Maximalists Confer Powers On Leader To Alter Fundamental Laws.

Stockholm, Nov. 21.—Reports brought by the latest travelers to reach Tornea from Petrograd indicate that a revolution of feeling is setting in against the Bolsheviki. Regiments of soldiers have paraded the streets of the Russian capital bearing banners with inscriptions such as "We want no separate peace." "Down with Petrograd's domination by a minority party tyranny!" and "Nicholas' regime was never so tyrannic as Bolsheviki regime."

Radical Demands.

The central committee of the anti-Bolsheviki coalition has passed a resolution demanding liberty of the press, the dismissal of the Red Guard and the immediate cessation of fratricidal war. Maxim Gorky's paper and the Volna Narodna also demand that the Red Guard be disarmed.

American Minister Morris learns from a competent source that the food supply in Petrograd is ominously short and that the breal ration is now three-quarters of a Russian pound for two days. Nearly one-third of the members of the executive committee formed by the Maximalists at the outbreak of the revolt have resigned, and it is reported that the remainder have conferred dictatorial law-making powers on Nikolai Lenine who is now issuing decrees altering the fundamental laws. [Special to The Advertiser.]
Burwash, Ont., Nov. 21.—Judge Coatesworth yesterday began an investigation at he request of the Provincial Government into conditions at Burwash prison farm, particularly the alleged ill-treatment of prisoners. Of the prisoners examined who claimed cruel punishment was a man who was convicted of theft in Hamiton in July last and sent to the farm for two years less one day. He stated that he was forced to work while under the doctor's care for stomach trouble. He had a fight with an Austrian fellow prisoner and in punishment was forced to wear a ball and chain for fifteen days, during which time he had to sleep with his clothes on. At his request the ball and chain were removed, but the next day Sergeant Oliver attempted to put it on again. When he had been refused leave to go to Sudbury to have a necessary operation performed he attempted to escape. He was caught after four days and was sent to Sudbury hospital. HINDENBURG'S LINE CRACKED BY A MIGHTY BRITISH BLOW FROM SCARPE TO ST. QUENTIN

Haig's Big Coup

The British drive of yesterday into the Hindenburg line covers a part of the field of last year's offensive on the Somme and the section of the Arras battlefront south of Arras. The British centre in this thrust is nearly opposite Cambral, the im-portant German base and railway entre, from which the British line on the Bapaume-Cambral road was about nine miles distant, as it has stood for several months past. The main force of the push ust launched is apparently aimed just launched is apparently almed at Cambrai along this road.

That Famous Line.

What is known as the Hindenburg line was established by the German command last spring when the famous "strategic retreat" on the Somme front was carried out. It was a supposedly impregnable barrier, which had been in careparrier, which had been in care barrier, which had been in careful preparation. The British and French, however, showed in its Arras battle last spring and in the French drive on the Aisne front, that the line was by no means a bar to their progress, and serious inroads were made upon it in various attacks in both these fronts. No definite break, however, fronts. No definite break, however, sufficient to permit the penetra-tion of a large force which could debouch for large field operations had ever been effected. A Great Move.

The British movement in its early phases gives the appearance of being the most ambitious that has been undertaken by them on tion of their new armles gar them the power to strike effective blows.

Without Warning. The attack came almost without warning, the only premonitory symptoms being a series of somewhat elaborate trench raids, Even the rather extensive operations in this sector reported last night by the British war office, which the German staff announced it had taken measures to meet, gave hardly a hint that a push in any such force or over such a wide extent of front was in prospect. Was Not Expected.
There has been little speculation over the possibility of a British attack in force on the western front this fall in any area other than that of Flanders, where the main British effort for several months past has been expended. Even here the lateness of the sea-son and the difficult nature of the ground at this time of year partic ground at this time of year particularly seemed to give little basis for expectation of anything more than local strokes here and there. Hun Front Weakened.

