NEW DEPARTURE AT THE CITY HALL

Commissioners Propose to Classify the Work into Departments, Place Superintendents as Departmental Heads in Order to Fix Responsibility, and Give the Public Complete Reports through Press.

One of the most important moves ever made "from the inside, out," in the city hall, has been undertaken by the commissioners and was laid before the council last night in the form of a report.

Comprehensive Departmentalization. Briefly stated, it contemplates dividing all the city activities and enterprises into departments, placing a superintendent at the head of each of these departments so as to thereby fix the responsibility, separating the bookkeeping from each municipal enterprise so that regular monthly reports might be made to the council and through the press to the public, and to generally take the detail work out of the hands of the commissioners and council and place it in the departments where it belongs.

Outcomes of Recent Election. The proposition is not altogether new as this was one of the most agitated questions in the recent municipal election campaign, when pretty nearly every candidate promised the departmentalization of the city's affairs and fuller publicity. The lines of the agitation of the public are the lines which the commissioners are now following.

Report Laid Over for Consideration. The report was read last night and laid on the table for a week so that the council could have an opportunity to study its probable workings before passing upon it.

The Report. In this, the growing time of our city, when its resources are being taxed to the utmost to provide the demands laid upon them, heavy expenditure is a natural consequence, but that expenditure should be so safeguarded that the greatest results may be attained, all wastes and leaks stopped, and unprofitable outlays avoided. To serve this end your commissioners are of opinion that reasonably liberal salaries be paid to competent and efficient employees who will take pride and interest in the discharge of the duties laid upon them, is a measure of true economy and not one of extravagance. Upon the proposal of the city employees the measure of success to be achieved must largely depend, and we wish to secure to the city the services of the best material available and to retain and profit by the experience acquired by those men by just and liberal treatment encouraged by a prospect of advancement in accordance with their merits.

To initiate this method we recommend to your consideration the establishment of the following departments, with the superintendents and salaries named for each, with explanatory remarks thereon.

General Office. Superintendent, P. M. C. Crosskill, secretary-treasurer, salary $125 per month.

Assessment Department. Superintendent, D. M. McMillan, assessor, salary $115 per month.

This may for the present be attached to the general office department, under the supervision of the secretary-treasurer, until better office accommodation can be arranged for.

Engineering Department. Superintendent, R. R. Keel, city engineer, salary $250 per month.

Power House Department. Superintendent, P. McNaughton, chief engineer, salary $125 per month, with free house, fuel, water and light.

It is also the intention to utilize Mr. McNaughton's services in the superintendence of the installation of the new power house plant and works.

Electrical Department. Superintendent, A. W. Ormsby, electrician, salary $135 per month.

Telephone Department. Superintendent, A. E. Morrison, salary $125 per month.

TWO COMPANIES SEEK FRANCHISE

International Gas Company of Cleveland and the Northwestern Gas Oil Company of Edmonton Both Seek to Supply City with Domestic Gas--Council hears Proposition.

Two gas companies were before the council last night with applications for gas franchises.

The International Gas Co. of Cleveland made their formal application. They offer to furnish gas at $1.83 a thousand feet, with reductions at 10, 15 and 20 per cent. for 2,500, 5,000 and 10,000 feet respectively. They promise to lay nine miles of pipe as soon as it can be got down and guarantee to spend $150,000. They do not ask for any site bonus, exemption of favors of any kind, and they do not ask for a special franchise.

The Northwestern Gas and Oil Co. are already known in Edmonton. They are the company which undertook to drill the well on the Jasper extension for natural gas. They had a nice franchise but allowed it to run out, as they failed to operate for a period of six months. The company spent a lot of money and found gas in limited quantities, but never sufficient for a commercial supply. They ask for a renewal of their franchise and promise to commence drilling again as soon as weather permits. The franchise they held was exclusive and they ask for a renewal of the exclusive feature, which, of course, would shut out the International.

The whole question was laid over for a week. It will come up next Tuesday evening, along with a petition from some East and householders who complain that the gas well is a nuisance and that therefore the franchise should not be renewed.

MORALITY AND LOYALTY OF MORMONS VINDICATED

Mackenzie, of Macleod, Brings Kilpatrick-Oliver Controversy Before House on Question of Privilege--Statements Branded as Libelous and Reflection on Whole People of Alberta--No Polygamy Taught or Practised.

