The Champlain Statue.

The unveiling of the Champlain monument on the 25th, was an event of much historic interest. It is doubly fitting that the first statue erected in St. John, with the exception of a symbolic statue in memory of the men who died in South Africa, should be that of the man who discovered and named the great river which enters the bay. It is none the less significant of racial good feeling that the first statue erected in a distinctly British city should be in honor of a citizen of France at the event. The addresses were very appropriate. Hon. Dr. Landry made a fine impression by his eloquent allusions to the freedom enjoyed by men of all races and creeds under the British flag, as well as by his brief but brilliant address in the French language. Premier Haesen very properly commended Champlain's high purpose and lofty patriotism as an example to Canadians. Mayor Frink who for the first time as mayor of the city presided at an important public function unveiled the monument; and Mr. Ward's brief paper added the historical touch to the proceedings. The Union Jack and Fleur-de-Lis, the British national anthem and the Marseillaise were joined in honor of a great man, the lustre of whose fame the passing centuries have not dimmed. The statue on Queen Square is a noble work of art, an ornament to the city, and a fitting memorial to the intrepid voyager and great colonizer whose name is written so large on the page of Canada's early history. The event was an important one to St. John, but no less important to the people of St. George. It was indeed fitting that this great work of art should be a product of the greatest granite town New Brunswick has ever known. Many words of praise were given Mr. Meating, who set the monument up, for the efficient and magnificent work done. The architect expressed himself as being pleased with the stone which was placed under his statue and stated that the work could be in no way improved upon and we congratulate the firm of Epps Dodds & Co. in being able to put out such monuments. The above cut shows the monument, with the architect standing along side, as it stands on Queen Square, St. John today.

By The Way.

Taxes!

Sydney is talking steel shipbuilding plant.

Thanks to our street committee the roads are being improved.

It is too bad the baseball boys cannot find some way to procure uniforms. If Lord's Cove can get into such neat uniforms surely St. George can do so.

This issue contains an interesting budget of news items from Lords Cove. We are glad the boys enjoyed the day on July 4th.

The herring outlook is still poor. Among the islands the fishermen are taking scarcely enough herring to supply bait for the line fishermen.

Canoes are dangerous things to fool with. It is reported that one of our young men was trying to find out how it felt to swim with clothes on.

The name "Jeffries" has not the same invincible sound it used to have. What a pity he could not have left well enough alone and he still would have been a retired champion.

The storm on Sunday night is reported to have been the worst in years. Very few disasters are reported. Three telegraph poles were blown down on Wetmore's Hill; outside of this no further damage was done in this vicinity.

Social.

Among the events of the week was the entertainment of the school trustees and wives, and school teachers by Mr. and Mrs. Church Gillmor on Tuesday evening. Those present were Miss Magowan, Miss Sweeney, Miss Moore, Miss Knight and Principal Lord; Mr. and Mrs. J. Sutton Clark, Mrs. Watt, Dr. H. I. Taylor and Dr. C. C. Alexander. During the evening refreshments were served by Miss Helen Greason, Misses Blanche and Irene McKay.

A pleasing event of the week was a surprise given to Senator Gillmor on Friday evening by a number of friends, it being the Senator's sixty-first birthday. A large number of friends were present including T. R. Kent, Dr. H. I. Taylor, M. P. P., Dr. C. C. Alexander, Thos. McGowan, Jesse Milliken, Nicholas Meating, C. Hazen McGee, Goodwin Sparks, L. W. Murray, T. O'Brien, Sr., Chas. Lynott, Wallace Lynott, H. O'Neill, Thos. Armstrong, George Marshall, Sr., John C. O'Brien, H. V. Dewar, E. Greason, H. R. Lawrence, L. McCarten, A. C. Gillmor, F. H. Gillmor, John E. McGirr, James O'Brien, H. H. McLean and A. S. Baldwin. A most enjoyable evening was spent. Refreshments were served during the evening, and after wishing the Senator many happy returns of the day the company broke up about midnight.

St. John Exhibition New Grand Stand.

