A SUGGESTION.

Have you tried any one of the packet teas, except the one referred to below, and did you get the results commensurate with the outlay? If not try Union Blend Tea and you will see the difference at once. It is the tea best patronized by the people of St. John who have probably the best opportunity to compare its worth, and that alone bespeaks its merit and standing. Give it a trial, and you will find it is the best in the market. 25, 30, 35, 40, 50 and 60 cents.

STORY OF SUFFERING.

Crazed and Starving, Adrift on a Capsized Boat in the Pacific.

SANTABARBARA, Calif., Jan. 14.—Adrift on a capsized boat in the Pacific 17 days without food or drink, was the terrible experience of Captain Harry Olsen and Pete Wallace, two crab fishermen, and but one lived to tell the story of their terrible suffering.

Olsen was picked up by Arthur Valden, a fisherman, just beyond the Kelp off Goleta. He was more dead than alive, but was able to tell of the wreck of his boat, the "Belle," a staunch gasoline schooner, which he and Wallace used in cruising about the fishing grounds. Olsen and Wallace were residents of San Pedro and left that port seventeen days ago. While cruising several miles south of Santa Cruz island a heavy sea rose and capsized their craft. Clinging to the capsized boat, without food or water, they drifted, suffering great tortures.

DEMANDED THE FEE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Notices have been served on the Illinois steel branch of the United States Steel corporation that it must pay into the treasury of the state of Illinois from $65,000 to $75,000. Secretary of State Roosevelt sent a representative to the Steel Trust yesterday and demanded the fee required under the foreign corporation act for the privilege of doing business in the state. Mr. Roosevelt has announced that the steel combination must respect the state laws and failure to obey will be the signal, it is threatened, for proceedings against the big corporation before the United States supreme court. The local officials of the trust declined to pay the amount, pleading that in reality the Illinois corporation was still an integral quantity. They declined to admit that they were part and parcel of the United States Steel company.

THE PAW OF THE BEAR.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Prince Ukhtowsky, head of the Russo-Chinese bank, has declared the three alleged secret documents communicated to the Times, Jan. 3, by Dr. Ular, a prominent student in China, to be "A bad joke from beginning to end." Doctor Ular maintains the authenticity of these documents, and has challenged Prince Ukhtowsky to bring the matter before arbiters. The documents referred to went to prove the existence of a conspiracy between the late Li Hung Chang and Russia through the medium of Prince Ukhtowsky under the terms of which the "Boxer" movement was to be turned against the foreigners, Russia engaging to protect the Dowager Empress against the western powers in return for permission to occupy Manchuria and a very free hand in Mongolia.

MURDEROUS POLICEMAN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Wm. P. Ennis, a Brooklyn policeman, shot and killed his wife and mother, Mrs. Magee, at Mrs. Magee's home early today. Ennis escaped. The policeman and his wife were separated, and he had refused to support her. She had him arrested, and a police magistrate issued an order about a month ago that he pay her $10 a week. He went to the house today, and when admittance was refused him he drew his revolver. He burst in the door and ran upstairs to his wife's bedroom and fired one shot at her. She fell with a bullet in her heart. Her mother ran to her room. The policeman fired one shot at her. She fell to the floor mortally wounded. Ennis then left the house, declaring that he would kill himself.

A BIG DEAL.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 14.—The Bessemer Association yesterday closed a deal to sell 100,000 tons of Bessemer standard iron to the U. S. Steel Co. before July 1 at $15.75 a ton, the same price at which the last lot was sold. The sale will keep the blast furnaces belonging to the Bessemer Association in steady operation well into the new year.

HOTEL FIRE.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Jan. 14.—The main buildings of the Sherbrooke house were destroyed by fire this morning. All of the guests were gotten out safely. Most of them were enabled to save some of their property, and considerable of the hotel furniture was removed to the street. The cause of fire is unknown.

INCREASED THEIR OFFER.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—"I am informed," cables the Copenhagen correspondent of the Times, "that the U. S. have increased the terms of their offer for the Danish West Indies, but I have reason to believe that Washington still opposes a plebiscite."

A CLOSE CALL.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14.—The British cruiser Amphion, bound for here, struck a coral reef and was much damaged. She just reached port in time to escape foundering.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Forecast—Eastern states and northern New York—Increasing cloudiness and warmer to night, snow in western portion Wednesday, snow and variable winds.

KITCHENER'S REPORT.

More Than Usually Hopeful of DeWet's Capture Soon.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Perhaps the most important point in Lord Kitchener's weekly report, dated Johannesburg, Monday, January 13, is the omission of all mention of General DeWet, from which it is deduced that the British commander-in-chief is more than usually hopeful of the effective results from his present effort to surround DeWet. The British commander-in-chief reports that since January 6 twenty Boers have been killed, nine have been wounded, two hundred and three have been captured and ninety have surrendered.