The fundamental text book of "Mormonism is King James' version of the Bible," says John Woolf, M.P.P. for Cardston.

"Never more than 5 per cent. of the Mormons in Utah practiced polygamy over in its published days, and none since 1898."—John Woolf, M.P.P. for Cardston.

It has been my privilege to study Mormonism as a system of theology, and it will stand favorable comparison with any system of theology on the continent."—Leader of the Opposition.

"For fourteen years I have associated with them in their social gatherings, in their homes and in their houses of worship, and I never heard a Mormon advocate polygamy."—Mr. MacKenzie, M.P. for Macleod.

The statements of Prof. Kilpatrick of Knox College, Toronto, and Rev. Dr. Sommerville, treasurer of the Presbyterian church in Canada, charging the Mormons of Alberta with immorality and disloyalty despite their industry and intelligence, received an emphatic and unequivocal denial yesterday afternoon in the legislature. The consensus of opinion among the members was that the two eminent divines, who have circulated and given utterance to such a libel on these fellow citizens were uneducated and wholly unacquainted with social and religious life of the Mormon settlers. The warmest praise was accorded the minister of the interior for his bold and patriotic stand on the floor of the Canadian parliament.

The question was brought up in the legislature yesterday afternoon by Mr. MacKenzie, the member for Macleod, and aroused the utmost feeling and indignation of the entire assembly. None of the members were more emphatic and indignant than the leader of the opposition. The member for Cardston in closing the debate was received with great applause.

The Member for Macleod, Mr. MacKenzie said before the orders of the day were called he desired to make a statement in reply to certain accusations made by doctors of divinity in Toronto against the Mormon population of Alberta. The doctors accused the Mormons of committing crimes and teaching doctrines contrary to the morals and the law of the land.

Dr. Kilpatrick had described two men in Canada with a Mormon as the people's representative. The statements of these doctors of divinity were a reflection upon the whole people of this province and he held in the educational institutions of the land. The eminent doctor no doubt rushed into print smarting under the rebuke of the minister of the interior, and like a petulant school boy describe the honorable minister's words of the vote-catching order.

In his letter he stated that many of the Mormons were his personal friends. "I would hate to make such statements against my personal friends," said the member for Macleod.

matter should be dealt with in the House, and that the East should hear from the West. He agreed most heartily with all that had been said by the member for Macleod. The question of vote-catching had no weight with him. He had but a few Mormons in the High River district.

Mormonism a Good Theology. He could speak from knowledge and conviction in favor of the Mormons. On the other side of the line he had seen a great many Mormons. It had been his privilege to study Mormonism as a system of theology, and he could find nothing objectionable. Mormonism would stand a terrific test by any system of theology on the continent.

Tolerant and Thrifty. The Mormons were tolerant and never condemned any other sect or religion. The members of the legislature had the privilege last summer of visiting the Mormon country and it had been a revelation to see the beautiful towns, fields of grain and the evidences of order and thrift. "When I saw this," said the member for High River, "I came to the conclusion that they were a most desirable class of settlers."

The Cry of Bigotry. This charge and accusation came from the east and from the heart of bigotry, and was characteristic of the narrow methods by which the west was being continually misrepresented by the east.

Mr. Simmons, member for Lethbridge, said there could be no discussion of the opinions expressed by the two previous members because they were true. The Mormons were able to take care of themselves. The charge was a reflection on the whole people of Alberta, who had so many dealings and relationships with the Mormons. They were continually associated in business and society with these people and no complaint was heard from any of the members of the legislature.

charges with a good deal of warmth and indignation has ever been laid against the Mormons in Alberta," said the speaker. If the charge would be made and information laid his department would attend to it. He also referred to the strong temperance sentiment in the Mormon district, which was the only one in the province that had carried local option. If the people of the province were as much in favor of local option and carried it out like the Cardston district it would be an inestimable boon for temperance reform.

Mr. Moore. The member for Red Deer in his usual eloquent manner declared the question had a wider sweep than its application to the Mormons of Alberta. The fundamental principle of the civil and religious toleration that must exist in this province and every part of Canada. Dr. Kilpatrick should be sure of his facts. This was a debate in the interests of truth, and the old maxim, "Speak of a man as you find him," should have free course. By this standard the Mormon was a true man indeed. It had been stated that these people were a menace to the morals and political integrity of the province, and that was not a vestige of truth in such a statement.