The new Grand Stand at the Dominion Exhibition, St. John, N. B., September 5th to 15th next, will be almost directly opposite the old structure, which has been removed by the military authorities to make room for a new armory. It will be 205 feet long by 44 feet deep, with comfortable seats for 1,750 people. The plans call for the best of sight seeing facilities, and the rows of seats are so carefully graded that no difficulty will be experienced in seeing all that is going on in the fireworks, repair entertainment and stock exhibiting departments. There will be a ten foot promenade in front of the Grand Stand and a covered promenade underneath in the rear, as part of the Pike. The aisle will be large and amply wide, making access and egress easy. From this master point of advantage some of the finest programmes of thrilling feats, pyrotechnics, etc., will be seen.

Military Training.

If the outline given by a correspondent, of the system of military training to be adopted in South Africa be correct it will be a very thorough system beginning with the cadets and including all boys in the schools. The correspondent says:—
 "All school boys between the ages of ten and fifteen will be compelled to join the cadet forces, and from fifteen to eighteen to enroll in the senior cadets to undergo training in camps annually. From eighteen to twenty-five young men will have to take part in drills and a course for trained soldiers, with an annual camp lasting fourteen days. From twenty-five to thirty-five they will join the Union reserves, and be required to spend from four days to a week in an annual camp. To carry out the system the whole of South Africa will be divided into small areas, with permanent instructional officers to each, while a military college will be established at Bloemfontein for training officers. There will be territorial inspectors in each province assisted by warrant officers, who will be placed on the Civil Service list, and by officers of the Union Army."

A Word to Our Girls.

It is unfortunate that many girls think all they are required to do is to make trash, read trash, dress well and entertain their friends. Parents often imagine it to be the quintessence of kindness to allow their daughter to waste the years of their girlhood in such a manner. We are appalled when we realize what a vast army of young girls are throwing away their opportunities for usefulness. We would be glad if we could arouse the girls who prefer gaudy clothing and glittering jewelry, and having a good time, to a correct education; and who prefer the society of silly young men to work of good authors. If girls would be truly happy, they should select a work the same as their brothers do a profession; they will then have an interest in life and will find happiness in useful work.

Wedded at St. Stephen.

St. Stephen, June 23—A very pretty home wedding was solemnized this afternoon at residence of Mrs. Jessie Henry on Marks street and was witnessed only by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. These were Miss Jessie Devlin, third daughter of the late John C. Hall of St. Stephen, and Mr. Wm. Frederick McGibbon of Moore's Mills, this county, who holds a responsible position as travelling salesman with the Wrought Iron Range Company of Toronto.
 Rev. Charles Legat, pastor of the Unitarian church in Calais, performed the ceremony and the wedding march was rendered by Miss Edith Chase of Barrington. The drawing room was beautifully adorned with evergreens and white blossoms, the contracting couple standing beneath an arch and wedding bell. They were unattended.
 The stately bride was attired in white silk, with overdress of silk small trimmed with hand embroidery and, baby Irish. She wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses, and was very charming.
 At the close of the ceremony, the guests sat down to a festive board, the young ladies assisting in the serving being the Misses Grace Budd, Floral Boyd and Edith Chase. The decorations of dining room were of evergreen and red blossoms.
 This function concluded, Mrs. McGibbon donned a beautiful travelling suit of ashes of roses, with chiffon blouse of the same color and hat to match, and the happy couple drove to the C. P. R. station, whence they embarked on an extended wedding tour.
 On their return they will reside at Moore's Mills.
 That the young couple are most highly esteemed is evident by the many beautiful and valuable presents received. These included a bowl of cut glass from the pupils of the bride's school, a handsome desk of oak from the teaching staff of which she had been a member, a silver spoon from the choir of the Unitarian church of which she had been a member, and gold coins of value from the members of her family.

The Coronation Oath.

There will be no serious disturbance over the change made in the coronation oath. The bill had the first reading in the house of commons by a majority of 383 to 42, and even if its opponents are able to muster a little greater strength after the debate on the second reading the general result will not be affected. Old animosities and prejudices are dying out. While most Protestants may still feel that there is more religious intolerance in the Roman Catholic church than in their own churches, they are not disposed to encourage that spirit by giving it undue exercise themselves. The conditions under which the coronation oath was drawn can never arise again, and it serves no real good; while it is an offence to a vast number of the King's subjects. The London Telegraph rightly says 'that yesterday's proceedings in the commons can only be regarded as a happy prelude to King George's reign and an emphatic service to the moral unity of the empire.' The whole of the London press approves of the change, and this fact is significant of public sentiment in general. Some persons, thoroughly sincere, entertain fears when ever anything appears to be gained by the Roman Catholic church; but it is the Protestant church that will be the gainer in this instance. It will direct itself of that which does not really strengthen its position in the empire, but which does give expression to an outgrown prejudice.

