Imperialism Abandoned.

From La Presse, Montreal.

LONDON. June 12.—The Tory press of England has undertaken a campaign against Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who is considered disloyal, because he has squarely refused to support all the propositions tending to restrain the autonomy of the colonies. Thanks to the attitude of the first minister of Canada, all the imperialistic proposals have been abandoned, and the autonomy of the colonies has been affirmed more explicitly than ever.

Mr. Asquith, the first minister of England, is of the same opinion as Sir Wilfrid, and it is this which explains the ill-humor of the Tory journals which reproduce with joy the attacks of The Witness and The Winnipeg Free Press, and of other organs which seem ready to sacrifice everything for Downing-street, something which few Canadians approve.

WRECK OF INTERNATIONAL LIMITED

The pictures do not indicate that any great damage was done to the cars, tho the seats and inner fittings were badly twisted. It is remarkable that with the train going along at 65 miles an hour only one passenger of the 250 was killed. Most of them escaped without a scratch.

HIS LAST BATTLE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is coming home from London a tired man, with reduced physical energy. The London trip has not agreed with him in any sense. It is not likely he will ever go back: he went this time against his inclinations.

But he is hastening home to take up the political fight, for fight it is, and an election before the snow comes. He is more than dissatisfied with those colleagues of his who persuaded him out of his determination to go, to the country have to come.

It were done.

It were best done quickly."

Ald. Weston is entirely in sympathy with the proposal. The equality of taxation, the cheapness of the dand at the present time and the opportunity for working people to get sunable homes, with the regulation of transportation, which would follow annexation appealed to him.

"They say the land is in the hands of homers. They always say that. If you wait five years it will be no different. We might as well accept the situation to-day and get any advantage there is. Youngsters Provide Good Sport and Big Crowd See Good Races -The Results

The juniors of the Toronto Canoe Club held their annual field day Saturday afternoon. The lovely day, with the bay like a millpond, made the occasion an ideal one. The program consisted of six events: Junior singles, junior doubles, blade singles, single-blade tandem, double-blade tandem, single and double-blade fours. The racing was very keen, with close finishes. There was a large turnout at the clubhouse, and the results showed that the Toronto Canoe Club possess grand material in their juniors to fill amy vacancies that may occur in the senior ranks. The races were all half-mile with a turn, starting and finishing in front of the clubhouse. The following were the results:

Junior singles—1, J. McGregor; 2. W. Reld; 3, J. Gooch; 4, N. Tytler; 5, F. Elliott; 6, O. Elliott. Time, 5.40.

SUMMER SHOWER OF MONEY SURPRISES GATE TENDER

MELROSE, Mass., June 17 .- James went to his assistance. They gathered Walsh, a Boston and Maine Railroad gate-tender, had the surprise of his life late last night, when just as a Boston express was passing, he was showered with money. Bills and coins of all denominations fell about him and followed in the wake of the train. There was so much of it that Walsh called for help and two station men went to his assistance. They gathered up $108 in all. The money was placed in the station safe, and early to-day the owner came and claimed it. He explained that he had been seized with an attack of car sickness, and had put his wallet fell from a pocket. Each of three railroad men received $5 as a reward.

Once you learn the simple "Hoosier" way, you will never bother with messy kitchen tables and unhandy cupboards, running from kitchen to cellar, or from kitchen to pantry and back again. Place a comfortable stool before your cabinet, pull out the sliding aluminum-covered work table of the "Hoosier" Cabinet, open up the doors and sit down to your work; sift your flour from a large sanitary bin of pure metal; select the articles of use right at your finger-tips and get your work done quickly and easily without so much walking.

It's an easy cabinet to work with, because there is a handy place for everything you need; it's easy to clean, because it comes apart quickly; no dark corners for mice or insects. It's a good cabinet to own, because every part of it is built to last a lifetime. It's a low-priced cabinet to buy, because the enormous output has brought the cost to the very lowest notch.

It is specially easy to buy at the present time, because the club plan of selling, which is conducted for a limited time only, enables you to divide the price up into little payments.

Our confidence in the "Hoosier" Kitchen Cabinet is such that we have organized this generous club offer. The object being to place a large number of these cabinets in Toronto homes, where we know they will recommend themselves to all who see them there. As previously announced, the club membership will be confined to a limited number of cabinets, and the number is rapidly filling up. The opportunity is one that calls for an early response. There is no formality or restricting features about joining the club. Particulars are very simple, and as follows:

Says the always interesting Mephisto in Musical America: Women's lack of love for music is both discouraging and deplorable and leads often for the new country. East Says the always interesting Mephisand deplorable and leads often to greater disillusionments than a mere disappointed sense of sight. Elfrida Swancourt, seated at the piano, pathod in warm lamplisht, comes before us as a vew vision of music incarnate. But later, when she has to make a choice between music and earrings—well, you probably remember the result, which was not a bald choice of the earrings, but a conditioned choice of the music. At all events, Hardy, who is a thinking man, was led to say, on page 215, of "A Pair of Blue Eyes". "It is extraordinary how many women have no honest love of music as an end, and not as a means, even leaving out those who have nothing in view of the possible wiping out of one of the yorks by the proposed redistring out those who have nothing in hem. They mostly like it for its ac-essories. I have never met a woman who loves music as do ten or a dozen men I know."

This was some of the story which the hundred odd members of the Toronto Board of Trade, who are touring Northern Ontario, heard last week.

How to open up this new country was the problem. Colonization roads were built. But they were inadequate. There was an agitation for a railway, There was an agitation for a railway, and the railway was finally built. The mining development which has followed the construction of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway is well known. Cobalt came into existence, and its fame is established. Gold was found and Porcupine has great promise. And now the land, that which is known as the clay belt, what of it?

As transportation was the primary factor necessary to development, so transportation still remains the most important thing to be done. The T. and N. O. has done and is doing good Service. For 253 miles the railway winds ribbon-like thru the hills, bridge That Victims of the Wreck Are Be ing valleys and one over the leve stretches of rich arable land to Cook rane, meeting the line of the National Transcontinental, which itself traverses the heart of the clay belt a distance of nearly one thousand miles. The suggestion was made at a banquet given to the board of trade members this week that the government might advance the price of homestead lands from fifty cents per acre and have the land partially cleared. The suggestion is worth while and the government might even go to the extent of having prepared farms, as in the west.

A wooden button was placed on the shore end of the broken pipe on Friday, at the spot where the temporary intake will be later attached. An opening of 20 inches in the centre of the button and one of 3 feet in the manhole just inside of it allowed sufficient water to sweep in to supply the city. The place where the button was attached is 612 feet out in the lake.

Aviation Passenger Concern Loses $70,000 on One Year's Operations -Outlook Bad.

BERLIN, June 17 .- The German Avation Company of Frankfort-on-Main, ormed, to conduct a passenger serrice with Zeppelin dirigible balloons, has closed its first year's business, has closed its first year's business, with a loss of $71,650, due largely to the cost of restoring the dirigible Deutschland, after its destruction in the Teutoburger forest last year.

This year's balance sheet promises to be even more unfavorable, the second Deutschland, the destruction of which at Dusseldorf in May will be charged against the new account, not having been insured like its predecessor. Undiscouraged, however, by the ill fortune, the company will order an aditional dirigible for passenger service.

* Waterloo Day *

To-day is the anniversary of the battle of Waterloop Napoelon's army of some 75,000 men was, on this date, which was also, in 1815, a Sunday, drawn up at the foot of Mount St. Jean, and Welling of Mount St. Jean, and Wellington's men—numbering about 67,000—were hastening to meet them. The clashing of two such large bodies of determined fighting men is fortunately, of rare occurrence, but we may be excused for taking some pride in our commemoration of the outcome of the struggle. The Duke of Wellington outgeneraled the Corsican Napoleon and in this crowning battle and broke his over-ambitious power forever. Arthur Wellesley, first Duke of Wellington, an Irishman, born in Dublin, in 1769, the same year lington, an Irishman, born in Dublin, in 1769, the same year in which Napoleon was born, learned the rudiments of warfare in the French Academy in Angers, but was, in the earlier part of his career, rather a parliamentarian than an active sol-dier. Thereafter, in 1794, he was fighting in Holland and in 1796 was sent, as commander-in-chief, to Calcutta. In India he achieved a reputation for strict integrity and justice, which keeps his name alive to this day, amongst the educated natives, as all that stands for sagacity, moderation and strict integrity. In 1807 he was chief secretary for Ireland, and in the following year he began that campaign in the peninsular which culminated in 1815 at Waterloo, and, after many engagements in which superior numbers against him, and the better knowledge of his protagonists of local conditions. many times nearly involved him in disaster, he finally brought the Peninsular War to a victorious issue at Waterloo. For all his stern soldierly qualities he was described as a man who won the personal affection of the nastatesman, and, to quote contem porary comment, "won the heart of Britain thru his high sense of duty and his perfect integrity."

York, that Mrs. Eddy. founder of dead, as did Jesus, is not troubling the Christian Scientists in the least. Mrs. Stetson is not a member of the Christian Science Church, and does not speak for the members of the church on this point. Christian Scientists do not believe, and Mrs. Eddy never taught, that she would rise from the dead, and any one who so states does so in contradiction of Mrs. Eddy's specific teaching on this subject. Mrs. Stetson's criticism of the board of directors of the mother church is wide off the mark, for the reason that these men were all specially chosen by Mrs. Eddy herself for their fitness for the work, and they know, if any one does, how Mrs. Eddy wished her work to be carried on. They have the confidence of the whole church, and their action in making arrangements over the grave of Mrs. Eddy is fully endorsed by the members of the church

Germany Increases State Insurance

Provides for the Aged, the Sick and Invalid-Pensions for Widows of Workingmen.

