"I AM GOING TO LEARN TO LOVE THE ENGLISH" SAID A CAPTURED GERMAN

Huns Taken by British in Latest Offensive Upon the Ancre River Offer No Resistance, but Appear Contented to be Captured as Prisoners

HUNS ADMIT BRITISH GAINS
Advance Was Most Complete and Least Costly Victory Won by Haig's Troops Since Battle of the Somme

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Nov. 16.—(New York Sun cable)—German prisoners, taken in the British advance on the Ancre, tell of being subjected to a terrific bombardment when suddenly out of the gloom they found English troops all around them, and running along the top of the trenches throwing bombs among them, telegraphs the special correspondent of The Times at headquarters in France.

excess of the total casualties. The walking wounded are as cheery a lot as I have met. They are unscrupulous in their ideas of where they found themselves, but wherever it was, they were always going forward, and the enemy either running away or surrendering.

"None of them seemed to be sorry to be prisoners, whether they were Wurtembergers, Rhinelanders or Prussian Guardsmen. Some had fought since the beginning of the war and been in the first affairs in Belgium, others had been exempted until recently, but at last called to active service because nobody is exempted now. Whatever they are, they seem war weary now. One man said:

"With us it is all peace talk. I am going to learn to love the English. He would not see the humor of the suggestion that it was a little late to begin.

"On the front attacked to-day and yesterday, the Germans undoubtedly fought badly. In all my search to-day I have not found one of our men who got to close quarters with a German who really fought. I believe there have been some, but nearly all our casualties were caused by long range fire, a smaller proportion than the usual number being from shrapnel and shell splinters.

"The losses on our side were comparatively very light. There are certain individual battalions which believe, whole divisions which will believe, whole divisions which will believe, whole divisions which will believe to have taken prisoners in

"Ludendorff's new division hardly knew the direction of the battle front until it was suddenly framed in British khaki and hand grenades."

"Thanks were expressed with good result at two points in the line. At one point north of the Ancre a tank was of material service, helping to clear a German trench and at another point south of the Ancre, one of our tanks went ahead of the infantry into a position which was very strongly held by the Germans who swarmed around it and tried to blow it up with bombs. It stood though until the infantry came up to effect a big capture of prisoners."

Beach Thomas in The Daily Mail tells an interesting tale of the underground village of St. Pierre Divion, in which the victors found dressing stations for wounded and great quantities of stores of all kinds, quarters for whole companies of men and officers' rooms with timbered, paneled and papered walls.

The investigations, he says, are only partly completed, but among the booty found there was a great number of machine guns stored and machine gun ammunition, including explosive bullets.

LIGHT IN THE DARK IS NOW POSSIBLE

Italian Scientist Perfects Device To Produce Invisible Illumination.

Rome, Nov. 15.—Signor Giulio Ulivi, the inventor of "F" rays, was badly injured in a laboratory experiment some time ago, and only recovered after many months spent in a military hospital at Milan. Signor Ulivi announces now that he has succeeded in applying the red hand of the spectrum to detect objects in darkness by determining their length.

The new invention is known as "Scotoscopia," meaning vision in darkness, and consists of a searchlight emitting invisible rays which illuminate distant objects and render them visible only to the observer. Thus by means of Scotoscopic searchlights warships are enabled to see without being seen.

Photographs or rather Scotographs of objects in darkness can be taken and enlarged to that enemy coasts can be mapped. The invention can be used on land and sea as well as in the air, so that it will be found most useful in waging war against submarines and in defence against aerial raids. Signals can be exchanged invisibly between ships equipped with Scotoscopic apparatuses, and other practical applications of this wonderful invention can easily be obtained.

SIENKIEWICZ DEAD
New York, Nov. 15.—Henry Sienkiewicz, the Polish novelist, best known in this country as the author of Quo Vadis, is dead at Vevey, Switzerland, according to a cable despatch received here to-day by the Polish victims relief committee.

Sienkiewicz had devoted much of his time recently to Polish relief work.

Both Houses of Parliament are Unanimous and Emphatic in Declaring Themselves For War to the End and Allegiance to Their Allies

MUST CHANGE SYSTEM
In Order That Government of Country be Brought Into a Closer and More Personal Touch With Public Opinion

By Courier Leased Wire. Petrograd, Nov. 15.—(Montreal Gazette)—The Russian Parliament resumed its sitting on Tuesday. Throughout the country the opening session was eagerly awaited as a number of questions have arisen which urgently require discussion, and it was hoped the Duma would be able to throw light on the present complicated political situation.

In both houses strong, interesting speeches were made, and there were dramatic incidents which conditions of telegraphing prevent my describing in full.

One thing is clear: The Germans will find no ground for satisfaction in Tuesday's speeches. Both houses were emphatic in declaring the necessity of fighting the war to a victorious finish.

The very severe criticisms levelled against the Government was to remove these causes which prevent the nation devoting all its energies to the successful prosecution of the war. One of the principal speakers of the Right, characterized those men who advocated the idea of a separate peace at state criminals.

The Duma gave a most emphatic reply to the malicious rumors recently circulated by pro-Germans against England. When Rodziako, in his speech, expressed gratitude and loyalty to the Allies, one deputy cried "Long live England," and a tremendous ovation was given to Sir George Buchanan, the British ambassador. The whole House rose and cheered.

In a declaration of the progressive bloc, composed of a majority of the Duma, a special passage was devoted to the services of England to the common cause.

The main theme of the speeches was the necessity of a change of system which would bring the government in closer touch with public opinion. The most moderate criticism of the government was that made by Nationalist Leader Balashov, who emphasized the lack of pain and unity on the part of the government.

