LABRADOR: Its Discovery, Exploration and Development.

By W. G. GOSLING. With numerous Illustrations and Maps.

A new chapter in the history of our Colonial Empire, embodying the results of much laborious research in an exceedingly readable narrative. The work has been undertaken at the suggestion of Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, C.M.G., whose missionary and humanitarian labours on the Labrador coast are well known. For points of special interest, where all is interesting, the reader may be referred to the question of American Fishery Rights which has been pending for 100 years and will be shortly submitted to the Hague Tribunal, to the proof of discovery by the early Norse mariners, the tale of the romantic devotion of Moravian missionaries, and the adventures of Captain Cartwright, settler, sportsman, and merchant. Which Was The Heir?

CHAPTER XVI. (Continued.) THE dancing and singing of the men near the door was suspended for a moment as the two waiters entered; one or two recognized Geoff and nodded or shouted a greeting. He stood for a moment looking around with the calmness and sang-froid which Cottie always admired in him, then his face lightened.

about him, and laid it on the upturned box which served for table, and Cottie followed his example. The agent whistled softly. 'You've had luck, and no mistake, Mr. —' 'Bell,' put in Geoffrey, shortly. 'Just so —' B assented the agent, with a sharp look. 'How will you take it, as they say in the bank at home?' 'Give it to me in notes,' replied Geoffrey, quietly.

his wife. We start at daybreak tomorrow for home. 'Geoffrey winced at the word 'home,' and Cottie saw the wince. 'Then I'll get you to take charge of my young brother,' he said, as casually and indifferently as he could. 'I want you to take him to England. The notes go with him and this letter.' He handed them to Cottie and requested her to put them in her waist-belt. 'You start at daybreak?' The agent nodded.

softly to herself. In a few hours she would be in the hut again and waiting for Geoffrey. Got rid of him, had he! She would show him! She drew rein, after a half dozen miles, for she had ridden fast, and was wiping the sweat from her brow, and thinking, with a glow of the heart, of Geoff's face when he saw that note, when she heard the sound of a horse behind her. She pulled up short and bit her lip with vexation.

Or is it a complication which can be reached only by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS. There is only one medicine that can prove thoroughly satisfactory in complicated ailments of the liver and kidneys, and that is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They begin by regulating the bowels and awakening the action of the liver, thereby effecting a thorough cleansing of the excretory system. By thus removing the poisons from the system they lighten the work of the kidneys and gradually restore them to health. Nobody who once learns of the merit and certain action of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in regulating and invigorating the kidneys, liver and bowels, is willing to take chances by experimenting with other medicines. but was not absolutely drunk, and he paused for a moment and stared at the slight figure and pale smiling face of the lad, and after staring for a moment, the half-drunken vacancy of the mean hatchet-face gave place to an expression of intense surprise and satisfaction. 'The boy! The boy himself! he muttered, and as Cottie turned, he shrank into the shadow and waited and watched. Two men came forward leading a couple of horses. 'Here you are,' said the agent, coming up with Geoffrey. 'The parson and his wife have gone on by the wagon; at I thought the youngster would braver ride with me.' 'That's so, eh, Ronnie?' said Geoffrey, with a forced cheerfulness, too ghastly for description. Cottie nodded, and sprang on her horse as the agent mounted him.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

But, then mothers are always terrible matchmakers. Margaret is going to marry a good man who loves her with all his big, manly heart, and whom she loves. Don't you think that mother is wickedly selfish? I do. It seems to me there is a terrible lot of tommyrot written about the American mother trying to sell her daughter for wealth or title. Of course there is that class of mother, just as there is a criminal class, but I don't think one should be regarded as typically American, any more than the other.

What I mean by a matchmaking mother is a mother who makes a deliberate effort to help her daughter meet the right sort of men.

Who entertains the nice young people of the neighbourhood as much as she can afford to.

Who studies to make the entertaining so attractive that the desirable young men will want to come to the house often.

Who while she is never careless in looking out for her daughter allows the young people sufficient freedom to develop that comradeship from which the best kind of love grows.

Who gives her warmest, most gracious welcome to the honest, clean young man with no assets except brains and energy, but plenty of those, and turns her very coldest shoulder on the man with the wild oats record, however good his bank account.

She is terribly ambitious, this mother—but her ambition is for a righteous object—her daughter's best happiness.

Are you that kind of mother? Or are you the kind that just sits back and lets her daughter do all the work that mother and daughter once shared, and then blames the daughter for not marrying the right kind of man?

And I think that nowadays mothers are altogether too apt to ignore that duty. There was a time when if a daughter didn't marry it meant that she was a failure, and a failure, moreover, who had to be supported by her parents. Wherefore, in those days mothers lived up to their matchmaking duties with all their hearts. Under present economic conditions the unmarried daughter, if she has made her way in the world, is not by any means regarded as a failure. Moreover, she is usually self-supporting and quite often contributes to the support of the family. And as a result the modern mother has relaxed from her predecessor's eager schemings to get her daughter well married. In a good many cases she is even sorry when the daughter succeeds in getting herself well married.

"Do you know, Mrs. Hastings feels just terrible about Margaret getting married?" my news purveyor informed me the other day.

"You see, the man she is going to marry has a position way off somewhere, I forget just where, and Mrs. Hastings feels so badly about Margaret's going off that she says she wishes Margaret had never met the man."

And the man Margaret is going to marry is a good man who loves her with all his big, manly heart, and whom she loves.

No Backache or Kidney Trouble.

A few doses clean and regulate the Kidneys ending Backache and Bladder misery.

No man or woman here whose kidneys are out-of-order, or who suffers from backache or bladder misery, can afford to leave Pape's Diuretic untried. After taking several doses, all pains in the back, sides or loins, rheumatic twinges, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, dizziness, tired or worn-out feeling and other symptoms of clogged, sluggish kidneys simply vanish. Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, discolored water and all bladder misery ends.