BERLIN, June 17 .- Important exensions to the German system of state insurance for working men, are made in a bill adopted by the Reichstag on second reading after protracted debate. The the main object of the bill was to consolidate the three branches of state insurance—sick, accident and invalid—the last, including old age pensions, which have hitherto been administered under separate laws, the new law extends the obligatory sick insurance to about seven million farm laborers, lumbermen, and others earlier deprived of its benefits.

men, and others earlier deprived of its benefits.

It also provides for pensioning at a moderate rate, widows and children of insured workmen and increases the provision for fermal workers at child birth, to allow the mothers a full opportunity for recuperation before returning to work. It is estimated that the additional cost of the three kinds of insurance will be $32,000,000 per year, of which the empire is to bear $6,400,000 and the workmen and their employers, the rest.

Charles Lamb's Excuse. Leadenhall-street, London, was for many years the scene of the daily labors of Charles Lamb. That Lamb -despite his many complaints-ap-pears to have had a fairly easy time pears to have had a marry easy time at the East India house is evident from a story told by Algernon Black in "Macmillari's Magazine" for February, 1879. One morning he "was observed to enter the office hastily. and, in an excited manner, assumed, no doubt, for the occasion, to leave by an opposite door. He appeared no more that day.

"He stated the next morning, in explanation, that as he was passing thru planation, that as he was passing thru Leadenhall Market on his way to the office he accidentally trod on a butcher's heel. 'I applogized,' said Lamb, 'to the butcher, but the latter retorted: "Yes; but your excuses won't cure my broken heel, and — me."

said he, seizing his knife. "I'll have it out of you!"

"Lamb fled from the butcher, and in dread of his pursuit dared not remain for the rest of the day at the India house. This etory was accepted as a humorous excuse for taking a build written leave."

years ago rose 40 per cent., still remains high, but importers of the article deny that any scarcity exists. The ligh price is due, they say, to the growing demand in the United States, where of late years there has been a tendency among smokers to discard cigars in favor of a pipe, says The London Standard.

Vienna is the great wholesale market for meerschaum; and most of the supply is brought there from Constantinople. On all hands it is complained that it is found in possible to induce the Turks to exert themselves to meet the growing demand, althe there is plenty of the raw material to be had. ## How Many Miles Do You Walk Every Day?

Even Indoors, Distance Covered in Day, May Amount to Several Miles.

How to Keep From Getting Tired. There are many millions of people on this earth who are pestered with feet, yet they can't get along without them.

The feet are the most overworked part of the body. Just think how many miles a day you walk, whether you are busy indoors or out in the open air. From morning until night, every day of the year, your two faithful "propellers" are working. No wonder they sometimes go back on you.

"Oh My, Oh My, If I Only Had a Box of TIZ, That Wonderful Foot Remedy."

Yet even though they "insurrect' once in a while, get blistery, raw and chafed, and sweat like ditch-diggers on a hot day, you still have to keep them moving.

Then when your poor feet begin to give out, when blisters rise and the "raw" makes you wince; when they swell as though your shoes would burst, and corns and bunions make you walk sideways, then is the time you say you would be brave if only the pain were somewhere else, and all industry stops. Then is when you sit "down" and take notice.

Then is when you sit "down" and take notice.

And while you are sitting down, you might as well learn how to get rid quickly of all these foot troubles, whether you have any now, or are liable to have any in the future.

The remedy is swift and simple. If you are not able to walk to the drug store, send someone out to get it. Any drug store has it in stock, because millions demand it in every part of the country. It is TIZ. You probably have heard the name before, but perhaps your feet did not ache then.

TIZ is for all of the following—for each one as much as for all—namely, swollen, chafed, tired, aching, blistered, raw, sweaty, smelly feet, and for corns, bunions and callouses.

You are not buying an experiment or a powder. TIZ comes in tablets, 25 cents a box, at any drug store. Several tablets are used in a basin full of water, and in this you bathe your feet. You will note a transformation at once from misery to comfort.

If you are not satisfied, remember.

"Sting" of Army Life is Done Away With

Soldiers at the Presidio No Longer Dread Long Marches. The feet of the soldier are presumed to be toughened to long drilling and extensive marches. Yet "sore feet" remain one of the bugbears of army life. Heretofore there has been nothing known which would cure this affliction quickly and effectively. Even heavy army shoes seem to offer no preventive for sore feet. At the Presidio near San Francisco, as well as in many other army posts, the "boys" are using the only remedy which has ever produced immediate and satisfactory results in all foot troubles. This remedy is TIZ.

Roy Newberry, 70th, Co. C., A. R., stationed at the Presidlo, writes:

"I am writing you in praise of your remedy for tired and tender feet known as TIZ. Being a soldier, and having a great deal of marching to do, I find a great deal of relief in using the tablets. All the boys are beginning to use it."

If TIZ is good for the sold'er, who uses his feet a good deal, it is good for all who use their feet less—for you and for everybody else.

TIZ is for tender, sore, blistered, chafed, raw, tired, sweaty, smelly feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions. It is guaranteed. Sold at all druggists for 25c a box.

From Saugus, Mass., Frank W. Joy sends the following letter, showing what real merit does for TIZ.

"I write to tell you the benefit I have received from the use of TIZ. All through the long, hot, dry spell of weather, my feet burned and ached something terrible. I was told of your tablets by a Boston Police Officer, who said they are the best thing made for sore feet.

"I got a box and used them and my feet are in very good shape now. After using the box I recommended them to several Electric R. R. men, and they say they are great. I consider they are a godsend to anyone who has to be on their feet a great deal. I should not try to get along without them in my nouse. I use them once or twice a week now, and have no trouble with my feet. I will gladly recommend them to anyone having burning or aching feet."

Rid You of All Corns.

Say goodbye to your corns the very first time you use TIZ. You will never know you have a corn, bunion or callous, or sweaty, tired, swollen, aching feet any more. It's just wonderful the way the pain vanishes. Rub the corn—hammer it with your fist if you wish—no more pain after TIZ than if there had never been any trouble with your feet. Doesn't that sound good to you? Doesn't it? Then read this:

"The corns on either of my toes were as large as the tablets you make to cure them. To-day there is no sign of corns on either foot and no soreness. It's an un-to-date godsend."—Sam A. Hoover, Progress, N.C.

GOOD-BYE sore feet; tender, swollen, chafed, shoe-pinched, raw, tired feet; sweaty, bad smelling feet. TIZ ends it all forever.

GOOD-BYE hard and soft corns, callouses and bunions. TIZ rids the feet of all painful growths in a most wonderful manner without any trouble.

TIZ is not a powder or a plaster, both of which cover up the pores of the feet. In all cases of foot soreness, the peres must be opened and the poisonous accumulations which bring on all sorts of foot afflictions must be drawn out. all sorts of foot afflictions must be drawn out.

This is what TIZ does. It does it in a wonderful way. It gets the tiredness right out: it purifies the pores so that all tenderness, rawness, etc., is driven away completely and rapidly.

Nothing in the world can do it but TIZ. If you have tried other things, and then try TIZ, you will say exactly the same thing. Besides being a wonder in dispelling all footsoreness, blisters and tenderness, TIZ is remarkably effective in ridding the feet of corns, callouses and buntons. It is simplicity itself.
There are no bandages: no cutting, no gouging to do. Just dissolve TIZ in water and use it as a foot-bath. The results will more than bear out the most enthusiastic statements ever made about it.

If your feet sweat a great deal, or have a bad odor which nothing you have tried has ever destroyed, just begin using a box of TIZ and it will surprise you. Stop all foot misery, and begin using TIZ at once.

TIZ gives the feet a relaxed freshness that is positively glorious. It makes them able to withstand hard work. You will be able to walk far, even in tight shoes, feeling sure that your feet will "hold out" indefinitely. We want you to be satisfied. If you are not, you are entitled to your money back.

Orowning of Queen Mary in Westminster Abbey an Event Second Only in Importance on Thurs-

LONDON, June 17 .- While naturally the whole coronation 'ceremony centres about the King. there is considerably more than usual interest at the historic event of Thursday in the part that will be played by the Queen, as, in this case, two queens will take active part in the ceremonies, and as a result, there will be three thrones, one tres about the King, there is considhistoric event of Thursday in the part that will be played by the Queen, as, in this case, two queens will take active part in the ceremonies, and as a result, there will be three thrones, one more than in any other coronation in the history of the United Kingdom. The Queen-mother, Alexandra, will be at the left of King George, while Queen Mary will be at his right. The chief part of the former's participation in the ceremonies will consist chiefly in joining in the communion service in joining in the communion service to the royal couple, while Queen Mary will figure as next important to the King among the actors in this imposing event.

Nothing could be more impressive than the actual coronation ceremonial in the abbey itself. The ceremony is mediaeval and even barbaric in its splendor, and the position occupied during it by the Queen will be the most envied of any woman in the world. None who will witness the matchless scene in the historic theatre of kingly demans could wish for envithing more dramas could wish for anything more imposing or more worthy of the great traditions of the British Empire.

Precedent will govern everything in the ceremony at the abbey. As the King and Queen enter the historic building, the boys of Westminster School will shout, "Vivati" and the vast assembly rise and make obeisance. Immediately begins the actual ceremony of the crowning of King George, during which the Queen is seated on her throne at the right of his. ## PITMAN, POLITICIAN, PREMIER

On Thrones Marvelous Career of the Present First Man in the Commonwealth of Australia-From the Mine to the Seats of the Mighty.

> By J. Keir Hardie, M.P. The year 1874 has become a tradition

The year 1874 has become a tradition among colliers. In that year colliers' wages went up to the quite fabulous rate of 9s. 6d. a day of eight hours, but by 1879 the wages had gone down to 3s., and the working day had grown and even twelve hours' duration.

