

Stunning Suit Effects

WE PLANNED BIG for our men's suit department for spring owing to moving into our new store, and we can safely say that never in this store's history have we had so much suit excellence and variety of patterns, styles and fabrics as we are showing now. If we have we will open our new store about the 4th or 5th of May; but there is a lot of selling to be done here before then, and we must clear out as many suits as possible before moving.

We are showing some natty styles in the new tones at $10, $12 and $15. Others more handsome in style, design and workmanship, $18 and $20 to $25. Then come our superb, hand-tailored garments at $28, $30, $32, $35 and $40. Truly we are leaders in fine clothing, and are satisfied only when you are pleased.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

WENTWORTH COUNCIL TO SUBMIT MONEY BY-LAW

Electors Will Decide on Issue of $40,000 Debentures For Erection of House of Refuge.

HAMILTON, April 26.—(Special.)—Fire, supposed to have been of incendiary origin, broke out to-night in the rear portion of M. Schwartz's dry goods store, 236 York-street. About $800 damage was done.

Bishop DuMoulin opened the 24th annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Niagara in Christ Church Cathedral School-room this afternoon. An increase in the number of boy missionaries from 49 to 100 was reported, and there are 129 more children engaged in mission work this year. An illustrated lecture on China was delivered by Miss Drow.

The board of control this afternoon established a precedent when it refused a request for a retiring allowance made by Charles Smith, former city messenger. It was decided to ask the parks board to secure a strip of land along the mountain brow, east of the east end bridge, for park purposes. The board will recommend a new weigh scale in the southeastern part of the city. A grant of $10 was made to the Hamilton Poultry Association and the recommendation that the salary of County Council Doings.

Altho the county council has the power to build a county house of refuge, it decided this afternoon to rest the fate of the home with the taxpayers by submitting a by-law asking the authority to issue $40,000 debentures for that purpose. The county fathers showed their animosity to the automobilists by refusing to appropriate $500 for oiling the county roads, because they thought the auto owners would get the benefit of it. However, the Plains-road commissioners were given authority to spend $250 for that purpose. Permission was granted to George Filman to lay a couple of miles of pipe to supply water to residents along the Nelson road.

W. H. McLaren has made a grant to the hospital governors of $1000, to be used for prizes for the nurses. It will be known as the McLaren House Scholarship Fund, and will be in memory of the late Mrs. House, who was lady superintendent, and a sister of the donor.

Caught in a Raid.

Sergeant Campbell and a number of constables raided the home of Frank and Fanny Baylis, 4 West Hunter-street, about 9:30 to-night, and arrested the two on charges of keeping a disorderly house. James Patterson, Bert Taylor and Henry French were arrested as frequenters.

John Phillips, Peter Mulholland and George Bedell were in the cells to-night charged with aggravated assault on Thomas Clark. The alleged offence was committed on South John-street late last night, and Clark was badly cut up.

Magistrate Jelfs imposed two more $50 fines on dog owners, who allowed their canines at large without muzzles. The kosher butchers raised the price of all meats one cent a pound to-day, making an advance of three cents since Christmas.

The Inland Navigation Co. officials say that grain prices are so high that very little of it has been shipped by boat so far this season.

Lizzie Corcoran, charged with failing to provide attendance for the birth of her child, was arraigned this morning and declined to elect.

$2200 for Road Work.

The county council this morning passed appropriations for nearly $22,000 of road work.

It is rumored that the Hamilton

Steel and Iron Co. is contemplating issuing an additional $1,500,000 of stock. The last quarterly dividend on the present capital, $3,000,000, was on a basis of six per cent.

The diamonds won two in a row, when the Diamonds won the roll-off for second place. This ended the season of the league, and, judging by the expressions of satisfaction made by the members, it will likely prove the first runner of many more. It was tried this year for an experiment, and proved entirely successful. The Agates, L. Findlay and W. R. James won the first prize, and the Diamonds, E. Allen and W. Armstrong, the second. W. J. Beer wins the high average prize, while A. Thompson captured the high average in the second division. The averages are as follows:

EATON'S DAILY STORE NEWS

Wall Paper That Deserves Notice

The Modern Home is Sanitary; so sanitary in many cases that it is ugly when the painter puts the wrong color on the bedroom walls, or when the severe plainness of the painted plaster throws the bare lines of the woodwork too much in relief.