The moment you suspect the slightest kidney or bladder disorder, or feel rheumatism pains, don't continue to be miserable or worried, but get a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic from your druggist and start taking as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which is so harmless or will effect so thorough and prompt a cure.

This unusual preparation goes direct to the cause of the trouble, distributing its cleansing, healing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected and completes the cure before you realize it.

A few days' treatment of Pape's Diuretic means clean, healthy, active kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and you feel fine.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—from any drug store—anywhere in the world.

what Mason meant when he spoke of caplin leant into ears, and of Abbe Baudoin's old man. I did so in my original paper, and see no object in repeating my remarks. The Judge is very unfortunate in his evidence, for Abbe Baudoin's statement (1897) again disproves his theory. He said Harbor Grace was the first colony established by the English in Newfoundland, and to indicate its age, he instanced the death of an old man born about 1610-11. It is obvious that if there had been settlers all round the Bay and in St. John's for 150 years or more there would have been no object for telling this story.

Now, I will just put a few conundrums to the Judge.

How does he explain the fact that Guy's Charter (1610) declares, in two places, that Newfoundland was uninhabited by any Christian person?

Why did Guy state that he had proved by his experience that Newfoundland was habitable and that others intended to follow his example?

Why did Sir William Vaughan, who had been in Newfoundland about 1610-18 for the purpose of planting a colony, declare in two places that John Guy was the first Christian to settle in Newfoundland?

How does he explain Sir William Alexander's statement (1622) that the first houses for habitation in Newfoundland were built at Cupids by Guy?

Why did Whitbourne, writing in 1619, recommend that St. John's should be settled, if it had been a flourishing colony since 1583?

Why did Parkhurst, Hales, Carlisle Peckham and Hakluyt so strongly recommend the colonization of Newfoundland when it was already colonized?

How was it possible to keep the matter secret from generation to generation if thousands of fishermen knew of it?

Until these questions are satisfactorily answered I think I will retire from the controversy.

In conclusion, I wish to relate how the controversy arose. The Historical Society decided to try to celebrate the tercentenary of the founding of Guy's Colony. Some thought that Harbor Grace or Mosquito was the original site and not Cupids. When that error was settled, others declared that it was not the first settlement in Newfoundland and should not be celebrated. I contended that it was and undertook to prove it. I leave it to the public to decide whether it has been done or not.

Shannahan Gives Kelley's Version of Building a House and Rearing a Family Out of a Day's Pay.

"I'll tell you, Kelly, what you should do," said Tucker, "try and raise a few hundred dollars, pick out a nice locality and build a house for yourself. You'll regret this nooky-nawdy way of getting along a few years from now; you'll be played out from working and have nothing to show for your industry only a hump on your back and turned-in feet."

Tucker is a cute, saving little man, one who never goes home without carrying something under his arm. He'd pick up a nail if there was one to be picked up in town, and home 'twould go. A piece of yarn, a rotten clipboard, anything that Tucker runs up against it is his. Kelly, on the other hand, wouldn't stoop to pick up an anchor. As a matter of fact I have known him to pass a three-blade pocket knife by, and on being questioned by Tucker as to where his eyes were, he said, "I'm dead against stooping for anything with less than four blades."

The conversation between Kelly and Tucker can be more easily understood from this short description of these two hearties.

"Raising a loan to build a house on," said Kelly, "to my mind, is like getting a lend of a lot of money to pay a lot of quarter's rents. You can sail under false colors and say you are going to build, if you like, but you are only trying to make yourself believe that you are building a house for yourself. You are building all right as far as driving two and a half inch nails go, and losing your morning's nap and making all the neighbours lose theirs also, but own a house, never, never will you be able to stand on the gallery, look up at the house and say 'tis my own. The days of miracles are past, and no man can be expected to build a house on a day's work and raise a family at the same time. I have watched a man start up in Prowse's field and dig, dig, dig, till 'twas dark, pitch dark, and then his daughter would come out with a lantern and hold it for da and da would dig again. What he wanted all the cellar room for I couldn't understand, for I never saw his family getting more than a 1/4 of coal at a time in my life, and as for potatoes, 5 cents worth was the limit." One night I was going up to the football match and this poor man was digging good and hard. I went over to him and asked him what he was looking for, whether he expected to find ore or beach-rocks. He told me he was looking for nothing, only digging out a cellar. "I always like a good cellar," said he, as he gasped for breath, "tis a nice thing to have in a house."

"It is," said I, "a fine thing, but between me and you, certainly it needn't go any further, and you needn't say

DON'T KNOW HOW

To Select Food to Rebuild On.

"To find that a lack of knowledge of how to properly feed oneself caused me to serve ten long years as a miserable dyspeptic, is rather humiliating. I was a sufferer for that length of time and had become a shadow of my natural self. I was taking medicine all the time and dieting the best I knew how.

"One day I heard of Grape-Nuts food, in which the starch was predigested by natural processes and that the food rebuilt the brain and nerve centres. I knew that if my nervous system could be made strong and perfect, I could digest food all right, so I started in on Grape-Nuts, with very little confidence, for I had been disheartened for a long time.

"To my surprise and delight, I found I was improving after living on Grape-Nuts a little while, and in three months I had gained 12 pounds and was feeling like a new person. For the past two years I have not had the slightest symptom of indigestion, and am now perfectly well.

"I made a discovery that will be of importance to many mothers. When my infant was two months old it was being fed on the bottle and was not doing well. I began to feed Grape-Nuts—at first, only the water poured over—later on, the softened food. The child began to improve rapidly, and is now a year old and very fat and healthy and has never been sick. Is unusually bright—has been saying words ever since it was six months old.

"I know from my experience that there is something in Grape-Nuts that brightens up any one infant or adult.

that 'twas me that said it. My opinion is the sooner you knock off rooting that hole the better for your health, for between me and you, as I said before, you're looking no 'great shakes. Take my advice and drop that pick and come up and see the game."

"What game?" asked he, looking up in bewilderment.

"Why the football match between the 'Saints' and 'Stars.' The whole town is going up to-night. What do you say? Come on."

