IT'S A BONILLA IRON AND STEEL.

Who Now Holds the President's Job in Honduras. An Experiment That May Revolutionize the Industry.

He Has Swept the Republic and Has Put His Foes to Flight. Pig Iron That Polishes up and is Better Than Finest Bessemer Steel.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 21.—General Bonilla is in prison at Tegucigalpa, and Sierra is a fugitive in Nicaragua, having fled to that country for safety when the handful of government troops deserted him at Neacom, April 14, when the rebels under Gen. Barahona attacked the government forces under command of General Sierra and then marched to the capital, where Arias was made a prisoner.

THIS, with the news that quiet now prevails in the Central American republic, is the information received by the Times from Honduras. Bonilla swept the entire republic and finally captured the man who Sierra said should be his president, losing a dozen lives among his forces, numbering about ten thousand men in a revolution lasting about two months. That popular sentiment was favorable to Bonilla is evidenced by the wholesale desertions of the government troops who joined his army.

DORIAN STUD AT AUCTION.

PARIS, April 19.—Not for a long time has such a sensational bidding taken place at a Paris thoroughbred sale as that witnessed at Tattersall's yesterday, the "clou" of the auction being the racing stud of the late M. D. Dorian. Quand Meme, first to face the hammer, found a new owner in M. Remy at 4,000; Tremplin, a bay colt, with an entry for this year's Prix de Jockey Club, was knocked down to M. Pauliser for 14,500; Labourer went to the vicomte de Pontarac for 15,000; hundreds bid for Tonsure II, the horse being knocked down to M. Lebaudy at 215,000; Le Pere Simon went to J. Cole, a Chantilly trainer, for 131,000; Red Cedar was knocked down at 177,000. The auctioneer gave the name of the buyer of Red Cedar as "M. Bouillon," but it is current opinion that Cole bought the son of Dauphin for Frank Gardner. The horse has already won 1,000,000 in stakes.

AN INTERESTING CLASS.

As Seen and Visited by an Outsider

On Saturday of this week is concluded for the time being a very interesting series of lessons in elocution and physical culture given by Miss M. Florence Rogers of this city. The class, numbering in all sixteen ladies, meets on Saturday afternoon of each week in the Church of England Institute hall, on Germain street, and the work taken up at these weekly lessons is of considerable interest, not only to the members themselves, but to outsiders as well, and a visit to the class while the lesson is in progress proves itself to be not only enjoyable, but without some degree of profit also.

The first half of the lesson is taken up by the physical culture exercises, according to the system taught in the Emerson College of Oratory in Boston. The entire class standing on the floor, each exercise is gone carefully through, led by one of the students, who takes her place on the platform and is succeeded by the others, one for each exercise, the teacher meanwhile supervising the work, correcting here, commending there, and apparently able to see every member of the class at the same time. At each lesson a new exercise in the series is taken up, and thoroughly explained by Miss Rogers, and practice between lessons is rigorously insisted upon, as the most potent means of retaining and moulding the figure into the desired shape and beauty. Miss Rogers, in common with the rest of her profession, is an enthusiast over physical culture, and talked most interestingly to the Star representative on this subject.

The exercises of the Emerson system, it was explained, are divided into four classes; the first dealing with the whole body; the second, taking each part as a whole, independent of the others; the third, exercising the parts of the body in relation to the whole body, and the fourth and last calling into play each part of the body in relation to the other parts. In this system, each exercise is arranged so to obtain the same result as that brought about by two or more exercises in other systems.

The benefits of physical culture, it was explained, are legion, and many of them are generally known to need more than a passing notice here. The vital organs of the body are raised to their proper altitude, and the body is brought to perfect poise; the nervous system is strengthened, freed from the grip of rheumatism, chest, teaching one to breathe in such a manner as to send the air into the apex of the lungs, where consumption originates, expanding the lungs, and so on in ad infinitum.

And apart from the hygienic value, the mental effect of this study, though not so apparent on the surface, is exceedingly important also. The mind is set accurately and promptly while at practice, and thus mental as well as physical development is attained. That its value in both directions is being more plainly shown year by year is evidenced by the increasing number of devotees to a fascinating and helpful pursuit, for which the same may be, in different circumstances.

