NEW BRUNSWICK'S RAILWAY PROBLEM

A Suggested Solution

In the commencement of this article The Observer must make a correction of some figures that were given in its editorial last week and which were taken from answers given by Hon. G. P. Graham to the questions asked in Parliament by Sir Henry Drayton. To quote the answer: "The St. John & Quebec Railway earnings were $53,255.69 in the year 1923." If these figures were correct they are considerably less than the business originating at any of the important shipping points on the Woodstock Subdivision of the C. P. R. This paper does not know where Mr. Graham secured his figures but the annual report of the Department of Railways gives the gross earnings of the St. John & Quebec Railway for the year ended Dec. 31, 1922, as $279,070.92, and the working expenses as $44,588.48, showing a deficit of $165,517.56, to which must be added 40 per cent rental to the N. B. government, which brings the total deficit to the Dominion government up to $284,424.10. To get the correct figures of the total loss on the operation of the Valley Railway there must be added to this tidy sum $260,000 which the Provincial Government has to pay in interest over and above the amount received from its share of the operation of the road, so that the total loss of the operation of the road to the people of New Brunswick and to the people of the Dominion of Canada combined is a sum in excess of $544,000—more than one-half million dollars per year. In the year previous the loss was very considerably more.

It must be plain to every person that the Valley Railway cannot in the lifetime of any living person come anywhere near meeting its operating expenses. We must reiterate that we have proven that the extension of the Valley Railway to the N. T. R., at Grand Falls or any other northern point with a view of creating a new line is utterly fallacious. After sixty years of operation sufficient traffic has not been developed from Upper Canada points to the Maritimes to make the old I. C. R. profitable, letting alone its own competing line, the N. T. R., and a third competing line which the Valley Railway extension would establish.

The Valley Railway is not and never has been operated in a businesslike manner. To make the most out of the road, private operation is necessary and the greater the corporation that undertakes the job the greater will be the economy with which they can handle it. It is the belief of The Observer that the C. P. R., if they would accept the road as a gift, could eventually develop it and make it a profitable feeder to its own lines and give the people better service than they are getting today.

This sixth editorial on New Brunswick's Railway Problem is the climax of the series. What The Observer set out with was the idea that the Valley Railway should be handed over to the C. P. R., and that the transfer there should go the whole N. T. R. line together with this transfer there should be an added inducement that the line from Campbellton to Quebec should be thrown into the bargain. This would give the C. P. R. a new thorough line all on Canadian soil. From western points direct to St. John and would establish a complete road, which everyone in New Brunswick will agree should have been built instead of running the line through the practically barren waste between Edmundston and Moncton.

An expert in railway matters would built instead of railroads, and Moncton. For this journal to pose as an expert in railway matters would seem preposterous. Nevertheless it seems to us that if the C. P. R. controlled all the lines mentioned it could establish a service for both passenger and freight that would be most satisfactory to the people, and that would aid in the development of the country, and that would certainly get the most out of the operation of the roads. For one instance the C. N. R. has tried a tri-weekly passenger service of very fine class between Moncton and Quebec, then again between St. John and Quebec, via Fredericton and McGivney. But the loss on this train was so heavy that the government authorities dare not disclose it to the people. Yet if this train, running over a very long distance and picking up its passengers altogether from Fredericton and St. John and destined for Edmundston or for Quebec and beyond, picking up practically no traffic along the barren waste, which is only reasonable if travelled, came anywhere near paying expenses it is only reasonable to assume that a train of equal class leaving St. John and running to Fredericton over the Valley Railway and along to Woodstock, still by the Valley Railway, thence to Edmundston via the C. P. R., and to Quebec and western points through a thickly populated section all the way, would be a tremendous asset to the people between St. John and Quebec and would also find an outlet for freight originating on the Valley Railway.

The C. P. R. would also find an outlet for freight originating on its Montreal to Quebec line and destined to the sea, besides freight which would originate between Quebec and Edmundston. The Company may, in case of necessity, find it convenient to utilize this route for its western traffic.

So far we believe that any reader must agree that the scheme looks feasible and the C. P. R. might agree to the taking over of the portions of the N. T. R. and the Valley Railway needed to make this connecting link. But in the Observer's plan they must operate over the road from Edmundston to Moncton and they must never be it. The Observer has stated that this section of road can never be made to pay. It maintains that the Canadian government cannot make it pay, but it is firm in the belief that the C. P. R., with its policy of industrial development, would make it profitable with the development of the hardwood industry and the other products of the forest. It would have no direct connection with C. P. R. existing New Brunswick lines except at Minto, at Plaster Rock and Grand Falls, and this would be a roundabout outlet for the output of the mills at Juniper and other points in the interior. To offset this handicap there should

THE ROAD OF REMEMBRANCE

The Idea Accepted as Praiseworthy
But is Considered Somewhat Premature

In its issue of last week The Observer published an article contributed by a progressive citizen of the town who suggested that Empire Day be set aside for the purpose of planting rows of trees on either side of School street, the new road which runs from Rockland Road past the new school house. In his communication the writer suggested that the Mayor might appoint Empire Day as a holiday and that the citizens in general might well turn out for the purpose of planting trees and dedicating them to the immortal dead who lie in Flanders Field.

