Happiness Secured

A Heavy Cost!

CHAPTER XVII.
HAUNTED BY A FACE.

My right-hand companion during tea is Mr. Denton, who seems from the first to have constituted himself my cavalier, as a matter of course; and neither Len nor Ernest Warden are more jocular or devoted to their respective fair ones than this new-found admirer of mine is to me, and with whom I am afraid I am flirting desperately.

Once or twice Len gives me a look of astonished disapproval, but I pay no regard to it. I have been so often lonely of late that it is an immense satisfaction to me to be petted and made much of by this good-looking stranger with the laughing eyes, of whom I flatter myself I am rapidly making a conquest.

"It certainly is the strangest thing! Do you know, my dear Miss Kendrick, I never was so puzzled and perplexed in all my life!" remarks Mr. Stables, in low, mysterious tones, catching me for a moment alone during the bustle of packing up the tea things, which old Bell is to convey back to the rectory in the donkey cart; "but that face literally haunts me—Mr. Warden's, I mean!" he goes on, in an explanatory tone, as I turn a pair of astonished eyes on his plain, middle-aged face. "Do you know, Miss Kendrick, there is something in the face of your sister's friend that puzzles and perplexes me to such a degree that I positively cannot take my eyes off it!" he adds, staring with the air of a man who has been suddenly aroused from a bewildering dream after Addie and Ernest Warden, who, arm in arm, are strolling away toward the trees. "I feel certain I have seen him somewhere! It is not a face to be easily forgotten, you know; and yet, to save my life, I can't remember where and when!"

"Oh, is that all?" I reply. "Surely there is nothing so wonderful in that?" Mr. Warden is an old resident in Hantsbury; no doubt you have met him there?"

"Scarcely; I was never in Devonshire until a few days ago, when I came down here as curate to Mr. Clitheroe. My life, for many years past, has been spent amid the cares and work of a great London parish."

"You have met him in London, perhaps?" I return, feeling but slight interest in the subject. "Mr. Warden lived there at one time, I believe."

"Oh, that must be it—in London; but what are the memories that struggle in my brain at sight of that face?" he asks, placing a long, thin finger on his white forehead with a dramatic air that makes me smile in spite of myself. "I shall remember by and by, perhaps," he adds, as Mr. Denton comes up to beg me to be his companion in a stroll. "It will come to me by and by, I dare say. I never forget

CHAPTER XVII.

A MADWOMAN'S REFRAIN.

THE lengthening shadows on the beds of fern and long, bush grasses at our feet warn us that it is time to think of turning our steps in the direction of the rectory, where the evening is to be brought to an appropriate ending by music and supper.

"But what's the matter with having a song right here?" Mr. Denton inquires, in his clear, Western tones, as we stop for a few minutes' rest in one of the loveliest spots on the ravine road. "Which of you ladies will be kind enough to indulge us with a song?"

"Ah, indeed! Capital idea, sir!" Mr. Clitheroe assents, taking a seat on a huge stone by the wayside, and preparing to make himself comfortable after his own indolent fashion. "There is Lesley Kendrick; now she has just the sweet, pathetic sort of voice that I love to listen to. My dear," he adds, turning to me, "won't you give us one of those delightful old ballads I am so fond of hearing you sing?"

"If one of the gentlemen will sing us something first," I return. "Mr. Denton, there isn't the slightest use in your trying to look modest, old fellow! You know you are a second Orpheus, so pluck up your courage and begin."

"Oh, well, since I must," he replies, as, shrugging his shoulders, he throws himself on the grass and looks at me. "What shall it be?"

"Something distinctively American," I reply.

"So be it!" is the response; and he begins, in the sweetest tenor I have ever heard, a quaint, old Southern melody that charms us all.

"Now, my dear Miss Kendrick," he adds, as the concluding notes of his song die away among the distant echoes, "remember your promise."

"What shall I sing?" I ask. "Would you like 'The Banks and Brass of Bonnie Doon'?"

"Not that; for Heaven's sake, not that," whispered Warden, passing behind me. "I hate it! It is full of miserable associations for me."

But he is too late. The proposal is carried with acclamation by all the others.

"If not a very brilliant one, my voice—thanks to a professional friend in London—is well cultivated; and, inspired by the loveliness of the hour and place, I sing as I think I have never sung before."

"Bravo! I vote an encore!" Mr. Denton exclaims; and, almost before the words have left his lips, a voice, sweet, clear, but, oh! so full of plaintive sorrow, of mournful pathos, but which belongs to no one present ascends from somewhere near, and repeats the sad words, "How can ye chant, ye little birds, an' I so weary, full of care?"

No one speaks—no one moves. There is something so weird, so uncanny, in the voice of the unseen singer, coming upon us, as it does, in such a strange, unexpected way, that, surprised, literally spellbound, we remain for the moment staring into each other's faces with eyes that ask the question: Who are powerless to utter.

"Good heavens, just look there!" exclaims Len, starting to his feet, with a look of blank surprise; and, glancing in the direction to which he points, we are staring, with bated breath, at a strange, wild figure, outlined, clear as a silhouette, against the yellow light in the western sky beyond.

At a glance I recognize it. I have seen that gray, disheveled figure twice before, but it was in the old garden at Deepdene.

