CANADA'S WAR VETERANS IN BIG DETROIT PARADE

Ovation for Soldier-Heroes From All Parts of Canada, Marching on Armistice Day, Under Capt. Gipsy Smith, With 25,000 American Troops—Eyes of Canadians in U. S. City "Sparkle With Pride."

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 11.—(By Canadian Press)—Exemplifying the spirit of camaraderie existing between the two nations, Canadian veterans of the great war, 325 strong, under the leadership of Captain Pat "Gipsy" Smith, swung into the great Armistice Day parade of 25,000 American soldiers which passed the reviewing stand and down Woodward avenue to Grand Circus Park, Detroit, this afternoon.

The soldiers from the land of the Maple Leaf acquitted themselves with a military precision that caused the eyes of the little group of Canadians standing outside the Canadian government office, on Jefferson avenue, to sparkle with pride.

Those Canadians certainly did go thru one hell," remarked a veteran of 1861, who, too late for the parade, stood at attention at Jefferson and Woodward avenues.

The symbolic gold stripe worn on the left cuff was everywhere in evidence in the Canadian detachment.

NEED OF ISOLATION BUILDING IN CITY

Board of Health Will Ask for Erection of Nurses' Home.

The board of health decided yesterday to wait on the board of control next Wednesday and ask for the appropriation of funds for the construction of a nurses' home and the providing of more isolation hospital accommodation. Decision to take this step was reached after Dr. Hastings, M.O.H., had explained that more room for communicable diseases was needed at once.

The doctor also presented a message on the subject, which read in part as follows:

"Notwithstanding the danger signals that have been handed out from time to time in regard to our lack of isolation hospital accommodation, and more recently in my report No. 7 to your board, presented last May, and again in October, yet apparently nothing has been done, and we have to constantly refuse patients accommodation at the Isolation Hospital. We have, in fact, no more accommodation for communicable diseases today than we had in 1911. It is obviously impossible to hope to reasonably control the transmission of these diseases under these circumstances unless we have ample provision made for hospitalizing the cases. Consequently, if a nurses' home were provided so that a sufficient number of nurses could be housed, we would be able to handle from 25 to 100 more patients in our hospital buildings than we are able to handle at the present time. I would, therefore, strongly urge that steps be taken forthwith for the erection of a nurses' home and a building for measles and emergency cases of other communicable diseases than those already provided for."

Dr. Hastings said an ideal site for a hospital for communicable diseases would be on the bank of the Don near Danforth avenue.

Forty-four Deaths From Cancer.

Dr. Hastings' report for the month of October showed 44 deaths in the city from cancer, against 32 in the same month of last year. Of the 500 deaths in the month, 19 resulted from tuberculosis in the city, and there were five more of Toronto people in outside sanitariums. There were 10 deaths from whooping cough also last month.

The report adds: The deaths under one year of age in October numbered 127, as compared with 101 in the same month of last year. The greater part of this increase is due to a marked rise in the birth rate. In the first eleven months there were over 25 per cent. more births this year than in the corresponding period of 1919.

The number of deaths from infant diarrhoea and enteritis, under two years of age was 38, which is higher than it should be. In October, 1919, it was 25 and in 1918 only 12.

NEED NEW AGREEMENT FOR BUILDING TRACKS

Before the transportation commission can begin the construction of new lines, an agreement will have to be made with the city regarding the construction of track foundations. The commission does not see this point. If an agreement is made such as exists between the city and the T. S. R., the city will build the roadbed, and the commission will pay a mileage rate to the city.

If no mileage rate is paid, and the city bears the cost of the foundation construction, that fact will have a bearing on the question of increase of fares.

No decision has yet been reached also on the question of whether the commission will pay taxes to the city or not. The agreement regarding the construction of foundations will have to be ratified by the legislature.