It has been apparent, however, that the German attention was that the German action when the largely centred on the Italian frent, where the military move in force intended to crush Italy, Is now in full swing. Admittedly numbers of German troops had been sent to the Italian front, but the assump tion has been that the greater por-tion has been largely drawn from the Russian front, where the col lapse of the Russian military ma-chine had made it unnecessary for the Germans to maintain much more than trench garrisons. It is considered possible, however, that the British secret service had knowledge of a weakening of the German front in the west by the withdrawal of highly trained, experienced troops to give backbone to the push in Northern Italy, an opportunity thus being afforded to catch the Germans unawares and hit them a crushing

The element of surprise, the reports reveal, was a large factor in the initial British success, as con-trary to the almost invariable rule in this war, there was no advance preparation by the British artillery, the troops going "over the top," and falling upon an enemy apparently without any expectation that he was about to be attacked.

While the objective of the groups committee was placed at $400,000, hope is being expressed by those in charge that the generous response of the workingmen will permit this objective to be not only reached but materially exceeded, a haif million dollars being expected from the factory hands.

The installment plan, adopted by practically all factories under the direction of the groups committee, is appealing to the employees, who are taking advantage of the scheme to purchase Victory Bonds at so much per week. A great many companies are taking 11 or more per week from the pay envelopes of their employees and turning over the bond as soon as paid for. Arrangements have been also made whereby any of the "urchasers, should they become ill or leave the employe of the firm in question, will be refunded all money paid in, the company itself taking over the bond.

Question—How long will it be before the ones that signed for service will be called to be examined? Should a man of 20 years who has signed for service, but whose nerves and health seem far from good, get examined immediately or wait until he is called?

Answer—The reports for service are taken up in the order of their reception, and it is impossible to state how long it will take to reach his case. If he believes himself unfit he should have applied for exemption and not reported for service. BLENHEIM, Nov. 20.—Allegations that J. W. Plewes of C'atham, who is contesting the riding of Kent against Archie McCoig, M. P., openly insulted several women, who dared to question his attitude on certain issues, at one of his campaign meetings, were made today by Mrs. Meade, district president of the women's institutes of Kent. Mrs. Meade, who has taken an active part in many local patriotic works, stated that when she said at the meeting that she favored the conscription of wealth as well as man power, she was told to "sit down and keep quiet" by several of the Plewes speakers. Later Mrs. Meade stated that Mr. Plewes declared she was a notorious anti-Britisher, while one of Plewes' ady aides characterized her as a programm.

THIRD WOUNDING OF MAJOR CHARLTON, ILDERTON SOLDIER

Officer of 43rd Highlanders Is Again in Hospital.

WAS MEN'S FAVORITE

Young Officer Praised by Battalion Chaplain in Letter to Father.

For the third time Major Bart Charlton, an Ilderton boy, is in hospital from wounds received on the firing line. The young officer who was attached to the 43rd Canadian Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg, is the Son of Edward Charlton, R. R. No. 1, Ilderton. He was wounded first in June of last year, and on his return to the trenches was rendered a casualty again in September, 1916. Before enlisting Major Charlton, who is only 24 years of age, was a banker in Winnipeg.

The following letter from Capt. Pringle, chaplain of his battalion, has been received by his father:

In the Field, October 26, 1917.

Dear Mr. Charlton,—T'vis is just a hurried line to relieve your minds about the wounding of your son, Major Charlton, of which you have no doubt heard of by wire. He was brought into this dressing station, direct from the trench, about an hour ago to have his wounds dressed. I saw his wounds, and had a little chat with him before he was carried to the rear dressing station, and thence by train, direct to the hospital, where he will get the finest medical attention and nursing. Two doctors gave him first aid, while he was here, so you will know that he had good care from the first. He was hit in the right hand and the legs; the wounds are painful, and will mean quite a long spell in the hospital, but they are not serious. He bore the pain of first sid with fortitude, and you can be proud of vour brave son. He is one & our finest officers, quiet, unosten atious, but thoroughly efficient, and a great favorite with the men of his company and all his fellow-officers. He was faithfully performing the work of a company commander with all the grave responsibility of that position on one of our most dangerous points, when he was hit. We all regret that he has been wounded. He will be safe, however, for a while from the dangers of the front, which is indeed something to be thankful for. Yours sincerely, GEORGE C. F. PRINGLE.

German Main Fleet Heard Calls For Help, But Dared Not Come Out.