This time, instead of disappearing in that vague, mysteriously spectral way that impressed me so deeply at the time, she comes slowly, silently into our midst, until, having gained the side of Ernest Warden, she throws her long, gaunt arms about his neck and looks up into his face with the half-timid, half-clinging fondness of a scolded child.

"Dear love," she murmurs, as, speechless with amazement, we all stand round looking helplessly on, "why did you let them sing my song? Why, oh, why, did you forget your poor, poor love?"

Something—a muttered imprecation it seems to me—breaks through Ernest Warden's firm, white teeth, as with a look of horror, of unutterable loathing, he glances down on the pallid face and gray hair straying in wild disorder over the woman's breast.

There is a dangerous look in his eyes, a suppressed rage in his face, that makes me shudder in the warm, summer night as if an icy breath had swept over me.

"Maud," he says, at last, the hot blood that came surging up over his neck and face receding, leaving him white to the lips; "what are you doing here? What can Mrs. Martin be thinking of to suffer you to wander about like this? Come," he adds, disengaging himself from the clasp of those long, thin arms, "you must go home; you ought never to have left it."

"Ah!" she exclaims, looking pitifully around as if addressing herself to space and vacancy, "he does not love me any more! Ernest—my love, my life—is false, and my heart is broken! To think," she adds, with a piteous, little wail of pain, "that all the glory and brightness of life could be so easily clouded over! There is no more happiness, Ernest—no more for you or me, either! The shadow of the past has darkened it forever!"

"Who is she—what is she, Warden?"

"Who is she?—what is she, Warden?"

"Some of the gentlemen are beginning to ask, recovering a little from their surprise at the gray, mysterious figure dashes away toward a bend in the road and disappears.

"A poor, mad creature, whom I am commissioned by her friends to look after," Warden replies, his face ashy pale and full of a fierce, passionate pain, as he turns with a beseeching look toward Addie.

"I am sorry it should have happened."

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Key West, Fla.—"For five years I suffered from irregularities, with terrible pains and an awful weakness in my back. The doctor gave me different medicines but they did me no good. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it to be the best medicine I ever tried because it made me well, and I can now do my housework. I am telling my friends about it."—Mrs. J. M. CAMUS, 726 Caroline St., Key West, Florida.

Many women at some period in their life suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex and which in most cases may be readily relieved by this famous root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, just as Mrs. Camus found it helped her after suffering for years and trying everything else in vain.

If you have any annoying symptoms you fail to understand, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The results of their 40 years' experience in advising women on this subject is at your service.

Fashion Plates

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Form Book of our Fashion Plates. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

JUST THE STYLE FOR CALLING ON AFTERNOON WEAR.

Waist-2500. Skirt-2504. Comprising Waist Pattern 3509 and Skirt Pattern 2504. Foulard, taffeta, batiste, dimity, dotted Swiss, organza, shantung, crepe and satin are desirable for its development. The skirt may be made without the trimmings. The waist is finished with shaped vest portions. The sleeve may be made in wrist or elbow length. The Skirt Pattern 2504 is cut in 7 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches waist measure. The Waist 2500 in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. It will require 6 1/2 yards of 40-inch material for the entire dress in a 35-inch size. The skirt measures about 2 yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents; FOR EACH pattern, in silver or stamps.

FOR AFTERNOON OR CALLING.

2502—Here is a smart and pretty model, easy to develop, nice for soft batiste, crepe or foulard, and just as good for satin, gabardine, serge or linen. As here shown, white voile was combined with cluny insertion. The girde is of pale blue satin. The tunic is finished separate from the skirt, and could be made of contrasting material. White serge with braiding or embroidery would be nice for this model.

The Pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 18 will require 6 1/2 yards of 40-inch material. The skirt measures about 1 1/2 yard at the foot.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

BRITISH LINE ADVANCED. LONDON, Aug. 15. The British line has been advanced slightly east of Raincoast in the district northwest of Chaulin, on the Pleary battlefield, to-day's war office statement announces. Since August, when the Allied attack in Pleary began, the British and French have taken prisoners to the number of 30,000.

FRENCH MOVING AHEAD. LONDON, Aug. 15. The French have captured all the high ground on the Lassigny Massif, and are working down the north and eastern sides, so that a full retirement of the enemy in that sector is probable, according to advices received this afternoon.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS IN DANGEROUS POSITION. LONDON, Aug. 15. The Czechoslovaks in Siberia are in a dangerous position and are liable to be cut off altogether, says the correspondent of the Times at Vladivostok. Only a fraction of those between the Volga and Lake Balkal are armed and all are deficient in every sort of equipment. They are cut off from the Far East and it is impossible to learn what is happening to them. The correspondent says there is much apprehension concerning them in Vladivostok. In an editorial the Times emphasizes the urgency of hastening Allied action. It says that the Czechs have been driven back from the Ussuri and also have suffered reverses in Eastern Russia. It is imperative, the Times declares, to send help to Western Siberia through Harbin, whence the Times says Lake Balkal ought to be reached in moderate strength within a reasonable time.

mous concerning the effectiveness of the new type of British airplane. They say the airmen have caused tremendous material losses and frequently have blocked roads completely by direct hits. They also have done heavy execution by pouring streams of machine gun bullets into the enemy masses at close range.

CANADIANS AT WORK.