VOICE DISAPPROVAL OF SINN FEIN CAMPAIGN

At a meeting of Ulster Black Watch, L.O.L., a resolution expressing disapproval of the operations of the Sinn Fein Determination for Ireland League was drafted and addressed to Hon. W. E. Haney, which says in part: "In view of Canada having expended more than a billion dollars and provided an army of half a million men over 50,000 of whom laid down their lives on the battlefield, this lodge condemns the propaganda of that league which openly supports the Sinn Fein element in Ireland, and calls upon the attorney-general of Ontario to put a stop to such propaganda."

Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

TREATS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parminin (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dizziness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.

TOWNS OVER TOP IN NAVY LEAGUE DRIVE

Altho only asked for $1,000, Collingwood yesterday sent in $1,500 to the Ontario branch of the Navy League of Canada in their campaign to raise $760,000. Whitby also exceeds their goal, having been asked for $500, but $77 over that amount has been paid in. Six towns report as follows: New Hamburg, $357.50; Ancaster, $196.90; Guelph, $2,179.55; Collingwood, $1,500; Whitby, $517, and the municipality of Chapple, $203.50.

NEW MODEL TOWN AT KAPUSKASING

Government Inaugurates a Scheme for Benefit of Northern Ontario.

Spruce Falls is to be the name of the new model town at Kapuskasing, and it will be incorporated as a municipality at the coming session of the legislature. The government has made an agreement with the Spruce Falls Pulp and Paper Company, in return for the power privileges of the falls, the government retaining a section of land totaling nearly nine hundred acres.

The purpose of the government is to establish an up-to-date town for the workers of the paper and pulp plant, where they may own their own homes and property, have every freedom of a citizen and not be dependent upon the private company. It is the first time that any Canadian government has ever planned such a scheme.

Power at Cost.

Power for the use of the citizens will be supplied at cost.

As the government owns the land, no citizen shall be debarred from entering the town. The houses will be built under the direction of the director of housing and in its measure 60 feet by 120. And in this connection, the government will issue debentures up to $400,000, as under the housing act.

The old Kapuskasing station is situated on the west side of the river, but under the new plans, it will be removed across to the new town.

Another feature of the town will be its absolute protection from forest fires.

The company expects to be in full operation by the first of May next year, and expect also to have spent $4,000,000 by that time. Since September the first, the sum of $700,000 has been expended. They will develop 10,000 horsepower and have an output of 130 tons a day.

TO PAY VISIT TO ALL UNIVERSITIES

Royal Commission Seeks to Get Understanding of Financial Conventions.

The royal commission investigating university finances met in the office of the deputy minister of education yesterday afternoon, Hon. H. J. Cody in the chair. All the members of the commission were present, namely, Hon. H. J. Cody, Sir John Willison and T. A. Russell, of Toronto, and Col. A. P. D'Arche of Ottawa, C. R. Somerville of London, and J. A. Wallace of the town of Simcoe. Mr. Uffen of the department of education acted as secretary.

It was decided to send formal invitation to the University of Toronto, Queen's University and Western University, to present full information as to their financial and allied subjects to the commission early in December. The commissioners resolved to visit the Western University and the University of Toronto on Thursday and Friday of next week, and Queen's University on Monday, the 22nd November.

The committee determined to invite written communications from educational, industrial, scientific and other public bodies who might desire to make any representations to the commission on the subject of the investigation in which it is engaged.

PREPARING ESTIMATES FOR SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Dr. Beer, chairman of the property committee of the board of education, stated yesterday that the school building estimates for 1921 would be ready for the committee by Monday next, Nov. 15.

The high and public school building estimates and sites, it is intimated, will again run over the million dollar mark.

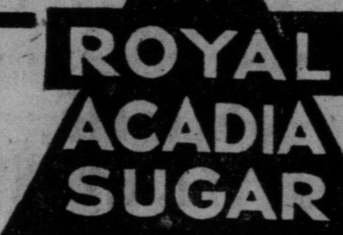

ANGLICANS ADVOCATE NEW DETENTION HOME

Archdeacon Ingles, Rev. J. F. Summerhays, Mrs. H. D. Warren and Rev. C. Carpenter have been appointed by the diocesan council for social service of the Church of England in Canada to wait on the board of control to support the proposal for a detention home and a reception hospital.

