matter.

Among the graduates at Acadia this year were Carlyle S. and Helen Beals, of Lawrenceton, and E. R. Hall, of St. Croix Cove. All three were presidents of important societies and committees in connection with their classes.

The Sopwith biplane in which Hewker and Grieve came to grief was picked up by the U. S. ship Lake Charlottesville in lat. 49.40 N., long 29.08 W. The ship took on board parts of the plane and all of the mail carried, and proceeded to Falmouth.

The town was decorated on Friday in honor of the return of Pte. Harry Murtha. Since then several have returned to their home in Hampton, Paradise, Young's Cove and other surrounding villages. We are unable to obtain a complete list of the names but extend to them all a hearty welcome.

A merchants' club was organized in Bridgetown Friday evening. This, we think, is a move in the right direction and should result in establishing a better feeling among our business men, more unity in regard to holidays, early closing, etc. We wish the new organization every success.

Sunday Evening Services at 8 O'clock

In keeping with the notice which appeared in our last issue, a meeting was held in St. James church school-room on Wednesday evening last to consider a petition which had been sent to the ministerial association of the town asking for the convenience of the farmers in the neighbourhood who are in the habit of attending church services in the town, the Sunday evening service shall begin at 8 o'clock instead of 7.30. The petition had upwards of a hundred signatures and as no opposition was voiced, it was felt that the wishes of all would be met by beginning the Sunday evening service at the late hour, viz 8 o'clock. This will be the rule until further notice.

MARCH OF 12,000 MEN
An Aerial Escort in Full Battle Formation

A London paper says: Amid brilliant spring sunshine, Britain, the Mother, saluted her sons from Overseas. They marched, 12,000 "men of the blood," with the light of victory-won in their eyes, and the Mother's greeting was a greeting of pride and gratitude. From Canada—"Lady of the Snows"—from the bush and town of Australasia, from New Zealand's fair island, from the South African veldt, and from far Newfoundland they had come at the call of the Motherland. What a lesson for the 14,000 children from the schools, who lined Constitution Hill to see these heroes pass. For over an hour these Britons from Overseas, by platoon, by battalion, by regiment, passed and saluted their King. His Majesty, who had come up from Windsor specially for the occasion, received the salute standing on a raised dais in front of the centre gate of Buckingham Palace. An air fleet in battle order flew over the scene and returned in open order; an Army airship also manoeuvred overhead. After the ceremony their Majesties, when starting on their return to Windsor, drove specially in open carriages to greet the great concourse of children on Constitution Hill.

The King on Empire Unity.

In a message to the overseas troops, read by the commanding officers after the march, the King said:— It is with a heart full of pride and gratitude that I take your salute today as you march in triumph through London. You, with your comrades from the Motherland, have shown to the world the unity of the British Empire. You, with your comrades from the Motherland, have shown to the world the unity of the British Empire. You, with your comrades from the Motherland, have shown to the world the unity of the British Empire.

SCENE AT THE PALACE.

The scene in the neighborhood of Buckingham Palace was a truly remarkable one, not only during the march but also before and after. At the foot of the Victoria Memorial the bands of the Irish and Welsh Guards were stationed, and played the troops past the saluting base. Hundreds of chairs placed round the monument were provided specially at the King's wish for the use of wounded and invalid soldiers, who attended in great numbers to watch the pageant. A large number of motor-busses formed up in rear of these seats provided a novel grand stand for yet other soldiers. From Buckingham Palace Citywards, through Victoria St., Whitehall, Charing Cross, the Strand, Aldwych, Kingsway, Oxford St., all black with cheering masses of people, it was a veritable triumphant progress. [Among the men in this parade was Mr. Louis G. Young, son of Mrs. E. C. Young, of this town.]

A High Rate of Exchange

The exchange on money orders going to the United States was formerly 2 1/2 per cent. Now there is a graded scale. Up to $2.50 the charge is seven cents; up to $5 it is 14 cents; from $5 to $10 is 28 cents; from $10 to $15 it is 42 cents, and the higher one goes, the higher one pays. It works like an embargo on money out of Canada, but is really the effect of an unfavorable trade balance.