"The constant change of personnel," he said, "the publication of ill-considered and incessant measures, insufficient measures, insufficient use of local government organs, and a wholly impermissible conflict of authority have created a situation very dangerous for further work behind the fighting line, and extremely favorable to a display of predatory instincts."

In a very weighty declaration the progressive bloc pointed out that the action of the government during the last year created serious impediments to a successful prosecution of the struggle.

The leader of the constitutional Democrats, M. Ilukoff, made a remarkable and very powerful speech, which was listened to with the closest attention by the whole duma.

Of particular interest were those passages in which he criticized the tendencies of Russian diplomacy during the last three months. His speech is not published in the report of the duma sitting. Things were said Tuesday that cannot be forgotten or lightly passed over, and the further development of the relations between the government and the duma is a matter of highest interest, not only to Russia, but to all the allies.

Progressives Withdraw. London, Nov. 16.—The Progressive party in the duma has withdrawn from the Bloc, the famous six party combination, which for some time past has constituted the majority in the Russian parliament, according to a despatch to The Times from Petrograd.

The reason given for the secession of the Progressives, who are about 40 in number, is that the leaders of the Bloc refused to include in their program at the opening of the duma a direct demand for parliamentary government. The despatch continues:

Serbian Forces Continue Advance in Macedonia

Entente Forces Press Hard Upon Bulgars There, Russians and French Driving Rapidly Near to Monastir--Serbians Take Villages and Other Positions

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Nov. 16.—Capture by the Serbians of the villages of Tepavtsi and Gniles, south-east of Monastir, is reported in a Reuter despatch from Saloniki. It says the Serbians, in co-operation with the French, captured all the positions south of Tepavtsi after fierce fighting. German troops which were defending the positions, sustained considerable losses, the survivors being captured or taking refuge in flight.

The prisoners already counted, the correspondent says, are 500 soldiers, two officers and five cadets. Details in regard to the amount of war materials have not been received.

TEUTONS RETREAT
Sofia, Nov. 16.—Via London.—The retreat of the German-Bulgarian forces in the Carna bend under the assaults of the Serbians is admitted in the official statement by the war office to-day. According to the statement the Bulgarians have fallen back on a line four to six miles west of Iven, the last town west of Cerna reported captured by the Serbians. The text of the statement follows:

"All day our position in the Monastir plain was subjected to a violent enemy artillery fire, especially east of the railway. Vigorous enemy attacks failed before the obstinate resistance of our troops and the enemy, who penetrated our line at some points, was annihilated.

"In the Cerna bend heavy fighting took place, and the Bulgarian and German troops withdrew to positions north of Tepavtsi and Ceghel. Nothing of importance occurred elsewhere except artillery activity near Tuturkai and Silistria."

Near Monastir
Paris, Nov. 16.—Noon.—French and Russian troops on the Macedonian front are now within four miles of Monastir, it was announced officially. The war office says the pursuit of the defeated Bulgarians continues.

On the eastern end of the line; British troops have again assumed the offensive, defeating the Bulgarians in the region of the River Struma and capturing the village of Karakaska. During the night the Bulgarians abandoned their principal positions west of the Cerna River. The French and Serbians took 400 prisoners, and made progress toward Yarashok, in the Cerna bend, west of Monastir.

South of Monastir, the French and Russians are reported to be making substantial progress. It is in this region, to the north of Kenali, that they have advanced to within four miles of Monastir.

IT IS BETTER TO HAVE ONE TOO MANY THAN ONE TOO FEW

When it Comes to Getting Subscriptions This Week While the Votes Given are Larger Than They Will be Next Week

The successful candidate will realize that this offer may be the means of them winning the grand prize, which some one will have for his own in the next few days. Utilize your time, candidates, don't let a moment go by that is not put to the best advantage, get every subscription possible between now and Saturday evening. It is better for you to have one too many subscriptions than to have one too few. It is your duty to show your friends that you have the proper qualities to conquer.

Use a Little System. Don't forget to call on the party who at the beginning told you to call at some later date. Impress upon him the necessity of his help and show the results you have for your effort, explain to them how the very good of success is within reach of you if your friends give you a little help now when you need it at the end of this great struggle for fame and fortune. By experience we learn that the person that promised to help you if you show the proper effort, becomes the most enthusiastic supporter and in a great many cases the very ones that a candidate thinks will not give him a subscription will, when the candidate goes to him and shows the results that he has accomplished and how near success he really is, give two years instead of one year subscription. Try this little suggestion out, candidates. It will not cost you anything to try and suppose you are successful, look what it means to you and your friends. It is safe to say that there is not a person in this city, stranger or friend, but would give any candidate a subscription to The Courier if they felt sure that in so doing he would make the candidate the winner of the grand prize.

Remember the old motto: "It is better to fail trying than not to try." Remember, candidates, the big contest closes promptly at 8 o'clock Saturday, Nov. 25th. All your votes must be in before 8 o'clock to count.

PARIS COUNCIL IN SESSION

Other News of Interest to All Readers—Report on Red Cross Work in Paris.

Town Council A letter from the G. W. McFarlane Engineering Co. was read, stating that they had vacated the Town Hall premises, and had left the building in good condition, and asking to be relieved of any further expenses in regard to same.

A by-law providing for the next municipal elections was also passed. The nominations will be held on Friday, December 22, at 7.30 p.m., and elections on New Year's day.

On motion of Messrs. Robinson and Pitts, Chief Felker was appointed local inspector under the Ontario Temperance Act, and a by-law will be introduced confirming same.