Eminent Toronto Physicians

FAILED TO CURE RHEUMATISM
Miss Flora Chapman Vividly Describes Her Sufferings.

After being an enthusiastic user of Nerviline for years, I feel it my duty to tell you personally what your wonderful preparation has done for me.
 "I suffered torture from rheumatism and heart trouble, tried scores of so called remedies, consulted for weeks and months with Toronto's most eminent physicians, but derived only slight benefit.
 "A friend insisted on my using Nerviline, and to my surprise a vigorous rubbing of this powerful liniment eased the pains and reduced the stiffness in my joints. I continued to use Nerviline and was permanently cured. I am now perfectly well, and for three years have had no rheumatism at all. I know many families where no other medicines but Nerviline is kept—it is so useful in minor ailments like earache, toothache, neuralgia, coughs, colds, lumbago, and sciatica. I call Nerviline my 'Life Guard' and urge all to try its merit."

The Conquerors.

Though fools that feel on war, in dark misgiving
 May bow their back to bear a primal cur.
 Unlashed hearts shall burn the bliss of living
 And all the joy that thrills a universe.
 Re-wart no fate nor sigh for rest Elysian
 Defy no fate with stern rebellions soul
 They laugh with fate who see what broader vision
 That they and fate are parts of one great whole.
 Rejoice in all of life, her rue and roses.
 In toil, in strife, in pain, in quiet breath,
 In being's self—so when the chapter closes,
 We'll drink, praise God, an unknown joy in death.
 Then, forward, surge of pale, illumined faces!
 Achieve the moon and storm the slopes of Mars!
 Unchained, we'll rove the glads, eternal spaces,
 True heirs of all that lies beyond the stars.
 —Arthur Guiterman, in Smith's Magazine.

The Canadian Coal Corporation held its annual meeting in Augusta, Me., on the 25th inst. All the officers were re-elected. The reports showed the company had accomplished all the work laid out for the year, that the mines at Salmon Harbor have started on a paying basis, and that contracts had been secured for 100,000 tons of coal.

The corporation decided to secure incorporation under the laws of N. B. and place a manager of long experience in charge of the mines. It was also decided to increase the capital to $200,000.
 Frederick P. Shaw, president of the company when seen by The Standard said the company would put in extra equipment, provide houses for the miners and prepare for a greatly increased output.

Remo, June 25.—The Chamber on Saturday unexpectedly voted the expenditure of 10,000,000 lire (about $1,193,000) for dirigible balloons for the army.

The Socialists and Republicans opposed the proposal. They deplored increased army expenditure as useless, war being practically impossible. They advocated disarmament.
 The discussion arose during the absence of the Minister of war. He was summoned from the Senate and made an eloquent appeal to the country's national honor. The vote was 'en passed' majority of 200.

Proposed Amendment to Coronation Oath

It may be of interest to our readers to scan the amended oath as introduced by Mr. Asquith, we therefore print it also some Press Comments on the same.

It will probably pass with but little opposition. The amended oath reads as follows:—

"I do solemnly and sincerely, in the presence of God, profess, testify and declare that I am a faithful member of the Protestant Reformed Church by law established in England, and I will, according to the true intent of the enactment to secure the Protestant succession to the throne of my realm, uphold and maintain the said enactments to the best of my powers according to the law."

In reference to the declaration, the Mail says Premier Asquith could not have chosen a more favorable moment for a Bill as sensible men of all parties will welcome the new declaration.

The Chronicle says the Bill seems likely to be so far noncontroversial in that the Opposition, as such, will not be against it. The Government policy is logical and meets a real grievance fully; therefore, it contains a promise of finality.

The Graphic congratulates the government on its courage in attempting to deal with a thorny subject, but the comparatively small minority voting small against the Bill gives an inaccurate impression of the opposition to it; but it is to be hoped the opposition will concentrate not on the principle of the Bill but on the wording.