C. M. R.

Embarked This Afternoon on the Manhattan for South Africa.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 14.—The squadrons of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, nearly five hundred men, with horses, which were assigned to go by the transport Manhattan, for South Africa, embarked this forenoon. The departing troops were inspected at the armory by Col. Evans and at the dockyard by General O'Grady-Haly. The soldiers made no street parade, but marched direct from the grounds to the ship side. The bands of the Royal Canadian Regiment and the 1st Canadian artillery played them down. The lack of appropriate winter clothing made it impossible to have a turnout of the militia to see the men off, but the remaining squadron of the rifles went to the dock yard and gave their comrades a cheer as the transport at 2 o'clock pulled into the stream.

THE NEXT CHALLENGER.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—William Fife of Fife, on the Clyde, is to build Sir Thomas Lipton's next challenger for the America's cup. At a conference just held between Sir Thomas and his advisers, definite arrangements were made for the construction of the Shamrock III, and an order for the new yacht was given to and accepted by Mr. Fife. In view of the probability of a big revival of British yachting, and the fact that designing and superintending a ship challenger necessitates constant work for at least a year, Mr. Fife was somewhat disinclined to accept the big job, but Sir Thomas found means of overcoming his objections. George L. Watson has promised to assist Mr. Fife in every way, by handing over to him the details of the construction of the Shamrock II, and all the details of the tank experiments made at the Denny's yard. With these and the experience gained with the Shamrock II, Mr. Fife starts with a distinct advantage over his first efforts. In a recent conversation with a friend, Mr. Watson indicated that he still believed the Columbia's victory over the Shamrock II was largely due to luck, and that he believed the Shamrock II was quite Columbia's equal. The Shamrock III is to be ready early in the spring of 1903.

IN A SATISFACTORY CONDITION.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 14.—The report of the finance minister, M. Dewitt, accompanying the budget, says that the equilibrium of the latter leads to the conclusion that the empire's finances are in a perfectly satisfactory condition. "Our monetary system," says the minister, "leaves nothing to be desired, and our railroads continue to develop under good conditions. In my report to the czar on the budget of 1903 I expressed firm confidence in the productive power of Russia. The experience of the last two years have justified this confidence, and today, in submitting to our sovereign my tenth budget report, I have still firmer faith in the rapidity of the progress our country will make, protected as it is by his majesty's unalterable tone of peace, and guided by his majesty's imperial solicitude."

CORN KING DOWNED.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—A notice was posted at the opening of the board of trade today calling for the closing of all open deals with George H. Phillips, the former "corn king."

A heavy call for extra margins is said to have been the cause of the posting of the notice. The call was made yesterday afternoon and Phillips and his staff worked all night over the firm's books. The trouble is said to have been due to a 31-2 cent break in rye yesterday. Phillips is credited with holding a line of 1,500,000 bushels of this cereal, mostly in May options. The break yesterday was caused by a sale of only 50,000 bushels. Phillips is said to have on his books also from four to five million bushels of May wheat, and about three million bushels of May corn. It was said that the elevator interests would take over Phillips entire line of rye at a figure close to the market.

Mr. Phillips could not be seen following the announcement of the closing of his deals, but members of his staff stated that he was still in good financial condition. H. Hulbert, Phillips' office manager, declared that it was the suddenness of the call of the extra 10 per cent margins which had embarrassed Mr. Phillips. He stated that Mr. Phillips had traded but little on his own account, the grain, for the most part, belonging to customers.

LIVERY BUSINESS IMPROVING.

Since the recent fall of snow the liverymen in the city are in somewhat better humor. Business did not come with a rush whenever sleighing became good, but has been gradually brightening, until now it is so brisk that no complaint can be made. In spite of this, most of the stablemen agree in stating that no matter how good business may be for the next couple of months they will be unable to make up for the loss of the Christmas trade.

REVOLTING MYSTERY.

Headless Bodies Found on the Beach of Whidby Island.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wn., Jan. 14.—The people of Whidby Island are in a high state of excitement over the finding of another headless body on the beach near Fort Casey. Last week a body was found with the head and hands cut off and the clothing removed. On Sunday another body was found there with the head severed. As no residents of the island are missing, the mystery increases, and the authorities are of the opinion that murderers have been committed at some point up the Sound, that the heads have been severed to prevent identification, the bodies cast into the water, and that the tides have landed them on Whidby Island. Another thing which increases the mystery is the fact that the same party found both headless bodies, and says that he found another some ten days ago, but before he could notify the authorities the body disappeared.

