An Advertisement by Charles Dickens

CHARLES DICKENS is one of the world's great teachers. Here is what he has to say in one of his books:

"My other piece of advice, Copperfield," said Mr. Micawber, "you know. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £19. 19. 6—result, happiness. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £20. 0. 6—result, misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the God of Day goes down upon the dreary scene, and—and in short you are forever floored. As I am."

The saving of a part of one's income was always a good policy.

Prudent men and women have always maintained a margin of saving.

But to-day we must go farther in our efforts to save than ever before.

To-day it is a matter of the gravest importance that each Canadian seek ways and means to economize by cutting down expenditures for unnecessary things, saving the money he spends on things he could do without, so that when the Nation needs to borrow money he will be in a position to do his full duty.

There is war-shortening work waiting for every dollar that can be saved.

IF Charles Dickens were writing to Canadians to-day he would probably give us advice to this effect:

"My other piece of advice, Canadians, you know. No matter what percentage of your annual income you have previously saved, your efforts to-day should be to save more. The advantage of so doing is threefold: By the practice of economy you conserve the material and labor which must be devoted to the grim task before us; you cultivate the priceless habit of thrift; you gather more and more money to lend to the Nation for the prosecution of the war to a quick and certain Victory."

For four years with greater speed, cheaper, and with only brief and local interruptions compared to the choked transportation of neighboring countries, to be cited in those foreign countries as an example of competent long-distance operation—and then to be blocked or hampered by labor troubles! This was the anti-climax which the Canadian Railway War Board, under which all Canadian Railways are operated nowadays, strove to avoid and finally did overcome by creating, with the assistance of the Government and the labor unions, the Railway Labor Board of Canada. The accompanying photograph was taken after the meeting between railway labor leaders and the railway managers, at which the new Board was finally formed and commissioned to adjust the application in Canada of the McAdoo Scale of Wages, as well as any other controversies that may arise between the workers and their officers.

In the picture there are shown not only the senior executives of some of the most powerful labor organizations in the world, but an equal number of great railroad managers, including Sir George Bury, the expert

The Growing American Army

Washington, Sept. 18.—An army of 4,800,000 by next July after all deductions have been made for casualties and rejections is what the enlarged American military programme calls for. General March explained this to the house appropriations committee in discussing the new seven billion dollar army estimates.

There are now about 3,200,000 men under arms, General March said, and the plan is to call 2,700,000 of the new draft registrants to the colors between now and July.

Production Must Increase The Canadian Food Board Says

There has been no call for slackening efforts. The impression seems to prevail that Canada has done well enough in growing grains, and the future is assured, so far as food is concerned. Such is not the case, has not been the case, nor will it be for some time come. The call is for more and yet more production, and the cry for food is still loud in the ears of Canadians.

This hard work and self sacrifice of Canadians has borne fruit. Great Britain cannot be starved. There is enough to provide for the armies and the civilians until the next crop, but no more. There are no food reserves, as there should be.

Indeed, Canada must double its production in 1919. Let that soak in. The continent of America has promised, and must deliver, 10,000,000 tons of food stuffs this coming year. In 1917-18, 13,000,000 tons were promised and will be delivered.

The Business Woman

To day more than ever before, is woman's opportunity. Many new occupations are now opened to her, which, before the war, she was deemed unfitted to fill. And truth to tell she has risen to the opportunity, and now shares many business responsibilities in former times confined to men. But, as women are subject to more frequent fluctuations of health than men, many will be handicapped early, if they regard their health requirements too lightly.