An attempt on the part of the employers to bring down wages to 2s. 6d. a day in 1879 roused the men to action, and a big agitation in favor of organization sprang up, during the course of which I was appointed honorary secretary to the newly-formed Lanarkshire Miners' Union, and was sent on a mission into Ayrshire to secure the co-operation of that county in our agitation. That was the occasion of my first introduction to the Fisher family. The family was a large one, and order of service, "as she passeth by the King on his throne, she shall bow herself reverently to symbolizing her allegiance to God.

Then, according to the authorized form and order of service, "as she passeth by the King on his throne, she shall bow herself reverently to His Majesty, and then be conducted to her own throne, and without any further ceremony take her place on it." This will conclude the solemnity of the coronation.

Montrose. The archbishop will then pour the holy oil upon her head, saying:

"In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost; let the anointing with this oil increase your honor, and the grace of God's holy spirit establish you, for ever and ever. Amen."

The keeper of the sewel house will then give to the archbishop the Queen's ring, which he will put on the fourth finger of her right hand, saying that it is the seal of a sincere faith and praying that God will protect her honor.

The the archbishop will take the Queen's ring, which he will put on the fourth finger of her right hand, saying that God will protect her and praying that God will protect her honor.

This will conclude the solemnity of the coronation.

There are three crowns for the Queen consort. The cap of state worn by the King at the beginning of the proceedings will be represented in the case of the Queen by the golden circlet originally constructed for Mary of Modena, Queen Consort of James II., at a cost of $550,000. It consists of a beautiful cap made of purple velvet and turned up with ermine, which is itself encircled with a wide band of diamonds together with a string of pearls.

As the kings of England are invested with the crown of St. Edward, the diadem which is placed upon the head of their consorts has usually been known as the crown of Queen Edith, the Confessor's saintly wife. The old crown of Queen Edith was not, of curse, required in 1661, seeing that the king was unaccompanied by his wife.

The Queen of intelligence, their studious habits and good workmanship, the fact of their being sgitators made them anathema to the mine-owners, and Andrew, as being most active, was most feared and disliked by them. He felt his position in the mine becoming more and more ill to thole, and as ing more and more ill to thole, and as, after my resignation from the general secretaryship in 1882, the organization of the county had again fallen off, he, in 1885, decided to emigrate, and fixed upon Queensland.

A Man of His Class. Young Fisher carried to Queensland with him his principles of trade unionism, hatred of oppression, and burning love of freedom; and these, backed by his own sterling qualities, have made him the trusted and beloved leader of working-class movement of the Australian continent, and prime minister of the Commonwealth. With that period of his life, however, I have nothing to do here. Ten years ago I saw him when he brought his young wife home to Scotland, that their first-born might first see the light in the dear auld land. Again, in January of 1908, I spent much time in his company in Melbourne. He was then leading the opposition in the federal parliament. What impressed me most when I thus again met him in the heyday of life was the fine, dignified simplicity of the man. The old-time impetuosity, which made him rush in and do things whilst others were considering how to begin. was still there, but curbed and bridled and turned to account in the pursuit of a great purpose. He has democracy and love of his kind in his blood. He has not,"risen" from the working class, as the detestable phrase goes; he is of the working class—a forerunner of the type of man that is to be when labor

On Thursday next he goes to Kilmarnock to receive a welcome from the Ayrshire Miners' Union; and it is characteristic of the man that he stipulated for this being his first public engagement. He will during his visit to our shores, be the guest of kings and princes, but nowhere will his heart be more in tune with its company than when he mingles with the men and women who are his ain fouk in the land he loves with all the poetic fervor of the patriot. It was just such as he that a recent minstrel had in mind when he described the Scottish emi-

No matter what part of the great Dominion you live in, you can nowadays be well and stylishly dressed in suits fashioned to your taste and needs, whether London, New York, or any other style. Distance is now no deterrent, for the fast liners have annihilated space and Curzon Bros have annihilated every other difficulty. Until the great London Tailors—Curzon Bros.—studied the needs of the dwellers in the Colonies, Canadians had to be satisfied with suits of inferior quality, antiquated cut, and inelegant finish, yet which nevertheless were sold at high prices. Now, owing to Curzon Bros.* enterprise and modern system, it is possible to obtain the latest London materials, cut and finished in London or New York style, and all this at the lowest London prices and direct from the Capital of the World. No matter where you are, these advantages are yours for the asking, for a post card or letter addressed to Curzon Bros.* Distributing Agents for Canada, as below, will bring to your door the choicest possible assortment of newest patterns, a descriptive booklet of the latest styles, and every particular and detail you require. Why, then, pay high prices for unsatisfactory suits when leading made-to-measure tailors can satisfy your every requirement just as well as though you lived in or near London?

$20 SUIT to Measure Garriage & Duty Paid, for $8.60.

If you have not seen our materials we invite you to send us a post card at once for free patterns, when by return you will receive a collection, which, for beauty and variety, are unequalled by any selection in any failor's shop or store throughout the world. These patterns are sent carriage paid, free of cost. Together with patterns you will receive Latest Fashion-Plates and an interesting booklet explaining our methods of business. Included in this booklet is a self-measurement form cleverly arranged, whereby you may take your own measurements in your own home with a certifude of accuracy. We will also send you a testimonial booklet incorporating letters of appreciation from clients all over the world.

I have read the Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson, by Rev. Dr. Linscott, in this issue of The Toronto Sunday World.

June 18, 1911.

THE CONTEST.

The most popular and the most practical plan for Bible study, together with a prize Bible contest, is running in The Sunday World.

In short, the Sunday School Lesson must be read each week for 52 weeks, also the "Suggestive Questions," and the coupon should be cut out each questions that are indicated to be answered in writing must also be answered, and at the end of the term the coupons and written answers, duly signed with name and address, must be delivered to this office. The prizes will be awarded according to the number of coupons sent in, and the merits of the written answers. You can get all the help you want with the written ans-

Go in to win one of the solid-gold medals. If you complete the course, you will get a beautifully engraved Diploma, in three colors, in any event. Get all you can to join you in this course of Bible study.

Nine-tenths of all those who drink liquor would gladly stop if their nerves would allow them to. Very few men like liquor, and yet fewer drink it because they are naturally vicious.

There is a kind of nervousness that no sedative in the world will have the least effect on—nothing will allay it but alcohol. That is why men keep right on drinking when they know just as well as you do that it is ruining them mentally, physically and financially. They simply CAN'T STOP.

The condition of nervousness is due to accumulated alcoholic poison in their systems. Before they can or will stop drinking liquor every trace of this poison must be driven out. The Gatlin treatment is the only one in the world that will eliminate this poison; other

ASKS RESIGNATION BACK TEACHER WAS DECEIVED

Thought Board Wanted Him to Quit-St. Kitts in Throes of School Trouble.

ST. CATHARINES, June 18.-(Special.)-There is trouble brewing for the school management committee what is termed by certain of the other trustees and by many of the pupils and ex-pupils as well as by the parents of many of the present day scholars, a high-handed action in assuming the power of dismissing teachers without referring the matter to the board.

It is a fact that during the past few years the school has not held its own in the summer examinations and there have been many complaints and still more murmurings. The committe recently requested the resignations of two teachers, Mr. Folleck, science master, and Mr. Caverhill, mathematical master. Both resigned, but the latter thad been in the employ of the board for eighteen years and did so believing the request had come from the entire board. He did not look on the matter in the same light when he learned that he had been deceived, and when he was besieged with re quests from tax payers and pupils to fight the matter out he yielded and will now demand his resignation back and will ask an investigation of any charge upon which he may be liable to dismissal.

From all sides pressure is being brought to bear to pressure is being brought to bear to prevent the injustice to this teacher who has always been considered first class in his line. He is well liked by the pupils and former pupils of the school because alt no time has he been known to play my favorites and the line. to play my favorites and the in-dignation that he should be asked to resign is general.

One or two of the trustees are very wrathy because they were not consulted; moreover they do not approve of the course taken by the committee and when the board meets on Monday night next there is sure to be a warm time. There are eleven members as follows: Dr. S. H. McCoy, Capt. A. H. Malcolmson, Dr. Sutherland, Dr. J. M. Sheahan and A. Courtney Kingstone (who constitute the committee). Sheriff West Gives Borden Dawson, E. F. Dwyer, E. Wismer, Geo. Burch, Robt. Thompson and F. Killer, mer. It is not certain that the full committee agreed to the course adopted. If the board stands by the committee's action there will be one grand protest as the citizens are being greatly worked up over the at-

FINANCIAL REVIEWS.

The time has passed when matters of financial import were left to the stock broker and banker, and to-day every business and professional man finds it as much to his interest to be well grounded in the vital questions of finance, as to keep in touch with affairs associated with his own partaken into the clean ticular sphere. In his endeavor to keep tab on events in the financial world, however, it is only too common for the average "layman" to run into the many intricate terms and forms used by financial writers, so that in effect his efforts along the line of keeping himself informed do not meet the results to which they are justly entitled. It is therefore interesting to note that a book has been assued.

"Oh, I think he would, but—"

"But the stores wouldn't—is that what you were going to add?"

"Oh, no. I was going to say that he gives me plenty of money with which to pay cash. Does yours?"—Buffalo Express. note that a book has been issued covering the field of finance for the ordinary investor or business man. Such a volume is "Money and Investments." It consists of a concise explanation of financial terms and fundamental principles, and covers almost every conceivable subject. It will prove of almost inestimable benefit in assuring a clearer understanding of the affairs of the financial inity, and as a reference work will be found of practical value by every student of modern conditions. "Money and Investments," by Mont-gomery Rollins. Published by Dana Estes & Co., Boston. Cloth, eight vo., price $2.00.