Varnished Wall Papers are the latest solution of this difficulty in harmonizing beauty and sanitation. The varnished surface can be wiped with a damp cloth as easily as can a painted surface, while its glossy finish does not in any way mar the beauty of its elegant designs.

American Varnished Wall Papers, for kitchens, bathrooms, pantries, etc., are coated with fine waterproof varnish. It comes in blue, green and brown colors on ivory-colored back. Single roll, .25.

Other varieties, both German and French, the latter waxed, make these waterproof papers an important part of the section.

Dining-room, Hall, Sitting-room or Bedroom papers, in a big range of colorings, both light and dark, show artistic patterns, some with borders, others having side walls only, to be used with fancy ceiling. Single roll, .15.

White Mire Ceiling Paper of a new design is suitable for all rooms. It is printed on good strong stock. Specially priced, single roll, .5.

Imported Wall Papers, for your dining-rooms, sitting-rooms and bedrooms, is designed attractively in rich colors. Single roll, .15.

English Wall Papers, for many styles of rooms, provides a goodly range of patterns and colors, light and dark shades. Single roll, .35.

Canadian Gilt Wall Papers, for halls and rooms, in brown, red, green and buff grounds, has some designs outlined with gold. There's an 18-inch shaded frieze and a ceiling to match each pattern. Single roll, 10.

This Rug Novelty Merits Appreciation

Once in a while the persistent genius of France turns out something that fairly takes the breath away, and here is a case in point. If you've been studying out means to get a fine silky rug on your dining-room or hall, it will pay you to look over these French Smyrna Rugs. The designs are those peculiar to Asia Minor, and are really fine, not resembling the ordinary run of machine-made rugs, with their rigid repetition of design. The colors flow over these rugs freely, yet with the sharp contrasts and beautiful detail of the hand-made variety. Rich medallion and other oriental motifs in cream, rouge, marine blue, etc., a pile thick and lustrous, and materials that are a clever combination of wool and jute make them a rare novelty. For high-class summer furnishings we could not suggest a more pleasing floor covering. The sizes and prices run as follows:

4.7 x 6.6	7.00	6.6 x 9.8	15.00
5.9 x 8.3	10.00	8.0 x 11.6	22.50
		9.10 x 13.1	30.00

Tapestry Squares and Smyrna Rugs

We introduce a new line by a low price on one much-sought size. A size in great demand, you'll find handsome floral tints, conventional and oriental styles in green, red and fawn color combinations, and quality for your money. 9 x 12 feet at each, 8.75.

Hit-and-Miss Domestic Smyrna Rugs, in reversible patterns, are a by-product of the mills. They're made from short yarns, hence, while up to their heaviest quality in texture, they sell at a nominal price. They are in mottled color and are both pretty and serviceable as bedroom or summer cottage rugs. They wear wonderfully well. 30 x 60 inches. Each, 1.29.

Something Better Than Castors A Demonstration

The "Sliding Furniture Shoe" is designed to overcome the faults of the castor, so long used on your chairs, tables, beds, bureaus, pianos and everything else in the furniture-line. It is made of glass or metal with a stem to fit the sockets of all styles of furniture that are fitted with castors. The flat "base" takes the place of a wheel, but being broad and flat, with curved-up edges, it slides over any surface without damage to the finest finish or carpet.

A demonstration will be given Friday and Saturday, to show you how to attach the Sliding Shoe to your furniture, and to prove to you how practical these shoes are. They're perfectly noiseless.

Prices range from .20 per set for chairs, to 3.50 per set for pianos; every grade and size being provided, per set, .20 to 3.50.