Handmaster Kuhlman and Secretary Aver appeared on behalf of the citizens' hand, requesting a grant toward the expenses of the band. It was decided to grant the band the sum of $75, to be applied to repairs of instruments.

Auto Accident What might have been a very serious automobile accident happened Saturday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Bee and son, of Paris, were returning in their car from Brantford. They had with them Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wooler, also of Paris, and when near the toll gate, the car skidded and went into the ditch, dropping some five or six feet. All the occupants were thrown out, but escaped injury, with the exception of Mrs. Wooler, who was rendered unconscious. Fortunately Mr. Bonner passed at the time and rendered valuable assistance, bringing the party to town, where it was found that Mrs. Wooler's injuries were not serious.

Obituary Word has been received in town of the death in Barrie, of Mr. Peter McLarty. Deceased was for many years clerk in Mr. H. A. Crooks' drug store, and had many friends here who will learn of his demise with sincere regret.

Women's Guild The annual meeting of the Women's Guild in connection with St. James Church was held this week, in the Parish Hall.

Reports read were most encouraging and prospects for the coming year very bright. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: Hon. President, Mrs. Adamson; Vice-President, Mrs. Sinclair; Treasurer, Miss Stewart-Jones.

Leaflet Secretary, Mrs. Kinney. It was decided to hold a Donation Tea next Monday, the proceeds to be devoted to patriotic purposes.

Mr. Jas. Sinclair had quite an unpleasant experience Monday evening when his car skidded on the slippery road, on Keg Lane and turned over on its side into the ditch. Fortunately Mr. Sinclair was none the worse for his experience and the car not badly damaged.

Red Cross Contributions to the special canvass of the Red Cross and Women's Patriotic Fund are now all in and the amount totals the grand sum of $1502.12. One pleasing feature was the fact that over 1200, not including school children, contributed to this worthy cause, or nearly one-third of the population of the town.

THE CASTLE OF STARS

Once upon a time a little fairy who loved all things sparkly begged enough stars from a sky fairy to make a castle. Oh, my! 'twas a beautiful castle. It had towers and ramparts and all everything a castle should have and it sparkled like a castle made of diamonds.

Now things went on very nicely for quite a little while and fairies flew from everywhere to see this starry castle. Then one morning when the fairy got up she couldn't find any daylight.

Next day it was the same and the next day the poor little fairy who loved daylight just as much as she loved the sparkle of the stars wondered why on earth the land had become dark like the long Arctic night the ice fairies told of. The queerest thing of all was that if you walked a fairy mile or two you came suddenly into broad daylight.

The dreadful darkness night and day lay only around the castle. The little fairy got mixed up and slept at strange times. Sometimes when other fairies flew in to see her travelling at the lady darkness they found her sound asleep. Other times when she thought it must be day outside in the world beyond don't ever try to do generous things caught up the idea and used it as a justification for themselves.

"I don't like that," he said, "I've been sick of it for a long while—the line of talk about trying to be something against a person to mean well. The way people talk you'd think it was a lot better never to try and do anything decent than to try and make mistakes. The person who first ranted against meaning well as an excuse for everything was trying to make people see that just having good intentions wasn't enough, that you'd got to make good instead of lying back on your good intentions. He didn't mean that it was better not to try at all than to try and blunder. But the kind of people who

Rippling Rhymes

I heard the down-and-outer say, "I'm canned because I'm old and gray. Employers shoo me from their doors; they want young men to do their chores. I know I'm long on sterling worth, but there's no place for me on earth, no job for me beneath the moon, for I was born some years too soon. Youth must be served and age must slide down where the dump is yawning wide." I've often heard this dismal spiel from gents panhandling

LADY'S BLOUSE

You can begin with this waist in planning the number you will need for fall. It is one of the new designs and strongly speaks style with its serviceable cut. The distinguishing feature is having the back and yoke in one piece, and it is of interest that the fronts may roll back as far as the gathers to give the revers, or the right may lap the left front, as illustrated. The fronts roll back the neck may be filled in with lace or other soft, frilly material, and if silk is used to develop the design one will have a lovely afternoon blouse.

Novelty is provided in the collar, which is high at the back and cut away in front. The sleeve is made noticeable with fulness below the elbow. This fulness is gathered into a cuff that is button trimmed; buttons in a larger size decorate the front of the blouse.

THE SITUATION

In connection with their big and successful offensive on the Somme the British have not only consolidated the ground gained, but have also advanced still further north of the Ancre.

Conspicuous skill, dash and fortitude," are the words used by General Haig in his official report regarding the operations.

The Serbians still continue to be successful in the battle in the plains before Monastir.

The news with regard to the Roumanians is still of the six or one and half a dozen of the other variety.

In the British House of Commons Water Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, stated that food supplies had become one of the war problems, and that steps would have to be taken to control necessities and to limit prices.

Each Provincial Government has appointed a commission to help discharged men in securing steady and remunerative work.

The public can and should cooperate heartily in this urgently necessary work, by encouraging the men to take fullest advantage of the curative and educational opportunities given them.

Occupation is often as necessary and beneficial as rest itself, in its curative and strengthening effect on body and mind.

It has been wisely decided that no man shall forfeit any part of his pension on account of his industry and enterprise in improving his own financial position.

The loss in British shipping since the war began is two and one-half per cent. So much for the submarine policy which was going to starve John Bull.

The British chaplain to whom four hundred Germans gave themselves up probably never had such many other matters in which he has rendered invaluable service, such for instance as the recent settlement of the threatened C. P. R. strike, which it is generally considered resulted from his intervention.