"You're joking with me, sir, the Stars and Saints, and away he went again, knocking the pick against an empty pine apple can.

"Well, so long, old man," said I, "but before we part have a smoke," and I reached him out a pipe full of the latest cut-plug which Dinny smokes and I rob.

"Smoke, sir?" said he, shaking his noddle. "Oh, no, sir, never smoked in all my life, never had any inclination, sir, thank you all the same."

I left him half disgusted. I certainly believed, that night, that that man was too mean to wear a pair of drawers at a time, one leg covered, I believe, he considered sufficient, and any more a waste of good money.

About four weeks after this I was going up that way and I spied my friend and he was hurrying out of a hay-window.

"How are you, old 'stick in the mud'?" I sang out. He looked around at me half vexed and didn't answer.

"What ails you," asked I, "are you forgetting your old friends?" but he only stared vacantly for a moment and then went on driving his two-and-a-half.

I went on and I couldn't help thinking about that old fool. He was actually after forgetting all about me in that short time. The more I thought of him the more I pitied him.

"Don't talk about pity, Kelly," said Tucker, "for if you knew but the half of it, that man was actually pitying you for being so foolish."

"Is that so?" said Kelly. "Well, Tucker, when you hear me out you'll find out who required the most pity, him or me."

It was away up about the last of October that I was taking a short cut over that way, and when I came to the house I naturally looked up to see how my friend got on with it, and much to my surprise all the blinds were down.

"Who's dead?" asked I, to a little stunned boy, who took about a quarter of an hour to find out what I meant.

"The man in there, sir," said he, as he pointed to the gallery. And true enough it was. There was the house about quarter finished; old pieces of black felt blew from around the windows, some of the side was clap-boarded and the cellar was only partly nailed up.

The crowd at the funeral were all saying he was a very industrious man, he was trying to build a home for himself. "But I went up," said Kelly, "and told some of them what they never knew before."

"Why," said Tucker, "you couldn't say anything against that man."

"Say anything against him," said Kelly, "what's the use saying anything now? But what I will say is that he killed himself and left a widow and 5 orphans on the parish. The house is up there now to be seen half finished, head and ears in debt, the wife and children the Lord knows where, I don't, and poor 'Deeplack' singing 'work, work, work and be contented,' in that land where all those apes bring up who start to own a big house and a gramophone on a day's pay."

"Oh, you know a lot, Tucker, but you can't fool me on that job," said Kelly. "Plenty to eat and drink, giving yourself a show, and your wife and family a show means no big houses of your own on a day's pay. You can starve all hands and do it, we all know that. But give me my three squares and I'll run the chance of scraping up the rent, and if I don't scrape it up, I'll hang up, so that settles it."

The Guy Celebration.

The Western Daily Press of Bristol more than a column appears about the tercentenary of the establishment of Guy's Colony in Newfoundland.

In its issue of March 1st, an article of more than a column appears with Bristol and Newfoundland, and the early fishing days and attempts at colonization. On March 2nd appeared a still lengthier article, which concludes with the suggestion that Bristol, the birthplace of Guy, should be associated with the enterprise. "In any measure of this kind Bristol should be associated, and the city's commercial links with the British dominions of North America suggest that the opportunity should not be lost sight of."

We notice also in the issue of March 1st a review of a souvenir of Bell Island by Mr. J. F. Jardine, with special reference to a visit to Bristol paid by His Grace Archbishop Howley, and his observations on the Cabot Towers at Bristol and St. John's and on Cabot's Landfall.

Governor's Speech

IN PROLOGUING THE ASSEMBLY THIS AFTERNOON.

Mr. President and Honourable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council: Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Honourable House of Assembly: It is with pleasure that I find myself in a position so speedily to receive you of your Parliamentary duties. The session, whilst almost unprecedented in your history for the number and variety of the measures considered, comprehending creative and constructive legislation—perhaps without example in the Colony's annals, has been marked by such elasticity and business-like methods as have enabled a great volume of business to be transacted in a remarkably short time.

The early opening of the session has, I am pleased to observe, been welcomed by the community, in that it has enabled the sittings to be conducted with the least inconvenience of both branches, and to elicit the best of both branches, and to elicit the clearest interest in the proceedings from the public generally. The many important measures that you have considered should be productive of great good to the country at large, especially those which will aid in the establishment of an industrial policy of varied aspects. The encouragement which you have afforded for the development of Coal, Petroleum refining, Copper smelting, Wool manufacturing, Mineral discovery, and kindred lines of industrial activity, should result in greatly extending the avenues of employment for the people, and diversifying the pursuits upon which the prosperity of the Colony is based.

The measure for the extension of the Railway system of the Colony is one that should exert very beneficial influences on the future of Newfoundland. The unanimous testimony as to the advantages which the Railway construction thus far has bestowed on the Island justifies the conclusion that the proposed Branches will contribute in an important degree to the same direction. The reception which the measure has met at your hands gives confidence that the generous support of all classes towards carrying out a comprehensive policy for the well-being of Newfoundland will bear fruit in her attaining in the near future a degree of betterment far exceeding any she has yet enjoyed. The policy outlined by my Ministers with regard to Agricultural development must commend itself to the Colony generally. Its details are so fully set forth, and it embraces all classes so completely that its benefits cannot fail to be widely diffused and to result in an effective stimulus being imparted to our Agricultural industry with marked good to those who follow this avocation, and to the country as a whole. The determination to make agricultural subjects more a feature of the educational system of the colony is a step in the right direction, and it is especially gratifying to observe that it has been found possible to substantially augment the vote for Education against this session in addition to the handsome increase which was voted in June last.

The widespread destruction to public wharves, breakwaters, roads and bridges caused by the storms in November and December last will, I am glad to say, be made good in a great measure by the appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) which you have provided for the purpose.

