Mems of the Merry War.

As a "jew'l" of a fighting speech, read Mr. Sifton's smashing reply to young Sir Hibbert Tupper at Brandon. Our London old boys are the stuff.

Brandon will see a good fight, in West York the fur will fly, and in St. John the clash of swords will be heard above the sound of the sea. Still, for a regular "jew'l of a fight" London, Ontario, would be our choice.-Globe.

Yes; Londoners have plenty of energy. They are what the novelist Stevenson calls "bonnie fighters." But bless you! when the fight is over, Liberals and Conservatives are the best of friends personally. Yes, it will be a The price of a shoe doesn't jew'l of a fight," with a "jew'l of a majority" for Hyman.

> Sir Hibbert Tupper said I was the man he was after. He has been after me a long time, and is not catching up very fast .- Hon. Clifford Sifton.

"Sir Hibbert Tupper would imply that Major Walsh was unfit for the discharge of his duty through drunkenness. I say he was not drunk. If I got drunk, I would not be fit for the position of Minister of the Interior, or member for Brandon. I suppose I might say the same thing about Sir Hibbert Tupper and Mr. Hugh John Macdonald." (Tremendous cheering.)-Hon. Clifford Sifton, when referring to the charges made against Major Walsh.

The tone and temper of our ordinarily amiable contemporary are not precisely the tone and temper of old-time gladiators, who, as they stepped into the arena, made obelsance, with the words, "We, who are about to die, salute you." Our esteemed contemporery should face the linevitable with something like this ancient fortitude, instead of trying to cover up the com-LOST-SET OF TEETH. PLEASE RE- ing Tupper defeat by intimations that RURN to this office. the result they shiver over in advance is to be accomplished unfairly. Unfairly! > The gallant major is getting to be rather terrible, oratorically. Whether denouncing Sir Wilfrid Laurier as less loval than himself; whether criticising South African arrangements with the fierce zeal of a stay-at-home; or whether in Parliament, declaring he would build so high a Chinese tariff wall "that no Yankee could shoot any of his goods over it with a Maxim gun," the major seems to entertain no doubt of his being a most destructive

BANK DIRECTORS INDICTED. Quebec, Oct. 16 .- The grand jury yesterday brought in a true bill against William Weir, president of the defunct Ville Marie Bank, and against three of his fellow-directors, namely, Godfrey Weir, E. Lichtenheim and F. W. Smith. The indictment charges them with conspiracy to defraud in receiving deposits from the public after they know that the bank was insolvent.

The Great Brandon Meeting.

What will be one of the memorable political gatherings of the campaign And All was held at Brandon on Saturday night. It was a Conservative meeting. There had been talk of Hon. Hugh John Macdonald and the Hon. Clifford Sifton meeting on the same platform, but Hugh John Macdonald is no match on the platform for Clifford Sif-*ton, and hence it was considered better that Sir Hibbert Tupper should be his opponent; but he, too, fell far short. Both men are good speakers, but the Hon. Clifford Sifton carried the meeting with him, and deservedly

Sir Hibbert Tupper, after making his charges, was treated to a warm reply. There is no man on the floor of Parliament more capable of defending his department than our former townsman, the Hon. Clifford Sifton. Two or three points so effectually made are worthy

(1) His defense of Major Walsh from the charge of drunkenness, in which, in the neatest, yet most incisive, way, he carried the war into Af-

(2) His defense of himself from Sir Charles Tupper's insinuation that he had personally an interest in the taking of liquor into the Yukon, and the complete backdown and apology of Sir Charles Tupper in the libel suit of Philip vs. Tupper, arising out of Sir Charles Tupper's charge. Mr. Sifton, in just indignation, did not hesitate to call the charge made against him a lie, and read a letter from Sir Charles Tupper, which concluded as follows: "I further beg to state that I have satisfied myself that there is no ground for believing that yourself or Mr. Sifton were concerned together in taking or attempting to take liquor into the Yukon Territory. I sincerely regret if anything which I said has been construed into a reflection on your char-

That must have been interesting reading for Sir Hibbert Tupper coupled as it was with the statement that if Sir Hibbert Tupper would make his statements about Major Walsh outside of the floor of the House, where he could not plead privilege, he would have a pleasure in the way of enforced apology similar to that of his father.

Next to the Hon. J. Israel Tarte, the Conservatives attack Hon. Clifford Sifton with the greatest amount of bitterness, but it is quite plain he can as vigorously reply. We are pr state that the Department of the In- Men, Women and Girls Unite in terior, like every other department of the Government, is in good hands, able to defend and justify its every act.

Prof. James Bryce on the Fosition of the Party.

Takes a Hopeful View of the Situation D ssolution Was, Under the Cir-oumstances, Unwarranted.

London, Oct. 16, 1 a.m.-(Toronto Globe Special)-Professor James Bryce has been wandering about the country and speaking for his friends since his own election at Aberdeen, but I have succeeded in obtaining an expression of his views respecting the results of the canvass and the prospects of the Liberal party. I must assume the responsibility of repeating his judgments, as he ordinarily refuses to say anything for publication in other countries regarding English politics. He says that the dissolution was quite without precedent, and quite opposed to the spirit and usage of the British constitution. The law fixes the duration of parliament, and established usage has settled that parliament ought not to be dissolved prematurely, save to take the opinion of the country upon some definite issue, usually when a bill has been rejected or a ministry censured. To spring dissolution, especially upon a stale register, for the sake of party advantage, is a new departure here, and a very bad one. NO ISSUE BEFORE THE COUNTRY

There has, he says, been really no issue before the country, because the war is over and the annexation of the Boer republics is a "fait accompli." Consequently this general election settles nothing and outlines no future policy, foreign or domestic. No one has the least idea what the ministry will now do. Perhaps they do not know themselves. Professor Bryce is not disheartened by the results of the elections.

POSITION OF THE LIBERALS. He maintains that too much discouragement is expressed regarding the position of the Liberal party, and adds: "Considering the difficulties un-der which it has had to fight this election, it has given proofs of strength which make it probable that before long the current may be setting in its favor. The disparity represented by the number of members of each party returned is very much greater than the disparity represented by the votes GOVERNMENT SCORES IN SCOT-

LAND. Professor Bryce's personal triumph in securing re-election has been rendered the more significant by the unexpected success of the Unionists in upsetting a strong Liberal majority in Aberdeenshire and winning their sixth seat in Scotland. This gain gave them a lead

London, Oct. 16.-The election returns today do not change the results, and the final figures, with the exception of the Orkney Islands, leave the government a net gain of a single seat. The total number of members of parliament elected is 669, as follows: Ministerialists 400, opposition 269. a Night March,

Met by Soldiers and Dispersed at the Point of the Bayonet.

Lansford, Pa., Oct. 16.-About 1.500 men and 60 women and girls marched eighteen miles from the south side of the Hazleton region during the night for the Panther Creek Valley, where they expected to close all of the ten collieries of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, but just as the weary, marchers were nearing their destinaton this morning they were met on a mountain road by three companies of infantry, and at the points of bayonets

The troops were patient with the strikers, but for a moment, just after the two forces met on the road in the darkness, it looked as if a clash would come, but the good sense of those who had charge of the strikers prevented a conflict. EXPECTS A COMPROMISE.

