Special to The Standard.

Murdock a Fizzle.

The Minister of Labor denied that the Court of Commerce was the outcome of the Winnipeg strike, but that it had been projected before the armistice, and a Cabinet Committee had recommended its inauguration in 1918 and in 1919, a parliamentary committee of all parties made a similar report.

FIVE PERSONS BURN TO DEATH IN HOUSE FIRE

Mother and Five Children Perish in Burning House—Another Child Very Low.

North Bay, Ont., Nov. 9.—Five persons dead and one child badly burned was the total reached tonight in the carnages of a fire which destroyed three houses at Kearney at 4.30 this morning. The dead are: Mrs. Fred Wheeler, her baby girl Doria, aged three months, Doria, aged about six years, and Sophie, aged seventeen years, who died this evening from burns. Another child, Alfred, is very low. The only members of the family to escape were William, aged twenty-three, and Freddie, aged about nine, who jumped from a window at the rear of the house. William made a brave attempt to rescue his mother from a front room, but she failed to answer his call.

The tragedy occurred during the absence of Mr. Wheeler, who had left for North Bay, a distance of about twenty miles, on an early train. He was informed of the fire by his family by a telegram which was handed to him at the station here, and sobbing wildly, he sought the nearest telephone. He returned to the scene of the tragedy on the noon train.

It is believed that Mr. Wheeler was spared the suffering of death actually from the flames, but that he died because they reached her, as it was known that she had been suffering from heart trouble for some time. With her in bed was the three-month-old child Doria.

The houses on both sides of the Wheeler home were burned, but the occupants escaped with their lives, and some of their belongings. The cause of the fire is still under investigation, but does not describe the origin of the fire.

French Are Holding Marriage Markets

Girls Selected by Judges—Courtships Are Rapid But Unions Are Happy.

A story is going the rounds of the American press that the marriage market is being revived in certain parts of France, particularly in Folia and Vendee. The war left France with many hundreds of thousands of odd women, who in the ordinary course of events could hardly be expected to become wives, their prospective husbands having been killed or maimed. Moreover, the burden of taxation which the French people have to shoulder has made the regular more cautious in venturing into matrimony, for the idea that two can live as cheaply as one is not a French proverb. The marriage market idea is not designed to strike a balance between the sexes. A million eligible cannot be summoned forth from their graves. The idea is to encourage every available man to take a wife, and this idea is said to be working out satisfactorily.

The Get-Acquainted Club. The marriage markets are becoming an established feature of the life of hundreds of villages and towns. Usually they are held on the first or second of every month, but sometimes there are special markets with nothing on exhibition but the girls and their admirers. The idea is to attract a certain number of young men from a distance to the market. It might be supposed that the young men in any particular neighborhood would have plenty of opportunities of meeting the young ladies in the same parish and forming their own opinions as to their value as wives. The marriage market, however, gives them the opportunity of getting acquainted with the girls of other parishes. They have also the advantage of knowing that the girls who display themselves at the market are desirous of getting married and are not committed to some unknown rival. It must often happen that for many reasons a girl would not make such a strong appeal to the young man, or that she might be a stranger to some one who sees her for the first time.

Catalogue of Beauty

The girls selected for the market by men who are supposed to be good judges of looks and who understand thoroughly the sort of wife a young Frenchman should have. These experts travel about the country—at whose instance is not explained—and make a list of all the marriageable girls in the neighborhood. These are classified according to age, looks, and build, and their various qualifications are noted. These items are set down on a card, which is supplied each girl with. The girls are then invited to the next market, where a special place is reserved for the contestants. Each girl comes provided with a large roll of parasol, which she uses as a shield, besides offering her protection against sun and rain. It also serves the purpose of a small tent when a prospective husband wishes to make an examination of the contestants, and even, as we are told, help himself to a sample embrace.

Few Without Offers. For a casual kiss the girl merely lowers her parasol to fend off the eyes of the rivals, but when the investigator desires to refresh himself more copiously, she turns her back upon the spectators and holds the parasol in such a way that both she and her parasol are hidden. This is usually a sign of approval, because it is supposed that the man and the girl are strongly attracted and that a marriage is likely to result. At the close of the market there is a general jollification, and many of the girls walk off with their new friends to complete the plans for their marriage. We are told, however, for girls to receive at least one offer of marriage in the course of a single fair, and the more attractive, as a rule, receive several. When an offer is made, it is almost certain that she has unusually high standards, rather than that she is singularly barren of attractions.

Things that are not worth praying for are not worth having. Neale continued. "I am praying that we will win our next game and that we will go through the season without a defeat. "I believe that my prayers have been answered somewhat so far this season as none of my players have been hurt to speak of, and we have come off the field a winner in every game. "No one knew that Neale was a praying coach until he delivered his remarkable speech. He received a remarkable ovation.

Dog Derby Again Under Discussion

Prospects of Large List of Entries in the North Country Classic.

The Pas, Man., Nov. 7.—Cold weather once again revives the Pas 200 mile dog derby as a topic of conversation in this northern country and prospects look bright for a record list of entries. ### Fame As Praying Football Coach

"Never, since I have been coaching at football, have I seen a team on the gridiron without praying that my men would come out victorious and that they would not be hurt in the contest. That is the way Earle 'Greasy' Neale, former major league outfielder, started a recent remarkable speech to the undergraduate body at Wake Forest college. Neale was better known as Oshes when he broke into professional baseball with the London Canadian League club in 1913. He was sold by London to Cleveland, where he was turned loose only to bob up again at Wheeling, Va., from there he went to Saginaw in 1915. The South Michigan League disbanded that year and Neale finished the season with London that year under Doc Reisinger and Wally Hartwell. He joined the Cincinnati Reds, and helped to win the 1919 world's championship.

HAD BAD COUGH AND SORE THROAT

Never neglect a cough or cold however slight. If you do it can have but one result; it leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. A single dose of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP will help to stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree along with the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs, roots and barks promptly eradicate the bad effects, and the persistent one cannot but help to bring about relief.

Mr. Albert Marsh, Lower L'Angeles, N. S., writes: "About a year ago I contracted a cold accompanied by a very bad cough and sore throat. I sent for the doctor, but what he prescribed did me so little good I began to get discouraged. A friend came to see me and asked me if I had ever used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I had not and sent him right away to get me a bottle. I started using it, and after a couple of days I found I was getting better. After taking two bottles the soreness in my throat seemed to be leaving me, so I resolved to continue its use, and after I had used five bottles both my sore throat and cough were gone. I would not be without 'Dr. Wood's' for any money."

Free England on Charge of Attempting to Extort Money from Bottomley.

London, Nov. 9.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—Owing to the judgment handed down by Justice Russell in favor of the editor of the John Bull on the charge of attempting to extort money from Horatio Bottomley, M. P., publisher of John Bull, Sir Charles Dixon, the magistrate at the Bow street police court, said: "After carefully considering the case, and with a due sense of the seriousness of what I am saying, I am unable to believe Bottomley, on oath, regarding the indictment in the charge. I am unable to believe that this prosecution for blackmail is an honest, bona fide prosecution."

The accused was discharged on the one charge of attempted extortion, but was committed on other charges which were not dependent upon Bottomley's evidence. These included alleged criminal libel. The alleged libel was contained in a printed pamphlet headed: "The downfall of Horatio Bottomley, M. P. His latest and greatest swindle. How he gulped poor subscribers to invest one pound notes in his great victory bond club."

Biggest Problem At U. S. Conference Will Be Chinese

Repington Thinks That China's Case, Well Stated, Will Gain Support.

Washington, Nov. 9.—We are within three days of the opening of the conference, and in spite of the difficulties and complexities of the subjects to be discussed, there is a certain quiet confidence that the object of President Harding calling this assembly together may be accomplished.

The foundation of this feeling is to be found in the obvious and even remarkable good-will of the delegates, which reflect, presumably, the sentiments and intentions of the Governments which they represent.

We all know our own views and are naturally zealous of them but we must also strive to comprehend at least the views of other nations and even to respect them. No one must be asked to sacrifice vital national interests or security.

In other words, the plan may be found to lack simplicity, and my experience of the first Peace Conference was that the more we tried ourselves up with technical detail in attempts to limit armaments...

ERCY AND FERDIE—Over the Wall and Back Again

HONOR BAXTER AND COL. MacLAREN ADDRESSED LARGE AUDIENCE AT HILLSBORO

Minister of Customs Showed Up the Wobbly Mackenzie King and Predicted His Defeat in North York—Tariff Issue Clearly Defined by the Minister—Colonel MacLaren Compares the Three Parties in the Fight, Showing the Superiority of the Meighen Policy.