The enactment of a measure for the prohibition of steam vessels engaging in the Labrador fishery, which has been advocated so strenuously for some years past by the thousands of our people who fish on that coast, will assure the permanence to them of the industry in the form it is at present prosecuted, unthreatened by the ruinous competition which the employment of steam power has wrought to similar industries in other countries. The unanimous adoption of this measure by both your Houses is a testimony to the manner in which questions affecting the great industry of the people are considered by you. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Honourable House of Assembly:

I thank you for the liberal supplies which you have provided for the public service, and which shall be devoted economically. I am pleased to note that a substantial surplus is anticipated for the current fiscal year, and to realize that the various measures which have been determined upon this session can be effectuated without any increased taxation.

In view of the Colony's gratifying financial position, my Ministers will devote attention, during recess, to the matter of the revision of the tariff. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Honourable House of Assembly: The question arising out of the interpretation of Article 1 of the Treaty of 1818 between His Majesty's Government and the Government of the United States submitted to the arbitration of the Hague Tribunal will come before that body in June next for determination. United action has been agreed upon between His Majesty's Government, the Government of the Dominion of Canada, and the Government of this colony with a view to the adequate presentation of the British case before the Tribunal.

In relieving you from your sessional duties I again congratulate you upon the expeditious manner in which so large a volume of business has been disposed of. I trust that the prosperity of the country may long continue, and I pray that Divine Providence may bless the labors of your people.

CURE FOR WHOOPING COUGH.
Mrs. Wm. Ball, Bracebridge, Ont., writes: "My three boys had whooping cough and we could get nothing to help them until we used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine. It arrested the cough at once and they kept on improving until they were cured at the cost of one dollar. This was not a large bill for so dangerous and distressing an ailment."

Small Pox and Diphtheria Increasing.

Three additional cases of small pox were reported this morning from Grand River, Codroy. The totals about 16 cases to date in that place. It is of the usual mild type of disease, nevertheless Magistrate McDonald and the doctor there are doing their utmost to stamp it out. All the people are submitting to vaccination and the infected houses have been placed under strict quarantine. In other patient, a female, was removed from the General Hospital this morning to the Fever Hospital. It is feared she is developing diphtheria and she was placed there to be under observation. Two new cases of diphtheria were also reported to-day from Pouch Cove. The disease has been there for some time, the houses of Messrs. Ryan and Noseworthy being infected. Both these men had intended going to the States, but could not do so owing to the outbreak of the disease. Members of the families of Messrs. Flight and Williams to-day have developed the disease. Their houses are quarantined and efforts are being made to stamp out the malady.

Fourteen plates which had become indented by surging against the piers on the northern service last summer were taken and replaced, straightened and newly riveted. The engines were taken abroad and given necessary attention, and the ship's well was cleaned and painted under the water line. The superstructure is to-day being chipped and painted, and the staterooms, saloons and steering apartments have been newly painted and decorated. Her bows have been strengthened with heavy steel stringers and beams to enable her to better withstand the shock of contact with the ice, and everything has been done by her owners, Bowring Bros., to put her in first class condition for the northern service this season.

Mr. Shortis's Lecture.

The lecture delivered by Mr. Shortis on "Early Days Among the Baymen" at the theatre room of the Star Hall last night drew a full audience. Hon. E. M. Jackman, President of the Society, introduced the lecturer, who spoke for nearly two hours on a subject that is of intense interest to the people of the country, especially the residents of Conception Bay. Mr. Shortis was enthusiastic over his subject and the result was that it did not take him long to enthrall the audience also. The recital of the connection of St. John's and Conception Bay with the Labrador fishery in the early days was most interesting. The lecture was here and there illustrated by lantern views—35 in all—which very much enhanced the interest in the descriptions. Mr. Shortis also introduced some very humorous anecdotes and pathetic recitals of the days gone by. Incidents that have not appeared in any of our local histories were detailed for the first time. It is to be hoped that Mr. Shortis's lecture will be published and added to the archives of the Historical Society.

In the Council.

The sitting yesterday only lasted ten minutes, as the work of the session was finished. The President announced that His Excellency the Governor would prorogue the Legislature to-day. The Council will meet at 2.30 this evening.

C. E. T. S.

Rev. J. Bell delivered an address on Temperance at the C. E. T. S. meeting in the Synod Building last night. There was a fairly large attendance. The speaker made reference to the recent legislation passed by the Legislature whereby there would be a great hope of a lessening of the evils of drink. The credit system was now abolished, the time during which saloons could be open was lessened, and other reforms like the abolition of the C. O. D. system. Four new members were admitted and fifteen were proposed. The annual meeting will take place on April 4th. Benediction brought the meeting to a close.

SAFE EVEN FOR CHILDREN

There is not a Trace of Opium or Morphine in "Father Morrissy's No. 10" (Lung Tonic.)

A cough is merely a symptom of an irritated, inflamed or diseased condition of the air passages or the lungs themselves. Many cough mixtures are simply preparations containing enough Opium, Morphine or similar drugs to deaden the irritation. They relieve the cough but they do not remove the unhealthy condition that caused it. Moreover any medicine containing morphine or opium is unsafe unless prescribed by a competent physician. "Father Morrissy's No. 10" (Lung Tonic) contains absolutely no drugs of this character. It relieves a cough by removing the cause. Made of Roots, Barks and Balsams, Nature's own remedies, it clears the mucus from the passages, soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, and strengthens the lungs and whole system so that they can throw off the disease entirely. Thousands have proved it. Trial bottle 25c. Regular size 50c. At your dealer's, or from Father Morrissy Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

Election Act.

Permits outport electors to vote in St. John's for the candidates for their respective districts.

Appoints a Board whose duty shall be to make by-laws, to examine candidates, and the regulation of its own business. Every candidate shall have served as an assistant to regular druggist for not less than four years and shall pass a successful examination. Present druggists not required to pass an examination. The Act regulates the sale of poisons.

Board of Trade.

Is granted power to appoint committees of arbitration for the settlement of matters and differences voluntarily submitted to them. The award of such committee shall be final and have the same effect as judgment of the Supreme Court.

Qualification of Firemen.