The New says the new declaration is preferable to the older formula. The Leader says there is no guarantee in the old form of declaration with all its offensiveness to Catholics, which is not to be found in the new one.

The Telegraph says yesterday's proceedings in the Commons can be regarded as a happy prelude to King George's reign and an emphatic service to the moral unity of the Empire.

The Morning Post says that no doubt exists that the Bill will pass substantially in its present form and is desirable that its passage could be marked by as little wrangling as possible.

The declaration, the Times anticipates, will receive more extensive opposition on the second reading, but it says when taken in conjunction with the other safeguards the declaration must surely be felt to afford every security that a formula can give.

Mr. Goldwin Smith, left much of his property to Cornell's University. The Philosopher was something of a godfather to Extra Cornell's scheme and helped to make a great dream into a reality. He would naturally feel kindly to the institution that justifies his faith, along that of the man whose name it commemorates.

Lord's Cove Victors. Social and Personal.

(Written by Dan Gillmore Jr.)

Lords Cove and St. George's slambanged each other here on Dominion Day and the fishermen got away with the candy after an exciting contest. The chief feature of the game was rugged fielding by both teams. Richardson did the twirling for the visitors while Magowan was on the slab for the granite boys. Haze had it on Richardson all through the game and deserved to win but the Lords Cove gave the game away. Lords Cove got away with a good start in the first, filing at 2 runs while St. George wondered what they were to do with the ball when they got it. This was the only inning in which Lords Cove found Magowan for long hits and he was batted hard. St. George was blanked in their half of the inning, the first close lineup going out in order. In the second Tucarten was the only one to get to first for Lords Cove, while St. George touched Richardson up for one run. That the Covers came back with a batting rally that brought in 2 and things looked bad for St. George who could only score up 1 off of Richardson though they hit him safely 3 times. In the fourth both teams were blanked by clever pitching and sharp fielding. After they had retired Lords Cove for one run, St. George came to bat and when the first 2 men up hit him safely Richardson got wild and Magowan's run in 2 scores off his offerings. A long fly to left field ended the innings. The sixth was an exciting game after 1 run had come in and with two men down Stuart tried to steal home, and our other visitors interfered with Austin and the run came in. The runner however was called out on account of interference. All the Covers set up a howl except the Captain T. Lambert and refused to take the field. After some delay, St. George allowed the run to count took the field to put out the runner. In their half St. George failed to score and that ended the 'blow up' as both teams were blanked in the 7th. Lords Cove went out in order in the eighth while St. George settled one Tucarten was the only 'over' to make the circuit in the ninth and with the score 3 against them the home team came to bat. Magowan was sent around for one run but that was the end of the scoring as Gordon filed with 2 men on 'bases. Mr. Thos. Kent umpired the ball and strikes while Mr. Lambert looked after the bases. The attendance was large and was the kind of a crowd which one likes to see at a ball game while they were excited and enthusiastic they gave the visitors credit for their victory and thought they roasted them their language was not in the least abusive or unpleasant. That the baseball here has a firm hold on the public was shown by the large number of ladies who attended the game. The managing committee is to be congratulated on the arrangements at the diamond, no efforts were spared to make the crowd comfortable and give the teams a good chance to play. A refreshment booth was on the grounds and was well patronized. The playing field was rolled off and all had a fine view of the game. The St. George Cornet Band led the two teams to and from the field and furnished a number of selections during the game. Taken all round it was a clean enjoyable afternoon's sport and the more we have like it the better off the town will be. Lords Cove are a good crowd and we congratulate them on their victory. Of course we would rather have won but we feel no disgrace at having been defeated by a team with so bright a record as they possess. They were accompanied by a large party a goodly portion of which was made up of the fair sex and we see no reason why they did not have an enjoyable sail home.

The Teams:—

Lords Cove	St. George
Richardson P.	Magowan

Note on the Game
It was an exciting game but poor baseball.
It was good to see the way Magowan mowed them down.
St. George had the better of the batting but oh, you fielding.
O'Neill and Magowan were the stars for St. George. The former bumped the ball hard and often and fielded his position faultlessly.
The diamond was in great shape. All the team needs is practice and it will be a hard aggregation to beat a month from now.
Lambert, Captain of Lords Cove, is a good fellow, he accepted all the umpires' decisions in a way which showed him to be a good sport and a gentlemanly player.