A fine reception was given Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, Minister of Customs and Excise, and Dr. Murray MacLaren, of St. John, the two nominees for St. John-Albert of the National Liberal Conservative party, on their appearance at a big political meeting held in Hillsboro.

Before an audience which filled the hall and comprised in its ranks many ladies, an audience which was attentive but not slow to show its approval of the sound arguments put before them by the speakers, the two nominees clearly expounded the policy of their party, exposed the falsehoods of the Liberal leader, and explained the danger of the policy of the C. P. R. party.

Mr. John L. Peck, the member for Albert in the local house, acted as chairman of the meeting, during the course of which he read a letter from Mr. Lewis T. Smith, M. L. A., expressing his regret at not being able to attend on account of suffering from an injury.

When the speakers of the evening ascended to the platform they were greeted with cheers.

On the platform, besides the nominees, were the following: J. Nelson Smith, Coveville; Miles Murray, Hillsboro; Wm. H. Martin, Albert; W. H. Bishop, A. Jonah, Hillsboro; Dr. S. C. Murray, Albert; A. W. Garland, John Gasque, Coveville; A. Sherwood, A. Lauder, Hillsboro.

Mr. Peck, in opening the meeting, made a few remarks in which he referred to several local matters. He also paid a tribute to Premier Meighen and lauded the fact that one of the staunch supporters of Meighen and one whom the Premier had seen fit to call into his cabinet was a Hillsboro man, Hon. R. B. Bennett, K. C., Minister of Justice, a reference which was greeted with applause.

Dr. Murray MacLaren, in opening his remarks Dr. MacLaren said he was pleased to greet the collectors of those enthusiastic men of Albert who had attended the convention a short time ago.

It has sometimes been said, said the speaker, that Mr. Meighen's difference which party was voted for. He was sure it could be satisfactorily shown that there was a definite difference between the parties in the field. For instance, the farmers' party, so called Progressives, originated in the West among the Western grain growers, men whose interests are common with the eastern farmers, who engage in mixed farming. Mr. Crawford and his party are out for a class policy and want free trade.

Liberalism and Farmers and Free Trade. The Liberals and the farmers are largely similar in relation to the policy of free trade. The policy of the Liberals in this respect is not so great a degree as the farmers would have it, but their policy definitely marks out the line leading to free trade. Mr. Meighen's policy means free trade, and free trade means free importation and exportation of articles which entrance free would not be beneficial to the country. Mr. King's statements in regard to this matter are a clear and direct statement of the issue. He says it is not an issue, that it is a big question, and that it is the vital question in this campaign.

The third party is the National Liberal and Conservative party. Mr. Meighen, the leader, is consistent in his stand. He is for a protective tariff, not a prohibitive tariff, but sufficient to encourage and establish new and intimate industries in this country to that our country may grow and expand. The big question before the voters is to decide whether they will support Mr. Meighen and his followers in their stand to increase the industries of our country and make the country itself grow, or protect our present markets and increase them, or the alternative.

You are all aware of the tremendous wealth of the United States. Are they devotees of free trade? Has free trade made them what they are? England herself has a protective tariff for many years a form of free trade, but years protected certain industries.

In Mr. Meighen we have a man of high minded ideals who, while according opportunity for revision from time to time as necessity requires, is firm in his stand that our own people shall be protected first.

King's Efforts to Create Disaffection. Referring to the leader of the Liberal party, Dr. MacLaren said that Mr. King's fuss over his discovery of shells being shipped into Canada was merely an effort to deflect the people against the Government. Mr. King's effort to create disaffection was shown up by the Premier's letter and by the letter of General MacBrien. King's unstable nature in his campaign work marks him as a man not stable enough to govern the country.

Hon. Dr. Baxter, in referring to the local matters mentioned by the chairman, Mr. Peck, should have serious consideration, Hon. Dr. Baxter did not dwell on preliminaries.

In the 1917 contest, he said, the campaign was waged under different conditions than the present one. In the former campaign men and women joined together in the resolve that cost what it might in men, money and blood, Canada should take her proper place in upholding the great principles at stake.

While the 1917 election might be described as a national election, this election cities, they do not depend on the cities. Their market is the world. Suppose you take our largest city and transplant it to the other side of the U. S. line—it would make no difference to Mr. Crawford and his grain growers because there would be the same number of people to feed and those people would have to pay the increased cost of transportation of their food from the grain growers to themselves. The grain grower does not set the price of his grain; the price is set in New York or London or Liverpool.

Mr. King's word is not dependable. The St. John Telegraph quotes him as saying that the $400,000,000 Dominion expenditure per year costs every man, woman and child $82 per year in taxation or $310 for a family of five. A little consideration will soon convince of the fallacy of the statement. Only those who buy the imported articles are paying the tax. Those who are most able to pay and will insist on buying the imported articles are the ones who pay that tax. Those who buy the Canadian made boots and shoes of Canadian manufacture do not pay that tax. No one pays it on food, for we all buy our food grown near us. With a few other homely illustrations Dr. Baxter completely dispelled the false impressions scattered broadcast by Mr. King.

Mr. King Will Not Be Premier. Mr. MacKenzie King, said Hon. Dr. Baxter, in seeking to foist these ruse-hoods on the people is endeavoring to cut to his vanity in the hope of becoming the Premier of Canada. Mr. King will not be elected in the constituency of North York; and after this election Mr. King will vanish like a bubble on the Atlantic Ocean.

Dr. Baxter eulogized Premier Meighen as a man of principle, a man of his word, a man of ability and a man with a remarkable gift of administration.

The Railway Question. The chairman spoke of taking over your local railway. I can assure you that the matter will be taken into serious consideration. There is only one question I would like to ask you concerning it—how would you like to have it handed over to a private corporation, over which the government would have no control?

Turning to the Transcontinental Railway, Dr. Baxter blamed the Liberals for the huge responsibility of so many transcontinental lines of useless railways. Since the government has made an endeavor to straighten out the national railways, the speaker said, he was sure they would favor handing them over to their former owners, or to the C. P. R. But Mr. King says Mr. Lemieux and other members were not spokesmen for the Liberals when they made those declarations, but that they were private individuals. "Suppose Dr. MacLaren and I," said Dr. Baxter, "spoke to you here to contradict those policies would you not want to know which one of us spoke for the party?"

Mr. King a Puppet. In closing Dr. Baxter stated that Mr. Lemieux and several of the other members were not spokesmen for the Liberal party when they spoke out to Mr. King who was the puppet in front and who responded to the pulling of those wires.

To Mr. Meighen he was a man of high minded ideals, who while according opportunity for revision from time to time as necessity requires, is firm in his stand that our own people shall be protected first.

The meeting closed with the singing of a large number of songs which were maintained for some time to meet Hon. Dr. Baxter and Dr. MacLaren.

Mr. King's Falseness. Mr. King's word is not dependable. The St. John Telegraph quotes him as saying that the $400,000,000 Dominion expenditure per year costs every man, woman and child $82 per year in taxation or $310 for a family of five. A little consideration will soon convince of the fallacy of the statement. Only those who buy the imported articles are paying the tax. With a few other homely illustrations Dr. Baxter completely dispelled the false impressions scattered broadcast by Mr. King.

DO YOUR BOWELS Move Regularly, Or Do They BECOME CONSTIPATED

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which is more harmful to the system. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and offensive matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent skin and bilious headaches, intestinal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXATIVE PILLS will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Samuel E. Beecher, Treasurer, N. S. writes: "After over a year's suffering with constipation, I took several different kinds of medicine, but only got temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxative Pills and I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that it was a farmer's health in one very small pill. I tried the old trade or 'Buy in the cheapest market.' The Western farmers once nothing for the Expert Naval Opinion Does Not Give Plane Chief Place in Conference. Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—In spite of the rather insistent reports to the contrary, there has been no break in the Navy Department relative to the general opinion of the aviation arm. While there are a few officers in the army air service and a few retired naval officers who believe the airplane is a superior and more far-reaching means of discussion of limitations must be passed the Navy Department is united throughout all its bureaus on the fact that the capital ship is the issue at stake.

The very general opinion is that the airplane in no way has supplanted the surface warship. The chief of the staff seriously menace the existence of any proted type. Also, the general belief is that the plane never will replace the surface warship, although some types in the future because of its limitations.

Because of this opinion the plans now being considered at the conference, once like the destroyer, the submarine or the light cruiser; as an auxiliary type to the main fleet, the capital ship. Many officers of the aviation arm are practically of the same opinion. After a tour of the Department from one bureau to the other one is convinced of the general opinion of the navy as a whole.