FORGER ARRESTED.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 14.—A special from Beaumont, Texas, says J. P. Withers, who was until Dec. 31, president of the American National bank of this city, was yesterday arrested at Kansas City on charge of forgery. Withers came here during the boom that followed the discovery of oil, assisted several local capitalists with him and organized the National bank, being made its president. He served in this capacity, until the date mentioned, when he was succeeded by B. R. Norrell. Withers left the city immediately afterwards, and was heard from no more until the news came that he had been arrested at Kansas City. The Picayune correspondent called on D. H. Hardy, who was attorney for the bank up to the time of the re-organization on Dec. 13, and asked him about the charge against Withers.

"He is charged with forgery of the following papers," Mr. Hardy replied. Then he gave the names of six firms whose paper he said had been forged, in sums varying from $100 to $4,500. I understand that he has been indicted by the grand jury of this county. I further understand that complaint has been made against him before the United States commissioner here and that the commissioner issued a warrant for Withers' arrest."

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The White Star line steamer Celtic, which is to sail from Liverpool January 15 for New York, will have among her passengers Henry Wilding of Richardson, Spence and company, English agents of the American steamship line, who is understood to have been appointed to succeed J. R. Ellerman as chairman of the board of directors of the Leyland line.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Wm. Walker, aged 41 years, a laborer, employed for fourteen years in Mount Hope cemetery, committed suicide last night by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. He had been acting strangely of late, and it is thought he was insane.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 14.—After being a fugitive from justice for thirty years, a convict of murder, hanging over his head, John P. Monach, alias John P. Smith, is seeking a pardon of Kentucky's governor, that he may return to his home in Louisville to die surrounded by his children. Monach stabbed and killed George Off in 1867 in this city. He was tried in 1870, found guilty and the jury's verdict was death. On August 12, before sentence had been passed, Smith broke jail with five others. All were recaptured except Smith. A wife and an unborn child, now a grown man, were left in Louisville by Smith.

TO RECEIVE PRINCE HENRY.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The plans to have Prince Henry visit Chicago when he comes to the United States to attend the launching of the yacht of Emperor William of Germany, took definite shape last night, when the reception committee of the Germania Mannerchoir decided to extend the prince a formal invitation to come to Chicago. The plan includes an elaborate reception to be given him by the club.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 14, 1902.

THE BONDS OF UNION.

Though not much is said about it, there is a perceptible, a more cordial feeling and more general recognition of community of interest between the maritime provinces and those farther west. This has been emphasized during the past week by the presence here of the president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and of the Toronto gentlemen who represent the new steamship service to Jamaica. The question of the development of West India trade through maritime province ports has directed the attention of western men to this locality. The success of the winter port business has been another factor, and the efforts put forth by the Canadian Pacific railway to bring export business this way have produced good results. Another thing that has contributed to a better mutual feeling has been the closer acquaintance of those interested in agricultural progress east and west. The development of Sydney has of course been a matter of great importance to the upper as well as the lower provinces. Little by little the old time prejudices have been passing away.
Most of us can remember when the upper provinces were referred to as "Canada," as if we were not a part of the union, and when the voice of the anti-confederate was still heard among us. That era has happily passed. Our people find that they can profitably ship something more than fish to the west, and the western folk have come to regard this region as something more than a stamping ground for their commercial travellers. They are beginning to appreciate the value of our seaports and our natural resources, and the attractions of our summer climate.
This is as it should be, and every good citizen desires that the bonds of union, both commercial and social, may continue to grow in strength, to the greater advantage of the whole dominion.

BOSS CROKER'S RETIREMENT.

Richard Croker, for a number of years the leader of Tammany Hall, has retired. His career has been a peculiar and an eventful one. From an ordinary mechanic, he rose by the various steps in civic politics to become Tammany chairman of finance and as such, leader of that organization, and as long as it was in power, the most powerful man in New York. For some time he has aspired to become an English gentleman, and, so far as one can judge from outward appearances, with a good measure of success. This new career meant absence from the seat of government for a considerable part of each year, but he ruled Tammany from his estate in England. Nevertheless, some of his followers have dared to say that the crushing defeat inflicted on that organization last November was due, to a considerable extent, to the absence of the chief. However that may be there were few who would dare say as much to his face. Croker's word was law and he ruled with a rod or iron. So secure was his position, that now when he has retired, he has named his own successor. Tammany will not, for some time at least, find so strong a man to lead its forces.
Whatever are his faults, and their name, according to his opponents, is legend, his virility and courage are unquestioned. With his retirement, one of the strongest and most picturesque figures in civic politics passes out.
His great ambition in life now appears to be to win the Derby, and should his life be spared for some years, it is probable that his undomitable spirit and energy will bring him success.