Canadians have certainly every reason to congratulate themselves upon the fact that at this period they have such a sane, capable and well balanced man at the head of affairs.

LOOKING AFTER DISABLED CANADIAN SOLDIERS.

The Military Hospitals Commission at Ottawa, has issued a statement in which it is shown that 2,081 soldiers were under its care at the beginning of this month. Of these, 426 were at sanatoria for tuberculosis, and 1,616 at convalescent hospitals, 682 of the latter being out patients—while 30 members of the force were in asylums for the insane.

According to a statement prepared by the Militia Department, up to Oct. 5th, 1916, the number of soldiers sent back to Canada because of medical unfitness was 6,208. Of these, 961 were suffering from wounds, shell-shock, or the effect of gas; 123 were insane; 245 were afflicted with tuberculosis; while the remainder, 4,880, were suffering from other diseases and disabilities.

Every disabled soldier is medically examined on arriving at Quebec. If he is no longer in need of hospital treatment, he is sent home free of expense and discharged with a pension or gratuity according to the extent of his disability.

If he needs further treatment, he is taken to the hospital or sanatorium where the treatment most suitable to his case is available, and, if possible, to the institution nearest his home.

Men who cannot resume their former work on discharge from hospital are advised and enabled to take special training for new occupations. This is provided free of cost, and while the men are being trained the Dominion Government maintains them and their families.

Men needing artificial limbs are taken to Toronto, where these limbs are made and supplied without charge. Men with serious nerve disorders are treated specially in the Ontario Military Hospital at Oshawa.

The public can and should cooperate heartily in this urgently necessary work, by encouraging the men to take fullest advantage of the curative and educational opportunities given them.

The fact is that the organ is mixed up between the facts and its small political ideas.

CIVILIANS FIRED ON BY GERMANS

Hun Aviators Shot Down People in Streets of Bucharest.

Bucharest, Nov. 14.—The Teuton aviators operating in Roumania are descending to low altitudes and with their machine guns firing on the peaceful population in the streets or working in the fields.

"Tuesday enemy aviators dropped bombs on the capital and its environs, killing and wounding peaceful inhabitants, especially women and children."

"A great number of bombs were dropped over the palace, where the Queen and Princesses of Roumania were formerly living. Fortunately they had left after the death of Prince Mircea."

"On various occasions, especially yesterday, enemy aviators flew over small towns and villages, descending to a very low altitude with their machines and fired with machine guns on the peaceful population in the streets or working in the fields."

THE GERMAN PRESS.

How the Teutons Whistle to Keep Up Their Courage.

Germany's relations with Russia continue to be discussed in the German Press.

The Vorwärts, commenting on this, says these utterances deserve attention because they reflect the views of certain very influential circles.

Our breast swells with pride says the Kreis Zeitung when we see that all the reservation devices of the enemy were a miserable failure.

"The latest Memorandum" on the economic situation presented to the Reichstag, covering the period from the beginning of March to the middle of September, states that, in spite of the increased severity of the British blockade, "the critical moment has been happily overcome."

"Due to the memorandum adds that, in spite of this satisfactory result, it would be a mistake to talk about a record harvest, and to expect, therefore, a less restricted distribution of food."

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than 10 minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant, and appears as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt, or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you will have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Some time ago their transfer to the 215th was secured, and now that they are convalescent, they have been added to the strength of the local unit.

A SALMAGUNDI.

A Harvest Salmagundi was the happy thought which resulted in a delightful social reunion of the H. H. Class of Colborne St. Methodist Church, in the church parlors on Tuesday evening. The S.P.I. young men's class were the guests of the young ladies and their vote of thanks for the remarks that it had included the most successful event of its kind that they had attended. After dainty refreshments had been served, the company were dismissed by the singing of the National Anthem.

REGRETS RETIRING.

Mr. E. Cameron, the retiring manager of the local office of the G.N.W. Telegraph Company, has written the City Clerk, expressing regret at leaving his position after fifty years service therein, and soliciting a continuance of the city's patronage for his successor, Mr. Jas. L. Murphy, of Peterboro, who he states, is a courteous, thorough and painstaking business man, who is determined to give Brantfordites the best service in his power.

He is at present in Granville Canadian Hospital, Ramsgate, England. Corp. Emmett was formerly a signalling sergeant, but on being transferred to the Army Medical Corps he received his present rank.

TOWNSHIP COUNCIL.

A special meeting of the township council was held yesterday to consider the matter of the proposed bridge over Fairchild's creek, and the Township bridge over White-man's Creek. In the former case, the township engineer was authorized to have the abutments strengthened and it was also decided to call for tenders for a steel superstructure for the same bridge. The Township bridge will be closed for the winter and a temporary structure will be erected beside it in order that traffic will not be completely suspended.

ENFORCE MILITIA ACT.

The Canadian Military Institute, with headquarters at Toronto, at a recent meeting considered the question of voluntary and compulsory military service, when the conclusion arrived at was, that in view of the emergency of present circumstances, the section of the Militia Act providing for the selection of available men for military service, should be enforced and not left as a dead letter. In this connection Lt.-Col H. F. Obituary

The late Joseph Blayborough, who died last Monday at the General Hospital, was born 84 years ago. He was at the crowning of Queen Victoria and was a soldier in the Royal British Artillery. He could also tell of the Indian Mutiny. He was stationed in Montreal with parents of his regiment. After serving the colors 13 years he settled in Canada and lived 57 years with his bereaved wife, who is nearing her 90th year, and resides on Ontario St. He had seven children. Four survive him: Private William of 169 Batt., now en route for France; Mr. Charles, Superintendent of Walworth Manufacturing Co.; Mrs. J. Easton of Hamilton; and Mrs. J. Easton of Hamilton. The old veteran was laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery. Rev. David Alexander, who conducted the funeral, paid a well-merited tribute to the integrity and sterling worth of this old Englishman.