On this matter The Observer has interviewed Mayor McFarland, who said that he had read the communication with a great deal of sympathetic interest but that in view of the work which has yet to be done the idea and its carrying out this year is quite premature. In the first place before the trees are planted there is the matter of sidewalks along the new street, the grading of the school grounds, the laying of drains and the placing of catch-basins to be done, and the matter of planting trees had better stand over another year when this work shall have been completed and the trees could be placed where they would not then interfere with sidewalks, drains, gradings or anything else. Mayor McFarland said that he had interviewed a number of the Council and different citizens and in conversation with them the general opinion seemed to be that while the idea was in every respect praiseworthy that much preparation has first to be done and it would be well to let the matter stand over until another year when a much earlier start might be made towards the organization required to carry the thing through successfully.

JOAN OF ARC LAST EVENING

Far and away the most preeminent musical event in Hartland's history was the rendition last evening of the most difficult classic oratorio "Joan of Arc" by the Woodstock Choral Society. The company was directed by Mr. F. M. Sherlock who displayed the hand of a master. He has a wonderful gift of music and has had life-long training so he is in no sense an amateur. The ensemble consisted of about forty voices and the solo parts were taken by Mrs. S. C. Heckbert, Mrs. J. F. L. Brown and Mrs. H. B. McElroy, while Hartland townsmen sang of the fact our own townsmen, Rev. W. P. Haigh and Mr. C. Sykes took the important and difficult roles of solo bass and tenor respectively. The oratorio in itself, depicting with distinctness the sweet legend of The Maid of Orleans, was delightful. The most inspiring portion of the program from the music lover's point of view was the technique displayed by Mr. Sherlock in the handling of his chorus. The Observer has witnessed many musical directors, some in less difficult roles, who exhibited less control over their subjects and less restraint of the ego.

The Observer would say that the rendition was very close to perfect and a great credit to everyone who had a share in it. A remarkable point is that we are told the society had had only two weeks training in this most difficult composition. Mr. Bridgao led the orchestra, most carefully blending with the chorus. The orchestra consisted of Mrs. E. W. Mair, pianist; Messrs. Camber, Rogers and Spear, violinists; and Mr. Risteen, trombone.

The audience appeared appreciative and it would have been very much larger if the event had been properly advertised.

These services will offer instruction as well as inspiration, and will be well worth attending.

THE CARLETON OBSERVER

SHAW AND LEWIN SENTENCED
AT HOULTON SATURDAY

Houlton, May 19. In the Supreme court today Justice Philbrook sentenced William S. Lewin and Herschel Shaw, both convicted of conspiracy to defraud the operation of the liquor law, to serve each not less than one nor more than two years in state prison.

W. S. Lewin entered the court house at 9:30 a.m. with his wife, who remained with him to the end. Herschel Shaw did not appear in court until just before it was time to sentence them. Mr. Lewin has been confined to his bed for over a week and showed his sickness, being very pale and thin. He sat outside the bar with a sad face, covered most of the time with his hand. His eyes were closed most of the time. He looked worn and haggard.

Herschel Shaw was pale and showed that he had suffered. One could see his teeth when he found it was time to enter the prisoner's dock. His father, Attorney General R. W. Shaw, sat just inside the bar, a short time from the dock. It was a sad time for him and he too looked disheartened.

The court, having been sentenced to the Judge asked if Mr. Shaw had anything to say. His answer was firm and plain. "None your Honor. I have received a fair and impartial trial and I leave my life in your hands."

Mr. Lewin had nothing to say and his attorney, A. S. Crawford said: "We have no suggestion to make." The county attorney, Herbert T. Powers said: "I have nothing additional to say," and Judge Philbrook said: "This is one of the hardest things I have had to do in my whole life."

Immediately upon receiving sentence entered an appeal, but Shaw did not. After sentence had been imposed upon Shaw he quietly but with a firm voice addressed the court, asking it in view of the sentence imposed he could not be allowed to serve the sentence in the county jail at Houlton rather than at the state prison at Thomaston.

"No I cannot grant that," was the sole reply of the court.

Bail was arranged for Lewin, the amount being fixed by the court at $5,000. This takes his case to the court, which will convene in Portland next month, or, if the necessary legal preparations cannot be made in that time, to a later term of the law court. He is also out on bail pending an appeal from sentence in the Federal court.

The court, having been sentenced to the Atlanta penitentiary at the same time former Sheriff Edmund W. Grant of Houlton was sentenced, the former sheriff since withdrawn his appeal and is now serving his sentence at Atlanta.

Shaw was taken to the county jail, and the first of the week he will be taken to Thomaston to begin his sentence. There he was joined by his father immediately after the court adjourned.

CONDITIONS ACROSS THE BOUNDARY AT PRESENT

(Presque Isle Herald)

A trip to Centreville Sunday gave the Star-Herald reporter a chance to make note of conditions in that thriving Provincial village, and to contrast to some extent conditions there with those prevailing on this side of the boundary line.