Chicago, Oct. 16 .- Senator Mark A. Hanna, when asked about his statement that the Pennsylvania miners' strike would come to an end today, said: "I did not profess prophetic insight into the strike situation in Pennsylvania, but the last news received from the center of disturbances is to the effect that a settlement is near. Advices received by business men coincide with this statement, and I am told a compromise of the difficulty is a certainty within a few days at least. New York, Oct. 16 .- An afternoon paper says that a high officer of one of the principal coal mining companies said that the coal-carrying railroads, which control most of the mines in the anthracite region, would agree in a few days to guarantee that the 10 per cent increase in the miners' wages should be kept in effect until April 1 This concession, this officer thought, would end the struggle.

an audience of fully 3,000 people gathered in the rink at Brandon, Man., on Saturday evening to hear Hon. Clifford Sifton, minister of the interior, reply to the charges made by Sir Hibbert Tupper regarding the management of Yukon affairs. Mr. Andrew Kelly acted as chairman.

ed, the cheering lasting for several minutes. He devoted aimost his entire speech to the Yukon administra-He charged that the Laurier Administration had gained power by false pledges and talse promises, and inaugurated an era of corruption, and waid: "I say this to make my case clear: This Administration has inaugurated a carnival of crime, and I will tell you the culmination; I put it to you judgment. In my hearing in the House of Commons this session I saw the culmination when Sir Wilfrid Laurier attempted to stand up as an apologist for crime. Sir Hibbert then cited the case of Lemieux, the tather of Mr. Rodolphe Lemieux, M. P. for Gaspe, who is a member of the civil service, and who took part in his son's election under, Sir Hibbert asserted, an assuma name. Sir Hibbert continued: The Prime Minister had to admit the acts, and his plea that he attempted to make in the face of the country was that much might be forgiven Mr. emieux, because it was the act of a ather on behalf of his son. A more isgraceful statement was never made in any parliament under the British flag. (Cheers and some disturbance.) A batch, as Mr. Sifton called them, of officials got into the Yukon in 1898, and ever since there have been constant complaints. I might be a preju-diced listener to the charges made, but I ask you to remember that a distinguished correspondent of the London Times (Miss Shaw) visited Daw-son in September, 1898, and the result was a most terrific indictment of the condition of things under Mr. Sifton's administration. The statements I will not take the trouble to dwell upon. I mention them to draw attention to what followed. From that time down the opposition has pressed for a judi-cial inquiry into the charges then made, and many more that had followed were things that could not have happened unless Mr. Sifton had been grossly negligent. The proof came in the visit of the governor-general Dawson the other day, and there his excellency was presented with a me-morial by the citizens of Dawson which was one of the strongest indictments against the administration in that country to a representative of the crown. (Cheers.) I hold it under my

The statements concerning the Yukon appeared in the press of both parties in Canada and in the oid country, and the conviction that came to him was that they would not and dare not refuse a fair, judicial and impartial He was confident, because he had confidence in the precedents under British government. In Ballarat, Australia, a commission was appointed without demanding straight personal charges, neither were they asked to do so in the old country in connection with the board of works. A member read in the house of commons a statement regarding that department, and the government only too gladly pointed a commission. Sir Hibbert

As was stated in Monday's Advertiser | proceeded to show that the private letters from Mr. Ogilvie, which he accused Mr. Sifton of refusing to bring down in the house, were not private, as they were written in a formal way, and added: "It was a colossal deception of parliament by Mr. Sifton; it was a screaming, howling farce." poor fellows up the creeks were unable to make their voices heard. I did not know all the cards Mr. Sifton had up his sleeve. The rest of Sir Hibbert's speech was a repetition of his speeches on the Yukon administration made before the House of Comons.

Mr. Sifton's Reply.

The chairman's calling on Mr. Sifton to reply to Sir Hibbert Tupper was the signal for a great outburst of enthusiasm. Men jumped to their feet and cheered again and again, while flags, hats and handkerchiefs were waved all over the audience. It was one of the most enthusiastic receptions ever accorded a public man in the west. Mr. Sifton said: I have come here at considerable inconvenience. I came to Brandon some days ago, when I understood that Mr. Macdonald was about to call a public meeting; I had written to him some days in advance of the meeting and avoided other public engagements and held myself open to speak if permitted. I received no invitation to attend this meeting, and my friends informed me that I would not be allowed to speak. Some days later Mr. Macdonald's personal organ accused me of funking meeting Mr. Macdonald. I then started my own meetings, and then received telegrams to be here this evening to meet Sir Hibbert Tupper, and I said I saw no reason why I should cancel my meetings to suit him or Mr. Macdonald. However, I arranged to cancel my engagements elsewhere, and my reason for doing so is that otherwise it would have been said by the Conservatives that I was afraid to meet Sir Hibbert Tupper, and I do not propose that my friends shall have to make any apologies on my behalf in this campaign. I expected that he would have been able to say something-(c I confess that I am somewhat pointed. (Cheers.) I expected that I would have heard samething new. I have not heard anything that I have not heard five or six times before, or that has not been printed in the papers half a dozen times before, and think that while Sir Hibbert Tupper may congratulate himself upon a very large audience assembled to hear him -and I give him credit for drawing the audience—(no, no, and cheers)—I think should he come to Brandon again, will be more room next time. (Laughter.) I read his speech at Cal-gary and there is a difference in the tone of the two speeches. It is said sometimes that the presence of an opponent has a tempering effect. Sir Hibbert Tupper said I was the man he was after. (Cheers.) He has been after me a long time, and is not catching up very fast. (Laughter.)

AN INFAMOUS DOCUMENT. Before dealing with Sir Hippert Tupper's remarks I want to refer to a document that came through the mails to the electors of this constituency. It is sent out on behalf of the Conservative managers, and is the most infamdocument ever sent to an elector in Manitoba. (Hear, hear.)

A voice—Filthy.

If Mr. Macdonald does not apologize for this document the hundreds of electors of Brandon will testify to their detestation of such tactics. detestation of such tactics. (Hear, hear.) Mr. Sifton was referring to a four-page campaign paper, printed by Star, with a facsimile of the Toronto Globe heading. The intention is that people will get it and think it is the Globe. (Cheers and counter cheers.) That's what it is in-tended for; the editorial page has been copied and the intention is that people reading that paper will think that the Toronto Globe is attacking the Liberal party. I say that it constitutes a falsehood, and if Mr. Macdonald does. not apologize, then he is not living up to the character he took for himself at the commencement of his campaign.

(Hear, hear.)

THE TUPPER CHARGES. Mr. Sifton, continuing, said: When Sir Hibbert Tupper made his nine hours' speech in the House of Commons he did not do what I challenged him to do. When he made his speech he said there were two kinds of charges one of a personal character, the other as to personal ability. A man may be honest, but utterly incapable; we have no right to say he is dishonest but we have a right to put him out of office. We have no right to mix up personal honesty with other mat-ters; parliamentary institutions provide for that; a man must stand up in the House of Commons and make a charge on his personal responsibility. He challenged him for the last three years to do that and he has not done it yet. (Cheers.) Tonight they heard him distinctly say that he did not know anything of the kind. That would not be satisfactory to Mr. Macdonald and his campaign managers. More unfair or more dishonest charges had never been made than those made against him regarding the administration of the Yukon, Men have been employed at the coast for the purpose of getting hold of disappointed miners who had lost all their money and often that of their friends as well, and have got them to make all sorts of statements without vindication or proof, and these have been circulated by the Conservative press. If I got drunk I would not be fit for the position of minister of the interior or member for Brandon. (Cheers.) I suppose I might say the same thing about Sir Hibbert Tupper and Mr. Hugh John Macdonald. (Tremendous cheering.) Sir Hibbert Tupper ought to be very careful about saying a man has been drunk without having any evidence of it. (Cheers.) I was in the House of Commons one night and a gentleman sitmons one night and a gentleman sit-ting next to me said: 'Sir Hibbert Tupper has just come in, and he is drunk,' but I said I did not think so; but I merely give you this ac in a but I merely give you this as an illustration of how a man may be mistaken. parent of my honorable friend, made a statement in public that at the end of ten days he would drive me out of public life. He is like Sir Hibbert, he is after me, but is not catching up very fast. (Laughter.) I was anxious to know how the operation was going to be done; my friends said for me to pack up. I never knew what it was that was going to drive me from pubtic life until the occurrence which took place about a year ago in the City Hall in this city. Sir Charles Tupper, before the audience in that place, and in my absence, made a statement that Mr. Philip had taken a large emplific of light property of large emplifications. large amount of liquor into the Yukon Territory, and he more than insinuated and to all intents and purposes stated -I am told by farmers that he said in effect and left upon the mind of the audience that I was a partner in that transaction. The matter was repeated to me, and a short time afterwards, when speaking in Brandon-and everybody knows that I am not in the habit of saying strong things on the platform-(hear, hear)-and the only persons that drive me out of that frame of mind are Sir Charles Tupper and his hopeful son, Sir Hibbert-(cheers)-I felt constrained to say that that statement was a lie. (Great cheering.) I said that Sir Charles Tupper knew it was a lie when he made it. That was a pretty strong statement, but his statement was pretty strong; it was either a lie or the truth. If it was the truth I had not right to be a member of the government or the representative of the city of Brandon. (Hear, hear.) If it was a lie it had a right to be characterized as such. hear.) Under the British judicial system a man is considered innocent until proven guilty. I propose to prove to the satisfaction of every Conservative gentleman in this audience, including the chairman-(cheers)-Sir Hibbert Tupper-(more cheers)-and even Senator Kirchhoffer-(further cheering)se to prove that the stat made from that platform by Sir Charles Tupper was a falsehood.