While it appears that a part of the Russian press is imbued with an anti-British sentiment, a certain number in touch with the ministers, realize the advantage to be obtained from closer relations. One organ says:—
"Any serious attempt to develop Russia's commercial relations with Great Britain is a matter for congratulation, as being both desirable and opportune.
In the event of a customs war breaking out between Russia and Germany the British markets would become of the highest importance to Russia." The Finance Messenger, the official organ of the Russian Ministry of Finance, said that "Russia's export trade must have for its inevitable object the en-tension of the commercial ties of the empire with other exporting countries, commencing first of all with Great Britain; it has already, with the aid of the government, taken quite a number of steps in this direction, such as the Russian Agriculturalists' Mission to England."

The necessity of constructing a drill shed in this city is again to be impressed upon the government. A delegation which went to Ottawa last year was well received and their request was promised favorable consideration.
No material result has as yet followed, but it is expected that something will be done at the forthcoming session.
The need of such a building here becomes more and more apparent, and, if possible, there should be no delay in beginning the work.

QUALITIES OF CANADIAN TROOPS

(Detroit Tribune.)

A second regiment of Canadian mounted rifles will soon join the British forces in South Africa. The present war has opened the eyes of the British war department, and British soldiers generally to the true value of the Canadian troops. At first it was supposed that the Canadians would prove gun-shy; that they would fall into confusion because they had never had the benefit of rigid army discipline which makes the individual an automatic fighting machine.

Whatever advantage there may have been in this discipline under the old conditions it is largely offset by the new conditions. The British regular usually stood fast in his tracks against fearful odds. He was a gallant fellow to withstand an assault or to make a charge. Under the new conditions charges and assaults are infrequent.
Officers are picked off by undermarksmen, and unless the individual soldier possesses independence of action he is doomed to sacrifice. The Canadian went out with the idea of giving the best possible account of himself and at the same time with the idea of self-preservation still fixed in his brain. He was not an automatic fighting machine, but an individual using his own intelligence when he saw opportunity to gain a point or to save himself from destruction.

Instead of needing regulars to hold them in line, the Canadians were most effective when given their heads.
They fought with intelligence. They moved with rapidity and discipline.
They were always ready to take the initiative. When they got into a tight place they invariably showed the good stuff that is in them. Military authorities were slow to appreciate the fact that the best soldier for modern warfare is the hardy horseman of quick intelligence, who can find a shelter for his own skin when the bullets are flying thickly, and who can by skillful use of his rifle and his wit give a good account of himself to the enemy. Who does not care a penny if his cavalry squadron is out of alignment when it scours across the country. Who is not ashamed to seek a shelter for his own skin when the bullets are flying
thickly, and who can by skillful use of his rifle and his wit give a good account of himself to the enemy. Who does not care a penny if his cavalry squadron is out of alignment when it scours across the country. Who is not ashamed to seek a shelter for his own skin when the bullets are flying
thickly, and who can by skillful use of his rifle and his wit give a good account of himself to the enemy.

But the British military authorities have gradually come to learn this, and the Canadians, as well as the Boers, taught it to them. And so it is not surprising that the latest contingent of volunteers from Canada should be so very welcome.

ST. PAUL'S NEEDLEWORK SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of St. Paul's Needlework Society was held last evening at the residence of Mrs. William Hazen, 29 Prince William street.
There was a very large attendance, and after the business of the meeting had been transacted a most pleasant social hour or so was spent. After the reading of the minutes, several reports were received, all of a most satisfactory character. After other business of the election of officers took place, with the following result:

It was stated at the meeting that the society although, for opportune reason, had not held their annual sale and tea during the winter, had raised sufficient funds to wipe out the deficit on the Sunday school annex.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES MEET.

A regular meeting of the Board of School Trustees was held last night.
All the members were present. It was decided to give notice in February that in May the west side division of the board would give up the rooms in the Mason hall and occupy the new La Tour school building. The matter of providing necessaries for opening of the La Tour school was left in the hands of the building committee.

Dr. Bridges reported a good attendance of pupils after the holidays, and that the board of health regulations were being complied with.

The secretary presented estimates for the current year, which will probably be less than for last year, owing to insurance premiums having been paid for three years in 1901.

The secretary's monthly report showed the enrollment of the schools in December to be 3,319, and the average attendance 3,692. The lack of attendance was due in a large measure to the then smallpox scare.

BICYCLISTS AND ATHLETES DEPEND ON

BENTLEY'S Liniment to keep their joints limber and muscles in trim.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—Dr. Lachapelle, a leading French physician, this afternoon accepted the offer of the candidature for mayor of Montreal, tendered him by a number of leading citizens. He will oppose Mayor Pre-fontaine.

Do You See It?

Look carefully at this little picture. There's a great deal to it. There's a lamp, that makes the heat. Right over it is the vaporizer that holds the Vapo-Cresolene. This Cresolene is a wonderful medicine. It kills most kinds of disease germs, and is a most remarkable healing agent. You simply breathe-in the vapor of it, that's all; it goes all through your bronchial tubes, curing asthma, croup, coughs, catarrh, whooping-cough.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere.
The Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a lifetime, and a bottle of Cresolene complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents.
Illustrated booklets containing physicians' testimonials sent upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 20 F. Van St., New York, U.S.A.