It would appear that the farmers there are a little more advanced in getting at work on the soil than they are in Aroostook, as a number had begun plowing and harrowing. It was the opinion of those best informed on planting prospects that New Brunswick farmers will considerably increase their acreage of potatoes. The past season has been, on the whole, a good one for New Brunswick farmers, as prices have been at a profitable level the average price of spuds having been about $2 a barrel. Practically no potatoes have found their way into American market, on account of the high tariff, but a good market has been found for the crop raised in Quebec, Ontario, and other parts of western Canada, while Cuba has also been a good customer for Canadian potatoes.

Large shipments of certified seed have been received at Centreville for distribution to farmers in that vicinity. Many of these potatoes come from Prince Edward Island, and are of a very high quality, and as the farmers there are very careful and painstaking in their methods of cultivating the soil, the results is a crop of high quality.

In the matter of cost of fertilizer the farmers in Carleton County and presumably the farmers throughout the New Brunswick potato raising belt have a decided advantage over Aroostook farmers. Practically every ton of fertilizer used in that section is home mixed goods, no ready mixed fertilizer being used. The home mixed fertilizer cost the N. B. farmers from $25 to $32 a ton, and they do not find that the mixing process is any troublesome problem whatever. Mr. Burr, one of the prominent farmers of Centreville, told the Star-Herald reporter that his fertilizer bill for a plant of twenty-five acres would be $700. The best grade of ready mixed fertilizer can be bought there for $36 a ton laid down in Centreville, the ready mixed companies having been obliged to make this price in attempt to hold their own with the home mixers. Very evidently there is a large sized colored gentleman in the wood pile, when the best grades of ready mixed fertilizer is supplied to Provincial farmers, while it costs Aroostook farmers about $50 a ton for no better goods. Making all allowance for the long credits fertilizer companies carry in Aroostook, and for the losses they have sustained by bad debts, and the very large increase of overhead expenses thus involved, there is altogether too much of a spread between the New Brunswick price of fertilizer and Aroostook.

about two years ago. The deceased leaves to mourn the loss of a kind mother, one son, Marshall, of this place, and three daughters, Mrs. John Fulton of Wicklow, and Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Robey of Lowell, with whom she lived. The family have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Percy Sisson, when his oldest son, Clarence, and Miss Pauline Price, second daughter of the late Robert and Mary Price, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Wm. Kilburn performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride looked very winsome in a gown of white satin and radium lace, and carried a bouquet of carnations, roses and maiden hair fern. The groom wore the conventional black. They were unattended. They received many useful and beautiful presents. Both bride and groom are well and favorably known and the best wishes of all is extended to them for their future happiness.

Dr. Earle expects to leave this week for Montreal for a little rest.

He matriculated to the U. N. B. where he spent the following year. In the fall of 1921 he entered Dalhousie Law School. His plans for the immediate future are indefinite.

Another well attended ball was staged in the Opera House on Friday evening last.

On Wednesday evening Jackie Cogan made a bow to Centreville picture fans in "Trouble," a fund of laughter packed into five reels. This pug-nosed youngster was at his very best in this film, and it was much enjoyed by all present. His little colored friend, Wallace Berry and others gave him admirable support. The inimitable Buster Keaton supported by Phyllis Haver was awfully good in a two reel comedy. On Saturday evening Gladys Walton was starred in "Sawdust," a picture having considerable circus stunts and clowning. The pith of the story consisted of the adventures of a young circus performer, when she palmed herself off as the daughter of a rich southern colonel and his wife, their own daughter having been stolen in early girlhood by a circus management. A two-reel western film filled out the programme. During the early part of June, the dates to be definitely announced later, the management have booked "The Covered Wagon," a story of the late Emerson Hough, of the trek across the great American plains in prairie schooners by the early pioneers in '49 days. This picture was one of the outstanding successes in the picture world of the last year, and everyone should plan to see it. Those having read the story as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post will be especially interested. Pictures during the summer months begin at 8.30 p.m. sharp, so don't be tardy.

Local actors and actresses are practicing for a play to be staged in the near future.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S RAILWAY PROBLEM

in the bargain be an arrangement whereby the C. P. R. would have freight running rights over the C. N. R. from McGivney into Fredericton so as to make a short route to the United States.

Taken altogether so far, the proposition may still not be a paying one from the C. P. R. point of view. Therefore The Observer suggests that to make the bargain sufficiently alluring the railway from Campbellton to St. Leonards should be thrown in.

What the people of western New Brunswick desire greatly is direct railway connection with the North Shore. As it is, a passenger from any point along the St. John River, except from beyond Edmundston and St. Leonards, passengers from St. Stephen, Fredericton, Woodstock and all the other points along the river, if they desire to get to Campbellton or Bathurst must remain over night at St. Leonards and the journey takes from twenty-four to thirty-six hours. Passengers should be able to breakfast in St. Stephen and to take tea in Campbellton. As it is the North Shore is practically isolated from the Upper St. John Valley.

Again a very considerable amount of freight is generated along the international railway and the bulk of it is hauled over to a foreign road at St. Leonards and the good people of Ansestook county benefit from the transportation of this freight through its whole length. This traffic, originating in New Brunswick, should be carried the longest distance possible on Canadian soil before it is ultimately handed over to a United States connection. This road in question would furnish freight for two or three additional trains a week down the St. John Valley, supply employment for New Brunswick workmen, consuming New Brunswick coal, and the whole cost of transportation for a distance of two hundred miles would be spent in our own province.