'Dear Sir,-Referring to a speech made by me at Brandon on the 20th of November last, during which you ciaim I made certain damaging references to you in reference to the importation or alleged importation of liquor into the Yukon Territory, I beg to say that such speech was intended to be directed by me entirely to a discussion of public questions, and my intention was not to reflect in any way upon you personally. If any of those present took a different meaning from what I said I now beg to say that subsequent investigation has shown me that the telegram sent in your name to Mr. Sifton on the 12th of June, 1898, asking that the letter in question should be amended so as to include the importation of liquor into the Yukon, and which telegram was referred to by Mr. Sifton on the floor of the House of Commons as having been received by him from you, was not sent or authorized by you, and that you did not, directly or indirectly, in any way, through yourself or any other person, take or attempt to take liquor into the Yukon Territory under the authority of the letter given by Mr. Sifton, to which I referred in my remarks, and that you were no party, directly or indirectly, to the attempt made to dispose of the letter. I further beg to state that I have satisfied myself that there is no ground for believing that vourself or Mr. Sifton were concerned together in taking or attempting to take liquor into the Yukon Territory. I sincerely regret if anything which I said has been construed into a reflection on your character."

Mr. Sifton continued: "Those of you who were here last year and heard Sir Charles Tupper upon the platform, and heard him make that charge, and have heard the members of the Conservative party who believe it-they did not all believe it. I am glad to say-and who circulated that story all around the country, can realize the depth of humiliation of that gentleman in signing a complete, absolute refutation, (Cheers.) And if this gentleman— (turning to Sir Hibbert)—will place some of his statements in a categorical form in the same way, he will have pleasure of signing a document like this." (Enthusiastic and continued cheering.)

When he could again be heard, he said that Mr. Sifton had hardly touched upon one of the points he had brought up. Of this statement the audience also disapproved. Mr. Sifton had boasted of the good character given him by Sir Wilfrid Laurier; why, Sir Wilfrid Laurier had given a character to a perjurer and increased his salary. This was too Tupperian for the audience, which broke out in another continued round of groans and hisses. He challenged Mr. Sifton to say that he had been under the influence of liquor when in the house. Mr. Sifton had simply called his opponents liars.

A voice—So they are.
"That was simply avoiding the question," he said. He had not taken up his (Tupper's) charges one by one, but had systematically hedged on them. It was like Mr. Sifton to introduce a lot of cheap claptrap about his getting into a libel suit, as his father had done. He was not afraid of it. He characterized as disgraceful the action of Mr. Sifton making capital out of the letter of apology sent by his father to Mr. Philp. It was throwing dirt on the conduct of a gentleman who had only acted the part of a gentleman. (Loud jeers, and a voice—"He didn't do it till he had to.") Sir Charles Tupper did not know that a certain telegram had been formal. certain telegram had been forged; Mr. Sifton had not told him. After all. Mr. Sifton had not come to the kernel of the matter. Mr. Sifton was afraid of the inquiry, and had resorted to giving statements the lie. He (Tupper) had not attacked Mr. Ogilvie's judicial character, but said there had been suspicious things in his action as judge in affairs which came so close to Mr. Sifton's character. Was it a decent thing to increase the man's salary after he had done the white-washing act? He then took up the Sifton-Philp-Bennett matter, and after discussing it. in explanation of the matter, said Mr. Sifton had not denied was interested with Philip in

CHEERS FOR MR. SIFTON. Sir Hibbert anxiously inquired of the chairman if he had exceeded his time. He had only sponen a few minutes. He was reiterating his statements about the seriousness of the charges he made against Mr. Sifton and of the difficulties under which he had spoken, when some one in the back of the rink shouted: "Three cheers for Sifton!"
These were given with such heartiness that three-quarters of the audience must have joined. Sir Hibbert sat down as though he had finished, and the audience started for home. They had heard the charges that were to drive Mr. Sifton from public life forever, they had heard Mr. Sifton's reply to the charges, which had been eminently satisfactory. They did not propose to sit and listen to the abusive statements which Sir Hibbert Tupper had indicated he was quite prepared to make, and the audience was deserting him. The chair-man's authority was hopeless when it came to an attempt to make them sit and listen to more ravings from Sir Hilbbert Tupper. The delusion which the local Conservatives had cherished concerning the speech which was to smash Sifton was expleded. The chairman came to the front of the platform and asked for three cheers for the Queen. His voice did not carry far in the din, but the audience saw Mr. Sifton joining in the cheers, and they were right loyally given. He

Just before the speaking began a voice inquired, "Where is Hugh John?" and the sally was greeted with laughter and cheers. The meeting was no doubt the most remarkable that will take place in the Dominion during this election. Conservatives, except of the extremist variety, admit that Mr. Sifton made a masterful speech, and the Liberals are confident that the influence of the meeting will be sufficient to decide the campaign.

PITTSBURG LOST THE FIRST. Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 15. - The postseries of bail games between Brooklyn and Pittsburg for the world's championship and possession of a $500 trophy cup was begun today at Exposition Park, in the presence of four thousand enthusiastic fans. The series was made possible by the Chronicle-Telegraph, of this city, shortly after Plusburg's phenomenal stride toward the pennant in the latter part of the season, offering a beautiful trophy in the shape of a solid silver punch bowl, to be con-tested for by the teams finishing first and second, provided Pittsburg was one of them. The team winning three games out of five to have absolute possession of the trophy, and the gate receipts of the series will be divided among the members of both teams who were signed before Sept. 15. Great interest attaches to the contest, because Pittaburg has won the series from every team in the league with the exception of Cincinnati, and many friends think they would have won the pen-and had not so many of their players been disabled towards the end of the season. The first game was won by Brooklyn hands down, McGinnity, the "iron man," had his opponents completely at his mercy up to the ninth inning, allowing only three "dinky" hits up to that time. In the eighth inning McGinnity was being run down by Waddell between third and home, and in an attempt to dodge his pursuer McGinnity fell, striking his temple hard on Waddell's knee. He was taid out for three or four minutes, but pluckily went to the box and fin-ished the game. In the ninth he hit a batter, gave a base on balls, and two hits, saving Pittsburg a shut-out. Wad-dell was not hit hard, but often, six hits being made off him in the third inning. His support was not of the best, O'Brien's and Williams' errors betag costly. Score: R. H. E. The races will be sailed next fall perhaps off Ontario Beach. The championship of the great lakes accompanies the cup. It is said a new challenger will be constructed by the Canadians from designs by H. C. McLeod, who designed the Minota, and will be sailed by Aemilius Jarvis, who sailed the Minota in her race with the Genesee this fall.