INTERESTING INCIDENT.

In Canadian Parliamentary Life Over Twenty Years Ago.

Duncan Campbell Scott has an interesting article in Ansie's Magazine for January on Building the Canadian Factice. In the course of it he refers to the trouble that once arose between D.
A. Smith, now Lord Strathcona, and Sir John A. Macdonald. Mr. Smith, at the last moment opposed Sir John's government, and it was deemed, Mr. Scott, in his article, mixes up the scene which resulted from Mr. Smith's position and vote in 1873, with a row that ensued almost five years later, when the matter again came up. In his article Mr.
Scott, thus speaks of the scene:—

"These were his closing words, capped by the frantic applause from the opposition with which he had addressed the government was deemed, and for the moment it seemed that D. A.
Smith's was the only name to the death warrant. The house broke up in disorder, cheering and handshaking, or revelling and threatening.
Suddenly there was a storm center around Mr. Smith upon whom Sir John was bearing down. He was held back, gesticulating wildly. What he said never got into the blue books. His language was somewhat frequent and annoying, and free. He cried out, 'I'd slap your face as quick as hell would scorch a feather.' From which it would appear that Mr. Smith had something to forgive."

This war of words, which Mr.
Scott describes as having occurred in 1873, really occurred on the last day of the session of 1878. Dr. Charles Tupper, now Sir Charles, D. A. Smith and Sir John Macdonald were the active participants, aided and abetted by the rest of the house. All their remarks were probably not taken down by Hansard.
Mr. Smith arose on question of privilege shortly before the message from his excellency the governor reached the house. During the course of his remarks the position he had taken in the vote of 1873 came up and warm words were exchanged. Mr. Smith was accused of bringing in the matter during the last hour of the session so that no answer could be given.

Hansard's report of the last few minutes reads as follows:
The Sergeant-at-Arms.—Mr. Speaker, a message from his excellency the governor-general.

Some hon. members.—Order.
Mr. Smith.—I now—Mr. Speaker.—I have very much pleasure in informing the house that it now becomes my duty to receive the messenger.

Some hon. members.—Order.
Mr. Smith: He knows—Mr. Tupper: Coward, coward, sit down.

Mr. Speaker: I—
Mr. Smith: He knows—
Some hon. members.—Order.
Mr. Tupper: Coward, coward, coward.

Mr. Smith: You are the coward.
Some hon. members.—Order.
Mr. Smith: The day after that 4th November

Mr. Tupper: Coward, coward.
Mr. Smith: Who came to me with a proposition to throw over the right hon. gentleman and the present member for Charlevoix, if I would consent to give up the position I had deemed it my duty to take in the house the evening before, and would support the government by voting against the amendment of the hon. member for Lambton.
Some hon. members.—Order.
Mr. Tupper: Mean, treacherous coward.

Mr. Smith: Who is the coward, the house will decide—it is yourself.
Mr. Tupper: Coward, treacherous—Mr. Smith: I could not support them.

Mr. Speaker: Admit the messenger.
Sir John A. Macdonald: That fellow Smith is the biggest liar I ever met.

Those were the closing words of the session, but as Mr. Scott states, Sir John, Sir Charles and Mr. Smith forgot and forgave.

QUEER TIPS FOR WAITERS.

Articles of Clothing, Photographs, Books and Postage Stamps.

(London Mail.)

An establishment was frequented by a weekly customer who, on paying his bill, was wont to run the waiter over with his eyes, and having noted what article of attire was most in need of renewal, give an order for it on one of his tradesmen. Sometimes it would be for a shirt, sometimes for a pair of boots, while the waiter has even been known to be the lucky recipient of a brand new dress coat.

The principal hotel of a south of England cathedral town boasts a corpulent waiter who numbers among his clients a gentleman even stouter than himself. Their respective weights are a standing joke between them—a rather serious one for the waiter, whose is apportioned according to the customer's superior avoirdupois, a penny for every pound. As, however, the gentleman is now some three stone the heavier, and bids fair to go still farther ahead, the waiter is at present happy.

An eccentric city man, who lunched every Monday at the London restaurant that formerly stood at the corner of Chancery lane, invariably when he had finished his meal handed the waiter, in lieu of his customary tip, a framed photo of himself. This was always accepted with polite thanks, for though the portrait was valueless the frame made ample amends, being generally a handsome leather article, while on one occasion at least, it was fashioned out of silver.