In this article, which is not the last of the series, we can only broadly touch upon the question. Most assuredly we would not attempt to lay all the plans and draw the thing to a final conclusion, for here is work for master minds in the railway world and the most astute state-manship.

The terms that this transfer may be made upon is something that The Observer will certainly not endeavor to thresh out, but it can conceive that the Dominion Government would not ask more than a small fraction of the cost of the road—if they had the glorious opportunity of getting rid of their share of the responsibility. On the other hand, so far as the Valley Railway is concerned, New Brunswick would be relieved of its greatest burden.

If The Observer were to make the terms it would suggest as an equitable agreement that the C. P. R. take over the Valley Railway with all its bonded debt, freeing the Province of every vestige of its responsibility, and that the Dominion Government, in lieu of operating or taking over the Valley Railway, present outright the N. T. R. Quebec to Moncton, and the former international to the C. P. R., and that to safeguard the interests of the people the C. P. R. be tied hard and fast to an agreement to operate daily passenger and freight service over the whole newly acquired system.

To briefly sum up the situation, if nothing else is done the Valley Railway will forever be a tremendous burden to the Province of New Brunswick and to the people of Canada. While the N. T. R. from Quebec to Moncton will forever remain $35,000,000 of sunken money and the cause of millions of dollars a year loss to the people of Canada.

The writer of these articles must confess, as doubtlessly is apparent to every trained railway mind who has read them, that he lays no claim to be a railway expert, that he is admittedly a crude amateur, nevertheless he is most thoroughly convinced that the suggestions that have been set forth are absolutely sound and reasonable.

Before concluding this article we suggest that there is another use to which the C. P. R. may put the Valley Railway and which will be to the benefit of the people of New Brunswick. That is the extension of the line from Centreville into the State of Maine, northwest to Presque Isle and there connecting with A. R. Gould's proposed Quebec Extension railway. This will bring traffic over the Valley Railway. This will bring money into the pockets of New Brunswick wage earners.

All members who have undertaken to grow registered Banner oats are reminded to give every attention to a proper preparation of seed bed in the cleanest piece of land on the farm. They are reminded, also, to treat their seed prior to seeding with a formalin solution for the prevention of smut. Remember that your having made application for registered seed through the Canadian Seed Growers' Association automatically makes you a member of that association. To be a good member of that organization you must ever endorse and practice improved methods of field husbandry. Certainly, it will necessitate more time and attention; but there's quite a difference between 60 or 70 cents a bushel and $1.55 a bushel.

Yesterday there was a drop of 25¢ per barrel in the potato market caused by the influx of Michigan potatoes into Ontario. The Michigans are being delivered at Ontario for $1.50 per bag. Canadian potatoes are shut out of the American market by a tariff of 30¢ per bushel while the American potatoes are admitted into Canada under a tariff of 20¢ per bushel. For the benefit of our farmers the import tariff should be as great as the tariff that our farmers have to compete against.

Reports from England state that it has been universally conceded that Canada's pavilion was in the best condition when the King opened the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley on April 23rd. "It was the 'spick and span and complete to the last nail' that led all others in the race to the finish in time for to-day's official opening."

Over 3,000 settlers left Liverpool for Canada on April 24th. Thirteen hundred of these sailed on the Canadian Pacific liner "Montcalm," including a party of 200 skilled workers from Manchester, 38 belonging to engineering trades, 40 to building trades and 42 farm hands. Eighty skilled workers from Leeds and a party of engineers from Barrow-in-Furness were also on board.

A total of 40,000,000 salmon trout eggs have been collected during the last season by the Department of Marine and Fisheries in Lake Huron, Georgian Bay and Lake Superior. Graphic and interesting educational motion pictures will bring Alberta's various resources to the eyes of those who attend the British Empire Exhibition this year. That the Indian village of Hochelaga, which stood on the site of the present city of Montreal, was a place of about fifty wooden houses having a population of some 4,000 souls when Jacques Cartier sailed up the St. Lawrence, was the assertion made by Dr. W. D. Lighthall before the Antiquarian and Numismatic Society of Montreal recently. Dr. Lighthall was able to give the boundaries of the village and described it as resembling the home of Cedric the Saxon, in "Ivanhoe."

Aprons of the recent "Save the Forest Week," E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, stated: "A well-concentrated effort on saving the forests of Canada is well worth while—much better to make it a 'Forest Saving Year' and, if the forest resources of this country are to be conserved to adequately avail the greater Canada of a few years hence it must be a 'Forest Saving Generation.' Forest wastage is today tragically too great and we Canadians must pay and are paying for the loss."

Official figures recently issued show that the Dominion of Canada is the greatest single contributor to the wheat supply of the world. She stands second only to the United States in automobile exports. Her flour exports are far ahead of the palmiest war years and are rapidly gaining in the foreign markets. Canada's mineral, forest, agricultural and fisheries industries are now valued at $2,420,000,000, or $252,000,000 higher than a year ago.