No fireman or stoker shall be employed in connection with any boiler or engine in any mill or factory unless he is the holder of a license. The Boiler Inspector is appointed examiner and the Government makes rates respecting such examinations.

Cold Storage.

It shall be lawful for the Government to guarantee any person engaged in the business of cold storage where the net annual profits on the capital invested is less than five per cent. a sum equal to five per cent.

Man Badly Hurt

Jas. Taylor, of Duggan Street, received serious injuries while at work digging out a basement on upper Springdale Street shortly after 2 p.m. yesterday. Taylor with two young men named Martin had a contract to do the work for Mr. George Hall, who has a new house over the place where the men worked. The shelter of the structure, of course, kept the sun from playing on the ground, which was very hard and held the frost. The three men adopted the foolhardy proceeding of digging in for about 10 feet through the earth, leaving a roof of frozen clay above. This they did not even attempt to prop up, and they tumbled in imminent danger of their lives at every stroke of their picks. How the earth held so long without caving in under these conditions is a mystery. The Martins had just walked out from under the earthen roof, and Taylor was in the act of doing so and had his head and shoulders through the aperture, when the whole thing gave way and fully seven tons of frozen clay fell about him. He was caught in a stooping posture and was buried to the shoulders. The man's cries of pain were heartrending and he called loudly for help. It was fortunate that Inspector Bambrick and his men were at work near, and these set quickly to the task of extricating the poor fellow. With the carpenters who were at work there and neighbors, and also with the aid of Inspector Bambrick and Mr. Jesse Whitway, the unfortunate man was released, but only after an hour's hard work. Mr. Whitway brought stimulants from his house and these kept the suffering man's spirits up while the heavy weight of clay was being taken off his body. Frozen pieces of earth weighing as high as three and four cwt. were lifted off him. When taken out he was borne into the residence of Mrs. Irving near and carefully looked after. Going to Mr. Butler's school nearby Mr. Bambrick summoned Dr. Tait by 'phone, and he arrived quickly. He found that Taylor's right leg was broken in two places above the knee, and that his other leg was in a bad state, and that his body was badly cut and bruised. The ambulance was quickly called and the sufferer was removed to the Hospital. Taylor must have been a strong man to bear up for over an hour while suffering terrible pain as the men shovelled the clay off him. Had the three men remained where they were they would have been completely buried and killed when the ground fell in so suddenly. Consts. Martin and Hunter were also present and lent every assistance.

Splendid Show Coming

The Acker Vaudeville Company will perform in the Star Theatre for 9 nights, commencing Thursday, March 31st. Mr. Acker is a well-known manager, and one of the biggest men in the Canadian Vaudeville field to-day. In order to give him a thorough test he will bring with him a most diversified programme of Five Headliners. Such noted acts as Riley and Fleming, the noted Irish singers and dancers; West and Henry, the great New York sketch favourites; Robert's troupe of trained bears and monkeys, etc. Mr. Acker will personally conduct the Newfoundland tour, and this in itself is a guarantee of an A.I. attraction. Full program will be announced later.

Tariff Agreement.

Special to Evening Telegram. PARIS, Mar. 21. The French Cabinet devoted all of to-day's session to a consideration of the Franco-American Tariff negotiations. Subsequently a semi-official note was given out which read:—The status of the tariff negotiation with the United States affords the hope that a satisfactory agreement will be reached. Nothing more definite was forthcoming to-day despite the fact that President Taft is quoted here as having announced last night that a complete agreement had been reached, and that he would to-day sign a proclamation giving to France the favoured rates as provided in the Payne-Aldrich Law. The influential Weekly Opinion warmly congratulates both Ambassador Jusserand and the Government upon the imminence of an agreement with the United States. It considers the result of the tariff negotiations as a compromise but argues that France is really the victor having forced the United States Government to abandon its demand for all of the French Minimums.

Glovertown.

The Missionary Meetings in connection with the Methodist Church have been held at the following places during the last fortnight:—Glovertown, Flat Island, Gooseberry Island, Deer Island and Bragg's Island. The meeting at Glovertown was presided over by Ambrose James J. P., who gave an address on the Bible. Recitations were given by the scholars of the Sunday School. The report was then read by Rev. J. Hurst who pleaded for an increase in subscribers and subscriptions. An address was then given by the Rev. J. A. Wilkinson, of Gooseberry Island, on the Charge given by Jesus Christ, and to win men by love said the speaker. Several aspects of the foreign missionary work were dealt with. Mr. Elijah Barry gave an address on "Giving to the Cause of God." A paper was read by Miss Wheeler on Africa and its need of the Gospel, illustrated by facts and figures. The meeting was brought to a close by an address from the Rev. J. Hurst on the Progress of Christianity. Special hymns were sung by the choir under the leadership of Miss Wheeler and Miss Parsons. The meeting was one of the best ever held in Glovertown. The Revs. Hurst and Wilkinson also visited the Gooseberry Island end of the mission.—Com.

McMurdo's Store News

TUESDAY, March 22, '10. Quality is what makes the difference between seeds. Seeds that are guaranteed tested and unadulterated are clearly certain to give good results. Living and "killed" seed look alike, but Messrs. Sutton from the very first have taken every care to send out only seeds that are likely to germinate. Their seeds being sold in sealed and trademarked packages, all chance of mistakes is avoided. International Gull Cure has given excellent results, wherever used and is likely to be a favorite with farmers and stockowners. 25c. Rev. Mr. Hannay's Lecture Last Night.

Rev. W. C. Hannay delivered a lecture on "Memory—its use and abuse" at St. Andrew's Hall last evening for the Literary Association. The lecturer spoke for an hour and a half. He divided memory into two kinds—automatic and philosophic. People could improve their memories by a systematic training. People who had remarkably good memories were often found deficient in other mental qualities. The lecturer then went on to show how the memory might be improved by training, concentration and a thorough understanding of the matter to be retained in memory. He then showed how the memory could be abused. He warned against overdevelopment of the memory. The knowledge of happenings is communicated to the memory by the eye and the ear. Most people had their memory best served by visual impressions, and others were best served by the impressions made through the ear. After a few interesting experiments were given a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the lecturer for having given the audience such a treat.