The council also took up the report of Mr. Justice Hodgins regarding the care of the mental defectives, and expressed the desire that the government would carry these suggestions into effect.

Press Photographer Was Loyal But Scared of More "Flu"

Armistice Day will ever hold a place in the hearts of Canadians as the day when the world was relieved from the four long years of hardship and suffering, and the meaning will grow deeper in the future generations. But it did not pass without its lighter side being shown. A press photographer on one of the morning papers had just returned to the job after a three weeks' illness of "flu" and in front of the city hall had paid tribute to the glorious dead by standing for two minutes with head uncovered. When "God save the King" was being sung he realized that he was taking an awful chance in the chill air and replaced his hat. Suddenly he received a well-aimed jab in the back, followed by the acid tones of an old lady behind him. "Take off your hat! Don't you know any better?" "Take off your own and catch pneumonia," he replied.

dians are not here in Canada, but represent this Dominion beneath the sod in Flanders fields and France. They died that we might live, and while our hearts are filled with sadness they are also filled with joy because the Canadian soldiers who were all brought back safely, Canada has made such a name for herself as she never had before, on account of the sacrifices of these men who died for us.

Mayor Church then paid tribute to the heroic dead in the following speech, which he read: "This is the anniversary of Armistice Day. His majesty the King has decreed that in every part of the empire, on this the second anniversary of the armistice which stopped the world-wide carnage of the four preceding years...

"Toronto did her part in the war in men and money. Over 60,000 men left this city, and nearly 6,000 of them sleep their last sleep in Flanders and in France until the resurrection morning, martyrs to the glorious cause of civilization and liberty."

After the mayor had spoken Mayor Rev. W. L. Baynes-Reed offered prayer. The band of the Royal Canadian Dragoons sounded the "Last Post," after which an escort presented arms and the band of the Dragoons struck up the National Anthem.

Standing on the first landing in front of the entrance to the hall, flanked by dozens of prominent citizens and many parents of soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice, Mayor Church read the proclamation for the observance of Armistice Day following the inspection of the guard, the band played "O, God, Our Help in Ages Past," the great crowd joining in the singing of two verses. Dr. Donald MacGregor led the singing. Rev. Capt. Lambert, who lost a limb in the war, then delivered a prayer.

ED. MACK'S Money-Raising Sale

A Plain Talk to Every Man Concerning Clothes

As there is an end to everything — so there must be an end to this great sale. We were candid in the beginning in giving our reasons for these remarkable reductions. We told you truthfully that we were obliged to raise money to pay our honest debts — that this was due to the several months of fine weather, which lessened the demand for heavier clothes — that this was the first time in our business history that we had ever held a sale at this season of the year. In brief, these were the reasons for the startling reductions on these finer grades of clothes. And so the sale has been going on — for two weeks now. Hundreds of men who are particular about their clothes have been here, and profited by coming.

Some of the finest weaves of British woollens are here, cut and designed into the latest and most correct styles of Suits and Overcoats. The tailoring corresponds with the fine qualities of materials.

We Have Reduced Prices On Suits and Overcoats As Much as $30 on the single Suit or Overcoat. Others are reduced $13, $15, 20, $25. We admit this offer of ours seems almost too good to be true. But you have never known this store to willingly attempt to deceive the public. If doubt is the only factor that has kept anyone away while these reductions have been open to all, or has been keeping these fine clothes out of your wardrobe — you need no longer hesitate. We simply ask you to come and investigate. Come as a visitor, if you will, with full privilege to inspect and examine. This is the only way to settle the point. Come and get the visible evidence of what we claim. We'll prove every claim to your satisfaction. One more word. There has been a ready response to our reductions and we are daily getting nearer the amount of money we started out to raise. When that point is reached we cannot longer promise these reductions. We do not know just when that time will come, but our advice is for you to come NOW and make sure of your share.