Camp Sussex had its first military funeral on Monday when the body of Pte. Lavejey was conveyed to the train on a gun carriage, and sent to his home in Rockland, N. B.

Probably the finest catch of the season was made by Philo Hanson on the Holiday. The latter succeeded in obtaining nineteen of the speckled beauties averaging a pound and a half. The largest specimen weighed slightly over three pounds and measured seventeen inches and the smallest was over the pound mark. The fishing ground was Crazy Lake.

What might have been a very disastrous fire to the Pulp Co. and town was averted on Saturday evening by the prompt action of the workmen and ready response of the townsmen. The alarm was given at about 7:30 o'clock and the fire was soon located under the roof of the wood mill and was under control in a few moments. The damage was slight and no accidents were reported.

The first of July was observed very quietly in town. Nothing occurred in the morning to give the day the appearance of a celebration. During the afternoon a ball game between Lords Cove and the local team helped to liven things up a little. Various parties were formed and picnics were enjoyed by many; others spent the day fishing. The ball game resulted in a win for Lords Cove with a score of 6-3.

The first was celebrated in true holiday style at Blacks Harbor. Many people from all parts were present and the day was thoroughly enjoyed. The committees in charge did their work thoroughly and the water and land sports were carried out with the greatest success. Dancing formed a feature during the day and baseball drew the crowd in the afternoon. The proceeds were placed towards the building of the Catholic church. Blacks Harbor standards how to celebrate.

Johnson Whips Jeffries in Fifteen Rounds

After a somewhat one-sided fight lasting fifteen rounds Jack Johnson won the world's championship from James Jeffries, the former title holder. At no time during the battle was Johnson in danger of being beaten and he hit the white man at will. The feature of the fight was Johnson's clever defence. His sidestepping and ducking were wonderful. With the exception of a slight cut in the month Johnson came out of the fight in almost perfect condition; on the other hand Jeffries was literally cut to pieces. The latter showed the same old gameness and ability to take punishment which won for him many a championship fight, but lacked the old hitting power. There was a good exhibition of a boxer trying to "come back." It is estimated that 20,000 people witnessed the fight.

LORD'S COVE

The Christian Sunday School held their annual picnic July 1st on Indian Island which is distant about five miles. The warmth of the day, the calmness of water, the excitement of the dozen and more of deep-laden motor boats moving with speed, the happy and good natured rivalry, as well as the rush of the tide currents sweeping the ten islands, combined to make the passage itself both ways interesting even to us to whom such things are commonplace. The picnic crowd, upon arriving first consumed considerable time. Later our old sports reverted to the days when they were not "has been" and ran races and shouted with all the guests of childhood. The girls said that the luncheon was "just dear" and the boys that it had the rest of the features of the day "rinsed and has 'em" and who can judge such things better than they? About 250 were present.

Rev. James Warren Leonard, B. A., one of our boys, has been honored by his alma mater, Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio, with the degree of Master of Arts.

James Simpson Lord is home for a day or so accompanied by Mr. Smith.

That Red Rose Tea is of surpassing quality is accepted everywhere it is used as an undisputed fact, but it is in the Maritime Provinces especially that it has by unvarying goodness so well earned the term "is good tea."

Forests.
Russia leads the world in planting forests, America in devastating them.

Persian Clothes.
Persians are fond of fine clothes. The usual costume for men includes a collarless shirt of light, pretty material cut low at the neck and with long, loose sleeves and a vest that fits closely to the figure, also with wide, flowing sleeves.

Wedding Rings.
Wedding rings were worn by both Jews and Romans at dates long prior to the Christian era.

Flower Essences.
To extract the essence of any flower put the petals in layers in an earthen jar, covering each layer with one of salt. Do this until jar is full. Cover closely and put in a cool place. Leave for a month, then strain off the essence by means of a press. Put essence in a bottle and add a few drops to every pint of water. It will impart a most delicate fragrance.

Posters.
Posters were originally stuck on posts; hence their name.

Plain Food.
The man who enjoys plain food, says the Lancet, is miles ahead, physically and physiologically speaking, of the man who would leave his men untouched if it were not that every item of it was calculated to "tickle the palate."

The Lacquer Carpet.
The largest carpet ever measured was an aquarella which Dr. Gardner found in Mexico. It was thirty-seven feet long, and it took two horses to drag it.