Dealing with Dr. Kilpatrick's reply to the member for Red Deer the speaker said it was unworthy to impute the motives of vote-catching. The outward manifestation and known facts were the only touchstone of our opinions of a people who were true, amiable and generous and who constituted an objection of good citizenship to the rest of the province of Alberta. The accuser had quoted proverbs. He would like to quote also: "Tell the truth and shame the devil." In closing, the member for Red Deer said that he stood "Nothing extenuate nor ought set down in malice," and commended to the consideration of the Toronto Times Lincoln's noble dictum: "With malice towards none, and charity towards all."

Terrible Holocaust At Hochelaga School

Seventeen Little Children Suffocated at the Windows of the Kindergarten While Firemen Vainly Try to Reach and Rescue Them--Miss Maxwell a Heroine Whose Name Will Live in Canadian History--School Was a Death Trap For Which Authorities Were Responsible--Terrible Scenes at the Fire--Women try to Tear Victims From Firemen's Arms.

Special to the Bulletin.

Montreal, Feb. 27.—A total death list of seventeen is the tragic result of the holocaust which swept the Hochelaga Protestant school in the east end of the city this afternoon. The sombre nature of the catastrophe was relieved of part of its sadness by an exhibition of rare heroism on the part of the principal, Miss Maxwell, who lost her own life while trying to save her charges.

The pitiful feature of the disaster is that the whole loss of life appears to have been due to neglect of the most elementary precautions on the part of the authorities who are supposed to see after the safety as well as the education of their young charges.

The outstanding feature of the terrible affair is the dauntless heroism of the lady teachers of the school, who, in the face of apparent official neglect, proved themselves willing to risk their lives in the effort to save those of their pupils, and not merely willing, but ready, for one of them, Miss Maxwell, deliberately went to her death rather than risk losing one of her pupils. No more brilliant instance of self-sacrificing bravery has been recorded in the annals of this city. Here was a building with a hundred and fifty young children in it under the charge of four lady teachers, suddenly confronted with an appalling calamity in a sudden outbreak of fire. The evidence does not show that one of them for a moment shirked her duty or lost her self-possession.

Fire Drill Might Have Saved Them. Although the children were not properly trained in fire drill, which might possibly have saved them all, the teachers undertook to get them all out of the building with as little alarm as possible, and when the alarm was given calmly told their classes to put on their coats and go home. But the fire spread with such rapidity that almost half the children, and the youngest ones at that, were shut off in the upper story with no chance of escape.

Smoke Shut Off Stairways. The smoke prevented their going down stairs and no other method of escape was possible. It was then that the two principal teachers, Misses Maxwell and Keyes, proved themselves worthy to be ranked amongst the heroines of Canadian literature. Without a thought of themselves they sought the most dangerous place and prepared the children to help escape.

Miss Maxwell, who lost her own life while trying to save her charges, was the only one to save her charges. She was the only one to save her charges. She was the only one to save her charges.

All Happened in a Few Minutes. Although within a few minutes of the outbreak, neighboring workmen had a ladder at one of the upper windows and rescued a score or more, and a few minutes later the firemen had arrived and saved fully forty more, sixteen of the little ones were suffocated, and their principal fell a victim with them, while Miss Keyes was only taken out of the building with her clothes on fire and in a fainting condition.

Miss Maxwell a Heroine. It would have been easy for Miss Maxwell to have saved herself, but with the flames fast closing in, she refused the call of the firemen, and once more braved the burning room to search for the others she knew were in peril. She did not get them out, but died with them.

Fire Started in Basement. The fire broke out about 1.45 in the basement, having evidently originated from an overheated furnace. The building was loaded by iron and the big pipes served as flues to carry the smoke and flames all over the building, so that within five minutes of the first alarm it was completely enveloped.

Was Smoke That Proved Fatal. It was the smoke that proved so fatal. Few of the children were burned at all and subsequent examination showed that even these few had died of suffocation before the flames reached them.

Terrible Scenes. There were terrible scenes while the work of rescue was going on, and while the bodies of the little unfortunates, who were choked to death and smothered in the fumes were carried out. Frantic mothers rushed at the men carrying out the little corpses and tried to tear off the clothes in which they were wrapped in their terrible anxiety to find out whether the victims were perhaps their own darlings. But the firemen and constables and others, with almost brutal kindness kept them at bay, while the bodies were put into the morgue wagon, amidst the cries and lamentations of the frantic parents.