The nervous strain, long hours and prolonged mental or physical fatigue thin the blood and weaken the nerves. Such conditions as women are now called upon to undergo can only be endured by a full-blooded constitution. This is as true for men as for women, only weaker women suffer sooner. The woman worker, in any line, requires her blood replenished frequently. She needs new, rich blood to keep her health under the trying conditions of business life, and to fortify her system against the effects of overwork. This applies also to the woman in the home, who, perhaps, has more worries and anxieties than usual. So let all girls and women take heed and renew their blood promptly at the first approach of pallor, lack of appetite, headache or backache. This can be best and most effectively accomplished by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which make new rich blood and thus help womanhood so perfectly. No woman need fear failure of health if they take these pills occasionally to keep them well, or give them a free trial if they find themselves rundown.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Knitted 1100 Pairs of Socks

Fredericton Gleaner: Miss Lucy Anderson has completed knitting her 1100th pair of socks, a record that is surely hard to beat. The 1000th pair, with royal purple tops, from the same yarn that constitutes the soldiers socks, were sent to King George, 1001st pair, royal scarlet tops to the Prince of Wales, and a like pair to Sir Douglas Haig. Miss Anderson knit one case, 154 pairs, from the light gray Scotch fingering yarn. It is quite naturally inferred that Miss Anderson has not had many idle moments in hanging up this record for knitting.

Interesting Letter From a Boy in France

The following is a letter from Avery Thomson, to his mother Dear Mother—

"We came out of the muck of the front line for about three weeks training for to go over the top at Hill 70 (a support of Lens) 1917. We trained on the tapes a few days, between the showers of rain, and left one rainy evening to go into front line about six Kilometers away.

We got in the line at twelve o'clock at night very tired and sleepy. I had a Lewis gun to carry for about two kilos, and it was like two hundred, by the time I got in the line. That is one of the advantages a no 1 gunner has ie. he carries the gun.

Well we landed in the line without a casualty and settled our minds to the stunt that was coming off the next morning and the worst of it was we did not know at what time. Believe me but that night from nine until half past four seemed to me like two nights. The suspense of waiting for a thing like that is more than any one can tell if they have not actually been in it. Well at 4.20 am word came along to my section that zero hour was 4.25 a. m. Then the pulse began to pump and not hardly a word spoken, but everybody excited and I'll bet thinking of two things (life or death) I know I was at any rate. Well at 4.25 a. m. on the 15th. August, the Barrage started it was certainly a big and well put up barrage too. All the originals said it was the best they ever saw, so you can take by that, that it must have been good. Our Battalion, was the first wave (human wave) to go over and our objective was about four hundred yards ahead. We were to capture the "Huns" front line and hold it until other Battalions came up and went on still further. So we jumped the bags, but I was knocked down with concussion, as soon as I got out of the trench, but soon got up and on. I noticed our platoon Sergt. just ahead so I thought I would go with him as by that time I had lost sight of our sections and he was always considered a good head. A little further on I got hung up in the wire (barbed) and the machine gun bullets were making the fire fly from it too. It was then that I thought it was all up with me Anyhow finally I got clear and went on to our objective and just before getting there a shell exploded almost on two men, one was killed and the other had a leg blown off to the hip. I did the best I could at doing him up and went on.

And even after all the delays I had I was among the first on our objective. I bumped into a Fritz and he met me cordially with a hand grenade, so I replied with two shots from my revolver and both took good effect. It was then that I learned the value of the 45 and he was my first Hun After the other Battalion went on over I was detailed to do anti-aircraft duty and had quite a few shots at the "Hun" planes, who were flying very low to find out where we were for his artillery. And when he did it got pretty rough where we had our gun, and the platoon officer gave us orders to go to another trench a bit further behind. It was here that I got detailed to go with a working party to carry S. A. A. to the front line Battalion who were preparing for a counter attack.

Well we got started but did not go very far until something held us up for a while and Fritz sent us our iron ration his 4.9 style and out of the twenty of a party I think that two of us were all that did not get hurt. I remember one fellow who was good stuff when he was hit. His name was Baxter and he is a Canning boy, so we had to get another party and go on. Eventually we got up with only one more hit, then we dug in to do support for the Battalion who were in front. We were there for five days. I think and then went in the front line for twenty four hours. I was on out post there with my gun in quite a dangerous spot where they would only risk two men at a time. It was there that I had another 'pat shot at Fritz with a rifle and got him too. We lost quite a number of our co's casualties and I thought again many times that I would get Blighty or R. I. P but was very lucky got off with just a scratch on my hand that did not take me out of the line. I could tell lots of little incidents that would not do to relate. Perhaps the censor will not pass all I have written

Benefits of Potato Spraying Showing.