England Sticks to Battleships. It is not likely that any of the nations taking part in the conference will raise any question as to the position of the plane in naval warfare. Practically the same opinion prevails throughout the civilized world. England has fully tested the powers of the plane to her own satisfaction and has decided to build battleships, in the opinion of the British navy. Japan seems to be following the British line in this respect, and while France intends to build cruisers of great size, the bulk of the fleet of that country is to be built on the lines of a battleship. It has been so throughout the history of civilization. Italy also clings to the battleship, although the lack of funds precludes putting the idea into effect.

Throughout the centuries of civilization the battleship has been the dominant naval type. The charge of extreme conservatism against our navy is ridiculous. In the early days of the steamship the battleship, then, was the sailing ship-line, then the steam frigate, then the monitor, the dreadnought type, the dreadnought type, the battleship. The progress is apparent. When developments are made they are adopted by every navy in the world.

Work of Planes Limited. The most damning proof against the plane as the supreme naval type is that no nation even considers its actual adoption as the main fighting type. The great problems concerning the limitations agenda is the safety of the sea lanes. This will require an armed patrol capable of intercepting and attacking any hostile vessel, whether either disarmament or the limitation of armaments is achieved. When the planes have proved capable of a distance of even 250 miles off coast, they proved that they never will be able to operate successfully against the naval powers. If developments in the sea lanes which are being made will require the plane to work under weather conditions which are also impossible to them.

The position of the plane in naval armaments and in the limitations agenda is perfectly clear. It is an auxiliary type to spot the long range gun, to operate as a fast scout for short distance work at present or even contingencies depending on the weather. It is only the clear that none of the duties suggest sea control, the ultimate object of all naval warfare. The plane has no effect on the power of any nation or to come they will have to be dealt with as they appear. The same conference has no place to indulge in any dreams.

America's geographical position has a great deal to do with her attitude toward aviation, either as a means of defence or to guard against aerial attack. In order to attack the United States, a tremendous force of planes would be required, and this force would have to be transported over either the Atlantic or the Pacific Ocean, as the case might be. The value of airplanes which will work under weather conditions, such as those of the coast, but in view of the recent bombing tests, its value even in this respect is claimed to be negligible, and it is certainly open to serious doubt.

Then again we have to allow an enemy force to come so dangerously near our coast as 150 miles, even should we possess the huge force which the plane enthusiasts consider necessary to properly protect our coast.

A blockade certainly would be a ruinous thing for our country, especially in such a case with the actual value of the plane improved.

Then again, such an air force would have an initial cost approximately the same as from seven to eight of the greatest and most expensive battleships of today, and this initial expenditure

Expert Naval Opinion Does Not Give Plane Chief Place in Conference. Viscount Shibusawa Addresses Sunday School Class on International Relations.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—On authority which is presumed to be reliable it is possible to reveal the secret of the proposals concerning the Far East which America will take to the Washington conference. The new American policy involves the very widest extension of the Hay doctrine. The key to the American scheme may be stated as follows:

It is desired in the Far East to obtain the complete separation of politics and economics. This policy is not only favored by the administration but it has the entire support of Wall Street. It is on the basis of this separation of the industry from political influences that the American delegation hopes to find a new era in international affairs. As the result of a united pledge to keep politics and economics separate the American Government expects the nations of the world to begin to lay down their arms.

"I was almost desperate from worrying over her condition, as she had suffered so long without getting raised, and I can hardly believe my own eyes now when I see the change in her. Why, she doesn't show her age by twenty years and declares she never remembers feeling better in her life. Her health was falling steadily for a year as a result of catarrh of the stomach, and I have never seen any body suffer so much from indigestion and nervousness as she did."

"After a five weeks' course of Tanlac she was like another person, and I'm firmly convinced that years have been added to her life. It makes me shudder now when I think what the result might have been if she had taken Tanlac in time."

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 8.—Despite the fact that most of Canada is "dry," (the Province of Quebec being a notable exception) imports of whiskey and other liquors have enormously increased in the last two years. The Toronto Globe finds in the figures, just made public at Ottawa, evidence that Canada is being used by the liquor manufacturers of the world as a gateway to push their output into the United States.

"We are as people smuggling or conniving at smuggling of a million gallons a year or more of whiskey, or when Canada collects duty before it finds its way into our neighbor's backyard," says the Globe.

The value of whiskey imported in 1919, as shown by custom figures, was $7,700,000; last year it was $22,947,000. Gin imported in 1919 was valued at $2,274,000; in 1921 it was $4,174,325. Brandy imports were valued in 1919 at $378,694; and at $3,372,375 in 1921.

For the last three years the total value of distilled and fermented liquors imported into Canada was $1,840,963 in 1919; $3,153,339 in 1920, and $4,963,630 in 1921.

ABOUT CAKE MAKING.

Of course the old housekeeper knows all the tricks of the trade, but it's young new home-maker who requires the help of a good recipe. The old housewife seldom reads a way, so it is to the young beginner to find out the tricks of the trade. You'll let me whisper a secret about cake making?

To obtain delicate texture mix butter with water instead of milk. Also helps in keeping the cake moist to acquire the tenderness which many cakes lack, be sure the shortening is rich. To produce a color snowy as angel food, be certain that you begin that the shortening is well and use a light colored flavoring.

One cupful granulated sugar, 1 full boiling water, 6 squares chocolate, 1 spoonful vanilla extract. Melt the sugar in the boiling water and add the chocolate before it begins to boil. When it becomes stiff before it is spread, add a tablespoon of vanilla extract.

Use sugar to make the frosting of a consistency to spread and run from the cake. If it becomes stiff before it is spread, add a tablespoon of vanilla extract.

Eczema Makes You Wish You Could Scratch. Your disease, which is sometimes called itches, not only itches, but also burns, oozes, dries and scabs over and over again. Sometimes it covers the whole body and causes intense suffering.

You must thoroughly purify your blood or the eruption will continue among, perhaps agonize you. The Hood's Sarsaparil. This purifying medicine has been successfully used in thousands of cases.

To make and keep the bowels in many active, the Hood's Pills are gentle and thorough.

I'm So Tired

Fatigue is the result of poison in the blood. So when the kidneys fail to purify the blood one of the first indications is unusual and persistent tired feeling and pains in the back.

Neglected kidney trouble leads to years of suffering, but when you develop into such fatal ailments as Bright's disease, the kidney action is promptly corrected by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills—the best known regulator of kidneys, liver and bowels.

Mrs. Joha Ireland, R.R. No. 2, King, Ont., writes: "I was a great sufferer from acute headaches and bilious spells. I tried a number of remedies without obtaining any benefit until I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These completely relieved me and made me feel like a new person. I am very grateful to Dr. Chase's medicines for what they have done for me, and you may use my letter for the benefit of others."

The earth's envelope of air is estimated to extend for 300 miles above it.

YOU DO YOUR BOWELS

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which is more harmful to the system. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and offensive matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent skin and bilious headaches, intestinal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXATIVE PILLS will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Samuel E. Beecher, Treasurer, N. S. writes: "After over a year's suffering with constipation, I took several different kinds of medicine, but only got temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxative Pills and I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that it was a farmer's health in one very small pill. I tried the old trade or 'Buy in the cheapest market.' The Western farmers once nothing for the

As a result of a united pledge to keep politics and economics separate the American Government expects the nations of the world to begin to lay down their arms.

The new politico-economic imperialism which has replaced the older conception of more exclusively political imperialism to the peace of the world. The habit has grown up everywhere for political forces to stand behind national industry and thereby to obtain special economic rights and privileges for the citizens of the country exercising its political forces.

The United States Government has traditionally taken a stand against this sort of political imperialism. It has for the open door in China, its quarrel with England over Mesopotamia and its continual refusal to subsidize home industries are instances in which America has stood for the separation of politics and economics. The Monroe Doctrine also draws the distinction between the use of political force and ordinary economic activities.

In opposition to the traditional American policy, it is understood that England and Japan would prefer a comparative isolationism. America being the third party under which America would abandon her present attitude and engage in the same politico-economic game that has made a patchwork of the world.

The Administration is believed to be strongly opposed to this cornered agreement. This is considered to have many disadvantages. Among these are the moral effect that such a course of action might have on China. For if America also decides to take part in or show her approval for the accepted programme of carving up the disintegrating Chinese Empire this inevitably will work toward the ultimate domination of China by Japan. Japan then will be able more successfully to urge a union between China and Japan on the ground that all the Western Powers are following the same selfish ends.