ATHLETICS.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES. New York, Oct. 15 .- The Herald says: America is to have the Olympic games in 1901. They will be under the juris-diction of the Amateur Athletic Union, and will be held at Buffalo during the Pan-American Exposition. Four years ago, when the games were revived, largely through the efforts of Baron Pierre de Couberten, it was intended that they should be held only once every four years, but this idea has now been abandoned, and the international committee favors holding the games annually, the date and venue to alternate between different countries. During the visit of the American athletes to Paris this summer, there was much speculation as to who would get the games next year. Austria, Germany, Switzerland, and even Sweden, seemed anxious for the privilege, but the committee received the application of these countries with disfavor. England was looked upon as the only country where the games would be suitable in 1901, but the English Amateur Athletic Association does not want the games.

London, Oct. 15.—At the National Sporting Club; London, this evening, "Charlie" McKeever, welterweight, of Philadelphia, defeated Dido Plun, of London, in the 15th round.

THE McGOVERN SULLIVAN GO. Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 15.-Negotiations are still pending, but incomplete for the McGovern-Sullivan fight at Louisville. The parties are agreed that the guaranteed purse shall be $3,-500; that the forfelt of each contestant shall be $1,000; that the time shall be between Nov. 10 and Dec. 10; that the weight shall be 124 pounds; that there will be 25 rounds, and that Siler shall be referee. The stumbling block now is about where the forfeits shall be de posited. McGovern has deposited $1,000 with a newspaper in Cincinnati. Sullivan refuses to deposit unless McGov-ern's deposit is made in Louisville. There the matter stands.

VARDON DOWNED BY NICHOLLS. Newton, Mass., Oct. 13 .- For the second time during his stay in this country, Harry Vardon, winner of the United States open championship, was defeated by Bernard Nicholls this afternoon on the Braeburn links at West Newton. Nicholls was one up on Var-don at the close of the morning play, and managed to keep ahead, or even, with his opponent during the remain-der of the day. The result of the match was a great surprise, as it was anticipated that Vardon would win by a good margin. His driving, as usual, was phenomenal, but Nicholls was a trifle stronger on the short game, which, with the short course, gave him a slight advantage. Singularly enough, Vardon's medal score was one better than Nicholls', yet he lost on match

The 25th annual meeting of the board of management of the Protestant Orphans' Home was held yesterday afternoon in the public library building. The president, Mrs. Morphy, presided over the meeting, which was attended by many ladies and gentlemen interested in this charitable work. Rev. C. C. Owen, rector of the Memorial Church, conducted the opening devotional services, and two hymns were sung by 30 of the home children. Mrs. Shuttleworth presented a very satisfactory secretary's report. During the year 80 children had been cared for. There were 24 boys and 14 girls in the home at the beginning of the year, and in the twelve months 20 boys and 22 girls were admitted; 20 boys and 13 girls were discharged, leaving 22 boys and 21 girls in the home on Oct. 1 last. There was not a single case of illness of a serious nature among the children, and no deaths occurred. Several much-needed conveniences were secured during the year. The bequests included $200 from the estate of the late Wm. Turville, $100 from the estate of the late P. Mc-Hhargy, of Biddulph, and a balance of $249 05 from the Wm. Robinson estate. The special work of the year was the furnishing of a room in the children's pavilion at Victoria Hospital, which was done by the individual efforts of the trustees.

The report of Mrs. Gregsten, treasurer, showed receipts of $3,738 81, the principal items being: Dividends and interest from the endowment fund, $994 74; government grant, $330 06; city council grant, $350; city collections, $929 94; payment of board, $324 45; and bequests, $549 05. The expenses amounted to $3,653 38, leaving a balance of $85 43. The receipts of the endowment fund were $1,575 64, and the expenses $1,529 99, of which $1,000 was paid on maintenance account. hundred dollars was invested in loan company stock.

Penny Postage Has Come to

The Montreal Gazette has come out quarely against penny postage. Under the late Government a postage of three cents on letters sent to any point in Canada and the United States, and ostage of 5 cents on letters sent to the Motherland, resulted in a deficit of about three-quarters of a million of dollars annually. Now there is an allround postage of two cents, and so reat has been the increase in the busess of the country and of the postoffice, under Libertal rule, that there is to longer three-quarters of a million deficit, nor half a million, nor a quarter of a millon. In fact, the Postmaster-General is this year making the postoffice pay itself. And on the head of this, the reactionary Opposition organ in Montreal sighs for the re-establishment of dear postage, fewer letters to and from the Motherland, and enother era of huge deficits in the service. It is just such counsel and grumbling as is indulged in by the Montreal Gazette that leads the independent electorate to resolve not to let the present Opposition have the opportunity to put their threats into execution, to revive the "halcyon days" of 1895, when there was dear postage, deficits galore, no preferential tariff in favor of Great Britain, but a Red Parlor "hold up" to provide election funds for the Conservative party. The dream and hope of the Opposition to have the old order of things re-established will not be re-

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Great Service to Canada-Unity, Harmony and Amity.

On March 13th last, in the House Commons, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said: "If voted my political life, it is to try to promote unity, harmony and amity among the diverse elements of this country. My friends can desert me; they can remove their confidence from me; they can withdraw the trust they have placed in my hands; but never Whatever may be the consequences, whether loss of prestige, loss of popularity or loss of power. all do well to ponder them and let their meaning and effect take possession of us and influence our lives. It is pitiable that so many people in religious matters do not reason at all, but give themselves over to intolerance of the opinion of others, forgetting that their own opinions may appear as strange and wrong to others. If Canada is ever to be the great nation it is unquestionably destined to be, we must drop all religious animosities, and do whatever we can to make one people of the various nationalities which may seek their homes in this country.

When a dark cloud hung over the Province of Manitoba, threatening its peace; when the Manitoba school question required to be dealt with, it was then that the spirit expressed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier became useful to Canada. It was his careful handling of that difficult and delicate question that produced unity, harmony and amity. In judging of the conduct of others, particularly in religious matters, there is no better advice than that of Adelaide Proctor, at top pressure, until the poll

These lines are quite in keeping with the sentiments and practices of the Liberal leader, and that they are from the pen of one of his own religious faith makes them none the less acceptable and worthy of adoption by all.

The Kernel of the Case.

Hon. Sidney Fisher's comment ... on Sir Charles Tupper's cold storage manifesto puts the situation into a nutshell. He says: "The only practical part of the scheme which he (Sir Charles) advocates today has been and is today in perfect working order, and that is the reason why you are getting for your butter 20 cents a pound, instead of 16 or 17 cents, as in 1896, and that with the other measures we have adopted is one of the reasons why you are getting 10 or 11 cents for your cheese, instead of 7 or 8 cents, as when Sir Charles Tupper was prime minister. This is the reason why today our Canadian dairy produce and our poultry and meats are enjoying the reputation and commanding the high prices they are receiving on the English market."

A Sample "Broken Pledge."

Talk about broken pledges-here is a sample which is likely to have more unsupported assertions contained in Sir Charles Tupper's voluminous manthemselves to secure freer trade with Great Britain and the United States: the trade with Great Britain has considerably more than doubled: the trade with the United States in cattle alone has increased from hundreds to tens of thousands. In 1894 only 256 animals were exported to the United States, their value being $3,700. In 1897 36,000 head of cattle were exported of the value of $509,000; and in 1899, 92,800 head, of the value of $1,300,000. The wildest Tory partisan will not claim that this stupendous growth is due to the good times. It is admittedly the outcome of judicious negotiations on the part of the Minister of Agriculture, which led to an amicable adjustment of the quarantine regulations resulting in such tremendous benefit to our farmers.