Base of British Grand Fleet, Nov. 9.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The recent naval action in the Cattegat, where the British sank a German cruiser and ten armed patrol ships, is an example of the careful planning which lies behind every move on the naval chart. A comparatively insignificant force of British destroyers and light cruisers were the actual stage performers in the morning, and it was over three hours later. The German fleet behind its fortifications received the calls for help, but dared not take a chance—probably well knowing that any attempt to send out help would be confronted with enemies rising out of the sea from all directions. Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.

"I would certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past fall-ures. Thin people are victims of mainutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of the food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

Clemenceau Is Backed in the Chamber by a Vote of 418 to 65.

WILL STAMP OUT TREASON

Mistakes and Crimes of Past Will Not Be Repeated, Regardless of Personalities.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The Chamber of Deputies this evening gave a vote of confidence to M. Clemenceau, the new premier, 418 to 65.

Premier Clemenceau read to the Chamber of Deputies this morning the ministerial declaration which had been decided on by the new cabinet. In the senate the document was read by Louis Nail, the minister of justice. The declaration was as follows:

To Redouble War Effort.

"We have accepted places in the government in order to conduct the war with redoubled effort, for the better application of all our energies. We come before you with the sole idea of an integral war.

"We would like that the confidence which we shall ask you to give us be your own conscientious action, and we appeal to the historic virtues that exist in us French. Never did France feel so clearly the need to live and develop in the idea of force placed at the service of the human conscience—in the resolve progressively to advance the right, both as among individuals in the resolve progressively to advance the right, both as among individuals and as between peoples capable of establishing their liberties.

"Conquer that justice may prevail"—that is the watchword of all our governments since the beginning of the war. That program, open as the sky, we shall maintain.

sky. we shall maintain.

Traditions to Maintain.

"We have great soldiers, of great traditions under leaders tempered by traditions, under leaders tempered by devotion which gave their elders renown. Through them, through all of us, the immortal native land, in the noble ambitions of peace, will pursue the course of its destinies. Those Frenchmen that we were constrained to throw into the battle have claims upon us. Their desire is that none of our acts be foreign to their interests. We owe them everything mythout any reserve—everything for France, bleeding in her glory; everything for the exaltation of right, triumphant. The single simple duty is to stand by the soldier, live, suffer and fight with him, renounce everything that is not of the fatheriand.

Civilization Vs. Barbarity.

"The hour has come for us to be salest."

It is positively true that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

ALLENBY'S ADVANCE.

THE British advance in Palestine is the cen tre ring of a triple circus this week. The Austro-German drive in Italy has slowed up, and the Russian fracas is hidden by a veil, if it matters much to us anyway.

Who Advised Boracic?

Dear Miss Grey,—A few weeks ago a reader of your column said boracic acid powder was good for redness of the face. I wonder if she would be kind enough to send directions again, and also tell me if she thinks it will be too strong for a very sensitive skin. I meant to write before, but something always seemed to stop me. MARCH.

Ans.—Shall leave it to the one advising to answer "March's" inquiry But from what I know of this most beneficial powder, "hiarch" need not fear to use the solution on her face. Half a teaspoonful to a half cup of warm water is a good proportion to use.

Doing His Share. Dear Miss Grey,—In looking over your Mail-Box Corner, I saw the name of a lonely soldier, Pte. Cutting. Poor fellow, he certainly is doing his share for King and country, and I think he deserves to be remembered. So I thought I would drop in and tell you I will get a parcel to him in a day or so, and also a letter. also a letter. DOLLY.

Enamelling Furniture. Destr Miss Grey: In reading the paper I see where I can be of some help to "Thank You" in "doing over" her dresser. I had good success in doing some furniture in ivory about a year ago, and I intend to do some more this winter.

First, buy a paint and varnish remover, and follow directions on the can. I used an old table knife in place of a putty knife as I didn't have that, and I didn't use steel wool for the carvings. A cloth will do unless the carvings are very hard to get around. If there are any rough places use a fine sandpaper on them.

Now, get a flat white of any rough.