On the other hand, if America, England and France pledge themselves to abandon all forms of politico-economic imperialism, it will be possible for Japan, with equal dignity, to follow a course that will insure the peace of the world. When political spheres of interest no longer bring unfair economic advantages with them, the underlying motive for the present territorial scramble in China will be removed. The carrying out of such a policy will be in the hands of an international commission, and all future loans in China will be handled exclusively by this international body.

TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

Any woman in ordinary good health can lose from four to six pounds a week by proper dieting. This does not mean going without breakfast or lunch, and attacking the morning or afternoon duties with a headache or a listless feeling. Dieting that starves the system is unwise and leaves you gaunt in visage and depressed in spirits. Any diet means self-sacrifice and superfluous pounds can never be dropped without a little suffering and some self-control. The light, healthy tissues of new fat will clamor to be fed and the more it is starved, the more it will clamor to be fed and the more you have to eat to feed that weight. Once the weight has gone, the fat will be gone, too.

Chamber of Labor Proclaims General Strike In Rome

Sequel to Differences Between Railway Workers and Extreme Nationalists.

Rome, Nov. 9.—The Chamber of Labor, today, decided to proclaim a general strike in Rome. The decision came as a sequel to differences that have arisen between railway workers and the Fascist, or extreme nationalist. Conflicts occurred during the day between Fascist and railwaymen, and the train service out of Rome was temporarily suspended. The trouble arose over the railway men becoming angry at members of the Fascist who were arriving in Rome waving flags from the windows of a train. In the fighting, revolver shots were exchanged and one railway man was wounded. After this disturbance a large crowd of station porters and other employees armed themselves and attacked another train bringing in Fascist. During the fighting which ensued the spectators fled in all directions. The Government has taken severe measures to insure order during the visit of the Fascist. Parades and meetings have been prohibited. The strike is expected to be a short one.

THE TELEGRAPH ON RAILWAY MATTERS.

The Telegraph has on several occasions recently talked very interestingly on several details of the railway question which is now before the people of Canada.

"To many thousands of the electors in Canada the most interesting and important passages in Hon. Mr. King's speeches are those in which he deals with the Government's railway policy, a policy which has cost the country an enormous sum and placed a staggering burden upon the shoulders of the taxpayer, a policy which has resulted in the purchase by the Government of Canada of hundreds of miles of railway in the United States which is being used to divert Canadian traffic from Canadian ports in the interests of our neighbors to the south.

"Waite Hon. Mr. Meighan is declaring that the Liberals would place Canada at the mercy of the United States, the electors of this country are by no means overlooking the fact that it was Mr. Meighan and his associates who purchased a railroad leading to Portland, Maine, with great terminals and grain elevators, and that they are seeing to it that this transportation system in United States territory and ending at a United States port are being fed at the expense of the Canadian roads and Canadian ports.

The foregoing is very interesting in view of all the events which have happened since the N. T. & G. T. E. railway was first proposed by the Laurier Government in 1903. The proposal then was that the Government should build the N. T. railway from Moncton to Winnipeg at its own expense, and that the Grand Trunk should build from Winnipeg to the coast, about seventy-five per cent. of the cost of construction to be guaranteed by the Government.

The "ravenousness" of this arrangement was at once apparent, because naturally the Grand Trunk, in its controlling capacity would take care that all traffic originating in Central and Western Canada should be routed over its own line to Portland, instead of over the N. T. R. to Maritime Province ports. No newspaper in Canada more bitterly opposed this railway proposal than did The Telegraph, as will be seen from the following excerpts from its columns:

"There is very little sentiment in business. While the Grand Trunk maintains and improves its vast terminal facilities at Portland, (Me.), as long as its millions are invested there, and the haul to Portland is its shortest haul, so long will the Maine seaport stand between St. John and the prosperity which should come to this city, as the natural winter port of Canada, unless the Senate rejects the Grand Trunk Pacific bill which the Government will drive through the House of Commons.

"For the Grand Trunk is the Grand Trunk Pacific and the one fatal weakness in the Government's railway policy is its absolute failure to provide against the diversion of Canadian freight to American ports.

"The people of Canada are unanimous in their opinion that any new transcontinental railroads should be a bona-fide, all-Canadian enterprise, controlled by the people's representatives and operated in the interests of the country. They are opposed to any plan which does not safeguard Canadian ports by something more substantial than the promises of the Grand Trunk Pacific promoters."

And on October 23rd, 1904. "When a year ago, this country was prosperous and confident and the Treasury was in good condition, why was it necessary for the Government to subsidize the Grand Trunk Pacific and present to that corporation, as a gift, privileges of inestimable value.

"Why was it necessary to permit the agreement to be so framed that the Company could rob Canadian ports?" "Why was it necessary to commit the country to a scheme making the expenditure of $150,000,000 before surveys had been made to prove that the proposed route was practicable?"

"Why should the people of Canada not own, build, control and profit the next transcontinental instead of presenting the road to a corporation which has $35,000,000 invested at Portland, Maine, and which intends to send the traffic to that port."

"Why did the Government rush the job through, before the people had a chance to pass upon it, and when it was known they were opposed to it?" "What right had the last Parliament to saddle upon the country a project to which the tax payers had not consented, and to which a majority of them are opposed?"

Again on October 25th, 1904. "Allowing seven years for construction from Moncton to Winnipeg, with seven years thereafter free of rent, and a further three years with option of capitalization, seventeen years will elapse before any payment of rent becomes obligatory. During this period the Grand Trunk pays interest at 6 per cent. on the entire capital stock of the Portland connection; in all 102 per cent."

"The Grand Trunk must therefore hand over its leased Portland line within seven years of the present date a sufficient amount of traffic to produce a net revenue adequate to cover the whole original cost of the Portland road and two per cent. over, before the Grand Trunk or the Grand Trunk Pacific will be under any obligation to pay one cent of rental on the Moncton line."

"The Grand Trunk Pacific will hold a fifty year lease of the Moncton line with an option of renewal for a further fifty years. The Grand Trunk's lease of the Portland line runs for 99 years. When the first fifty years lease of the Moncton line runs out, the Portland line will still have 90 years of life. The Grand Trunk cannot afford to develop through traffic over a route held only on a short lease, as against an alternate route held virtually in perpetuity."

"The Grand Trunk lease of the Portland line on a 6 per cent. rental for 99 years ratified by Acts of Parliament of the Province of Canada in the years 1854 and 1858 gives that Company the right to send its export traffic through Portland. Every bushel of grain loaded into a Grand Trunk car, in the Canadian North, West or elsewhere, for export to Great Britain, which he attributes to the evil effects of our tariff. It would puzzle him to mention a time in the history of the Dominion when there was not a movement of our people to the United States. Here, as in Great Britain, the great centres of population have a magnetic attraction for very many people. New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other large cities in the neighboring Republic have been the Mecca for ambitious young Canadians for over half a century, just as London and the great industrial centres of England have been for ambitious

"But the attempt failed. The latter avoided the vital point at issue, it neglected to mention that the contract does not bind the shipper, and that, therefore, the contract does not bind the Grand Trunk Pacific or the Grand Trunk."

"There is one and only one way to guarantee the carriage of all Canadian freight to Canadian ports, winter and summer, and that is to have the railroad built, owned and controlled by the people of Canada."

"To talk of binding the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific by such a contract as the existing one is to talk of binding these giants with ropes of straw."

Every issue of The Telegraph about these dates, roundly condemned the Laurier proposals regarding the N. T. and G. T. P. Railways, but the foregoing excerpts will be sufficient to show the general tenor of that journal's criticisms.

Such were The Telegraph's views before the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific was begun. The Editor of that journal in those days, was Mr. E. W. Macredy. He is the Editor still, but his paper now-days blames the Conservative party for doing the very thing that he then accused the Liberal party of contemplating, and which in fact it actually carried out. Had the Grand Trunk Pacific and the National Transcontinental never been built, and the Government not committed to providing it with excessive financial assistance, the present day trouble would never have arisen at all. There is a danger that traffic which ought to come to Maritime Province ports may be routed via Portland, but the danger is no greater today, now that the Government has been compelled to take over the Grand Trunk, than it ever has been. The danger existed, as The Telegraph so convincingly pointed out, from the very commencement; it is neither greater or less today than it ever has been.

It is true that the Canadian Government has acquired several hundred miles of railways in the United States. It had to do so, in order to save something for the country which, under Laurier rule, had so generously assisted that railway with financial aid. To have failed to take over what was left of the wreckage would have meant the loss of all the money already put in. It was a bad spec, but it was the only thing to be done.