Total immigration for the nine-month period of 1923 was 124,680, compared with 60,247 in the same period in the previous year, an increase of 107 per cent.

What Will You Put in the Pot?

When you drink tea every cup should be a delicious refreshment—a distinct pleasure. But this demands good tea in the pot. You cannot possibly get satisfactory results from inferior tea.

Now consider the small cost of a cup of King Cole Tea—a mere fraction of a cent. Surprising isn't it? But its secret is in the rich liquoring King Cole blend which yields so generously in the number of cups to the pound. It makes King Cole the truly cheap tea. From whichever point you view it—economy—quality—or the wise combination of both, King Cole Tea claims your preference.

A special return trip under similar arrangements for those who care to take it has also been planned. Starting from Victoria, it includes the wonderful run through the mountains over the Kettle Valley Railway to the steamer trips over beautiful Okanagan and Kootenay Lakes, through the heart of the fruit-growing country, thence to Lake Windermere, and the return over the splendid new Banft-Lake Louise Highway to Vermilion River and Banft. Then come the Edmonton, the prehistoric gateway to Canada's rich Northland, the prairie country, the famous Highways to Kenora, Fort William and across the Great Lakes via the Soo to Port McNicoll and Toronto. This trip lasts from August 17th to 29th and includes a stop-over for dinner at Penticton, dinner, a night's stay and breakfast at lovely Lake Windermere, and a lunch at Vermilion River Camp, and a night's stay at Edmonton, Winnipeg and Devil's Gap Camp, the delightful resort on the edge of the Woods, near Kenora. The trip through the camps, the motor run through the mountains and the refreshing sail across the Great Lakes alone make this return trip infinitely desirable.

PROPOSE VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

The first item of business taken up at the meeting of trustees of the school district on Friday evening at the Town Hall was the granting of authority to the trustees to advertise for the sale of the old school building and grounds, all bids or tenders to be submitted to a special meeting of the trustees for final ratification.

The main object of the trustees in calling this meeting was the placing before the trustees of the possibility of making a beginning of vocational work by opening a commercial department in connection with the existing high school grades next fall when the school opens in the new building.

A very special effort was made to get out a large gathering as for the last three years we have had from 80 to 100 ratifiers at all important meetings. It was felt that the importance of this matter would bring a great crowd, but evidently now that the new school is assured, a great many of the people consider that whatever the school board thought of, was and is progressive and for the advancement of the school is all right for only about 20 to 25 were in attendance.

The trustees have been considering the matter for some time and had a conference with the Hon. J. H. Peacock, the secretary and director of Vocational work on May 2, but it was deemed best to give the people a chance to understand the subject thoroughly. This meeting was called and Mr. Peacock agreed to come here again and explain everything clearly and plainly. He pointed out that the graded, hand-sewn, and made day of the farmer had passed and now nearly all farm work was done by machinery. That whereas in the olden time a man who could do nothing else was supposed to be able to run a farm and make a living, now the farmer had to be bright, alert and well informed not only to organize and carry on successfully, but to meet advantageously in business dealings, the professional, business and tradesmen of today. Children of a bygone day who had a chance to get the three R's were considered quite scholars, but that equipment will not put them on the road to success at present.

The aim today is to give all children possible a high school education, but they are not getting it. We are paying the bills to run a high school but not getting delivery of proper results. The various governments and educational bodies have analyzed the situation and concluded that we are trying to run all the children through the academic or professional outlet. The remedy devised was sensible and sound, that is, provide more outlets, give the children a chance to drop the Latin, Greek, geometry, algebra, trigonometry, and other subjects of the commercial course, or the subjects of an agricultural, mechanical or an industrial course. Of all these courses the most important is the commercial or business course, and this has always been the backbone of the academic. This latter was used by the few and paid for by the many. Now when we graduate our high school pupils they are not properly educated or trained to take any good worth while situation, they cannot begin at once to turn their knowledge into money, but must begin to train or fit up for some trade or calling.

Very few places were able to provide all the outlets mentioned at once. Manufacturing centres favored the commercial and industrial, farming districts the business and agricultural, places like railway centres the commercial and mechanical courses. But any locality the size of Hartland with the plant and equipment that she has, and with proper interest and encouragement from the people, could at least run the commercial course in connection with the high school work.

That is, half time. This plan is not the same as, nor does it interfere with, that of the County Vocational School, at Woodstock, where the pupil gets a purely vocational branch, but in a place like Hartland the pupil may take high school work for two or three years as well as the business course, which would tend to fill up that department to capacity. Pupils would be attracted to come in from outside for further education in the high, and for training for a situation in the business world.

As to the cost which nearly every body considers first, we can get a grant of one-half the cost of the room. Then if our eight room building, not counting the assembly hall, cost $50,000 the grant would be on half of $25,000 or $12,500. Then we are told that to start with not less than ten pupils, and ten typewriters would cost $1,000 of which the government pays $500 as well as one half the $500 or so it would cost for desks, etc. for a teacher, if one should ask $1200 the district only has to put up $300 or one quarter. Therefore from a purely business standpoint the proposition looks good. However we have very little time in which to make up our mind, for as Mr. Peacock put it, the vocational idea has been sold to the province and so many places are taking advantage of, or are preparing to do so, as in McAdam, Fredericton and St. John, etc., that the vocational board is not now making the sale of grants to rooms, and in a few months this grant will cease, so that there may be plenty of funds available to pay the equipment and teachers' salaries.