A Great Kitchen Convenience: Cooking with Gas

It would be difficult to think of a greater kitchen convenience than the use of a GAS STOVE for cooking. The saving of labor and economy in fuel over the old coal or wood fire is enormous. With a gas stove the fire is not only instant, but continuous, and the regulation is at all times under the control of the operator. The depressing effects of summer cooking are greatly minimized by the use of a Gas Stove.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APR. 27, 1910. THE STREET RAILWAY TROUBLE

With the street railway position reduced to its ultimate in consequence of the reaffirmation by the judicial committee of the privy council of its previous decision, granting the company the control of the streets within the original limits of the city, the problem is much simplified. While the legislation of last session has conferred on the municipal and railway board certain powers of control over the company in its selection of streets for extension, it is evident that these can afford no immediate relief unless the company is prepared to accept the new situation. If its spokesmen are to be taken at their word, those responsible for the street railway policy will not submit to any action that limits its rights under the agreement with the city as they have been construed by the final court of appeal. A reference to the board thus only offers an alternative either confirmation of the railway company's plan of extension, or should it be superseded, a renewed conflict in the courts of law over the jurisdiction of the commissioners, involving the question of the competency of the legislation of last session.

In this latter event the present disagreeable overworking will continue unabated and the traveling public will be deprived of any relief, although everyone admits it to be necessary and urgent, until the privy council disposes of the jurisdiction issue. If the time required in other cases is to be taken as a criterion, three years more or less will elapse before final judgment, and pending its arrival nothing will be done to meet the element of need of additional transportation facilities within the older city. In such circumstances it is older city with the candle. As between the company's plan and the city's proposal is there such a decided superiority on the side of the latter as will warrant the city council's persistence in an irreconcilable attitude? To our mind the duty of the city council under present circumstances is twofold. First to concur in the course that will afford satisfactory and speedy relief to the public, and second, to set about the early provision of an effective transportation system to and within the annexed districts. This can only be done by tubes and a connected system of surface lines, which will link up with the company's lines when the time comes for these to be taken over by the city.

GOOD APPOINTMENT—BAD POLICY.

Nothing succeeds like success, and no one will doubt for a moment that Commissioner Harris, who has done so well in the department of property, can broaden his broad shoulders rather more and assume the direction of the street cleaning as well. If Mr. Harris acquires himself, as we anticipate, he will add another laurel to his reputation. But his success will not in any way justify the policy of the board of control in running the street cleaning beyond the registered messengers. Mr. Harris is to get an extra $1000 a year. The board of control hopes to think that a medical health officer can be got for $4000. Do they wish to show Dr. Sheard that the two offices he filled for $5000 can still be filled for that figure? And yet some people think government by commission is not required.

KITCHENER AND CANADA.

A glance over General Lake's report may help to explain why Lord Kitchener was not exactly implored to visit Canada. The efficiency of the whole force, says Sir Percy, suffered severely from the decrease in the votes upon which it depended for maintenance and drill. Recruiting had been stopped. The barracks at Kingston, Toronto, St. John's and Quebec are distinctly creditable to the Dominion. The garrisons at Esquimaux and Halifax are too small. Throughout the force the corps are weak in qualified officers. These are a few of the faults Sir Percy finds with Canadian military affairs. No wonder Lord Kitchener was not urged to view our nakedness.

BRITISH CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUE.

During the house of lords debate on its own reformation various Conservative members, including Lord Lansdowne, the opposition leader, and Lord Curzon, conceded that the existing disparity in party representation was unfortunate and should be remedied. Speaking in the current debate in the house of commons on Mr. Asquith's resolutions limiting the peers' voting power, Lord Hugh Cecil, who as the only Unionist free trader, forms a party by himself, acknowledged that there ought to be a stronger check placed by the lords on Conservative government, and observed that a proposal in this direction demanded careful consideration. This double admission presents the real struggle experienced by the British Liberal party. The house of lords is overwhelmingly Conservative and it is abolutely partisan. It has not for two generations performed the functions of an impartial revisory chamber, and, that being so, all arguments, in its favor founded upon the benefit accruing from such a chamber go by the board.