Washington.
Washington was made a Mason in 1733 and obtained a higher dignity in the order than any of the other presidents, though Andrew Jackson was grand master of Tennessee.

The Fearful Dove.
In spite of the fact that the dove is the emblem of peace a couple of cockbirds of this deceitful species can give a very good account of themselves in a fight. The weapons they employ are their wings, which they use with terrific force.

The Yellowstone Park.
The Yellowstone National park is sixty-five miles from north to south and fifty-five from east to west.

Fabrics.
While not fond of the water, rabbits can swim if they are forced to. They have a swimming position all their own and keep their head and tail high and dry, while the front part of the body sinks deep in the water.

Wives by Purchase.
Wives are still obtained by purchase in some parts of Russia. In the district of Kamyslin, on the Volga, for example, this is practically the only way in which marriages are brought about. The price of a pretty girl from a well-to-do family ranges from $100 to $200, and in special cases a much higher sum is obtained. In the villages the lowest price is about $25.

Fire Killed Wood.
Government tests of fire-killed timber have demonstrated that this wood is good and should be considered as thoroughly seasoned timber so far as its use is concerned.

A Cursing Cricket.
A hunter in tropical regions tells of seeing a cricket pursued around the trunk of a tree by a lizard. Suddenly the insect settled itself in a small depression in the bark, spread out its wings slightly and flattened itself so that the lizard actually crawled over it and went away without ever knowing what had become of it.

FIRE your job work in to the GREENINGS printing of fine and we will put it out in first-class shape. All work done with neatness and dispatch, at right prices.

Cough Caution
Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—you should always treat, soothe, and ease the irritated mucous membranes with a soothing, expectorant, and emollient. It's strange how good Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough medicines or preparations containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—this is the thought—Congress says. Take on the label, "Very good! Hereafter for this very reason, cough cures, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's label—and the medicine can be safely used by law on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is so by those that know it best, and so by those who have tried it. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop packages with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

Advance in Ontario Flour.
Toronto, June 30.—The big milling companies today raised the price of flour 10 cents per barrel. Carload quality are now quoted at $5.40, second quality at $4.90, and strong bakers at $4.70. The advance may affect the price of bread when the bakers change the weights on Monday owing to the Nicola bread bill going into force throughout Ontario.
Under the new regulations the 16 and 20 ounce loaf is done away with and loaves of 24 and 48 ounce weights will take their place.
The bakers had pretty generally agreed to sell the 24 ounce loaves at the price of the old 20 ounce one, but this advance in the price of flour may have the effect of increasing the rate a cent a loaf to the consumer.

A Mother's Love

It is not prosperity, with her smile and beauty, that tries the purity and fervor of a mother's love; it is in the dark and dreary precincts of adversity, amid the cold frowns of an unfeeling world, in poverty and despair, in sickness and in sorrow, that it shines with a brightness beyond mortality, and stifling the secret of its own bosom, strives but to pour balm and consolation upon the sufferer, and the cup of misery, filled to overflowing services but to bind them more firmly and dearly to each other, as the storms of winter bid the sheltering ivy twine itself more closely around the withering oak. Absence cannot chill a mother's love; nor can even vice itself destroy a mother's kindness. The lowest degradations of human frailty cannot wholly blot out the remembrance of the first fond yearnings of your affection, or the latent memorial of primal innocence; nay, it seems as if the very consciousness of the abject state of her erring child more fully developed the mighty force of that mysterious passion, which can forgive and forget all things, and though the youth of her fairest hopes may be as one cast off from God and man, yet she will not forsake him, but participate in all things save his wickedness.

Old Age

We wish to say a few words for the old folks, believing that the infirmities of advanced years are often treated with an indifference that is hard to bear. Not by all, of course, for there are many, we will hope the majority, that are thoughtful of the aged and kind to them. Then again, there are others who, to put it mildly, are harsh and cold. It is very natural to smile on what is lovely and strong, and frown on the reverse without even observing that we do so; and it often follows, with the young especially, that as they look on the furrowed face, the dim eyes and trembling hands, the tottering, uncertain steps of an old man or woman, they seem to forget that in that warm and homely prison house are a heart and soul which yearn for recognition, for kindness in word and deed, and for a little love, with an intensity that youth in its fulness does not know. They must forget or one would not so often hear such remarks as, "Oh, grandma, don't bother; grandma forgets everything; grandma, what do you want to go for? Old folks ought to be contented at home!"