Every year a number of books are issued dealing with financial and LOW - PRICED DIVIDEND - PAYING stock exchange business, but few of these are adapted for the ordinary business man, since their reasoning is too technical for anyone not conversant with financial terms and logic It is also lamentable that a clearer understanding of British finances is not prevalent in Canada. The cost of treating this ore is placed by reputable engineers at $3.50 per ton, so that taking the conservative ore reserve estimate of 200,000 tons, this alone shows a profit of $16,500,000, figuring that the average assays will go the same as was encountered at the 200-foot level and Mr. Noah Timmins is quoted as saying that the richest values to be encountered at the Hollinger mine, in his opinion, would be struck below the 250-foot level.

She was a strong personality, kindly disposed, active, and possessed of business habits. She personally managed the house property and feus, and conducted a large correspondence, often on public questions She was born in Whitehouse Close in June, 1791. She used to relate that she had been offered the perusal of several of Scott's novels while yet in manuscript; but on political grounds declined to read them both then and ever afterward. She advocated female suffrage half a century ago. At the age of 13 she crossed the Forth in an open boat, paying two shillings for her passage, part of which counted in her being carried from the boat to the landing place on the beatman's shoulders.—London

ROCHESTER, June 17 .- (Staff correspondent) .- Toronto and Rochester started the fourth and final game of the present series with a dark, overhanging sky and considerable breeze was blowing.

President Chapin added an American flag to his pole, along with his two pennants, which make quite an array. Phelps' knee, which he injured in the first game of the series, is still bothering him, and Jack Slattery will do the receiving. Kocher, who is at home at present, owing to the illness of his mother, will join the team Sunday in Jersey City. Ed Killian will go to Toronto to see President McCaffery before departing to Nashville. McGinley was manager Kelley's selection, while Holmes and Jacklitsch were the battery for Rochester. The teams lined up as follows:

Senior C. L. A. Lacrosse Game at Island is Easy Win for Oarsmen -The Score 6 to 3.

ISLAND STADIUM, June 17.—(Staff Correspondence.)—It was almost two o'clock when the ball was faced for the Senior C. L. A. game between Brantford and Toronto Rowing Club on Saturday afternoon. The early hour at which the game was billed to start, and the prospects of the big N. L. U. game afterwards, made the attendance rather slim. Enthusiasm, however, was on hand on all sides. Both teams appeared in the pink of condition, and it was hard to judge which had the advantage.

The line-up was as follows:
Brantford—Goal, G. Slattery; point, Cheevers; cover-point, Gilligan; first defence, Colling; second defence, Nickol; third defence, Hockens; centre, Lawton; third defence, Hockens; centre, Lawton; third home, Ion; second home, Aitkins; first home, Page; outside, Duncan; inside, Hockins; field captain, Shannon.

Tie in First Quarter.

First Quarter.—Early in the first quarter Brantford began to rush the play, and kept the ball most of the time in T. R. C. teritory. After some nice passing Duncan got the ball and scored the first goal for Brantford after seven minutes of play. Play continued about even, but the oarsmen woke up considerably, and evened up the score on a straight shot by Hynes. Time 16 minutes. Neither team scored again in this quarter. Score: Brantford 1, T.R.C. 1.

Playing it Close.

Second Quarter.—T. R. C. showed up better in this quarter. Play was about even during the first few minutes, till Langton got the ball, and after a nice run up field scored for Brantford four minutes after play recommenced. T. R. C. again evened the score 19 minutes later, when, in a spectacular piece of lilay. Hynes passed from behind the goal

Third Quarter.—T. R. C. had things all their own way in this quarter. In three minutes after the commencement of play Davy got the ball on a pass from Hynes behind the net, and scored. Hynes piled up another goal for the oarsmen one minute later, and Davy notched the third goal after another minute's play. Patterson of T. R. C. got three minutes' penalty for crosschecking, and Hawkins was sent off for five minutes for striking Hewitson with his stick. Page notched a goal for Brantford in five minutes after T. R. C.'s last score was made, but Bird found the net two minutes later for the sallors. Three-quarter-time score: Brantford 3, T. R. C. 6.

Fourth Quarter.—Play was about even in the first part of this quarter. Duncan got a bad cut over the eye and had to leave the field. Richards of the T. R. C. went off to even up. Rag play was indulged in by both teams for five minutes or so, neither scoring. No goals were gathered in this quarter.

Final score was: T. R. C. 6, BRANT-FORD 3. Boat Boys Win.

should be bought of diamond dealers and not of jewelers, who carry only a few stones. Our advantages over such dealers are made manifest AT ONCE for the First City Amateur Game a Hummer following reasons, viz. : First, ours is essentially a dla-mond business.

Second, our associate diamond cutters are always on the spot in Antwerp to buy the snaps in rough stones, that are constantly to be had for cash. Third, our sorting of stones is done by an expert, and when we-sell a stone as perfect, you will find it strictly so.

Fourth, we buy as cheap as the cheapest buyers, and as we sell nothing but diamonds, we must treat the public right, as we have no side lines to depend on.

The Carleyites took the lead in the last of the fifth likewise: Croft singled, Jacobs sacrificed, O'Grady fanned and McCarthy doubled to right, scoring Croft. Rosser ended the inning.

Wellingtons added two more in the sixthi, Nevins muffed Curzon's fly, Casey' taking second by good baserunning. O'Toole sacrificed. Thorne singled in the infield. Graham hit to pitcher, but McGowan muffed the offering, Curzon scoring, but Thorne was nipped at the plate. Graham went to third during the excitement and scored immediate'y after on Croft's single. Jacobs fanned, ending the agony.

Dufferins nearly tied the score up in the seventh, dropping short by one rum. Grogan singled to right, Jacobs muffed Auld's fly, Grogan scoring. Puddy bunted them along. McGowan singled, scoring Auld. Picton flew out to Thorne. Nevins went out, short to first.

Walsh Taught Langford How

Clever Boston Bantam Developed the "Tar Baby" From a Janitor to a Great Fighter.

Back in 1902 Sam Langford, now the most feared battler in the world outside of Jack Johnson, used to get beaten up every day by a little mite of a man who weighed less than 115 pounds. Sam was then a lightweight. Wasn't that an auspicious beginning for such a fighter as the "Tar Baby" has come to be? Jimmy Walsh, ex-bantam champion, related the story the other night Jimmy was the boy who used to dispense the wallopings to Langford. "I used to give him a lot of them, be-lieve me," he said. "Sam was just an awkward fellow and didn't know a thing about fighting, and I was fairly clever then. "Sam was working as a janitor around the gymnasium. He got the notion he wanted to be a fighter. So he went to Eddie Keevin and told him about it. Eddie assured him he could

attempted. Ketchel earned the decision and Papke was called, by some, a poor seneral and by others a chicken-hearted middleweight.

Hugo Kelly has known Papke in all his fighting moods. It has been Hugo's privilege to travel the full twenty rounds distance with Billy, and it has been his misfortune to crumble after a few of the fierce lighting punches that Papke cuts loose on occasions.

Papke certainly kept up his reputation as an in-and-outer across the seas, as his early performances with Dave Smith, Cyclone Thompson and others will show. But he wound up his Australian carer in a blaze of glory—that is, if his winning fight with Dave Smith is to be his last in Kangaroo Land.

When Papke was in disgrace in San Francisco owing to a bad-looking fight with Joe-Thomas, I asked him how he accounted for the fact that, in some of his fights, he seemed the personification of force and speed, while in others he was as slow and ineffective as the traditional ice wagon.

"I can't tell why it is, but I'm willing to admit it's a true bill," said Papke. "There are times when I simply can't get started, try as I may. It was that way with Joe Thomas, and I was that way with Joe Thomas, and I was that way when I fought Ketchel both times in San Francisco."

From which it will be seen that Papke is quite ready to admit that his ring performances are not by any means of an even character.

It was often said that Ketchel was the only man of his poundage Papke really feared, and fir this reason, now that Ketchel has passed away, it is believed Papke will make things hum in the middleweight division when he returns to his native heath.

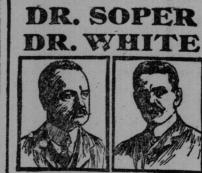

But it is ar we'l to remember that Sam Langferd action in sain the tasks the division when he returns to his native heath.

they knew how to achieve success.

Not alone were the Americans better long association one with the other had made them better acquainted, and acquaintance is a great thing both in men and in horses where polo is concerned. An English authority tells us that when the Americans were last in England the combination of their forwards was extraordinary in its resourcefulness. What it was then it was in the recent matches. Devereux in 1882, when an Irish coercion bill ished his education at Oxford and played his first polo at Hurlingham in the annual 'Varsity match. He was also a fine carsman at Oxford. He is a big powerful athlete and there is force in all his strokes, whether forward or backhand. He has a master's eye in practice began in 1872, when the figures abuses, and to take its stand on the stroke in connection with such a motion as this, of abuses which, after all, are not essential to the sport itself. Moreover, were it to take cognisance of those abuses, and to take its stand on reaching for a difficult "get," and he is not an easy man to ride off. The two Waterburys are as swift and hard hitters as any Indian rajah, and Lawrence, as No. 1, has absolutely no object in view except to clear the way for his brother, as No. 2, to hit for goal, a self-abnegation that is as rare as it is valuable. The American range in practice began in 1872, when the figures were—For adjourning, 212; against adjourning, 58. But that was the beginning of the end. Those Derby Day debates were at least entertaining. It was the annual chance of all who fancied themselves as humorists; it was and the day of M. P.s with consciences. A sermon on gambling from one legislator, a dissertation on horse-breeding from another, a lengthy series of midnight oil jokes from another—and so the debate proceeded year after year. How dear old Sir Wilfrid Lawson used to make everybody laugh over his merry quips! All teetotalers are not necessarily "dry," as Sir Wilfriddemonstrated; and the saving grace of humor prevented anyone from thinking that his view of horse-racing was a nerrow one

Mr. Gladstone on Racing.