WITH THE CANADIAN ARMY IN THE FIELD, Aug. 14, via London. (By J. F. Liversey, Canadian Correspondent.)—Except for the continual boom of the artillery and night bombing from the air, the Canadian front has been quiet for the past twenty-four hours. The Boche got more than his bargain for when he made his recent attack against the top of our sector. No other fighting is so expensive as an unsuccessful counter attack. He put over three of these, and his losses were correspondingly great. Besides the four enemy divisions we put out of action on the opening day, some eight more divisions have been identified as having been thrown into the line against us without avail. The Canadian force is one of the brightest jewels in the armory of the Allies, and is ready for anything and everything. It is at full strength, with troops well rested, whose sole desire is to be let loose again on the Hun. After nearly four years of hard fighting, this eager spirit is unimpaired. The scared veterans of St. Julian are just as keen as young soldiers. Starting from the point farthest back, the extreme tip of the advance the enemy has made is on Amiens, the Canadian forces advanced at Halles to the most easterly points now held by the Allies, a total depth of twenty thousand yards. Many wonderful stories remain to be told about the work of brigades and units on that famous Thursday of last week. None more fitting to the imagination than that of the Canadian motor machine gun troops and cyclists acting along the Roze Road, who did much to demoralize the enemy resistance. The command include a number of armoured cars. They received general assistance from the cavalry, which entered the outer front line on the north and passed through diagonally to the southeast part of this position, which this force had fought over last March and April, when the Canadian motor machine guns and cyclists were thrown in to help stem the German tide. The record of their deeds in those desperate weeks, when every inch of ground had to be contested at all costs, is known to the world. In a few hours last Thursday they overran the line of their heroic retreat and passed far beyond. We had some good sport up there the other day, some real honey, remarked an old soldier who had been through both "what are they about, keeping us stuck in this belly hole, when we go to get at them again." The force had been on the road for two nights and went immediately into action. They were at it night and day until they got their first real rest in a week on Sunday. The Amiens-Roze road traverses a difficult country, bisected by ravines and bordered by woods, offering excellent positions for machine gun nests. One of these held a pair of the force up for some time, but finally the enemy was shot down and we rode right over their stronghold. A motor cyclist went ahead of an armoured car to scout roads through a village still held by the Boche, steering with one hand and with the other emptying his automatic into the astounded enemy. Seeing the cars behind they surrendered with six hundred prisoners. An extraordinary incident is related of a ration lorry, which by mistake ran right through our lines on the Roze road, and those of the enemy, and only pulled up when stopped by a German sentinel. Him they bayoneted and threw into the lorry, and after him three Fritzies who had surrendered. But it was too good to last long. The Boche came back with bombs and put the lorry out of action. Our men, however, though all wounded, succeeded in making good their escape through the twilight, and in the evening they advanced again and recaptured the lorry.

ITALIAN OFFICIAL.

ROME, Aug. 15.
Following is the text of the Italian official statement issued to-day. Monday night attempted enemy attacks on advanced posts on the Payerloch and Kongsplata were repulsed. In the Tonale region between the head of the Noce torrent and the head of the Genova valley our artillery carried out effective concentrations inflicting heavy losses on the enemy. Under this bombardment our detachments carried Thurst, and succeeded in occupying Monte Mantello, Punta di St. Matteo and the spur southeast of Cima Zigolon. One hundred prisoners, machine guns and material were captured. The enemy made thrusts against where the Noce Sarca and Genova have their sources except for pushing back a few mountain posts he nowhere achieved successful results.

WELCOME TO BRITISH SOLDIERS.

LONDON, Aug. 15.
Beater's Limited invites the British troops on their way to join the Czecho-Slovaks on the Usuri frontiers were received by the Czechs with the greatest enthusiasm at Nicol'sk and elsewhere. The Usuri River joins the Amur near Khabarovsk north of Vladivostok. The Czechs have been engaged with the Bolsheviks in this region for several weeks.

ROOSEVELT'S REGRET.

PARIS, Aug. 15.
(Havas Agency)—Colonel Roosevelt's answer to condolences extended by President Polcars on the death of Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt is published by the newspapers. "My only regret," the Colonel wrote, "is that I am unable to fight beside my sons."

GOT NEW JOB.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 15.
Vice-Admiral Behacks has been appointed State Secretary to the German Admiralty, says the Weser Zeitung of Bremen. He was formerly vice chief of the naval general staff.

HERES SUPPORT OF SCHOOLS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.
The general support for schools of all grades during war time is urged by President Wilson in a letter to Secretary of the Interior, Lane, to-day, approving the Bureau of Education's plan for an education campaign this summer and fall.

RECIPROCAL ARRANGEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.
Forty Dutch ships totalling approximately 100,000 tons now idle in the Dutch East Indies, are expected to be released to bring sugar, tin, and other commodities to the United States as a result of an informal modus vivandus affected by the War Trade Board through the Dutch Charge here. In return for the tonnage the United States Government will undertake to license normal exports to the islands subject only to such limitations of commodities as made necessary by the war programme.

STILL AFLOAT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.
The American tank steamer Frederick B. Kellogg, torpedoed Tuesday evening by a German submarine, is still about sixteen miles off Barnegat, N.J., the navy department was advised to-day, and there is a chance that she will be brought into port.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

MONCTON, N.B., Aug. 15.
Two men were killed by lightning at Cherry Field, three miles from Moncton in a terrific thunder storm, accompanied by torrential rain which swept over the vicinity about dusk last night. The men killed were A. Sterling Murray, book-keeper, and Charles E. Jamieson, tinsmith.