Brought down to the fundamental issue the claims preferred by and for the house of lords, if allowed, would make it the controlling factor in legislation and in the conduct of the nation's finances. For the power to compel at any time a reference to the people before a reform or financial measure, can become law, virtually supersedes the parliamentary principle which makes the government of the day dependent on the confidence of the house of commons. Only its prudent and impartial exercise could make it tolerable in a democracy or exclude it from attack. But the Conservative majority has not been careful to preserve even the simulacrum of impartiality—the contrary it has consistently used its power to defend and strengthen hereditary privileges and to prevent, delay or attenuate political and social reforms which conflicted with them. This is undeniable, as is the fact that reactionary proposals made by Conservative governments have been accepted without demur. Perhaps the situation might have been further prolonged had the peers been content to reject and mutilate general legislation—it is sixteen years ago since Mr. Gladstone in his last parliamentary speech declared it to be intolerable. But the rejection of the budget created the issue in a form so acute that no Liberal government worthy of the name could afford to evade the challenge.

In this connection it is of no consequence what individual ability can be found among the peers that constitute the Conservative majority. Many men of great intellectual power have opposed the rise and progress of democracy and still withstood its onward march. But the peers are fighting a losing battle, however numerous may be their temporary and incidental successes. The rising tide will assuredly overflow and sweep away the barrier they present and the consciousness of this provides the cause of the movement for self-reform. Indefensible as it stands the house of lords wants to strengthen itself, but its majority will not have their pre-eminence destroyed—neither apparently are they prepared to allow the house to become the impartial revisory chamber which they and their defenders assert to be indispensable for the general welfare of the country. Looked at from any side, the pretensions of the majority of the house of lords are inadmissible, unless the British commons are willing to sink to the level of the United States house of representatives, a chamber whose doings, save under special circumstances, are absolutely disregarded, and of whose existence the enquiring stranger would with difficulty learn from the press of the republic.

The board of control having announced its determination not to pay a first-class man to be medical health officer, the second-class men are now welcome to apply for the position. The board of control are to be commended for their decision to stand by the bylaw keeping back the frontage at Spadina and Bloor-street. Talk of hardship on the bank which bought the property, knowing exactly what the restrictions were, is altogether too thin.

TWO VIEWS OF HUGHES.

New York World (Dem.): What New York loses the nation gains many times over by the appointment of Gov. Hughes to be associate justice of the United States Supreme Court. New York American (Ind. Dem.): The corporation leanings of Gov. Hughes since he became chief executive of the state and before his election are of interest in view of the fact that as associate justice of the supreme court he will pass upon American Tobacco and Standard Oil, the most important trust regulation cases the government has ever brought. Altogether and under all the circumstances, the appointment of Gov. Hughes by President Taft at this important time is one which will excite more than ordinary interest, and fully as much concern.

MANUFACTURERS MEET THE WHOLESALE GROCERS

Plan of Contract Selling Generally Favored—Action as to Travelers' Affidavits Deferred.

When manufacturer meets wholesaler, not all see alike on vital points affecting trade. This was demonstrated at the second session of the Wholesale Grocers' Exchange convention, when sixty representatives of the leading Canadian manufacturing firms met the convening wholesalers.

Several of the manufacturers were not backward in expressing the opinion that the wholesalers were indifferent to their interests, and that the convention on the fact that they did not push goods sufficiently. Hugh Blair's resolution Monday, that travelers should be called upon to make an affidavit to respect business agreements, was shelved, many of the manufacturers desiring to have the wholesalers called upon to handle the goods of those manufacturers who did not adopt it.

Wm. Doble, of the E. W. Gillett Co., caused discussion by stating that the wholesaler houses do very little for his firm, and that many of them were manufacturing goods to compete. He suggested that the convention should discuss the right of a jobber to manufacture goods in opposition to an exclusive firm, which favored the wholesaler's plan.

Mr. Blair replied that this was the fault of the manufacturers who, by not allowing sufficient margin of business profit, had compelled wholesale houses to manufacture to protect themselves. The manufacturer was entitled to say at what price his goods should be sold, but he was requesting them to elect for the other sections of the trade. If a retailer was allowed to cut the price on proprietary articles, the wholesaler would be demoralized, and the contract selling plan would solve the difficulty. While the manufacturers were making money, the wholesalers were distributing goods at less than cost.