The trustees would like to know if the people are interested and will vigorously back them up in going ahead. We have a big costly plant now which should be made to yield big dividends yearly like any other large business project. And besides the day work which should be run to the limit, work ought to be going to every evening for two hours for those willing to take short courses or special lectures rather than stand on the street corners.

J. STIRLING KING, Sec.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

The foot and mouth disease which has been raking in the British Isles working havoc among the farming interests there, is also prevalent in California. We are in receipt of letters from England and these are supplemented by newspapers from West Canada, from Essex and from the West Coast, they all tell the same heart-breaking story. It is not only the animals which are being slaughtered, but the loss through markets being closed, and lack of buyers for cattle.

Canada has been particularly fortunate in this respect and we can only hope that we will not be visited by this plague.

The following account from a Los Angeles newspaper will be of interest to many of our readers. It simply tells of one herd which has been destroyed.

VALUABLE HERD DESTROYED

One of the world's most pure bred Holsteins went under the ground to day's certificate to the foot and mouth disease, when the Fred Hartsook stock of 368 animals, appraised at $426,000, was driven into Lake Mendocino and shot down.

Cows and bulls worth more than $10,000 each were slain just like any backyard family cow which had contracted the disease. There were 98 bulls valued at $87,000 and 258 cows worth $341,000 in the slaughter.

The loss to animal posterity in the killing of this herd is far greater than the combined loss of all herds so far destroyed in foot and mouth disease, broken both in Europe and America. One federal authority declared:

"BLUE RIBBON" SLAUGHTER

Federal and state veterinarians supervised the killing and watched the sacrifice with regret, but realizing it was a necessary task.

Hartsook declared that his herd took more than 95 per cent of all the Holstein awards in California two years ago and that his animals held more state and national records than any herd in California.

Such world famous animals as Tillie Alcatraz, Sir Peterd, Ormsby, Mercedes XXXVII, Sir Aggie de Kol, Meade and the record holders, Miss Aggie Ormsby Seigs and Rosamaine Korndyke, were killed.

"CHAMPION COW KILLED"

Tillie Alcatraz, former world's champion milk producer, chalked up a total production of 55,773 pounds of milk and 6141 pounds of butter in six years. Her record for one year's production was 33,425 pounds of milk and 1323 pounds of butter, made when she was 9 years old.

Sir Aggie de Kol Meade was appraised at $27,500, one example of the value of the herd. Hartsook said he had recently refused an offer of $50,000 for Tillie Alcatraz.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By E. R. White, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

That this is the year to get into the better business game.

That no business concern should leave any stone unturned to make their place of business better. Cater to the people by advertising, it says.

That today is a day of better things. People are wanting greater comforts in the way of new and better merchandise. Business concerns that keep abreast of the times, keep up-to-date stocks and advertise that fact so the people may know.

That the sound principles of persistent advertising of quality goods is the basis of the success of the most successful business concerns, because it has been based on service, quality and price.

That these concerns are solidly entrenched in the minds of the people as concerns who sell lines of merchandise that prove themselves time and time again as the best.

That well-advertised goods are of recognized value. They not only sell but satisfy.

Stores that advertise reap the favor and confidence of their customers. Stores that are persistent advertisers gain new customers everyday.

Stores that invite business by truthfully advertising grow in popularity.

Advertising moves goods from seller to buyer.

It costs less to sell advertised goods. Trying to sell goods without the aid of advertising means lost time, lost effort and lost money.

ON PARLIAMENT HILL

By a Member of the Parliamentary Press Gallery

Ottawa, May 12, 1924.—Parliament has had another week of budget debate. Home bank inquiry and church union controversy.

In point of interest the discussion of the Church Union Bill, which has been proceeded with before packed audiences in the Commons, has, perhaps, occupied first place. Representatives of the unionists and the anti-unionists have been heard at great length, and the lobby, which has been persistently carried on among the members, has rivalled anything that has been seen in Ottawa in connection with tariff or railway matters for many years past.

The members of Parliament with the possible exception of the Quebec members are in a quandary as to what course to steer between the unionists and anti-unionists, and will doubtless heartily welcome a compromise which now seems to him sight following the lines of the amendments of the Church Union Act put through by the Nova Scotia Legislature on Thursday last.

Present indications seem to be that the Bill, as introduced, will not pass in its original form, or in any event would be so bitterly opposed at every stage of its progress through both Houses that prospects of its enactment before prerogative are decidedly slim. Under the circumstances it is now considered probable that a compromise will be reached allowing a six months or year interlude before the Act as finally passed, becomes operative during which interval Presbyterian congregations may vote themselves into union or out of union as they see fit. Those deciding to remain out of the union can retain their present status securing also their present vested property rights. If a compromise bill, as suggested, is agreed upon it will be a happy way out for the perplexed members of Parliament who have no wish to offend either their unionist or anti-unionist electors.