BEDLAMER SEALS AGAIN.—By last night's train we learn that bedlamer seals are still numerous off Port de Grave. Saturday numbers of men from that place and neighbouring localities were out hunting them, principally off Burnt Head, and quite a number were killed and brought ashore.

Lost Lot of Logs.

Passengers by the express inform us that owing to a heavy N. W. gale which occurred a couple of days ago, the ice in Middle Brook, Port Blandford, gave way suddenly and going down on the wharf where the coastal boats moor damaged it considerably. Between 800 and 1,000 logs were swept away and lost. They were owned by Mr. Stone and their loss is a serious one for him. A man named Sexton also lost 100 large pine logs.

ST. JOSEPH'S PARISH.—Great preparations are being made for the annual Easter Concert in St. Joseph's Parish, Holytown. A good programme will be rendered. The concert will take place next Tuesday evening.

TO THE DEAF.

Simple Home Treatment Revolutionises Method of Treating Deafness.

FULL DESCRIPTION SENT FREE.

A marvellous discovery has just been given to the world which adds one more victory to the many triumphs of science over disease.

The deaf can hear! ! !

No longer need deaf people go about wearing the strained, pathetic expression caused by their affliction, a positive burden to themselves and those around them. No longer need they incur the expense or suffer the pain of dangerous surgical operations, useless methods, or cumbersome apparatus.

Old prejudices and time-worn fallacies have been entirely swept away. This wonderful discovery enables the patients to cure themselves speedily and surely in their own homes, without a visit to the doctor or even the aid of an appliance.

The current number of the "Otolgical Gazette" contains a full description of this new method of treatment. A copy of this issue will be sent free of all charge to every reader who is suffering from Loss of Hearing or Ear Trouble in any form.

Write to-day (a postcard will do) and secure a free copy before the addition is exhausted, addressing The Aural Remedies Co., 208 Craven House, Kingsway, London, England.

Here and There.

THREE ARRESTS.—Three prisoners were arrested last night and taken to the police station and held there all night.

DELAYED BY BLIZZARD.—The Bruce express which arrived here last night was delayed for several hours Sunday night at Kitty's Brook. A regular mid-winter blizzard raged on the Topsails and it was deemed imprudent to negotiate the plateau under such conditions.

AN AMBULANCE CALL.—The ambulance was called to Cuddly Street at 3 p.m. yesterday to remove Miss Maggie Brien to the General Hospital. She suffers from an internal ailment, is in a very feeble state of health, but hopes with proper treatment to recover.

PANSY AMUSEMENT CLUB.—Easter Monday night the Pansy Amusement Club will open in the Mechanics' Hall with a five cent show. The Pansy Theatre is being fitted up in good style and will be light, clean and attractive. Particular care is being given to the stage fittings. See advertisement in the Telegram.

The Impossible Has Become Possible—English Chemists Are the Discoverers.

TO GROW HAIR ON BALD SPOTS WAS ONCE CONSIDERED IMPOSSIBLE. They have recently discovered ladies of Paris have abandoned all the long looked for remedy.

Ladies need never wear rats. The ladies of Paris have abandoned all false hair fillers, and are using the new hair grower—SALVIA. Hair can be grown in a few weeks.

Mrs. Jackson of New York writes stating that since using SALVIA her hair has grown six inches in two months. Marvellous are the results obtained from this new preparation. Not only does it produce a beautiful fluffy head of hair, but at once destroys the Dandruff germ. Your dealer guarantees SALVIA to grow hair, kill Dandruff and to make the hair soft and fluffy. SALVIA is not a dye; does not contain anything injurious. All of its ingredients are simple and harmless. A daintily perfumed hair dressing, used and endorsed by men and women of society. A large generous bottle only costs 50c., and remember, a money back proposition. T. McMurdo & Co., Selling Agents for Newfoundland. mar22,25

Firemen's Promptness Tangibly Appreciated.

(Copy.) St. John's Nfld., 21st March, 1910.

Inspector General Sullivan, of Police.

Dear Sir,—Will you please accept the enclosed cheque for $20 for the Firemen's Fund as a slight recognition of the very prompt and speedy response to my fire call from Waterford Bridge Road by the West End Firemen, and which certainly averted what might have been a serious conflagration.

Yours very truly, J. SYME.

Inspector General's Office, March 21st, 1910.

Dear Sir,—I have been directed by the Inspector General to acknowledge receipt of yours of this day's date, enclosing a cheque for $20 as a present to the Fire Brigade in recognition of their services at the fire which took place at your residence on Saturday night last, and on behalf of the Inspector General and the Brigade I beg to thank you most sincerely for your kindly words of appreciation of their services on that occasion.

I have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servant, GEO. J. COUGHLAN, Secretary Constabulary, John Syme, Esq., City.

The Toll of the Sea.

Special to Evening Telegram. BOSTON, Mass., Mar. 21. Two hundred-and-twenty-five persons perished by shipwreck, and 83 vessels met with disaster off New England and British North American coast while engaged in the New England, Canadian or Newfoundland trade during the Fall and Winter season of 1909 and 1910, which ended at 7 a.m. to-day. Of the 83 vessels cast ashore, sunk, burned or involved in other mishaps, 21 were steamers or tugs, one was a full rigged ship, 4 barques, 3 barkentines and 62 schrs. A number of barges were lost but they were not included in the list. The financial loss exceeds $17,000,000.

Cabinet Crisis in Italy.

Special to Evening Telegram. ROME, Mar. 21. The Italian Cabinet resigned to-day. The retirement of the Ministry which was formed on December 10th, 1909, with Baron Bonino, as Premier, was due to the realization that the Government's Mercantile Marine subsidies measure was doomed to defeat. The Italian Minister's programme announced on February 11, provided for a six million subsidy in aid of Italian shipping. The Government also proposed to give the Italian-Lloyd Steamer Company a twenty-five year subvention for the transportation of mail. The proposals proved unpopular and led to stormy scenes in the chamber, during which the Cabinet was sharply criticized.