LAST NIGHT'S CONVENTION.

The proceedings at the Liberal Convention last night appear to have been of the "bear garden" type, a type which originated with the Liberal party in York County, and has usually been confined to that particular section of it.

Last night's meeting, however, would seem to indicate that the type is becoming popular with the party generally. The studied indifference to the claims of Albert County to a voice in any decision that might be made to was one of the most noticeable features of the proceedings, and it will, we would imagine, arouse a considerable degree of resentment among the voters of that county. Another very noticeable feature was the absence of all the leading members of the party, Premier Foster making it convenient to be out of town for the occasion. The situation does not strike the average looker-on as indicative of that "overwhelming victory" which The Telegraph and Times so confidently predict for the Liberal candidates on the 6th prox.

If there is no greater unanimity of opinion among the rank and file of the party than appears to be prevalent among the chosen delegates, the outlook for the 6th is bad indeed. "Birds in their little nests agree. "But 'tis a shameful sight. "When children of one (political) family fall out, and chide, and fight." (With apologies to Dr. Watts.)

THE EXHIBITION DEBIT.

Twelve months ago when the suggestion to hold an Exhibition this year was first made, we questioned the wisdom of such a course on the ground that when held too frequently, such exhibitions cease to be so attractive, and also because there would be no Government grant this year. The serious financial deficit now announced shows our criticisms to have been justified. Last year the exhibition was held under exceptional circumstances. No such show had been held for several years, and interest in it was accordingly keener than would ordinarily be the case. Also there was $5000 coming from the Government. Besides this, there were no other shows of any size going to be held in the province at the same time.

This year, the fact that four other shows immediately followed St. John's brought a very much larger live stock exhibit, for the simple reason that breeders who would not take the trouble to "ready" their stock for one show, would do so at once for several. The trouble involved in getting stock ready for five shows where $1000 might perchance be in prize, was no more than would be the case in preparing for one that could be picked up $250 was all that could be picked up. However, it is too late to change matters now, regrettable though the circumstances are.

Mr. King Runs True to Form. If Hon. W. L. M. King does not succeed in working up some excitement over the shipment back to Canada of munitions from Great Britain, it will not be through any failure on his part to scream loud enough. Mr. King, no doubt, believes that if he sells "political scandal" and "political crime" loud enough and long enough, constant repetition will result in some ill-informed suspicious electors believing that there must be something in it after all.

Just what the crime and scandal is nobody knows, and Mr. King does not say. He does not suggest that the munitions, instead of being returned to Canada, should have been dumped into the Atlantic Ocean. Perhaps he thinks the Canadian soldiers should have been kept "over there" till all the ammunition was fired off. There are people mean enough to say that if Mr. King had helped to fire some of it, perhaps there would not be so much to send back now.

But Mr. King has excited the curiosity of the female voters by talking "scandal." They will never forgive him if he does not let them in on the secret. Will Mr. King please furnish a diagram explaining the plot for the benefit of the average elector who is not blessed with his subtle intellect?

He says he has a "political bomb." Why is he not exploding it? Is he afraid the public will discover it is just a squib?

It is interesting to note that this is the same Mr. King who appealed to the prejudices of the foreign-born constituents in Waterloo by denouncing the Government for "building battle-ships to fight the Germans."

Further Opportunity Will Be Given For Registration of Voters From Monday, Nov. 14th, to Saturday, 19th, Those Not on List May Register.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—(By Canadian Press)—Although the registration of voters for the Federal elections closed on Saturday, another opportunity is provided for those who neglected to register to place their names on the lists. The voters' lists, prepared by the registrars in cities, towns and villages of over 2,500 population, have been handed to the Judges of the County Courts or Judicial Districts, and revising officers appointed by these judges will sit for six days, from Monday, Nov. 14, to Saturday, Nov. 19, for the purpose of adding names, or making other authorized changes. Substitutions cannot be made unless two days' notice by registered letter is given to the persons objected to. Places where revising officers will sit will be advertised for four days. If a person has been refused registration, he or she can, without previous notice, appear before the revising officers in person and ask to be registered. Mistakes, such as the misspelling of names of streets, may be corrected without notice. Any person in rural localities who, on election day finds his name is not on the list, may vote in the division in which he lives by being vouched for by any person whose name does not appear on the list.

The annual meeting of the Associated Charities was held yesterday afternoon at the Board of Trade, W. E. Fisher, president, presiding. The report of the secretary gave in detail the work accomplished during the year and the treasurer's report showed a balance on the right side of the ledger. The officers were re-elected. The treasurer reported receipts $14,131; expenditures of $1,958.57 leaving a balance on hand of $385.22. The Officers. The election of officers and board management resulted as follows: W. E. Fisher, president; Mr. George F. Smith, Mrs. E. A. Stebbins, J. Hunter White, Rev. David Hutchison, vice-presidents; William Young, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Walker, Mrs. F. E. Marvin, Mrs. F. A. L. Riving, O. Johnson, A. J. Bedding, members of the board of management. These will meet at a later date and appoint a secretary and additional members of the board of the visitors. Secretary's Report. The report of Miss Grace O. Harrison, covering the work of the year was read and adopted. The report follows: At this, the 22nd annual meeting of the Associated Charities, I beg to submit a report of the work done during the year. There were eight board meetings and five conferences held. The ladies of the board met with the secretary at least with all the cases which came before the society. We received 1,594 applications various kinds; 243 were seeking employment; 163 were seeking relief; 21 were seeking transportation; 32 were seeking medical aid; 167 children adopted; requests from employers in the city; 163; requests from employers out of the city; 107; requests for women; 74; requests for male; 103; requests for nurses; 11; requests for clothing; 87; requests for night clothing; 13; requests for help in procuring unworthy assistance; 12; employment was found for 224; recommended to employers; 265; recommended to medical aid; 10; cases investigated; 108; clothing given to 54; not to be found at given addresses; 18; 11 men were sent to work in the night clothing; 9 were sent where they could be traced. The existence of this society, the work which it does, the service rendered, is made possible only by the voluntary contributions of its friends and to all of you we send thank you for your unstinting generosity and kindness. As one has said, true charity is a social physician ministering to the life of the body social. As in the practice of medicine emergency aid is often necessary at once to relieve pain, so first aid must often be rendered in the case of the unemployed. The Associated Charities maintains an emergency fund for instant use in case of need. We are not primarily a relief society, but an organization for obtaining relief from the proper source after investigation. During the past year we have seen emergency relief for many cases. Sickness remains the greatest single factor causing dependency among the families we have dealt with. Unemployment is another cause of much of the poverty and distress. With the high price of the past few years, not many who have come to us have had an abnormal wage and could do more than make ends meet, and those who saved during this time have reached the end of their resources. Men with families with eight children unable to find work are coming to us; children have had to be kept from school so the mother could go out for a day's work while the fathers looked for employment. Ever since the human misery, from the overcrowding of the homes to the underfeeding of children follows in the wake of unemployment. The only effective remedy for unemployment is employment, and in this the work of the Associated Charities is of the greatest importance. Our experience for the month is that men want work and want it badly. Our thanks are due to our friends and visitors who have so kindly assisted us with the work, and might we again appeal for more volunteers for the Associated Charities work. If you have time to give personal service of this kind, notify us and we will introduce you to some families that needs your help. To see the family in the home gives the visitor a better chance to get acquainted with the family and to have a friend in the family for whom she has become a friend, she is in a position to help and give advice. We cannot deal with human misery in a wholesale way, it is the personal contact and sympathy, having the sense of sympathy to win the friendship and guide wisely by those who not only help materially but by the adjustment of the problems that are as varied as human beings. In many cases there is a need of financial help but rather of moral help, suitable employment education in home keeping and encouragement in the face of overwhelming difficulties. Again we wish to thank the numerous churches, organizations and individuals who supplied dinners to over 80 families at Christmas, and also a number of citizens who sent the secretary generous gifts of money to be expended by her for Christmas cheer among the families of the workhouse poor; a number would otherwise have been left out, we were able to send dozens of coal, groceries and clothing. So many, it seems so much for them, so to be remembered by friends at this season. Again, as in the past few years, a young man of our city asked for a list of names to whom he wanted to send dinners. We collected and took in substantial dinners and groceries. He was not only the gifts in the course for so much, but was the person service. A manager of one of our leading

Lengthy Report of Secretary Shows Much Work Accomplished—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the Associated Charities was held yesterday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms.

The treasurer reported receipts of $1,417.91; expenditures of $1,968.22, leaving a balance on hand of $369.69.