The Government and Good

In the course of an election address two Government candidates in an English borough this election declared that to the Government "we owe the strengthening of the ties with our colonies, and an almost unparalled prosperity in trade, besides the passing of many measures tending to the social advantage of the people." What howls of ridicule and execration arise when a Liberal candidate in Canada even suggests that the Laurier Govof credit for the prosperity which, by a significant coincidence, the country has enjoyed ever since the change of Government; and yet here are steadyclaiming credit for "an almost unparalleled prosperity in trade," as though it was a recognized and universally admitted fact that the Government, by wise legislation, had had much to do with it-and so it is with all intelligent men who are not absolutely blinded by party bias.

Some of the Opposition agents seem to think that if they throw enough of mud at those who disagree with them, some of it will stick. No doubt it will. but, as Mr. Chamberlain said, in his address at Oldham, the throwers are apt to get very dirty in the process.

Three Weeks of Solid Work. the verdict of the supreme tribunal of the people recorded at the ballot tion of the proximity of an election had been given to negative any idea of snatching a snap verdict; the counshall I deviate from that line of policy. try is ready for the fight, and nothing could be more beneficial, as causing the least possible disturbance to business, than a short campaign and a quick settlement. Probably the most striking characteristic of the situation is the tack of any serious disturbance These are no idle words. We would to business, a disturbance that is always dreaded by the solid commercial interests of the country. This is not because the people are apethetic. An intelligent interest in public affairs was never more general than it is today; but the people are satisfied with things as they are. There is no reapresent moment. The sober intelligence of the country is prepared to take the only sensible course and let well enough alone. The Government has done well in its four years of office-no reasonable man could expect the Opposition to do better-and, consequently, there exists that confidence and repose which is the unerring indication of a contented peaple. The sense of the country is with the Government, and nothing but an inexcusable over-confidence, causing Liberal workers to relax their efforts

Mr. S. Coulson, of the iron manufactory of H. R. Ives & Co., Montreal, writes to the Globe: "We can conceive of nothing that could be more disastrous to the best interest of the manufacturers of Canada and the general prosperity of the country as a whole than a change in government at the present time."

Outside Estimate of the Prospects

A correspondent of the New York Times wrote recently as follows respecting the political outlook in Can-

"Beginning with a majority of about 30 in 1896, the present Government has gone on increasing in strength until it has now about 58 in a full House of 213 members. Out of 45 bye-elections the Opposition only captured 3. This is unprecedented in the history of party government in Canada.

"In Quebec there is a plurality of 51. and there is no doubt but that province will stand by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The Government may lose some seats in the province, but they will gain others, and in this way they expect to retain nearly as large a majority as they now have there. Down by the sea, Messrs. Blair and Fielding will carrying all before them." This is a pretty fair size-up of the prospects. Commercial travelers who have been all over the Dominion confirm its probability. The country is The Liberal party pledged in no mood for a change. It refuses to let loose the proverbial bull in the national china shop.

Kruger, the ex-president of the Boer Republic, the oppressor of the Englishspeaking population at the Cape, has been denounced on the stump in the present British elections as "an obstinate old Tory."

The Hamilton Spectator expressed its sorrow to hear that Mr. A. T. Wood was likely to again contest Hamilton. Our contemporary must be more sorry to find that what it heard has been verified by after-events. And it will have additional sorrow to find that Mayor Teetzel, about whose prospective candidature it went into so many hysterics, is Mr. Wood's running mate. The reason for our contemporary's sorrow is not far to seek. Messrs. Wood and Teetzel, it is generally conceded, are the two strongest men politically that could be put up in our sister city. They are winners, or all reports are unreli-

"Bobs" Says He Can't Be in Liverpool Before January.

Mahon's Mounted Troops Had a Severe Fight on Saturday--British Had 11 Killed and 28 Wounded-Enemy Still Active Over a Wide Field-Two Commandos

Arrange for Surrender.

London, Oct. 15 .- The mayor of Liverpool has received a dispatch from Lord Roberts, saying that he will be unable to attend to receive the freedom of the city before January.

A SEVERE FIGHT.

Lord Roberts reports from Pretoria, under date of Oct. 15, as follows:

"French started from Machadodorp towards Heidelberg to clear a part of the country not yet visited by our troops. Mahon, commanding the mounted troops, successfully engaged the enemy on Oct. 13, but our losses were severe, three officers and eight men being killed, and three officers and twenty-five men wounded.

"French occupied Carolina yesterday, capturing a convoy during the march," Lord Roberts also reports a number of minor affairs, showing that the Boers are still active over a wide

TWO COMMANDOS SURRENDER-

Pretoria, Oct. 15 .- Commandant Muller, with a number of burghers, has surrendered to the Buitish in Standerton. The remainder of the commando, it is said, intended to hold out until yesterday, when they would also sur-render, if they were not joined by a large force of Americans, who, it was said, would arrive on that day to aid

The Boers have burned a number of farm houses in the Standerton district belonging to Englishmen. Commandant Erasmus is coming in to arrange terms of surrender. Gens. Barton and Clements have surrounded a commando on Ewart Kop, and it is expected that the whole force will be captured. Hogs opened rather dull and lower; heavy hogs. $5 30 to $5 35; mixed, $5 30; Yorkers, $5, 15 to killed and wounded a number. Some prisoners had been taken. Gens. Barton and Clements fought for three days to drive the Boers into the position they are trying to hold.

At a meeting of the executive com-mittee of the Johannesburg Caledonian Society it was resolved to apply to the military authorities for permission to raise a regiment, to be known as the TRANSVAAL SCOTTISH VOLUN-TEERS

The idea is to have a complete military unit, with mounted and foot soldiers and artillery

BANK OF SOUTH AFRICA. It is stated on good authority that the National Bank of the South African Republic will in the future be known as the National Bank of South Africa. The head office will be in London. The bank is in a thoroughly sound position, it having evaded the government's exactions through the care and vigilance of the management. OPTION FOR COLONIALS.

The men of the colonial regiments have been given the option of receiving their discharge or taking a three weeks' furlough, after which they must rejoin their commands. If they choose to take their discharge they will lose certain emoluments. About 40 mem-bers of the Imperial Light Horse have signified their intention to take furloughs. The others will take their dis-The volunteer companies of some of the regiments are beginning to leave for home.

ROBERTS PRAISES BULLER. Gen. Roberts has issued an order announcing that Gen. Sir Redvers Buller has relinquished the command of the Natal force. In the order Gen. Roberts thanks Gen. Buller for his services, and says that his ability and great success caused the collapse of the Boer army in the eastern part of the Transvaai. A train has been derailed at Kaap River. Three persons were killed in the accident.

to be honorary colonel of the new regiment of Irish Guards. Gen. Sir Redvers Buller, in addressing the officers and men of the Strathcona Horse, prior to his departure for England, said that in meeting them he felt as one meeting old friends. expressed himself greatly pleased with the work they had done.