Now, get a flat white of any good make of paint, (you know flat white has no gloss; is just a dull chalk-like finish). Give one or two coats, according to the color of the wood you are painting, and of course using your judgment as to what it should look like. Let each coat dry well before applying the next, especially before putting on the enamed or it will mix and spoil your finish. Don't buy anything but the real enamed for the finish. There is what is called enamed leaint and it comes a great deal cheapputting on the enamel or it will mix and spoil your finish. Don't buy anything but the real enamel for the finish. There is what is called enamel paint and it comes a great deal cheaper, but does not give the finish that the other does; it has simply a painted to ook. Be sure you have a good brush, one that is quite soft, so that it leaves no lines. As to the number of coats, two will not hurt it, but if one suits you, all right. I use "lots" of paint, and on some things only fut one coat. Use putty to fin the holes. Clean by using clear water warm or cold, and a clean cloth, and it hink you will find it wears very well. You can decorate your furniture to suit your room if you wish by using oil paints that come in tubes, or if you need only one or two colors, by getting the small cans of colored enamel. I used the latter on my work and drew my own pattern to fit around the drawer pulls. Now, I think I have told you all about it, but if I haven't Miss Grey has my address, and you can write to her and she will send it to me. Won't you, Miss Grey? I was going to ask some questions and tell you how much I and the whole family of a child born in the United States while parents (both Canadian) were on a visit there? If accounted American

What Will You Pay For Peace?

HOW much would you give to end this war? If some powerful com= bination of powerful people could make you an offer-could promise absolutely to bring this war to an immediate end, provided you were willing to pay a price for having it ended, how much do you think you could afford to give?

In effect, the Victory Loan is an offer to you personally to pay what you think it will be worth to have the war ended, and to have permanent peace established.

Leaving patriotism out of the question, your personal interest in the restoration of peace is sufficient to make it advisable that you invest to the limit of your resources in Victory Bonds.

Good for the whole family

A good cough remedy is one that can be depended upon to cure coughs. Not one that cures

While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough itself. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The more powerful convulsive cough of a big man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a big man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy.

THE JOB ETERNAL.

There are few jobs in this wrought up commonwealth that last forever, is. There are few assignments that parallel the late Mr. Tennyson's brook. But if you insist upon having such an occupation we suggest that you go west and pick out some football team to coach. Stagg went to Chicago over twenty years ago, or thereabouts, and the Maroon instructor has only begun to get well warmed up. Fielding H. Yost hit Michigan something like seventeen years ago, and he has hardly more than started. Harry Williams lit upon Minnesota twenty years or so ago, and, like Stagg and Yost, he has just begun to coach. These three western leaders have served a total of some sixty or more years on the three Jobs. In that time they have trained and developed over 1,000 players. Just how many million tackles they have seen made and missed, just how many spirals they have watched drift down the field, is a trifle beyond our statistical lore. But it has been enough.

HON. GEO. GRAHAM SHOWS UP TACTICS OF S. ESSEX TORIES

Capt. Brien Not a Unionist Nominee.

CONVENTION A FRAME-UP

'Hundred Ladies' Amounted to Ten at the Outside Estimate.

[Special to The Advertiser.] TORONTO, Nov. 20 .- Hon. George P Graham, who is not a candidate in South Essex as had been expected, was at the Prince George Hotel today, and told a rather remarkable story as to the South Essex convention, at which Conservative-Unionist candidate, Capt. Brien, was nominated.

'It was called a Unionist convention, says Mr. Graham, "but I am assured by three Liberals who were present that no others were there, and that the 'hundred' ladies who were reported in 'hundred' ladies who were reported in the press as attending were, by actual count of one man, nine, while another discovered ten. What is more, they tell me that some of the speeches reported as having been made were not only not made, but were attributed to men who were not at the convention at all."

The letter in which Mr. Graham declined to be a candidate was sent by him to President Bucklow of the riding Liberal Association, and is as follows:

"A three-cornered contest in South Essex could only have the effect of making it possible for the nominee of the Tory convention to wrest the good old riding from Liberalism. I have been in public life fighting the battles of Liberalism too long to be a party to yours sincerely, "GEORGE P. GRAHAM."

Bunker Coal Will Be Denied Ships Commissioned.