Hydrographic Party Begins Victoria to Tacoma. Victoria, Feb. 25—Lieut. P. C. Musgrave, R.N., who is to have charge of the hydrographic survey of the Dominion government on this coast, and will have command of the new hydrographic steamer when she is completed in the city. He has arrived from Ottawa, accompanied by H. D. Parizeau and L. R. Davis, assistant marine and fisheries department, who will be engaged in the survey of Prince Rupert harbor during the coming season. In view of the fact that the harbor of Prince Rupert is to become the terminus of the G. T. P., and an important port, it will require immediate attention. This, the hydrographic service of the Dominion, is giving to that port. The work of the summer will be largely devoted to Prince Rupert's harbors and an order is being placed with Bullen Bros. for a large gasoline boat to be used next year in surveying the approaches.

SUNDAY LAW HITS NEWSPAPERS.

Toronto Vendors of Yellow Journals Planning to Circumvent the Act. Toronto, Feb. 25—Local news agents are in a worry over the new Sunday bill which goes into effect on the first of March and which prohibits the sale of all American papers in Toronto on Sunday. That the law will prove unpopular in this city goes without saying when one considers that there are over 1,000 New York Sunday papers, not to mention hundreds of Buffalo, Chicago and Detroit papers, all of which are snapped up by Toronto citizens on the first of the hotel news stands for the Sunday express due here at 5k Sunday evening. It was announced this morning that local news agents would probably hold a meeting today to arrange a way of getting papers across the line. Once within the jurisdiction of the province it is said the federal law does not apply. The great obstacle is in getting the papers across the line.

BRITISH ARMY REORGANIZATION.

Special to the Bulletin. London, Feb. 25—The latest scheme for the reorganization of the British army was unfolded by War Secretary Haldane in the House of Commons today. It contemplates dividing all the forces into two categories, a field force and a territorial or home force. The former with 100,000 officers and men, is to consist of four cavalry brigades and six infantry divisions with a full complement of horse and field artillery all to be ready for immediate mobilization on the outbreak of war. The territorial force, totaling 200,000 men, shall be a complete army in itself and as nearly as possible of the same pattern as the regular troops.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 25—A petition is being signed by the women of Victoria, asking that the Dominion government be requested to remove the head tax of $500 on Chinese as domestic service is scarce in British Columbia since the Chinese have been kept out by the imposition of the head tax.

DWELLS BUT BRIEFLY ON GOV. ERNORS SPEECH.

Special to the Bulletin. Regina, Feb. 25—Rather unexpectedly the debate in reply to the speech from the throne was concluded this afternoon. In remarkable contrast this formal business last session occupied eight days and indications are that little time will be wasted in idle preliminaries. The address in reply, which was of the usual nature, was moved by W. C. South, member of Saskatchewan, and seconded by J. D. Stewart, of Cunningham. Mr. South's leader of the opposition is showing a brilliant speech of an hour and twenty minutes in which he traversed the entire of the Government's policy, lampooned the professions of the government, dwelling especially on the fuel shortage and on the part Hon. W. R. Motherwell had played in the recent Winnipeg grain conference. Attorneys General Ingham replied briefly and the debate concluded before six o'clock.

SASKATCHEWAN FOLLOWS ALBERTA.

Special to the Bulletin. Regina, Feb. 25—During the present year the department of agriculture of Saskatchewan will establish poultry fattening stations in connection with the Dominion creameries, which are under government supervision. In authorizing this work the commissioner of agriculture believes that it will be the means of demonstrating in a practical manner why greater care and attention should be given to the development of this branch of farming throughout the province. With the rapid development of the country the demand for birds in good flesh placed on the market according to market requirements is constantly increasing, and the object of the fattening stations is to assist and educate the people how to fatten and prepare birds for the market. The system of conducting the work will be similar to that pursued in handling cream and cream products. Suitable accommodation will be provided at the creameries, and the birds will be reared and fattened on the premises. The weight of the birds accepted from each farmer will be placed in his credit account and he will be allowed to deduct the cost of fattening, which also to the extent of the cost of the birds has been disposed of. This new department promises to attract considerable interest among the farmers. The work is of such a nature that the boys and girls on the farm can handle it, which means that the attention of the farmer is not diverted from his other large activities of the farm will not retard its development. It is already apparent that the birds have been provided by the patrons of the Moomin and Tantallon creameries and it is believed that such profits will be returned to the farmer as will stimulate an interest in poultry production whereby the work can be greatly enlarged and the industry of the province secured the co-operation of all interested farmers.