SURVIVORS LANDED.

BOSTON, Aug. 15.
Four survivors of the fishing schooner Progress, sunk by a German submarine on Saturday, were brought here to-day, after being adrift in a dory 72 hours without a compass and with little water and food. Some of the crew were landed earlier in the week.

Lightning Colour.

Most people, if they were to be asked the question: "What colour is lightning?" would answer, without hesitation, "White." Yet they would be wrong on the whole, although white is of the greatest frequency in sheet lightning. But in a long series of expert observations of the colour of flashes it was found unmistakably that in fork lightning red is the hue which occurs most frequently, and very closely upon the heels of red comes blue. Thus the slang expression about "blue lightning" has its origin in fact and not in fancy.

It may be said with some certainty that fork lightning is never white, but it is occasionally orange and green. As we have seen, white occurs most frequently in displays of sheet lightning, red and yellow coming next in order of frequency. With most people a flash is too sudden and blinding for correct vision, and it requires the use of special instruments certainly to determine the colour of a flash. Often, however, standing upon high ground on a dark night, the landscape around for miles is revealed for the fraction of a second in a colour which even the casual observer would call blue or red or yellow.

Independence Day.

Men have fought and died for liberty in all ages and in all countries, and yet America seems to be the only nation which observes an Independence Day—July 4th. Yet almost every country in Europe could celebrate a day when it made a bold bid for freedom. July 14th is France's Independence Day. July 14th, 1789, saw the burning of the Bastille, where political prisoners were confined, and which was the visible sign of generations of tyranny. That act was the first in a series of actions which established the present Republic of France.

October 6th is Portugal's Independence Day. In 1910 a Republic was proclaimed. The first step to Serbian independence was taken on July 8th, 1896, when peace was declared between Turkey and Serbia. On July 2nd, 1871, Rome became the capital of a united Italy, and the country came under the same liberal rule. Montenegro broke away from autocratic government on December 13th, 1905, and Belgium issued a declaration of independence against Holland on October 4th, 1830.

Britain's first step towards freedom was the signing of Magna Charta at Runnymede on June 15th, 1215, but with the majority of the countries of the world, she will probably change the date of her Independence Day to that on which this great war is won.

Hun Officers Ducked.

The Geneva correspondent of the Paris Journal says the following incident has roused Lucerne against the Germans:

A group of Swiss gymnasts, marching in procession across the old bridge at Lucerne passed three German officers from the prisoners' internment camp. The officers called on the gymnasts to salute them at the goose-step, German fashion, but the young men refused. The officers, insisting and using insulting expressions about Switzerland, the gymnasts handed them roughly and threw them into the lake.

A complaint was lodged by the German Legation. In the end the leaders of the gymnasts were charged with obstructing the traffic and fined a nominal sum.

Comparative Values in Footwear!

With the majority of people, price is the chief consideration in purchasing footwear. That's why there are so many uncomfortable feet in Newfoundland to-day and so many dissatisfied shoe purchasers.

For low-priced shoes cannot be good shoes—the high cost of good materials and skilled labour won't permit. Then why experiment—at the expense of your comfort—with low-priced shoes? Why not wear

To-Day's Messages.

10.00 A. M.

THE ALLIES IN RUSSIA.

LONDON, To-day. The Allied Armies Expeditionary Force has reached Faborzhskaya, miles south of Archangel, on the road toward Valdaia. It is announced here that Bolshevik forces retiring are declared to have committed every form of atrocity on the Russian population. Fairly determined resistance to the Allied advance is offered by the Bolsheviks, and progress of the Expeditionary Force was delayed. Allied forces have been handed along the shores of Onyay, one hundred miles south of Archangel, for the purpose of intercepting the Bolshevik forces retreating from Archangel, it is learned.

PRISONERS AND GUNS TAKEN.

LONDON, To-day. According to unofficial estimates, the Germans captured in the recent offensive by the British Fourth Army, and the French First and Third Armies, total 34,000, while thus far 670 have been captured. Of these the British took 30,000 prisoners and guns. There is clear evidence of demoralizing effect of the tanks on the enemy. Where previously the Germans offered stubborn resistance, this as they surrendered almost as soon as the tanks got near them.

LOSSES LESS THAN CAPTURES.

LONDON, To-day. The proportion of the German losses (those of the Allies, since August 8, greater than at any other period of the war, it was announced here to-day. It is said that the total Allied casualties probably will not be as great as the number of Germans taken.

TANKS AT VLADIVOSTOK.

WASHINGTON, To-day. American troops to-day began to embark at Vladivostok and will immediately join the international force to aid the Czechoslovak army in campaign in Siberia. The American force is composed of the 77th Infantry Regiment from Manila and will be followed by another Regiment from the Philippines and additional troops from the United States.

ON THE ITALIAN FRONT.

WASHINGTON, To-day. American troops last night established themselves in high positions, near the enemy in Valtellina, Valcamonica, while their artillery continued to fire on the important Austrian defense positions. The following official report of Italian operations received at the Embassy to-day: "The Italian Front in Valcamonica and Valcaonica is still concentrated on the most important sectors of the enemy defense, our hope are established on the basis of the reports which they took from the enemy in Valtellina and on the front. The activity of the artillery both sides has been lively between the front and the Piave. At dawn on the 9th our detachments crossed the river and occupied one of the great islands of the river, making prisoners of the Italian soldiers. The occupation has been held in spite of continuing attacks by enemy troops, and of a heavy barrage fire."