Another patron was also wont to tip this same waiter in kind. This gentleman possessed a caustic humor, and having by adroit questioning discovered what his attendant particularly disliked, would give him that article as a tip. Thus the waiter in point, being a non-smoker, was presented, with tobacco and pipe, while to another, who was a teetotaler, was given a bottle of whiskey. Needless to say those were all speedily sold or exchanged.

"A gentleman who always dines at a West End establishment lately to the writer," "invariably brings with him a newly purchased book, which he reads while he is at table. His meal over, he calls for his bill, and gathering up all the change over and above the amount, places the volume in its stead. This is considered the waiter's perquisite, and a very good one it sometimes is, fetching as much as three or four shillings at a second-hand dealer's. Occasionally, however, it is but a paper-covered novel, and is practically worthless."

"It is now some years since one of our regular diners died. I always thought him a stingy gent in the matter of tips, for he would hand over a dozen or more foreign postage stamps.
Fortunately I had the sense to put them aside, for only last year I showed my collection, numbering an index of thousand or more, to a friend who had some knowledge of their value, with the result that I made something over £50."

DISCOVERY OF LOST MINE.
After Being Lost 84 Years, Richest Gold Mine in Venezuela Is Relocated by New Yorker.

(Venezuelan Herald.) Most marvelous of all the stories of lost mines found again is that of the relocating of the enormously rich gold mine of San Luis d'Alma, in Venezuela, south of the Orinoco River.

The mine has been lost for eighty-four years. It was worked under the auspices of the Capuchin monks of Catalonia, and was the most productive gold mine in all Spanish-America. The mine was closed and abandoned when Bolívar's soldiers of the republic drove the Spaniards and the Capuchins out of southern Venezuela, in 1811, and destroyed their missions. After that the mine was completely forgotten.

It has now been relocated, after years of search, by George E. Gage, an energetic young New Yorker, who, while exploring the region, came across a huge image in the wilderness. This image contained cabalistic signs indicating the exact direction and distance to the lost vein. The mine is supposed to be even of greater richness than the famous Caltio mine, which produced $40-000,000 in gold in ten years.

The story of how the mine came to be lost to Spain and how it has been recovered through American enterprise and quick intelligence, is one of absorbing interest.

for Liverpool yesterday.
Str. Pretorian of the Allan line, from Liverpool, reached Halifax yesterday and left for St. John.

John, arrived at Manchester Sunday.
Str. Alcides, from St. John via Hal-

The Elder-Dempster str. Lake Superior, Capt. Thompson, from Liverpool, reached port about 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, having had a long and rough trip out. She came to anchor in the inner quarantine, when Dr.
March, the port physician, boarded her. The Superior brought here 1,200 tons of cargo. Her passengers were 16 cabin, 13 intermediate and 375 steerage.
Dr. March took three families, 15 persons in all, members of which he found suffering from measles, down to Partridge Island. The ship docked at No. 3 berth about midnight. The passengers will come ashore this morning after having partaken of breakfast.
About 300 of the steerage people are bound for United States points and the immigration officials from the other side of the line will be on hand at an early hour to look after these people.

Again the Maine "coon cat" has received a black eye in public print, says the Kennebec Journal. A vile New York paper has said that there is no such animal as a coon cat, that the combination is impossible, outside the limits of physiology and probability.
The right name for the big cat with the fluffy tail, the long hair and the microscopic ears is Angora. This breed and an allied race, known as the Persian cats, is the foundation head for all that is beautiful and desirable in feline nature. The Maine coon cat is nothing more than a cross between the Angora and the native tabby. What's the odds? Maine breeders are still selling all the coon cats they can grow for $25 a pair, and New York people are paying the money.

Immigration Agent Lantaulum was requested by the steamship agent to eject the I. C. R. passenger agent and Interpreter Nichols from the new building used by immigrants, but Chris Nichols proclaimed: "This is our building," and refused to be removed. Hot words passed among those involved in the squabble, which narrowly avoided a termination of blows.

St. John has secured its Jamaica service without the question of government subsidy entering into the matter. We are glad to note that business enterprise has not waited the outcome of governmental aid, even though by its establishment Halifax may not reap great advantage. It is a great pity that Canadian business men everywhere, in Halifax as well as in other sections, do not realize that while governments may assist and can do a great deal to open up new avenues of trade, that the burden of establishing business connections and a sale for our products and manufactures in centres outside of Canada rests still upon the individual or firm.—Halifax Recorder.

MR. EVERETT RESIGNS.

Managing Secretary of Exhibition Association Wants to Give Way to Younger Man.

At the annual meeting of the Exhibition Association held this afternoon, in the Board of Trade rooms, Charles A. Everett, who has been secretary and manager since 1885, tendered his resignation. In submitting his decision the retiring official said he was in favor of seeing annual exhibitions held in St. John, but felt it would be better if the duties of secretary and manager were performed by a younger man. A resolution which the directors passed last week was submitted to the meeting. It was to the effect that an exhibition be held in St. John in 1902. The report which the secretary made to the president was read and also a report of the secretary to the shareholders, showing the present condition of the affairs of the association. The reports were as follows:

ST. JOHN, Jan. 8, 1902.