EDMONTON RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP

(Monday's Daily)

Edmonton held on a beautiful walling to Regina on Saturday night at the Thistle rink in the second game for the championship of the provinces, and the second shield. The final score was 61 with a 1-1 show at half time. Edmonton is now champion of the west.

Fully 1,300 people were packed into the rink, and had the finest seats been thirty per cent, more numerous standing room would still have been at a premium. Among the most interested of the spectators was Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Buley, and they were from Government House, who had seats in the balcony, which was draped with Union Jacks.

The game was within three minutes of being an hour late in starting, and the fault was Regina's. During the day a quartette of the visitors had taken their skates out to the ground and the machine put a round finish on them, rendering them rash or useless on the hard ice. This mistake was not discovered until the losers came on for a warm-up and they immediately sent their skaters back for re-grinding. The crowd took the delay good naturally it was Saturday night and the band was furnishing plenty of music. Regina disappointed the crowd badly in the second half. After the long trip it was not surprising they lost Thursday's match, but the talented figures with a two days' rest they should give Edmonton a hair-raising contest, and many had their money up on Regina to win.

On the forward line Edmonton showed slightly improved form. The scorers all checked much more effectively, particularly Campbell, who held McGreggor so close that the Regina man never got much of a chance to star. The winners were more effective in the stick-handling department with the possible exception of R. Blomfield, who was rather used up after Thursday's game. Deaton was the man who got the most applause. He played fast all the way through, checked hard and on the work close in on the Regina net, he waged right in every time. Campbell was always prominent and his shooting was superior to Thursday's game. C. Blomfield was on the job all night, though he and Campbell found the trip five minutes too long. Blair was in better form than ever, and saved both Banford and Grady considerable work that usually devolves upon the point. Banford played cautiously during the first half, and in the second worked overtime in rolling up the score when the fireworks display was on. Grady made a number of fine stops, but on the whole was not over-convincing.

The Regina defence was seriously handicapped. Reid and McLaughlin, who had had their skates sharpened found the ice blades finished up on the round and they were never sure of the going. Reid's being badly crippled in this respect. Blair was easily the bright player for Regina. He performed even better than on Thursday, for the reason that the defence could not hold the Edmonton line so successfully, and Reid's enforced retirements did not tend to help Blair at all. The defence was up to form in the first half but in the final period, the Edmonton rush line were allowed too close in altogether for the first fifteen minutes. "Shorty" Carmichael was pretty nearly the whole works on the scoring end. He played a uniform game all the way through. In the second half Smith was considerably in evidence, and had been as effective earlier in the struggle the score would have been smaller for Edmonton. Stubbings was prominent here and there, but C. Blomfield held him down very closely throughout, while McGreggor was badly "browned" by Campbell all the way. The teams lined up:

It just took eighteen minutes to corral the first goal, and as it came Edmonton's way the pent-up enthusiasm of the crowd was poured forth plentifully. The Regina goal was the best of it at the stage, and Campbell took first crack at the net, but it was too high. Carmichael came back with it but a half had to be called for four minutes to fix up C. Blomfield, who was out on the check. The face-off at centre was to Regina's good and Stubbings went in for a shot, but Blair blocked but lost to McGreggor, who in turn was relieved by Banford and Campbell came again, and shot wide. Carmichael carried it back, but failed to get through. Deaton returned with it, and for a few minutes Regina had all hands on the defence, and all the Edmonton forwards along with Blair were trying to locate. Stubbings finally relieved Blair, but Blair finished the rush, and returned the rubber, and another bombardment followed in which Reid went off for flipping followed shortly by Deaton and McLaughlin who had mixed it up rather strenuously. With Reid's return Carmichael temporarily ousted off the strain with a pretty rush. He did not harm, however, and Deaton and Campbell combined on the return and almost scored. In the scrimmage Deaton was again benched. Smith missed a chance to score by shooting from too far out, but Stubbings, though, came in again with it, but Blair got it from him, carried it down and after a short scrimmage in front Deaton finally got it past Kain. Score 1-0.

Edmonton had all the best of it at the face-off, and had Regina on the defensive for a few minutes. McGreggor rushed but when well in over-skated the puck, and Blair returned it, and Kain had an uncomfortable time of it, until Carmichael came to the rescue and all but scored on a lift. Reid and C. Blomfield came back with it, and Reid was fenced. Smith secured in at Regina's cover point and from the side sent in, a fast one that eluded Grady. Time nine minutes. Score 1-1. Honors were for the balance of the half.