The contract plan met with a warm support from the Quaker Oats Co., Peterboro. When his firm came to Canada, he stated, they found the trade in a bad way, but since adopting this system, they are able to pay a quarterly rebate of 10 per cent. to the wholesalers, besides increasing the volume of their Ontario business over 100 per cent. The great trouble was that there was not sufficient confidence between the wholesaler and the manufacturer.

Mr. Blair, representing the Canadian Canners, Ltd., took a fling at the travelers for wholesale houses, who sold goods at less than his own agents could sell them for. He believed that if every traveler was on his oath it would go a long way towards remedying the present state of affairs. He believed that the wholesaler could reduce expenses and increase profits by reducing the number of travelers.

E. G. Henderson of the Windsor Salt Co. claimed that his firm's business had fallen off thru relying on the wholesaler houses. St. Lawrence Starch Co. said the starch houses looked to the wholesalers as their only distributing agencies. Tobacco Selling. "I don't think that any wholesale grocer a few years ago made any money," said H. Bourke of the Imperial Tobacco Co. "The proper way was to deal solely thru the wholesalers. The firms were often driven to the wall by retailers. His firm allowed no jobber, getting a lower price, to undersell his competitors. He considered it unfair to sell to any firm of co-operative grocers. He advised a united front on this question, for one wholesaler had recently stated to his firm that it had no right to dictate selling terms."

H. C. Beckett, Hamilton, believed that any wholesaler who made such a statement had done so unthinkingly. Legislative Suffrage Association. RETAIL GROCERS SAY MARGINS ARE SCANTY

Will Tell Wholesalers and Manufacturers So To-day—Would Educate Consumers.

Higher prices for groceries may be the result of a resolution passed at the annual meeting of the grocers' section of the Retail Merchants' Association yesterday. "In the opinion of the retailers, it is unfair for the manufacturers and wholesalers to fix the prices of staple articles and not allow sufficient margin for the retailer to raise the prices to the consumer," says the resolution.

Manifestly the grocers want a more margin, and to get more margin it is necessary to raise the prices unless the manufacturer comes down, which is unlikely. One reason why the market is flooded with cheap goods, cheap soups and things of that kind, which keep following one another, is because they do not want to handle the line in which there is no margin," says the resolution which will be presented at the meeting of the wholesalers today.

Customers ought to be educated by the grocer to know the difference between cheap imitations and the real thing, said M. Moyer, chairman, in his helping hand. A cheap grocer should know all about the adulterated articles, and warn the buyers. Retailers did not take their customers into their confidence.

One of the reasons why people living in the country come to the cities to buy goods was that the grocers near them did not know enough neighborhoodly spirit. When help was scarce during harvest time they should shut up their stores and give the farmer a helping hand. About 20 resolutions were dealt with. One was to the effect that the retailer should be advised by the wholesaler about the locality he was going to start in and not risk his capital where he might lose it, to the serious injury of the surrounding trade. Stores should be spread around more equally instead of being congested.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Chairman, M. Moyer of Toronto; first vice-president, F. Ford of Ottawa; second vice-president, J. O. Carpenter of Hamilton; treasurer, T. Nappy of Brockville; secretary, M. Towern of Toronto. The secretary reported great progress in growth during the past year. Queen's Scholarships. rounded the whole structure in the freshest and sweetest way with golden color against the dark tan bark. Here assembled several of the officials and George Beardmore, as president, read an address to his honor.

Altho the show had survived the uncertainties of youth, and attained its maturity, he was pleased to be able to see that the performance would not fall short of the standard achieved in previous years. After an absence of three years, they returned to the armories, so admirably suited to the purpose, thru the courtesy of the general commanding the district, and the consideration and generosity of the commanding officers of the various units.

The committee, said Mr. Beardmore, had striven hard to provide a show in which the extent and variety of the classes, the arrangements and general appointments, and the quality and volume of the attendance might even surpass its predecessors. There were approximately 90 entries in 24 classes, and the prize list ran to $200.

Society as Seen at the Show.