Last Spring several letters to the press were written from the Entomological Laboratory at Annapolis-Royal urging the spraying of potatoes. Results were quoted that showed an average increase in yield, due to spraying, from 90 to 100 bushels per acre.

In many ways the season of 1918 was most unusual. The potato beetles were not present in injurious numbers in many localities. The late blight the one that is most destructive and at the same time the most easily controlled did not appear until much later than usual and then in a comparatively few fields. Early blight which is less destructive than late blight and which is very difficult to contro was unusually abundant. In view of these circumstances the value of potato spraying was probably lower in 1918 than in any of the previous seven seasons in Nova Scotia. In spite of this some most remarkable differences are showing in the yield of sprayed and unsprayed plots in some localities.

In a field at St. Annes College Church Point N.S. that was sprayed under the direction of the Rev. P. LeChantone one hundredth of an acre in the sprayed portion of the field gave at the rate of 279 bushels of large or marketable potatoes and 30 1/2 bushels of small or unmarketable potatoes. One hundredth of an acre in the same field but unsprayed yielded at the rate of 183 bushels of large or marketable potatoes per acre and 50 1/2 bushels of small or unmarketable potatoes. The benefit in marketable potatoes on the acre at church point college this year is 96 bushels of marketable potatoes. As usual the unsprayed portion is giving the largest yield of unmarketable potatoes.

The actual potatoes dug from these plots will be on exhibit in the Dominion Entomological booth in Charlottetown P. E. I. Yarmouth N. S. and Little Brook N. S. exhibitions.

If you are growing potatoes and attend one of these exhibitions make it a point to see these potatoes and talk to the man in charge of the exhibition in regard to potato spraying.

Otherwise you would not go back, or you would not again purchase the product, and the first sale would be the last. In that case advertising would NOT pay. It only pays when it brings continuous patronage, and to do that there must be real value given. That is the reason advertised stores or products are almost invariably good. It will pay you to patronize the advertisers.

THE ADVERTISER.

Kentville, Friday, Sept. 27th, 1918.

Killed in Action

Recently more sad news came to Kentville when Mrs. Gerald Lechmere Ward received a cable from the British Admiralty, stating that her eldest son Surgeon Probationer N. Claude Ward F. N. V. R. had been killed on September 12th, 1918 at the age of 21 years.

After a successful medical course of one year at Dalhousie and three years at McGill Universities, he carried on the traditions of his family and race volunteered for the British Naval Service and was appointed Surgeon to a Destroyer. His father fought in the South African War his grandfather was a captain in the British Army, and for generations his ancestors have held commissions in the Imperial Army and Navy. Besides his mother he left to mourn their loss Ernestine wife of Harold M. Chase, Barrister, Evangeline sisters and one brother Reginald in the 10th Siege Battery and many relatives and friends. In quiet courage, chivalry gentleness and general quality of character he was a fine example of the Anglo Saxon spirit and culture of which we are proud as distinguished from the brutal "Kulture" of the treacherous Hun, and gave his life in doing his part to prevent the infliction of the latter upon humanity. Surely with such a character, and for such a cause to die is to live again forever in the brightness of the hereafter, and as long as life shall last in the memories of those nearest and dearest and of those who knew him best.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Gerald Ward and family wish to thank all those who have shown their kindness to them in their sad bereavement.

WE ARE HERE TO SERVE YOU

Hardly Excusable Even in a Child

IF a child were to enter one of our aeroplane factories and interrupt a workman with a request to have a kite made—the workman would smile indulgently—and proceed with his aeroplane.