Parliamentary Hooligans.

Special to Evening Telegram. BUDAPEST, Mar. 21. Stormy as have been the sessions of the Hungarian Chamber of Deputies, the Magyars to-day out-did themselves, and ink-wells, books and other handy missiles were hurled at the heads of the Ministers until the latter took refuge in flight. Both the Premier and the Minister of Agriculture were struck by flying missiles, and their heads were cut open. The trouble had been brewing for some time and the Premier and Ministry were unable to make headway against the Opposition, and this morning dissolved the Chamber by Royal decree. This was a signal for an outburst by the Opposition who claimed the dissolution was unconstitutional.

King Better.

Special to Evening Telegram. BIARRITZ, Mar. 21. King Edward has completely recovered from his cold and to-day resumed his usual outdoor excursion.

Expulsion of Priests.

Special to Evening Telegram. SANTIAGO, Chile, Mar. 21. The Peruvian Government to-day notified the Government of Chile of the withdrawal of the Peruvian legation at Santiago, because of the recent expulsion of Peruvian Priests from the Provinces of Tacna and Arica.

40 Killed in Train Wreck

Special to Evening Telegram. MARSHALLTOWN, Mar. 21. More than forty persons were killed and almost as many more injured to-day in the wreck at Green Mountain of two Rock Island trains running over the Chicago Great Western tracks from Marshalltown to Waterloo. Several of the injured may die. A number of the dead are so horribly mangled that identification may never be possible. Every doctor in Marshalltown and Green Mountain is doing everything possible in emergency hospitals to relieve the suffering of the injured. Around the various undertaking shops the citizens throng with tear-stained faces, each anxious to get some details of those who are within.

Big Libel.

Special to Evening Telegram. PARIS, Mar. 21. The Matin announces to-day that it will institute a suit against Le Journal for $100,000.00 damages because of a series of articles which the latter paper published commenting on the management of the Matin with the Chartreuses affair. The litigation of the property of the Carthusian Monks is a part of the scandal now under investigation by the Government.

CAPE REPORT.

Special Evening Telegram. CAPE RACE, To-Day. Wind E.N.E., light, weather fine and clear. Nothing sighted since last report. Bar. 30, ther. 30. There are many Cough Mixtures, but only one Allen's Lung Balsam; try it.

Notes From Harbor Grace.

Miss Phoebe Alcock is now enjoying a visit to friends in St. John's.

Miss Polly Kelly, formerly of this town but lately residing in St. John's, is here visiting friends and staying at the Cochrane House.

Dr. Brehm came by train Saturday night and we hear pronounced the man Bray suffering from a type of small pox.

Quite a number of people have the telephone installed and find it of great advantage.

A young lady of the East End in confidence to a gay young friend of hers the other day expressed herself as being a great admirer of a bachelor friend, who occasionally contributes to one of the St. John's papers. She better be on the alert or she may not get him.

The young man William Bray, who is suffering from small pox, was somewhat improved yesterday, although he has not as yet been taken to hospital. The hospital was considered not fit to put a patient in. A sister of this young man, who had been much in his company during the past week, was on Saturday removed to the old-Police Barracks on Carbonear Road, where two nurses are placed to look after such doubtful cases. This old building is thus after a great number of years utilized for the very purpose it was at first intended. About 50 or 60 years ago, we are not old enough to be able to say definitely, this building was put up by the people of Harbor Grace by subscription to be used as an hospital. We have never heard of its being used for that purpose, but when the soldiers came here in the fifties it was handed over to them for a barracks. When they were removed the police were quartered there. It was considered too far from the town for this purpose and but a few of the family men were left there. The late John McKay lived there for over 26 years. But it seems the old place was destined to be an hospital, as even now in its old age it is turned into what it was originally built for.

The people in the neighborhood are complaining that the place is not fit for an hospital as it has no sewerage and is otherwise unfit. They claim that a board fence should be put around it, thus keeping dogs and other animals from prowling about. There is little cause for fear. The Board of Health is made up of the right sort of men to do everything for the best, and we have not the least doubt that everything possible will be done to wipe out the disease as quickly as possible.

The Rev. Thomas Godden occupied the pulpit in St. Paul's Church yesterday as Canon Noel is on quarantine, as Mrs. Bray, mother of the sufferer, had visited the Rectory during the week.

CORRESPONDENT. Harbor Grace, March 21, 1910.

Train Notes.

By the shore train at 6 p.m. yesterday there went about 20 passengers, mostly second class.

The Bruce express, Conductor Veitch, arrived at 8.50 last night bringing W. Bennister, W. C. Jones, J. Maunder, Inspector McLachlin, Mr. Lumsden, R. Templeton, Mrs. A. Mitchell, Mr. McNab, Miss Muir, Mr. Duley and about 30 others.

The local arrived at 10.40 last night bringing J. Davis and son, J. Hayes, H. Bishop, F. Noseworthy, W. Thompson, Miss Smith, R. and Mrs. Wright and about 10 others.

An Honest Man.

Yesterday as a poor girl was travelling from Harbor Grace to Sparadard's Bay by the local train, she left her purse which contained $12, all the money she had, on the window, completely forgetting it. Mr. Walter Badcock, who was going to Bay Roberts, saw the purse and seeing it, ran after the girl who had left the train, and at the risk of losing his passage restored it to her. Conductor Kelly, on hearing of the man's honest act, slowed up the train and enabled him to get on board.

Minard's Liniment Cures Colds, etc.

Balsamic Essences

Make Wonderful Cure for Catarrh, Colds, Bronchitis, Throat Weakness.