That part of the lesson over, came what was of perhaps even more interest to the onlooker, the training in public speaking and reading. Several short selections from the pen of well known writers were taken up and gone over, having been previously studied and practiced by the class. Each had her turn upon the platform, and the lesson ended with two Shakespearean selections, being a scene each from Julius Caesar and the Merchant of Venice.

It was easy for even the uninitiated to detect more than a little meed of talent in some of the readers, and the time spent in the hall was fully enjoyed by the visitor. The class, as before stated, begins on Saturday, but only temporarily, for with the week will be taken up once more with renewed interest.

SCORING THE LAWYERS. (Ottawa Citizen.)

Perhaps a not unimportant result of the Gurney commission will be to have some steps taken to check the increase of brow-beating lawyers in the treatment of witnesses. The scenes which have taken place during the examination of Mr. Gurney are an example of an exasperated lawyer, unable to gain his point, insulting and bullying a respectable citizen as if he were a convicted felon is not edifying but it is very common and regarded by many judges with a tolerant eye. Lawyers have more privileges in that respect than justice should permit, and it is a common occurrence for a counsel with a reputation as an insouciant bull-dog to be retained in certain cases to intimidate witnesses. As an example of indefensible insult on the part of a counsel nothing could be more apropos than the incident in the Gurney examination yesterday, when the witness sorely badgered by Mr. Johnston about what he said on a certain day, made the remark: "You cannot tell me the exact words you said on Sept. 10." To which the lawyer replied: "Anyway, witness, I was not paying my debts with other people's money. There is no possible excuse for any lawyer being allowed to insult any witness in such a manner. The fact that legal gentlemen put on a gown and are licensed to plead at the bar gives them no authority to treat people with an impudent assumption of superiority or to use language to them with impunity which would probably result in an ambulance call if used outside the sacred precincts of the court.

THE RUSH TO CANADA. (The Financier, New York.)

The rush to Canada is not a temporary craze. It will continue because the farmer finds there some of the finest wheat lands in the world, and as there is the case with the western United States, there will be no cessation until the free territory is exhausted. The future of Canada, once regarded as unpromising, has suddenly assumed a brighter phase. Those who express doubt as to the permanency of the agricultural migration, because of different forms of government, do not grasp the situation. The extent of the present flow of United States population to the Dominion will be checked only by industrial, and not political or boundary lines.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS.

TORONTO, April 20.—Startling developments occurred in the Gurney investigation this afternoon, when Crossin, Gurney's partner in the piano business, was placed on the stand for cross-examination by Ritchie. He began by attempting to secure from Crossin a record of moneys paid Gurney. Then it came out that on Sept. 11 there was deposited in the bank to the credit of the piano company $900. Crossin was sent to get his cash book and when he again appeared on the stand made the interesting revelation that the leaf in the cash book dealing with these particular transactions was missing. He testified he discovered it was missing on Saturday. No one but himself and Gurney had access to the book, and he swore he had not torn out the page.

On Saturday Gurney was at the piano factory, and three times Gurney deposited $900 to the credit of the piano company the morning of Sept. 11, and $1,500 in the afternoon of the same day. Saturday morning a messenger from the bank called to see Gurney. Gurney did not hear the conversation, but saw the messenger produce a deposit slip and say that that was not the slip. Howarth, receiving teller of the bank, came to the factory later, and Howarth and Gurney were in the office together. Howarth stated that alone, followed two or three minutes later by Gurney. Crossin said he had not seen Gurney since, and did not know where he was. Crossin said Gurney paid the $900 to the company because it was due on stock.

Mr. Johnson states he was not able to say what the line of evidence would be, but he wanted the cash book impounded. Crossin consented.

The Johnstone indictment before closing the cross-examination, directed to have Howarth present. He could trace the missing teller's slip to Gurney's hands through the teller and his non-return.

Johnson withdrew to one side with Frank Sullivan, and returned shortly and said the defence admitted that certain letters were written by Sullivan.

On the morning session, R. A. Grant, advocate, testified that Frank Sullivan came to his office about August 11 of last year. He asked Grant to come to the Walker house that afternoon. Sullivan said there was a stock transaction of $20,000. Grant, in the presence of Sullivan, decided to go to the Walker house on his way to the Union station. Grant went to the hotel and was introduced to Gurney by Sullivan. The conversation lasted two or three minutes. Grant said to Gurney, "I understand you and Sullivan are considering a timber transaction." Gurney in his statement used the word "stock."