A Cape Town dispatch says: Lord Roberts has ordered that the return of the refugees to the Transvaal be postponed for the present. The Durban correspondent of the Standard, wiring today, says: Railway communication north of Standerton has been suspended since Thursday. There are persistent rumors of Boer attacks on the railway. Considerable uneasiness has caused the postponement of Lord Roberts' departure. SEVERE MEASURES. Commenting upon the activity of the Boers and the statement from Cape that Lord Roberts has postponed his home-coming, the Standard says: "There are certain indications pointing to the conclusion that unex-pected difficulties have arisen which Lord Roberts deems grave enough to a few days' use.

demand his presence for some time to come. All the facts suggest that it is impossible yet to denude South Africa of any substantial portion of the large army now engaged in dominating a sullen and recalcitrant population." The editorial finally calls for the severest measures against irreconcilable Boers, prompt and ruthless punishment for every insurgent burgher caught in delicto. The editorial concludes with the statement: "The imperial govern-ment has the country's mandate, and need not be afraid to act vigorously." WERE ENEMIES OF THE BRITISH.

At the Transvaai concessions commission, Herr Kretchmarr, managing director of the Netherlands Railway, who had threatened to evade attending, gave a startling account of the company's doings before and during the war. He spoke of the blowing up of bridges, so as to stop the British advance, and assisting the Transvaal government in other ways.

BOERS BLAME THEIR LEADERS. The Berliner Tageblatt publishes a letter from Machadodorp, which concludes thus: "Not superior numbers, nor the greater artillery capacity of the British, but treason, folly puffed up impotency among our lead-ers caused our ruin."

The Canadians.

MISSING MAN FOUND London, Oct. 16 .- The mystery as to the fate of Sergt. Dixon, of the 5th Dragoon Guards, a son of the late Homer Dixon, is cleared up. Rae. shoeingsmith, with B Squadron, Can-adian Mounted Rifles, who arrived with the 40 invalids from England by the Vancouver yesterday, is one of the men who acompanied Lieut. Turner, of this city, in his daring swim across the Vet River and he has nothing but praise for this gallant and gentlemanly officer. The Vet River yards wide, but is very deep. The lieutenant and part of the troop were out scouting, when a strong Boer fire was located at some distance on the other side of the river. Orders were received to cross the river and hold the opposite bank until the rest of the force could find a ford.

Catarrh Is a Lingering Cold Which Refuses to Yield to Ordinary Treatment.

Catarrh usually starts with a cold in the head and if left unchecked in this climate, rarely gets well of itseif.

As freish cold is taken the disease spreads, getting deeper and deeper, creeping along the mucous memoranes from nose to throat, from throat to windpipe, from windpipe to bronchial tubes and from branchial tubes to lung

The mucous membranes all connect, one with another. Hence it is easy to spiread from one part to another lined with this same membrane. This is why catarrh in the head soon effects the throat and finally the stomach it-

Everybody is now well agreed that catarrh is a blood disease and not a local one, and the attempt to cure by local applications simply gives temportary relief from the purely local syraptoms without the remotest effect in staying the progress of the disease. There is a new preparation recently offered to the public that is apparently destined to do away with every other form of catarrh treatment. This new remedy is not a secret patent medicine, but is a large, pleasand tasting tablet composed of Sanguinaria, Eucalyptol, Gualacol, Hydrastin and other valuable and harmless specifies, which are taken internally and seem to have a remarkable beneficial effect upon the blood and mucous membranes, apparently eliminating the catarrhal poison from the whole sytem.

These tablets while being pleasant convenient and absolutely safe to use have made cures in long standing cases of catairh that are little short of marvelous. They are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and any catarrh sufferer who has tried inhalers, lotions cintments, salves, etc., and realized their inconvenience and uselessness will fully appreciate the difference between a mere palliative and a permanent cure after giving Stuart's Catarrh

Tablets an importial trial. All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full sized package and no matter where the catarri is located, in the head, throat, lungs or stomach, Stuart's Catair h Tablets will surprise you with the effective results of even Amusements.

"Remember the Maine" will be presented at the London Opera House tonight. This is the same company which Mr. Charles H. Haystead was connected with for two years.

"Hello, Bill," which is to be presented at the London Opera House, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 19 and 20, is not what the name might indicate, a rough and tumble slap-stick farce, but a howlingly funny legitimate comedy. It deals with a marital subject, but from a humorous standpoint, and the pomp and panoply of war serves as a fitting background to comedy of the fastest and most furious type.

The Hamilton Evening Times of Sept. 25, 1900, says: Messrs. Ernest and Fred Shipman's company presented "The Prisoner of Zenda" to a large and appreciative audience at the Grand Opera House last night. The play has been seen here before at high prices, but it is safe to say that last evening's performance was just as enjoyable as its predecessors. Mr. Elmer Buffham, who played Rudolph, was not a stranger here. His performance as Iago last season was a distinct hit. Mr. Buffham has found his opportunity in romantic drama. His portrayal of the role of Rudolon was a decided success. He possesses great personal magnetism. He does not tear a pas-sion to talters, and expend to the full his strength in the heavier scenes, but leaves one impression of greater force reserved. He has a fine, sonorous voice, and enunciates clearly, but in the impressive passages he is inclined to be a little too declamatory. He met with great favor and was continually applauded. The costuming and scenery were really excellent, and worthy of any company.

"The Prisoner of Zenda" will be presented at a matinee and evening performance, Thanksgiving Day.

INSTANTLY KILLED

John Snyder, County Constable, Struck by an Express at the Talbot Street Crossing of the & T. R.

The G. T. R. express from Sarnia

due here at 4:30 p.m., yesterday afternoon struck and instantly killed John Snyder, an old county constable, at the Talbor street crossing. The crossing watchman warned snyder of the approaching train, but the old man repaed that he could get over safety. He was almost across, when struck, and the blow inflicted by the locomotive was a glancing one, and threw him only ten or twelve feet. Death was instantaneous. Snyder's neck being broken by the blow or the fall. The body showed few marks of injuries. Snyder's dog, which was with him at the time of the accident, hovered disconsolately about the scene for some hours. The crossing is a dangerous one, as approaching trains cannot be seen till the pedestrian is almost on the tracks. Snyder was well known in the city and surrounding district. He was at one time a turnkey in the jail, and had been connected with the county force for many years. A couple of years ago he was a constable at Te-cumseh Park. His last place of employment was at the Home for In-curables. Since the death of his wife some time ago, he has kept consider-ably to himself. He made his home at the residence of Mr. Wm. Crowe, 108 Bathurst street, to which he was evidently proceeding at the time of his death. On reaching his 70th birthday a few days ago, he received an allow-ance of $100 from the I. O. F., of which he was a member.

Coroner Ferguson decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The remains were removed to Ferguson's undertaking establishment. Snyder's son, Mr. J. A. Snyder, wholesale druggist, of Louisville, Ky., was informed last night by telegraph of his father's death.

Indeed, since he had heard of Dolores' engagement, had once or twice asked himself if he could not love Lola. She was ex-ceedingly beautiful, well born, well bred, well educated; with her as mistress of Scarsdaie, he knew that he should never have one dull moment in There was everything to recommend her, aded to which he felt sure that she liked him more than passing well. Yet there was something about her-he could not tell whatwhich repelled him. Although he admired her, he shrunk from her, and had a curious feeling of distrust; her very cleverness at times made her repugnant to him. He could not account for the feeling, nor could he overcome it; he only knew that it ex-

Lady Fielden has arranged to have a fancy-ball; and I hear that the Duke of Ranford will provide a series of brilliant entertainments. He is Lord Rhysworth's greatest friend. What will you do in celebration of the event, Sir Karl?"