One who is accustomed to the barefaced, forbidding appearance of the armories when the several ladies' rifle corps are going thru the mental and physical exertion, to turning themselves into crack shots, or on ordinary night nights, the transformation scene presented in the building last night, when the opening of the Canadian and Military House Show, by the Hon. John M. Gibson, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, took place, came as a brilliant surprise.

The roof was as artfully concealed by festooned draperies of pale blue and white, the suspended lamps being veiled with pink blossoms and green vines, the galleries were decked with the colors of the day, the whole presenting a beautiful picture in a most graceful gown of black silk crepe, corsage bouquet of orchids, pearls clasping her throat and dainty drift nights, the transformation scene presented in the building last night, when the opening of the Canadian and Military House Show, by the Hon. Household Economic Ass'n.

Mrs. J. K. Fairbairn read an interesting paper entitled "An Appreciation of Rembrandt," at the meeting of the Household Economic Association held at the Canadian Institute yesterday afternoon.

At first Mrs. Fairbairn spoke of how the personality and habits of some artists were in entire contrast to their painting. As the celebrated Turner was untidy and careless, yet doing such beautiful work, so was Rembrandt the opposite, scrupulous and careful, but meeting with unquestioned success in his art. About three hundred paintings are credited to Rembrandt's brush, but there is even a measure of doubt about the genuineness of some of these. In those days Mrs. Fairbairn pointed out, it was the custom of masters to visit a great number of galleries, instructing students, and it not infrequently happened that they signed the work of their pupils. Rembrandt's famous picture, "The School of Anatomy," said Mrs. Fairbairn, was executed when he was in his twenties. He aimed at an impressionistic effect. Not the effect that is attributed to that term today, but rather that gained by focussing the rays of light on one spot. His work in character is not unlike that of Hals.

Additional attractions will be added to these churches, such as gymnasiums and reading rooms for young men. The names of these churches are as follows: Broadway Tabernacle, Elm-street, Metropolitan, Berkeley-street, Euclid-avenue and King-street.

Publish My Letter

The Words of Harold P. Bushy, Who Was Permanently Cured of Chronic Lumbago by "Nerviline."

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive. These words open the sincere, straightforward letter of H. P. Bushy, a well-known man in the plumbing and tin-smithing business in Portland.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get in a day's work before that knifing, cruel pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in The Montreal Witness and got five bottles, and I gave them a try. I was soothed, pain-relieving action every time it was applied. When I got the disease under control with Nerviline, I built up my strength and fortified my blood by taking Ferreroze at intervals. This treatment cured me permanently, and I urge everyone to give the thick, white, oily liniment they are using, and try an up-to-date, penetrating, pain-destroyer like Nerviline. Please publish my letter to the world. I want all to hear of Nerviline. Don't be called into receiving anything from your dealer but 'Nerviline.' Large size bottle 50c, or sample size 25c. A TALENTED YOUNG WOMAN

In the water color section of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, there was hung last month the annual spring exhibition, an exceptionally well and daintily executed example of modern genre water color painting, entitled "A Summer Day in Arcady," and the official catalogues gave no further inkling of its identity. For boldness and depth of coloring, it was pronounced by critics as one of the best examples of that class of work recently offered for display. The characteristics of the picture made it almost a certainty that the artist was of the sterner sex, but

MISS SYDNEY LUCAS.

In view of the fact that his identity was not disclosed, the officials were in somewhat of a quandary as to the proper classification of the painting.

It was finally decided to advertise in the daily papers for information as to the identity of the artist, and no little surprise resulted when it was shown that the picture was the work of a woman, a member of the theatrical profession, and one who had never before aspired to proficiency in any profession other than her own.

The picture is the property of the Metropolitan Museum, and the artist is a member of the "Star and Garter" company, playing at the Gaiety Theatre in this city during the present week. Her name is Miss Sydney Lucas, and she is as talented before the footlights as she is deft with a brush.

TO EXCLUDE ORGANIZERS WOULD DESTROY UNIONS

Senator Power Declares This Would Be Effect of Senator Belcourt's Measure.

OTTAWA, April 26.—(Special.)—The debate on Senator Belcourt's bill to prohibit the operations of American labor organizers in Canada was resumed in the senate to-day and again adjourned.