The Regina team and supporters held a council of war at half-time, and kept the spectators waiting 27 minutes in place of the regulation time. A new plan of campaign was adopted. Regina apparently concluded Edmonton was about all in, and the losers abandoned their careful defence game and had McLaughlin play well up with the line. The move looked good for about two minutes. That was all, for Edmonton came along with an extraordinary burst of speed and tallied in five minutes. Regina "blew up" immediately, and in twenty minutes after half-time the figures were Edmonton 5, Regina 1. The losers came back to earth again, but the winners were still travelling under high pressure, and in nine minutes more Campbell again located and the count was Edmonton 6, Regina 1. The game, which had been deteriorating ever since Regina's shabby trip, now developed into a brilliant, pure and simple, with an occasional flash of hockey. Regina finished the strongest. C. Blomfield and Campbell were kept busy to pull the Edmonton defence never let up and the losers could not register. The goals were scored as follows:

- 1-Edmonton, Deaton, 18 mins.
2-Regina, Smith 9 mins.
3-Edmonton, Campbell, 5 mins.
4-Edmonton, R. Blomfield, 2 mins.
5-Edmonton, Campbell, 1 min.

Dr. Strong, of Edmonton, referred to Reid from the press-box appeared to catch about every goal, and was not nearly as strict, as he is accused of being in some quarters. Tom Breen, of Wetaskiwin, was judge of play and handed out a square deal. Tom, however, didn't have his nerve with him, and chose to warn some of the players when a shot was made, and then started to bark under the impression that he must return to first on a foul. As a matter of fact, he should have held second, and when he was between first and second he found himself being chased down. He finally managed to get back to first, which was unoccupied at the time. The claim was raised that he was out, as he had no right to first base after touching second. He was finally called safe, which was the correct decision.

Slide at the Plate. Another play which puzzles even the big league ball players and on which members of some big league teams were willing to bet money on the wrong side last season, was the slide past the home plate. About half the players contend that a man who slides past the plate without touching the latter is liable to be ejected from the game. The National League is of the opinion that the slide is legal, and almost continual changes have been made with this end in view. Yet as a testimonial to the infinite variety of the game, questions are continually arising as to the correct interpretation of the rules, and points not covered in the latter, are still coming to light. In most cases these points are of no great importance, but they are of interest to those who follow the game, outside of any actual bearing they may have on the latter.

Disputes over the rules may be divided into three classes. The most numerous are the ones caused by ignorance and a failure to study the rules on points where all of the experts agree. The second class is made up of those points where the rules are so drawn as to puzzle even the experts in their interpretation, and where the latter differ in their opinions. The third is the class where there are no rules and which must be covered by the good judgment of the umpires and referred to the presidents of the leagues for uniform rulings. All three of the classes named bring out some queer things during the season and those latter serve to liver up the winter gatherings of the fans and players.

There are some foolish interpretations of the rules every year, and some of these keep on repeating themselves year after year, until one begins to wonder where the fool lies. It is the old gag of calling a man off the bench to catch a foul. In this case one of the regular players is unable to get the ball and the captain orders him out of the game and replaces him with a man on the bench, who makes the catch. The trick is so palpable outside of the rules and so old that it looks like it would be tagged and stowed away with the mummies, yet helping along the batting, something 90 per cent. of the "fans" want, is not half bad. A prominent baseball professional says that with the outfielders allowed to stray just as deep and just as far around as they want to, long free batters of the heavy hitting stripe, and the fact that they are wallowing the sphere on the proboscis most of the time entitled them to fatter wafers than the joker who lays 'em down and drops 'em over the infielder's noddles.

With the playing green deep, and with the three gardeners only allowed to play so far out, there would be many a long smash. How many times have the "fans" seen the good eye batsman plaster the sphere on the trademark in a pinch place, with one of the meadowmen, practically leaning up against the fence, waiting to catch the ball. There is no doubt that the magnates will adopt when the day comes that they must do something desperate to bring more batting into the game, but it will doubtless lead to some arrangement that will go into effect.