"Nothing at all," he replied abruptly. "The wedding does not concern me in the least. Why should I celebrate the event, as you call it?" "It would look kind and neighborly," ne answered. "If you do not, you will make people think that you have some

She thought that would make him yield; but it had quite a different effect. The bare idea of all these festivities was hateful to him; he felt that he could never join in them. His heart was sore and desolate, even with Lola's dusky, beautiful face so near him, and with her dark eyes, filled with a soft, dangerous light, looking into his. With every minute that passed he saw more and more clearly that in losing Dolores he had lost all that made life attractive to him. A sudden resolution came to him. "To Paris!" she cried. There was no mistake about her emotion; the letter she held fell to the ground; her face grew white, as with the pallor of death, the light left her eves, and for a few moments it seemed as though she would grow faint. He saw it all, and muttered to himself between his teeth that he had not made his resolution one minute too she said; and he saw that her lips were colorless and quivered with pain. His impulse as a man hating to a woman suffer was to speak, kind, consoling words; but he reflected that any show of sympathy to her might be dangerous; and so they remained in silence for some minutes, until Lola had regained her composure. When he he answered, gloomily: "not left here three years ago he went with even if I should be invited-and that no money, and on a freight train. He returned by a private car hauled by a leased locomotive, and brought with the affair, and the wedding festivities him nearly $200,000 in gold, and papers representing mining possessions worth $5,000,000, and prospectively worth ten times as much. When he was back from the north two years ago, he had some gold and prospects, but he had not written home since, and no one was prepared for his

Berlin, Oct. 15 .- A dispatch received here from Shanghai says the British consul there warns European women against coming north from Hong Kong in the hope of joining their husbands, the situation in the Yang Tse Valley being very serious.

REBELS WIN. Hong Kong, Oct. 15 .- Sun Yat Sen, according to reports from Canton, has taken the town of Kiu Shan, on East River, and is now investing the prefectoral city of Hui Chou. A force of imperial troops from Canton was defeated by the reformers, 200 being killed. Its advices say also that there is great activity in Canton in preparation for dispatching troops to the disturbed districts.

DR. MORRISON'S STORY.

London, Oct. 15 .- Dr. Morrison, in today's Times, concludes his dramatic description of the siege of Pekin. He expressed the deep obligation of all those confined in the British legation to the splendid services of Rev. Frederick D. Gamewell, head of the Methodist mission board, to whom was due the designing and construction of all our defenses, and who carried out in the most admirable manner Sir Claude Macdonald's ideas and suggestions. He also refers to the "valuable services" rendered by Mr. Squires, secretary of the United States legation. The Times, commenting editorially upon Dr. Morrison's narrative, says: "The whole story justifies in the fullest manner Emperor William's attitude toward the authors of the atrocities. It proves beyond a reasonable doubt the responsibility of the high officials and the Tsung Li Yamen."

FORTY BOXERS BEHEADED. London, Oct. 15 .- The Standard publishes mail advices from Tien Tsin, giving a list of 54 documents that were seized in the yamen of the viceafter the capture of that city, and fell into the hands of correspondents before the military authorities had seized the yamen. These include re-ceipts for money paid to Boxer generals for supplies to their troops of every kind, reports of actions and lists of casualties and rewards paid to generals and the families of killed, all clearly proving that the authorities maintained the Boxer movement by lavish expenditure.

Forty more Boxers were beheaded at Hankow late in September. Hankow is under martial law.

Hankow, dated Oct. 13, says the Chinese court arrived at Sian Fuh Oct. 12. RUSSIANS SEIZE A RAILWAY.

London, Oct. 15.-It is asserted, says the Shanghai correspondent of the Times, that the Russians have seized the Niu Chwang Railway, at the terminus of the Shan Hai Kwan line. This the first step the Russians have taken on the right bank of the Amur. The Russian southern and northern armies have joined hands at Tohling, north of Mukden, thereby placing all of Manchurla east of the River Liao and a portion west of the stream in the hands of Russia.

APPEAL TO CZAR FROM CHINA. The Associated Press learns that the Chinese minister to Russia, Yang Yu, who visited Emperor Nieholas yesterday, strongly appealed for the interczar in China's favor. and presented to him a letter from Emperor Kwang Su, together with documentary evidence tending to show that the Chinese ruler and court are less to blame for the anti-foreign outbreak than the Russian emperor had been led to believe.

THE SHANGHAI LIAR.

Pekin, Sept. 11. - English and American papers just received make interesting reading for the ministers and their families, telling, as they do, all about their supposed death, and giving tragic details as to how men killed their womenfolk, how members of some of the legations were boiled in oil, and other harrowing pictures of the last days of the siege. There is an individual in Shanghai, better known to the world as "The Shanghai Liar." who, if he were here, would probably meet a warm reception from some of his resuscitated victims.

BIG BATTLE IMPENDING. If Sir Robert Hart shall prove a true prophet there will be a serious affair before the beginning of November, when the numerous bands marching from the south will have come together, and be more or less under central control. There will probably be one battle, with great loss to the Chinese, before they realize the hopelessness of further resistance.

GERMANY'S ANSWER, Berlin, Oct. 15 .- The Berlin Neuste Nachrichten says it understands that Germany's answer to the note of M. The paper does not assert that the reply deals with all his of barring armed refugees; either rebels or imperial troops, from enter-British territory when defeated. The meetings held by W. S. Calvert, M.P., in Ekfrid, Melcalfe and Adelaide during the past week have been most gratifying to Mr. Calvert and his friends. The attendance has been large, and Liberals and Conservatives alike express themselves well pleased with the management of the government during the past four years. This week Mr. Calvert and others will address the electors in the following places:

Tuesday, Oct. 16-Florence. house, Mosa. Thursday, Oct. 18-Sifton's school house. Metcalfe. Friday, Oct. 19-Keyser's school house, Adelaide. Mr. D. A. Gordon, Liberal candidate for Bothwell, and H. J. Pettypiece, M.P.P., will attend the meeting at Florence. The Liberals are determined their candidate will win. The Conservative candidate, it appears, does not intend holding many meetings—his case is so bad. He has nothing but the old cry of broken promises, and proves nothing.

MINISTERS IN THE WEST. finance, is announced to speak at Merlin and Tilbury villages on Wednesday. The afternoon meeting will be held at Merlin in the interest of Mr. George Stephens, the Liberal candidate for Kent. The Tilbury meeting in the evening will be a joint gathering from Kent and Essex, Tilbury village being on the dividing line between the two constituencies.

On Thursday evening, Thanksgiving Day, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hen. David Mills will speak at Wallaceburg. the home of Mr. David A. Gordon, the Liberal standard-bearer in Bothwellling. A monster demonstration will held in honor of the premier. Special trains are arranged for, and the parade in the evening will be an enormous one. The Liberals from Ridgetown, Blenheim, Chatham and Dresden will have large delegations, each headed by their own band, while from as far north as Sparta the stalwarts will gather at the Glass Town. This meeting is fortunately chosen, for the French-Canadian electors from the adjoining township of Dover will turn out en masse to hear the great Canadian statesman. Wailaceburg has been the scene of previous political gatherings, but this one promises to be the vastest that has been.

SIR WILFRID'S EMPHATIC DENIAL The Toronto Globe received the following telegram from Sir Wilfrid

"Montreal, Que., Oct. 13.-The Mail and Empire of this date, which I have just received, contains the following statement: 'Mr. Tucker afterwards telephoned Mr. Cook and learned from him that the reason why he had left his party was that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and other members of the cabinet, through an agent, who was sent especially to interview Mr. Cook, offered Mr. Cook a senatorship, and stated that owing to his long and useful career in the Liberal party he would receive it upon payment of $10,000.' I give the most emphatic denial to the above statement. I never asked Mr. Cook directly or indirectly for any money. I never sent him anyone to that effect, and I challenge the proof.

It was broadly stated-in fact, boasted of-that his ballot was counted for Beattle at the last election. So not to vote, if the ballots were in certain hands, would be clear gain. This time there will be quite a sufficient number of others to vote for Hyman. He won't need his own vote. PLEASANT RECEPTION.