Senator Power said there was a good example in the Nova Scotia mine strike of the damage which an outside organization could do to a Canadian industry.

There were certain organizations, such as the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which naturally extended across the boundary, and should not be interfered with.

The proposed bill, he said, would destroy trade unions in Canada. In the opinion of the labor organizations themselves, the presence of one or two non-British subjects in a trade union of Canada would make it a criminal institution.

Senator Belcourt denied that this was the effect of the bill, but Senator Cloran insisted that it was, and would prevent immigrants joining Canadian unions until they had been in the country the three years needed to naturalize.

Senator Choquette said that he was opposed to the bill, believing it a bad idea introduced in with the object of having the question discussed, so that a remedy could be provided next session.

Senator Loughheed said that he had

Had Given Up All Hope of Living.

Heart Trouble Cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Andrew Savoy, Gratton's, N.B., writes:—"In the year 1905, I was taken sick and did not think I could live any length of time. My trouble was with my heart and people told me that nothing could be done for a case like mine. I consulted the very best doctors, but they could do me no good. For seven weeks I could hardly cross the floor. I had no pain, but was so weak nobody in the world can believe how I felt. I had given up all hopes of living and had given my little girl to my sister-in-law.

"One day a friend came to see me, and calling me by name, said, 'Lizzie, if I were you I would try a dose of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as they are good for heart trouble.' My husband got me a box, but for two days I was not feeling any better, but on the fourth day my husband said, 'I believe those pills are doing you good.' I was able to say, 'Yes, I feel a good deal better this morning.' He said, 'Well, I will get you another box right away.' I took two boxes and three doses out of the third one, and I was perfectly well and have not been sick since then.

"I will never be without them in my home for God knows if it had not been for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I would not have been alive now."

Price, 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

AMENDMENTS TO RACE BILL

Would Cut Out Time Limit for Meets

OTTAWA, April 26.—(Special.)—In the senate to-day Senator Cloran gave notice of amendments to the race track gambling bill. They propose to cut out the clause limiting the length of time that meets may be held, and declare that the bill shall not affect articles 1227 and 1228 of the civil code of Quebec. The first of these articles states that there is no right of action for the recovery of money under a gaming contract, and the second declares that the denial of this right of action is subject to exception in favor of exercises for promoting skill in the use of arms and of horse and foot races and other lawful games which require bodily activity and address.

The second reading of the naval service bill was moved by Sir Richard Cartwright, who stated that the question involved had been so extensively discussed elsewhere that he did not feel the need of making an elaborate speech in support of his motion.

He was aware that there were opponents to the bill, some of whom thought it did not go far enough in the direction of creating a navy, and some of whom thought that it went too far. However, these were gentlemen who would be inclined to condemn anything brought in by the government, and that fact should be kept in mind when their views were expressed.

Jewels in a Pedestal.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The mysterious disappearance of $100,000 worth of jewels of the late Mrs. Theodore Octavia Moss, widow of the late theatrical manager, has been cleared up by the accidental striking of a foot on a secret spring, which released a door in a pedestal in the home of Mrs. Moss on Madison-avenue and revealed a dazzling array of gems.

Two Million Damaged.

CHANGSHA, China, April 26.—Yang Wen Ting, the governor of Changsha, to-day issued a peace proclamation. Missionaries arriving here from Chang Te Fu report that there is every indication that trouble with the rioting natives is over. The governor estimates the damage done at about $2,000,000.

OBITUARY.

The funeral services of the late C. Douglas E. Gibson were held at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gibson, at their residence, 23 Hambly avenue, this city, Monday morning.

Mr. Douglas Gibson was the eldest son, and leaves, besides his parents, two sisters and two brothers, all younger.

Mr. Gibson's death came as a surprise to his friends, after an illness of less than two weeks.

He was a young man of twenty-five years, of great promise and strong personal attractions.

For the last five years he was connected with the sprinkler risk department of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, as senior inspector. He had for some time shown a great aptitude for the work and was fast becoming an expert in that line.

The sympathy of his many friends was made evident by a large and beautiful display of floral emblems, and the last services were attended by many of his former companions.