Infant Clayton

Mr. and Mrs. George Clayton mourn the loss of their infant daughter, Freda, whose death occurred yesterday. The funeral took place this afternoon from the family residence, 68 Wallace Street, to Mount Hope Cemetery.

To The Editor

NEED FOR ECONOMY. To the Editor, The Brantford Courier: Dear Sir:—The following is taken from the monthly commercial letter issued by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and I hope you will consider it important enough for prominent display in the Courier: "If the people as a whole understood clearly why it was necessary to economize, there would be no more need for the appeals of the leaders of the nation. The enormous purchases made by the Allies from our manufacturers have curtailed the payment of high wages to industrial workers, and thus from the very necessities of the Empire, the latter find themselves possessed of a greater purchasing power than at any previous time. This power can be used either for selfish gratification or for helping to win the war. If the former—the selfish—course is followed, it is practically frittering away the resources of the Empire. On the other hand, the thoughtful patriot will save every cent to lend to his country. Those with the habit of spending freely are apt to look with aversion upon those with a disposition to save, but for the time being those who do save are the ones who forge the 'silver bullets' that are now more than ever necessary. Yours truly, A. K. BUNNELL, City Treasurer.

HE FORCED THE ISSUE HIMSELF

Says Sir Sam Hughes, Speaking of His Retirement From Office. Ottawa, Nov. 16.—General Sir Sam Hughes has resigned yesterday to his departmental staff. During the course of his address he said: "The reason of my retirement does not concern this occasion. Suffice it to say that the interferences with the conditions imposed on the administration of this department seemed to me a reflection not only on myself, but on my officers, and I therefore deliberately forced the issue. "Let me hope no one of you can feel that I have ever asked you to do anything that was not the outgrowth of honor. We have had no desire for the success of our cause—and to you ladies and gentlemen I wish publicly to acknowledge the deep debt owed for your splendid share in its success. "If in my recognition of the need of drive, of urgency, of energy, and of action, the feelings of any of you have been hurt, permit me to express my regret therefor. In cases such as this the individual should always come second to the cause. During his reply the Deputy-Minister said: "We feel extremely sorry to say good-bye to you. I wish you, in the name of all your officers and officials, Godspeed and good luck. "Mr. F. E. McCurdy, Parliamentary Secretary of the Militia Department returned to Ottawa to-night after a short visit to the Maritime Provinces. Sir Sam Hughes will remain in Ottawa for some days and will present the colors to the 207th Battalion. His friends expect that he will spend a good deal of his time in the capital.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GREY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyley's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents. Don't say gray. Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Wyley's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure or prevention of disease.

"LONG LIVE ENGLAND"

SURRENDERED TO CHAPLAIN

Party of 400 Huns Gave Themselves Up To Small Band.

With the British Armies in France Thursday, Nov. 16.—A British chaplain while searching the battlefield of the Ancre for wounded, hidden in the shell craters during the British advance, accompanied by a few soldiers, came upon an isolated trench containing nearly 400 Germans, who promptly surrendered. The chaplain ordered the men to file out upon the open ground preparatory to passing them back with an escort when the German officer, seeing the small size of the force to which he had surrendered, tried to rally his men and overpower it. He was about to kill the chaplain when a British infantryman shot him dead, whereupon the other Germans again held up their hands and shouted their eagerness to be made prisoner.

The late Joseph Blayborough, who died last Monday at the General Hospital, was born 84 years ago. He was at the crowning of Queen Victoria, and was a soldier in the Royal British Artillery. He could also tell of the Indian Mutiny. He was stationed in Montreal with part of his regiment. After serving the colors 12 years he settled in Canada and lived 57 years with his bereaved wife, who is nearing her 90th year, and resides on Ontario St. He had seven children. Four survive him: Private William of 159 Batt., now en route for France; Mr. Charles, Superintendent of Waterbury Manufacturing Co., Boston, U.S. who for many years has faithfully supported his aged parents, and who was present at the funeral, to pay his last debt of duty to the veteran who was late to rest in the old veterans' home at Hamilton. The old veteran was laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery. Rev. David Alexander, who conducted the funeral, paid a well-merited tribute to the integrity and sterling worth of this old Englishman.

Infant Clayton. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Clayton mourn the loss of their infant daughter, Freda, whose death occurred yesterday. The funeral took place this afternoon from the family residence, 68 Wallace Street, to Mount Hope Cemetery.

TO THE EDITOR

DEED FOR ECONOMY. To the Editor, The Brantford Courier: Dear Sir:—The following is taken from the monthly commercial letter issued by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and I hope you will consider it important enough for prominent display in the Courier: "If the people as a whole understood clearly why it was necessary to economize, there would be much greater response to the appeals of the leaders of the nation. The enormous purchases made by the Allies from our manufacturers have entailed the payment of high wages to industrial workers, and thus from the very necessities of the Empire, the latter and themselves possessed of a greater purchasing power than at any previous time. This power can be used either for selfish gratification or for helping to win the war. If former—the selfishness is felt, it is practically frittering away the resources of the Empire. On the other hand, the thoughtful patriot will save every cent to lend to his country. Those with the habit of spending freely are apt to look with aversion upon those with a disposition to save, but for the time being those who do save are the ones being the 'silver bullets' that are now more than ever necessary. Yours truly, A. K. BUNNELL, City Treasurer.