Several brundred people attended the reception in the Talbot Street Baptist Church last night. The affair was an enjoyable one, but its pleasure was marred somewhat by the absence of the pastor, Dr. Sowerby, who was unable to be present, being confined as his home by illness; but Mrs. Sowerby, with the officials and ladies of the church, did everything within their power to make the several hundred callers feel at home. Refresoments were served in the basement by the ladies. The church was thrown open for the inspection of the visitors, and Miss Maud Westervelt, organist, ren-dered several selections. The reception committee comprised Dr. and Mrs Buchan, Mr. and Mrs. Westervelt, Mr. and Mrs. Holman, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Beardsall, Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Tune; entertaining committee, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Buttrey, Mr. and Mrs. Sayer, Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Vodden, Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Hennigar, Mr. and Mrs. Jepson, Miss Charlotte Jeffery, Mrs. Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Glen. The Board Not Criticised by the Aldermen.

Mayor Rumball Thinks Present Action Unfair-Urged a Year's Trial-Resolution of Condolence-Other Busi-

The expected has happened, and the people will decide if the hospital trustees are to remain in existence or not. So it was decided at last night's meeting of the council. A majority of the aldermen participated in the discussion that resulted from Ald. Brener's motion, and the trend of their opinion was, that in allowing the matter to be settled by the people it was not with the thought of implied censure of the tunity to express its opinion upon hospital affairs. The fair-minded among the speakers were inclined to think that the gentlemen who compose the trust had had responsibilities and expenses thrust upon them, and they were being judged unjustly, and too quickly. In sending the matter to the people, it was with no desire to question their abilities as capable administrators. Several of the aldermen said that they should be given a fair trial, at least a year, before they should be criticised. The council's action allows the possibility of the public also viewing the matter in this way.

No. 2 committee will consider W. H. Angus McMahon's application for a position on the staff of firemen was referred to No. 3 committee. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cosh's and John Smith's applications for admission to the Aged People's Home were referred to the relief inspector and the mayor. On behalf of the 7th Regiment, Lieut.-Adjt. McCrimmon asked that electric lights be placed on the market square so that the fall drilling might be conducted there. The communication was referred to No. 3 committee, whose chairman stated it had no funds The communication from the chairman of the government commission, appointed for the consideration of assessment matters, of which particulars have already been made public, was read. The mayor explained that a circular had been passed among the mayors of provincial cities, to be presented to the government asking that it pay the expenses of city solicitors who wait upon the commission. He did not know if action had been taken. Expense might be saved if the Ontario Municipal Association sent its sodiction to represent the cities. In this connection Ald. Douglass said it would be advisable to send a capable delegation, and he asked that two members of the Real Estate Owners' Association be added to it. The majority of the council did not favor such action, and it was finally decided to leave the naming of a representative deputation to the mayor and chairman of No. 1 ommittee. The use of the city hall on the evening of Nov. 30 was granted for a meet-ing of the medical practitioners of the city and county to consider the establishment of a sanitarium for consumtives as provided by the Stratton Bill.

COMMITTEES.

In No. 2 committee's report recommendations were made to construct tile sewers on Piccadilly street between Waterloo and Maitland streets. and on Wellington street between St. James and Sydenham streets. The petitions for these works had apparently been considered by the commitsent back.

The committee will reconsider the recommendation. Harding & Leathorn were given the contract for the sewer on Dundas street east of Lyle for 150 feet, and on English street between Dundas street and Lorne avenue for $3,650, and side drains to cost 25 cents per foot. The reports of Nos. 1 and 2 committees were adopted as read.

maintenance had increased with unnecessary rapidity.

Mayor Rumball left his chair to express his views on this subject. He was entirely opposed to this matter going to the people. The hospital was not of their building, the council having thrust upon the trust a hospital double the size of the old one, and yet the members of the trust were blamed for the extra expenditure. He eulogized the men who now compose the trust men of excellent capabilities, whose work, whether in mercantile or professional life, had been highly suc-cessful. Without desiring to contain the highest marks during the year in good cessful. Without desiring to say anything against the aldermen, he would ask if it would be possible to pick from | Loguidice. the board a body of more capable men than those on the trust. He did not think it fair to blame the trust. In urging that it would be well to leave the matter alone, and give the trust another year, the mayor said that the mistake had first been made by the council, and if it were put in their hands again, would they not make another mistake? The city had as good a hospital as was to be found in the country, still it was far in excess of the council. In day school during the year. Rev. J. day school during the year. All school during the year. country, still it was far in excess of the needs, and the cost must be borne by the people. Ald. Stevenson spoke at length in favor of allowing the people to decide the question of the trust's existence. The council, he said, should not assume the responsibility of deciding He said that a petition had been signed by hundreds of people, asking that hospital affairs be investigated; but when it became known that the council was taking action it was not presented. Ald. Winnett and Wray spoke at some length on the subject, both agreeing with the mayor in most of his re-marks. The former said that he remembered when the hospital was controlled by the council it was managed imperfectly; the people had risen in arms, had demanded a change, and its control had been placed with the trust. The fact that there was an overdraft this year should not be placed to the discredit of the trust The council was to blame, for it had refused to grant an adequate sum for ex-

Ald. Cooper believed that the expense of conducting the hospital could be curtailed. No harm would be done in leaving the question to the people. Ald. Jolly thought that many citizens wanted to vote upon the question, but he favored neither a trust nor a committee of the council, but a representative board of governors.

The discussion was concluded by the motion carrying by 12 to 3, the divi-Yeas-Ald Brener, Winder, Jenkins, Douglass, Jolly, Stevenson, Ross, Cooper, Garratt, Dreaney, Gerry, Barned

Service of Prais

The spacious auditorium of St. drew's Presbyterian Church was ba sufficient to contain the audience wh attended the service of praise give last night by the choir of the churc assisted by Mrs. A. W. Palmer, sprano soloist of the Central Presbyte hurch Hamilton, and Mr. W. A. Carnahan, leader of Elm Street Methodist Church choir, Toronto. The programme throughout was a most enjoyable one, and the renditions by the choir showed the excellent training to which they had been subjected by their leader, Mr. Charles E. Wheeler. The solo parts of the anthems were taken by Miss Hartson and Mrs. A. E. Brown. Mrs. Palmer possesses a sweet and sympathetic voice, which she uses effectively. Of her three numbers Pinsuti's "Angel Land" was probably the most enjoyable. Mr. Carnahan, who is being recognized as one of Canada's finest baritones, has been heard in St. Andrew's before, and he was warmly greeted, his concluding solo, Allitsen's patriotic "There's a Land, a Dear Land," being especially well received. Three organ numbers were rendered by Mr. Wheeler in his usual finished style, the "Scottish Melodies" evidently the most acceptable to the audience. The male quartet was compelled to respond to an encore. The proceeds of the evening were over $90. The programme was as follows: An-"Thou Crownest the Year" (F. them. C. Maker), choir; organ, Fantasia, A minor (Victor Hammerel), Mr. C. E. Wheeler; solo, "Father Eternal" (H. Wheeler; solo, "Father Eternal" (H. "I Can Eat What I Like."

Many people suffer terribly with pain in the stomach after every mouthful they eat. Dyspepsia and indigestion keep them in constant misery. After trying the hundred and one new-fangled remedies without much benefit, why not use the old reliable Burdock Blood Bitters and obtain a perfect and permanent cure?

Here is a case in point: "I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for three or four years, and tried almost every doctor round here and different dyspepsia remedies, but got little relief.

"I then started using Burdock Blood Bitters, and whon I had finished the second bottle I was almost well, but continued taking it until I had completed the third bottle, when I was perfectly well. Before taking B.B.B. I could scarcely eat anything without having a pain in my stomach. Now I eat whatever I like without causing me the least discomfort." - Mrs. THOMAS CLARK, Brussels,