This witness denied. Gurney said $4,000 or $5,000. Grant could invest $4,000 or $5,000. Grant said he understood they had the document drawn up. They said they had not, or something like it. Grant then said to them, "When you are ready to proceed I will see what I can do," or words to that effect.

CLASH IN MONTREAL.

Strikers Use All Sorts of Missiles and Drive Laborers From a Cape Breton Coal Steamer.

MONTREAL, April 20.—A clash broke out on the harbor front this morning between the striking longshoremen and non-union workers when an attempt was made to discharge the steamer Greenlands, which brought a cargo of coal from Cape Breton. The stevedores had brought up a gang of men from the eastern portion of the city, and as soon as they began work 300 longshoremen and their sympathizers quickly gathered.

Hoos and yells greeted the workers, but for a time the presence of the police deterred the strikers from violence. Suddenly a stone was thrown and it unloosed like a flash the passions of the crowd.

A shower of missiles drove the men to take refuge in a freight shed. Chief Legault was on the scene and ordered the mounted police to drive back the crowd. The police rode into the thick of the strikers, who retreated.

Under police protection the Quebec Steamship Company's boat, Campania, was able to load with general cargo Friday and Saturday, and sailed this afternoon. The first attempt to load her was met with violence on the part of strikers and injury to one of the workmen.

The teamsters' union helped to tie things up by meeting in Bonsecours market. There are over 2,000 teamsters, and out of sympathy with the striking longshoremen, they decided to haul only cargo loaded by union men. The stevedores are therefore faced with another problem, that of transporting the cargo after it has been unloaded.

Unless the difficulty between the stevedores and the laborers is settled before other vessels reach port serious outbreaks are liable to result.

WAITING FOR THE 27th.

Many hundreds are anticipating with pleasure the grand concert of next Monday, when Madame Clary will be again heard, and refraining from attending other attractions. Great interest is felt in the wonderful young pianist Miss Laura Newman, lately returned from her studies in Germany, and who will have the advantage of playing on a Steinway concert grand, which is being brought to this city for the occasion by the energetic Nordheimer representative, G. A. Prince. Miss Newman is actually compared favorably with the greatest pianists of the world, and her playing may be anticipated as something of a revelation.

Plan opens for the exchange of advance tickets at Gray's bookstore tomorrow morning, and as there will be a ready sale those who have purchased tickets should have them exchanged early.

BIG SCHEME.

Supt. Osborne Presents Plan for More Berths at Sand Point.
 Wants New Warehouses to Have Two Stories—Mayor White Advocates a Harbor Trust.

At a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon, attended by several of the leading business men of the city, Superintendent Osborne, of the C. P. R., submitted plans for the rebuilding of the burned sheds at Sand Point and for the further great extension of the winter port facilities on the west side. After an animated discussion it was decided that a final scheme for harbor improvement should be prepared by a committee composed of representatives from the Common Council and the Board of Trade, which scheme should be pushed before the dominion government with all possible vigor.

W. M. Jarvis, president of the Board of Trade, was in the chair. Those present were: His Worship Mayor White, W. H. Thorne, John H. Thomson, W. S. Fisher, James Osborne, C. B. Foster, D. J. McLaughlin, J. Morris Robinson, S. S. Hall, W. F. Hatheway, T. H. Esbrook, C. F. Fisher, E. W. Elkin, W. H. Barnaby, M. Bostwick, G. G. Kaye, J. A. Likely and General Manager Brock of the Great North-West Life Insurance Co. of Winnipeg.

Mr. Osborne exhibited and explained the plans for harbor improvement prepared by Chief Engineer McHenry and Division Engineer Barber of the C. P. R. It showed the harbor from Sand Point to Partridge Island provided with piers providing for the unloading of the season's cargo, and a large yard in the rear. The wharves were to be so constructed that ships could enter or leave at any time. Regarding the burned sheds, he suggested that sheds 3 and 4 be rebuilt two stories high, and that the channel opposite No. 4 berth be extended to Union street. Under this arrangement passenger boats could discharge passengers into the upper story of a shed. It was also suggested that a track be laid along the harbor side of Union street, so that passengers could step from the shed directly into the train. Mr. Osborne strongly advocated the use of lighters for the transfer of local cargo directly from the ships to the importers on the other side of the harbor. Next winter, he said, when the C. P. R. would be running the service now controlled by the Elder Dempster firm, he proposed to adopt this plan, even if the other lines should refuse to come in with it. He anticipated no opposition from the truckmen, as he had found the men unwilling to go to Sand Point for loads.