AMERICANS FOR EUROPE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. The draft programme and plans of the War Department are of such a character that the rapid movement of troops to France is continuing. Secretary Baker said to-day, and by reason of the very great assistance given the British Government in placing much shipping at the disposal of the American Government, the movement of men overseas is accelerated. There are now approximately 2,800,000 American soldiers in this country and, according to Mr. Baker, the return of the men to the United States is such that even with the exhausting of the list of the eligible in Class 1, the movement of men overseas would not be interrupted. Fourteen National Divisions are already in France, the Secretary said, and these have included in the new field army organization.

FRENCH MAKE GAINS.

PARIS, Aug. 15. Further gains have been made by the French in the wooded region between the Meuse and Oise Rivers, and north of the Oise and Ribecourt. According to the French communiqué issued this evening, on the most part, however, the operations have been of minor character. The text of the communiqué follows: "During the course of the day minor operations enabled us to make progress in the wooded and hilly region between the Meuse and Oise. We have captured the north west of Ribecourt and the Farm, and the Monclois Farm, which were energetically defended by the enemy. We made some prisoners."

IN THE EAST.

ARMY OF THE EAST, Aug. 14. The health of King Ferdinand of Romania was moderate artillery action on the whole of the front. The news of Romania's enemy attack was renewed attack, which was repulsed. British aviators have bombed enemy bivouacs to the north of the front.

THE FOX IN DANGER.

GENEVA, To-day. The health of King Ferdinand of Romania was moderate artillery action on the whole of the front. The news of Romania's enemy attack was renewed attack, which was repulsed. British aviators have bombed enemy bivouacs to the north of the front.

The Marriage Reaction.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

I once had the pleasure of hearing two women talk with rather surprising frankness about a man whom both of them had liked. The one whom he had married was talking to the other, who, after the passing of her crush it had been no more than that, had married another man. "Richard," she said (Richard is the man in the case, of course) "admits you immensely; he thinks you are terrible clever and he really makes me quite jealous when he talks to people about you and your painting. But you never would have gotten along together, you are so different. You are always moving about, and he likes to settle down in one place; and you are fond of arguing and he simply hates an argument."

She Didn't Marry Richard. A little smile appeared on the other woman's face as she listened. "My dear," she said, "you forget that I didn't marry Richard, I should not be just the same woman I am after five years of married life with another man."

"You don't mean to say that you, a suffragist, think a woman is 'y' what the man she marries, makes her?" "Not at all. What I mean is that both husbands and wives are partly their original selves, and partly what the reactions of life with each other has made them."

I thought that a very interesting conclusion. Don't you? And one whose undoubted truth is so generally recognized. Two Comrades, But Not the Same Two. Marriage is something like a chemical reaction. You put into it the chemicals of two personalities. Now and then you get out of it a single perfectly fused compound but not the same two that you had at first. Sometimes the stronger forms and shapes the weaker personality to itself. More often each brings out and develops certain characteristics in the other. Sometimes a characteristic in one party will develop its like in the TOYS AND LIFE. You can learn a lot from boys by the way they use their toys; Some are selfish in their care; Never very glad to share Playthings with another boy; Seem to want to hoard their joy; And they hide away the drum. For the days that never come; Hide the train of cars and skates; Keeping them from all their mates; And run all their boyhood through With their toys as good as new.

Others, gladly give and lend; Headless that the tin may bend; Caring not that drum heads break; Minding not that playmates take To themselves the joy that lies In the little birthday prize. And in homes that house such boys, Always there are broken toys, Symbolizing moments glad That the youthful lives have had. There, you'll never find a child Dedicated to self.

Toys are made for children's fun, Very frail and quickly done; And who keeps them long to view, Strive to paint and gild as new, Robs himself and other boys Of their swiftly passing joy. So he looked upon a toy When our soldier was a boy, And somehow to-day we're glad That the tokens of our life And the trinkets that we keep Are a broken, battered heap.

Life itself is but a toy Filled with duty and with joy; Not too closely should we guard Our brief time from being scared; Never high on many shelves Should we hoard it for ourselves. It is something we should share In another's hour of care— Something we should gladly give That another here may live; We should never live it through Keeping it as good as new.

When you want something in a hurry for tea, go to ELLIS—Head Cheese, Ox Tongue, Baked Ham, Cooked Corned Beef, Bologna Sausage.

Boilers styles are very becoming to small women as well as to young girls.

Milady's Boudoir.

SELECTING THE HAIR BRUSH. Brushes each day remove dirt and grime from the scalp and hair therefore they in turn should be rid of this accumulation. Powder for cleansing brushes are on the market, but a daily dipping up and down in a little ammoniated water, then placing dry, bristles down, in sun, and air, will keep brushes white, stiff and clean.

The best comb is never sharp on the edges of the teeth, nor is it finely set. It is of hard rubber with teeth well shaped and rounded at their sides. A white comb is the one that necessarily has to be kept more clean than any other, and in this way it is the best color to choose.

Do not use the brush rapidly or press upon it too hard, remember that the object of using a brush is to remove dust, all dead cuticle thrown off by the scalp and to stimulate the circulation as well as to distribute the delicate oil secreted by the glands found in the scalp.

No Cod.