HE FORCED THE ISSUE HIMSELF. Says Sir Sam Hughes, Speaking of His Retirement From Office. Ottawa, Nov. 15.—General Sir Sam Hughes said good-bye yesterday to his departmental staff. During the course of his address he said: "The reason of my retirement does not concern the interferences with the conditions imposed on the administration of this department seemed to me a reflection not only on myself, but on the Government. I therefore deliberately forced the issue. "Let me hope no one of you can feel that I have ever asked you to do anything that was not the soul of the matter. I have had but one desire—the success of our great cause—and to you ladies and gentlemen I wish publicly to acknowledge the deep debt owed for your splendid share in its success. "It is at times, in my recognition of the need of drive, of urgency, of energy, and of action, the feelings of any of you have been ruffled, permit me to express regret therefore. In cases such as this the individual should always come second to the cause. During his reply the Deputy-Minister said: "I am extremely sorry to say good-bye to you. I wish you, in the name of all your officers and officials, Godspeed and good luck. "Mr. F. B. McCurdy, Parliamentary Secretary of the Militia Department, returned to Ottawa to-night after a short visit to the Maritime Provinces. Sir Sam Hughes will remain in Ottawa for some days and will present the colors to the 207th Battalion. His friends expect that he will spend a good deal of his time in the capital.

POLICE COURT. The four British arrested in London for committing robbery on two foreigners here appeared in the police court this morning, when a stiff sentence of nine months in the reformatory was handed out to George Strugak. Pete Koyacpek and Pete Patschuk were each given three months in jail, while Pete Praduk was allowed to go on suspended sentence. The last mentioned, also faced a charge of theft of an automobile, but was discharged on this count, as he had been intimidated into committing the action by his companions. Tony Beothski, John Nzie and Brunisso Blitkowski appeared to answer for a breach of the Health Act. They were remanded for one week.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GREY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents. Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or brush with it and draw this soft strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure or prevention of disease.

LONG LIVE ENGLAND

Party of 400 Huns Gave Themselves Up To Small Band.

With the British Armies in France Thursday, Nov. 16.—A British chaplain while searching the battlefield of the Ancre for wounded hidden in the shell craters during the British advance, accompanied by a few soldiers, came upon an isolated trench containing nearly 400 German soldiers who promptly surrendered. The chaplain ordered the men to file out upon the open ground preparatory to passing them back with an escort when the German officer, seeing the small size of the force to which he had surrendered, tried to rally his men and overpower it. He was about to kill the chaplain when a British infantryman shot him dead, whereupon the other Germans again held up their hands and shouted their eagerness to be made prisoner.

SIR SAM'S WORK IS APPROVED

By Trades and Labor Council at Its Meeting Last Night.

MUCH BUSINESS Council Will Select Candidates To Run in Coming Elections.

The regular meeting of the Trades and Labor Council was held in their hall in the Bank of Hamilton building, when steps were taken to ensure an active participation in the execution of the affairs of the city during the coming year by securing a representation of the laboring classes on the various governing bodies concerned in the civic administration. While no actual platform was laid down by the body, nor any candidates selected to contest the different offices, the general principles involved, were thoroughly discussed, and as an outcome a committee was appointed to deal with the entire question at a meeting to be held in the near future. The first item of business transacted was the reading and adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting.

The second matter considered was the prevalent question of parking vehicles on Queen Street between Coburne and Dalhousie Streets especially on Saturdays and thus obstructing the traffic. It was thought that this practice should cease, and at the conclusion of the meeting, the matter was again brought up and the secretary was authorized to write the city council with the view of stopping the nuisance.

Delegate Pennock, who is introducing a class in St. John's Ambulance work in this city, said that he had communicated with the Board of Education and was waiting for a reply from them conveying the permission to use one of the schools in which to conduct the course.

A member of the municipal committee reported an investigation to be carried out by outside experts into the water question, which he said that nothing had been done in regard to the $30,000 which was due to the city from the Lake Erie and Northern Railway. He called attention to the recurring habit of the city representatives to bestir themselves in the cause of municipal reform for the public benefit just previous to the annual elections and thus securing the support of the citizens in their campaign.

It was at this juncture that President Noble suggested immediate action in preparation of the ap-

"For over two years, I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. One day I saw your sign which read 'Fruit-a-lives make you feel like walking on air.' This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the Headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends."

proaching mayoralty and aldermanic contest. The matter was laid over until the later stages of the meeting for settlement.

A vote of thanks to the Press was passed for their action in recording the proceedings of the body in detail and accuracy on the previous occasions on which the council had met.

President Noble passed favorable comment on the work accomplished by the past Minister of Militia, Sir Sam Hughes. The consensus of opinion among other members was that no doubt, there was some appreciation of his work but in consequence of the question being of a political nature, in the best interests of the council, the matter should be dropped.

To close an outstanding account with a local furniture firm, it was decided to take out the account by securing some much needed chairs to the amount of the account.

An outstanding debt for the rental of the hall, from a former organization of Machinists, now defunct, was closed, by the entire amount of that association amounting to $5 being turned over to the Trades and Labor Council.

President Noble thought that more interest should be displayed by the members of council in the disposal of the finances of the city, particularly the large sums. His idea was that some delegate should be appointed to be in close connection with the proceedings of the council. Particular attention was called to the $21,000 spent on the construction of the park drive, as a means of relieving the labor scarcity existing at that time. The general opinion was, that the road was merely a luxury, available to the owners of automobiles.