WHEN MAN O' WAR WAS WELCOMED BY THE HOME FOLKS AT RIDDLE FARM

The thousands who have admired Man o' War for his superb individuality and splendid race horse qualities, have seen the great three-year-old at the Rose Tree Hunt near Media, 12 miles from Philadelphia, on Wednesday afternoon, when Samuel D. Riddle, ex-president of the organization, brought the champion from Glen Riddle Farm to the country "home folks" might pay their tribute to the great horse before his departure to the stud in Kentucky.

It was Man o' War, thru with the rigors of training, with a life of ease ahead of him, that acknowledged the plaudits of the 10,000 persons present with a kingly dignity, as of a sovereign receiving his due.

On his arrival in the van, Man o' War showed his versatility by leaping nimbly to the ground, disdaining the landing board on which his stable companion had sedately made his way. The throng gave the regal chestnut a great welcome as he was led away to a temporary stable, guarded by a dozen Philadelphia blue-coats. Later in the afternoon the public desire to view the champion at close quarters was gratified, and for half an hour he was on view in the paddock and on the race course in front of the stand, first in the colors of his happy owner, and later stripped of everything but a lead bridle and a pair of bandages on his front legs.

Mr. Riddle had promised his neighbors that they should see the great colt and he kept his word. The owner of Man o' War is "Sam" to the country about Media, and all afternoon he was busy shaking hands with the farmers, over whose land the Rose Tree hunt, and with a host of friends engaged in other walks of life.

The gatekeeper at the entrance to the course in front of the stand came in for a hearty handshake, and there was an exchange of reminiscences during which racing programs of the early 'eighties, discolored with age, were fished from the depths of an inside pocket.

"There you are, sir—Poverty Stables, colors black," said the gatekeeper, whom Mr. Riddle had hailed as "Johnny."

"That's right, Johnny, that's the old stable name under which Howard Lewis and I race," replied Mr. Riddle. "I remember somebody said the black colors wouldn't bring us luck. I bought some cheap yellow braid and sewed it on, making my present-day competitor of every black and yellow. After we had won a few races, it was suggested that we change the name to the Prosperity Stables, and those were good old days, Johnny, and we all had lots of fun."

Farmers set aside the cares of their everyday life on the day Man o' War was exhibited. Women and children were bundled into the automobiles and driven to the picturesque grounds on which one of the most unique race courses in the world has been fashioned. The country round about Media is a succession of hills and valleys of great fertility, and beauty, with cozy farm houses and well kept buildings dotting the landscape. There are densely wooded areas here and there, where foxes are pursued with such reckless daring, by what is admittedly the hardest riding bunch of horsemen this country can produce. OCTOBER FIRE LOSSES

Fire losses in Canada in October, as estimated by The Monetary Times, were as follows:

WEALTH WOULD PAY DEBT OF DOMINION

Duke of Devonshire Says Canada's Developed Resources Total Billions.

"The developed wealth of Canada has been estimated at various amounts between eighteen billion dollars and twenty-five billion dollars. The estimated developed wealth of the United States is put at three hundred billion dollars. The United States has still enormous natural resources, but so also has Canada, and the latter are, as yet, almost wholly untouched. If scientific research could be applied to the development of these resources there would be, in ten years, not twenty-five billion dollars of developed wealth, but something nearer one hundred billion dollars and this would make the present debt of the Dominion, which is about two billion dollars, an exceedingly easy burden and render it possible to pay it off in a few years."

This was the assertion made by His Grace the Duke of Devonshire last night when he addressed the Royal Canadian Institute at Convocation Hall on the subject of research. The governor-general said that while the principal features which had impressed him were the growth and development of Canada's industries and resources, mining, fishing, water-power, and the strides which have been made in so short a time, he could not but wonder what its possibilities are.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT HORTICULTURAL SHOW

The number of people who have visited the Horticultural Exhibition at Oddfellows' Hall, College street, during the past two days has been somewhat of a surprise to the management. GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN OPTIMISTIC VEIN

Duke of Devonshire Takes Bright Outlook in Address to Canadian Club—Coal Strike in Britain Described as Victory for the People—Supreme Confidence in Future of Canada—No Reason for Panic or Alarm.