D. J. McLaughlin,

Pres. of Exh. Assoc.:

Sir,—After an unsuccessful application to the provincial government to secure ample funds to warrant the association to hold an exhibition in the year 1901, you held a meeting on April 9th, at which occasion I presented a financial statement showing that the debts over and above the assets were at that date about $2,370.75. You were authorized to tender to the province and the city the entire property of the association, on condition of grants being made to cover the liabilities of the association. The results were a grant from the province of $1,613.14, and from the city, $1,600. No official information was received by us as to the intention to accept the associations assets. Payment by the city of $1,600 has been received and used in reduction of our debt. The provincial grant has not yet come to hand, but we have been enabled on the strength of the order-in-council to make over-drafts on the Bank of Montreal.

As the exhibition property has not been taken over by the public authorities, we have felt responsible for their protection, and have therefore been compelled to make unexpected payments of insurance, interest and care keeping. We have also paid some small accounts not previously presented as well as printing and advertising made necessary by an Act of incorporation.

The liabilities and assets now stand: Indebtedness as presented in April, 1901, $2,370.75; Insurance, $255; interest on credit of Leonard & Sons, $52.80; interest to credit of Bank of Montreal, $24.60; printing and advertising, $38.06; other accounts, $27.33;—$3,886.57. Assets, city's grant, $1,600; provincial grant, $1,613.14; sale of lamps, $27.50; rebate on accounts, $463.53. Total $2,704.67. Balance to credit, $13.10. The greater portion of the accounts have been paid.

I respectfully present the accounts of the treasurer and secretary, which have been audited by F. S. Sharpe, also a general financial statement.

To meet an unwarranted impression that our exhibitions have been almost wholly dependent upon the public treasuries, I would respectfully state that the total cost of our eight exhibitions, including the purchase of lands, erection of buildings and all its equipment was $161,035.32; of this amount our prize expenditures were $35,417.50. We have received, including recent grants from the provincial treasury $22,613.64; from the city, $19,600—total $42,213.64, and our prize expenditure exceeds the total amount received from the provincial treasury by $12,803.86.

Respectfully submitted,
CHAS. A. EVERETT,
Secretary.

We hold policies of insurance on our properties to the amount of $11,000.

JAN. 14, 1902.

To the shareholders of the Exhibition Association:—

The receipts of the association during the past year were:

On capital account ..... $ 55 00 Outstanding accounts ..... 750 45 Provincial grant for 1900 ..... 4,000 00 City grant for 1901 ..... 1,600 00 Sale of lamps ..... 27 50

$6,433 95

These amounts were deposited in the Bank of Montreal to our credit.

During the past year eleven shares of stock have been added to our list, making the total issue 1764 shares. These shares realized to the association $3,820, which has been invested in the lands, buildings and other properties of the association. The estimated value of the property so held is upwards of $18,000, and was tendered to the province and city, provided grants were made which would cover the indebtedness of the association, and with a view to the continuation of exhibitions in St. John by either or both of these bodies.

From the time of the organization of the association to the present you have honored me by election to the board of directors, and also honored me by electing me your first president, a position which I filled for three years, until I voluntarily resigned from the office. In the spring of 1895 you invited me to become your secretary and manager, which position I have held to the present time.

With the exception of the present year, I have been a paid official during my term as manager. I am desirous that an annual exhibition shall be held, as I believe it to be in the interests of the province and city, yet I feel that it is better that a younger man shall take the position as manager and secretary, and, therefore, I now respectfully tender my resignation. If the members of the association desire it, I shall be pleased to continue my services as one of the directors.

CHARLES A. EVERETT,
Secretary.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Editor of the Star:

Sir,—The writer is fully competent of differing with yesterday's press, as there are no "goats" among the Jewish race. If such should be the case, they would not be in among Masons, or any other lodge. The little rejoicing which might have taken place in Corbett's Hall last Sunday night seems only to have been an enlightenment for those, who sought their own equals. If there was any partaking of intoxicating liquors at that same assembly, it tended no disturbance to anybody whatever. But the self-same acts, which occur again and again every year about this time, but with stronger force among all nations, often render it difficult for even police or ambulance to abolish such disastrous modes of rejoicing. It is the writer's aim to shield his people from worldly rebuke, and if requested, can give further examples of such assemblies that have been carried on during the past few weeks.

W. H. R.

FURTHER PROCEEDINGS.