The election of officers and board of management resulted as follows: W. Shives, President; Mrs. George F. Smith, Mrs. F. A. Gibson, J. Hunter White, Rev. David Hutchinson, vice-presidents; William Young, Treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Walker, Mrs. F. E. Marvin, Mrs. F. L. Fyfe, E. L. Rising, G. Robinson, A. M. Bolding, members of board of management.

The report of Miss Grace O. Robertson, covering the work of the year was read and adopted.

At this, the 22nd annual meeting of the Associated Charities, I beg to submit a report of the work done during the year.

There were eight board meetings and fifteen conferences held. At these conferences the ladies of the board met with the secretary and dealt with all the cases which come before the society.

We received 1,504 applications of various kinds: 343 were seeking employment; 183 were seeking relief; 51 were seeking transportation; 5 women were asking to have their children adopted; requests from employers in the city, 163; requests from employers out of the city, 198; requests for women by the day, 156; requests for maids, 108; requests for housekeepers, 6; requests for experienced nurses, 11; requests for clothing, 57; requests for records, 156; requests for assistance, 11; employment was found for, 224; recommended to employers, 265; relief was procured for 167; visits made, 902; cases investigated, 108; clothing was given to 54; not to be found at given addresses, 18; 11 men were sent where they obtained night lodgings; 5 were sent where they obtained transportation.

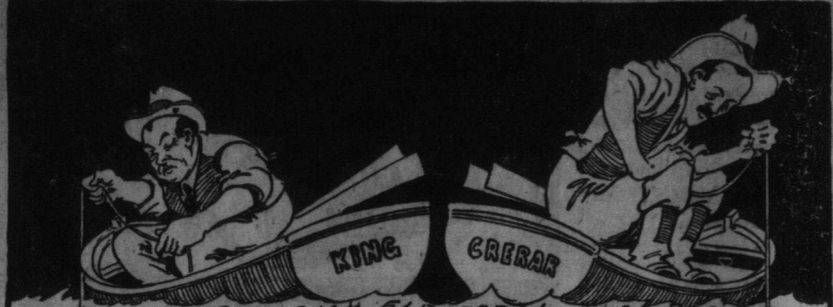

The existence of this society, the work which it does, the service it renders, is made possible only by the voluntary contributions of its friends, and to all of them we want to thank you for your untiring generosity and kindness.

Our thanks are due to our friendly visitors who have so kindly assisted us with their work, and might we again appeal for more volunteers for the Associated Charities in this work.

Again we wish to thank the numerous churches, organizations and individuals who supplied dinners to over 60 families at Christmas, and also a number of citizens who sent the secretary generous gifts of money to be expended by her for Christmas cheer among the families of the worthy poor; a number would otherwise have been left out, were we able to send loads of coal, groceries and clothing so many, it means so much for them to be remembered by friends at this season.

Again, as in the past few years, a young man of our city asked for a list of names to whom he wanted to send dinners. We collected and took a substantial dinner and groceries was not only the gift that counted for so much, but was the personal service.

All-India Congress Votes Adherence to Policy of Non-cooperation—Proclamation of Independence is Looked for Within Fortnight.

Delhi, India, Nov. 5. (Associated Press).—The All-India Congress committee, consisting of two hundred delegates, after long discussion of the political situation and the imprisonment of the All-India Congress, today adopted a resolution, with only seven dissenting votes, adhering to the policy of "civil disobedience" including non-payment of taxes and complete non-cooperation.

Gandhi, the National leader, emphasized the seriousness of the proposed non-violent revolution and urged a warning against adopting the measure in a light-hearted manner.

During the past year we have sent emergency relief to many families. Sickness remains the greatest single factor, causing dependency among the families we have dealt with.

SUES FOR TWO NIGHTS SPENT WITH MANIAC

Plaintiff Asking $25,000 from Ship's Owners, Says Roommate Dived Overboard.

New York, Nov. 6.—The notion that the life of a passenger in a modern steamship approximates life in a luxurious hotel except that hotels do not float is controverted by Emil Goldberg, a plaintiff in the Supreme Court who filed a suit yesterday, in which he asks $25,000 recompense.

His complaint sets forth that he took passage on board the Estonia of the defendant steamship line on June 23 of this year, and at the end of the first day of the voyage repaired to the stateroom he had engaged and found a mother and her child asleep there.

The stranger, according to Goldberg, looked the door and put the key in his pocket, snuffed blandly and produced a formidable knife.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—Tremendous crowds are expected to come to Washington the last of next week for the funeral of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery.

Information received by the railroad companies makes it certain that the series of events will be considered equal to if not greater than the usual inauguration ceremonies.

The most spectacular from the public point of view of all the events will be that of November 11 on the occasion of the burial of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington.

When the services there are at an end the crowds will have another chance to see the distinguished visitors when the President and Mrs. Harding in the afternoon will hold a formal reception at the White House.

The police believe that the first few days of the conference will attract the largest crowds, but they anticipate a constant flow of sightseers throughout the time the sessions are in progress.

Answers To Correspondents: MARGARET

Does the Canadian Farmer Realize His Danger?

Reciprocity was defeated in 1911 because the Canadian farmer was convinced that any advantage resulting from the trade pact of that date was more offset by the disadvantage of the fierce competition he would meet in his Home Market from the prosperous and highly specialized farms of the United States.

If that was the attitude of the Canadian farmer towards a free, unhampered exchange of natural products, how much more determined should be his opposition, today, towards the trade policies of the parties led by Messrs. King and Crerar?

Both these parties advocate the admission, duty free, of all foodstuffs; in other words, ALL FARM PRODUCTS. This in spite of the fact that the United States has imposed—and there is no reason to believe that it will not be permanent—a stiff "Emergency Tariff" against Canadian Farm Products.

We did import, in 1920, $110,000,000 worth of Farm Products from the U. S. What would be the figure if the Tariff Bars were down, say, in 1922?

Consider the new U. S. Tariff rates, Mr. Farmer, and see where you fit.

Large Buying Orders Enhanced Various Popular Issues

Rails, Steels, Etc. Drifted Aimlessly at Opening of Market, Coming Forward at Close.

New York, Nov. 9.—Large buying orders from speculative sources came into the stock market over the election day recess and prices of various popular issues, especially oil, steels and kindred shares were substantially enhanced. The broad demand for oil was materially assisted by more advances for the crude products in almost all parts of the country, particularly Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, the Middle West and other large producing centres.

The case of Mexican Petroleum, which dominated the market at a net gain of 3/4 points, the movement was based mainly on technical conditions, the shorts paying heavy toll.

Rails, steels and issues of like description drifted aimlessly for a time but came briskly forward in the last half of the session. Purchases of those stocks were accompanied by the weekly surveys of trade authorities which emphasized the more hopeful feeling in that industry.

Shares of concerns which may reasonably be expected to benefit by increased holiday business, such as the department stores, also strengthened, but tobacco and several of the more obscure specialties were heavy or irregular. Leaders were underbought by the rise of call money from 5/4 to 6 per cent at the final hour, many closing prices being at or near the day's top levels.

Cables stating that Germany is preparing to meet her next reparation payment accounted for the moderately rally in marks, first in London and then here. Sterling was firm, but reticent to most of the other Allied countries were moderately lower on the whole.

Liberty and most other active bonds were irregular on further profit taking, the international group also showing no marked trend. Total sales par value were $16,575,000.

Losses And Gains Evenly Distributed On Montreal Market

Former Were Heavier, However, Ranging from Fraction to Five Points.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—Losses and gains were about evenly distributed in today's trading on the local market, but the former were the heaviest, ranging from fractions to five points. This latter was in Ottawa, and represents the advance or part of it, made yesterday. The close today at 1.90 is, however, still well ahead of the price of 1.65 at which it sold two weeks ago.

The biggest gain of the day was in Milleret Cobblestones which sold up 3 3/4 to 64, and thus recorded a new high for the year. This stock has steadily advanced since July 11 last, when it sold at 50. Other gains were in Ottawa Light Heat and Power, which sold up 1 7/8 to 67. National Breweries which maintained market leadership with a moderate amount of business, showed an advance at the close of 3 3/4 to 58 1/2. Some seeking was reported in Steel of Canada which was also moderately active, but later firm to 64, up half a point.

Papers Quiet

The papers were quiet. Brompton gained 1 1/2 to 26 1/2, and Spanish preferred was 2 1/4 higher at 78 3/4 with the common unchanged at 68 3/4. Howard Smith sold a point down at 78 and Abitibi closed unchanged at 71 1/2 a point lower at 1.04.