A Quick Relief for Headache

A headache is frequently caused by badly digested food; the gases and acids resulting therefrom are absorbed by the blood which in turn irritates the nerves and causes painful symptoms called headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc. 15 to 30 drops of Mother Seigel's Syrup will correct faulty digestion and afford relief.

DEVELOPMENTS OF IMPORTANCE

(Presque Isle Star-Herald)
A. R. Gould to Sell His Holdings in The Gould Electric Company and New Brunswick Power Company to Big Utility Corporation. After that is Done Gould Will Build the Quebec Extension Railroad, Prospects for Which are Now Extremely Bright.

It is reported by the officials of the Gould Electric Company that Mr. A. R. Gould and his immediate associates who hold a controlling interest in the stock of the Gould Electric Company and the Maine and New Brunswick Electrical Power Company, have entered into a contract with one of the largest Public Utility Corporations in the country, whereby Mr. Gould is to sell his interests and those of his associates to this corporation. The arrangement provides, however, opportunity for minority stockholders to turn over their stock in like manner and on similar advantageous terms to the corporation in question, provided they see fit to do so. It is probable that the terms will be such as to induce such stockholders to join in the sale, as a matter of prudence and good business judgment.

A very large percentage of these stockholders invested their money in this stock in order to help promote a much needed enterprise of development which, in the course of years, has grown to be an important public utility, and have continued to hold on to their stock, largely on account of their confidence in Mr. Gould's good faith and ability. Mindful of the fact that in similar cases where propositions of the size of the Gould interests have been absorbed by larger corporations, it has been the experience too often that the big fish has eaten up the little ones and the minority holders in the Gould companies are likely not to act upon the wisdom of letting go of their holdings on terms which give them very handsome returns in every way as a result of their investment.

At the present time engineers from the buying corporation are inventorying the physical assets of the local electric companies, and checking up on the financial returns realized from their operation, and in case the report of these experts tallies with the representations made by the management of the local companies, which it appears quite certain will be the case, the deal will be consummated. So far as magnitude in dollars and cents is concerned, this transfer is about the largest deal which has taken place in Northern Maine up to the present time. It is of more than ordinary interest on that account, but quite as much of interest on account of the evidence it affords of the great success which has attended the history of this particular hydro-electric development.

Many of the readers of the Star-Herald are fairly familiar with the different chapters in the history of this power development. Started by Mr. Gould in 1906, it has gone through many stages, the pioneer ones full of great difficulties and discouragements, and finally after getting upon its feet it has grown into big proportions as a public utility which has very widely extended, very intimate and very vital relation to the prosperity of the section it serves.

Exactly what changes of management will be brought about, and what new policies affecting the public interest will be introduced, is a matter of speculation. But up to the date of Mr. Gould's relinquishing control it has been wonderfully successful and most highly satisfactory in its relation to the communities it has served.

For more than ten years, probably nearer twelve since the preliminary surveys were made, Mr. Gould has had his mind bent on the building of an electric railroad across the state, from the settled part of the county to the western boundary, there to con-sion Railway appears to be practically next with what is known as the Quebec Central Railway. The number of times Mr. Gould has been thrown down on this project it would be hard to enumerate, but after each temporary check he has tackled the project from a new angle, with unabated courage, and with faith in ultimate success.

All things come at last to a man of that sort of grit and energy, and now, 12 years after he made his start on the enterprise, the prospect is very bright for whipping things into shape so that actual work on the proposed new line will begin within the coming year. Locally this is of special importance to Presque Isle, as it assures us of very decided business stimulation during the period of construction, which would probably cover at least two years from the time actual work begins. There are still many details to arrange, and many wrinkles to iron out, but the financial backbone of the scheme is now a settled and tangible reality. What remains to be done, in the matter of settling minor details, are merely molehills compared with the real mountain of difficulty, which at last has been scaled, so that the carrying out of Mr. Gould's pet vision of building the Quebec Extension assured. It has now a basis of solid financial reality, the details of which the Star-Herald is not at present authorized to explain, but which seem to fully assure the success of this great undertaking.

The Farmers' Sun notes that Carleton Place has seven dailies, four weeklies, and forty-seven weeklies, lower than a year ago, and adds that

OBSERVER, ADS BRING RESULTS

IN ALL THE WORLD NO CAR LIKE THIS

Such Power and Strength—at $1645!

ENTERING its third year of stupendous success Jewett Six, in the opinion of many, is the greatest buy obtainable at $1645. It out-performs far more expensive sixes. (Most power for weight!)

All notions as to power in a moderate priced car were upset by Jewett. Its full 50-h.p., Paige-built motor—high-pressure oiled, quiet and "peppy"—wrote new motoring history.

Jewett Six owners gaily get away first in traffic; pick up from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds, in high; inch along at 2 miles an hour in traffic, in high; speed up quickly to 60 miles an hour, or more, in high; take most every hill in high!

Look Into the Motor

Here's the best way to judge a car's power. Find out the bore and stroke of its cylinders—the total cubic inch piston displacement. Jewett's cylinders are 3 1/4 x 5 inches—giving a total of 249 cubic inches. This means from 17 to 47 per cent more power than "light" sixes. Yes, more power even than a dozen higher priced sixes!