Lord Ekcho, too, never failed to amuse; he spoke and voted in favor of it one year; next year he spoke and voted against it—and then went himself. And he was as genuinely humorous in the one speech as in the other. "Jimmy" Lowither was another of the hardy annuals in those debates; whillst, needless to say, Mr. Chaplin was also always "willing to oblige."

Was also always "willing to oblige."
There were "star turns" down Westminster way in those days, but old times are changed, old manners gone.
Gladstone's speech in 1872 is interesting reading to-day. One Thomas

The merest piece of Ill-luck senators are displaying the Spartan fortitude which presence at the post and victory escapes into the hands of an opponent. The British did all of duty on such a day entails.

But the members of both houses sill go to the Derby. There are, of course, numbers of unco' guid whom nothing could induce to be the witnesses of anything so "ungodly," but I have heard it hinted that, by a strange coincidence, even the most orthodox, unbending, and Puritanical of members have found themselves unable (owing to pressure of business engagements) to get down to Westminster The house is discussing the adjournment over Whitsuntide, and as it is They sent over thirty-five ponies and chose their best men. They know that despite the distance of the more "dour" of their hundred ponies in all may do it and constituents, they parliamentary representatives will inside on some to continual schooling for a long time of resentatives will insist on going to Epsom; and therefore they always plish success. It is all a question of take care to place as First Order on the Agenda Paper some harmless, non-controversial business, on which neither acrimony nor division is likely to arise. Hence we are to-day discussing the motion to adjourn over Whitsuntide, which, in the ordinary case, we should not be considering till Friday; and as nobody would be so supremely foolish as to vote against getting a much-needed respite from parliamentary labors, there is no danger of a "snap" dicision, or of any those other "regrettable incidents"

At the same time that the church forgot about evolution t also forgot about man's immortality and his spiritual nature; and it began to lay great stress on the importance of the physical body, and at last, in its material ignorance, announced that life was wrapped up and dependent on the fleshly corpus. And as they had invented a magical creation, so also the theologians invented a magical resurrection, and forgot all about the real resurrection which occurs every time a man is born into the world. The Testament is careful not to speak he resurrection from the dead, for 'the dead are not dead but alive," as Tennyson puts it. ## Autos Passing Street Cars

The question of autos passing street cars is still to the fore. gentleman signing himself "Pedestrian" writes to The Evening Star advocating that the dead stop rule be put in force. As usual with communications of this kind, his is an unnecessarily bitter and somewhat illogical arraignment of motorists in general. In taking this question into consideration there is an important feature of it that must be ignored. A Toronto street car during the rush hours is a most uncomfortable place. One's corns are stepped on, and an unpleasant crushing and buffeting, added to the fatigue of standing, is the portion of every passenger.

Now, poor human nature is such that under these circumstances the sight of another human rolling comfortably home, softly seated in a luxurious car, is peculiarly aggravating. The motorist who passes a crowded street car, tho he does not in any way molest any of its passengers, is bound to engender a strong feeling of resentment among a great number of them. Should he thru carelessness run too close to a passenger getting on or off, his offence is thus magnified a hundred-fold; whereas the same thing done by a horse-drawn vehicle would

The average Toronto chauffeur is a thousand times more careful than the average Toronto teamster. He must be, for he has no intelligent horse to rely on to keep him out of danger. Considering the number of cars used here, motor accidents in Toronto are few and far between. The motor-cycle police are efficient, and moderate and careful driving is the rule

It would be absurd to make every motor car stop when passing a street car loading or unloading. At corners like King and Yonge the traffic would be held up for blocks on each side.

Of course, there are a few reckless, inconsiderate auto drivers, but if these are brought to time by enforcing the four mile an hour limit, and if a certain percentage of the citizens who are careless will consent to use their eyes and ears in getting on and off cars, the accidents from this cause will be reduced to a

Second-Hand Car Buyers Look Out For Trade Tricks

Used Car Will Be Good Investment. but be Careful What You Buy-What to Look For and

An article on the above subject, that was prepared with particular care, is printed in The Automobile. It deals with the selling phases of the subject as well as the buying ones. The writer insists that, in either case, a layman should seek the advice of some competent person who can advise him of he is not conversant with the proposition before him. Buyers should always be "prepared to spend time and money before actually making a purchase."

They will find it imprise to seek advice of that as a proof of bona fide to have a run of, say, ten miles or more, and in the case of a purchase the hire money to be deducted from the bill. the steepest hills in the city, and the first one the firemen will attempt to climb with it will be the Jolly Cut, it being the most difficult grade in the city for autos.

The car will be placed at the King William-street station, and will respond to all alarms in the outlying and central parts of the city. It is likely that the establishment of the company will be increased, and it is the present intention to have Assistant Chief Aitchison ride on it to fires. Fireman George Gimblett and K. Kassell will probably be the regular chauffeurs. For the past few weeks they have been taking a special course in driving and repairing at a garage. Men from the factory where the car was made will accompany it and give the men their final instructions.

The care is the first motor-driven piece of apparatus to be added to an Ontario department. If it is a success, it is likely that several of the present pieces of apparatus will be replaced by auto fire trucks.

Chief TenEyck believes the cost of maintenance will be cheaper than horses, and that the car will be a great assistance to the department, especially in reaching fires in the outlying districts, without any waste of

They will find it unwise to seek advice from a friend "because if the car breaks down so does friendship."

Probably the first question one should ask is why the previous owner disposed of his car. Many are the reasons which are likely to be given in answer as one goes about making a tour of second-hand dealers. These reasons are seldom of much help as to the condition and value of a car. In the advice which this writer gives, are the following points:

Something For Nothing.

"If the buyer starts on his peregrinations with the idea that New York, or any other city for that matter, is hiding gold dust in the shape of automobiles that can be had for the price of silver, he had better return to his native state, and have another guess. There are no doubt reputable firms selling second-hand cars who will not place on their books anything they do not second-hand cars who will not place on their books anything they do not show much the cars after 20,000 miles; consequently they cannot be taken as a means of telling age. But if the metal were very unsightly if present on the metal. In our opinion it would be better and much neater in the result if the metal were, treated so as to be the metal of the metal were, treated so as to black itself, rather than paint it. A good dead black, that, in fact, used on optical instruments, can be had by brushing the cleaned brass surfaces with a solution of platinum foil as possible. It will be found that one-half ounce of nitric mixed with one on intric mixed with one on its proporty treated should not show much the firm as means of telling age. who either offer to sell the car on commission or who say they have a purchaser for such a car as the one advertised. Others are bolder and it is worth $1000, $995 would not tempt him very much. The first price quoted is invariably a ballon d'essai, to feel—the always expected and on this account the first price may seem somewhat high.

"Never be in a hurry about the purchase of a second-hand car; it may have been on the floor for months, although the salesman says: 'It came in yesterday.' Unless the buyer is experienced in cars, in which case few of these remarks will apply to him, it is cheaper to employ a competent, reliable engineer to look the car over and the possible engineer to look the car over and the large purchase of the salesman says: 'It came in yesterday.' Unless the buyer is experienced in cars, in which case few of these remarks will apply to him, it is cheaper to employ a competent, reliable engineer to look the car over and the large purchase for such a car as the one advertised. Others are bolder and on the sale and sell it.

"Wherever possible it is as well to deal with the intending buyer direct. The buyer prefers it and feels more at home. Offer to have the car inspected by an expert, but should this gentleman make any overtures with reference to a commission for his services, so that he is serving two masters, it is the duty of the suller, in fairness to himself and to the man who is employing him, to inform the prospective buyer of what has taken place. # ANNOUNCEMENT

We are glad to announce that we have opened a downtown salesroom for the famous Warren "30"-made in Detroit.

This is the car that made such a marvelous record in the 24-hour race at Los Angeles, April 9th, establishing a new world's record for mileage and speed in the 161 to 230 cubic inch piston displacement class; it covered 1167 miles—averaging over 481/2 miles per hour, and went through the entire race without a single motor adjustment or tire change. This remarkable record was made by a stripped demonstrator.

If the Warren "30" had never won another race, this achievement in itself is sufficient evidence of its wonderful strength, power and reliability.

Think a few moments about the tremendous vitality for such an astonishing performance. Think of the continuous strain upon the motor, the cylinders—the test on the cooling system—the bearings—the clutch—the transmission—the springs the axles—the strain on every part. Recall again the speed—over 48 miles an hour and kept up from four o'clock on Saturday until four o'clock on Sunday.

But, besides this event, the Warren "30" has to its credit the American record for five-mile straight-away at Pablo Beach, March 29th, time 4.24.12; and the 10-mile class event, March 30th, time 9.10.52. Besides many other notable events.

Among Detroiters, whose reputation as judges of automobiles is as famous as that of Kentuckians on horse flesh, the Warren "30" has a record of outselling every car of its price class during the first four months of 1911.

We are proud to announce that we have the Warren Agency established in Ontario, and we will be glad to demonstrate any one of the nine distinguished Warren "30" models to you.