Growing Tomatoes in Alberta

The production of tomatoes in large quantities on the prairie does not appear to have been a success in the past, but prairie people are of a type who are forever doing something which was never done before. Messrs. G. O. Kerr and J. E. Terrill, of Lethbridge, Alberta, have observed for some years that tomatoes in small quantities were matured in the Lethbridge district and decided that there was no reason why the experiment should not be made on a commercial scale. As a result about two acres of tomatoes were set out last summer on land farmed by Mr. Kerr, a few miles east of Lethbridge. The plants were started under glass in Lethbridge and set out on June 6, 7, and 8, at which time they were from 6 to 8 inches in height. Three thousand five hundred plants were set in the plot, some of them three feet apart and some four feet apart. The experience of the season seems to indicate that the four foot plant is preferable.

The soil secured was an old pasture which had since been in alfalfa and is protected by a wind break of trees on the western side. It is a very rich loam with a gentle south slope and, of course, is irrigated. The land was cultivated in the ordinary way and irrigated before planted and three times afterwards.

The first of the ripe fruit was available seven weeks after setting out the plants, or about the end of July. During the month of August from five to six hundred pounds of beautiful ripe fruit was taken off the plot each day and this rate of production continued into September. The total yield of the plot is estimated at 35,000 pounds and a ready market was found for the product in the city of Lethbridge, the early ripe tomatoes bringing twenty-five cents a pound and the latter crop fifteen cents a pound. The gross price of 35,000 pounds at the latter figure is $5,250.

According to Mr. Kerr, no difficulties were experienced in the production of this crop. The vines were trimmed early in July for the purpose of producing heavier fruit and also admitting more sunshine which ripened it very rapidly. The tomatoes were as large and as well developed as the best imported stock from British Columbia or Washington and, being local grown, they, of course, reached the consumer in better condition. The crop was so heavy that in many cases the support stakes which had been put in for the vines to climb on were broken down. One vine was noted which had eighty-three tomatoes on it.

Up to the middle of September no damage had been experienced from frost, although as a precautionary measure straw had been dumped about the plot, so that smudges could be started if necessary. Mr. Kerr points out that the essential thing in the production of this crop was the irrigation, which not only increased the amount of fruit but by affording ample moisture at the right time resulted in early ripening. Without irrigation it is doubtful if the experiment would have been at all successful, and while it is not suggested that every person can go into tomato raising in Southern Alberta and produce $2,600 per acre the experience in this case is at least instructive to what these irrigated lands are capable of. It is not too much to say that such lands, if located in mountainous part of the country, would be sold at many hundreds of dollars per acre, but because they are found in Alberta in practically limitless sweeps of prairie they are still sold ready for the plow at less than what would be the cost of clearing them in even lightly timbered regions. Their very abundance makes it difficult to grasp their value, there is little doubt that some of them will be the home of the most productive and closely settled agricultural community on the continent.

The Food Situation

In summing up the present situation in connection with the World's food menace, a prominent writer recently wrote the following terse item which affords food for deep thought:

"Our prosperity in the final analysis depends upon the people of Canada having a surplus of income over consumption. The theory of a restricted output is a lie, and if followed must inevitably result in poverty and misery. Waste on luxuries must be reduced. The country must produce, and increase production to avoid disaster."

A great deal has been said and written in way of encouragement to the country, to continue to grow the largest crops ever grown in Canada in food stuffs of all kinds. The Press has opened its columns for this purpose, and viewing the situation from a national standpoint, it is felt that too much encouragement cannot be given to our farmers and producers at this critical time.

All observers of the labor situation seem to agree on this point that for obvious reasons employees of labor are holding back in all lines of labor activities. The inevitable outcome must be that the production of food stuffs the world over will suffer as a result.

It is, therefore, not logical, neither is it reasonable, to say that there will be a food shortage during the present year, in view of the unsettled labor situation. A year ago there was a shortage of fertilizer. This year the supply is equal to the demand. The best authorities on potato planting advise that in this province, the best time for planting potatoes is between June 1st and 15th. There is therefore nearly three weeks within which planting can be done.

Officials in a position to know, advise us that they have every reason for believing that transportation, which in the past years has been lacking, will be available this coming season to take care of the Country's export trade.