Many a good ball player has discovered his calling as a pitcher, infielder, or outfielder through a lucky beginning. For instance, Bob Wallace, the great shortstop on the St. Louis American team, was originally a pitcher on the Cleveland team. Regular pitcher McGee, who was the team's regular third baseman, was injured one day and Tebeau sent Bob in to play the bag, with the result that he never was asked to pitch again, and is now considered one of the greatest infielders the game has ever produced.

REGINA IN GREAT FORM The third game of the Edmonton-Regina series at the Thistle rink last night went to Regina by a margin of 4-3 and was a well-earned victory. Edmonton's overall was not altogether a surprise to those who saw Saturday's match. The Edmonton forwards found that contact rather too frequent, and the extra hardy expected to see the champions back to old time form for the final game.

Edmonton got on even footing early in the second half, and the Regina line took the rest two, and although Edmonton worked hard to even things up, they were unable to register a big mistake if it was not Regina's superior play. They did not check back so well as Edmonton and the latter had possession of the ball. Instead of tagging the runner or throwing the ball to first, the catcher rolled it out past the pitcher, while the base runner got off the bench, went back to the plate, and walked down to first, but there was a small error, and the runner finally decided that under the rule he was safe, which was a correct solution of the problem under a strict interpretation of the rule.

In another instance it so happened that the base runner got by second base and then started to bark under the impression that he must return to first on a foul. As a matter of fact, he should have held second, and when he was between first and second he found himself being chased down. He finally managed to get back to first, which was unoccupied at the time. The claim was raised that he was out, as he had no right to first base after touching second. The Seattle P. I. sums up the baseball situation to date as follows: "The baseball situation in Seattle has reached the point where little remains to be done before Dugdale will commence to gather in the men who will represent the Queen city on the diamond this year.

The meeting which was held by the Northwest League at the Butler hotel Wednesday, Thursday of last week was important in that the circuit was completed and much done toward outlining the schedule, which will be completed within ten days. As had previously outlined Vancouver, B. C., was admitted and came through with her $1,000 forfeit. J. D. Cray and R. P. Brown came up from Grays Harbor with $1,000. The kind of sports they are over in that section may be had from the fact that Cray rates at $1,000, and brought with him in just thirty minutes, and it took only the first ten business men he met to get the money.

One of the best things that has been done for the popularity of the National game in the extreme western part of the state is to retain the name "Grays Harbor." If Aberdeen get it into their head that the team should be named "Aberdeen," that would make Hiquan disgruntled, and if the team was named "Hiquan" both Aberdeen and Cosopolis would be sore. The proper thing to do is to let the team represent the section as a whole and the interest will be centralized.

The San Francisco papers are looking to Portland for consolation in the present season. The San Francisco club has got to do a lot of work before the opening of the season, April 20. It will not be many days, said Dug, "before the park commences to look like something and as for getting players there is no trouble on that score. We have got to build up a team, and like that phase the game as well as any other, is very interesting to me to watch young players develop. I guess that Seattle can bring a few good ones to the front early in the season.

The directors of the Northwest League desire peace, but if they are to win they will be sure to be a territory, and they are absolutely confident of winning. The players will be a lot of fun throwing bricks at the Northwest League. It is referred to as a ten-cent club, and the players are in a Class B outfit. Dugdale says that he can stand the knock and that he does not believe that Judge McCredie has anything to do with it. "Despite the talk that comes from certain sources," said Dugdale, "I know that there are many baseball men in Portland who feel that the Northwest circuit is the one that Portland should join. I met many who were connected with the Portland team when I managed it. It was a fine fellow as has been my opinion of them. "Our meeting last week was one of the best I have ever held, and everything is lining up as we want it. Grays Harbor could not do better, and Vancouver gives promise of being a splendid addition. Tacoma will be all right in the league that suits the fan. Spokane and Butte were always first-class baseball clubs."

BASEBALL. Calgary is certainly the champion not only on the circuit. The season in the Northwestern League will open on April 29 and close on October 5th. The Winnipeg team will report at Minneapolis about April 15th, and will reach Winnipeg early in May.

With Calgary's weakest hitter a 284 man the question naturally arises, will the baseball grounds in the league cities be large enough. Lehigh Valley's first 1937 baseball on Saturday. It was an amateur affair, but Taber was beaten 3-2. The game went six innings.

According to Calgary dwellers, none now will be the whole rather than the exception when Thorne's All-Star came to get going properly. In the Northwestern League there will be four weeks of wild weather, but it will be the best of the opening which will be eight.