Back of the Warren cars is the highgrade factory service—the service you have a right to expect back of

1912 MOTOR BUSINESS APPEARS VERY BRIGHT

Reports from Detroit, the largest manufacturing centre for motor-cars, as printed in Motor Age, indicate optimistic views as to the business of 1912. In one way it is unfortunate that PRINCESSthe stage name of the rather weak "lover" in this play is christened by ROYAL ALEXANDRA the author of this play "Jefferson"for when at the end of the first act his sweetheart broke down and cried, in the depths of despair, "Oh Jeff! Jeff! where are you Jeff!" an irreverent Philistine just behind me suggested to his companion, in a hoarse whisper, that he had probably gone out to buy a new hat to replace the one last smashed by Mutt. Jeff, however, in this case is not remotely related to Mutt's habitual victim, he is Jefferson Ryder, the son of John Burkett Ryder, unscrupulous grabber kett Ryder, unscrupulous grabber-just a domineering lump of unpleas-antness, himself dominated by the mono-idea of amassing more wealth than he can use. Shirley Rossmore crystallized him in the illuminating verdict that he was "lige most men who

tagonists in the play—in the usual re-lations of the pair of sweethearts and the stern father. In this case the stern father is made more stiffly op-posed to Shirley, as is often the case under similar circumstances, by the fact that he had previously plotted to, and succeeded in ruining the career of her father, Judge Rossmore, who stood on the side of justice in the way of some of his financial schemes. It is a curious fact that few things make a man so bitter in enmity to another as when he has succeeded in doing him deep injury. So when the action commences we find the judge and his devoted wife awaiting the return of their daughter from Europe, in a small, cheap house, and trying to decide how they are to break the news of their downfall and poverty to her. They have with them an old friend, ex-Judge Stott, who is standing by them in their trouble, and when Shirley arrives they attempt to break the news gradually. Shirley, however, has all the quick intuition of her sex, grasps the situation at once, pluckily laughs the disaster to scorn, and, of course, directly her fathen and mother have left her for a moment alone with her, cld friend Stott, she, being a young a man so bitter in enmity to another her cld friend Stott, she, being a young woman, breaks down utterly, then quickly recovering, asserts, with some determination, her intention of "fighting money," clearing her father's name, and generally making things upcomfortable for the plutegratic Lehn the most sprightly and most natural I name, and generally making things uncomfortable for the plutocratic John Burkett Ryder. In this capacity, and unknown to them, she rapidly wins the confidence and affec-tion of both, and she forces some de-gree of respect from John Eurkett by the publication of her novel "The Oc-tupus," in which he is drawn, with considerable satire, as the man he is. Incidentally she tells him the story of his treachery toward her father

Before this interview ends "Miss able ability—even with all the added Green," the psendonym under which claverness of her able companyshe wrote her novel, and which she seemed to me to be clear that such continues to use in the Ryder house- small success as the play had, the authhold, has as entirely won Ryder him- or had no part in. self as she had previously conquered his wife, and, desiring that his son shall be entirely cut away from Shirley and her influence, he, not knowing that Shirley and "Miss Green" are a sort of "2 in 1," begs Miss Green to marry Jefferson. Naturally and really she not averse, but the small matter of Jeff's previous engagement has to be settled up. This little knot is cut by the lady, Kate, eloping with the Hon. Fitzroy Eagley, a dircharged secretary to Ryder, and then, things coming, all at once. Shirley's way, she manages to get possession of a letter which clears her father, and, her end accomplished is disposed to disappear, notwithstanding her interest in Jeff.

John Ryder's creed however is that she's human, and she'll come round—they all do"—and herein he shows that his study of the money market has not altogether precluded some little research into feminine human nature. Some little persuasion, some little coaxing is necessary to induce her to do as she ardently desires—very often a difficult task with young girls—but in the end this is accomplished, and the curtain falls on an arrangement, quickly arrived at, which gathers up every loose end and allows the audience to disperse in that comfortable knowledge that everyone, even that old tightwad, John Ryder, ti to be made comfortable and happy.

The whole cast consists of sixteen characters, and those sustaining these parts were in all case equal to their opportunities. In the case of the more outstanding roles ability was strongly marked. Miss Keim, as Shirley, had a long and not easy piece of work to do, and was equally charming and intelligent in its presentation. As John Burkett Ryder, Mr. Arthur Byron gave a fininshed drawing of the man subordinate to money, and, in the outcome, made his partial regeneration appear possible. His son Jefferson (Mr. Will Deming) had an unsympathetic part but played it convincingly.

Ex-Judge Stolt (Mr. Wayne Arey)

Revival of "Old Heidelberg"

Charming Play Will Be Presented By Miss Percy Haswell's Company This Week.

Those who remember the production of "Old Heidelberg" given at the Royal Alexandra some four years ago, will doubtless be pleased to learn that Miss play is a dramatization of Marie Corelli's world-renowned novel. Doubtless thousands have read this beautiful story of the land of the midnight sun and as produced by this excellentistock organization, a rare treat is promised to the theatregoers of this city. The management desire to call attention to the fact that every scene used in this case in the said in this case is something in which there is more than the "skimmed milk" of comfort for earthly woes. But the have been laboring night and day to have everything in readiness for Monday night.

"Old Heidelberg" is a translation from the German and was used by the late Richard Mansfield. It might be termed "a modern fairy tale" so simple and sweet is the story and the characters so loyable. The principal characters so lovable. The principal characters are so likeable, especially Karl and Kathile, that they soon win the sympathy of the audience. Prince Karl Heinrich, the nephew of the company has grown tired of the stiff emperor, has grown tired of the stiff formal, ceremony-bound court life. He is a diffident, backward, taciturn boy, who has never been permitted to develop his youthful spirits, as he has always been surrounded by court lackeys, chamberlains and dry old dignitaries of all kinds. The only bright spot in his life has been his dear old tutor, Doctor Guttner, a graduate of Heidelberg. Tutor and pupil have often talked of the wonders of the famous university.

At last the day arrives when Prince Karl must go to Heidelberg to finish his education and fit him for the position he must at seventing for the properties of the seventing for the properties of the seventing for the seventing f with which to regard are friends; she must dissipate others' bad tempers, blueness and general umpleasantness; she cannot indulge in the pettiness whitch common people do. Something is expected of her; that is the penality of being popular.

The few books which try to dissect woman's hearts, are very tirezone to any woman who has a moderately clear understanding of that sort of emotion. Even to think of the infinite variety of the eternal feminine is a bewildering process. If men's characters are complicated soil, you get to know them after a while; but a woman's tangled mind; her chaotic brain; her knotty opinions and prejudices; her clear or hasty instincts, which men say take the place of judgment in the fair fex; her perfectly logical ideas on some subjects and her directly contradictory opinions, are too fanexplicable a subject to occupy the attention of any serious student of rational subjects. Leave her with her markfold inconsistencies to the fiend who has a manifa for statistics. To go back to the east end. There are several thousand people living out Danforth-avenue who are faced with the choice of either walking over to Broadview or else down to Gerrard for a car. It doesn't matter much, for it's equally as far either way, only about three-quarters of a mile. That these people, living closer to Yonge than is Bathurst-street, must spend 40 minutes to go downtown to their work, and even more to get back at night, doesn't sound like fair play.

Toronto is a city of home owners and the average man cannot afford the high prices asked for central city property, he must have cheap land and property, he must have cheap land and therefore goes out for it. The car service should go out with him.

Tubes are the ultimate solution of the whole traffic problem, but possibly it can be temporarily solved by express street cars, meaning oars run direct from the city boundaries to downtown with stops only at important junction points. These cars could not be run all the way down. portant junction points. These cars could not be run all the way downtown over the regular car lines, but tracks on separate streets might be established. This is only a suggestion for the amelioration of existing conditions. It has some drawbacks, but the one great point in its favor, that of quick transportation should. of quick transportation, should over-balance them. Express cars are run satisfactorily in other cities. When the radials come into this city's centre they will have to be operated some-what on this plan. The Sunday World would like to hear from its readers, suggestions or observations anent this

The surest evidence of the need of street cars to the unserved districts is the way values increase whenever a proposal to extend a car line is put foreward and talked about. The large number of guests were received at the drawing-room entrance by Mr. and Mrs. Stratton and Mrs. Gooding.

The wedding was celebrated in the yellow drawing-room, which was in festal array for the occasion. The bridal pair stood under an arch of spingheri and white peonles looped with white satin bows, and banked at the rear with palms. The other decorations of the rooms were in white and green-foliage and flowers-very effectively placed.

For, candidly, it only suits a certain and somewhat limited type, and so a modified version has been introduced, and is already very popular. This takes the form of a band of metallic insertion, narrowly edged with the gold or silver lace, its greatest width at the back being centred with a great motif of shimmering and jewelled tissue, while toward the front it narrows considerably, fastening rather toward one side with a jewelled clasp. which, of course, matches the torquoises or emeralds or coral of the black embroidery. This turban band gives an admirable outline to the head and with it all allows the face to be framed in the setting of lightly waved hair, which always has such a softening and beautifying effect. At the back, beyond the bondage of the wide band, it is permissible to show clusters of curls, if these be preferred to single curls or the sleek smoothness of the turban coiffure.

Personally I am not in favor of turning our millinery into orchards and truck farms or even flower gardens, although I must admit that the effects obtained are sometimes really beautiful. The big straw, trimmed with sturdy lilies, shown in the photograph, for instance, is all that could be desired, while the miniature corn-field in the other photograph is likewise very effective.

And now another novelty note for you in connection with millinery trimmings which, wonderfully varied as they already were, have within the week been increased by the addition of some tall and tapering aigrettes of shaded poppies and buds, intermixed with a band or two of foliage tinted to match. A scheme of blues is specially effective, some eight or nine different shades be ing represented, the darkest coming at the base and the lightest just tingeing with color the topmost and tiny bud.

fringe of forget-me-not sprays. Either of these two extremes will form an all-sufficient and smart trimming for a Summer hat, while, if you prefer fruit to flowers, there are the tall aigrettes of massed red currant (which I mentioned when they were first introduced, a few weeks ago), and now, too, bunches of the most real-2stic lemons and tangerines. Apples, too, are being frequently utilized, one single specimen large enough to win a prize at any show being perhaps the centre of a group of foliage, though prettier by far, I think, is the effect of a couple of little apples on a branch which also bears a spray of apple blossoms. It would seem, indeed, that we are all going very rural and rustic this season as regards our garden party and river hats, for, in addition to fruits of all kinds, simple field flowers-poppies and daisies, clover and buttercups and waving grasses-will be massed together in apparently careless profusion on both large and small shapes, the former being generally fashioned of Tagel or the more supple and expensive pedal straw,

Why should a woman not be able to qualify for such a position? I wonder so many men have the audacity to pray for the Virgin Mary to intercede for them in Heaven when they give the other mothers such a poor show on earth show on earth.