Western Star. A launchway is now being built at Parachoir for the launching of the 420 ton vessel built and owned by Platt and Tulk.

The Supreme Court on Circuit for the Southern District with Mr. Justice Johnson presiding, opened at Bonaville on Thursday.

The Dredge Priestman arrived at St. George's last week to dredge a channel at the Parachoir for the launching of the Platt-Tulk schooner. A Memorial service was held at St. Stephen's Church, Sandy Point, St. George's, for Lieut. Jeffrey, youngest son of Rev. Chas. Jeffrey, of Whitebourne, who was killed on July 28. The service was conducted by Rev. A. Butler. Lieut. Jeffrey was a native of Sandy Point, where he was held in the highest esteem by the whole community.

Ethie Brings Report of Herring.

Western Star. Herring have struck in on the Labrador side of the Straits of Belle Isle; this intelligence was brought to Curragh by the S. S. Ethie, this ship arriving here from the north on Thursday. Captain, English told the "Western Star" that from Bonne Esperance to Red Bay there was nothing doing in that line. Some crews at Henley have from one hundred to one hundred and fifty quintals cod on shore. At Blanc Sablon trawling is over, there is little doing with trawls and hook and line; caplin scarce, and dogfish are plentiful on the grounds; Grant had 18,000 quintals cod up to 25th July. The Sagona was at Belle Hr. on 5th August and reported no cod south of Ironbound Islands but good fishing north of there. On the Newfoundland side at the Straits people have apparently given up the fishery for the present, all seeming to have come. There was a good sign of herring at Cape Charles and Chinnery Tickle when the Ethie was there.

Skirts are very much longer and more graceful. Crayon-like tan duck is a most suitable material for a fall sports coat. A girl's career is more important than any other item in her wardrobe. Cotton voile has such an obliging way of serving for almost any occasion. Sleeveless satin coats mean everything to pale-skinned girls and waists nowadays.

With the Rod.

Western Star. At Little River salmon are plentiful in the pools but the river is low. At Fischels, Robinsons, and Crabbes the fishing season is about over.

Several piccol parties are now on the Humber, where they are meeting with considerable success.

At Harry's River salmon continues plentiful. At North Brook pool J. L. Faunce landed a 12 pounder on Friday, just after the Curragh party had left. Two rods took 12 fish from Harry's in one week. At Gander and Gambo Rivers salmon are reported plentiful; but scarce at Terra Nova.

GONE TO WORK.

Western Star. The village pool hall looks as bare as banquet hall deserted; the loafers used to gather there, unwashed and flannel-shirted. But Crowder's order, "Work or fight," broke up their long vacation and now the pool hall is a sign of desolation. The fallings of the courthouse square are shorn of all the slouches, who used to drape their persons there, and air their woes and grouches. They hang there in the long ago, content with their condition; to sit and let their whiskers grow was all of their ambition. For living they had no excuse, their faces showed dejection; they merely threw tobacco juice in every blamed direction. But now they're working by the day, they're plowing and they're hoing; they're rearing up two bales of hay where only one was growing. To cultivate the fertile soil I see them daily faring; their bones are creaking as they toil, and they are hoarsely swearing. The dungeons of the village jail are empty now and dreary; no Richard Ross wears their wall. Williams who were weary. This skates who used to heat their wives and steal their neighbors' chickens are driven now to useful lives; they're sweating like the dickens. The war is shaking things around, from old time ruts it's tossed us, and when it's done it may be found it's worth whatever it cost us.

Fads and Fashions.

Shoes are more pointed than usual. Smocks are no longer of the simple peasant type. Heavy Japanese crepe can be used for heavier smocks.

Making clothes at home is often the best form of economy. The knitted ribbon sweaters are usually black or dull blues.

Some of the most charming capes have deeply fringed collars. Fine tating finds its appropriate place in a baby's best dress.

If one wears feathers upon one's hat they should be uncured. The latest French blouses have little apron effects in front.

For the sports suit one does well to choose blue-Hawaiian cloth. Autumn choosies as its new skirt one with decided bell-like lines.

The large hats now worn have wide brims and big, low crowns. Dark blue denim makes a durable and comfortable camping costume.

A delightful hat, poke shaped, is made entirely of interlaced ribbon. Slip-ons made of jersey cloth are taking the place of many a sweater.

Coal Prices at Sydney. And the Worst is Yet to Come—

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Unwittingly you are causing a great deal of harm by your editorials re the coal question. First let me say the Fuel Controller of Canada has only power to regulate the mine prices for fuel for home consumption, and not for export prices.

Notwithstanding this, your Minister of Shipping paid a visit to Canada this summer and was instrumental in persuading the Coal Companies, backed up by the Fuel Controller, to guarantee your Dominion your usual supplies of coal to the detriment of Canada, which country will suffer the coming winter through lack of supplies; even we living in this mining town will feel the pinch.

Secondly, regarding figures. The prices regulated for Canadian home shipments are:

Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Co. $5.25 per ton run of mine of 2,000 lbs.; 25c. extra for screened; 30c. broker's commission, arranged by Fuel Control. Net cost $5.80 per 2,000 lbs. The above figures based at 2,240 lbs. work out $6.50.

Dominion Coal Co. prices: $4.65 per ton run of mine of 2,000 lbs.; 25c. extra for screened; 30c. broker's commission, arranged by Fuel Control. Net cost $5.30 per 2,000 lbs. The above figures based at 2,240 lbs. work out $5.82 1/2.