You yourself would condemn the man if he stopped his vital war work to build a toy.

Condemn yourself, then, if you employ labor and material to make such goods as cater only to your self indulgence.

Every time you buy a thing you do not need, you interfere with Canada's war work.

Every dollar you spend on goods not strictly necessary, is a dollar—not merely wasted—but used to employ labor on things that have nothing to do with our efforts to win the fight for freedom.

Too many of us, in Canada, are flying the "luxury kite." Too much of the time of Canadian workmen is being purchased by us to make the things that are for show and pleasure. Too great a quantity of material that our soldiers could effectively use against the foe, goes into the making of superfluous things for us, whom they are so valiantly defending.

Stop the reckless spending. Stop acting like children. This war we are fighting calls for men and the brains of men. If you cannot fight—at least do not interrupt the war-work by buying the things you merely want and do not need.

The money you have been spending wastefully—with no result but to divert labor from war-essentials—will make a worth-while sum.

Use that money to build up a fund, that you can lend your Country, when your Country calls.

Published under the authority of the Minister of Finance of Canada.

A Wise Judge.

A Judge will be influenced more in his decisions by one salient fact than by reams of theory. Advertisers will do well to remember that the women of Canada are their judges, and as the buyers for the family it rests with them to make the purchasing decisions. Like the judge on the bench, they want facts. One fact is worth more than many generalities. The advertiser that gets down to basic principles and gives some real price and quality news, about even one article, accomplishes something. Make your advertising interesting. Tell people something they want to know. They will read your advertisements all right, and prove to you that real advertising pays.

REGISTERED TRADE MARK

WEDDING.

WHITTEN-LEGGÉ.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Benjamin Legge, 100 St. George's Bay, Road, Kings Co., on Thursday, Aug. 29, when his daughter Effie Lauretine, was married to Conductor Edward D. Whitten, of the Boston and Maine Railroad, Fitchburg, Mass. Rev. A. J. Prosser of Canard was the officiating clergyman.

The double ring service was used. The bride, who was attended by her sister, Pearl B. Legge, wore a dress of white crepe de chene, with the conventional veil, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and asters. The bridesmaid was prettily gowned in blue crepe de chene and carried pink sweet peas.

The groom was supported by Fred C. Reynolds, of Hantsport.

Mrs. Ralph S. Lyoas played the wedding march. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch; to the bridesmaid a gold pendant and chain and to the groomsmen cuff links.

After the ceremony the happy couple left for Halifax and points of interest along the South Shore. They will be at home in Fitchburg, Mass., after Oct. 15.

There were present at this wedding; ten children; the eldest son in New Hampshire being the only absent member of the family.

Marie Morrisey to Sing Thursday Night at the "Strand" at 9 o'clock.

"The Strand" will be the scene of an unique recital on Thursday night, Oct. 3rd, when N. H. Phinney & Co., Ltd., will introduce Marie Morrisey, the popular contralto, and Joel Belov, to a specially invited audience of music lovers.

Wherever Marie Morrisey has been heard she has been pressed to singing engagements. Her popularity is country-wide particularly so with the soldier boys for whom she has sung on numerous occasions.

Miss Morrisey is American born and trained and is a convincing refutation of the statement that a foreign reputation is essential for musical success. Her singing is invariably the feature of whatever program she may appear on. Her rich, clear contralto is a pleasure to listen to. Her songs create a longing to hear more and her magnetic personality endears her to everybody she meets. She ranks among the finest artists before the American public today.

Music lovers should derive solid satisfaction from the program that will be rendered by Miss Morrisey and Joel Belov. Joel Belov is perhaps no less popular. He is an artist of unusual ability and delightful personality and will receive a hearty welcome.