The exact particulars of the conditions surrounding the payment of the costs accruing from the prosecution of Chief Slemin and his associates in the celebrated Holmedale case were not known, but it was thought that the police commissioners had settled the matter. The delegates present objected to the ratifiers being held responsible for the debts contracted by city officials. It was reported that the aldermen themselves displayed some lack of knowledge of the circumstances of the case.

Mr. Geo. Keene, Hon. Secretary of the Canadian Co-operator, thought that more definite knowledge should be ascertained from the city treasurer, before any action was taken. It was decided that the recording secretary should be authorized to secure the desired information.

It was thought that the working public should be made acquainted with the fact that they were welcome at all meetings of the council.

A review of the election question was resumed, with Delegate Brown advising that other organizations with similar aims to the city, be solicited with the object of obtaining their co-operation. By this means a mutual platform could be agreed upon and overlapping and unconsensuous opposition at the polls would be eliminated.

The objection to be encountered in the inevitable disinclination of the workers to break away from the party system was suggested by Mr. Keene. He declared that identically the same conditions prevailed in other countries to a greater or less extent, but that a movement was on foot to re-organize the politics of the future upon a basis of opposition not of the present existing parties, but of capital and labor, or more plainly, those who lived on labor and those who lived from labor. An independent labor party throughout the country was forehadowed, was the opinion of the speaker, who said that its success would only be ensured by the education of the people to the fact that their own interests would be advanced by supporting this new force in politics.

It was not desired that the candidates should be members of organized labor bodies so long as their politics were known to be in sympathy with the common good. Delegate Symonds concurred with the sentiment expressed by the previous speaker and also thought that the unwritten law, that city officials should retain office each year should be discontinued, and an active opposition offered to all whose duties were not discharged to the satisfaction of the public.

Another delegate thought that not only should the proposed labor candidates be in sympathy with the movement, but that they should also have some knowledge of economics, so that the object of their efforts would not be confined to securing better working and financial conditions for the workers, but also a more suitable adjustment of business in the city so that a fair amount of commodities could be purchased at a reasonable sum.

Mr. Keene took the floor and advocated that a specific platform be laid down and that all the candidates who offered themselves for election throughout the city, should be interviewed and their policy determined, and if favorable to the above mentioned platform, that the support of the council be tendered to them. He thought that one of the chief purposes of the main object of the labor members of the city council, should they be elected, ought to be to reduce the cost of living in this city. One of the disadvantages of the labor movement was the lack of permanent mental ability in their ranks, due to the fact that they were not in control of the patronage system as were the other two political parties, who could thus secure, by this means, the support of men of executive ability to manage the affairs of their organizations.

After a lengthy discussion it was decided to appoint a committee to meet between now and the next meeting, to draw up a platform and select candidates to represent the council at the coming elections. The results will be placed before the council at its meeting next Wednesday night, when the whole matter will be settled and a campaign inaugurated.

Music and Drama

SEPTEMBER MORN

One of the season's biggest hits! The musical comedy sensation or rather intoxication "September Morn," which enjoyed an immensely long run at the LaSalle Opera House Chicago, comes to the Grand Opera House this week. The cast includes Wm. Moore, Ruth Wilkins, Maud K. Williams, Valere True, James Barber, John Patton, Leslie Jones and an unusually pretty chorus of dancing and singing girls, charmingly gowned, who fit into the scenic framing beautifully. LeComte and Fleisher have given this—their greatest musical triumph—an expensive and elaborate production, resulting in a triumph complete. The X-Ray Futurist Twist and other Tango ideas in sensational dancing are among the lively and joyous Turkey-Trot effects. Of the city while here.

A German Dream

Early in October the Deutsche Tageszeitung of Berlin, published a lurid account from a Norwegian merchant, of a Zeppelin raid on London. The merchant described the King, Queen, Duke of Connaught, and retinue taking refuge in the cellar of a big grocery concern. Inasmuch as the Duke of Connaught arrived in England only a few days ago from Canada, the falsity of one item is manifest, and the rest of the story is equally true.

Our Princes

A reminder that "Old Time is still a-lying" is the news that the fourth son of the King and Queen has chosen his profession and gone to Osborne. The King's sons alternate between the army and the navy. The Prince of Wales is a soldier; Prince Albert, who is now at home III, is a sailor, and the third son, Prince Henry, in all probability will be a soldier.

Neighborly

"Whither away?"
"To call on our new neighbors."
"You consider that a duty?"
"Not at all. But I was away the day they moved in, and so didn't get to see their furniture."

DR. PEARSON
Reports on the Health of the City.

Large Number of Contagious Cases.

Sanitary Inspector Glover Also Reports.

At the meeting of the Board of Health Tuesday evening Dr. Pearson, Medical Officer, submitted a report, showing deaths for twelve months of 402, including outside cases in the hospital. Rate 15.08 per thousand. Among the causes were noted the following: typhoid fever, 7; three being outside cases; measles with complications of pneumonia, 9; pneumonia exclusive of above 70; diphtheria, two, one being complicated with measles; tuberculosis of all forms, 17; whooping cough with pneumonia complications, 3; meningitis 5; cholera infantum, 8.

Regarding the ages, 66 were under one year, 41 between one and five years; 91 were over 50 years and 28 over 80 years of age.

Contagious diseases—During the year your officers have had to deal with more contagious diseases than for many previous years, the total reported cases being 411, compared with 206 of the previous year. This increase being entirely due to the large epidemic of measles which is common with the rest of the Province, visited us, and from which no less than 327 cases with nine deaths occurred.