Now you have Canadian prices for home consumption, and the prices charged by brokers here for Newfoundland are:

Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Co. or North Sydney coal, $5.65 per ton of 2,000 lbs.; Dominion Coal Co. coal, $5.10 per ton of 2,240 lbs.

By the foregoing you will note that Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Co. coal is sold your people 15c. per ton of 2,000 lbs. less than Canadian customers. Dominion Coal Co.'s coal is sold your people 27 1/2c. per ton of 2,240 lbs. more than Canadian customers.

Again regarding freight rates. The rates paid by steamer to yours are $6.00 per ton and free discharge, which means $6.50 per ton of 2,240 lbs. By sailing schooners the freight rates are $6.50 and free discharge, equal to $7.00 per ton of 2,240 lbs.

You will thus see the Coal Dealers at your port are making less money than they did previous to the war. The freighters are making no money with heavy rates per wages, etc.

Thanking you in anticipation,
Yours truly,
ONE WHO KNOWS,
North Sydney, Aug. 13, 1918.

With the Gun.

(Western Star.)
The caribou hunting season opened on 1st August. And on Monday and Tuesday of last week Jas. L. Faunce got the first two for the season, fifteen miles up Grand Lake. Mr. Faunce started to go on a fishing trip up Sandy River, but later changed his mind and decided to hunt for a caribou, so he took out a shooting license Monday morning and then proceeded up Grand Lake. That afternoon he shot the first caribou. The next day he proceeded a little farther along the lake when he shot a second one. He decided he had had sport well worth the fifty dollars he had paid for the license, and so returned to continue fishing at Harry's River. If all who had visited our shores to hunt caribou and other game in days past had been of the type of Mr. Faunce, there would have been little necessity for so stringent game preserving laws as we now have.

Our Baseball Column.

PLAGIARISED AND OTHERWISE.

(All communications in connection with this Column should be addressed to "Baseball Editor, c/o Evening Telegram.")

THAT PROTEST.

In connection with the B. I. S.-Cubs game last Tuesday evening, a protest was made by the B. I. S. team against a decision of the Umpire-in-Chief on an interpretation of the rules.

The protest is:—
"McGrath at bat with bases full and one out. Catcher dropped third strike. Umpire called batter out. O'Reilly, occupying third base, ran in and touched Home Plate without being tagged by member of opposing team. Umpire ordered O'Reilly back to third base. Claimed—O'Reilly was entitled to be called safe at the Home Plate and a run scored."

A meeting of the Executive of the League together with Umpires Chessman and Montgomerie was held to decide this case. The point at issue was whether the ball was in play after the third strike was dropped by the catcher. After discussion of all the merits of the case it was finally decided that the protest was a fair one and that it be upheld. Manager McGrath, acting for the B. I. S. team, stated that from a sporting standpoint he did not want the game replayed, and he was perfectly satisfied with having his point sustained.

TO "CAPS."

We are very sorry to state that we cannot give your letter prominence in this Column. Meantime we might state that not being a consistent tobacco user we have referred the matter to Miss Ruth Cameron who is an authority on all subjects.
If you could manage to park the "Demon" on a desert island for a while you may be able to wear him from the perniculous habits, but so far we have not heard of the "demon" wishing to go to such extremes as this. Thanking you for your kind allusions to us we remain, very truly yours,

Want to see the Irish play. But the way they booted and fumbled the pill. Around the lot, made Maud quite ill. She stood it awhile, then turned to the Judge. Who had paid for her seat, and remarked "Oh, Judge." The stuff those Mamen pull is a fright. If that's what you call Baseball. GOOD NIGHT.

FIRST GAME 1846.
First match game of baseball recorded took place at Hoboken, N.J., 1846. And people are still bickering over an interpretation of the rules.

"CLAUDIE."

Now that the Cubs have practically won the championship we wish to state what is generally the opinion of the fans towards the "Iron Man." They consider that his middle name is "PLUCK." Perhaps the fans do not know the real facts of the game on last Tuesday evening, when Claudie got three teeth knocked out and still continued to put 'em over as usual. If this is not PLUCK you can search us.

Old Ideas Die Hard

But when you tire of treating eczema internally as a blood disease and apply Dr. Chase's Ointment you will soon be convinced which form of treatment is most effective.
Naturally and gradually the skin is healed as you apply this soothing, antiseptic ointment. The new skin is soft and smooth, and you only wonder that you did not try this treatment sooner.

35,000 QUILS FISH TAKEN.—It is estimated that some 35,000 qtils. of fish have been taken by "scoters" in the Straits during the present season, which is about the equal to last year's catch.

The Libel Case.

At the Supreme Court yesterday, Mr. Justice Kent presiding, the case of Tom. R. A. Scrimm, H. M. Mosdell, D. R. Thistle and the Star Publishing Co. vs. The Evening Advocate, for libel came up for hearing. Application was made on behalf of defendants to strike out statement of claim, on the grounds that they disclosed no cause for action, by Mr. Mows, B.L., who was heard. Mr. W. R. Howley, K.C., for plaintiff, was also heard. The Court took time to consider.

Woman Attacked By Vicious Dog.