Winnipeg Wheat Market Acted Irregular

Volume of Pit Trade Not Large But Undertone Inclined to Firmness.

Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—The local wheat market was acting somewhat irregular today with prices showing a spread of about 3 3/4. The volume of pit trade was not large, but the undertone was inclined to be firm. Hedging sales which were liberal around the opening, were fairly well taken care of by the existing demand. Futures closed half to 3/4 cents higher. There was a good general trade in the cash wheat market with a fair demand for Numbers 1 and 2 Northern. Offerings were more liberal with premiums unchanged. Coarse grain futures were all higher today in sympathy with wheat. Cash' coarse grains also were more active and the demand for certain grades was much better.

Loan From America Asked For Germany

Dr. Dernburg Offers Plan to Save His Nation from Ruin.

Berlin, Nov. 9.—(Associated Press.)—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, who has held the post of Finance Minister and Reich Chancellor, today announced a plan to save Germany from financial ruin by asking the United States for a loan. The plan, which he declares, is the only way to save Germany from financial ruin, is to ask the United States for a loan to pay the reparations which Germany owes to the Central Powers for the purchase of raw materials.

First—That the United States grant to the Central Powers additional time on credit and advance loans to the Central Powers for the purchase of raw materials.

Second—The declaration of a ten year moratorium on German reparations.

Third—Arrangement of Germany's internal financial problems.

Fourth—Protection of German men held in foreign countries.

Fifth—Immediate reduction of the cost of occupation of German territory.

Sixth—Expert examination of Germany's ability to pay and the establishment of her rights under Article 234 of the Peace Treaty.

The stabilization of the mark is impossible, says Dr. Dernburg, so long as reparations are being paid by printing presses. He estimates that taxes in Germany amount to 22,000 marks yearly for each family, of which 6,000 is for interest expenses.

The plan providing that German industrial concerns go to the financial assistance of the Government by placing their foreign credits at its disposal is still held in abeyance.

At a meeting of the League of German Industrialists a resolution was proposed in favor of the plan, provided the Government agrees to adopt a policy of rigid economy and shows willingness to consult private enterprises in formulating its economic and tax programs. Another provision included in the resolution was that the Government declare its willingness to accept the counsel of foreign financial experts in regard to the amount of credit to be floated, as well as its relation to the prevailing fluctuations of foreign exchange.

Prospects In Steel Industry Not Encouraging

Citizens' Committee of Sydney Told the Outlook for Employment Was Dark.

Sydney, N. S. Nov. 9.—That prospects in the Cape Breton Steel industry are none too bright at present, was the statement made by D. H. MacDougall, vice-president of the British Empire Steel Corporation, at a meeting with members of a citizens' committee on unemployment at City Hall today. Mayor William Fitzgerald, P. P. Merrill, general manager of British Empire Steel Corporation; Arthur McLeod, secretary of the Steel Workers' Union and A. E. McLellan, president of the Board of Trade were present and considered ways and means of obtaining further orders for the local mills when the present government order for 20,000 tons of rails is finished, which will be in about two months. Mr. MacDougall informed the committee that the steel business will probably continue quiet during the winter, and that very few orders for Sydney mills are in sight.

CHINESE WILL RESIST TRADE PARTITION

They Want "Open Door" But Prefer to Have It Swing Out for Protection.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—The Chinese delegates to the arms conference are preparing to stake everything on forcing a new interpretation of the "open door" in China. Their proposal is that it should "open out" for protection.

They are prepared to go to any length to gain their own interpretation of the doctrine, even to the extent of walking out of the conference if an attempt is made by international agreement to continue the exploitation of China.

It will be a logical continuation of the attitude of the Chinese Government in refusing to sign the Japanese proposal for a settlement of the Shantung controversy.

The Chinese expect the support of the United States in their proposal, but recent developments have aroused fear in the minds of Chinese supporters of the policy.

Advantage for Others. In their interpretation of the "open door" the Chinese representatives call attention to the fact that all references to the policy suggest the advantage which other nations may acquire from it.

They believe Secretary Hughes would have been very plaudits in China by his recent reference to the "open door" if he had referred to the right of China to participate in the benefits of the policy. They assume this was what was in the American Secretary's mind, but they want that feature of the "open door" represented in the work of the conference.

The Chinese are heartily in favor of the "open door" of opportunity. Having refused to sign the Versailles Treaty, they have braved the wrath of Japan by refusing to compromise on Shantung, China is willing to go still further, regardless of the consequences.

It is believed the Chinese delegates would not dare to go home if they took any other course. Their policy represents that of Minister of Foreign Affairs Dr. W. W. Yen, who is believed to have remained at home to prevent pro-Japanese influence from invading the Pekin Cabinet.

Alarm in Manchuria. The Chinese are disturbed particularly by reports reaching here in Far East correspondence that Chang Tso-Lin, the powerful Tsuchun of Manchuria, is preparing to call a conference of the northern provinces to organize an army which shall represent all the northern provinces, including Manchuria and inner and outer Mongolia.

Chang Tso-Lin is wholly independent of the Peikin Government and has recently refused a summons to report at Peikin. According to information obtained here from documents taken from the Russian General Hredetzky, arrested in Peikin after the Russian capture of Ugra last March, evidence was obtained indicating that Chang Tso-Lin proposed to organize an independent kingdom which would include the provinces in which he now rules, and which would go as far west as the province of Sinking.

This strip would parallel the entire Siberian border to the westernmost boundary of China, Chang Tso-Lin is suspected of being under Japanese influence.

This powerful Tsuchun originally was a coolie bandit taken over by the Japanese in the days of the fighting with Russia. He proved advantageous to the Japanese, and after the war he was recommended to the Chinese Government on the ground that he would fight as well for China as he had fought for Japan. Since then he has served recognition of his independent command in the northern provinces where Japanese influence is greatest.

Request Employees to Consider Reduction to be Effective in Near Future.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—A general cut in wages of United States packing house workers was forecast today when four of the big five—Armour and Company; Swift and Company; Wilson and Company; and the Cudahy Packing Company—requested their employees to consider, in the plant councils, a reduction in pay to be made effective in the near future. No definite amount was mentioned, and officials said their conference had not determined the size of the reduction to be sought.

Naval engineers are said to be watching construction with great interest because of their expectation of improved operation of submersible war-craft to result from the new installation.

Interesting Facts About Sea Fishes For Public Benefit
The pollock, captured extensively by our deep sea or bank fishermen, along with cod and haddock, is for unaccountable reasons, not popular as a fresh commodity. It is closely allied to the true cod, is of fine flavor, and may be readily and cheaply procured in our Canadian markets, especially in the Maritime Provinces, from August and September. One authority, endeavoring to locate a reason for the apparent deep-sea prejudice, considers that the fish is not so popular because of the fact that the pollock destroys better fishes. It is true that the pollock is very destructive to the young cod, surrounding the schools and driving the fish to the surface, where they fall a prey to the voracious pollock attacking below and hundreds of sea gulls which with sharp talons and keen vision swoop down upon them from above.

Baltic-American Line Being Sued For Large Damages
New York, Nov. 9.—The notion that the life of a passenger in a modern steamship approximates life in a luxurious hotel except that hotels do not float is controverted by Emil Goldberg, plaintiff in an expensive court case, who filed a suit against the Baltic-American Line yesterday, in which he asks $25,000 recompense.

Claims Development of Am. Merchant Marine Being Crippled
New York, Nov. 9.—Foreign competition, "aided and abetted by Americans," was declared by United States Senator Joseph E. Ransdell, of Louisiana, in an address before the Advertising Club, to be one of the "underlying causes that are crippling the development of the American merchant marine."

Red Star Lines' Sailing Dates Rearranged
Re-arrangement of the Red Star Line's sailing dates from New York for the balance of the year, after which Halifax will be made a port of call for the four ships en route to Plymouth, Cherbourg and Antwerp, announced: The Kronland, which was delayed in New York on her last trip, has now been fixed to leave New York Nov. 15 and Dec. 17. The Finland takes the Kronland's original dates in November and December and sails Nov. 26 and Dec. 31. The Lapland retains her original date, on Dec. 1, as does the Zealand on Nov. 19 and Dec. 24.

It is also announced that through bookings are being made to Warsaw in connection with third-class business. It is necessary for such passengers to provide themselves with French, Belgian and German visas in order to pass through those countries. The Lapland will open the Halifax service by leaving that port for Plymouth, Cherbourg and Antwerp. She will be followed on Jan. 23 by the Kronland and by the Finland on Feb. 6, and these steamers will continue to call regularly on their east-bound runs during February, March and April.