But it is of the deaconesses of the Fred Victor Mission that I wished to write and not to quarrel too much with the man-made world I live in. Miss Agnes Allen, the head worker of the Fred Victor settlement, is with Miss Miller, making their home in the main mission building, so that they may really become neighbors and friends of the people they work among.

And such splendid neighbors they are.

This is a commendable spirit, but these bright, capable young women are doing a splendid social betterment work that calls for the gratitude of all citizens who hope and wish for better conditions.

To my mind the most difficult position of all the deaconesses is held by Miss Leavett of the Jarvis-street Victor Rescue Some. Here the girls come after fate or ignorance has dealt them a cruel blow. Many are very young—too young to have a curse placed on their lives—too young to be accountable—and after all their misfortune is frequently the result of an

I must have been born a rebel against conditions as they are and have resented the church and its doctrines most because women were given such a miserable position within its sacred portals.

As a small girl attending the Church of England in the Town of Picton, I resented the fact that the clergyman, who was selfish and bad tempered, always wore the clean white surplice and the purple and crimson streaks in his hood and stood in the pulpit Sunday after Sunday and told people what to believe and how to believe it, while his wife, who was unselfish, sweet-tempered, just as well educated and could direct folks along the while his wife, who was unselfish, sweet-tempered, just as well educated and could direct folks along the straight and narrow path much more effectively than he, could by no means be allowed to qualify to occupy a pulpit.

Later I taught a French-Catholic school away in the highlands of Ontario, and there the priests, orten young fellows just out of college, would tell the mothers of large famulies, whose whole lives were hard specially to impress me that they were not martyrs in any sense of the word, but joyful workers on the "job," doing their best to "make good" and finding rewards and satisfactions each day to repay them.

This is a commendable spirit, but

And such splendid neighbors they are.

Thy neighbor—it is he whom thou hath power to aid and bless. They teach, assist, entertain and are rriendly with those whose own homes have little to cheer and nothing to entertain with.

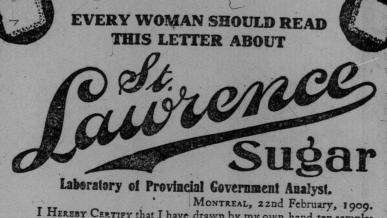

To have a nicely served supper in a room furnished well and in excellent taste, is indeed a rare treat and a social uplife to many.

Then there are games and chats and songs and music—anything and everything that may be found in any well regulated home.

Not only this, but these women goout into the highbys and byways and get acquainted. Miss Cunningham

Thy neighbor—it is he whom thou accountable—and after all their misfortune is frequently the result of an anxiety to please those they love.

What a shame that a girl can blast her life just because she clings to a man she is fond of. Here is where the rescue worker comes in. This home protects a girl, tells her she is not ruined, that she has another chance, and after protecting and taking care of her baby, they give her a fresh thoughtful woman, protected by knowledge. It seems to me that the rescue people are doing as important a work as can be done in the church. But again, I become rebellious when

At the Trevor's Morris to his surprise, finds Jack Millington.

Inds Jack Millington.
Jack Millington, who has been called back to New York, pleads with Lathrop and Trevor to be left on the big copper deal that has nearly ruined the latter. Millington is introduced to Rita Ortega. Morris and Carla quarrel over Rita Ortega, Morris refusing to reveal the Spanish girl's originor her hold on him. The engagement is broken. Mr. Trevor seems to recognize in Rita's photograph a resmblance to someone he had known long ago.

At Trevor's instance, Lathrop takes him to see Rita. The old man is overcome by a picture of her unknown mother the girl shows him, and when the produces a pair of daggers, also once her mother's, he tries to kill himself.

A variant of this story is told of Lord Resebery having the unique success of scoring off Mark Twain. They were together at a public dinner, and the great Mark had been making kindly, genial fun of the British habit of pronouncing family names with small regard to their spelling. Lord Rosebery, following, quite agreed with the humorist—then added that the custom, which he, also, was inclined to condemn as mildly nonsensical, was, not confined only to the British Isles, but extended also, sporadically, to the American Continent. Mark Twain was noticed to be sitting up and taking notice, evincing also some surprise, until Lord Rosebery explained that the case he had in mind was that of one who spelled his name SAMUEL, CLEMENS and pronounced it MARK

Herald of Spring.

In the days when winter seemed to be losing his grip, we did not look for the first robin as does the town or city dweller. The much-slandered crow was our favorite herald of spring, and he who produced authentic evidence that the crows had come to stay, and could be found in some of the clumps of woodland along the river bank, was the school hero for several days. In fact he acquired a prectize that lasted until some other foot or having the first swim in "The River."

Problems of the Orient As Seen by Westerner

Entertaining and Incisive Study of India, Japan and China-Price Collier's New Travel Book, "The West in the East" -Vindicates British Rule in India and Lays the Bogey of "Unrest."

Who can express more clearly for us the problems and conditions of a foreign country, the man who lives there all his life or the man who goes there with eyes and ears open and mind fresh for the reception of new impressions? Price Collièr argues in favor of the latter—himself. In his preface he quotes from Edmund Candler, "My wanderings in the east have been spread over ten years, but what one gains in insight during a long stay one loses in the power of conveying. The most illuminating books on India are written by people who pass thru seeing everything with a fresh eye." In agreeing with Mr. Candler, we would say, "Yes, if the man seeing with the fresh eye has had a wide experience, will look for had a wide experience, will look for himself, get beneath the surface, and speak fearlessly his own opinions." It is fair to say that Price Collier does all these things. I have read of the Hindu, the Brahman, the Mussulman, and the Buddhist, and of the caste system of India in books and books, beginning with that favorite old illustrated atlas of early geography days, but there is presented to me a clearer picture of the disintegrating effects of caste upon the national life of India, and the heterogenous conglomeration of its races, in a single chapter of Hindu to marry into a Brahman fam-

Little or nothing is known of the young Welsh school teacher, John Killick Bathurst, author of the above Killick Bathurst, author of the above poem, more than that he immigrated to Canada in 1895, and worked as a laborer on the erection of the Robert Simpson Company's building, corner Queen and Yonge-streets, during the hot summer months of that year.

When John Bathurst sailed from England he left behind him in London a wife and two or three small children, and it was thru that longing to take again his loved ones in his An interesting not is prefixed to it by Lady Ritchle; and there are two or three delightfully characteristic sketches from Thackeray's humorous pen. The text as a whole is by no means brilliant, tho there are some capital bits of description. What is most noteworthy is the deep impression made on this so-called cynic by the sight of some unemployed colliers holding out their hats for alms. The seene haunted him, and prompted the writing of a passage that may well be selzed upon by Mr. Lloyd-George, to support his schemes for national recilef for unemployed workingmen.

White Light Window.

Any one who has tried to match fabrics by electric or gas light in our large stores will be interested in a recently invented light, called the "white light window." This contrivance gives so strong a light that it is said to be equivalent to daylight in a north room. Such an invention should be of value, not only to shoppers, but also to artists and photographers, to rug manufacturers and other people who need to get a correct idea of color at hours of the day and night when true daylight is not applied.

Hanson, has received numerous demands for Wullner recitals, and, now that it is known that the artist will come, there will be more demands for him. No lieder singer in recent years has left a stronger impression in America than Dr. Wullner. German writer who has been interesting himself in the evolution of the species now offers the results of his research to the world.

Prof. Dr. Alfred von Bary, the Dresden Court Opera tenor with the unoperatic titles, was, it is pointed out, a nerve specialist in Leipsic until Arthur Nikisch's attention was drawn to his fine baritone voice. Nikisch sent him to Count Seebach, the Dresden Intendant; then Ernst von Schuch, the Dresden conductor, expressed his confidence in the voice's possibilities for the stage, and the upshot of many consultations and a course of study was that von Bary went the way of all aspiring baritones and became a tenor. As for those seemingly imperishable operettas, for which Arthur Sullivan com-posed the tunes, they are inimitable. There is nothing else like them in Euglish drame, and 'Pinafore,' 'Patience,' and 'The Mikado' certainly deserve to be kept in the theatrical repertory permanently. Sir William did much else, including the 'Bab Ballads,' of delightful memory. He had lived 75 years, and had been a government clerk, a barrister, and a journalist, as well as a dramatist. He was a man of striking and vigorous personality, famed as a raconteur, esteemed as a friend by many persons of dis-

The "Bab Ballads" were his first literary successes, contributed to a periodical called Fun in 1861. In a collected edition he tells us in a preface that Punch had declined some of these as "too broad" for its pages. His writings for the stage were first in the form of burlesques of popular grand operas. When the "Palace of Truth" was produced people began to speak of "Gilbertian" humor, and this term was often used to describe the spirit that informed his later works. "Pinare," first produced in London, May 1878, achieved the greatest success The New York Tribune recalls the time when America went "'Pinafore mad." Thus:

"But it was 'Pinafore' that gave both librettist and composer their greatest fame. 'H. M. S. Pinafore; or, The Lass That Loved a Sailor,' to give the piece its full name, had its first production on any stage at the Opera Comique, London, on May 25, 1878, under the management of D'Oyly Carte. George Grossmith played Sir Joseph, made up like Lord Nelson. It made a tremendous hit at the very first presentation, and as there was then no international copyright law and consequently no royalty to be paid for American presentations of the piece, managers in this country seized on it without delay and without so much as saying 'Thank you' to the authors. The 'Pinafore' was, of course. in its satirical aspects directed against thors. Mr. Hollinshead expects to spend part of his holidays in New York City, and while there will arrange, to place his work for the coming season both in concert and opera, under New York management, still having his head-quarters in Toronto. Mr. Hollinshead's prospects for next season are very encouraging and his first engagement will be with the St. Louis Apollo Club, for their opening concert in September. At the end of next season Mr. Hollinshead intends to go to Italy and will study with the celebrated Signor Lombardi and later with Jean de Reszke, preparatory to entering upon an operatic career.