"But can the Jewett handle this power?" That's what competitors, on the defensive, asked. It was but natural, for Jewett's moderate price, judged by usual standards, indicated a light, flimsy car. It still seems incredible to many that $1645 can buy a sturdy, husky car, more than amply strong —in absolute proportion to its fifty horsepower.

But it's a fact! Jewett owners, through millions of miles of service, have proved Jewett's strength, dependability, freedom from repair bills!

2805 lbs. Strong

Jewett—2805 pounds strong—weighs from 200 to 400 pounds more than "light" sixes. It weighs more than some larger cars. It has a 6-inch-deep frame; Paige-Timken axles front and rear; Paige-type clutch and transmission; all-steel universal joints.

Many people content themselves with lighter cars than Jewett—cars less powerful, less able—but costing nearly as much. They do this only because they do not drive Jewett before buying. Remember, Jewett, for only $1645, brings you mechanical superlatives—weight for length—249 cubic inch motor—power for weight—and other advantages not obtainable in any other car.

Compare!

That's why we say "in all the world no car like this!" You may duplicate some of Jewett's features for from seven hundred to thousands of dollars more, but then at the sacrifice of convenience and economy.

Drive Jewett. Let your wife drive it. Then ask yourself whether any lesser car can possibly satisfy you. Call us—today!

FIRM BELIEVER IN THE FRUIT TREATMENT

MRS. LAURA ALFORD

Thousands of people owe the splendid Fruit Medicine—"Fruit-actives"—a lasting debt of gratitude, which they gladly pay by testifying to its merits.

Mrs. Laura Alford of 28 Florence St., Ottawa, says: For years, I was a martyr to constipation and dyspepsia. I have tried cathartics, salts and so-called vegetable laxatives but all were unpleasant and gave no permanent relief. Finally, I decided to try "Fruit-actives". I have been using "Fruit-actives" now for seven years; never have constipation or stomach trouble, and have been in the best of health ever since. My husband and children use "Fruit-actives" regularly.

"Fruit-actives" contain intensified fruit juices combined with tonics. 25c. and 50c. a box—at dealers or Fruit-actives Limited, Ottawa.

K. C. Haycock, superintendent of the Dominion Express Co. in the maritime provinces, was in town today. He gave the editor a pleasant half hour recalling the events of an intimacy extending over 20 years.

Stanley E. Savage returned on Friday of last week from Detroit, Mich., having completed the course and receiving his diploma from the Michigan State Automobile School. He came home by way of Boston and visited relatives in West Somerville a few days.

A gentleman who has travelled the road from Hartland to Cloverdale for thirty years was invited to become one of a party to go by automobile to Cloverdale a week ago, and on his return he said he never before had found the road from Rockland to Cloverdale in such good shape. Bouquets should be handed to a person who deserves them while the person is still alive, and not after death, so this is to congratulate Oakley Orser on his fine showing on the Rockland to Cloverdale road.

Say, old man, didn't you promise her you would endow her with all your worldly goods if she would marry you? And here you've been letting her fizzle over an old wood burner for years. Why don't you buy her an oil burner and let her have some comfort during the heat of summer? You can get the New Perfection Oil Burners at Carr's at reasonable prices and save money too. Do it now!

One of the most severe thunder storms in years passed over the county on Thursday afternoon. There was a considerable amount of hail in some parts. Lightning struck in many sections but the most severe damage reported was at Hartland where the N. B. Telephone Company suffered heavily. A bolt of lightning came in over the Western Union wires, flashed from the receiving instruments to the telephone box, instantaneously burning a message that was held in the operator's hands, blew the telephone box to pieces, and continued out to the cable terminals at the corner of King and Main streets where the bolt ended its career with a report like a rifle and an exhibition of remarkable fire-works. The numerous strands of wire making up the cable terminal were fused into one solid mass of metal. A crew was busy until Sunday evening making repairs.

GIRL SAVES BOY
FROM DROWNING

Jennie Finnemore Plunges Into the Cold Water and Rescues Tot

Arthurette, N. B., May 19.—A daring rescue of the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lawson, of Odell River, a small place on the Tobique, about 8 miles below Plaster Rock, was made by Miss Jennie Finnemore, a girl of 16 years last week.

The river was running fast, it being the top of the spring freshet, when one of the bravest rescues known in this vicinity was accomplished by Miss Finnemore. A little fellow, commonly known as "Bud," was visiting at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Finnemore, which is near the bank of the river.

Missing the little fellow from the house, Mrs. Finnemore requested her daughter, Jennie, to go to search for him. Jennie followed a road that cut down the bank at one side of the house, the bank being quite steep, and she was horrified to see the little fellow floating with the current down the river. Without one moment's hesitation, Miss Finnemore, attired with heavy clothing, plunged into the cold water, swam for some distance and rescued the little boy, whom she carried to the house, and after some attention he appeared to be none the worse for his experience.

This brave act is reported as the second accomplished by young Miss Finnemore. While in bathing about four years ago, she was successful in saving the life of a companion who was drowning.