In our words to others, in all our dealings with them, it is our duty to stop and think; and with the old it is positive cruelty not to do so. It is down hill, remember; a hill with steep, stony paths, and at its foot there is only a grave. Don't buy impatient words push them along its precipitous ways; don't glance that downward slope with the ice of indifference; and, above all, don't hang on every bush and boulder placards of their own deterioration. It is not necessary to remind them that they have left their prime and strength behind. They know it; none so well.

Yes, let us sometimes stop and think; let us turn from our own ambition; from our ambitions for our children and lead a hand to the old folks. Let us smooth their path, let them lean on us as they step over the steep ledges and let us warm the chill of that bleak hill side with sympathy and love. Let us give them back all they gave in other words and give with interest; for, believe us however useless you may deem them now, you will miss them when they are gone. It may be as you stand by their coffins, it may be in years to come, when you tread the path once was theirs; you will stop and think; thoughts will come. Then God help you! God help us all. That in those thoughts there may not be that word of flame—Remorse.

Tell some deserving Rheumatic sufferer, that there is yet one sure way to certain relief. Get Dr. Shoop's book on Rheumatism and a free trial test. This book will make it entirely clear how Rheumatic pains are quickly killed by Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablets. Send no money. The test is free. Surprise some disheartened sufferer by getting for him the book from Dr. Shoop, Kansas, Wis.

Guide the Children Aright

However worldly and sinful people are they want their children good. How are you going to have them good? Buy them a few excellent catechisms? Bring them to church? That is all very well, but of little final results you do it with the grace of God in your heart. Do you realize that your children are started for eternity? Are they on the right road? Those little forms that are now so bright and beautiful—when they have been scattered in the dust, there will be an immortal spirit living on in a mighty theater of action, and your faithfulness or your neglect now is deciding their destiny.

The Man Chained to the Bottle Has Sorrow

The story is told of a group of handsome young men laughing and drinking in a bar room when a poor tottering tramp peeped open the door and with sad eyes looked at them appealingly. "Come in, Senator, and drown your cares in the flowing bowl!" they said jeeringly. "I will come in, thank you," he said, for I am cold and hungry. "Take this brandy, Senator," they said mockingly, "and drink to our health." After swallowing the liquor the tramp gazed at them for an instant and then with dignity and eloquence that showed how far he had fallen in the social scale he began to speak.

"Gentlemen, he said, I wish you well. You and I complete a picture of my life. I was, alas, a senator, my bloated face was once as young and handsome as yours. This splendid figure once walked as proudly as yours, I too, once had a home, friends and position. I had a wife as beautiful as an angel's dream and I dropped the priceless pearl of honor and respect in the wine cup, and Cleopatra like saw it dissolve and quaffed it down. I had children as sweet and lovely as the flowers of spring and I saw them fade and die under the curse of a drunken father. I had a home where love lit the flame upon the altar and ministered before it and I put out the holy fire and darkness and desolation reigned in its stead. I had aspirations and ambitions that soared as high as the morning star, and I broke and bruised their beautiful wings and at last strangled them that I might be tortured with their cries no more. To-day I am a husband without a wife; a father with out a child; a tramp without a home; a man in whom every good impulse is dead—all, all swallowed up in the maelstrom of drink." "Young gentlemen he said, as he passed out into the darkness which ever way you go—whether you follow your mother's wives' or children's prayers and enjoy their love on earth and dwell with them in Heaven or whether you become a sullen and fatal foe like me—I wish you well.

Tears dimmed the eyes of the young men as they watched a despairing soul disappear.

A few years ago there was a shiftless colored boy named Ransom Black, who after being caught in a number of petty delinquencies was at last sentenced to a short term in the penitentiary, where he was sent to learn a trade. On the day of his return home he met a friendly white acquaintance who asked:

"Well, what did they put you at in the prison Ransome?"

"Devil, started in to make an honest boy out of me, sah."

"That's good Ransome, and I hope they succeeded."

"They did, sah."

"And how did they teach you to be honest?"