HARMONY LACKING, FRICTION AND DIVERSITY OF OPINION EVIDENT AT LIBERAL CONVENTION

H. R. McLellan Wins Place on Ticket With Dr. Broderick, But Not Without Causing Some Caustic Comments—Albert County Delegates Ignored by Majority Vote—No One Satisfied Among Liberals and All Have the Hammer Out.

Lack of harmony, friction, diversity of opinion and everything that man-fests want of unity marked the proceedings of the second convention of the Liberal Party held yesterday evening in Moose Head for the purpose of selecting a running mate for Dr. W. P. Broderick. After numerous discussions and a motion for adjournment until Monday night had been dealt with, the convention eventually gave a half-hearted nomination to H. R. McLellan, who defeated W. Frank Hatheway by a vote of 71 to 47. Albert County did not have one delegate present, and the meeting proceeded, notwithstanding the absence of the thirty representatives from that county.

Dr. E. J. Ryan was appointed chairman and Kenneth McEae was asked to fill the position of Secretary pending the arrival at the meeting of J. Fred Belyea, chairman of the executive and E. J. Hennebury, who were endeavoring to get in touch with the Albert County delegates over the telephone. Michael Kelley voiced the opinion that, as the party had been spoiled once, there were two things which should be decided upon without delay. The first was that any nominee mentioned would be willing to run as a candidate, and the second, that any man defeated at the convention would abide by the choice of the delegates.

Mr. Barry Ignored
John A. Barry read a telegram from Andrew Haydon, General Organizer of the Liberal Party stating that he, Mr. Barry and Dr. Broderick should confer with him in the immediate future at Ottawa. Mr. Barry also referred to the absence of the delegates from Albert County, and asked, therefore, that the meeting be adjourned until Monday night. He thought that there were many reasons why the convention should be postponed.

Geo. F. Cunningham stated that if Mr. Haydon had anything to state in regard to the naming of candidates for this constituency, he should have communicated with the Executive. Mr. Barry declared there was really no Liberal Executive with which to communicate.

Albert Side-Tracked
On the arrival of the members of the executive, E. J. Hennebury stated that the Albert County delegates had been communicated with by letter and telephone, and had failed to arrive. J. Fred Belyea said that the meeting had been called for the purpose of selecting a candidate. He considered that the minds of the Albert County representatives were open to support one or two of the Liberal candidates or none of them. The number of representatives from that part of the constituency was comparatively small, and he thought the convention should proceed notwithstanding their absence.

William Ryan took strong objection to the suggestion that it made no difference whether or not the Albert County delegates were present, and felt that the party should have their support. Further discussion and the expression of many different opinions followed in regard to the reason for the sending of the telegram from Ottawa, in which A. F. Bentley, St. Martins, J. Fred Belyea and others participated. Finally the motion of John A. Barry for an adjournment until Monday night was put before the meeting and lost.

The chairman then declared the convention open for nominations and the names of H. R. McLellan, nominated by Hober Keith and W. Frank Hatheway, proposed by Peter Leclair, were placed before the delegates. John A. Barry asked if anyone present had the assurance that H. R. McLellan would run and would stand by the decision of the convention. He stated that Mr. McLellan had insisted everybody in St. John. Mackenzie King had been talking about an autocratic government. Mr. McLellan had also announced himself as an independent candidate. The speaker further said that he had been connected with certain recall proceedings in connection with the convention.

Nomination Tendered
During the discussion on the motion which followed, Mr. McLellan declined the motion was subsequently put before the delegates and was declared lost. The chairman then tendered to Mr. McLellan the nomination of the Liberal Party as the second candidate on his ticket. Short speeches were made by the delegates. H. R. McLellan accepted the nomination and Dr. W. Broderick who had been chosen at the previous convention.

There was a feeling among a number of the members present that one Liberal should at least be nominated as a candidate of that party, and that reason it was thought that another name might be brought before the convention. One of the delegates stated that insofar as he and his friends were concerned, H. R. McLellan would get no support.

One of the delegates stated that insofar as he and his friends were concerned, H. R. McLellan would get no support.

During the discussion on the motion which followed, Mr. McLellan declined the motion was subsequently put before the delegates and was declared lost. The chairman then tendered to Mr. McLellan the nomination of the Liberal Party as the second candidate on his ticket. Short speeches were made by the delegates. H. R. McLellan accepted the nomination and Dr. W. Broderick who had been chosen at the previous convention.

There was a feeling among a number of the members present that one Liberal should at least be nominated as a candidate of that party, and that reason it was thought that another name might be brought before the convention. One of the delegates stated that insofar as he and his friends were concerned, H. R. McLellan would get no support.

reared it who were not entitled to it. The Associated Charities was not intended as an organization to give aid but to act as a clearing house or central bureau of information, where cases might be investigated and reports made to the agencies which were giving aid.

Miss Grace Robertson then read the report she had submitted to the annual meeting, which will be found in another column, showing what had been done by the association during the past year.

The chairman then called on A. M. Belding, who said the great need of the hour in the giving of aid was an organization which would reach the last case and prevent the overlapping so prevalent at present. Three classes had to be dealt with in giving aid. The first was the family in temporary distress which was waiting at the time but it was only temporary; the second was the family which needed help for a longer period and also required a representative to live for the rest of their lives on the expense of the kind hearted and charitable of the community.

The best method of getting the organization needed was through the Associated Charities. Let every church or organization doing relief work report every case to Miss Robertson, who if she had not the name on file would have an investigation made and report back to the society or church to which the application was made in the first instance. This did not mean handing the work of relief over to the Associated Charities, for each church or society would be expected to keep on as in the past, but it did mean that the family would not be getting help from several sources while some were not getting help at all. He also suggested that each church and society appoint a representative to act with Miss Robertson in investigating the cases. Before closing he referred to "mother's allowances" and urged those present to press the provincial government for action along this line of the city.

Mr. George F. Smith, Mrs. George F. Smith said the main factor in the present condition was the lack of work, and she urged that if at all possible work be provided for all willing to work. She urged co-operation with the Associated Charities in order to do away with the central committee. She hoped the meeting would come to some definite conclusion. People were suffering from the lack of food and clothing, and this should not be possible in St. John.

Questions and Suggestions
Rev. J. V. Young asked if Miss Robertson would be able to investigate all these cases if they were reported to her, and the president replied that it was the intention to have a volunteer committee aid her in that work. C. B. Allan suggested the formation of a central committee which should handle all the relief work of the city, every case being referred to them. Rev. F. S. Dowling said the lack of employment was the cause of the need for what he termed a clearing house for the whole city. There should be some central depot where work could be provided, and he thought the city council should endorse the suggestion of Mr. Allan for a central committee.

Rev. J. A. MacKielan thought this plan was a good one and suggested that the city council should endorse the suggestion of Mr. Allan for a central committee. Mayor Schofield said many men were not willing to work at the low rate of pay and demand. If these men would go to work the very fact would make work for others. With regard to aid from the city, he said he had to get the money in taxes, and they were already criticised for them. The city had done a considerable amount of work this year and given employment to a large number of men and they intended to do the same this winter. Every work that could be carried out would be done.

Rev. J. Hestey endorsed this view. Rev. William Duke suggested that the city contribute $6,000 and the citizens be asked to contribute $6,000, making a total of $12,000, which might be used in providing work for say 300 heads of families for two months. ORGANIZATIONS TO CO-OPERATE WITH ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Largely Attended Meeting of Representatives of Churches and Benevolent Organizations—Will Report All Cases Applying for Relief to Association Secretary to Provide Adequate Help to Those Worthy.

At a largely attended meeting, representative of the various churches and benevolent organizations in the city, held yesterday afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms, it was unanimously decided to co-operate with the Associated Charities this coming winter, to report all cases applying for relief to Miss Grace Robertson, who would keep them on file, in order to do away with overlapping, and provide adequate help for all worthy cases. The discussion was general, and several of the speakers urged that the city go ahead with civic works, even at greater cost to provide employment for this winter. All agreed that conditions were exceptional at this time and exceptional methods must be adopted to meet them.

W. S. Fisher, president of the Associated Charities, occupied the chair, in opening the meeting he stated it had been called by the association as a get-together meeting to talk over the situation and try and devise ways to meet it. The city was facing a most serious situation, from the standpoint of poverty and need, the most serious of its history. It had been thought wise to ask representatives of all organizations, using this kind of work to meet and try and plan some method of co-operation which would ensure that all would receive the relief they needed and that none would