To cure an ailment in the throat or chest, to rout out Catarrh or Asthma, it is essential that the medicine be conveyed direct to the affected parts. This is why no other remedy has achieved such world-wide success as Catarrhose, which alone can be breathed in one second to every air cell in the breathing organs. The healing vapors of Catarrhose mix with the breath and descend through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, to the deepest air cells in the lungs—all parts are saturated with the rich piney essences that ease, heal and cure.

Catarrhose has entirely displaced the old-fashioned remedies, such as cough syrups, sprays, tablets, and sedative powders. It contains none of the opium, chloral and drowsy narcotics, so commonly found in liquid cough and catarrh remedies.

The extraordinary curative power of Catarrhose is well explained in a letter from A. B. Cowan, the well known restaurateur of Carleton, who writes: "Some time ago I suffered severely from a frightful cold in the head and chest. It was nothing out one continual cough, hawk, headache from morning till night. My nose and throat were so completely stuffed up that I could scarcely breathe. Catarrhose eased the cough instantly, that would not yield even to the doctor's medicines. Hour by hour Catarrhose relieved and by pursuing its treatment I have been permanently cured of all trace of Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchial Irritation."

Once you try Catarrhose you'll realize how indispensable it is—the large dollar size contains an indestructible hard rubber inhaler and sufficient medication to last two months. Smaller trial sizes 25c. and 50c. Beware of the substitutor and imitators of Catarrhose—use the genuine and you'll get cured. By mail from the Catarrhose Company, Kingston, Ont.

ADDRESS

To the Right Rev. N. MacNeil, D.D., Bishop of St. George's and Archbishop-Elect of Vancouver.

May it Please Your Grace: On this auspicious day, when historic scenes and glory-crowned heroes pass in review before the mind's eye, we, the Catholics of Bay of Islands and children of St. Patrick, beg to approach Your Grace, to offer you the expression of our esteem, and to tell you how much we deplore this cruel necessity which severs, for ever, the spiritual links which bound us to you during these eventful years spent on the historic West Coast.

While regretting your departure, we, at the same time, have much pleasure in bearing testimony, not only to the great improvements, morally and socially, effected in the Diocese, by the indomitable zeal and energy displayed in matters which regarded the Glory of God and the salvation of our souls, but also in the interest manifested in our temporal affairs.

The imposing Cathedral church erected at St. George's under embarrassing circumstances which would have disheartened many another similarly situated bear ample testimony to the foregoing, and will always be regarded as a splendid monument to your untiring zeal, energy and ability.

But though Your Grace will, in the Loss of Will Power

A Proof of Nervous Debility

"Until I had a long siege of nervousness, I could not comprehend how people could show such indecision and uncertainty in the doing of small things. I didn't know that little fears and small dreads, caused by loss of nerve tone, would force people to abandon their friends and the real pleasures of life. Too much work and worry, perhaps too little regard for healthful habits, made me nervous. I couldn't bear to be alone. I grew cross, fretful, and fearful that some ill would befall me or my family. After using Ferrozone all was changed—the old-time fears and sense of oppression left me—I was braced up, given vigor, ambition, and robust good health. I look ruddy and strong, have a good appetite, sleep well, and am getting fat. I know lots of women who need Ferrozone—and they would use it, too, if they only knew what a difference it makes in the way you feel!"

Let your wife or daughter try Ferrozone for a month and watch the result. It's a health-winner—a strength-bringer—a vitalizing tonic equalled by none. Just one or two Ferrozone tablets to take at meals—surely an easy way to regain and maintain perfect health. At all dealers, 50c. per box, six for $2.50, or The Catarrhose Co., Kingston, Canada.

future, be separated from us by the broad stretch of the great Canadian continent, your name will always be fresh and green in our hearts and affections; and we are fully convinced that the people to whose welfare you will be spiritually devoted will profit by our loss.

Your departure from us will make another break in the checkered history of this Diocese and leave a vacancy not easily filled. We recognize the fact that the inevitable separation will be for ever, and that we may not hope to meet you again. You may find beyond the undeveloped prairies of Canada a more favorable climate. You may find there a wider field of activity and a situation more favorable for a display of missionary zeal; but we dare assert that, not even beyond the frowning Rockies will you find hearts more loyal or more generous than these that beat here to-day, in the breasts of these descendants of the missionary race who colonized the Western Highland of Scotland in the fifth and rolled back from the face of Europe in the sixth and seventh centuries, the dark night of oriental barbarism.

In testimony of our appreciation of the great and lasting good work achieved, we humbly beg you to accept this purse as a slight token of our esteem and gratitude.

In conclusion we congratulate you on your well-merited promotion; and with it we express the wish and the prayer that your future days may be many and cloudless.

In Danger.

Mr. Pierce Dunne had a letter dated March 10th from his brother, James, who resides in Burke, Idaho, U.S.A., by the Bruce mail, in which he relates a story of losses and danger from avalanches which have occurred to himself and another Newfoundland named John Finlay. Five persons were killed and their houses demolished at Burke by the snow slides. One heavy avalanche fell only a hundred feet distant from Mr. Dunne's home, but he expected some such accident and had his family and furniture removed to a secure position. Sixteen persons were killed at Most, a town a short distance away, and both Messrs. Dunne and Finlay assisted in getting the bodies from the ruins. Finlay's family had a very narrow escape. He had only removed them a short while before the accident occurred when a heavy snow slide came and made matchwood of his residence, while another house which he owned, adjoining his residence, was also wrecked. The loss to him is a great one. Twelve houses altogether were destroyed, and the people fled in terror from the neighborhood of the mountains. Both Dunne and Finlay are well known here.

HOW CAN WE COUNTER-ACT

THE INCREASED COST OF LIVING?

A second's reasoning will supply the answer. Beef and pork are dear and getting dearer all the time, and the cost is out of proportion with their food-value.

EAT MORE BREAD.

There is more nourishment in a shilling's worth of bread than a shilling's worth of beef or pork. But the problem is not done with yet. The shilling's worth of bread is not always the same value. Breadmade from contains more nourishment than any other, because it contains the greatest amount of gluten, the health-giving nutriment of wheat.