At 7:30 last evening, a lady in company with a gentleman, while passing down Colonial Street, was set upon by a vicious dog, which jumped on her shoulder and setting his teeth into a valuable fox fur tore it in half and scampered up College Lane with a portion of it in his mouth. The gentleman gave chase, and overtaking the brute recovered the damaged fur which the dog was about to completely destroy. This neighborhood is becoming famous for vicious dogs, and in the interest of the public they ought to be destroyed.

CHAPE—BAILEY.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Sacred Heart Church, Military Road, last evening by the Rev. Dr. Carter. The contracting parties were Miss Bride Bailey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bailey, and Mr. John R. Chafe, manager of the Telephone Exchange. The bride was costumed in Georgette crepe trimmed with white satin, wroseth and veil, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Annie Chafe, sister of the groom, wore pale blue silk and hat to suit. The flower girls were Misses Mary Bailey and Flossie Bailey, nieces of the bride. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. William J. Chafe and Mr. John Bailey, brother of the bride. After the ceremony the wedding party were driven to the home of the bride's parents, Water Street, where a suitable repast was partaken of by the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The health of the bride and groom was proposed by Mr. Thos. Kelly. The bridegroom responded in a most fitting manner. Mr. William Chafe, father of the groom, made a short address which was full of choice remarks on the occasion which afforded ed a lot of pleasure to all those present. After the supper the happy couple were driven to their future home, Circular Road. The many and presents very adequately show great popularity of the bridegroom. The Telegram extends its happy couple congratulations.

Lt.-Col. Franklin.

Capt. Williams, Quartermaster of the Church Lads' Brigade, had a letter yesterday from Lieut.-Col. Franklin, D.S.O., an old officer of the C.L.B. Colonel Franklin writes very optimistically, although his wound is not yet healed, he is able to walk now about a mile with the aid of a crutch and stick, and without a splint, though one leg is slightly short and his knee practically stiff. He hopes it will come right in time and trusts to be fit for light duty soon, and even hopes to be yet in the firing line. Another old C.L.B. officer called to see him recently, Capt. Waring Hayward, now serving the Empire in the "Duke of Connaught's Own," a Canadian Regiment. Capt. Hayward has also been badly wounded but has made a remarkable recovery and his wounds are healed. He is not lame, but his leg has been so shattered as to, in all probability, prevent him having the pleasure of another "go at the Hun." Both officers send kindest regards to all ranks in the Brigade and in memory of old times at the Topical camp (Colonel Franklin going into the sea on crutches) had a glorious swim at Torquay, where Col. Franklin is a convalescent at Lady Layland-Barratt's Hospital.

At the City Hall.

The Municipal Council held its regular weekly session last evening, the Mayor presiding, and all the members attended. After reading of minutes, etc., the following matters were disposed of:

The Manager of the Royal Bank of Canada wrote that Canada's application for a loan of $25,000 had been granted, the Government guaranteeing same.

Chas Hutton requested a few loads of gravel at rear of his premises. Granted.

Bishop, Sons & Co. asked permission to erect scaffold front of building, Water Street. Request granted.

Edward Skinner made application for erection of scaffold, Knight Street, and also for permission to place a bridge over drain, Cavendish Square. In connection with the latter request the Engineer is to enquire.

A Snow called attention to the condition of the drains, Monroe St. Engineer will attend to the matter.

The Solicitor reported that in connection with the right of way east of Cochrane Street, the place was a public thoroughfare. It was decided the Solicitor be written to proceed against the party who has erected a fence on this property, with the view of having it removed.

The Health Officer reported on the application of Robert Thorne to repair stable, Hayward Avenue. He has no objection to the application, provided repairs are made in accordance with the regulations. Application granted on these conditions.

The Health Officer reported four cases of diphtheria in the city during the week.

In connection with the hydrant on Duckworth Street, broken by a motor car, it was ordered the bill of expenses be sent to the owner of the car.

The Engineer reported on sewer work, Leslie and Patrick Streets, road work generally and the wall, Harvey Road.

The Engineer's Department reported on the water waste inspection in the West End of the City during July month. The report showed an increase in the waste of about 200,000 gallons over last year.

The Plumbing Inspector reported on a number of houses suitable for the installation of water and sewerage. Ordered these people be notified to install.

A report was also read on the number of applications for new services received during the week.

Plan of garage for Geo. F. Kearney, Monkstown Road, was referred to the Engineer.

After disposing of some routine work and the passing of pay rolls and bills, the meeting adjourned.

Back From Asia.

Among yesterday's express passengers was Mrs. R. H. Pinent, who has just returned from far away Japan. Mrs. Pinent is a daughter of the late Mr. N. March, and sister of Major J. W. March, M.C. After spending a month here with relatives, Mrs. Pinent will go to London, Ontario, and thence, possibly back to the foreign mission field. Seven years ago, Mrs. Pinent returned to Newfoundland from Japan, and instead of taking the usual Pacific route, crossed Siberia, Europe and the Atlantic Ocean.

C.C.C. BAND CONCERT—The C.C.C. band will give its final concert in Zanerman Park at 8 o'clock this evening. Owing to unfavourable weather, the series of band concerts have been financial failures, and the debt due on the new hall is not yet wiped off. It is hoped that this evening's concert will be well attended, so as to counterbalance the failures of former ones.

Every Saturday evening after 7 o'clock, Choice Ends of Beef, Mutton, Lamb, Pork will be sold at east. ELLIS & CO. LTD., 243 Water Street.—nov23.