It is probable that further proceedings will be taken against the members of the supposed Masonic lodge who, as related in last night's Star, initiated a number of their Jewish brethren into the mysteries of the order. Although the money which was lost by one of the candidates has been restored, he, in common with the man who was given cold feet, and with one or two others, does not feel like letting the thing drop, and it is likely that several actions for assault will shortly be commenced.

A CARLETON MONOPOLY.

Concerning Which Other Traders are Loud in Their Complaint.

The grocerymen and restaurant keepers on the West Side are loud in their complaints in regard to the immigration regulations. It is stated that the immigrants, when landed from the different steamers, are now taken into the building and kept there until they are ready to be sent away. On account of this trade, by no means small, which might be expected from the immigrants, is lost to the merchants. In the building a grocery stall is conducted by a well-known business man who, on account of the regulations, is thus enabled to secure a monopoly on the purchases made by the immigrants. The immigrants are kept in the building until the medical examination is completed. The steamer Lake Superior hauled up to her berth about midnight last night, but no gang plank was put out nor anyone allowed on board or ashore until seven o'clock this morning, when the immigrants, numbering between three and four hundred, were landed. Two hundred and fifty of them will leave for Boston on a special tonight, while the others, who are bound for Western Canada, will go on the regular afternoon train.

POLICE COURT.

Edward Morgan was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Gossline on suspicion of stealing from A. C. Smith & Co's store in Carleton. When the office was opened on Monday morning it was found that a roll of cents, some postage stamps, ferry tickets and other articles were missing. A drawer of the desk had been cut and forced open and one of the doors of the building was left open, as though the thief had made his exit by it. The forensic preliminary examination of Morgan was held. Evidence was given by Sergt. Ross, Officer Gossline, Mr. Lockhart of A. C. Smith & Co., E. R. W. Ingraham and others, and Morgan was committed for trial.

It is understood that Mrs. T. Grey Merritt, from whom cheques, money and other articles were said to have been stolen by Lizzie Slater does not wish to prosecute. The prisoner is now being held in jail while enquiries are being made as to her previous character, and it is probable that she will be sent back to the convent in which she was educated.

A young man arrested by Chief Clark last night for shouting on the street was fined eight dollars, but was afterwards allowed to go.

THE COURTS.

In the equity court this morning, Judge Barker presiding, in the matter of Matilda J. McLaughlin, an imbecile, on application of L. A. Curry, K. C., the decree was changed, the committee to give security of $400 to the satisfaction of the referee in Charlotte Co.

In the county court chambers hearing of orders for examination in Acadia Sugar Refining Co. v. Joseph S. Merritt, and Royal Bank of Canada v. G. Wetmore Merritt were postponed till Saturday, 18th inst, owing to absence of the attorney general.

Hanington & Hanington appeared for the Sugar Refining Co. and Chapman & Tilley for the Royal Bank. An order was obtained by Chapman & Tilley for examination of E. L. Jewett, who holds the bill of sale on the household furniture of G. Wetmore Merritt. The examination will be held concurrently.

KINGS COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT.

The circuit court of Kings County opened at Hampton this morning. His Honor Judge Lanery presiding. There was a large attendance. Twenty-three grand jurors answered to their names. The civil docket contained two cases: 1. Geo. W. Day v. Chas. and Edward Linton; R. G. Murray files record; A. W. Baird for defendant.

2. Jennie Hesselink v. Walter H. Bell; Robert Morrison files record; Geo. W. Fowler, M. P., for defendant. One criminal case for alleged assault: Sarah J. Jones v. Melbourne J. Jones; A. G. Blair and A. W. Baird, for plaintiff; Geo. W. Fowler, M. P., for defendant.

The grand jury found a true bill against Melbourne J. Jones.

DESERTER BEFORE THE COURT.

Wm. J. McDonald, charged with desertion from the 3rd Special Service Battalion, R. C. R., at Halifax, was before the magistrate again this morning. His escort, consisting of Sergt. McMaisters and one man, were present to take the prisoner back. Some evidence was given of the prisoner's service in the regiment, and his mother was called to prove that at the time of enlistment he was not quite 15 years of age. J. B. M. Baxter, for the prisoner, contended that there should be proof of enrolment; that the prisoner was a deserter, and that at the age proved he could not legally have been enrolled. Not being eligible for enrolment, he contended, there could be no desertion, and asked for his discharge. The prisoner was remanded until Friday at 3 p. m. in case further evidence should be forthcoming. The authorities at Halifax will be notified of the defence.

TAKEN TO A DETENTION HOUSE.

The six colored inmates of the quarantined house on Duke street were this morning transported to the Moreland farm where they will be isolated until their former habitation is ready again for occupancy. When the vehicle from the isolation hospital reached the "Back Shore," the residents of the district were aroused to a state of excitement and crowds gathered to witness the departure of the residents of the Burns house, comprising two women and four men.

This afternoon the fumigation of the house commenced.