Mr. Osborne in the course of his speech spoke of the remarkable growth of the Canadian west and the slowness of the country to provide proper outlets for the vastly increased crop. John must act quickly and seize the opportunity to urge its splendid advantages as the winter port of Canada. He spoke of the bar at Sand Point, where the old Island wharf used to be, as a disgrace to the city. It could be dredged away without much cost and should be removed immediately. The cost of the proposed piers was $50,000.

John H. Thomson found fault with the government for spending so much money on interior transportation in the country and neglecting outports like St. John.

Whereas, it is desirable that Canadian exports and imports should be handled through Canadian ports,
 And whereas, it has been demonstrated that the port of St. John, N. B., is fully adapted for Atlantic steamship traffic,
 And whereas, the city of St. John, situated by the Canadian coast, is a very great center of the dominion government of initial expenses in connection with the establishment of a winter port,
 And whereas, the harbor of St. John and the adjacent wharves are in a state of disrepair, and it is necessary to provide additional facilities for the increasing traffic,
 Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting it is necessary that new piers and docks should be forthwith constructed to the south of the present Sand Point dock.

SAND POINT.

Board of Works Decides to Re-build at Once.
J. S. Gregory's Tender for Ferry Floats Accepted—James Macaulay's Was $124 Lower.

A special meeting of the civic board of works was held at the City Hall yesterday afternoon. Ald. Christie presided, and there were present: Aldermen Hamm, Millidge, Lewis, Bullock, McLaughlin, Maxwell, Robinson, McGoldrick and Tutts, Director Cushing, City Engineer Peters, and Harbor Master Taylor.

The chairman stated that he had called the meeting to take steps to make repairs to the Sand Point wharves, made necessary by the recent fire. These repairs were being made in order that the undamaged wharves could be reached and Nos. 3 and 4 used during the summer months.

The directors thought the flooring on the front of the wharves would cost about $2,000.

Ald. Allan, who was present, wanted the board to consider the question of raising the wharves five feet.

The chairman said that could be discussed later on. The board was to re-cover the wharves at once.

Ald. Maxwell urged that the work of re-covering the front of the wharves should be proceeded with at once. He moved that the director be instructed to remove the debris and start at once the rebuilding of the wharves and the renewal of the covering.

This motion passed, and it was decided to use hemlock plank, which the director said was equally as good as spruce.

The director said D. C. Clark, the contractor for the McLeod wharf, wanted to know whether he would be required to use spruce deals with which to plank it or whether hemlock would do. Spruce would cost up to $18 a thousand and hemlock could be purchased for less money.

Several members were willing to let hemlock be used, provided Mr. Clark agreed to make a difference in his charge, say of $3 per thousand.

The engineer said the contract called for spruce planking. The McLeod wharf would not be a wharf on which there would be driving. If horses went there, spruce would be better than hemlock, as it was harder. But the hemlock was more durable.

It was agreed that Mr. Clark use hemlock, provided he put it in $3 cheaper than spruce.

A communication was read from Superintendent Osborne of the C. P. R. asking that in view of the importance of increasing business at St. John the city exempt all cargo steamships from the city wharves during the summer months from side and top wharfage.

The letter was filed.

Director Cushing reported that a horse used in the street department at Carleton was 23 years old and should be destroyed.

On order was given for its destruction, and Ald. Christie and Hamm, with the director, were authorized to purchase a new horse.

S. Schofield & Co. wanted steps taken to prevent the flow of water from the Mill pond which kept the bow of a vessel lying at No. 4 berth away from the wharf. It also prevented the vessel going as far up the berth as they should go. It was said the nuisance could be abated.

The engineer stated that a report had been made on the matter before. It would cost $75 to erect a wall. A wall could be built with a fume at a certain height.

The director will report upon this question.

The Fleming Foundry people sent in a letter asking that certain changes and repairs be made in old Dorchester street and Hazen street near their works. It was very inconvenient and put them to extra expense. They wanted a retaining wall there, as they proposed to erect an additional building.

Ald. Christie, Millidge, Bullock and Maxwell were appointed to visit this place.