(As Moody once said, he was converted so early in childhood that he never remembered just when the change came. Well, if he did not remember when he was born again, I don't know who else ought to. For anybody to suggest to me that the greatest gift of God could be conferred upon a soul at such a time and place and age when that soul could not remember. I should grow very suspicious as to whether that soul had ever really experienced the thing it claimed to have.)

King Edward as a Sportsman.

Alfred Watson's book, "King Edward VII. as a Sportsman," is attracting a deal of attention and deservedly so, for it is excellent reading and well compiled. No other memories of the old or elderly possess exactly the same mixture of melancholy and pleasure as those which the sportsman special springs, attached, radially, to a same mixture of melancholy and pleasure as those which the sportsman cherishes of his exciting moments. Few minds can have been richer in them than that of the late King Edward. Among other things he must have keenly remembered the first time he was run away with when a boy of six or seven riding a pony in Windsor Park. # THOUGHT AND SPIRI

NE of our readers asked an answer to these two questions:

"What are we here for?" "Do you consider spirit and thought as identical, or is thought the outcome of spirit united with matter?"

The first question has already been discussed in a Sunday editorial. The second question, as to the identity of the spirit and thought, shall be discussed here.

We believe that our readers will be interested in talking over among themselves the extremely interesting and intelligent question.

Our older readers know, and young readers should remember, that half an hour of earnest, intelligent discussion developing individual thought is often better than many hours of

The picture on this page represents an effort to answer the question sent to us. We show you Rodin's splendid marble statue called "The Thinker," and above it a figure that represents the SPIRIT that inspires thought.

It is difficult to make a picture of an abstraction, and this picture is unusually suc-

This is the message which it is intended to

Thought and its works, which include all the achievements of man, the greatest and the least, are results of spiritual inspiration. In one sense thought and spirit are one. But thought is the product of the spirit, modified by the imperfections of the physical human body, through which thought is expressed.

Our idea can be made clear by comparing spirit and thought to the genius of the musician and the sound which issues from the musical instrument.

What the musical instrument is to the genlus of the musician the brain of man is to the spirit that inspires thought.

However great the musician, his genius must depend for its expression upon the instrument which translates it and gives it reality in the physical world, through the sound waves produced in the material atmosphere, striking the nerves that carry music to the listening brain.

Give Paderewski a piano out of tune and all of his ability can give you only discord and lack of harmony. Or give to Paganini, the greatest violinist that ever lived, a violin out of tune, and in spite of the genius of the musician you will hear only hideous and disagreeable sounds. The spirit of music must have the RIGHT INSTRUMENTS for its expres-

The spirit that inspires thought, the spirit of man, must have the RIGHT BRAIN for its expression.

The more complicated and highly developed the instrument the more displeasing to the ear is the result when the instrument is out of tune. A violin is infinitely worse than a banjo when both are out of tune, and the banjo worse than the tom-tom of the savage.

Among human beings a highly developed brain out of tune-for instance, the insane ravings of a powerful genius like Nietzsche, with his mind broken down-is infinitely more painful, more horrible and shocking than in the case of a human being with a mind in comparison feeble and simple.

$5 $5 $5 Our minds are so little accustomed to deal with the abstract, we live so much in the material world, inanimate objects have so much meaning for us that many human beings live and die without ever thinking at all of the spirit, yet THE SPIRIT IS THE ONLY REAL THING IN THE UNIVERSE.

And thought is the expression of spirit, working through a more or less imperfect human brain.

Bring yourself to think for some time earnestly of the nature and mysterious power of spirit. There is no thought more inspiring, more fascinating, more bewildering.

Consider the Falls of Niagara, with their tremendous power, the vast moving machinery, the cities that are lighted, the blazing streets, the moving cars, all due, apparently, to the power in Niagara. Yet not due to that power in reality so much as to spirit expressed in the thought of man. It was spirit that harnessed Niagara. It was spirit that transferred the power of the Falls to distant cities.

Yet that spirit has neither shape nor weight, size nor color, taste nor smell. You ask a man "What is the spirit?" and he must answer that it is nothing, since it occupies no space, and cannot be seen or felt. And yet he must answer also THAT THE SPIRIT IS EVERY. HING. The world only exists as it is because we see it in the eyes of the spirit. The optic nerve takes a picture, sends it to the brain and the spirit sees the picture. It was spirit acting on the brain of Columbus, and through him upon others, that real harmony on this planet. brought the first ship to America.

It is spirit working and expressing itself through the thought of brains mere and more highly developed that has gradually brought man from his low and vile condition of savagery to his present comparative degree of civilization. And that same spirit, working in future ages through brains infinitely superior

Is SPIRIT Expressed Through the Brain of Man.

Do not say to yourself that this is an abstract discussion, unworthy the attention of serious men. What are YOU but a spirit? You have your hands, your feet, your face, your clothing, your money, your work. But all that is nothing, except for the spirit that lives inside of you, the force which alone is YOU. As the spirit in this picture hovers to any that we can conceive, will establish above the statue of "The Thinker" so in your life there is a spirit, YOUR OWN, which hovers above you or dwells within you, or influences you perhaps FROM ITS HOME TRILLIONS OF MILES AWAY. You can tell nothing about it. Yet you KNOW that that spirit exists, AND THAT IT IS YOU, and that except for that spirit which animates you, picks you up when you fall, inspires you in success and comforts you in failura and misfortune, there would not be different from one of the stones in the field or one of the dummies that the tailor sets in front of his store.

The spirit is all, and there is nothing else. And this material world, its colors. sounds. forms and laws exist simply that the spirit may find expression and enjoy contemplation OF THE EXPRESSION OF ITS OWN

Compare the spirit and the material world as you see it with the genius that dwells in the brain of a great painter and the works which that painter has to do.

Every statue, painting and church that Michael Angelo created already EXISTED IN HIS SPIRIT. But the spirit could not be content with that existence. It had to visualize itself, it had to see itself CREATED.

In order for the spirit of Michael Angelo to have a real existence there must be provided in the world marble and bronze for statues, paints and canvas for paintings, stone for the churches.

The spirit really lives completely only when it sees itself reflected in the material world.

So it is with all of us on a big or little scale. All the mother love is in the spirit of woman. But it has complete existence only when the mother holds the child in her arms and sees in reality, in flesh and blood, the being that she loves and has created.

The achievements of the greatest men were all locked up within them from the first, but the spirit of such men can reach full realization only when the spirit, acting through the brain and expression creates the work. brain and expressing itself through thought,

Every man should think of himself from time to time, not as a hundred and fifty or two hundred pounds of bone, flesh and muscle, but as the working instrument, on this earth, of an inspiring immortal spirit.

Every one of us should do his best to permit his spirit to find true expression through good thought and useful action.

We know that all useful work is the result of sound thought. If we realize that thought itself is the expression of the spirit, we are moved by a sense of duty to give to that spirit the best possible expression of which we are capable, the best chance that it can have, dwelling in imperfect bodies and speaking through imperfect minds such as those we possess.

It is an inspiration to realize that men here on earth, gradually improving, becoming less animal and more spiritual as the centuries pass, are destined to develop IN THEIR OWN PHYSICAL BODIES, instruments capable of interpreting properly the spirit that animates us, the spirit that in every one of us is absolutely perfect, without blemish, and suffers only because it must speak through an im-perfect instrument and through an imperfect

The race of human beings improves from generation to generation—that we know. The improvement is due to the affection of fathers and mothers for each other and for their

This race of ours one hundred thousand years ago was made up of animal like creatures, with huge, projecting jaws, enormous teeth, small foreheads and hideously shaped bodies. Gradually through the centuries we have changed, the brute has gradually disappeared, the prognathous face of man has become flatter. The jaw has gone in, the forehead has come out, and in that forehead, gradually, thanks to the devotion and patient labor of women, we are developing a brain that will ultimately give decent and adequate express sion to spirit.

To many this question, "Are spirit and thought identical?" may seem uninteresting, if not foolish.

But that question would seem infinitely MORE foolish to two pigs dozing in their sty. A pig would say, "What do I care about spirit or about thought? I care about swill and about nice soft mud."

There are some human beings who approach that mental attitude. But there are, fortunately, many others who will be grateful to the reader who sends us the question at the head of this editorial, Spirit and thought are identical in the sense that the genius of the musician and the sound that you hear when his music is played are identical. In music the sound represents and interprets the musician's spirit. And the interpretation and the accuracy of that interpretation depend upon the orchestra, the violin or the piano. When the instruments are out of tune it is not the genius or the musician, but a misinterpretation that you hear. And with our human brains, most of them out of tune, most of them incapable of expressing anything but the merest, faintest reflection of true spiritual life, there is as yet very little harmony.

But it vill come. There have appeared on this earth a few men and a great many women incapable of a selfish thought, gladly sacrificing everything to duty, giving up their lives readily for the truth or patiently enduring long lives of dulness and sorrow for the sake of others. Through such men and women the spirit has spoken clearly. And in days to come the human race WILL BE MADE UP OF MEN AND WOMEN OF THAT KIND.

Through the perfected brain of man, the cosmic spirit, in which each of us is a conscious atom, will speak clearly, and then this earth, our little corner in the universe, will be truly harmonious, governed by the spirit distinctly expressed and instantly obeyed,