"Dev done put me in the shoe shop, sah, mah's' pasetboard outer shoes for leather soles, sah."

Alcohol to Children

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely. Children do not need stimulating." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young. Follow his advice. He knows. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Mining Industry

According to a comparison instituted by Harper's Weekly the mining industry now ranks in magnitude and importance, second only to agriculture among the foundation industries of the United States. It now contributes over $2,000,000,000 annually to the national wealth, as compared with $7,500,000,000 from agriculture; but it contributes sixty-five per cent. of the freight traffic of the country, as compared with only 11 per cent. from agriculture. Its manufactured products in 1907 amounted to a total of $4,318,598,661, and the wages paid to the men engaged in such manufacture amounted to $863,538,485, as against $735,101,760 paid to those engaged in agriculture. The mineral industry is increasing in its complexity and importance with relation to the other branches of industry. In addition to its contribution of sixty-five per cent. of the total freight traffic of the United States it requires more than three million men to do the work connected with the mining, handling and treatment of the mineral products, one million of whom work in the mines; it is the bases of the larger portion of the nation's varied manufacturing interests and of the supplies of heat and light. The production and consumption of mineral products are now increasing so rapidly that, it is estimated, the value of the products of the mines for the current decade will be nearly two and one-half times that for the preceding decade.

Magellan in the Straits

The steady wind blew west
Along the tortuous strait;
And still the lean and scowling crew,
Consumed with helpless hate,
Beheld Magellan smile
As if he joked with fate.
All day they cursed the ship;
All night they dreamed of Spain.
They called the strait a river of hell—
He swore it was the main;
For oft at eve he dipped
And found it salt again.
The sailors sickened fast;
Their eyes began to stare,
Now, wofulike ravens, from the mast
The lanterns thronged they there.
For none of their small lives
Did that great captain care.
At even and at morn
He bade their labors halt,
To swing some luckier comrade down
Into the foaming vault;
And still he smiled and said:
"The water still is salt!"
The water still was salt;
The west wind still blew free—
Sadden the sailors crowding ran
From starboard and from lee.
And lifted up their eyes
Upon the western sea.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars to any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Good Crop Outlook.

It is stated that the crops in New Brunswick never looked better at this season. From the wheat of the west comes word that timely rains have improved an already cheerful situation. In Ontario the outlook is particularly bright. A Toronto dispatch says: "Crops throughout London district are in magnificent shape and the outlook is for a record breaking harvest. The west has not had any bad effects as there have been enough showers to make the growing conditions ideal and the farmers will commence harvesting immediately. One very marked effect of the recent warm spell is the extermination of the wire worm, which it was feared might cause great damage. Crops in the Niagara district are in splendid condition. Having begun last week and the crop is fine. The wheat is excellent; better than for years. Corn is backward owing to the wet and cold weather early in the season. Some of it has been replanted. The warm, dry weather last week or ten days has brought it along rapidly. Strawberries are now abundant and of a very fine quality, and the prospects are good for other fruits."

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as strictly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The best physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its ingredients on its outside wrapper. There's no money. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers pass off any old stuff as a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trade with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Physicians, Buffalo, N. Y.—take the advice received and be well.

A very happy wedding party gathered at the residence of Mrs. John C. Henry on Wednesday afternoon to witness the marriage of her daughter, Miss Jessie Dacia Henry, to Mr. William Frederick McGibbon, of Moore's Mill. The house was prettily adorned with flowers for the occasion, presenting a most festive appearance, the color scheme being green and white. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Legal, of the Union church, Calais. Promptly at the hour of 5 o'clock the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Ethel Chase, sounded softly through the house. With the bride and groom, unattended, came into the drawing room and stood in the lay window where the ceremony took place. The bride wore a most pretty and attractive in a lovely gown of white silk with overdress of white, small and Irish embroidery. She wore a veil of tulle and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. After the ceremony and congratulations, refreshments were served. At 6 o'clock the happy young pair left on the C. P. R. train for a trip to Ontario. I have heard it, scores of times, and it's one of the reasons that made me decide to go into the Coffee business.

Of the Americans who visit us in summer, hundreds take home a supply of Red Rose Tea because they have never used such good tea before. I determined to put up a coffee that would make for itself just as good a reputation. It has not been easy, but I am sure I have succeeded.