M. F. Mooney, the manager of the St. John Sulphite Co., stated that during the past four years they had fastened logs to the wharves which were west side at the rate of $50 per unit, under agreement with the harbor master. Mr. Mooney asked that the arrangement be continued at the same figure.

The harbor master considered $300 a fair rental. Mr. Mooney did not occupy the wharf except for a part of the year.

It was decided to continue this arrangement with Mr. Mooney at the same figure, the money to be paid every three months.

Mr. Pickett, solicitor for the Lawson estate, asked the city to allow them $100 for a boat house which is located near the McLeod wharf. Its usefulness was gone, now that the wharf was being completed. The boat house was used by the custom house officials, but they were giving it up, as they could not reach it except at high tide.

Several of the aldermen expressed their opinion on it, and finally Ald. Christie, Maxwell and Millidge were appointed to look into the matter at once.

The aldermen then devoted some time to the discussion of the expenditure of street money.

It was decided to expend $500 on the continuation of the repairs on Strait Shore road, the same to be from Harrison street to Sheriff street.

It was left with the director to expend the money for street repairs as

THE FUTURE OF CANADA'S NORTHWEST.
 Thousands of settlers have arrived in Canada of late, the majority of whom will proceed to take up farming lands in the Northwest. The outlook for Canada industrially was never as bright as it is today, and in no portion of the Dominion is it better than in the wheat growing section to the north and west of Winnipeg. A territory that can produce wheat such as is used to make Ogilvie's Flour is rich indeed, and no one can accurately forecast the measure of its possibilities.

SALVAGE CORPS ELECT OFFICERS.

The annual meeting of No. 1 Company Salvage Corps and Fire Police, which was held last evening, was as usual a most interesting event, particularly for those who were entertained by the corps after they had disposed of their business. The following officers were elected by the company: Captain, G. Herbert Green; Lieutenant, James G. Smith; Secretary, W. W. Baird; treasurer, J. C. Mitchell. The former chosen were: No. 1 district, Ralph Robertson; No. 2, K. J. Macrae; No. 3, S. C. Drury; No. 4, H. B. Robertson; No. 5, C. G. Clark.

The secretary's report showed that the number of alarms responded to were 26; total number of members who responded, 32; number of meetings held, 12; number of members who attended, 183 members. Three members were elected to membership. The corps is free of indebtedness and has a balance of $27.72 on hand.

The receipts of the year were $235.41, and the expenditures were $107.00, leaving a handsome profit of $128.41, which was donated by Dr. Geo. A. Hetherington, and $25 by D. D. Glaser & Son.

The corps received five bells during the year. The most important fires attended were: Isaac Oulton's house, str. Star and other buildings, John Montague's house, Portland street; Count De Bury's house, Main street; Barry & Holly's mill, Long wharf. The losses in the above amounted to about $35,000, all of which were covered with insurance. For the first time since organization the corps was compelled to assist in the extinguishing of a burning two persons suffocated by smoke.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were: Captain, W. H. White; Lieut., H. G. Harrison; Sec., D. Bradley; Jr. Foreman, No. 1, G. W. Mullin; No. 2, Dr. T. B. Morris; No. 3, J. S. Balm; No. 4, F. Smiler; Treas., P. N. Hamm; Surgeon, Dr. T. E. Morris.

The retiring captain, P. N. Hamm, was presented by Foreman Geo. W. Mullin with a handsome gold ring, an address on behalf of the corps. Capt. Hamm made a brief speech in reply.

Speeches were made by the newly elected officers, after which there were light refreshments, followed by songs, recitations and readings.

TWO YEARS IN PENITENTIARY.
 MONTREAL, April 20.—After one of the most bitterly fought legal battles in the history of the court of King's Bench of Montreal, Patrick Carlin was today sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for having conspired with Herbert Johnston to defraud the Canadian Pacific Railway. Carlin was a conductor, and the evidence showed that he tempted Johnston, a clerk in the audit office, to obtain certain news as to the secret auditing of trains. Johnston was paid large sums of money for the information, which was traced direct to Carlin. The defence got all the strings possible at work, and even political influence was used, but the evidence was so conclusive that Mr. Justice Wurtelle dismissed all the motions for a new trial. He delivered a scathing lecture to Carlin before pronouncing sentence.