An Illicit "Still" at Truro

Truro, Sept. 19—An important booze capture was made late on Monday night at Onslow Mountain about nine miles from Truro. The stuff seized included an illicit still and 210 gallons of "moonshine" booze. The capture was made by Chief of Police Fraser Officer Boss and an official from the Halifax office of the inland revenue department. The officers destroyed the booze and (all the "still" except the "worm" and cover of copper pot in which the liquor was heated; the "worm" and copper cover were brought to Truro as evidence. The moonshiners were not present, but there was a small fire burning under the copper pot. The "still" was in the woods and near a brook about a mile from the nearest house.

The city of Winnipeg during the last year charged for electric current for Light Power three cents per kilowatt hour; and made the handsome surplus on the year's operation of $54,000. Is it any wonder that industrialists of all kinds are racing to establish themselves in Winnipeg?

A Marvellous Feat

The news comes now from Britain that a few weeks ago there was necessity for the speedy transferring of a message between Great Britain and the United States. A modern British destroyer was sent from a British port, and went to the United States and returned to her pier in England again in just 162 hours, that is a little over six days to cross the Atlantic, deliver her message, and returned to the British dock she left, with the answer. Truly a marvellous feat. Britannia still rules the waves.

Thrift Thoughts

Through Thrift to Victory—advance, Canadians!

Preach thrift and practise it.

Luck may bring an inheritance, thrift will keep it.

The absence of thrift is a fruitful cause of sorrow.

Poverty is the result not so much of the lack of work as of the lack of thrift.

Thrift will bring a man through a tight pinch and make him the better for the pinching.

The thrifty French saved France; thrifty Canadians may save Canada.

A thrifty population is a nation's greatest asset.

The thrifty man can help himself and also help others.

Thrift will hasten victory.

The thrifty nations are the really great ones.

To be thrifty is better than to be lucky. Luck may bring money; thrift both brings and keeps it.

Thrift will take care of the dollars and the dollars will take care of you.

It's not so much what comes in, as what stays.

Save for Victory!

Success in Canning

Heat is necessary for success in ordinary forms of canning Fruits and vegetables to be canned must be treated to such heat as will kill any of those invisible forms of life which are almost everywhere present to cause decay, mould, fermentation, etc. In sterilizing fruits and vegetables in pint or quart jars keep jars in boiling water for periods ranging as following;

- Apples 20 minutes. Berries 12 minutes. Cherries 12 to 15 minutes. Currants 12 to 15 minutes.

Forty Thousand Turks Trapped by the British

None of the Enemy Forces Caught in Allenby's Net Can Possibly Get Away The Number of Prisoners Counted is 25,000, but the Grand Total Will be Far More and the Loss of War Material is Very Heavy.

London, Sept. 23rd.—Twenty-five thousand Turkish prisoners and 260 guns had been counted up to yesterday evening by General Allenby's forces pushing northward through Palestine, according to an official statement issued today by the War Office. The War Office announcement says that the 7th., and 8th., Turkish armies have virtually ceased to exist the entire transport of these two armies was captured by the British. Seizure by the British of the crossings of the Jordan at Jisr-Ed-Domeer on Sunday morning, shut the last avenue of escape to the Turks, west of the Jordan.

Last Avenue Closed

The text of the statement reads: "Having seized the passages of the Jordan at Jisr-Ed-Domeer on the morning of Sept. 22nd., the last avenue of escape open to the enemy west of the river was closed by our troops.

"The seventh and eighth Turkish armies have virtually ceased to exist. Their entire transport is in our hands.

"By 8 p. m. on the 22nd., 25,000 prisoners and 260 guns had been counted. Many prisoners and much material remain to be enumerated."

40,000 Turks Trapped

London, Sept. 23rd.—Reports from the Palestine front this afternoon indicate that none of the Turkish forces of at least 40,000 men trapped by the British through the seizure of the last of the passages of the Jordan can possibly get away.

Virtually the entire Turkish force is or will be accounted for in killed and prisoners. Hundreds of stragglers are being found wandering about in the mountainous country aimlessly, without a purpose.