There was a cheery note of optimism in the speech delivered by the Duke of Devonshire at the Canadian Club yesterday. "Citizenship" was his theme, and he had a bright outlook on everything, and said that although there might be anxious and disquieting symptoms in the air there was no reason for panic or alarm. He saw the people of Canada from Halifax to Victoria, he continued, were going to make the best of conditions, realizing as they did that they had been living under particularly artificial circumstances. These were the result of being forced to do things under war conditions and which could not be prevented. Our manhood and resources were not to be destroyed when they should have been developing.

"However," said his excellency, "if we wait until time places a proper perspective on these movements, Canada will emerge with honors equal to those she gained in the war." As one of the recognized nations of the world, he said, we could help considerably to prevent future wars, and those to come would not mind the great debt if they had peace and security. Now, like travelers on a mountain when a landslide was imminent, we could or refuse to take precautions for the future. The same courage, foresight and sacrifice was necessary as before, and it was up to Canadians to make the disagreeable transition to a normal state as pleasant as possible. The highest attributes of citizenship and statesmanship would be called for if we were to arrive at a safe and sound solution, and the greater the difficulty the more eagerly we should tackle it. Employers and employees, by getting together, could materially in solving the current problem of lower wages if it should arise. The only way was to arrange for a settlement of problems being cropped up.

Victory for the People. It was not the men nor the owners, but the British people, said his excellency, who won a victory in Britain during the recent coal strike. His opinion was the power behind the strike, and during the course of his remarks he said: "What might have happened to the most appalling catastrophe may have been prevented by the classes to get on with their work." Canada would solve her problems, just as Britain did, and his excellency suggested, after four years of the pathetic and intelligent attempt to acquaint himself with problems affecting Canada, that Canadians should not wait for a stoppage before getting together. Negotiation and discussion beforehand were absolutely necessary if we were to prevent a crisis of any kind.

Conference of Board of Education Decides to Take Up Various Propaganda. Toronto is to have a great Saturday night and Sunday meeting campaign of public need of the high and public schools. Mrs. Groves stated that the publicity committee does not desire to ask the board for elements of the committee. ACCIDENTAL DEATH CORONER'S VERDICT

"Accidental Death," was the verdict brought in last night at the inquest on the Christine Sutherland, aged 68, who died in the General Hospital from a fractured skull, the result of coming in contact with the side of an auto driven by Joseph Stern, 1412 West Queen street, on the morning of Nov. 6. TORONTO DID NOT FORGET

The photograph gives an impression of the solemnly inspiring appearance of the cenotaph in front of the city hall after the many wreaths, tributes of various kinds and the "unreturning brave" had been laid in place. There were many public incidents as flowers were placed on the cenotaph or on the steps about its base.

TOSCHA SEIDEL GREAT VIOLINIST

Rendered Many Fine Compositions at Massey Hall Last Night.

Advance notices which spoke of Toscha Seidel as a sensational violinist may have misled his audience at Massey Hall last night to expect a player with many eccentricities. In fact, this was a mistake. The sensation if any was to be found in the conscientious regard of the artist to the requirements of the composition and to the highly finished work of his playing.

BOARD OF TRADE HONORS HEROES

Unveil Memorial to Those Who Made Great Sacrifice. As a fitting commemoration of the greatest of all days in Canadian history, Nov. 11, 1918, the Toronto Board of Trade yesterday afternoon unveiled a memorial to seven heroes who stand pre-eminently among those who made great sacrifices during the great war. These seven were: Col. G. T. Denison, son of Toronto's oldest magistrate; Captain Trumbull Warren, Captain Ryerson, Captain N. V. Copp, Lieut. C. P. Tees and Lieut. H. L. Smith.