WILL TAKE NO CHANCES

If Bolsheviki Gain Control, Embargo Will Be Permanent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—No ship-ments of supplies will be permitted to go from the United States to Russia until the situation in that country clears. The American Government be-fore allowing the export of goods al-ready on the docks wants to know into whose hands they will fall on their arrival.

whose hands they will fall on their arrival.

The cessation of shipments is temporary only, if a stable government is formed which the United States can recognize. If the Bolsheviki gain control and pursue their program, calling, for a peace with Germany, the embargo will be permanent. A protracted civil war also would work to keep the embargo tight, as the United States then would fear that supplies might go to the Bolsheviki faction.

The provisional Russian Government was given credit amounting in all to $325,000,000, of which $191,000,000 already had been advanced. Much of this money has been spent for supplies now awaiting shipment, and the Russians have been given vessels for transport purposes. Instructions will be given to deny bunker coal to these ships.

a man who has applied for exemption from military service is disfranchised. "This contention," W. F. O'Connor, general returning officer declared today, "is thoroughly unjustifiable. There is not a line or a word in the Dominion elections act, the military voters act, or the military service act which in any way justifies such a conclusion. There is a provision in the war time elections act now incorporated in the Dominion's election act, that a person who has been convicted of any offence against the miliary service act, becomes disfranchised from voting. But to be convicted a man must be charged and tried in a court. Unless there is a conviction there is no disfranchisement." Case of Camelia

Mr. O'Connor has issued a statement with a view to correcting certain misunderstandings regarding the female vote in the coming election. He states Mr. O'Connor has issued a statement with a view to correcting certain misunderstandings regarding the female rote in the coming election. He states that female relatives (within the degrees of relationship mentioned in the act) of all soldiers or sailors in the Canadian or British army or navy, whether or not such soldiers or sailors have ever resided in Canada, are entitled to vote, providing the female relatives have themselves the necessary racial or residential qualifications.

The position of the soldiers or sailors have ever resided in Canada, are entitled to vote, providing the female relatives, and at the front, is she entitled to vote. The answer is that where an Indian has been disfranchised under provincial law, his female relatives will not vote. Where, on the other hand, a male Indian is entitled to vote underprovincial law, the female relatives of an Indian soldier will vote. In certain provinces, therefore, Indian women will have the franchise.

Mr. O'Connor also expressed the view that the stepmother, grandmother, or mother-in-law of a soldier is not entitled to vote. A half-sister may vote, however.

How Professor de Lapparent developed a modern and simple method for the rapid acquirement of French is one of the great constructive achievements to grow out of the war with Germany. The necessity of knowing French was so apparent that the de Lapparent method immediately became popular. It is made available for everybody in The Soldiers. Sailors Diary and English-French Dictionary, a remarkable book of pocket size bound in durable textile leather which is being furnished to readers by newspapers of America and Canada.
Two primary reasons influenced the papers to undertake this work, first to encourage the study of French as a convenience and as a haid to promotion, and, second, to encourage the keeping of war records by individuals so that events as they appeared to many different participants might be set down when still fresh in memory. A diary, like a camera, fixes definitely the time and place of important events making a permanent record on the scene of action.

It was learned at the meeting that the city cannot obtain the exclusive right to sell oleomargarine here. It was decided that in spite of the fact that wholesalers and retailers will likely, be selling the product that the city buy a few 50 and 100-pound lots from time to time as the demand warrants.

A motion was passed instructing Market Clerk Charles Maker to notify Inspector McCallum of cases where he suspected that turkeys and other fowl for the Christmas market were being sold short weight, and that that official prosecute the offenders.

Annual Program of Pianist-Composer Attracts Audience Which Fills Hall.

The annual recital of Thomas G. Mitcheltree, planist-composer, last evening in Cronyn Hall as usual attracted an audience which filled the auditorium to its capacity. A noteworthy feature was the presence of practically all the leading professional musicians of the city, an evidence of the place of esteem held by Mr. Mitcheltree in the musical profession here. The assisting artists on this occasion were Miss Dorinda Abbott, mezzo-contralto, who charmed by her artistic work, and J. Melvin Bush, violinist. Mr. Bush made a most favorable impression on this, really hig first appearance before the London musical public in concert. All the more was this true from the fact that he took the place of Grant Milligan, who was unable to keep the engagement, on only a couple of days' notice.