Compulsory Attendance at School

School Sections hold their Annual Meeting, Monday, June 20. At this meeting every school section must take a vote on the Compulsory Attendance Act of 1918.

The old Compulsory Attendance Act for various reasons was found inadequate and in 1918 it was repealed and the same Compulsory Attendance Act that applies to all incorporated towns may be put in force in any country section. This Act requires that every child from six to sixteen years of age shall attend school unless, they are twelve years of age and past Grade VII; or having passed thirteen years of age, necessity compels them to go to work. In these two cases the school trustees can grant the child a certificate permitting him to be absent from school. For other good and sufficient reasons a child may be excused from attending school such as sickness, or domestic affliction.

A Trail Across the Rockies

(1) In the Sinclair Canyon at the Red Gate.
(2) Fording the Vermillion River.

The first trip over the Simpson Pass through the Canadian Pacific Rockies was made by Sir George Simpson, Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, in 1841, and formed part of the first recorded overland route across the world, that is to say across the North American Continent, and by way of Siberia and Russia, occupying about nine months, and the subject of considerable literature. Jim Brewster, the famous guide and outfitter at Banff, discovered the fallen tree on the summit of the Pass on which the travellers left their record.

Fired by the ambition to cross this pass, I set out one day this summer, with two guides, ten ponies and camping outfit and supplies for six or seven days. Jim Brewster set these over from Banff to Invermere, where I had some of the Columbia wait for them. Close to Invermere are the remains of Kootenai House, an outpost of the Northwest Trading Company established there by David Thompson in 1808. Now a grizzly do leave-scented-up on the trail and again we saw deer, the famous Lord Northcliffe, and himself proprietor of the still more famous Perrier water, built a concrete bathing pool under the springs which pours its naturally warm water out of the rock. At night we found shelter in a homesteader's cabin, the owner of which was away to leave the latch loose. Next day we were in the forests of the Cotton-ear—a wonderful resort for big game judging by the tracks we saw and the animals we even met. We had a deer on the trail with little small Devonshire lanes along the meadows beside the river.

The Kootenai River had a rather bad reputation. Two parties were drowned in the attempt to make the crossing at the same time last year, and we ourselves had been warned to postpone our trip. However, we found a ford where we did not even have to swim our horses, and next day were on the banks of the Vermillion River. Into the Vermillion pours the raging torrent of the Simpson, which itself is fed from the melting glaciers of the snow-capped Rockies high above. At least one cyclone seemed to have swept down its valley, and the river itself had washed away several corners so that our trail had to be made, or found anew on many a mile.

Once while Ed. Dawson, the leader of the packtrails, his saddle pony and ample pasture on a meadow. As we looked back to the Great Divide upon the mountains of the Selkirk, we had fine a panorama as any artist could desire—rugged outlines capped by fringes with perpetual snow. The Banff side of the Great Divide comes within the jurisdiction of Dominion Government and the penitentiary of Parks was in charge to provide us with a trail, which really was a trail, right up Healy Creek to the glimpse of Mount Assiniboia. The Banff side of the mountain was a mere glimpse however, for only a minute his head was caught in the clouds. These white mounds were the result of the glaucous except for a plaque of alpine forest. The trail was not a trail at all, but a mere track, and the only sound which disturbed the solitude were the crackling of prostrate branches under the tread of our horses, and the roaring of the stream as it leaped down its rocky course.

About seven hours of hard work brought us to the height of land, the hinge as it were between the eastern and western waters. We breakfasted on the level isthmus, which did not exceed fourteen paces in width, filling our kettles for tea, and one lonely meal at once from the crystal sources of the Columbia and the Saskatchewan, while these willing feeders of two opposite oceans, murmuring over their beds of mossy stones, as if to bid each other a good-bye, could hardly fall to attend our minds to the sublimity of the scene.

But between these kindred foundtain, the common progeny of a remarkable difference of temperature that the sources of the Columbia showed 40°, while that of Saskatchewan raised the mercury striking as high as 71° in the shade.

From the vicinity of the divide, we estimated the elevation of the height of land to be about eight thousand feet above the level of the sea, while the surrounding peaks appeared to rise nearly that altitude above our heads.

We ourselves found the same gone and our horses found no and ample pasture on a meadow.