Thus presenting an example of what is erroneously considered a mild disease and through such an idea, the care in regard to isolation, etc. is not rigidly observed as it should be. The disease spreads rapidly and lives are sacrificed not alone from the death roll, but from the many permanent regular and complications that follow it, particularly on the eye and ear, and also lung troubles are left frequently, making it a forerunner for tubercular infections, and should brand measles as one of the most serious of infections, with which idea I wish to impress the public mind as against future outbreaks.

Whooping cough, as with measles, is too frequently neglected in the way of being reported, and many of the cases escape our observations and are not properly isolated or kept from mingling with other children even if kept from schools, etc; our death roll from this disease, particularly in complication with pneumonia, being three.

Scarlet Fever—During the past year we have had but nine cases with no death and of diphtheria, 17 cases with two deaths, one of which was a complication with measles.

Infantile paralysis—In connection with the above we have been exceedingly fortunate, having had but one mild case, with no deaths.

DON'T BE BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK OR CONSTIPATED

Take one or two Cascarets to-night and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Wake up feeling fresh and your head will be clear, your tongue clean, breath sweet, stomach regulated and your liver and thirty feet of bowels active. Get a box at any drug store now and get straightened up by morning. Stop the headache, biliousness, bad colds and bad days. Feel fit and ready for work or play. Cascarets do not gripe, sicken or inconvenience you the next day. Like salts, pills or cologne. They're fine. Mother's should give a whole Cascaret any time to cross, sick, bilious or feverish children, because it will act thoroughly and cannot injure.

Typhoid Fever—In regard to typhoid fever, an account of being a hospital center, and that we are made responsible for deaths occurring there, it necessarily makes a difference between the real and apparent conditions as to the number of cases and deaths that are reported and belong to the municipality.

Thus to analyze under the different heads the cases with seven deaths that have been reported from both city and hospital there were as follows: Thirteen cases that were actually non-residents, who were from surrounding districts under treatment at the hospital. Five cases that had contracted the disease at summer resorts or in other places where they were returning home for treatment—five were recent arrivals in the city, who either came here ill or infected; seven others gave histories of having visited at different places outside the city for various periods, approximately the period of infection. Thus leaving 21 cases which can actually be called local, of which, regarding as the probable source of infection, two of which were nurses at the hospital, when no doubt the infection was through carriers, probably the fly. Outside of this, considering the remaining from the water supplies as a causation basis, eight were from well water users; six from well and city water and seven from the city water users.

In connection with water supplies, it is very difficult to state that always a home supply is to be considered the source of infection for as the majority of cases occurred during the months of August and September, after a season of picnics, excursions and week-end holidays taking patients to various points when a variety of different supplies are to be considered. Yet, with regard to those who, during the very warm season, supplemented or replaced the public supply with that from a neighboring well, where the water was cold, let me say that if there was not such a thing as natural immunity they would have added greatly to the lists for almost invariably from tests, the wells of the city show infection and far more dangerous than the public supply, that can be controlled through chlorination, etc. In connection with the public supply, the past season has been one which has probably needed the vigilance of those in authority more than any previous year in maintaining a continuous and satisfactory supply and from the experience of which lesson upon future augmentation and conservation of the supply should be learned. For, considering the increased amount that is daily demanded and being pumped with a limitation of production on the areas of the present system, it will be impossible, under present conditions, to maintain for long an adequate and sure supply for all purposes.

Mr. Glover's Report
In his report, the Sanitary Inspector told in detail of a vast amount of work. He advocated the tearing down of 9 houses, condemned as unfit for habitation. Inspections have been made from time to time of the houses occupied by foreigners. A great many foreigners have left the city, consequently there is very little over-crowding. While a number keep their premises in a sanitary condition, there is still room for improvement.

At the present time there are 12 licensed laundries in the city. Frequent inspections have been made and in most cases no fault could be found with their premises. We have at the present time 32 licensed milk vendors supplying milk in the city. Samples have been collected regularly and the results made public in the city papers.

That has been attracting the universal attention of the reading public will come to an end now within a very short time. Now with the big Goal shining up before you, and the present big vote value, especially on New Subscriptions, each and every candidate must stir himself and work as he has never worked before. This is a big contest. It will take a lot of votes to win and there is not a single candidate who can afford to spend a single minute without getting subscriptions, this week, above all weeks, of the contest.

Organization Counts! Attention Candidates!

Call all your friends together, use the telephone this very minute and tell them about the last vote offer that you will be able to get extra votes on subscriptions, and where you stand a good chance of winning the Grand Prize if you can have their support this week. Get them together, and make one good strong appeal to every one you meet. Make this week pay you the biggest dividends of your life. There is not a single candidate who cannot win the Grand Prize if they make the best of their time this week. Candidates should secure everyones subscription in Brantford and surrounding country this week with this subscription offer. PROPOSAL OF CANADIAN HOME WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 21 years of age, may homestead a vacant parcel of land in the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Application must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency (but see Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months residence in each of three years after carrying homesteaded parcel; also 20 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homesteaded parcel, on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months residence upon acquisition of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity. In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Nov. 17. From the invaded portions held in German prison camps have to subsist on plain as are sent to the unfortunate who have had to suffer the fate of "truly terrible" fate, Dr. B. P. Roosevelt, secretary to the Permanent Commission at the Hague, here today from Rotterdam, says that the relief work being carried on in Holland is "desperately" slow. Dr. Roosevelt said that in Germany is an unbroken chain of misery. He said that the people of the Netherlands are being starved. He said that the people of the Netherlands are being starved. He said that the people of the Netherlands are being starved.

Five-year-old Thom Hoppetown, Pa., was starved to death in a block, and while he was in the block, the older child finger and mangled it had to be amputated.
